ESTABLISHED 1821.

YANKEE GOVERNOR GIVES SUFFRAGE A HARD JOLT IS FOR STATE RIGHTS AND RE- FUSES TO CALL ASSEMBLY TOGETHER.

Washington, July 12.—The executive of a New England state gave woman suffrage a jolt to-day and on the issue of state's rights and self-government this Yankee governor virtually sent the suffragists to the south, the cradle of the state's rights, for ratification of the Susan B. Anthony amendment.

Action of Governor Clement, of Vermont, in refusing to call an extra session of his legislature is certain to bring a reaction in North Carolina and Tennessee. The Vermont executive with his startling declaration that "as it stands and is interpreted by the Supreme court to-day, the federal constitution threatens the foundation of free popular government," furnishes to opponents of suffrage in southern states an argument which they no doubt will effectively use.

Governor Clement goes further and declares that both the 17th and 18th amendments—woman suffrage and prohibition—were "lobbied" through Congress and are being lobbied through state legislatures. There is no opportunity for popular expression of opinion under such circumstances, he holds, and he refuses to call his legislature to consider a question which has arisen since that legislature was elected.

Meanwhile, anti-suffragists will go before the District of Columbia Supreme court tomorrow to argue for an injunction against the secretary of state and attorney general to prevent suffrage becoming effective even if the 26th state ratifies. The suffrage cause looked none too bright tonight.

Although he is a "Yankee" governor, Mr. Clement has given the anti-suffragists of the south an additional argument in his proclamation to-day. The Vermont governor says:

Position of Governor Clement.

"If the people of Vermont in accepting a place in the union of states inadvertently lost in whole or in part the right of self-government and conferred it on a legislature, there is all the more reason why a legislature should not pass upon a question which has arisen since their election and upon which their constituents have had no opportunity to express themselves."

Such an argument undoubtedly will be of great potency in states like North Carolina and Tennessee, where there is much opposition to woman suffrage, and where it is predicted by the opposition that a popular vote would override ratification.

Bolstering up his reasons, the governor of Vermont truthfully says that both the 17th and 18th amendments were lobbied through Congress and some of the state legislatures. The 18th amendment, he added, was forced through Congress "by powerful and irresponsible organizations, operating through paid agents." Governor Clement doubtless referred to the Anti-Saloon League.

The Vermont governor added:

"The Supreme court decision declares that 'the referendum provisions of state constitutions and statutes cannot be applied, consistently, with the constitution of the United States, in the ratifications or rejection of amendments to it.'"

"This decision leaves the people at the mercy of any group of men who may lobby a proposal for changing the federal constitution through Congress and then through the legislatures of the states."

"In the face of this situation I am asked to call the legislature of Vermont into extraordinary session, not for the purpose of debating, considering, deliberating on the question at issue, but with a majority of its members pledged beforehand and in private, as I understand it, to ratify the proposed amendment."

Suffragists here had pinned their final hopes, so far as the Republican party is concerned, upon Vermont and Connecticut. If the governor of Connecticut follows the lead of his Vermont colleague and these two New England executives stand together for the state's rights issue, strangely enough the fate of suffrage will be up to the Democratic south where the doctrine of state's rights was cradled.

Meanwhile, if the District of Columbia Supreme court grants the injunction prayed for by the anti-suffragists, two states instead of one may be necessary. The anti-suffragists are challenging specifically the legality of the action of the West Virginia legislature, where ratification was obtained only after a state senator had been ejected from his seat.

TO INVESTIGATE RAILROAD. LEASE AT SPECIAL SESSION.

Washington, July 13.—Members of the general assembly of North Carolina visiting Washington to-day brings news of a railroad scandal without the personal equation that promises to furnish the state with recollections of the fight over the lease of the Atlantic and North Carolina road which was made during the Aycock administration.

According to a prominent member of the finance committee of the house, one of the first things that will be done at the special session called to meet August 10, will be the introduction of a resolution calling on the Norfolk and Southern railroad to show cause why the present lease under which it operates a branch line from Goldsboro to Morehead City should not be revoked.

Failure to comply with the terms of the lease both in the matter of service that is being given patrons of the road and lack of maintaining equipment is alleged and will be made the basis of the assault against the road. The effort will be a concentrated one and backed by citizens living between the Wayne capital and the Carteret county resort.

Below Standard Return.

About the only piece of equipment now on the road that wasn't there some twenty years ago, one of the members said to-day, is the chair car Vance which has been transferred over to the Aberdeen & Asheboro branch where it serves chiefly as a rolling monument to a former governor and incidentally as a relic to be shown to northern tourists who find themselves at Pinehurst.

The net rental to the state, it is charged, is far below the standard, return and although this is on a graduated scale the property is gradually deteriorating. The A. & N. C. property, it is pointed out, is not gaining in value over the indebtedness on it while the North Carolina railroad property is increasing by leaps and bounds and at the same time paying more than the standard return.

If this resolution goes through the legislature and a committee is appointed to investigate, legislators say the state will be treated to some interesting reading in the newspapers. Strange financial deals, it is charged, have been going on in the period following the government's release of the road and the hand of the state's giant monopoly has reached down in eastern Carolina for the purpose of extending corporate control from the piedmont to the sea.

LANGLEY AND YORK BOUND OVER TO SUPERIOR COURT

Following a hearing before Justice D. H. Collins on Monday afternoon on a charge of transporting whisky, Wesley Langley and E. A. York, both white men, were bound over to the September term of criminal court under bonds of $500 each. Each of the defendants were fined $50 and costs for operating an automobile while under the influence of whisky, while cases charging reckless driving were discharged upon the payment of costs.

The men were arrested as a result of a collision which they had Sunday night at Pleasant Garden. While enroute to Greensboro they failed to turn the curve at Frank Ross' store and crashed into the front of the store building, crushing the windows and making a considerable dent in the building. A considerable amount of whisky is reported to have been found in the car and the men were said to have been under the influence of drink.

The automobile was taken into custody of the officers and in the event the defendants are convicted of transporting whisky the machine will be sold and the proceeds applied to the school fund of the county.

Safety First Week in San Francisco

As a last feature of San Francisco's "Safety First" week, the fire department turned on the high pressure system at Third and Market streets, in the heart of the business section. A dozen streams of water shot skyward for hundreds of feet, topping the highest buildings, demonstrating the fact that the city can never again be destroyed by a conflagration similar to the fire of 1906.

FUNERAL OF E. M. ANDREWS HELD THIS MORNING

DEATH OCCURRED TUESDAY EVENING AFTER LONG ILLNESS.

Funeral services for the late Edgar M. Andrews were conducted this morning at 10 o'clock from the West Market Street Methodist church, of which the deceased was a member for many years. The service was conducted by Rev. E. L. Bain, pastor of the church, and interment was made in Greene Hill cemetery. The pall-bearers were C. H. Ireland, M. W. Stern, E. J. Stafford, F. C. Boyles, L. M. Johnson and C. C. Fordham. Flower-bearers were Misses Madeline Stafford, Annie McDuffie, Julia Silver, Mary Silver and Esther Bain and Mrs. Norman Boren.

Mr. Andrews died Monday evening at 6:30 o'clock at his home on the corner of West Market and Mendenhall streets. He had suffered ill health since last fall, when he experienced a general break down, and he had gradually declined during the past few months.

Surviving are the widow, three daughters and one son. They are Mrs. H. B. Patterson, of Charlotte; Misses Ella and Elizabeth Andrews, of this city, and Edgar M. Andrews, Jr., also of this city.

Mr. Andrews was born in Charlotte on March 2, 1850, he having passed his 70th birthday this year. He moved to this city about 18 years ago, first engaging in the furniture business and later entering the real estate field. He was a man of fine Christian character and enjoyed the confidence and high esteem of his business associates. Mr. Andrews was a steward of West Market Street church for many years and was a member of the board of trustees at the time of his death.

The funeral this morning was attended by a large number of sorrowing friends and the beautiful floral tributes testified in striking manner the esteem and affection in which he was regarded.

Mrs. J. C. Cockman Died at Revolution.

Mrs. J. C. Cockman died at her home, No. 61 Church street, yesterday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock. Mrs. Cockman was 32 years old. She is survived by her husband and two small children, and a sister, Mrs. C. H. Welch, of Bennett.

The body will be taken to Pleasant Grove church, near Bennett, tomorrow morning where the funeral will be held. Interment will be made in the church burying ground.

TWO LETTER CARRIERS WILL SOON BE PENSIONED.

When the new act of Congress becomes effective August 23, 1920, Joseph W. Schoolfield and L. E. Osborne will become automatically retired, according to a statement made at the postoffice several days ago.

Mr. Schoolfield entered government service in Greensboro November 1, 1891, and has been serving faithfully on route No. 3 ever since.

Mr. Osborne entered service as rural carrier about seventeen years ago, and has been in the service ever since the rural mail delivery service was established in the county. He started on route No. 3, and although several additional carriers have been added to the route, his route has been No. 3 all these years.

According to the postoffice officials here, the terms of the law grant to postal employees of many years' service retirement at the age of 65 years with pay based on the term of service and salary scale of the person to be retired.

Both Mr. Schoolfield and Mr. Osborne are 67 years old, and of course will be automatically retired when the law becomes effective. It is thought that they will receive from $50 to $60 a month.

It is quite singular that these two employees are each 67 years old, both served on routes No. 3, and each served continuously on their original routes and both will be retired on the same day.

The many friends of both men will miss their daily visits, but will rejoice that they are given pay with their much earned rest.

J. P. JOHNSON DIED AS RESULT OF STROKE.

J. P. Johnson, a well known citizen of this city, died Tuesday night at Tarboro, his death being attributed to a stroke which he suffered last week at Scotland Neck. The remains arrived in the city yesterday and the funeral will be held this afternoon from the home of the deceased, on East Washington street, conducted by Rev. J. Clyde Turner, pastor of the First Baptist church.

Mr. Johnson was a traveling salesman for a local tractor company and was on a business trip to the eastern section of the state when he was stricken at Scotland Neck. He was hurried to a hospital at Tarboro, where his death followed a few days later.

Surviving are his widow and five children, Charles P. Johnson, who is in the navy; Edgar, P. J., Catherine and Margaret Johnson, all of this city.

CONFERENCE CLOSES AFTER SUCCESSFUL MEET.

Following a session of two days that was witnessed by much activity and business on the part of the attending delegates, the Jamestown conference of the Greensboro district concluded yesterday afternoon. The conference of next year will be held at Colridge, in Randolph county.

The delegates to the annual conference that meets in Salisbury October 20, are F. N. Tate, High Point; I. F. Craven, Ramseur; C. H. Ireland, Greensboro; R. B. Chance, Reidsville; Mrs. J. A. J. Farrington, Randleman; F. M. Brown, Greensboro, and J. E. Marsh, High Point.

David M. Sharpe, James A. Howell and A. C. Kennedy were recommended to the annual conference for admission on trial.

J. A. Howell, F. D. Brady and Nebula Brittain were given license to preach.

The conference passed strong resolutions of appreciation of the work of Rev. J. H. Barnhardt, who by the Methodist time limit will be sent to some other work next year. Among other things contained in the resolutions were these words of appreciation: "Wise and progressive in his administration, attractive and effective as a preacher of the gospel, considerate of the opinions and desires of the humblest pastor or member of the church, he has proved himself to be a presiding elder of the finest type. The district was never in better condition than at the present time as a result of his superb leadership."

With an attendance of 130, business of especial interest being transacted every hour of the day, and the royal entertainment provided by the people of Jamestown, the conference was a unit in pronouncing it one of the most interesting and enjoyable occasions in the history of district conferences in the Greensboro district.

Rev. H. C. Sprinkle delivered a very fine sermon Tuesday evening, and Rev. J. P. Jimison yesterday at 11 A. M. preached to the delight of the conference.

F. N. Tate, of High Point, received a special vote of thanks of the conference for his work in securing 1,376 members for the conference brotherhood, an insurance organization for the benefit of the families of deceased preachers of the conference. Membership in this brotherhood is now worth more than $2,500 to clerical members thereof.

A resolution presented by Bruce Craven and adopted by the conference has for its purpose the establishing of a system of minimum salaries for all pastors. This, if put in effect, will require that a church shall, if able, pay a living salary to the man appointed to serve the people of that congregation. The object is to better the financial condition of underpaid pastors.

ALAMANCE SECTION FAVORS SCHOOL CONSOLIDATION.

In the election held this week to decide upon the consolidation of schools in the Alamance section the measure was ratified by the voters of the district, the proposition being carried by a majority of 18 votes. As a result of the favorable action on the measure there will be constructed in the neighborhood of Alamance church a commodious school building sufficient to meet the needs of the community, while transportation will be furnished for the children living in remote parts of the district.

Work will be instituted at the earliest possible moment toward the construction of a handsome new school building. It is planned to make the building modern in every respect.

Death of James W. Elmore

James W. Elmore, aged about 80 years, died Monday at his home in Monroe township about 10 miles north of Greensboro. Mr. Elmore suffered a stroke of paralysis two years ago, and had been in declining health ever since. He was a farmer, a Confederate veteran and was highly respected by all who knew him. Surviving are his widow, and one son, Charles R. Elmore, of Monroe township.

Funeral services were conducted at Center church Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Interment followed in the church burying ground.

OFFICERS PLACE GUARDS IN CONTROL OF TOWN

RUMORS OF ATTACK BY NEGROES FROM REIDSVILLE ON ROXBORO.

Roxboro, July 13.—Armed guards patrol the town tonight on the eve of the opening of the investigation into the lynching of Ed Roach, who is alleged to have criminally attacked a white girl. Rumors that negroes were coming from Reidsville, Roach's home town, to blow up Roxboro, caused prompt action by the authorities.

Sheriff N. F. Thompson said to-day that all circumstances indicated that Roach was the negro who assaulted the girl. Not only was he positively identified by the victim of the foul act but Mrs. Jesse Chamberlain, sister of the young woman, also declared he was the man.

Nella Teer, local contractor and employer of the dead negro, is declared to have based his statement that the wrong negro was lynched on hearsay evidence. Teer's foreman, who is a negro, is quoted as authority by Teer. Some members of the road force on which Roach was working, have quit but the majority are working.

The people of Person county strongly resent the attitude of Teer because his statement was based solely on information given him by his negro foreman. Teer has not been seen this week.

Solicitor Gattis, who made a preliminary investigation immediately after the lynching, will open a formal probe tomorrow.

Roxboro people declare that the statement that Sheriff Thompson shirked his duty is without foundation. When the sheriff learned that an attack was to be made on the jail, he called up several prominent citizens to secure assistance in repelling the assault on the prison and without exception they advised the officer not to go to the jail as it would be futile. Before he could get there the negro had been taken out.

News reached here to-day that relatives of Roach have retained counsel and are preparing to bring suit against Person county and any members of the mob that may be identified.

BODY OF LAWRENCE STEWART TO BE BURIED AT GUILFORD

The relatives of Lawrence C. Stuart, who died on October 9, 1919, enroute to France on the steamer George Washington, have received notice that his body will reach Greensboro on the 18th of this month. The remains were first buried in France, but were recently exhumed in order that they might be removed to this country.

A. C. Stuart, a brother of the young man, went to New York the first of this week to make arrangements and to accompany the body home.

The body of young Stuart will be the first that has been returned to this county from France for burial.

It is expected that the funeral will be preached next week at Guilford College and the remains will be laid to rest in the cemetery at that place.

Martin Reynolds Claims Big Damages.

Notice was filed yesterday afternoon with the commissioners of the city by attorney of Martin Reynolds for damages alleged to have resulted to Reynolds when his horse and buggy fell into a hole on the South Greene street last Saturday night. The total amount asked by Reynolds was $1,530. The contracting firm of A. H. Quion & Co. are made a party with the city, that firm having dug the hole in the street. The claims of Reynolds were based on the fact that no lights were placed in front of the hole and that the city and the contractor were both negligent.

Simpson-Pearce Wedding.

Miss Ethel Marie Simpson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Simpson, of this city, and Marvin Pearce, the only son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Pearce, of this city, were united in marriage last night at 9 o'clock, the ceremony being performed at High Point. The wedding was attended only by a few friends and relatives of the contracting parties.

The Political Conventions

And Important Matters Should Now Have Attention.

With money as scarce and expensive as it now is, about the most important thing to a business man or woman is connection with a bank with enough vision and strength to foster legitimate business.

We believe that at this time bankers should give the business of every customer the benefit of their experience and information, and they should together work for its profitable development.

It is always a pleasure to us to thus co-operate with those who call upon us.

Dismiss Injunction Proceedings.

Washington, July 13.—Justice Bailey, in the Supreme court to-day dismissed injunction proceedings brought by Charles F. Fairchild, of New York, president of the American Constitutional League, to prevent the promulgation of the ratification of the suffrage amendment and to test the validity of the equal suffrage law.

The court held that it was without authority to inquire into the action of the state legislatures in ratifying the suffrage amendment and that it had no authority to pass upon the validity of such an amendment. Mr. Fairchild noted an appeal to the Supreme court of the United States.

YOUNG MAN FALLS FROM HIGH WINDOW TO DEATH.

Charlotte, July 12.—The tragedy of Sunday night was a distressing accident which happened at the Y. M. C. A., young Frank Newsome, of Marshville and Charlotte, falling from a window on the third floor, death resulting as he was being carried from the auto into the hospital where he was rushed as soon as picked up from the pavement. Just how the accident occurred is not known, there seeming to have been no one with him when he fell from the window. The young man was a native of Marshville, Union county. He had been living here for a year and had roomed at the Y. M. C. A. up to very recently, when he went elsewhere. He was a clerk in E. J. R. S. department store, and was well known in the city. Last night he went to the "Y" to see the Harrell brothers—A. S. and E. S.—and other friends. They had been in the Harrell boys room having a jolly time, talking and laughing. Newsome went out in the hall, and evidently to the window which was up. As far as could be learned there was no one with him. The first intimation, as far as can be learned, of the accident, was when a man—Mr. Shuford—in a room next to the window in the hall, saw a man's feet go out the window, his glance being directed toward the window just at that moment. He did not know who the man was.

The young man was 20 years old July 4. He was a brother of A. R. Newsome, who holds the record at the University of North Carolina as the highest honor man since the days of Pettigrew, having made the highest possible mark in every study. The death of young Newsome has cast a gloom over the city to-day.

GERMANS MUST DELIVER COAL OR TAKE THE CONSEQUENCES.

Spa, Belgium, July 12.—The allies served an ultimatum upon the German delegation to the conference here late this afternoon that the Germans must agree by 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon to deliver to the allies 2,000,000 tons of coal monthly. Otherwise, the allies will take measures to enforce the terms of the Versailles treaty.

To Enforce Every Article.

Rheims, France, July 12.—France will demand enforcement of the treaty of Versailles to the last article, Leon Bourgeois, president of the French senate, declared to-day, in a speech before more than 100 French and foreign newspaper correspondents at a luncheon in the ruins of the Hotel De Ville.

Federal Prisoner Escaped From Train.

Concord, July 12.—Clad only in his underclothing, George King, a prisoner en route from New York to the federal penitentiary at Atlanta, escaped from a Southern Railway passenger train as it was leaving the station here early to-day.

He had been locked with another prisoner in a drawing room on the train and is believed to have crawled through a window. He was seen by the negro train porter running towards a creek.

Destructive Cloudburst.

Roanoke, Va., July 12.—Norfolk and Western Railway tracks between Rice and Highbridge, Va., east of Lynchburg, were swept away by a cloudburst late Sunday night, causing thousands of dollars worth of damage to crops in that section, according to reports received at the headquarters of the road here to-day.

Demand Accepted by Germans.

London, July 14.—The Germans at Spa have accepted the allies' demand of 2,000,000 tons of coal monthly, according to a Havas dispatch from Paris. Acceptance is accompanied by some conditions.

Carnegie's Will

Andrew Carnegie appointed the Home Trust Company, of Hoboken, as Executor of his Last Will and Testament and Trustee of his Estate. The instrument was written by Mr. Elihu Root, of New York.

This is another proof that a Trust Company is the best instrumentality for the administration of an estate.

If a Trust Company is best for Mr. Carnegie and his estate of many millions, it is best for YOU.

AN ISSUE THAT WILL WIN.

Some twenty months have elapsed since the signing of the armistice that terminated fighting in the world war. In order to witness that event and in order that future wars might be rendered less likely, the United States of America gave her men and her money. It was the balance of power cast into the scale by America that meant the downfall and collapse of the German war machine.

Notwithstanding a victor, we claimed no spoils. We announced to the world from the beginning that we expected no indemnities, that we wished no territory, that we nurtured no ulterior motives other than to demonstrate that the rule of brutal might should not prevail.

The people of America did not demand German slaves, German gold, German territory, or German commercial advantages. Such demands could have been exacted with ease from a vanquished foe. The people of the United States entertained but a single wish that might come as a result of their innumerable sacrifices. To-day there are thirteen of our allies enjoying the goal for which we fought, a goal that we were denied by a little group of "wily senators," who, in their intense and burning hatred of the principal proponent of that goal, would suffer the country limitless shame rather than accede.

What is this league of nations? When and where did the idea originate, and what are its objects? It is not a new theory but an idea that has been germinating for many years in the minds of men who think. Its purpose of existence would be to serve as an international tribunal, hearing the disputes that must of necessity arise between the different nations, the rendering of fair and impartial verdicts, and enforcing the judgments. In order to enforce such judgment every nation that participates in such a league would be required to furnish a quota of military or naval power.

Our states of the American Union are but a league of small nations. The interests of Maine are as diverse from those of Arizona as could be the interests of any two nations. Although disputes have arisen between the member states it has not been necessary for the citizens to engage in war to determine as to which should prevail. The courts have demonstrated sufficient power to prevent the sinful shedding of innocent blood. Even the Civil war was not a conflict between individual states; severe punishment, would put an end to such foolishness. It is up to Union and the Southern states. Since Person to clear her name of such a stain.

states has offered to question the authority of the union or the decrees of the courts.

If such a league be possible among states, if such a code of civil conduct be practical among other similar governments of the world, there is absolutely no reason why such a system would not be beneficial for the nations of a civilized world.

The Republican leaders have promised that we might join in the league, perhaps, if article X be eliminated. Article X provides for the furnishing of the necessary power to support the mandates of the international tribunal. Such an operation would cut the guts from the whole proposition, and leave it the object of ridicule and abuse. It would be about as serviceable as a convict camp without guards, a jail without bars, or a sign to "Keep Off the Grass" with no policeman in sight.

A great mass of the men who crossed the seas to fight for the cause of humanity are in favor of our joining the league; those who remained at home, who furnished the sinews of war and gave and gave that victory might be ours, they are for the league. The world is war sick; it shudders to think of the wars of the future with the tremendous cost and the tremendous toll; the United States to-day is paying 93 per cent of her stupendous revenues for the purposes of war or the results of war; the people approve the efforts of Mr. Wilson in the establishment of an effective means to prevent future war. The people will be victorious and that little band of senators will suffer ignominious defeat; history will record them as enemies to their country, while the object of their jealous and malicious hatred will be accorded the brightest page that history has recorded since the founding of this nation.

SHAME UPON PERSON COUNTY

Following a communication from Nello Teer to the Durham Herald, in which Mr. Teer asserted that the mob that lynched a negro in Person county last week had killed an innocent man, Sheriff N. J. Thompson, the guardian of the peace of that county, takes issue with Mr. Teer and defends the mob against such an accusation. Sheriff Thompson asserts that he has every reason to believe that the victim of the mob's violence was the negro that committed an assault upon a young white girl in that county.

If the sheriff and Mr. Teer composed the jury that was to pass upon the guilt of the late Ed Roach, deceased, it is clearly evident that a conviction could not be secured. Mr. Teer, a contractor, was the employer of the negro, and before laying such an accusation upon his fellow countrymen he must have been fairly well satisfied in his own mind as to the innocence of Roach.

The constitution of the State of North Carolina guaranteed to this negro a fair and impartial trial by a jury of twelve men. As it was, he received not even the semblance of a trial. His murder at the hands of lawless men was a cold blooded and brutal affair, and, if Mr. Teer's opinion is worthy of consideration, the hands of those men participating in the crime are stained with innocent blood.

If Roach was guilty of the crime with which he was charged the laws of North Carolina would have dealt punishment just as sure and certain as could have been imposed by the heated mob. Lynch law is seldom, if ever, justified. It was never less justified as when the power of law and authority were overridden last week in Person county.

Person county owes it to herself and to the state to see that the criminals are ferreted and that due and proper punishment is administered to them. It is a blot upon the fair name of Person and the State of North Carolina as well. A few vigorous prosecutions, followed by a conflict between individual states; severe punishment, would put an end to such foolishness. It is up to Union and the Southern states. Since Person to clear her name of such a stain.

CONVENTION OF FARM WOMEN TO BE HELD AUGUST 24.

The program for the meeting of farm women of the state, which is scheduled to be held in Raleigh on August 24-26, indicates that the three days will be filled with interest for the many women expected to attend. The convention is being conducted annually by the North Carolina College of Agriculture and Engineering together with the state department of agriculture. It is expected that the attendance this year will exceed that of any year heretofore.

Many prominent and capable leaders will instruct the women attending the meeting. The courses will be entirely on practical, useful subjects. Among the interesting features on the program are demonstrations of cake baking with fireless cooker, millinery, dress-making, pattern-making and many other worthwhile matters.

Reynolds and Ralston shoes for men. Dorothy Dodd and all our fine shoes for women—none reserved—every low shoe.

The thoughtful customer wonders are shoes and clothing prices getting lower? In a few instances we are getting slight reductions from the manufacturers, but they claim their costs are increasing and that they are trying to follow the popular demand for lower prices. Shoes from 25c to $1.00 pair less than this spring. Clothing from $1.00 to $3.00 a suit lower.

We have not cancelled an order and don't think we are an exception to the rule. We cannot see prices much lower this fall. Many lines are higher.

TRADE MARK

FARM TRACTOR

A TESTIMONIAL LETTER

Summerfield, N. C.

McGlamery Auto Company, Greensboro, N. C.

Gentlemen: The Fordson Tractor we bought of your Representative Mr. C. W. Williams has proven entirely satisfactory in every way.

We have plowed, harrowed, pulled stumps, hauled rock from the field that had never been torn up before, and have hauled some on the road. We expect to make use of it anywhere and at any time we need to use it. We are well pleased with it and cheerfully recommend the Fordson to all in need of a Tractor.

Yours Very Truly,

R. O. GAMBLE & SON.

Pernar-Johnson Marriage.

Miss Della Marion Pernar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Pernar, became the bride last evening of Nicholas F. Johnson, of this city, the ceremony being performed at the home of the bride's parents, 1220 Dairy street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. S. Kirkpatrick, pastor of the Spring Garden Street Methodist church, and was witnessed by a few friends and immediate relatives of the young couple.

Following the wedding a supper was tendered the bridal party and afterwards a reception was held by Mr. and Mrs. Pernar in honor of the bride and groom.

Miss Pernar is an attractive and accomplished young lady and has a host of friends in this city. Mr. Johnson is a successful young business man, being connected with the South Greensboro branch of the American Exchange National Bank.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson departed on train No. 32 for a wedding trip to Washington and other points of interest in the north.

Womanless Wedding Was Big Hit.

The womanless wedding, which was staged in the Municipal theater Monday evening, was one of the biggest home talent theatrical hits that has been witnessed here in many years. The affair was under the auspices of the Business Girls' Club and a full house was on hand to enjoy the fun.

Frank C. Boyles was the bride and he was united in perpetual padlock to Wade H. Lowry, the knot being effectually tied by C. C. Taylor. The bride was led to the sacrificial altar by her father, Col. G. Sam Bradshaw but enroute to the stage a mishap occurred that set the house in an uproar. Some devilish fellow along the aisle gave the bride's veil, which was made of many yards of mosquito netting, a slight jerk, and off came the veil, wig and orange blossoms, displaying the bald head of the bride and throwing the audience into a fit of unrestricted mirth. Sheriff Stafford, Julius Cone, Eli Oettinger, J. D. Wilkins, Dr. L. L. Simmons and others served as flower girls, while Clarence Cone was the ring bearer. The ring was presented in the head of a cabbage.

It was an evening of fun and the big audience enjoyed every moment of it.

Philip Kidd and Wife Guilty of an Assault on Children.

Philip Kidd and wife, white, of near Oak Ridge, were convicted yesterday at a hearing before Justice of the Peace D. H. Collins, the defendants being charged with an assault upon a little girl and boy that lived in the neighborhood of the defendants. The alleged assault was said to have followed a quarrel that occurred last Thursday. Judgment in the case was suspended upon payment of the costs.

DARING JAIL DELIVERY IN BUNCOMBE COUNTY.

Asheville, July 13.—Seven white prisoners, all charged with crimes of a serious nature including one who was being held here for safekeeping until the date for his electrocution for having committed a double murder in Macon county, escaped from the Buncombe county jail early this morning by sawing through the iron bars of their cell and those at the jail windows. The criminals escaped in an automobile, it is believed, and up to a late hour tonight none of them had been caught. A force of deputies were placed upon the case immediately after the escape of the prisoners was discovered and although scouring Buncombe and nearby counties had failed to catch any of the convicts by 10 o'clock tonight.

The escape of the prisoners is the most daring thing of its kind ever recorded in the police or court annals of western North Carolina. That the escape was well planned is evident from the complete lack of clues obtainable and the masterly way in which the prisoners had arranged everything. Those who escaped were Berry Dalton, sentenced to death for a double murder in Macon county, and placed here May 1; Dan Boone, Henry Boone and W. B. Manley, committed to jail from Madison county on charge of storebreaking and larceny, placed in jail on May 21; J. Kenneth Smith, charged with abandonment and white slavery, was awaiting trial at the present term of Superior court; Oscar Rymer, charged with assault, drunkenness and disorderly conduct, awaiting trial in the Superior court; Gus Herwood, charged with blockading, awaiting trial.

One of the most remarkable things about the escape was the fact that three men who had a chance to escape did not do so. T. J. Lamb, a crazy man, Elliot Cantrell, held here for safekeeping for the authorities of Transylvania county where he is charged with murder, and Walter Lamb, charged with being drunk and speeding, were in the same white cell with the seven escaped prisoners, but they were found by the jailer early this morning. Whether they were offered a chance to make their get-away and decided to take their chances with the court or whether they were asleep and did not know of what was happening, is a question upon which their escape by sawing out two of the iron bars in the cell and then cutting away one of the big bars that guarded the window. The cell was on the second story and the men had to tie blankets together and climb down some 20 feet to the ground. A short hack saw in a frame about 12 inches long was used in sawing the bars. According to the jailer the saw must have come from the outside as none of the prisoners had it yesterday.

"FARMER-LABOR PARTY" IS THE NAME ADOPTED.

Chicago, July 14.—The "Farmer-Labor party" was the name chosen by the convention of the new political party here tonight.

Robert LaFollette, Jr., notified new party leaders tonight that his father would not run under any circumstances on the platform adopted.

The majority report on the platform draft of the dominant labor group, was adopted without a record vote and then was made unanimous. James Ferguson, former Democratic governor of Texas, quit the meeting just before the vote on the platform and left for home. Ferguson, Texas delegates said, was willing to stand for the platform except that part advocating public ownership of the railroads.

EXPRESS MESSENGERS CONFESS TO ROBBERY.

Jacksonville, Fla., July 12.—John Holder, 25, express messenger, and L. R. Duke, 20, a former messenger, were lodged in jail here tonight charged with having robbed the express car on Atlantic Coast Line train No. 39, near here, last Friday. The men, according to the special agent of the express company, made a joint confession. It was announced that virtually all of the $7,000 taken from the car has been recovered.

According to the special agents, the robbery occurred in Duval county shortly after the train left Jacksonville. Duke, they said, boarded the train at Grand Crossing, just outside of this city, and Holder allowed himself to be tied up in order to make it appear he had been attacked by bandits.

The frame-up, according to the alleged confession, was planned two weeks ago. The express messenger was to tip off his confederate on the day a large quantity of money was to be shipped from Jacksonville banks to a mining company at New Berry. As most of the payroll money was in silver the men were compelled to pass it up as it was too bulky to be removed without fear of detection.

After securing the $7,000 in currency from the safe, Dukes, according to his confession, dropped it from the moving train and went back to the spot in an automobile from Baldwin and then returned to Jacksonville.
