PEOPLE'S CHOICE FOR GOVERNOR

ALFRED M. SCALES, OF GUILFORD.

—The tendency of people to deify a popular individual, particularly after death, runs to ridiculous extremes. This growing mania is likely to be carried to such an extent that the posterity of men of real worth, and who merit such posthumous recognition, will cease to consider such marks of favor as any honor at all, since it can be enjoyed by good, bad, and indifferent, according to the likes of a few zealous admirers. After all, Pope's couplet tells what most bespeaks the worth of man:

Praises on tombs as trifles vainly speak;
A man's good name is his best monument.

—An election for county officers takes place throughout Virginia to-day, and in most of the cities councilmen and other officials will be chosen. The coalitionists, under the direction of Gen. Mahone, have made nominations in all the counties where there is a ghost of a chance of electing their nominees, and this has been supplemented by the most thorough organization. The Democrats also nominated in many counties, but in others concluded to support the officials now in position. The poll-tax having been abolished, the only qualification to-day is that of proper registration.

—Four million letters reached the dead letter office in the past year, and of these 16,000 were not even addressed. There is no question about the gross carelessness of mailing letters to nobody, nowhere. There was scarcely more care taken with the mailing of the 40,000 letters which brought in $2,000,000. The postal authorities require so much care in handling of letters, and take so much trouble to deliver them where they ought to be delivered, that a letter with a fair start very rarely goes wrong. The first thing is to address your letter; the second to address it correctly and plainly. Nothing ought to be taken for granted. It is better to write States, counties and towns in full.

A BOOM FOR RANDALL.

The Birmingham Age states that four of the Democratic Congressmen from Alabama have already declared themselves in favor of the election of the Hon. Samuel J. Randall to the speakership of the 48th Congress. It publishes a letter from Hon. Thomas Williams, of the fifth congressional district of Alabama, in which he declares strongly for Mr. Randall. Mr. Williams says: "Mr. Randall is to-day the same inflexible Democrat of the Jefferson and Jackson school upon all the issues defining the parties—the same incorruptible statesman, undoubted patriot."

The Baltimore Sun, anti-Randall, says "there is no question that Mr. Randall is developing a strength in the South which is a surprise to both his supporters and opponents."

The New York Herald, hitherto an unrelenting anti-Randall paper, says:

"It seems to us that the Kentucky Democrats have insured the election of Mr. Randall to the Speakership. If tariff reform is not to be made plainly, definitely and boldly the single Democratic issue, then Mr. Randall is the strongest man in his party for the Speakership. He is the equal of his rivals in all and the superior in many of the points looked for in a Speaker; he has skill and experience in the chair; he comes from a doubtful State, in which his election would certainly and greatly strengthen his party."

Recent authentic information from anti-Randall sources in Washington leaves little doubt that Randall will be the speaker of the 48th Congress.

INTERESTING TO FRUIT GROWERS

The American Pomological Society was organized in 1848. Congressman Wharton J. Green is chairman of the State committee for North Carolina. As it is his province to appoint other members of the executive committee from this State, he would be pleased to receive applications from fruit growers in different sections, also answers to the questions embraced in the following circular, issued by the secretary of the Pomological Society:

1st—Species of Fruit. What species of fruit, as apple, pear, peach, plum, cherry, &c., &c., are grown unsuccessfully in your State?

2d—Varieties of Fruit. What varieties of these fruits have been found, by experience, best adapted to the soil and climate of your State and its various parts? The degrees of merit should be stated according to the scale adopted in the society's catalogue, viz: those worthy of cultivation designated by *; those of great superiority and value by **; those of more recent introduction and giving promise of excellence by †. In this connection you will please examine the list of varieties, if any, recommended in the society's catalogue, for your State, and suggest such changes or additions as may, in your judgment be necessary.

3d—New Native Varieties. If there are any new varieties of recent origin in your State, giving promise of excellence, you will please make special note of them.

4th—Synonyms. Give as much information as may be in your power in regard to the different names by which the same fruit is known in your State.

5th—Obstacles to Successful Fruit Culture. What are the chief obstacles to successful fruit culture in your State, as regards soil, climate, insects, diseases, &c., and what remedies have been most effectually employed?

6th—Culture and Pruning. What treatment of the soil of fruit tree plantations and what system of pruning have yielded, in general, the best results?

7th—Storing and Keeping Winter Fruits. What methods are most successfully practiced?

8th—Packages. What sort of packages has been found most advantageous, especially for shipment to distant markets, and especially to Europe?

9th—Statistics. If convenient, statistics showing the extent and progress of fruit culture in your State.

If, for any reason, it may not be in your power to report upon all the points enumerated above, be kind enough to do what you can, giving precedence to 2d and 3d, relating to varieties of fruits."

In cases where State committees have made full reports at recent sessions, they will not be expected to go over the same ground again, but will simply report such changes in regard to the value of varieties as later experience may justify; and such new facts in regard to the subject of fruits and their culture, keeping, marketing, etc., as may have come to light since the last report.

The 9th point, "statistics," showing the extent and progress of fruit culture in your State, will always be interesting and instructive. The extent of recent planting, the largest orchards, the varieties most extensively planted, average prices of the various fruits, estimated value of the total fruit production in the State, &c., &c.

This circular is sent out at this early period for the purpose of giving committees ample time to organize and have the benefit of two full seasons' experience before making their report. The next meeting is to be held in Philadelphia, in the month of September, 1883.

Snow a Foot Deep.

LYNCHBURG, VA., May 23.—Snow fell last night a foot deep on the Richmond & Alleghany Railroad, between Lynchburg and Clifton Ford. The weather is exceedingly cold and is doing considerable damage to the crops.

Heavy Frost in the West.

ST. LOUIS, May 23.—A heavy frost occurred Monday and Tuesday nights throughout the southern and a part of central Missouri, and particularly in that section of Illinois swept by the tornadoes last Friday night. Early vegetables are almost entirely destroyed, and fruit and grain are badly damaged. Ice from an eighth to a quarter of an inch thick formed in some localities.

A Remarkable Escape From Death.

[Lenoir Topic.]

On last Saturday, while a number of students of Rutherford College were bathing in the stream just above McCallard's Falls, about two miles from the college, Mr. G. O. Floyd, a young man from Leesville, Robeson county, approached too near the shoals when he slipped and fell on the rocks, whose steepness whirled him down the slope over a precipice of 15 feet, and dropped him on a narrow ledge of solid rocks, from which he fell over another precipice of about 10 feet, thence 8 feet into a pool of water below—over 200 feet from where he started. To see him dashing over the rocks in his perilous condition almost paralyzed his comrades above, but their excitement was calmed on seeing him scrambling out of the water and proceeding to rejoin them with scarcely an injury, except a few scratches and bruises. It was certainly a narrow escape from death.

Cost of the Confederate Monument.

[Messager.]

The committee appointed to erect a monument to the memory of the confederate dead in our cemetery, and to solicit donations for that purpose, desire, to give an account of their stewardship.

They have collected from all sources the following funds:

From festival	$316
" City of Goldsboro	50
" Citizens of "	50
" Outside (northern) citizens	386
	802

They have contracted debts as follows:

Stone work from Gaddess Bros.	$615
Statue	31
Expenses of erecting monument	60
	$992

Balance due by committee, in excess of funds on hand $190

The State furnished free of cost the stone used in the foundation, and the R. & D. R. R. transported the same free of cost. The W. & W. R. R. also generously gave free transportation from Baltimore on the stone work furnished by Gaddess Bros. It was necessary to employ an experienced mason to erect the foundation, but in order to practice all possible economy, the committee, assisted most kindly by a few others, raised all the heavy stone and the statue to their proper position by their own personal labor.

The Medical Convention.

[Tarboro Guide.]

The whole town had been agog over the expected advent of the doctors, of high and low degree. The multitude, the fat, the thin, the thick, the slim, the baldheads, the oiled locks and all, had been immensely provided for. Not a stone, nor chicken, nor strawberry, nor fat beef, sheep, or pig, had been left unturned.

The town in some regards had suffered fatally in these directions by previous incursions of conventional preachers, and the Materia Medica had probably been mixed with ministerial matter—Doctors of Medicine with Doctors of Divinity, in their taste and capacity for gastric warp and woof.

There came about 70 or 80 doctors and there was more personal pulchritude in the body than we ever saw collected. The old doctors were fine looking, the middle aged handsome, and the fledgling, beautiful. All seemed to know it, for it was a remarkably intelligent body, and some of the youngsters, curled darlings as they were, could have posed well as dudes—not yankee dudes, however, but the Tar Heel variety. They were lovely to look upon.

Various were the hypotheses based upon the invasion of so many knights of the scalpel and pill propellers. Some surmised all their patients at home would now get well—and the cats being away, the sick mice would play—and many a medical Othello would find, upon his return, his occupation gone. Others thought they would want to get sick, as there could be no danger of death when the very air whiffed of paregoric and ipecac. The ladies of course only detected the odor of balm of 1,000 flowers, but the editorial smeller is not so easily deceived.

When it was suggested that bills followed pills, the originator of the idea shrank aghast and tightened up his pocket nerve.

The banquet on Thursday night was recherche and enjoyable, and the ball room, filled with the loveliness of Tarboro and neighboring towns, was brilliant in beauty, resplendent in queenly grace, gazelle softness—evidently paralyzing the M. D.'s more than an ordinary case of cerebro spinal meningitis, in which happy visions of fertile fees and pastures green to be browsed on, loomed up. We use this term, because we know of no other that would sound so deadly to a patient's ears.

Many of these adolescent lancers will, doubtless, appear here again when no convention, save of two, and one not a doctor, will meet. All were happy and our people rejoiced.

We could stand the strain of such a convention every month for 65 years and leave it a rich legacy to our children.

Mr. L. Brown, Durham, N. C., says: "I arose every morning with a bad headache. I used Brown's Iron Bitters and found relief."

Why suffer longer from dyspepsia, indigestion, want of appetite, loss of strength, lack of energy, malaria, intermittent fevers, etc.? Brown's Iron Bitters never fail to cure these diseases. They act like a charm on the digestive organs, removing all dyspeptic symptoms, such as belching, heartburn, biliousness, etc. Remember it is the only iron preparation that will not blacken the teeth or give headache. Ask your druggists concerning its merit.
