GUILFORD FARMERS SIGN CO-OPERATIVE CONTRACTS

PLAN HEARTILY SUPPORTED AT MEETING HERE—OTHER MEETINGS PLANNED.

Hearty endorsement of the co-operative plan of marketing tobacco featured the meeting of Guilford county farmers held at the court-house Saturday afternoon. About 100 farmers were present and when the speaking was over they showed their approval of the proposition by signing the contracts.

The principal address was delivered by J. D. Swain, of the state bureau of markets. Mr. Swain told in detail of the workings of the plan, setting forth so lucidly that it was easily understandable.

Advocacy of the co-operative marketing system was expressed by E. D. Broadhurst, who felt that the system which is proving effective in the marketing campaign would also be effective in providing for the establishment of a tuberculosis hospital in Guilford county.

More than 90 per cent of the tobacco growers who have heard Mr. Swain in various parts of Guilford county have signed the contracts, it is stated. It is pointed out that more than 50 per cent of N. C. tobacco growers have signed contracts pledging to enter the new system in 1922, thus assuring the success of the movement.

An interesting talk was made at Saturday's meeting by J. M. Galloway, of Guilford county, who is said to be the largest tobacco grower in the world. Mr. Galloway urged all the farmers to sign, declaring that it would prove the greatest movement ever made by the growers.

At 5 o'clock next Saturday afternoon the campaign in Guilford county will close. Mr. Swain and County Farm Demonstrator E. B. Garrett will hold meetings this week at the following places:

Monday, at Prospect school, High Point township, at 3.30 p. m. and at Pleasant school house at 7 p. m.

Tuesday, Washington school house at 3 p. m. and Brightwood at 7 p. m.

Wednesday, at Bethel school house at 3.30 p. m. and Oak Ridge school house at 7 p. m.

Thursday, at Elm Grove school house at 7 p. m.

Friday, 3.30 p. m. at Sedalia.

Mr. Garrett stated that he will be in his office at the courthouse each day this week between the hours of 8 a. m. and 10 a. m.

FOR HOSPITAL PLAN

Bond Election Is Endorsed by Guilford County Teachers.

In regular session here Saturday morning the Guilford county teachers enthusiastically endorsed the plan for the establishment and maintenance of a tuberculosis hospital in this county.

E. D. Broadhurst urged that every teacher in the county work for the success of the proposition which is to be passed upon by the voters on December 20. It was indicated that the enterprise would be actively supported by the teachers.

The county schools will close for the Christmas holidays on Friday, December 23, and reopen on Monday, January 2, it was announced at the teachers' meeting. However, it was stated that if for a special reason any school wishes to provide a more lengthy holiday period such a plan may be adopted with the sanction of the school committee.

Miss Bonnie Snow delivered an address on household decorations. A pleasing feature of the meeting was a musical concert by William Monroe, of Greensboro, and New York, gifted baritone, and Eugene Dayton, of Tyrone, Pa., well known pianist.

REPORT TO HOW SAFE AT COLLEGE IS FUTILE

An effort to blow open a safe in the office of the A. & T. college about 9 o'clock Friday morning was unsuccessful. The police who answered the call for assistance found the office vacant. The night watchman had heard strange noises and notified the officers. Nitroglycerine was employed in the futile attempt.

FIND NEGRO IN ROOM OF GIRLS AT COLLEGE HERE

MACK WILLIAMS ARRESTED IN N. C. C. W. DORMITORY AT 2 A. M. SUNDAY.

About 2 o'clock yesterday morning a negro named Mack Williams was arrested in a dormitory at the North Carolina College for Women. The negro had just been frightened from the room by the cries of three girls, students at the college, who were awakened by the noise of Williams moving about the room.

The arrest was effected by Night Watchman J. M. Fields, who held the negro until local policemen arrived at the college. The officers placed the negro in the city prison pending the trial.

It is thought that the negro probably entered the building through the basement door. The room in which he was found is on the first floor. The front door and a side door were locked. Officers believe that he was either doped or drunk. J. M. Sink, superintendent of the grounds and buildings, said that Williams told him he had been doped. Dr. J. I. Fouat, president of the college, said that the negro tried to make him believe that he was a janitor working at the institution.

Williams, who is a painter, lives on Ashe street. It is stated that he came to Greensboro from Charlotte.

CRAFTY THIEVES

Take Truck From One Store—Then Load it at Another One.

Thursday night some resourceful thieves went to the garage in the rear of the Greensboro Furniture company's store, on East Market street, cranked up an automobile truck and drove to the store of S. M. Hill, on the same thoroughfare. Then the truck was loaded with several hundred pounds of sugar, about five thousand packages of cigarettes, some shirts and shoes, as well as a safe which contained about $20 in cash.

Where the thieves expected to deliver their booty has not been discovered. The truck was not damaged in the affair.

On Saturday local officers arrested five negroes who are alleged to have taken the truck and articles. The five are Walter Snipes, Layman Bradford, Frank Bradford, Herman Williams and Will Loftin. Much of the stuff stolen from Hill's store was recovered. Frank Bradford, the youngest of the quintet, was remanded to juvenile court, and it was decided that the others would be given a hearing in Municipal court.

Among those here doing honors to Marshal Foch were former Governor Bickett, General Carr and former Secretary of the Navy Daniels.

MRS. LYDIA FIELDS HIT BY AUTOMOBILE, DYING LATER

EARLY KNIGHT, DRIVER OF CAR HELD—ACCIDENT OCCURRED AT PROXIMITY.

Mrs. Lydia J. Fields, aged 60, of Proximity, was so severely injured when struck by an automobile truck Thursday morning that she died that afternoon.

Early Knight, the driver of the truck that struck Mrs. Fields, was placed under a $5,000 bond for a hearing before Magistrate Caffey Saturday.

On Friday Early Knight was released from custody under $2,000 bond. He will be given a hearing before Justice J. R. Caffey early this week.

Mrs. Fields was returning to her home on Walnut street from a visit to a neighbor on the other side of the street. According to witnesses of the accident, Mrs. Fields hesitated when she saw the truck coming, tried to turn back and was caught under the wheels, being dragged 30 feet before the truck could be stopped. The tracks of the car showed, Deputy Sheriff John Hobbs stated, that the car had slid that distant with locked wheels. Mrs. Fields was injured internally and about the head.

The car was the property of Lloyd Smith, who operates a pressing club.

Mrs. Fields leaves two sons, Elmer Fields, of Proximity, and D. J. Fields, of Greensboro.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Fields, conducted by Rev. A. Burgess. The body was taken to Bethlehem church, near Climax, for interment.

MALE VAMP BEATEN

And After Mighty Drubbing He Is Sentenced to the County Roads.

Clyde Craven began a sentence of 30 days on the roads Friday, imposed by Judge D. H. Collins in Municipal court Thursday. In addition to having to work on the roads, Craven suffered a severe beating at the hands of J. M. McClure Wednesday night on Elm street, near court square.

Mr. McClure and Mrs. McClure went up street Wednesday night and while Mr. McClure went into a shoe shine stand near the Greensboro Drug company Mrs. McClure waited for him in front of one of Meyer's Department store windows. Craven accosted Mrs. McClure and she moved over to the other window. Craven followed her and tried to begin a conversation. Just at that time Mr. McClure came out of the shoe shine stand and Mrs. McClure told him of the way Craven had acted.

McClure knocked Craven down, then jerked him up and knocked him down again. Craven broke loose and ran up Elm street and down East Market. Mr. McClure caught up with him and held him with one hand while he beat him with the other. Then Mr. McClure started with Craven to the police station. When they got to the corner of Market and Elm streets Craven said he wanted to settle the matter then and there.

At that Mr. McClure knocker Craven's head against the granite wall of the American Exchange Bank building, grabbed him by the collar and started up Elm street with him to the police station, giving him a swift kick now and then. Craven was charged in court with an assault on a female and Judge Collins thought 30 days on the roads would help him. The judge complimented Mr. McClure for his conduct in the matter.

OPEN NEW CHURCH

Large Crowds Witness Formal Opening of Pleasant Garden Edifice

Impressive ceremonies marked the formal opening of the handsome new Pleasant Garden Methodist Episcopal church, south, at 11 o'clock yesterday. With a large and deeply interested crowd in attendance the new church home was opened and began a career which seems destined to be one of abiding strength and usefulness.

The text of Rev. A. G. Loftin, the pastor, was taken from the 12th chapter of Romans, the first and second verses:

"I beseech you, therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that you present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service."

"And be not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed by the renewing of your minds, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable and perfect will of God."

It was an inspiring sermon one which obviously made a lasting impression upon the great congregation. The pastor also referred in laudatory vein to the splendid work of the building committee the members of which had faithfully discharged their weighty responsibility. He had had no worries in connection with the undertaking.

Many people from Greensboro attended the service.

The new church is one of the most modern and attractive structures in this part of the county. The main auditorium and 12 Sunday school rooms have been completed. The building is generally considered commensurate with the needs of the rapidly growing congregation. In the appointments one finds a happy combination of the elements of beauty and utility. Much admiring comment regarding the new church was heard yesterday.

MARDI GRAS PROVES REAL RIOT OF JOYOUS REVELRY

"STEAMBOAT BILL" UNCER-
MONIOUSLY KNOCKED OUT—
OTHER STIRRING EVENTS.

There was a time when the Mardi Gras at New Orleans was considered a wonderful event. The Louisianans and folks from other states annually cavorted around in impressive style during the Mardi Gras season.
It was generally agreed that it was just about the biggest thing of the kind to be found.

However, times change. New Orleans' glory was great, but that was in the days before Greensboro decided to do some Mardi Grasing on its own hook. The carnival season was ushered in here Friday night.
On Saturday night the closing festivities were festivated. 'Twas a wild night, one which historians will fervently declare was accompanied by more blazes of glory than forty fat inspectors could count. In fact, both nights were of joyous character; the crowds reveled in song, dance, prize fighting and scores of other forms of hilarious entertainment.

The Guilford warehouse was the scene of fun-making and the series of hair-raising, good-for-sore-eyes spectacles were staged by the Greensboro Chamber of Commerce, aided and abetted by its loving friends.

Perhaps the most sensational event of Friday evening was the fierce fistic fray between Judge D.
H. Collins, aptly denominated
"Steamboat Bill," and A. Wayland Cooke, cognominally known in the pugilistic precincts as "The Wharf Rat."

The judge weighed in at 700 pounds, more or less, while the Rat was recognized as the champion lightweight. What the latter lacked in avoirdupois he more than had in swiftness, especially when he was being pursued by Steamboat Bill.
"Spitz" Cobb came to the Rat's rescue in dramatic style and between them they made Steamboat Bill more or less uncomfortable for a spell. Finally, the Rat seized a baseball bat, connected it with his portly antagonist and the referee at this moment is supposed to be still taking the census.

Stunts came thick and fast.
There was many a dancing laddie, many a dancing lassie, as well as music a la carte, music a la mode and just plain music. The carnival spirit was there with bells on. Gay costumes added to the brightness of the scene. There were Indians, Mexicans, cowboys,—well most every country except Russia was represented. There were no bolshe-vists.

Miss Kathleen Price and Douglas Conkright won first honors in the cakewalk, an event which would have made Aunt Mirandy and Uncle Zeke turn pale with envy in so far as pallor could o'erspread their dusky countenances, for its was one of the original cakewalks, done to perfection by Miss Price and Per-fessor Doug. The best costume was the one worn by Mrs. Thomas C.
Hunt, while John T. Rees' near-glad rags were awarded the second prize.

H. K. Williams, who led the field in the membership campaign, was awarded a silver service, which was presented by Frank P. Hobgood.
Mr. Williams secured 83 new members, a record which aroused much admiration.

C. C. Hudson, great high sacker of the membership campaign, and C.
W. Roberts, secretary of the chamber, were the presiding geniuses of the Mardi Gras and it was agreed that presiding was their long suit.
The crowds reveled for many hours until the crowing of neighborhood roosters signalized that the dawn was doggone near.

So eminently successful was the Mardi Gras that on Saturday, the final night, it was decided to make it an annual event. The crowd so willed and it is understood that leaders of the Chamber of Commerce will not disappoint the crowds.

"Mrs. B. F. Kee and Douglas Conk-right" on Saturday night gave a demonstration in cakewalking that gladdened the multitude. At one time it appeared that Mrs. Wade Stockard and Bob Denny, admittedly classy cakewalkers, might capture the 77-pound cake, but when Doug Conkright, minus collar, minus coat and with sleeves rolled up in businesslike fashion, produced capers such as neither native nor adopted sons had ever seen it was realized that he and Mrs. Kee had triumphantly annexed the cake.

According to unofficial figures announced Saturday night, the Chamber of Commerce membership has increased to 780 as a result of the campaign. The campaign will be continued this week with a view to making the total 800, it was agreed.

Mrs. H. K. Williams was declared the princess, having received 114 votes, the greatest number, and she was awarded a diamond pin. Miss Myrtle Preyer, with 104 votes, was a close second, other popular contestants being Miss Clara Oettinger, Miss Grey Fetter, Miss Kathleen Price and Miss Susie Gunter. Prizes for the best costumes Saturday night were awarded to Miss Katherine Hill White and Dr. A. E. Ledbetter. The Penny brothers auctioned off a hat and a Christmas seal, J.
M. Millikan securing that hat for $100, while Julius W. Cone bought the seal at $25. The proceeds were devoted to charity.

EIGHTEEN LIVES LOST AND PROPERTY DAMAGED

St. Johns, N. F., Dec. 8.—At least eighteen lives were lost, more than a score of fishing schooners, barges and tugs were destroyed and property damage approximating $250,000 was done by the storm that raged along the New Foundland coast on Monday and Tuesday. It was believed today that the list of vessels lost in the gale might be increased when a check of the craft exposed to the fury of the storm was completed.

Ship masters who brought their vessels into port reported the storm was one of the worst that ever swept the coast. Many of the vessels wrecked were laden with winter supplies consigned to settlements north of here.

RECENT DEATHS

Mrs. Emma B. Hill.

With a large number of sorrowing friends and relatives in attendance funeral services for Mrs. Emma Barton Hill, whose death occurred early Wednesday morning in a local hospital, were held at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the home, 514 Highland avenue.

The impressive service was conducted by Rev. J. H. Barnhart, D. D., pastor of West Market Street Methodist church, of which Mrs.

Hill long was a devoted member, and by Rev. E. P. Billups, assistant pastor of that church.

Musical selections included a solo, "The Old Rugged Cross," by Miss Myrtle Preyer, and a duet, "Sometime We'll Understand," by Miss Preyer and Rev. Mr. Billups. Members of the church choir and others present sang, "Nearer, My God, to Thee."

Dr. Barnhardt told of the love of the departed for her church, her home and her community. He significantly recalled that shortly before her passing she had said that she expected to "exchange the old

The Personal Gift

The personal gift is an individual remembrance. The type of Christmas thoughtfulness is truly old-fashioned giving, and how we all long for the spirit of the Christmas of yesterday! How we cherish in our memory the Christmas morns of earlier years when we awoke to find on the candle-lighted tree, or in the biggest stocking we could procure, the various personal gifts of kind friends and relatives. And isn't it true that among these gifts were many articles of jewelry that have endured through the years, reminding us of some Christmas day of long ago? : : : : :

So in giving, this Christmas, let us consider the expressiveness of the personal gift which is best indicated with jewelry. Chief among personal gifts are:

THE DOCTORS KNOW.

The endorsement of the tuberculosis hospital plan by the Guilford County Medical society, composed of the doctors of the county, is one of the most significant events of the campaign. The doctors are in intimate contact with tuberculosis sufferers. They know far more than the layman can possibly know of the suffering of such persons. They know, too, more about the possibility of curative measures. Therefore, when the physicians of the county unequivocally express their approval of the tuberculosis hospital enterprise the people of the county can well afford to lend their hearty support to this great proposition.

It is also significant that the ministers are declaring their unqualified endorsement of the idea. Such preachers as Dr. Barnhardt and Dr. Turner are conscious of the fact that spiritual guidance and ministration to the physical needs of the people should properly be closely linked. They are, of course, aware of the fact that the Messiah not only was the world's greatest teacher, but also the world's greatest healer. He mended broken bodies as well as ministered to anguished souls. Always His great heart was touched by physical infirmities and He was ever ready to impart the healing touch in things of physical nature as well as in the spiritual realm.

Certainly this is a moral issue. In a very real sense we are our brothers' keepers.

Shall we permit our neighbors to die simply because we decline to vote the necessary bonds and the necessary maintenance tax for this institution?

Shall we in the face of this tremendous responsibility admit unwillingness to lift our hands to save them from untimely graves?

Shall we acknowledge that while we would provide expert treatment for diseased hogs, for instance, we will not provide the imperatively needed facilities which will heal their broken bodies?

In short, shall we continue in our indifference to the physical welfare of hundreds of people who are just as definitely a part of the community as we?

Shall we try to ignore the fact that we would thus, in some measure at least, directly or indirectly, blameable for the loss of life and the multiplication of suffering, for the accentuation of human desperation?

On December 20 the people of Guilford county will answer these questions. The issue is in the hands of Guilford citizens. Time after time Guilford citizenship has demonstrated progressive ideas, it has led in numerous important and helpful movements. Here again is a wonderful opportunity for Guilford leadership. As Dr. McDrayer says, "the whole state of North Carolina is interested," and this county has the opportunity to blaze the mercurial way for many other counties.

It is to be earnestly hoped that the people will by a most impressive majority declare their unwillingness to perpetuate such suffering as that caused by tuberculosis. If the question be viewed solely from an economic standpoint, the hospital is eminently desirable, as it means a large saving in dollars and cents for the county. However, the moral aspects of the issue transcend in importance the other phases. Our valuation of human life and human contentment and human happiness is being put to the test—may we all have enough of the milk of human kindness, enough of humanitarianism, enough of regard for our neighbors, to march proudly to the polls on the 20th of this month and plant ourselves squarely behind the proposition to increase the sum of happiness, to lessen the toll of death and sorrow! Such an opportunity calls for the best that is in us and surely none of us will withhold an ounce of energy or other helpful resources which may be employed in this love-inspired labor.

GUILFORD PHYSICIANS WANT A TUBERCULOSIS HOSPITAL

A rumor that the physicians of Guilford county are opposed to the establishment of a tuberculosis hospital in Guilford county by the issuance of bonds was disproved by the physicians. The records of the last two meetings of the county medical society show that at both meetings all the physicians present were unanimously in favor of a tuberculosis hospital in which Guilford county people may obtain treatment.

Several of the physicians state that they think it would be a great mistake for the people to fail to put across the proposed bond issue for a hospital. They assert that it is the people of moderate means who would benefit most from the establishment of the hospital; that they will be able to obtain treatment at it which they could not get at their homes on account of the expense involved in home treatment. Also, in treatment given at home, they point out, there is danger of others contracting the disease.

The doctors of the county have as individuals and as a society, declared themselves as enthusiastically in favor of the hospital.

WATER WORKS EXPERTS OF NORTH CAROLINA CONFER

MANY INTERESTING QUESTIONS
DISCUSSED AT TWO-DAY CONVENTION.

Numerous problems of vital interest to the profession were animatedly discussed at the first annual meeting of the North Carolina section of the American Water Works association in the O. Henry hotel Friday and Saturday.

J. L. Ludlow, of Winston-Salem, president of the body, presided. His address was the most interesting event of the Friday evening session. The speaker stressed the importance of thorough training for water works superintendents and filter operators and he also alluded significantly to the need of better filter operation. At the same time Mr. Ludlow pleaded for greater popular appreciation of the service rendered by water works men.

At the Friday afternoon session George F. Catlett, of Raleigh, delivered an address on "Filter Plant Operation and Training of Operators." General discussion of that subject followed, with L. O. Crair of Salisbury, George D. Norcomb of Wilmington, W. E. Vest, of Charlotte, and H. L. Shaner, of Winston-Salem, taking an active part.

Plans for the training of filter operators now being developed at the University of North Carolina were interestingly discussed by Prof. Thorndike Saville, head of the sanitary engineering department of that institution, and H. E. Miller, director of the bureau of engineering and inspection of the state board of health.

Adjournment was reached Saturday afternoon after Gastonia was selected as the place of the next annual meeting. It was agreed that President J. L. Ludlow, of Winston-Salem, and Secretary Thorndike Saville, of Chapel Hill, would continue to serve in those posts until the next convention. Capt. J. C. Michie, of Durham, was elected vice-president. It was announced that the North Carolina section of the American Water Works association had won the prize offered by the national body for the largest percentage of increase during the past year.

Addresses were delivered Saturday morning by Thorndike Saville, F. H. Burnside, of Boston, and Sherwood Brockwell, of the state insurance department. M. M. Boyles, of Greensboro, led a general discussion of maintenance problems.

PERSONAL MENTION

C. H. Coile, who lives on the Tabernacle road, killed what is believed to be the champion hog in this section last week. The hog dressed 44 pounds. More than 20 gallons of fat were secured from the fats. H. R. Donnell, of McLeansville, is attaining a splendid reputation as a producer of large hogs. Last week he killed three, the aggregate weight of which was 1,212 pounds. The largest porker tipped the scales at 440 pounds.

Find Thieves in Woods.

Yesterday a party of boys found five new automobile tires in the woods near the White Oak mill. They notified the police, who took the tires to the police station. It is believed that the tires, which were found under a bush, had been stolen, but no arrests have been made.

DISCOVER WHISKEY IN CARLOAD OF ONIONS

Norfolk, Va., Dec. 9.—Special prohibition agents from Washington this morning seized a carload of onions in which were found a total of 400 cases of whiskey. The shipment is valued at $60,000, according to Norfolk prices. Tracing the car from New York where the liquor and onions were packed together, the officers arrived in Norfolk a day or two ago to await the coming of the shipment.

Acting under specific orders from Federal Prohibition Commissioner Haynes, the agents searched the railroad yards this morning and under a blanket search warrant opened the car. The shipment was billed as onions. Special agents Brown, Lewis and Williams, who had been in close touch with car checkers, located the car and the report from New York was verified when the agents opened several of the containers.

Committee on Guilford County Tuberculosis Hospital.
Greensboro N C

The whole state of North Carolina is interested in the success of the coming election for the authorization of bonds for the construction and tax for the maintenance of a tuberculosis sanatorium by the voters of Guilford county. Wayne county has ordered an election for February, Rowan county and Gaston county will likely follow soon, while many other counties are thinking about the matter seriously. The success of the election in Guilford will hearten and encourage these and put many more counties to thinking about it. But those most seriously interested are the one thousand cases of tuberculosis in Guilford county today, because from these will come the hundreds of deaths this year and the next and the next unless provisions are made for their treatment and care. The State Board of Health, the State Tuberculosis Association and the State Sanatorium hope for a large majority at the election on the Twentieth.

In Memory of His Dead Son, Father Appeals for Tuberculosis Hospital

Editor Greensboro Patriot:

Having lost my wife and my only son, Glenn Hudson, at times I feel very lonely. As I see it now, his death was a sacrifice on the altar of public indifference to the ravages of tuberculosis. Prolonged poor health and grief caused by the loss of our only son, no doubt, caused my wife's death soon after the death of my son, Glenn.

The absence of a county hospital for tuberculosis, such as we are now asked to vote for, was, in my opinion, the real cause of my son's early death. Glenn Hudson, my only child, was the pride of my life. He was the center of my hopes. I managed to school him as a man of my limited means should do for his only child—for really, he was my all. The day he became a licensed lawyer my heart swelled with pride. As he advanced in his profession and as the people learned to love him—learned to respect his ability and to love his genial nature—my heart swelled with pride. As he advanced in his profession I grew younger in spirit.

All of a sudden he developed incipient tuberculosis. Every dollar I had was ready to help him get back his health. At that time it was thought that people afflicted with tuberculosis had to go to very cold and very dry climates—get away from home—get out of the office—and we sent him to Saranac Lake, New York. The very cold climate and the very lonesomeness and the absence of his friends and the distance from his loved ones seemed to aggravate his case. Later he came home and died in the prime of his young manhood.

Those who knew my son, Glenn, recall these facts as I have stated them. What I am trying to say is this: That I believe my son would be living today, if there had existed in this county a tuberculosis hospital to which my boy could have been carried, examined and treated without having to send him away from his folks and into a different climate. The expense would have been hardly a tenth of what it did cost, though I am proud of every dollar I spent in his fight for health in a far away place.

Glenn has been gone some nine years, now. I think of him daily. I have been thinking of him today. And I am writing you this letter because I know he would, if he could speak to me, ask me to write you this letter that those who knew him may think of him as a sacrifice to public indifference as to the ravages of tuberculosis—and vote for the coming bond issue.

I have no children now, but I am willing to pay the pitiable tax of five cents on every hundred dollars' worth of property that I may now have or may ever hereafter have to help save some other father's son. We cannot tell at this time who will be benefited by the building of this hospital. It may be you, Mr. Editor. It may be some one dear to you.

I feel so intensely on this subject—I am so in earnest about it—I have suffered so much because of my sacrifice—that I would, if I could, build a magnificent hospital for tuberculosis right here in Guilford county—just as the people are now asked to do—as an expression of my love for my only boy and as a refuge for other boys who could be saved in the future, just as my boy could have been saved right here at home, if there had existed a hospital for this dread disease.

Mr. Editor, never before in my life did I ever try to write a letter to a newspaper. I hardly know how to write. My feelings outrun my thoughts. My desire to aid in this most unselfish bond issue—and my worry because of a seeming lack of interest on the part of some who have not suffered—and some who are well—to register—forces me to write you.

Please do your best to show the people that the tax is nothing to speak of—in fact, the price of a few flowers on the coffin of some friend stricken with tuberculosis—some friend who might have been saved—will exceed the tax of the average man in this county.

Please let the people know that the hospital can be built right here in our own county where the climate is so wonderful—where there will be no lonesomeness—where those who have not money will receive the same attention offered to the rich and no questions will be asked; that this hospital here on the hills of Guilford county is to be a home—a real home for those who need rest, care and treatment for tuberculosis.

If all those who have dreamed dreams for their children and all those who have suffered as I have suffered—all those who love the memory of the sacrifices that have been made to public indifference to such matters—if all those who are suffering today from this preventable and curable disease were to write you, how could you or any other man vote against this coming bond issue?

I have written too much, Mr. Editor, but, as I said before, I am writing this because I think that my son, Glenn Hudson, if he could speak to me today, would ask me to work for, fight for, and vote for this great expression of man's love for men.

H. S. HUDSON.

What If This Happened to You?

Suppose your home safe was rifled of your jewels or bonds. Suppose your bed room was ransacked while you were in town, and your treasured gems and valuable papers were taken from you.

Suppose your home burned tonight and all your insurance papers and valuable receipts (those necessary to prove fire loss) burned with it. Wouldn't you be heartily sorry if those jewels, bonds, valuable papers, receipts, etc., were not in one of our fire-proof, burglar proof safety deposit boxes when the burglary or fire occurred?

And yet how extremely little it costs to be safe. Our safe deposit boxes rent for less than 10 cents a day.

HURT IN AUTO CRASH

E. B. Jeffress Injured—Other Driver Is In Trouble

E. B. Jeffress, president of the Greensboro Daily News Company, was painfully hurt and Mrs. Jeffress, their four small children and W. W. Whaley had a narrow escape from injury Thursday afternoon when a car driven by Sam Carroll struck the car driven by Mr. Jeffress at the intersection of North Davie and East Gaston streets, Greensboro.

Mr. Jeffress' car was turned over on its side and his hand was caught between a top bow and the ground and badly bruised. Mrs. Jeffress and one of the children were on the front seat with Mr. Jeffress and the two fell over on Mr. Jeffress. The three other children fell over on Mr. Whaley. Slight bruises were received by Mrs. Jeffress, the children and Mr. Whaley.

Twelve gallons and one quart of whiskey were found in Carroll's car. He and his son, Alfred Carroll, who was in the car with him, were arrested, charged with transporting whiskey.

Mr. Jeffress' car had almost cleared the crossing of the street when the Ford driven by Carroll struck it. The curtains of the Ford were up and it is said Carroll was driving at a rapid rate. Carroll's car was slightly damaged but he was able to drive it off the scene of the accident, then walked back there. He went with an officer to the police station and as soon as the police found out who he was two policemen went to look at the car.

Shortly after the policemen left, Carroll stated that he wanted a drink of water and went with an officer out in a corridor to get it. He tried to run, making a leap down the stairs but was captured near the O. Henry hotel and brought back. The officers brought the liquor, the car and the boy back to the station.

Carroll lives near Madison, Rockingham county, and officers stated that he has been suspected of dealing in whiskey and they have been looking for him.

Sam Carroll, Rockingham county man who was arrested Thursday for transporting whiskey and for reckless driving, on Saturday furnished $2,500 bond was released from the city jail. He will be given a preliminary hearing on December 16 before Judge D. H. Collins. Carroll's arrest followed an accident in which his car struck E. B. Jeffress' machine and turned it over, Mr. Jeffress being painfully injured.

MANY TOOLS STOLEN FROM BARBER SHOP

Sometime between 3 p. m. and 7 p. m. yesterday thieves forced an entrance to the Arcade Barber shop, on East Sycamore street, and stole approximately $400 worth of barbers' tools. With a brick wrapped in two handkerchiefs the robbers broke the glass of the front door, then reached inside and turned the lock. The stolen articles included four shavers and their motors, a number of hand clippers, about 25 razors, a number of strops, scissors and other barbers' tools. There was no cash in the shop.
