REPUBLICANS DECIDE NOT TO OPPOSE MR. WHITAKER

Committee Pays High Tribute to Democratic Candidate.

Prof. T. E. Whitaker, Democratic candidate for the house of representatives to fill the unexpired term of D. L. Donnell, will be unopposed this fact having been made certain yesterday afternoon when the Republican executive committee decided not to place a candidate in the field.

R. T. Joyce wanted the committee to endorse Professor Whitaker's candidacy, but the clause of the resolution directly endorsing the Oak Ridge principal's candidacy was eliminated. However, the resolution embodies a high tribute to the Democratic nominee.

"Realizing the liberality and fairness on the part of T. E. Whitaker, who is now a candidate for the legislature in Guilford county," the Republican committee resolved, "and as a token of their appreciation and gratitude on the part of the Republicans of Guilford county for the untiring efforts on the part of the said Whitaker, who was at that time a member of the legislature from Guilford county in preventing the conviction on the impeachment of the late Judges Furches and Douglas, who had been unjustly and ruthlessly assailed by the Democratic machine of North Carolina, now therefore be it resolved that it is the opinion of this meeting that the Republican party of Guilford county does not need a candidate in opposition to the said Whitaker."

Resolutions were adopted by the Republican committee "condemning the incompetency of the last general assembly of North Carolina—that by its acts and negligence made it necessary for calling a special session at this time, thereby placing a great and unnecessary burden upon the taxpayers of the state." In another resolution it was declared that "we condemn the county authorities for making it necessary for a special election in this county which will necessitate an additional burden upon upon the taxpayers of this county."

Professor Whitaker will fill the vacancy caused by the appointment of D. L. Donnell as a member of the board of county commissioners as successor to the late W. C. Tucker. The new representative will begin his service at the special session of the general assembly which will convene in Raleigh next month. The election in this county will be held on November 15.

BANKRUPTCY CASES

IN FEDERAL COURT

Three bankruptcy actions were filed Tuesday in Federal court here. The voluntary petition of John T. Walker, Stokesdale merchant, was filed by Mr. Walker's attorney, Judge S. B. Adams. C. A. Armstrong, of Troy, filed a voluntary petition for Roger H. Scarborough, of Wadesville. Both cases were referred to Clifford Prazier, of this city, referee in bankruptcy. The third case was a complaint against I. Sosnick, C. N. Sosnick and N. Sosnick, trading as the New York Credit house, of Winston-Salem. The complaint was filed by New York and Winston-Salem creditors of the company through their attorney, H. M. Ratcliff. It is expected that the New York Credit house will file answer to the complaint shortly.

The plaintiff alleges that his hand was hurt when it came in contact with a sharp piece of projecting machinery while the machinery was in motion. He alleges that the projection which struck his hand is not found on standard machinery used in modern mills.

STATE NEWS BRIEFS

Seeking Alleged Slayer

Marshall, Oct. 30.—Sheriff Bailey and a posse today were searching for Homer Shelton, accused of the killing yesterday of Howard Chanley. Both young men are sons of prominent farmers. Shelton is said to have accosted Chanley as the latter sat on a log eating lunch and without warning opened fire on him with a pistol, police said.

Marketing System

Raleigh, Nov. 1.—E. B. Crow, Raleigh banker, returns from a month's stay in California enthusiastic in his praise of the co-operative market system in vogue there and sees big possibilities in the adoption of a similar system of merchandising agricultural products in North Carolina. He investigated the California marketing association from a financial standpoint and found them meeting the most rigid demands of the most conscientious banker.

Convict In Hiding

Lehigh, Oct. 31.—It is the belief of many that Dock Hendricks, who successfully escaped from the state prison forces over a week ago, is in hiding in this county. It was said here yesterday that friends of Hendricks had made up money to send him west and had started him to Denver, Col. The report says that Hendricks was taken to Pineola where he was given money for the expenses of the trip.

The well contained six feet of water and he narrowly escaped being drowned. Latest reports from him are that he is getting along as well as could be expected.

Jamison, now manager of the chamber of commerce at Hagerstown, Md., was yesterday elected secretary of the Raleigh chamber of commerce at the salary of $4,000 a year by unanimous action of the board of directors. ### Large Estate Left

Wild Beasts Appear

Elizabeth City, Oct. 31.—Bears, rattlesnakes, and an occasional deer, driven from their usual haunts in the depths of the Great Dismal Swamp by the scarcity of water due to the prolonged dry spell, are frequently appearing in the cleared lands, and on the farms and roads in upper Pasquotank and Perquimans counties, adjacent to the great morass, and occasionally are even bold enough to enter farm yards, terrifying the people beyond measure.

British Premier Cancels Passage

London, Nov. 2.—Premier Lloyd George has definitely cancelled his passage on the steamer Aquitania, on which he was to have proceeded to the United States November 5 to attend the Washington conference.

This fact became officially known here tonight for the first time.

It had been known, however, for some days that the critical stage the Irish negotiations had reached probably would prevent Mr. Lloyd George from sailing on Saturday.

Owing to the grave turn in Irish affairs it is not even possible to fix a provisional date for the premier's sailing, but he still intends to go to Washington at the earliest possible moment.

The cancellation by the premier of his passage is considered a favorable rather than an unfavorable sign of the progress of the Irish negotiations. The interpretation placed on it is that Mr. Lloyd George hopes that a few days' delay in his departure will enable him to see a settlement reached, or at least the basis of an agreement arrived at which can be worked out during his absence from the country. In this connection importance is attached to the fact that Sir James Craig, the Ulster premier, is coming to London Saturday.

SEALING SEALS

Campaign for Anti-Tuberculosis Funds Started Here.

The Christmas seal campaign, designated to increase the effectiveness of the fight against tuberculosis, was formally inaugurated in Greensboro Tuesday.

Letters are being sent to business men with a view to enlisting their hearty support of the seal campaign. The sales campaign proper will begin next Tuesday, at which time representatives of the District Nurse and Relief committee, which is in charge of the campaign, will sell seals to a number of business men. Then, on December 1, general sales will begin—the general public will then be given an opportunity to purchase the seals and thus aid the anti-tuberculosis campaign. The campaign will be prosecuted with vigor until Christmas.

All of the money obtained from the sale of the seals here will be used in anti-tuberculosis work in Greensboro, in Guilford county, in North Carolina and in the United States. Out of every dollar collected, 75 cents is retained for work here. Of the remaining 25 cents, 15 cents will go to the North Carolina Tuberculosis association, while the national association will receive 10 cents.

In Greensboro the money will be used for the support of the tuberculosis home of the District Nurse and Relief association. Mrs. W. C. A. Hammel is general director of the campaign, and Mrs. Max T. Payne, who directed last year's campaign, in which half a million seals were sold for more than $5,000, will be prominently identified with the enterprise. Greensboro led the state last year and it is confidently expected that an even greater record will be attained here this year.

OSTEOPATHS TO MEET

The Middle Atlantic States Osteopathic association will hold its next annual convention in Greensboro on October 26 and 27, 1922, in accordance with a decision reached at the convention of the association in Washington last week. Heine, of this city, secretary of the association, which includes in its membership osteopathic physicians from North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia, Maryland and the District of Columbia.

HANFORD MACNIDER NAMED AMERICAN LEGION HEAD

Want Bonus Provided At Once and Censure Colonel Harvey.

Convention Hall, Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 2.—The national convention of the American legion adjourned here tonight after electing Hanford MacNider, of Mason City, Iowa, national commander; selecting other officers and adopting resolutions covering a wide range of subjects. The convention had been in session without a recess since early this morning.

The Rev. Earl Blackman, of Chanute, Kansas, a minister of the Christian church, Disciples of Christ, was elected national chaplain.

The election of Mr. MacNider to succeed John G. Emery, of Grand Rapids, was made unanimous after more than half of the state delegations had seconded his nomination, and three other candidates, Roy Hoffman, of Oklahoma City, Earl M. Cline, of Nebraska City, Neb., and John F. Williams, of Joplin, Mo., had withdrawn in his favor.

The following vice-commanders were elected:

George L. Berry, of Rogersville, Tenn.; H. Nelson Jackson, of Burlington, Vt., and Charles Kendrick, of San Francisco, representing the army, and Raymond Brackett, of Marblehead, Mass., and J. A. McCormick, of Fort Lyon, Colo., of the navy.

The new commander was brought to the platform amid cheers and a big Iowa standard was raised over his head. He thanked the delegates and declared he realized his responsibility as chief of the legion.

A fight for the removal of the national legion headquarters from Indianapolis to Kansas City, which the Missouri delegation promised in pre-convention campaigning to bring on the floor, did not develop.

The election of officers concluded an all-day session marked by debate and wrangling over certain sections of the resolutions committee report. Particularly heated was the discussion of a resolution criticizing severely the speech delivered by Geo. Harvey, American ambassador to Great Britain, upon his arrival in England to assume his duties as ambassador, and in which Mr. Harvey discussed the reasons why the United States entered the war. The original resolution was thrown out of the report on a roll call vote and later a substitute was adopted. The substitute was written in less sharp terms and expressed the belief that the ambassador's remarks did not represent the true feeling for which the American legion stands. It directed that a copy of the resolutions be sent to President Harding.

Two resolutions bearing upon federal compensation for soldiers were among the mass adopted. Both declared in favor of immediate compensation legislation. One submitted by the legion's legislative committee declared that after careful consideration of all of the arguments advanced in opposition to the measure, including the letter of the secretary of the treasury and the address of the President to Congress, "we will still firmly believe in the justice, fairness and immediate necessity of the adjusted compensation measure."

The resolution declares "that the legion affirms its stand on adjusted compensation and asks that the Congress of the United States pass this measure without further equivocation or delay."

The other compensation resolution adopted was offered by the resolutions committee. It asserted that the American legion "reiterates its position in favor of the adjusted compensation for discharged soldiers and deplores the request of President Harding to delay passage by Congress of a measure for the same and the acquiescence of Congress in that request."

WILL CONFER REGARDING TUBERCULOSIS HOSPITAL

Bond Issue Will Be Discussed at Luncheon Here Tomorrow.

Ways and means designated to make possible the establishment of a tuberculosis hospital in Guilford county will be discussed at a luncheon at the Y. W. C. A. hut at 1 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Definite action will be taken at that meeting, it is expected.

At tomorrow's meeting representatives of a number of civic and charitable organizations of Greensboro and High Point, as well as many citizens from various sections of the county, will confer regarding the tuberculosis hospital enterprise. It is the general belief that definite plans for a bond issue to finance the undertaking will be formulated.

Among the organizations which will be represented at the luncheon the following may be mentioned: Chamber of commerce, Rotary club, Kiwanis club, Civitan club, Red Cross, District Nurse and Relief committee, Parent-Teacher association, and Woman's club. Among the out-of-town folks invited are Prof. T. E. Whitaker, of Oak Ridge; Dr. L. L. Hobbs, of Guilford College, and J. Elwood Cox, of High Point. Dr. W. S. Rankin, of Raleigh, secretary of the state board of health, has been invited and it is thought that he will probably address the meeting.

Julius W. Cone will preside. Those making plans for the meeting appear to be confident that a practical plan for executing the tuberculosis sanatorium idea will be found. The matter has been discussed for some weeks and already the idea has been given the approval of several strong organizations. The need of such an institution is generally recognized as acute and leaders of the movement are desirous that the plans be carried forward to fruition without delay.

FRANK PARKER SAYS FARMERS LOYAL IN SPITE OF DECLINES

Frank Parker, crop reporter of the state department of agriculture, has prepared an interesting comparison of farm products prices in 1920 and 1921.

"Many 1920 prices were less than they cost the farmer, allowing him his time value," says Mr. Parker, making public the analysis. "To say the least, he was the first to come to normalcy, even if it did ruin many of his class. The October prices, showing a slight advance over recent months, have made many of these essentially hard driven producers quite optimistic and caused their smiles to reappear."

"Everyone appreciates that high prices and low incomes resulted in decreased demand. The farmers' action in decreasing acreage of cotton and tobacco has resulted in far better net returns than were expected. Of course nature has played a heavy hand of havoc in many sections of the state and south, reducing the supply. The wonderful production of corn in Iowa has resulted in about one-third the price of the 98-cent average received in North Carolina. Eastern counties are selling at lower prices than are received in the drought stricken Piedmont areas. High freight rates permit of wide variations."

"Tobacco is gradually improving, the October prices averaging over 25 cents or slightly better than a year ago and 40 per cent. of the average two years ago. The season begun on a basis lower than last year, but has climbed upward."

"Cotton, last year, averaged about 5 cents a pound above the October average of near 19 cents, which in turn is half of the April, 1920, prices. The boll weevil combined with the weather and reduced acreage to give the present crop the lowest yield per acre on record. The production cost is therefore relatively high and price returns should correspond. The low cost of production was at the expense of the labor of the farmer's family and himself, as he had no cash or credit to secure labor and fertilizers. It is no compliment to other industries that he was forced to this end. Suppose he had, with far more cause, done like many others, laid down on his job? Yet he is usually blamed rather than credited for his untiring loyalty and sacrifice. Other classes have followed a far off in getting back to where we ought to be in costs of essential products."

"Hogs at live weights were 50 per cent. higher a year ago and 100 per cent. more two years ago than the $9.50 per hundred pounds present average. All live stock have decreased noticeably."

"Milk, at 52 cents retail, has decreased 20 cents a gallon; peanuts at 5.8 cents per pound now, sold at 10 cents a year ago and the present crop is extremely poor; sweet potatoes at $1.15 per bushel are 50 cents less than last year; in May, cotton seed were selling at $18 per ton or 25 per cent. of the price 12 months previous, while they have advanced to above $30 now; eggs at 37 cents, are 15 cents cheaper than a year ago, and honey at 24 cents a pound is 7 cents lower than a year ago, although this year has been a record one for poor production and loss of colonies."

IS NOW RETURNING

Hale now commanding the second brigade of the American forces in Germany, who will be ordered to duty in the United States. Colonel Joseph C. ### TOWN OF GIBSONVILLE

The history of the town of Gibsonville begins with the history of the North Carolina railroad. This railroad was chartered by the legislature of 1848 under the leadership of Governor John M. Morehead. John A. Gilmer was then senator from Guilford, and the representatives in the house were David Caldwell, Calvin Johnson and James Deak. The grading of this railroad through the state was done by leading local citizens in the various communities through which it passed. In this community it was done by the Gibson family. The Gibsons had been prominent in the state ever since Revolutionary days, and they are frequently mentioned in the colonial records of North Carolina.

Two prominent members of this Gibson family were citizens of this section—Joseph Gibson and Alfred Gibson. They were wealthy landowners, and held large interests in slave property as well. Their lands lay south of what is now Gibsonville on the "Old Stage Road," and a part of their lands are now the homes of S. M. Shepherd, Grover Boon, Joseph Barber and Mrs. Mary L. Whitsett. Joseph Gibson lived in the house now occupied by Grover Boon, near Cedar Creek, and Alfred Gibson lived in a home a part of which has been converted into a large barn on the farm of Mrs. Mary L. Whitsett. The last surviving members of this Gibson family were buried in what is now known as Gibsonville cemetery, and their graves are still to be seen there.

These Gibsons took leading part in handling the grading contracts for the North Carolina railroad through this section, and the station was hence named for them—Gibsonville. Their descendants moved west, and the family has passed out of local history as a result. Some of their slaves have left members of their families, and the name Gibson is still a common one with the colored people. Two of these leading colored descendants passed away only a few years ago—Alfred and Lindsay Gibson.

The lands of Joseph and Alfred Gibson were purchased by Daniel Foust and Elias Summers. Elias Summers bought the old Joseph Gibson home and it was long occupied by his widow, the late Mrs. Margaret P. Summers. Elias Summers died during the Civil war. He left one son, Rufus Summers, who was killed in an accident at the sawmill in Gibsonville many years ago. As stated, Grover Boon now lives in the original Alfred Gibson house on the "Old Stage Road." The Alfred Gibson lands passed to the ownership of Jacob Foust, a son of Daniel Foust. Jacob Foust married Livinia Summers, the oldest daughter of Ludwig Summers. Jacob Foust died early in life, and his surviving widow lived for more than 50 years on the Alfred Gibson home tract, which later passed to Mrs. Mary L. Whitsett.

The Gibsons did not purchase lands in and around the station which was named after them; hence others who owned these adjoining lands shared the immediate profits of the developments that came later as a result of the creation of the station of Gibsonville.

The Gibsons had gold mining interests, and a most interesting visit yet is a visit to the Gold Hill mines which lie just south of Gibsonville cemetery, and the deep shafts of 50 to 60 feet, and the piles of flint rock and soil show the work that was carried on there on a large scale in days of long ago. This mine paid well, and the day will doubtless come when it will give again of its stores of gold. Older people can recall the stamp mill in the meadow at the foot of the hill, and local tradition tells of many who washed out in mercury pans from ten to twenty dollars per day from the drift from the mine. This gold, outcrops towards the northwest from the mine, and a shaft can be seen in the corporate limits of the present town just on the edge of the woods on Whitsett avenue on the south as you enter Gibsonville.

A rough station house of undressed lumber, small in size, and a few wood racks to hold cordwood to be taken up by the passing trains for fuel constituted the Gibsonville of the earlier days. The few surrounding families of farmers in their quiet homes went on their untroubled way, and no one thought of town lots, paved streets, electric lights, schools, churches, and all that comes with a modern town. No one thought it worth while to offer lots for sale, and no one was so far-sighted as to buy up the lands which could then have been had for from ten to twenty dollars per acre in abundance. Gibsonville carried on a small trade with the surrounding territory; and much of this trade was in liquid refreshments; so much so, that ere long a reputation was given to the place that was only finally killed by the united efforts of several strong temperance advocates after a bitter struggle.

So much for the "Beginnings of Gibsonville." In a later sketch the work of certain pioneers of development will be shown; men who laid well the foundations for the progressive town of today, and started it on its road of progress.

Police Use Radiogram

Asheville, Nov. 1.—The first description of a man wanted by the police ever sent out in the southern states by a private radio station to land stations was sent from a radio plant here tonight. The message contained a 70-word description of Fred Sluder, formerly chief of a detective bureau here, wanted on a charge of passing worthless checks.

TOBACCO SALES

Exceptionally attractive prices prevailed yesterday on the Greensboro tobacco market. The sales for the day totaled 25,854 pounds and the high price of the day was 70 cents, paid to R. L. Stone. Mr. Stone also sold some tobacco for 53 and 65 cents a pound.

Other excellent prices obtained yesterday were as follows: Daniel Jeffries, 58 cents; E. D. Stanley, 55 cents; S. S. Mitchell, 59 cents; Cecil Garner, 48, 49, 55, 50 and 63 cents; C. C. Stanley, 53 cents; R. A. Sockwell, 57 cents; Jones and Holt, 54 cents; W. W. Stanford, 55 cents; J. O. Wither, 51 cents; D. W. Haynes, 50, 55 and 56 cents; H. M. Coble, 54 and 58 cents; John W. Johnson, 56 and 59 cents; J. P. Burnside, 53 cents; A. G. Burnside, 59 cents; J. R. Johnston, 50 cents; E. T. Coble, 50 cents; E. C. Hodgins, 53 cents; May Michaux, 69 cents; Nannie Michaux, 54 cents; T. C. Coble, 54 cents, and R. L. Welsh, 61 cents.

JOHN BLACKWELL IS SUING FOR $1,000

John Blackwell, by his next friend, J. B. Minor, on Monday instituted suit in the office of Mason W. Gant, clerk of Guilford Superior court, against the Proximity Manufacturing company, asking damages in the sum of $1,000 as a result of injuries alleged to have been sustained while in the employ of the defendant company when his hand was caught in some machinery in the mill. It is alleged that the plaintiff, who is 19 years of age, was repairing some machinery when the machinery was suddenly started, due to the negligence of the defendant company, the injuries resulting. J. V. Bagwell, S. B. Adams and George A. Younce are attorneys for the plaintiff.

DR. DEES' RESIDENCE HERE IS BURGLARIZED

John Hunt, aged 13, is being held by the juvenile authorities in connection with the robbery of the home of Dr. Rigdon Dees, 901 Park avenue. The police are searching for Clyde Styles, aged 15, and another boy suspected of being implicated in the robbery, which was committed Sunday night.

The home of Dr. Dees was entered while he and his family were absent. The robbers evidently explored the residence thoroughly, rifling drawers in various places, and obtained a small amount of money. When Dr. Dees returned one of the youngsters, outside the house, fired a pistol, whereupon the trio fled.

SICK PERSONS NOW MAY SECURE BEER

Washington, Nov. 1.—Letters are to be sent to brewers advising them that beer already manufactured and held in stock may be sold for medical purposes, under the new treasury regulations, Internal Revenue Commissioner Blair announced tonight.

Sale of this beer for the sick could begin at once under the proper permits, Mr. Blair declared, adding that there would be no delay in the issuance of permits to brewers whose applications were without flaw. The bureau, he said, would not allow any red tape to stand in the way of the immediate distribution of beer for medical purposes.

BANQUET AND LECTURE ARE ENJOYABLE EVENTS

Last night the members of the Greensboro police department were hosts to a number of city officials and many Greensboro citizens at a delightful banquet in Grand theater. Barbecued meats and Brunswick stew in prodigious quantities, typifying the most appetizing qualities, were served. The feast was prepared by Oscar Hayworth, Bob Skenes, Frank Shaw and John Cox, who are acknowledged past masters in such culinary accomplishment. Songs by a quartet composed of Ernest Boyles, W. H. Simmons, Eli Brewer and H. W. Amole constituted a pleasing feature of the evening, while instrumental music by Patrolman J. C. Williams, L. T. Tilley and A. T. Tilley was greatly enjoyed.

Captain Auer, of the New York police force, speaking at the county courthouse following the supper, interestingly discussed the need of trained policemen. The speaker was introduced by Frank A. Brooks, mayor pro tem. Chief Thomas, of the Winston-Salem force, spoke briefly. The police training school idea found general favor among the officers.

Farmer Is Strangled

Durham, Oct. 31.—William H. Terry, a farmer living eight miles from the city, was found dead Sunday morning in a room on the second floor of his home, dead from strangulation, believed to have been self-inflicted. When found by one of his children, Mr. Terry was hanging from the ceiling of the room with a rope made of ties and socks, looped tight about his throat. There was no indication of foul play, and it is believed that Mr. Terry in a fit of despondency committed suicide.

PROFESSOR WHITAKER HAS THE FIELD

In deciding not to place a legislative candidate in the field against Professor Whitaker, the Republicans of Guilford county have exercised wisdom. Of course it was the general conviction that Professor Whitaker would have been elected even if the Republicans had nominated their strongest man in the county. However, it is a notable tribute which the Republicans pay to the Oak Ridge principal by leaving the field to him. Only a short time remained in which a campaign could be waged, as the election is to be held on November 15. Certainly there was no general demand for a campaign.

Of course Professor Whitaker will represent all the people of Guilford county, irrespective of their political faith. He will make an excellent representative, one in whom the people of all parties have the utmost confidence. He has an enviable record of accomplishment to his credit and he will take his seat in the general assembly next month with the best wishes and moral support of his constituents throughout the county. It is encouraging to note the willingness of such able men as T. E. Whitaker to serve their state in spite of the personal sacrifices which that service entails, and also encouraging to note the unanimity with which the people of Guilford are endorsing the choice of the Democratic executive committee.

Much of the verbose effort of the Republicans at the meeting of their executive committee is nothing more nor less than meaningless campaign stuff. They are desperately trying to raise some issue for the next campaign and of course they feel impelled to give vent to sophomoric utterances in "condemnation" of the Democratic party. No one will be misled by such prating.

AN IMPORTANT MEETING

It is to be hoped that all of the people invited to attend the luncheon-conference at the Y. W. C. A. but tomorrow will attend if it is possible to do so, for a matter of tremendous importance will be discussed. Upon the action of the conferees may depend the question of whether Guilford county will or will not establish a sanatorium for the treatment of persons suffering from tuberculosis.

The question has been discussed at different times, but it has never passed the stage of mere discussion. It is generally agreed that the time is ripe for definite action—action which will positively insure the establishment of the institution. As to the acute need of a tuberculosis hospital in Guilford there can be no doubt. It need has been impressively demonstrated many, many times. The faithful band of workers known as the District Nurse and Relief committee can cite almost innumerable instances in which such an institution would have been of incalculable value to the county. With the limited facilities at hand the association has already accomplished a great deal, but infinitely more can be accomplished if a modern tuberculosis hospital is created and maintained in Guilford.

As has been repeatedly stated, the hospital should prove of tremendous value from an economic standpoint, aside from the sentimental phase. Tuberculosis has been exacting its deadly toll. Are we to permit it to continue such exacting? The people who attend tomorrow's luncheon will endeavor to formulate the right answer to that disturbing query. Through wise counsel and concerted effort the right answer should be found. It is a veritable life-and-death proposition, and every consideration of humanitarianism, as well as of economic well-being, impels remedial measures which will really solve the problem.

Correspondent says "lower freight rates are needed badly." A finished specimen of conservative statement.

CHAIRMAN HULL

Cordell Hull should prove a most efficient chairman of the Democratic national executive committee. He is recognized as a conspicuously able public servant and at the same time one who has rendered distinguished service to the Democratic party. Under his wise direction the next campaign should be attended with success.

The statement made by Chairman Hull to the Associated Press is an inspiring document. "We shall make every possible effort to develop the Democratic national committee into the most militant and efficient organization within our power to do so," the new chairman is quoted as saying. Certainly it will be a militant organization, and despite the efforts of Republicans to disseminate the idea of discord, members of the party throughout the country may be confidently expected to work wholeheartedly for Democratic success.

Already the Harding administration has evidenced an appalling inability or unwillingness to solve the great problems of state. In the sphere of taxation especially the Republicans have done and are doing irreparable injury to the country. The results of their adherence to the dictation of such exponents of boss rule as Boies Penrose are becoming more and more painfully apparent. Chairman Hull and his associates have a great work to perform, a work which should prove of infinite value to the well-being of the American people. There is general confidence that that work will be properly performed.

ARMS AND PUBLICITY.

As the time for the opening of the disarmament conference at Washington draws nearer the imperative need of full publicity concerning the deliberations of that body becomes increasingly apparent. It is not to be doubted that a number of representatives are coming to the conference in a spirit of sharp bargaining which may lead to distressing results. International diplomacy is a finished (and, alas, sometimes a sinister) art with some of the old world statesmen. If they can do their bargaining in secret, the dangers to the future security of the world will be immeasurably greater than if the discussions are conducted in the open.

That spirit of bargaining of which so much is being written is very disturbing. If representatives of the various nations enter the conference with the idea of obtaining the greatest possible material gains for their countries, there can be little profit in the parleys. After all, the problem should not be so complicated. The people of the world greatly desire material reduction of armaments and they have commissioned their representatives to achieve that end. It can be done—it must be done—and full publicity should be of great aid in the accomplishment of that laudable object.

If only men of military age were eligible for membership in the conference, substantial reduction of armaments would be agreed upon within an impressively short time, and the deliberations would be refreshingly open, too.

REVIEW IS ENCOURAGING

The monthly review of general business and financial conditions throughout the country by the federal reserve board is distinctly encouraging.

"Higher prices realized by farmers for tobacco and cotton and heavy sales of cereals abroad," according to the review, "has brought them into the market for purchases of seasonable goods with a corresponding benefit to trade in the producing regions." Again agriculture is revealed as the key industry. Better times for the representatives of the other vocations, such as depression among agriculturalists is reflected in general depression in various businesses and industries.

The statement of the federal reserve board was issued almost simultaneously with the Thanksgiving day proclamation of President Harding, and in some respects there is a close relation between the two, although the former deals essentially with business and industrial matters, while the President's proclamation is devoted in large measure to developments of political character not unmixed with spiritual considerations.

The recuperative powers of this country are truly marvelous. The war and the reconstruction rocked many business and industrial enterprises to their foundations and indeed some of them have been overwhelmed, but on the whole substantial progress in the direction of national prosperity is being made. The board notes a "fairly general increase" in the number of men employed, although it is agreed that the unemployment situation is still a serious factor in the industrial situation.

However, one cannot help wondering if the coal miners are going to take the joy out of life for the optimists. Hardly had the threatened railroad strike been called off before the miners' strike began.

A flivver must be mighty disgusting to a horsefly.—Detroit Journal.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS

TABERNACLE

The farmers of this community are almost through sowing wheat. The rain that fell Sunday and Monday was indeed welcome.

Mrs. J. P. Coble is still on the sick list.

Mrs. Harris and Mrs. Hardin visited at the home of T. L. Trogon Friday evening.

Mrs. Donnie Coble is spending the week in this community.

Miss Pearl Trogon left Sunday to be in her school Monday at Mount Pleasant.

The Philathea Sunday school class entertained the Baraca class at a Hallowe'en party Saturday night at the home of Miss Ella Garner. It was an enjoyable occasion.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY AT WHITSETT IS ENJOYED

On Saturday evening a Hallowe'en party was staged in the new school building at Whitsett. It was under the direction of Misses Phoebe Henries and Isla Willis Thompson, and pleased a large crowd of assembled friends. The entire auditorium was given over to the event; the floor was covered with rustling autumn leaves, and from every window sill gleamed the weird and grotesque face of Hallowe'en figures, pumpkins cut to represent faces never seen on land or sea, and every corner of the room was banked with cedar and fern.

A large crowd of children had been trained for songs, and exercises appropriate to the occasion, and in the semi-darkness the effect was creepy and uncanny to a marked degree.

Ghosts walked, and many were masked for the occasion; it was difficult to recognize any one, even those perfectly familiar under ordinary circumstances.

Quite a number of visitors were present and entered fully into the Hallowe'en spirit, making it an occasion that will mark Hallowe'en of 1921 in the minds of all those present.

After the close of the exercises numbers of the masked figures and ghosts toured the village and called at the homes of numbers of the citizens to remind them of the celebration that has come down for so many years in connection with the autumnal season.

SUNDAY SCHOOL FOLKS HOLD CONFERENCE HERE

Hearty welcome to Rev. Edgar P. Billups, who recently assumed his duties as assistant pastor of West Market Street Methodist church was extended last night at a meeting of the officers and teachers of the Sunday school. Rev. Mr. Billups responded feelingly, pledging his consecrated service to the church and Sunday school. Following the conference 54 persons enrolled for the training school for teachers to be held at West Market Street church next week. H. B. Gruber, superintendent of the Sunday school, Prof. Guy V. Phillips and others spoke. A number of interesting questions were discussed. The ladies of the Susanna Wesley Bible class prepared and served a delightful supper.

LENOIR MAN FLEECED BY TWO STRANGERS

Lenoir, Nov. 1.—Smith Bros. Kirby Transfer company was fleeced out of $40 last week by a couple of men whom they had befriended. Mr. Kirby was on a trip for E. C. Holt, carrying a truckload of stuff from Blowing Rock to Henderson. Going east out of Greensboro two men asked for a ride which Mr. Kirby readily granted, taking them as far as Durham. At Durham they got out, Mr. Kirby continuing on his trip, where they wired Smith-Kirby Transfer company here for $40, signing Mr. Kirby's name to the message.

The message stated that he had lost what cash he carried in his pocket and needed some money for repairs. No question as to the truthfulness of the message was raised, and the money was immediately wired. The local office or members of the firm asked Mr. Kirby on his return how he happened to lose the money. He said that he had not lost any money and he had no knowledge of the message having been sent.

PUGILIST'S MANAGER IS WALLOPED WHILE OUT WITH SISTER-IN-LAW

(New York World)

John Reiser, better known as "John the Barber" because he used to wield the scrapping-tool and bean-knower before he got into the more profitable business of managing prize-fighters, in which he now shines, discovered early yesterday morning that not all walloping is done in the prize-ring, nor is it all paid for, nor is it all "a business."

John was on the receiving end of a trimming administered by his brother-in-law, Max Katz, in a lonely spot in Yonkers. It was "no business" at all. He didn't get a nickel for it.

At the same time a woman companion of his—his sister-in-law, Miss Bertie Katz—likewise received an artistic beating, partly from Max, her brother, and partly from Mrs. John Reiser, the "barber's" wife, who is incidentally her sister.

There was a bit of wild commotion at Ludlow street and South Broadway, a call for Yonkers cops, and a violent flow of conversation from every one involved. But no arrests were made, for, as the Yonkers gendarme who sized up the situation later said in his formal report, "This affair seemed to be a squabble between a party of New Yorkers, and I told them to take their troubles to court."

Mrs. Reiser didn't hesitate yesterday to tell what happened. At her home, No. 50 West 112th street, she said:

"For several years now John has been going around with my sister Bertie. She is twenty-six and a bookkeeper for the Fox Film corporation. I said to her many a time, 'Why don't you get yourself a young fellow, Bertie, and get married and leave my husband alone?' But she paid no attention, and kept running around with John. He spent a lot of money on her and gave me less and less. A year and a half ago he left his home here. For a while he kept on paying the rent, but lately he stopped that."

"Long ago I made up my mind that some night I would stop this foolish business. Last night my brother Max found that John had one of his fighters boxing at the Commonwealth club, in 135th street, and that he and Bertie were there. When the fight was over Max got a taxi for me, and we took my sons,

Morris and Joe, along with us, and followed John and Bertie. They were riding in his machine with three men friends of his.

"They went to a cafe in the 50's, and after a while drove up to Yonkers. They saw they were followed, and about 1 o'clock they stopped. Max jumped out of the taxi and said to Bertie: 'What are you doing here? Get out of that man's machine!' But Bertie, the brazen thing, said: 'Who are you, anyhow? I never saw you in my life! Imagine that—to her own brother!'

"John's three men friends all got out of the car and ran away, leaving him flat. Max pulled Bertie out of the car, and she got so fresh he hit her a couple of times. She was insulting to me, too, and I handed her a couple of punches.

"Then Max and the boys got around John, and somebody—I don't know who, but John said it was Max—punched him. The cop came along (I don't know who sent for him, but I guess John's friends did), and John wanted somebody arrested; but the cop wouldn't do anything.

"What am I going to do? I haven't decided yet. I'm going to wait and see what my husband does. But I've got to be properly supported, and he must stop running around with my sister Bertie."

An alarm reached the Yonkers police headquarters at 1 o'clock that "there is a hold-up at Ludlow street and South Broadway," and Patrolman John Fogarty was sent there. The fuss had quieted down when he arrived, and, anyhow, it was none of Yonkers' business, since the Reisers and Katzes were all New Yorkers. "John the Barber," he said, wanted Max Katz arrested for assault and pointed out some fist marks on his face, but even that didn't appeal to the Yonkers cop, who told him to tell their difficulties to a magistrate.

"John the Barber's" youngest son, Johnnie, is a professional scrapper. He wasn't with the late-night party, but it is awful to contemplate what might have happened had he too decided to shoot a few punches at Pop.

The ex-torsionist couldn't be found yesterday. But he couldn't have added much to the narrative anyway. He was only the guy that stopped the wallops.

How an EXPECTANT MOTHER Prepared for Baby's Coming

Do YOU know that thousands of women never really suffer at child-birth? Perhaps you have thought with many others that this should always be the case. But how?

Let Mrs. Mattie Paul, of Ocala, Ga., tell you. She is one of thousands who have demonstrated this fact:

"As I am a young mother of one baby, I am writing for free booklet to 'expectant mothers.' I used only two bottles of Mother's Friend before I was comforted and had a quick and easy time through labor. I can recommend Mother's Friend to all expectant mothers. I will never go through pregnancy without it."

You, too, can have this booklet for expectant mothers by sending coupon below.

It goes into the features of maternity and gives, in a plain, interesting manner, information about what the mother needs in clothing before baby is born; what clothing will be necessary for the baby; an interesting table as to the probable date of delivery; simple but necessary and helpful rules of hygiene to follow; and much other worth-while information. This little booklet also tells about Mother's Friend and the wonderful good it is doing for expectant mothers.

Don't let false modesty keep you from performing this duty to yourself—your family—and your baby.

Send for your copy NOW.

WARNING: Avoid using plain oils, greases and substitutes—they act only on the skin and may cause harm without doing good.

EXCELLENT REPORT MADE FROM CHILDREN'S HOME

During the month of October, 25 children were placed in homes by the North Carolina Children's Home society, according to the monthly report of that organization, while 60 homes were supervised. Since January, 1921, the institution has placed 250 children in homes. The society's receiving home is located in this city.

John A. Phoenix has been re-elected superintendent. The directors referred in laudatory vein to the excellent work performed by Mr. Phoenix. The per capita cost of caring for children reached a new low level last month.

This year the home is making its appeal for funds through the North Carolina Orphanage association, November 20 having been set apart as Orphanage Sunday. At that time the people of the state will be asked to donate the proceeds from one day's work as a Thanksgiving offering to the orphanage fund. The Odd Fellows' home and many other orphanages are making their appeal through the state association, the list including the orphanages of a large number of religious denominations.

For some years he has been postmaster here, but resigned about a year ago, although he has not yet been relieved. Messrs. Cooke and Wyllie are engaged in the general practice of law. P. C. Painter, Greensboro's city manager, on Tuesday was inducted into membership of the Rotary club. The club now has 60 members, President E. Sternberger announced, and is now entitled to a third district delegate.

R. G. Vaughn interestingly discussed "The Banker in Relation to Business." Joseph J. Stone read a paper on the tenth paragraph of the Rotary code. Dr. John A. Williams talked of cancer work, which is now being observed throughout the country. He pointed out that cancer is curable only in infancy or before it actually develops. W. B. Merrimon, district governor of the Kiwanis club, spoke briefly.

CHURCHMEN DESTROUS PASTOR WILL REMAIN

Since the election of Rev. R. Murphy Williams, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of the Covenant, as director of all orphanage work of that denomination in this state, the officers of his church in this city have adopted resolutions expressing the earnest hope that Rev. Mr. Williams "may be guided by Providence to see clearly that it is his duty to continue his present pastorate." A number of forceful reasons for the officers' desire to retain Rev. Mr. Williams as pastor of the church in this city are contained in the resolutions.

HEDRICK TRIED

Former Policeman Pleads Guilty to Forcible Trespass Charge.

J. E. Hedrick, former Greensboro policeman who left the city some time ago following his arrest upon the charge of embezzlement, on Tuesday returned to the city and in Municipal court he pleaded guilty to a charge of forcible trespass, the warrant having been changed. Judgment was continued upon payment of the costs.

It was alleged that Hedrick, then serving as a traffic officer, had arrested a number of speeders and required each to place a cash bond in his hands for appearance in Municipal court. It was also alleged that in each of those cases the bond was about the same or less than the costs in the case would have been if the alleged violator of the law had appeared in court; for that reason, it was declared, a number of those arrested failed to appear, thereby forfeiting their bonds. It was charged that Hedrick kept the money which he had collected as bond. The officer placed an automobile in the hands of the authorities as his appearance bond and that was forfeited by his absence from the city.

The Ford One-ton Truck has proved a great money saver, as well as a labor-saver. It has solved the problems of economic transportation between the farm and the city.

The Ford One-ton truck has all the merits of the Ford car, with added strength for greater capacity. The worn drive of aluminum bronze gives unusual and positive power at a very low cost.

Come in and let us show you how the Ford One-ton Truck will help you and save you money in your work.
