

JUDGMENT IS DEFERRED IN TAYLOR CASE HERE

MRS. TAYLOR STARTS CIVIL ACTION AGAINST HER HUSBAND IN SUPERIOR COURT.

In Superior court Saturday afternoon Judge James L. Webb, of Shelby, announced that he had decided to defer judgment in the case of the state against Dr. J. W. Taylor, local optometrist, charged with assaulting his wife, until the October term of court. The presiding jurist expressed the hope that a reconciliation might be effected between Dr. Taylor and his wife, who have been separated since July 14. At the same time Judge Webb voiced the conviction that there should be no second woman in the Taylor home; her presence, he felt, had naturally aroused the suspicion of Mrs. Taylor.

Counsel for Mrs. Taylor declared emphatically that there was no chance of reconciliation between Dr. Taylor and his wife. Because of other acts of Dr. Taylor, it was stated by counsel, it would be impossible for Mrs. Taylor ever to live again with her husband.

Immediately after Judge Webb's decision was announced civil action was instituted by Mrs. Taylor in an effort to obtain "a reasonable subsistence and counsel fees" allotted and paid or earned to her from the estate and earnings of the defendant, her husband, both pending the trial and final determination of the issues involved in this action, and also after they are determined, and for such other and further relief as she may be entitled to.

This was the fourth action started against Dr. Taylor within the last few weeks. The first was the charge of assaulting his wife. The second was the charge of immoral conduct between Dr. Taylor and his secretary, Miss Clara Sanders. That case was tried in Municipal court and Dr. Taylor and Miss Sanders were found guilty, but judgment was suspended until August 31. In the third case Dr. Taylor and Mrs. Nora Harrell are charged with immoral conduct. That case is to be tried in Municipal court on August 30.

Dr. Taylor pleaded guilty to the charge of assaulting his wife. He had been convicted on that charge in Municipal court, and while attorneys for the defendant conceded their client's guilt, they tried to keep him from being sent to the county roads. Judge D. H. Collins, in Municipal court, had sentenced the optometrist to 12 months on the county roads. The defense endeavored to show that Dr. Taylor's wife and his daughter, Miss Thelma Taylor, provoked the assault by concealing from him the fact that Miss Thelma was permitting Henry Linker to woo her contrary to Dr. Taylor's instructions.

On the stand Friday afternoon Dr. Taylor denied that he had ever struck his wife with anything but his "hand." While giving much of his testimony he was visibly affected, sobbing at times. He testified that he told his wife after he struck her that he was sorry because of his action and endeavored to effect a reconciliation with them. Most of the testimony presented at the trial in Municipal court of lurid and delicate nature was excluded in Superior court.

Mrs. Taylor testified that while her husband was punishing their daughter, Miss Thelma, by spanking her because she broke her promise to her father that she would not keep company with Henry Linker, who was described Friday as a "lumpy dry wagon driver," she (Mrs. Taylor) screamed, and when she refused to stop screaming Dr. Taylor struck her in the face and bosom. Mrs. Taylor later went to the home of a neighbor, Mrs. W. T. Breeden.

Testimony was given by Mrs. Breeden to the effect that Mrs. Taylor came to her home, badly bruised and in a nervous state.

Miss Taylor told of being spanked by her father. She said her father knocked her mother down when the latter screamed.

The defendant declared that he loved his family and tried to prevent his daughter from associating with Mr. Linker because the latter could not treat her as she should be treated. He had nothing to say

J. E. LATHAM TO BUILD THREE-STORY STRUCTURE.

A three-story building, which will cost approximately $100,000, will be constructed by J. E. Latham in the early future, according to an announcement which he made Saturday. Work is expected to begin not later than September 10. The new building will be on East Market street, immediately back of the J. M. Waynick Motor Company establishment.

In addition to the three stories there also will be a basement in the Latham building. The basement, which will be the same size as the ground floor, will be 60 by 100 feet. The building will contain three store rooms and 30 offices. The three store rooms, each 20 by 100 feet, will occupy the ground floor. In every respect the structure, which will be of brick, will typify the modern standards. Among the occupants of the building will be the J. E. Latham Company, the Latham & Bradshaw Cotton Company, and the Greensboro Warehouse and Storage Company.

TOWN AND COUNTY MEET TO BE HELD NEXT MONTH.

On September 19, 20 and 21 a town and county conference will be held at Chapel Hill, according to announcement made at the University of North Carolina. At this conference the program will be in the hands of the State University, the National Municipal League, the North Carolina Municipal Association, the North Carolina Commercial Secretaries' Association, and the North Carolina Association of County Commissioners.

Five different sections of work have been outlined, these being government, finance, social and economic problems, town and county planning, and the county. Among the speakers will be Dr. E. C. Branson, professor of rural economics at the State University; Dr. D. D. Carroll, head of the University school of commerce, and Dr. Howard W. Odum, head of the school of public welfare, also speakers from a number of other states.

against the character of the young man.

Rev. Mr. Davis, who married Mrs. Taylor's sister, testified that while visiting the Taylors in 1912 he found Mrs. Taylor with a scar on her forehead, which she told him was the result of a blow dealt her by her husband. The witness said that Mrs. Taylor seemed to be a prisoner in the home and that he asked her to go to his home to reside. In 1914 and 1916 Mrs. Taylor showed signs of mistreatment, according to the preacher.

Chief of Police George P. Crutchfield, who lives next door to Dr. Taylor, testified that the defendant's character was bad. The defendant was given a good character by a number of witnesses, including Mayor Claude Kiser, R. G. Vaughn, Dr. C. W. Banner, F. H. Nicholson and John W. King.

Legal arguments for the state were made by Judge W. P. Bynum, Judge R. C. Strudwick and Solicitor J. C. Bower, while the case was argued for the defendant by Aubrey L. Brooks and Col. John A. Barringer.

PAST WEEK BUSY ONE IN SUPERIOR COURT

The one-week term of Superior court which came to a close Saturday afternoon was characterized by the disposition of an unusually large number of cases with Judge James L. Webb, of Shelby, presiding. This week Judge Webb will preside over the term of court for the trial of civil actions, beginning to-day.

The case against J. E. Blair, charged with having carnal knowledge of a girl under 14 years of age, will be heard at the October term of court, it was announced Saturday. The defendant was released Saturday under bond of $400. One murder case is scheduled for trial at the October term, Lewis Edwards, alleged slayer of Patrolman W. T. McCulston, being the defendant in that action.

John Madden and Will Oakes, who on Friday were convicted of aiding and abetting in the larceny of an automobile at Colfax, were sentenced to serve 12 months each on the county roads.

Judgment was suspended upon payment of the costs plus payment of $60 to the prosecuting witness in the case against Pearl Floyd, who was convicted of securing money under false pretenses.

A sentence of four months on the roads was imposed against D. Martin, who was found guilty of having whiskey for the purpose of sale. Capias is to be issued after August 25 if the defendant is found in Guilford county.

In the case against Luther Harris, who was convicted of a similar case, judgment was continued until the October term upon payment of the costs. Bond of $200 was required to insure appearance of the defendant at each term of court for the next two years to show good behavior.

Twelve months on the roads was the sentence drawn by Levy Reeves, who was found guilty of manufacturing whiskey and having whiskey for sale.

Sentences of three years and twelve months, respectively, were imposed in the cases against Will Jones and George Hill, who on Friday were convicted of holding up a Greensboro street car late last Wednesday and robbing the motorman of $25 and a gold watch.

P. A. Swanson was fined $10 and the costs for occupying a room for immoral purposes. He was given until the October term of court to pay the fine.

Charlie Newman admitted his guilt on the charge of transporting, receiving and having whiskey for sale. He was sentenced to labor six months on the county highways.

Judgment was continued until the October term of court in the action against J. E. Ferguson, charged with operating an automobile while under the influence of whiskey and with an assault with a deadly weapon—an automobile.

Prayer for judgment was continued until the October term in the case against Mack Payne, convicted of drunkenness.

T. T. Carter, of the Hillsdale section, who was charged with manufacturing whiskey, was found not guilty.

Prayer for judgment was continued until the October term in the case against John Williams, who was found guilty of manufacturing whiskey. Appearance bond was fixed at $200.

Following his conviction on the charge of transporting whiskey, John Vickers, who lives near Pomona, was fined $5 and the costs. The defendant asserted that he had a wife and nine children dependent upon him for support.

A sentence of eight months on the roads was imposed in the action against Harry Ball, who was convicted of trying to steal an automobile in Greensboro. Notice of appeal was given and bond was fixed at $500.

Judgment was suspended upon the payment of the costs in the case against George Waynick, who pleaded guilty to a charge of drunkenness.

A fine of $25 and the costs was

COUNTER-CLAIM IS FILED BY BURLINGTON COMPANY.

Counter-claim for $20,000 for alleged damages resulting from publicity given the suit of the American Sugar Refining Company versus Williamson, Inc., of Burlington, is made by the defendant company in its answer to the complaint of the plaintiff company filed in Federal court here. In addition Williamson, Inc., asks for damages in the sum of $1,670 which the defendant company alleges it lost because of failure of the American Sugar Refining Company to ship 50 barrels of sugar in July, 1920, and 50 barrels in August, 1920, as contracted. Instead of shipping the sugar in July and August the plaintiff company shipped 100 barrels in August, 1920, the consignment having reached Burlington on August 30, 1920, after the price of sugar had declined. The American Sugar Refining Company is suing Williamson, Inc., in an effort to recover $10,953.85, alleging that the Burlington concern broke a contract into which it had entered with the plaintiff company.

ASPHALT MIXING PLANT IS DESTROYED BY FIRE.

When 2,300 volts of electricity jumped through an oil circuit breaker Thursday evening while two electricians were repairing coils in the starter box at the asphalt mixing plant of R. G. Lassiter & Co., on the Battle Ground road, near the city waterworks, the place was soon being consumed by flames. Within a comparatively short time the plant was practically destroyed by fire, entailing an estimated loss of several thousand dollars. Steamer, Eagle and West End fire companies responded to the alarm, but the large quantity of tar which was affixed rendered their efforts of little effect. The electricians, Paul Moore and D. H. Short, were knocked down when the heavy voltage entered the starter box, but were not seriously hurt. The fire will probably cause some delay in street construction work in this city.

TWO NEGROES HELD FOR ROBBERY OF MOTORMAN.

Will Jones and George Hill, negroes alleged to have robbed J. H. Duncan, street car motorman of this city, were arraigned in Municipal court Thursday and probable cause was found by Judge D. H. Collins. Each defendant was ordered to furnish $500 bond for appearance in Guilford Superior court and upon failure to do so they were placed in the county jail.

The two men were identified by Motorman Duncan as the ones who on his last trip to Pomona late Wednesday night boarded his car, disconnected the trolley, covered him with a revolver and relieved him of $25, his watch and a money changer. The negroes were arrested about an hour afterward at Pomona by local officers.

ROADS, CONVENTIONS AND OTHER TOPICS DISCUSSED AT CHAMBER MEETING.

At a meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce Friday night a resolution commending the chamber's good roads bureau for its efforts to secure development of a modern highway between Greensboro and Asheboro was adopted. This action followed a long discussion of the roads situation in Guilford county.

Agreement to employ a whole-time manager for the traffic bureau, which is to be reorganized, was reached. The traffic manager will handle for Greensboro shippers such matters as routing, tracing, collecting overcharges, auditing, etc. President A. B. High, Secretary C. W. Roberts and George Newman, chairman of the traffic bureau of the chamber, were named as a committee to secure the services of a traffic manager. A minimum charge of $25 a year will be made to members of the chamber who join the traffic bureau and the traffic manager is to be allowed to secure 30 per cent of all overcharge collections.

C. G. Yates and George Newman will attend the freight rate hearings in Washington next month in accordance with action taken by the directors of the chamber Friday night. Mr. Yates rendered a full report concerning recent freight rate hearings in Raleigh and Washington.

Enthusiastic reports regarding the prospects for Greensboro's tobacco market this year were submitted by C. H. McKnight and C. W. Roberts. Satisfactory progress is being made on the construction of the two new tobacco warehouses on the old King property, near North Greene street. Hope was expressed that a redrying plant would be secured for Greensboro within the next few months.

An interesting report concerning conventions to be held in Greensboro was presented by Charles L. Well, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce committee on conventions and publicity. One of the most important of these conventions is that of the North Carolina Good Roads Association, to be held in Greensboro on October 11 and 12.

M. Jones, county physician; Miss Gibbes, a Red Cross nurse, and Mrs. Dorothy Hayden, county Red Cross and public health nurse. One year is the period for which the certificates are to remain in force. However, they may be renewed by application to the state board of health. Those receiving the certificates were Mrs. Ellen Boone, of Proximity, white; Julia Wharton, Alice Minor, Joanne Henry, Bettie Beville, Hannah Burton and Lizzie Barnes, of Morehead township; Callie Reid, of Guilford College, and Alice Rankin, of Sumner township, all negroes.

Veterans Going to Durham.

Free transportation is being furnished by the county to Confederate veterans who desire to attend the annual reunion of veterans of this state at Durham and a number of Guilford men are planning to attend the sessions, which will begin tomorrow. Transportation certificates are secured by the veterans from County Treasurer G. H. McKinney at the court house.

Charlie Newman Sentenced.

In Municipal court Friday Charlie Newman, of Sumner township, was convicted of having whiskey in his possession for the purpose of sale. Judge D. H. Collins imposed a sentence of six months on the county roads, and the young man's car, in which officers say they found more than a gallon of whiskey, was ordered confiscated. The city will sell the machine.

CURE FOR HARD TIMES

A Recent Paper Says:

"Release the money now held out of circulation by people who complain of hard times and there will be no hard times."

This may be a slight overstatement, but it is true that "the greater the number of persons cultivating the banking habit, and using banking facilities, the better it is for the individual, for the bank and for the community."

We cordially offer our services to every citizen who will thus contribute to the cure of hard times.

CLAUDE KITCHIN FLAYS THE NEW TAX BILL.

Scotland Neck, Aug. 18.—Urging house Democrats to line up solidly in caucus against the Republican tax revision bill, Representative Claude Kitchin, Democratic leader, in a telegram to Representative Garrett, of Tennessee, acting minority leader, declared the proposed repeal of the excess profits tax and the substitution of the 15 per cent corporation tax means that the big "profiteering corporations" will be relieved of at least a half billion dollars in taxes which will be paid by corporations of smaller income.

Support of the bill by house Democrats, Representative Kitchin added, would "prove a fatal mistake for every individual Democrat voting for it."

"The corporations in the United States," Mr. Kitchin said, "made net profits from January 1, 1916, to January 1, 1921, in round numbers, 50 billion dollars—to be exact, 47 billion dollars."

"After deducting all the taxes, they have paid since January 1, 1916, income, excess profits tax, and other war taxes, they have a clear profit left of 38 billion dollars, more than four-fifths of which was made by less than 10,000 corporations and more than half of which was made by 1,026 of the big profiteering corporations, which includes the steel trust, the Bethlehem company, the Du Pont company, the various Standard Oil companies, the coal combine, the wool trust, the meat packers, etc."

"Let our fellow Democrats bear in mind always that these same corporations were filling their coffers with these fabulous billions for the profits of their stockholders, while our brave boys in France were spilling their blood for the protection and defense of their country."

"In the face of these ugly and staggering facts," the Democratic leader continued, "is it possible that any one of our fellow members can get the consent of his mind, as a matter of right and justice, as well as good politics, to join in with the Republicans in relieving these big profiteering corporations of hundreds of millions of dollars yearly, and putting these millions upon the small and weak and non-profiteering corporations, making from eight and ten per cent and less upon invested capital, with a 15 per cent flat rate will do, especially in face of the further fact that the Republicans passed a tariff bill which gives these same profiteering corporations the power to exact yearly from the people from three to five billion dollars profits above the world market price?"

LOAN OF FIVE MILLIONS TO BANK OF SAVANNAH.

Washington, Aug. 18.—An application for an advance of $5,000,000 to the Citizens and Southern Bank of Savannah, Georgia, for financing exports was approved to-day by the war finance corporation.

The advance will be made to finance cotton, cotton seed cake, peanut cake and naval stores for export sale. The commodities, the corporation said, will be for the most part products from Georgia, Alabama and South Carolina.

A statement by Mills B. Lane, president of the bank, was made public by the corporation.

"These funds will be used," Mr. Lane said, "as a financial resource and facility in addition to the usual federal reserve bank facilities for the betterment of the people in my part of the country. The war finance corporation's emergency help will be an added source of strength in the orderly marketing of the crop from our part of the country."

NEGRO KILLED BY OFFICER IN SELF DEFENSE.

Raleigh, Aug. 18.—Plainclothes Detective Tom Crabtree, of the Raleigh police force, tonight shot and killed Calvin Smith, young negro, who was arrested by the officer for an assault with a hammer on his wife two weeks ago.

The officer and Deputy Jesse Wyatt were called to Smith's home by his wife, who was having more trouble with him, and called for protection, she made the arrest possible. But Crabtree was assaulted by the negro with a knife. One bullet wound through the body brought the fellow down, and he died at the hospital immediately after being carried there.

His wife declared that the detective would have been cut to pieces but for the pistol shot.

LITTLE BAND OF WOMEN

DE. ROYING LIQUOR STILL.

Pineville, Ky., Aug. 19.—Driven to desperation because they say they cannot hold church services or an evening entertainment at their school without interruption, the little band of women teachers at Smith Community Life school, at Smith, Harlan county, seven miles beyond the railroad terminals, have gone forth in person to destroy the moonshine stills that they say bring trouble to their school house and church door.

Miss Helen H. Digman, of New York, is head of the little Presbyterian settlement school now grown to five buildings and nearly a hundred students, but her assistants in the school and the good women of the neighborhood gladly follow her over mountain trails, wade mountain streams with her to find and destroy the moonshine still; and they have brought back two of them, hacked them to pieces and have them to show as the fruits of their perilous determination.

Charlotte Woman Helps.

Miss Bulah M. Feniken, of Charlotte, N. C., who teaches in a nearby county school, of which Miss Dinman, is supervisor, willingly takes her place in the raiding party, as do other teachers from New York, New Jersey and Indiana, who have cast their respective lots with the natives of the little isolated farming community of only a few hundred acres, tucked miles away from the nearest railroad.

Warnings have come to all these women and to the men folk of the native women who have joined in the hunt for stills, but they do not fear death. One mother who is in a hospital here now from injuries received on one of the trips, sent back word that she would rather her son die fighting moonshiners than that he should live to learn to drink their poisoned liquor. Another community school teacher, Miss Marion Crawford, of Montclair, N. J., who has begged to be allowed to take the lead in all raids they have made, was drowned last week trying to rescue an eight year old pupil from drowning. She saved the girl, but became exhausted and could not reach shore herself.

Great Determination.

It is with this determination that they have gone forth on their raids at night, alone at times, tramping the hills and hollows from darkness to daylight, often without even a light to guide them, lest it also betray them. Once they followed a trail up the hill. A fallen tree crossed it. They walked up the tree trunk where from its butt they could see broken bushes below, and they jumped down. A short distance further they found a copper still and camp provisions. They destroyed 100 gallons of beer and four gallons of whiskey and one of the women in the party brought the still back and the others brought in the copper worm.

Again they followed a trail that led to a creek bed. They had a hunch and they waded up the mountain stream for a half mile until they came to a six foot falls. They had to go back to get help to continue their trail, but they found the still and reported it to Sheriff Ham Howard, of Harlan county, and have his courteous note of reply.

They have made a half dozen raids this summer, some successful as far as destroying stills is concerned; some unsuccessful. But they have still other shiners rendezvous located and promise to continue on their present course until the authorities join with them to suppress the moonshine depredations, which they say threaten to destroy their school, their homes and entire community life.

THE ORTHOPAEDIC HOSPITAL IS FORMALLY OPENED.

Gastonia, Aug. 18.—The North Carolina State Orthopaedic hospital was formally opened this morning at 11 o'clock.

Dr. Plato T. Durham, of Atlanta, was the speaker of the day, and made what was termed by those who heard him one of the best addresses of his life.

He was at his best when he remarked that he was ever thankful to acknowledge the Old North State as his mother state, but he was more than proud now to make such acknowledgement when she had taken such a step towards the front in taking care of the most unfortunate of the state's maimed children.

Work has already begun in the treatment of the crippled children, and at present there are about twenty-five cripples as inmates of the hospital. By the first of the month, according to a statement from R. B. Babington, there will be about sixty children in the hospital and applications for more than 100 have already been filed.

The building is modeled after those of the modern structure and has a thoroughly equipped operating room with some of the most up-to-date appliances of orthopaedic surgery.

With the opening of the Orthopaedic hospital, North Carolina takes fourth rank in the United States in the states that have established hospitals for its cripples, and is the first state in the South to take such a step.

The bill for the adoption of this hospital was passed by the legislature of 1917 when $20,000 was appropriated for the cripples of the state. At that time Mr. Babington, who had been soliciting funds for the institution for several years, had the amount of $20,000 subscribed. This amount was increased to $70,000 by a subsequent appropriation and additional private subscriptions. The high building prices which followed in the wake of the war retarded the completion of the building.

The hospital is located on a beautiful site near the city of Gastonia, on Babington Heights, and commands a view of the foothills of the Blue Ridge mountains and the beautiful rolling country of the Piedmont section. There are about twenty-eight acres in the site for the hospital, which gives ample room for future development.

CONVICTED NEGRO WAS LOOKING AHEAD.

A gentleman who attended Davie Superior court last week from Forsyth county, says that a negro, after being convicted of larceny and sentenced to the state prison for a term of three years, was asked by the presiding judge if he wished to make a statement. "Only I would like for you to make dat sentence four instead of three years," replied the defendant. When asked for a reason, the darkey explained that "by dat time de Democrats will likely be back in power and poor white folks and niggers will not have to steal to get a living."

TEXTILE WORKERS PLEDGE TO MAINTAIN LAW AND ORDER.

Concord, Aug. 19.—Five hundred and 91 Concord and Kannapolis members of the United Textile Workers of America marched to the court house here tonight and gave their pledge to city and county authorities that they would do their utmost to maintain "law and order."

This decision was reached at a meeting of 700 union members, presided over by James F. Barrett, president of the North Carolina Federation of Labor. Every textile member present at the meeting who was physically able to walk to the court house was a member of the gathering that appeared before the civil authorities, and among those present were children, young men and women, parents with babies in their arms.

Mr. Barrett, in addressing the mass meeting, made the proposition that the textile workers of this county show the civil authorities of the city and county that they stood for law and order by going to the sheriff and mayor and offering their services to keep down any disorder of any kind.

"The governor in his address this afternoon promised that when the civil authorities had sufficient guarantee that law and order would be maintained here, he would withdraw the troops," Mr. Barrett stated in making his pleadings, "and I ask you, every member of the textile union here and in Kannapolis, to go to the authorities and give your promise to help in maintaining the law here."

Upon motion it was decided to make the pledge tonight, and the 591 persons marched to the court house in a body.

L. M. Barnhardt, member of the international executive committee; Mr. Eataugh, international organizer, and F. M. Sloop, president of the local union, also addressed the mass meeting and asked the members of the union here to abide by the law and offer their services to the civil authorities.

BITTEN BY A SNAKE CONCEALED IN WARDROBE

R. Chalmers Kirkpatrick, of Sharon township, was bitten three times on the hand by a snake when he reached into a wardrobe in his home Thursday afternoon. The snake, which he took out and killed, was of the copperhead variety.

Mr. Kirkpatrick was very ill for several hours following the bite. He was taken to Pineville, five miles away, where he was given medical attention by Dr. Hand. His condition was much improved Friday and he was said to be getting along nicely.

Mr. Kirkpatrick had returned home from the picnic at Sharon and was reaching into the wardrobe for a garment when he felt a sting on his hand and detected something moving about in the wardrobe, discovering a few seconds later that the object was a snake.—Charlotte Observer.

RAILROAD LOOKING FOR A SEVERE WINTER.

Reading, Pa., Aug. 19.—Indications that the management of the Reading railroad expects a severe winter were given by orders just received here to overhaul the road's snow ploughs, pile up coal reserves and get rolling stock ready for the first blizzard that comes along. It was said the railroad executives were anticipating difficulties on the theory that after two comparatively mild winters a third seems improbable.

BULL SNAKES ASSET ON KANSAS ALFALFA FARMS.

Manhattan, Kan., Aug. 18.—A full grown bull snake in a Kansas alfalfa field is worth at least $2.50 a month to the farmer on whose land he lives.

This is the statistical deduction of experts at the Kansas State Agricultural College here. They arrive at it in this way:

There are on the average six gophers to the acre and they damage the alfalfa crop to the extent of about $2.50 a month. A bull snake of this kind can keep an acre free.

The calculations are those of F. L. Hisaw, mammalogist at the college, and J. B. Rogers, of its zoology department.

"A full-grown bull snake," says Mr. Hisaw, "is capable of eating all the gophers on an acre of alfalfa in one month and during the six warm months of the year is able to clear six acres."

"Alfalfa growers should take serious thought of the economic importance of these harmless snakes. By protecting them a great deal of time and money can be saved in trapping and poisoning gophers and other rodents."

"The bull snake feeds on rats and mice when around the barn or granary. The only return he asks for his loyal and valuable service is the right to live an undisturbed life."

LIGHTNING KILLS ALAMANCE MAN IN HIS HOME.

Burlington, Aug. 18.—An electrical storm swept over the village of Hopedale, three miles north of this city, Sunday afternoon, doing considerable damage, killing one man and severely shocking several persons. The man killed was John Faulkner, aged 51 years, who was sitting in his home near an open window when a flash of the lightning struck him, death resulting instantly. The funeral service was held from the home Monday afternoon, being conducted by Rev. Mr. Apple, of Elon College, and interment was in the cemetery here. He is survived by a wife and several children.

"PROTECTION" WOULD PROVE RUINOUS.

We do not know where the propaganda concerning protective tariff is coming from. It apparently comes from the Tariff Association. There are several questions, however, aside from who is propagating the propaganda, to be considered. If this country levies a high protective tariff on raw materials and manufactured products, and the tariff wall is raised so high as to shut off the exchange of commodities from other countries, it will produce an economic depression in this country that will spell devastation and ruin.

The money of the old countries, to a large extent, is now in America. The countries of Europe and other countries, have no money with which to buy our raw materials or manufactured products. They must pay for them by exchange and if the tariff wall is so high that barter and exchange with foreign countries is shut off, it means a total stagnation economically in this country, for the reason that we would export nothing because it could not be paid for.

The South produces nearly all the cotton used in the United States and much of the cotton used in Europe and the Orient and if the other parts of the world cannot send their raw materials and manufactured products into this country on account of the high tariff wall, then the cotton in our country cannot be shipped to other countries because they have nothing with which to pay. Therefore, cotton will be a drug upon the market—no demand for it. The same is true of every other article of which there is an over-production in this country; that is, more produced than is used at home.

Another great problem is that of the consumer. If all industries are to be protected and all raw materials are to be protected, "Jones pays the freight," and Jones is the consumer. Protection is wrong in principle because it embodies the principle of using the power of the government in the interest of special classes.

How shall Europe repay its debt to America? It has no money with which to pay. It is therefore necessary that it pay this debt in raw materials or in manufactured products shipped from Europe to this country. We are facing now a situation which should be dealt with most cautiously. If by reason of our tariff wall Europe is unable to pay the one thing that it has available, that is, raw materials and manufactured products through barter and exchange, then the question of the payment of the debt will be a thing long deferred and may be ultimately the cause of another war. We demand the money—they refuse to pay. We sever diplomatic relations—then there is war.

The whole world is interested in the tariff bill of the United States; the future of our country is at this critical period, to no little extent, to be determined by the tariff. It is a situation which requires earnest thought and the highest possible economic experience and should be approached with a patriotic desire to conserve the interest of the country, above all things. It is hardly to be expected that the Republican Congress will do other than carry out the orders of those higher up in their efforts to take the burden from the rich and place it upon the backs of those less able to bear it, but in doing so they should have a care. The thing may be loaded.

There is no mistaking where our esteemed friend, the Hon. Claude Kitchen stands on the tariff proposition. It is said that he is probably the only man in the United States who could go in a room, shut the door and without consulting any data, write a tariff bill for the United States government. In other words, he is probably the best posted man on tariff in the country, and above all, he is a man of supreme courage as well as ability.

ENLARGING OPPORTUNITIES.

Now that the colleges will be opening within the next few weeks many young men and young women are making preparations to pursue collegiate courses—and a much larger number are making no such preparations. It is generally agreed that the man or woman with a college education is usually a great deal better equipped for his or her life work than the one without such an education. However, here and there one finds persons who continue to profess to regard colleges as of doubtful value. Such persons are gratifyingly few, it is true, but they are sometimes found.

Persons adhering to such theories might find it profitable to consider some of the facts developed in a survey recently conducted by H. E. Miles, a vocational training expert. The survey concerns itself not only with colleges but with the general educational situation in the United States. First, Mr. Miles shows that while it is still possible for the self-made man whose school life stopped at the age of 12 to find himself the possessor of a million dollars or more at the age of 50, it is more difficult to achieve distinction than riches. He shows that out of 5,000,000 men of no schooling, only 31 attain distinction.

With elementary schooling, according to the survey, 33,000,000 men and women produce only 800 distinguished citizens. Out of 2,000,000 who graduated from the high schools no more than 1,235 became distinguished. On the other hand, it is shown that of 1,000,000 college graduates 5,768 reached distinction. Nearly half of the children in this country leave school at about 14, says Mr. Miles, who adds, "It may be said that about half leave the school forever without any real education." He contends that elementary schools must be made more effective with the best possible instruction in citizenship and economics for every child before he leaves and afterward in the continuation schools, which have recently been established in 25 states, but very poorly developed.

While everyone who can possibly do so should attend college, it is manifest that many young men and young women will not. And while continued growth of sentiment in favor of college training may reasonably be expected, we should also see to it that the courses in our elementary and high schools contain instruction which will prove of value to pupils who will not go to college as well as for pupils who will have the benefit of college courses.

In this connection it may be said that there will be general satisfaction that the county commissioners decided to increase the allotment for the Guilford county schools from 30 to 32 cents in order to make possible needed improvements. The schools should not have to operate upon funds barely sufficient to pay the teachers. Under such conditions we naturally could not expect the development which we rightfully expect to be realized in our public school system.

BILL'S RUMINATIONS.

Bill Trollop dropped in the office the other day and began talking about the tariff. We didn't want to get into a discussion about the tariff, but Bill seemed to be loaded. "What I want to know is who's apayin' the costs of this here Tariff Association. I jes like to know who is a backin' it." We informed him that we were unable to enlighten him upon this subject. "I know myself," said he, "that the farmers ain't apayin' any money for no such business as this. What do we want with the tariff on cotton when we got to ship away from this country or go broke? What do we want with the tariff on tobacco when we produce more'n dey use here at home and got to ship it away somewhere else? Dem fellers kain't fool me. Dey just want to th'ow us farmers a piece of stale bread while dey fixes the thing up so that the rich folks and big corporations will jes take in dey millions, but dey ain't

Mr. Andrew Peacock drove his Ford car into Greensboro last Thursday night and left it parked at court square and when he was ready to start home his car was gone and no evidence as to what direction it had gone or when it would return, and so far he has not been able to get any trace of it.

Mr. Clyde Rush while on his way home from toward High Point after a shower of rain the other day, in coming down the grade at the bridge in Jamestown, his car skidded on the asphalt road and turned turtle on top of him and Patrick Stuart, Jr., who was with him in the car. Fortunately neither of them were hurt, but the car was badly damaged.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Doak, of Raleigh, with their two children, have been visiting his mother and sister at this place recently.

MR. COBB GIVES MORE LIGHT ON ROAD BUILDING.

Editor Greensboro Patriot:

In order that the public may know just what is being done in regard to the road situation a few facts are submitted to your readers.

At a recent meeting in Greensboro the state highway commissioner made the statement that the McLeansville-Frieden's church is such a fine sand clay road it would be a crime to tear it up. Recently a party of citizens of Guilford county had occasion to travel over the sand clay road from High Point toward Asheboro, and every man was highly pleased with the firmness and smoothness of that road. In fact it was such an ideal road that there was a temptation to exceed the speed limit. Now if it is a crime to tear up the McLeansville-Frieden's road what kind of a crime is it to tear up the road from High Point toward Asheboro? Or does it depend upon where the act happens whether or not it is a crime?

As has been pointed out in numerous communications to your paper one important feature in favor of the McLeansville-Frieden's route is the economy in construction and maintenance. The state highway commissioner, J. Elwood Cox, recently stated in a reply to a communication from the McLeansville-Frieden's committee that the feature of economy is against this route from the fact that if the state highway is located along this route an additional road will have to be built via Sedalia and thereby create the cost of two roads. He does not say what will be done for the McLeansville-Frieden's road in case the state highway is built along the Sedalia-Whitsett route. It would appear from this that there is a determination to build the state highway via Sedalia regardless of what may be offered in favor of the McLeansville-Frieden's route either as to the economy or the will of the people, and that the people of the McLeansville-Frieden's route may expect to wade through the mud or build their road themselves as they have always had to do in the past.

Some time ago the state highway commissioner, J. Elwood Cox, declined to have a survey made of the McLeansville-Frieden's route and gave as his reason that it would cost too much and they had to economize in every way possible. Notwithstanding the fact that a force of engineers spent several weeks on the survey of the Sedalia route there has been a force of five or six engineers doing something along this road recently for a week or more and no one seems to know what they are doing.

It would be embarrassing to have to think that our authorities would operate for their mutual benefits and against the interests of the masses, but what other conclusion can be drawn?

Yours very truly,
CHAS. D. COBB.

GOV. MORRISON ADDRESSES CONCORD TEXTILE WORKERS

Concord, Aug. 19.—"I deny the rumor that troops were sent here to help break this strike. It is a lie as black as ever was born in hell."

This utterance of Governor Morrison, speaking this afternoon on lawn of graded school No. 3 to a crowd conservatively estimated to number from 4,500 to 5,000 was in reply to an inference in the introductory talk of James F. Barrett, president of the North Carolina Federation of Labor, that some believe the troops were brought here as an adjunct to the economic problem.

"Surely my state has not so lost confidence in labor in North Carolina as to think that armed forces would be used to violate any right of yours," Governor Morrison continued. These statements were thrown in during the course of his written address.

Governor Morrison arrived in Concord about 2.30, half an hour before the time of his address, coming from Statesville by automobile, accompanied by Harry P. Grier, speaker of the house of representatives; J. A. Hartness and other Statesville men. He started back probably half an hour after the address was over, going over the same route on his return to Asheville, the summer capital, which he left this morning at 6 o'clock.

Governor Arrives.

On arrival at the hotel, Governor Morrison was greeted by numbers of citizens, including Adjutant General J. Van B. Metts, Major R. R. Faison, Mayor J. W. Womble, James F. Barrett, state labor president, and there met Edgar Wallace, special representative of President Samuel Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, who has been here since Wednesday.

Only two or three times during his address was Governor Morrison cheered heartily. One occasion was when he reiterated his statement made several days ago that he declared the anti-picketing ordinance passed by Concord officials two weeks ago as invalid.

"I want to move them (the soldiers) away from here at the earliest possible moment," was another statement that brought forth applause. Another burst of cheering followed his statement that if any soldier conducts himself in such a way as to show disrespect to the people in Concord, he would use his office in seeing he is given a military trial.

Governor Morrison made it clear that he had dispatched the troops to the scene of the strike only to preserve order and "not to take sides in this controversy," and he said, "if any of these soldiers are found lining up as partisans with either side, I will use my influence as their commander-in-chief to see that they are dismissed from the service."

Not to Meditate.

Governor Morrison said he had not come to offer mediation, that the strike was rooted in an economic issue over which he, as governor of the state could exercise no authority if he was of such a mind, and that it must be settled finally upon an economic basis and by those only who are immediately involved in the controversy.

He had only consented to address the people of Concord, he declared, in response to urgent solicitations from President Barrett, of the state federation of labor, and officials of the textile unions and had come only for the purpose of outlining what he conceived to be the respective rights of the two factions, the right of "labor to collectively bargain and to unionize" and the right of the employers to run their plants and manage their properties as the law allows them.

The crowd that gathered to hear Governor Morrison was one of the largest that has gathered here in a long time, the statement having been made that it was composed largely of striking textile workers.

March From Kannapolis.

A crowd, estimated at 300 or 400, marched in two from Kannapolis to Concord this morning, a distance of seven miles, headed by two former service men in uniform and carrying a large American flag.

BOLD ATTEMPT TO ROB A TRAVELING MAN.

Columbia, S. C., Aug. 18.—D. T. Crews, a traveling salesman, was the victim of a bold attempt at robbery by a taxicab driver between Blackville and Columbia during Sunday night, according to a statement here to-day by George L. Reed, a rural policeman, of Orangeburg. Crews and his wife were coming to Columbia in a rented car. Eight miles from North the driver of the car struck Mr. Crews in the head and knocked him unconscious. Mrs. Crews had $300 on her person, and she left the road and got away from the car driver. The driver ransacked the car and Mr. Crews' grip and finding no money, fled. Later Mrs. Crews came back and found her husband unconscious, but he was soon revived, and the two came to Columbia in another car. Mr. Crews was only bruised on the head. Officers are looking for the chauffeur, whose name is not known.

SIMMONS STILL FIGHTING FOR MORE GOOD ROADS.

Washington, Aug. 19.—Frank A. Hampton, secretary to Senator Simmons, issued a statement to-day denying a report that the senator had spoken against the Townsend good roads bill.

"Early in the week," Mr. Hampton said, "Senator Simmons explained to his colleagues on the committee that he would have to be absent while the good roads bill was before the senate, in spite of the deep interest he had in it and in spite of the interest of North Carolina in the bill."

"The statement that Senator Simmons made a speech against the bill that afternoon or at any other time is of course, entirely without foundation. Probably no senator except the chairman of the committee himself has been more active in behalf of the good roads bill than has Senator Simmons."

"Senator Simmons has participated in the discussion on every question that has been debated, and on that particular afternoon he spent his time in endeavoring to create sentiment on both sides of the chamber against the provision inserted in the bill by the committee at the instance of the chairman which provided for placing the good roads work in the hands of a federal commission."

Simmons Working Hard.

"Senator Simmons spoke vigorously and worked hard in favor of retaining the control of the road work in the hands of the bureau of public roads. As a result of Senator Simmons' work that afternoon and of the support he had from a number of senators feeling the same as he did, Senator Curtis, of Kansas, following Senator Simmons' idea, offered an amendment to strike out the provisions in the bill providing for a commission control, thus providing that the control be left where it now is, in the hands of the bureau."

"With reference to the statement that Senator Simmons cross examined Southern witnesses on the morning in question, that is true. For example, one gentleman from New Orleans appeared and asked for a duty of 25 per cent on turpentine and rosin. Senator Simmons cross examined him and developed the fact that only 1 per cent of the turpentine and rosin consumed in this country is imported, and that the purpose of the proposed duty was to exclude this 1 per cent, out of a vague apprehension expressed by the witness that France was now growing some long leaf pine trees and might in the course of years become a competitor. Of course the position assumed by this witness was entirely absurd, and Senator Simmons fully developed the real facts."

"Another gentleman from the South appeared that morning and asked for a duty of five cents per pound on cotton seed oil. Senator Simmons cross examined this witness also, and developed the fact that the so-called emergency tariff bill—a bill carrying the highest duties ever proposed in this country, a duty of two cents per pound carried forward also in the Fordney bill, was placed upon cotton seed oil, and that the witness was now asking a duty of five cents per pound, which would be equivalent to an ad valorem duty of 72 per cent, the present price of this oil being seven cents per pound. The witness was asking a duty over three times as high as the average rate in the iniquitous and unreasonable Fordney bill. Senator Simmons saw that the absurdity of this witness' position was also fully made apparent."

Wants Good Roads Measure.—Of course, Senator Simmons was not going to leave the senate at the critical moment of the consideration of the good roads bill in order to cross examine a few witnesses before the finance committee with reference to matters that have not yet reached the point of action. In fact, the senator has devoted a whole week to speaking and fighting in every proper way that a senator can fight for the passage of the best good roads measure possible under the present condition and in the present situation."

CURRITUCK RAISES BARRELS AND BARRELS OF POTATOES.

Elizabeth City, Aug. 18.—Between 60,000 and 65,000 barrels of Currituck sweet potatoes have already been shipped, according to estimates made by C. A. Wright, prominent potato grower of Jarvisburg, Currituck county, and N. H. Baker, general superintendent of the North River Line. Of this total 54,076 barrels have been handled by the line which Mr. Baker represents. Other shipments have gone by boat to Norfolk, and by rail from Moyoek and other points.

The past week witnessed the largest sweet potato shipments this season, the North River Line total being 27,739 barrels.

Those in close touch with the sweet potato situation in Currituck believe that 60 to 75 per cent of the season's crop has already been dug. It is pointed out that many of the largest planters have harvested their entire crops. The stock is reported to be exceptionally good, but the crop is short to an extent estimated by some as high as 50 per cent, and it is believed by leading shippers that the yield for the season will not exceed 75,000 barrels.

So far potato prices have been reasonably satisfactory to the growers. Buyers at Powell's Point and Jarvisburg Saturday were offering $4 a barrel for sweets loaded on the wharves. Some of those who have shipped their potatoes have received as high as $12 a barrel for their consignments.

BARN STRUCK BY LIGHTNING AND TOTALLY DESTROYED.

Spencer, Aug. 18.—A large barn of John Hunberry, near South river, was struck by lightning and burned Sunday afternoon with a loss of several thousand dollars. Besides the valuable building 10 bales of cotton, 300 bushels of wheat and several hundred bushels of corn were burned, with a large amount of feed stuff, machinery and other property. By quick work after the blaze started the horses, cattle and livestock were saved. The loss falls heavily on Mr. Hunberry at a time when there is a prospect of short crops. The fire was witnessed by many people at distance.

Gold and silver in small quantities have been found in some Wyoming coal. We thought they were gold-plating it when we asked the price recently.—Farm, Stock and Home, Minneapolis.

FARMERS' ALLIANCE WILL MAKE EFFORT COME BACK.

Raleigh, Aug. 18.—With a fund of $25,000 which can be used in the campaign for membership, it is increasingly evident that the Farmers' Alliance is determined to make a fight to regain the influence it held in North Carolina a quarter of a century ago.

The recent meeting of the alliance here and its stand for co-operative marketing recalls the fight a few years ago, when the Farmers' Union dethroned Dr. Clarence Poe, T. B. Parker, W. C. Crosby and other conservative progressives for the leadership of Alexander and Stone. The dominant wing of the union is now fighting co-operative marketing, while the minority wing is backing the plan.

The alliance already has an organizer in the field. News of the $25,000 available for a membership campaign is contained in a statement issued to-day by Major W. A. Graham, commissioner of agriculture, in which the major makes some suggestions with reference to the reorganizations. The alliance is recognized by the legislature, and in order for the fund now on hand to be used some amendment to the present laws are necessary. It is proposed that this be made at the coming special session of the general assembly.

News coming to Raleigh of the activity of President Stone, of the Farmers' Union, in opposing the co-operative marketing program, has only stimulated the efforts of those who are behind the movement. On the tobacco markets in the Palmetto belt, where overflow sales have forced the prices downward, there is evidence of a flocking of farmers to the co-operative plan, and the officials here understand that many contracts have been signed within the last few days.

Collector J. W. Bailey, attorney for the Farmers' Union, says the union, through its county organizations, can make contracts to handle the cotton and tobacco contracts just as well as can the co-operative organizations. He is preparing to draw a substitute contract, which he says will meet the approval of the union and of the federal authorities who are to advance the money.

Bailey and Poe, both prominently mentioned as gubernatorial candidates in 1924, have locked arms on the co-operative movement, and their activities will be generally watched with interest.

TRACES DAUGHTER AFTER FOUR DECADES.

Philadelphia, Aug. 18.—After forty years' separation from his family, Horace W. Allison, of Philadelphia, has just traced his daughter, Deville Coraline, to Birmingham, Ala., where he informed her that he held in trust for her an estate reported to exceed $200,000, left her by her grandfather, Walter Allison, in 1869.

The search began in Moberly, Mo., where Allison left his daughter after her mother's death. It took him to Palestine, Tex., where she had gone after marriage, thence to Illinois and finally to Alabama. Allison is said to have discovered he is the grandfather of five children. His daughter's married name is withheld.

LAND FOR SALE.

Whereas J. E. Latham Company did by a certain written contract dated April 5th, 1920, contract and agree to convey unto R. T. Southern the land hereinafter described upon condition that the said R. T. Southern should from time to time make certain monthly payments upon said land as set out in said written instrument, and whereas said written instrument which was also signed by the said R. T. Southern further providing that in the event that any two of the said monthly payments should become due and unpaid the said J. E. Latham Company might at its option declare the whole sum due and payable and collect the same by the sale of said land at public auction as the law provided for the foreclosure and sale of land under mortgage;

And whereas more than two of said monthly payments are due and unpaid and the said R. T. Southern neglects and refuses to make any payment upon said contract and the said J. E. Latham Company being still the owner and holder of said land and said contract has elected to declare the whole sum due and payable and sell said land.

Now therefore, the undersigned acting under said power of sale will offer said land for sale for cash at public auction at the east door of the court house in the city of Greensboro, at 12 o'clock noon, or as soon thereafter as may be, on said land consisting of a house and lot situated in Morehead township, Guilford county, N. C., in what is known as Latham Development at Pomona, and being more particularly described as follows:

SIDNEY KINCAID CONVICTED OF KILLING HIS WIFE.

Morganton, Aug. 19.—Sidney Kincaid, charged with the murder of his wife, Lillie, whose throat was cut during a scuffle between the couple at their home on the evening of July 18, was tonight alleged guilty of murder in the second degree by a jury in the Superior court, following deliberation of practically an hour and a half.

Judge Bryson began his charge to the jury immediately after court was convened for the evening session at 8 o'clock, and spoke for two hours. The charge was comprehensive, embracing every possible point, and enumerating the evidence both for and against the prisoner. The case was given to the jury at 10 o'clock, and that body was ready to report at 11:30. A half hour was consumed in getting the court together.

Kincaid will be sentenced probably tomorrow morning. He took the decision without visible emotion, and the verdict was received quietly by the spectators, many of whom had remained in the court room for several weary hours on the possible chance of the jury making its report tonight. The verdict seems to meet with general approval.

NINETY YEARS OLD, NEVER RODE ON A RAILROAD.

Macon, Mo., Aug. 18.—Ninety years in the back country of Missouri, without ever having ridden on a railroad train or visited a town larger than Macon, was the record of "Aunt Betty" Elliott, who died near here a few days ago.

Miss Elliott was one of a very interesting trio, the other two being her brothers, Perry and Jordan Elliott. All their lives they had lived on the land which was taken up by their father, William Elliott, when he came from Kentucky in 1816.

The following were the rules by which this remarkable family lived:

Never too old to work.

Never had a quarrel with anybody.

Never swapped a horse.

Never owned a dog.

Never used tobacco in any form.

Never belonged to a church, but believed in God.

Never were in a lawsuit.

Never knew the extent of their wealth.

Kept their accounts with pins on shingles.

What was good for their forefathers was good enough for them.

ANOTHER MYSTERIOUS MOTOR GRAVEYARD.

Chicago, Aug. 18.—A number of automobile insurance companies were notified to-day that the police of Summit hall uncovered an automobile graveyard in a pool in an abandoned stone quarry. Fourteen wrecked machines were taken out. The services of divers will be used to examine the bottom further.

It is thought that either the cars have been disposed of by persons wanting insurance or that automobile thieves ran the cars into the water after disposing of valuable parts.

The water in the pool is eighty feet deep, and a diver and a derrick will be needed in order to get the automobiles to the surface.

INSURANCE COMPANY SUES FOR A REFUND.

Raleigh, Aug. 18.—The Mutual Life Insurance Company, of New York, has made a demand upon Insurance Commissioner Wade for a refund of $14,191.78, this amount represents insurance taxes paid to the state for the first six months period of 1921. Acting upon advice of Attorney General Manning, the commissioner has declined to make the refund, and the company is preparing to enter suit for judgment.

Request for the refund, made to Commissioner Wade several days ago, and suggested in a letter of protest to Treasurer B. R. Lacy at the time of payment of the tax, is based upon the alleged invalidity of section 67, of the state revenue act, which contains, substantially, the same discriminations between foreign and domestic corporations as does section 72, of the act recently declared invalid by the United States Supreme court.

The insurance company, after complying with the statutes, has served notice through James H. Pou, its attorney that it will enter suit for the refund. The attorney general says it must make out a case in court as, in his opinion and in the opinion of the courts, the insurance company is not engaged in interstate business and is therefore ineligible to profit by the Supreme court decision on the section 72, of the revenue act, attacked recently by the automobile corporations.

GILLIAM GRISSOM TAKES VIEW OF NEW QUARTERS.

Gilliam Grissom, slated to be J. W. Bailey's successor as internal revenue collector for North Carolina, was in Raleigh yesterday, coming on the invitation of Collector Bailey.

Generally, it is believed, Mr. Grissom will get a recess appointment, and J. W. Bailey, collector for eight years, will go out of office, leaving a record of collections which, in the very nature of the case, his Republican successor is not apt to equal.

Mr. Grissom spent some time in the collector's office yesterday.

"Mr. Grissom came here on my own invitation and responsibility," said Mr. Bailey yesterday, "as a courtesy which I felt was due him."

CAROLINA WOMAN SEEKS VIRGINIA LIQUOR.

Lynchburg, Va., Aug. 18.—Police Chief Smith has a letter, which is said to be from a woman who is 75 years old and a resident of Winston-Salem, N. C., in which the department here is asked to ship her one of the gallons of the local supply, which Chief Smith is making an effort to get rid of. The writer says she finds it hard to get good liquor down in the Old North State. She expresses a very decided preference for brandy, but tells Chief Smith that if he can't send her brandy, to pick her out a gallon of good liquor of some other kind.

Degenerate Times.

GUARD FIRES ON MOB TRYING TO STORM JAIL.

Knoxville, Tenn., Aug. 19.—Six persons have been taken to the hospital with wounds inflicted in a clash between sheriff's forces and a mob trying to storm the jail in an effort to take a negro accused of assault on a white school teacher near here yesterday morning.

Other ambulances are hurrying to the scene.

Estimates by the police place the number of wounded at twenty, including two women and Deputy Sheriff Charles Lewis.

The sheriff's deputies are reported to have used shotguns and the local company of state guardsmen machine guns in firing upon the crowd that surged about the jail. It is claimed that the mob was jeering the jail's defenders and that the shooting was precipitated by a stone being thrown by a member of the mob.

REQUEST GOVERNOR TO PARDON AGED DENTIST.

Asheville, Aug. 19.—Petition signed by 265 persons, including one member of the state dental board, requesting a pardon for Dr. W. J. Sykes, of Winston-Salem, sentenced to serve two years on the roads for practicing dentistry without the necessary license and for malpractice, was presented Wednesday afternoon by Attorney S. E. Edwards, of Winston-Salem, to Governor Cameron Morrison.

An urgent appeal was made by Mr. Edwards, who is a former resident of Mars Hill, for the convicted dentist, who is 71 years old, and who began serving his sentence one month ago. Among those who signed the petition were Sheriff Flynt, of Forsyth county, several attorneys, and many prominent residents of Winston-Salem.

So far no action has been taken by the state's chief executive.

Ku Klux Klan Takes Over University.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 19.—Lanier University, established in Atlanta a few years ago, has been taken over by the Ku Klux Klan, according to an announcement to-day by the board of trustees. Dr. C. Lewis Fowler has resigned as president, and William J. Simmons, head of the Klan, named as his successor.

There was no cash consideration involved in the deal, it was announced, but the Ku Klux Klan assumes all obligations of the institution.

Mrs. T. P. Shoe, aged 53, died early yesterday morning at her home, 14 miles southeast of the city. She is survived by her husband; two daughters, Mrs. Bertha Swaney, of Greensboro, and Mrs. Minnie Candler, of Guilford county, and four sons, J. G., J. W., G. W. and T. P. Miss Lucy Belle Beal, of Siler City, and Thomas H. Garrison, formerly of Franklinville but now of White Oak, were united in marriage at 8 o'clock Saturday night at the home of M. R. Phillips. The bride is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Beal, of Siler City, and Mr. Garrison is a valued member of the White Oak mill organization, serving as timekeeper.

The funeral services were conducted at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon at Bethel church by Rev. D. R. Proffitt, assisted by Rev. Mr. Gerringer. The remains were interred in the church cemetery.

Officers Capture Still.

A copper still of 85-gallon capacity was captured Saturday afternoon by Deputy Sheriffs Joe Phipps and Floyd Brown about ten miles from Greensboro, in Sumner township. Approximately 1,000 gallons of beer which the officers found were poured out. No arrests have been made.

"DISARM OR BUST," SAYS GEORGE NORRIS.

Philadelphia, Aug. 18.—The direct interest that every person in America has in the coming disarmament conference at Washington was shown to-day by George W. Norris, governor of the federal reserve bank of Philadelphia.

It is a case of "disarm or bust," to use Mr. Norris' forceful phrase.

As an illustration, he said that in the United States an average family of five was taxed before the war $1.15 to debt charges; $23.10 for military expenditures, and $8.75 for other expenses of the federal government, a total of $33.

As a result of the war the taxes now for an average family of five are $43.25 for debt charges; $54.10 for military expenditures, and $117.45 for other expenses, a total of $214.80.

SPURIOUS NICKELS IN CIRCULATION IN STATE.

A flood of very clever counterfeit buffalo nickels which have attained wide circulation in the city has aroused the interest of department of justice officers in Raleigh during the past few weeks and an investigation is understood to be under way.

The counterfeit is one of the cleverest that has been brought to light, having all the appearance and weight of regular money, and give no hint of their worthlessness until one of them is dropped. There is no ring in them, but otherwise, they are splendid pieces of money. It is understood that officials have some clues as to where the money is coming from.—Raleigh News and Observer.

FOUR MEN INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT.

Wilson, Aug. 19.—J. Carney Brown, B. H. Winborne and A. S. Ward, of Wilson, and a Mr. Hooks, of Fremont, were seriously injured this afternoon when the car in which they were riding crashed into a telephone pole on the highway between Wilson and Rocky Mount.

The accident, which occurred while the men were returning from baseball game at Rocky Mount, was caused by careless driving by a person in another machine.

Mr. Ward, who was at the wheel, was forced to turn quickly out of the road to avoid a collision, and in doing so the machine struck a telephone pole, injuring every member of the party.

Mr. Ward was rushed to a Rocky Mount hospital and Messrs. Winborne and Hooks were brought to a local hospital. Mr. Brown was taken to his home. It is said Mr. Hook's right arm was nearly severed by broken glass from the windshield.
