

CONVICT EDWARDS OF MURDER AND SEND FOR JUROR CHARLES

Defense Alleges Report Received to Effect That J. L. Charles, Foreman of Jury, Had Expressed Desire to Try "Bootlegger."—Seek to Set Aside Verdict.

Ten years at hard labor in the state prison in Raleigh was the sentence imposed against Lewis Edwards in Superior court this afternoon by Judge Webb, who declined to grant the motion of attorneys for the defendant that the verdict of the jury be set aside. Edwards was convicted of second degree murder of W. T. McCuiston.

Sentence was received without signs of emotion by the prisoner. Counsel for the defendant gave notice of an appeal to the state Supreme court. J. L. Charles, of Deep River township, appeared in court this afternoon and upon examination stated that he had not made the remarks reported to have been made by him. He was not sure that he hadn't said something about bootlegging, but he didn't know that the defendant was a bootlegger. Certainly he had done everything possible to see that the defendant received a fair and impartial trial. Shortly after that statement the sentence on Edwards was imposed.

Shortly after 12 o'clock to-day Judge James L. Webb, of Shelby, presiding over Guilford Superior court, directed that a subpoena be issued for J. L. Charles, of Deep River township, who served as foreman of the jury in the case against Lewis Edwards, charged with the murder of Patrolman W. T. McCuiston, of the Greensboro force and who was convicted by the jury of second degree murder in this case.

Mr. Charles will be examined in court this afternoon in connection with a report declared to have been received by the defense to the effect that he (Mr. Charles) stated that the jury "just couldn't afford to turn a man like that loose" and that he had come to Greensboro because he "wanted to sit on the trial of a bootlegger," the alleged reference to Edwards.

After 20 hours' deliberations the jury in the Edwards case at 5:25 yesterday afternoon returned a verdict finding that the defendant was guilty of murder in the second degree. Judge Webb then announced that he would not sentence the prisoner until 9:30 this morning. This morning the judge had court opened at 10 o'clock and counsel for the defense asked for a short time in which to prepare an affidavit. That was granted and shortly after 11 o'clock attorneys for the defendant asked that the verdict of the jury be set aside.

The defendant's counsel contended that evidence sufficient to convict Edwards of murder had not been presented. They referred to the remarks alleged to have been made by Mr. Charles. They also said they were prepared to show that a man named Jordan Edwards was ready to swear that Ab King, star witness for the defense, was a partner of Carl Talley in the liquor business. It was also pointed out that one juror was asleep at one time during the trial.

In court to-day Judge Webb expressed the opinion that "the jury could have acquitted this man on the evidence."

Judgment will be passed by Judge Webb in the Edwards case later this afternoon after the examination of Mr. Charles. It is expected.

Immediately after court convened Saturday morning at 9 o'clock Judge Webb began his charge to the jury. The case was given to the 12 men shortly after 10:30.

The defense was based largely upon the theory that Patrolman McCuiston was murdered by Carl Talley, who was one of the three occupants of the car in which the liquor was found and from which the shot which killed the officer was fired. The defendant testified that he was riding on the rear seat and that the shot was fired from one of the men on the front seat—either Talley or Tommie Robertson, the Rockingham county man who later was killed when he was attempting to elude a posse.

"The car started suddenly backward and almost at the same time the pistol was fired. The sudden movement of the car jerked my head downward and I couldn't see who fired the pistol," Edwards said.

On the other hand, the state attempted to show that the bullet which killed Patrolman McCuiston was fired from a pistol similar to the one taken from the person of Edwards by Sheriff D. B. Stafford. The state also presented testimony from D. B. Oakes to show that Robertson did not have a revolver. The effort of the prosecution in that connection was to connect Edwards with the only pistol in the party.

Ab King, the star witness of the when the latter was arrested.

Patrolman Southard and former Patrolman Rankin testified that they encountered the three men at Guilford Battle ground; that Edwards and Talley fled through the woods and that shots were then fired. The firing, they said, was done by the larger man of the two, a man whose description was largely similar to that of Edwards; that he used a large nickel-plated pistol.

The steel-jacketed bullets which Sheriff Stafford found on the person of Edwards, together with a nickel-plated 38-caliber revolver, were of the same make as the one which ended Mr. McCuiston's life. Sheriff Stafford testified. Sheriff Stafford also said that Edwards, subsequent to his arrest, stated that he and the other two men were armed with weapons of the same type. The state proved by Mr. Oakes that Tommie Robertson did not have a weapon.

Edwards said that he was 21 years of age and had been living in Leaksville since November, 1920. In March, 1921, he said he went to work for Talley, driving a transfer car at Danville. Talley paid Edwards $35 a week for his services. The defendant testified, adding that Robertson was hired by Talley as a chauffeur. Talley secured purchasers for liquor while Edwards remained in the car to deliver the whiskey to the customers, according to the defendant's testimony. Edwards admitted that he was violating the law, but he denied that he was financially interested in the illicit liquor operations.

The defendant testified that on the day before the tragedy he and Robertson and Talley were in Greensboro and that on May 4 they returned to this city to complete the sales.

Arguments for the state were made by Solicitor J. C. Bower, of Lexington, and O. C. Cox, of the Greensboro bar. The case for the defense was argued by Col. G. Sam Bradshaw and H. L. Kooz, of Greensboro, and B. H. Custer, of Danville, Va.

Attorneys for the state asked that a verdict of first degree murder be returned, while legal counsel for the defendant asked that their client be acquitted on the ground that he was guiltless of the charge. Earlier in the trial a motion by the defense that the case be set aside, testified that on the night before the tragedy of May 4 in which Patrolman McCuiston was slain Edwards, Talley and Robertson were northeast of Greensboro. He swore that he accompanied the three men to Greensboro on the afternoon of May 4 and that Edwards and Robertson occupied the front seat of the automobile while he and Talley were on the rear seat. The witness testified that he saw Edwards strap a holster, containing a nickel-plated revolver, around his left shoulder just before leaving the King residence about 7 o'clock on the morning of May 4.

Reagin, banker and plantation owner, who disappeared last night and whose body was found to-day in Yellow river near here. Pressley, who formerly worked for the banker has since been arrested on a charge of stealing from him.

Witnesses for the defense and the state testified that the death-dealing bullet was fired from the front seat of the automobile which Patrolman McCuiston attempted to board.

Dr. W. M. Jones, county health officer, testified that he extricated a steel-jacketed 38-caliber bullet from the body of the dead officer. D. B. Oakes, former policeman, who was with Patrolman McCuiston when the latter was killed, stated on the stand that the bullet which killed his companion was fired from a large pistol similar to the one which Sheriff Stafford found on Edwards dismissed because of insufficient evidence by the state was dismissed by Judge Webb.

Trial of the case was begun Thursday morning. The following men were chosen as jurors in the case:

J. E. Hayworth, High Point township; J. J. Busick, of the Bessemer section; J. H. Everhardt, of High Point; C. L. Watlington, of Washington township; C. W. Holt, Jefferson township; B. D. Gilliam, Washington township; Alexander Phillips, Rock Creek township; Will Gorrell, Jefferson township; Walter Whitesell, Washington township; Louis Smith, Deep River township; J. M. Michael, Washington township; and J. L. Charles, Deep River township. The majority of the jurors are farmers.

Throughout the trial, Edwards' demeanor was notably calm.

RAILWAYS WILL PAY PART OF TAX, CONTESTING OTHER

OVER $54,000,000 VALUATION TO BE DETERMINED LATER BY COURTS.

The Southern railway, the Atlantic Coast Line railroad and the Atlantic and Yadkin railroad will pay taxes on the valuation which they admit as fair, while that portion of the tax assessment made by the state and county authorities against those railroads and which the latter claim is excessive will remain unpaid at least until the litigation started by the road is settled.

Upon that basis an agreement was reached here Thursday afternoon by attorneys representing the railroads and legal counsel for the state. The agreement was approved and signed by Judge Edmund Waddill, Jr., of Richmond, of the circuit court of appeals; Judge James E. Boyd, of this city, of the United States district court of western North Carolina, and Judge H. G. Connor, of Wilson, of the United States district court of the eastern district of North Carolina. As a matter of fact, it was at the suggestion of the three jurists that the agreement was effected.

Under this arrangement the Southern will pay taxes on a valuation of $60,000,000, the Atlantic Coast Line on $34,645,345, and the Atlantic and Yadkin on $1,975,906. The tax assessments on those roads had been fixed by the state as follows: Southern, $96,000,000; Atlantic Coast Line, $51,000,000, and Atlantic and Yadkin, $4,500,000.

Thus, for the time being at least, the state is deprived of tax revenue on a valuation of $54,888,749 from the Southern, the Atlantic Coast Line and the Atlantic and Yadkin.

In these cases the chief bone of contention is the question of revaluation of taxable property in North Carolina and the subsequent changing of many tax assessments. Under the state revaluation act the railroad properties, like other taxable property in North Carolina, were revalued, the process having involved much upward revision. Later many tax assessments were reduced, although those of the railroads were not lowered. The roads are protesting that that condition has resulted in discrimination against them, that the assessments against the carriers are unfair and excessive.

The railroads also are endeavoring to avoid payment of franchise taxes, their representatives declaring that such taxes are unconstitutional. The franchise taxes involved in this litigation are estimated at $150,000.

Attorneys for the state presented a motion before Judges Waddill, Boyd and Connor, asking that the action started by the railroads be dismissed. Judge Bynum argued that the railroad companies had no business in court with such a case and he cited numerous authorities in support of that contention. They had not done equity by failing to pay even the admitted assessment, he declared, adding that the companies were unsupported by law in a court of equity. Judge Bynum discussed the principle of equity jurisprudence.

S. R. Prince, of counsel for the plaintiffs, admitted the principle of equity jurisprudence argued by Judge Bynum. He said, however, that the Southern railway has not paid because it was impossible to do so. The action was started before October 1, the day on which the taxes became due.

Attorney General Manning pointed out that the taxes are greatly needed by the counties and municipalities in North Carolina. When the court declined to dismiss the action of the railroads the attorney general offered a motion asking that the case be continued.

In the order signed by the court it is provided that the plaintiffs "shall have until December 24, 1921, to file any motion or reply pleading and any affidavits in support of bill or motion for interlocutory injunction or in reply and furnish opposing counsel with copies thereof." It is also stipulated in the order that the "defendants shall have until January 10, 1922, to file affidavits in support of their answer or in reply and furnish opposing counsel with copies thereof."

CENTRAL CAROLINA FAIR TO OPEN HERE TOMORROW

MULTITUDE OF NOTABLE ATTRACTIONS ARRANGED FOR THE FOUR DAYS.

Tomorrow morning the Central Carolina fair will be formally opened and four days of pleasurable, profitable activity will follow. It is generally agreed by observers who have been privileged to witness preparations for this great exposition that the 1921 model of the Central Carolina fair will be unanimously considered the greatest of them all.

Secretary John L. King, Treasurer Fred N. Taylor and their assistants have for many weeks given practically every one of their waking moments to the development of plans for the fair. Months ago they resolved that the 1921 fair should be the biggest and best in the history of the Central Carolina Fair association, and it is apparent that they are translating that laudable resolve into terms of happy, tangible accomplishments.

The attractions are so numerous that a whole volume would be required in order to chronicle them fully. They include more free attractions than ever before presented, one of the features being the nightly display of fireworks. In this connection it may be pointed out that fair officials have purchased the fireworks outright and they state unequivocally that the most brilliant displays ever witnessed here are in store for spectators.

From Cincinnati, Ohio, the famous Victor Concert band has been engaged to furnish music and concerts by the Victor organization are anticipated with delight. In addition arrangements have been made for daily concerts during the fair by the splendid 45-piece band of the 5th field artillery regiment now stopping here. Big guns from that regiment will be on exhibition and parades by the visiting artillerymen will be another notable feature.

It is announced that 15 high class attractions will be found on the Midway. They will include a seaplane, merry-go-round, ferris wheel, old plantation minstrels, animal shows and other interesting shows. Among the free attractions will be high diving, an educated horse, trapeze performances and moving statuary. The midway shows are being unloaded and installed at the grounds.

The horse racing will be exceptionally interesting, the entries including many celebrated animals, fair association officials announce. The race track is in splendid condition and a number of very fast races are expected. Of the numerous horses entered, some are those of Greensboro people. For instance, W. R. Galloway's Red Mary and Nellie Brown will be among the racers, as will Thomas Brothers' Hill Girl; J. L. King's Rosalie and Penny Brothers' Roy Dillon. Every race stall is filled.

Friday will be observed as children's day. On that, the final day of the fair, all school children under 16 years of age will be admitted free to the fair grounds, and the teachers will be admitted to the grounds free, provided they secure permits. These may be secured if the teachers make application to Secretary King. No tickets for school children are being issued this year; they are simply invited by the fair association officials to be their guests Friday.

It is evident that the exhibits will be more numerous than ever before and it is generally believed that they will reflect high standards of excellence. In spite of the drought of many weeks the agricultural exhibits will be very comprehensive, it is understood. Numerous exhibits from the schools of the county will be made. They will include a large number of domestic science and domestic art products.

Tomorrow, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday will truly be gala days for the people of Guilford and surrounding counties. Reduced railroad rates are in effect and many visitors are expected on all incoming trains, while of course automobiles and other conveyances will bring a multitude for the greatest Central Carolina fair.

During the year the association has expended approximately $10,000 in improvements. Construction of a large and up-to-date barn for race horses was recently completed. The old quarters for cattle and swine have been torn away and displayed by modern new buildings where 125 head of cattle may be cared for. The capacity of the agricultural buildings was doubled during the summer months, while extensive repairs have been made on the poultry exhibits building. As a result of improvements more than 3,000 persons can now be accommodated in the grandstand overlooking the race track. Near the main entrance to the fair grounds a handsome two-story structure has been built to serve as offices for fair association officials.

There is every indication that the great crowds expected to attend the 22nd annual Central Carolina fair will find an almost limitless amount of amusement and recreation witnessing the stirring events and the spectacular displays of the four-day exposition which opens tomorrow morning.

A TIP!

For the past year the sale of Farms has been slow—mainly due to the low price of farm products.

But a change is here. Tobacco is selling at a much higher price than last year. The price of cotton is advancing steadily. In the South there is being produced this year ten million acres more of Food and Feed Stuffs than last year.

You catch the meaning? There is going to be a big demand for Farms this fall. And Farm Lands are Going Higher!

SPLENDID EXHIBITS ARE MADE AT FAIR HELD AT BESSEMER

The diversity of soils in Guilford county and the success with which a multitude of agricultural products may be raised in Guilford county were happily reflected in the individual farm exhibits at the Bessemer community fair Friday.

From every standpoint the fair was pronounced a marked success. The exhibits were unusually numerous and they maintained very high standards, too. Notwithstanding the drought which prevailed so long during the summer and early fall, the exhibits were much better even than those of last year.

First prize in the individual farm exhibit contest was awarded to Moses Rankin. In the Rankin display were 65 different kinds of canned products. The list of attractions presented by Mr. Rankin included, among other things, about a dozen honey dew melons. He was awarded a prize of $10.50.

Second prize in the individual farm exhibit contest was won by O. M. Whitsett, the prize being $10. That exhibit embraced 36 different varieties of canned products. R. P. Dixon won third prize, $5 in hardware from Hanner Brothers, in that contest, while the consolation prize was awarded to W. C. Fleming.

Under the direction of Miss Agnes Steele the home economics department made a fine showing. The exhibits included splendid specimens of hat making, dressmaking, cakes, pies and breads. The first prize winners in this department were as follows: Hat, Miss Myrtle Dodson (hats made by girls over 16 years of age); for hat made by girl under 16, Miss Maggie Cook; underwear, Miss Wilma Thomas; apron, Miss Edna Dixon; best dress made by girl under 16, Miss Myrtle Dodson; best cake, made by girl under 16, Miss Flora Dawson; best biscuit made by girl under 16, Miss Fannie Boone, the prize being a sack of flour by Medlin and Hutchins; best biscuit maker over 16, Miss Ruth Busick; best canned peaches, Miss Bessie Boone, the best jelly maker, Miss Fannie Boone. Miss Ruth Causey won the second prize in the hatmaking contest among girls over 16, while a gingham dress made by Virginia Shepherd, under 10 years of age, was a very attractive exhibit.

Excellent products were displayed in the pantry and supplies department. Mrs. S. A. Denny was adjudged the best pie maker and Mrs. W. T. Perome attained first honors in cake baking. The best school lunch was prepared by Mrs. W. E. Younts, while the best honey and the best vinegar were presented by Mrs. R. P. Boone. The best butter was prepared by Mrs. Jasper Peterson, and the best bread by Mrs. W. E. Younts. Mrs. Dixon showed the best country meat and best custard maker was Mrs. B. T. Whitsett.

Prize winners in the needlework department included the following: Centerpiece, Miss Elsie Ward; hat,

Mrs. L. W. Smith; chocolate dinner set, Mrs. I. B. Blaylock; baby cap, Mrs. Robert Young, hand made yoke, Mrs. Jasper Peterson, tatted centerpiece, Miss Annie Thomas, crocheted centerpiece, Mrs. I. The dietetics department had an unusually interesting exhibit, a demonstration in coffee making being a feature. The canned goods exhibit was exceptionally attractive and covered a wide range of activity. The school exhibit, covering work of the fifth and sixth grades, attracted much favorable attention. Many ingenious devices were exhibited by the boys, the exhibits including rabbit traps, bird cages and "flying machines." A plane made by Robert Browning, of the fifth grade, was one of the wonders.

Some fine stock was shown in the livestock exhibits which included part of the Guernsey herd of W. C. Fleming. Mr. Fleming's bull, Border Marshall, of Waddington; a three-years-old animal, was a prize winner, while one of his cows, Hebe of Hylsted, took first prize. Prizes were won by John A. Young's Herefords, and S. C. Pike's Holstein heifer, was a prize winner. R. P. Dixon won first prize for his Plymouth Rock chickens, while W. C. Fleming and Mrs. Rankin were winners with their White Leghorns and Jasper Peterson took first honors in the Rhode Island Red class. The ponies of John A. Young were the center of much attention.

In the auditorium of the school on Thursday night Charles H. Ireland, of Greensboro, addressed an immense audience at the opening of the Bessemer community fair. Mr. Ireland recently returned from a trip to the Ecumenical conference in London and he also visited a number of other European countries. He gave a number of exceedingly interesting observations concerning the trip. Community singing was a most enjoyable feature Thursday night, too. Violin selections by C. J. Brockmann were a feature. On Friday morning J. M. Sharp, of Reidsville, delivered a very interesting address on "The Signs of the Times."

LOW COTTON YIELD

Washington, Oct. 7.—Further decline in the condition of cotton during September resulted in a reduction of 500,000 bales in the forecast of production issued to-day by the department of agriculture which places the total crop at 6,537,000 equivalent 500-pound bales. The condition of the crop was reported as being 42.2.

The growing season this year has been the most disastrous on record, the crop showing a loss of 1,666,000 bales in prospective production during the months of August of September. The end of August found the crop in the worst condition ever recorded while the end of September as disclosed in to-day's report shows unfavorable weather during the month rendered the condition, worse than at the end of August. Record extreme of heat and dryness have forced unprecedented maturity of the crop and deficiency of fertilizer has shortened the fiber and lessened the yield.

To-day's condition report shows the crop to be 12.2 points below the worst previous record. Over most of the belt there was but little middle crop and practically no top crop.

The swarming plague of boll weevil has advanced almost to the limits of the belt, being through the lower third of North Carolina in eleven counties of Tennessee and over most of Arkansas and Oklahoma. Practically everywhere the weevil is in such numbers and doing such damage as has not been experienced since the period of its initial invasion.

The forecast of production, in equivalent 500-pound bales, and the condition of the crop on September 25, in percentage of normal, by states follows:

Virginia—Forecast, 10,000 and condition 53.
North Carolina—489,000 and 54.
South Carolina—644,000 and 40.
Georgia—722,000 and 33.
Florida—16,000 and 50.
Alabama—460,000 and 46.
Mississippi—646,000 and 43.
Louisiana—245,000 and 41.
Texas—1,863,000 and 38.
Arkansas—677,000 and 53.
Tennessee—217,000 and 62.
Missouri—48,000 and 70.
Oklahoma—405,000 and 48.

California—68,000 and 73.
Arizona—45,000 and 81.
All other states—7,000 and 83.

GINNERS' REPORT SHOWS NEAR THREE MILLION.

To September 25 last year ginners were 2,249,606 bales, including 75,026 round bales, 3,365 bales of American-Egyptian and 37 bales of Sea Island.

PLEASANT GARDEN COMMUNITY FAIR NOTABLE SUCCESS

The ingenuity and energy of the people of the Pleasant Garden section were concretely evidenced in the multitude of high class exhibits at the Pleasant Garden community fair on Saturday. The event afforded an inspiring revelation of the enterprising efforts of the people along worth while lines. Naturally the exhibits were the center of much attention and admiring comment was heard on all sides.

On Friday night the fair was opened with a community song led by Prof. Wade R. Brown, of the North Carolina College for Women. On Saturday morning a most interesting address was delivered by Harold D. Meyer, of the department of public welfare of the University of North Carolina.

Keen competition was found in the agricultural exhibits and in a number of other departments. The first prize of $20 for the largest and most varied exhibit of farm products was won by W. Charles Kirkman, who displayed not less than 130 different articles produced on his farm. In that contest the second prize was awarded to W. B. Hardin, the prize being $15. Mr. Hardin also had an attractive needlework display. The third prize, $10 was won by C. R. Fields, while John B. Hockett secured the fourth prize, $5, for his agricultural exhibit.

In individual competition prize winners were as follows: Corn, C. H. Kirkman; wheat, J. P. Weatherly; rye, C. T. Moser; oats, Robert Kirkman; butterbeans, Mrs. S. W. Vickery; cowpeas, W. B. First prize winners in the canned goods department were as follows: Cucumber pickles, Miss Kannie Gamble; blackberries, Mrs. C. R. Fields; canned apples, Miss Kelia Kirkman; pimento peppers, corn, lima beans, fig preserves, pear preserves and soup mixtures, white peaches, string beans, blackberries, peach preserves, cherry preserves, English peas, chili sauce and tomato pickles, Miss Lelia Kirkman; grape preserves, apple sauce, watermelon rind pickles, ginger pears and grape jelly, Mrs. C. Coble; best canned cherries and damson preserves, Miss Annie Hardin; pear marmalade, Mrs. R. H. Smith; pear pickles and peach pickles, Miss Hattie Smith; apple jelly, Mrs. Bryson Hockett, who also received the special prize offered by the Pleasant Garden high school for economics department; best Dixie relish, Mrs. C. F. Neelley; best quince jelly, Mrs. Cecil Moser.

The Woman's club prize for the best exhibit of 16 jars was awarded to Mrs. W. B. Hardin, second prize in that contest going to Miss Lelia Kirkman.

In the sewing department, where the exhibits were numerous and of splendid character, the prize winners were as follows: Crochet display, Miss Lelia Kirkman; embroidered centerpiece, Miss Lelia Trogdon; best display of embroidery, Miss Trixie Neelley; tatted centerpiece, Mrs. W. B. Hunt; child's dress, Mrs. C. H. Kirkman; best chocheted centerpiece, Mrs. Ed Tucker; baby cap, Mrs. Lucile Bagley; crocheted baby cap, Mrs. E. B. Hockett; table runner, Mrs. C. R. Under the efficient direction of Miss Catherine Powell the domestic science department staged a splendid exhibit typifying balanced ration principles, special dietetics, etc.

In domestic art activities Miss Mabel Tucker attained first honors with the best homemade hat and Miss Pauline Quate with the best underwear. A notable exhibit was a bunch of "roses" with real rose stems but with flowers made of daisies. This artifice was exceedingly difficult to detect. Onions also were ingeniously employed as "water lilies."

Unusually attractive were the exhibits in the pantry supplies department under the direction of Mrs. B. L. Osborne. The prize winners were as follows: Loaf bread, Miss Lelia Kirkman; steamed brown bread, graham bread and beaten biscuits, Mrs. C. H. Tucker; first cockerel, Leroy Grady; barred rock cockerel, Cecil Moser; best pen of leghorns, James Hockett, who also exhibited the best cock and the best hen in the leghorn class; best cock of the egg-laying type, J. P. Gray; first pullet of the egg-laying type, J. W. Smith; best pen of general utility chickens, Clay Ross; best cock of general utility type, Charles Kirkman.

An electric light fixture made from a shell fired from the U. S. S. Leonidas in signaling the signing of the armistice was made and exhibited by Hal Quate, who served in the navy in the world war. A cedar chest made by John B. Hockett attracted much favorable attention. Another notable attraction was a broom made from cane grown by J. F. Deaton. The handle was made by the Pleasant Garden company and the Buffalo Broom works, of Pleasant Garden, made the broom.

The officers of the Pleasant Garden community fair are T. O. Wright president; Miss Lelia Kirkman, vice president, and Lee Kennett, secretary-treasurer. A. L. Teachley, director of the farm life department of the Pleasant Garden high school, rendered valuable assistance in making the fair a marked success.

TOBACCO SALES

On Friday the buyers at the Greensboro tobacco market stepped on the gas, if a slang expression may be permitted, and pushed the average 'way up. It was the new high record of the season, the grand average price for the day at the two local warehouses being more than 27 cents.

At the Planters' warehouse the average was 28.1 cents, while at the Guilford the average was 26.5 cents per pound. The tobacco sold here Friday aggregated 15,304 pounds, about evenly divided between the two houses. The demand for good tobacco was noticeably strong, numerous bids being made at 40, 50 and 60 cents and in some cases higher figures prevailed. Doc King received the highest price of the day—70 cents. Other excellent prices obtained were as follows: O. G. Morton, 36, 60 and 65 cents; Homer Smith, 60, and J. M. Phillips, 54, 56 and 61 cents a pounds.

On Thursday 16,556 pounds of tobacco were sold on the Greensboro market at an average price of more than 24 cents. The Guilford handled 9,402 pounds and the Planters' 7,154. The high price of the day, 67 cents, was paid to R. F. Stone, at the Guilford. At the Planters' R. H. Shore obtained 64 cents a pound for one pile and 56 cents a pound for another. R. A. Truitt received 45 and 60, and Allen Smith got 60 cents a pound. D. M. Staley, of Jamestown, sold 281 pounds for $90, an average of $32.02 per hundred pounds.

MUST CONTINUE TO WORK.

The rejuvenation of the Greensboro tobacco market affords impressive evidence of the fact that when the people of the community resolve to accomplish any reasonable thing, nothing of a reasonable character can prevent them from realizing that ambition. The work done by representatives of the Chamber of Commerce, the Merchants' Association and other citizens in recent months in behalf of the Greensboro market is one of the brightest chapters in community co-operation ever written. For some years, it was generally conceded, the tobacco market here had not been successful. That was true because public sentiment had not been fully aroused as to the tremendous importance of such a project. But last spring groups of citizens began to agitate the matter. The movement gained impetus as more and more people sensed the tremendous importance of the thing. There were many handicaps to overcome, but through concerted effort they were overcome. To-day Greensboro has a tobacco market of which the whole community may well be proud. The opening was an unqualified success and the sales continue to be attended by profitable results.

However, in order that these gratifying conditions may continue it is necessary that the people continue to evidence active interest in the proposition. Lethargy at this point might prove fatal. It is distinctly the duty of business and professional men of the community to continue to work zealously for the success of the Greensboro tobacco market. And the passing of the years should witness constant expansion of the magnitude of operations. The first success should prove merely the forerunner of much greater accomplishments. It is, of course, absolutely essential that the farmers continue to obtain excellent prices. If the market continues to appeal to their business sense, there need be no worry concerning sentimental considerations.

DISCRIMINATION EXPOSED.

The assault of Senator Simmons upon the Republican tax proposals may not deter the senate majority from continuing to support such iniquitous schemes, but it will at least serve to acquaint the people of the country with the character of those proposals. Certainly the senior senator from North Carolina has performed a public favor in exposing the gross inequalities and discriminations contained in the tax program offered by Senator Smoot.

As Senator Simmons succinctly pointed out, the bill offered by the Republicans represents a shifting of taxes from the wealthy classes to persons of comparatively small incomes. He declared that "Thirteen thousand millionaires, many of them made during the war, who have incomes in excess of $60,000 annually, will be saved 33 cents on every dollar of taxes they now pay. This is due to the fact that the Republican party by this bill proposes to reduce the maximum rate from 65 per cent to 32 per cent. The great body of about 6,000,000 income taxpayers will not receive any reduction in the income taxes." In other words, the plan will "lift more than half a billion annually from the shoulders of corporations and millionaires and shift them to the backs of less fortunate taxpayers."

Of the particularly vicious phases of the proposed Republican tax legislation the repeal of excess profits taxes may be mentioned as a conspicuous example. The Republicans have been prating of economy and of lessening the tax burdens, but there is no evidence to support such statements. It must be perfectly obvious that the Republican party is running true to form, continuing to accord special privileges to the big interests at the expense of people of limited means.

The tax proposals of Senator Simmons would do much to put the country on a healthy business basis once more. However, it appears improbable that the Republicans will desert their real masters, the representatives of great wealth.

FIGHTING THE BOLL WEEVIL.

The eyes of the world are centered to a large extent upon the cotton-growing south where concerted effort is being made to control the boll weevil. It is probably the most difficult problem of agriculture in the southern states and its solution is by no means in sight if the testimony of men who have devoted much time and thought to the question is to be credited.

One of the best informed cotton planters in the south, former Governor Manning, of South Carolina, is quoted in the New York Times as declaring that, "As yet no means have been discovered to check or to prevent the advance of the weevil, which, like all other living things, increases in number with time, and when the weevil arrives it must be regarded as a permanent factor in our agriculture, to be dealt with accordingly."

On the other hand, some observers are of the opinion that the calcium arsenate poison treatment evolved by the federal agricultural department will yet prove efficacious in dealing with the boll weevil situation. Alfred H. Stone, who has extensive cotton plantations in Mississippi, believes that "poison is certainly one of the answers to the problem." It is generally agreed that calcium arsenate will kill the weevil, but Mr. Stone contends that "up to the present time the proposition has not been developed to a point where its general use is either profitable or desirable. For one thing, a way must be found to apply the dust in the daytime, and when applied it should be of such composition that it will stick to the plants and not have to be reapplied after every rain."

It is reasonably certain that weevil infestation will result in material reduction of cotton acreage. A number of observers believe that acreage curtailment will prove one of the most effective measures of combatting the pest. The smaller the acreage, according to this theory, the better will the farmers be able to take care of their crop and the smaller will be the liability of destruction by weevil.

Surely there is foundation for the belief that experts will develop a plan whereby the calcium arsenate treatment may be administered on a profitable scale. Admittedly it is a situation which calls for great resourcefulness, but we are strongly inclined to the opinion that substantial improvements in the poison process will be worked out.

In the meantime it is highly probable that for several years at least cotton production in the south will be much below normal. By the same reasoning it is likely that at least fairly high prices will prevail in the cotton market.

High Priced Vinegar.

Lumberton, Oct. 8.—Selling plain vinegar for "bottled in bond" whiskey got a young white man who gave his name as C. A. Oates in the toils. His bond was fixed at $200. One witness testified that he paid Oates $21 for three quarts of the vinegar after Oates had represented it to be "bottled in bond" whiskey.

Today's was the second victory of the series for the National leaguers, who won on Friday by the score of 13 to 5. On that day Manager Huggins, of the American league club, used a number of pitchers—Rogers, Shawkey, Quinn and Collins—while Schang and Devorner did the receiving. Toney and Barnes twirled for the Giants and Snyder was the backstop. The Yankees won the first game of the series Monday, 3 to 0, and they also were victors in Thursday's contest by the same score. On Thursday the batteries were as follows: Yankees, Hoyt and Schang; Giants, Nehf and Smith. The series will be won by the team securing five victories.

FREE—A book, "Scientific Studies of Kitchen Work," giving the story of the world's record time and step savings that the Napanee brings to women. These tests were made under Mr. Harrington Emerson's direction. Mr. Emerson is a member of the Committee on Elimination of Waste in Industry, headed by Mr. Herbert Hoover. Ask us for this important book.

A Statement by Mr. Harrington Emerson

It is clear from our scientific studies that the striking savings of the Napanee Dutch Kitchenet are along three distinct lines:

- 1—Saving of effort, fatigue, and time.
- 2—Saving of time.
- 3—Standardization of work.

The saving of energy, shown by the large reduction in the number of steps, is very striking. By accurate quantitative measurement, three-quarters of this physical exertion is saved. It is reduced to one-quarter.

Harrington Emerson

Noting distance walked as shown by pedometer after getting a meal

Saving 509 Steps Getting Lunch is a Part of the National Demonstration of the Napanee Dutch Kitchenet

Will you save 1,592 wearisome steps every day in getting three meals? Will you end the terrible strain of kitchen work on your health and energy?

You can do it easily. This is the most important announcement ever made to housewives. It is a part of a national demonstration now going on everywhere.

Thousands were spent on scientific time and motion studies of the preparation of meals in an average kitchen. These experiments were made under direction of Mr. Harrington Emerson, foremost efficiency engineer, and two famous Domestic Scientists.

Each meal was prepared first without a Napanee Dutch Kitchenet, then with the use of a Napanee. Stop watches recorded the time of each individual operation in the preparation of each meal. Pedometers registered every step taken.

By these scientific studies we learned the exacting effort that kitchen work demands. We learned how to prevent it. We made astounding discoveries.

521 steps instead of 2,113

We found it took 2,113 steps to get three simple meals without a Napanee. It took the same operators only 521 steps to get the same meals in the same kitchen with a Napanee.

Thus 1,592 wearisome steps were saved. That number out of 2,113! It was amazing. We could hardly believe it.

But Mr. Emerson repeated each individual operation in getting each meal with a different operator to check the accuracy of his results. The proof couldn't be doubted.

Such astounding savings are due to the scientific design of the Napanee and its new and better conveniences. Their value is beyond measure to the hosts of women who end each day distressed by fatigue.

Come today and see the Napanee's scientific superiorities. Learn all the relief the Napanee's amazing value can give you, as women all over America are learning it.

DO YOU wish to know how thousands and thousands of women have gone thru motherhood without knowing some of the pains and discomforts incident to childbirth? Listen to this:

Motherhood creates almost a new state of being for a woman.

As a result, new nerves, those heretofore restful and quiescent, spring into activity; they cry out, they tingle, they burn in their unrest.

The network of nerves across the abdomen, the loins, the back and other parts now become super-sensitive. All these nerves are being called on to perform unusual duties.

These nerves must be pacified and comforted; must be put in condition for the crisis that is pending.

If these nerves are not soothed and quieted, they may set up aggravated nerve tension, increasing in severity from month to month, sometimes even culminating in a nervous paralysis of the back and limbs. This leaves the mother-to-be in a condition where she is unable, fully, to meet the test when the climax of maternity arrives.

WARNING: Avoid using plain oils, greases and substitutes—they act only on the skin and may cause harm without doing good.

HEADS OF COLLEGES ORGANIZE HERE AND PROJECT BIG PLANS

After discussion of a number of important problems pertaining to higher education a permanent organization denominated the North Carolina College conference was formed at the O. Henry hotel Saturday by the presidents of most of the colleges in this state. One member from each college faculty in addition to the president will be eligible for membership in the organization, it was agreed.

President Raymond Binford, of Guilford College, is head of the new organization, while Prof. N. W. Walker, acting dean of the school of education of the University of North Carolina, will serve as secretary. President Binford, Secretary Walker and A. T. Allen, of the state board of examiners and institute conductors, constitute the executive committee of the organization, which will meet semi-annually.

The conference here was called by President Binford in order that the college executives might profitably discuss a number of matters of mutual interest. The educators attending were visibly pleased with the results obtained and enthusiastic concerning the possibilities of the enterprise. A number of representatives of the state department of education, including Dr. E. C. Brooks, state superintendent of public instruction, were present in addition to the college presidents. Dr. George A. Zook, of the United States bureau of education, also took part in the sessions.

Argument to the effect that if the state's policy of giving certain scholarships to state institutions is to be continued it should be extended so that the church institutions would receive scholarships from the state was led by President W. J. Martin, of Davidson college, and Dr. R. T. Vann, educational secretary of the Baptist state convention. The opposing view was voiced by President H. W. Chase, of the University of North Carolina; President Julius I. Foust, of the North Carolina College for Women, and President W. C. Riddick, of the State A. & E. college. Dr. Chase declared that the proposal would mean "subsidizing the denominational colleges," where the state provided scholarships it would probably wish to exercise some supervision of the money. On the other hand, Dr. Vann said, "It is subsidizing the students, not the institutions."

President W. P. Few, of Trinity College, did not think that free tuition should be given to students in state institutions who promise to teach two years in public schools, a plan now in effect. At the same time a special committee submitted the recommendation that free tuition should not be provided for certain agricultural students at the A. & E. college. President Martin wanted to know "Why should farmers have free tuition and not blacksmiths?"

Standardization of the colleges was one of the cardinal themes discussed, while other measures receiving much attention were teacher training, co-operative plans for spreading the doctrine of higher education, development of more duly accredited high schools and more extensive inspective work.

PETITION FILED HERE BY MRS. CARL TALLEY.

On Saturday Mrs. Ethel K. Talley, wife of Carl Talley, filed, through her attorneys, A. W. Dunn, of Rockingham county, and Brooks, Hines and Smith, of Greensboro, a supplemental petition in Guilford Superior court asking that the court dissolve attachment proceedings instituted some time ago against her husband's property by S. S. Mitchell, administrator of W. T. McCuiston, the Greensboro patrolman who was killed in this city on May 4 when he attempted to board a car containing liquor. Talley is wanted here to answer to charges in connection with the murder of Mr. McCuiston. The question raised by Mrs. Talley will probably be argued here in Superior court before Judge James L. Webb some time this week.

AT MONTICELLO ATTRACTS FAVORABLE ATTENTION OF MANY

Monticello on Thursday a community fair embracing exhibits from the northern section of Guilford county was staged, attracting favorable attention of a multitude of people from various sections of Guilford.

It was generally agreed that the fair reflected many profitable and commendable activities. Although the exhibits were not as numerous as might have been anticipated, their character was considered praiseworthy.

Departments which received an exceptionally high measure of commendation were those of canning, sewing and needlework, while there also were very splendid agricultural exhibits, including poultry and livestock exhibits not very comprehensive, but confidently expected that the fair in that sphere will be an unqualified success in other years.

Certainly the Monticello fair is regarded a permanent institution, one which will annually attract the attention of flatter nature. One of the most brilliant features of the fair was the exhibit of fifth and sixth grade school children who were awarded the first prize from the board of education.

The various periods of American history were skillfully presented in an exhibit, which was prepared under the direction of Mrs. W. B. Broadhurst, of Greensboro, and the interesting of community operation. Community isolation is an impossibility to-day. The speaker advocated co-operative marketing and there was evidence that touched a responsive chord along the line. Even self-interest dictated whole-hearted co-operation between all the people of a community and it also is essential that various communities co-operate with each other. It is a big world, but too large for ambitious development of co-operative ideals.

Wade R. Brown, of the North Carolina College for Women, directed a community sing, which proved most enjoyable event. "The District School," an amateur play, was a delightful number on Wednesday night. A box supper followed.

Officers of the Monticello fair are W. Lambeth, president; Mrs. T. Smith, vice president, and David Atkins, secretary-treasurer. Miss M. Butler, of Greensboro; Miss M. Wells Moore and Ned Walker, county home demonstrator, respectively, in Rockingham county, assisted in judging the exhibits.

First prize in the better babies contest was awarded to Edith Troxer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Walker while the second prize in that contest was won by Barbara Hopkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Hopkins. Many other prizes were awarded in a number of contests.

RED CROSS ACTIVITY OF MONTH REPORTED.

Home service activities of the Guilford Red Cross in Guilford county during the month of September were numerous, covering a wide range, as the report of Miss M. J. Peele, secretary of the home service department, shows.

Service was rendered to 180 soldiers and soldiers' families. Of that number there were 45 new cases and 135 old cases. Twenty visits were made and there were 258 interviews, while 197 letters were written and 116 received; 21 new claims for compensation were filed; ten applications for unpaid allotments were made; there were five applications for back pay and nine vocational training; two claims for insurance were filed; there were requests for examinations with a view to obtaining medical attention; one application for discharge certificate was filed; two applicants were assisted in finding work; two applications for widow's compensation were applied for bonus; loans and interest amounted to $3,931, while the total amount of $66.80 were rendered other helpful services.

How To Get Relief From Rheumatism

Scientists Agree That the Cause Is Due to Waste Products In the Blood.

The blood is the means by which all tissues, muscles, ligaments and flesh of the body are directly or indirectly nourished. It is also thru the blood stream that worn-out tissues and waste products are cast out of the system.

When waste products accumulate, they are a menace to life. They cause a lowered vitality, many skin disorders and rheumatism. Genuine relief from the agonies of rheumatism can be had only by correcting the basic trouble—waste products.

Thousands and thousands of men and women during the past 50 years have cleared their blood of waste products with S. S. S. It is the ideal remedy for rheumatism, because it removes the poisonous waste matter which is causing the trouble. There are no bad after effects and the result is wonderful. Begin taking S. S. S. today and write for 56 page illustrated booklet, "Facts About the Blood"—free.

Personal medical advice, without charge, may also be had by sending a complete description of your case. Address Chief Medical Director, Swift Specific Co., 732 S. S. S. Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga. All good drug stores sell S. S. S.

Why Suffer?

Cardui "Did Wonders for Me," Declares This Lady.

"I suffered for a long time with womanly weakness," says Mrs. J. R. Simpson, of 57 Spruce St., Asheville, N. C. "I finally got to the place where it was an effort for me to go. I would have bearing-down pains in my side and back — especially severe across my back, and down in my side there was a great deal of soreness. I was nervous and easily upset."

CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

"I heard of Cardui and decided to use it," continues Mrs. Simpson. "I saw shortly it was benefiting me, so I kept it up and it did wonders for me. And since then I have been glad to praise Cardui. It is the best woman's tonic made." Weak women need a tonic. Thousands and thousands, like Mrs. Simpson, have found Cardui of benefit to them. Try Cardui for your trouble.

COMMUNITY FAIR AT WHITSETT IS MARKED SUCCESS

Whitsett, Oct. 6.—The Whitsett Community fair held yesterday more than met the highest expectations of its friends. Fifteen hundred people spent every hour of the perfect day in enjoyment of its various features. All departments were crowded with exhibits, the number of entries exceeding seven hundred. Four large rooms on the first floor, and the entire large auditorium on the second floor of the new school building were filled with the various lines of displays. Forty coops of poultry just north of the building, and dozens of pens of live stock just south completed the splendid display of the day. From the time of the opening concert by the Gibsonville cornet band at 10 A. M. there was a continuous round of activities every minute until sunset.

Among outside features to entertain the crowd were parade of cars bringing largest number to fair; beauty contest; running and three legged races; May pole dances; athletic features of various kinds; baseball at 4 P. M. The band played throughout the day; F. M. Hood, of Greensboro, with a part of his orchestra gave a fine concert in the auditorium; the Ellis Piano Company of Burlington, furnished music on first floor; members of Woman's club served refreshments all day from their handsome new room; and the folks from all the surrounding sections listened, looked, ate and were happy. Games were directed on the grounds for the children; the livestock parade was a new feature that drew everybody's attention, and showed off the exhibits as has never heretofore been done.

And the finest thing of the day was the crowd. Greensboro had a fine delegation present, among them C. W. Roberts, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce; A. B. High, president of the Chamber of Commerce; E. B. Jeffress, business manager of the Daily News; Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Garrett, of the county farm demonstration department; Mrs. Oia S. Wells, county home demonstration agent; Mrs. Dorothy Hayden, public health nurse; Thomas R. Foust, county superintendent of schools, and scores of others; Gibsonville sent her leading citizens, L. T. Barber, county commissioner; W. B. Miller, of the Gibsonville Post; J. W. Burke, of Burke's department store; L. A. Wharton, of Gibsonville Drug company; H. L. Huffines, Huffines department store; W. L. Huff, Huff's music store; Prof. J. H. Joyner, superintendent Gibsonville schools, with several of his teachers; and scores of others with their friends. From Elon College came Dr. Thos. C. Amick, of the faculty, with Mrs. Strum, dean of women, with a dozen cars filled with other visitors; Burlington and Graham were in evidence in the person of dozens of representative citizens; and best of all, because it was "their fair" were the people, old and young, from all over the four townships—Rock Creek, Washington, Jefferson and Greene. Pleasant Garden and Bessemer had several leading citizens as interested on-lookers in view of their coming fairs this week.

Too much praise cannot be given the directors of the various departments who have labored so faithfully to make the occasion a notable one from every standpoint, both in quality and quantity. The fair was fortunate in its choice of a president. H. B. Grimsley, of the Beaumont farm of Rock Creek township, a graduate of the University of North Carolina and a leading farmer and stock raiser; and its secretary, R. K. Davenport, of the Castle Rock farm, of the same township, who counts neither labor or cost to make a success of all he undertakes.

The recent completion of the new school building and its use for the fair added zest to every effort, for it afforded an unusually fine place for handsome displays of all lines. The building came in for compliments from every side, convenience and splendid appearance being combined in its to an unusual degree; wide halls; plenty of light; easy stairways, and its substantial appearance of brick and concrete construction pleased all.

The Woman's club and the domestic science department handled the very important part of feeding the crowd to entire satisfaction, and much praise is due Misses Minnie and Georgia Clapp, and their assistants, Mrs. G. W. Davenport, Mrs. A. Phillippe, Miss Ava Clapp, and others who handled this difficult matter so well.

The Whitsett Community fair of 1921 has set a high standard with its influence for community uplift and betterment; better home economics; proper conservation of home supplies, etc., and its influence must certainly be marked upon all who came within range of its work this year. It is showing to a marked degree the result of the agencies at work for home and community development, and is a fine object lesson in the possibilities when all lend a hand towards the general good; and seek to secure fine results by a long pull, a strong pull, and a pull all together. It is constructive citizenship of the highest type in actual, visible operation before one's very eyes; working out the problems of the home, the school, the farm with the joy and happiness that come from a proper, needful task well done.

PLEASED WITH ROAD

PEOPLE OF McCONNELL ROAD SECTION ENJOY BARBECUE AT KELWOOD.

Citizens of the McConnell road section of Guilford county, together with the board of county commissioners, members of the county highway commission and the county highway engineer, on Friday night enjoyed a barbecue supper at Kelwood, the country home of Jos. J. Stone. Much gratification was expressed because of the fact that plans are being perfected for an improved highway for that section. The county authorities are planning to route the McConnell road into Greensboro via Gorrell street, affording a much shorter and better approach.

It was suggested that the county continue the road east from Stewart's mill to the intersection of the Whitsett-Kimesville road and possibly farther toward the Alamance county line. The suggestion was received with favor and it was agreed that the county engineer will inspect the road with a view to working out plans along that line.

Judging from present-day dancing, familiarity doesn't breed as much contempt as it ought to.—Life, New York.

CAROLINA WEDDINGS

OUT IN THE FIELDS.

The little cares that fretted me,
I lost them yesterday
Among the fields above the seas,
Among the winds at play;
Among the lowing of the herds,
The rustling of the trees,
Among the singing of the birds,
The humming of the bees.

The foolish fears of what might happen—
I cast them all away
Among the clover-scented grass,
Among the new-mown hay;
Among the husking of the corn,
Where drowsy poppies nod,
Where life thoughts die and good are born.

Out in the fields with God.
—Elizabeth Barrett Browning.

SUPERIOR COURT

On Saturday Judge Webb in Guilford Superior court sentenced Raymond Payne, of Colfax, to serve 18 months on the county roads. The young fellow had been convicted a few days previous on the charge of an assault with a deadly weapon on Luther Stack, a Colfax merchant. Mr. Stack was shot several weeks ago while en route from his store to his home. Physicians fear that he may never fully recover.

In the case against Charlie Rich, who was convicted of an assault with a deadly weapon on T. R. Hardin a fine of $100 was imposed; the defendant also was ordered to pay the cost and he was placed under a $200 peace bond. The cost was more than $100.

The cases against Dr. J. W. Taylor were ordered continued until the December term of court.

A sentence of six months in the county jail was prescribed Saturday as punishment for J. T. Vickers who several days previously had been found guilty of having whiskey in his possession for the purpose of sale. It was stipulated that the sentence would become effective 10 days from last Saturday if Vickers were found in Guilford county then. Dewey Smith was ordered to serve four months on the road for distilling.

Prayer for judgment was continued until the December term in the case against John Ward, who was convicted of manufacturing whiskey. Appearance bond was fixed at $500.

At the request of Solicitor Bower, Oscar Brame, found guilty at the June term of court for retelling whiskey and who had since been at liberty on a suspended sentence, begins immediately to serve his sentence.

Prayer for judgment was continued until the December term as to Sam Bristol, who was convicted of retelling, and $200 was named as the appearance bond.

Appearance bond of $200 was furnished by Ernest Price, convicted of manufacturing whiskey, prayer for judgment being continued until the December term.

Noble Reid, charged with failure to pay his board bill, was acquitted.

A sentence of four months on the roads was imposed against Joe McLean for failure to support his family.

First Snowfall.

Asheville, Oct. 8.—The first snow of the winter in the Southern Appalachians fell this morning on Mamey mountain on the Madison county line. The ground was blanketed. From Hickory come reports of four inches of snow which fell in the mountains around Blowing Rock last night.

ALLEGED FORGER CAUGHT

AFTER SHARP TUSSE PATROLMAN CURRENT CAPTURES WALTER MURRAY.

After a sharp tussle Patrolman John Current, of the Greensboro force, on Saturday afternoon arrested a negro named Walter Murray and placed him in the city prison, where he is being held upon a charging of forging checks.

It was reported that the negro had telephoned the Southside Hardware company and asked that a keg of nails, together with change for $20, be sent to him in the city. The nails were delivered, a check was given, supposedly in payment therefor, and the negro secured his change. Subsequently the negro is alleged to have telephoned an order to a South Elm street drug store for a toilet article, also requesting that change for $20 be sent out.

Patrolman Current learned that the address to which the package was ordered sent was 210 East Washington street—a number which does not exist. When the delivery boy appeared with the package the officer appeared too. The package was delivered, the patrolman states, and the negro gave the boy a check. Then the arrest followed—after a spirited contest in which two of Patrolman Current's fingers were badly bruised. At one time it appeared that the negro might secure the officer's revolver, but as a result of the timely appearance of Patrolman Current's brother on the scene Murray was taken in custody.

In possession of the negro were found a number of checks alleged to have been forged. Some of them were signed "H. E. Cartland" and others "D. C. Suggs."

The defendant will be given a hearing in Municipal court.

MASTER PRINTERS' MEET

WILL BE HELD HERE NEXT JANUARY. COMMITTEE DECIDES.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the North Carolina Master Printers' Association at the O. Henry hotel Thursday night it was agreed that the next annual convention of the association would be held in Greensboro in January, 1922. The exact dates will be determined later. It will be a two-day convention. The invitation to the association to meet in Greensboro was extended by Jos. J. Stone, of this city, a former member of the executive committee.

A. M. Gray, of Charlotte, president of the state association, presided at the committee meeting. The other members of the committee are J. B. Dawson, New Bern; Fred E. Little, Charlotte; J. L. Horne, Jr., Rocky Mount; B. George Barber, Asheville; Robert J. Wilson, Raleigh; Charles G. Harrison, Greensboro; John D. Gold, Wilson, and E. F. Barber, Winston-Salem.

Break Fishing Records.

Elizabeth City, Oct. 7.—Joe Melton and Jeff Doughtry, of Philadelphia, with A. B. Houtz and O. F. Gilbert, of Elizabeth City, are back from a fishing trip to Oregon inlet with Captain Miller on the Lotus, and report the biggest catch of the season. They simply broke all records on this trip. One night they fished until half past one o'clock, unable to stop when it was so easy, for they were catching fish as fast as they could pull 'em in—not little fish, but seven and a half pound trout, and the like. They totaled 1,000 pounds of trout and bluefish, being away three days, but fishing only two.

Of course, the tightwads are despicable; but if it wasn't for them, there would be the good fellows borrowing money?—Baltimore Sun.

EXCHANGE OF JUDGES

JUDGE SHAW AND JUDGE WEBB WILL CHANGE BENCHES FOR TWO WEEKS.

An exchange of courts between Judge James L. Webb, of Shelby, and Judge T. J. Shaw, of Greensboro, for a period of two weeks, beginning October 17, has been agreed upon.

To-day a two-weeks term of Guilford Superior court for the disposition of civil actions convened in Guilford. Judge Webb will preside over this week's session. He will then go to Rutherford county to preside over a two-week term of court which ordinarily would be held by Judge Shaw. Judge Shaw will preside over next week's sessions here. Judge Webb will preside over the first week of the two-week term of court which begins in Stokes county October 31 and Judge Webb will hold that court during the following week. The change is made in order that the two jurists may be nearer their homes.

FRANK SHAW CAPTAIN OF FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Frank Shaw, who for 15 years has been a member of the Greensboro fire department, on Friday was appointed captain of the department. The appointment was made by City Manager P. C. Painter upon the recommendation of Chief Fred N. Taylor.

Under this plan the duties of Captain Shaw will be materially extended. Chief Taylor will continue to serve as head of the department and will actively supervise fire-fighting. However, Captain Shaw will be in charge of the regular force, of the equipment and of the routine work of the department at all times except at fires. Closer inspection is contemplated.
