ONE KILLED, ONE HURT IN SHOOTING AT REIDSVILLE

STRANGER RESISTS ARREST AND PAYS WITH LIFE—POLICEMAN SHOT.

REIDSVILLE, April 8.—S. F. Poe was killed and Policeman John Chaney, of this city, was seriously wounded in a pistol battle at the store of S. Heiner and company here late tonight. The shooting occurred when Chaney attempted to arrest Poe, who was wanted for an attempt to pass a worthless check on a merchant here.

Poe opened fire when Chaney got to the store, firing three times, one of the shots taking effect. Chaney returned the fire and Policeman Norman and Deputy Sheriff Neal, attracted by the shooting hurried to the store, taking part in the shooting. Poe toppled over dead a few seconds after the last shot was fired. Chaney is expected to recover.

Two women with Poe when he came to Reidsville escaped, rushing away in an automobile. Police officers in surrounding cities were requested to be on the lookout for the women.

Poe, arriving here Saturday, went to W. J. Pettigrew, a real estate man, and offered him a money order and a small amount of money for an option on a lot. Mr. Pettigrew refused the money order. Then Poe went to the store of Burton, Chance and Walker Furniture company and gave a money order for some chairs, going from there to A. P. Sands store and giving a check, supposedly worthless, and a money order for some goods. From there he went to Heiner's store and tried to pass a check for $100 for some groceries.

Mr. Pettigrew, who had learned of the man's actions, told Policeman Chaney and the latter went to Heiner's store for Poe.

Poe knew that Chaney had come for him and saying, "I guess you are after me," drew a pistol and began shooting.

A big crowd surged around the store immediately after the shooting and several hundred went to the undertaking establishment where the body of Poe was carried to view it. The man was a stranger here and is thought to be from Virginia, it being stated that he had said he had a brother in Norfolk who intended to move to Reidsville in a short time. It is also rumored that he has a brother in Elkton, W. Va.

Police officers here state that they think Poe was wanted in Maryland for robberies of postoffices there, a man answering to his description, they say, having tried to pass post-office money orders in and around Salisbury, Md., and points in Virginia.

CLEARED OF KILLING ATTACKER OF WIFE

Oklahoma City, Okla., April 8.—Holding that Jean P. Day, prominent attorney and oil man was justified in the killing of Lieutenant Colonel Paul Ward Beck at the Day home early Tuesday, a coroner's jury returned a verdict here tonight recommending that no charge be preferred against Day.

On the witness stand in a packed court room here tonight, Jean P. Day and his wife told, with emotion, of the slaying of Lieutenant Colonel Paul Ward Beck. In a broken voice, but with a gleam of determination in his eye, Day said he killed the army aviator accidentally when he sought to drive Beck from his home after finding him attempting to attack Mrs. Day early Tuesday.

WAREHOUSES TO SELL OR LEASE TO ASSOCIATION

MOST OF THEM REACH AGREEMENT WITH TOBACCO CO-OPERATIVE OFFICIALS.

Meeting with officials of the Tobacco Growers' Co-operative association here Thursday, warehouse owners in about a score of cities in the central section of the state agreed to sell or lease their warehouses to the association.

The meeting was the second of four between the association men and warehousemen, the first being held at South Boston, Va., Wednesday, the third at Raleigh Friday and the fourth at Florence, S. C., Saturday. The four meetings took in the tobacco territory in the states of Virginia, North Carolina and South Carolina.

Details of the transfers will be accomplished later, but it is certain that the majority of the warehousemen will come to terms with the association.

Some of them are holding out. At Winston-Salem and at Wilson the warehousemen intend, they say, to operate their warehouses as usual, handling tobacco by the auction sales method. In those cities the association will have to build warehouses of its own, according to Aaron Sapiro, California wizard, who is responsible to a great extent for the organization work of the association.

Mr. Sapiro made the chief talk at the meeting, explaining to the warehousemen the contract by which the warehouses are transferred to the association. The association will buy or lease, he states, although it would not care to buy all the warehouses and tie up a great sum of money in that way. Where a lease is sought it is for five years' duration. Mr. Sapiro's talk and the questions asked him took up about two hours.

The Greensboro Tobacco Market company does not care to sell its warehouses, it is stated, but a proposition will be made to the directors that they lease their two new warehouses to the association. It is stated that they will lease if they can get what they want.

Announcement was made that a warehouse corporation, a subsidiary of the association, with headquarters for the central section of the state at Greensboro, will be formed, for the purpose of grading and storing tobacco. It will be incorporated prior to June 1.

Mr. Sapiro stated that the big fights will be made at Winston-Salem and Wilson. There the warehousemen, he said, will fight bitterly, and the association will go in and build, to be ready for the opening of the season.

Among those here for the meeting were Dr. J. Y. Joyner, president of the association, and T. C. Watkins, of South Boston, Va., director of warehouses.

One hundred and fifty warehouse owners in the Carolinas and Virginia have tendered the use of their properties to the Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association and have signed contracts to sell or lease their warehouses to the organization of 70,000 tobacco growers, which covers the three States.

MECKLENBURG MAN KILLS THREE OF HIS CHILDREN WITH AX, THEN HE BLOWS OFF HIS OWN HEAD WITH GUN

Charlotte, April 9.—Ruby Lee Helms, 13-year-old girl, horror-stricken and helpless, today saw her father, John Helms, 40, slay three of her little brothers and sisters in succession with a wood axe, and then saw him deliberately blow off the top of his own head with a shotgun, according to the story she, the only witness, told Coroner Frank Hoyis. The quadruple tragedy occurred at the home of Helms, who occupied a tenant house on the farm of Robert Rice, in Mecklenburg county, 11 miles east of Charlotte, about 6:30 this morning. Coroner Hoyis said the evidence indicated that Helms had become rather suddenly inane, probably as a result of continued ill health, as he had been suffering from a chronic stomach disease or appeared deeply depressed when talking to a brother a day or two ago about his "hopeless" condition.

According to little Ruby Lee Helms, she was walking about in the yard with the nine-months-old baby, Hazeline, while her mother prepared breakfast, when her father approached with an axe and with the handle knocked the baby from her arms; then he went into the house and, with the axe, brained two children in bed, while she looked on through a window, the two being Broncho, aged six, and Bleeker, aged four. He then grabbed a shotgun, went out into the yard, placed the muzzle against his cheek, the gun standing on the ground, reached down and pressed the trigger with his thumb, the load blowing off the top of the head.

Mrs. Helms and another child in addition to Ruby Lee escaped without injury, and gave the alarm.

PRECINCT MEETINGS ARE HELD BY THE DEMOCRATS

ALL DEMOCRATS DELEGATES TO COUNTY CONVENTION ON APRIL 15.

Democratic precinct meetings, for the purpose of electing precinct committees, were held throughout Guilford county Saturday, the newly elected committees meeting immediately afterward and electing chairmen.

Delegates to the Democratic county convention were not elected at the precinct meetings for the reason that every Democrat attending the county convention will be seated as a delegate from his precinct. At the precinct meetings Saturday committees were named to urge a large attendance upon the county convention.

The Democratic county convention will be held at the courthouse next Saturday morning, April 15, starting at 11 o'clock.

The county convention will elect delegates to the state convention, which will be held at Raleigh on April 20. Vacancies in precinct committees will also be filled at the county convention and other business that may come up will be transacted. It is urged by O. C. Cox, chairman of the county executive committee, that the attendance be large. Matters of interest to every Democrat will come up.

The call for the county convention and for the precinct meetings was sent out some time ago by Mr. Cox.

WAS MAKING A NIP FOR GRANDMA IN OLD STILL

Anderson, S. C., April 7.—An unusual heirloom was destroyed yesterday when a small copper still, seized by county officers, was broken up. The still, which was used for the purpose of distilling, was found in the possession of a man who was making a nip for his grandmother, the grandmother being 84 years old.

Huckabee told officers that the still had belonged to his father and grandfather, and that it had been in his family for more than 100 years. Officers state that no report of Huckabee had ever come in to them before this.

houses in South Carolina were signed over to the association Saturday at the meeting of warehousemen and directors of the association held in Florence, S. C., according to M. O. Wilson, secretary of the association, with headquarters here.

Saturday's meeting marked the successful close of a series of conferences, which began April 5, at South Boston, Virginia, resulting there in the sign-up of warehouses in 28 out of the 35 dark and bright markets of Virginia, continuing in North Carolina at Greensboro and Raleigh, where more than 80 warehouses were added to the list, ending with the final addition of 40 warehouses at Saturday's meeting.

This gives a total of one hundred and fifty marketing centers and ample facilities for handling the majority of the tobacco in the three States now under contract with the marketing association.

PERFECTING PLANS FOR COUNTY COMMENCEMENT

TO BE HELD APRIL 22 AT N. C. C. W.—LUNCHEON FOR GRADUATES.

Plans for the county school commencement were discussed at a meeting of the county teachers at the assembly room of the courthouse Saturday and the advantages of the uniform county unit school, tax proposition explained by several speakers.

The commencement exercises will start with the declamation and recitation contests at 10 a. m. Saturday, April 22, in the auditorium of the North Carolina College for Women here. Three boys will contest in declamation and three girls in recitation.

Following the contests, an address will be delivered to the graduates of the seventh grades of the schools and certificates will be presented them.

At the conclusion of the presentation of the certificates a luncheon will be served in the new dining room of the college, with the seventh grade graduates guests. The teachers and parents of the pupils attending the luncheon will be expected to pay a charge of 50 cents a plate, but the graduates themselves will not, as the luncheon is in their honor.

Friday, April 21, beginning at 2 p. m., elimination contests in declamation and in recitation will be held in the teachers' assembly room in the courthouse. One boy from each of the 18 townships will contest; three to be chosen for the finals to be held Saturday, April 22, and one girl from each township in recitation in the same manner, with three to be selected.

The first elimination contests are held at a date agreed upon by the schools themselves in each township, with a boy and girl from each school caring to compete meeting at some school house agreed upon. The boy and girl chosen from those township meetings will be the ones to come here for the semi-final contest on Friday, April 21.

After the commencement plans had been discussed the uniform county unit tax plan was explained. Thomas R. Foust, county superintendent of schools, conducted the meeting and talked of the various advantages of the plan.

Miss Bettie Aiken Land, rural school supervisor, spoke to the teachers, stating that the teachers themselves deserved better schools. She also touched on several other things of interest to the teachers, such as reading circles, etc.

The usual departmental meetings followed the general meeting.

MURDER AND SUICIDE

Double Tragedy At New Bern In Home Of Woman.

New Bern, April 9.—Mrs. Corinne Hill was shot and instantly killed and John Alcock seriously wounded by N. M. Cooper here early this morning, Cooper then turning the pistol on himself, the ball crashing through his heart and ending his life instantly.

The shooting occurred at the home of Mrs. Hill shortly after 1 a. m. It seems that Cooper had been looking after the affairs of Mrs. Hill and had been having trouble with her. Several weeks ago Cooper left the city after an encounter with Mrs. Hill. Returning Saturday he went to the home of Mrs. Hill and was in the room with her, Alcock and Miss Sue Hill, a sister of the deceased husband of the dead woman.

It is reported that Cooper tried to get Mrs. Hill to go in another room with him and that she refused. Then according to information, he drew a pistol from his pocket, shot her, "What will you give me not to kill you," and after the exchange of several words, fired three shots into her chest.

Then Cooper pointed the pistol at Alcock, who had taken no part and shot him through the side, winding up with killing himself.

FARM DEMONSTRATION

Foodless, foolish farmers is the text of an adjuration in the University News Letter to quit being foolish and produce more food. The statistics given are startling and should rouse to energy every farmer who is not providing for his family. After stating how far behind the state is in the matter of "food farmers" the article points out that many people on the farm live on short rations the year round. It says in part:

The simple truth is that thousands of our farms do not begin to feed the farm family and livestock. The people on these farms live on short rations especially in lean years. Their diet is ill-balanced and insufficient. They are undernourished, their children badly fed and their physical development stunted. How could it be otherwise when a hundred thousand farms have no milk cows and consume no butter or milk, when nearly fifty thousand farms have no hogs, when half of all our farms produce no sweet potatoes, and seven-tenths of them no Irish potatoes, when 44,197 farms have no gardens and produce no vegetables?

Farm people should be the best fed of all people. They should and could have a well-balanced diet, with just a little attention to food production. Every farm in our state should feed itself first. Our farmers would produce surpluses for sale in our towns and cities if only our towns and cities would only settle the local market problem for home-raised food and feed supplies. Neglecting home-raised food crops and buying farm supplies of this sort with cotton and tobacco money is a hopeless way of getting rich and getting on and up in the world. We have tried it for seventy years and we ought to know it by this time.

The following table shows the number of stockless, foodless farmers in North Carolina in 1920:

Total farms in the state	269,763	Pot.
Farms with no cattle	78,957	29.3
With no milk cows	99,559	36.9
With no sheep	262,022	97.2
With no goats	265,690	98.6
With no hogs	47,733	17.7
Growing no corn	16,737	6.2
Growing no oats	235,116	87.2
Growing no wheat	180,425	67.0
Growing no hay or forage	134,424	49.8
Growing no Irish potatoes	190,694	70.7
Growing no sweet potatoes	132,533	49.1
Having no garden	44,197	16.4

WOULD ENFORCE LAW

Pastors and Laymen of Greensboro District Hold
Sessions at Ramseur.

Adoption of resolutions deploring the alleged tendency toward laxity in law enforcement and pledging their full co-operation with the authorities, to the end that the laws of the land be rigidly enforced, featured the district conference of the Greensboro district, Methodist Episcopal church, south, at Ramseur last week. The pastors and laymen voted unanimously for the instrument.

Rev. D. R. Proffitt, pastor of the West Greensboro circuit and chairman of the district temperance committee, was the author of the resolution, which was earnestly supported on the floor by a number of speakers. It was agreed that many people evidence a distressing disregard of the statutes and unless remedial measures be taken consequences of very grave nature may reasonably be expected.

Enforcement of the prohibition laws was especially emphasized as essential in the resolution. There must be no trifling with the 18th amendment to the federal constitution, Methodists of this district say.

The first session of the district conference was held Thursday morning, at which time an inspiring sermon was preached by Rev. L. B. Hayes, pastor of Park Place church, Greensboro. Numerous reports were received Thursday afternoon, gratifying progress in the various phases of church work being reflected. Sessions also were held Friday, the conference closing at 3:30 Friday afternoon. Rev. W. F. Womble, presiding elder of the Greensboro district, presided.

AIRMEN MAKING FLIGHT ACROSS ATLANTIC OCEAN

Lisbon, April 8.—Advises from St. Vincent, Cape Verde Islands, say that the Portuguese naval captains, Scandura and Coutinho, will resume their trans-Atlantic flight at 5 o'clock on the afternoon of April 11, according to present plans. They expect to arrive at the island of Fernando Noronha, off the coast of Brazil, the next day, covering the 1,390 miles which constitute the third and most hazardous leg of their flight from this city to Rio Janeiro. The hydroplane they are using is only able to carry gasoline sufficient for 16 hours' flight. The aviators arrived at St. Vincent two hours ahead of their schedule, making the flight from Cando Bay near Las Palmas Canary Islands, at the rate of 148 kilometers (about 92 miles) an hour.

The Lack of Money Sometimes Is the Root of Much Evil as Many Men Know by Experience

You have read of many suicides who left notes something like this: "I failed to make ends meet. In my pocket you will find two dollars and twenty cents; in my body you will see the evidence of a thousand broken hopes. Many times if I had had the cash I could have attained great success. I have seen many bright opportunities dashed against my improvident purse." Now, you should be prepared to make the most of your opportunities. Can you find anything which will be of greater aid in this connection than a growing bank account? We solicit your business on the basis of Strength, Helpfulness and Service.

A definite plan always facilitates the successful execution of any undertaking. Farmers not only find it necessary to plan far ahead, but to rely greatly on industry.

If you adopt a plan for saving money, you will get ahead much faster than if you undertake to save after haphazard methods. Just decide that you will save say 5 per cent of your income and deposit the money with the American Exchange National Bank, where it will draw interest at the rate of 4 per cent.

PUBLIC HEALTH

By Wm. M. Jones, M. D.

THE EDUCATION OF THE CHILD

A few days ago I called your attention to an epidemic of smallpox that had recently occurred in Oklahoma. I now want to call your attention to what the Governor of Oklahoma, J. B. A. Robertson had to say along lines of public health. He said: "In the minds of the girls and boys of today lies the future of all public-health work. The older people will have to die for there is little chance of counting on them to support the work, but the younger generations must be taught the principles of personal health. The subject of health is now the most popular theme in our schools, the work has just begun and the future is so great that I cannot predict the immensity of it."

Any one who has given time and thought to any phase of health work knows what the governor of Oklahoma has said is correct.

It is in the coming generations that the greatest good from public health work is going to be seen.

Little can be accomplished with the added population. For if they have suffered from defective tonsils, adenoids and defective teeth, the damage to the general system has already been done, and as a general thing this damage cannot be repaired. In the child it can be promoted by the removal of the adenoids when present, the extraction or proper treatment of the defective tooth or teeth and the removal of the diseased tonsil, before it has existed long enough to permanently injure the system. Then the habit of keeping the mouth and teeth clean is an easy one to acquire for the child, but sometimes very hard for the adult. When you tell a child that there is danger in constipation, the child remembers it for life and thereby profits. An adult recognizes the danger, but does not always profit by it. So it is by education of the children as to what they should and should not do that the great good is going to come.

Stephenson, Winston-Salem; Dr. A. W. Plyler, Greensboro; E. B. Crow, Raleigh; D. H. Dixon, Goldsboro; Dr. Livingston Johnson, Raleigh; Dr. W. A. Withers, Raleigh; J. M. Broughton, Raleigh; Hugh Parks, Franklinville; G. F. Hankins, Lexington; P. S. Carlton, Salisbury; Charles A. Lambeth, Thomasville and F. C. Niblock, Concord.

APRIL 14 IS FLOWER DAY IN HOSPITAL FOR VETS

Asheville, April 8.—April 14 will be "Flower Day" at Oteen and Kenilworth hospitals under the auspices of the North Carolina Bar Association. The Union, which has furnished flowers for all patients in both of these hospitals at Easter since their establishment here.

SOCIETY REPORT

Many Children Are Placed By Children's Home Society.

The monthly report of John J. Phoenix, superintendent of the North Carolina Children's Home society, shows that in March the society handled more children than at any similar period in its history. This was due, Mr. Phoenix stated, because cash receipts for the month of March were larger than for any other month. The receiving room of the home is being operated at fullest capacity. The need for funds is constant, however. Statistics for March follow:

New cases of homeless children reported, 55; adjustment made by superintendents of public welfare and applications withdrawn, 6; new foster homes offered for children, 51; foster homes accepted, 35; homes rejected as not up to standard, 15; homes withdrawn by applicant, 2; homes under investigation, 91; children received, 23; children placed, 26; children replaced, 2; homes supervised by representative of the society, 44; homes supervised by superintendents public welfare, 18; reports called for and received from foster parents, 54; legal adoptions executed, 16; operations for adenoids, 5; children withdrawn from homes not up to standard, 1; Wasserman tests made by specialist, 4; children in receiving home March 31, 1922, 22.

MAN AND FAMILY HAVE CLOSE CALL

Hamlet, April 8.—The third fire in a week, emphasizing the old superstition about there being three fires in a row, occurred Thursday on the same hour and almost resulted in the death of J. L. Beckwith, his wife, and little daughter. They escaped a few moments before the roof of their home collapsed.

Mr. Beckwith was awakened by the voice of his little daughter and by the shouts of neighbors about 1 o'clock, it is stated. Instantly he was out of bed, awoke Mrs. Beckwith and hurried them to the window. He returned to get his clothes and the clothes of his wife and daughter, but the smoke and flames were too much. Next day a little Babbitt-like chuck of silver uncovered in the ashes marked the spot where his clothes had been and where the $80 in his pocket, except the silver had disappeared.

CLOSE MOST OF PRINTING AND ENGRAVING BUREAU

Washington, April 8.—Divisions of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, engaged in the production of bank notes, bonds and postage stamps, will be closed tonight for an indefinite period for the purpose of taking an inventory of the plant from which James L. Williams and 23 chiefs, superintendents and foremen were removed by Presidential order one week ago.

Decision to close at least the principal portions of the big plant, the largest of its kind in the world, was disclosed today as having followed a conference late yesterday between Louis Hill, the newly-appointed director and division chiefs of the bureau of treasury officials. The closing is to be effected under an order issued by Secretary Mellon, of the Treasury, under which department the bureau operates.

REPUBLICANS MEET

C. D. Cobb Elected County Chairman—Select State Delegates.

Meeting here at the courthouse Saturday, Guilford county Republicans elected C. D. Cobb, of Mebaneville, county chairman and chose delegates to the state convention, to be held at Winston-Salem Wednesday.

Edward C. Jerome, of this city, was endorsed for solicitor for the 12th judicial district, composed of Guilford, Davidson and Stokes counties. No other candidates were selected.

A resolution was adopted advocating the retention of John M. Morehead, of Charlotte, as national committeeman from North Carolina.

Seventy-eight delegates were chosen to go to Winston-Salem to the annual convocation.

Mr. Cobb was elected over L. Herbin, of this city. Mr. Herbin made a good race but the High Point delegation went against him, swinging the election for Mr. Cobb.

Various other matters of routine business were discussed at the meeting and the need of harmony among Republicans was emphasized in the speeches.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Mary Settle Sharp, of this city.

CLOSE CALL WHEN PHONE POLE FALLS

Charlie Glickrist, aged 25 of this city, a young man in the employ of the North Carolina Public Service company, had a miraculous escape from death Saturday morning when a telephone pole fell to the ground with him, the pole falling squarely across his chest.

Glickrist had climbed about 30 feet on the pole, located on McGee street, and was repairing some wires, when the big stick snapped near the base. Pole and man came together, Glickrist underneath, striking the ground with great force. Although it was a heavy pole and landed across his chest, no bones were broken. He was rushed to a hospital and it is expected that he will be none the worse for his experience in a few days.

COX URGING CAMPAIGN FOR LEAGUE OF NATIONS

New York, April 8.—Directly attributing present day "business adversity" to the failure of the United States to join the League of Nations, former Governor James M. Cox, of Ohio, in an address here tonight, urged a continuation of the campaign to have this country join the league.

His address was made before the National Democratic club.

Asserting that "as one surveys conditions at Washington, he finds little ground for hope of a stable prosperity," Mr. Cox declared that "the average person of the average community believes there is something radically wrong in Washington and that it consists chiefly of lack of leadership. There is no captain of the ship."

DES MOINES HAS WOMAN SERVING ON CITY COUNCIL

Des Moines, Iowa, April 8.—Mrs. C. H. Morris, coal operator, grocery executive, club woman and mother, has been elected to the city council of Des Moines.

She was the first woman in the city to run for municipal office; this is probably the largest city in the United States with a woman in the council.

CAMPBELL LOSES

His Contest Against Doughton For Congress Is Thrown Out.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The house elections committee in a report yesterday throwing out the contest of James I. Campbell, Republican, against Representative Robert L. Doughton, Democrat, of the Eighth North Carolina district, held that acts alleged to have violated the provisions of the state constitution "do not appear to have changed the results" and that the house would not be justified in declaring the seat vacant.

The report presented by Chairman Luce expressed the views of all Republican and Democrat members of the committee except Republican Cable, Republican, Ohio, who in a minority report made public yesterday declared Campbell was entitled to the seat.

The point in issue involved the absentee vote, Doughton on the face of the returns having won by 1,088.

"Our position," said the committee report, "simply is that failure to enforce the provisions of the state constitution, a failure generally approved or acquiesced in by candidates and electors without conscious defiance of authority and without heinous circumstances resulting from a wish or intent to work an injustice and not proved to have altered the results will not in and of itself suffice to vitiate an election."

The committee reported its resolution rejecting Campbell's contest and declaring Doughton entitled to the seat. Chairman Luce will endeavor to have the house act on it within the next 10 days.

MILKING COWS TO MUSIC AT SCHOOL AT KINSTON

Kinston, April 7.—Joy reigns at the Caswell Training school. The phonograph has been turned on again at the milking periods. In their stalls, B. Girl, Spot, Belle, Amy and Maybelle chewed their cud to the tune of something sentimental while the milkers milked in cadence to the sweet strains. Lucy, Corinne, Violet and C. Jewell appeared delighted, while Lora, Thelma, Whitley, Sis, May, Annie, Mattie, Minnie and Elsie wore looks of complete contentment.

The "milk and music" tests have been in progress several weeks. Last week was an off week, when there was no music. The milk has been carefully weighed and at the end of the tests, several weeks from now, it will be shown that music soothes bovine nerves induces a greater flow of the lactical fluid than—than just milking without music. This will be the case or the theory entertained at the school will have been exploded.

TWO LARGE AIRSHIPS HIT AND CRASH IN FIERY MASS

Paris, April 8.—The Paris and London aerial expresses collided in midair this afternoon over the village of Thieulloy, 70 miles north of Paris. The pilots of both airplanes, three passengers and one mechanic, were killed in the wreckage that fell flaming to the ground.

The French airplane, piloted by Aviator Mire, aided by a mechanic, was carrying three passengers. It left Le Bourget in the environs of Paris, at noon, for London.

The British airplane, which left Croydon, in the London area, this morning, carried mail and was manned only by a pilot.

The accident occurred during a fog, the pilots seeing each other too late to avoid a collision.

MONDAY, APRIL 10, 1922.

Even in the dark ages they had twilight zones.

Lawn mowers are never popular at lawn parties.

The fool and his automobile are soon joy-ridden.

Colombia and Venezuela are known by their boundaries.

Undoubtedly there's a lot of civility in Ireland's civil war.

The war is over and Europe doubtless wishes her war debts were over too.

Prohibition officers also are trying to deflate the bootleggers' profits.

They have started the ball a-rolling—out at Cone park and on thousands of other diamonds.

Violent storms reported in Georgia, but we have it on good authority that Tom Watson is in Washington.

The man who sculptured that "Civic Virtue" statue should send a bill to the city of New York for advertising.

Women with peaches-and-cream complexions naturally want to preserve them, but sometimes they become pickled.

It is possible they are reorganizing the various government bureaus, but it may be that they are simply Republicanizing them.

Confidence might be described as the fifth wheel of industry and it mightily helps to keep the other wheels of industry humming.

Men do not have to be naturalists to be interested in birds. For instance, Henry Ford is intensely interested in the eagle on the dollar.

After reading recent news dispatches from Washington we have a kind of suspicion that Representative Garner does not think so highly of Representative Blanton.

On the same day large quantity of whisky is destroyed and larger water mains are laid in the town of Sanford. And yet some people claim that prohibition doesn't prohibit.

Man who "cussed out" the mayor of Greenville, N. C., gets a sentence of 30 days. And think of the amount of cussing city officials everywhere get, the cussers going scot free.

Delaware warden says he encourages love-making among the prisoners. In other words, while he isn't ready to release the prisoners, he sees no reason why theirs should be pent emotions.

Ninety-one persons have been killed in New York since the first of the year. If homicides continue there at that rate, is that municipality to maintain its position as America's largest city?

OPPORTUNITY FOR ALL.

With a uniform school tax, the whole county considered as a whole, as a unit, it is planned to give every child in the county the opportunity to secure a high school education. Surely every child in the county is entitled to that.

It is intended to improve the elementary schools of the county, with competent teachers in all of them. Surely every child is entitled to that.

It is intended to erect buildings adequate to the demands made upon them. The 10 cents per hundred valuation tax for that purpose should be sufficient to bring that about. The physical facilities for education must be adequate or the work of the schools will be crippled.

Under the county unit plan of taxation, 10 cents for buildings and 15 cents for maintenance, the county can go ahead with a well arranged program, building surely as it goes without waste or overlapping, improving the schools.

It is a sane, sensible plan that is advocated, one built upon reason, and if it is studied carefully its advantages become more apparent. It makes the rural schools into one well welded system, with all the children of the county accorded an opportunity that they should not be longer denied.

STICK TOGETHER.

It is a little difficult to understand why the coal miners are striking, so many and so conflicting are the statements made by their leaders and by their employers. It is claimed that the miners want to negotiate a new wage scale and that the mine operators agreed to negotiate but when the time came for the actual negotiations the latter refused. That much seems certain. Then it is claimed by the operators that the miners want too high wages, that the granting of their demands would be a great burden in the way of high priced coal. The operators will not negotiate because they expect that it would cost them more, it is stated. Again it is charged that the fight is not one for wages but for the principle of unionism, the employers striving to destroy the unions, the unions fighting for their lives.

So much by way of introduction. No matter what the cause there remains the fact that the miners are dissatisfied and refuse to work. That is their privilege, they maintain.

But what if the farmers were to strike when they become dissatisfied? What if they were to demand more and, not getting it, all quit work? Where would everybody be? Why, everybody would be yelling their heads off for something to eat in about six months, that's what they would be doing.

No matter who quits, the farmers must keep on working. They would not strike, of course. For one reason, an organization would be too unwieldy and besides they are working for themselves, or supposed to be working for themselves.

Yes, no matter what comes along, strikes, walkouts, lockouts, labor wars, whatnot, the farmer has to keep on plowing. He goes right on and everybody accepts that as a matter of course. Others can quit, not he. Others can demand, not he.

The nearest approach to demanding is being made now, in the cooperative selling movements being inaugurated. That is the farmers' opportunity to get what is only fair for their labor.

Stick together. Do not strike work up, but stick together.

That fellow Jones (the one who pays the freight) says he hasn't been able to tell just what the traffic organizations want in the matter of rates, but he doesn't consider it an academic question. And he is sure that a first rate scrap over rates is in prospect.

They are probing the "cement trust" in New York. The way of the cement transgressor, like cement, is hard.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE VALUABLE.

The farmers' institute at Whitsett last Thursday night and Friday is one of the things that make farm life well worth living now, that help to take it out of the drab, dull monotony that it once was. At such a gathering the farmer not only learns to his profit but also enjoys the opportunities of getting together. Being lonely was for a long time the farmer's lot. He lived by himself. Sometimes he could hear his neighbor's dog bark. He could hear, in wet weather, the whistle of a locomotive, but he was terribly lonesome.

At such things as the farmers' institute, however, he gets together. The community spirit runs high. (Not the contraband spirit.) Everybody gets a look at each other, gets to say a word or two; there is wholesome companionship. Even if the times be hard, getting together helps. Even misery loves company, you have been told. Of course the good people of the Whitsett community are not miserable, but it does them good to get out and see one another, to shake hands, to be neighbors together for a good purpose, like it does everybody good.

There should be more of such gatherings. They weld the community together. We are passing over their value, in the matter of instruction to be gained. That is great, but what we wanted to emphasize here is the great good to be gained from just gathering.

Never again will the farmer be lonesome. He will not have the white lights crowd, the jazzy companionship that goes with crowded streets. As a matter of fact he is better off without that. There is little of pleasure, nothing of profit in that. A certain amount of solitude is good for a person. It gives him time to think. But while the rural dweller will not get that sort of thing, he has put behind him forever the loneliness which his parents accepted as one of the necessary hardships of country life.

HAS THE WRONG JOB.

A preacher in Buffalo, N. Y., wants all the churches to put in dance halls, so the young folk can cavort under the eye of the preacher or some other person who is, presumably, a godly person.

That preacher ought to be off doing some sort of work where the kind of brain he has would not do any damage. He's dangerous where he is. He will hardly get his dance hall, but, in his position, people will pay his whims a certain amount of respect and anything a fellow like that says is bound to be damaging.

Dancing may not be wrong. This is not a discussion of dancing but of persons like this parson, who would desecrate a church by such antics. There are many things that are not perhaps wicked but are simply not done in certain places. A church is supposed to be a place where people behave themselves in a seemly manner, if not reverently, and there is nothing of either in dancing.

First thing you know some idiot who fills a place he should not fill will be advocating the use of churches for prize fights. What if there wrong, he will argue, with a good boxing match, a good clear scrap? Isn't it healthy? he will ask. Isn't it fine training? Isn't it proper to teach the young the art of self-defense? Isn't it a good thing to bring the young people together where they can observe their fellows having some innocent amusement?

It's funny how some folks get to be preachers. Perhaps they look on it as a sort of business, a job, a profession. Perhaps they want to advertise themselves when they advocate such crazy proposals as this Buffalo preacher. Anyway, such should not be preachers. As stated at the outset, such ought to be working, with a competent overseer watching them all the time, working at something that requires absolute no brain work.

April seems determined to say it with showers.

MOSTLY NONSENSE

By Gee Gee Dee.

WOMAN LECTURER declares that "fairies really do exist." Certainly they do. In fact, we can discover almost anything for which we really and truly look. Take the matter of prohibition, for instance. Along about the time that the eighteenth amendment was adopted The New York World evidently resolved that if people would only give it a little time it would discover prohibition to be a failure. And, sure enough, that's what the paper is discovering every day; we have the word of The World for that.

Now The World seems to be desirous of discovering that most violations of the law, such as homicides and robberies, are due to prohibition. The World set out to discover the ghost of personal liberty, poor, old, crucified personal liberty, and we have it on the authority of The World that such a discovery has been made. But has that journal ever stopped to figure out how many of the crimes of today are bottomed upon the so-called personal liberty idea? Personal liberty is all right so long as it does not mean disregard of our neighbor's liberties, then the term is all wrong. Possibly The World will yet discover that the prohibition laws are responsible for baneful tariff measures, inertia in the sphere of international commerce, dangers to the fruit crop and other distressing conditions. Even that momentous discovery, however, would not induce a return to licensed booze-making and licensed booze-selling. Wonders and discoveries will never cease and there are plenty of fairies for those determined to discover them.

Producers of bottled moonshine are back numbers. In New Jersey a number of men have organized a concern which claims the ability to produce a wireless electric lamp called bottled sunlight, a lamp which, according to the promoters, will burn steadily for three years at a near freezing temperature without recharging. Of course the promoters have no desire to keep their light under a bushel, so they are selling stock in the enterprise.

Greek national assembly has passed a bill to raise a forced loan of about $65,000,000. All bank notes in circulation are to be cut into halves, one-half to remain in circulation, representing half of the note's value, while the other will be converted into a bond of the necessary loan, bearing seven per cent interest. Bright idea, isn't it? In that way Europe could pay her war debts a half the time which would ordinarily be required. Clipping the money would enable debtors to settle at a lively clip.

Radio campaign speeches are exciting some politicians, but while we are willing to concede the tremendous possibilities of the radiophone, we are somewhat skeptical as to this latest turn. If handshakes could be exchanged over the radiophone, results might be satisfactory, but such an arrangement is manifestly impracticable. Then, too, when the introducer makes the usual eulogistic references to the speaker our hero operating under radioless conditions can achieve quite a hit with his audience by beaming upon the latter and at the same time looking awfully modest. With the radiophone the cheering pastime is out of the question. Even radio has its limitations.

Politicians are making a whole sale raid on the treasury department, but this time they are seeking appointees' scalps, not money. They are doubtless astounded at their own negation. Their slogan seems to be "Government of the people, by the people, for the politicians." Some after-dinner speeches caused mental indigestion.

DURHAM IS WINNER

Takes State Honors In the High School Debating Contest.

Chapel Hill, April 8.—For the third time in its history and for the second time in succession, the Durham high school debaters copped state honors here last night, winning over Burlington highs in the tenth annual high school debate for the Aycock Memorial cup. By winning the honors twice in succession, 1921 and 1922, Durham keeps the cup forever.

Durham upheld the negative side of the query: "Resolved, That the United States should enter the League of Nations." Representing Durham were Linwood Hollowell and Freeman Twaddell. Upholding the affirmative side of the issue for Burlington were Miss Catherine Martin and Giles Nicholson. Both of the teams depicted themselves excellently and received much applause from an audience of approximately 2,000 persons.

President Chase presided. E. R. Rankin, supervisor of the debating union, acted as secretary. President Chase, on behalf of the University literary societies, presented each of the speakers of both teams with a medal.

Frank Graham presented the Aycock Memorial cup to the Durham debaters with these words: "Twice yours, thrice yours, and now forever yours." Durham won the cup in 1919, 1921, 1922. Following Mr. Graham's speech, M. C. S. Noble presented the cups and medals to the winners in the interscholastic track meet and interscholastic tennis tournaments.

TO PURCHASE OR LEASE OVER 60 WAREHOUSES IN EASTERN CAROLINA

Raleigh, April 8.—Eastern North Carolina tobacco warehousemen in a conference with Aaron Sapiro, attorney, and officials of the Tobacco Growers' Co-operative association, yesterday tendered to the association for purchase or lease more than 60 warehouses. This brings the number of plants in this state to be operated by the 70,000 organized growers to more than 80.

The contracts were signed by the warehousemen following a meeting in the house of representatives, where they heard Mr. Sapiro explain the details of the plans for purchase or lease by the association. The tenders guaranteed sufficient facilities to handle the 1922 crop of the organized growers in Eastern North Carolina.

"If you haven't faith in the organization, if you have any doubt about the success of the Tobacco Growers' Co-operative association, I advise you not to sell but to lease," he advised.

Discussing the situation brought about by the opposition of warehousemen and others of Wilson, Greenville and Winston-Salem, Mr. Sapiro declared that it is not humanly possible for the handful of opponents to stop the successful advance of 40,000 organized North Carolinians.

Speaking directly of the warehousemen of Wilson and Greenville who refused to meet with the directors of the Tobacco Growers' association yesterday, Mr. Sapiro declared:

"I want to tell these men who are willing to keep down 40,000 Carolina growers that there is a North Carolinian in Kentucky who loves North Carolina and says he will put a million dollars in this state if necessary to show the North Carolina tobacco growers that they have friends."

"You can tell these men in their towns that they may not be good North Carolinians but that there is a good North Carolinian in Kentucky who is feeling for the people and is not always feeling for his pocket-book."

Following this reference to Judge Robert W. Bingham, of Louisville, Ky., the leader of the Kentucky Barley Tobacco Growers in their successful marketing association, Mr. Sapiro made it clear that the present transaction is strictly for the benefit of tobacco farmers and will tend to build up farm communities.

SLIPPED IN ON DIVORCED WIFE AND CARVED HER UP

Maxton, April 8.—Rob Lockiler slipped into the room where his divorced wife, Ida Brewer, was sleeping and proceeded to carve her up. He cut her across both shoulders, above the eye, on the side of the nose and nearly severed her index finger on her left hand. It was necessary to take several stitches in the numerous wounds. She is still in a serious condition.

About two years ago Rob Lockiler was granted a divorce from Ida Brewer, and immediately married again, but recently deserted his last wife. Rob Lockiler is a dangerous Indian. Some time ago he cut another man severely and escaped into South Carolina, just recently coming back to his old haunts.

SET TRAP AND GET MEN AND WHISKY

Setting a trap near the Guilford Battleground Thursday night, county and Greensboro city officers nabbed three negroes, two automobiles and 49 quarts of liquor. Three other negroes escaped.

Deputy Sheriff John Hobbs and Policemen Boyles and Huffines, going out at about 10 o'clock, waited in the rain until a car came along they thought might have whiskey in it. It did, six quarts and three negroes, Sam Dock, Will Emerson and Mack Emerson. The car was put across the road, effectively blocking it.

The other automobile came along in a short while and its occupants were ordered to stop. The driver sped up, but when he saw the car across the road he put on the brakes and the three negroes lit out, leaving the car and escaping as the policemen were busy with the three they had already captured. Forty-three quarts of liquor were found in the abandoned car.

NO STRIKE TROOPS

Weeks Refuses Request That Federal Troops Be Sent.

Washington, April 9.—The administration's determination not to use federal troops in the coal strike unless all state agencies fail in preserving order was set forth clearly today after a conference between President Harding and Secretary Weeks.

A request for troops from the governor of New Mexico was flatly denied. The decision left the house labor committee as the only federal agency attempting to deal with the strike, and although it continued its hearings during the day there was no indication that the mass of testimony taken would lead to action in the near future. Today's contribution to the committee record, was a statement by Phil P. Penna, a former miners' union official, and now an operator, blaming the present crisis on failure of the men to keep their contracts.

HOME DEMONSTRATION

The strawberry season is not so very far distant, and the housewife will find that it will be soon over when it comes. For that reason she should make an effort to preserve as much as she can, making the strawberry crop last a considerable while. If she will "put up" considerable. Following are three recipes, endorsed by Mrs. Jane S. McKimmon, head of the home demonstration division of the state, and Mrs. Cornelia C. Morris, also of the division.

None but freshly picked berries should be preserved. Practically the same methods are to be followed as in the preserving of all berries. Berries should be gathered in shallow trays or baskets and not in deep vessels, which allow them to be bruised and crushed. They should be uniform, ripe and sound; only large, firm berries should be selected for preserving. All berries should be carefully sorted and lightly washed by placing in a colander and pouring water over them rather than by putting them in a pan of water.

Recipe No. 1.

(Especially fancy pack but not as economical as recipe No. 2, since a considerable amount of extra syrup is usually left over to be canned separately.)

Two pounds of whole berries.
Two and one-half pounds of sugar.
One pint of berry juice.
If the best possible color and flavor is to be secured from the finished product the syrup for preserved berries should be made of berry juice, obtained by crushing, heating and straining the softer, broken berries. Boil together the berry juice and the sugar and skim and cool the syrup before dropping the berries into it, to prevent shriveling and toughening the fruit. Return to the fire and bring slowly to a boil in a covered pan. Remove the cover and cook until the fruit looks clear, being very careful not to overcook; the berries should remain whole. If a thermometer is used the cooking may be finished at 222 degrees to 224 degrees F. Skim and cool in a covered pan. If berry preserves are covered for five minutes before removing from the fire and the vessel left covered while cooling the product will be more plump. The fruit will be better if allowed to cool in shallow trays or pans and stand in the syrup overnight; it improves the shape and the flavor, as the berries absorb more of the syrup, become heavier and pack better. Lift the berries out of the syrup and pack cold. Cap; process pint jars for 10 minutes at 180 degrees F.

Recipe No. 2.

Two pounds of berries.
One and one-half pounds of sugar.
One-half cup of berry juice.
Wash, cap and stem the berries. Make a syrup of the sugar and juice and add the berries. Cook to 222 degrees F. or 105 1/2 degrees C. or until the syrup is very thick. Cool quickly, pack into jars, previously sterilized 10 to 15 minutes, and seal for preserves. More of the natural flavor is retained by using this method and no syrup will be left over, which means a saving in sugar, but the yield is not so great and the fruit does not remain whole and plump as in the first method given above.

Sun-Cooked Preserves.

The berries should be washed, capped, stemmed, drained and measured. Allow an equal weight of sugar for fruit. For each two pounds of berries measure one-fourth cupful of berry juice and heat with the sugar. Cook and pour over the whole berries in shallow trays. Stand in the sun for three or four days, bringing indoors at night. Dampness is a great foe to successful sun cookery. Allow the fruit to remain in the sun until it is well plumped and the syrup is thickened almost to a jelly. If the sun fails to shine keep the preserves in a cool oven. Pack in sterilized jars and seal.

It is advised that these recipes be cut out and pasted in a recipe book or kept in some way against the opening of the strawberry season.

MINING COMPANY SELLS REALTY TO ANOTHER ONE

One tract contains 84 acres and adjoins the property of John Gardner and W. M. Wiley. The other contains 52 acres and is on Reddick creek, adjoining the property of St. John's Gardner.

KILLS NINE PEOPLE

Dallas, Texas, April 8.—Nine deaths and injuries to an unknown number were reported early today as a result of winstorms starting in West Texas and sweeping through North Central Texas and South Central Oklahoma. Six were reported killed at Rowens, near Ballinger, Texas, and one each at Cisco, Electra, Texas, and Lawton, Oklahoma. First reports indicated heavy property damage was feared. Heavy rains accompanied the wind at most places. Wire communication to the storm area was interrupted.

There were unconfirmed reports that three persons were killed this morning and five injured in a storm at Oplin, a small town in Callahan county.

A number of buildings were blown over and one person seriously injured at Clebourne, Texas. The fair grounds there were destroyed and Mrs. Walter Baker was seriously hurt when her home was demolished.

A long distance message from Baird, Texas, this afternoon said physicians had been sent to Oplin in response to appeals. It was said at Baird that four had been killed and thirty-five hurt in this morning's storm.

DENIES NAME OF CHRIST CENSORED FROM PRAYER

Washington, April 8.—Charges of a "censorship" resulting in deletion of the name of Christ from the opening prayer of the Arms Conference were denied today by Secretary Hughes.

Taking this first notice of the charges, which were repeated several times on the Senate floor during debate on the four-power treaty, Mr. Hughes wrote to Representative Fees, Republican, Ohio, that the Japanese delegates knew nothing of the omission and that "of course, no censorship was exercised."

HIGH SCHOOL MUSIC
CONTEST APRIL 29

The teachers of piano and violin who have pupils to enter in the high school county contest on April 29 are asked to communicate as early as possible with Miss Agnes Martin, president of the Guilford county organization of music teachers. The state contest will be held a week later.

Salisbury, April 8.—The Rowan county Republican convention called and presided over by State prohibition director Kohloss as county chairman met today elected delegates to the state, congressional and judicial conventions and adjourned according to Mr. Kohloss, but Republicans unfriendly to Mr. Kohloss proposed the election of a new county chairman and being ruled out of order they remained in the room after the chair had declared the convention adjourned and elected James H. Ramsey county chairman. These insurgents now claim to be regular elected delegates to the State convention at Winston-Salem, the delegation being headed by Mr. Ramsey.

THIS PIG IS USELESS AS IT IS MINUS JUICY HAMS

Greenville, April 8.—A freak pig on exhibition here this week has created considerable interest. It is a red Duroc Jersey, weighing about 170 pounds, and has no rear legs, no tail, and no hip joints. However, it is by no means helpless and when its master speaks; gets up and trots right lively. The two front limbs are normal, but the rear of the body is smooth.

This prodigy of nature is owned by M. C. Barfield, of Mount Olive, who is taking it to various towns on an automobile truck. Mr. Barfield was a soldier in the late war.
