VOTE ON SIDEWALK.

By Count of 4 to 3 City Council Decides Not to Cut Them.

Following lengthy discussion of the matter from various angles the city councilmen Monday afternoon by a vote of 4 to 3 decided not to reduce the width of the sidewalks on South Elm street.

Councilmen Julian A. Price, George A. Grimsley and R. G. Hiatt voted against the proposition to cut 12 inches from each sidewalk in order to give additional space for vehicular traffic in the street. Councilman Frank Brooks was not present, but he had frequently expressed opposition to the proposal and by parliamentary consent he was recorded against the measure. Mayor Claude Kiser, Councilmen David White and E. J. Mendenhall were in favor of cutting the sidewalk, but they did not vote when they found they were in the minority.

J. R. Cutchin presented a petition signed by 32 property owners and 16 merchants on South Elm street protesting against the narrowing of the sidewalks. Other speakers objecting to the proposition included John S. Michaux and W. E. Blair.

City Manager P. C. Painter suggested that the distance between the two street car tracks on South Elm be reduced from four feet eight inches to four feet two inches, also that the street be made of the uniform width of 45 1-2 feet from the railway passenger station to Market street. That latter part of his proposal would mean a reduction ranging from three to nine inches on the sidewalk on each side. The proposal was received with evidences of favor and it was indicated that later it might be adopted.

SWALLOWS POISON.

Helen Mayes Takes Bichloride of Mercury, But Will Live.

Following her incarceration in the city jail on Monday night Helen Mayes, a white girl of about 18 years, swallowed two bichloride of mercury tablets. Prompt work on the part of Dr. John Berry probably saved the girl's life. It is believed that she will live.

Helen Mayes had been warned by the police to stay away from the city. She is known by the police in Greensboro, High Point, Winston-Salem and other cities. In spite of the warning she came to Greensboro Monday night and was locked up.

It was said that the girl had repeatedly stated that she would die rather than go to jail. As the door of her cell was locked Monday night, she produced a bottle and quickly swallowed two of the deadly tablets, after which she said, "Well, after tonight you won't have to bother with me." The officer rushed her to the office of Dr. Harry Brockmann, city physician. Dr. Brockmann was out of the city and Dr. Berry was summoned.

While the physician was rendering aid to the girl she tried to swallow another of the tablets, but Dr. Berry stuck his fingers in her throat, extracting the poison. Vigorous remedial measures were applied with salutary effect. The young woman was taken to St. Leo's hospital, where it was reported that her chances for recovery were very good.

At the monthly meeting of the Henry K. Burtner post of the American Legion Monday night at the county courthouse Post Commander J. F. Stevens outlined an ambitious program for the new year. Among the projects which, according to his conception, should be executed during 1922 are extension of the membership to 800, an attendance of 5,000 ex-service men at the state convention of the legion in this city next September, and general broadening of the organization's activities along helpful, constructive lines.

The following nominations for officers made by Commander Stevens and Vice-Commander M. A. White were unanimously confirmed by the legionaires, numbering about 100, in attendance: McDaniel Lewis, adjutant; Kemp C. Clendenin, finance officer; Rev. G. T. Bond, chaplain; Andrew Joyner, Jr., historian, and F. F. Myrick, service officer.

It was not a hard-fought election, though a bit of hard work was done by many friends of the cause, both women and men. Several of the city factory whistle sounded out the victory over the community this evening on the announcement of the poll holders.

NEW POSTMASTER.

R. C. Chandley Succeeds A. Wayland Cooke as Head of Postoffice.

On Tuesday morning R. C. Chandley succeeded A. Wayland Cooke as Greensboro postmaster, the formal transfer having been effected as of midnight Monday.

For six years Mr. Cooke has been postmaster here. His administration has been characterized by steady progress in the various lines of activity and under his supervision the business of the office has grown to great proportions. He resigned some months ago and will now devote his time to the practice of law here.

The transfer of the postoffice from the retiring Democratic incumbent to the incoming Republican appointee was effected without special incident, although naturally a great amount of work was involved in the change.

Postmaster Chandley announces that at present no changes in the personnel of the working force at the postoffice are contemplated. J. H. Armfield remains assistant postmaster and B. S. Eldridge continues to serve as superintendent of mails. The remodeling work which has been in progress at the postoffice for some weeks will be completed this month, Mr. Chandley says.

Mr. Chandley has long been prominently identified with the Republican organization in Guilford county; in fact, he has served as chairman of his party's executive committee in this county. He received the appointment as postmaster after being endorsed for the place by a majority of the members of the executive committee.

TALK OF BONUS.

Senator Simmons' Five Way Plan Is Rejected by Republicans.

Washington, Jan. 31.—Discussion of the long pending soldiers' bonus bill, was renewed today at both ends of the capitol.

Before the house ways and means committee which by agreement of Republican leaders in Congress reopened hearings on the measure, officers or organizations of former service men urged immediate action on the bill and in reply to questions, said the problem of raising the necessary funds was one for Congress to solve.

In the senate Republican leaders frustrated attempts by the Democrats to add the bonus bill to the allied debt refunding measures. After a brief but heated debate, the senate adopted 42 to 28, a motion by Senator Watson, Republican, Indiana, to lay on the table an amendment offered by Senator Simmons, Democrat, North Carolina, incorporating the "five way" adjusted compensation plan.

The amendment would have provided that the bonus be paid out of the interest on the foreign debt and that if this should prove insufficient the secretary of the treasury should issue certificates of indebtedness to be redeemed out of future interest payments, or with the approval of the President to sell so much of the foreign bonds as might be necessary.

Later the senate rejected, 42 to 21, an amendment by Senator Jones, Democrat, New Mexico, which carried the "five way" plan but had no provision for raising funds.

In offering his amendment, Senator Simmons declared that when he had proposed the bonus bill as an amendment to the tax revision measure he had been told that it was the desire of the majority to act on the bonus in connection with the debt refunding bill but that now the Republicans had decided in party conference that the bonus measure should be acted upon separately.

H. Johnson, near the Methodist orphanage.

The district convention will be attended by tobacco farmers from Guilford, Rockingham, Caswell and Randolph counties. A director will be chosen at that convention to represent this district in the Co-operative Marketing association.

Approximately 200 farmers, representing the various sections of the county, attended the meeting in this city. Several interesting talks regarding farm problems were made.

REFUNDING BILL.

Senate Adopts Measure Providing For Refunding of Foreign Debt.

Washington, Jan. 31.—The bill authorizing the refunding of the eleven billion dollar foreign debt into securities maturing in not less than 25 years was passed tonight by the senate.

The vote was 39 to 25. Final enactment of the measure must await adjustment of differences between the house and senate which is expected within a week or in days.

Three Republicans—Borah, La Follette and Norris—joined with the solid Democratic minority in opposing the bill.

Under the terms of the bill a commission of five members, headed by the secretary of the treasury, would have authority, subject to the approval of the President, to refund or convert, and to extend the time of the payment of the principal or the interest, or both, of the foreign debt.

The date of the maturity of the obligations accepted by the commission could not extend beyond June 15, 1947, and the interest rate could not be less than 4 per cent. Bonds of one foreign government could not be accepted for those of another, nor could any part of the foreign indebtedness be cancelled.

The life of the commission would be three years from the date of the approval of the act and the members, other than the secretary of the treasury would be appointed by the President subject to confirmation by the senate. During its life the commission would be required to make annual reports to Congress at the beginning of each regular session in December.

Only members of the cabinet and of Congress will be appointed on the debt commission, according to Senator Watson, Republican, Indiana, who told the senate during debate today that, although he was not authorized by the President to make such an announcement, he nevertheless knew that this was the President's intention.

PUBLIC HEALTH

By Wm. M. Jones, M. D.

The most vital asset of a community is the health and happiness of its people. The entire question of public health rests upon that of education and intelligent co-operation of the individual with the specialist. Health departments all over the country are far less interested in restrictive laws and ordinances, than in public health education.

A sound fundamental knowledge of the principle of physiology, hygiene and sanitation and the simple application of this knowledge is the only essential. There is nothing strange or mysterious about public health or even individual or personal health.

Yet many of us endeavor to make a mystery of it. Knowing that many superstitions exist and much misinformation is abroad, this department will endeavor to proceed only from facts that are known by experience to be true, so that information if given may be depended upon as correct.

Tuberculosis.

Tuberculosis, or consumption as it is sometimes called, is a disease that affects both man and beast. It is not inherited but is communicated only by those having the disease. The disease is due to a small germ which was discovered by Dr. Koch about 1881, and is known as Koch's bacillus or T. B. (tubercular bacillus.)

It may affect or attack any part of the body and it is a mistaken idea that it attacks only the lungs. What is known as Scrofula, is tuberculosis of the glands of the neck. Not that all enlarged glands of the neck are always due to tuberculosis, and we may simply on observation say it is Scrofula, when it is not.

Tuberculosis not infrequently affects the bones of the spinal column and it is then called Potts disease, and when it effects the knee joint it is called white swelling. But every case of swollen knee is not white swelling. The germ may attack the coverings of the brain and spinal cord, when we call it tubercular meningitis, or they may attack the peritoneum covering the organs in the abdominal cavity, when we call it tubercular peritonitis.

We have been making a fight against tuberculosis for years, much of the time we were fighting in the dark or we did not know the cause. But since Dr. Koch demonstrated that the cause was a germ of microscopic size, and proved by animal experimentation that it was the only cause, we have been fighting intelligently, and in the last twenty years have reduced the death rate 25 per cent, so at this rate it will not be many generations before it will be a rare disease. How has this been brought about? Simply by giving the public the correct information as to how it was spread and what to do to prevent those who have it from scattering it and at the same time saving those who do not have it from getting it.

DR. LONG AT COLLEGE
LECTURES ON CANCER.

In the auditorium of Greensboro college Monday night Dr. J. W. Long, of this city, delivered an unusually interesting address on the cause and prevention of cancer. The speaker was introduced by President S. B. Turrentine. Dr. Long said that cancer can be readily cured if properly treated in the early stage. He declared that in the United States the annual death toll from cancer totals 90,000 persons; of that number, one-half could be cured if treatment were applied early enough, he said.

Motion pictures showing methods of combating the cancer menace were exhibited by William A. Roberts, of this city.

Deeds filed at the county courthouse Tuesday described the transfer of two lots on North Edgeworth street for $11,000. One of these, Lot No. 3 of the J. F. Jordan home place, was sold by M. W. OLD EARTH SLIPPING

New York, Jan. 31.—The earth in its dizzying whirl through space got off center for a few moments today and shifted its "poles" or axes to fit the new center of rotation.

Then, in order that it might not be traveling on a "flat wheel," so to speak, a few million tons of solid rock, somewhere off the western coast of the United States in the bed of the Pacific ocean "slipped" a millimeter and a half to even things up.

This is the manner in which professors of geology and seismographic observers account for the violent earth vibrations which demoralized instruments in observatories throughout this country today. Thus far the exact location of the huge "slip" has not been determined, although observers from Washington, D. C., to Berkeley, Cal., agree that it probably was a few hundred miles off the mouth of the Columbia river.

The absence of a recorded disruption of the visible surface of the earth or of the huge tidal waves which usually radiate from the scene of an earthquake lead the observers to believe the "slip" occurred miles below the bed of the ocean. Its violence was attested by the quivering sismographs, which in some instances were thrown from the recording rolls, while a "strong machine" at Berkeley was set in motion for the first time in many years. "No doubt the earth was readjusting itself," said Prof. J. J. Lynch, seismographic observer at Fordham university here.

"About every so often the earth becomes upset, goes off center, changes its axis and usually, about the same time there is a violent earthquake, a slipping of miles or strata, and we go merrily along again."

The Andes, along the Pacific coast in South America, and the chain of rocky deformations which join the two continents disappearing into the sea off southern California, are continually lifting, falling and "slipping," according to the seismologist and the geologist.

BATTLES WITH 50.

Aged Negro Stands Off 50
Policemen For Hour
With Pistol.

Boston, Jan. 31.—Renzy Murray, a 62-year-old negro who stood off 50 policemen for more than an hour early today in a gun battle that centered around his South End home, spent tonight in jail, charged with the murder of Patrolman Daniel McShane. The policeman, shot by the negro from a window of his strong hold, died at a hospital at noon. Two hundred shots are estimated to have been fired before Murray was captured.

William Jackson, a negro who lives in the same house, and Julian Scott, a resident of the neighborhood, were in hospitals tonight suffering from bullet wounds and a five months' old baby was suffering from burns sustained while on its bed in an upper room of the Murray home. The fire which nearly consumed the mattress, is believed to have been caused by powder flashes from Murray's revolver.

The trouble started when a woman lodger left the house to tell the police that Murray had threatened to shoot her. McShane and three other policemen accompanied her back to the residence. They found the door barricaded and Murray shouted an invitation to them to come to a window.

They did so and McShane started to clamber in. He was greeted with three shots from the negro's revolver and dropped to the sidewalk with a bullet in his abdomen.

McShane's comrades promptly summoned assistance. Lieutenant Dunlay ordered out the reserves, sent several patrolmen from their beats to the scene and directed the dispatch of two riot guns to Murray's barricaded dwelling. Meantime, the fire department had been summoned and was prepared to bring out the negro by the use of high pressure nozzles. From both front and rear the police fired several volleys into the house, but Murray refused to come out. Two patrolmen who worked their way through the house, finally found him in the attic and brought him down stairs.

When the officers appeared in the doorway with their prisoner the crowd which had gathered loudly threatened Murray. There was a rush in his direction and it was with difficulty that he was landed in the patrol wagon.

CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE IN
DEBT ABOUT $3,500 NOW

The committee which directed the recent campaign for establishment of a tuberculosis hospital in Guilford county has about $3,500 indebtedness, according to a statement made by E. D. Broadhurst at Tuesday's meeting of the Greensboro Rotary club. Mr. Broadhurst thought the statement would be of particular interest to the Rotary club as original sponsor of the movement. In reporting upon the successful conclusion of the campaign R. G. Vaughn said that much of the credit should go to Mr. Broadhurst and Julius W. Cone.

Several stitches were required to mend the gash.

THIS STATE LEADS.

Ahead of All Other Southern States in Number of Spindles.

Charlotte, Jan. 30.—North Carolina leads all southern states in the increase in the number of spindles during the year 1921, with South Carolina a close second, according to Clark's annual spindle increase list, the compilation of which has just been completed. The increase for every state in the south is the smallest of any year during the past twelve, the total increase being only 298,000 spindles as compared with 663,000 during 1920. The increase in the number of spindles in North Carolina last year was 92,728. The number in South Carolina was 89,072, the next nearest state being Georgia with 47,340.

The most striking feature of the spindle increase list and other data contained in the current issue of the Southern Textile Bulletin is the tremendous lead which North Carolina has over all other southern states in the matter of mills under construction. Measured by spindles, North Carolina has under construction 351,676 out of a total for the entire south of 402,604.

Another striking comparison is found in the capital stock of southern mills, the aggregate capital reported being $423,337,277. North Carolina has a substantial lead in capital invested with a total of $159,035,370, South Carolina being next with $119,612,002.

Tennessee led all states in the installation of new knitting machines during 1921 with 987. North Carolina installed 817 machines, no other state being as high as 200.

According to Clark's list there are now in the southern states 16,265,218 spindles, 304,544 looms and 43,187 knitting machines.

Notwithstanding the ups and downs of the past year, the textile industry in North Carolina and the south generally is in a stronger position today than it was a year ago, according to textile leaders. Better business and steady improvement are anticipated for the present year notwithstanding temporary quiet at the present time. Incidentally, most southern manufacturers are looking for higher prices for cotton, not only on account of the unprecedented short crop during the last year but because the carry-over of the previous year contains much unspinnable cotton.

Cotton manufacturers of the south attribute the remarkable development of the industry in this section during the past decade or more to three primary causes. First, natural conditions that are superior to those of any other section; second, to the cordial relationship which exists between employer and employee; and third, to the high type of the southern textile worker.

Notwithstanding the occasional labor disturbances which have occurred in isolated instances during the past two or three years, it is frequently pointed out that the southern textile workers are with rare exceptions American born with American ideals and independent American spirit.

Say This to Yourself

"Just wait a minute until I make a check for the amount." Doesn't that sound business-like?

And isn't drawing a check a great deal easier and more convenient than paying money in bills and small change?

The man or woman who uses a check book instead of a purse in business is safeguarded from losing money, making the wrong change or paying a bill twice—the cancelled check being a legal receipt.

Folks who consider themselves young can recall the time when rubber-tired buggies were considered the acme of transportation bifurcation, but an extensive display of them now would probably cause some excitable modern to call out the fire department.

A NEW DEPARTMENT OF THE PATRIOT.

Ask any medical man to tell you what has been the principal factor in the advancement of public health—advancement which has been costing 97 lives, with others probably rapidly in recent years—and he will unhesitatingly give you the answer in one word: education. When the people know, for example, that mosquitoes are productive of ill health, they may usually be relied upon to make the mosquito live hard—or die with commendable thoroughness. When they are aware of the fact that fresh air is conducive to physical well being, the available supply of fresh air may confidently be expected to increase in a substantial measure.

Surely it would be impossible to overestimate the importance of health. Impairment of one's health means not only impairment of the individual capacity for earning and just happen. They can not be blameworthy, it also means an economic and social loss to communities, states and nations. Therefore The Patriot considers that it would be particularly fortunate because of having been able to perfect with tests and engineers for? To build Dr. Wm. M. Jones, Guilford county health officer, an arrangement whereby Dr. Jones will conduct in this paper a department to be known as "Public Health." In this undertaking he will be given broad authority; he will discuss in his own way health matters which he deems of value and interest to the public. It is unnecessary to point out that Dr. Jones is recognized as a public health officer of conspicuous ability; erected that would stand? It would be the new department in his capable hands The Patriot is confident that it will be in position to render its readers valuable service in the sphere of public health.

Questions regarding matters of public health may be addressed to The Patriot and will be referred to Dr. Jones, who has kindly consented to undertake to answer such queries in the new department, the answers, of course, to be published in this paper. It is the purpose of The Patriot to publish Dr. Jones' articles at frequent intervals. The management of The Patriot is confident that "Public Health" will prove one of the most popular features of this newspaper.

THE ALLIED DEBT.

The question of the allied debt to the United States will not down. With plans made for a commission to handle the matter, to get it in some sort of shape, probably to arrange to convert the obligations into long time bonds, it becomes again a live question.

There is strong disposition throughout the United States to demand payment of this debt, some time. Every suggestion made that it be cancelled or partly cancelled meets with opposition, and generally very effective opposition. The powers granted to the debt funding commission are closely restricted; there is a fear in some quarters that the commission would do something to cancel or partly cancel some of the debt.

Now, nobody knows what to do about it. The people of the United States are not willing to cancel the debt. They know that in a similar case the United States would be called on to pay and would pay. But Europe is in a bad way. They have no money and not much of anything else. They can not pay now. They simply have not got the money. They can not be foreclosed on like an individual. Even if they could be the United States would not do it. It would harm the United States almost as much as Europe for the nations of Europe to collapse economically.

There will, undoubtedly, however, have to be made arrangements giving Europe a long time to pay. It may not be necessary to cancel any of the debts of any of the nations, but they will have to have plenty of time. Given time they should be able to pay, for the recuperative powers of nations, as of individuals, are astonishing.

TOO CARELESS.

A great disaster always brings in its wake investigations. Now, with the terrible catastrophe of the Knickerbocker theater at Washington, advancement which has been costing 97 lives, with others probably rapidly in recent years—and he will unhesitatingly give you the answer in one word: education.

It's too late. The dead are dead, terribly mangled by the falling of a steel and concrete roof, falling without warning. The dying can not be saved by an investigation. The injured will limp through life though Congress investigated forever. Even though a few builders be placed in jail, it is too late.

It is true that after an investigation, if prosecuted with vigor, and if fines and prison terms were made heavy enough, others might be more careful. The disaster is undoubtedly somebody's fault. Such things means not only impairment of the individual capacity for earning and just happen. They can not be blameworthy, it also means an economic and social loss to communities, states and nations.

The theater, even though it had not been practicable to build a roof that would withstand snow, should have been closed. What are architects and engineers for? To build Dr. Wm. M. Jones, Guilford county health officer, an arrangement whereby Dr. Jones will conduct in this paper a department to be known as "Public Health." In this undertaking he will be given broad authority; he will discuss in his own way health matters which he deems of value and interest to the public. It is unnecessary to point out that Dr. Jones is recognized as a public health officer of conspicuous ability; erected that would stand? It would be the new department in his capable hands The Patriot is confident that it will be in position to render its readers valuable service in the sphere of public health.

We are too careless. After a calamity we all weep and shout and succor the distressed. All Washington mourned but it would have been better to have built a theater roof that would have stood, or to have forbidden the presentation of pictures while the roof was heavy with snow. It is proper to mourn, but it could all have been averted.

When we all quit being so careless there will be less cause for regret. The things which cannot be averted are very many; we should at least take care to prevent what can be prevented.

THE RETIRING POSTMASTER AND THE NEW.

Following six years of faithful efficient service as Greensboro's postmaster, A. Wayland Cooke, who resigned many months ago, has been succeeded by R. C. Chandley, and Mr. Cooke will now devote his time to the practice of law, his chosen profession. The transfer was effected Tuesday.

That the exacting duties of postmaster have been discharged with signal fidelity and ability by Mr. Cooke is known of all men. He developed an organization of splendid caliber and turns the office over to his successor in fine shape. Under the administration of Mr. Cooke the business of the office has grown with gratifying rapidity, but in spite of the greatly increased responsibilities and duties which that expansion naturally entailed, efficiency has characterized the activities of the Greensboro postoffice. The increase in the volume of business handled has been steady, a healthy upturn having been noted from year to year. And throughout that expansion period Postmaster Cooke has constantly borne in mind the paramountcy of public service, of fine character.

Unquestionably the inadequacy of the present federal building makes the work much more difficult than it would be ordinarily. Some day, the optimists declare, Greensboro will have a new postoffice, and it is to be hoped that the optimists are right.

The retiring Democratic postmaster is succeeded by a Republican who has a reputation for doing things well. Mr. Chandley is recognized as a man of noteworthy business ability. He should have—doubtless will have—the cordial cooperation of all the people, irrespective of their party affiliation, in his efforts to carry forward efficiently the affairs of this important post.

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 30.—Four million pounds of tobacco were delivered to the warehouses of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Marketing Association when those outside Lexington were opened today for the first time this season. As was the case when the houses here opened last week, it was said that growers received more money in advance for their crops this year than they sold them for last season. No reports of dissatisfied growers were received.

Tobacco buyers tonight contrasted conditions as they existed today with those of the opening day for marketing the 1920 crop. Low prices paid for the weed then caused so much dissatisfaction that in several cases the warehouses were closed for a time.

GREAT THEATER FIRE TO BE INVESTIGATED.

Washington, Jan. 30.—Investigation of the Knickerbocker theater disaster by a senate committee is proposed in a resolution introduced by Senator Capper, Republican, Kansas, a member of the senate District of Columbia committee. Under the rules the resolution was referred to the audits and control committee.

Supporting the resolution, Senator Frelinghuysen, Republican, New Jersey, said the investigation should be "a widespread one of the entire district government" adding that he knew from personal knowledge that many buildings in Washington were "fire traps" which might at any time cost scores of lives.

"I think the time has come when some committee of Congress should be appointed to inquire into the whole subject of the enforcement of laws in the District of Columbia," Senator Frelinghuysen declared. "For one thing, there is a laxity of traffic laws and their administration."

HOSPITAL BODY WILL MEET IN WILSON NEXT.

High Point, Jan. 31.—Wilson was selected as the next meeting place of the North Carolina Hospital association today. The association held its fourth annual session here today with about one hundred doctors and several registered nurses from the leading hospitals of the state in attendance.

At this afternoon's session new officers were elected as follows: John A. Williams, of Greensboro, president; J. M. Parrott, of Kinston, first vice-president; Blair S. Martin, of Mt. Airy, second vice-president; C. S. Lawrence, of Winston-Salem, third vice-president; John W. Long, of Greensboro, secretary and treasurer.

The new executive committee is composed of J. T. Burrus, of High Point; J. Q. Myers, of Charlotte, and L. B. McBrayer, of Sanatorium. A banquet was tendered the delegates this evening and at a public meeting tonight Dr. Howard A. Kelly, of Baltimore, delivered an address on radium and Dr. J. W. Long, of Greensboro, gave an illustrated lecture on cancer.

GRIEF-STRIKEN MAN SLASHES OWN THROAT.

New York, Jan. 30.—Grief over the recent death of Baron Rosen, former Russian ambassador to the United States, was believed to be responsible for the suicide here today of Capt. Francis M. Barber, formerly of the United States navy. The two men had been intimate friends for two score years, and since Baron Rosen's death Captain Barber was declared by friends to have been nervous and melancholy.

Captain Barber was found in a locked washroom at the University club in Fifth avenue, with his throat cut. A razor was clutched in his right hand.

He was born in Ohio 76 years ago and was graduated from the naval academy at Annapolis in 1856. In 1895 he was naval attaché in Japan and China. His wife died in Switzerland eight years ago.

Didn't Know of Death.

Spencer, Jan. 31.—While the body of Thomas Hoaglin, a Spencer man, was on its way from Baltimore, where he died in a hospital, his wife, Mrs. Sallie Hoaglin, was on her way to Baltimore, not knowing of her husband's death. Mrs. Hoaglin was marooned in the snow jam before reaching Washington and it was impossible to get news of her husband's death to her.

To Test Bond Issue.

Raleigh, Jan. 31.—Following questioning of the constitutionality of the state of North Carolina's five million dollar school bond issue, an early test before the state Supreme court has been planned, it became known here today.

Novel School to Open.

Raleigh, Feb. 1.—America's first school for training teachers for work among adult illiterates will be opened in Asheville next June under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Kelly, director of the adult illiterate work for the state department of education. She will be assisted by Mrs. Elizabeth Morris and Prof. Alton C. Roberts.

Exports Decline Sharply.

Washington, Jan. 30.—Exports to Europe during the past year fell off by more than $2,000,000,000 as compared with 1920, while exports to South America declined by more than $300,000,000, according to foreign trade reports issued today by the commerce department.

MILITARY HONORS MARK SOLDIER'S FINAL BURIAL.

Lenoir, Jan. 30.—The last taps were sounded over the grave of Sergeant W. R. Minish Sunday afternoon when his remains arrived here from France for final interment. He was given full military honors by his brother members of Battery E.

Minish joined Battery E when it was organized in July, 1917, and went with it when ordered overseas. On September 12, 1918, he was severely wounded in the fighting around Boullionville, and was carried to the hospital. On November 14 of the same year he died in the hospital, never recovering from the wounds inflicted while in battle. He was buried in France with military honors.

It was the request of Sergeant Minish that if he died overseas that his body be brought back home, and following up this request his body arrived in Hoboken, N. J., several days ago, and a wire was received here by relatives giving this information.

FORMER BANK CASHIER GETS PRISON SENTENCE

Raleigh, Jan. 31.—Chief Bank Examiner Clarence Latham returned yesterday from Burgaw where he was the chief prosecuting witness at the trial of E. H. Page, former cashier of the Bank of Atkinson, charged with embezzlement and forgery. Page was found guilty and sentenced to serve five years in the state prison.

According to the evidence, Page withdrew upwards of $17,000 from the bank, and accounted for it with notes which were alleged to have been forgeries. It was also in evidence that he raised an $8 check to $580. Other defalcations were also shown in the evidence. The losses were made good by the bonding company, and the bank is in excellent condition, Mr. Latham declared.

Build 100 Negro Schools.

Raleigh, Feb. 2.—North Carolina will build at least one hundred negro school houses this year under the Rosenwald fund which has allotted $80,000 to the state for the year, according to S. L. Smith, of Nashville, Tenn., general field agent for the Rosenwald foundation established by Julius Rosenwald.

No Fire Damage in Month.

During the month of January the damage from fire in Greensboro totaled—exactly nothing, the official records of the city fire department show. This is considered a very remarkable and gratifying showing. Incidentally, City Manager P. C. Painter attributes the splendid record in large measure to the excellent work of Captain Frank Shaw.

The thing that worries the boss, however, is the number of unemployed on the pay-roll, Warren Chronicle.

Charged With Embezzlement.
Raleigh, Feb. 1.—W. W. Rouark, negro real estate dealer of Raleigh, was yesterday arrested on a warrant from Winston-Salem, charging him with the embezzlement of $340 from Richard Anthony. The dealer promptly produced a certified check for $1,000 in lieu of the required bond. Raleigh authorities will ask that the case in Winston-Salem be deferred pending trial of an action here in which Rouark is a witness.

The Germans should get credit for starting this scrapping of warships.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Profit by last year's lesson

DID you get a bale of cotton per acre last year? It is becoming generally known that a small percentage of Southern farmers did.

Plenty of fertilizer, plus plenty of hard work, overcame the boll weevil, crop diseases and adverse weather conditions. Last year's lesson proves that plenty of complete fertilizer at planting time is essential under boll weevil conditions.

If you have no cotton to sell you are no better off with 20 cent cotton than 10 cent cotton.

Your job is to decide the extent of your farming operations and then try to make sure of a crop at the lowest cost per pound or per bushel by using Swift's Red Steer Fertilizers.

Fertilize peanuts and other crops as well as cotton and tobacco. All crops must be produced at lowest cost to make the most profit.

Buy Swift's Red Steer Fertilizers from your local Swift dealer or write us direct.

Swift's Red Steer Fertilizers are the result of years of research and practical experience.

Swift's Red Steer Fertilizers for cotton are prepared especially to get ahead of the boll weevil. They contain the right amount of quickly available plant food to cause a quick start and a sufficient amount of more slowly available plant food to insure continuous growth and early, complete maturity.

Use Swift's Red Steer Fertilizers and play safe. Use brands containing more than 14% of plant food and save money. Use the amount per acre that has proved the most profitable in your locality.

CAROLINA WEDDINGS

WINDY NIGHTS.

Whenever the moon and stars are set,
Whenever the wind is high,
All night long in the dark and wet,
A man goes riding by.
Late in the night when the fires are out,
Why does he gallop and gallop about?

Whenever the trees are crying aloud,
And ships are tossed at sea,
By, on the highway, low and loud,
By at the gallop goes he.
By at the gallop he goes, and then
By he comes back at the gallop again.

—ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON.

Others near by who would have gone to the rescue of Epstein were held at bay by a man who flashed a pistol.
