COUNTY TO SELL MILLION DOLLARS WORTH OF BONDS

COMMISSIONERS THUS PROVIDE FOR ROAD WORK—JURORS ARE DRAWN.

On March 15 bids will be received here for $1,000,000 worth of Guilford county bonds in accordance with an agreement reached Monday by the county commissioners. The money to be obtained through sale of the bonds will be used to defray the cost of road improvements. In connection with the bonds it was pointed out that such securities may now be sold at 5 per cent interest. The issue was authorized in a special election on December 14, 1920, but their sale has been deferred because of conditions in the bond market. As a result of the waiting policy the taxpayers of the county will save about $8,000, according to Chairman J. A. Rankin, of the county board.

Numerous road problems were brought to the attention of the commissioners Tuesday, but no definite action was taken in regard to the petitions.

Request that the board provide financial assistance in operating clubrooms and an armory for the second battalion headquarters company, North Carolina national guard, was presented by Major Ralph F. Faison. Action regarding the request was deferred in order that further consideration might be given the matter.

The following jurors were drawn for service at the term of Superior court to convene here on March 13 for the trial of criminal cases:

Continuance of the case against Baxter Sherwell, his wife, Susan Sherwell, and the Mays Accounting Machine company, of Thomasville, was ordered Tuesday by Federal Judge James E. Boyd here because of failure of Sherwell to appear. The hearing is now scheduled for February 28. Motion for continuance of the hearing was made by attorneys for the plaintiffs, who stated that the process ordering Sherwell to appear for the hearing had not been served on him. Sherwell also has avoided service of capias in connection with his sentence of 30 months on the Davidson county roads for assaulting Lexington lawyers.

The bill in equity was filed by W. J. Shepherd, O. H. W. Howard and Ben. F. Barbour to prevent Sherwell or his agents from controlling the affairs of the Mays company.

DYER CASE IS SETTLED BY FORMAL AGREEMENTS

SEPARATION AGREED TO AND MR DYER TO PROVIDE FINANCIAL SUPPORT.

Settlement of the litigation between Mrs. Ninna Barnes Dyer and her husband, Willard M. Dyer, of High Point, was effected Tuesday when a deed of separation was filed in the office of Register of Deeds R. H. Wharton at the county courthouse.

This action brings to a sudden close the divorce case instituted some months ago by Mrs. Dyer against her husband. Under the provisions of the agreement signed by Mr. and Mrs. Dyer the latter is given absolute custody of their child, Jarrell. Mrs. Dyer secured alimony from her husband, who also agrees to provide for the support of their child, and to pay $600 attorney fees for his wife.

In her suit for divorce Mrs. Dyer charged her husband with cruelty and non-support. In his answer to the complaint Mr. Dyer alleged that his wife was guilty of immorality, naming Lucy W. Seawell in that connection. There was a hearing in the case last September in Guilford Superior court, Judge James L. Webb of Shelby, presiding. Judge Webb announced that at a latter date he would hand down a decision. However, the deed of separation closes the case.

The couple, according to the agreement, will remain separated. During the remainder of 1922 Mr. Dyer will pay Mrs. Dyer $100 per month. During 1923 and 1924 he will pay her $150 per month. For the support of their child he is to pay $50 per month from March 1, 1922, to December 31, 1924, after which the amount will be not less than $50 per month and "a larger sum if necessary."

The officers were re-elected as follows: H. R. Bush, Greensboro, president; Dr. L. S. Blades, Elizabeth City, vice-president; George Hackney, Wilson, second vice-president; G. O. Mitchell, Greensboro, secretary, and William G. Davis, Greensboro, treasurer.

FINAL SESSION OF ARMS CONFERENCE IS HISTORY

COVENANTS SIGNED AND PRESIDENT HARDING IS PLEASED WITH RESULTS.

Washington, Feb. 6.—Its covenants finally signed and sealed, the Washington conference was passed on to history today by President Harding as "an example to imbue with new hope all that dwell in apprehension."

Speaking before a plenary session which brought to a close the negotiations begun twelve weeks ago at his invitation the President declared the record of achievement voiced in courageous tones "the first deliberate and effective expression of great powers, in the consciousness of peace, of war's utter futility."

Before him as he pronounced his appraisal day, newly signed, the treaties by which the predominant nations of the world engaged to put a limit on their navies, to guarantee a new deal for China, and to set up an international concord to keep the peace in the Pacific.

"If matters little," said Mr. Harding, "what we appraise as the outstanding accomplishment. Any one of them alone would have justified the conference. But the whole achievement has so cleared the atmosphere that it will seem like breathing the refreshing air of a new born dawn of promise."

"It may be that the naval holiday here contracted will expire with the treaties, but I do not believe it. Those of us who live another decade are more likely to witness a growth of public opinion, strengthened by the new experience, which will make nations more concerned with living to the fulfillment of God's high intent than with agencies of warfare and destruction."

"Since this conference of nations has pointed with unanimity to the way of peace today, like conference in the future, under appropriate conditions and with aims well conceived and definite, may illumine the highways and byways of human activity. The torches of understanding have been lighted, and they ought to glow and encircle the globe."

The President delivered his parting message to the delegates as soon as the formal signing of the treaties had been concluded, and when he finished the conference closed, as it had opened on November 12, with prayer. Within a few hours some of the foreign delegations already had left Washington and most of the others will go tomorrow. Four treaties and a supplement to a fifth were given final approval today but their red wax seals had been attached in advance and the entire ceremony occupied less than an hour. No other business remained and the seventh and final plenary session came to an end at 11:13 a. m., one hour and eleven minutes after it was called to order.

In order of their signature, the instruments to which the plenipotentiaries affixed their names were the four-power Pacific treaty supplement, excluding the principal Japanese Islands from the scope of the pact; the five-power naval limitation treaty; the five-power submarine and poison gas treaty; the nine-power general Far Eastern treaty, and the nine-power Chinese tariff treaty. Of the three other treaties resulting from the Washington negotiations that relating to Shantung was signed Saturday and those dealing with cable rights in Yap and a location of the former German-Pacific cables are yet to be put into formal form by direct exchanges between the interested governments. The four-power Pacific treaty was signed December 13.

The signing took place at the desk of secretary-general in the center of the great hollow square formed by the U-shaped green balsa table about which all the plenary sessions of the conference were held. Only one delegate sat at the desk at a time, but to shorten the ceremony it was arranged that each should sign in immediate succession all the documents to which his government was party. Applause from the hundreds who had crowded the Continental Hall to see the wind-up of the conference the American delegation ed around the U-shaped table and into the hollow square a few minutes after the session began. One after another Secretary Hughes, Senator Lodge, Senator Underwood and Elihu Root wrote their names to the five agreements, each touching lightly, as a token of approval, the seals already set opposite the spaces left for his signature.

A hum of conversation kept up throughout the hall, interrupted by applause as each of the American delegates rose and gave way for the next to sign. All of the foreign delegates were applauded too, as they came up in turn to give the consummating approval of their governments to the achievements of the conference.

Called in alphabetical order, the Belgian, British, Chinese, French, Italians, Japanese, Netherlands and Portuguese delegations followed the Americans and the hand clapping which followed conclusion of the ceremony scarcely had begun to die out when it was renewed at the appearance of President Harding. Many times during his address he was applauded, and when he finished delegates and spectators rose and joined in a demonstration which ended only when the Rev. William S. Abernethy, standing at the head of the table, raised his hand and began the final prayer.

SIX KNOWN DEAD IN FIRE IN RICHMOND, MANY HURT

BELIEVED 14 FATALLY INJURED—22 MISSING, AND BIG PROPERTY LOSS.

Richmond, Va., Feb. 7.—Six known dead, 33 reported missing or unaccounted for and twenty-eight known injured, fourteen of whom are believed to be fatally hurt, is the toll of the fire which swept over an area of half a city block here early this morning, destroying the Lexington hotel and several other buildings and entailing a loss variously estimated at from $250,000 to $500,000.

The fire was discovered at 4:10 o'clock this morning in the hotel and rapidly spread to adjoining establishments. Other buildings destroyed or gutted were the Pearl Laundry, the plant of Clyde W. Saunders, printers, the Savings Bank of Richmond, Branch, Cabell and company and E. R. Lafferty and company, and the Co-operative Producers' Exchange. Twenty-two patients are at one hospital, the Virginia, three are at the Memorial, two at the Johnston-Willis and one at the Grace hospital.

At police headquarters a force of men still is busy in an effort to check off those accounted for on the list of guests in the hotel. From seventy-five to eighty-five persons were known to have been in the hotel when the fire began.

Seventy-two guests were registered at the hotel. Smoke from the stairs of the basement gave the first warning of the fire to T. D. Frey, night clerk, who sounded an alarm. Summoning the fire apparatus, he returned to the hotel and aroused many guests.

Improvements were being made in the building. The telephone switchboard had been disconnected to permit new installations and the elevator had not been operated in several weeks. There was no opportunity to warn those occupying the rooms on the upper floor.

Fanned by a draught in the temporarily abandoned elevator shaft, the fire leaped toward the roof. In a movement the five avenues of escape—a front, center and rear staircase and two fire escapes at front and rear—were cut off. Guests rushed from their rooms to find the dimly-lighted hallways and corridors filled with smoke. The stairs were pits of flame, roaring upward through the semi-darkness.

A few found time to seize blankets and other wraps, but the majority were clad only in their night clothing. The windows of the hotel were filled with frenzied guests climbing outward on the sills to escape the creep of the flames and crying for help.

PUBLIC HEALTH

By Wm. M. Jones, M. D.

Few of us recognize the great necessity of fresh air. However if we will only stop and think for a few minutes and compare the lack of air, with other necessities such as water and food, we will be quickly convinced. You know that you can go for days, and some have gone for weeks and even months, without food, before they finally succumb, that you can go days without water, but you find that you can exist for minutes only, without air.

Fresh pure air is one of the prime factors, necessary for a strong healthy life. And it should be available both night and day. Some years ago many people were afraid of night air, because they believed it contained some poison that caused a fever, particularly malaria fever. This idea came about from the fact that those who were out at night or slept with windows open, were the ones who had the fever.

So it was nothing but natural to place the blame upon night air, claiming that nuisance or bad air arose from the swamps and ponds that produced the disease.

But today we know the cause absolutely and do not have to make up an explanation that will fit the facts. We know that instead of a nuisance or bad air arising from the swamps and ponds, that something does arise from the swamps and ponds and cause the disease, but that this something is a very material thing, that we can see, hear and especially feel, that it is a certain kind of mosquito. That the mosquito bites some one who has the disease and later shoots his bill like a hypodermic into some one who is free of the disease and injects the poison. Then in a few days or weeks this person begins to show the disease. So have fresh air day and night, but in mosquito season, screen the doors and windows to keep her out.

MECKLENBURG CITIZENS
OBJECT TO HIGH TAXES.

Charlotte, Feb. 6.—More than 300 citizens of Mecklenburg met today to protest against high taxes and extravagance of city, county, state and nation. E. M. Cole was temporary chairman, meeting was called he stated, to ask why taxes are continually rising. Another meeting will be held in March for further consideration of grievances. In the meantime a committee of five will formulate questions in regard to taxation. Ray Lee, read a resolution voicing sentiment that representatives of this county should give ten days notice before introducing a bill into the legislature that would materially affect tax payers, later will submit a resolution to vote. Same was practically endorsed by those present. R. W. H. Stone, of Greensboro, president of the State Farmers' union, said Mr. Lee's suggestion was admirable and that he proposed to recommend it in other counties.

SUES GOVERNOR

Miss Birkhead Asks For
$100,000 in Mississippi
For Seduction.

Jackson, Miss., Feb. 6.—A $100,000 damage suit based upon alleged seduction, filed by Miss Frances C. Birkhead against Lee M. Russell, governor of Mississippi, in the United States district court here today, according to prominent officials "presages one of the bitterest and most sensational episodes in all the series of legal and political wars for which this state has been noted."

Miss Birkhead, who now resides in New Orleans, was a stenographer in Mr. Russell's office here, while he was serving as lieutenant governor. She charged that she was betrayed by the present chief executive with avowals of love and promises of marriage "after he could get a divorce from his wife." Her petition names prominent Mississippians as being acquainted with her relations with Governor Russell.

In her bill of particulars which was filed by Attorney Thomas Foster, of Vicksburg, Miss., Miss Birkhead asks for $50,000 on each of two counts. The first, alleged seduction, recounts that she was persuaded to "yield to his will" and that as a result the "plaintiff's reputation and character were ruined, and she was caused to lose her employment and her health was ruined to her great damage, in the sum of $50,000."

In the second count Miss Birkhead alleges she underwent an operation "at the instigation of Governor Russell, which totally ruined and wrecked her health causing her to suffer untold anguish and pain, that she is now an invalid and must remain so the rest of her life." For this she asks $50,000 more.

Miss Birkhead declares in a sworn statement, she started work in June, 1918, in the draft department of the adjutant general's office in Jackson, and that it was there she first met the defendant, at that time lieutenant governor of the state. Later, she says, he persuaded her to accept employment in his office as stenographer, and that soon after accepting such employment he began to talk amorously.

"He told me that he had been married for several years, that his wife had no children, that he was not happy with her and that he was then trying to get a divorce," Miss Birkhead says in her statement. "He assured me that as soon as he could get his divorce he would marry me."

Governor Russell, when questioned about the suit today, refused to discuss it further than to declare it to be "the most damnable blackmail-conspiracy in the history of Mississippi." He is said to have declared, previous to the filing of the suit, that he had frequently heard of a "scheme to bring a suit of this character against me." He attributed it all to a "malicious attempt of his enemies to blacken my character."

SEEKING NEW LAW FOR COUNTY GOVERNMENT.

Raleigh, Feb. 6.—Governor Cameron Morrison is desirous of a new county government law for the state, providing for the complete reorganization of the form of county government and the auditing systems.

Machinery will soon be set in motion to bring the changes. The governor will appoint a commission to investigate and consider the drafting for submission to the next general assembly of a new county government law.

Were it not for the honesty of county officials, county governments would be absolutely worthless to the people under the existing systems, the governor thinks. He believes that a careful study of the subject of a body of capable men, with the resultant passage by the next legislature of wise and comprehensive legislation covering a form of county government that would be a progressive and beneficial movement.

NEXT LEGISLATURE MAY VALIDATE BOND ISSUES.

Raleigh, Feb. 7.—Bond issues for school purposes authorized in elections held under chapter 31, public laws, extra session 1920, recently found to be invalid on account of defective entries in the senate journal, may be validated by the next session of the general assembly, according to an opinion rendered yesterday to the state department of education by Attorney General Jas. S. Manning.

Building for the Future

The first and most important step towards independence and comfort in later life is to start early on the accumulation of a surplus fund.

And the best way in which to build up such a fund is to open a Savings Account in the American Exchange National Bank and add a regular amount to it each time you come to town.

Governor's Appeal

Governor Cameron Morrison issues the following appeal for increased production of foodstuffs in order to avert economic disaster:

North Carolina has been pushed to a high comparative position among the states of the union in the production on our farms of money crops for the market; but our whole agricultural life is weakened by the fact that we have neglected the production of sufficient food on the farms of the state to make our agricultural life independent, and give it strength to stand the periodic vicissitudes of misfortune to the money crops, due to slump in prices, or other causes sure to occur. Much improvement has been made in the last few years in this well understood weakness of the state, but there is yet much to be done. It is hard to "get out of a rut."

A highly competent authority declared recently: "There is not a single county in the state in which there is raised enough food in value or quantity for the human and animal life of the county."

Independently of the approach of the boll weevil, this phase of our agricultural life should be strengthened throughout the state; but the approach of the boll weevil threatens a serious blight to a large area of the state, particularly the great areas devoted largely to the growth of cotton. If the boll weevil should have the devastating effect upon the crops this year in the cotton section of the state that it has had in some of the states to the south of us, and if the people in the cotton section of the state do not raise more food supplies for themselves and their animals than they have heretofore raised, it will certainly result in widespread suffering and destitution. This threatened danger and distress can be largely averted, if it comes, as there is reasonable ground to fear it may, and at the same time, a policy adopted in the agricultural life of the state which will greatly strengthen the whole life of our people, not only in the cotton sections, but in the entire state.

We must so order our agriculture as not to require the immense outlay of money rendered necessary largely to buy the food upon which the people live who grow money crops in the state for the market. The small farmers and tenants cannot stand the periodic slumps which occur from various causes, and the wealthier men and large land owners cannot withstand the boll weevil blight, if it comes, and feed their tenants and farm laborers through it. Buying our food elsewhere and raising money crops requires too much capital, and is too hazardous for our people to engage in on an extensive scale.

I have made every effort to excite the interest and active efforts of the State College of Agriculture and Engineering, the agricultural department, the department of education, and the health department of the state government to lead the people to organize and prepare without delay to increase the production of food raised in the state for home consumption, not only in the threatened areas, but in the whole state. These great departments of our state government are splendidly organized and equipped to help the people in this all-important matter, and they are now moving with energy through their splendid organization of expert men to help. I appeal to the people of the whole state for their active co-operation in the movement.

We must increase our home supply of meat. We cannot raise beef profitably in a large part of the state, but we can raise hogs and poultry of every description on account of our long summer seasons as easily and cheaply as it can be done anywhere in the union. We must increase our meat supply through hogs and poultry. We can raise vegetables of almost every known variety; and keep and maintain milk cows probably more cheaply than it can be done elsewhere in the union. If we would but realize the importance of this matter, we could make hog meat, chicken, turkey and other fowl, meat, eggs, butter and milk so plentiful in the state, particularly on the farm, that our food bill would be trifling compared to the enormous outlay, with the business hazards accompanying it, which we now annually pay.

Independently of the boll weevil threat, because of the periodic slumps in the prices of cotton and tobacco, now raised at such enormous hazard upon purchased supplies, the state ought to tremendously increase hog and poultry raising, home gardening, and the supply of milk, butter and eggs in the state, not for the purpose of making their own money crops, but in order to have abundant, wholesome and cheap food, whatever vicissitudes may overtake the money crops; but the approach of the boll weevil makes it absolute folly not to do so.

And further, our illiterate and uninformed people ought to be made more generally aware of the supreme importance to health of the balanced ration, and of an enlightened world's knowledge of the necessity of nutritious and varied foods.

In furtherance of the foregoing purpose, and in co-operation with the State College of Agriculture and Engineering, the board of agriculture, the department of health, and the department of education, I appeal to the people of the state to have community meetings, and give consideration to this important matter; and to quickly organize for the purpose of promoting a statewide program for more and better home gardens, a heavy increase of the poultry and eggs and milk and butter supply, and the raising of more hog meat in the state.

We urge the people of the state to a careful study of how to make this increase in food in the state economically, and that they adhere to it, not only during the threat of the boll weevil disaster, but until North Carolina becomes a great food-raising state, independent of the threat of periodic disaster through failure to make profit on the money crops.

I do not think it will be wise for our people generally to undertake a first to raise foodstuffs for the market; they will not be successful at first in making money, and will be come discouraged and stop. In course of time, through study and experience, we are quite sure these foods can be raised by our people for the market profitably; but present efforts had best be confined to supplying the family, and feeding the labor raising the money crops.

We ought also to raise every pound of food necessary for our animals. The annual bill of North Carolina for food purchased elsewhere for our animals is enormous. We must raise it all. It is pure speculation to buy food for men and animals upon which to raise cotton and tobacco in North Carolina. Let us organize and learn how to raise all the food we need to feed the animal life of our state, as well as the people. For years we have known this would make the state rich and independent and yet we have failed to do it.

We suggest no new thing, but we are moving with great hope that we can arouse the people to do what they have long known ought to be done.

Your obedient servant,
CAMERON MORRISON.

PROGRESS AT HOME.

Interesting Report For Past Month Made by Children's Home Society.

Report of activities during the first month of the new year by the Children's Home Society of North Carolina, Inc., made by the superintendent, John J. Phoenix, reveals continued progress in various lines. Superintendent Phoenix reports that he attended the National Social Service conference at Samaras on January 26, 27. Two additional workers have been employed and they are now receiving preliminary training under Miss Holt at the receiving home in this city. It is announced. Because of overcrowded conditions in the baby department it was necessary to board all babies arriving in January in private homes. "We hope," says Mr. Phoenix, "before the year expires we will have our own baby unit and thereby be able to handle this branch of work under our personal supervision. We find it very hard to locate private boarding homes for infants and have refused to receive four during January. We thank everyone that has participated in our work during the past and hope for a continuation of this support in the future."

The following facts and figures are embodied in the report:

GOVERNMENT NEEDING INCOME TAX AUDITORS.

The collection of United States internal revenue taxes is a big job. The civil service commission announces that more than 20,000 government employees are engaged in this work, 7,800 of whom are attached to the income tax unit. This latter figure includes more than 5,000 auditors and inspectors of income tax returns who are employed in Washington and in the field.

Notwithstanding this large force, the civil service commission states that the bureau of internal revenue needs several hundred more auditors and inspectors for the income tax unit, and that an examination to fill these positions will be held throughout the country on March 8. The entrance salaries offered range from $1,800 to $3,000 a year. Advancement will depend upon demonstrated efficiency.

New appointees are given a six-weeks course of training in the technicalities of the income tax law and are paid full salary during such instruction.

Full information and application blanks may be obtained from the United States civil service commission, Washington, D. C., or from the civil service board at the postoffice or customhouse in any city.

TEST OF CONFERENCE.

The limitation of armament conference is now a thing of the past. Deliberations are over; delegates are scattered to their homes; treaties are signed; the last game of diplomacy finished; the halls where perhaps the fate of nations was decided are silent. Only time can tell what those deliberations were worth; whether those treaties shall in time of stress be only scraps of paper, whether it was good or bad diplomacy.

There will be opportunity to test it all. Men are but men and human nature is so constituted that suspicion, fear, greed, and misunderstanding are yet powerful forces in the dealings of nations as in the dealings of men. Sooner or later some condition will arise which will put the new treaties to the test, which will decide whether the oft declared friendship is the real thing, whether nations shall cast aside contracts and appeal to force.

The world will not lightly go to war again. No nation will carelessly set a world conflagration to raging. No person or set of persons in charge of the affairs of any nation will again draw the sword as boastfully or as carelessly as did Kaiser Bill. But careful as they will be, hesitant to start something they can not finish, sooner or later, some fool, individual or group or nations of fools, will try to hog something.

Then it is that the work of the arms conference will be put to the test. Then the world will know whether the men at Washington builded well. For that reason the value, the results of the conference can not be known until considerable time has passed.

The world hopes that the results achieved will stand the acid test. It is sick of war and fearful of another war, for it knows that science will have made war a ghastly decimation of whole peoples by the marvellously improved appliances of warfare. "Outlaw" certain deadly instruments of warfare as nations may, once war is declared nations will soon be using them, soon finding substitutes, finding ways to evade the regulations or flout them openly.

If the arms conference has really done something to bring about closer understanding between nations and men, to dissolve some of the suspicions of mankind, to make men discuss troubles instead of rushing to war, that is its greatest contribution to the welfare of man.

In so far as they follow the general lines of the league of nations which Woodrow Wilson proposed, will the new treaties be successful. It is safe to assume. When President Harding was made President he said something about "an association of nations." It was Woodrow Wilson who made the idea of a league or an association, or whatever one wishes to call it, a compelling idea, one that the world seized and demanded be made into something real.

FOOD CROPS FIRST.

Maj. William A. Graham, North Carolina commissioner of agriculture, once said that he never knew a farmer who raised all his own meat, wheat and corn to be foreclosed on, sold out by a mortgagee, turped out of house and home to shiver and shake. Major Graham has been observing things agricultural a long time too.

So many things fit for food for man and beast grow in North Carolina soil, good to eat. Low prices for farm products, so-called money crops, can make a man live mighty hard, perhaps make him wear patches, but can you really starve an energetic man on a piece of land? Can you keep an energetic man, with an energetic wife, living on a plot of ground, good North Carolina ground, from eating three times a day, eating hearty? It is possible that he can be made to sweat long and hard for little money, but he can not be kept from eating.

An energetic man knows how to feed himself and feed his stock. It is no mystery. It requires skill and judgment and hard work, but it can be done and thousands of North Carolina farmers do it. As a rule their houses are painted. Their farms are well kept. They do not shake in the presence of any mortgage man. They are independent. Comes a bad year for tobacco or for cotton and they suffer from it, but they eat and their stock stay fat and their children's mouths are greasy from eating meat.

Governor Morrison, asking that the people of the state grow something to eat, all that they can, is wise. It is only what others have long advised, but it is real wisdom. He would see the man who feeds his stock on Kansas corn and who feeds himself on Iowa wheat, who buys tomatoes in cans and pays out all his revenue from "money" crops for something to eat, change his ways. Gardens, producing more wealth to the square foot than anything else, play a big part in feeding a family. Sometimes you hear of the gardener who has something to eat from his garden every month in the year. That sort of person generally has money in the bank twelve months in the year, too. He does not have to "run" to other people or to wait other people's motions.

With plenty to eat for man and beast, those who raise it will not have to dump their money crops on the market at times of glut, glut meaning lowest prices. They can be independent. They will have the advantage. They will not have to sell. The hungry, who failed with food crops simply because they did not plant them or would not cultivate them thoroughly after they were planted, will have to take what they can get.

No matter what they get it will be enough. When a family buys all that it eats it seems to take a prodigious amount, although the family never eats hearty nor has enough.

You remember what old Ben Franklin said: "Plough deep while luggards sleep and you will have corn to sell and to keep." Corn to sell and to keep. That is farming and that is living.

A BIG OPPORTUNITY.

If Henry Ford is given a chance to develop Muscle Shoals great good will result to the south and to the whole nation. How do people know that he will make a success of the great project? Look at the car he built and the plant he built. That is the answer.

It is not only a great industrial city that he plans in Alabama. He plans to set the energy that will spring from the turbines of the great dams there to accomplishing great results for the whole nation. He will probably make money doing it, but is not the best benefactor that one who makes a profit for himself at the same time he does the world good? The person who does something for nothing doesn't keep it up long, nor do much good to the world.

With the Tennessee river harnessed, its power guided into useful channels, the Muscle Shoals project should, under Henry Ford's genius, become a great asset for America. Valuable in peace, it will be valuable in war, if war should come. Instead of a bunch of rocks it will be richer than any gold mine.

There are scoffers who say that Congress should not accept the offer of Ford for Muscle Shoals, but the man's achievements are the best recommendation for accepting his offer. He has shown what he can do.

George Eastman the other day gave the war department $182,770.60 as a voluntary refund to the government on a war contract. More or less respectfully referred to the Ancient Order of Pessimists, the members of which assert that the w. i. g. w.

Great Republican economies have been effected on paper. And some highly illuminating bulletins printed on paper will be cast in the next general election by voters disgusted with Republican performances.

INDUSTRIAL REHABILITATION.

From Raleigh comes news of the opening at Wilson of an industrial class for the adult blind of the state. At this institution, which is conducted by the state department of education, blind men from all parts of North Carolina, beyond the age at which entrance to the state school for the blind may be effected, are eligible for admission. They are being given instruction in a number of useful trades.

This plan offers great promise for successful accomplishment in the sphere of industrial rehabilitation. It is a phase of public welfare which should appeal particularly to the humanitarian and constructive thought of the state. During the administration of Governor Bickett great strides were made in public welfare and under the direction of Governor Morrison that work is being carried forward with signal success. The inauguration of this class at Wilson affords further evidence of the fact that the state's program of social service will continue, to broaden in scope. Surely those directing and executing this undertaking will have the full co-operation of North Carolinians everywhere.

The meeting of the daily eireann which was set for February 14 has been postponed until February 28. Perhaps the delegates wish to send Valentines to Eamonn DeValera.

An old battleship has been pressed into service as a rum runner station, it is reported. In other words, it was not sunk without a trace.

Merchants' Banquet Tonight.

Final plans are being perfected for the annual membership meeting and banquet of the Greensboro Merchants' association, an event which is scheduled for this evening, beginning at 7 o'clock, at the O. Henry hotel. Among the speakers will be J. W. Simpson, J. Norman White and H. S. Baker. Members of the association and their wives will attend the banquet, which promises to be most enjoyable.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS

WHITSETT.

The plans have all been completed for the important community conference which will be held in the school auditorium at 7.30 p. m. Saturday, February 11. There will be a number of special songs and musical selections, three short addresses on important topics, and then the round table discussion of a number of matters of interest. The conference is attracting much attention, and an important and helpful meeting is anticipated.

Frank P. Wilson, who is field secretary of the Junior Christian Endeavor work for this state, recently made a very helpful visit to the organization at this place. He looked into the work being done carefully, had many compliments for what was being done, and offered helpful suggestions for the growth and development of the various departments. In the February issue of the Dixie Endeavorer, of Chattanooga, Tenn., which is the organ of the work for this section, he has the following to say of the Junior department of the work at this place: "The Junior society union at Whitsett, N. C., is one of the liveliest in the state. On the occasion of a recent visit by the field secretary, several members made reports of progress in the organization, and then pasted the stars to which they were entitled on the training chart. The president of the society introduced the field secretary in a novel manner by reciting an original poem closing with the field secretary's name. A number of the juniors stood with him on the platform and all joined in announcing the name, at the same time turning to the audience white cards each of which bore a blue letter spelling the name."

The junior department here is under the active supervision of Miss Isla Willis Thompson with Rev. G. L. Whiteley as general supervisor. Some additional equipment has been ordered, and the work will soon be upon an even better basis than in the past.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Summers and Mrs. R. K. Davenport have returned from a visit to Greensboro.

George W. Davenport has been confined to his room for the past two weeks with a severe case of rheumatism, and is not able to be up very much yet.

Chas. M. Sheets, now a prominent banker of North Wilkesboro, who will be remembered by many as a former student here, is spending this winter in Florida with his family. His two daughters are in school at John B. Stetson university, Deland, Fla., and he and his wife are touring the state.

Thomas Greeson has added several rooms to his residence and otherwise greatly improved his home by recent additions.

The road work in all this sector has been suspended since the beginning of the snowfall, and all that portion of the roads that had been plowed up has been deep in mud and impassable. Many citizens have had to learn something of the life of the "shut-in" on account of the condition of the roads.

Miss Kate McLean, of Elm City graded schools, is at home to spend some time with her mother, Mrs. W. H. McLean, who has not been well for some weeks.

R. K. Davenport is collecting material for the erection of another residence on his "Castle Farm" plantation near here.

Miss Phoebe Henries was the leader on Sunday evening for a most excellent meeting of the Christian Endeavor. The membership is general and is drawn from the various denominations and churches in the place and in the community. It was a "Round the World" meeting and greatly enjoyed by the members who attended the meeting.

COMMISSIONER WATTS'

RULING IS CONTESTED

Raleigh, Feb. 8.—Judge W. A. Devin, who is now holding Wake county Superior court yesterday signed an order temporarily restraining A. D. Watts, collector of revenue, from collecting an income tax from Judge B. F. Long. The motion to make the injunction permanent was made returnable before Judge Devin in Raleigh on Monday, February 13.

The court action was taken in consequence of a recent ruling of the commissioner of revenue, that all state officers, including judges, are required to pay income tax in this state under the amendment to the constitution adopted at the general election in 1920 and the statute passed pursuant thereto by the 1921 session of the general assembly.

WANDERER RETURNS.

After Absence of 18 Years
Surry Man Thought
Dead Back Home.

Mount Airy, Feb. 6.—Jake Adkins, who left his wife and two baby daughters in the White Plains section of Surry county 18 years ago with never a line from him in the past 16 years, has returned home, after wandering all over the face of the United States.

He found his wife still Mrs. Jake Adkins, although Jake had been mourned as dead for about 16 years. He found his two baby girls grown to womanhood, one of them married the wife of a Methodist minister. Rev. George W. Clay, residing at Gibsonville, Guilford county.

The whole connection turned out and killed the fatted calf for Mr. Adkins. They were glad to see him. Four brothers, two sisters, three half brothers, one half sister and a step-mother joined in the welcome and in the slaughtering of the calf.

Mr. Adkins left home in 1904, at the age of 24. He wanted to "see the world." He was strong and vigorous. For two years not a word was received from him; then he sent one letter. In the 16 years intervening before he came home for good not a single word was heard of him. His family thought, if he had not been carried off sooner, that he had perished in one of the great influenza epidemics. He is now 42 years old.

The Adkins family is widely connected and considered among the honest worthy citizens of the county.

REPUBLICAN LEADERS
CONFER IN RALEIGH

Raleigh, Feb. 7.—At a meeting of leaders of the Republican party in North Carolina here yesterday, it was decided to hold the next meeting of the state executive committee here on March 8, the committee to decide upon a time and place of meeting for the annual convention. It is probable that either Greensboro or Raleigh will be selected as the convention city.

Other matters discussed included plans for the next congressional campaign, including possible or probable candidates.

It was intimated that the Republicans will make strong bids for a number of congressional seats this year, and at this distance from the day of counting the votes, claims were made for the fifth, seventh, eighth, ninth and tenth districts. The money will be forthcoming with which to accompany the bids, it was indicated.

NATIONAL FORESTS ARE MATERIALLY ENLARGED.

Nearly 2,000,000 acres of land have been purchased to date in the east for national forest purposes, and more than 1,000,000 additional acres have been offered for sale to the government, announces the national forest reservation commission.

In North Carolina the purchase of 14,148 acres was authorized at an average price of $6.41 per acre, located largely in McDowell, Macon and Madison counties; in Georgia, 1,359 acres at $5.40 per acre, in Fannin, Union, and Rabun counties; in South Carolina, 92 acres in Oconee county at $6 per acre; in Tennessee, 570 acres at $6.23 per acre, in Greene, Unicoi and Monroe counties; in Arkansas 5,086 acres at $4.07, largely in Pope, Scott, Johnson and Polk counties; and 5,572 acres in Winston and Lawrence counties, Alabama, at an average price of $4.83 per acre.

As soon as purchase is complete these lands will become a part of existing national forests, under the administration of the Forest Service of the United States department of agriculture. They will be protected from fire and a system of management applied whereby the timber resources will be used and at the same time conserved, with continuous forest production, watershed protection, and co-ordinated development of all resources of public value.

Suit Is Compromised.

In Federal court yesterday the damage suit of the J. B. Wilson Lumber company, of Louisville, Ky., against the Tomlinson Chair company, of High Point, was compromised through an agreement of attorneys. The details of the compromise were not made public. The lumber concern was suing the High Point company for $29,000 for alleged breach of contract.

DEATH TOLL IN THEATER
DISASTER IS NOW 98.

Washington, Feb. 6.—Miss Carolina Upshaw, of Atlanta, Ga., niece of Representative Upshaw, of Georgia, died early today as a result of injuries sustained in the Knickerbocker theater disaster. Her death brought the number of dead from the disaster up to 98.

Miss Upshaw had been at the point of death since she was taken from the theater ruins a week ago. One of her legs was crushed off and the other badly crushed. A transfusion of blood was made in an attempt to save her life, but her death occurred at 7.30 o'clock this morning.

Wage Bond Campaign.

Raleigh, Feb. 7.—A million dollar school bond campaign is being waged here. April 4 is the date of the special election for the purpose of voting upon the issuing of $1,000,000 in bonds for the schools of Raleigh township. In ordering the election Monday the county commissioners also named the pollholders, registrars and the polls, which will be the old township voting places.

FARMING GAINS.

Interesting Figures for This State Given by Crop Reporting Service.

Raleigh, Feb. 9.—North Carolina was particularly blessed in an agricultural way during the year 1921, in comparison with others. The rank of fourth in value of all farm crops, exclusive of fruits and truck crops, is quite commendable, as is that of fifth place in all crops. Those out-ranking this state had considerably larger total cultivated areas, but the per-acre value of such crops was higher than any other important state, reports the co-operative crop reporting service of the state and federal departments of agriculture.

Our corn, potatoes, hay, tobacco, cotton and fruit brought good prices, or, anyway, better than most states. In comparison with others it is found that the value of the North Carolina crops is almost two-thirds of the value of the Texas crops, and she has but one-fourth the improved farm area. Illinois had but 11 per cent more in value of crops and yet had over three times the farmed area. We had more than the value of Iowa's crops and only 29 per cent of her crop acreage. Our state had but three per cent less of total crop values on one-third less producing area than New York. Even a comparison with California shows us with 75 per cent of her crop value from a farmed area less than two-thirds of as much, while the 22 official crop basis gives us a larger total value.

North Carolina is thus shown up in her true light, for in no other way is the comparison equitable; still another interesting comparison is by individual crops. Texas, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas and most other middle western states are more of the one crop type than is this state. Last year, corn occupied one-third of our cultivated area, and cotton only one-fifth, while small grains, hays, seed legumes, and improved pastures each had about ten per cent. The much discussed tobacco crop occupies only six per cent of the cultivated area.

In total corn value, Iowa and Illinois lead with North Carolina ranking lucky thirteen. Perhaps that is why the Tar Heel state came through the last crop year with first rank in the value of sweet potatoes, peanuts, soy beans and tobacco. Our nearest competitors are Alabama in potatoes; Virginia in peanuts and soy beans; with Kentucky second in tobacco. In hay value, New York and Wisconsin lead with 23 others being ahead of us. We hold rank in sorghum cane and fifth in state cotton values.

The national average of December prices paid to farmers was: Corn 42.3 cents, wheat 95 cents, Irish potatoes $1.11, and sweet potatoes 88 cents. Loose hay averaged $12.13 per ton, cotton 16.2 cents, peanuts 4 cents per pound and sorghum syrup 63 cents per gallon for all states. The North Carolina prices were corn 78 cents, wheat $1.44, Irish potatoes $1.43, sweets 95 cents, hay $19.80, peanuts 5.6 cents and sorghum syrup 78 cents per gallon.

With this showing, and knowing full well that the average North Carolina farmer is not nearly as efficient as he should be, just imagine what this state could do with a fully developed system of crop production and marketing.

NAME CARDINAL RATTI AS HEAD OF CATHOLICS.

Rome, Feb. 6.—Cardinal Achille Ratti, archbishop of Milan, has been chosen supreme pontiff of the Roman Catholic church to succeed the late Benedict XV. His coronation as Pius XI will take place February 12.

After the announcement of his election, the pope appeared on the outside balcony of St. Peter's and bestowed the benediction on the thousands who had waited patiently in the rain in St. Peter's square—the first time this has occurred since the breach between the state and church in 1870. For 52 years the blessing has been bestowed from within the basilica.

The election was completed without American participation in the conclave. Cardinal O'Connell, archbishop of Boston, arriving at the moment the new pope was blessing the multitude.

Rotarians Meet.

Chief consideration was given to boys' work at the Tuesday meeting of the Greensboro Rotary club. It was agreed that such work should be prosecuted systematically by various local organizations in co-operation with each other. Luncheon was served in connection with the meeting.

CLASS FOR BLIND.

Adult Blind of State Now Being Instructed at Wilson Institution.

Raleigh, Feb. 7.—As a part of the state program of industrial rehabilitation being conducted by the state department of education an industrial class for the adult blind of the state has recently been opened at the new Wilson county home. Here blind men from any part of the state beyond the age at which they can enter the state school for the blind will be taught such trades as mattress making, chair caning and basketry, as well as reading by raised print, writing and typewriting. The purpose is to rehabilitate those who have lost their sight after maturity, and make them independent citizens.

The class has no connection with the county home. It is quartered there because of the excellent accommodations furnished to the blind people. The men live and are taught in a modern, steam heated brick building. The county is paid for the use of the room and the board of the men by the state department.

The class is doing splendid work. The men who have already enrolled are very happy and contented and making excellent progress. As most of the instruction is necessarily individual, only a small number of men can be accommodated, however, there is still room for a few more men.

This is an exceptional opportunity for those unfortunate residents of the state who have lost their sight and because of their misfortune are unable to earn a livelihood. Those desiring further information regarding the school or wishing to enter should inform any county superintendent of public welfare or H. L. Stanton, the state supervisor of industrial rehabilitation at Raleigh.

Vocational training for the blind is but one phase of the state rehabilitation work. Men, women and children of employable age, handicapped by various types of disabilities resulting from accident, disease, or of congenital nature, are being aided in their struggle to become independent, self-supporting, and self-respecting citizens, by this department.

GROWERS NAME BUNKER DIRECTOR OF DISTRICT.

Winston-Salem, Feb. 7.—Delegates representing Forsyth, Davidson, Alexander, Davie, Iredell, Stokes, Caldwell, Yadkin and Surry counties, which compose the Winston-Salem district of the Co-operative Tobacco Growers' association met here today and effected a district organization and elected one member of the board of directors that will govern the work of the association in the tri-state organization.

A. L. Bunker, of Surry, was elected director on the first ballot, receiving 15 votes and R. J. Petree, of Stokes, nine. The election of Mr. Bunker was made unanimous.

Mr. Bunker, who will represent this district, is one of the most successful farmers in Surry county. He has taken an active part in perfecting the organization in his county. Surry leads all other counties in the district in the number of pounds of tobacco signed.

Two Sentences Imposed.

In Municipal court Monday John Iddings, appearing in answer to two charges of retailing, was sentenced to serve 12 months on the county roads. The defendant appealed and bond was fixed at $400. For receiving more than a quart of whiskey on 15 days, R. M. Wheeler drew a road sentence of three months, he appealed and $300 appearance bond was required. For retailing he was given a sentence of six months, he gave notice of appeal and his bond was placed at $500.

TOBACCO SALES

With the date of the closing of the Greensboro tobacco market only about one week distant, it is expected that considerable quantities of the weed will be brought to this city and sold during the remainder of the season. February 17 will mark the close of the season. Generally satisfactory prices are now prevailing here.

ASHEVILLE IN MIDST OF WORST OF GALES.

Asheville, Feb. 7.—With approximately 200 local telephone stations out of commission, telephone wires down from Asheville to Knoxville in about 15 different places and minor wire troubles, Asheville is in the midst of one of the worst gales of the winter. About 50 telephone poles have fallen in various parts of the city without serious damage.

Heavy snows, which started to fall last night at intervals, left a blanket of white over the city this morning, the heaviest of the season, causing wires to sag and snap off at various points.

Can You See Your Ribs?

"It wasn't that I wanted to get fat—no, I just wanted to put on about 8 pounds more flesh, then I'd be just right. I've nibbled at diets, gorged big meals, I've haunted health resorts, been to fine climates, guzzled milk, buttermilk, olive oil, emulsions, swallowed pills, digestion aids, and a score of other 'wont-works'. Finally, it dawned on me. None of these things was building up the new red blood cells I needed. I took S. S. S., the greatest red-blood-cell builder, firm-flesh producer, blood-cleanser known. I put on 7 pounds in a month, and my nerves, instead of strings feel like wires. S. S. S. has the world beat."

S. S. S. is guaranteed purely vegetable in its medicinal ingredients. It has produced amazing results in building up run-down, thin-faced, ambitious men, and in making women of all ages more plump and beautiful, and younger looking. S. S. Do You Want to Make More Money From Your Farming Operations?

IF you do---and of course every ambitious farmer does---then by all means attend the Greensboro Automobile Show. There you will have a fine opportunity to familiarize yourself with some of the proved-by-test methods of improved agriculture, methods which insure greater profit for the farmer. What has automotive genius done to make the lot of the tiller of the soil more pleasant and more profitable? In what way can automotive products add to your marketable resources? How can automotive development best be related to your own particular problems? How can you make your efforts count most? How can you make two blades of grass grow where but one grew before---and accomplish that desirable aim at less cost?

THESE are some of the questions which will be definitely and satisfactorily answered at this great automotive exposition. Nor will the answers be confined to words. You will find a remarkable display of Automobiles, Tractors, Trucks and a number of Farm Implements which to-day are recognized as mighty factors in the upbuilding of the rural sections of America, things which have released many a farmer from economic bondage and showed him the bright highway that leads to financial independence. There will be practical demonstrations, showing exactly what may be expected in performance, in labor-saving and in time-saving, and, therefore, in money-making, for you, Mr. Progressive Farmer. It will pay you handsomely to be on hand at that time.

WITH a mule and a gopher plow a man might manage to eke out a bare living; some men probably have done so in the past. But old Mother Earth does not yield of her treasure very readily under such methods. Take the great big state of Texas, for example, and consider how long it would have taken that commonwealth to attain its present enviable position in the agriculture of the nation if the task of soil preparation and soil cultivation had been left to mules and gopher plows! Now we all know that, borrowing a phrase from the vernacular, Texas hasn't a thing on Guilford County in so far as the productivity and the diversity of soils are concerned.

AND we also know that there is practically no limit to the opportunities for the continued agricultural development of this section, our own home section here in the heart of North Carolina. Providence has been kind to us, therefore let us bend our energies and time and talents to the continued enhancement of our agricultural values. At the big automotive show here practical ways and means of doing exactly that will be presented. It's the largest opportunity of the kind which this generation has been privileged to witness. CAROLINA WEDDINGS

LIFE

Forenoon and afternoon and night,

—forenoon,

And afternoon, and night,—forenoon, and—what!

The empty song repeats itself. No

Yea, that is life. Make this forenoon sublime,

This afternoon a psalm, this night a prayer,

And Time is conquered and thy crown is won.

Bradshaw-Vitt.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Bradshaw, on Bessemer avenue, was the scene of compelling loveliness at 4.30 yesterday afternoon when their daughter, Miss Gray Bynum Bradshaw, became the bride of Bruner C. Vitt. The home was attractively decorated with palms, ferns and Easter lilies.

Only relatives and intimate friends of the happy young couple witnessed the ceremony, which was impressively performed by Dr. M. Bradshaw, pastor of Memorial Methodist church, Durham, who is an uncle of the bride, assisted by her pastor, Dr. Ches. F. Myers, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this city. Immediately preceding the taking of the vows the orchestra played "At Dawning" and "Because." As the bride party entered the wedding march from Lohengrin was played. Mrs. Robert H. Rosemond, sister of the bride, was her only attendant, while Mr. Vitt was accompanied by his best man, J. T. Dillon, of High Point.

The bride possesses a lovable personality and has a very large number of devoted friends in Greensboro and throughout the state. She is a young lady of notable accomplishments. Mr. Vitt is a special agent of the Dixie Fire Insurance company and maintains headquarters in Atlanta. He is attaining a marked degree of success in the business world.

Following the ceremony the guests enjoyed a buffet supper at the Bradshaw home. The dining room was beautiful with its decorations of bride's roses, lilies of the valley and southern smilax. Mr. and Mrs. Vitt left on train No. 35 for a bridal trip to Florida and Cuba, following which they will reside in Atlanta.

Naval Officers Sentenced.

Washington, Feb. 7.—Five chief petty officers of the navy, it was announced today at the navy department, have been sentenced to a year's imprisonment, reduction in rank to second class seamen and loss of their pay until their dishonorable discharge for "taking and keeping of liquor" on board the mine sweeper Red Wing.

AUTO SHOW PLANS.

Contract For Decorations
Let, Arrangements Made
For Carnival Night.

On Tuesday the contract for decorations for the Greensboro Automobile show to be staged on March 14-18 was awarded to the Renner organization, of Winston-Salem, according to H. S. Baker, who is directing plans for this big exposition.

It is announced that the decorations will include red and yellow wisteria, green smilax in the form of pendants from the ceiling, green sawdust on the floor, and a riot of bright colors throughout the warehouses. The scene will be one of unusual beauty, not unlike the setting for a brilliant wedding. Indeed, the event will mark the wedding of the 1922 model of business methods to the New Year concept of public confidence.

Demonstrations of farm machinery will be among the notable features of the show. It is expected that the tractor exhibits will be especially comprehensive. Of course there will be a most representative showing of automobiles of the various types, commercial and pleasure cars, trucks, etc.

Tal Henry, director of the famous orchestra which bears his name, is chairman of the entertainment committee. It is announced that Saturday night, March 18, will be observed as "Carnival Night." On that night the crowds will engage in wholesome revelry, a program of rare enjoyment for all those in attendance, according to present plans.

Already more than 60 units of space have been sold, about 25 automotive concerns having arranged for representation, and the list is constantly growing.

Abandonment of plans for an automobile show in Charlotte will stimulate even greater interest in the show in Greensboro, it is expected.

GIRL FAINTS AT TAYLOR FUNERAL

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 7.—Miss Mabel Normand, motion picture actress who visited the home of William Desmond Taylor just before he was shot and killed last Wednesday, fainted today when she viewed his body in the church vestibule after the funeral services and had to be removed to her home. Henry Heavey, Taylor's negro houseman, also became hysterical and had to be taken back into the church and quieted as the body was removed.

The large auditorium of St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal Pro-Cathedral was filled with friends of the dead man, and with other persons. Of the many prominent motion picture women whose names have been brought into the investigation Miss Normand was the only one in attendance, but almost every one in the crowd attended. There were scores of motion picture stars, nearly every director now in Los Angeles, and many other persons widely known over the country, including writers, producers and theatrical people.

A crowd estimated by the police at more than 30,000 persons filled the adjoining streets and overflowed into Pershing Square.

Another day of investigation of the slaying of Taylor culminated in the issuance by the police of a circular asking the arrest of Edward F. Sands, former secretary and butler for Taylor.

The circular was ordered forwarded to all police departments of the country. It contained a picture of Sands, declared by Captain of Detectives David Adams to be the only one in existence so far as the police have been able to learn.

At the same time Captain Adams declared that Sands was the only person whose arrest the police were seeking in connection with the case.

ATHEIST IS EXCUSED FROM JURY SERVICE.

Wilson, Feb. 7.—After the oath had been administered to the grand jury in Superior court here this morning, the remaining jurors were requested to stand and take the same obligation as that of their foreman. All but one, T. M. Armstrong, an atheist, were sworn in and when he was requested to stand and affirm he replied after the form had been read to him by the clerk: "I can't subscribe to that, for it is nothing more than an oath." Judge Horton then asked: "With what denomination are you affiliated?" Armstrong said he belonged to no church and didn't believe in God. Judge Horton excused him.

JEWISH TEMPLE TO BE ERECTED.

Work of construction of a Jewish synagogue by the congregation of Temple Emanuel will begin in the early spring, according to a decision reached by the building committee Tuesday night. The cost of the new structure has not been definitely determined, but it is expected that it will be modern and commodious in every respect.

The synagogue will be of limestone construction, of modified Ionic style, with granite steps extending the width of the front of the building, which will be located on Wainman street. One of the decorative features will be a sunken garden formed by an ell of the main building and the Sabbath school assembly room. Bids for the construction work will be opened at a meeting the building committee next month.

It is stated that funds to finance this enterprise already have been subscribed by Greensboro Jews. The main auditorium will have a seating capacity of 350, while the Sabbath school auditorium will seat 200 persons. The architectural plans were prepared by Hobart Upjohn, of New York.

Harold Schiffman is chairman of the building committee and other members of the committee are Herman Cone, Herman Tempko, Sigmond Sternberger, Charles Pearl Mrs. E. Sternberger, Mrs. Charles L. Weill and Mrs. A. W. Kaplan. The members of the advisory committee are Julius W. Cone, Bernard M. Cone, E. Sternberger, Charles L. Weill and Miss Etta B. Spier.

J. M. GALLOWAY NAMED DIRECTOR OF DISTRICT.

Reidsville, Feb. 7.—John M. Galloway, of Greensboro, the largest tobacco grower in the world, today was elected director from this district of the Tri-State Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Marketing association. The choice was made here at a meeting of representatives from the counties which comprise this district, Caswell, Rockingham, Guilford and Randolph. Mr. Galloway asked that another farmer be chosen, as he could hardly find time for the work, but the delegates insisted upon his acceptance of the post.
