GREAT LOSS OF LIFE AND ENORMOUS DAMAGE FROM FLOOD WATERS IN TEXAS

Sixty-two Dead and Million Dollars Damage Done.

LEVEE IS DYNAMITED

Believed That Scoundrels Knew Up
Bank Of River and Let Flooding
Waters In—Fear Further
Rise Of Rivers.

Fort Worth, Texas, April 26.—Sixty-two probably dead and property damage estimated at approximately one million dollars is the toll of a flood which swept Fort Worth yesterday, carrying before it scores of residences and small buildings, overflowing hundreds of acres of land and inundating several city streets.

John J. McClain, Fort Worth city engineer, issued a statement last night in which he declared that the levees around the rivers were "dynamited by unknown parties," and that an investigation by a grand jury would be demanded immediately.

The city water plant is out of commission and other utilities endangered. The flood followed a heavy storm Monday night and yesterday morning. Nine inches of rain fell here, breaking all previous records.

A boat which had been picking up flood refugees from house-tops and trees capsized here. Two women and a man are known to have been drowned.

H. M. Baker, divisional director of disaster relief for the American Red Cross, has been instructed to drop relief work at Burlington, Kansas, and hasten to Fort Worth to direct flood relief here.

The flood was confined chiefly to the lowlands adjoining the tributaries of the Trinity river, Marine, Sycamore, Clearforks and Trinity river were swollen, overflowing the bottoms nearby.

The flood is the most severe in the history of the city, according to old-time residents. Trinity river stood at 36.7 feet at noon and was still rising.

Word reaching here from points north of Fort Worth indicated that a further rise of the water is expected. Rescue workers are laboring tirelessly in bringing relief to flood sufferers.

BOY KILLS MAN HE FOUND WITH MOTHER

Goldsboro Youth Had Warned Syrian
Drygoods Clerk To Stay Away.
Woman's Husband Absent.

Goldsboro, April 25.—Howard Brown, 16-year-old high school boy, shot and instantly killed Albert Bechira, a Syrian drygoods store clerk, at the corner of William and Beach streets at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

It is alleged that Bechira had been visiting Mrs. Robert Brown while Mr. Brown was at work at A. T. Griffin's mill and Howard was at school. The boy, it is declared, told the Syrian on last Saturday that if he ever caught him at the house he would kill him. Howard stayed away from school today to watch Bechira. Going home, he found the Syrian there. He got a 38-calibre revolver and when the man escaped out of a window Howard followed him from his home on Daisy street, overtook him and fired five times at close range, all of the balls taking effect.

Officers Gwathmey and Lancaster arrived and found Howard seated on the front porch at home. He was arrested and placed in jail.

THINK PEARS AND PLUMS WILL BE SCARCE THIS YEAR

Some farmers say that the pear crop this year will be very small. It is supposed by some that it was killed out, by others that it just naturally would not have been a "pear year," anyway. Last year the pear crop was enormous and those who hold to the latter view say that one big crop seems to exhaust the pear trees for the next season.

The plums will be few this year, too, some observers think, as they seem to have been hurt by frost.

STATE NEWS BRIEFS

Gastonia, April 26.—Homer Bart, a white man of apparently about 40 years of age, was in Gastonia yesterday seeking the aid of the local police authorities in finding his two children, who were kidnaped on March 20 at a point near Eatonton, Ga. The children are a boy aged 17 and a girl about 16.

Fayetteville, April 26.—Cumberland county flappers who have not been wont to defend their reputations as cooks and housekeepers have suffered a terrible defeat. Ervin Ellis, 12 year old boy, a student at Riverside school, in Fies Hill township, not only won first place in his township in a county-wide biscuit-making contest, but also carried off third honors in the county, it was announced today.

Can't Find Man.

Lumberton, April 26.—Although Lumber river has been dragged, canals and lakes searched and the woods scoured, the mystery surrounding the disappearance of E. R. Shepard, of Putney, Ga., whose abandoned automobile was found in a ditch beside the Wilmington-Charlotte-Asheville highway, one mile south of Lumberton, on April 11, still is unsolved.

Gibsonville Votes For $100,000 School Bonds

Citizens of Gibsonville voted Tuesday by a majority of 153, to issue $100,000 in bonds, the proceeds from the sale to be used in the construction of a new school building.

VOTERS APPROVE COUNTY UNIT SCHOOL TAX BY BIG MAJORITY

Plan Carries With 444 Votes To Spare, 890 More Favoring
It Than Those Voting Against It and Not Voting—Already Making Plans For Improvement Of School System.

Rural Guilford voted Tuesday, with 444 votes to spare, in favor of the county-unit, uniform school tax proposal.

With a registration of 5,692, it was necessary for over half of the registrants, or 2,846, to vote for the plan in order to carry the election. The balloting resulted as follows:

For the county unit system, 4,892.
Counting against it, 2,103.

That means that 890 more persons favored the plan than opposed it.

The majority, or excess of votes over the required number to carry, 444.

Every voter who registered and did not vote was counted against the measure. All such registrants had to do to vote against was to stay at home. Yet some persons went to the polls and voted against the plan, anyway.

Under the new plan, now become law, all special school taxes will be repealed with the exception of those in Greensboro and High Point townships, which are not affected by the law, and there will be substituted therefor a uniform tax not to exceed 25 cents on the $100 property valuation, 10 cents of that to be used for building purposes and 15 cents for maintenance. The taxes collected will be administered as a whole for the schools. Plans are being made now by Thos. R. Foust, county superintendent of education, and the county board of education to begin the work of improvement that the new law will permit.

Following is a table showing the vote:

SUES MAN IN JAIL FOR HER SUPPORT

Another Episode In Foster Family
Shootings—Mrs. Foster Charges
Husband Was Very Cruel.

Mrs. Clara Foster, of this city, has started suit in Guilford Superior court for an order compelling her husband, B. R. Foster, to provide for her support and that of their two children.

Foster is in the county jail, waiting trial on a charge of shooting his wife. Mrs. Foster is still suffering from her wounds, although she has left the hospital and returned to her home. Mrs. Foster seeks to secure certain property of her husband.

The Fosters have figured in two shooting affairs. The first of these, a few months ago, was started with a quarrel between the two, Mrs. Foster taking a shot at her husband, narrowly missing him. They separated and when Foster went to his wife's room, some time later, with Deputy Sheriff Floyd Brown to get some of his effects, he and his wife quarreled and Foster shot her.

Mrs. Foster charges cruelty on the part of her husband toward her, asserting that he was in the habit of beating, choking, slapping and shooting at her.

Paving Elm Street Here.

Work is proceeding with the paving of Elm street here, the old brick paving being torn up and asphalt laid. The street presents a very "torn up" appearance.

FARM BUREAU WILL MEET ON SATURDAY

Special Meeting Called In Order To Decide Upon Action In Matter Of Tubercular Cattle Testing.

A meeting of the Guilford Farm bureau will be held in the farmers' assembly room at the courthouse Saturday morning, beginning at 11 o'clock, to discuss some action to be taken in an effort to bring about testing of cattle for tuberculosis.

If the county commissioners will make an appropriation, in co-operation with federal and state appropriations, the work can be done. That there is great need of the work is evident, testified to by health authorities. The tubercular cow, it is known, is a great menace to the population, especially children.

The Farm bureau, in conjunction with other organizations, has asked the commissioners to make an appropriation for this purpose and it was understood that the board would take action at a meeting held on April 18, but nothing was done either way. The Farm bureau is now content to let the matter drop, hence the special meeting of the bureau is called for Saturday by the president of the bureau, John A. Youngs.

A large attendance is desired.

Commencement Exercises.

The commencement exercises of the Greensboro high school will start on June 1 and continue through June 2, according to announcement of Frederick Archer, superintendent of the city schools.

NEWS OF THE NATION

Wants Big Army.

Washington, April 26.—A plea for a national military policy which would insure the checking of the aggression by foreign powers in its incipency and which would avoid "confusion, disorder, delay and extravagance" when emergencies arise was made today by Secretary Weeks and General Pershing before a senate committee in support of the war department program for an army of 13,000 officers and 150,000 enlisted men.

Fighting Tariff Bill.

Washington, April 26.—Increased duties on drugs, dyes, inks and paints proposed in the administration tariff bill came under fire today from senate Democrats in the second day of general debate on the measure.

Hog Weighs 940 Pounds.

Arkansas City, Kan., April 26.—A specially constructed stall had to be built for one hog shipped there from W. J. Darst, a farmer, of Dexter. This particular piece of Kansas pork tipped the scales at 940 pounds, nearly half a ton. The porker was three years old.

Cooper May Get Big Job.

Washington, April 26.—Appointment of Lieut. Governor W. B. Cooper, of North Carolina, to the federal farm loan board to take the place of A. F. Lever, of South Carolina, resigned, was recommended to President Harding today by Senator Overman, of that state.

Governor On Trial.

Waukegan, Ill., April 26.—Governor Small is being tried before Judge Claire Edwards in Lake county circuit court on a charge of conspiracy to embezzle state funds.

Girl Sues for Divorce.

Tulsa, Okla., April 26.—The 370 perplexing questions of the Terman intelligence tests did not offer a single pitfall to Mary McIntyre, Tulsa high school senior, today. She answered every question in the 10 tests perfectly within the 35-minute period during which she and 300 classmates competed.

Hunting Down Feudists.

Manchester, Ky., April 26.—Feudists of Clay county, who a few months ago were ready to shoot opposing clans on sight, have joined hands with each other and with the civil authorities to clean up Mill Creek following the action of Circuit Judge Hiram J. Johnson, who yesterday issued warrants for the arrest of 200 residents of the mountain territory.

Women Voters Meet.

Baltimore, April 25.—"The education of citizens is the safeguard of a republic." This motto, printed on the convention program, is the idea which Mrs. Maud Wood Park, president of the National League of Women Voters, in her opening address at the third annual convention of the league here today, said she would like to put before the convention as a guide for its deliberations.

Nurse On Trial.

Montross, Va., April 26.—Miss Sarah E. Knox, Baltimore trained nurse, went on trial in Westmoreland county circuit court here today on the charge of having murdered Mrs. Margaret Eastlake at Colonial Beach last September.

Republicans Not In

All State Contests

Raleigh, April 26.—With the final date for filing notices of candidacy for the various judicial, senatorial, in contested district, state and congressional offices closed, the indications are that the Democrats will not have opposition in three of the congressional districts, the first, second and ninth, no opponents for the Democratic nominees for judges in 10 districts and no opposition for the solicitorship in 10 districts. The Republicans will have things their own way in the seventeenth judicial district, where no Democratic candidate has filed for solicitor against the Republican.

HOLDER OF MORTGAGE ON LIQUOR AUTOMOBILE WINS SUIT TO RECOVER

Interesting Case Is Decided By Guilford Jury.

MINOR CASES TRIED

Superior Court Works On Suite.
Where Small Claims Are Resolved—Civil Term Will End Saturday.

Winding up a two-weeks civil term, Guilford Superior court this week has concerned itself with cases not involving any considerable sums of money. An interesting case was decided Tuesday afternoon, when a jury declared that the holder of a mortgage on an automobile captured hauling liquor cannot lose by confiscation of the car.

J. F. Witherspoon was suing Sheriff D. B. Stafford for possession of a car captured from J. R. Moorefield and a negro by Deputy Sheriff Brown and Policemen Current and Duke in 1921, the chase having begun at Friendship and ended at Friendship. The two in the car throwing out all the whisky as the pursuit grew hot. Witherspoon had a mortgage for $700 on the car and he contended that he should not lose because the owner was transporting whisky. The jury agreed with him. It did not agree with his claim for $350 additional, being content to give him the car.

Moorefield and the negro skipped their bonds.

Monday the only case tried was that of Clara P. Sipe against Thomas G. Sipe, a divorce suit, the plaintiff being granted a divorce. Several judgments were presented to Judge B. F. Long, of Statesville, presiding, and signed by him.

R. T. O'Quinn won his suit against James W. Moore for $750, which he claimed Moore owed him. The jury returned its verdict Wednesday.

Judge Long overruled a motion that the verdict in the case of Pierce C. Rucker against W. M. Sanders, decided last week, be set aside. Mr. Rucker was suing for $1,000 damages, alleging breach of contract, and was awarded damages of one cent. He took an appeal to the state Supreme court.

CURB MARKET TO OPEN ON MAY 16

Market Will Be Located In Front Of Warehouses and Big Number Of Farmers Is Expected.

The curb market will open here on May 16, in front of the two new brick tobacco warehouses on Greene street, between Bellemore and Gaston streets.

On that day at least 100 women of the city will be on hand to buy the produce the farmers bring in. The Women's club has agreed to see that that number be prepared for the market.

At 11 o'clock yesterday definite plans for inauguration of the curb market here were discussed at a conference of representatives of the Chamber of Commerce, Farm bureau, farm and home demonstration agencies and Women's club. The meeting, held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms, was presided over by C. W. Gold, chairman of the chamber's agricultural bureau.

The speakers included Mr. Gold, Farm Demonstrator E. B. Garrett, Home Demonstrator Mrs. Ota S. Wells, Mrs. R. L. Justice and Mrs. J. R. McClamrock, of the Women's club. One idea which was especially emphasized was that the farmers should be encouraged to produce and market vegetables which are not now widely cultivated in this section, as, for example, cayote and spinach. The New Bern curb market, it was recalled, will deal extensively in such things as fresh, dried and canned vegetables, all kinds of berries, fresh, preserved, canned and dried fruits, pickles and chow-chow, nuts, all kinds of dairy products, poultry, eggs, meats and cut flowers.

It was also pointed out that there are to be no restrictions in regard to the market as to prices or other phases, a feature which should appeal to farmers.

GOD'S CALL AND MAN'S RESPONSE

The International Sunday School Lesson,

By REV. E. P. BILLUPS,

Assistant Pastor West Market Street Methodist Church.

Isaiah 6:1-8.

The Value of Vision.—Isaiah, one of the most heroic of the Old Testament characters, a prophet, and author of some of the loftiest utterances of the inspired Word, came into his prophetic office by means of a vision. When his eyes were fully opened he beheld the reality and full glory of the Eternal; then he became a true prophet. It has ever been true that men who have wielded the greatest influence have been men of vision. They have had the ability to distinguish the transient from the permanent. A great calamity had befallen Isaiah in the death of his king; this was intensified by the deterioration of the government; but the young prophet refused to be overwhelmed by this troublesome situation; while other men were doubtless thinking of the tragic days which were threatening, Isaiah had a vision of the King of kings, infinite in holiness, resplendent in purity, high and lifted up above all the Uzzahs of earth. Augustine had a like experience. Rome had fallen. Men's hearts were filled with strange forebodings, and they were whispering about the calamity which had befallen them, and of the more terrible days which were to come. Not so with Augustine. With prophetic vision he saw rising, phoenix like, from the dust and ashes of the fallen city of man the eternal City of God. What Isaiah did for his day, and what the saintly Augustine did for the fifth century, needs to be done in our day.

Isaiah's Vision of God.—Isaiah had had a vision of God. "I saw also the Lord sitting upon a throne." The prophet was awe-struck at the holiness of God. Instinctively, thinks Hastings, he formed his lips to join the chorus of the seraphim, but he paused at the thought of what his own lips had been wont to utter. "Woe is me, for I am a man of unclean lips." The almightiness of God made him conscious of his own unworthiness. This is an extremely practical lesson for us today. We may think we are perfect so long as we measure our lives by those around us. One may be as good even as the best church member; but that is not good enough. The standard of measurement is God. The reason many people have so little a conception of sin is because they have so little a conception of the holiness of God. But when our eyes are turned to the Holy One, then with Isaiah we cry out, "Woe is me!"

Power of Touched Lips.—"Lo, this hath touched thy lips." Isaiah's lips could not be laid upon the altar and sacrificed, but in the hot stone the altar was brought to the lips, which were thus sacrificed. Oh, the power and beauty of "touched lips!" "What it would mean to the world," says Dr. E.H.M., "were Isaiah's coal of fire from the altar of God to anoint to harmony and purity all Christian lips. Suppose all the harshness, and bitterness, and evil speaking were burned off the speech of us common folk; so that our voices would ever be,

"Ever, only, for the King."

God's Call and Man's Response.—After forgiveness comes the call. When his lips were anointed Isaiah heard the words: "Whom shall I send, and who will go for us?" The prophet's call was direct; nevertheless, he never lost sight of the needs of his people. And today the cry of human need arises from sick beds, hospitals, from men in doubt, from men in sin, from men in poverty and distress, from men in sorrow, from heathen lands in Africa, China, India, and from the bleeding countries of Europe—a cry of "Whom wilt thou send, and who will go for us?" May we say with the eagerness that Isaiah did, "Send me." Only a moment before he was downcast and in sorrow; now he is strong, alert, eager, and ready for the handiest task. Weeks and months and years of untiring labor followed. This is the transformation of conversion. The call comes to us. It is urgent, for time is short and eternity near. The King's business requires haste. "Up, my drowning eyes! Up, my sinking heart! Up, let's trudge another mile!"

HOME DEMONSTRATION

In today's issue we continue with the strawberry. Some of our readers may think that enough has been said about the strawberry, but can too much be said of it? Besides, the strawberry, while not a rare plant, is a fast one; the season is upon us and gone soon. If we get the full advantage of the strawberry we must hurry and make the most of it, preserving. Following is a recipe approved by the state home economics division.

Strawberry Flavoring Syrup.

Suitable for use in making cake fillings, icings, pudding, fruit sauces, punches and fruit nectar, ice cream and sherbets. This syrup is also delicious when served with waffles, hot cakes or cottage pudding. Wash the berries by placing them in a colander, allowing cold water to run over them. Drain and crush the fruit in a preserving kettle. Add one cup of water to each quart of crushed berries and allow to simmer until the berries are tender. Strain through a flannel jelly bag, measure and add one pint of sugar for each pint of strawberry juice. Return to the stove and cook only until the sugar is dissolved, being careful not to allow it to boil. Just before the boiling point is reached pour while hot into bottles, previously boiled for 10 to 15 minutes, and seal at once. Store in a cool, dark, dry place.

Strawberry Jelly.

One and one-half cups of boiling water.
One-fourth cup of lemon juice.
One cup of strawberries, cut in quarters.

One and one-half cups of sugar.
One cup of strawberry juice.
Two tablespoons of gelatine.
Dissolve the gelatine in one-fourth cup of cold water, pour on boiling water and when thoroughly dissolved add sugar and fruit. Juices. Set aside to harden and when the jelly becomes as thick as sauce stir in chopped strawberries. Pour into a mold, serve on a flat dish garnished with a few sprigs of lemon verbena or mignonette.

Strawberry Shrub.

Select sound fruit, wash, measure and place in a stone jar. For every four quarts of berries use one quart of good vinegar. Cover the jar by tying a cheesecloth over it. Stir the berries daily for three or four days. If the weather is very warm do not let it stand over three days. Strain without squeezing and put into kettle, allowing one pound of sugar to each pint of liquid. Boil slowly for five minutes, bottle, cork and seal. Dilute with cold water for serving.

May Garden Schedule.

Continue planting succession crops. Watch every chance to put in something else as crops mature, for in the south we should make every effort to keep the garden at work every month in the year.

Look out for diseases and insects. When they appear immediately give control measures.

Make tillage timely and thorough. In the open. Snap beans, lima beans, beets, sweet corn, carrots, cucumber, cantaloupe, watermelon, okra, parsley, parsnip, peas, endive, pepper, radish, salsify, squash.

Transplant. Tomato, egg plant, pepper, celery, sweet potato plants. Open seedbed. Tomato.

Break Into Store.

The store of A. J. Cotton, on Greene street, in the new building erected at the corner of Gaston street, was entered by robbers some time between Saturday night and Monday and about $100 worth of clothing stolen.

THE CURB MARKET

Editor of The Patriot:

The attention of all farmers is called to the curb market, which opens in Greensboro on Tuesday, May 16.

The advantages of this market to the farmer are many. First, he is restricted in no way at all. He may bring in anything to sell and instead of wasting his time in peddling his wares he goes to one place where he will find customers.

He has no tax to pay and if he does not sell out at the market he can then peddle his foodstuff.

The women of Greensboro are working to have a big crowd of housekeepers at the market place early Tuesday, May 16. It is hoped that the farmers will grow a larger supply of vegetables.

Bring lettuce, carrots, spinach, all vegetables and other farm products. No special place can be assigned any farmer now. He will take his chance and go and come as he wishes.

This movement is made by the agricultural bureau of the Chamber of Commerce here, the Woman's club and the Guilford Farm bureau. It is for the mutual benefit of the farmers and the housewives of Greensboro.

The curb market will be located in front of the two new brick warehouses on Greene street, between Gaston and Bellemore streets.

BROTHERS OF MURDER

CHIEF KILLS HIS SLAYER

Lumberton, April 26.—A double homicide occurred near Pembroke, Robeson county, last week when Melissa Graham, 14-year-old Indian girl, was shot and killed by James Oxendine, Indian, who was himself shot and killed a few minutes later by Bethel Graham, brother of the slain girl. The killing took place at the home of Joe Graham, father of the girl. A coroner's jury exonerated Bethel Graham, who had surrendered himself to Sheriff R. E. Lewis before the inquest, and he was released from jail. The evidence brought out at the inquest was that Graham shot in defense of his own life. John Wesley Oxendine, Indian, was ordered held by the jury as an accessory to the killing of the Graham girl. He is in jail here.

How This Bank Serves The Farmer

This question is ever foremost in the minds of our officers. They realize that permanent success cannot be built on selfish motives—that this bank's success depends largely on the success of our farming community.

To aid the farmers of this community in every possible way is the constant aim of this bank.

Our service to our farmer customers is by no means limited to the ordinary routine of a bank. We help our farmer customers in many ways, particularly if they need financial co-operation, say to purchase power farm machinery.

We realize that the agricultural life of this community must be fostered in every way possible and we stand ready to do our share and more.

May we help you?

WELL DONE.

The voters of the county, indorsing the county-unit, uniform school tax proposition at the polls Tuesday, rendered a great service for education in Guilford. They have provided the means for strengthening, building up all the schools of the county.

It was not thought that Guilford voters would refuse to indorse such a plan, one that means so much for the advancement of education. It is such a simple, straightforward plan, plain to everybody, and the voters, being Guilford men and women, progressive, wisely took advantage of the plan to take a long step forward.

They will not regret it. With a high school in reach of every boy and girl, and a fine system of elementary schools, Guilford will be in shape to make fine citizens out of her boys and girls.

Those who worked for the plan and those who voted for it deserve the thanks of the entire community. Now all the people, those who were for it and those who opposed it, should co-operate in carrying it out, making every effort to work together for the interests of the children of the county, in that way for their interests and Guilford's.

COME TO THE CURB MARKET.

When the curb market opens on May 16, in the open space before the two new tobacco warehouses on Greene street between Gaston and Bellemere streets, there should be a large number of farmers, with a goodly supply of vegetables and other farm products for sale. There will be on hand at least 100 women of this city to buy. That is pledged by the Woman's club.

The purpose of those behind the curb market, the agricultural bureau of the Greensboro Chamber of Commerce, the Guilford Farm bureau, and the Woman's club of Greensboro, is to bring the farmers and the housewives of the city together, one a seller, the other buyer, to the mutual profit of each. The farmer expects to sell his produce without the necessity of wearisome peddling, at a good price and get home early. The housewife expects to buy fresh vegetables and produce, at one place. This is trading in which both parties may gain.

Now, for the success of the market two things are necessary. There must be plenty of farmers, with plenty of produce, and there must be plenty of women ready to buy. As has been stated, the women have promised to be there and the farmers should be there.

As Mrs. R. L. Justice, of the Woman's club, points out in a communication in another column, there are many advantages to the persons bringing produce to the curb market—no taxes, the right to come and go at any time, the elimination of peddling, saving of time, a cash market. Let the people who intend to supply the market come out and bring their best. It will command a ready price.

Uncle John's Job

A LITTLE MONEY IS A DANGEROUS THING AT AN AUCTION SALE.

MOSTLY NONSENSE

By Gee Gee Dee.

NOW HEAR YE the story—the true story—of a remarkable egg. Poultry production, you know, is not confined to the rural sections. Right here in Greensboro are a number of people who obtain excellent results along such lines. One of those people is E. M. Cress, a member of the Gilmer's organization here and who resides at 617 Asheboro street. Well, Mr. Cress has a one-year-old dominecker hen of whom he is quite proud, for she it was who laid the egg which forms the basis for this authentic chronicle.

Hearing the aforementioned hen tackle lustily a day or two ago, members of the Cress family investigated to see what she had wrought and you may imagine their surprise to find that she had laid an egg with a seemingly perfect letter "C" on one end of it. The letter formed a part of the egg shell and its identity could not be mistaken; it was so clear that he or she who ran might read. The shell was rather thin, leading to the conclusion that part of it was needed for expression of the literary activity of Mrs. Hen.

C stands for Cress, doesn't it? That's the way Mr. Cress figures it out, and he judges that the hen employed the same system of deduction. She's a patriotic, home-loving fowl, convinced that her writing proclivities should begin at home. Perhaps if her owner would permit her to sit on the freak egg, one fine morning he would find a biddy with colorings in its plumage spelling the word "Cress." Now an ardent Democrat comes forward with the theory that the "C" is supposed to denote Chaos, the chief characteristic of conditions prevailing under the Harding administration. At any rate, friends of Mr. Cress and admirers of Mrs. Dominecker declare that she's some chicken. No one can say that her education has been sadly neglected. The hen that laid the golden egg was the pride of her mercenary master, but, at that, she didn't have much on the Cress champion. If this sprightly specimen once gets into her stride, she may be able to start a private library composed of her shell-shocked sentiments.

Recently there has been much popular interest in the naming of a large number of ships controlled by the United States shipping board. It was decided to adopt the presidential style of nomenclature. For instance, one is the George Washington, then there are the Madison, the Monroe, the Lincoln, the Taft, the Wilson, the Harding, etc. Now that is all right, in fact, it is a patriotic plan. But some persons might be disposed to suggest that ships also be named for men other than Presidents who have distinguished themselves in government activities. For example, one vessel might be christened the George Harvey Pilgrim Dinner Speech, another the George Harvey Second Oratorical Spasm in London one the Admiral Sims Sixteenth Statement, another the Secretary Mellon Nineteenth Bonus Alibi. One of the ships might bear the name Senator Newberry Campaign Crescendo Chord. Imaginative persons could readily suggest a large number of other equally appropriate names.

Now let those who are far-visioned join in the singing of that familiar song which begins with the significantly cheering line, "Winter has departed."

The next line, as we recall it, is like this: "Snow and ice have fled. But they haven't exceeded the speed limits in their fleeing."

Much firing is reported in the national capital—they are still organizing and Republicanizing the government bureaus.

FARM DEMONSTRATION

Scurf (soil stain, rust, jersey mark) produces a brown discoloration of the surface of the underground parts of the sweet potato plant. The discolored areas may take the form of spots of different sizes and shapes with no definite outline or there may be a uniform rusting of the entire surface of the potato. The fungus does not break the skin of the sweet potato, and is so superficial as to be scraped off easily by the finger nail.

Control.

To control scurf the seed potatoes should be disinfected for 10 minutes in a solution made by dissolving 1 ounce of corrosive sublimate in 8 gallons of water. Soil or sand obtained from the woods or from fields where sweet potatoes have never been grown should be used in the hotbed. The plants should be set in new ground or ground never before used for sweet potatoes.

Scurf is worse on heavy soils or soils containing a large quantity of organic matter, such as manure. Such soils should be avoided. It is likewise worse during a wet season and on low wet ground. The treatment of the soil with fungicides or fertilizers has not been found effective.

Distribution, Prevalence, Loss.

Scurf is very common, having been found in Arkansas, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Ohio, Illinois, Iowa, Texas, and Kansas, and on practically all varieties.

The loss to the crop caused by scurf is perhaps small in comparison with some of the other more serious diseases; nevertheless, the actual financial loss throughout the country that can be attributed to this disease alone amounts to considerable. Scurf potatoes do not command as high a price in the market as clean ones, though if otherwise sound they are just as good for food. The scurf, under favorable conditions, such as relatively high humidity and temperature, continues to develop under storage conditions to a limited degree. It weakens the sweet potato, so that during periods when the storage house is rather dry the potato loses moisture and becomes shriveled and dried.

Cause of Scurf.

Scurf is caused by a fungus (Monilochaetes infusans). This organism lives through the winter on the potatoes in storage and on the decayed vines in the field. If infected potatoes are used for seed, the fungus grows on the plants and is carried by them to the field. The organism produces no apparent injury to the plants in the hotbed or in the field, but it continues its growth and follows down the roots to the potatoes. It will grow for a considerable time on decayed vegetable matter in the soil in the absence of the sweet potato. Wet soils and soils containing a large quantity of organic matter are favorable to the disease. This fact has been recognized by many growers, and the disease is thought by them to be a stain caused by manure or organic matter.

PUBLIC HEALTH

By Wm. M. Jones, M. D.

TYPHOID FEVER.

The season of the year now approaches when typhoid fever makes its appearance.

We have been able to materially reduce the deaths from this disease, and for the year 1922 we want to make a banner year, so far as the cases of typhoid are concerned. But we cannot do this alone, but must have the full support of the people. It is the full intent and purpose of the county board of health to offer free anti-typhoid vaccine to everybody in the county and to do this with as little inconvenience as is possible. We realize that at best we can only meet a small per cent of the people, but we want to meet as many as possible, and for that reason we are going to go into as many centers of population as we possibly can, to give the vaccine.

I want to call your attention to what vaccination will do, by citing an incident that occurred in Salem, Ore., in October and November, 1920. Salem had at that time a population of 10,050 and there were 882 cases of typhoid fever, more than 8 per cent, or one person out of every 12 of the population. There were 210 ex-service men between 20 and 30 years of age, who had had the vaccine in the army, there were only three cases, or one to 70 and among the women 20 to 30 years of age there was one to every eight cases.

This is a very remarkable record when you consider the fact that men are generally more susceptible than are women.

So do not wait till you have typhoid in your family before calling for the vaccine, as so many have done in previous years; for it may be impossible to reach your case at that time. So to begin early I am giving the vaccine every Saturday morning from 9 to 12 o'clock in the offices of the board of health, and in May will start the county campaign by neighborhoods and community centers.

SPEAKING OF INFLUENCE.

In this old world there are all kinds of influences. There are good influences and bad ones, helpful influences and destructive ones, open influences and secret influences. But the influence which counts most with me---and I suppose I'm an average man, although my wife says I'm above the average---is the natural kind, the influence which speaks in terms of merit and helpfulness.

Well, that's the kind of influence which BUICK AUTOMOBILES exercise upon me. I believe in the BUICK because I consider it the greatest car value on the market. I believe in the BUICK because I have seen its up-to-the-minute ways demonstrated time after time, in the sphere of Performance, Service and Satisfaction.

Similarly, I am favorably influenced by the Service Methods which prevail at the Greensboro Motor Car Company's place---the best equipped garage in the State---because those methods reflect Merit and Helpfulness. I KNOW that my automotive needs will be well filled there. Such influences count with me, partner, and I believe they count with you, too.
