1 month,	$1.25
3 "	3.50
6 "	6.50
1 year,	$25.00

25c. Terms, CASH.

Advertising rates based on actual circulation. Remittances must be made by check, draft, postal money order, express, or in registered letter. Only such remittances will be at the risk of the publisher.

THE PATRIOT is devoted to the great and diversified business interests of progressive Greensboro; the Agricultural, Industrial and Horticultural interests of Guilford county, the Fifth Congressional District and the "Old North State" forever.

No attention given to anonymous correspondence, and rejected communications not returned by mail unless postage is sent for that purpose.

Communications on local topics earnestly solicited from every portion of the Fifth District.

The editor is in no wise responsible for views expressed by correspondents.

Notices of marriages and deaths inserted free of charge.

Politically, THE PATRIOT is Democratic to the core, but is not blind to the faults and shortcomings of any man, and will expose such when it comes to the surface. It furthermore believes that "to the victor belongs the spoils."

Advertisements (discontinued before the time contracted for has expired, charged transient rates for the time actually published. Advertising rates furnished on application at this office.

N. B.—All announcements and recommendations of candidates for office, will be charged for as advertisements.

WILL IT NOT BE WELL?

We have once or twice ventured to urge the organization of a Young Men's Democratic Club in Greensboro, and we are more than ever convinced that the formation of such a body is demanded by the exigencies of the coming campaign, and would be promotive of good to the Democratic party.

We would like to see the organization effected by a well-considered and concerted movement, by which the Democrats of the town would be brought together by a representative call, voicing the sentiments of the leading and most influential men and the greatest number in the community. This would constitute a mass meeting, where every opportunity would be afforded for a fair and candid interchange of views, for a full and free expression of sentiment, and for deliberate action as the outcome of that expression of sentiment.

By this means, what we and every other good Democrat must abominate—cut and dried proceedings and machine-made resolutions—would be avoided, and the organization of the Young Men's Democratic Club would be composed of the best material—the choice of all the assembled voters—in its officers, committees, etc.

Young men have been put forward prominently in the constitution of these clubs, for the reason that the matters of administration and detail can be better executed by them during the campaign, with their zeal, strength and energy. But we want the older men with us; we honor and revere them, and we count upon the guidance of their wisdom and prudence. Our word for it, such a Young Men's Democratic Club in Greensboro would be worth 250 votes to the ticket in November.

WILL YOU PLEASE ANSWER?

We are always athirst for information; facts are more precious to us than much fine gold—and we would like to ask the Republicans, who are yelling themselves hoarse over the failure of the Democrats—who have not a majority in both houses of Congress—to repeal the Internal Revenue, why they themselves, the creators of the odious measure, have not only this crime of commission on their hands, but are black clear through with the sins of omission. Soon after the inauguration of Mr. Arthur he urgently recommended such modification and at least partial repeal of the law as would reduce the increasing surplus in the Treasury; and yet the fact is notorious that the Republicans, with an overwhelming majority at that time, contented themselves with the abolition of the tax on bank checks and deposits and proprietary medicines. We are troubled with "motes"—no doubt about that; but, oh, the "beams" in the optics of our Radical friends!

A MINING STORY.—Eight years ago four miners sat one night in a tent at an Australian digging discussing their future plans and deploring their ill fortune. For weary months they had worked the mine without getting more than a bare living. At length they decided to leave the spot, though not without regret. Three of them were in the mine taking a last look around, when one said to his mates, "Good by; I'll give you a farewell blow," and with that his pick sent the splinters of quartz in all quarters. His trained eye spied a glitter on one of the bits that landed at his feet. He picked it up, examined it, and found it to be gold. He at once proceeded to work with a will. His chums saw that something out of the common course had happened, and they, too, applied their picks vigorously. With silent resolve they worked on until they unearthed a big nugget. Then a fierce, glad yell of joy reached the ears of the fourth man at the windlass at the mine top. "What's amiss!" he shouted down. "Wind up," was the reply, and when he did so the lump of pure gold met his gaze. They called it "The Welcome" and obtained thirty thousand dollars for it. The claim where the nugget was got is now covered with the fine streets of the thriving town of Ballarat.

A STORY OF CITY LIFE.—While I am as far down town as Wall street let me tell you an old story. There is a broker on New street who every quarter of a year makes out a check for $250 to give to a decently dressed old Irish woman who comes down to his office punctually at noon in a cab he pays for. Five years ago the son and only support of this pensioner was a thriving young public hackman, owning his turnout and doing well. One night he took up a wealthy Englishman at a French ball, and drove him up to Central Park to have the champagne blown out of him before he went to bed. They drove about the frosty street till dawn, and on their slow way down Broadway were halted by a gang of ruffians fresh from some thieves' ball. The driver made a stout fight for his fare, who was helpless with drink, and, though he got some hard blows on the head, managed to drive them off. Poor Jarvey had caught a fractured skull, however, and fell ill a few days later, lingered for a month or so and died mad. The Englishman had given him $50 for taking care of him and gone off to England before he knew of his misfortune. A paragraph in a newspaper which was sent to him apprised him of it, and he wrote immediately to his banker to have his savior's mother taken care of, and taken care of she is to this day and will be till she dies.

THE PHILOSOPHY OF FARMING.

It may be wholly idle to attempt to stem the tide that is rising with such force in this country in favor of mere riches; but in the case of farmers it is as well to lay the simple truth before them as to withhold it. Without in the least presuming to dictate motives or aims to any class of men, we may never theless say, with perfect truth and with all respect for their status and privileges, that farmers, of all men, are the very last ones who need to trouble themselves about the mere accumulation of money and the acquisition of wealth. Possessing and living upon their own productive acres, they have all the requisite sources of wealth constantly in their own hands. They are sure of shelter, of food and of needful clothing; to toil and moil, pinch and screw, starve and deny, merely to be counted worth a certain sum of money, is wasting the precious term of life which might be used to far better and nobler purpose.

We will indulge in no farther moralizing on the subject than simply to say that to go without the comforts of life in order to scrape together a certain amount of money, and then leave it behind without ever having had the productive and enjoyable use of it, is the folly of childishness itself. To provide—with prudence and industry—against the accidents of life and the possible infirmities of old age, is of course every man's duty, and it should ever supply a healthful incentive to exertion; but to become a slave, to starve the higher and better nature, and to deny rational enjoyment to one self and family merely to be reckoned worth so many dollars, is in defensible folly.

A man on his own farm—well cultivated and well kept, well stocked with good modern dwellings, barns and out houses, master of both time and acres, tied to no hours by the calls of bells and whistles, free to come and go according to the necessities of none but himself, mostly in his own fields, performing his healthful labors within sight of his own chimneys—is surely as rich in the genuine sense of that word as any man can be. He has nothing to fear and nobody to envy. Of one thing he is sure all his days:—a sufficient living, without one single misgiving of doubt or apprehension, and that is what other men are never sure of. There is his home; there is all the animate machinery of his establishment—and for the rest he looks with profound trust to the unfailing bounty of heaven.

Instead of the unworthy and demoralizing anxiety to get rich, if the average farmer, once being firmly established, would resolve to enlarge and exalt his life as it is; to make more out of it, to enjoy as much as possible of what there is to be enjoyed, to adorn and beautify his home—that only paradise on earth—within and without, he would find all his daily tasks far easier, even to the extent of being delightful; he would feel rich, where now, with more money, he all the time feels poor; and he would rid himself of a false tyrant in the form of increasing parsimony, that holds his nose to the grindstone until he is flung into his grave. If farmers but knew it, they could be richest men on earth.

FACTS ABOUT TRAVELING SALESMEN.

One of the leading dry goods salesmen of the United States tells me that there are now about 80,000 traveling salesmen on the road in this country, and that their expense accounts alone will average $1,500 a year each. This for expenses alone means an outlay of $120,000,000 a year, and, if you will count in an average salary of $1,000 a year each, it will swell the total to $200,000,000 a year. This immense sum is scattered all over the United States. It keeps up the hotels and is one of the most important items of railroad passenger receipts. The character of the traveling salesman has changed within a decade past. You will find very few boys and fewer drunkards upon the road. The competition is great and the expense so heavy that firms have to send out their best men, and salaries of $3,000 and $5,000 a year are by no means uncommon.

SATISFACTION GUARANTEED.

IT IS NOT ALWAYS NIGHT.

The weary soul in voiceless prayer
Breaks from the verge of dark despair—
There seems no ray of welcome light.
But faith cries out with sturdy voice,
That bids the waiting soul rejoice:
"It is not—always night!"

With tired feet and longing eyes,
We gaze athwart the leaden skies
And at the distant mountain height;
Then hope shines o'er the dreary way—
We see the gleam of dawn and say:
"It is not—always night!"

Be strong, O soul! Be brave, faint heart!
Bid every doubt and fear depart,
For God will make it all end right.
The promise is for me and you;
The shining shore comes into view—
It is not—always night!"

MUSICAL INSTRUCTIONS

Given by Prof. A. Schmitt,
On Violin, Violoncello or Bass,
Guitar, Flute, Clarinet, or any other Musical Instrument! I have been giving Musical Instructions for the past thirty years, in most all portions of Georgia, North and South Carolina! I have numerous suitable recommendations from professors and prominent citizens, and the press of the different places, at which I have given instructions! Those who desire to take lessons, will find me at my residence, on King street, near Sergeant's foundry, or addressed through the city postoffice. Terms reasonable. I will also Tune and Repair Pianos and Organs, with the greatest satisfaction, or make no charge.

JUNI PROF. A. SCHMITT.

Notice To Teachers.

The School Committee of Greensboro, N. C., will receive applications for positions in the white and colored graded schools until July 1st, 1888. There will be elected on the 6th of July a Superintendent and five teachers in the white graded school and two teachers in the colored school. All applications to be in writing, and accompanied by recommendations and statement of the experience the teacher has had in teaching and whether married or single. Address, J. S. SCHRECK, Ch'm Com. Greensboro, N. C., June 17, 1888.

TAYLOR HOUSE,

Danbury, N. C.,

Will be open on the 15th of June for the accommodation of visitors to Piedmont Springs.

These Springs are about 2½ miles from Danbury, and are now the most popular waters in the State. Dyspeptics can, after using the water, eat anything they desire without inconvenience. Bad cases of scrofula have been cured by its use and it is a specific for female diseases.

For PLEASURE SEEKERS no place can surpass it.

My table will be provided with the best the market affords. The dining room is large and cool; bed rooms well ventilated; nice parlor, and the long double verandas, make the House one of the most desirable in this section of the State to spend the heated term. The yard is beautifully and densely shaded with Aspen trees.

A PLACE FOR AMUSEMENTS has been set apart, and music will be provided.

TERMS.—Per month of four weeks $16; per week, $5; per day, $1; children of 10 years and under half charges. Servants who wait on their employers' room half charges.

Thankful for past favors, I ask a continuance of the same.

Address me at Danbury, Stokes County, N. C.

Local News.

Index to New Advertisements.
Sample S. Brown—Campaign Plugs.

Read the DAILY EVENING PATRIOT all the year round.

PROTRACTED MEETING.—There will be religious services in Westminster Church to-night at 8:15 o'clock, and during next week.

OBITUARY.—We regret to learn to-day of the death of Mr. Colin Makepeace, son of Geo. H. Makepeace, of Franklinsville, which occurred at his home at that place last night. The deceased was only 22 or 23 years of age.

FRUIT FAIR.—The North Carolina Horticultural Society will hold its 6th Annual Fruit Fair at Raleigh, on the 15th and 16th of August. Mr. Van Lindley, who has just returned from Raleigh, informs us that the people of Raleigh are arranging for the largest fruit fair ever held.

DEMOCRAT MEDAL.—A contest for a Democrat Silver Medal will take place in the hall of the Women's Christian Temperance Union on Monday evening next, at 8:30 o'clock, the programme of the exercises of which will appear in the next issue of the paper. The public are cordially invited to attend.

FIRE.—This morning, at about 3 o'clock, the dwelling and storehouse of W. E. Holley, colored, in Jonesboro, a suburb of the city, was destroyed by fire. The stock of merchandise was mostly saved, but the household furniture was a total loss; there was no insurance on either.

Holley states that on yesterday he had a difficulty with a negro, who went off his premises, and stood abusing and threatening him for some time. Late in the evening he entered the store, and purchased two gallons of kerosene—and Holley firmly believes that that kerosene did the work.

WALNUT COVE CELEBRATING.—From friends who were so fortunate as to be on the grounds, we learn that the barbecue at Walnut Cove last Saturday, 16th inst., was a good, old-fashioned jollification, largely attended and very heartily enjoyed.

A beautiful grove, with the advantages of delightful shade and delicious water, offered a charming place of comfort and shelter for the large concourse of people, who were addressed by Messrs. W. B. Glenn, J. L. Patterson and J. H. Stockton, and were then regaled with a generous repast of substantial and delicacies. Many ladies graced the entertainment with their presence, whose housewifely skill furnished forth the bounteous board, and whose charms of person and conversation enhanced the pleasures of the hour. At intervals the crowd enjoyed the fine music of the Salem Cornet Band.

On the day of the barbecue there was an election on the question of subscription to the Roanoke & Southern R. R., which was carried in favor of subscription by 15 or 20 majority.

VERY TRUE.—Our contemporary, the Winston Republican, has the following to say in commendation of the excellencies of one of our small fruits:

There is one crop in Piedmont North Carolina that never fails and can always be counted upon, and that is the blackberry. Since canned fruits have to a great extent taken the place of the dried article, the blackberry does not occupy the place of import it formerly did in the world. Still there are many dollars yet realized from this traffic, and it is a great pity that every township did not have a canning establishment to revive the interest in and scatter the dollars for this crop. The blackberry needs no cultivation, grows luxuriantly in every old field, and in order to keep up the market demand and value, canning must succeed drying eventually, and the sooner this fact is realized and put into practice, the better. As a cordial and medicine, also, blackberry wine has no equal.

We have more than once pressed upon the attention of our readers views similar to the above sensible ideas of our contemporary; and, so highly do we esteem the virtues of the blackberry that we think it would be profitable for every family, where practicable, to devote some time every season in preparing as large a quantity of the wine as possible for family medicinal use—provided our prohibition friends will admit of so much latitude in the use of remedies.

Valuable as it with simply old field growth, it is far superior, of course, with cultivation, and can be made one of the most profitable of our small fruits.

MEETING LAST NIGHT.—After the raising of the flag over the building of Mrs. Gorrell on West Market street, the banner being placed in position by Mr. Sam'l. Kerr, the prohibitionists met in the court house at 8:15 p. m., W. R. Love, Esq., presiding and Mr. Samuel Kerr acting as Secretary. Prayer was offered by a colored preacher, Rev. C. Campbell, of the Methodist Church.

A selection of vocal music was then given by Prof. Steele, Dr. Blosser and Mr. W. S. Moore, after which the proceedings were opened by a few appropriate remarks from the chairman, Mr. Love.

Dr. Blosser (if the reporter succeeded in catching the name correctly) was then called upon, and in response made an address of about half hour's length, and read certain newspaper extracts showing how naughty California Democratic delegates had behaved in going to the St. Louis Convention, intimating very strongly that he should vote no more with that party. Following him, Mr. W. F. Steele read certain newspaper extracts showing how naughty New York and California Republican delegates had behaved in going to the Chicago convention, declaring very plainly that he should vote no more with that party. [Just here the reporter took time to congratulate himself that nothing was lost; it was a "pair"—"honors were easy"—one Democrat had bolted, and following on his heels came a Republican.]

Loud calls were then made for the gubernatorial nominee, Mr. Walker, who appeared before his audience amid applause, and made a speech of about an hour's length, toward the close of which he gave utterance—made more thrilling by impassioned tone and gesture—to the beautiful sentiment that he "would rather be right than be President," an original creation of the brain so striking that it was applauded to the echo. However, we'll take this back; we would not, even good-humoredly and laughingly, do discourtesy to a public speaker who is doing no harm, and probably does not wish to do any harm. In truth, the address of Mr. Walker interested us greatly; he is a forcible speaker, and made a strong plea for a hopeless cause.

As we followed the proceedings of the meeting last night, we could not help being saddened at the contemplation of the gross ignorance which has characterized the millions of American citizens who compose the great Democratic and Republican parties of this country, and who have been groping along in blind darkness for lo! these many years. But all this will be changed now: the light of the superior wisdom of the third party will flood all things with a new radiance, bringing a political Utopia dreamed of, but never before realized—and yet we could not help thinking, too, that Mr. Walker and his few devoted adherents who found the whole world wrong were like the disagreeing man on the jury, who abused the other eleven for a lot of stubborn, pig-headed fools.

By as careful an estimate as we could make, we judge that there was an audience of 200 or 225, several of whom were ladies.

UNFORTUNATE.—We regret to learn from the Dispatch that the pleasant town of Lexington is full of very serious sickness—typhoid fever, &c., which the Dispatch attributes to filth and the lack of proper sanitary precautions, declaring that the "town authorities are asleep."

We sympathize with all communities thus afflicted, while we congratulate ourselves upon our own more fortunate condition and the care, watchfulness and efficiency of our town authorities. We do not assert that there is no sickness in Greensboro, but we do state that it is as healthy as any town of its size in the State.

TO THE PUBLIC.

On Saturday night, when the Buchanan and McDonald block was destroyed by fire, I had one of Ferrell & Co.'s Herring Safes in my office, on second floor. It fell to centre of main floor and was subject to the hottest part of the fire. Upon having it opened I found all valuable papers, books and monies preserved, and in as good condition as when I put them in.

I cheerfully recommend Herring Safe to the public.

Respectfully,

THOMAS BAILEY.

The undersigned is agent for the above Safes, and solicits orders which will be promptly filled, with satisfaction guaranteed.

Mt. VERNON SPRINGS HOTEL.

MT. VERNON SPRINGS, CHATHAM CO., N. C.

Summer and Winter Resort,

J. M. FOUST, Owner and Proprietor.

DR. J. C. KIRKMAN, Resident Physician.

The Vernon Springs is situated in Chatham County, N. C., one mile West of Ore Hill Depot, on the C. F. & Y. V. R. R., within two hours ride of Greensboro or Fayetteville, and is a charming spot to those who seek a place of rest and recreation. Here one finds Mineral Water of fine quality in a spring five feet deep. The water is Chloride, Sulphate, Carbonates, Alumina, Lime, Magnesia and Sodium, all so nicely blended as to make it impossible to tell which predominates. It is pleasant to the taste, cool, and light as air itself. Marvelous cures in Dyspepsia have been effected by the use of the water, and Catarrhs of the Stomach, which have baffled medical skill have yielded to it. The water is not surpassed by any mineral water in the State, and the location is free from all Malaria influences. June 20-18
