A Sensational Tragedy.

(Little River, S. C., Cor. of Wilmington Star.)

A short time ago Mr. M. T. Vereen, a widower with five children, and a well known citizen of Little River, married a Miss Winnie Lancaster, of Brunswick county, N. C. The marriage seemed to be a happy one, so far as any one knew outside of the family, but facts that have since developed go to show the contrary. One morning Mrs. Vereen arose and prepared some toddy which she invited her husband to drink, at the same time telling him to give some of it to all the children. Mr. Vereen told his wife that he would do so, but at the same time insisted that she should drink some of it also. Mrs. Vereen replied that she had already taken some and did not wish any more. Her husband, not suspecting that anything was wrong, gave two of his little boys some of the toddy, drinking what was left himself. In a very short time the two boys were taken very sick with vomiting and soon afterwards Mr. Vereen was prostrated. Two of his brothers were sent for and a physician was summoned, and when they came found Mr. Vereen apparently dead, but they finally succeeded in restoring him to consciousness. Mr. Vereen, suspecting that he and his boys had been poisoned, asked the doctor to examine the bottle of whiskey from which his wife had prepared the toddy. The doctor made an examination of the contents of the bottle and found that it contained whiskey mixed with chloroform.

Mrs. Vereen upon being closely questioned, admitted that she gave the chloroform intentionally and that her purpose was to kill her husband. Since this occurrence, Mr. Vereen says, his wife has made two attempts to poison him with pounded glass, and he is now thought to be in danger of dying, as he is said to have swallowed a goodly portion of the pounded glass both times.

Mrs. Vereen gave no reason whatever for making these repeated attempts on her husband's life—only that she did not want to live with him any longer, and she thought she would get him out of the way. After all this had been found out she made two attempts to take her own life—first, by trying to cut her throat with a penknife, and then by drinking the contents of a bottle of laudanum. Since then she left Mr. Vereen, saying that she was going back to her home in Brunswick county.

LIGHTNING'S WORK.—Lightning struck a dozen or more times in town. A two-story frame building owned by Tom Richardson, colored, situated back from Turner avenue and about fifty yards to the rear of the residence of the editor of the Gold Leaf, was struck and set fire to. It burned down with out damage to any other property. It was at one time occupied as a tobacco factory, but was used at the time by the colored Presbyterians and colored Old Fellows. All the property and effects belonging to them were lost. Richardson had insured for $350. Mr. Arch Davis' dwelling house was struck and some of the shingles were knocked off. Mr. Owen Davis who was writing in an up-stairs room was somewhat shaken up but not hurt. A chimney was knocked off of Mr. R. E. Young's residence. No other damage was done to it. Mr. Walter Stark's dwelling was struck and some of the shingles and weatherboarding torn off. His wife was severely shocked and is yet in an almost helpless condition from the effects of her injuries. Mr. Stark was slightly hurt as was also their little child. Fox's gin house was struck, but little damage was done. A chimney on Mr. W. N. Ellington's house was knocked off. A tree in Mr. A. B. Burwell's yard was struck. The red on Mr. Geo. B. Harris's dwelling was hit, as was the top of the Henderson tobacco Company's factory. Mr. L. G. Newton, who lives near Steedsville, in this county, had a fine mare and colt killed by lightning the same night. It struck a tree in his lot under which the animals happened to be standing at the time. We learn that the storm was quite severe in other portions of the county, and that many trees and out-houses were struck by lightning. Altogether, the thunder storm of last Thursday night was the most terrific and appalling—the severest this writer has ever known.—Henderson Gold Leaf.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.—A Destructive fire occurred in the vicinity of Lowesville last Sunday. Mr. Fuller Jones had lately completed a handsome two story frame residence and furnished it. Mrs. Rachel Hoyer, his mother in law, lived in an old building in the yard. Mr. Jones and family had gone to spend the day with a neighbor. The fire was first discovered about midday by Henry Nixon and others, and when they got there the old building was all ablaze and soon the flames were communicated to the new. In a short while both buildings, the corn crib, smoke house, together with other out buildings, a total of eight in all, were reduced to ashes.—Lincoln Courier.

EVAPORATORS.—About one year ago Mr. J. H. Hightower commenced the manufacture of molasses evaporators in Shelby on a small scale, and met with such encouragement from the start that he was induced to purchase new and improved machinery and manufacture them in large quantities, both for the wholesale and retail trade, and we are glad to know that he is enjoying a liberal patronage from the people of North and South Carolina. We notice him shipping evaporators almost daily. He also does the tin roofing and guttering for this part of the State. Our readers can do no better than patronize him.—Shelby Aurora.

TRAIN WRECKED.—The north-bound train on the Roanoke and Tar River Railroad was wrecked about three miles north of this place on Monday evening of this week. Ten of the fourteen cars of the train were loaded with logs, and while the train was going down grade and running at a rapid speed the standards that held the logs on one of the cars gave way and the logs rolled off and got under the cars, throwing them off the track and causing a complete wreck of seven of them, besides tearing up a portion of the track. Fortunately only one man, a train hand, was hurt, and he very slightly.—Roanoke Patron.

Another alligator was captured yesterday at Carolina Beach. He took refuge in the woods and fought viciously, but after an exciting chase was cornered and had to surrender. Dan Smith, a colored citizen who took a prominent part in the chase, made this philosophical remark: "Talk 'bout gator can't run. Blessed Toney, dey run like a cat!"—Wilmington Star.

GETTYSBURG CELEBRATION.
The First Day passed off Splendidly—Seven Monuments.

Gettysburg, Pa., June 30.—The clouds of the past few days broke this morning and bright sunshine enlivened the opening scenes of the first reunion. The first act in the important drama to be enacted here during this anniversary of the battle, occurred this morning in Reynolds grove, where the exercises of dedicating Wisconsin's seven costly monuments attracted a vast concourse of veterans and visitors.—Capt. Levi Pond opened the programme, after which United States Senator John C. Spooner, of Wisconsin, delivered an oration. Gov. Rusk placed the monuments in the care of the Gettysburg Battlefield Memorial Association, the trust being accepted on the part of the association by its president, Governor Beaver, of Pennsylvania.

Among the arrivals this morning was Gen. Jas. Longstreet. He will be an interested spectator of and participant in the doings of the coming four days. Gen. Fairchild, past National Commander, made a stirring address, followed by remarks by representatives of the various commands.

One of the most pleasing episodes was the cordial greeting of General Sickles and Longstreet, who came together unexpectedly in the dining room of the Springs hotel, meeting for the first time since the bloody engagement between their two corps, which took place in front of Round Top on the second of July, 1863.

The distinctive feature of tomorrow's exercises will be the reunion of the first army corps in Reynolds grove, in the afternoon at the monument which marks the spot where the gallant Reynolds fell.

In the morning a dozen or more New York monuments will be dedicated.

General J. B. Gordon, of Georgia and a considerable party of Confederate survivors are expected to night, most of whom will go into camp.

He Wanted Whisky.

Hickory, N. C., June 30.—A stranger stepped into a saloon today, greatly intoxicated, and demanded of the proprietor a pint of whisky. Upon being refused he drew a revolver and said he must have the liquor or some one would get shot. The barkeeper beat a hasty retreat, and notified Marshall Harris, who, with several others, gave chase to the party and finally succeeded in capturing him, not however until he had emptied six chambers of a 32 calibre revolver at the party. The man was finally locked up, but in a pretty badly bruised condition.

Commencement at Hickory.

Hickory, N. C., June 30.—Commencement exercises of Highland College were held at that well known institution last evening. A large crowd was in attendance and an excellent programme rendered. Mr. Josephus Daniels was the orator of the day, and he gave the good people of Hickory a feast of knowledge and a flow of wit—and did himself justice in the subject he selected—"Shams."

Twelve Thousand People Made Homeless.

London, June 30.—The property destroyed by the recent fires at Sandsvile, Sweden, was valued at $45,000,000. Twelve thousand persons were rendered homeless by the flames. King Oscar is visiting the districts and is engaged in relieving the wants of the sufferers. Houses, forests and standing crops on farms in other districts were also burned.

Thrown Out of Employment.

Milwaukee, Wis., June 30.—Six hundred men were thrown out of employment today by the closing down of the North Chicago Rolling Mill Company's mills at Bayview, because of the difference between the Amalgamated association and the manufacturers over the scale of wages for the ensuing year.

Lamont Will Entertain Cleveland.

Newport, R. I., June 30.—Col. Lamont, the President's private secretary, has just rented for the summer the Weedon cottage at Jamestown—a summer resort on Conanicut Island opposite Newport. It is said that President and Mrs. Cleveland will be his guests there during the season.

The President Will Stay at Home.
Washington, June 30.—The President has informed the Cincinnati Exposition Committee that on account of pressure of public business he cannot attend the Exposition at this time. He has now on his hands 130 bills that must be examined and disposed of in the next week.

Harrison and Blaine.

Portland, Maine, June 30.—The Maine men here all say that Blaine is to go back to Washington as United States Senator. There is a report, given as such and nothing more, that General Harrison is to meet Blaine in New York and go with him to Maine.

TO THE PUBLIC.

On Saturday night, when the Buchanan and McDonald block was destroyed by fire, I had one of Ferrell & Co.'s Herring Safes in my office, on second floor. It fell to centre of main floor and was subject to the hottest part of the fire. Upon having it opened I found all valuable papers, books and monies preserved, and in as good condition as when I put them in.

I cheerfully recommend Herring Safes.
Respectfully,
THOMAS BAILEY.

The undersigned is agent for the above Safes, and solicits orders which will be promptly filled, with satisfaction guaranteed.

The Opening of the Campaign.

The campaign is now about open. Parties are running high.—understanding this, prices are lower. They are now lower than Will Arnfield's than usual. To enable candidates of either party to make a good canvass, we have reduced the prices of his goods. Clothing lower than ever before, and also to enable the people to go nicely dressed up and feel as well as any of the candidates before the election and a good deal better than about two-thirds of them will feel after the result of the count becomes fully known. He now proclaims to every body—candidates, voters, ladies and gentlemen—that they can buy more Shirts, Dress Goods, or any thing he keeps, for a little less than ever before. So do not fail to call in and let him prove these facts to you before you buy.

He has reduced the prices of all his summer goods, Straw Hats, Clothing, &c., &c., not to cost, but so that he can get for most of them, in order to clean up to make room for a Fall stock. So remember this when you want to buy.

He has courts and runs away, but he has courts and will not avoid, but he has courts and runs away.

Some sure things and some in doubt

It is a sure thing that Grover Cleveland has been nominated for President on the Democratic ticket, and another pretty sure thing is that there has positively refused the nomination on the Republican ticket.

It is not a very sure thing who will be the Republican nominee, but it is a pretty sure thing is, at least, to make over nominations, and it is a pretty sure thing is whether the candidate elected will, in many respects, please the party that placed him in power.

But a sure, certain and fixed fact is, that G. Will Arnfield has one of the largest stocks of Clothing, Shoes, Hats, Dry Goods, Carpets, &c. in the State, and notwithstanding this is campaign year and people have no great surplus of money, he intends to do his usual amount of business if prices are any more to buyers. You will see a lot of prices of goods in the catalogue, and he means to stick to it and see him before you buy.

The famous recorded balloon ascent made by G. Will Arnfield from Woburn, Mass., England on September 5, 1887. When rose to the height of seven miles.

CHEAP GOODS.

If you want to buy goods cheap, for less than value, now is your time. Just go to G. Will Arnfield's and you will find the following goods so low that you will be almost compelled to buy them.—Here are some of the goods to be seen now, which we think below market prices:

100 pairs Holland Shirts, mounted on rollers, at 25c; former price 50c to 60c; 200 pairs Ladies' Men's, Boys' and Children's hosiery quarter price, and all things near cost.—These goods will be closed out at some price.

A large lot of straw Hats cheap at half price before.

A large lot of Seersucker Coats and Vests, just right for hot weather, at cost and less.

A large line of Ladies' Summer Gloves, to be closed at less than cost.

A big line of Ladies' Silk Mitts, at 25 per cent less than cost.

A large line of Men's Hats, in 1000s, two or three lines of drum hats samples, that will be closed for 25 per cent less than N. York cost.

Don't forget the clothing. You can buy a suit for less than cost.—A lot of $20 Black Diagonals will be closed for $15. Go and see for yourself; you will be convinced.

Just say "Have you ever met the prisoner of the bar?"

Whisper—"Oh, yes, your honor, that's where I must always meet him."

HERE'S A CANDIDATE FOR YOU!

The Republican candidate for Vice President is plaintiff against North Carolina in the United States Court to compel the payment of the special tax bonds created by a legislature composed of ignorant, irresponsible white and black men, which were squandered, hypothecated in New York city, and gambled away—not a dollar of which ever inured to the benefit of the people of North Carolina.

If we are not greatly mistaken, we have, filed away somewhere, certain utterances of Republican newspapers not a thousand miles away, advocating the payment of these same special tax bonds, or a part thereof. Which part? If they were honestly issued, if they constitute a part of the just indebtedness of the State, every dollar should be paid; if not, then not one cent should be paid.

We are reminded just here of the "supposed speech of James Otis," which we and other shock-headed boys were accustomed to spout with much unction in the old field schools before the war: "America, thanks be to God and herself, is rich, but the right to take ten pounds implies the right to take a thousand," etc. North Carolina, thanks to the scoundrels and carpet-baggers, and their mismanagement, during the trying days of reconstruction, is poor—only just recovering from the pernicious effects of that hideous era of mismanagement, incompetency and corruption; but, were she possessed of a treasury overflowing like that of the United States, she will never consent to the payment of bonds wrongfully imposed upon the tax payers—and she will never give her electoral vote to a representative of the Wall street money monopoly, who, like Shylock, will "have his bond" if it takes the very heart's blood of the old commonwealth!

CONSERVATISM vs. RADICALISM.

The issue between the two parties could not possibly be more clearly defined than it will be in the coming campaign—a policy of conservatism, justice and moderation to every producing and industrial class of the people, as opposed to the blind, unreasoning, headlong course of a faction engaged in a desperate fight for a retention of the power still in their hands, and a restoration to that of which an outraged people have succeeded in depriving them.

The outcome of the Chicago convention—which was an unseemly wrangle from beginning to end—is a Presidential candidate whose record places him squarely in opposition to his party on the Blair bill and the Chinese question, and a candidate for the second place, who, if he be a representative of anything, is that of the money power of Wall street and the monopoly of overgrown and domineering capital, with a platform to which the party is inconsistent, and which its whole course in Congress has violated over and over again.

It may be said of the Democratic party that with the utterance by the President of his last annual message, the administration and the party have been fully in accord on the momentous question of the tariff, in the advocacy of wise and necessary reduction, which shall conserve and promote the interests of producers, consumers and manufacturers alike, and not by the adoption of the extreme free trade measures which are charged upon the Democracy by its opponents.

We want no better key note for the inauguration of the great political struggle than the following well-chosen and deliberate words of Mr. Cleveland, taken from his annual message:

"It is not proposed to entirely relieve the country of this taxation. It must be extensively continued as the source of the government's income, and in a readjustment of our tariff the interest of American labor engaged in manufacture should be carefully considered, as well as the preservation of our manufacturers. It may be called protection, or by any other name, but relief from the hardships and dangers of our present tariff laws should be devised with special precaution against imperiling the existence of our manufacturing interests."

The Touch of Nature.

A boy, ten years old, pulling a heavy cart loaded with pieces of boards and laths taken from some demolished structure—an every day sight in our large cities. Tired and exhausted, he halted under a shade tree. His feet were sore and bruised, his clothing in rags, his face pinched and looking years older than it should. The boy lay down on the grass, and in five minutes was fast asleep. His bare feet just touched the curb stone, and the old hat fell from his head and rolled on the walk. In the shadow of the tree his face told a story that every passer by could read. It told of scanty food, of nights when the body shivered with cold, of a home without sunshine, of a young life confronted by mocking shadows.

Then a thing curious happened. A laboring man—a queer old man, with a wood-saw on his arm—crossed the street to rest for a moment under the same shade. He glanced at the boy and turned away, but his look was drawn again, and now he saw the picture and read the story. He, too, knew what it was to shiver and hunger. He tiptoed along until he could bend over the boy, and then he took from his pocket a piece of bread and meat—the dinner he was to eat if he found work and laid it down beside the lad. Then he walked carefully away, looking back every moment, but keeping out of sight, as if he wanted to escape thanks.

Men, women and children had seen it all, and what a leveler it was! The human soul is ever kind and generous, but sometimes there is need of a key to open it. A man walked down from his steps, and left half a dollar beside the poor man's bread. A woman came along, and left a good hat in place of the old one. A child came with a pair of shoes, and a boy with a coat and vest. Pedestrians halted and whispered and dropped dimes and quarters beside the first silver piece. The pinched-faced boy suddenly awoke, and sprang up as if it were a crime to sleep there. He saw the bread, the clothing, the money, the score of people waiting around to see what he would do. He knew that he had slept, and he realized that all these things had come to him as he dreamed. Then what did he do? Why, he sat down, and covered his face with his hands and sobbed.—Live Oak.

A GRAND BALL AT ROTHSCHILD'S.—A ball given by the Baron and Baroness Alphonse de Rothschild in their palatial dwelling on the Rue St. Florentin might justly have been called a dream of fair women. The ball room was a perfect picture, hung with vieux bleu silk damask, lighted by electric light, reflecting on the art gems of Greuze, Watteau and other great masters that adorn the walls, corbeilles and roses placed in every available corner, and spreading their fragrance on the already perfumed air. A collection of pretty bibelots were distributed in the cotillon, a novel figure being that of a large golden bouc on a tree. In the hollow at the top hundreds of chenille snakes of all colors were found and presented by the gentlemen to the ladies, thus reversing the biblical tradition. Dainty silk aprons, embroidered with silver and gold, golden Spanish combs, artistic book covers, satin jockey caps, whips and a thousand and one things found their way into the cunning reed baskets, gayly decorated with ribbons. The evening passed off away with pride and triumph after the dance.—Galignani's Messenger.

AMERICAN CAPITAL IN MEXICO.—It is estimated that the railroad mileage of Mexico owned by Americans is nearly three thousand miles, and that the capital thus invested is upward of $80,000,000. The amount of American capital invested in mines is thought to be nearly $20,000,000. In 1873 the imports of Mexico were $20,166,013, and only $5,231,255 of this came from the United States, and of this latter amount only a very small proportion went across the frontier. Last year the exports from this country to Mexico were about $10,000,000, of which more than half went by American rail ways to the border and thence by rail to interior points. The International company of Lower California has a grant, estimated at 17,000,000 acres, and a brisk town is now established about one hundred miles south of San Diego, Cal. Exchange on New York City in northern Mexico is sold more largely than on any other city, and in the City of Mexico is second only in demand to that on London.—New Orleans Times Democrat.

CLOVER HAY.—It is a matter of experience that clover hay is a far better fodder for cows than timothy hay. The reasons for this are various: First, clover is almost always in better condition when cut than timothy, being younger and tenderer, and consequently richer in nutriment and more digestible than if cut later; second, it is better cured as a rule, because it must necessarily be less dried to save the leaves, or it would be nothing but stalks, while timothy can be more highly dried with impunity; third, clover is richer in nitrogenous matters than timothy, and the nutriment contained in it is more digestible. Thus, clover hay contains from 11 per cent. in poor quality to 15 per cent. in the best of nitrogenous matters, while timothy hay contains 9 and mixed hay from 7 to 12 per cent.; of these substances in clover from 7 to 10 per cent. are digestible, while in timothy only 5 per cent. and in mixed hay from 4 to 8 per cent. are digestible.—The Dairyman.

PURE WATER FOR FOWLS.—It is of great importance in keeping fowls in a healthy condition that they should have access to no water that is not pure. Leakings from the manure heap, water from the kitchen sink or slop holes in the yard are all unwholesome, as is stagnant water of any kind. Drinking vessels should be easily accessible at all times and supplied with water that is pure and fresh. Tin, galvanized iron or earthen drinking vessels may be used, and should be thoroughly cleansed and rinsed out whenever refilled.

CLOVER AS AN EGG FOOD.—Clover contains two elements that are in demand by the hen—nitrogen and lime. It is rich in the elements required for the white (albumen) and the shell, and if plenty of it be provided for the hens, no better food can be given. Grain should only be a portion of the diet of fowls, yet but few flocks receive anything but grain, and with such food it is not surprising that many well-fed flocks do not prove profitable. Substitute clover for grain, and the result will be a larger number of eggs at a lower cost, and the flocks will keep in better condition.—Farm and Fireside.

Husband (to wife, home from church) "Service interesting this morning, my dear? W'fe—"Not particularly so. Mrs. Carlton Pell's baby was baptized, and they say its baptismal robe of lace cost $500. I think there is such a thing as being too religious."—New York Sun.

A—"How do you like your land lady? B.—"She is a very clever woman, but she has too much curiosity." "In what direction?" "She is always asking me when I am going to pay my board bill."—Chicago Sunday National.

Fizz—Rather startling news on yesterday!

Quizz—Ah, yes; the Emperor of Germany's death!

Fizz—Oh, no! The New York's defeat of the Detroiters.—Lowell Citizen.

BEYOND THE GATE.

Two dimpled hands the bars of iron grasped.

Two blue and wondering eyes the space looked through;

The massive gate boundry had been set, Nor was she ever known to be but true.

Strange were the sights she saw across the way;

A little child had died the day before— And as she watched, amid the silence hushed,

Some carried flowers, some a casket bore.

The little watcher at the garden-gate Grew fearful—hers such thoughts and wonderings were—

Till said the nurse: "Come here, dear child; weep not."

"If he should send for me"—thus spoke the child—

"I'll have to tell the angel: 'do not wait; Tho' God has sent for me, I cannot come; I never go beyond the garden-gate.'"

Mt. VERNON SPRINGS HOTEL.

Mt. VERNON SPRINGS, CHATHAM CO., N. C.

Summer and Winter Resort.

J. M. FOUST, Owner and Proprietor. Dr. J. C. KIRKMAN, Resident Physician.

Mt. Vernon Springs is situated in Chatham County, N. C., one mile west of the old town of F. & V. R. R., within two hours ride of Greensboro, or Fayetteville, and is a health resort to those who seek a place of rest and recreation. Here one finds Mineral Water of fine quality in a spring five feet deep. The water is rich in Sulphates, Carbonates, Alumina, Lime, Magnesia and Sodium, all equally abundant in quantity possible to tell which predominates. It is pleasant to the taste, and light and airy, and the cures in Dyspepsia have been effected by the use of the water, and the fact that the water is so pure and the location is free from all Malarial influences.

TAYLOR HOUSE, Danbury, N. C.

Will be open on the 15th of June for the accommodation of visitors to Piedmont Springs.

These Springs are about 2 1/2 miles from Danbury, and are now the most popular waters in the State. Dyspepsia can, after using the water, eat anything they desire without inconvenience. Bad cases of scrofula have been cured by its use and it is a specific for female diseases.

For PLEASURE SEEKERS no place can surpass it.

My table will be provided with the best the market affords. The dining room is large and cool; bed rooms well ventilated; nice parlor, and the long double verandas, make the House one of the most desirable in this section of the State to spend the heated term. The yard is beautifully and densely shaded with Aspen trees.

A PLACE FOR AMUSEMENTS has been set apart, and music will be provided.

TERMS.—Per month of four weeks $16; per week, $5; per day, $1; children of 10 years and under half charges. Servants who wait on their employers' room half charges.

Thankful for past favors, I ask a continuance of the same.

Address me at Danbury, Stokes County, N. C. S. B. TAYLOR, Proprietor.

DAILY EVENING PATRIOT.

GREENSBORO, N. C.

MONDAY, JULY 2, 1888.

Index to New Advertisements.
Dr. G. W. Whitsett—Surgeon Dentist.

Local News.

Read the DAILY EVENING PATRIOT all the year round.

—Col. Jas. E. Boyd donned the white beaver yesterday. Now let him procure a bandanna, and weep into its ample folds a few tears of repentance for his past political sins. "While the lamp holds out to burn"—he knows the rest.

MATRIMONIAL.—The Register of Deeds reports 9 marriage licenses issued—three white and six colored.

ERROR.—In announcing church services in Saturday's issue we inadvertently left in the notice of ordinance of baptism in the Baptist church, which had been published for the week before.

POLICE MATTERS.—During the month of June the police force of the city made 48 arrests, distributed for different offenses as follows:

Affray, 13; assault, 3; stock at large, 2; disorderly conduct, 9; drunkenness, 6; nuisance, 10; contempt court, 3; carrying concealed weapon, 1; cursing on streets, 1. Total, 48.

WHAT'S UP?—Col. J. E. Boyd, elector for the "Tippecanoe" and "boodle" candidates, and (Gov.) Walker, Third party leader, have been in close consultation to-day. Is this for a joint canvass and a simultaneous, combination onset against the great "unterrified" Democracy? "For ways that are dark and for tricks that are vain the heathen Chinese is peculiar."

IMPROVEMENTS.—The Houston building on South Elm street has been very tastefully repainted, and now presents an unusually handsome appearance.

Emerson, Long and Hicks are fitting up part of the Yates building for a barber shop, and with handsome fittings and all needed conveniences will offer their tonorial services to the unshorn and unshaven public.

OFF FOR EUROPE.—Mr. Julius Lehman, who for the past five years has been with Mr. Moses Strauss, left last Sunday night for Germany, and in the course of his travels he expects to visit London, Paris and Berlin, taking Italy and the Alps on his way, and returning about the middle of October. He will doubtless have an "altitudinous" old time (even before he reaches the Alps), and we wish him a safe and pleasant journey.

IMPRESSIVE CEREMONIES.—Last Saturday the Moravians of Salem and Forsyth county held very impressive ceremonies at Old Town, in the laying of the corner-stone of the monument to the memory of Matthew Stack, the first missionary of that religious sect to Greenland. His remains are entombed in the ancient graveyard of that primitive town, and the dedication services above his resting-place were held both morning and evening, and were attended by a large crowd of interested spectators and auditors.

"SWEETS TO THE SWEET."—We do not mean that the Greensboro Candy Company is manufacturing its "sweets" only for the "sweet"—the pretty girls and the dear little children—for a "sweet tooth" is a possession common to all humanity; but, whoever seeks its wares, no better confectioneries of every description can be found than those manufactured by this establishment on West Market street. Best of all, their prices are remarkably low, considering the excellent quality of goods put upon the market.

CAN THEY NOT REDUCE RATES?—Every public carrier, caterer and purveyor makes special rates now and then for the accommodation of the public, in view of the benefit to be derived from such action; the railroads run excursion trains for half or less than half-fare, and so with the steamers; and even the hotels and boarding-houses, which are generally supposed to be run without the bowels of compassion, recognize the fact that there are some occasions when they should feed and lodge the wayfarer for a little less than the usual gilt-edge terms.

Can the Southern Express Company be induced to display a little generosity in this respect? During the short season for the shipment of early fruits and vegetables it would be a benefaction to the trucker if he could obtain some rates of transportation that would enable him to send his produce to the Northern markets with the hope of a little profit at the end.

We know of fruit growers in this vicinity who have recently shipped peaches to Baltimore and New York, receiving prices which satisfied their expectations, and yet the charges in getting them upon the market—chief of which were those of the express company—made it almost a losing business with them.

Unless a lower tariff of rates can be obtained, the result will be that the shipment of fruit will cease. We know one citizen, owning a peach orchard of between 500 and 1,000 trees, who has already declared that this season's experience has determined him to send no more fruit away hereafter.

HOME BEST, AFTER ALL.—In conversation with a gentleman who is a member of one of our largest mercantile firms, which sells its goods all over North Carolina and the South, he was giving the result of his observations of this and that city—the wonderful progress of Asheville, Jacksonville, Fla., &c.—but the conclusion was reached in the course of conversation that, after all, he preferred Greensboro to any North Carolina or Southern town that he had visited—and he had just returned from a business trip of considerable extent and duration.

And this is eminently true. Ours is a conservative community, with no attempt at spasmodic "booming," with no efforts to push it unduly forward; but, for solid prosperity, it stands in the front rank of the large towns of the South.

BINGHAM SCHOOL.—The catalogue of the Bingham School is on our table, with a roll of 219 pupils representing the 14 States of the Union. Capt. Wygant and Lieut. Batchelor of the U. S. Army, very distinguished tactical officers, write a circular giving their impressions of Bingham School, gathered during their detailed service at that institution, which is well worth the attention of parents. Artillery drill has been added to the military instruction—a feature belonging to no other preparatory school in the South. There will be no more attendance on the State Fair, experience having convinced the Superintendent that the custom is more hurtful to the students than otherwise.

THE WRITING TELEGRAPH.—Salem and Winston have been connected by the Writing Telegraph, which was put in operation last Saturday between the Salem Iron Works and Ashcraft & Owen's drug store. Mr. Robinson, the inventor, tested it thoroughly, and the accuracy of the writing gave perfect satisfaction to all who witnessed it. The "Twin-City" will probably have a Writing Telegraph Exchange.

WHAT DOES HE MEAN?—That excellent Democratic Daily, the Charlotte Chronicle, says in its issue of yesterday:

If the Democracy continues to hug this bandanna idea, it may find that it has been nursing a viper in its bosom.

Well! To use a little slang, that "gits us," decidedly. The most unfriendly Republican paper could hardly have said a bitterer thing about our campaign colors. It is true, there is no political principle involved in the bandanna; it is only a harmless way of bringing into prominence a personal peculiarity of one of our candidates, and it is one of the predilections of human kind to deal good-humoredly and affectionately with the personalities of favorites, as the "Little Corporal" for Napoleon, "Marse Robert" for Gen. Lee, "Stonewall" for Gen. Jackson, "Zeb" for Senator Vance, "Big Sycamore of the Wabash" for Senator Voorhees of Indiana, etc. "Nursing a viper in our bosom"—and all for a little thing like that! We would really like to know what the Chronicle does mean!

EX-CONFEDERATE SOLDIERS' REUNION.—One of the most interesting features of the Fourth of July celebration at Winston-Salem will be the reunion of ex-Confederate soldiers in the reservation to be named Camp Pender in honor of the gallant soldier, General Dorsey Pender, of Edgecombe, who gave his life for his State and country in the late war.

The roll-call will be sadly small, it is true, for nearly a quarter of a century has laid to rest a great majority of those who participated in the trying scenes and stirring events of the great conflict. The few survivors are here to note the slow-coming "victories of peace," to rejoice in the restoration of prosperity, and to pay a tribute to the memory of comrades who "Did their best, self-interest for apart, And self-reproach a stranger to each heart."

"HAY-O."—The venerable editor of the Fayetteville Observer has no business looking at the pretty girls—it is not fair to us young fellows; but he evidently still has an appreciative eye for them under his spectacles, for he says:

"Hay-O." Have you heard the delightful sound. When two girls meet, such is their salutation. What does it mean? That they are making hay while the sun shines, and have captured the Hay-O."

Up here the style is still more bewitching—and provoking. They'll meet on the corner, marvels of prettiness and style and grace in the make-up of lawn, chip hat, ribbons, furbelows, &c.; then will come a flash of recognition in the lovely eyes, then a "staccato" exclamation: "Oh! you dear, delightful darling—so glad to see you!" then a long, lingering, delightful hug—and then the envious "swell" who has just lighted a cigar in the drug-store whistles, "thou art so near and yet so far," and goes off to kick himself.
