EDITORIAL BRIEFS.

A correspondent remarks that Cleveland's pluck and Thurman's luck will kill the Republican duck.

It is predicted that the iron product of Washington Territory will soon exceed that of Pennsylvania.

The fight of 1888 is between the monopolists and Chinamen on one side and the tariff burdened workingmen on the other.

The white men's ticket in North Carolina pledges its support to the present system of county government. Be not deceived.

If you are in sympathy with the white people of Eastern Carolina stand by the Democratic party and the present system of county government.

Senator Kenna, of West Virginia, promises 10,000 Democratic majority in that State. Good enough.
And we don't expect Steve Elkins cares much, either.

A western man is selling large quantities of an ink which he calls "lovers' ink." Its peculiarity is that the writing in which it is used entirely disappears after 12 hours.

Again we say, let every Democrat work as though the success of his party depended on his individual action, and victory will perch itself upon our bosoms.

Senator Voorhees is to open the campaign in Indiana August 4th.
The Democratic boys there are all ready for him and the fight throughout the State promises to be hot from this on.

"The tax on window glass is a tax on day-light. The Democrats say: 'Reduce it.' The Republicicans say: 'Make it higher.' Democracy, then, comes next to scripture, as the 'Lord said let there be light, and there was light.'

"Strikes" are the natural outcome of a protective tariff: of course it is, as it protects the wealthy at the expense of the poor, have we not a high protective tariff now, and have we not strikes now, too?

White men of Guilford County: remember that it was the Third Party that placed Prof. Steele, the principal of a negro school, on the committee to choose the nominees of the Prohibition County Convention held in this city Saturday last.

The political campaign is getting on at a great rate. Hon. W. H.
English, Hon. Isaac Gray and Hon.
Joseph E. McDonald spoke from the same platform last Saturday in Indianapolis, and on the same day seven gas tanks exploded in Kentucky. Hullah fol Hallison, says the Chinaman.

Two hundred Italian laborers in Ohio struck for higher wages out in Sherman and Foraker's State (Ohio) a few days ago, and demanded the immediate payment of what was due them, and when the paymaster refused to produce it at once, the aforesaid Italians produced a rope and were on the point of hanging him when the sheriff and posse rescued him.

THE NORTHWEST OVERCROWD-ED.—Young men to a number that is actually astonishing are in the Twin Cities to day looking for work. They are, for the most part, young men of good habits, excellent education, unbounded energy, and ready to turn their hands to anything. No consideration of false pride prevents them from seeking work, manual as well as intellectual, in every possible quarter; yet most of them meet with no success whatever.

The two cities are prosperous.
Every branch of business is flourishing. Employment is being given to more people than ever before in their joint history. Why, then, should there be the large number of unemployed? The reason probably lies in the injudicious enthusiasm of those who have been successful in the Northwest, and who, without stopping to take into account the difficulties in the way, or without making any estimate at all of the opportunities, advise their friends in other parts of the country to come here and make their fortunes.

In this injudiciousness individuals are not alone concerned. Several firms and corporations have also been guilty of the same short-sighted enthusiasm. A case in point is a local corporation which recently induced fifteen or twenty young men to come to St. Paul and take positions with it. A miscalculation had been made, and the young men were discharged without warning. This isn't right. It is almost criminal. No one should induce another dependent upon his daily labor for a livelihood to come to the Northwest, despite the innumerable opportunities existing here, unless a definite opening awaits him.—St. Paul Globe.

DANGER LINES IN MARRIAGE.— The number of divorces and separations occurring in different periods of married life in France tells its own story plainly, clearly. The blending of two lives, the harmonizing of two different temperaments, the adjustment of personal incompatibilities in marriage is a thing of time. In true love marriages the parties have at least a good start, and it counts for much in favor of happiness. But, even in marriages of love based on esteem, there is more or less of disillusion, especially, perhaps, to the wife, and when the glamor is gone, danger to the family begins. It is then that the sense of duty is all in all to the wedded pair. If they remember for a while that, in marriage, love is a sworn duty, they will by and by have less need to remember it. The first five years of marriage are dangerous; the second lustrum is still more dangerous, and the moral rents and strains, which lead to sequent disaster are apt to take place during those first ten perilous years. As time goes on, the danger lessens, and perhaps we may believe that happiness, more real, if less exuberant and buoyant, is increased.
The last years of married life are probably the best. Even the last years of marriage, as the French statistics show, may end in turmoil, but not, we think, unless there has been turmoil all along.
The habit of happiness and peace is not likely to be broken up after thirty years of dutiful behavior.— The Churchman.

LATEST NEWS.

BY TELEGRAPH.

Hotel and other Buildings Burned.
Richmond, Aug. 4.—Fire occurred at Blackstone, a village on the Norfolk and Western railroad today, which destroyed the Southern warehouse, hotel, and a number of other buildings. The warehouse and hotel were owned by the same company. The loss is estimated at $20,000; insurance $12,500, mainly in Richmond companies and a company at Council Bluffs, Iowa. But for a fortunate change in the direction of the wind the town would probably have been destroyed.— The fire is supposed to have originated from sparks from an engine in the warehouse.

Intense Heat.

Chicago, August 4.—Dispatches from many points in Illinois, Indiana and Iowa report the heat of yesterday as having been intense.
There were many prostrations and several deaths are reported. In this city Wednesday's temperature was repeated and several persons were prostrated, among them an unknown young man who had letters in his possession addressed "Frank Smith, Beonville, Mo." At Evansville, Ind., three prominent citizens suffered fatal sun stroke—among them Prof. Otto A. Schmidt, well known in musical circles in St. Louis, Fort Wayne, Buffalo, and other places.

John Robinson, the Veteran Showman, Dead.

Cincinnati, Aug. 4.—John Robinson, the veteran showman, died at 8 o'clock this morning. He had been for some weeks in a critical condition. Mr. Robinson was more than 80 years of age. Until within a very short time he maintained a remarkable degree of vigor. He has spent almost his whole life in the management of a circus, being succeeded by his sons within the past few years. He had amassed a large fortune.

The Egyptian Cotton Crop.

Alexandria, August 4.—The produce association has issued a report in regard to the Egyptian cotton crop. It says the plant is growing vigorously. The heat has offset the injury done by worms. The cultivated area has increased 18 per cent. since 1887.

Italy and France at Odds.

Paris, August 4.—The protectorate established by Italy over Zalla has incensed France. The newspapers claim that Zalla belongs to France under a treaty signed by Abyssinia and France.

Earthquake in Scotland.

London, Aug. 4.—A slight shock of earthquake was felt to day at Kilsyth, twelve miles northwest of Glasgow.

THE THIRD PARTY CONVENTION

The leaders have been chosen for the campaign of the third party in Guilford county, and they will soon be before the people in the discussion of their claims to public confidence and to the assumption of the county government and representation in the State legislature.

The ticket is made up of men well known to the majority of our readers, whose qualifications for office can and will be estimated and weighed at the ballot box, and we can trust to this decisive tribunal for a fair judgment. But we shall not pass by in silence the animus which seemed to pervade the proceedings of that convention or the spirit in which the work was framed, completed and given to the world. Opened with prayer by a minister of the Christian Church, the deliberations of the convention were brought to a close by the expression of sentiments of bitterness and unworthy malevolence from the same servant of God, of whom—bowed with age and near that end which cuts short all that is both good and bad of this life—we shall only say that it is pitiful for the ear to catch the hiss of hatred from trembling lips, "foulness of mouth" from the tongue that has proclaimed the gospel of purity and peace, all uncharitable, anger and abuse springing from a heart which should be full of the love of his Maker. Those of us who have been unable to endorse the principles and the course of the Third Party have consoled ourselves with the reflection that it was composed of our own people, whose aim seemed to be to elevate the morals and the virtues of humanity. Did aught of this noble aim assert itself along with the abuse and the misrepresentation of the tirade of last Saturday?

A few words just here upon another view of this subject: The Democrats of the Third Party may be "sowing the wind to reap the whirlwind." In answer to the warning that their votes can have no other effect than to elect the candidates of the Republican party, certain of their speakers avow that to this they are indifferent, for one party is as bad as the other. Such stuff is hardly worthy of notice. The cry comes naturally from Samuel Small—a Democratic renegade, of whom there is not a part or a belonging that is not for sale—or from Northern emissaries, who are here really to advance the interests of the Republican party, whatever be their calling or vocation; but no true Southern man, no true North Carolinian, will accept any such statement without a protest. Radicalism—with its $33,000,000 of fraudulent tax bonds, negro rule in 25 per cent. of the counties of the State, and its record of boundless extravagance, monstrous corruption and stupendous ignorance—as good as Democracy in North Carolina! The Radical party—committed to the war tariff, protection to capital and monopoly and unnecessary taxation of the people—the party for North Carolinians! Oliver Dockery a safe man to place in the Gubernatorial chair!

We make no menace to the Prohibition Democrats. They are white men, and have a vital interest in the preservation of good government. But the time may come when their action will bring back to us the darkness, the suffering, the misgovernment of 1863 and 1870; and, in the midst of their own and the woes of their fellow citizens, they cannot say to the victims of their persistent folly:

"Shake not your gory locks at me—Thou canst not say: I did it."

BRavery OF RAW RECRUITS.—Recruits sometimes rush into dangers from which veterans would shrink. When Thomas was holding on to his position at Chickamauga on the afternoon of the second day, and resisting charge after charge of an enemy flushed with success, Gen. Granger came up with a division of troops, many of whom had never before been under fire. Straightway they set up a yell, sprang over earthworks, charged into the ranks, and created such consternation that the Confederate veterans were paralyzed by the very audacity of such conduct. Granger said, as he watched their movements: "Just look at them, they don't know any better; they think that's the way it ought to be done. I'll bet they'll never do it again." Men, like children, are often ignorant of danger till they learn its terrors in the school of experience.—The Century.

TREES IN THE STREETS.—Some portions of New York are handsome enough to rank it with Paris among the beautiful cities of the world; others are almost wretched and dirty enough to class it with Constantinople. It is a strange jumble of splendor and squalor, beauty and ugliness. As a rule, however, the portions inhabited by the rich and well to do classes will compare favorably with the similar portions of almost any city in the world, and some of our noble streets cannot be matched anywhere. The chief defects in these sections are the lack of parks and the still more glaring lack of trees in the streets. London is studded all over with private squares, which are selfishly reserved for the families living about them; but they do form precious breathing spots, and, if the poor child cannot go inside they can at least play on the sidewalk underneath the few tree branches that hang over the railings. These numerous parks go far to redeem the blackness and ugliness of London streets.

Paris has not so many parks, but trees flourish almost everywhere in the streets, and make them a delight to the eye. Washington, once a shabby Maryland village, now conspicuous among capitals for its beauty, owes a large part of its charms to the far sighted policy that planted a hundred thousand trees along its broad avenues. But New York, which has fewer parks by far than it should have, is almost absolutely devoid of trees. The stranger, driving up Fifth avenue, looks with wonder down each street he passes, seeing only long tunnels of brown stone, and not a tree, nor so much as a sprig of anything green, to break the monotony. A general system of tree planting would in a few years transform this city with its great array of handsome houses into a city that for stillness and beauty would be the talk of the world.—New York Tribune.

AN ORATOR'S GOOD VOICE.—There is no doubt that one of the most useful qualifications of an orator is a good voice. Burke failed in the House through the lack of it, while William Pitt, through the possession of it, was a ruler there at the age of 21. Mr. Lecky says that O'Connell's voice, rising with an easy and melodious swell, filled the largest building and triumphed over the wildest tumult, while at the same time it conveyed every inflection of feeling with the most delicate flexibility. The great majority of celebrated orators have been aided by the possession of a good voice. Webster's voice, on the occasion of his reply to Senator Dickinson, had such an effect that one of his listeners felt all the night afterward as if a heavy cannonade had been resounding in his ears. Garrick used to say he would give a hundred guineas if he could say "Oh!" as Whitefield did. Mr. Gladstone's voice has music and the resonance of a silver trumpet.—Gentleman's Magazine.

HOW SHE GOT HER REVENGE.—Miss Clara (blushing): "Do you know, Ethel, that young Mr. Sampson proposed to me last night and I accepted him!"

Miss Ethel (heartily): "I congratulate you sincerely, Clara. Mr. Sampson is a noble young man."

Miss Clara: "Do you know him very well?"

Miss Ethel: "Oh, yes; it was only a few months ago that I promised to be a sister to him."

WORSE THAN LOST.—"Bobby," said young Featherly, as the lad opened the door, "I think I left my umbrella here last evening. Will you ask your sister Clara if she has seen anything of it?" "It's all right," replied Bobby. "Sister's out walking with Mr. Sampson, and as it looked like rain they took it with them."—The New York Sun.

UNSATISFIED.

"Only a housemaid!" She looked from the kitchen—Neat was the kitchen and tidy was she. There at her window a seamstress sat stitching—"Were I a seamstress how happy I'd be!" "Only a queen!" She looked over the waters. Fair was her kingdom and mighty was she. There sat an empress with queens for her daughters—"Were I an empress how happy I'd be!" Still the old frailty they all of them trip in! Eve, in her daughters, is ever the same! Give her all Eden, she sighs for a pippin; Give her an empire, she pines for a name.

The opportunities for investment are numerous. Brains, energy and capital are coming from all points of the compass. The impelling power which nature has planned for a large city, being centrally located, and the natural market for nine counties. Rich in mine, forest and farm, and having enough unutilized water power to drive the machinery of the entire State. To see the stupendous scenery when the mountain peaks and pinnacles bathe their lofty heads in the hazy atmosphere of more than 3,000 feet above the sea level, and to enjoy the invigorating air and health-giving climate, etc., one will not be surprised at the rapid growth of Mount Airy. It is the only mineral water in the South that is free from all Malarial influences.

Local News.

Read the new ads. of G. Will Armfield, and J. S. Jones, in today's paper.

TUESDAY NIGHT.—On account of the wind and rain storm last Friday evening the ladies of the North End Club were forced to postpone their Dime Sociable till to-morrow (Tuesday) night, which will take place at Mr. A. Hagan's residence on Church street. Let everybody attend and help the noble women to carry out their laudable undertaking.

ADDITIONAL ROLLING STOCK.—Twenty-five flat cars have been received by the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railway Company, and orders are in its shops now for the construction of thirty in addition as soon as possible. Next week two powerful new locomotives will be put upon the road. The friends of this line—who are to be counted by thousands wherever the route traverses North Carolina—will rejoice at these gratifying indications of increasing business.

"COLD AS CHARITY."—The Third Party convention in Forsyth last Saturday afternoon was as "dry" and as lacking in "enthusiasm" as it was possible for a gathering of the few and faithful to be. It is said that but one delegate from the country was present. No mortal men could "keep a stiff upper lip" under such circumstances; consequently, after consultation, the convention was adjourned to some future day, of which notice is to be given.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.—Notice is hereby given that the regular monthly meeting of the Chamber of Commerce will be held to-night at 8½ o'clock in their rooms over Brown's store. As business of unusual importance comes before the meeting it is urgently requested that every member be present. By order of the President. Z. W. WHITEHEAD, Secretary.

P. S. Further notice is hereby given that nominations for officers and elective committees may be made to-night as prescribed by Article IX, Section 2, of the Constitution, to be voted for at the annual meeting in October.

"IN A MULTITUDE OF COUNSELLORS THERE IS WISDOM."—Elsewhere will be found a call for a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce to night in their rooms over Brown's store. We say in all candor that too much stress cannot be laid on the action of this body in its deliberations, and the importance of a full meeting can no more fitly be illustrated than the needs of the hour is apparent. We therefore on behalf of one of the most vital interests of the city urge the members, one and all, to turn out and give their sanction if not their support to the move already inaugurated for the upbuilding of our waste places and one of our most important industries.

We are no alarmist, but no one can fail to see that Greensboro is to-day in the midst of a great crisis, and it only remains to be seen whether our people propose carrying out the plans on foot, thereby keeping step to the tune of progress, or by their inactivity discourage the move and take a step backward. A forward step at this particular juncture fore-shadows unending prosperity for the great and diversified business interests of the town, one that will infuse new life and vigor in every branch of industry; while a backward step may cloud with distrust and gloom every hope and effort for a "consummation so devoutly wished for." It is an old adage, but no truer than that the sun rises in the East and sets in the West—"in a multitude of counsellors there is wisdom." Then let our representative business men put their minds and hearts together, with their shoulders to the wheel, and give a long pull, and a strong pull, and a pull all together, and "ere the leaves begin to turn" the prosperity of Greensboro will shine forth with such glory and splendor as to extort the admiration of all our people and the rest of all mankind.

MR. BROWER'S SLIP-UP.—It would have been exceedingly difficult for the Hon. John Morehead Brower to select anything Democratic to which to pin his faith, which his party holds in greater antagonism than the Mills bill. Not content with general or abstract opposition, the Chicago Convention picked it out by name, stuck it up against the wall, and covered it with the spittle and paper pellets of denunciation and invective, as follows:

"We denounce the Mills bill as destructive to the general business, the labor and the farming interests of the country, and we heartily indorse the consistent and patriotic action of the Republican representatives in Congress in opposing its passage."

In truth, our Congressional district is "all solid." The Congressman that was and the Congressman that is to be are both Democrats—a very funny state of affairs—and Col. Jas. E. Boyd, the elector, and the other leading Republicans are not even yet done shading their eyes with their hand, and looking dumbfounded after Mr. Brower, as he ran by with that strange appendage of the Mills bill:—evinced very much the same start of amazement that one feels when a dog shoots by him in the street with a tin can tied to his tail. But of the two Democrats, it will be safer to vote for Col. Morehead. Mr. Brower is like a good many other white folks, "mighty onartain;" he is a perfect bull in the legislative china shop, and there is no telling where he's going to jump, or how he's going to vote. However, as he will have nothing much else to do, he can vote for Col. Morehead—he can be sure he's right that far.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.—This morning's session was commenced, after the usual opening exercises, by an address from Prof. W. A. Blair. Dr. D. W. C. Benbow was called upon, and explained the Demorest Medal and the manner in which it is awarded, after which Miss Nannie Poland, a young lady of 9 years—who has repeatedly carried off the prize from scores of contestants—was introduced, and admirably declaimed a selection.

An interesting lecture on Civil Government was then given by Mr. W. S. Ball, of this city, followed by an entertaining talk by Mr. Geo. R. McNeill, of the Reidsville school. The attendance today was the largest since the session commenced.

THE BAND OF HOPE.—We desire to remind our readers of the entertainment to be given in Benbow Hall this evening at 8:30 o'clock. The children will "contend in generous emulation and rivalry" for two handsome Demorest silver medals; and, whilst they crown their own fair young heads with the wreath of laurel, they hope to offer to friends and the general public an hour or two of pleasure and amusement.

Between the recitations Kindergarten and other songs by the band will entertain the audience. The presentation of prizes will be made by Prof. W. A. Blair—which fact alone should fill the bill.

The admission is so small that all can afford the contribution to a laudable object:—10 cents; reserved seats, 20 cents.

GREEN HILL.—How beautiful is Green Hill Cemetery even now, though mostly fresh is the up-turned earth in this "God's Acre," and hardly sod-grown are the silent mounds. The stain of time and decay's corroding fingers have not yet touched the habitations of this city, and few have been borne through its trim streets to enter the "gloom curtained door," and take their places in the "narrow house." Alas! the growth there is as certain as that of the young and beautiful elms which adorn its graveled walks and clipped parterres; the white head-stones will thicken as the seasons pass, the tender flowers will not bloom or fade away more rapidly than frail mortal lives, and the sculptor's chisel will be busy with its tributes to the loved and forgotten.

In its natural advantages and the improvements which are being made with artistic hand, Green Hill Cemetery already gives abundant token of the incomparable loveliness which will charm the eye of the visitor a few years from to-day. Turning to leave it late yesterday evening, our reluctant parting gaze took in all the beauty of the scene—amphitheatre of embowered city and lofty hill, with the plash of the fountain and the wealth of foliage, budding flower and spreading tree—and we thought of Bryant's "couch magnificent," full of the majesty of God.

HATCHING TREASON.—Why in the world are not Ingalls, and Foraker, and Sherman piercing the "blue empyrean" with their yells of horror over the treason now going on in our borders? The other day, at Winston—while the Stars were glittering in the sunlight, and the Stripes were floating in the exultant breeze, which, catching the aroma of fir and pine as it swept over mountain-side and peak, kissed the roseate cheeks and left its perfumed breath on the golden hair of the fair women of North Carolina—the wrinkled, gray-haired ex-Confederates were intrenched in camp, forming dress-parade, and greeting Gen. Hampton with the old rebel yell—here in the "piping times of peace!"

The same wickedness has been going on in Chatham, Mecklenburg and other unreconstructed spots throughout the old commonwealth; and the veterans slice watermelons, and fill up on chicken fixings, and banquet on barbecue, and get ger-lorious on hard cider—and Cleveland and Thurman's majorities roll up all the while! Sound the dread notes of alarm, O ye apostles of sectional bitterness, run up the ensanguined, worn-out rag, and "let her go, Gallagher!"

DIED.—Mrs. Haywood Alderman, at 1.15 o'clock today. Funeral services on Wednesday, of which more specific notice will be given tomorrow.
