EDITORIAL BRIEFS.

Harrison has an awkward record on tariff and currency questions.

Free wool means cheaper clothing, laboring men.

Down with the "Trusts" and the Republican party.

The Germans are solid against Harrison.

Chinese and pauper labor must go, says the Democratic party.

Pinkerton puts down strikes with Springfield rifles. So does Ben Harrison.

When protection is highest labor is lowest. Does this speak much in favor of protection?

Thurman says the Chinese must go, while Harrison says he must come.

Cleveland is out and out opposed to pauper labor. Remember this, working men.

Cleveland is trusted by all—the farmer, the business man, the laborer.

Let every man devote a dollar's worth of time against Harrison in November next.

It is said that Harrison's home county will give Cleveland 1,000 majority.

"Steve Elkins, the cattle fiend of New Mexico, is for Harrison." That will help to kill him.

The Democrats of the first district have nominated Tom Skinner for Congress.

Keep it before the people—high protection empties the pockets of the people into the vaults of the millionaires.

John Jackass Ingall thinks "among all the men on the Republican ticket there is not one single leader."

The campaign of argument and the work of organization should go hand in hand, and be pushed vigorously to success.

"A sea serpent has been discovered off the Rhode Island beach twice as long as a tug." Again the question arises does prohibition prohibit?

"Mrs. H. V. Brouson, of Peninsula, O., has raised for the present campaign the largest flag used in that part of the country for William Henry Harrison in 1840." But William isn't running.

Harrison recommended the use of bullets for working men out west when they struck for higher wages and something to eat. Strikers will use bullets in November for the defeat of Harrison.

The average tariff tax to each family is over $45.00 per year. At this rate how long would it take a poor man to buy him a horse with the money the protective war tariff locks up yearly in the vaults at Washington?

Sunset Cox has received a letter from his North Carolina admirers asking him to visit the old North State and inspect "bees of women infinitely more beautiful than the rarest dreams could suggest when inspired by the warm whispers of oriental zephyrs." That will "fetch him."

The campaign has opened in earnest, and public meetings are under way. The strong and aggressive speech of Senator Voorhees at Terre Haute on Saturday night opened the campaign auspiciously in Indiana, and the able speeches of Congressmen Mills and Breckinridge in Harlem gave an impetus to the canvass in New York.

LATEST NEWS.

BY TELEGRAPH.

Lightning's Work.

Danville, Va., August 9.—Yesterday afternoon Mr. Gus Shields and six colored men were stripping tobacco in a barn on Mr. Shields's farm, near Spring Garden, when lightning struck the barn, killing two of the colored men. Mr. Shields and the other hands were badly shocked but not seriously injured. The names of the men killed were not ascertained.

R. B. Hall, from Swansonville, was here to-day, and reports that several nights ago when he and his wife had retired for the night lightning struck the chimney, tore the clock on the mantel to atoms, and the bolt then struck him on the shoulder, passing down the arm to the wrist. He exhibited on his person a black streak two inches wide, showing the path of the current. The skin was not broken, and he was not seriously hurt. On the contrary, he says he has been free from rheumatism since that time, although a great sufferer previously.

Some time ago a safe in Royalty's stables was robbed of $85 and two gold watches. William Mayo was arrested in Lynchburg charged with the crime and was brought here to-day.

A Sloop Capsizes and Drowns Four Persons.

New Castle, Del., August 9.—About 8 o'clock last evening during a heavy blow the sloop Flora B., of Pennsville, capsized near this place. She had on board Mrs. Elijah Wheaton, Mrs. Jonathan Turner, Mrs. Samuel Wheaton and daughter about nine years of age, and Mrs. Thomas Minnegan—all of whom were in the cabin at the time and were all drowned. The bodies have been recovered and were sent to their homes in Pennsville. The crew of the sloop—three men—succeeded in climbing into the yawl and escaped.

Death on the Rail.

Waco, Tex., August 9.—Yesterday morning, six miles from this city, on the Texas Central R. R., a piece of timber was fastened to the track and the night express was derailed, the locomotive demolished and several cars were badly damaged. Engineer Moses was killed outright, his fireman terribly scalded and half a dozen passengers were injured.

A sheriff's posse is scouring the country for the criminals, and the railroad company offers $1,000 reward each for their capture.

Charleston Quarantines Against Jacksonville, Fla.

Charleston, S. C., Aug. 9.—The city authorities have quarantined against Jacksonville, Fla. No persons thence will be allowed to come here, and vessels will be stopped at Fort Johnson. Pittsburg, Pa., August 9.—Two iron mills of Graff, Bennett & Co. were sold at auction to-day for $725,000 to satisfy two mortgages, one of $625,000 held by the New York Life Insurance Co., and the other for $100,000, held by local parties. The property was bought in by a syndicate of the firm's creditors.

Vance on the Fishery Treaty.

Senator Vance, in his speech on the Fisheries Treaty delivered in the Senate last Monday, accounted for the remarkable heat exhibited by the Republicans against the treaty by telling a story of a fellow in North Carolina who was caught with an extra "jack" in his sleeve when playing the game of "old sledge," and who, in reply to a fierce denunciation from his adversary, said: "Bill, you know we were six and six, and it was your deal, and I was obliged to do some thing." "So," said he, "the Presidential election is coming on, and the Republican party knows that the game stands six and six and that the deal is ours, and that they are obliged to do something. So they raise a row with Great Britain, and appeal to the Irish vote."

The Mother's Influence.

In the article the late ex Senator Pratt was dictating at the time of his death, this incident of his own life is related: "It was late in the fall of 1835 that, having collected for the different mercantile firms in Cincinnati about $2,000, I was sent on horseback by the Lawrenceburg road to deliver to the several parties interested the money so collected. As I was passing the branch bank, then recently established, on the morning of my departure, the cashier hailed me and brought out some bundles of bank bills folded up, and stowed them away in my saddle bags, and handed me letters to the banks to whom the packages were to be delivered. He stunned me by saying they amounted to $20,000. There was a moment, a supreme and critical one, when the voice of the tempter penetrated by ear. It was when I reached the crown of those imperial hills that overlook the Ohio river when approaching Lawrenceburg from the interior. This noble stream was the great artery of commerce at that day, before a railroad west of Massachusetts had been built. What a gay spectacle it presented! flashing in the bright sunlight, covered with flatboats, with rafts, with gay steamers ascending and descending, and transporting their passengers in brief time to the Gulf of Mexico, the gateway to all parts of the world. I had but to sell my horse and go aboard one of these with my treasure, and I was absolutely beyond the reach of pursuit. There were no telegraphs then, flashing intelligence by an agency more subtle than steam, and far outrunning it; no extradition treaties requiring foreign governments to return the felon. The world was before me, and at the age of twenty-one, with feeble ties connecting me with those left behind, I was in possession of a fortune for those early days. I recall the fact that this thought was a tenant of my mind for a moment, only. Bless God, it round no hospitable lodgment any longer. And what think you, gentle reader, were the associate thoughts that came to my rescue? Away, over rivers and mountains, a thousand miles distant, in a humble farmhouse, on a bench, an aged mother reading to her boy from the oracles of God.

A New War Story.

Appropos of the Bull Run battle field an interesting historical incident is told which has never found its way into print. Away back in 1861 Mr. J. W. McLean, a respected and substantial Virginia landowner, lived with his family two and a half miles north-east of the sleepy old village of Manassas. The southern extremity of the farm was bounded by a little stream which has since become famous in history as Bull Run. On the banks of that stream twenty-seven years ago the advanced post of the Confederate army, led by Gen. Beauregard, encountered the skirmish line of the Union troops under the command of General McDowell. Here, then, the first actual hostilities of the war began some months later.

When all the country hereabout had fallen into the hands of the Federals Mr. McLean "retreated"—that is to say, emigrated—to the western part of the State, where he purchased another farm in the vicinity of Appomattox Courthouse. This act placed Mr. McLean, who was a true son of the South and an ardent sympathizer with the secession cause, within the Confederate lines, and removed him to what he regarded as a safe distance from the hated Yankee invaders. Here he remained until the spring of 1865, when by the fortunes of war the dreaded invader again made his appearance.

MEETING OF GRANT AND LEE. This time, however, he came with peaceful intent. On the farm which McLean was then contentedly tilling the two great chieftains of the war—Grant and Lee—met. When the terms of the surrender had been agreed upon, the principals and their aids sought the seclusion of the McLean mansion, where the instrument which bound the trans action was signed and delivered.

And so it happened that Wilbur McLean's Virginia farms furnished the theatre wherein the opening and closing acts of the grand drama of our long civil war were played. The table upon which the articles of surrender were prepared is still in the possession of the McLean family, who subsequently returned to their old home, where they still reside.

SHE IS A POWER.—I once knew a man who had a fashion in sweethearts. He went on the color of the hair. He would dote on a red haired girl awhile, and he would pay no attention to any other. Then he would switch off to brunettes, and worship different shades in turn. He would have a spring reversion to pure blondes, and change with the season. As nearly as I could make out his spring girl was a blonde of blondes, and he would work up to a brown haired girl in summer, a red haired girl in autumn, and a deep brunette for winter. His judgment was in favor of the red haired girl. The red haired girl is often and severely gayed, but she gets there all the same. There is something about a red haired girl that compels attention whether you see a white horse or not. You have to look at red hair. You can't avoid it, and a red haired girl is like a fire, you can't get your eyes away from the blaze. I am told red-haired girls make good wives. The man who told me married a red haired girl, and I know he goes home early and is very attentive and devoted.

Common judgment concludes from a study of the species that a red haired girl would be liable to make a husband good if he wasn't.

THE NEW FIRST READER.—"This, my son, is a railroad ticket office. Look well at the man behind the window."

"Did I ever see him in a dime museum?"

"Not as yet; he has been offered a large salary for a month's engagement, but has refused it."

"How did it happen that he got employment here?"

"Through influence. His friends went to the president of the road and told him that this man was never known to return a civil answer in his life. The president was to give the place to a young man who was deaf and dumb, but he took this one instead."

"And does it pain him to be asked for information?"

"Not now. It would be, but he has got past that point. He simply freezes his victims with a look and lets them go at that."

"Will he ever be president of the road?"

"He wants to be, and that is why he has adopted this course. A railroad employee who wants to climb up must treat the traveling public as dead beasts, and lone women and cripples as enemies who have sworn to take his life."—Detroit Free Press

THE POOR MAN AND THE TARIFF.

The Baltimore Sun recently printed an interesting array of figures showing how the tariff affects the wage earner and the housekeeper. By this authority it appears that on every suit of clothes costing $7, which the working man buys, the bounty to the manufacturer is $2.27; on a suit costing $20 the bounty is $6.48; on an overcoat costing $15 the bounty is $4.85; two flannel shirts $1.50, bounty 64 cents; two flannel drawers $1.50, bounty 64 cents; one rubber coat $3.50, bounty 82 cents; one umbrella $1, bounty 34 cents; three linen handkerchiefs $1, bounty 26 cents; one silk neck tie 50 cents, bounty 12 cents; razor $1.25, bounty 42 cents; shaving brush 35 cts., bounty 9 cents; three cotton shirts $3, bounty 75 cents; two pair cotton drawers $1, bounty 31 cents; one wool scarf 50 cents, bounty 21 cents.

Wm. H. Seward, Charles Sumner and Henry Wilson voted for the tariff of 1857, which reduced the duties on dutiable imports to an average of 20 per cent.—a lower rate than any since 1804. When the organs of tariff monopoly denounced the Mills bill as a "British free trade" measure they impeach the patriotism and slander the memories of the founders of the Republican party.—Phila. Record.

FOR SPOT CASH. MOUNT AIRY, the terminus of the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley railroad, STRAITS ALONG, EXCELENTLY SITUATED, and is entering into importance because of its many natural advantages. The opportunities for investment are numerous. Brains, energy and capital are coming in from all points of the compass. The impelling power must be ascribed to the geographical location which nature has planned for a large city, being centrally located and the natural market for time counties. Rich in soil, forest and farm, and having enough unutilized water power to drive the machinery of the entire State. To see the stupendous scenery when the mountain peaks and glaciers back the city by the lake, the city stands of more than 3,000 feet above the sea level, and to enjoy the invigorating air and health-giving climate, one will not be surprised at the rapid growth of Mount Airy. Don't forget the time!

GREENSBORO, N. C.

FRIDAY, AUG. 10, 1888.

Local News.

PUBLIC SPEAKING.—Hon. R. B. Glenn, of Forsyth, will address the Young Men's Democratic Club in this city on Tuesday night, August 21st. Everybody invited to come.

ERRONEOUS.—We have been requested to state that the rumor to the effect that fever has assumed the proportions of an epidemic at Liberty is incorrect, and calculated to mislead the public.

HIS EXCELLENCY AT HOME.—Gov. Scales and family are resting and recreating for a short time at their home in this city, on West Market street. The people of Greensboro are truly proud of "our own Scales," and his Excellency always finds a hearty welcome awaiting his arrival within our gates.

A CHANGE ALL AROUND.—Col. A. H. Leftwich, of this city, has sold out the Greensboro Gas Company to a Baltimore syndicate, who propose to enlarge the plant by adding an electric light system. Mr. H. B. Peters has been appointed general manager for this place.

PURCHASED ANOTHER PLANT.—A. H. Leftwich, of this city, has in addition to the changes elsewhere mentioned, purchased the Spartanburg Gas Light Company and leaves to-night for Spartanburg for the purpose of taking charge of the plant. At present the Colonel's family will remain in Greensboro.

CONSOLIDATED.—The Durham Electric Light Company has been purchased by Col. A. H. Leftwich, of this place, and J. S. Carr, of Durham. Col. Leftwich informs us that is the intention of Company to add at an early day gas machinery for the purpose of furnishing gas to those who do not wish electricity.

A CHANGE OF FRONT.—At a meeting of the city council last night it was decided by a vote of 5 to 4 to have brick pavements instead of stone, as heretofore agreed upon. This is rather a change of front upon this question, and whether it meets with the approbation of our citizens remains to be seen. Here is the whole thing in a nut-shell: stone is everlasting and brick are not; stone costs $1.85 per square yard, while brick costs $1.35.

LET THERE BE A HEARTY RESPONSE.—We trust that a hearty response will be given to the resolution passed at the meeting in the court-house yesterday afternoon, by the chairmen of the various committees in charge of the Firemen's Tournament to be held in this city September 12th and 13th. The reputation of Greensboro, you must remember, gentlemen, is at stake in this matter, and only by vigilant and never-ceasing work can success be achieved. The columns of the PATRIOT are open for the announcement of calls free of charge, and Mr. W. D. McAdoo has kindly tendered the use of his hotel parlor or reading-room for the assembling of the committees.

QUALITIES TRULY ADMIRABLE.—The seat on the tripod is by no means unfamiliar to us, but we have never used it to dictate party nominations on paper. Accepting, in common with all other Democrats, the plan of organization adopted and promulgated by our political leaders, we are well content to abide the action of the nominating conventions; considering it simply a duty to subordinate personal preference to the united choice of the people in mass-meeting assembled, it is our part to hold such preference in abeyance in advance of the expression of the popular will.

A correspondent in to-day's issue, however, exercises his privilege as a voter and Democrat in calling the attention of the public to the admirable qualities possessed by one of our citizens for a seat in the State Senate—a citizen whose faithful, patriotic and distinguished public services are recorded in decades and scores of years, and fill up the measure of a long and useful life.

Our correspondent pronounces him: "absolutely incorruptible," a "friend of the poor man," furnished with a "large legislative experience." Does anyone who knows the subject of the article withhold his endorsement of this tribute to his character—and could a higher tribute be paid? Happy the party possessing such material for a leader! Happy the people quick to appreciate and honor such qualities!

THE COMMITTEES.—In obedience to a resolution passed at a joint meeting of the Committees in the court-house yesterday afternoon, we append below the names of the Chairman of each Committee, with the request that each and every Chairman issue a call for a meeting of his Committee:

Finance—J. L. King.
Invitation—T. B. Keogh.
Transportation—J. W. Fry.
Reception—J. A. Barringer.
Printing and Advertising—C. F. Thomas.

Arrangement and Programme—H. J. Elam.
Banquet—Geo. Fitzsimons.

Right here let us say that some of the Committees have thus far contributed very little toward the success of the Tournament. What reason they can assign for their inactivity we are unable at present to conceive, for surely the success of the Tournament rests upon the shoulders of every citizen in Greensboro.

For the Firemen's Tournament to be a failure would be an everlasting source of humiliation to our citizens, and a slap in the face to our volunteer firemen, and a very serious drawback to our present state of prosperity; while to make it a success would redound to the honor and glory of Greensboro, and speak untold volumes for our enterprise and public-spiritedness.

Therefore we urge again the Chairman of each of the above named Committees to call your Committee together, take decisive action, put your shoulders to the wheel and leave no stones unturned. Do this, gentlemen, and the verdict of the 12th and 13th of September will be: "Well done, thou good and faithful servants, thou hast been faithful in a few things I will make thee ruler over many things."

WELL SUPPLIED.—We are a well-fed people at this time, nor does it require a very plethoric purse to set good cheer before the wife and little ones. Very fine fruits are cheap and abundant, and the supply of peaches for a week past has been ample and of the finest quality. The juicy clingstone, or "press," of the white flesh, and occasionally the old-time red or "Indian," are now brought to market. Apples come in by the basket, the bag, the cart-load, and can be bought for a mere song; pears have been plentiful for some time, and very fine grapes have made their appearance.

Supplies for housekeeping of a more substantial kind are contributed to the market in profusion by our farmers and gardeners. Cabbage, corn, potatoes—Irish and sweet (the latter scarce at present)—beans, very fine tomaatoes, cucumbers, &c., supplement the excellent fresh meats, fowls, eggs and other produce which the grocers furnish at all times.

THE JOINT MEETING OF THE FIREMEN'S TOURNAMENT COMMITTEES.—In obedience to a call the various Committees in charge of the Firemen's Tournament met in the court-house yesterday afternoon for consultation. Chairman Ireland called the meeting to order, and in the absence of Mr. C. D. Benbow, Z. W. Whitehead, of the DAILY PATRIOT, was requested to act as Secretary pro tem. H. J. Elam, by request of the chair, set fourth in general terms the modus operandi of proceedings during the two days of the Tournament.

The importance of issuing cards of invitation was discussed and immediate action requested on the part of the Committee in charge. The name of John S. Michaux was also added to the said Committee.

What manner of refreshments should be served the firemen during their stay was also discussed, and the same referred to a meeting of the Committees hereafter to be called.

It was further moved and seconded that the DAILY PATRIOT and Workman publish the names of the Chairman of the different Committees, urging them to call without delay a meeting of the same for prompt and decisive action.

On motion the citizens of Greensboro were requested to decorate their places of business and private residences during the Tournament with flags and bunting.

It was further agreed that any and all of our business men be allowed to print the programme for the Tournament with their business card on the back or at the top. Adjourned.

GRATIFYING.—Paying us a call this morning prior to his departure from the city, Prof. W. A. Blair was pleased to express himself in highly commendatory terms of the general interest manifested by both teachers and the public in the success of the County Institute, which has been holding its sessions in this city since Monday, 30th ult. Prof. Blair thinks ours a remarkable people, in the attention which they give to matters educational, and their eagerness in the support of every measure which may promote the interests of their schools and colleges.

The attendance at last year's teachers' institute was to the full as large as that at the State Normal, and this year it has hardly been less. Mr. Wharton, County Superintendent of Public Instruction, states that there are not half a dozen teachers in the county who have not been present during the sessions of the past two weeks.

In gratefully acknowledging the kind sentiments expressed by Prof. Blair, we have to thank him and his assistants for that fidelity in their services, coupled with the hearty and unflinching cooperation of Mr. Wharton, which has made the work this year so pleasant, instructive and successful.

Hon. D. F. Caldwell for the Senate.

Having had the opportunity of consulting the people of Oak Ridge pretty generally, I find a very strong sentiment in favor of the above named gentleman for the State Senate. The following points are in his favor:

1. He is absolutely incorruptible.
2. He is a friend to the poor man.
3. He has a large legislative experience.
4. He can be elected.

The number of men of which the above can be said is very, very small. All northwest Guilford is for "Uncle Frank." Let Guilford county nominate him, and he will "sweep" the county. He can be relied upon to oppose class legislation, a kind of legislation that is much more common than beneficial. It often takes a man of experience to see "the nigger in the woodpile." As a canvasser he has no equal in the county. Can't we have the people's choice once more? Yours,

A VOTER.

In Memoriam.

Died, August 6, 1888, at Greensboro, N. C., Lorenzo Butler, son of Lorenzo A. and Louisa B. Bailey, aged 3 years, 5 months and 1 day.

Death found strange beauty on that polished brow,
And dashed it out. There was a tint of rose
O'er cheek and lip. He touched the veins with ice,
And the rose faded. Forth from those blue eyes,
There spoke a wistful tenderness, a doubt
Whether to grieve or sleep, which innocence
Alone may wear. With ruthless haste he bound
The sickle fringes of those curtained lids Forever.
There had been a murmuring sound
With which the babe would claim its mother's ear.
Charming her even to tears. The spoiler set
The seal of silence.
But there beamed a smile,
So fixed, so holy, from that cherub brow,
Death gazed, and—left it there. He dared not steal
The signet ring of Heaven.

LOG CABINS were, in the Harrison Tippecanoe campaign of 1840, erected in the large cities and villages, and used for holding political meetings. Barrels of hard cider were placed in front of the cabins, and the "Log Cabin hard cider campaign of '40" has passed into history as the most enthusiastic of our political contests. Log Cabins have for this reason a permanent place in American history.—Warner's Log Cabin Remedies and "Tippecanoe" tonic bitters have secured a permanent place because of their excellence.

TO THE PUBLIC.

On Saturday night, when the Buchanan and McDonald block was destroyed by fire, I had one of Ferrell & Co.'s Herring Safes in my office, on second floor. It fell to centre of main floor and was subject to the hottest part of the fire. Upon having it opened I found all valuable papers, books and monies preserved, and in as good condition as when I put them in.

I cheerfully recommend Herring Safe to the public.

Respectfully,

THOMAS BAILEY.

The undersigned is agent for the above Safes, and solicits orders which will be promptly filled, with satisfaction guaranteed.

Prompt.

Mr. J. S. Jones, General Agent of the Provident Savings Life Insurance Company, of New York, was in town last Tuesday and paid to Mrs. Annie Foard $2,000 the amount of the policy held by her late husband, Mr. Robert Foard in the above named company.

The amount was not due until 90 days after proof of death had been filed, but the company issued the check the day the proofs were received.

This promptness must be a source of gratification to the many policy holders of the Provident in Salisbury.—Salisbury Watchman Important!

The Provident Savings Life Ins. Co.,—J. S. Jones, General Agent—is the only company that insures lives just as fire insurance companies insure property; that is to say, at actual current cost. Rates 50 per cent. less than other old line companies issuing guaranteed policies. Over $200 cash assets to each $100 liabilities. It ranks first in solvency, economy in management and low cost of insurance. Investigate, even if you are insured.

The company has not only paid the full amount, but has done so 7 weeks before it was due, according to the contract, thus showing its ability and willingness to meet its obligations with the greatest liberality and fairness. The policy was taken out Feb. 1887, the total amount paid on it being only $52.95. With best wishes for your success and the sterling company you represent, I am yours gratefully.
