SPECIAL PARAGRAPH.

Wilmington commences her gala week to-day.

A Georgia mob lynched a negro in broad day light last week.

Thurman says he is himself again, and ready for work.

"All is quiet along the Potomac" on South Elm street to day.

There are 11 prisoners in jail at Oxford, who stand charged with capital crimes.

Egyptians greet one another with the remark: "How goes the perspiration?"

As a daughter of Eve, Mrs. Cleveland is now waging war against tight shoes.

"The Malays and other Polynesians salute by smelting. This is performed by rubbing noses." Excuse us, please.

Blaine defends the Trusts. They are the logical outcome of protection. And now all the small fry orators and scribes will join the chorus.

The Howard Association of Charleston S. C. has sent $500 to the Jacksonville sufferers. What will Greensboro do? Let's do something.

A man living in Beaufort county has a watermelon vine that has on it twelve melons that average thirty pounds each. Let us hear from the Yaddin Valleys.

The clerk of the Supreme Court, Col. Thomas S. Kenan, announces that applicants for license to practice law will be examined on Friday and Saturday, Sept. 21st and 22d.

Sam Small, the vulnerable vampire and Georgia black guard, will commence his side show canvass in North Carolina about the 27th of this month.

"McCormick, the inventor of the reaping machine and Horace Greeley, the great editor, were of Irish descent." We take it for granted, then, that John Bull just came down the river on a log.

It is rather significant that the Republicans of Minnesota, in order to elect their candidates, should have deemed it necessary to stand them on a Democratic platform favoring Tariff Reform and Tax reduction.

"Mr. Quay says that Mr. Blaine is a very indiscreet man on the stump. It may also be remarked that Mr. Harrison is a very indiscreet man off the stump. The Republican party seems to be between two millstones." Say, rather, between two stumps.

N. H. R. Dawson, United States Commissioner of Education, in his annual report to the Secretary of Interior, says that more than twelve million of children attended public schools some part of the last fiscal year, and of these nearly eight million were in average daily attendance. In both respects the Southern States, once so backward, have made greater progress than other parts of the country.

LATEST NEWS.

BY TELEGRAPH.

The Arkansas Election.

Little Rock, Ark., Sept. 8.—Returns from all but nine counties give the Democratic ticket 16,500 majority. The nine counties to be heard from will not practically affect this vote. The Democrats have both Houses of the Legislature.

Rice Crop Damaged.

Columbia, S. C., Sept. 8.—The rice crop along the Savannah river in the southern part of the State, has been greatly damaged by recent heavy rains. Rice has been cut in some quarters and is now lying in the stubble, and in consequence of the continued rains it has sprouted badly, which will seriously damage the grain. It is feared the loss will be very heavy.

The Work of Lightning.

Columbia, S. C., Sept. 8.—Lightning struck the residence of T. A. Covington, a prominent planter of Little Rock, Marion county, yesterday. Mrs. Covington was instantly killed and Mr. Covington seriously burned and otherwise injured, and Miss Lula Weatherly, a visitor, seriously shocked.

The Flashing Touch.

Washington, Sept. 8.—Chairman Allison stated to a United Press reporter this afternoon that the subcommittee will give the tariff bill its finishing touch on Wednesday or Thursday of next week, and that the measure will be laid before the full committee later in the week. The bill will be reported to the Senate, Mr. Allison stated, about the 18th of the month.

Horribly Mutilated.

London, Sept. 8.—The horribly mutilated body of an abandoned woman was found this morning, lying in the yard of a common lodging house at Spitalfields. The throat was cut from ear to ear, the body was ripped open, with the bowels and heart lying on the ground, and a portion of the entrails were tied around the neck. This is the fourth similar murder that has been committed recently. All four have evidently been the work of the same man, as the victims were all low women, and the same horrible circumstances have attended each.

BACKED BY MILLIONS.

A Gigantic Wheat Trust Being Formed in the Northwest.

Fargo, Dak., Sept. 8.—A gigantic wheat trust, backed by unlimited millions, is being formed in the Northwest, the field of its operations being Minnesota and Dakota and only the higher grades of this cereal are taken. The plan of this combination is to purchase as near as possible all the wheat delivered for storage at any elevator on a railroad. The organization comprises some of the leading moneyed men of St. Paul, Minneapolis, Brainerd, Duluth, Fargo, and Grand Forks. Altogether over thirty capitalists are in the pool, in individual amounts ranging from $10,000 to $1,500,000. Prices are paid at a slight advance on the market quotations for present and future delivery.

Great Destruction.

Gloucester, Mass., September 8.—Captain Ryan, of the schooner A. D. Story, which arrived from Iceland last night, reports great destruction among the French fishery fleet during the month of April on the South coast of Iceland. As that is the cod-fishing ground for the French in the spring the whole French fleet were concentrated in that locality, when a terrible storm came up which engulfed six vessels with all their crews. A sea swept over one vessel, washing overboard the captain and eleven men. Another vessel lost the captain and three men, another her captain and two men. As near as could be ascertained the number of men lost was 137. Many of the vessels were so badly damaged that they had to be abandoned. Three hundred men were left in a destitute condition in Iceland. They endured many hardships while there, the supply of food being limited. They were finally taken off by a steamer.

Blown to Atoms with Dynamite. Chicago, Sept. 7.—A special dispatch from Cutler, Ind., says: For the fourth time this place was the scene of a terrific explosion last night. Dynamite was placed under the post office and that structure literally blown to atoms. A large quantity of dynamite was found yesterday morning under the hotel with matches half burned. A strong gale undoubtedly extinguished the matches.

The Texas Capitol Building.

Chicago, Sept. 7.—A special from Austin, Texas, says: The State Capitol Board, consisting of the Governor, Secretary of State, Treasurer, Land Commissioner, and Comptroller, yesterday held their final meeting, and unanimously passed a resolution refusing to receive the building, claiming it is not built in accordance with the terms of the contract.

Yellow Jack.

Jacksonville, Fla., Sept. 8.—A committee was appointed by the Citizens' Association this morning to take charge of the arrangements for the refugee excursion to points in North Carolina, and elsewhere outside of the State, to try to arrange for fumigating baggage in cars en route, and to attend to all correspondence and details. There was a very severe rain and thunderstorm this morning. The weather is cooler, but damp and unfavorable. Only fifteen new cases were reported this morning for the last eighteen hours.—V. D. Mudgett, lawyer, and E. D. Butler, assistant at the Signal Station were among the number. Most of the cases are in the east Jacksonville. Two deaths were reported.—Alfred Morgan, accountant, and Miss Rogers. Several other deaths have not yet been reported.

DR. ROBEY.—The Spirit of the Age will publish, on Wednesday next, a letter from Dr. W. M. Robey defining his position with regard to the Third Party movement, in which the Doctor says that, while he believes that prohibition can only be established by a party which shall insist upon it as a chief object, yet, the condition of our State, and, indeed, of the entire South, is such, politically, that he cannot vote the Third Party ticket, and that he has never advised any one else to do so. We are very glad to know that such is Dr. Robey's position. The report of his speech at Durham, which led to another conclusion, appears to have been misleading.—Raleigh News and Observer.

MOUNTAIN WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS.

Nestling amid the rocky cliffs and towering peaks of the Blue Ridge Mountains of Western Carolina, overlooking the restless and murmuring waters of the Ararat in its onward sweep to the deep, is the famous Mt. Airy White Sulphur Springs, a summer resort equalled only by the celebrated Greenbrier of the old "Mother of States." The hotel proper is a massive three and a half story building, fronting a magnificent grove of sugar maples, to a shallow brook and a lake some six hundred feet in length, on the west, with a mountain whose rocky fingers point heavenward on the east, bedecked with flowers of the rarest hue and an idealized air to nature's unbounded generosity; thus forming one grand and unique panorama of beauty and loveliness.

The summer houses which dot the vast lawn here and there, and the cosy cabins on the north, lend additional attraction to the beauty and comforts of this earthly paradise, and make the woe begone traveler and health seeker feel as though he has at last reached a place of rest and repose "where the wicked cease from troubling and the weary are at rest."

The genial proprietor, Mr. Rufus Roberts, in his zeal to "suit 'em all" has left nothing undone to render this place all that could be asked for; having provided a spacious ball room a short distance from the hotel for the young and the gay "to trip the light fantastic" until the wee sma' hours of morn, in order that those seeking the medicinal properties of the water might not be molested with the hurrah and noise consequent upon such occasions.

Many and various are the attractions of Mt. Airy White Sulphur Springs: the pinnacles of Dan, Puckett's Knob, Mitchell's Peak, Round Knob, Fancy Gap, Little Mountain and Mitchell's Cove, with many other notable points near by, all of which are from three to four thousand feet above the sea.

WHITE SULPHUR MOUNTAIN

surrounds the hotel and cabins on the north and east, from whose lofty summits can be seen one unbroken range of the Blue Ridge in all its beauty and grandeur, together with hundreds of farms and villages in North Carolina and Virginia, including the busy, bustling town of Mt. Airy, and at the same time get a bird's eye view of the grandest mountain scenery for many miles in divers directions, it has been the writer's good fortune to have ever seen.

MITCHELL'S CAVE.

Mitchell's Cave, otherwise known as the "Devil's Den," is one of the most wonderful and unsolved treaks of nature thus far discovered along the entire range of the Blue Ridge Mts. It is near Mitchell's lofty peak about midway between the top and base of the mountain, the dimensions of which are several feet and was discovered many years ago by summer guests at this place. Being easy of access it is visited annually by thousands of people who flock here in countless numbers. Several unsuccessful attempts have been made to explore this mammoth cave, and a depth of three hundred feet has been reached by explorers to satisfy their curiosity, but without the desired result. In addition to this a rope with a heavy stone attached to one end, measuring very nearly one hundred feet, has been suspended down the dark chasm, with the same result. Verily it seems to be a "bottomless pit," as indicated by its name.

EASY OF ACCESS.

Notwithstanding the universal popularity of the Mt. Airy White Sulphur Springs, until the year 1888 they were practically inaccessible to those living beyond the bounds of this and the adjoining counties, Winston, 40 miles distant, being the nearest railroad point. This, as a matter of course, militated against the thrift and growth of the place as a summer resort, but the completion of the C. F. & Y. V. R. R. to Mt. Airy—a few minutes' ride to the springs—inaugurated the dawn of a brighter day and a new era for this renowned retreat, and the hotel register shows already a most astounding increase in arrivals over last year. And to day it is one of the most accessible resorts for people in any part of North Carolina and Virginia. A twelve hours' ride will land you here from the remote parts of this State and several places in South Carolina and Virginia via the R. & D. R. R., N. C. R. R., Piedmont Air Line, and C. F. & Y. V. R. R.

THE WATER.

Last, but by no means least, is the water, which the analysis says is probably the strongest sulphur water within the bounds of the entire State. Indeed it speaks volumes for itself. It rises from a spring of a depth of several feet, is very cool and refreshing to the inner man, and acts like a charm upon the whole system. During this season, now about closed, several prominent men from North and South Carolina spent the heated term here, and expressed themselves highly pleased with the water, quite a number of whom made partial engagements for quarters in 1889, saying that it was no longer necessary to incur the additional expense of a costly trip to Greenbrier White Sulphur, Va.

With such resources and assurances as this, North Carolinians should hereafter be satisfied to patronize home enterprises, and we cannot believe that they will do otherwise.

REPATIENT AND DON'T JUMP AT CONCLUSIONS.

A gentleman remarked to us the other day that in some of the rural districts, demagogues like Dockery and his gang had partially created the impression that the Republican platform adopted at Chicago last June "pledged itself to the abolition of the internal revenue system."

Fully aware that a decidedly strong feeling pervaded the country, and especially these rural districts, against the present odious and fearfully oppressive internal revenue laws, Dockery and his cohorts are only too sorry that such is not the case; for the Chicago platform does not even propose, as every one expected it would do, the abolition of the internal revenue system, with its attendant corruptions. It only speaks about the tobacco tax, and about exempting from taxation spirits manufactured for artistic or mechanical uses. But to keep the costly Internal Revenue establishment to collect only a part of the whisky tax would be absurd administrative extravagance. Their respect for the temperance vote led Major McKinley's committee on resolutions into a very great absurdity. It is also very short sighted not to see that the exemption of a part of the spirit production would surely lead to a revival of the Whisky Ring frauds, another incident in the Republican rule, the recalling of which the platform-makers should have carefully avoided. The adoption of such a proposition would only break down the tax as a source of revenue, while keeping up the full cost of assessing and collecting. The Republican party would not dare present such a programme in the House of Representatives. They have not dared to do it, thus far, and the heads of the present generation will be gray with the frosts of many winters ere they do.

Let us therefore be patient and be not too quick to jump at conclusions. When the two platforms come under full discussion, as they will later on in the campaign, the advantage will certainly be with the terse, clear and positive declaration of the Democracy, which stands fully up to the resolutions of four years ago, and reaffirms them. In plain, open-day fact, the Democracy challenge a comparison of the record of the Cleveland administration with the promises made for it in 1884. Nothing will be found amiss, for in nothing has it been renege. While on the other hand, the Republicans have gone back on their declarations of four years ago, and have repudiated the principles of tariff reform which they then proclaimed were a necessity. Reform, like revolution, can not go backward; and surely Republican cowardice cannot expect to win this year, where Republican courage failed in 1884.

REVOLUTIONARY WIDOWS.—During the last fiscal year the names of thirty seven Revolutionary widows were added to the pension rolls. As it is 107 years since Yorktown surrendered and the war came to a practical end, this seems to be doing pretty well. But it was a peculiarity with the men who won our independence that they began fighting early and kept on fighting late. Many of those who saw Cornwallis lay down his arms were under seven years of age in 1781, and did not leave this world till they had lived on their three score and ten, and sometimes more than that; and before quitting, along in 1830, they married like King David, girls about 19 or 21, who now, at the age of 70, have discovered that they are entitled to pensions for the brave deeds done in the last century. It is probable that it will be ten years yet before the last Revolutionary widow is heard from. As for those of the Mexican War, they will be turning up for the next fifty years. Sanitary science has done something to lengthen the term of life in this country, but our liberal pension laws have done much more.—Chicago Tribune.

CHILDREN IN A HUGE BASKET.—It was early in March long years ago, when one of the pioneer settlers of Oxford county made up his mind to move his family from Massachusetts to that favorite region. He had seven little ones, and feared they could not endure so long a journey and the piercing cold. How do you think he took care of them? The father obtained from a neighbor a great basket, twelve feet by six and four feet high. It was fitted on an ox sled and was made for the purpose of transporting grass seed. The seven little ones were packed in straw in this basket like so many kittens or pigs, and made the journey safe and warm. The basket is yet preserved by the pioneer's descendants.—Lewiston (Me.) Journal.

A GOOD FISH STORY.—Mr. Thomas had a large farm on the Missouri bottoms near Sioux City. It was all fenced with barbed wire, there being two miles of such fencing on the place. He happened to Sioux City just about the time that the gorge up the river had dammed the river to such a prodigious height. Fearing that when the gorge broke it would be likely to raise the water to such an extent as to flood his farm, he rode hastily home and made preparations accordingly. His stock and all that was movable were transferred to higher ground. Then he and his hired man proceeded to impale chunks of meat on every barb of that wire fence. It was a big job, but it was finished just as the river began to cover the pasture lot.

For twenty-six hours the water stood five feet above the top of the highest fence post, and when it receded the most remarkable sight was revealed. From every barb, except three, of that two miles of fencing hung a fish. There were pickerel, bass, pike, suckers, and every other imaginable variety. A simple calculation will show precisely the size of the haul. It was a five wire fence, each wire having thirty six barbs to the rod, making, as any school boy can tell you, a total of 115,200 barbs to the two miles of fencing. There were three barbs that had caught no fish, so that there were only 115,197 fish. Perhaps the most remarkable part of the story is to come. From that day to this, in all parts of the Missouri river, there have been caught just three fish, the exact number that didn't get caught on our friend's barbed wire fence.—Iowa Falls Register.

S. H. HAWES' COAL ELEVATOR,
Richmond, Va.

The Only Coal Elevator South!

There are 72 screens in the Building. No dust or dirt can possibly get into the Coal as it runs over the screens in passing from the Elevator into the cars. Consumers get their Coal dry and "Perfectly Clean."

I have now, and shall always keep on hand a large stock of Coal best suited for Foundry, Factory and Family use. All selected and of best quality. Prompt shipments. Orders solicited.

S. H. HAWES.
The railroad cars run alongside the Elevator, and the Coal is loaded into them there, thus lessening the cost to the trade South and June 20 d&wtf.

Pine Fibre Matting,

Wilmington, N. C.

The reputation of our Fertilizers, the ACME and GEM, is now established, and the results of three years use in the hands of the best farmers of this and other States fully attest their value as a high grade manure.

The MATTING, made from the leaves of our native pine, is conceded to be equal to any wool carpet for comfort and durability, and the demand for it is daily increasing. It has virtues not found in any other fabric.

The FIBRE or wool is extensively used for upholstering purposes, and as a filling or mattresses is almost equal to hair, being light, elastic, and proof against insects.
