TARIFF REFORM.

How Leading Republicans in the Past Have Advocated the Democratic Measure of Today.—Literary Quotations from Republican "Big Guns."

EUGENE HALE.—Salt. I believe this article should go upon the free list; that the monopoly which has obtained heretofore for the Onondaga Salt Works * * *
ought to cease.

SENATOR MORRILL.—It is a mistake of the friends of a sound tariff to insist upon the extreme rates imposed during the war—1870.

WILLIAM D. KELLEY.—Let the raw material (wool) come in. Let us make blankets that will drive out English blankets. July 22, '86.

WARREN MILLER.—The sooner we have that (tariff) revision, the better it will be for all industries.
—1882.

WILLIAM MCKINLEY.—The free list might be enlarged without affecting injuriously a single American interest.—1882.

Benjamin Harrison.—The creation of the Tariff Commission was a confession that the tariff needs revision. If the report comes in, it should be promptly acted upon.
—November 28, 1882.

Charles J. Folger, Secretary of the Treasury.—Taxes upon spirits and tobacco, being upon things not needed, should be retained rather than those upon the common necessaries of life.—Annual Report, 1883.

Henry L. Dawes.—The duty must be levied on the raw material or on the manufactured article. If you levy it on the raw material, you discriminate against American labor.

William B. Allison.—I will say with regard to the duty on wool and woolsens, that I regard it not as an intentional fraud, but as operating as though it were a fraud upon the great body of the people of the U. S.—March 24, 1870.

General John A. Logan.—When a gentleman stands upon this floor and tells me that this high, this extraordinarily high tariff is for the protection of the laboring man, I tell him that I do not understand how he can possibly substantiate such a theory.—April 18, 1870.

Oliver P. Morton.—The country expects a large reduction, the country knows that it can be made, the country has been promised this reduction, and the dominant party here is responsible to the country for this reduction, and I will be held responsible if it is not made.

John Sherman.—Such excessive protection not only ceases to diversify protection, but forces labor into protected employments.—1872.
The tariff ought to be carefully revised with a view to correct any inequalities or incongruities that have grown out of change of values since the passage of the act of 1883.— January, 1888.

President Grant.—Many duties now collected * * * might be remitted. * * * I would mention those articles which enter into manufactures of all sorts. * * * These duties not only come from the consumers at home, but act as a protection to foreign manufacturers.—Annual Message, December, 1875.

James A. Garfield.—I am for a protection which leads to ultimate Free Trade.—April 1, 1870. For nearly two years the wholesale price of American salt in Toronto, Canada, was a dollar lower per barrel than the same salt was selling for on the New York side of the lake. * * * Certainly, gentlemen will not want a duty continued that enables that thing to be done.—
May 18, 1872.

President Arthur.—A total aboliinevitably prove a serious, if not an insurmountable obstacle to a thorough revision of the tariff and to any considerable reduction in import duties. The present tariff system is, in many respects, unjust. It makes unequal distributions, both of its burdens and its benefits.—Annual Message, 1882.

James G. Blaine.—During the entire war, when we were seeking everything on the earth, out of which taxation could be wrong, it never entered into the conception of Congress to tax breadstuffs—never. * * * Neither breadstuffs nor lumber became the subject of one penny of taxation.—1868. Undoubtedly the inequalities in the wages of English and American operatives are more than equalized by the great efficiency of the latter and their longer hours of labor.— 1881.

John J. Ingalls.—We are on the verge of an impending revolution.
* * * On one side is capital, * * * enriched by domestic levy and foreign commerce. * * * On the other is labor, asking for employment, striving to develop domestic industries, battling with the forces of Nature, * * * resolutely determined to overthrow a system under which the rich are growing richer and the poor are growing poorer.

Hugh McCulloch, Secretary of the Treasury under Presidents Lincoln and Arthur.—The existing duties upon raw materials which are to be used in manufacture should be removed.—Annual Report, 1884. Mr. Cleveland has marked out a course which can safely be followed.—Dec., 1887.

BY TELEGRAPH.

Branch of Promise.

New York, Sept. 15.—Something of a sensation has been created in theatrical circles in this city, by the announcement that Miss Leila Farre, the actress, is about to bring suit against the comedian Goodwin for the sum of $10,000 for an alleged breach of promise. It is said that Mr. Goodwin was engaged to the young lady, but had been induced to break it by his father, who wished him to marry a wealthy society lady of Buffalo.

Sullivan to Fight Kilrain.
Boston, Mass., Sept. 15.—John Sullivan, with Mahoney McElroy and Dan Murphy, will leave this city on Monday for New York, where they will meet Charley Johnson, of Brooklyn, and post $1,000 in the Clipper office, as a forfeit for Sullivan to fight Jake Kilrain.

The fight will be according to London prize ring rules, to take place within 100 miles of New Orleans for $25,000 to $10,000 a side, and the championship of the world.

Cleveland Denies It.
Philadelphia, Sept. 15.—President Cleveland has written a letter in reply to one received from Geo.
Whiteley, of this city, making inquiry into certain statements that are said to have appeared in a recent article in the North American Review.

The letter, which explains itself,
is as follows:
EXECUTIVE MANSION,
WASHINGTON, Sept. 13, 1888.
George Whiteley, Esq.:

Dear Sir—Your letter of the 8th instant has just been presented to my attention; and it affords the first intimation I have had that, in an article published in the North American, I am charged with the declaration that "I believed in free trade as I believed in the Protestant religion."

In answer to your enquiry to the truth of this allegation, I have to say that I never made use of that expression or anything like it.
The statement you quote is
A PURE, UNADULTERATED FABRI-CATION.

While it would be in vain to attempt to meet or refute every false statement coined or forged to serve the purpose of misrepresentation in the heat of the political canvass, the friendly spirit of your inquiry has led me to make this emphatic denial.

Yours very truly,
GROVER CLEVELAND.

The Yellow Fever.

Jacksonville, Fla., Sept. 15.— During the past twenty-four hours ending at noon to day, fourteen new cases of yellow fever have been reported, making a total of 844 cases reported to date. Four deaths from the disease were reported since noon yesterday, making the total number of deaths from the disease to date 120. There are 508 persons now on sick beds, and thirty-six cases have been pronounced cured during the past twenty-four hours.

News from McClenny states that there have been sixty-six cases of yellow fever there, and twelve deaths from the disease.
The physicians, nurses and supplies which arrived yesterday are of great assistance, the local physicians and nurses being sick and the supplies exhausted. The place is almost depopulated, no more than 240 people remaining.

Washington, D. C., September 15.—Miss Clara Barton today received the following dispatch from Col. Southmayd at Jacksonville, dated yesterday:

"Express me as soon as possible arm badges for nurses. Your associate societies can help largely by sending clothing, shoes and blankets. The fever has about destroyed all business, and there is, and there will be, much distress.

"McClenny is well in hand. Our nurses there have acted with promptness and good judgment.
Two cases and one death there since yesterday. About thirty sick in hand. Sent out doctor with ear supplies, medicines and blankets, this afternoon."

New York, Sept. 15.—Subscriptions received today at the Mayor's office for the relief of yellow fever sufferers amounted to $1,023.75.
The bookmakers' alliance this afternoon contributed $500 to the relief of the sufferers by the yellow fever at Jacksonville.

REALLY FUNNY.

It looks very much now as if the leaders of the Third Party were about to be "hoist by their own petard." They have been in the secret all the time—that the great movement which they are carrying on is for the sole purpose of dividing the Democratic strength—but the difficulty is they have been unable to let the secret out, and the wrong people are beginning to take them at their word. It is said that in Durham and one or two other counties of the State the negroes—who are getting heartily sick of Radicalism, which, for them, consists in a great deal of voting and none of the fruits thereof, and who would rather go to Ballyhack than into the ranks of the Democratic party—are beginning to be attracted by the powerful and impassioned appeals of the Prohibition leaders, and are evincing an earnest desire to be admitted into the fold. Wouldn't it be just "killing" if Mr. Burkhead—who seems to be thoroughly in earnest in his woefully mistaken ideas—should succeed, with his new paper, the Progress, in drawing off in November 500 or 600 Durham country negroes from the Republican party?

On the other hand, scores of Prohibition Democrats—good men and true, who want legislation on the liquor traffic, but who know in their hearts that it must ever be a moral and not a political question—becoming alarmed at the inevitable tendency of the Third Party movement and the danger of a restoration of Radical supremacy, are hesitating in their affiliation with the party, and many declare that the risk is too great to admit of their casting their votes in a manner which will accomplish no good for themselves, but will simply aid the Republican party throughout North Carolina.

One can picture the intense dismay now pervading the camp; one can imagine the lugubriousness of the situation as the managers receive the returns, and welcome (1) these awkward negro accessions to their numbers; in their secret "con-fabs" and confidential conferences how Dr. Benbow and Messrs. Steele and Walker must grind their teeth and anathematize the numskulls among the Republicans who are taking for gospel truth all that which was intended only for "buncombe," while the honest Prohibition Democrats of Guilford have resolved that they will not this year stand in the way of redeeming their country from Radicalism!

If Messrs. Benbow, Steele and Walker, in this deep trouble which has come upon them, have leisure to fortify their flagging spirits with the philosophic lessons of ancient classic history, they must over and over recall the mournful exclamation of Pyrrhus: "One more such victory, and I am undone!"

THE SUEZ CANAL.—The receipts from shipping on the Suez canal steadily increase. In July they were 5,350,000 francs, against 5,109,680 francs in July of 1887. The earnings in the first seven months of the year were 37,071,853 francs in 1888, and 35,340,909 francs in 1887.

REMARIED HIS FORMER WIFE. —A rather romantic case was developed in the Probate Court yesterday by the application of Benjamin Reller for a license to marry Barbara Behringer. In 1881 they were married. Very soon afterward he went West, going as far as the Pacific coast, to work as a teamster. He told his bride, whom he left here, that he would soon be doing well and he would send for her. She would hear from him frequently, and they would live in fond anticipation of the time when they would again be united and live together as happy husband and wife.

Time passed, but no word came from Benjamin to his wife. She sought for his address, but could not get any trace of the truant husband. She mourned for him, but he came not, neither did he communicate with her. She finally became weary of her position in life as a wife in name only. She had lost faith in mankind and their vows of constancy. She sued for divorce, and last March was granted a decree on the ground of wilful absence and neglect. She was also restored to her maiden name.

Her astonishment was great a few days ago when into her presence walked the long-lost Benjamin. He was equally astonished when he learned that he no longer had a wife, as she had been divorced and restored to her maiden name. They had a talk together, he explained his silence to her satisfaction, though he would not tell any one else, and they agreed to be married again. Accordingly he got a license yesterday, and Barbara Behringer again becomes Mrs. Reller.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

VALUABLE ELOQUENCE.—A reminiscence of Daniel Webster, never told before in print, was related here the other day by a contemporary of the Massachusetts senator. It illustrates more forcibly than any hitherto recorded the extraordinary influence of his oratory. Webster had given a friend his note for $5,000. A miserly old Whig—the richest man in Alexandria—bought the paper at a sharp shave. He admired Webster and trusted him. The note matured. The Senator could not pay. The miser dunned Webster persistently, but without effect. Mr. Webster made a positive appointment to meet him one morning, but was not to be found either at his home or in the Senate.

The note-holder was walking away from the Capitol in despair when he saw Webster approaching with head high in air, eyes sunken with a far away look, lips parted and teeth showing in a broad smile. The old Whig lost courage and passed without recognition. Next morning, in perusing the newspaper, he read Webster's reply to Hayne. At once he took the orator's note and tore it to pieces, so prodigious was the effect of the splendid philippic. Another friend once found Webster reading law, with five and ten-dollar bills as book marks in the volumes before him.

ON THE BATHING BEACH AT ATLANTIC CITY.—I saw a beautiful symphony in yellow on the beach to-day. It was a girl about 18 years of age. She wore a full suit of black and white striped cloth, and the head was surmounted by a jaunty Tam O'Shanter of the same material. It was almost hid, however, by the heavy, wavy golden hair which seemed to have been crimped by nature herself, so that each hair knew itself. The beautiful bangs in front only partially concealed the forehead, but rose to make a beautiful golden rim for the cap. Behind, a wealth of golden hair spread about the neck and shoulders to complete as pretty a picture as one could see.

Another lady bather I saw had an unusual share of daring. She wore no skirt at all, but with a neat blue Jersey and trousers, a polka-dot handkerchief about her neck, and long black and white stockings which reached above her knee, she looked charming. Her skill as a graceful swimmer was unimpeded by "water-logged skirts." Most attractive was a plump, sweet-looking lady—perhaps a young matron—in a very light bathing suit, with black stripes running lengthwise, and a pair of stockings to match. Her bodice was sleeveless, and her shapely form was shown to advantage.

Another lady who had attracted general admiration wore a suit of black and white barred, with a jockey cap of the same material on her head. A heavy roll of chestnut-colored hair, which had evidently just been allowed to fall from a coil with that careless abandon which is the art of actresses, added to the charm.

CLOUDS.

Day after day—day after day—Always the same gray skies; And, sobbing the same dirge always, The sea beneath it lies.

Day after day the wind is loud, The stinging raindrops fall; The earth lies in a misty shroud—I'm weary of it all!

"Oh, fool," mine own heart said to me, "Art ready to complain?" Wait! and the gray skies blue must be; The sunshine comes again."

Souls that are sad, lives that are gray "Nearth sorrow's ling'ring blight, Wait only—clouds shall pass away, The earth once more be bright."

Utterly Surprised.

MERIDIAN, Miss., July 12, 1888. For a number of years I have suffered untold agony from the effects of blood poison. I had my case treated by several prominent physicians, but received but little, if any, relief. I resorted to all sorts of patient medicines spending a large amount of money, but yet getting no better. My attention was attracted by the cure said to have been effected by B. B. B. and I commenced taking it. It merely as an experiment, having but little faith in the result. To my utter surprise I soon commenced to improve, and deem myself to-day a well and hearty person—all owing to the excellent qualities of B. B. B. I cannot commend it too highly to those suffering from blood poison. J. O. GIBSON, Trainman M & O R R

The reputation of our Fertilizers, the ACME and GEM, is now established, and the results of three years use in the hands of the best farmers of this and other States fully attest their value as a high grade manure.

The MATTING, made from the leaves of our native pine, is conceded to be equal to any wool carpet for comfort and durability, and the demand for it is daily increasing. It has virtues not found in any other fabric.

The FIBRE or wool is extensively used for upholstering purposes, and as a filling or mattresses is almost equal to hair, being light, elastic, and proof against insects.

Club Meeting!

There will be a meeting of the Democratic Club on Tuesday evening. All members—and especially members of committees and the officers of the club—are urgently requested to attend.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY.—The Woman's Missionary Society of the First Presbyterian Church will meet in the lecture-room to-morrow afternoon at 5 o'clock.

"PATRONIZE HOME INDUSTRY."
—We have naught to say against Gorton's New Orleans Minstrels—undoubtedly one of the best companies which have ever visited the city—but by no means forget Bogart & Griffith's Home Minstrels on Friday night next.

RANDOLPH COURT.—The Superior Court of Randolph county convenes at Asheboro to-day. Col. J. T. Morehead, Mayor Barringer and Messrs. Scott and Bynum, of the Greensboro bar, left by private conveyance yesterday to be present on professional business.

NEW PAPER.—The Durham Progress, Mr. W. G. Burkhead's paper, is on our table. In his salutatory the editor says that his action is conscientious, and God forbid that we should write or utter a syllable against that line of conduct which "conscience applauds." Mr. Burkhead is more entitled to the sympathy than the upbraidings of his friends.

THE AMATEURS.—The rehearsals to which a few favored have access show that the "repertoire" of the Amateur Minstrels is most excellent. If you wish to thrill at fine music, sit wrapt in admiration at the grace of the performers, and go into ecstasies of laughter over the mirth and merriment, don't fail to secure seats for Bogart & Griffith's Home Minstrels on Friday evening next. Remember, above all, that it is the Guilford Grays' benefit night.

THE BAPTIST CONVENTION.—We respectfully suggest that the community bear in mind the fact that the convention of the Baptist Church of North Carolina assembles in this city in November. Greensboro's Baptist congregation is a most excellent body of people, the pastorate of a minister universally loved and esteemed; they are ever among the foremost on all occasions which test the good town's open-handed hospitality, and when their committee of reception calls upon our householders and heads of families, open doors and a warm hearthstone should greet the visiting Baptists of the State.

MURDER AT PLEASANT GARDEN.

R. H. Smith Deals Will Marley a Death-Blow With a Rake Handle.

Saturday evening last, about 3 o'clock, R. H. Smith and Will Marley, aged about 16 years respectively, in attendance at Reynolds's writing school near Pleasant Garden, precipitated a difficulty which resulted in Smith dealing Marley a death-blow over the head with an old rake handle.

From young Smith, who was tried before Esquire Hardin at Pleasant Garden yesterday and lodged in jail here last night, we learn that the affair grew out of Smith's ordering Marley to throw away a chunk of fire with which the latter was lighting a cigarette.

In refusing to comply with Smith's demand Marley endeavored to rebuke him and threatened to knife him, and at the same time made a lunge at Smith and cut his (Smith's) finger. Smith alleges that at this juncture he proposed to withdraw from the combat, but Marley not being satisfied gathered up an old rake handle and was in the act of dealing Smith a blow, when he wrenched the rake handle from Marley and dealt him the fatal blow. He says Marley fell against the school-house when he struck him, but showed no signs of serious injury. Here the row ceased, and Marley, apprehensive of the injuries he had received, proceeded homeward, accompanied by his brother. Immediately after his arrival he began growing worse until that night about 9 o'clock, when he breathed his last. Dr. Gray made a post mortem examination, which disclosed the fact that Marley's skull was broken.

Smith is a youthful looking criminal, and says there were two or three other boys who witnessed the whole affair. He seems very much grieved over the sad occurrence, and alleges that he had no criminal intent whatever, and was not aware of Marley's death until Sunday morning when he was arrested.

DOCKERY'S RECORD.—Col. O. H. Dockery, the Republican gubernatorial candidate, is going about the State labeled and ticketed with such an atrocious record—he is so burdened and borne down by his political sins of both omission and commission—that we really feel a reluctance to add the "last hair that breaks the camel's back." We hate to hit a man when he's down, and will content ourselves with publishing his record in 1884 without comment.

To represent the public in the Legislature he voted for Harvey Quick, a negro lawyer, against John W. Snead, one of the best white farmers of Richmond county.

For Coroner, he voted for Felix Jacobs, a negro man, against Daniel Gay, a one-legged Confederate soldier.

For Register of Deeds, he voted for one N. W. Harlee, a negro man, against Alexander L. McDonald, a white man competent to fill the office and universally esteemed in the county for his courteous bearing.

THE CUMBERLAND DEMOCRACY.—Last Thursday the Democrats of Cumberland county met in convention in Fayetteville to nominate their ticket for the campaign; and, as we feel sure that our readers have a fellow-feeling for their good neighbors of the Cape Fear—the disciples of Jefferson, Jackson and Lauchlin Bethune in faithful 71st township, the old reliable of Quwhiffle, the few but faithful of Carver's Creek (like our own Deep River), the "unterrified" and enthusiastic of Cross Creek, Black River, etc.—we give the nominations in full as follows:

For the Senate, W. L. Williams
For the House, T. M. Sutton
For Sheriff, H. C. Fisher.
For Register, H. L. Hall.

For Treasurer, J. B. Troy.
For Coroner, Dr. J. W. McNeill.

For Surveyor, D. G. McDuffie.
For Constable, Cross Creek township, John W. Smith.

The Senatorial nominee, Mr. Williams, was a brave Confederate soldier, and is now one of the best farmers and most respected citizens of the Little River Academy, "garden-spot," section of the county.

Mr. Sutton has already attained prominence in politics, and had many friends for his nomination to Congress at the last convention in that district; Mr. A. D. McGill is of good Scotch-Irish stock and a farmer.

Of Mr. Fisher it is only necessary to say that he ALWAYS leads his ticket.

Mr. Hall is a farmer of high character.

Mr. Troy is a business man of unimpeachable integrity.

Dr. J. W. McNeill is one of the very first men in his profession.

Capt. McDuffie is a civil engineer of extensive experience and high qualifications.

Three cheers and a "tiger" for Cumberland!

GORTON'S MINSTRELS.—Ladies desiring to enjoy perfectly unobjectionable minstrelsy should not hesitate to attend at Benbow Hall on Wednesday evening, 19th inst., the occasion of the first appearance here of Gorton's famous New Orleans organization, throughout whose whole performance nothing will be said or done to offend the most fastidious. On the day of their arrival Gorton's Minstrels will parade in uniform, and no lover of good music should fail to hear their concert in front of the Benbow House about noon. Of this company the Bangor (Me.) Whig and Courier has the following commendatory notice:

The verdict of every person who attended the performance at the Opera House last evening was that it was the best minstrel show that has appeared in this city for a long time. The company is much smaller than some that have lately been here, but the individual performers are much better.

ALL ABOARD FOR FAYETTEVILLE.—A colored excursion came down from Winston this morning on their way to Fayetteville, and were joined by a large number here, increasing the crowd to about 500. Notwithstanding the rainy morning they were in high spirits, and seemed bent on having a good time.

ADJOURNED MEETING.—The stockholders of the Greensboro Land and Improvement Company adjourned on Saturday night last, to meet in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce to-morrow (Tuesday) evening at 8 o'clock, when every stockholder is requested to be present.

Personal.

Mr. Geo. W. White left on the Raleigh train this morning.

Mr. T. S. Shelton and wife have gone on a visit to Mrs. S.'s old home at Bedford, Va.

Mr. Forest Whitaker, who has been spending several days here with friends, left this morning for his home at Henderson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Jessup went down to Fayetteville this morning, where the latter will remain some time with relatives.

Miss Annie Hunt Green, daughter of Capt. Thos. J. Green, of Fayetteville, is visiting Greensboro, the guest of Prof. Alderman and family.

Miss Anna V. Jones, of Richmond, Va., formerly of this city, who has been on a visit of several days at High Point, stopped over here for a day or two, the guest of Mrs. M. B. Steele, and left for her home last night.

Mr. C. M. Vanstory, the popular manager of the Fishblate

Clothing House, left this morning for New York City, to be absent several days, during which time he will lay in a mammoth stock of fall and winter clothing.

Second Stock.

Mr. C. M. Vanstory has gone to New York to buy another large stock of fine Clothing, Hats and Furnishing Goods, for the Fishblate Clothing House. This is their second stock this fall; it seems that everybody has found out that Fishblate's is the place to buy fine clothing cheap.

MUSICAL INSTRUCTION

Given by Prof. N. Schmitt,
On Violin, Violoncello or Bass, Guitar, Flute, Clarinet, or any other Musical Instrument! I have been giving Musical Instructions for the past thirty years, in most all portions of Georgia, North and South Carolina! I have numerous suitable recommendations from professors and prominent citizens, and the press of the different places, at which I have given instructions! Those who desire to take lessons, will find me at my residence, on King street, near Sergeant's foundry, or addressed through the city postoffice. Terms reasonable. I will also Tune and Repair Pianos and Organs, with the greatest satisfaction, or make no charge.
juni11 PROF. N. SCHMITT.

Notice to Builders.

The city of Greensboro will receive sealed bids for the erection of a fire engine house, until Friday, the 21st of September, 1888. Specifications may be seen at the law office of J. A. Barringer, mayor of the city. Bidder must give bond for the performance of his contract. City reserves the right to accept any bids or reject all, if deemed necessary. Bidders will put in the highest price they will allow for the old building.

A CARD.

Having other business that will largely occupy my attention and probably call me away from the city at intervals during the next year, I have arranged with Mr. A. B. Frey, of Millersburg, Ohio, to take charge of my jewelry store. Although recently from Ohio, Mr. Frey is a Virginian and a gentleman whom I am proud to introduce to my customers. He has a thorough knowledge of the jewelry trade. If you want a new watch, or the time piece you have needs repairing, call and make his acquaintance.

The ladies especially will find him courteous and attentive. He will sell them new goods or repair their broken jewelry at the lowest prices possible for fine quality and superior workmanship. The science of optics is one of Mr. Frey's specialties. A careful study and long experience have made him one of the best practical opticians in the country. If you require an expert to fit you with a pair of spectacles or eye-glasses, don't fail to call and see him, and no matter what the defect of vision may be, if it is possible to receive assistance from the use of glasses, he will supply you with just what is best suited to your eyes. Engraving is another specialty, and in fact for anything you ordinarily require at a jewelry store you cannot go wrong if you call. Very Respectfully, JNO. J. THORN ON.
Greensboro, Sept. 11, 1888.

Notice to Gas Consumers.

The bills of the Gas and Electric Light Co. will be payable at office of the Co. A deduction of 5 per cent. will be made on all bills paid by the 6th of the month, except when special contracts are made. After the 6th until the 10th your bill may be presented, and if not paid by the 10th the flow of gas may be closed from the premises. By order of the Company. B. S. JOHNSTON,
H. B. PETERS, President.
Manager.

Notice to the Citizens.

All the citizens of Greensboro are hereby notified that the Board of Commissioners of the city of Greensboro have appointed a Sanitary Committee, and that the citizens are invited to communicate to R. M. Rees, Chief-of-Police, all nuisances, noxious smells or other causes which are likely to injure the health of the citizens. Notice is further given that the city authorities have determined to enforce the sanitary ordinances of the city vigorously.
