* Papa! said Joy, "are Congress-men,
As all the papers style 'em,"
Both DEAD and BURN, like Uncle Ben,
Who lives at the Asylum?"

* Poh! Nonsense, boy! I blush indeed,
At your half-stupid notions!"

* Why, pa, I thought so, for we read,
That 'twas always "BURNING" notions!"

Journal of Interpersonal Violence 26(10)

I DREAMED OF TIME.
Thy head was on my shoulder leaning.
Thy hand in mine was gently pressed.
Thine eyes so soft and full of meaning.
Were bent on me, and I was blest.
No word was spoken, all was feeling.
The silent transport of the heart.
The tear that o'er thy cheek was stealing.
Then told what words could never impart.
And could this be but mere delusion?
Could fancy all so real seem?
Her fancy's scenes were full confusion.
And can it be I did but dream?
I'm sure I felt thy forehead pressing.
Thy very breath stole o'er my cheek.
I'm sure I saw those eyes confessing.
What tongue could never, never speak.

Ah no! 'tis gone, and never, never,
For me such waking joy may be;
But I could sleep, would sleep forever,
Could I the while thus dream of thee.

"Semper Paratus"—[for a trade] A good anecdote is related of an "old seventy-sixer," a former resident of New Hampshire,—who, by the way, was one of those whose immortal names are enrolled beneath that sacred Declaration pledging life and all for glorious liberty. Independence was his peculiar characteristic, both in private and national affairs; and as an evidence of this social life, the following fact is given:

A few years since, in the town of Derry, N. H., was held an annual gathering, known as the "Derry Fair,"—where were collected all classes of persons for every conceivable object, but principally for the purpose of racing and trading horses. Old Mr.—had before his door a wooden post, where always at the commencement of the Fair, was tied an old horse, whose principal ambition and effort seemed to be, to exist, merely. Sure evidence was this, that Fair week had arrived. The old man was never seen out of the house during the carnival, participating in the amusements and exercises of the occasion, but continued quietly on with his business within doors, as if nothing of moment was on foot.

He hears a tap at the door. "Walk in," immediately follows, in a gruff voice.

"Mr.—, how 'ye swap horses?" says the visitor.

"Why, just give me one dollar in cash—unhitch my horse from that post, and tie your's there instead."

Visitor acts accordingly; Mr.—never looking at the property last obtained, and feeling satisfied that the quadruped (provided always it had four feet) on hand could not be much inferior to the one disposed of.

Soon came another and another applicant, all receiving the same answer—which proposition was almost invariably acceded to. So it would continue from day to day, while "Fair week" lasted.

At last, Mr.—, remaining at ease in his room until night came, when not unfrequently he would find the same horse standing at the post that he had fastened there in the morning.

Anecdote of Rev. Samuel Moody.—When Mr. Moody was on a journey, I think in the western part of Massachusetts, he called on a brother in the ministry, on Saturday, thinking to spend the Sabbath with him, if agreeable. The man appeared very glad to see him, and said, "I would be very glad to have you stop and preach for me, to-morrow but I feel almost ashamed to ask you."

"Why, what is the matter?" said Mr. Moody.

"Why, our people have got into such a habit of going out before meeting is closed, that it would seem to be an imposition upon a stranger."

If that's all, I must and will stop and preach for you," was Mr. Moody's reply.

When the Sabbath day came, and Mr. Moody had opened the meeting and named his text, he looked round on the assembly and said, "My hearers, I am going to speak to two sorts of folks to-day, saints and sinners. Sinners, I am going to give you your portion first, and I would have you give good attention." When he had preached to them as long as he thought best, he paused and said, "There, sinners, I have done with you now; you may take your hats and go out of the meeting house as soon as you please." But all tarried and heard him through.

Honey Moon.—The origin of this word is so little known and yet so highly interesting, that we are constrained to give an account of it. It is traceable to a Teutonic origin. Among the Teutons was favorite drink called Metheglin. It was made of honey, and was much like the present mode of the same of the European countries. The same beverage was in use among the Saxons, as well as another called Marat, which was also made of honey, but flavored with mulberries. These honeyed drinks were used in great abundance at festivals. Among the nobility the marriage was celebrated a whole lunar month, which was called a moon during which the festival board was well supplied with the honey drink. Hence this month of festival, was called the Honey Moon or Honey Month, which means, a month or festival. The famous Alaric is said to have died on his wedding night, from the effects of too much indulgence in Metheglin.

Wesley tells a curious story of the arrest of a whole score of Methodists, who were put into a wagon and dragged before a justice. The accusers were asked to state the grounds of the complaint; and seemed at this to be struck dumb. At last one of them cried out—"they pretend to be better than other people, and pray from morning to night." The Magistrate asked if they had done nothing else. "Yes sir," said an old man, "they have converted my wife, and 'n please your worship. 'Till she went among them she had such a tongue! And now she is as gentle as a lamb." "Carry them back," said the Magistrate, "and convert all the scolds in town."

Aristocracy ahead of itself.—A most laughable effort to attain a "cut straw dignity," was manifested a few days since, at Syracuse, New York, in the refusal of a servant girl to "wash for mechanics!"

The woman in the song says of her lover—"His very step has music in't. As he comes up the stairs." It is very probable that his boots squeaked.

Good Reason For Leaving.—A sailor in the put of a theatre, looking over his playbill, read—"An interval of twenty years occurs between the first and second acts." At the end of the first act he put on his old tarpaulin and left the house, saying—"Few of these sailors will live to see the second act."

Dialogue between a Man in want of Work and a Man in want of a Workman.—Applicant.—Are you in want of a laborer, sir?
Gen.—I am.
App.—I'm out of work, sir, and should be glad to serve you.
Gen.—Are you a reformed drunkard?
App.—No, sir—I never drank in my life.
Gen.—I'm sorry for that—but perhaps I can do something for you yet. Were you ever in the State Prison?
App.—(and quavering)—No sir! I'm a poor man sir, but thank God, I'm honest.
Gen.—(rising in a rage). Get out of my sight you infernal puppy! what do you mean by coming here and asking for work? I'd have you to know I'm a philanthropist, and I won't give any employment to a fellow who has never been in a watch house or seen the inside of a police court. If you'd only stolen a gridiron—but get along about your business—you ain't even a rascal!—Boston Times.

WILL BE PUBLISHED IN WASHINGTON, D. C. ON THE TWENTY-SEVEN OF DECEMBER NEXT.

No. 1 of THE UNITED STATES REPORTER, A Daily Journal of Government, Legislative and General News.

THE subscriber is now enabled to announce the completion of his arrangements for the establishment of a well organized and independent Journal of News at the seat of the General Government.

The leading features of the UNITED STATES REPORTER will be the following:

I. Early intelligence of the movements of the various Departments of the Government, in reference to domestic affairs and to the foreign relations of the country, will be given with scrupulous fidelity.

II. The verbatim Reports of the Proceedings of the Debates of the United States Senate, which the proprietor is bound to furnish daily to that body, in accordance with the terms of the contract made at the close of last session of Congress. The arrangements now made will at once fully secure to the Senate of the United States an authentic and complete record of its debates, and to the people—in a greatly enlarged degree—the benefit of the experience, sagacity, and statesmanship of that body which they have ever looked with solicitude and respectful regard.

III. The Proceedings and Debates in the House of Representatives will also be given, with fullness, impartiality and the utmost promptitude. Each day's record will be promptly made up, and appear in the "Reporter" next morning.

IV. A Synoptical view of the Proceedings and Debates of all the State Legislatures will be regularly given. Members of Congress and all classes of readers will thus be kept fully and systematically informed of domestic legislation in all sections of the United States.

V. Early intelligence of all important movements in the Legislatures of Great Britain and France will be communicated by every steamer from Europe, through reporters in London and Paris, who possess peculiar facilities for obtaining information.

VI. Copies of Reports of all cases in the Supreme Court of the United States which possess general interest. Great care will be bestowed upon this department of the Reporter. These reports alone, to the members of the profession, must entitle the Reporter to their patronage and support.

VII. The General News of the Day will be given in a condensed form, with industry and attention.

Such is a brief view of what the "United States Reporter" is designed to be. All the plans and arrangements have been well matured, and the hope is confidently cherished that the United States Reporter will prove an energetic, industrious, dignified, and perfectly independent journal. It will have no party views—no political bias. The proprietor, by the terms of his contract with the Senate of the United States, is bound to the condition that "the paper shall contain no political discussions except the debates." It will be a vehicle of news—not the organ of any set of opinions. The grand aim of the subscriber is to establish at the seat of Government a faithful and prompt reporter of all acts of intelligence—a responsible agent, on which the politician, the business man, the manufacturer, the mechanic, and every one interested in the affairs of Congress and the Government may rely at all times with implicit confidence.

It is believed that the establishment of such a reliable journal of intelligence, terms which place it within the reach of the great masses of the people, at the commencement of what promises to be a most interesting and eventful period in the history of Congressional proceedings, will be regarded with favor by all classes of the community; and having thus stated his objects, the subscriber respectfully solicits a liberal and general support from the enlightened public of the United States.

JAMES A. HOUSTON, Stenographer to the U. S. Senate.

The "United States Reporter" will be printed on large and handsome sheet, and issued every morning except Sundays, at the rate of six dollars per annum, single copies, two cents.

In connection with the daily paper, there will be issued from the same establishment.

THE MIRROR OF CONGRESS. This publication will contain exclusively the Reports of the proceedings and debates of the Congress of the United States. It will be issued semi-weekly, in an elegant quarto form, throughout the sessions of Congress, and will be furnished to subscribers at the rate of two dollars for the long session, and one dollar for the short session. It is believed that this great national work will be deemed indispensable in the library of every public institution, politician and professional man, throughout the country; and that it will be regarded by the great mass of the people as the very best political text book for their own instruction and that of their children.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT. Throughout the sessions of Congress, extras will be issued from the office of the "United States Reporter," containing the reports of all such debates as may possess particularly exciting interest.

All newspapers throughout the United States who publish this prospectus once a week from this date till the meeting of Congress, will be entitled to an exchange with the United States Reporter, and will be placed on the list of those to whom the extras will be despatched.

All subscriptions and communications to be post paid, addressed "J. A. Houston, United States Reporter, Washington, D. C." July 29

DR. SPENCER'S VEGETABLE PILLS

And Vegetable Tonic and Restorative Bitters. THIE thousands among us, who use Spencer's Vegetable Pills and Bitters, need not be told how high is the position which these invaluable preparations sustain with the public; nor of their great superiority over every other preparation in use as a family medicine; but for the benefit of those who have not used them, the proprietor will insert one of the many certificates which have been presented by those who have used them, and witnessed their salutary and beneficial effects upon others.

Price 25 cents for the Pills, $1.00 for the Bitters. The following Certificate is from the Rev. John Harrison, Sumpter District, S. C.

I herewith certify, that I have used Spencer's Vegetable Pills during the last and present years, and find them to answer the purposes as stated by the Proprietor, viz: to act (in small doses) as mild and ready aperients to the system—to remove or prevent costiveness—as may be required without pain or sickness.—Of the many remedies I have made use of during a period of thirty years affliction, I believe them the mildest and most effectual. Price 75 cts. for a box containing 20 doses of Pills.

KERSHAW DIST. S. C. May 20, 1846. Having used Dr. Hull's Fever and Ague Pills for two years past I can most cheerfully testify to the certainty and safety of their effect.—Out of at least one dozen boxes, which I have used, none have ever failed to effect a cure. Often two; and in one instance three cases were cured by one box; I believe them to be a speedy and permanent remedy, in all cases of Chills and Fevers, when taken strictly according to directions. I have also made considerable use of Dr. Spencer's Vegetable Anti-Bilious Pills, and as a mild, yet active and efficient Cathartic, it has, within my knowledge, no Superior.

SANDS' SARSAPARILLA.

FOR the removal and permanent cure of all diseases arising from an impure state of the blood or habit of the system. The operation of this preparation is threefold. It acts as a tonic strengthening the digestive powers, and restoring the appetite as an aperient peculiarly suited, and gentle in its laxative effect—and as an antiseptic purifying the fluids of the body and neutralizing in the blood the active principle of disease. It is a specific in many diseases of the skin and may be administered with favorable result in all; it also exercises a controlling influence in bilious complaints—and when the system has been debilitated either by the use of powerful mineral medicines or other causes it will be found an excellent restorative. For sale by A. S. PORTER.

DR. H. F. PEERY'S Vermifuge or Dead Shot. THE exceedingly small quantity of this Medicine, required to test the existence of worms, or to remove every one from the system, its operating in a few hours, together with its great certainty of effect, constitute it one of the most brilliant discoveries of the age. It seldom needs to be repeated and never to be followed by any other purge. Therefore in urgent cases, as those of Fits, Spasms or Convulsions, caused by Worms, its unrivaled Superiority is manifest.

Although prompt in its operation, and not unpleasant to the taste, it is perfectly safe and adapted to the tenderest age. For sale by A. S. PORTER.
