Sherwood, third vice president; Garland Daniel, secretary; Nell Ellington, treasurer. The officers and the following named constitute the board of directors: E. E. Bain, W. C. Boren, J. E. Prof. W. H. Swift, superintendent of the Greensboro graded schools, was among the successful applicants granted license to practice law by the Supreme court last week. Prof. Swift tells The Patriot that he has no immediate intention of giving up the profession of teaching for that of law, but inasmuch as he had been reading Blackstone and other masters of legal lore for several years he thought no harm could come from standing the examination as put up by the Supreme court. Prof. Swift is a good school man and would doubtless make his mark at the bar.

The police officers believe they have captured in the person of Will Gaston, colored, the thief who has been responsible for several daylight robberies committed in the city during the past ten days. Gaston was given a hearing before Judge Eure Monday on the charge of the theft of an overcoat and a hat from the residence of Rev. D. M. Litaker Saturday and upon conviction was sent to the county roads for nine months. There is strong circumstantial evidence tending to show that Gaston is responsible for several other robberies committed in Greensboro last week. The theft of which he is suspected began a day or two after Gaston finished a sentence on the roads for vagrancy.

CHARGES AGAINST MR. KING.

Private Citizen Accuses City Alderman of Official Misconduct.

The board of aldermen will hold an adjourned meeting tonight to investigate charges of official misconduct preferred against Alderman John L. King by Mr. R. C. Hood. The matter has been the subject of much discussion in Greensboro for the past few days, and the meeting of the aldermen tonight promises to be one of the most interesting and sensational sessions of that body held in many years.

The charges were sprung at a meeting of the board Friday afternoon and created a distinct sensation. A delegation of citizens organized by Mr. Hood appeared before the aldermen and asked that the election called for a bond issue of $125,000 to install a city lighting plant be called off and insisting that the school bond election, which had been called for the same time, be held. The aldermen acceded to the request of the citizens so far as the lighting proposition was concerned, but as no bond issues had been authorized in the same ordinance, it was necessary to introduce a new ordinance authorizing the school bond election. The ordinance was introduced by Alderman Albright, but upon objection by Alderman King, who had opposed calling off the bond election for lights, it went over until the next regular meeting.

It was at this juncture that Mr. Hood addressed the board and stated that he desired to prefer charges of official misconduct against Mr. King. He was informed that he would be required to prefer the charges in a formal manner and stated that he would do so. At an adjourned meeting of the board Monday night a communication was received from Mr. Hood stating that he would prefer the charges at the convenience of the aldermen, whereupon the hearing was set for tonight. Mr. Hood being required to file a copy of the charges with the city clerk by 6 o'clock last evening.

The charges as filed by Mr. Hood recite a number of alleged unlawful and irregular transactions of Mr. King as a member of the board of aldermen and also as a member of the county highway commission. He is charged with trading with the city and county in violation of a state law and with receiving per diem as a member of the highway commission in excess of the amount allowed by law. The charges are detailed in 19 specifications.

Mr. King is charged, as a member of the highway commission, with selling the county "slag" for road-building material at a profit of over $600 and with having sold the city, while a member of the board of aldermen, a portion of the same material for street work.

Other charges recite that the King-Stewart Horse and Mule Company, of which firm Mr. King is a member, has had business dealings with the city, hiring teams to the street commission and selling a horse to the fire department, all of this being in violation of the law.

The most serious accusation brought against Mr. King is the charge that, as a member of the highway commission, he has received nearly or quite $1,000 in excess of the amount allowed by law for his service.

Mr. Hood has retained Justice & Broadhurst to represent him at the hearing. So far Mr. King has not employed counsel and states that he probably will not do so. He says he is ready and anxious for a full and complete investigation of the entire matter, and insists that, when the truth is known, it will be shown that he has been guilty of no wrong.

A number of witnesses will appear before the aldermen to testify for both sides, and altogether tonight's session of the board promises to be spicy and interesting.

Guilford Seed Corn in Demand in Maryland.

That the fame of Guilford as a corn-growing county is spreading is shown by the fact that the "crack" farmers of the county who have seed corn for sale are receiving calls from far and near. Only a few days ago Mr. J. A. Davidson, chairman of the board of county commissioners, received a request from the owners of a big farm in Maryland who desired to be put in touch with parties who could supply them with seed corn for this year's crop. The gentlemen wrote they had been informed that they could procure the seed in Guilford county, and Chairman Davidson lost no time in furnishing the names of Guilford farmers who are able to supply the demand.

GUILFORD COMMENDED.

Work of Superintendent of Health Subject of Praise.

Mr. J. A. Davidson, chairman of the Guilford county board of commissioners and ex-officio chairman of the county board of health, is in receipt of the following letter from Dr. Watson S. Rankin, secretary of the state board of health, commending the work of Dr. Edmund Harrison, the county superintendent of health, especially with view to the smallpox situation:

"I am writing to say I am very much pleased with the smallpox work in Guilford county. Your superintendent of health, Dr. Edmund Harrison, reports only six cases of smallpox in your county at present. I wish to say that this represents very efficient work indeed in handling this disease. You will appreciate the value of this work when you compare the small cost of handling these cases in your county, as it has been done, with the amount spent in other counties, where the disease has been allowed to gain a foothold before steps were taken to eradicate it. I wish to commend you on the wise course you have pursued so far in behalf of the public health of your county and the state."

This high praise of Guilford's efficient health organization is deserved and will be appreciated by the people of the county, but it should be explained that since the report of which Dr. Rankin refers was made other cases of smallpox have been discovered in the county. Dr. Harrison informs The Patriot that, in addition to several cases in the Jamestown section, there are four cases near the Central Carolina fair grounds, in the suburbs of this city, and one each at Guilford College, Friendship and Colfax.

The officials have the situation well in hand.

NEW CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

Will be Formed at Public Meeting to be Held Tomorrow Night.

A public meeting of the citizens of Greensboro will be held in the court house tomorrow night, at which time the Chamber of Commerce will be reorganized. This was decided upon at a mass meeting held last Thursday night. Mr. E. J. Justice presided over the meeting, and a number of gentlemen made enthusiastic speeches stressing the need of a business organization and pledging their support in the movement.

Officials of the defunct Chamber of Commerce announced that the organization was in debt a little over $2,000 and it was unanimously agreed to raise this amount as the first step in effecting a reorganization. An amount more than sufficient to liquidate the indebtedness was subscribed in a few minutes, and at the same time a considerable sum was pledged to the support of the new organization.

The committee on membership is making a vigorous canvass of the city, and already several hundred citizens have enrolled as members of the new Chamber of Commerce. It is expected that the new organization will start out with a larger membership than the old organization ever enjoyed.

The friends of Dr. S. R. Edwards, formerly of Siler City, will be pleased to learn that he has recently been appointed medical superintendent of the Presbyterian Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Hospital, of Baltimore, Md.

Only a short while ago Dr. Edwards went to Baltimore to continue his study in the disease of the eye, ear, nose and throat, and his rapid advance is a source of great pleasure to his friends.

The Daily Record prints the following reminder of "the good old days": "Yesterday Maj. W. W. Wood found in the heart of a hickory log a large chunk of punk, something that was sought after in the old days, for thousands of people depended on such a thing for lighting fires. With flint and steel this was easy to ignite and a blaze was soon started. Few people in the remote districts used matches. A box would last a year, for they were never used except when no punk was to be had."

A GOOD YEAR'S BUSINESS.

Annual Meeting of Security Life and Annuity Company.

The annual meeting of the policyholders of the Security Life and Annuity Company was held in the company's home office in this city last Wednesday afternoon. The reports submitted showed that last year was the best in the history of the company.

Messrs. P. H. Hanes, Sr., and P. H. Hanes, Jr., of Winston-Salem, and Paul C. Lindley, of Pomona, whose terms as members of the board of trustees had expired, were re-elected.

The report of the secretary showed a total income for 1909 of $146,508.16; total disbursements, $236,531.75; income saved, $209,976.41; gross assets, $960,604.91; surplus as to policyholders, $159,940.86; new business in 1909 on a paid for basis, $2,291,930; total amount of insurance in force January 1, 1910, $11,477,026; approved assets deposited with the insurance commissioner of North Carolina, $538,400. The report also showed increase in assets from $3,262 on December 31, 1901, to $962,115.03 December 31, 1909, and an increase in insurance in force from $601,800 on December 31, 1901, to $11,177,026 December 31, 1909.

Immediately following the meeting of the policyholders the board of trustees met and re-elected the old officers for a new term. They are J. Van Lindley, president; P. H. Hanes, Sr., of Winston-Salem, vice-president; George A. Grimsley, secretary; J. W. Scott, treasurer; C. C. Taylor, manager of agents; Dr. J. P. Turner, medical director; Dr. W. P. Beall, assistant medical director.

Three Pennsylvania capitalists were in the city a few days ago prospecting with a view to establishing in Greensboro a plant for the manufacture of galvanized iron pipes on an extensive scale. The gentlemen who conferred with the visitors state that the Pennsylvanians were very favorably impressed with this city and that there is a strong probability that at no distant date this enterprise will be added to Greensboro's manufacturing establishments. More factories means more wage-earners, and more wage-earners means an enlarged market for the farms, gardens and dairies in the territory contiguous to Greensboro.

A real estate dealer of this city is authority for the statement that there were more transfers of Guilford farming property during the past two years than there were during the previous ten years. He spoke "by the book" and referred the newspaper man to whom he was talking to the records in the office of the register of deeds for verification of his statement. This is additional evidence of the wonderfully improved farming conditions in Guilford county.

FOR CENSUS APPOINTMENTS.

Another Examination to be Held in Greensboro Early in March.

A civil service examination of applicants for positions in the census bureau in Washington will be held in Greensboro on Saturday, March 5. Mr. J. H. Armfield, secretary of the local examining board, has issued the following notice:

"The examination held on October 23, 1909, did not result in a sufficient number of eligibles to meet the needs of the service. I am advised that in North Carolina the supply of eligibles was less than the probable number of appointments to which this state would be entitled. It is therefore desired that extra effort be made to secure applicants from this state.

"The approximate number of additional appointments to be made in the census bureau during the three-year decennial census period, which ends June 30, 1912, is three thousand.

"The work required of these employees will be chiefly of four classes:

"(a) Operating of card-punching and card-tabulation machines.

"(b) Operation of typewriters, adding machines, or combined typewriter adding machines.

"(c) Manuscript tabulation and other clerical work.

"(d) Subclerical work, such as that of messenger, watchmen, and laborers."

Pamphlets of information and instructions may be obtained by applying to Mr. Armfield, at the Greensboro postoffice.

Our entire line of hoes, shovels, forks and spades at cost. We are going to quit handling them.

THE LAYMEN'S MOVEMENT.

Gratifying Reports Made at Meeting Held Here Sunday Afternoon.

A meeting of the committees representing the various religious denominations in Greensboro interested in the laymen's missionary movement was held in Grace Methodist Protestant church Sunday afternoon, when reports were received from a number of the congregations, the reports showing gratifying gains in foreign missionary contributions from all the denominations represented. Until full reports are received from all the churches the figures will not be made public. In the meantime all pastors and chairmen of committees are requested to see to it that reports from their churches are forwarded to the secretary of the general committee, Mr. E. J. Davis.

At the Sunday afternoon meeting reports were made by several gentlemen who have interested themselves in extending the movement outside of Greensboro, all of them stating that satisfactory progress is being made in the work.

Col. F. P. Hobgood, Jr., reported large advances in gifts to foreign missions in Granville county as a result of work done by parties who had attended the Greensboro convention.

R. M. Phillips told of plans being made to hold a laymen's meeting for all the churches of Moore county at Carthage February 28, a number of strong speakers having been engaged.

C. W. Petty stated that the Friends have appointed for each of the quarterly meetings into which the Friends of this state are divided visitors in the interest of the laymen's missionary movement.

J. Norman Willis reported that a laymen's meeting would be held in Asheboro in the near future for Randolph county.

W. S. Clary told of a successful meeting that has been held in Rocky Mount.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.

Meeting of Morehead Township Association Thursday Night.

The annual convention of the Morehead Township Sunday School Association was held at Forest Avenue Baptist church Thursday night and was well attended, 16 schools being represented. Gratifying reports were received from all the schools represented.

After a song service, the vice-president of the association, O. W. Monroe, called the convention to order, he presiding in the absence of President E. L. Sides, who was confined to his home with sickness. The devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. W. L. Dawson, after which Rev. J. L. White was introduced. In a clear and forceful manner Dr. White presented the subject, "How May We Increase Enrollment and Attendance of Our Sunday Schools."

Rev. R. Murphy Williams conducted the round table discussion, which was one of the most pleasant features of the evening. Many of those present entered into this discussion, prominent among them being Mrs. Charles D. McIver, W. E. Harrison, O. W. Monroe and W. T. Spencer.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Mr. O. W. Monroe, president; W. C. Smith, vice president; Miss Velma McCulloch, secretary and treasurer.

DEFEND COTTON EXCHANGES.

Greensboro Men Before Congressional Committee in Washington.

Messrs. Sol. N. Cone and J. E. Latham, well known and prominent cotton dealers of this city, were in Washington the latter part of last week to appear before a congressional committee that is considering a bill that has been introduced in the house of representatives to prohibit dealing in cotton futures. The effect of the passage of the bill, of course, would be to put the cotton exchanges of the country out of business. Both Messrs. Cone and Latham gave testimony for the exchanges, declaring their elimination would cripple the cotton trade and would benefit neither the producer nor the consumer.

An extract from the Associated Press report of Mr. Cone's examination before the committee follows:

"Defending the cotton exchanges as the gatherers of true information that is disseminated by thousands of brokers to everybody interested, Solomon Napoleon Cone, of Greensboro, N. C., attacked the proposed anti-option bill during the hearing before the house committee on agriculture today. Mr. Cone described himself as a spot cotton dealer, a stockholder in various mills, a member of all the cotton exchanges of the world and the holder of over $4,000,000 worth of spot cotton annually.

"Mr. Cone said that his practice as a large dealer is to sell more heavily when the market is going up and to buy more heavily when the market is going down; that that usual practice was based on pure calculation, not on luck or chance."

A Safeguard to Children.

"Our two children of six and eight years have been since infancy subject to colds and croup. About three years ago I started to use Foley's Honey and Tar, and it has never failed to prevent and cure these troubles. It is the only medicine I can get the children to take without a row." The above from W. C. Ornstien, Green Bay, Wis., duplicates the experience of thousands of other users of Foley's Honey and Tar. Howard Gardner.

What's What in Footwear

It looks now like this is going to be the greatest season that ever was for low shoes. Here it is early in February and we have already sold several dozen pairs of ladies' oxfords and pumps and quite a number of men's oxfords. Black suede pumps are going to be great favorites with the ladies this season in the finer grades, although patent leathers, vic kid and gun metal will also be a great deal worn. In men's low shoes patent colt and gun metal calf will be very much in evidence. Tans for both women and men will be worn again to a considerable extent as the season advances. You will hear a good deal this spring about higher prices for footwear and it's a fact that shoes have advanced and are likely to go still higher. Fortunately we made contracts for our spring and summer shoes last September and October at the old prices. These goods are now coming in from the factories and we are very glad indeed to be able to tell you positively that prices will be just as low here as they were last year.

The bulk of our ladies' footwear is made in Rochester, N. Y., and Lynn, Mass., and our men's shoes come from Brockton and Boston, Mass. Shoe men will tell you these places are headquarters for the very best and most reliable shoes made on the American continent.

Exton Barker, Fiske White and James McKernon are now behind the counters in our shoe department. Drop in and let them show you some of the elegant new footwear just opened up for the spring season.

THE BALLINGER INVESTIGATION.

Sensational Developments Expected—Anticipated Decisions of Supreme Court in Standard Oil and Tobacco Cases.

Correspondence of the Patriot.

Washington, Feb. 14.—There was a lull last week in the Ballinger investigation, but the investigation will be resumed in a few days with vigor, and matters of importance and it is said of a sensational character will be spread before the people. There is no doubt but there was a deep plot to secure mineral and coal lands of almost inestimable value by the Guggenheims, one of whom, as it is well known, is in the senate of the United States from Colorado. That mere wealth without education, learning, statesmanship, reputation or public service can secure a place in the highest legislative body in this hemisphere, has made many doubt the efficacy or permanency of popular government, and it is perhaps not without reason that some people are turning toward socialism and others harking back to monarchy in their disgust and desperation.

There was a conference at the White House last week between the president of the United States and the boss of the senate, Mr. Aldrich, of Rhode Island, and it is expected that other conferences will be held in the near future relative to the possible consequences, political, industrial and financial, depending upon anticipated decisions of the Supreme court of the United States in the oil and tobacco cases. The tobacco case is now awaiting decision in the hands of the court. The Standard Oil case has been advanced to March 14. The main subject discussed between the president and Mr. Aldrich regarded the proposed amendments relating to the interstate commerce law. Legislation in this particular is awaiting the Supreme court's decisions in these two important cases. The president's speech at the Lincoln's birthday dinner at the New York Republican club about the several party pledges and how they should be kept makes it plain that he has not changed his determination to investigate the conduct of all trusts and that rumors of financial crisis in Wall Street will in no wise deter him.

Information comes from the highest place in the State department that Secretary Knox is not pleased with the merely ornamental characteristics of a large number of our diplomatic establishments abroad. He wants those debonair young fellows and old fellows to be doing something useful or to have them come home in order that he may appoint practical and progressive men in their places. The average diplomat scorns commercialism and industrialism, and the suggestion that he shall do something for the promotion of American commerce and trade abroad is wormwood to his sporty or aesthetic disposition. Of course our American consuls are not diplomatists in the old Maitland or Talland sense. In fact, no such diplomatists longer exist. Steam and electricity have put old-style diplomacy out of business. There are other means of communications nowadays than by couriers on horseback. But there are scores of consular stations throughout Europe, Asia, Africa and South America where the consuls have quasi-diplomatic functions, although their usefulness is largely as commercial agents.

The Department of Commerce and Labor is the agency which determines and reports upon the work that a consul has undertaken to do. These reports go to the State department, where is kept a rating of the consuls' work. Those that are found deficient in activity are marked or demerited very much as a boy at school. Those who are not up to the standard are politely reprimanded and those consuls who spend their time playing bridge and poker and in other less venial dissipation are likely to hear from the department in Washington in a way to cause them to quake, if not to pack and come home.

People all over the country write to Uncle Joe Cannon about everything. Some of them criticize him and some of them praise him, but all of them always want something for somebody—usually themselves. But the prize package in the way of a request dropped in on "Uncle Joe" in the form of a perfectly respectable looking letter yesterday. Here it is: "Our beaux cannot marry we girls because all foods and clothing is too high. What good is us girls if we do not have husbands? Why don't you make Congress provide husbands for us? You will do the country more good by seeing that all the young people are married. If all the young people were married, we would not need any Congress or president. This world would then be a Paradise. We must have husbands. Get some for us."

For reasons of delicacy the lady's name is omitted, but the letter is postmarked Cleveland, Ohio.

Minister Attacks Carnegie Foundation

Rev. David J. Burrell, a Presbyterian minister of New York, in an address a few days ago attacked the "Carnegie foundation" as fostering antagonism in religion. "I have been called to task," he said, "for saying that the Biblical instruction in Princeton University has been under the auspices of a man who does not believe in the inspired trustworthiness of the Scriptures as the Word of God. The same affirmation might be made and still strongly, respecting many of the institutions of learning under avowedly Christian control. "In my judgment the Carnegie foundation is the most significant movement of modern times in the interests of agnosticism in general education."

TAFT DEFENDS HIS PARTY.

Asserts That Campaign Pledges Have Been Redeemed.

New York, Feb. 12.—"If the enforcement of the law is not consistent with the present method of carrying on business, then it does not speak well for the present methods of conducting business, and they must be changed to conform to the law." This was President Taft's answer to Wall street and its cry of "panic." It was made to a cheering audience of hundreds of prominent Republicans gathered tonight at the annual Lincoln day dinner of the Republican club of this city, held at the Waldorf-Astoria. Governor Hughes shared the honors of the evening with the president.

It was at the conclusion of a detailed argument as to how the Republican party is redeeming its pledges that the president came to a discussion of the anti-trust law and Wall street, on which his utterances had been awaited with the greatest interest. The president declared that the administration would not "foolishly run amuck in business and destroy values and confidence just for the pleasure of doing so."

He declared that the administration "can be counted on to enforce the law in the way best calculated to prevent a destruction of public confidence in business, but that it must enforce the law, goes without saying."

The president then discussed attacks made upon the administration, the danger to the success of the party as a result of the insurgent movement and other dissensions. Republicans who feared defeat at the polls in November, he declared, however, should take courage from the demoralized condition of the Democrats.

Defending the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill, the president declared that it substantially complied with the party pledge for tariff revision and that, through this bill, the party has "set itself strongly in the right direction toward lower tariffs."

The president quoted statistics to demonstrate that, during the first six months of the new tariff law, there has been shown a 12 per cent. reduction in the percentage ad valorem duties have paid on imports and a 12 per cent. increase in the percentage of imports admitted free. Time and a wider knowledge, he thought, would serve to justify the bill.

Reviewing the party platform, the president spoke of postal savings banks, amendments to the interstate commerce law, the anti-injunction plank, statehood for Arizona and New Mexico and the conservation of the natural resources, bills to carry all of which promises into effect were pending in Congress and he believed would be passed.

FOR FEDERAL CONTROL.

Commissioner of Corporations Makes Suggestions in Reports.

Great inter-state industries can be brought under a permanent Federal supervision through a system of regular reports to a Federal agency, in a rational effective way, which will involve no drastic action, but will, on the contrary, forestall it.

Such is the conclusion drawn in the annual report of Herbert Knox Smith, commissioner of corporations, to the secretary of Commerce and Labor, which was made public a few days ago.

Coming closely under the heels of the administration's Federal incorporation bill which has been presented to both houses of Congress, Commissioner Smith's recommendations are of unusual interest.

"Publicity will improve the standing of our corporate securities both at home and abroad," Mr. Smith declared, "and will help to give to our business machinery that foundation of fairness and openness and public confidence which it must have if it is to be a permanent factor in our national advance."

"It will bring together the government and the corporation manager in conference and co-operation, which alone can serve to adjust continuously the complex and changing relationship between our business forces and the public welfare."

Mr. Smith contends that already under public condemnation made possible by facts plainly stated, great corporate abuses have been abandoned. He asserts that a gigantic system of railroad rate discriminations had been wiped away and numerous forms of commercial oppression diminished. Corporate managers, themselves, declares Mr. Smith, are frankly advocating a more open accounting.

"The issue is national," the report continues. "Action by the Federal government is imperative under its unquestioned power and duty to regulate interstate commerce. One of the primary motives for the creation of the Federal government was for a national control of national business. Those directing the great corporations have deliberately nationalized their size and scope; they cannot now be heard to object to a centralized control which they themselves have made necessary."

The February American Magazine.

"The insurgent movement is not a mere hasty revolt within a single party; it is in reality wider than either party, and it is disrupting both," writes Ray Stannard Baker in the February American Magazine under the title, "Is The Republican Party Breaking Up?" His article is the most lucid comment on the congressional fight that has yet been written. In the course of it, he tells just what the insurgent movement is, how deep it goes and what are the true reasons for it.

William Allen White contributes an article about our courts and shows how many of our judges are appointed through the influence of politicians and Wall Street—creating a judiciary that necessarily must be biased in its opinions. Miss Tarbell writes about "Woman's First Declaration of Independence" and the growth of the suffragist movement in the United States, and Stewart Edward White tells of further adventures in the High Sierras.

Short personal sketches and photographs of Gifford Pinchot, Wilbur Wright, John Bigelow and the widow of the late E. H. Harriman among others constitute the department of "Interesting People," while that of "Plays and Players" is full of beautiful portraits of operatic stars and an account of the growth and extension of opera in America.

Other features are Wallace Irwin's humorous treatment of the story of Uncle Tom's Cabin, "Man's Inhumanity to Woman," an article about Judge Tuthill's decision in regard to woman's ten-hour law in Illinois, and some more opinions of Mr. Woodly Wiseman in the "Interpreter's House."

Harris Merton Lyon, Lincoln Colcord, Henry C. Rowland, Mary Heaton Vorse and James Oppenheim contribute the excellent fiction.

GOLDEN NUGGETS FOR SALLOW PEOPLE

SAVING THE WAYWARD BOYS.

An Appreciation of the Work of the Stonewall Jackson Manual Training and Industrial School.

BY C. W. HUNT.

Sometimes a man gets an idea in his head and talks and thinks about it till he thinks the whole world ought to see it as he does. This may be for want of appreciation for the meritorious, but if he is not a fool, the trouble more often comes from the want of time for the people to think. The public has been busy with other matters, while the enthusiast has had time to burn, and given the same chance to think a great change in sentiment would take place in the general public's way of thinking and doing.

The writer hopes he is not out of the safe bounds when he says for a long time he has seen the need of helping bad and poorly raised, and unfortunate, and (sometimes) depraved young people to better things.
Such a sentiment has crept into what has emanated from this pen occasionally; and this line of thought, this feeling for the boys was given a new impetus not long ago, when on invitation of the chairman of the board of trustees, Mr. James P.
Cook, the writer took a trip to the Stonewall Jackson Training and Industrial School (Reformatory) near Concord, into which a number of tender hearted men and women of the state have put sufficient money to enable a big bodied, big hearted, big minded man like Walter Thompson to make a beginning and fully demonstrate that almost every boy that is bad can be made a man if given the chance, the demonstration being all the stronger on account of the shortness of the time and the small things at hand to work with. I saw fifty boys of varying ages, every one of whom are on honor and doing well in all lines; working largely on the military idea. I with many others was delighted with what we saw. If you, kind reader, who ever you may be, doubt the advisability of the state going into partnership with good men and women in the business of saving boys, or if you are interested in helping the helpless who are exposed to all that is bad, and would like to know some more, just throw down the work for a day and go up to Concord and drive out to the Stonewall Jackson School. Your eyes will do the rest. You will need no teacher.

It was fitting, of course, that the Jackson Training School should be located in easy reach of the man who made it possible, (Mr. J. P.
Cook) but aside from that the location is not bad. It is "all to the good." On the main line of the Southern Railway, where the observing passenger can see it, yet too far away for the noise of the trains to detract. Along the elevation upon which is located the school runs a line of projecting rocks, huge boulders cropping out for miles, and especially prominent at this highest point, the site of the school. The rock is of a peculiar formation, looking more like broken concrete, when broken up, than like stone, making a fine ballast and road builder, and if possessed strength sufficient will be valuable in building the foundations of the other houses that are to go up in the years along that ridge.
Aside from the usefulness of these stone there is something suggestive about these giant rocks cropping out everywhere at a place where the so-called work is to make stronger character of those who come or are sent hither for help.

The place was surveyed, and the location of all the system of cottages made before the two that now show so well were built. So while these two and the industrial building are the only ones of the dozen or more to come, yet they are in their proper place and parts of the system.
From this elevation one can look to the west and to the northwest away to the Fredell line and beyond, up the valley of Rocky River for miles, the view being unobstructed and from this open country will always come a breeze laden with life giving substance. Looking out upon this scene one has only to lower the line of vision to see the landscape of the school's farm. Standing little of the buildings one sees little of the hill farm lands which lie under the hill to the back of the buildings; but there is an abundance of nice level land which can be made one of the prettiest and most productive farms in the state, as well as the most valuable asset of the Stonewall Jackson School. It only wants a farmer of intelligence in the art of farming to make it a beauty to behold. Already there is a herd of cattle there to make milk and butter for the boys, to utilize the by-products of the place
and make fertility for the soil, now needing so much of such and other humus to make it bring forth. With the love I have for such work I can see in this farm more than any other agency can bring to the school. All boys cannot farm, hence the need of the printing office, the wood shop, machine shop and perhaps the commercial course in the school room;
but in that farm, with a man who loves and knows the work and who has a deep and abiding love in his heart for the boys, at the head of this department, I can see visions of transformation in character and the coming out from thence to bless the earth, young men that are close to nature.

One reason so many boys go wrong in the cities and towns is because they see too much of the artificial as against the natural. The boy on the farm, with proper surroundings, and who mingles with the plants and the flowers, and sees the innocence of birds and animals, learns to love and associates with such, seldom goes to the bad; and I see visions of new awakenings in life and character of these wayward ones, as they become a part of the school and farm for making men, as they get into the workings and learn that by tilling the soil, with intelligence, it yields man a fortune as well as freedom from the annoyance of crowded conditions, and makes him a better man, at heart, than he could possibly be anywhere else on the earth.
Most of those who will go to the Stonewall Jackson School will come from the towns and cities where they know nothing, in a manner, of the natural, and to my mind I can conceive of nothing that will so transform the evil tendency of such as to put him down where there are cows and pigs, and horses, and sheep, and chickens, and goats on a finely kept farm, where the boy can commune with nature at its best while being taught the duties of life and educated in industry and the needed fundamentals to build upon.

Can you conceive of a grander work for a man to engage in?

Such a work must have the very same blessing of the Almighty as that which comes to the preaching of His word. This is what these leaders of thought have been trying to impress upon the public conscience all these years. This is no "pipe dream;" every line of it is possible, practical, and I have not half stated the results that must be plain to every soul not too narrow to feel.

But Stonewall Jackson Training and Industrial School should and must be one of several in our beloved state. It alone cannot possibly accommodate all that will want to be handed under an awakened conscience. The saving of boys from crime calls for the best that wealth and the state can give. It is far cheaper to save the boy than to guard him as a criminal all the rest of his life; not to mention the fact that every good citizen is an asset to the commonwealth.

Have I pointed you to something you had not seen or thought of? If I have, I have not written in vain.
Here is work for many with means and time; work for some who are hungry for child love and thankfulness. Try helping the needy and helpless; not to be fed alone, but to be clothed and educated and made earth for having lived in it.

IN MEMORIAM.

Mrs. Livinia Foust.

Livinia Foust was the eldest daughter of the late L. W. and Elizabeth Summers. She was born November 12, 1837, and died January 25, 1910.
The family came of sturdy German stock, and early in life her father settled in the northeastern part of Guilford county and became the largest land-owner of that section. He had large mills on Haw river at what was known as High Rock, and at the Watlington mill, and on Reedy Fork at what is still known as Summers' mill. It was largely through the efforts of Mr. Summers and his liberal contributions that the splendid Lutheran church known as Frieden's was erected, and a noble monument in the cemetery in this spot marks his last resting place.

Livinia, his oldest daughter, was married in 1840 to Jacob Foust, son of Daniel Foust, of Rock Creek township, Guilford county, and lived a happy married life until his death in 1860. She was left to face the horrors of the civil war with two little girls, and with a rare capacity for business she preserved her home and guided the destinies of her family through that severe struggle.

Her oldest daughter became the wife of G. L. Greeson, of Burlington.
Mrs. Greeson died some years ago,
leaving as her surviving children
Mrs. G. W. Davenport, Burlington;
Mrs. Florence Fitzgerald, Linwood;
and Charles J. Greeson, of Burlington. Mrs. Foust's younger daughter became the wife of Joseph B. Whitsett, of Whitsett, and Mrs. Whitsett survives her mother. Mrs. Whitsett is the mother of three living children also, Mrs. F. M. Smith, Gibsonville;
Mrs. J. H. Joyner, Whitsett, and W.
T. Whitsett, president of Whitsett Institute.

The funeral service of Mrs. Foust were held at Frieden's church Wednesday, January 26, in the presence of a very large assembly of relatives and friends. Revs. E. P. Parker and J. D. Andrew both spoke at length of the long life of the deceased, and having both known her for more than twenty years, they bore testimony to her many sterling qualities of heart and hand. She was a true homemaker; modest, and unassuming in all her habits; faithful to every trust; loyal to her convictions, and warm in friendship and sympathy.

Born and reared in the faith of the Lutheran church, she lived for over seventy years a faithful member, and died in a triumphant faith, willing after over ninety years spent here on earth to pass to that rest prepared for the people of God. While she loved her home with a rare devotion, she never forgot her "home of many mansions" and often spoke during her latter years of her near approach to its portals. She lived to see most of the early friends of her life pass from earth, but was rich in the friendship of many younger people whose friendship she easily secured and held.

A good woman has passed from earth; a Mother in Israel has fallen on sleep; but her works do, indeed, live after her.

F. W. Doggett.

Franklin W. Doggett departed this life January 13, 1910. He was born January 27, 1857, being 52 years, 11 months and 16 days old. He had been afflicted for a year or more,
which at times caused serious apprehension. For several weeks before his death he seemed conscious that his recovery was beyond medical skill. But he was entirely resigned.
It was not like him to become dependent, accustomed as he was to look on the bright side of life.

He had for many years been among the prominent members of Summerfield Baptist church, serving efficiently as treasurer of his church till failing health suggested to him the necessity of resignation.

The writer was with him his last Sunday on earth. He was very weak —too weak to utter more than a few broken sentences. But when asked about the hope of his soul, he roused up, turned his face to the questioner and manifested considerable interest,
saying in substance: "All is well;
I have nothing to fear. My life, has not been all that it ought to have been, but I am ready to go. I have wronged no man. Every dollar I have obtained has come honestly."

He was married to Miss Mollie H.
Rudd February 8, 1881. His wife and seven children—five sons and two daughters, together with the young lady brought up in the family from early childhood—survive him. He had three brothers and one sister, all of whom were present at the funeral.
One of these brothers is a Presbyterian minister in Danville, Va.

It is said of Mr. Doggett by those who knew him that as a father, he was kind and loving; as a husband, affectionate; as a neighbor, helpful,
never turning a needy away empty.
During the last year of his life he could not attend church regularly, but that was not the rule when in health.

He was always willing to share with his brethren in the expenses of the church. More than one neighbor remarked that he would be greatly missed as a neighbor. We laid him to rest in the cemetery at Summerfield, till Jesus comes.

THE PATRIOT,
Greensboro, N. C.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 16, 1910.

In Greensboro nowadays, when a map doesn't act to suit you, it seems to be the popular thing to charge him with something.

It is never too late to give good advice, and The Patriot advises everybody to be vaccinated. That is the one sure way of becoming immune from smallpox.

The Patriot enjoyed a fraternal visit this morning from Mr. John B. Sherrill, editor of the Concord Times and secretary of the North Carolina Press Association. In addition to being one of the most successful newspaper men in the state, Mr. Sherrill is a good citizen and an all-round good fellow.

The people of Greensboro and Guilford county are to be congratulated upon the fact that the Chamber of Commerce is to be reorganized. In these days of progress and push every live town must have a business organization. Properly conducted, such an organization will be of incalculable benefit to both city and county.

In this issue of The Patriot our friend Squire J. M. Davis, of Jamestown, "submits a few remarks" concerning the meat and milk inspection ordinance recently passed by the aldermen of Greensboro. Whether we agree or disagree with the deductions of Squire Davis, we can at least sympathize with "the old woman and the cow."

We are glad that the Supreme court of South Carolina has decided for young Mrs. Tillman in the action she brought to recover possession of her children, who had been deeded by their father to their grandparents, Senator and Mrs. B. R. Tillman. The court holds that the deed is invalid because it was not signed by the mother of the children.

It is to be regretted that such an unpleasant incident as the preferring of charges against a city and county official, with the attending bitterness and strife, should have been sprung at a time when the people of this town are trying to get together on common ground in a movement looking to the advancement of the material interests of Greensboro and Guilford county.

The Patriot's Oak Ridge correspondent this week notifies the public that Mr. W. E. Bentow, one of the best known and most progressive farmers in Guilford county, has begun work on an acre of land upon which he hopes to eclipse the corn-producing record of the state. We believe the state record is now held by a Wake county farmer, and if Mr. Bentow doesn't take it this year, we hope some other Guilford man will.

The Patriot has been asked by several of its readers what has become of the case instituted against ex-County Clerk Nelson by the board of education, the hearing of which was suspended prior to the Christmas holidays. It was to have been resumed in January, but at the time the board of education was not prepared to proceed. It is presumed that the matter will be taken up again after the courts are out of the way.

One of the most interesting and inspiring articles that has appeared in the columns of The Patriot or any other newspaper in a long time is the story of the two Knight boys and their prize-winning calf, which will be found on the tenth page of this issue. Read it; it will do you good. This country is safe so long as it has any considerable number of youngsters of the type of the Knight boys. The Patriot is grateful to Prof. Blair for allowing it the privilege of giving the story of these two youthful heroes greater publicity.

The people of this section welcome the announcement that the North Carolina Public Service Company will, in all probability, build and operate an interurban trolley line between Greensboro and High Point, thus uniting and bringing into closer connection the two best towns in North Carolina and further developing the best county in the state. There seems to be no doubt of the fact that the North Carolina Public Service Company means business. It deserves, and we believe will receive, the friendship and co-operation of the people hereabouts.

CONCERNING THE PATRIOT.

We crave the pardon of our readers for reproducing the following kind expressions of friends of the state press concerning the change in the ownership of The Patriot:

Charlotte Observer: We want to congratulate Mr. W. I. Underwood upon having acquired The Greensboro Patriot and to congratulate The Patriot's readers that it has fallen into such excellent hands.

Salisbury Evening Post: Mr. W. I. Underwood has bought and becomes editor of The Greensboro Patriot, the oldest weekly paper in the state. Mr. Underwood is a newspaper man of experience and ability and will maintain the high standard set by The Patriot's former management.

Winston-Salem Journal: Mr. W. I. Underwood has purchased The Greensboro Patriot from Mr. W. M. Barber, who will leave the state. Mr. Underwood has been connected with The Patriot at intervals for the past twelve years and he knows the paper's subscribers well. He is a good newspaper man and will succeed.

Greensboro Daily News: In the family of our neighbor, The Greensboro Patriot, there is a change. W. M. Barber & Co., who have been the proprietors for a number of years, have sold the paper to W. I. Underwood, who this week became the editor and proprietor. We wish for both the retiring and the incoming owner great success and prosperity.

Raleigh News and Observer: The Greensboro Patriot, for years the property of Messrs. W. M. Barber & Co., has been purchased by Mr. W. I. Underwood. The new editor and proprietor is to be congratulated on securing so fine a piece of property, and the readers of The Patriot upon the fact that in its sale it passed into the hands of so capable an editor.

Statesville Landmark: The Greensboro Patriot, a weekly paper that has been in existence since 1821, has been sold by Mr. W. M. Barber, who has published it since 1893, to Mr. W. I. Underwood. Mr. Underwood is an experienced newspaper man and has been connected with The Patriot at different times for the past 12 years. For the past two years he has edited the paper. Mr. Underwood is a capable newspaper man. The Landmark congratulates him and wishes him a full measure of success in his new venture.

Charlotte Evening Chronicle: This week's issue of The Greensboro Patriot announces the retirement of Mr. W. M. Barber, who has disposed of the property to Mr. W. I. Underwood, the latter becoming owner, editor and publisher. The Patriot is one of the oldest papers in the country, having been established in 1821, but it carries more matter now and apparently has more life in it than at any previous time in its history. Mr. Underwood is a newspaper man from the ground up. He was at one time city editor of the Chronicle and has many friends in Charlotte who will join this paper in good wishes for his success.

Gastonia Gazette: An event of interest in newspaper circles in the state is the change in ownership of The Greensboro Patriot. Mr. W. I. Underwood, succeeding Mr. W. M. Barber in that relation, "Bill" Underwood, as he is familiarly known to a large number of the pencil pushers in the state, is a newspaper man of experience and ability. He holds an easy pen and is a hustler, not only for news but for business as well. He will keep The Patriot up to its former high standard and if there is any room for improvement he will do the improving. His paper is one of the oldest in the South and has a splendid patronage. Here's wishing the new owner all the success he hopes to attain.

Greensboro Telegram: Editor Barber, who has sold The Patriot after controlling its destinies for sixteen years and over, is one of the best known men in the community and it is no idle flattery for us to say that every one who is acquainted with him esteems him highly. It is hard to publish a newspaper without making enemies, and we don't suppose that even Mr. Barber succeeded in escaping the making of some enemies, but we are sure that he made remarkably few, for he has always been tactful and prudent in the conduct of his paper. His relations with his brother newspaper men have been marked on his side with the utmost courtesy and with always the greatest and most cheerful willingness to oblige or assist in any way in his power. The Telegram wishes him and his family the greatest possible happiness and prosperity in their new home in the West. Mr. Underwood, who succeeds Mr. Barber in the control of The Patriot, is a trained newspaper man and at the same time a man of fine native ability. He will do well as the editor and publisher of The Patriot.

The dead body of Wilbur Allison, a son of Rev. T. J. Allison, of Pompano, Fla., formerly a well known Presbyterian minister of North Carolina, was found in a cave in Fairmont park, Philadelphia, Sunday, but not identified until Monday. All indications pointed to the fact that he had committed suicide. Young Allison was formerly employed in a Charlotte bank, but went to Philadelphia about six months ago to study law. His act of self destruction is attributed to a nervous trouble. The body was brought to Charlotte and will be interred this afternoon.

Corporation Commissioner B. F. Aycock, a brother of ex-Governor Aycock, is quite ill at his home in Wayne county, and much concern is felt as to his condition.

Not Coughing Today?

Yet you may cough tomorrow! Better be prepared for it when it comes. Ask your doctor about keeping Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in the house. Then when the hard cold or cough first appears you have a doctor's medicine at hand. Your doctor's approval of its use will certainly set all doubt at rest. Do as he says. He knows. No alcohol in this cough medicine. J.C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

Robust health is a great safeguard against attacks of throat and lung troubles, but constipation will destroy the best of health. Ask your doctor about Ayer's Pills.

SHOULD PLAY SAFE.

Considering the deplorable condition in which seed corn is admitted to be for the coming season's planting, it will be the height of folly for any corn grower to plant seed from any ears that have not been given a careful individual test. There are several types of testing racks and boxes on the market which are very handy, but the homemade tester will answer the purpose very well if one hasn't the price. The idea to be carried out is to take at least six kernels from each ear, so arranging the testing box that one has an accurate reference between the six kernel groups and the ear from which the groups were taken. Perhaps the most convenient means of doing this is by fixing a shallow box as long and broad as desired and about five inches deep, spreading moist earth or sawdust in the bottom to the depth of two inches and on this placing a piece of white cloth about ten inches larger than the box all around, which has been marked off in squares of about two inches and a half and numbered in consecutive order. The ears from which the kernels are taken should be in such order that the operator will know from which ear each group of six kernels is taken. When the squares all have their quotas of six kernels each a piece of cloth of about the same size as the first should be placed carefully over the kernels, and when this has been placed so as to cover all the kernels and with edges extending outside the box a third cloth should be laid on, and on this should be spread the sawdust or other material which is to be used, and this moistened sufficiently so as to make germination possible. When loaded the testing box should be placed in a warm room, and when it has stood about a week the covering should be raised at the corner, and if the germination has proceeded far enough to tell the story the first cloth, with the sawdust, should be carefully removed. The cloth immediately over the seed can then be removed without disturbing or dislocating the kernels which lie beneath, when the story of the germinating power of the ears will be plainly told. In deciding which ears to eliminate it is just as necessary to discard ears whose kernels show weak vitality as those which fail to germinate at all. Only those should be selected which show vigorous root and shoot development in at least five out of six kernels. If the scarcity of seed corn necessitates the use of ears showing only four good kernels, this fact should be kept in mind in selecting plates for the planter boxes, as more seed will have to be used to secure the desired stand. Unless a careful method of testing individual ears like that outlined above is followed there will be thousands of fields of corn next season that will have half a stand of corn or less.

OPPORTUNITIES CLOSE BY.

With the present rapid movement of population to the western states and the quite complete occupation of the choicest areas, the writer is convinced, as are many others, that the young man seeking a new field would do well to look over carefully opportunities in the central and New England states, particularly along the line of twenty to thirty acre tracts, which may be worked intensively to garden truck, small fruits and poultry. The relative value of such tracts, which may be had at very reasonable prices, would depend chiefly upon the workable character and fertility of the soil and nearness to a market where the produce of the farm could be disposed of at good prices. Many an easterner is operating just such areas as these in the manner indicated and is not only making a living for himself and family, but is accumulating a snug bank account. One could readily get track of such a tract by sending a three line advertisement to any agricultural paper of general circulation published in the section in which one wishes to locate.

THE HOTBED.

It is none too early to begin making plans for the hotbed, which should be located in a sheltered, sunny spot. The bed can be started much earlier if the preliminary work—digging the pit, making the frame and laying by a supply of soil—was done last fall before freeze up. In such case all that will be necessary will be to put in the pit and pack down about ten inches of fresh horse manure, wet it with seven or eight pails of water, allow it to stand until the heating process gets well started and then put on four or five inches of earth. As soon as this becomes warm enough the seed may be sown. If the preliminary work was not done last fall, one would have to wait until the ground thawed sufficiently to permit the digging of the pit. If the work is delayed as a result of this, the early things may be started in boxes in the house and later transplanted to the hotbed.

Every farm worth $100 per acre should have a herd of dairy cows, a flock of fifty sheep, a silo and a manure spreader.

It is not only the height of cruelty, but bad management, to keep an active, full lived horse, or, for that matter, an old plug, tied up in a stall week after week without driving it or giving it opportunity for exercise by carting about in a yard.

The housewife who takes a just pride in a clean kitchen and dining room floor will doubtless appreciate it if the muddy boots or overshoes are left in the back room and some lighter, cleaner footwear put on when the men enter the living rooms.

A housewife who has given it a trial recommends a lotion of equal parts of turpentine, ammonia and raw linseed oil as a ready means of relief from frosted feet and chilblains. The liniment should be applied three or four times a day, as conditions seem to demand.

Rotation as a principle of soil culture is not only good for the field crops, but for those raised in the garden patch as well. Such rotation not only rests the soil, but tends to check the development of fungous and other pests which are likely to infest the ground if the same crop is produced on the same plot year after year.

There are many farmers who could have or carry out no more practical New Year's resolution than the purchase and use of a good manure spreader. It will not only mean fewer blisters and callouses on the hands through freedom from forking the stuff off the wagon, but will likewise mean a great many dollars more in pocket as a result of a more economical handling of the farm fertilizers and from realizing a larger per cent of their value in increased crop returns.

As a result of three years of careful testing in the seeding of oats at the Illinois experiment station it has been found that when drilled oats produce on an average 5.3 bushels per acre more than when sown broadcast in the common slipshod fashion. The increased yield is attributed to more uniform germination and stand and more even growth and maturity. It was also found in this connection that clover drilled with oats seemed much better able to withstand the dry weather just following harvest.

If there is any ground for the statement alleged that many a farmer in dairy sections is selling his butter fat at 30 to 35 cents per pound and buying butterfat—beef suet and cottonseed oil, etc.—at 16 to 20 cents a pound to grease his pancakes with very little enthusiasm will be aroused on his behalf on the part of the day laborer who is buying butter or some other kind of fat all of the time and has none to sell. Country people should use creamery butter or go without if they expect to win public favor in their war on the oleomargarine trust.

A lot of feeders should realize more fully than they seem to the difference in revenue between the scrub, ill favored steer that has a hard time fetching $5 per hundredweight on the market and the quickly grown, blocky Hereford, Angus or Shorthorn grade that weighs 1,300 to 1,450 pounds and brings $8.50 per hundredweight. The chances are that the scrub, pound for pound, has cost more to produce than the fat, sleek grade, yet he has brought 3½ cents a pound less. Another feature of the situation worth remembering is that the market is usually flooded with the five dollar stuff, while the good grade steer is always at a premium and buyers are anxious to get them.

Why does one fruit tree of the same age, size and apparent thriftiness as others in the same orchard tract yield a larger quantity of fruit as well as a better quality? Many horticulturists believe that such a trait is due to tree individuality in the same way that exceptional milk capacity is an individual trait in dairy cows and vigor and large size and symmetry traits of representatives of beef types. Moreover, the horticulturist believes that, just as characteristics may be transmitted in the animal kingdom, so tree traits may be through bud or scion to its descendants. The Colorado and some other horticultural stations are experimenting along this line and in the near future hope to furnish conclusive proof of what seems to be a very reasonable hypothesis.

Southern corn belt and cotton belt states are coming to look upon soy beans as a legume of exceptional value for use in crop rotations as a soil renovator, in this respect being a desirable substitute for clover and alfalfa. It thrives under the same general conditions as does corn, though flourishing on much thinner soils. The soy beans not only serve the purpose well as a pasture and makes good hay if cut before the vines are too ripe, but makes excellent silage when sown with corn or a fine green manure if plowed under. In sections where the conditions are favorable and the season long enough the soy bean will produce from fifteen to twenty bushels of beans per acre, these making an excellent ration when ground with corn and having twice the feeding value of that cereal. In getting a start with the legume best results are secured by inoculating the field with soil from an established field or by inoculating the seed with cultures which one can secure fresh and reliable from the department of agriculture at Washington.

Russia's 1909 crop of winter wheat aggregated a little over 200,000,000 bushels. The production of rye, the cereal on which the nation relies for its food supply, is placed at 884,000,000 bushels.

A fact that it is well for the one just starting in orchard work to remember is that winter pruning, as a general thing, tends to induce production of wood, while pruning in the late spring and early summer encourages a setting of fruit buds.

Not all western fruit ranchmen are wise, as one we came across the other day neglected a thirty acre ranch which would have increased in value at the rate of $150 per acre during the year to handle an automobile agency through which he got a $200 commission on a $1,500 machine. He lost just about $4,300 by the deal.

The reason why tuberculosis as a bovine ailment afflicts the dairy cow more seriously than the steer in the feed lot seems largely traceable to the fact that the steer rarely lives beyond the age of three, while the dairy cow may be doing service at the pail when ten or twelve. The average steer doesn't live long enough to be sick.

While the volcanic ash soil to be found in some sections of the west makes a fearful dust during the summer months, the fact remains that it is marvellously rich in fertilizing elements. This is especially noticeable in the Yakima valley, where in places this soil, as fine as bolted flour, is said to extend to a depth of seventy feet.

In all agricultural communities our standards of good citizenship should more and more come to give high place to the man, whether owner or tenant, who at the end of a season leaves the soil which he has tended in as fertile and productive a condition as when he found it. And it should class as very real traitors to the country's best interest and welfare the very large class who despoil and rob the soil ruthlessly.

The English potato crop for the year 1909 averaged 233 bushels per acre as against an average in the United States of about 105 bushels. It is well to remember, too, in this connection that the English average was secured on lands which have been tilled for 700 or 800 years, while here the land has not been cultivated on an average sixty or seventy years. There ought to be a suggestion in these figures for the American agriculturist.

The agricultural department is continuing its vigorous warfare against the weevil pest, which has exacted such heavy toll from southern cotton growers, and as a result of its efforts parasitic enemies have been introduced which are greatly lessening the damage sustained. In some fields in Louisiana as high as 77 per cent of the boll weevils have been destroyed by these insect enemies, and at various points in Texas from 21 to 48 per cent of the weevils have been destroyed by the same agency.

Investigations which have been made by the Nebraska experiment station into the causes of sorghum poisoning show that this result is due to the presence of prussic acid in the green leaves of young and old sorghum plants and Kaffir corn. The poisons seem always to be present in minute quantities, but is developed in dangerous quantities when the plant is arrested in certain stages of its growth by dry weather. It is more than likely that to this same poison is due the frequent death of stock which has eaten of the green shoots and suckers in a field of corn following a period of retarded development.

The present session of congress promises to have on its hands another seance with the oleomargarine question. The present tax on this hog fat, beef fat, cottonseed oil mixture when uncolored is but one-fourth of a cent per pound, but if colored to imitate butter the tax is 10 cents per pound. It is this little tax that the oleo chaps are trying to get reduced in order that they may have a still larger profit on the sale of the product, which is disposed of at a handsome profit even with the present tax, at from 10 to 12 cents a pound less than is asked for best grades of butter. On the one hand the laboring man contends (or the oleo producer contends for him) that butter at 35 cents a pound is decidedly a luxury and out of his reach, that if he wants to buy a fatty product colored to imitate butter it is nobody's business but his own and that if he chooses to purchase it he ought not to have to pay a tax to the government any more than the more well to do citizen should who elects to eat butter. There is much force to his argument. The dairymen, on the other hand, contend that the coloring of this oleo product is done so that it may be sold under the belief on the part of the purchaser that it is butter or that when eating it it will be easier for him to think that it is butter, which the farmer contends is essentially a fraud and works a hardship on his industry in that with feed stuff so high it is impossible for him to produce butter at lower prices without actual loss. It looks very much as if the controversy involved a conflict of interest between the packing house owners and the dairymen, with the chances that the dairymen will win out, because they are in a majority.

The town of Jonesboro has voted a bond issue of $15,000 for installing a waterworks system.

The commissioners of Randolph county have ordered an election for good roads in Asheboro township to be held March 15.

Pleasant Cauble, a well known Rowan county farmer, was found dead in bed Thursday morning. He was in his usual health when he retired the previous night.

The R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, of Winston-Salem, has purchased the Mt. Airy cotton mill property at Mt. Airy, from the receivers, the price being $11,799.40.

An election will be held in Burlington May 3 on the question of a bond issue of $50,000 for additional street improvements. The town is now spending $35,000 on street work.

Fire in the business district of Wilmington Friday night resulted in damages amounting to $125,000. The wholesale dry goods firm of Morris Bear & Bros. was the principal sufferer.

The Standard Furniture Company, of High Point, which was placed in the hands of a receiver about 18 months ago, was sold to the Southern Novelty Company last week for $2,335.

A new building is to be erected at the North Carolina College of Agriculture and Mechanical Arts, at Raleigh, to be occupied by the electrical and engineering department of the college.

At their meeting on the first Monday in March the commissioners of Rockingham county will consider plans and specifications for the building of a new jail to cost approximately $12,000.

Mr. T. B. Finley, a well known lawyer of Wilkesboro, is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for judge of that judicial district to succeed Judge W. B. Council, who is not seeking a re-election.

Roland Knott died at the home of a son in Burlington Saturday night, aged 74 years. He had been ill for several weeks. The body was carried to Kernersville Monday and interred at Bethel church, near that place.

Lucius P. McGeehee, a native of Person county, who has been practicing law in New York for several years, has been elected dean of the University law school, at Chapel Hill, to succeed the late Judge McRae.

Rev. Plato Durham, a well known Methodist minister of Concord, has accepted an invitation to preach two sermons in the leading Congregational church of Hartford, Conn., on Sunday, March 6, and to lecture in the same church.

Miss Mary D. Spires, a native North Carolinian, who has held a clerkship in the office of the surgeon general of the army, in Washington, for some time, has been appointed social secretary to the wife of the president of the United States.

Smallpox has developed in the Southern Presbyterian College, at Red Springs, but reports sent out say there is no occasion for undue alarm. There are several hundred young lady students in the institution. A general vaccination has been ordered and a rigid quarantine is being maintained.

At the semi-annual meeting of the state board of agriculture last week a committee, with R. W. Scott as chairman, was appointed to take entire charge of the test farms which are owned and conducted by the board, these being in Transylvania, Buncombe, Iredell, Edgecombe and Pender counties.

Solomon Shepard, colored, charged with the murder of Engineer Holt, in East Durham, in December, 1908, was convicted in the Superior court of Granville county Saturday of murder in the second degree and sentenced to the penitentiary for 30 years. His case was removed from Durham to Granville county.

FARMERS ARE THREATENED.

Warned Not to Sell Their Tobacco on Warehouse Floors.

A dispatch from Reidsville to the state press says several farmers of that section have received circulars and post-cards threatening deeds of violence similar to the outrage of the night-riders in Kentucky unless they stop their tobacco in the dry prize-ries and stop the practice of disposing of the product on the warehouse floors.

The warnings have been issued during the past several days and efforts to ascertain the authority have failed. A number of well-known farmers found tacked up on the sides of their barns circulars of a threatening nature, while others received individual post-cards. The farmers are not inclined to take the threats seriously and they do not anticipate that anything serious will result. The general opinion is that the whole affair was either originated by some practical joker or by some crank and that the issuance of the warnings is not the result of any organized plot.

The promoters of the dry prize-ries have always protested against resorting to any deeds of violence or unlawful methods to accomplish their aims, and the officers and all connected with the association disclaim any connection whatever with the warnings.

Mr. E. A. Kelley, Belvidere, Ill., writes us: "I am an ex-engineer with 22 years active service to my credit. About three years ago my kidneys were affected so that I had to give up my engine. First I was troubled with severe, aching pains over the hips. Then followed inflammation of the bladder, and specks appeared before my eyes. A sample of Foley's Kidney Pills that I tried, so benefited me that I bought more. I continued to take them until now I can safely testify they have made me a sound and well man." Howard Gardner.

ALL RIGHT IN THE FIFTH.

Prof. Holt Says Democrats Will Carry District This Year.

Raleigh News and Observer. Prof. J. Allen Holt, of Oak Ridge, was here yesterday attending the meeting of the board of trustees of the university. In answer to a question as to the probable result of the congressional election in the Fifth district this fall, he said: "I do not think there is the least doubt that the Democrats will carry the district this fall and elect their candidate. The district is Democratic by some 4,000 or more, and if the Democrats nominate an aggressive candidate, with a clean record this fall, you may look for the usual Democratic majority."

How about Guilford? "It may be counted upon as good for 1,500 majority with a strong ticket."

"What about congressional candidates?"

"There are a dozen men who could redeem the district. Cyrus B. Watson, if his health would permit, would do it. A. H. Eller would make an ideal candidate. General Royster is in line and has many claims. E. J. Justice, if he could be induced to run and should he be nominated would not only win, but would take high rank in Congress. He ought to make the race. He might be antagonized by certain 'interests,' but he has a strong hold on the people and knows how to fight. On the other hand, Mr. Buxton would be strong where other candidates might be weak; but he possesses oldtime notions about the dignity of such an office and will hardly get down and hustle for the nomination. Then there is Mr. Mebane, a genial manufacturer, who knows how to mix with the boys and shake hands. Victor Bryant would be a power on the stump. He is at once the keenest debater and the most masterful wielder of good English of all the young men in the state. There are others, any of whom would carry the district."

"Will you be a candidate?" "By no means. I am out of politics, for the present at least. If there were no other reasons, my business requires all my time. Still I shall always take a part in politics. I want to see the right man and the right measures succeed."

"The Fifth district Democracy has an excellent chance to set the pace for the state, both in its platform and nominee. It will not be embarrassed by any unfortunate vote of its member in Congress because it is not represented. It can, therefore, declare its views on the tariff and the trusts; on subsidies and every other question that divides men, without having to trim to 'save its face.' It is fortunate in this, and the convention ought to be held early."

"With a straight old-time Democratic platform and a candidate whose record accords with such a platform, there need be no fear as to results."

"Whom will the Republicans nominate?" "John Motley Morehead. To do otherwise would be suicidal. Besides that is the best way to get him out of the way. He was elected before in spite of the machine, but he cannot repeat, and the only hope personally for him is to decline and let some other man make the sacrifice. If he were a politician and wanted to continue in office, it would be otherwise. He could then make the race with an understanding that Taft would take care of the 'dead timber.' His business is too extensive and important for him to want to be continuously or permanently in politics. If he wants to be anything more than a negligible quantity in politics he will not accept the nomination of his party this fall."

A Canny Davidson Youth.

Lexington Dispatch.

Score one for Davidson! The Salisbury Post says: "In the latter part of December a long, gawky individual with hayseed in his hair and stupidity in his face came to Salisbury from Davidson county with two hounds." And the Post goes on to recount how Col. A. C. Avery, superintendent of terminals at Spencer, a great dog fancier and a mighty hunter, negotiated for those hounds the moment they appeared on his horizon, the long gawky individual telling him how they were worth $500, being thoroughbreds given him when pups by a northern hunter whose life he had saved; but being as how he was financially embarrassed, he would let 'em go for $250. Col. Avery immediately grew active and busy. He roped in J. Frank Miller, O. W. Spencer, patron saint of Cicero at the Empire Hotel, Walter Murphy and Andy Donaldson, and they put up the money and organized the Avery Hound Company, unlimited. Captain Donaldson took the dogs to train, but in a few days he addressed a note to the company, stating succinctly that the dogs were not 'possum dogs, but chicken dogs, having done nothing but howl all night and chase the neighbors' chickens all day, doing $6.90 worth of damage to said fowls. He implored the company to send and get them. The dogs have been turned loose in the streets in the hope that the police will shoot them. From all of which we would infer that the long, gawky individual afore mentioned would better do his trading in Lexington for awhile, at least.

President Taft, who spent Saturday and Sunday in New York conferring with Republican leaders of that state, is quoted as admitting that the political situation as regards his party in that state is very bad. The party is torn into factions and the recent bribery scandal, involving two state senators, has made matters worse.

SHOULD RAISE THEIR STOCK.

A Neglected Opportunity of North Carolina Farmers.

The Uplift.

Two gentlemen from New Bern were returning from the live-stock market of the West. Their observations and experiences, furnishing the topics of a long railroad ride, proved of considerable interest to those in hearing distance. Nine years ago, this very month, one of these men purchased in Norfolk a car load of stock—mules and horses—the average cost of each when reaching his town was $42. They were not "plugs," either. They were average good horses and mules. He sold them to well satisfied purchasers for from $65 to $100. He made money; and the purchasers could not feel that they had paid extravagant prices.

One of the horses of this car load has a history. Nine years ago, mark you, he cost the dealer $42. He was soon sold for $65, leaving a profit of $23 for the dealer. A year later the dealer came into possession of this very horse by trading for it a horse that cost him $110. Several months thereafter the dealer sold this horse for $165. Last summer, nine years after its original purchase for $42, the original dealer tried to buy the horse, offering $210, but the owner asked and demanded $250 or "no trade."

Doubtless other instances of increase in the selling price of horses occur to many people. It is not magic, neither is it fine trading, but it is the result of a condition. This condition should concern our people, but it seems not. Live stock began to grow more valuable at the beginning of the Spanish-American war. This demand for mules and horses was followed by an enormous increase in railroad construction. There is another element that enters into the consideration—people today give less attention to their dumb animals, treat them worse, except more of them, feed them less and kill them quicker; therefore, the demand is always active, and the Western Yankee has increased the number raised and made the East and the South pay a price that has become prohibitive. The tendency is still toward higher prices. Let the price soar, for after awhile the people of the South will stop putting all eggs into one nest and will go to diversifying their products.

Years ago one could drive out from most any North Carolina town and not go two miles before he had met several teams, following them being several colts. It is the rarest thing now that you meet a colt coming to town. The farmer has all but ceased to raise them, and as a result the Western stock raiser is having one continuous and long picnic at the expense of the Southern farmer. The no-fence law is with us to stay (and it is good,) but it broke up a condition and substituted another from which this country has suffered greatly. It has reduced pasturage, and in turn sent us West for practically all our beef, our bacon and our live stock. The first step toward a remedy of this evil is: Begin building fences for pastures.

THE POSTAL BANK BILL.

The Measure Meeting With Opposition in the Senate.

The postal savings bank bill, which is championed by the president, Senator Carter, of Montana; Senator Aldrich and other leading stand-patters, is encountering all kinds of opposition in the senate, writes the Washington correspondent of the Raleigh News and Observer. It is said that it will receive only two or three Democratic votes in the upper branch of Congress, and there are a number of Republican senators who look with suspicion on a measure for the establishment of a postal savings bank that has the approval of Senator Aldrich. They are of the opinion that the bill is so framed as to make certain the employment of the enormous postal savings that will result by the great banks of the moneyed interests. Rather than see a bill pass which makes possible such a situation, a number of senators will vote against the pending measure. This is the attitude of Senator Overman, Senator Shively, of Indiana, and other Democrats. Senator Simmons believes in a postal savings bank law, but he is not satisfied that the administration measure is constitutional and he is not yet prepared to say how he will vote.

The Black Death.

The terrible plague known as the "Black Death" began in China about the year 1333, and from China it went by way of the great caravan route to the north of the Caspian, through Central Asia to Tauris and on to Constantinople, reaching Europe by 1349. It raged for more than twenty-six years, with a mortality that will never be accurately known, and to this day the results of its ravages are visible. The disease was bubonic in character, and oftentimes was fatal within twenty-four hours after its attack. It was attended by a burning thirst that nothing could allay, and many of its characteristics were too horrible to mention. It is estimated that at least 25,000,000 of human beings perished from this great plague.

Irvin Hatchett, a 16-year-old white boy, was arrested near Deland, Fla., Sunday morning suspected of the brutal murder of Mary Tedder, a 14-year-old girl, whose mutilated body was found near the home of her father, a well known citizen of the community, Saturday afternoon. The girl was met at a lonely spot on the highway and attacked most brutally, 65 knife wounds being found in her body. The suspected murderer was spirited away to Orlando to escape mob violence. Young Hatchett was formerly an inmate of a reformatory in Connecticut and has been in Florida for the past six months.

More people are taking Foley's Kidney Remedy every year. It is considered the most effective remedy for all kidney and bladder troubles that medical science can devise. Foley's Kidney Remedy corrects irregularities, builds up the system, and restores lost vitality. Howard Gardner.

MANY ARE LOST AT SEA.

French Steamer General Chanzy Crashes Into Reef.

Palma, Island of Majorca, Feb. 11.—Driven helplessly from her course, in one of the wildest storms that has swept the Mediterranean sea in forty years, the French Trans-Atlantic Steamship Company's steamer General Chanzy crashed at full speed, in the dead of night, on the treacherous reefs near the island of Minorca and all but one of the 157 souls on board perished.

The sole survivor is an Algerian customs official, Marcel Rodel, who was rescued by a fisherman and who lies tonight in the hospital at Ciudadela, raving as a result of the tortures through which he passed and unable to give account of the disaster.

In the ship's company there were 87 passengers, of whom 30 were in the first cabin. The crew numbered 70. It is not thought that any Americans were aboard the liner.

The ship was in command of Captain Cayol, one of the most careful officers of the line. In his long experience he had never before met with an accident. He had intended to retire from the service in the near future.

The passengers of the Chanzy were mostly French officers and officials returning to their post in Algeria, accompanied by their wives and children, a few soldiers, some Italians and Turks, and one priest. The only Anglo-Saxon names on the passenger list were Green and Stakely. They were members of an opera troupe of eleven which had been engaged to sing at the Casino in Algiers.

The General Chanzy sailed from Marseilles Wednesday at noon and was due to arrive at Algiers Thursday afternoon.

ELON COLLEGE ITEMS.

Beginning on the fifth day of April, next, Elon College will offer a normal course of study to the teachers of the state who wish to avail themselves of the opportunity. This course of study will be taught by the regular faculty of the college, and they will make it as thorough as the time and the teachers' time will allow. The work will continue eight weeks and will close on the first of June.

As outlined, the course will include arithmetic, algebra, geometry, English grammar, rhetoric, literature, history of North Carolina and of the United States and general history, political and physical geography, phonics, reading and elocution, public school drawing, physiology and hygiene, physics, chemistry, French, Latin, Greek, school law, school administration, agriculture and pedagogy. Also courses will be offered those who wish them in music and art.

Tuition in the teachers' normal course will be free. The college will charge the regular college fees charged of all students, the matriculation and library fees amounting to six dollars.

This is a great opportunity offered to the teachers of the state. The state superintendent of public instruction of North Carolina has approved the course of study, and teachers attending this course will not have to attend the biennial teachers' institutes. All teachers who wish to advance themselves along the line of their profession should attend this normal. The whole cost should not exceed thirty to thirty-five dollars.

On last Thursday night the Rev. Dr. Elmer Hoenshell, of Dayton, Va., delivered an address on the Passion play to an appreciative audience.

The ladies aid society of Elon gave an entertainment in the college chapel Monday night.

The Clio literary society will give its annual debate on the night of the 22nd. This will be a treat to all. A number of entertainments, recitals, etc., will be given in the near future.

Life around the college is very active now. Students have their regular work to prepare, and in addition to this they have quite an amount of outside work.

Dr. Moffitt is getting along well raising the $50,000 endowment. He has not been working but a few months, and more than one-fourth of the amount has been raised. Prospects are that the full amount will be forthcoming soon.

A joint stock company has been organized, the purpose of which is to establish a paper for the benefit of Elon College. The first issue of the paper will come out this week. Dr. Moffitt is president of the company; A. L. Lincoln, secretary, and Thomas C. Amick is business manager and treasurer. The outlook is for a good paper.

UNION SCHOOL ITEMS.

The health of the community is very good at this writing with the exception of Mrs. Henry Geringer, who, we are sorry to say, does not get any better.

The Farmers' Union will meet here Saturday night, the 19th, at 7.30 o'clock.

The school will close at this place February 25. There will be an entertainment that night at 7.30 o'clock. The public is cordially invited to come.

The singing will start at Peace church next Friday.

Rev. C. Brown Cox will preach at Peace next Sunday at 11 o'clock.

Mr. James Michael, who has been at home on a short visit, returned to Virginia last Thursday.

Misses Jewel Michael and Emma Shepherd, of Gibsonville, visited Miss Annie Tickel Sunday.

Messrs. J. F. Huffines and J. R. Thomas made a business trip to Greensboro Friday.

Miss Hespia Michael is staying with her sister, Mrs. J. E. Madren, Jr., who has been right sick with pneumonia, but we are glad to say she is better.

Miss Pauline Murray spent Tuesday night at Mr. J. L. Cobb's, and Wednesday night at Mr. C. L. Sockwell's.

Mr. I. R. Cobb visited at Mr. Sam Huffines' Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. B. A. Clarida and Miss Magie Whitsett spent Saturday afternoon at Mr. I. R. Cobb's.

Messrs. E. B. Huffines and R. A. Sockwell spent Saturday night at Elon College.

Misses Susie and Emma Clarida moved from this neighborhood to near Mr. Vernon Springs quite recently. We regret very much to see them leave.

HILLTOP ITEMS.

The school at this place closes Friday, February 25, after a successful term of five and one-half months.

Mrs. Ida Hiatt, who has been suffering very seriously with tonsillitis, has about recovered.

Mr. L. E. Osborne, our most excellent R. F. D. man, purchased a new horse and buggy recently.

The public is invited to a spelling match at the Hilltop school next Friday night.

Immediately after the close of his school, Mr. D. A. Neese will go to Raleigh to enter Draughon's business college.

WHITSETT R. F. D. NO. 1 ITEMS.

We are having some weather that reminds us of winter.

Mr. Henry Greeson died Saturday at the home of his father, Mr. John Greeson, and was buried at Lowe's church Monday. He is survived by a father and mother, three sisters and four brothers.

Robert Vance, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Greeson, of Sedalia, was buried at Mt. Hope last Thursday. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. J. A. Bowers.

On last Monday night fire destroyed the barn of Mr. David Greeson. All of his feed and most all of his farming tools were burned. In trying to save his horses Mr. Greeson was badly burned himself. By heroic effort by the family and neighbors, the other buildings were saved. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Mr. J. E. Clapp has been suffering from a severe attack of rheumatism.

T. W. May is grinding corn every Wednesday and Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Greeson, of Sedalia, spent Saturday night and Sunday with Mr. Greeson's mother, Mrs. Betty Greeson.

Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Shepherd have returned to their home in Ohio.

Miss Bertha Neese has gone to Burlington, where she is employed by the Scott-Mebane Company.

Mrs. Joshua Shepherd celebrated her 76th birthday last Thursday.

Mrs. Polly Shoffner, an aged woman, living near the Alamance battle field, was buried at Lowe's church last Wednesday.

The public school will soon begin to close. It seems that as the taxes increase our schools are shorter. We, like others, are wondering what is being done with the money we are paying for the education of our children in some of our schools. We think that some of the teachers do not realize the responsibility of their calling.

HIGH ROCK MILL ITEMS.

We have been almost blocked here with snow.

D. T. Cook was in Reidsville last week settling up with the wholesale house there and has decided to close out his store here.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. McCoy, of Marble Corner, Ind., paid their aunt, Mrs. T. N. Cook, a very welcome visit recently. They seemed to enjoy their visit here very much.

Mrs. M. L. Summers contemplates having some repair work done on the waterworks here, which when finished will enable the mill to do more work in dry weather.

Mr. W. J. Cook, of Gibsonville, was a recent caller here.

We have no trouble selling corn at one dollar per bushel and wheat at $1.50.

It is talked that an order will be placed with us for the sawing of lumber for the repair of the county bridge here. We would like to do the sawing and the bridge is badly in need of repair.

We understand that Miss Sallie Summers has returned home from Greensboro.

SQUIRE DAVIS WRITES.

Talks About the Political Ground Hogs and Other Matters.

Editor Patriot—As I am shut indoors with a sore arm and lagrippe, and thinking that doubtless many other Patriot readers are enjoying the same blessing (?), I thought I would write a few lines for their comfort. I have in my family three sore arms, two cases of lagrippe and one case of acute indigestion.

Our neighborhood has smallpox, pneumonia, lagrippe, measles and the itch. Smallpox is by far the mildest disease of the whole lot. It is fast becoming the pet disease of the neighborhood.

The ground hog came out, saw his shadow and went back, and bad weather is upon us. I think it would be a good idea for those political ground hogs that have come out so early to look at their shadow of a chance and go back into their political holes and stay six weeks, and then the political weather might not be much in their favor.

Just as we got prohibition and thought we were done with revenue officers, here comes the buttermilk officer to chase the old woman around. Just imagine a little two-by-four buttermilk officer seizing the old woman and leading her up before his honor, Judge Eure. We have pure food laws. If any one offers impure food products for sale, arrest him, but don't take the old woman's cow away from her to pay the bill because she has a little spare milk to sell.

I think the farmer who sees his cattle every day knows as well when they are in good healthy condition as the veterinary surgeon who looks at their tongues once a year. It is not the farmer who adulterates food products. It is the speculative genius who does the devilment. This is why the good town people prefer country sausage to meat market sausage and want country butter before it goes through the dealer's hands.

When our wheat was ground at the old country mill, they did not use poison chemicals. Then we had pure flour, pure butter, etc., but now a dozen middlemen must live off the farmer's labor, and they have to study all sorts of tricks to swell their profits. We preach free trade, but every law we pass has a sound of protection. This milk law will have a tendency to freeze out the woman who has a little spare milk to sell.

I will quit; too much said now.

IN MEMORIAM.

Milton C. Cook.

Mr. Milton C. Cook, one of Washington township's best citizens and neighbors, died at his home February 2, 1910, after a lingering illness of five weeks, which he bore with patience. All that physicians and loving hands could do for him was done.

Mr. Cook was 57 years, three months and 22 days old and leaves a wife and ten children living—four boys and six girls. One little boy had preceded him to the better world. His remains were taken to Bethlehem Christian church, of which he had been a faithful and consistent member for 36 years. The funeral service was conducted by his pastor, Rev. J. W. Holt, in the presence of a large congregation.

Mr. Cook was a kind husband and father and always stood ready to help the needy.

He always stood for right and fought against the wrong. To the family we would say that they weep not as those that have no hope, for he has only gone on before and is waiting to welcome them.

Elizabeth J. Gordon.

Elizabeth J. Gordon was born September 29, 1827, and died January 25, 1910, aged 82 years, three months and 26 days. She was married to James J. Gordon July 25, 1850. This union was blessed with ten children, five of whom, with their father, preceded her to the glory world. She lived a widow a little over 35 years.

She professed faith in Christ and joined the M. P. church at Hickory Grove in 1854 and lived a consistent member until her death. Her seat was never vacant at her church when she was able to get there. She lost her eyesight five years ago last November and was never able to attend her church any more, but never lost interest in her church. She was always glad to have her pastor visit her and read and pray with her. She was always eager for her church paper to come so she could have it read to her.

She was very patient and often said she was ready and willing to go when it was the Lord's will to call her. She leaves five children—Dr. J. R. Gordon, Mrs. C. L. Ward, John H. and Seth C. and Mary J. Gordon, and 27 grandchildren to mourn their loss, which is her eternal gain.

WHAT TWO BOYS DID.

Plucky Guilford Youths and Their Prize Winning Calf.

Two little boys, Clarence and Charlie Knight, sons of Jabez and Jane Knight, live a mile and a half from Guilford College and 7½ miles from Greensboro. Their father died three years ago, leaving these boys, two younger children and their mother to work together for a living and the education of these four children. They are doing it bravely.

The boys are 8 and 10 years of age, respectively. They have raised and petted and worked a fine Guernsey calf to 18 months of age. His name is just plain "Jim." Clarence drove him to the Central Carolina Fair at Greensboro in October and won the prize, $5. Charlie drove Jim home from the fair. Got in late. His mother had fears, but her fears were all gone to the winds when she saw how proud the boys were of Jim and their $5 prize. That triumphant return home was worth more to the boys than many times the $5 prize had it been given as a kindly gift from a friend. The scene also helped to compensate the mother for some of the struggles, self-denial and anxiety she has known the last three years.

The boys propose to treat Jim well, get more $5 from his service as an ox to draw a cart now, and when larger, to draw, perhaps, a wagon loaded with $5 bills.

Teachers and Salaries.

Low salaries are making it difficult for small towns in Massachusetts to retain the services of good school teachers. Last spring the school superintendent of West Springfield sent inquiries to fifteen towns of Western and Central Massachusetts where population and conditions are similar to those found in that town. He then found that the average salaries for grades 1 to 3 range from $370 to $525, with general average of $439. For grades 4 to 6, the range is from $370 to $550, with general average of $461. It is thought that the towns will have to receive additional aid from the state if they are to maintain the traditional efficiency of their schools.

FEDERATION VALUE

The Church Militant's Surrender
to the Church Triumphant.

"Say ye not, A Federation, to all them
whom this people shall say, A Federation;
neither fear ye their fear, nor be afraid" (Isaiah viii, 12).

Brooklyn, Feb. 6.—The fourth and final meeting for the consideration of doctrinal surrenders necessary to church Federation was held today, Brooklyn's largest auditorium, the Academy of Music, being crowded. Pastor C. T. Russell, of the Brooklyn Tabernacle, delivered the address as follows:

Having viewed during the past three Sundays what the leading denominations would need to sacrifice in the interest of Federation, we come today to the final discussion of this series—The Church Militant and Triumphant and her interest in the Federation movement. Let us endeavor to take so broad a view of this subject that there will be no room for disagreement on the part of true Christians of any denomination.

Unnecessary as it may be to explain to this large and intelligent audience the significance of our topic, The Church Militant and the Church Triumphant, I must think beyond the thousands present of the millions who tomorrow will receive reports of this discourse from that great channel of the world's progress, the secular Press. Hence I explain that the term Church Militant signifies the Church in warfare, struggling with the powers of evil, while the Church Triumphant signifies the Church victorious, glorified, joined with her Lord, the Heavenly Bridegroom, as his Bride and Queen in the great Millennial Kingdom soon to bless and uplift the world of mankind. I should further add that while in this discussion we have considered the various denominations of Christendom and their creeds, we must today leave all human systems and creeds. We must take the broad, general ground of the Scriptures and recognize only one Church.

Nor may we make the mistake of saying that the one Church is one sect. No sect, no denomination, however great and influential and numerous and rich, either in sordid or historic wealth, can be conceded the right to appropriate the name which our Lord gave to all truly his disciples. Surely none of us is sectarian enough to dispute this premise. We must learn to recognize the Church of Christ from the same viewpoint as does the Head of the Church. We must learn the force of St. Peter's words to Cornelius, "Of a truth I perceive that God is no respecter of persons; but in every nation he that feareth him and worketh righteousness is accepted with him" (Acts x, 34, 35).

Taking, therefore, the Scriptural view of the Church, we recognize it as the "Body of Christ" of many members, over which he is the Head. It is composed of consecrated followers of Christ irrespective of all denominational lines—those who, turning from sin, accept Jesus as their Redeemer, through whom they have forgiveness of sins and reconciliation to the Father—those who have become disciples of Christ, taking up their cross to follow him and who have received the begetting of the Holy Spirit. Who could dispute that these are the Church of Christ? Who shall say that they must belong to this Communion or that, or have this relationship to the Head, Christ Jesus? The apostles never referred to Baptist Christians, Methodist Christians, Catholic Christians, Presbyterian Christians, etc., but merely to those whom we have described and whom they styled saints—"the Church of the living God, whose names are written in heaven" (Hebrews xii, 23; I Timothy iii, 15). Let us keep strictly within the lines of God's Word and avoid the errors of the past. Let us recognize this Church as the Church Militant and prospectively the Church Triumphant.

The Church Militant.

If we all agree that we have before our minds the real Church, the Church of the New Testament, let us notice that there is a nominal Church also and that we are not competent to fully determine which are the real and which are the nominal Christians except by the test which our Lord has given—by their fruits ye shall know them. While the real Church of fully consecrated believers, faithful to the Lord and his Word and the principles of righteousness, is represented by a very small number, there is a nominal Church related thereto as is a shell to the kernel of a nut. The nominal Church includes those whose manner or whose attendance on worship implies a relationship to Christ without having gone the length of a full faith-acceptance of him in sacrifice, perhaps without having fully turned from sin even in their hearts, and without having made a full consecration to serve the Lord. This nominal class may be subdivided into believers who are favorably disposed toward Christ and right, and others who regard the Church as merely a moral club, designed for social and moral benefit or influence upon the world, by counteracting their bad influences; still others, bitter at heart, selfish, hating, hating the faith of Jesus and no other whatever for morality and using the name of Christ hypocritically, merely as a garment to deceive, that they may the better gain their ends. Thus we find the nominal Church to consist of:

(1) Hypocrites; (2) Moralists; (3) Indifferents; (4) Seekers after godliness; (5) The true Church, "the sanctified in Christ Jesus" (I Corinthians, i, 2)—"members of the Body of Christ"—prospective members of the Church Triumphant.

Fighting Without and Within.

Every member of "the Church of the first-born" was called "to suffer with Christ" that he may be also later glorified with him in the Millennial Kingdom. Only those who will stand the test of faithfulness under sufferings, trials, crosses, self-sacrifices, have the promise of sharing with Christ the glories of the Church Triumphant. "If we be dead with him, we shall also live with him; if we suffer with him, we shall also reign with him; if we deny him, he also will deny us" (II Timothy ii, 11, 12).

But why should the Church fight? Is she not commended to live peaceably with all? Are not Christians exhorted to war not with carnal weapons and to be smitten on both cheeks, rather than to return evil for evil? Where, then, comes in the fight? Who are the foes? Surely none would assail a non-resistant!

We reply that the facts do not bear out that suggestion. Our Lord and his apostles were peaceable and non-resistant, obedient to kings and laws, and yet they suffered violent deaths, as well as stripes and imprisonment. They had their names cast out as evil. And those who persecuted and maligned them verily thought that they did God service. All who follow in the Lord's footsteps must expect similar treatment, because, as Jesus said, "The servant is not greater than his Lord." "Marvel not, if the world hate you, ye know that it hated me before it hated you. If ye were of the world, the world would love his own; but because ye are not of the world, but I have chosen you out of the world, therefore the world hateth you" (John xviii, 18, 19). The Master said, "The darkness hateth the light," which explains why the chief religionists of his time, being of wrong condition of heart, instigated his crucifixion. They were of the darkness, living outwardly holy, while in heart they were far from consecrated to God. The very holding up of the torch of Truth was painful to them, reproved them and excited their animosity. Human nature is the same today. Notwithstanding the fact that heretic-roasting has become unpopular and intolerable to the world, there are methods of privately and symbolically roasting, slashing, wounding and killing practised by those estranged from God, though sometimes highly esteemed of men and wearing vestments only slightly less glorious than those worn by Caiaphas and Pilate.

"Who Scourgeth Every Son."

The Scriptures explain that there is a two-fold reason why Jesus and all of his followers are required to suffer for righteousness' sake.

(1) It is requisite to their own character-development that they should not only profess absolute loyalty to God and to Truth, but that this loyalty should be put to the test. Thus we read of our Lord that though "holy, harmless, undefiled," he was proved perfect in his loyalty by the things which he endured—by his obedience even unto death, even the ignominious death of the cross. The same principle, the Scriptures assure us, operates in connection with all whom God is now calling to be Emmanuel's associates in the Millennial Kingdom. They must suffer with him if they would reign with him. They must walk in his steps (Galatians vi, 11; I Thessalonians i, 5; II Timothy i, 12; II, 9, 12; III, 12).

(2) These experiences are designed of God to qualify us to be judges of the world during the Millennial Age—that the Christ, Head and Body, may be merciful and faithful towards the people of earth. Likewise it is proper that the world should know that its judges have thus been tempted and tried, and are able to sympathize with them in their weaknesses and in their endeavors for righteousness—and more willing to help them up, up, up to human perfection than to consign them to the Second Death.

Although this conflict has lasted for more than eighteen centuries it has not been long for any single individual. With the Master himself the trial period was only three and a half years. On the whole, as compared with eternity, the entire Gospel Age of Sacrifice, as the Master said, is but "a little while." And as for the afflictions and restings themselves, St. Paul gives the proper thought, saying, that at most they are "light afflictions, but for a moment and not worthy to be compared with the glory that shall be revealed in us," the overcomers (Romans viii, 18).

The Church Triumphant.

The Church in glory and in power will contain no hypocrites and no merely nominal Christians—only the true, the saintly, the "sanctified in Christ Jesus." Nevertheless it will be composed of two classes, as illustrated by the Priests and the Levites in the type. (1) Jesus glorified, the antitypical High Priest, and his faithful footstep followers, the antitypical under-priesthood—otherwise his "Bride." Together these are styled a Royal Priesthood or a Kingdom of Priests. St. Paul tells us that Melchizedek, who was a priest upon his throne, merely typified the Church Triumphant—Head and Body—The Christ, "A priest forever after the order of Melchizedek"—a priest upon his throne. During the Millennial Age that glorious Priest, Head and Members, will bless and uplift, rule and judge, the world of mankind, with a view to recovering as many as possible, as many as will obey him, from the ruin of sin and death. During the thousand years of the Melchizedek reign all the families of the earth will be blessed with opportunities of return to human perfection and to earthly Paradise. The willing and obedient will be destroyed in the Second Death. At the close of the Millennium, Christ's Mediatorial Kingdom will terminate.

As the Levites were much more numerous than their brethren, the priests, so there is another class in the Church corresponding—styled "a great company," whose number no man knoweth," in that they were not specially predestinated. These less earnest, less zealous than the faithful "little flock," will reach a plane of glory through tribulation also, but with less joy. These, we are told, will be with the Bride as her companions. As Levites they will serve God in his temple, but not be members of the temple class, the Priesthood. These will have palm branches and be before the Throne, while the Royal Priesthood will have crowns and be in the throne as members of the Body of Christ.

The Church Militant's Surrender.

All the soldiers of the cross, experiencing fightings without and within against the powers of sin and darkness and their own weaknesses, surely long for the time of their "change" in the "First Resurrection." They long for the time when this mortal shall put on immortality; when this corruptible shall have put on incorruption; when we shall be like our Redeemer and see him as he is and share his glory. Gladly, therefore, do all of God's consecrated people wait for the blessed change promised at our Lord's Second Coming, when that which is sown in weakness shall be raised in power; when that which is sown in dishonor shall be raised in glory; when that which is sown an animal body shall be raised a spiritual body (I Corinthians xv, 42-44, 53, 54). Surely such, having prayed, "Thy Kingdom come; thy will be done on earth as in heaven," are waiting for the King and God's time for establishing his Kingdom for the blessing of the world. No wonder the Apostle wrote of these, "Our selves also, which have the first-fruits of the Spirit, even we ourselves groan within ourselves, waiting for the adoption, to wit, the redemption of our Body"—the Body of Christ, the Church, through the power of the "First Resurrection" change. This will be our glad surrender to the Church Triumphant, when we shall hear the Master's voice saying, "Well done, good and faithful servants; enter ye into the joys of your Lord. You have been faithful over a few things, I will make you ruler over many things"—participants in the Millennial Kingdom glory and its dominion of earth for the uplifting of mankind (I Corinthians vi, 2; Revelation ii, 26).

Union or Federation—Which?

I ask you, my hearers, and indirectly I ask the millions of my larger congregation whom I address weekly through the public prints,—What advantage will accrue to the Church Militant through the on-coming Federation? I reply that great advantage will come to the saintly few, not in the manner expected, but along the lines of the Divine promise that "All things shall work together for good to them that love God—to the called according to his purpose." The Church Federation, which the Scriptures distinctly show us will be effected, will include the various classes already indicated—(1) Hypocrites; (2) Moralists; (3) Followers afar off; (4) Saints.

But in the Federation the Moralists and Higher Critics will be dominant forces. The saintly will less than ever be in evidence and appreciated. The outward and apparent success of the Federation will seem wonderful for a moment, but the results will be disastrous.

The saintly few, guided by God's Word and holy Spirit, will awaken to the true situation and become separated from the nominal mass. Their misguided hopes as respects the bringing about of a spiritual Kingdom on earth will be thoroughly shattered, and, more than ever, they will look to the Lord as the source of help and wait for his Kingdom to come through the Redeemer's advent and the Resurrection "change."

In a word, God's saintly people need no outward Federation, even as they need no credal fences. So far as these are concerned, the sooner all barriers between them are leaped and they come together as members of one body, joined to the one Heavenly Head and Lord, the better. Let Churchianity produce its Federation and see its folly and failure, as outlined in our text. But let the saints of God draw near to him and to each other in a spiritual Union and realize to the full the meaning of the Apostle's words, "One faith; one Lord; one baptism"—one "Church of the living God whose names are written in heaven." This condition cannot be attained through outward bonds, but can be attained only through drinking into the one Spirit obtainable through the proper understanding of the Word of God.

FOR ABSOLUTE PROHIBITION.

Bill Introduced in Congress to Make Washington "Dry."

Representative Aiken, of South Carolina, has introduced in Congress a prohibition bill for the District of Columbia that is pronounced the most drastic measure of the kind ever presented in the national capital. Under the provisions of the bill, no persons, corporation, association, or club shall manufacture or sell liquors or beverages which contain alcohol and, which if drunk, will produce intoxication.

Washington will be the model "dry" city of the country if the South Carolinian's bill is enacted. Wholesale and retail druggists are the only persons who may dispense "pure alcohol" for medical purposes, and then only on a prescription of a physician for a patient who needs the stimulant to regain health.

Not more than one pint of liquor will be sold on such prescription and not more than five gallons of alcohol may be sold to art schools or scientific organizations for educational purposes.

Mr. Aiken wants absolute prohibition, and hence includes a penalty of from $100 to $500, together with imprisonment at hard labor, for violators of the proposed law. A druggist who violates the act will have his license revoked for a year.

The bill eradicates all saloons and wholesale liquor stores, and would eliminate the traffic in spirituous or malt liquor henceforth and forever.

The County Paper.

Charlotte Observer.

Much of the development and new life which the small and isolated towns of this state have recently taken on is due to the progressive action of their local papers. The latter have done a great deal of good; in fact, have been a power of influence in bringing about the wonderful changes which have taken place and are still going on. The man in the village or country who thinks his county newspaper has no influence or that its voice is not heard outside the immediate community is greatly mistaken. A county newspaper properly conducted is a powerful factor and has a wide circle of influence. The good such papers do is beyond calculation, and the greater financial support they have at home the greater and the more widespread is their influence for good to the community in which they are published.

Drainage Petition.

A petition having been presented to the Board of County Commissioners by a majority of the land-owners along Haw River in Bruce and Oak Ridge townships asking for the establishment of a drainage district under the provisions of chapter 541 of the laws of 1905; the district to begin at the upper or west line of W. H. Hoskins, the same being the lower or east line of David Matthews, on the south side of Haw River, and to extend up said stream, including the bottom lands on both sides, to the farm of Thomas J. Benbow, this is to notify all persons objecting to same to appear before said board at the next regular meeting on Tuesday, March 8, 1910, and state said objection.

FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR Cures Colds; Prevents Pneumonia

S.S.S. CURES OLD BLOOD TROUBLES

Contagious Blood Poison is at the bottom of a great many old blood troubles. The disease may have been contracted years ago and some treatment used that removed the outward symptoms and shut the virus up in the system to slumber in the blood, but it only awaited a favorable opportunity to break out in some form again.

Certain forms of catarrhal troubles, especially where the bones are affected, scrofulous affections, non-healing sores, ulcerated membranes, etc., are due to this specific poison. Perhaps many who are afflicted in this way are ignorant of the fact that the seeds of this mighty poison are still hidden in the blood. Like the deadly serpent, which is dangerous as long as the faintest spark of life is left to enable it to sink its poisonous fangs, this powerful disease will corrupt and defile while the least particle of its insidious virus remains in the blood.

The best time to get rid of Contagious Blood Poison is when the disease is first contracted, and before its virus so penetrates the blood as to cause ulcerated mouth and throat, copper-colored spots, falling hair, etc. Then of course the victim is saved much humiliation and suffering; but even after the poison has become established in the system it can be removed and a cure effected if the blood be thoroughly purified with S. S. S.

S. S. S. is the greatest of all blood purifiers. It possesses penetrating powers that enable it to go down into the blood, and remove the last trace of blood poison. It cures all blood troubles simply and solely because it removes the cause from the circulation. Not only does S. S. S. cure contagious Blood Poison when first contracted, but reaches it in any of its stages, even where the trouble has been inherited. S. S. S. is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, and does not contain the slightest trace of mineral in any form. You cannot rid of your old blood trouble if you will take S. S. S. and allow it to purify the blood. Book on the blood and any medical advice free.

A PERFECT CURE.

Some eight years ago I was inoculated with poison by a nurse who infected my babe with blood taint. I was covered with sores and ulcers from head to foot. No language can express my feelings of woe during these long years. I was advised by friends who had seen wonderful cures made by it, to try S. S. S. We got some and I improved from the start, and a complete and perfect cure was the result. S. S. S. is the only blood remedy which reaches desperate cases of old blood troubles.

Doctors for the Well.

Boston Traveler.

There seems to be much to commend the practice of employing a doctor at so much per year to visit the homes of his clients, watch their diet, clothing, habits, the sanitary condition of their person and homes; to teach them the laws of health and how to be temperate in eating, drinking, bathing, exercising, recreation, and work. People who are never sick are the ones to whom this should apply with special force, for there always comes the day when sickness knocks at their door. The old adage, "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," is as good today as when it was uttered centuries ago.

When you are sick, would you sell your chances to get well for a few cents? We hardly think so, but there are people who will for a little difference in the quality of drugs they use, buy the cheapest they can get hold of. This little difference in quality when put into a prescription makes a very big difference in the results expected by the doctor. Get the best and the quickest results by bringing your prescriptions to Gardner's Drug Store, the home of pure drugs, that old familiar store that has supplied your drug and medicine wants for over fourteen years and still caters to your wants.
