A KISS AT THE DOOR.
We were standing in the doorway—
My little wife and I,
The golden sun upon her hair
Fall down so silently;
A small white hand upon my arm,
What could I ask for more
Than the kindly glance of loving eyes
As she kissed me at the door!
I know she loves with all her heart
The one who stands beside!
And the years have been so joyous
Since first I called her bride!
We've had so much of happiness
Since we met in years before,
But the happiest time of all was
When she kissed me at the door.

Who cares for wealth of land or gold,
For fame or unobscured power?
It does not give the happiness
Of just one little hour
With one who loves me as her life—
She says she loves me more—
And I thought she did this morning
When she kissed me at the door.
At times it seems that all the world,
With all its wealth of gold,
Is very small and poor indeed,
Compared with what I hold!
And when the clouds hang grim and dark,
I only think the more
Of one who waits the coming step
To kiss me at the door.
If she lives till age shall scatter
His frosts upon her head,
I know she'll love me just the same
As the morning we were wed;
But if the angels call her,
And she goes to Heaven before,
I shall know her when I meet her,
For she'll kiss me at the door.

NARROW GAUGE RAILWAYS.
Hon. L. B. Dibble recently addressed a large audience in the State Capitol of Michigan on the subject of narrow gauge railways. The Detroit Tribune gives the following summary of his speech:
"The common American gauge is four feet eight inches and a half, and the least cost of construction of any road of such width is $25,000 per mile. Roads whose gauges range from two to three and a half feet can be constructed, equipped and operated at one-third of the sum required for the same purpose by wide gauge lines, and as tributaries to trunk lines, or for opening up new countries, are fully as useful as the broader roads. They have lighter locomotives, smaller cars, narrower wheels, lighter ties, cheaper rails, steeper grades, and sharper curves, and connected with these peculiarities are savings in the cost of excavation, in the material used in bridges and culverts, in the value of the iron, in the amount of dead weight per passenger or per hundred weight of freight carried in each train, in the length of the line, and in nearly every other item of expenditure. Moreover, railways of this class have been and are a practical success. There are two now in use in our Upper Peninsula, one of which is eight miles in length and transports 450 tons of ore daily. In Wales, a railway with gauge of but one foot eleven and a half inches, which was constructed in 1862, has some gradients of one foot in 60 feet, has reversed curves of such a character that trains sometimes run upon three of them at a time, and so short that the locomotive and last car of the train are often parallel, runs at as high rate of speed as thirty-five miles an hour, and pays an annual dividend of thirty per cent. on its original capital. Similar roads now exist in Norway and in Canada, and one is about being constructed in Pennsylvania from Allentown to Harrisburg, which will have a gauge of three feet six inches, and it is estimated, will probably transport freight at the rate of one cent per ton per mile. Mr. Dibble also presented a large collection of estimates, showing that in this State railways with a gauge of about three feet could be built and operated for, at the most, one-third of the cost of the usual style of road, and he explained that the measure introduced in the Senate by Mr. Emerson, to provide for the incorporation of narrow gauge companies, was only a substantial adaptation of the new system of the present general railroad law, with the omission or correction of some of the many incongruities of the latter. The speaker also claimed that such roads, which experience has shown, can be very cheaply constructed and will work—were exactly what is needed for the newer portions of the State, whose wants they would relieve fully as well as the more expensive style of railway, while they would entail far fewer burdens upon the communities constructing them. He also disclaimed any personal interest, direct or indirect, present or prospective, in any narrow gauge line or lines, and presented the matter not as one to be benefited by it, but only a matter of great possible importance to the State of which he is a citizen."

Lynchburg & Danville Rail Road.
The Virginia is confident that if Lynchburg shall vote this subscription of $200,000, in bonds, the road will be put under contract in the Spring and pressed forward to completion.
It thinks, moreover, that there are evidences of a growing interest in the public mind there, in favor of this scheme. A number of persons who, a few days since, would have voted against the proposition to make a corporate subscription, are now in favor of it, and will vote accordingly.—Danville Times.

WHICH IS THE MINORITY.
The prospects of the National Democracy, General Grant was elected President in November, 1868, by a majority of 134 of the electoral college, and 3,380,617 of the popular vote. The administration have been efficient to wipe out this great preponderance and place him and his party in the minority. The following table of majorities includes all the States which voted for President in 1868, and tells the story. The opposition vote embraces that of the labor reformers, prohibitionists, and anti-parties opposed to the Republican (so-called) organization:

THE NATIONAL INCOME TAX.
A TELLING EXHIBIT.
In a speech recently made in the House of Representatives, at Washington, Gen. Morgan, of Ohio, said, amongst many other things:
"I have prepared a table showing that if the income tax is abolished it will reduce the amount of tax collected from Massachusetts more than one-half, from Virginia about one-third, from Rhode Island more than one-half, from Illinois less than one-half, Vermont will have her taxes reduced more than nine-tenths. Ohio one-fourteenth, Maine more than one-half, Kentucky less than one-twenty-third, New Hampshire nearly two-thirds, Missouri less than one-eleventh, Connecticut more than one-half, Indiana less than one-seventeenth.
Should the income tax be repealed Ohio will pay $11,330,025, Illinois $11,375,000, Kentucky $8,354,000, Missouri $4,079,000, Virginia $4,837,000, Indiana $3,851,000, and the six New England States together $3,161,198. That is, Ohio will pay more than four times the amount of taxes paid by New England. Illinois will pay more than twice the amount of taxes paid by the New England States. Missouri will pay nearly a million more taxes than paid by the New England States. Virginia will pay more than a million of taxes over the amount paid by all the New England States. Indiana will then pay more taxes than the six States of New England. And we of the West and South are congratulated upon this happy state of things by the representatives of the millionaires, the representatives of the bondholders, who are not even taxed upon the principal of their bonds. They too, congratulate the toiling millions upon the fact that the bondholders is to be relieved from the paltry tax upon his income, and that the tax which the bondholder now pays will soon be paid by labor."

If the income tax is abolished, New England will pay $3,161,198 as the full amount of her internal taxes, while the three Western and three Southern States which I have named will pay $50,318,891.

Woman.—A woman in a neighborhood is a woman by another woman. She can love truer, or hate more than the men of ordinary calibre. She can make of home a little heaven or a little hell, on less capital than any other business can be carried on. She can drive a man out of a house if her tongue be working right quicker than Beast Butler could get away with a set of spoons. She is better than pine or stone coal for keeping a neighborhood boiling hot and home more unendurable than a burn on your first thumb joint. All the time making you think she is a pack-aging of refined innocence, a saint, a favorable angelic advertising agent for Gabriel. She can kiss another woman sweetly and then talk about her worse than one of these reform Republicans can talk about President Grant. And she knows more by intuition of all the affairs of the neighborhood than Grant knows about his relations or the post office presents he receives, or will officiate to!

She can be nicer to a woman she hates than a carpet-bag politician is to a negro before he has voted. She can walk further to display a new dress than a loyal or disloyal contraband could travel for chickens in the night. And God love her, if she loves man she will stick to him longer than a Dent family will to the immortal speech-maker, Ulysses! Like doctors, good women are hard to get, hard to keep, bothersome to look after, but here is a conundrum! How can we get along without them!

Playing Marbles with Diamonds.
The editors Macon Telegraph have interviewed Dr. Stephenson, of Hall County, on the diamond discoveries in that section of the State, and have elicited some curious facts. The Doctor says about forty diamonds have been found in Hall County, but the most valuable have been destroyed or lost through ignorance of their character and value. Some negroes broke one worth a hundred thousand dollars to pieces, to see what it might be. A farmer describes one which was given to him thirty years ago, and used by himself as a child and his boys subsequently for a middle man in marbles; but it was lost about the place six months ago, and they are hunting for it now. Nothing was known about its value until similar stones were procured to be diamonds, and then the farmer knew that he and his boys had been playing marbles with a diamond which from description, the Doctor thinks must be worth $500,000 and be one of the most valuable gems in the world. The Doctor says that labor and capital only are needed to prove that these diamond fields in Georgia surpass in value those of Brazil, and are equal to any in the world.

A young gentleman after having paid his addresses to a young lady for some time, popped the question. The lady in a frightened manner said, "You scare me, sir." The gentleman did not wish to frighten the lady, and consequently remained quiet for some time when she exclaimed, "Scare me again."

ON OUR TABLE.
The Little Corporal.—The March number of this sterling juvenile comes to us as fresh as the first breath of Spring. It contains an unusual amount of entertaining reading matter, and its illustrations are unsurpassed. Each number contains about as much reading as any ordinary book costing $1.50, and the twelve numbers of a year, costing only $1.50, form a volume equal to about a dozen such books. The publisher offers to send free a copy of the superb engraving, The Heavenly Cherubs, price $2, to each subscriber for 1871. Terms $1.50 a year. For specimen, &c., address John E. Miller, Chicago, Ill.

Rural Carolinian for March.—Ever fresh, ever vigorous, we greet the Rural Carolinian each month, as one of the pleasantest and most profitable of our Agricultural exchanges. Charlotte, S. C.; $2 per year.

Practical Musical Monthly, a magazine published by Peters, the New York Music Publishers, at $3 a year. Each number contains thirty-six pages of the latest and best music, printed from full-size music plates. The March number contains the following music: God bless the Little Church around the corner; Katy Mac Nelly; My dear old Sunny Home; Mignon; Heaven claims her as an Angel; Jesus, I say Cross have Taken; I will arise and go to my Father; Welcome Home Schottische; May Rose Galop; Belle Georgine Quickstep; Rippling Wave Polka; Murmuring Waves. Send 30 cents for a sample copy, and our word for it, you will never regret it. Address, J. L. Peters, 529 Broadway, N. Y.

Our Magazine for March. We can only reiterate a former statement that it "is worth more than double the subscription price," which is $1 per annum. Published at Newton, N. J.

Reconstructed Farmer for February: published at Tarboro, N. C.; price $2 per year. A native N. C. production, and in every way worthy of the support of our Agricultural friends.

Manufactures and Builder for March. A periodical that should be in the hands of every Architect or Mechanic in the country. Published at 37 Park Row, N. Y.; price $1.50 per annum.

One a Week, a magazine for the ladies. We have received the last number of this new candidate for the favor of the fair sex, and it is only necessary for us to let them know that it is published by the well known house of Frank Leslie, N. Y., to cause their minds as to the merits and success of this beautiful little fashion journal.

A NEW WATER-ROUTE FROM THE WEST.—A very important project advanced by Col. Ralston, of Texas, for a new water-route between the Mississippi river and the Atlantic seaboard, is now under consideration in the South and Southwest. The design is to take advantage of a series of lakes and rivers below New Orleans, and connect them, partly by canals and partly by dredging, so as to form a canal, or, more properly, a water-line from a point six miles below New Orleans along the Gulf coast through Florida to St. John and Charleston. The total length is 800 miles, and the cost is estimated at $12,000,000. The work is described as presenting peculiarly favorable engineering advantages. Only sixty out of the first 380 miles will require actual canalizing, and only one lock will be required for the entire distance. The remainder of the route is equally feasible. The ground is level and soft, and the expense will be a mere fraction of the cost of the Erie Canal, while the advantages to commerce will be far greater, as the new route will be open to navigation during the entire year, not being liable to be frozen up.—New York Democrat.

LATEST MARKET REPORT.
Honor, scarce. Old stock exhausted, and the new one will be a failure. Virtue—old growth nearly consumed, young growth prospects very unpromising. Honesty—none in the market. Patriotism—first quality scarce, and none to be disposed of. Second quality easily bought on speculation at one hundred per cent discount. Prudence—all in the hands of old stockholders, and held close. Modesty—stock badly managed. None for sale to street speculators. Vice—market overstocked. Pride—market glutted. Politeness—cheap. Holders unwilling to dispose of any at present rates. Scandal—none at wholesale. Dealt in chiefly by peddlars at retail. Religion—very little of the genuine article on hand. Stock generally adulterated. Love—none offered except for greenbacks.

The most beautiful girl in the U. S. lives near Lincoln, Ill. Her hair is of that particular hue that a field of ripe wheat throws toward the setting sun. Her eyes send forth a light so effulgent and magnetic that strangers become spell-bound under its influence and stand raptly gazing. Her cheeks bear a bloom like the sunny side of an early peach. A pearl would seem almost black beside her teeth. Her form is so graceful that men worship her before seeing her face. Her hands suggest the idea of waxen fingers tipped with vermilion. Her smile seems actually to illuminate her presence, and when she laughs the listeners fancy they hear sweet music in the distance.

Rabbits.—A farmer near London, Canada, West, had two thousand rabbits in a warren five acres in extent.—The cost of and attention to be paid to these animals involve an expense of twenty-five cents for each rabbit, and the net profits on the whole warren amount to $5,000 a year. The annual average increase is twenty-five rabbits for each pair. The males, when a year old, are killed and sent in barrels to market at Montreal.

A shoemaker's Colquhoun—I'm drawing to the end of time, am wearing weaker, a few more stitches and act will be over.—In heaven there is rest for the sole.—There all our troubles are needed at last.

Two wags were speaking about the fancy dress they intended wearing at a forthcoming ball. "Oh," said a comic, "I shall go disguised in liquor." "Don't was the immediate reply, "every one will recognise you."

Also, a Radical paper says "It is wrong to blame Gen. Grant for making money honestly." Certainly it is. It is wrong to blame anybody for a thing he has never done.

THE FAMILY OF CHIEF JUSTICE TANEY.—The subscription of the members of the bar, and other friends of New Orleans for the relief of the family of the late Chief Justice Taney has thus far been very successful. Quite a large number of lawyers subscribed $50 each, a still larger number $25. One, a distinguished and veteran member of the profession, heads the list with the handsome sum of $500. It is believed that at least $5,000 will be made up in this city in testimony of the great veneration and respect entertained for the great and virtuous Judge, and in the relief of the family, which he impoverished by his lifetime service for his country.—New Orleans Times.

Seven sins to be accounted for that were left out of the book, viz:
1. Refusing to take your own county paper.
2. Taking a paper and refusing to pay for it.
3. Not advertising.
4. Getting married and forgetting to hand in the notice along with a dollar "william" to the printer.
5. Asking newspapers to publish matter that is for your own benefit without remuneration.
6. Reading copy on a compositor's case.
7. Never paying your subscription until the publisher goes to the trouble of asking for it.

Population of the United States.—The entire population of the United States, including the District of Columbia and the territories, is 38,308,289, against 31,443,321 in 1860, showing an increase of 6,864,978. These figures show that the increased population to the last decade is not as great as that between 1850 and 1860. The loss of life caused by the war, in addition to the natural mortality, probably may account for the country's not keeping pace with the increase between the years of 1850 and 1860. It was predicted previous to the taking of the census that the population would exceed 40,000,000.

Remarkable Fact.—A farmer in this county owned a sow, which by miscarriage lost her pigs, and was subsequently fattened for Pork. On killing her it was found that one of the pigs had been retained, and actually was perforated. This is no big tale but a remarkable fact.—Wm. Vindicator.

Prolific.—We are informed upon undoubted authority that the wife of Dr. Patterson, near Mayfield, Ky., has given birth to five children in one year; three the first time and two the last time.

Mr. Thomas Calhoun's wife, Carroll county, Tenn., presented him with nine children at three births; a boy and girl the first time, two boys and one girl the second time, and four boys the last time, all of the latter living and doing well.

Henry county, Tenn., has produced the largest hog in the world; weight, 1,673 pounds; one other by the same man weighing 1,150 pounds.—Trenton Gazette.

DOUBLE-DYED INFAMY.

It is said, by some one who has given attention to the subject, that the present style among the ladies of wearing their hair scrambled was very much in fashion before the invention of combs.

ONE CENT DAMAGES.

It would be cruel to the Governor—and to North Carolina.
