A Wonderful Clock.

A German of Cincinnati has invented a most wonderful clock.— We call the following description from a Cincinnati paper. It says:
"When it marks the first quarter, the door of the left piece of the second story opens, we see a child issue from the background, come forward to a little bell, give it one blow and then disappear. At the second quarter a youth appears, strikes the bell twice and then disappears; at the third there comes a man in his prime; at the fourth we have a tottering old man, leaning on a staff, who strikes the bell four times. Each time the door closes of itself. When the hours are full, the door of the right piece of the second story opens, and death, as a skeleton, scythe in hand, appears, and marks the hour by striking a bell. But it is at the twelfth that we have the grand spectacle in the representation of the day of judgment. Then, when death has struck three blows on the little bell, the cock on the top of the tower suddenly flaps his wings, and crows in a shrill tone; and, after Death has marked the twelfth hour with his hammer, he crows again twice.— Immediately three angels, who stand as guardians in a central position, raise their trumpets with their right hands (in the left they hold swords), and blow a blast towards each of the four quarters of the earth. At the last blast the door of the tower opens, and the resurrected children of earth appear, while the destroying angel sinks out of sight.

The multitude stand for a moment full of awe and wonder, when,
suddenly, Christ, in all his majesty, descends, surrounded by angels.— On the left there is an angel who holds the scales of justice, on his right another carries the book of life, which opens to show the alpha and omega—the beginning and the end. Christ waves his hand, and instantly the good among the resurrected are separated from the wicked, the former going to the right, the latter to the left. The archangel Michael salutes the good, while, on the other side, stands the devil, radiant with fiendish delight —he can hardly wait for the final sentence of those who fall to him, but in obedience to the command of the central figure, he withdraws.
The figure of Christ raises his hand again, with a threatening mien, and the accursed sink down to the realms of his satanic majesty.— Then Christ blesses the chosen few, who draw near to him. Finally, we hear a cheerful chime of bells, during which Christ rises, surrounded by his angels, until he disappears and the portal closes."

No Brains

Judge Ray, the temperance lecturer, in one of his efforts got off the following hard hit at "moderate drinkers."

"All those who in youth acquire a habit of drinking whiskey, at forty years of age will be total abstinents or drunkards. No person can use whiskey, for years with moderation. If there is a person in the audience before me whose experience disputes this, let him make it known. I will account for it or acknowledge that I am mistaken."

A tall large man arose, and folding his arms across his breast said:
"I offer myself as one whose experience contradicts your statements."

"Are you a moderate drinker?"

"I am."

"How long have you drank in moderation?"

"Forty years."

"And never were intoxicated?"

"Never."

"Well," remarked the Judge, scanning the subject from head to foot, "you are a singular case yet I think it is easily accounted for. I am reminded by it of a little story.
A colored man, with a loaf of bread and a bottle of whiskey, sat down to dine, on the bank of a clear stream. In breaking the bread he dropped some crumbs into the water. These were eagerly seized and eaten by the fish. The circumstance suggested to the darkey the idea of dipping the bread into the whiskey and feeding it to them.— It worked well. Some of the fish ate it and became drunk and floated helplessly upon the surface. In this way he easily caught a large number. But in the stream was a large fish, very unlike the rest. It partook freely of the bread and whiskey with no perceptible effect.
It was shy of every effort of the darkey to take it. He resolved to take it at all he might learn its name and nature. He procured a net, and after much effort, caught the fish, carried it to a colored neighbor, and asked his opinion in the matter. The other surveyed the wonder a moment and then said—
"Sambo, I understand this case; dis-fish is a mullet head, it aint got any brains." "In other words," added the judge, "alcohol affects only the brain and, of course, those having none, may drink without injury." The storm of laughter which followed, drove the "moderate drinker" from the house.

The wheat crop in Stokes, Forsyth and Granville, says the Sen-inel, is looking remarkably well.—
The crop sown in Forsyth is heavy, but the people in that section are almost crazy on the subject of tobacco raising—a new crop with them.

Why is a proclamation like eight drachms? Because it is an ounce-is.

Last Letters of Greeley.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8, 1872.
My Old Friend—I have yours of the 6th instant. You seem to me disposed to think too ill of such men as—. Never mind them.
If they beat us, let us remember how Henry Clay was beaten in 1844, and say, "having endured that, nothing less can ever annoy us." We will do our duty and trust the All-wise Disposer for the result.

Yours,
HORACE GREELEY,
To Gen. Leslie Combs, Lexington,
Ky.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28, 1872.
Dear Friend—My wife still lingers with us, but is very feeble.— She may drop off any day. I wish she were well and I lay where she does.

Yours,
HORACE GREELEY,
To Gen. Leslie Combs, Lexington,
Ky.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10, 1872.
My Dear Old Friend—My sky is black. I may never write to you again. I thank you for your letter of the 4th, and pray that the evening of your days may be bright and sunny, and that you may be blest in your friends and your family.

Yours,
HORACE GREELEY,
To Gen. Leslie Combs, Lexington,
Ky.

The Penitentiary Report.

From the "Report of the Board of Directors, &c., of the Penitentiary of North Carolina" we glean these facts: Number of persons confined Nov. 1, 1872 366, classified as follows—white males, 59; white females, 1; colored males, 291; colored females, 15. Of the 493 confined during the year, 318 were sentenced for larceny, 32 for burglary, 17 for horsestealing, 16 for manslaughter, 14 for murder, 14 for arson, 12 for robbery, 14 for rape and attempt to commit same.— These figures show that men's unhallowed greed of gain leads them to commit more crimes than any other cause.

As to counties the convicts are distributed: 32 from Wake, 21 from Craven, 18 from New Hanover, 16 from Beaufort, etc., showing a preponderance of crime in the great negro counties.

There are under 20 years of age 112 persons confined, which shows the necessity of a better moral regimen for our youth.

From the report of the assistant architect, we learn that the total amount of cash expended in the building department during the year ending November 1, 1872, was $154,105.37; convict labor amounted to $48,115.60.

From the Physician's report we learn that the mortality rate for the year was as 56 to 4, partly attributable to the unusual excess of the colored element, and partly to the imprudence and recklessness of the negroes.—Wilmington Star.

The Richest Man in the World.

The Khedive of Egypt is probably the richest man in the world.—
His yearly income is $50,000,000, and he has twenty five richly furnished palaces within the walls of Cairo. He is vastly more progressive than the Sultan, his Turkish master; is rapidly extending his dominions, building railroads and making commercial improvements, and will ultimately become independent, of Turkish domination.

He is at present making arrangements for the connection of a railroad up the Nile to Dongola, and thence across the desert to Boudan, which country he will make one of his own provinces. It has been remarked of him that "the Viceroy, upon any throne in Europe, would be the greatest monarch of the age."
He is not only a prince but a capitalist, a statesman and a cultivator. He sleeps only four hours out of twenty four, and at his desk center his railroads, steamship lines, telegraphs, postal service, private estates sugar mills, cotton culture, army, navy and civil service.

Civil Rights Decision.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—In the Criminal Court yesterday Judge MacArthur delivered a decision in the case of Sebastian Aman, restaurant proprietor of this city. The case was an appeal from the Police Court, in which Aman was fined $100 and costs for refusing to wait on a colored man named Foote and some of his friends. Aman appealed from that decision, and gave the necessary security.

Judge MacArthur having reviewed all the circumstances in the case and the law bearing thereon, said the proprietor of a hotel or restaurant was the proper judge of who should have either refreshments or lodgings in his house, and no one could dispute his authority in the matter. In conclusion, he gave judgment in favor of Aman; which dismisses the case from the court.

In a similar case of Frederick Freund a nolle prosequi was entered.

Federal Jurisdiction.

The Raleigh News is gratified to hear from Washington that the Administration has under consideration a proposition to prevent marshals from "picking" juries, and require them to conform their action to the law of Congress, which requires jurors "to be designed by lot, or otherwise, in each State respectively, according to the mode of selecting juries therein practiced."

All the KuKlux convictions were made by packed juries—packed by the marshal to convict.—Richmond Whig.

A Census of the Horses.

The general prevalence of disease among horses, and the special interest in them which grows out of their present condition, gives the Wit and Humor in the Bible.

The Rev. G. B. Wilcox, writing in the Independent, begins a dissertation on the "Wit and Humor of the Bible," thus:

"Shocking!" many a good old saint will say, at the very thought of it. "The Bible a jest book!— What godless folly shall we have up next?" No, the Bible is not a jest book. But there is wit in it of the first quality; and a good reason why it should be there. Take a few specimens:

Job, in his thirtieth chapter, is telling how he scorned the low-lived fellows who pretend to look down on him in his adversities. They are fools. They belong to the long suffered, fraterally. Anybody with sense might come out blunty and call them fools. But Job works it more delicately (xxx, 7.) "Among the bushes they brayed; under the nettle they were gathered together." If that is not wit, there is no such thing as wit. And yet the commentators don't see it, or won't see it. They are perfectly wooden when they come to any such gleam of humor.

Take another instance—Elijah's ridicule of the Prophets of Baal.—
They are clamoring to their God to help them out of a very awkward predicament. And, while they are at it, the Prophet shows them up in a way that must have made the people roar with laughter. The stilt, antiquated style of our English Bible tames down his sallies.—
Take them in modern phrase.—
These quack prophets have worked themselves into a perfect desperation, and are capering about on the altar as if they had the St. Vitus' danced. The scene (I Kings, xviii, 26, 28) wakes up all Elijah's sense of the ridiculous. "Shout louder!
He is God, you know. Make him hear! Perhaps he is chatting with somebody, or he is off on a hunt, or gone traveling. Or may be he is taking a nap. Shout away! Wake him up!" Imagine the priests going through their antics on the altar, while Elijah hurls his words at them in this style: If Mr. Beecher ever said any thing that con-vulsed his audience more thorowly than the Prophet must have done the Jews around him, I should like to hear it.

Private Life of an Emperor.

Under the heading of "The Private Life of the Emperor Francis Joseph," the Constitutionnel publishes the following particulars:
"The activity of no sovereign in Europe can be compared to that of Emperor of Austria, as he imposes upon himself about the hardest life one can imagine. In winter as in summer he rises at 5 in the morning, walks until 7, almost always alone, then takes his coffee and transacts business for two hours with the Counsellor of State, Brann, and other secretaries of his private chancery. He then gets into his carriage and drives from Schon-brunn or Lazernburg to Vienna to accord audience to the Ministers or deputations which have given the proper notice of their wish to obtain an interview. Afterward he goes out to pay visits in the city.
At 11 he takes a very frugal breakfast, and dines between 4 and 5.
His Majesty eats little, and drinks still less. He prefers the national dishes to all others, and his dinner rarely lasts more than half an hour.
In the evening, after having been to the theater, or to a soiree, he works for some time with his Ministers, never going to bed later than ten. If a fire breaks out he is always first on the spot. During the sporting season he takes the train at nine at night for Reichenau or Murrzschlag, dressed in the costume of a mountaineer, and passes the night on the highest rocks. To hunt the chamois, or in the thick woods, of these incessant fatigues of mind and body his health is perfect. He is, at the same time, like his ancestor, a man of the cabinet, and fond of strong exercise in the open air."

Fattening Turkeys.

It is well to commence with light feed, such as oats and buckwheat, given in equal quantities at morning and night, scattering all that they can possibly eat. In a week leave out the oats and substitute corn; and a third week drop the buckwheat and feed on corn

The Beauties of Radical Reconstruction.

Look at Louisiana; look at Alabama; look at South Carolina; look all around you through the South and behold the beauties of Radical Reconstruction. But look more especially at Louisiana, where a State government has been overthrown and another installed, supported by Federal bayonets, with as much coolness as Cromwell kicked out an unsubmitting Parliament and closed the doors, or as Napoleon, backed by his grenadiers, gave a ticket of leave to the Assembly and took the destinies of France in his own hands. A more flagrant usurpation of authority or more despotic exercise of power is not on record. And all this in a country of supposed equal States, the model republic of the world. What superlative nonsense to talk about the Republic now. A more far-reaching, all-absorbing, crushing despotism than this misnamed Republic exists not in either hemisphere to-day. The Czar of all the Russias, absolute as he is, wields not more power than the American Czar at Washington. The same iron hand that reaches out and strangles Louisiana can reach out and strangle New York or Illinois as well should the occasion arise and the exercise of this arbitrary power be deemed expedient. No State is safe from it, for the law under color of which it is done applies to one as well as the other, and may at any time be practically illustrated in all. It is the legitimate fruit of Radicalism, before which all laws vanish and all constitutions are as so much waste paper.

The South is the field on which the operations of the monarch-makers are carried on now, because the South is regarded as subjugated territory where the people have no rights save those which the conqueror chooses to allow. This is the sum and substance of Radical Reconstruction, a sort of American plebiscite, which gives the citizen freedom to act provided, however, he act so as to meet the approbation of the administration which reserves the right to dictate the course he shall pursue.

Day by day we have watched the fearful growth and development of this grasping centralization before which the States are losing their identity and becoming mere ciphers—a ghastly mockery of the once sovereign States that formed the glorious Republic and honored Union.

It is no more than we might expect, for the day that coercion was proclaimed as a principle and the policy of the American government American liberty died and the path to despotism was paved. To prevent six millions of white people from becoming free, and enjoying the rights that God and Nature gave them, forty millions became enslaved and now stand at the mercy of the power they created themselves and which may crush them at any moment.

It is Louisiana to-day, New York to-morrow, if the despot find it necessary to increase his strength or retain his power. The fate of one will ultimately be the fate of all, for despotisms never move backward until forced backward by the uprising of the oppressed millions. Let the despotic drama proceed; let our Northern friends enjoy some of the beauties of it, and perhaps it may wind up in a tragic entertainment in which what is now the audience may become very prominent actors. That's what it is coming to as sure as water runs down hill.

"Let us Have Peace!"—Radicalism Blossoming.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Dec. 10.—John I. Patterson was elected U. S. Senator to-day. Since his election Patterson has been arrested and is in jail, charged with bribery.

A very fit man to represent the mongrel government that holds its orgies in the beautiful capital of the Palmetto State, where in other days and under a better order of things her noblest and most chivalrous sons assembled. The Philistines sit in her halls now and it is meet that they should be represented by a dog of their own kidney. South Carolina has no honor at stake in it and need give herself no concern about it.

Arrival of Steamship.

NORFOLK, December 11.—The North America came in port to-day with two hundred tons of freight and fifty-one passengers for Virginia, Tennessee and North Carolina.

Richmond Whig.

Fifty-one passengers for Virginia, Tennessee and North Carolina.

Thus they come in small numbers now, and will come in large numbers just as soon as we take the necessary steps to put our State in a true and proper light before them.

How the Tide Runs.

We are among the number who have believed, and do now believe, that the ultimate result of Radical success in this country leads directly to the centralization of power at Washington and the total destruction of State sovereignty. We have seen enough to convince us of this, and to those who doubt it we commend the following extract.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 7. To the Attorney General, Washington:

The Returning Board, provided for by the law of 1870, under which the election was held, and which the United States Court sustains, promulgated in the official journal this morning the result of the election for the Legislature. The House stands as follows: seven Republicans, thirty-two Democrats, and the Senate twenty-eight Republicans and thirty-two Democrats. The Board counted the ballots attached to the affidavits of the colored persons wrongfully prevented from voting, filed with the chief Supervisor.

(Signed) S. P. PACKARD, United States Marshal.

Here U. S. soldiers, under the lead of a deputy marshal, acting under orders of a U. S. judge, take possession of State Houses, overturn State authority and say who shall sit in office, and who shall not. Read the last few lines and see by what means the successful party wins the day, and tell us if at any time it is not in the power of a few men to thwart the will of the people and get possession of any office they choose. All they have to do is get a sufficient number of negroes to swear they were deprived of the right of voting, count their votes for the defeated candidates, apply to a U. S. judge, as in this instance, and the thing is done.

Thus, day by day, the beauties of Radical legislation are developing themselves:

Virtue Tested but Triumphed.

Pinchback, the ebony-hued, usurping pet of Grant, who now writes himself Governor of Louisiana, was offered $50,000 by War-moth to side with him in the difficulty with Kellogg, slept on it and declined, as the following correspondence, read before the mongrel Senate of the State, will show:

"My Dear Governor.—Come as soon as you can. Before 9 if possible. I must see you, whatever may have been your determination. Yours, WARMOTH."

Lieut. Gov. Pinchback.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 9, 1872.

"My Dear Governor.—I have slept on the proposition you made last night, and have resolved to do my duty to my State, party and race, and I therefore respectfully decline to accept your proposition. I am truly sorry for you, but I cannot help you. Yours, &c., F. B. S. PINCHBACK."

What a virtuous cuss, indeed.—And what a struggle it must have required to get over this $50,000 bid. But there is no telling what sacrifice even a Radical Lieutenant-Governor is capable of making until he tries. He'll cut his throat over that yet.

The Governor's Salary.

A bill has been introduced in the Legislature fixing the Governor's salary at $3,000 a year, to which a thousand was afterwards added, making it $4,000. $5,000 is not too much in these times, although it amounts to the three ciphers more than Tod Caldwell is worth. $5,000 now, when gubernatorial whiskey has "ris" so, is not much more than $2,500 before the war when unpaid and unadulterated Nick Williams brand could be got for $1 per gallon.

We don't know whether Tod is fond of his tod or not but most Governors are, and they can't get along on much less small change than $5,000.

Since the above was written the bill has passed. It also fixes the salary of the Treasurer at $3,000.

The latest in the murder line is recorded of Prof. West, of Wilmington, Delaware, who insured his life for $25,000 and then killed a negro, cut off his hands and feet, and head, skinned him, blowed up the body, and then disappeared. His object was to make the impression that he himself had been murdered, as the matter seems to have been pre-arranged with his wife, who was to draw the insurance money; but he was overhauled in Maryland and his innocent game cruelly spoiled.

Appointment of Ministers.

The following are the appointments of ministers for the Greensboro district, made by the Conference of the M. E. Church, recently held in Fayetteville.

N. F. Reid, P. E.; Greensboro, J. A. Cunningham, J. C. Thomas, supernumerary; Guilford, C. H. Phillips, N. H. D. Wilson; Trinity College, B. Craven; Thomasville and High Point, C. M. Pepper; Davidson, R. G. Barrett, W. D. Meacham; Asheboro, J. W. Lewis; Caraway, T. F. Kerns; Forsythe, Z. Bush; Winston, H. P. Cole; W. W. Albee, Stokes supplied by A. W. Craft; Madison, F. L. Reid; Yadlow, W. C. Norman, President of Trinity College, B. Craven, Agent of G. F. College, L. H. Liden, Agent of Trinity College, B. B. Culbreth.

Needn't Come.

Col. McEnery and a hundred citizens of Louisiana were appointed a committee to visit Washington for the purpose of submitting their side of the question to Grant, but received the following gentle hint from Attorney General Williams to stay at home. Our Ulysses is running the machine beautifully:

WASHINGTON, December 13.—To Hon. Jno. McEnery, Louisiana.

Your visit with one hundred citizens will be unavailing. So far as the President is concerned his decision is made and will not be changed, and the sooner it is acquiesced in the sooner good order and peace will be restored.

(Signed) GEORGE H. WILLIAMS, Attorney-General.

Bankruptcy.

Mr. Critcher, of Virginia, has introduced a bill in Congress to repeal the present bankrupt act and allow a uniform exemption of $5,000 throughout the United States.

Comment us to a Mexican Congressman for average progressive.

A deputy, while the railway projects were under discussion in the Congress the other day, opposed all railroads on the ground that they would spoil the pack-anule business, and bring in immigrants who would absorb the country.—N. Y. Tribune.

Some very close relations of this chap have found their way into legislative bodies this side of Mexico.

The Legislature has passed a bill fixing the Governor's salary at $4,000, and the Treasurer's at $3,000. The prices allowed for public printing were also somewhat increased.

The business seems to have been confined chiefly to local bills, amendment of laws, granting of charters, &c.

The bill authorizing the Commissioners of Guilford county to levy a special tax to build the new Court House passed.

Nothing else that we see of especial interest to our readers.

Gen. Banks has introduced a bill in Congress limiting the presidency to one term and extending the time from four to six years.—This was the provision in the Confederate States, and was a good one. But Banks hasn't friends enough in Congress to pass it. He's not in good standing in the Radical synagogue.

The Raleigh Sentinel and News both had articles last week drawing the attention of the Legislature to the subject of immigration. We are glad to see these papers drawing attention to it for they can effect much. We notice articles on immigration in quite a number of our State exchanges, all asking the Legislature to do something. This shows how the matter is thought of throughout the State.

The Senate yesterday decided to pay the public printer 80 cents per thousand ems instead of 60 cents according to the contract which expired yesterday, to pay $1.60 for rule and figure work, and 50 cents per token for press work.—News.

That's right. The State should not expect a man to work for nothing and then growl at him in the bargain if the work ain't done up in apple pie order.

$2,000,000 is the amount that will be saved annually by the abolition of the office of U. S. Assessor, and this don't include perquisites, vulgarly called stealings.

In a letter to the Charlotte Observer, Gov. Vance denies the charge, trumped up against him to beat him, that there was a coalition between himself and Gen. Ransom, and pronounces it "a base and infamous lie."

The Louisiana Difficulty.

Pinchback Governor.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 12.—The following circular explains itself:

STATE OF LOUISIANA.
NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 12, 1872.
To the People of Louisiana:

It is my duty to make known that the President of the United States has formally and officially recognized the State Government of Louisiana, to the head of which I have been called under the Constitution of Louisiana.

The following dispatch has been received, and is published for the information of all law-abiding citizens of the State, to wit:

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 12, 1872.
To Acting Governor PINCHBACK.
New Orleans:

Let it be understood that you are recognized by the President as the lawful Executive of Louisiana, and the body assembled at Mechanics' Institute as the lawful Legislature, and it is suggested that you make proclamation to that effect, and so that all necessary assistance will be given to you and the Legislature herein recognized to protect the State from disorder and violence.

(Signed) GEO. H. WILLIAMS, Attorney-General.

Now therefore, I, P. B. S. Pinchback, Lieutenant Governor and Acting Governor of the State, do issue this my proclamation, counselling and commanding all citizens to recognize, support and give obedience to the government of the State so recognized. I counsel and command all persons who may be participating in any legal assembly, claiming to be the Legislature of the State, assembled elsewhere than at the State House on Mechanics' Institute, to disperse. I request all citizens to aid in maintaining peace and order and obedience to lawfully constituted authorities, and furthermore in the discharge of the executive duties of the State, I warn all parties or combinations, whatever pretence or authority they may allege for their acting, that they will be held to a strict account for their conduct in the premises, and be punished to the utmost extent of the law for the violations of the good order of society or disregard of dignity and peace of the State; and I now command and will enforce obedience to all laws which may have been enacted or may be enacted by the General Assembly of the State now in session at the State House on Mechanics' Institute.

Given under my hand and seal of State, affixed at New Orleans, this twelfth day of December, 1872, and of Independence of the United States 97. By the Governor P. B. S. Pinchback, Acting Governor of Louisiana.
Geo. E. Boyce, Secretary of State.

A Proper Move.

Mr. McGehee has introduced in the House of Representatives, at Raleigh, a bill for the more effectual security of life and property on railroads. This is another step in the right direction. The alarming frequency of railroad accidents of late, of which North Carolina has had her full share, calls for prompt and decisive action. Railroad corporations must be made to feel that they are responsible for the safety of those who entrust their lives to their care, notwithstanding the self-important and dictatorial airs assumed by the railroad kings who now hold the sceptre of power.—The People are moving in this matter; and they are in earnest, too.—Wilmington Star.

A Plan for the Settlement of the Alabama Middle.—Washington, December 12.—The Attorney-General has, with the approval of the President, submitted a plan of compromise for the existing difficulties in the Alabama Legislature.

It suggests the reorganization of the House; also, that the vote of the member for Barbour be counted in the House, with the view of securing whoever is found to be properly elected, the member to be seated during the contest who has Bay-land certificate. It proposes that the contest for senators in districts where disputes have arisen be settled in a similar manner, and makes further provision for the compensation of the officers and members during the temporary organization of the House while the contests are pending.

How Would it Look Further North.

Here are some salient points in the late news from New Orleans:

1. There is a dispute as to who is elected Governor of Louisiana.—Each side claims the victory; and each side has a Returning Board to certify to it.

2. One of the candidates, Mr. Kellogg, is now a United States Senator. The Constitution of Louisiana makes a U. S. officer ineligible to the Governorship. It is claimed that a case many years ago gives a precedent for construing the Constitution against its language; and this, in turn, is denied.

3. It is not pretended that Senator Kellogg was actually elected Governor. It is only claimed that he would have been elected, if all the negroes had been allowed to vote. His opponents deny that any were hindered.

4. The State Court sustains Kellogg's opponent; the U. S. Circuit Judge sustains Kellogg. On this the U. S. troops are pledged to sustain Kellogg, by the Attorney General, speaking for the National Administration.

Suppose these things were done in Kentucky, or Maryland, instead of Louisiana?

In speaking of the North Western North Carolina Railroad, which leaves the main line at Greensboro and extends westward through a fertile section to Salem, Col. Buford gives the circumstance under which the Danville road obtained control of it.

From Greensboro to Salem the work of grading, masonry and supplying cross-ties had been finished during the year 1870. In 1871, the Company being unable to complete the work, made proposals for its transfer to the Richmond and Danville Company to have it completed and put in operation within a reasonable period. It was not until the 29th of March 1872, that any positive agreement was made. On that day a final contract was entered into between the two companies, by which the Richmond and Danville company undertook to complete the road from Greensboro to Salem, a distance of 26 miles, in consideration of the issue and delivery to the Richmond and Danville Company of 1,000 shares—being a majority of the whole of its capital stock, and also $500,000, being the whole issue of the first mortgage bonds of the North Western North Carolina Railroad, which had been before authorized by law. In accordance with this contract, the stock and bonds have been issued and delivered to the Richmond company, and work commenced last fall. About one half of the track is now laid, the work is going on actively and will be soon completed. Two of the depots have been finished and the remaining one at Salem can be completed in a few weeks.—Rat. News.

CORRESPONDENCE OF PATRIOT.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 14, 1872.

THE NEW POLICY.

The President has appointed Mr. James G. Berret, a prominent Democrat of this city, as one of the Police Board. Mr. Berret was Mayor of Washington at the breaking out of the war, when he was arrested and sent to Fort Lafayette, resigning his position as the price of his release. This appointment is in accordance with Grant's new policy of conciliation to which he will adhere with as much tenacity as he does to anything he undertakes. No matter what course Congress may pursue, I think it safe to say that in the time that Gen. Grant went to Horace Greeley's funeral until the end of his next term he will have acted out the policy of conciliation opposed to the crushing out plan heretofore carried on. He will do this simply from motives of policy, his heart, feelings or sentiments of right, if he has any, not being consulted at all in the matter. For the term he will, in all probability, be opposed by the politicians for re-nomination, but with his army of office holders at his back, body and soul his own, he will be able to do as he pleases, and the popularity which he expects to gain among the masses by his new policy, he will enter the lists armed for the fight.—Grant has proven his mischievousness, and I am beginning to think that he is more than half fool. We shall see.

CREDIT MOBILIZER.

The committee appointed to investigate the charges of bribery in connection with the Credit Mobilier, yesterday examined H. S. Macomb, who laid before the committee photographs of letters from Oakes Ames, a list of stockholders, and transcripts from the books of the Credit Mobilier corporation. Mr. Macomb says that he had nothing to do with the charges put forward by the late election committee. He claims to have personal knowledge of one member of Congress getting a large consideration for his support of the Union Pacific Railroad. Macomb said he was very wealthy and claims $400,000 of Oakes Ames as due him from the Credit Mobilier or the Union Pacific Railroad, which is the same thing. Certain members of Congress may have a good time explaining how they became possessed of bonds of the above named railroad. Speaker Blaine stated to the committee that Oakes Ames in 1867 offered to sell a one thousand dollar bond of the U. P. Railroad as a bribe. The Speaker considered the matter and despite his knowledge of the good investment declined. Blaine is all right, but Mr. Ames may have some difficulty in proving that he was not trying to bribe him. Unhappy is the M. C. who holds Pacific Railroad bonds and cannot make a good showing as to how he came by them.

NO LET UP IN CONGRESS.

The bill donating $65,000 for the relief of William and Mary College, of Virginia, which was destroyed during the war by Federal troops, failed yesterday in the House. This is another step in the right direction. The bill, which was introduced by the Hon. John Peter, clever shanks, which would open the doors of this time honored institution to negroes, was adopted. This was done by a vote of 150 yeas and 149 nays. The friends of the bill, and then those Radicals who voted for the amendment voted against the bill. The littleness of such procedure is not at all lessened when it is taken into consideration that there is probably not five Radicals in Congress who would mix socially with the negroes under any condition of things. The setting apart of a portion of the Senate gallery for the families of Senators exclusively was done specially to prevent contact with the negro dames who honor the galleries by their presence, yet the same Radicals who voted for the bill at William and Mary College, do not accept it by the side of those who are not good enough for the families of Senators, or else be debased from getting that which is their right, the payment for the destruction of the College property.

LOUISIANA TROUBLES.

Hon. Aleck Borman and Attorney General Ogden, of Louisiana, representing Warmoth, called on the President yesterday and asked the withdrawal of his recognition of the Pinchback party, saying that nothing had occurred to warrant such hasty action by the Federal Government. Their views were promised the consideration of the Cabinet. The President has been very busy lately, and it is not likely that he will change his opinion, especially as he does not owe Warmoth or his faction any love.

"SOUTH CAROLINA'S SHAME"

is the title of an editorial in to-day's Chronicle, in which that paper in speaking of the Senator-elect—Patterson—buying his election very properly, sets its face against the degradation of the State which is coming upon the country through the wholesale corruption practiced in some of the Southern Legislatures. Does not the editor of the Chronicle know who has been created by the party whose principles have been into law, bigamy, late and dishonesty? If so, he and his friends will find more difficulty in exercising it than they will in trouble in its creation. The heading of the article should have been "The Fruits of Radicalism."

SCHUYLER COLFAX,

having been offered the chair in the Tri-state office made vacant by the death of Horace Greeley, has declined the honor, and has been succeeded by Mr. Colfax.

It should be accepted the position and the $200,000 a year attached to it, he will receive the Vice Presidency and the Editorial harness at once. Colfax is sharp and smart, and Greeley was great and his old white coat will hang very loosely on the shoulders of his successor, especially if it should be the smiling vice.

OSBORN PICTURES AND INDECENT PUBLICATIONS.

are to be excluded from the mails, sealed or unsealed, if the Young Men's Christian Association and a number of prominent gentlemen here can have a bill passed to that effect. It is claimed that it is the duty of Congress to put a stop to this vile means of demoralization of our youth, and a bill to that effect will be shortly introduced.

$50,000 A YEAR

is to be the President's salary in the future. The House committee had the matter under consideration yesterday, and it is known that a majority of thirty is in favor of it. There is no doubt of its becoming a law. It is not a dollar too much for a good President and is just $50,000 more than had one worth it. It is a good deal at the price paid a Treasury Messenger.

ORDER RESTORED IN ALABAMA.

The rival legislatures in Alabama have accepted the plan of compromise suggested by the Attorney General, and have notified the President of it. So far so good.

The Salisbury Watchman says:—"On last Saturday evening, Mr. Jacob Casper suddenly dropped dead in the street. He was on his way home in company with his daughter, and below the Bank near the terminus of Main street at the time. The cause of his death is thought to have been congestion of the lungs or disease of the heart. He was about 65 years of age."

Mr. Seth M. Carpenter is the new city editor for the Newberne Times.

Col. William Bingham.—We regret to hear that the health of this gentleman is such that he has been compelled to intermit his duties as a teacher, and seek the restoration of his health in the milder climate of Florida. The interests of the school will not however materially suffer by his absence, the skill and reputation of his coadjutors being well proportioned to the character of their Principal.—Hillsboro Recorder.

Ku-Klux Pardons.—We have authority for stating, that there will be no further arrests in this section of the State, under the Ku-Klux acts of Congress.

All persons who have left home from an apprehension of trouble under these acts, can at once return, if they desire, and they will not be molested.

Let good citizens everywhere see to it, that good order and quiet is preserved, and very soon, so much trouble and distress upon individuals and the country, will be satisfactorily arranged.—Clearland Banner.

A Little Singular.—Captain Wilroy, who died suddenly in Richmond the other night of heart disease, while he lived in Raleigh was paying attention to a young lady of this city. This young lady afterwards died as suddenly of heart disease as Captain Wilroy did in Richmond.—Raleigh Era.

Pardoned.—Gov. Caldwell has pardoned out of the penitentiary a white thief, named George Washington Harris. There is no doubt that George is in accord.

Boston has elected a Democratic mayor.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Wonderful.—As people say that patent medicine properties claim to be, why not try them? They can prove what they claim, and not stick to your old fog physicians who have never done you any good, and never will.

Believe me to be a testimonial of a cure of Heart Disease offered by Dr. George Hart Regulator by one and a half bottles.—This we consider wonderful; and is it not so when a man, by reason of a very distressing Heart Disease, unable to do any work for more than a year is restored to perfect health by the use of the Heart Regulator? If you do not believe this assertion, write him, and see if it is not so.

"This is to certify that I have used Dr. Graves' Heart Regulator, and from the worst stages of heart disease I now consider myself well, by the use of one and one-half bottles of Heart Regulator. I have been troubled with heart disease for years with a slight misheating of the heart, and could do no stooping work whatever. I applied to the best physicians in New England, and got no relief, but by the simple use of this really wonderful Heart Regulator, I am now doing day's work, and experience no distress from it. I think there is nothing that equals the Heart Regulator, and advise all afflicted in any way with heart disease to give it a thorough trial, and they will not regret it."

Toilet Sets and Jewelry Stands at Ogburn's.

We had the pleasure of meeting Mr. E. Cuthbert, of the N. Y. Herald, in our city Thursday last. He was on his way to report the suspension of Thomas Johnson, which event took place at Lexington last Friday. The presence of Cuthbert has become suggestive of hemp pulling.

Malaga Grapes and a general assortment of fruits at Willis'.

NEW YORK ARMS.—We are in receipt of the New York Arms, an illustrated Democratic weekly, published by C. P. Sikes, 17 North William Street, New York. It will inculcate healthy Democracy, and also devote itself to literature, the arts, sciences, fashions, &c.

We wish it much success.

We are requested to publish the following from Wentworth, Rockingham Co.:

Editor Patriot.—You will please state that Wentworth is in great need of a good tailor and a good preacher. "When the Sinner leaves the flock the sheep go astray."

Dressed Dolls at Ogburn's.

Our Methodist friends, and others, will be sorry to learn of the serious indisposition of Dr. Munsey, the eminent orator and divine. Over mental application has affected the brain from which cause he is suffering.

PASSEY.—The bill authorizing the County Commissioners to levy a special tax to defray the expense of building the new Court House has passed the Legislature.

FARM SOLD.—We understand that Mr. Dodson sold his farm near Brown Summit to a gentleman from Canada on Monday. We hear it is the intention of the purchaser to bring other families in addition to his own to locate on it.

Ladies' Work Boxes at Ogburn's.

COUNTY RIGHT.—Mr. Michael Greter has purchased the right for the county of Guilford for a washing machine which lays over everything we have seen in that line yet. It dispenses with all rubbing, the clothes being washed by action of the steam and water. It is said to do its work perfectly, and costs less than any other machine in use.

REV. MR. SMITH delivered a beautiful sermon at the burial service of Mrs. Mary J. Greter on last Wednesday. The graceful and tender tribute he paid to the many estimable qualities and virtues of the deceased, recalled the recollections of vanished years, and touched many a heart which beat in sympathy so near the coffin of one so loved in life, so mourned in death.

Motto Cups and Saucers at Ogburn's.

A GOOD SUGGESTION.—It has been suggested by some of our citizens that the holidays be held sometime during the holidays to discuss the subject of immigration and get the sense of the people of the county on it. This is a good move, and when the meeting is held we trust there will be a large attendance of the men who take an interest in the prosperity of the State.

RUN AWAY.—Yesterday while the boy was in the act of hitching Mr. Jesse Lind's horse to the wagon, the horse became frightened, dashed away, bolted through the gate, mowed the wheat, and when the meeting is held we trust there will be a large attendance of the men who take an interest in the prosperity of the State.

REMEMBER THE CONCERT.—To-morrow evening and the evening after is the time set for the concert in the dining room of the Benbow House, where a splendid treat will be offered to those who love good music. The object, too, is a commendable one, and is deserving of all encouragement. Tickets for sale at Ogburn's book store. Go early and secure a good seat.

Race Course and Frog Banks at Ogburn's.

Pleasant Garden Collegiate Institute has 45 students.

THE YORKVILLE ENQUIRER is one of the most valued of our exchanges. A very large sheet, ably conducted and filled weekly with original and well selected matter. Such papers give us a good opinion of the reading public of South Carolina.

By some inadvertence we failed to put the Newbern Liberal on our exchange list when it first came to us. It was an oversight which we regret as we read the Liberal with much pleasure, and wouldn't miss it for anything.

Vases, toilet sets, and a full line of China and other wares at Willis'.

SMITH'S ILLUSTRATED PATTERNS BAZAAR.—We are in receipt of this excellent publication, published by A. Burdette Smith, 914 Broadway, N. Y., at the small sum of $1 a year, which also entitles the subscriber to two patterns which may be selected. It is a large, well printed, and handsomely engraved periodical, also filled with interesting reading matter, and well worth double the price of subscription.

DR. JACKSON.—We were pleased to receive a call from Dr. Jackson on last Saturday. He spent about two months of last summer in England and informs us that the disposition of the people over there is favorable to locating in North Carolina, and that all they need is proper information regarding our State to insure a large immigration of the better class of English farmers. The Doctor is full of energy and activity, and has already been the means of bringing many valuable settlers into this section.

Santa Claus Panoramas at Ogburn's.

FESTIVAL.—We understand that arrangements are being made to give a festival for the benefit of St. Barnabas Church some time about New Year's. Of course there is no occasion to appeal to the well known liberality of our citizens on an occasion like this.

The attention of our readers is called to the advertisement of Sergeant & McCauley's Foundry. They may not be aware, perhaps, that all descriptions of castings are made there, and stores equal to any brought from the North at a much less figure. If such home institutions as this received the patronage they deserve the time would soon come when we would be independent of Northern manufacturers.

Confectionery of every description, and toys and fancy goods without end, at Willis'.

REAPPOINTED.—We are glad to learn that Rev. Mr. Cunningham has been reappointed to preside over the Methodist pastorate in this city for the ensuing year. Mr. C. is deservedly popular with his congregation and also with our citizens at large, who prize him for his Christian deportment and his many estimable traits of character.

ANOTHER WAREHOUSE.—We learn that Mr. Ellison, of Virginia, has leased Mr. M. T. Hughes' New Warehouse and will open it immediately for the sale of leaf tobacco. This makes the third tobacco warehouse now in operation in our city.

THE SOUTHERN FERTILIZER COMPANY.—We learn by letter from Col. Ott, that Col. Palmer has been elected President of this company, to succeed the lamented Col. Gilham, deceased. The operations of the company will be continued as usual, but on a more enlarged scale, as additions have been made to their establishment to enable them to supply the increasing demand for their fertilizers.

Toy Books of all kinds at Ogburn's.

We understand that C. W. Westbrook has made arrangements to connect himself with an institution at Wilson, in this State, and will take up his residence there. We regret this, as Mr. Westbrook has done much to give reputation to our Guilford nurseries throughout the South.

The Arlington Hotel, of Washington, D. C., for the third time since its opening, has undergone a complete embellishment. It was originally fitted up in grand style, with every convenience, elegance and luxury that experience, taste and judgment could desire and money accomplish. During the summer succeeding, it was beautifully frescoed and renovated throughout. Within the past two months all the chambers have been covered with the new style of corrugated gold and silver paper. The House has been re-painted, re-carpeted and a number of the rooms re-furnished. From the constant efforts of the Messrs. Roosevelt, to beautify and improve it, "The Arlington" is now far more luxurious and magnificent than when first opened, and is beyond question what they designed it should be.—THE HOTEL OF THE CAPITAL.

Don't fail to go to the Book Store.

The Board of Directors is composed of the following gentlemen, whose well known characters for integrity, honor, and public enterprise are so well known as to guarantee success and a fair and impartial distribution of the gifts: Major George W. Grice, President Bank of Portsmouth; Col. William Lamb, President First National Bank, Norfolk; Gen. V. D. Grover, General Agent Boston Street Railway Co.; Capt. Nathaniel Burriss of Bureau, Son & Co., Bankers, Norfolk; Wash. Reed, Esq., of Peters & Reed, Merchants; E. G. Ghio, Superintendent Sea-board and Roanoke Railroad; Robert J. Keeley, Esq., of J. & W. The distribution will be by blind-folded persons, or blind children, from two wheels, one of which will contain gifts printed in envelopes of the same size, and the other will contain gifts with numbers on them corresponding with all the tickets sold. After the contents of both wheels are thoroughly mixed, the person at the first wheel will take a number therefrom, and then the person at the second wheel will take a gift therefrom, and the gift thus taken will belong to the number taken immediately before it—this process will continue—the numbers and gifts being publicly announced, until the whole four hundred and one gift are distributed. Thus the public will readily see there can be no fraud, collusion or knowledge of what gift any number will get. Should the tickets be not all sold when the concert comes off, the presents will be distributed in proportion to the number sold.

If it hoped the public will promptly respond to this effort to establish upon a firm basis a delightful resort during the heated months.

TICKETS ONLY $5 EACH.

Currency gifts will be paid in cash at our banking house in the city of Norfolk, on presentation of the tickets entitled thereto without discount.

MESSRS. HICKSON & CO. have received their Fall and Winter Stock and invite their friends and the public generally to an examination of it. Their goods are sold under a GUARANTEE.

Clear and Harmless as Water, NATTAN'S CRYSTAL DISCOVERY FOR THE HAIR

A perfectly clear preparation in one bottle, as easily applied as water, for restoring to gray hair its natural color and youthful appearance, to eradicate and prevent dandruff, to promote the growth of the hair and stop its falling out. It is entirely harmless, and perfectly free from any poisonous substances, and will, therefore, take the place of all the dry and unpleasant preparations now in use.—Numerous testimonials have been sent us from many of our most prominent citizens.—In everything in which the articles now in use are objectionable, CRYSTAL DISCOVERY is perfect. It is warranted to contain neither Sugar of Lead, Sulphur or Nitrate of Silver, it does not soil the clothes or scalp, is agreeably perfumed, and makes one of the best dressings for the hair in use. It restores the color of the hair "more perfectly and uniformly than any other preparation," and, in many ways does so in from three to ten days, virtually feeding the roots of the hair with all the nourishing qualities necessary to its growth and healthy condition. It is a pleasant and elegant preparation, and induces a new growth of the hair more positively than anything else. The application of this wonderful discovery also produces a pleasant and cooling effect on the scalp and gives the hair a pleasing and elegant appearance.

Call at your druggist for it and take no other. If he has not it let him order it. Price $1 per bottle.

FARMER'S COLUMN.

Changing Seed.—A change of seed in agricultural operations is almost always beneficial. Growing the same crop in one locality from year to year, often tends to deterioration. The adaptability of this change of seed from one locality to another is well illustrated in the oat crop. Seed grown in the cool atmosphere and soils of Northern Vermont and Canada is found to grow more luxuriant when raised in the Middle and Western States, and uniformly turns out heavier weight to the bushel. But if the seed is sown in the latter States, without new importation, the produce per acre and the weight per bushel gradually deteriorate.

The farmers of Vermont always grow their potatoes from American seed, and never from their own seed. Hence, they are able to attain a remarkable success in potato culture, such as we never know here. Vegetable seeds should be changed frequently, and obtained from localities remote from the farm where sown.

The farmers of England, who raise excellent cereals, roots, and grasses, are very particular in the selection of seed, in procuring it from a foreign country, if possible, and in steeping it in liquid manure before sowing. In the north of Ireland, where flax is grown extensively, the farmers prefer seed grown in Russia or Holland to that grown by themselves, as they find the change very beneficial. The finest bulbous and tuberous-rooted flowering plants are annually imported into England, the United States, etc., from Holland and Germany, and the change is very beneficial for two or three years. Forest tree seed grown in the mountains of Tyrol germinate in other parts of Europe with much greater vigor than those of home growth.

Enriching Fence Posts.—There is a peculiar satisfaction in listening to the conversation, or in reading the writings of positive men, of those who deal only with facts, and with such facts as have but one side and no exceptions. Such a man tells us, in the Western Rural, how to preserve posts for fences, &c.—He says:

"I discovered many years ago that wood could be made to last longer than iron in the ground, but thought the process so simple and inexpensive that it was not worth while making any stir about it. I would as soon have plowed, hauled, or quaked ash as any other kinds of timber for fence posts. I have taken out basswood posts after having been set seven years, that were as sound when taken up as when they were first put in the ground. Time and weather seemed to have no effect on them. The posts can be prepared for less than two cents apiece. For the benefit of others, I will give the recipe:—Take boiled linseed oil and stir in pulverized charcoal to the consistency of paint. Put a coat of this over the timber, and there is not a man that will live to see it rotten."

Sheep.—Some way or other agriculture seems incomplete without a flock of sheep. They are essential to the thick-set longevity of the old grass land, and all the world over, and in modern times they were esteemed as most important, and in the most improved agricultural country, viz: England; they are cherished by every farmer, from the highest to the lowest. The wool is one of the incomes that cannot be dispensed with, and the flocks are so managed that the teger fleeces than older sheep; in fact, tog fleeces in England not only weigh thirty per cent heavier than those of the ewes, but make more per cent higher prices. If any tenant farmer in the regular agricultural districts of England farmed without sheep, he would soon lose his crops, and nobody would rent to a man who did not practice sheep husbandry.—Country Gentleman.

Worn-Out Soil.—Our American farmers talk a great deal about worn-out soils, just as though land would not remain fertile forever if as much plant-food was returned to it as is taken out. In the agricultural directions of Europe a farmer is expected to constantly increase the fertility of his land instead of wearing it out. Mr. Lewis of England, made experiments with soil owned in one family a thousand years. He sowed a piece continuously to wheat for twenty-seven years with an average of fifteen and five eighths bushels per acre. A piece in barley nineteen years gave twenty bushels per acre and a piece of grass for fourteen years gave twenty-six hundred pounds a year. This soil, consequently, repressed the condition and rotation as practiced; but similar land of the same farm to which fourteen tons of manure had been applied, produced thirty-six bushels of wheat; and with two hundred pounds sulphate, it produced forty-eight bushels of barley. This again shows the value of manure in England and the increased fertility of its soil through the application of manure; and any farmer knowing cost of manure in his locality will use it or not, bearing in mind always that it is much cheaper and easier to keep up the soil than to bring it back once it is impoverished.—N. Y. Sun.

How to keep Meat.—Meat is much better for family use when at least one week old in cold water. The English method for keeping meat for some time has great merit. Experts say, hang up a quarter of meat with the cut end up, being the reverse of the usual way, by the leg, and the juice will remain in the meat, and not run to the cut and dry up, by evaporation. It is worth a trial, and when made will be continued.

TOBACCO, Cotton, Wheat, Corn, Vegetable, &c. Guaranteed first-class and "simon pure." We no longer go to mill with "a rock in one end of the bag and a grist in the other." Every one, in this advanced age, confesses the value of FERTILIZERS, and uses them, because they increase the yield from 50 to 200 per cent, and improve the land every year, while the quality of the crop is improved. Home made manures will do well, but they do not return to the land the proper proportion of substances removed from the ground by a crop. Hence the land will wear out. Call for a circular.
