A LITTLE WOMAN.

In a little precious diamond,
What a splendor meets the eye!
In a little lump of sugar
How much of sweetness lies!

So in a little woman,
Love grows and multiplies;
You recollect the proverb says—
"A word unto the wise."

A pepper-corn is very small,
But seasons every dinner
More than all other condiments,
Although 'tis sprinkled thinner.

Just so a little woman,
If love will let you win her,
There's not a joy in all the world
You will not find within her.

And as within the little rose,
You'll find the richest dye,
And in a little grain of gold
Much price and value lies;

As from a little balsam
Much odor does arise,
So, in a little woman,
There's a taste of Paradise.

The skylark and the nightingale,
Though small and light of wing,
Yet warble sweeter in the grove
Than all the birds that sing;

And so a little woman,
Though a very little thing,
Is sweeter than all other sweets,
Even flowers that bloom in spring!

Bill Arp on the Situation.

We extract a part of the letter, and leave it to speak for itself, only marking that Mrs. Arp is entitled to the first position in the political government of the Arp family.

"Baltimore Convention, and O'-

Conor, and Alek Stevens, and a limited supply of votes, has beat us. Well, we still live. I'm not going to bed about it. Old Greeley ain't no kin to me. Grand ain't neither, and that's what's the matter. I talked for Greeley, and writ for him, and voted for him, but I never did hanker after him. It made such an everlasting fuss in my family I had like to run away.

You see Mrs. Arp wasn't rekonsiled. She was a straight, and when she ain't rekonsiled, things ain't as placid as a silver lake around a hot or desperate, but to say the least of it they are peculiar. A man likes to have his bed and his board screen. Don't he? So you see as my wife was a strait it didn't become me to be very crooked."

And I want—at home. She's a good woman, and she'll endure everything and never grunt nor groan, but she won't compromise worth a cent. I told her I had no pettish use for Greeley and that he was a darned old infatuated humbug, but that our paper belonged to the great untidy, unsatisfied, transmogrified Democratic party and must keep into line. She sed some remarks about papers lying by the day and by the week, and about self-respect and independence and the like, and I grew meek like Moses, in a few minutes."

"Mrs. Arp thinks the paper ought to take 'TRUTH' for a motto and work up to it. I told her it would be a dangerous experiment, but she says it has never been tried yet. If I wasent afeered the little paper would perish to death during the experiment I would try it. Old Shank says we can't be worsted for he has tride lyn for 20 years and it won't pay. He says it would be an episode in the press, a kuroosity, something like a elephant or an eklipse or John Robinson's Great

Circus."

Somnambulism on a Train.

The Salem Press, of the 14th instance, gives the following thrilling account of a lady that stepped from a flying train at night, while asleep, and escaped unhurt.

While the train bearing the excurtionists to Greensboro was running at full speed between Augusta and Atlanta, Ga., the wife of Mr.

Joseph Holder arose from her seat in the car, and going to the platform, deliberately stepped off the train. Her husband, who was asleep at the time, soon discovered her absence, and began searching the car for her, but unable to find her, he supposed she had been thrown off the car and probably killed. The conductor was immediately informed of the circumstance, but could not be detained any length of time, as he then was behind time. Mr. Holder and several young men laid over and instituted diligent search, when Mrs.

Holder was found, after having been several days and nights in the woods. When discovered she was almost starved and frozen. She stated to her husband that she thought she was at home and merely stepped out of the house. How she escaped being dashed to pieces

no one is ble to tell, as the train was running at the rate of thirty or forty miles per hour at the time she stepped off the platform of the car. She was, however, found unhurt, not having a scratch or bruise upon her person.

How to Bore Holes in Glass.—Any hard steel tool will cut glass with great facility when kept freely wet with camphor dissolved in turpentine. A drill may be used, or even the hand alone. A hole may be readily enlarged by a round file.

The ragged edges of glass may also be thus smoothed with a flat file.

Flat window glass can be readily saved by a watch spring saw, by the aid of this solution. In short, the most brittle glass can be wrought almost as easily as wood,

by the use of cutting tools kept constantly moist with camphor oil or turpentine.

A Talking-Machine.

An ingenious piece of mechanism is thus described by the Baltimore Sun:

The machine is necessarily intricate in structure to produce the sounds of the human voice, but the patient inventor has been measurably successful. A bellows worked by a treadle answers for lungs, rubber pipes for the glottis, while a tongue and lower jaw, all worked in unison by delicate machinery, put in motion from levers under the operator's hands, produce the sounds of the human voice in a high, low, or medium key, as desired.

Mrs. Faber, the wife of the inventor, sat down to the machine as to an Estey organ and played upon it.

The instrument was first carried through the scale of primary sounds, articulating the vowels from the recesses of its glottis. It was made to laugh "ha, ha, ha," "ho, ho, ho," "he, he, he," &c., which it did like the demon in the play.

Then it was called upon to pronounce female names—"Jo-sephina," "Wil-hel-mi-na," "Caro-li-na,"

"Lu-la," "Ma-ry," &c., uttering the words by syllables as written, but slowly, in response to the touches of the operator's fingers upon the keys. Some very long and difficult words were pronounced, such as

WEDNESDAY, DEC. 4, 1872.

THE DEATH OF HORACE GREELEY.

At ten minutes before seven, on Friday evening last, the soul of that great thinker, writer, journalist and man, Horace Greeley, passed from the stage of an eventful, busy, active life, to that other land, towards which we are all journeying, great and small. His physician says he died of excessive strain on the nerves, caused by over work during the political campaign and unremitting attentions at the bedside of his sick wife to whom he was devotedly attached. His death took the country by surprise, for while it was known that his health was impaired it was not thought to be so severely so as to lead to the apprehension that his life was in danger.

Physicians call it a nervous attack, but, in fact, his death was caused by nothing more or less than a broken heart. The labor of his life had been given to his country; he watched it as closely as he would his first born; every day, for a quarter of a century, he held converse with millions of her children through the columns of the Tribune; he helped to shape her destiny and to make her what she is; his had become a familiar name throughout the length and the breadth of the land, and thousands quoted him as authority inspired; he treasured the hope of some day taking the seat of honor in the chair of the Presidents, and when this hope seemed in the way of realization he finds the very people to whom he had given a life of labor, turn against him as against their bitterest enemy and assail him with a vindictive unprovokedness. Thus were the services he rendered repaid with ingratitude and the good he had done them rewarded by abuse.

Greeley's nature was a sensitive one and it felt the shock, too much for even a powerful constitution as his. He had thought much and deeply over this as is seen from words uttered a little while before his death when that great mind seemed to be wandering. "The country is gone, the Tribune is gone, and I am gone," are among the last words that are recorded of him and show that on the very verge of dissolution the condition of his country had made its lasting impression on him.

Aristides died in exile because he was just, Marius wandered in poverty amid the ruins of Carthage, driven from a country he had saved, by a sickle multitude, and Greeley died the victim of honesty, which is not appreciated in these days of political degeneracy.

Such is life and its uncertainties, and such are human hopes and ambitions. A few short months, nay! hours, may blast them all, and he on whom the millions looked as a leader yesterday to-day is naught but a lifeless shape, food of the worm that in its turn fattens and dies.

A SUGGESTION.

From a printed circular sent out by the commissioners, we learn that preparations are being made to have a creditable representation of American products at the international industrial exhibition, which takes place at Vienna, next December. This will afford us a splendid opportunity of showing to the world in a comprehensive way, what North Carolina can do in the mineral line. To do this, however, it will be necessary for the Legislature to make a small appropriation to secure the services of a competent person to make the selection under the direction of Prof. Kerr, whose professional duties will prevent him from devoting as much time as would be required if the matter were left to him entirely.

The amount of money it will cost will be insignificant compared with the immense advantage it may be to our State in thus bringing before the view of the capitalists of Europe our mineral resources. We know of no more practical or less costly way by which this can be done.

There is not a railroad in the State that would not willingly give gratuitous transportation to the agent employed by the State and all such specimens as he might send.

We simply throw this out as a hint, hoping that some member of the Legislature will take it up and put it into practical shape, and secure an appropriation to carry it out.

The indictment against W. M. Tweed, the New York Tammany swindler, contains 1050 pages. If this don't save him his lawyers must be stupid indeed.

They propose to ship iron ore from Africa to compete with our native ores.

THE SENATORIAL QUESTION DECIDED.

After seven days of strategy, chicanery, wire-pulling, and promises made never intended to be kept, the senatorial contest came to a close yesterday, the eighth day, by the election of Judge Merrimon, who received 87 votes to 80 cast for Governor. Out of the 87 votes cast for Merrimon 15 were Conservatives, the balance Radicals, John Pool's friends having determined, when coaxing money and threats failed to secure a sufficient number of Conservatives to elect the intriguer, to throw their strength as a unit against Vance, the regular nominee, which they did, and elected Merrimon. Vance was the nominee of the party caucus and received the support of the party with the exception of the 15 who refused to abide by its action and publicly resolved to beat Vance "if it took all winter."

We regret exceedingly that Judge Merrimon, for whom we entertain a high respect, has seen fit to choose this course, and accept an election at the hands of the Radicals when he failed to secure the support of his own party friends. It will have a bad effect on the party organization, and will result in disasters to us hereafter.

The Radicals already claim the result as a triumph for them, and virtually it is so.

THE LEGISLATURE.

We fail to find anything in the proceedings of the Legislature thus far that is of general interest to our readers. The bills introduced up to this time are mostly of a special nature and are invested only with local importance. The Constitutional amendments will soon come up and then, perhaps, the proceedings may be of some interest.

We trust that when the Constitution is amended it will be so done as to take all special legislation out of the Legislature. What do we in Guilford care whether they build bridges across Tar River or not? That's a matter that belongs to the people there. If they want a new jail or poor house, or any public building what difference does it make to us, or why should the people of all the State have anything to say about it?

Wipe out your special legislation and you save thousands of dollars annually to the people.

OFFICE DECLINED.

His Honor, R. P. Dick, U. S. Judge for this District, tendered the appointment of Commissioner for this, the Western District of North Carolina, to Samuel Forkner of this County. He declines to accept the position, though, with kind regards to His Honor for many manifestations of kindness towards him, now and heretofore.—Survey Visitor.

This is one of the first instances on record of a Radical refusing an appointment to office, but this rare instance of usefulness will be better understood when we know that the appointment only embraced a county and is worth in round figures about ten cents a year.

MAJ. N. H. HOTCHKISS.

We find the following complimentary, and deserved notice of this true type of a sterling man in the Valley Virginian; and we endorse every word of it:

"This indefatigable and public spirited gentleman, has resumed his connection with the York River Railroad, and is now the general traveling agent for the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad and the York River Improvement. The Lexington Gazette and the Richmond papers, in announcing this resumption of his public duties, and his efficiency as an agent, but the deep and unselfish interest he manifests in the welfare of Virginia. The Gazette says: 'He is a big immigration society in himself, and by far more successful than many pretentious corporations of the kind.' Hotchkiss is a valuable citizen, and certainly a charming companion—fresh, buoyant and lively."

The action of the United States marshal in Alabama in arresting the Democratic members of the Legislature for alleged violation of the election laws and carrying them to Mobile to prevent a quorum of the Legislature, is severely condemned here by the Administration as unwarranted, unnecessary, and, perhaps, illegal. If the account of the affair as telegraphed north is correct the marshal who made the arrests will receive a severe reprimand, if not the greater punishment of being dismissed from office. Such is the expressed view of Attorney General Williams.

A pretty turn things are taking when a strutting marshal can seize and imprison members of a State Legislature when transacting the business of the people, and thus effectively clog the wheels of State government, and then we are informed that the penalty may be a "severe reprimand," or perhaps, removal from office. This boasted State sovereignty, which we once prided ourselves on, is about played out.

Twenty eight murders have been perpetrated in New York city within the last seven months.

The Question of Color in the Cabinet.

It would seem, if rumors from Washington are to be credited, that the colored people, who have representative in the two houses of Congress, now demand representation in the Cabinet. A special to the Baltimore Star says: "It was intimated before the Presidential election that in the event of General Grant's triumph, the colored element would demand a seat in the Cabinet, and their claims are being pressed early in the person of Langston, one of the colored professors of Howard University, who is urged by Fred Douglass and others for the Attorney Generalship. They state that the colored people have been represented in the Senate and House of Representatives, and in the State judiciary, and that it is about time that the 800,000 colored votes thrown for the Republican party and for the re-election of Grant were represented in the latter's Cabinet. Indeed, they go as far as to declare that the President's re-election is mainly due to the balance of power retained in the Republican party in several States by the colored vote. The Attorney General seems to have a pretty strong hold on the President, and it is probably that the colored demand will be transferred to the Postmaster Generalship, with Fred Douglass as the candidate to succeed Mr. Greeley. A Mississippi colored man by the name of Gray is also a candidate for a mission abroad."

From Washington.—The New York World's Washington correspondent thus writes:

The President's strongest partisans are already promising to run him for a third term, and to boast still further, if it were possible, that the Republican party is strong enough to give him a life tenure at the head of the Government. Rumors of a revival of the Santo Domingo scheme, an aggressive policy towards Mexico and Spain, and changes in the Cabinet as the result of a continuance of the Administration flying through the air, under current of gossip, but at present, at least, have no public foundation. The President is represented by White House visitors as hearing everything but saying nothing or doing nothing but pulling away at the conventional cigar and occasionally laughing at a recipe sent by telegraph by some veterinary epizootist for the relief of his afflicted stud. These dispatches, it is not strange to say, interest him quite as much as telegrams with election returns, especially those that are iterating to him that peace is having a victory no less renowned than war.

Appeal to the Humane.

The undersigned begs leave to enlist the sympathies of all good people for the many bereaved and needy who suffered from the violence of the recent terrible gales in counties bordering on the Baltic. From the heartrending accounts which have reached us by cable, and which the reader has undoubtedly seen in the newspapers, vessels have been wrecked, sea towns have been destroyed, and a great number of lives lost, one entire island having been submerged and all the inhabitants drowned. It has become my duty, therefore, to make an earnest appeal to the benevolently inclined, whether native or foreign born, for contributions to ward relieving the immediate necessities of those who are the greater sufferers by this calamity. They are now on the verge of a long and severe winter and their sufferings must be terrible beyond expression, and cannot fail to touch the humane heart. Contributions will be received at the Danish Vice Consulate, Wilmington, N. C. They will be publicly acknowledged, and forwarded to the Danish Legation at New York, and remitted by cable, and judiciously distributed by the Government among the most needy sufferers. Remember me.

R. E. HEIDE,
Danish Vice Consul.

Who Wants to Leave North Carolina.—T. R. Chas. P. Jones, formerly of Fayetteville, N. C., writes from Springfield, Missouri, as follows: "Who wants to go from North Carolina to Missouri to raise corn for fifteen cents per bushel. By all means let the silly people who are moving off from North Carolina go to Missouri and be pinched up with the ice and snow in the winter and get fifteen cents for corn in the summer. Mr. Jones states prices as follows: 'I have been offered corn in the field at 15 cents per bushel. Fine timothy and clover hay and other varieties are offered at $10 per ton delivered. Some varieties at $8 and $9. Pork is not selling at 24 to 34 cents per pound gross. Will range out at 34 to 41, I think. Strange to say, live stall feed beef is now higher than pork. Mules and horses are now low in value. I have been offered good horses for $60 have seen lately good horses and mules sold at auction in this city at $40 and $50.'—Charlotte Democrat.

The Masonic Temple.—The Masonic Temple to be built in this city and to cost about one hundred thousand dollars will probably be begun in erection early next Spring. Mr. Southgate, the active agent for contributions, has visited 86 out of the 230 lodges in this State, 70 of which have already subscribed twenty-five thousand dollars, this not including our own city, which subscribes twenty-five thousand of herself, and the Grand Lodge that subscribes ten thousand, making the whole amount subscribed up to this date, sixty thousand dollars.—Raleigh Era.

North Carolina Agricultural Convention.—We call attention to the fact that this grand council of the Farmers of North Carolina will meet in Raleigh on the 11th day of December. The President of the Convention is Hon. John W. Norwood, Senator from Orange.—Raleigh News.

A Palatial Business Office.

For months past a large force of skilled artisans have been busily engaged remodeling the building, northeast corner of Calvert and Baltimore streets. These have now finished their work, and the result is, one of the most ornate and magnificent establishments interiorly in this or any other city. It has been done at the instance of the Pennsylvania, Northern Central and Baltimore and Potomac Railroads, and will be used by these great railway corporations as a general ticket office. On Thursday night the beautiful and elegant chandeliers were lighted for the first time, and revealed a saloon of splendor and elegance that we have never seen surpassed. The floor is of the best selected style, white and blue blocks of marble alternately frescoed, the ceilings and ticket shelves are of massive black walnut, with panels made in the former from highly polished walnut root, and inlaid with bird's eye maple. A magnificent clock occupies a prominent position, and a gorgeous mirror in the end of the room, reflects the counterpart of all this elegance, thus giving a most pleasing effect. Tickets may be purchased at this office for over four thousand different points, and baggage checked at the same time. This requires a system and some space, but the liberal and energetic corporation have added to these, glittering splendor. It would be safe to say that there is nothing in New York or Chicago which can approach this, and after Broadway and Lake street, all other offices of course must pale and grow dim.

At the instance of Samuel T. De Ford, Jr., Esq., the Southeastern Agent of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, quite a number of railroad officials and members of the Press, assembled at the new office on Thursday evening last. After examining the gorgeous establishment, the company adjourned to Lovell's supper rooms, on Fayette street, where an excellent supper had been prepared. Here a jovial hour or two was consumed in discussing the creature comforts.—Baltimore Gazette.

Dubuque, Iowa, lays claim to a venerable old Irish lady, who has added to the census list four daughters and two sons, thirty-three grandchildren, twenty great-grand children, and two great-grand children. She is still in the enjoyment of good health and has all her mental faculties unimpaired.

She ought to be relieved from duty and put on a pension for the balance of her days.

Alexis the Russian prince, says America has more beautiful ladies in proportion to population than any country in the world.

The papers are recording an unusual number of destructive fires in different parts of the country since the conflagration at Boston.

Mr. Greeley's life was insured by the stockholders of the Tribune for $100,000.

"Ornithophylomosis" is what they call the chicken disease in New York.

Vox populi, vox Dei, that Radical papers are so fond of quoting is about played out.

The Legislature ought to stop all aid to a dead and useless concern like the North Carolina University, and devote its attention and any spare money to educating the poor white boys of the State.—Charlotte Democrat.

We agree with brother Yates.—Let but a reflecting glance be given the impoverishment of our white children of the present day as to education, and we blush to say it—we will find a larger number of the blacks being educated, and more zealous, more pains taken among their own parents in having them educated, than we find among our own race. This may all look as nothing now to our working people.

They may argue now that they had rather teach their children to work than to be idle, and let's skip twenty years ahead and let's look at the classes, and now don't we shudder at the thought! One educated; the other not. Shall it be so?—Hillsboro Recorder.

Well Done.—We are disposed to heartily thank Mr. Morrison of Lincoln, for his bill fixing the salary of the Governor at $3,000. Of all the States in the Union, North Carolina pays a larger salary to the Governor than any other, save some five, we believe. One of the poor, the number of square miles considered, our people are yet taxed to pay a Governor $5,000.—Raleigh Sentinel.

Hard on the Revenue Men.—Under the Internal Revenue law the force of assessors and collectors of that office, now numbering 230 of each class, is to be reduced to 80 by the 1st of January next, and Commissioner Douglass will soon begin the work of consolidating districts in order to make the reduction. In some States there will be but one or two collectors assigned.

A Giant.—Colonel Orr, a resident of Cleveland, and a man of gigantic stature, was in the city to-day, and was followed by an admiring crowd around the streets. The Colonel was born in Marysville, Ohio, and is now about twenty-eight years of age. He is nearly seven feet and a half in height, and weighs a little over six hundred pounds. He has been on exhibition both in this country and Europe for the past few years. The giant is quite well, and, speaking fluently English, French, and German, and is not at all unkindly considering his immense weight. He is here as a agent for a "bitters" house, but is not very bitter himself, being exceedingly affable and pleasant.—Pittsburg Leader.

There are 230 masonic lodges with a membership of 11,148 in this State.

Correspondence of Patriot.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 30, 1872.

IN THE ATMOSPHERE.—This being essentially a political community, everything is made subservient to the powers that be that thrive by following. The disease being endemic, even the ministers of the gospel, with notable exceptions, are attacked with, and they preach Radicalism—sugar coated—instead of Christ, as they are paid for doing; but it suits the locality, and the people are not so much interested in giving sermons were little more than eulogies of the Administration and its wisdom. Sometimes direct and sometimes by implication it was given out that Republicanism—in a party sense—was an abomination of the Bible and Christianity. The beauties of negro social equality, the teachings of Christ, the Washington story, the Union, the flag and the cross, were all jumbled together as tributes to the wisdom of General Grant and the Radical party, almost to the exclusion of the precepts and practices of the meek and lowly Jesus.

A pleasing contrast to the preaching of the political Reverends was the action of the Young Men's Christian Association who gave a dinner to the NEWSBOYS on Thanksgiving day, when about 400 of our newspaper merchants sat down to a sumptuous repast, such a never before delighted their hearts or astonished their stomachs. It was an odd sight to witness 400 human waifs, of all sizes, white and black, sitting at a long table, eating and drinking, and talking and laughing—marching in to the dinner table to the strains of music from a brass band.—They soon made a fearful wreck of that splendid feast and went to their poor and lowly homes with feelings of thankfulness to those who had made one day of their cheerless lives so bright and happy.

THE COMING SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY.—I have it from reliable authority that Senator Morton, of Indiana, will be offered the Treasury portfolio, and is understood that he will accept it. This will be gall and wormwood to Senator Cameron, of Pennsylvania, who was recently snubbed by the President behind the civil service bureau, Morton being Cameron's rival for Grant's favor. It is reported by those who have the means of knowing that through Wall Street speculations, the purchase and sale of gold and government bonds, Secretary Fish well has grown from a poor man to a modern Cressus, and that Secretary Fish from being quite wealthy is now being nearly ruined and will go about with a diplomatic capacity in order to gain an opportunity to extricate himself.

If Senator Morton will be an unscrupulous as a government officer as he has been a Senator in matters political, he will be a worthy successor of the Graton Grocer—Boutwell—and "put money in his purse."

DEATH OF HORACE GREELEY.

The death of Horace Greeley—the great Journalist—has touched a sympathetic chord in nearly all the editorial hearts of the country, and expressions of sympathy and sorrow are universal, even among those who were formerly his bitter enemies, the exception to this so far being the political partisans of the New York Times, who with characteristic indecency, coarseness, and lack of truth, said that "Mr. Greeley was a man of no great talents, and the world would be the better for his death." The world well knows that he was a constant watcher long weary days and nights at the bedside of his sick wife, rarely taking food or taking rest, almost entirely neglecting the political part, and then, when that and the great blow of her death struck the chords of an affectionate and sympathetic nature which were so true to their utmost tension. The smiling Englisher who attributes his death to disappointed ambition cannot rise above gloating in his triumph, and wholly misses the character of the noble Statesman, if he thinks to carry away from him by dirty, low blackguard election campaign tricks at one who, whatever may have been his political mistakes, was honest and a great journalist.

OUR HOTELS.

The Hotel proprietors of the Capital are a pace with the spirit of public improvements going on here. The Messrs. Roscoe of "The Arlington," for the third time in three years, have embellished their establishment with the most costly oriental luxuries and magnificence with all the American conveniences and home comforts, to which is added a convivial celebration of the centennial of the Revolution, and the new and beautiful corrugated gold and silver paper. The exquisite taste in refurbishing several suites of the Arlington, and the general praise. "The Arlington" is especially the centre of wealth and fashion and as such is one of the lions of the Capital.

Gen. HORACE PORTER, one of Grant's secretaries at the White House, has resigned his position as major in the army and accepted the position of Vice-President of the Pullman Palace Car Company. Gen. Habcok takes his place.

COMPROMISING WITH FRAUD.

The action of the government agents in withdrawing the suit—frauds upon the revenue—against Weld & Co. of Boston, upon the payment of half a million of dollars has led the Chronicle, of this city, Radical journal, to inquire whether the large officials, men in high places, are to be permitted to buy themselves off with a portion of their ill-gotten gains while the small fry are to be punished and disgraced. This would seem to be the policy of the Administration, and Gen. Grant has pardoned Major Hodge and Col. Bowerman, in the past week, both of whom were wholesale embezzlers of the Government funds. The same policy is being pursued in the case of the Penitentiary officers, or crime against the government is condoned by part payment of the amount stolen. Truly we will see civil service reform in more ways than one.

CONSOLIDATION OF BUREAUS.

A bill will be introduced in Congress to consolidate the internal revenue bureau and the customs bureau of the treasury under one head with special agents to assess and collect the revenue from internal sources.

INAUGURATION DAY.

Gov. Cooke greatly riled the government officials and officers of State associations by ignoring them in calling a meeting to make preparations for the 4th day of March next, when the inauguration will take place. The committee having the inauguration ball in charge cannot give "the man and brother" the cold shoulder as they determined to dance as they voted—side by side with their Radical friends—and they will.

A Good Sign.—Judge Moore informs us that only one man has been sentenced to the Penitentiary throughout his entire circuit during the present riding, commencing at Tyrrell and ending at Edgecombe. This is a good indication of an improved state of morals in the district.—Tarboro Southerner.

A Horrible Rape in Orange.—We learn that a negro boy, aged 17 years, committed violence the other day on the person of a little daughter of manly Stroud, a very worthy citizen of White Cross, in Orange county. The little girl was only four years of age, and had followed the negro to the pen to feed the hogs. The brute was arrested and is now in jail at Hillsboro. He confesses the crime.—Rat. Era.

There are 230 masonic lodges with a membership of 11,148 in this State.

Characteristic Letter.—As an introduction to the subjoined letter it is proper to state that Mr. Greeley was a warm personal friend of Charles Lanman, to whom it was addressed, at Washington. Mr. Lanman's earlier essays as a writer were published in the New Yorker. Although he never participated in politics, Mr. Greeley occasionally favored him with letters of advice and took a special interest in the success of his "Dictionary of Congress." Mr. Greeley's last note to Mr. Lanman is as follows:

NEW YORK, June 27, 1872. "Friend Lanman,—Received your note of the 25th instant. I have all my life been doing what people called vastly foolish and impolitic, and I did not dispute their judgment. I only said that what I did seemed to me the right thing. If I should die before the election, or be beaten therein, please testify for me that I do not regret having braved public opinion when I thought it wrong and knew it to be meritorious. Yours, HORACE GREELEY."

Disease Among the Fowls.—Reports from different parts show that chickens are affected with a disease similar to the epizootic. In some instances the head swells to double the natural size. In Baltimore the bird fanciers are nearly as much exercised just now as the owners of horses, an epidemic of the most fatal character having broken out among the feathered tribe. The songsters fall dead from their perches as suddenly as the dealer describes it as causae mada N2, but German gentlemen contents that it is ornithosis.

In a recent ruling, Judge Dick of the U. S. Circuit Court of the Western District of North Carolina, holds that the revererionary interest in the homestead lands is exempt to the bankrupt, under the laws of North Carolina, chapter 121—Act 1869-70.—Hickory Tavern Eagle.

Mr. N. L. Gimble, of this neighborhood, raised 278 bushels of corn on five acres,—being a fraction over 55½ bushels to the acre. Of the five acres 1½ was bottom, and 3½ common upland. The ground was well ploughed previous to planting, but not afterwards, the crop being kept clean by a Cultivator or Hoe Harrow.

Mr. Gimble's corn is of a fine yellow variety, and weighs considerably over the standard weight of 56 pounds to the bushel, when shelled. Seed can be obtained if he wanted.—Salom Press.

Jacob DeWitter proposes to issue a paper to-day in Raleigh in the interests of the colored people.

Loyalty in Catawba.—The store of Mr. Brunns, at Hickory Tavern, has been twice entered by burglars. There is no doubt that the burglars are in "full accord with the government of the United States," as Gov. Caldwell beautifully expresses it.

Says the Charlotte Home: The boarding house of Mr. McKinney was broken into on the night of the 20th. He heard the noise and captured the burglar, a loyal white man, named Henry Meyers, who was turned over to the boarding department of Sheriff Alexander.

Stay at Home.—Our young friend and former townsman, Robert C. Montgomery, passed through the city on Sunday en route to his home in Warren, after a four years' sojourn in Texas. Robert says he rather liked Texas, and though it is a good country he is convinced there is no State that has superior claims over North Carolina for a young man, and with the advantages of climate and society, North Carolina is his choice. Young men, stay at home and be contented with your lot.—Raleigh News.

Cost of Fencing.—There are in different States, 1,619,199,428 rods of fencing, put up at a total cost of $1,747,549,981.

MEMORIAL MEETING.—DEATH OF B. B. BULLA, Esq.—The members of the bar in attendance upon the Randolph Superior Court, together with the citizens of the county, assembled, on the 29th day of November, in the Court House, at Asheville, to do honor to the memory of B. B. Bulla, Esq., late a counselor of the court.

The following attorneys were present: Ralph Gorrell, A. W. Tourgee, J. M. Leach, C. P. Mendenhall, John N. Staples, John A. Gilmer, J. C. Harris, L. M. Scott, H. Julian, James A. Graham, George W. Reid, J. A. Blair, W. S. Ball, M. S. Robin, Samuel S. Jackson and John J. Jackson.

The meeting was organized by the appointment of Ralph Gorrell, Chairman, and W. S. Ball, Sec'y.

Mr. Gorrell made feeling and appropriate remarks, commending the many virtues of the deceased.

On motion, the following committee on resolutions was appointed: J. M. Leach, C. P. Mendenhall, L. M. Scott, J. C. Harris and John N. Staples.

They reported the following RESOLUTIONS.

WHEREAS, it has pleased Almighty God to remove from our midst our professional and brother, B. B. Bulla, Esq., therefore be it Resolved, 1. That in the death of our brother, we lament the loss of a worthy attorney of the court, a man of a genial nature and fine social qualities.

2. That after abandoning his profession as a lawyer, upon his election as Clerk of the Superior Court, he demeaned himself in an unbecomingly manner, and discharged the duties of his office honestly and faithfully.

3. That in the death of Mr. Bulla, the poor have lost a friend and the county a useful and prominent citizen.

4. That we tender our heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved family in their great loss and affliction.

5. That a copy of these resolutions be transmitted to the family of the deceased, and to the GREENSBORO PATRIOT and New North State, with the request that the same be published.

6. That a copy of the resolutions be presented to the Superior Court, now in session, with the request that they be spread upon the minutes thereof.

Remarks were made by Rep. J. M. Leach, John N. Staples, Esq., and Levi Scott, Esq.

The resolutions were then unanimously adopted, and, on motion, the meeting adjourned.

RALPH GORRELL, Chm'n.
W. S. BALL, Sec'y.

Canada Call Off.—It really looks as if England wanted to shake Canada off. The London Times, in a recent article about the Washington treaty, the fishery question, the San Juan boundary, etc., gives the blue-roses their discharge after the following fashion: "From this time forth look after your own business yourselves; you are strong enough, you are intelligent enough, and if there were any deficiency in any of these points it would be supplied by the education of self reliance. We are both in a false position, and the time has arrived when we should be relieved from it. Take up your freedom; your days of apprenticeship are over."

Says the Southern Home: Mr. A. Farley made on the old Johnston place, (where Col. Wm. Johnston was born) 1,000 bushels of corn, 7 bales of cotton, wheat, oats, etc., working but two mules. This is a very old place and what industry will accomplish on what is called worn out land.

Winter seems to have burst on North West with sudden fury.—From Western Minnesota, we hear of great snow drifts, trains delayed, intense cold, and possible starvation among railway workers out of from relief. This severity of the season is unusual.—N. Y. Tribune.

The State Docket, says the Southern, is remarkably large, numbering on Tuesday 202 cases, of which 53 were for bastardy. The Civil Appearance Docket numbers 42 cases, and the Civil Issue Docket 115 cases.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Wonderful.—As people say that patent medicine claims their remedies to be, why not believe them if they can prove what they claim, and not stick to your old fashioned physicians who have never done you any good, and never will.

Below we give a testimonial of a cure of Heart Disease offered by Dr. Graves' Heart Regulator by only one and a half bottles.—This we consider wonderful, and it is not as when a man, by reason of a very distressing Heart Disease, unable to do any work for more than a year is restored to perfect health by the use of the Heart Regulator. If you do not believe this assertion, write him, and see if it is not so.

"This is to certify that I have used Dr. Graves' Heart Regulator, and from the worst stages of Heart Disease, I am now a healthy man, well, by the use of one and one-half bottles of Heart Regulator. I have been troubled a little more than one year with a sluggish misbehavior of the heart, and could do no work, and was unable to apply to the best physicians in New England, and got no relief, but by the simple use of this really valuable remedy, I am now able to do a good day's work, and experience no distress from it. I thank the farmer, the professional man, and the calculations have been made for such meridians and latitudes as are most suitable for a correct and comprehensive National Calendar.

The Great Pictorial Almanac.—Hostetter's United States Almanac for 1873, for distribution gratis, throughout the United States, and all civilized countries of the Western Hemisphere, is now published and ready for delivery, in the English, German, French, Norwegian, Swedish, Danish, Icelandic, and Spanish languages, and all who wish to understand the true philosophy of health should read and ponder the valuable suggestions it contains. In addition to an admirable medical treatise on the causes, prevention and cure of a great variety of diseases, it embraces a large amount of information interesting to the merchant, the mechanic, the farmer, the professional man, and the calculations have been made for such meridians and latitudes as are most suitable for a correct and comprehensive National Calendar.

The nature, uses, and extraordinary sanitary effects of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the staple tonic and alterative of more than half the Christian world, are fully set forth in its pages, which are also interspersed with pictorial illustrations, valuable recipes for the household and farm, humorous anecdotes, and other instructive and amusing reading matter, original and selected.

Among the many who appear with the opening of the year, this will be one of the most useful, and may be had for the asking. The proprietors, Messrs. Hostetter & Smith, Pittsburgh, Pa., on receipt of a two cent stamp, will forward a copy by mail to any person who cannot procure one in his neighborhood. The Bitters are sold in every city, town, and village, and are extensively used throughout the entire civilized world. dec

A UNIVERSAL ARTICLE OF FAITH.—In these days of universal contention, it has been thought impossible to indicate an article of faith upon which all sects and classes were agreed. There is one, however, and it is very simple, and it is: a belief which is implicit and universal in the paramount efficacy of that matchless household tonic and recuperant, Plantation Bitters. The constantly increasing patronage which it receives, and the fact that it has excited the petty envy of certain splenetic advertisers of pincock patent medicines, who hope to make a market for their own wares, by the means of a cheap stamp, will forward a copy by mail to any person who cannot procure one in his neighborhood. The Bitters are sold in every city, town, and village, and are extensively used throughout the entire civilized world. dec

MOVED.—Mr. T. B. Keogh is moving to-day into the residence recently purchased from Calvin McAdoo.

THE GRAND LODGE is in session now at Raleigh. Bro. Hildeheimer represents Elmwood Lodge of this place.

GOING TO TEXAS.—Richard Hall and H. D. McAllister started for Texas yesterday. The rambling fever seems to be prevalent among our young men.

IF you want toys or fancy articles go to Brown's, in Raleigh, where you will find as full an assortment as in any establishment south of Baltimore.

REIDVILLE FEMALE COLLEGE, Spartanburg District, S. C., is said to be the cheapest, healthiest and most retired institution in the South.

MARRIED.—Our old friend Pauley Haghes has left the order of single knight-hood and joined the benedictines. Much joy be with him.

RETURNED.—We were pleased to meet, on Monday, Col. Shober, who returned Saturday night from his bridal tour in the North. Many happy years is the wish of his numerous friends.

OUR friends wishing anything in the jewelry line will find H. Mahler, opposite the market house on Fayetteville street, Raleigh. He stands with A No. 1 reputation among business men.

CONCERT.—We understand that next Friday week is the time fixed for the concert to be given for the benefit of Elmwood Lodge. The public may expect an entertainment of the first order, as the best talent of our city is in training.

MEETING OF OLD FELLOWS.—We are requested to say that there will be a special meeting of the Old Fellows at their hall on Tuesday evening next. Important business, and a full attendance requested.

GOING TO TENNESSEE.—It will be seen by reference to advertisement in our column that Mr. W. A. Caldwell offers for sale his real estate and personal property having concluded to remove to Tennessee. Mr. C. is one of our oldest and most esteemed citizens, long identified with our growing little city, and we regret his departure exceedingly.

THE Good Templars of this place have received their organ, and will use it at their next meeting, Monday night.

MICA.—We are under obligations to Rev. Mr. Dunn, of Buncombe county, for specimens of mica found on the borders of this county and Rockingham. Mr. Dunn informs us that they are quite as good as samples picked up on the surface in Buncombe county, where the mines are being worked with profit.

PERCHASSED.—We understand that Mr. T. B. Keogh has purchased the old home-land of Calvin McAdoo, on Asheboro street. This is one of the most desirable residences in the city. The way real estate is ranging, and the improvements on it, we would not consider $10,000 a high price for it.

THE YANBOROUGH HOUSE was crowded from ground floor to third story all of last week as it always is when anything transpires in Raleigh to call outsiders thither. The travelling public have come to regard it as the only hotel in Raleigh, and its proprietor as a prince among landlords.

Read the advertisement of H. C. Willis in another column. Mr. Willis has a full assortment of toys, confectionery, &c., and a fine stock of such articles as are appropriate Christmas presents for the little folks. Call and see him.

SADDLE AND BRIDLE.—We see by a circular sent us, that Neal Brothers, of Danville, offer as a premium, a fine saddle and bridle to the planter who obtains the highest price for tobacco at their warehouse in Danville, not less than 100 pounds to be counted. Here is a chance to get a good price for tobacco and a saddle and bridle to boot.

After carefully reading one of the circulars of Wells' Grand Distribution, which takes place in Bridgeport, Conn., December 10, 1872, we have become satisfied that it is an enterprise worthy the attention and patronage of all. It is a home affair, endorsed by all the leading citizens of Bridgeport, and the vast amount of property to be given away will afford an opportunity to hundreds of securing valuable gifts of various kinds, including houses and lots, horses and carriages, bank stock, government bonds, and many articles we have not space to enumerate. All are advised to send early to the great central office of Wells' Grand Distribution, at Bridgeport, Conn., and secure a handsome chromo or engraving, ranging in price from $1 to $5, and a share in the grand distribution for each dollar's worth of pictures purchased.

While in Raleigh last week we had the pleasure of attending a sociable at St. Mary's Seminary, and a sacred Cantata at the Peace Institute. They were both delightful occasions.

Dr. Sneads does every thing in his power to render those in his charge happy, and the consequence is bright and sunny faces, light and contented hearts around him. And long after the pupils have left and mingled with the world they look back with tender emotion to St. Mary's and remember with affection the kind-hearted Doctor whose delight seemed to be in making their girlhood happy.

ROBBED OF HIS BACON.—A colored man by the name of Parker was fearfully assaulted on Saturday night, about train time, by parties unknown, near the old Institute. The object of the assault seems to have been some bacon which he had just purchased at the store of Messrs. Buchanan & McDonald, as it was captured by his assailants.

MR. J. W. ALBRIGHT left last night to spend a month away with his friends in Virginia. We wish him a good time.

A NEW WAY TO DISPOSE OF A TENANT WHO DOESN'T PAY.—One of our young merchants, the proprietor of a number of tenement houses in the vicinity of Waverly, having among his renters one slippery old chap of the African persuasion who would not come to terms, concluded to move on the works last Monday morning and try what efficacy there might be in blasting powder. He had coaxed and threatened with equal success, which means no success at all, so on Monday morning he supplied himself with a keg of powder, about two yards of fuse and made forthwith for the forsaken tenement. Another polite request for apportionment was answered in the same discouraging style all previous requests had been, whereupon the ominous keg was deposited in the centre of the floor, being removed and fuse inserted. The landlord intimated that the law prohibited him from throwing a tenant out, but there was no law to prevent him from blowing up his house if the house didn't pay. By this time which was the predominant color visible in the eyes of the tenant, and it is said a livelier rheumatism never scratched gravel for the ten minutes he was engaged removing his valuables from the premises in question, which done the fuse was extinguished, the door locked and the proprietor walked away with the key in his pocket.

SAMBO'S last remark was, "some white folks is mighty hard to understand; dey do act so curious."

Charles A. Reynolds and Pryor Reynolds, as Executors of Thomas Reynolds, deceased, plaintiffs, vs.
Burrell Flannagan, defendant.
STATE of North Carolina.
To the Sheriff of Rockingham Co.—Greeting:
You are hereby commanded to summon Burrell Flannagan, the defendant above named, to be and appear before the Court to be held for the county of Rockingham, at the Court House in Westworth on Monday, the first day of March next, and there to answer the complaint of Charles A. Reynolds and Pryor Reynolds, as Executors of Thomas Reynolds, deceased, in this action, a copy of which will be filed with the first three days' said term of the court, and let him take notice, that if he fails to answer said complaint at the said term of the Superior Court, the plaintiffs will take judgment against him for the sum of three hundred and eighty-five dollars, with interest on the same.
Given under my hand and seal of said court, this 21st day of November, 1872.
R. H. WRAY, C. S. C.

In the above action in which a summons has been issued, of which the above is a copy, appearing in the satisfaction of the court, that the defendant Burrell Flannagan is a non-resident of this State, and it further appearing that a warrant of attachment has been issued therein, it is ordered by the court that publication of the summons and notice of the issue of a warrant of attachment be made in the Greensboro Patriot once a week for six successive weeks, and that a summons, when so issued, shall be equivalent to personal service, and be taken and held as served, and the action will be proceeded with. Witness my hand at office in Westworth, this 23rd day of December, A. D., 1872.

THE GRAND CONCERT will take place in the NORFOLK OPERA HOUSE, On Monday Evening, Dec. 23, 1872.

And will in itself be a full consideration for the price charged for admission tickets. The distribution of gifts will take place immediately after the concert, on the vast stage of the Opera House, and in full view of the audience, under the immediate supervision of the President and directors of the Voe De L'eau Company, and the following distinguished gentlemen, who have kindly consented to be present and see that the gifts are properly distributed:—
Hon. John R. Ludlow, Mayor of Norfolk.
Hon. A. S. Watts, Mayor of Portsmouth.
Col. Walter H. Taylor, of Norfolk.
Hon. John B. Whitehead, Ex-Mayor of Norfolk.
James G. Holladay, Esq., of Portsmouth.
The Board of Directors is composed of the following gentlemen, whose well-known characters for integrity, honor, and public enterprise are so well known as to guarantee success and a fair and impartial distribution of the gifts:—
Major George W. Grice, President Bank of Portsmouth; Col. William Lamb President First National Bank, Norfolk; Gen. V. D. Groner, General Agent Boston Steamship Co.; Capt. Nathaniel Burriss of Burriss, Son & Co., Bankers, Norfolk; Wash. Reed, Esq., of Peters & Reed, Merchants; E. G. Ghio, Superintendent Sea-board and Roanoke Railroad; Robert J. Nealey, Esq., of R. J. & W. Nealey & Co.; Marshall Parks, Esq., President Albemarle and Chesapeake Canal Co.; E. C. Lindsey, Esq., Real Estate Broker; William H. White, Esq., Attorney at Law, Norfolk.
The distribution will be by blind-folded persons, or blind children, from two wheels, one of which will contain gifts in printed slips, sealed in envelopes of the same size. The other will contain tags with numbers on them corresponding with all the tickets sold. After the contents of both wheels are thoroughly mixed by revolving the person at the first wheel will take a number therefrom, and then the person at the second wheel will take a gift therefrom, and the gift taken will belong to the number taken immediately before it—this process will continue—the numbers and gifts being publicly announced until the whole four hundred and one gifts are distributed. Thus the public will readily see there can be no fraud, collusion or knowledge of what gift any number will get.
Should the tickets not all sold when the concert comes off, the presents will be distributed in proportion to the number sold.
It is hoped the public will promptly respond to this effort to establish upon a firm basis a delightful resort during the heated months.

TICKETS ONLY $5 EACH.
Currency gifts will be paid in cash at our banking house in the city of Norfolk, on presentation of the tickets entitled thereto without discount.

FARMER'S COLUMN

Live on Fowl.—Another enemy of my poultry was disease. Those little pests were so bad that the most persevering of my sitting-birds were driven from their nests, and I did everything I could to read of to get rid of them, yet they seem to come as thick and fast as ever, until I was almost persuaded to give up raising chickens, or at least on so large a scale, and either by chance or advice, I was induced to try "lard," which I applied well under the wings and body. These may seem simple remedies, but nevertheless practical. Try them for yourselves. "Dixie" may also profit by these suggestions.—Cor. Rural New Yorker

Wheat After Clover.—If there is no tough sod, but a tolerable clean clover lay, the soil may be pretty well fitted for wheat by plowing once after harvest, and working the surface thoroughly. The clover may be pastured or mowed. This method of preparing the land is practiced quite largely by English farmers, and very successfully, too. It will work well here if previous cultivation has enriched and cleared the land so that weeds will not choke the grain, and it will find in the soil sufficient food. But if the land is both foul and poor, it is a course not to be recommended. If possible it is best to refrain from either pasturing or mowing the clover previous to plowing it in, but let the fall growth remain on the ground during the summer, thus shading it and retaining its moisture. When in full bloom it is a good plan to roll or harrow it down, when the new growth will start quicker and the shade become denser. Soil thus shaded will plow up much more loosely, and be in finer condition for wheat, than if it had been exposed to the sun by close pasture or mowing. If the farmer can afford to use his clover crop to protect his land, it is quite as likely to yield as much profit economically, as it would either made into hay or fed off by stock.—Canada Farmer

Poultry Keeping.—There are many women who, especially within the last half-dozen years, while the price of eggs has been so high, make money faster by feeding poultry than by sewing. It is an occupation suited to women, because it involves patience and constant attention to details, rather than strength. Then again the hardest thing for many men to learn in handling either poultry or bees is gentleness. How many times we have seen boys, and men with no more sense than boys, jerk hens roughly from their nests, enter the poultry house abruptly and frighten the occupants till they rush in a fluttering mass into the farthest corner, and keep the poultry community in constant agitation and distress. But all domestic animals appreciate the manner of women attendants when they are fortunate enough to be cared for by them. Now that there are women gardeners and florists who, by commendable industry and business qualities, have risen to eminence in those callings, and while one of the most successful, if not the most successful, beekeepers in the whole country is a woman, we hope to see others give poultry more attention than it has heretofore received. Aside from profit the keeping of fine poultry for fancy is an elegant pastime, very popular with English ladies, and we see no reason why the fashion should not be adopted here.—Poultry World

Do Bees Prevent Frustration of Seed?—I am inclined to think they do. I am confident my neighbor's bees (he keeps twenty-five swarms) destroyed my buckwheat crop last season. He got the honey, and I got no panicles in consequence. I believe the honey in the blossom of the plant as necessary to the development and perfection of the seed of the plant as the sun should shine and rain and dew fall; I believe that this bee keeping mania in thickly settled districts is almost as much of a nuisance and as great a wrong to fruit growers, as if my neighbor should insist on breeding Colorado potato beetles to feed on my potato vines. Bees that forage on my buckwheat are robbers, and rob me to benefit their owners. I hope this subject will be ventilated and the right of those who do not keep bees in some way protected.—Anti Bee Keeper

Old and New Pastures.—George Geddes in the New York Tribune talks of the relative value of old and new pastures. The former yield grasses that produce the best milk, but the number of acres necessary for a cow is large, often as high as three acres. The latter produce a bounty of grasses that are relied on by all kinds of stock, one acre often being able to support more than one animal, but the milk produced is inferior. To sum up he says: To state this question of old and new pastures in the shortest form it will be sufficient to say that I were about to have my cow pastured I should desire to have her in an old field not overstocked. If I were to raise pasture, either to use myself or to be used in the pasturing of other men's cows, I should prefer to have it freshly seeded, for the greatly increased quantity of grasses of the new-seeding would much more than equal in value the better quality but smaller quantity of grass on the old field.

The oldest tree on record in Europe is asserted to be the Cypress of Commo, in Lombardy, Italy.—This tree is believed to have been in existence at the time of Julius Caesar, 42 years before Christ; and is therefore, 1,914 years old. It is 106 feet in height, and 20 feet in circumference at one foot from the ground. Napoleon, when laying down his plan for the great road over the Simplon, diverged from a straight line to avoid injuring this tree. Superior antiquity is claimed for the immense tree in Calaveras county, California. This is supposed, from the number of concentric circles in the trunk to be 2,665 years old.

TOBACCO

Morehead's Warehouse
WILL BE OPEN
EVERY DAY
For the Sale of LEAF TOBACCO.

Those who consign with me are assured of the best prices. If the sales do not give satisfaction, the Tobacco may be "taken in," and shipped elsewhere. No charge for storage.—Warehouse fees the same as at Danville. Liberal advances will be made on the Tobacco as it is sold, and the Warehouse has a first class priority attached. In the handling, ordering and assorting of your Tobacco, much care cannot be taken. ample camping grounds are offered to planters. I'll do my best for consignors; they can't ask more. I refer every man to his neighbors, that the good news may spread.

Very Respectfully,
Eugene Morehead.

MOREHEAD & HOBSON,
General Agents for Fertilizers for TOBACCO, Cotton, Wheat, Corn, Vegetable, &c. Guaranteed first-class and "simon-pure." We no longer go to mill with "a rock in one end of the bag and a grist in the other." Every one, in this advanced age, confesses the value of FERTILIZERS, and uses the most. The quality of the crop is improved. Home made manure will do well, but do not return to the land the proper proportion of substances removed from the ground by a crop. Hence the land will wear out. Call for a circular.

Champion Earth Closet.
The Champion Earth Closet is the most complete yet offered to the public, having in it several important improvements, which are not contained in any other closet. It is intended as a general substitute for all out door houses and water closets. May be placed in chamber or dressing room without inconvenience or annoyance.
Call and examine. Forgets at manufacturers' prices by JAS. SLOAN'S SONS.
