Everybody did well and North Carolina in a blaze of Glory.

Eureka! Don't you here the Eagle Scream.

Come forth ye chancellors and do your level best. The fact is we hardly know whom we have not elected.

Down in the eastern portion of the State the radicals may have got in a few members, but out in this locality and west of us they are like hen's teeth. It is a glorious victory, and one of which we may all feel proud.

We have the pleasure of informing our readers that we made a clean sweep of the State on the 6th, electing seven out of the eight Congressmen, all our Judges, at least twenty more members of the Legislature than we had before, and our School Superintendent by some 15,000.

Notice to Campaign Subscribers.

The subscriptions of our campaign subscribers expires on the 26th inst. We would be glad to have them continue and such as desire to do so can remit us price of subscription by mail.

Radford county did splendidly on the 6th. White men are coming to the front there.

Elections in Tennessee and Kentucky have gone overwhelmingly Democratic.

We are particularly gratified at the election of Mr. J. N. Staples, who triumphed over such a combination and such odds as ought to make him feel proud.

Rockingham county has elected the entire Conservative ticket, except sheriff, who is beaten by a small majority.

Amnesty was the issue in Alamance county, and this accounts for its going for the independent ticket.

The official vote of this county will be found on the outside of this paper. Pleasant figures for Conservatives. Old Gifford came to the front nobly.

Highway Robbery.—We learn that an evening or two since, a highway robbery was perpetrated about a mile from the city limits, a short distance beyond the residence of Rev. B. S. Branson. A young man named Wallace, who lives somewhere in the lower part of the county, was returning home from the city on horse-back, not a great while after dark, and when at the place named, was accosted by a negro who told him to give up his money. To this the young man objected, but the negro presented a pistol close to his head and fired, and so terrified Wallace that he, being unarmed, concluded that the best policy for him was to submit to having the negro put his hand in his pocket and take his money. What the amount of the scoundrel's booty was we could not learn, nor have we been able to ascertain Wallace's given name. There is no clue to the robber.—Charlotte Observer.

Don't you see the daylight dawning?

Press On.

The victory, and a glorious one, is ours. But we must not now sit down in the shade and feel that we have no more to do. Time will fly on rapid wings, and we will soon find ourselves in the middle of the Presidential contest. We should begin to prepare for it now, and have our forces so thoroughly organized that we may enter the field confident of victory and without any misgivings. The radicals are routed now, but they will gather the scattered remnants, and in the two years to come will work hard. They will have money then to spend, supplied by the money kings of the North, and will spend it freely. On this they in a great measure rely.

If we be true to ourselves and work as we should, this State is Conservative for all time to come.

Hail Storm.—A terrific hail storm swept over a portion of the county a few miles from Charlotte, on the Steele Creek road, last Saturday afternoon; the hail in some instances being three inches in length and weighed apparently a quarter of a pound. Our informant saw a bushel basket filled with large pieces picked from a small space of ground. We do not know whether any damage was done.

Since the above was written, a gentleman has brought to our office a hail stone two inches in diameter, and it is feared much damage has been done.

Melting Away.—The Seneca tribe of Indians has "melted like the April snow," until it now consists of one old horse, one chief, and three gallons of whiskey. The chief, after drinking the whiskey, and singing pathetically, "O why does the white man follow my path?" will probably break the jug and depart for the happy hunting grounds, leaving but an old horse behind. We trust that we are not irrelevant, hard-hearted, unromantic. We are sadly afraid, however, that our red brother, is a legendary hump.

But, then, there are a good many such in literature, and they serve a purpose. They make novels, poetry and history very pretty reading.

Cleaning Glass.—The lenses of spectacles or spy glasses that have become scratched and dimmed by age may be cleaned with hydrofluoric acid diluted with four or five times its volume of water. The solution should be dropped on a wad of cotton, and thoroughly rubbed on the glass, which should afterwards be well washed in clear water. Great care must be exercised in handling this acid, as it eats into the flesh, often producing painful and obstinate sores.

Independent candidates retire to the shades of private life and console themselves thus: "All is not gold that glitters."

The Contest.

The contest which was decided for us so happily last Thursday, is cause for congratulation, not only here but throughout the country.

The radicals played their cards skillfully, and felt confident of carrying the State by the aid of the numerous "Independent" candidates that they brought out. Wherever the outlook was uninviting to them, they used their efforts to get office—desiring conservatives to put themselves up with the promise of support. At one time the view presented to us, with the number of these independents out and the dissension in our ranks, was not the most cheerful. But the good sense of the people saw through the game and defeated it. One by one the independent candidates withdrew; such as remained in the field were utterly defeated, the radicals were routed "horse, foot and dragon," and such a victory perched upon our banners as seldom rewards the exertions of any people.

We have cause to feel jubilant. We have cause to feel grateful. And now let it not be a barren victory; but let us go to work to redeem our good old State in earnest, and so labor as to merit the confidence the people have put in us, and by a wise administration put it forever beyond the power of our radical enemies to wrest the State from us.

Plucky Conductor.

The Detroit Free Press relates how Conductor Wiley, of the Michigan Southern Railroad, dealt with three gamblers who had plucked a man on his train. He demanded that they should return their booty, but they refused. The Free Press proceeded:

Wiley shed his coat for business, and all the ladies in the car got up and ran out. "Ah! ha!" said one of the gamblers, as the conductor's coat came off, "this is better" and he pulled out a revolver and lined it on Wiley's eye. "Commence shooting!" replied the conductor, and out came his own shooting iron, and for twenty seconds two revolvers were held up in two men's faces, hammers up and fingers on the triggers. The other two gamblers began to feel for their hip pockets, when Wiley quietly said, "If you don't hold up your hands I'll blow the top of your head off!"

They quit feeling, and at that moment a Cleveland merchant and a Toledo lake captain came up, each with a cocked revolver, and demanded to be counted "in." At this the gamblers offered to restore the watch, and when they had done so the conductor made them return the full fifty-five dollars. "Now, then," said he, "do me a favor, and get out of this train! I shall remember you, and if I ever catch one of you on my train again I'll have the engineer to run her up to sixty miles an hour, and my brakeman will pitch you into the first swamp!" The fellows were ready to go, and as each one passed through the door, a piece of calkskin and sole-leather struck him under the coat tail with full swing, materially assisting him to reach the platform with the least possible delay.

To Make Water Cold in the Summer.—The following is a simple mode of rendering water almost as cold as ice: Let the jar, pitcher, or vessel used for water be surrounded with one or more folds of coarse cotton kept constantly wet. The evaporation of the water will carry off the heat from the inside and reduce it to freezing point. In India and other tropical regions where ice cannot be procured, this is common. Let every mechanic or laborer have at his place of employment two pitchers thus provided with lids and covers, the one to contain water for drinking, the other for evaporation, and he can always have a supply of cold water in warm weather. Any person can test this by dipping a finger in water, and holding it in the air of a warm day; after doing this three or four times, he will find his finger uncomfortably cold.

How it Works.—New York has a strict usury law. No man can lawfully take more than six per cent. per annum in the shape of interest. And yet in that city, on Tuesday last, as the Times boldly publishes, and no one seems surprised at the announcement, "money advanced in rate to one-half per cent. per day"—182½ per cent. per annum!

Surely, usury laws are useful.

"Shut your eyes, and listen mit me," said Uncle Van Heyde. "Vell, de first night I open store I counts de monies and find him nix right. I counts, and dare be tree dollars gone; and vat does yer tink I does den?" "I can't say," "VY, I did not count him any more, and he comes out shoot right over since."

CELEBRATION.

GREENSBORO IN A BLAZE!

"Tur, Pitch, Turpentine and Pine Lumber."

The Boys Shouting and Joyful and Old Folks Happy.

MISS-CELLANEOUS SPEECHES.

The celebration of Monday night was unquestionably the biggest of the kind ever seen in this burg. As soon as the election of Judge Kerr was ascertained beyond doubt, our Conservative friends threw up their hats and resolved to celebrate. They took especial interest and delight in the election of John Kerr over the combination against him.

At eight o'clock, P. M., a huge bonfire illuminated the Court House square, sky rockets whizzed through the air, fire wheels whirled, fire balls flew, the boys paraded with transparencies appropriately devised, and cheerful greetings and loud huzzas were heard on all sides.

The platform for the speakers was erected on the east front of the Court House, which was illuminated with Chinese lanterns, and presented a gay appearance. General Scales, who so gallantly carried our banner through this Congressional district, was called upon and responded in an eloquent half-hour speech, which was received with loud applause, not only by the Conservatives but by the Republicans present. After he concluded, calls were made for Messrs. Staples, Morehead, Caldwell, J. I. Scales, Gilmer, The editor of the Patriot, Joseph Morehead, W. E. Edwards, each of whom responded briefly.

It was a joyous demonstration without one unpleasant incident to mar it.

UP SALT RIVER.

Tom. Purnell, Captain. Billy Henderson, First Mate. Geo. Bason, Clerk. Geo. Wm. Welker, Chaplain (for the occasion).

The above steamer, Old Salty, is now loading for Salt River, the famous locality so well known and much frequented after elections.—She will return in about two years. Tickets free. Those who die on the way will be thrown overboard free of expense.

We learn of a terrible fate which met a negro woman in the lower part of Lenoir county. It seems that she and her husband were working in a field, and at noon she started to her house and went across a branch to a neighbor's to get some fire, and on her return she was met in the branch by a huge bear, and being in a state of pregnancy the ferocious animal attacked her and killed her, and tearing her open devoured the child. Her husband thinking she was staying over long went in search of her, and on his approach the bear ran. Seeing the appalling fate of his unfortunate wife he swooned by her side, where he was shortly after struck him by friends and taken home, and the woman buried. The woods have since been scoured by the citizens but at last accounts the brute had not been captured.—Kinston Gazette.

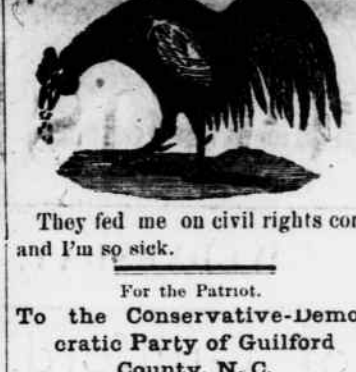

A New Book by a Lady of North Carolina.—We are pleased to learn that Miss Annie V. Duffy, of Newbern, has consented to give to the public a small collection of her poems entitled "Gleanings, and other poems," to be published whenever a number of subscribers sufficient to warrant it shall be obtained. Miss Duffy has been an occasional contributor to the Baltimorean and other periodicals; and we risk nothing in saying that the more extended effort of her pen is destined to add another to the galaxy of North Carolina's "sweet singers." We trust the requisite number of subscribers may be obtained at an early day. Subscriptions may be sent to H. R. Bryan, Esq., or J. S. Duffy, of Newbern, or to the Junior editor of this paper.

Southern Home.

Fire.—The barn of Major W. T. Satterlin, across the river in Pittsylvania county, in sight of town, filled with tobacco they were drying off, was totally destroyed by fire one day last week. His loss is estimated at $500, upon which he has no insurance.—Milton Chronicle.

The girl that will laugh behind her fan and talk to her beau or companions in church will make a splendid canvasser for a book we have in our mind to write. It's to be called, The Life of a Fool.—Charlotte Democrat.

He who has no charity merits no mercy.

They fed me on civil rights corn and I'm so sick.

For the Patriot.

To the Conservative-Democratic Party of Guilford County, N. C.

Fellow Citizens:

Not being a native of North Carolina, and almost a stranger in your county, it is proper that I should say, I have come among you from choice, to make your good old State my future home. This selection has been made from inducements here offered, which led me to believe I could secure, by perseverance and honorable industry, a comfortable support for myself and family, and the blessing of enjoying it, under the rule of white men.

A Southern man by birth, with true love for my country, and all her institutions, of course I was a volunteer participant in the Lost Cause. My heart, and all my efforts were with you then, and in every struggle since that time, to free ourselves from the oppression our headless enemies had sought to put upon us, which they thank God, with the whole strength of my heart, I rejoice with you, conscious of the fact that I did all in my power to assist you in achieving the glorious and signal victory of the Conservative-Democratic Party on last Thursday.

Believe me, my fellow-citizens, when Satan entered the dominions of hell, he did it with a purer heart, more honest and truthful intent to accomplish his purpose, than did the Republican Party of North Carolina, in the campaign just ended, which thanks be to the ruling of a wise, and merciful Providence, has resulted in their signal defeat, and saved us from that shame and degradation to the level of the poor ignorant negro, which their success would surely have entailed upon us.

Truly we have cause to rejoice and be thankful for this Divine blessing bestowed upon us. But, in our rejoicing let us not forget, that "God continually keeps those who continually keep themselves." Let us remember that this renowned serpent, which was so recently, and so closely coiled around us, threatening to destroy us, has only been thrown from his coil for a time, that he is "not dead but sleeping," until the warmth of another campaign shall awaken him from his slumbers, his dormant state, with increased vitality and venom and a more determined purpose to plunge his poisonous fangs of Civil Rights, or some other equally poisonous bill, into the political heart of the Conservative-Democratic Party and paralyze its energies forever.

Therefore let me entreat each and every one of you, to take advantage of the opportunities offered us, by this decisive victory, of carrying on the good work we have started, until the job shall have been completed.

Teach the ignorant the truth,—bring back those who have been deceived and led astray,—and make those odious among you, who have willingly and maliciously come to mislead, deceive, and defraud, that they may accomplish their purpose, reap the spoils, and bring ruin and degradation upon us. None is the time for us to work "strike while the iron's hot," and do not suffer ourselves to be lulled into that state of inactivity and feeling of security, for two more years, which usually follows such contests. In this calm interval of peace, let us prepare for the war they will surely wage upon us again, let us recruit our ranks, and utilize the great power of the Republican Party in North Carolina, the negro; let us make it our duty and our pleasure to teach him the truth, show him how he has been deceived, misled and defrauded, by his own party leaders, show him that the white man's interest, is the negro's interest too, he being dependent upon him, assure him of our willingness to grant him equal rights before the law (but Civil Rights never, no never.) Let each Conservative-Democrat feel it his duty to do this work, and in two years more our ranks will have increased by thousands, and enable us with one stroke more to crush the Republican party in North Carolina, for all time to come and proclaim to the world that the race of men, God saw fit to enslave for a time never were, and never can be our equals, and that sooner than we will willingly degrade ourselves, or permit it to be done by others, we will resist it to the bitter end, using such means only as we shall find it absolutely necessary to maintain that high and lofty position of our sires. Proclaim to the world our anxiety and willingness, to do all that is right, honorable and just; more cannot be asked, more would not be asked except by the Republican Party.

Make it your duty to teach those, who have not had the opportunity of learning the truth, the facts connected with the rule of the Republican Party wherever they have been in power,—tell them of their bold, and daring robberies, and plunderings of whole States, of private property, of men's lives, and of women's virtue, murders in cold blood, and of inhuman and brutal treatment for party purposes, of swindles, even, of the pitiful earnings of the poor ignorant negro,—of mail-robbers, treasury defaulters, of nule, and of chicken thieves, and the countless other crimes that could be brought to light and made men shudder at the thought. Set up this sign board at every crossroad in your neighborhood, that men may shun the pathway to this pandemonium of the devil and his co-laborers, this pathway which leads to jails and penitentiaries, and brings broken hearts, grief and suffering to innocent women and little children. Tell them of the origin and purposes of the Civil Rights Bill. That it was born in the heart of Charles Sumner, in a spirit of revenge, hatred and malice towards the Southern people, a retaliation of the bitterest and most degrading character, equality with the negro, a slave, a menial. This bill was the dearest object of his latter days, and his only hope of sending vengeance upon us, and the posterity of the immortal Brooks, of poor South Carolina, who had the courage and daring to cane him, in the halls of the Capitol of the nation, for an insult offered to himself, and his people, for which he felt that Sumner should be punished. Sumner lived for this bill, and so determined was he in his heart, that it should become a law, so overflowing was his heart with malice and hatred for us, even in his dying moments, his last request on earth, his dying words were, "Do not let my bill fail!" his last wish on earth was to send upon us this awful vengeance and gratify the cravings of his black and wicked heart. Tell them that this is the great and good republican, as the republicans called him, who gave his very life as it were, in earnest struggling efforts, to submerge in a gulf of everlasting shame, and degradation, sorrow and suffering, millions of noble white men, the best and purest of his own race, with millions of innocent and defenceless women and little children, to gratify this spirit of revenge of his black and wicked, wicked heart.

But some will say, Sumner is dead, and his Civil Rights Bill will not become a law, and even if Congress should pass it, at its next session, Gen. Grant has intimated that he will veto the bill. Tell them to "lay not that flatteringunction to their souls." Remember that this Civil Rights Bill was left as a precious sweet morsel, as a rich and rare legacy, to his best and dearest friends, who sternly promised him in good faith, upon his dying bed, that "it should not fail," and the effort to pass it during the last session of Congress, was a feeler of the pulse of the country upon the subject. This infamous bill is still there, suspended over us as it were, a warning to us, only awaiting the additional strength required of the Republican Party, for its passage, to bring upon us the darkest future our country has ever dreamed of.

Ask what would Gen. Grant's bid for the third term, (veto) be worth to us with the power and determination of Congress to pass this bill over his veto, which they will surely do, if they can gain Republican members, and gain them they will, unless the Conservative-Democratic Party use the means in their power to prevent accession to their ranks. Ask them to examine the records of candidates of the Republican Party, who have been, and are being put forth as candidates for election to these high offices of honor and trust of this government, and see if there are not those among them, who stand accused and indicted, and some have publicly acknowledged having committed the crimes with which they are charged. Ask if these are the men from whom we are to expect retrenchment and reformation,—if these are the men to enact laws as shall bring to our country peace and prosperity, wealth and happiness, and the respect of other nations? Ask if they are willing to trust such men as these with their property and their liberty, with their wives, and daughters, and their posterity in the years to come?

My fellow-citizens, the frosts of many years with the withering effects of time have not bent my form. Experience is yet a youth to me, in comparison to some, who seem careless and unmindful of the dark and angry cloud, which o'erhangs them. The fiery forked lightnings, and the muttering thunders seem not to attract their attention, yet, the storm comes closer, and closer, a feeling of individual security seems to pervade their breasts, from the slowly, but surely, approaching danger, until at last, when it will be too late to be saved, it will break over them, in all its force, and fury, dashing them headlong into that gulf of everlasting disgrace, degradation and shame, Equality with the negro. White men, let me warn you in time, of the approaching dangers, that you may station trusty sentinels on post.

DEMOCRATIC-CONSERVATIVE.

The "working men's friend" who wanted to go to Congress looked sort of wild when he heard the news, and don't smile so sweetly as he used to.

Silence alone is a powerful weapon. An Arabic proverb says: "Silence is often an answer."

There is a failure in the crop of Radicals this year.

THIS IS MISS-CELLANEUS.

She presents her compliments to the editor of the North State and asks that his numerous complimentary notices for which she is indebted to him.

LOCAL ITEMS.

Subscribers receiving their papers with a cross before their names are requested to send their subscription has expired, and unless renewed in two weeks will be discontinued.

Election day passed off very quietly, hardly an incident worthy of note.

C. P. Mendenhall's family is sojourning in Salem.

There is but one train a day on the new road now.

Mr. Julius A. Gray and family are spending the summer at Piedmont.

Mr. F. P. Cavanah, returned from a northern trip last Sunday. He returns to his home.

New Store.—A new store is to be erected on the Townsend lot, opposite Bailey's.

Water melons are coming to town by the cord, and some of them as big as a barrel.

See what Mr. J. Ash, of Newbern, had to say to buy or sell there give him a chance.

Greensboro Grange will have a social meeting on Saturday, near Dr. J. A. Weatherly's.

Two new—A pair of child's cotton gloves, never saw them by applying at this office.

Our friend E. Sikes has withdrawn from the firm of W. Sikes & Sons, and removed to Winston. We wish him much success. The firm is now W. Sikes & Son.

We have had the pleasure of meeting C. N. B. Evans of the Milton Chronicle, and T. C. Evans of the Raleigh Crescent, who have been on a visit to our city.

Steph Douglas is the slowest messenger we ever saw. He promised to bring the returns from Rockingham the day after the election and he hasn't got here yet. Something must have happened over in Rockingham.

SOMETHING HAPPENED.—When Billy Henderson was returning from Caswell, the night after the election somebody asked him how it was that his own county voted against him. He replied "Well, I don't know, it was all right when I left home, something must have happened."

S. B. McLean, near this place, raised this year 22 bushels of oats from a peck of seed. The variety shown was the red or red proof. This shows what could be done by farmers in this county, if they would only try. This oat, to be grown successfully, should be sown in August.

Attention is called to the advertisement by Mr. J. N. Staples in another column. The residence advertised is a desirable one, beautifully located, and will prove a good investment for the purchaser.

WATER STOLEN.—Some thief boldly forced an entrance into the dwelling of Col. Seales last Thursday night, and stole the lady's watch, a very valuable one. Suspicion rests on certain parties who have been familiar with the apartments to have entered so boldly and successfully.

The attention of the capitalists and mill-owners is called to the advertisement of J. A. Dodson, of this county. Mr. Dodson is an energetic old miller and has for fifteen years been experimenting upon water wheels, and has just obtained a patent upon a turbine wheel, which he believes meets the great demand of the present day; that is, a good wheel for economy. The model was shown at the State Fair, and to our mind it is all Mr. D. claims for it.

FOR PIEDMONT.—Robt. Pace, Dr. Carter and C. M. Flynn, accompanied by some fifteen ladies and gentlemen, Dan Williams, (phonetic this word properly) passed through here last night for Piedmont, which is rapidly becoming a centre of attraction.

ENCOURAGE THEM.—Several of the colored men in town showed their independence on election day by voting the Conservative ticket, notwithstanding the efforts to intimidate them and prevent them from so doing by men of their own color. Among those who so voted we name John Chasman, the barber, Peter Wagstaff, Willie Blount and Tom Hodge. When we consider the pressure that is brought to bear on them to prevent them from voting with us they deserve no little credit, and are worthy of every encouragement.

A FIZZLE.—The Radicals in this town felt relieved at having elected anybody that they concluded to have a celebration Friday night. And they got a rag and painted two or three names on it and went to the Court House, where Mr. Holton and Judge Tourgee made speeches and tried to prove to the dunces that they were not threatened. They called on Major Smith, who happened to be in town and he told them he was very glad Mr. Staples was elected and that he was surprised that any one of them had voted against him. This speech didn't suit exactly. They have now found out that Mr. Rufin was not elected and feel sort of "chewed" for celebrating so soon.

THE LAST OF WINDY BILLY.

PAUL BRARERS' VINDICATOR.

"Alas, poor Yorick, we knew him well." How well we know him we will not tell. We tried our best to put him through. But the people said it wouldn't do. And then we tried to vindicate. And this is his unhappy fate. He aspired to climb the ladder high—He tumbled down and here he lies. His negro friends are much distressed, But we thank the Lord he is at rest.

Walker—"Stipe, I fear my vindication of Billy did the work for me."

NO MORE MULE.—Some person passing on the back street in the vicinity of the post office just after the result of the election was known, was attracted by a terrible kicking and pounding. Looking in he saw our post master with his coat off, and armed with a six inch bar-lumping a mule like blazes, exclaiming at every stroke "shut up, you beast, I don't want to hear anything from you or Billy Henderson for ten years."

Parties desiring a residence near the Greensboro Female College will do well to consider the advertisement of T. M. Owen's office at public sale, build ing lots on a front street in a select neighborhood. The residence and the vineyard advertised are very valuable property.

EDGERS AND DEACONS.—The convention of Edgers and Deacons of Guilford county, will meet at Buffal Church on 10 o'clock, A. M. on Monday, 31st of August. The public respectfully invited to attend.

WILLIAM S. MOORE, Sec'y.

A GENERAL MEETING OF THE SOCIETY OF FRIENDS.—There will be a general meeting of the Society of Friends, at New Garden, N. C., beginning at 11 o'clock, A. M., on the 11th inst., continuing for several days, all persons wishing to attend are respectfully invited.

5th mo. 11, 1874. ALBERT PEREE.

John Cunningham's church organ is pronounced a success.

The place to buy good, reliable goods at low prices is at J. C. Cunningham's.

NEW GARDEN, July 26th, 1874.

This is to certify that we have used the Florence Sewing Machine at this institution for about one year and having previously used several other kinds, we have found none which so fully met the demands for heavy and light work, and at the same time running so quietly and easily.

We therefore take pleasure in recommending the Florence to all who are in need of a first-class, reliable Sewing Machine.

LAST CHANCE FOR

A postponement of the Fifth Concert of the Public Library of Kentucky has been so generally anticipated, and is so manifestly for all concerned, that it must meet the approval of all. The day is now fixed and there will be no variation from the programme so announced. A sufficient number of the tickets had been sold to have enabled us to have had a large drawing on the 31st July, but a short postponement was considered preferable to a partial drawing on the 31st.

THE FIFTH GIFT CONCERT

Is the last which will ever be given under this charter and by the Present management. That it will positively and unequivocally take place as announced on that the music will be the best the country affords, and that
