RAILROAD BOND ELECTION.

Will be Held in Five Townships in Guilford County Monday.

Registration for the Randolph & Greensboro railroad bond election, which is to be held in Guilmer, Morehead, Summer, Jamestown and High Point townships Monday, closed Saturday evening with a total registration in all five townships of 1,745 voters, which is a fraction less than the 2,000 per cent of the voting population. The total vote cast in these townships at the last election was 1,745.

The election to be held Monday in these townships will vote on the question of bonding themselves in the following amounts: High Point, $100,000; Guilmer and Morehead, $50,000; Summer and Jamestown, $25,000 each, making a total of $240,000 for the five townships.

So far but little interest has been manifested in the matter by the public and the general opinion at the present time is that the proposition will not be carried.

The total registration in Guilmer and Morehead townships is 904; in High Point it is 700, with 147 in Summer and 132 in Jamestown. A mass meeting is to be held in the court house in this city tomorrow night at 8 o'clock for a discussion of the bond issue. It has been announced that President McDonald, of the Randolph & Greensboro, and Judge H. P. McConnell, of Carthage, will be present and explain the proposition to the public. Local speakers will also participate in the meeting.

A map of the Randolph & Greensboro road, showing its proposed extensions and connections, is printed in this issue of The Patriot.

THE COUNTY'S BUSINESS.

Commissioners Have a Busy Monday Meeting of Two Days.

The county commissioners were in monthly session Monday and Tuesday and had much business to transact their attention. In addition to auditing many bills and transacting the usual amount of routine business, there were a number of special matters that claims the attention of the board.

The reports of the registrars and judges heretofore appointed to hold special school tax elections in the McLeansville and Mt. Pleasant districts were received and filed. It being found that the election had been carried in both districts, the board ordered that the special tax be levied in accordance with the law.

Dr. G. F. Ross, the county superintendent of health, submitted his report for the month of November. The report in detail showed 48 births in the county during the month; 10 deaths; 12 cases of typhoid; five cases of diphtheria; three cases of scarlet fever. It accounted for eight visits to the county home; four to the jail; six to the workhouse, and two to the convict camp. During the month he examined 196 school children and traveled 390 miles.

A special feature of Superintendent Ross' report was his recommendation that the county employ a trained nurse for duty at the county home, he declaring that such was badly needed and urging that Guilford take the lead in making such provision for the care of its indigent.

Mr. J. W. Forbis, clerk of the Superior court, submitted his annual report to the board. It was received and Commissioners Bradshaw and Tucker were appointed a committee to audit the same. An interesting item in the report referred to the receipt of $300 in license taxes from Northern hunters in the county.

A petition was filed asking for a public road in High Point and Deep River townships starting at a point on the Kernersville road, near the line between the farms of W. H. Idol and J. B. Podenheimer and running to the old Salisbury road, near John Davis' storehouse.

Another petition asked for the opening of a public road in Deep River township beginning at M. D. Stafford's residence and running along the line between M. D. and S. E. Stafford and Henry McCollum, thence across the lands of G. A. Idol to the lands of E. B. Idol, thence along the line between E. B. Idol and G. A. Idol to the Greensboro road, thence along said road to C. A. Idol's residence, thence across C. A. Idol's land to the lands of C. W. Charles and D. L. Davis, thence along their line to the Salisbury road.

A number of citizens presented a petition for the opening of a public road in Morehead township, beginning at the Battle Ground macadam road, where a private road through to the macadam road intersects with a westerly direction to a point near a pine woods, thence running in a northwesterly direction through the lands of C. S. Cude, Miss Speight, A. L. Rankin, E. J. Stafford and on the western boundary lines of Whitaker, Rankin, Speight, Hardin and Balfinger.

All these petitions were received and ordered advertised.

The petition heretofore filed asking for a public road in Morehead township, changing the route of the road known as the Lezo road, was granted.

The petition heretofore filed asking for a public road in Madison township and running westerly one and one-half miles through the lands of T. M. Webb, C. W. Maxwell and J. H. Rudd to the road leading from Reidsville to Greensboro, the same road being a part of rural free delivery route No. 1 from Brown Summit, was granted and ordered opened according to law.

Henry Long, of Deep River township, was relieved of the payment of poll tax on account of physical disability.

Mr. A. M. Seales, representing himself and others, asked for a franchise for the laying of water mains from the corporate limits of Greensboro along North Elm street extended to the Greensboro Country Club, and the same was granted, with a provision that residents along the line be permitted to make connections by assuming their proportionate share of the cost.

Superior court jurors were drawn as follows: For the civil term to convene January 1—William J. Wicker, C. W. Clapp, J. E. Shoffner, E. E. Brown, S. M. Brown, Jr., Arthur P. Coble, J. W. Scott, James D. Donnell, H. T. Kirkman, Page Logan, E. F. Paschal, Sam Davis, T. C. McCuiston, H. E. Pitts, Kenny Pettrell, J. E. Charles, T. R. Farrington and W. C. Lyndon.

For the civil term to convene January 15—E. H. Zimmerman, J. W. Summers, W. D. Brown, Will Johnson, James A. Heath, W. S. Fritchie, Luther Low, J. A. Glass, J. Fletcher McCulloch, A. B. Lee, Ernest Teague, J. I. Hodgins, W. H. Bunch, J. F. Davis, Ed Harvey, D. B. Stafford, John F. Pegram and R. L. Loughlin.

For the two-weeks term to convene February 12—First week: Jerry W. Shepard, Eugene Foust, Charles A. Colley, A. C. Sharp, L. T. Starr, J. E. Hanner, A. M. Schofield, T. J. McLean, Jasper A. Allred, James M. Thompson, C. O. Forbis, C. V.

Gamble, Ed. Holton, Drew Peoples, Talmage Swing, P. H. Pegram, I. L. Pegram and E. C. Conrad; second week: Henry A. Busick, John D. Cobb, J. T. Shoffner, W. H. Chicott, S. A. Anderson, Robert L. Jones, J. W. Fogleman, G. W. Allen, R. S. McClintock, R. P. Gordon, D. E. Minor, J. Alonzo Anthony, J. M. Wilson, S. A. Kirkman, David Marsh, W. F. Brookbank, W. W. Tucker and S. L. Davis.

The hitching lot question came to the front again at this meeting of the board. A committee composed of Messrs. Garland Daniel, R. C. Hood, W. B. Merrimon, C. C. McLean, J. M. Hendrix and J. W. Scott appeared before the board and asked that the old auditorium site, on Sycamore street, between Davis and Forbis, be purchased as a public hitching lot. The matter was taken under advisement.

A committee from the Greensboro Woman's Club repeated the request that the present hitching lot, on the corner of Gaston and Greene streets, be discontinued, alleging that it is unsanitary and dangerous to the public health. The commissioners failing to take any action to abate the alleged nuisance, the women adopted a former suggestion and caused a warrant to be issued against every member of the board, charging them with maintaining a public nuisance. However, the warrants were not served and were withdrawn temporarily. It appears reasonable that the hitching lot question will result in litigation, unless the matter be settled in some other way, and legal proceedings may be instituted at any time.

The commissioners adjourned to meet in special session on Monday, December 18, for the annual settlement with the county officers.

WILL NOT AFFECT GUILFORD.

To be No Interruption of Work of County Health Superintendent.

Elsewhere in this issue of The Patriot is an article telling of the litigation over the creation of a county superintendent of health for Wake county. Judge Peebles having ruled that the act of the legislature authorizing county boards of health to elect such an official is unconstitutional. In this connection Mr. Andrew Joyner has the following in his correspondence in the Raleigh News and Observer which will be read with interest by the people of Guilford:

"Should the Supreme court sustain Judge Peebles in the McCullers case, and declare the provision of the health law of the last legislature unconstitutional, county officials of Guilford declare it will not interfere with the continuation of the work of its county physician, who was elected by the joint board which Judge Peebles decides unconstitutional. They say that all the effect it will have here, where there has been no friction, and where every body approves the work of a regular salaried physician, will be that the county commissioners will proceed to elect the same physician and pay him the same salary, since they already have that authority under the general law. Dr. Ross, the county physician, has demonstrated the great value of such an officer. He has broken up in incipient typhoid, diphtheria and other dangerous diseases in country communities, by simply having authority, when he found water impure or sanitary surroundings unhealthful, to compel compliance with his orders. He has not had the least trouble from any of the citizens, but all have cheerfully co-operated with him. He gives stereotyped health lectures at night in all parts of the county, and invariably the country school houses are crowded with interested hearers. Besides this, he examines pupils of the public country schools, or at least examines those who have been selected previous to his coming, as possibly needing special examination, the teachers taking much interest in sorting out such diseased or weakened members of their classes."

Unwittingly, of course, our good friend Joyner rubs it on a trifle strong in speaking of the unanimity and enthusiasm with which the people generally of the county are co-operating with Dr. Ross. No innovation of this character even met, at first, with the approval of the whole people.

Senior Debates at Whitsett Institute.

The senior debates of the Athenian and Dialectic societies of Whitsett Institute will be held next Thursday and Friday nights, December 14 and 15. Thursday night the Athenians will debate the question: "Resolved, That a republic is a better form of government than a limited monarchy." The speakers will be: H. C. Tyson and R. O. Walker for the affirmative; B. F. Lewis and H. L. Burton for the negative. The query selected for the Dialectic debate Friday night is: "Resolved, That we should have compulsory education throughout the United States." The affirmative will be debated by E. N. Holt and H. F. Fogleman, and the negative by L. F. Mellott and W. L. Loy.

The Guilford branch of the Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Association this week paid $35 to Mr. J. H. Pegram and $60 to Mr. G. H. McKinnon for losses incurred in the destruction of their barns in the storm that recently passed over northwestern Guilford. Mr. J. H. Satterfield, of Oak Ridge township, was paid $32 for a fire loss.

FEDERAL COURT IN SESSION.

No Cases of Special Importance to be Tried at This Term.

The December term of United States District court convened Monday morning, with Judge Boyd on the bench, and will continue in session until the docket may be disposed of. The docket is not heavy and there are no cases of great importance to be disposed of.

As is always the case, the most interesting feature of the first day's session of court was Judge Boyd's charge to the grand jury. Judge Boyd always bases his charge to a grand jury on some topic of timely interest, and what he has to say is always pertinent to the occasion.

Monday Judge Boyd referred at length to the McNamara case, which has been in progress at Los Angeles for several weeks. While holding the view that organization is a good thing for labor, he declared that in making ambitious and unscrupulous men their leaders, the labor folks were endangering their life and efficiency and that a misuse of its power, whether of labor or capital, was to be avoided, inasmuch as the two are interdependent and have no adequate grounds for contention and disagreement.

Referring to recent newspaper articles to the effect that the illicit manufacture of whiskey in western North Carolina is on the increase, Judge Boyd said that such charges were without foundation; that the recent sessions of court in his district have convinced him that bootlegging is on the decrease. In the opinion of the court, prohibition laws are better enforced now than they have been at any time.

The charge of the court was characteristic of Judge Boyd. It was attractive, luminous and interesting.

The grand jury for the present term is composed of the following: J. L. Brockmann, foreman; C. M. Tyson, John A. Loy, E. J. Sapp, P. H. Slade, R. W. Giles, Charles H. Northam, E. B. Leonard, W. C. Crawford, A. W. Freezer, E. Y. Coleman, A. M. Meem, W. C. Jones, W. A. Maynard, Allen Oakley, J. Taylor, Albert G. M. Hearn, Henry Walfe and L. J. Griffin.

The following are the members of the petit jury: John Griffin, Shade Martin, J. P. Harrison, H. P. Montgomery, Shube G. Hodgins, T. F. Grimes, J. M. Faggs, J. D. George, T. B. Wilson, D. M. Hand, A. W. Winchester and A. S. Pugh.

A verdict of not guilty was returned in the case of Ed. Purdue, of Davidson county, charged with blockading and retailing.

Marmaduke York, of Randolph county, was convicted of illicit distilling and placed in the custody of the marshal. York's conviction came on the first anniversary of his liberation from the federal prison in Atlanta. Sentence in his case has not been pronounced.

Verdicts of not guilty were returned in the cases of Johnson and Charlie Brooks, two young white men of Forsyth county, charged with distilling.

Lee Wyatt, a Wilkes county product, pled not guilty to a charge of illicit distilling and the plea was sustained by the jury. In the same case a nol pros was taken as to Charles Wyatt and Winfield Osborne.

Lewis Hicks, of Forsyth, charged with blockading, drew a nol pros from the district attorney.

Ernest Hodge and John Pinnix, of Surry county, indicted for blockading, also drew a nol pros.

Ricard Greenwood, of Surry county, was acquitted of the charge of illicit distilling.

A continuance until the next term has been granted in the case of W. O. Goley and other citizens of southeastern Guilford, who are under bond to appear and answer the charge of blockading and retailing.

BAD FIRE IN BURLINGTON.

Greensboro Responded and Found Flames Under Control.

Fire almost in the heart of the business district of Burlington on early Monday morning caused a loss estimated at $25,000. The large tobacco warehouse, in which E. L. Morgan, formerly of Greensboro, did business; the large tobacco storehouse of the American Tobacco Company's representative, Mr. Lyon; three dwelling houses, and a large barn were almost totally destroyed by fire. The losses are partially covered by insurance. In the warehouse Mr. Morgan had the floors covered with tobacco. He is insured for $1,000. In the storehouse, the American Tobacco Company had stacked up on stack of prize tobacco, some of the finest grade. It is reported that their loss is heavier by far, as the insurance recently held upon the stores was cancelled two days before the fire. The barn and one dwelling house burned and was the property of H. C. Kime.

The Greensboro fire department was called upon for assistance and responded in record-breaking time. However, when the Greensboro contingent arrived, the fire was under control and it was unnecessary to unload the apparatus. Over 30 members of the Greensboro fire department went to Burlington on the special train so promptly provided by the Southern Railway, and every one of them was prepared to fight the fire demon.

The comptroller of the currency has approved the conversion of the American Exchange Bank, recently consolidated with the Commercial National Bank, into the American Exchange National Bank, with a capital of $400,000.

FIGHTING THE MEAT TRUST.

Farmers' Union Contemplates Opening Market in Greensboro.

A called meeting of the Guilford County Farmers' Union will be held in the county court house annex in Greensboro on Saturday, December 16, to consider the question of the establishment of a meat market in Greensboro. The committee appointed to investigate this matter will be prepared to submit a report at this meeting, and it is important that every local in the county be represented by its delegates. All other union men interested are invited to attend.

CHAS. T. WEATHERLY, Pres.

The above notice is to be interpreted as a protest against what is commonly regarded as the Greensboro meat trust. Members of the Farmers Union who produce fresh meat for sale on the local market do not hesitate to say that the combination that has been effected in Greensboro is in restraint of trade, and there is some talk of presenting the matter to the United States court grand jury.

To begin with, it is alleged that the wholesale dealers in Greensboro have bound the retailers under contract under terms which make it practically impossible for the local farmer to dispose of his fresh meats. The wholesalers have their cattle shipped in from Tennessee and other states and supply the retailers. The consumer "pays the freight," and in addition, it is alleged, and not denied that he pays a higher price for his fresh meat than he would pay if it were supplied by local people.

At the meeting of the Farmers' Union to be held on the 16th inst., it is probable that arrangements will be made for opening a meat market in Greensboro where every farmer who has fresh meat to sell may dispose of it at a fair price, and where the consumer may be able to procure the best meats at the most reasonable prices. While the market will be under the management of the Farmers' Union, the products of all farmers, whether members of the union or no, will be handled.

The new enterprise will receive a hearty welcome at the hands of the people of Greensboro generally, and there are many who will be glad to see the Farmers' Union market established without delay.

Tragic Death of a Good Citizen.

Mr. Harper Hodge, a well known citizen of the county, was injured in a runaway Tuesday afternoon and lived only a few hours after he was found on the county road leading from Greensboro toward his home near Center. The injuries of Mr. Hodge were internal and of such a nature that he was not conscious at any time after he was found before he died. He was 72 years of age and a prosperous farmer.

The victim of the accident was in Greensboro Tuesday on business, driving a pony which he had driven for many months. He was seen at the postoffice shortly after 2 o'clock and it is supposed that he left the city soon after that hour. It was late in the afternoon when he was found beside the road in his injured condition. The discovery was made by a negro who was joined in the find a few minutes later by Will Clark, a dairyman.

It is supposed that the pony became frightened and threw his driver out of the vehicle, causing his injury and death, but so far as known there was no witness to the accident and there is only supposition to account for the cause of the pony's fright. The injured man was found by his neighbors probably within a few minutes after the accident.

The deceased was the father of a well known family of children. He is survived by his sons, Messrs. John A. Hodgins and Henry L. Hodgins, of Guilford, and J. F. Hodgins, of Roanoke, and his daughters, Mrs. Walter Putnam, of Pomona; Mrs. Luther Anthony and Mrs. Will Stevenson, of Greensboro.

Greensboro Young Man Electrocuted.

C. S. Sullivan, the 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Sullivan, of this city, met instant death Saturday afternoon in Rocky Mount, where he was employed as day engineer of the Atlantic Coast Line's power plant. He was engaged in the performance of his duty when 3,300 volts of electricity passed through his body and left it a lifeless mass of human clay. The body was brought to Greensboro for the funeral and interment. The youth is survived by his parents and two brothers, the two latter being employed by the Carolina Cornice and Skylight Company. The elder Mr. Sullivan is one of the best known carpenters in the city.

"Best on Earth."

This is the verdict of R. J. Howell, Tracy, O., who bought Foley's Honey and Tar Compound for his wife. "Her case was the worst I have ever seen, and looked like a sure case of consumption. Her lungs were sore and she coughed almost incessantly and her voice was hoarse and weak. Foley's Honey and Tar Compound brought relief at once and less than three bottles effected a complete cure." Howard Gardner.

Let Your Money Work For You

It is astonishing how fast money will pile up when it is set to working.

One dollar at compound interest will double itself in seventeen years. But one dollar deposited every year for twenty years at compound interest will amount to nearly thirty dollars.

We compute interest on savings deposits every three months.

Then we add that interest to your original deposit and at the end of another three months, we figure interest on the total. This interest is again added and so on.

Can you see how rapidly your money will grow?

The interest goes right along, day after day, year after year.

THE BASEBALL OUTLOOK.

Strong Sentiment For an All-State League Next Season.

A movement has been inaugurated here having for its object the organization of a company to take over the Greensboro franchise in the Carolina Baseball Association, the idea being to secure a number of stockholders and a capital sufficient to meet all needs during the coming season. A number of well known fans have signified their desire to become financially interested in the club, and the idea is to have a cash capital of $3,000, thus providing ample funds for the preliminary work of the season.

There is a strong sentiment here for the organization of a strictly North Carolina league next year, the idea being to have Durham, Raleigh and Wilmington join with Greensboro, Winston-Salem and Charlotte in such an association.

The great advantage of such a league can be very easily and quickly appreciated. The six towns mentioned could muster up plenty of rivalry—and it has been clearly shown that it takes town rivalry to get attendance at baseball games. There is little attendance here when South Carolina towns come—and the same condition is true with the other towns. Durham, Raleigh or Wilmington would draw well and there would be more satisfaction in seeing the Patriots trim a team from one of these towns than in witnessing a slaughter of a team from the Palmetto state.

The directors of the Carolina Association of Baseball Clubs held a meeting in Charlotte Tuesday and revoked the franchises of both Anderson and Spartanburg, S. C., for the reason that they were not represented at the meeting and had failed to post the guarantee check of $1,000 as required by the by-laws of the association. It is by no means certain that Greenville, S. C., will remain in the league, in which event there would be left only the three North Carolina members—Charlotte, Greensboro and Winston-Salem.

Mrs. Clara S. Hagan died Saturday morning in a Baltimore hospital, where she had been a patient for some time. The body was brought to Greensboro and the funeral held from the home of her son, Mr. D. L. Hagan, on Church street, Tuesday morning, the service being conducted by Rev. Melton Clark. The deceased was the widow of the late A. Hagan and is survived by the following children: D. L. Hagan, of Greensboro; Mrs. Wallace Wharton, of Russellville, Ark.; and Mrs. W. G. Gilliam, of Cameron, Texas.

Mr. W. A. Dimmette, a member of the clerical force of the Greensboro National Bank, died at his home on Smith street yesterday morning. He had been ill for several weeks, suffering from rheumatism and complications, and the end was not unexpected. He is survived by his widow and two young children. The body will be carried to Wilkesboro today for the funeral and interment.

Duffy, who has resigned to go in the insurance business. Mr. Jones is succeeded by Mr. W. L. Scott.

Mr. Charles F. Neelley, of Pleasant Garden, for a number of years the efficient chief of Greensboro's police department, was in the city Monday on business. His friends have not grown accustomed to seeing him on the streets without a uniform, but doubtless there are a number of citizens of a certain type who prefer to see him thus than in the garb of an officer of the law.

Mr. David B. Smith, a Greensboro boy who has won distinction as a brilliant young lawyer in Charlotte, being at present judge of the recorder's court of that city, delivered the principal address at the annual memorial exercises of the High Point lodge of Elks Sunday. He spent Monday in Greensboro with relatives and friends and went to Guilford College Tuesday to visit his sister, Mrs. Lee S. Smith.

In Squire Dave Collins' court Saturday John Clapp and wife, of Greene township, entered into a compact to live together for ninety days and see if they cannot revive and re-suscitate the matrimonial felicity, which was badly shattered and broken a few days ago, when it is alleged, the husband gave the wife a severe beating and left home. In consideration of this agreement, a warrant against Clapp for assault was withdrawn.

Commissioner of Public Works J. Giles Foushee and Chairman W. C. Boren, of the Guilford board of commissioners, are back from a trip to Savannah and Charlotte, where they went as guests of the Indian Refining Company. They took in the Savannah automobile races, which they pronounce of the intensest interest. They also had the opportunity of looking over the good streets of Charlotte and other cities and the macadam roads of Mecklenburg and other counties.

Miss Jessie Walker McKnight was married to Mr. Chesterfield Carley Jones, of Jacksonville, Fla., last Thursday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh D. McKnight, on Jackson street. Rev. R. Murphy Williams, pastor of the Church of the Covenant, was the officiating minister. The home was tastefully decorated for the occasion. The couple left on an evening train for their future home in Jacksonville, where the bridegroom has a position with the Dean Lumber Company. His bride is a most attractive young woman.

A largely attended meeting of the local council of United Commercial Travelers Saturday night, it was decided to give a banquet at an early date and invite Governor Kitchen to be present and make the principal address. Committees on arrangements were appointed and were instructed to spare no expense in arranging for the event. The banquet will probably be held during the Christmas holidays. It is expected that at least two hundred knights of the grip will be present. The council is in a splendid condition and has received a large number of new members during the year.

Teachers' Assembly Adjourns—Statues of Dr. McIver.

The North Carolina Teachers' Assembly, which held its annual meeting in Raleigh last week, adjourned Saturday, after electing the following officers: President, Prof. E. C. Brooks, of Trinity College; vice president, Superintendent A. C. Reynolds, of Buncombe; secretary-treasurer, Mr. R. D. W. Connor, of Raleigh. The following compose the executive committee: Prof. M. C. S. Nolte, Miss Edith Royster, Prof. F. B. Hobgood.

A resolution was read by Prof. J. A. Matheson, of Greensboro, asking the assembly to endorse the raising of an additional amount of $1,100 for the erection of a bronze statue of the late Dr. Charles Duncan McIver in the capitol square at Raleigh as well as one at the State Normal and Industrial College in Greensboro, the arrangements for which have already been made. President R. H. Wright, of the East Carolina Teacher Training School, Greenville, moved the adoption of this resolution and it was passed unanimously by a rising vote.

Where the Locality Does Not Count.

Wherever there are people suffering from kidney and bladder ailments, from backache, rheumatism and urinary irregularities, Foley Kidney Pills will help them. Bervidere, Ill. E. A. Kelly, an ex-engineer, says: "Three years ago my kidneys became so bad that I was compelled to give up my engine and quit. There was a severe aching pain over the hips, followed by an inflammation of the bladder, and always a thick sediment. Foley Kidney Pills made me a sound and well man. I can not say too much in their praise." Howard Gardner.

MAJ. STEDMAN'S VIEWS.

Talks of the Work Before the Present Session of Congress.

Hon. Charles M. Stedman left Greensboro Saturday afternoon for Washington to be ready for the opening of the second session of the sixty-second Congress. In an interview given out before leaving, Congressman Stedman declared that the tariff should be reduced on many more articles of necessity during the coming session and that he would exert his efforts and influence toward such revision.

Major Stedman believes that the coming session will extend through May, adjournment possibly coming about June 1, and that it will be one of the most important sessions within a quarter of a century. He expresses the belief that in the consideration of the appropriation bills the Democrats will greatly curtail the extravagant expenditures of the Republican Congress and that a general retrenchment policy regarding government funds will be followed.

Congressman Stedman is especially interested and has prepared a speech in advocacy of the Sulzer resolution, now before the committee on foreign affairs, and which has reference to the treaty of 1832 made with Russia. He declares that Russia, in refusing to honor passport of Jews from America, has violated the terms of this treaty, and that it should be abrogated and that the 12 months' notice required by its terms should be given at once.

Congressman Stedman spent the fall months at his home in this city and in mingling with his friends throughout the district. By coming in direct contact with people in every section of the district, he returns to Washington with a more intimate knowledge of the needs and wishes of his constituents, and thereby will be able to render the district better service.

HIS WOUNDS PROVE FATAL.

C. M. Crumpton, of Ossipee, Dies in This City.

C. M. Crumpton, the young man of Ossipee, Alamance county, who was brought to St. Leo's hospital six weeks ago suffering from gunshot wounds in his body and spine, died at midnight last Thursday night. He made a brave fight against great odds for life. Abe Conklin, the man who did the shooting, was arrested in Norfolk soon after the affair and is in jail in Alamance county. He will now have to answer the charge of murder.

The two men told different stories of the shooting. Crumpton said that he and Conklin, together with some other men, had gone "possum hunting." While out he and Conklin had some words, whereupon Conklin left the party and went back to the mills. Later in the night as he was returning from the hunt he was fired upon from ambush by Conklin. The charge of the gun took effect in his back, injuring his spine and paralyzing the lower part of his body.

Conklin admits shooting the deceased, but says that it was in a card game that the difficulty arose and that he shot Crumpton after the latter had struck him. This story is not corroborated by any members of the hunting party. When Conklin was brought here from Virginia, he was carried to the hospital and Crumpton then said "That is the man who shot me." Conklin then entered a vigorous denial of the shooting, but before that had even denied that his name was Conklin.

Mr. Crumpton was married, and his wife was at his bedside during the long and tedious five weeks. He was in a critical condition from the first and little hope for his recovery was entertained. The body was carried to Ossipee for the funeral and interment.

BIG MASONIC MEETING.

Royal Arch Chapter Confers Degree and Enjoys Banquet.

At a special communication of Chorazin Chapter, Royal Arch Masons, held in this city last Thursday night, there was more enthusiasm shown than in years. The royal arch degree was conferred on several candidates by the chapter. Grand High Priest H. A. Murrill, of Charlotte, was present and showed much gratification at the degree of efficiency manifested by the local chapter.

After the conferring of the degree, the chapter adjourned to its elegant banquet hall, where a most elaborate Thanksgiving supper was served. Covers were laid for sixty. Mr. John J. Phoenix was toastmaster and toasts were responded to as follows: "Fraternity," F. P. Hobgood, Jr.; "Masonry," Rev. W. C. Wicker; and short talks were made by Dr. J. T. J. Battle, H. Sternberger, C. J. Tinsley, Samuel Brown, John W. Petty, C. M. Vanstony and Rev. Charles H. Wenhold, Jr.

Captain Hobgood, in his talk, referred to the conditions incident to the slowness in which pledges were being paid toward the erection of the home for aged and indigent Masons in Greensboro, stating that the work was practically suspended and that nothing was done toward raising the necessary money to continue the work immediately.

Those present responded nobly and raised as a Thanksgiving offering to this worthy cause a cash donation of $500.

A Charming Woman

Is one who is lovely in face, form, mind and temper. But its hard for a woman to be charming without health. A weak, sickly woman will be nervous and irritable. Constipation and kidney poisons show in pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. But Electric Bitters always prove a godsend to women who want health, beauty and friends. They regulate stomach, liver and kidneys, purify the blood, give strong nerves, bright eyes, pure breath, smoothly, velvety skin, lovely complexion and perfect health. BAPTIST STATE CONVENTION.

Met in Annual Session in Winston-Salem Tuesday.

The North Carolina Baptist Convention met in Brown Memorial church, Winston-Salem, Tuesday and will remain in session through tomorrow. Ministers and lay delegates are in attendance from every section of the state, and the convention is said to be one of the greatest in the history of the denomination in North Carolina. The convention met in Winston-Salem 11 years ago. Then the report of the treasurer showed that during the previous year the sum of $46,667.35 had been raised; this year the treasurer's report will show that $121,032.40 has been raised. The number of white Baptists in North Carolina 11 years ago was fewer than 175,000; now there are 226,000.

Speaking of the progress the Baptists have made in North Carolina, Rev. Livingston Johnson, of Raleigh, secretary of the board of home missions, said:

"Considerable progress has been made along all lines since the last meeting in Winston. There were that year fewer than 175,000 white Baptists in the state, while we now number 226,000. Meredith College had just begun its career and was hampered by a $42,000 debt. Subscriptions were taken at that convention to pay off this indebtedness, and that marked the beginning of the larger career of this excellent school.

"This year again in the city of Winston one of the most important matters to be considered will be the endowment of Meredith in order that its usefulness may be still further increased.

"That year we had no system of secondary schools, but now we have an educational secretary, who gives his time to fostering the interests of our educational institutions.

"That year we reported for missions $40,000. We are now raising nearly three times that amount. Along every other line there has been marked progress."

LEVI M. SCOTT'S FUNERAL.

Nestor of Greensboro Bar Buried With Honors Befitting His Station.

The funeral of the venerable Levi M. Scott, the nestor of the Greensboro bar, whose death was announced last week's Patriot, was held from the late residence on Fayetteville street last Thursday afternoon, the service being conducted by Rev. Charles E. Hodgin, pastor of Westminster Presbyterian church. The funeral was one of the most largely attended held in Greensboro in a long while. The members of the bar attended in a body, as did the members of Buena Vista Lodge No. 21, I. O. O. F.

The service at the home was followed by the interment in Greene Hill cemetery, which was in charge of the Odd Fellows, with which fraternity Mr. Scott had been affiliated for so many years. The following members of the Greensboro bar served as active pallbearers: Col. James T. Morehead, Judge R. C. Stradwick, Col. John A. Barringer, Judge W. P. Pynum, Judge T. J. Shaw, R. R. King, G. S. Bradshaw and Thomas C. Hoyle.

Mr. Scott left an estate valued at $75,000 or more, and it is probably worth $100,000. He left personal property to the value of about $15,000, the remainder being in real estate. Mr. Scott formerly had a will, but he destroyed it about four months ago, thereby leaving his estate by descent and distribution under the rules of law. The only direct heirs and distributees are Mr. L. Scott Reynolds and his sister, Miss Marie Reynolds, grandchildren of the deceased. Mr. L. Scott Reynolds has qualified before the clerk of the Superior court as administrator of the estate.

Progress in the Hookworm Campaign Accelerated.

Reports from the physicians of the state and from the physicians conducting the state and county free dispensaries for hookworm disease, show that since the work began twenty-one months ago upwards of forty-five thousand people have been treated. Nearly half of this number has been treated in the free dispensaries of thirteen counties since July first. In the state there are 1,800 physicians, and 1,500 of them are active practitioners, 1,200 of them have sent in written accounts of their experience with the disease, and 800 (of them, representing all sections of the state, have been actively engaged in treating the disease. Twenty-five counties have already made provision for the dispensaries, besides those appropriating for the dispensaries the first Monday in December.

Thirty-six thousand people have been microscopically examined for hookworm disease. A large number of those treated had such heavy infection that the microscopic examination was not necessary. There is found now little difficulty in securing co-operation on the part of the people and county commissioners, where good results of the work can be seen or heard of.

Wins Fight For Life.

It was a long and bloody battle for life that was waged by James B. Mershon, of Newark, N. J., of which he writes: "I had lost much blood from lung hemorrhages, and was very weak and run down. For eight months I was unable to work. Death seemed close on my heels, when I began, three weeks ago, to use Dr. King's New Discovery. But it has helped me greatly. It is doing all that you claim." For weak, sore lungs, stubborn colds, hoarseness, la grippe, asthma, hay fever or any throat or lung trouble it's supreme. 50c and $1. Trial bottle free. Guarantee by Fariss-Klutz Drug Company.

THE COLORADO RIVER BASIN.

A Region of Vast Economic and International Importance.

There is no more interesting river in the world than the Colorado. Industrially, scenically, and geologically it presents more diverse conditions than any other stream in the United States. From the crest of the Rocky Mountains in Colorado and Wyoming it sweeps across the intervening country, traversing parts of Utah, New Mexico, Arizona and Nevada, to the head of the Gulf of California, the area drained being about 300,000 square miles. In the Rocky Mountain region it flows through a country covered by eternal snows and waters some of the most fertile and valuable agricultural lands in the world in western Colorado, northwestern New Mexico, and eastern Utah. It traverses the Grand Canyon of the Colorado in the northern part of Arizona and finally passes over the broad, flat plains above the head of the Gulf of California. In this lowermost portion the river strongly resembles the Nile, having annual floods which deposit silt over the adjoining lands and render them as fertile as those in the historic valley of North Africa. The Colorado and its tributaries have other values than that of irrigation, for, descending in steep channels, they present abundant opportunities for the development of water power. Power has been developed at a few points, but the resources of the Colorado basin are in this respect yet practically untouched.

In a basin so liberally provided with natural resources it is a fundamental necessity, in planning for the utilization of the river, to ascertain the amount of water available in the main stream and its principal tributaries, so that future developments, as well as those now under construction, can be suitably designed in type and capacity. For a long period of years the United States Geological Survey has been making observations and measurements at many important points in the Colorado basin, and the latest published information on the subject is contained in Water-Supply Paper 269 of the Survey, which is a progress report of river-flow measurements in this basin for the year 1909. In this report are recorded observations at 179 stations, covering Grand River and tributaries in Colorado; Green River and tributaries in Utah, Colorado, and Wyoming; the San Juan basin in northwestern New Mexico; the Little Colorado River basin in Colorado; the Gila River basin in Arizona; and finally the discharge near the mouth of the main stream at Yuma, Ariz. These records are not only of local value for guiding economic development, but they have an international significance in connection with the difficulties that have been encountered in the control of the Colorado near its mouth in Mexican territory. The escape of the river from its regular channel and its diversion into the Salton Sea are matters of recent history, and the consequences of a diversion of this kind, which promised to inundate some of the most fertile country in southern California, have been discussed in the public press.

The control of the Colorado for the prevention of further outbreaks must involve thorough knowledge of the tributary flow, even in the high regions of its headwaters, in Colorado, and the ultimate steps taken to prevent disastrous inundation will in all probability involve the control of these upland tributaries.

The size of Colorado river is indicated by its total discharge in the year 1909, which was 26,000,000 acre-feet, or enough water to cover that number of acres to a depth of one foot. Such an amount of water, if poured upon Manhattan Borough of the City of New York and confined by retaining walls, would bury the city 1,857 feet deep, or it would make a lake 66 feet deep over the state of Delaware.

A copy of Water-Supply Paper 269 may be obtained on application to the director of the Geological Survey, at Washington, D. C.

A MAN WHO WAITED.

Patient Accumulation Contrasted With Get-rich-quick Ideas.

Louisville Courier-Journal.

"All things come to him who waits"—provided he is patient and a good stayer. A paragraph going the rounds of the Kentucky papers is an exemplification of the saying. Forty-two years ago a boy in Clay county, who was then seventeen years of age, purchased a tract of land, and paid for it with six sheep, five cows, one cow, and a rifle. A few days ago he sold the same tract of land for $31,040, cash in hand.

This was no get-rich-quick proposition. It did not involve any risk. It was merely a question of time and patience, and this Clay county man was blessed with a liberal supply of both. It was slow business, but it was safe and sure. It would not appeal to a Napoleon of finance, and perhaps, would be a too long drawn process for the average man. His life is short, and most Americans do not like to wait. There is nothing so very remarkable about it, as land everywhere is increasing in value and must continue to increase, as long as the country grows in population. Nevertheless, it was a pretty good stroke of business for the country boy when he swapped his land and his live stock for a liberal sum of money. In the years intervening, it may well be imagined, he has not been idle. He has built his mountain land to good use. He has made a living, and more than a living, and at fifty-nine he finds himself with a comfortable fortune.

PELLAGRA IS A PUZZLE.

Physicians Unable to Fathom the Mysterious Disease.

Washington, Dec. 3.—After many months of investigation of pellagra in the Southern states, the scientists of the public health and marine hospital service are in as much doubt as ever as to the cause of the scourge. Meanwhile the disease seems to be gaining and it has been reported that nearly every physician in South Carolina has from five to fifteen cases in his private practice.

Assistant Surgeon General John D. Long says it has been demonstrated that cures can be effected even up to the fifth attack, but that there is little hope when the patient has reached the stage of insanity. Pellagra has been found to be a seasonal disease and it is thought that the greatly varying temperatures of South Carolina may be partly responsible for its prevalence there.

The investigators have found that the greatest number of cases develop during the spring and autumn months, when there are sudden and marked changes in the weather.

Comparison of pellagra in the United States with pellagra in Italy, where the disease is common, has proved that the attack is much more severe in this country. Children, it has been found, respond to treatment much more satisfactorily than do adults, and show the greatest percentage of recoveries. When the disease reaches the point of producing insanity, a suicidal tendency develops and nearly all pellagra victims choose drowning.

Cottonseed oil, Indian corn, certain classes of vegetables and a recently discovered gnat are among the supposed causes, but the disease still is a mystery to the scientists.

THE GENERAL DEATH RATE.

Mortality Statistics Made Public by the Census Bureau.

A preliminary statement giving the general death rates for all cities with a population of less than 100,000 in the census bureau's death registration area in 1910 has been made public by Director Durand.

The total number of deaths from all causes in 1910, as returned for all the registration cities, both in registration and in non-registration states, was 502,109, or a death rate of 16.1 per 1,000 population. Of the total number, 400,305 deaths occurred in cities in registration states, while registration cities in non-registration states recorded 101,804 deaths. The death rate for the former, however, was 15.9 per 1,000 population, while for the latter cities it was 16.9. These figures are all exclusive of stillbirths.

General rates are such as are computed without "correction" for the varying factors of age and sex distribution, as the population data necessary for the computation of corrected rates are not yet available from the recent census; they are not, therefore, fully reliable measures of sanitary efficiency, there being much difference in the age constitution of old, slow-growing cities and those increasing rapidly by immigration, which latter have much lower death rates than the former. These considerations, and the fact that the colored population constitutes a considerable element of some of the Southern cities, should be taken into account. In the state of North Carolina, Raleigh had a rate of 27.9; Wilmington, 20.8; Winston, 20.3; Durham, 19.9; Asheville, 19.7; Greensboro, 19; and Charlotte, 17.7.

A Surry County Tigress.

Mt. Airy News.

Mrs. Annie Holt, of Rockford township, was up before the court for fighting. She was at the tobacco barn where her husband had sent her to work at the tobacco and when she got near the barn she saw her neighbor, J. W. Bowles, and she advanced on him with a rock in one hand and a brick in the other. She ordered him away and when he failed to get as fast as she thought he should have moved she let drive with the brick and then with the rock. Without the least delay she was gathering up more deadly weapons and Mr. Bowles thought he was justifiable in stopping her further warlike operations by slapping her down. She arose from the ground an enraged tigress and what she tried to do for him was a plenty. She fastened her grip on his pants in a rather compromising way and held on like grim death. Mr. Bowles got busy and he had no mean antagonist to deal with. He struck her on the arms and tried to break her hold, and when he finally got loose the enraged woman had torn nearly every rag of clothing from her body. Bowles got away, and well he did, for her disposition to fight was not the least subdued by the tussle they had had. The lawyers argued the case at length and able speeches were made on both sides, but her reputation for whipping every man who was such that the jury returned a verdict of guilty.

No Sauerkraut For Them.

Atlanta Journal.

There is a sauerkraut shortage in Germany, woe upon us! The news is all too true, for it comes to us through the absolutely accurate medium of the consular service. Consul General Robert P. Skinner, in Hamburg, informs the state department of it, adding that Hamburg importers will be glad to receive offers of American sauerkraut. Think of carrying coals to Newcastle, or bananas to South America, or watermelons and goobers to Georgia!

But they cannot have any of our sauerkraut. Their own cabbage crop is short, and the German exporters have been obliged to cancel contracts to supply the American market, and the famine will be worse in January than now; but for all that, they must go on half rations for a while, because we of the United States must think of our own needs at home. Ship some of it back? Not much!

THE OIL PRODUCTION.

Largest Output of Petroleum Ever Reported.

More than 200,000,000 barrels of oil with a value of nearly $128,000,000, were produced in the United States last year, according to David T. Day, of the United States Geological Survey, in an advance chapter on petroleum from "Mineral Resources of the United States" for 1910.

The petroleum industry in the United States, says Dr. Day, has been characterized by a phenomenal increase each year for the last four years. Each year's gain over that of the year before has been so remarkable as to lead to the belief that the limit of production had been reached, but the increase has continued rapidly. After varying between 50,000,000 and 60,000,000 barrels annually in the decade between 1890 and 1900, the oil output was over 63,000,000 barrels in 1902. In 1903 it passed the 100,000,000-barrel mark, in 1904 it was over 170,000,000 barrels, and in 1905 nearly 135,000,000 barrels. After a slight decline in 1906 the output rose again, in 1907 reaching 166,000,000 barrels. It was 178,000,000 barrels in 1908, 183,000,000 barrels in 1909, and 208,556,048 barrels in 1910, a gain of 14 per cent. over the record output of 1909. This brought the total output since the beginning of the petroleum industry to more than two billion barrels.

United States Leads the World.

The United States is now by far the greatest oil-producing country; in fact, it produces more than all the rest of the world together. In 1910 the wells of this country yielded nearly 64 per cent. of the total production, Russia scoring a very poor second with about 70,000,000 barrels, or 21 per cent. The production of other countries is comparatively negligible, the third on the list, Galicia, contributing only 3.87 per cent. of the total.

A Giant Pumpkin.

Strand Magazine.

A giant pumpkin which four-year-old Miss Rolls, of Santa Paula, uses as a cradle, was raised by Mr. C. C. Teague, manager of the Blanchard ranch, and is particularly wonderful from the fact that on the same vine were twelve others, weighing an average of 180 pounds each. As this weighs 230 pounds, a little figuring shows that there was over a ton of pumpkin on one vine—2,390 pounds, to be exact. It received no fertilizer or special cultivation. This pumpkin measures 7 feet 8 inches around the "waist," stands 3 feet 9 inches high, and measures in circumference lengthwise 10 feet 4 inches.

A CERTAIN CURE FOR CATARRH

The mucous membranes of the nose and throat are exposed to the irritating influence of dust, impure air, etc., and for this reason are the places Catarrh usually first manifests itself. But these are simply exciting causes, the inflammation and discharge being really produced by an impure and vitiated condition of the blood. It is well enough to use some local treatment to cleanse these membranes, but any one can readily see that if the inflammatory matter is left in the blood, such treatment cannot possibly have any permanent effect. S. S. S. cures Catarrh by purifying the blood of all impure catarrhal matter and irritating germs and at the same time builds up the system by its fine tonic effects. When S. S. S. has purified the blood, the mucous surfaces are all nourished and made healthy. There can be no inflammation of the membranes then, because the blood is pure, and every tissue receives nourishment instead of irritating matter. Our book on Catarrh will give proper advice as to what is best to use as a local aid while S. S. S. is purifying the blood. This book is free, also any special advice you may feel you need. S. S. S. is sold at drug stores.

CONGRESS IS IN SESSION.

Assembled Monday For a Long and Hard Fought Battle.

The second session of the sixty-second Congress convened in Washington Monday afternoon, and owing to the great amount of business that is expected to be brought before the body, will probably remain in session for the next six or seven months. It included into office two new senators and five new representatives, and in the lower branch, presented the sensational spectacle of an opening day philippic, a speech by Representative Littleton, of New York, a Democrat, who for 70 minutes berated against the so-called American anti-trust league. That organization had attacked him in connection with his attitude toward the so-called steel trust inquiry.

Close upon that speech, which Democrats and Republicans alike accorded round after round of applause, Republican Leader Mann, in a resolution bespeaking the respect in which the New York member was held, called for a formal investigation of the efforts to "blacken the character" of Mr. Littleton.

The political complexion of Congress at present is as follows: Senate—Republicans 49; Democrats 42; one vacancy (Colorado). House—Democrats 227; Republicans 161; Socialist 1; Independent 1; vacancy 1 (seventh Kansas district).

In an interview on the most important work of the session, Hon. Oscar W. Underwood, of Alabama, the Democratic floor leader, said:

"While no definite program as to tariff bills in the house has yet been framed, it is certain that the Democratic caucus will unanimously approve immediate action by the ways and means committee. The committee will welcome the report of the tariff board on the textile schedules, but it will not delay action for any great length of time if the board's report is held back.

"Of course the principal schedules to be revised or reduced will be wool, cotton, iron and steel and possibly sugar. The order in which these will be taken up will be determined after consultation with the members of the Democratic majority. As to the sugar schedule, discussion but no action in the extreme session, the ways and means committee will look forward to the report of the special committee of inquiry into the American sugar company. This report, it is expected, will contain recommendations bearing on the sugar tariff."

Upon the attitude of the insurgent Republicans will depend the legislative accomplishments of the senate. They hold the balance of power as between the regular Republicans and the Democrats and without their acquiescence nothing can be done by either of the regular parties.

The President's Message. President Taft's message, devoted exclusively to a discussion of the trust question, was read in both branches of Congress Tuesday and was generally well received.

The president, defended the Sherman act as interpreted by the Supreme court of the United States, indicated plainly his opposition to the repeal or amendment of this statute, but suggested that Congress pass a federal incorporation law and supplemental legislation that "would describe and denounce methods of competition that are unfair."

To supervise corporations chartered under federal law, President Taft proposed the creation of an executive bureau, or commission, with powers akin to those of the interstate commerce commission.

Speaking of the much-discussed dissolution of the tobacco trust, the president declared that in his opinion "not in the history of American law has a decree more effective for such a purpose been entered by a court."

Hoke Smith Declines His Salary.

Washington, Dec. 5.—The federal treasury will be $3,000 richer because Senator Hoke Smith, of Georgia, decided today that he could not accept pay for being a United States senator and a governor at the same time.

Senator Smith was elected on July 12 and his salary from the government started at that date. He chose the state of Georgia's money, however, and today turned back about $3,000 salary to which he was entitled as senator.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. TRYING TO ECONOMIZE.

Government Expenditures For Next Year to be Decreased.

Washington, Dec. 4.—Estimates of the treasury department for running the government during the next fiscal year, submitted to Congress today, contemplate a saving of $21,283,921.43, as compared with the amount appropriated for the fiscal year 1911-1912. The total amount estimated for all expenses of government is $755,831,563. This amount does not include the appropriations for the postoffice department, which is expected to be self-sustaining. The appropriations made by Congress for the present fiscal year aggregated $757,218,435.

Economy of government expense proposed is shown to be greatest in the estimates for public works, which are cut from $122,040,000 to $100,716,701, a decrease of $21,323,356. Accompanying the estimate for public buildings and grounds is a note explaining that to care properly for public buildings already authorized by specific appropriations, further appropriations of $13,000,000 would be necessary. The secretary of the treasury does not include this sum in his estimate. As members of Congress usually are careful to secure more definite assurance that buildings in their respective districts are to be provided for, the probability is that the $13,000,000 will be included in the appropriation bill finally passed, which would cut down the apparent saving considerably.

Decreases are shown in the estimates submitted for the pension fund, conduct of the executive establishments and for the department of agriculture. Substantial increases, however, in estimates asked for the military and rural establishments almost offset the other savings.

North Carolina Appropriations.

The estimates call for $210,000 with which to complete the remodeling of the Charlotte postoffice, for commencing or completing buildings already authorized by law these amounts are named as necessary in North Carolina: Gastonia, $25,000; Greenville, $29,000; Hendersonville, $5,000; Hickory, $32,000; Oxford, $32,000; Raleigh, $185,000; Washington, $37,000; Wilmington, $120,000; and Winston-Salem, $200,000.

It is also recommended that the following appropriations be made for rental of buildings pending repairs: Raleigh, $9,000; Raleigh, $3,500; and Winston-Salem, $7,000. For the maintenance and remodeling of buildings of the Cherokee Indian school an appropriation of $35,559 is asked.

Standard Oil Trust Extinct.

The career of the "oil trust" officially came to an end last Thursday. The Standard Oil Company, of New Jersey, sometimes called the father of trusts and perhaps the most celebrated corporation in the world, will no longer control the affairs as the holding company of more than 30 corporations in various branches of the oil business. By inking with Friday, these subsidiaries, which under the decree of the United States Supreme court must conduct independently the various enterprises, will assume entire management of their own affairs.

The oil trust theoretically passed out of existence on August 31, when the books containing the records of the company's stockholders were closed for distribution of the stock of the subsidiaries, but during the intervening period of readjustment it was necessary to preserve the old form to a large extent. Now the work of disintegration has been completed. The stock issues representing the subsidiaries will pass into the hands of owners of old Standard Oil stock, and the threads which long have bound the old companies together will be severed.

Republicans May Call Primary.

Webster's Weekly.

News comes from Raleigh that the Republicans will call a primary on the question of the United States senatorship next fall at the same time that the Democrats hold their primary. This primary is expected to show the real strength of the party and prevent members of the party from being enticed into the Democratic primary through the sharp competition of the four Democratic candidates who are to be in the Democratic fight. Thomas Settle and State Chairman Morehead are spokesmen likely to be interested in making the race, though the probability is that Morehead will be drafted for the gubernatorial contest.

THE JOKER.

(Written For The Patriot.)

Yes, once there lived a little man Who always liked to crack his jokes;
He'd alien them to autocrats.
And lean them out to common folks.

No matter where that man would be,
A laughing or a chewing breed,
He'd rile of a pair or two
In spite of all that could be said.

A stack of ancient lore kept he,
As well as wreckers of the day;
So, when that man got started out,
All other jokes ceased to say.

He'd tell one on the Eskimo—
Upset old Satan's ugly inn,
Then up and tell the banner joke
About his wife's next upper lip.

That man was known by old and young
In every land and clime, you see;
When he was present with his chums
He played as number fifty-three.

He died; his comrades, all bereaved,
Preserved a token of his fame;
Now, when they play, there are fifty-two,
And little joker's out the game.

NEWS OF THE OLD NORTH STATE

A Survey of What is Transpiring in the Commonwealth.

Governor Kitchin has ordered a special term of Superior court for Rowan county to convene January 1. Judge Justice will preside.

Ben Brittain, white, 40 years old, is in Stokes county jail to answer a charge of attempted criminal assault, the victim being the eight-year-old daughter of Bernie Simmons, a Stokes county farmer.

John Moxley Friday shot and killed Mitchell Wilson, a farmer of Glade Creek township, Alleghany county. They had left a store together. No one saw the shooting. Moxley was drunk, it is said, and claims the shooting was accidental.

Marvin Williams, colored, was shot dead in Wins on Friday night and Virgil Boyles, a young white man, is charged with the shooting. Young Boyles was in the employ of the Winston-Salem Light and Fuel Company and it is said he caught the negro stealing coal and fired on him as he ran. After the shooting Boyles disappeared.

The office of the Fayetteville Ice and Manufacturing Company was completely wrecked Saturday morning and the windows and window frames of nearby dwellings blown from the walls, when 20 pounds of dynamite exploded during preparations for blasting operations by H. W. Abernathy, of Charlotte. Abernathy was preparing to explode 100 pounds of dynamite in an artesian well in order to obtain a greater flow of water and was engaged in soldering together five tubes of the explosive when a tube containing 50 pounds of dynamite caught fire from the soldering iron. The heat from the blaze set off the caps of two smaller tubes. No one was hurt.

As the Boy Had Suggested.

"Do you remember, my boy," asked the father, kindly but firmly, "that in your studies you suggested that actions spoke louder than words?"

"Yes, sir," said the boy with a grin that he did not feel.

"Thereby, as I took it, you expressed that you would like to have me express my emotions in some more substantial way."

"Yes, sir."

"I have not forgotten that. There is a great deal that is worthy of consideration in that saying. And though you have displeased me greatly today, I will show you what I think. Come with me." And the father led the way to the woodshed.

Woman's Culture.

It is not the wish of the advocates of the higher culture of woman's powers to withdraw her from her existing spheres of interest and activity, but rather to fit women for the more enlightened performance of their special duties, to help them toward learning how to do better what they have to do, whether as members of society alone or in the higher walks of a mother's or a teacher's duties, or in any of the arts or professions which may be chosen by them.

The work that many women are doing nobly now, without instruction, how much more nobly and efficiently would they be able to do if they had been taught!

What He Was Doing.

As the Wellmer family were returning from a trip a tire burst and something went wrong with the car. Of course, Papa Wellmer had to fix it. He said a few things to himself and then proceeded to crawl under the machine. As he was tinkering with it a man, evidently from Egg Harbor, walked by and, of course, stopped to find out the trouble.

"Fixin' the machine, eh?" he said, stooping down.

"Nope," said Wellmer, in muffled tones, "just taking a course by mail on raising chickens."

The Oak Leaf of December 1 is full of good things. It is becoming an indispensable of the O. R. I. student.

The Thanksgiving reception Wednesday evening, November 29, was a very enjoyable affair. Music was furnished by Hood's orchestra from Greensboro.

The declamation and debating contest on Thursday night was largely attended and much enjoyed. Mr.
Hay, of the Phi. society, won in declamation, and Mr. Rand, of the Phi. society, in debate. The debate as a whole, however, was won by the Athenian society.

Rev. W. R. Lowdermilk preached his first sermon of the new year at the M. P. church Sunday night. The large audience attested the high estimation in which he is held here.

The Union Sunday school and the
M. E. Sunday school of this place will hold a joint oyster supper and public sale at the graded school here Saturday night, December 9. All are cordially invited to come out and have a good time.

The Southern Auto. College closes
December 23 and reopens January 1.
Applications for catalogues have recently been received from Honolulu, Hawaiian Islands. The school has had a successful year.

Entertainment at McLeansville.

There will be an entertainment given under the auspices of the Woman's Betterment Association at the McLeansville graded school building Saturday night, December 16, beginning at 7 o'clock. A small admission fee will be charged, the proceeds to be used for the benefit of the school. Everybody is cordially invited to come out and spend a pleasant evening.

Box Social at Tabernacle.

The Tabernacle school girls will give a box social in the school building Friday, December 15, beginning promptly at 7.30. After the boxes are disposed of refreshments will be served. The proceeds will be used for the benefit of the school.

A Sunday School Financier.

"Now, Willie," said the superintendent's little boy, addressing the blacksmith's little boy, who had come over for a frolic, "we'll play
'Sabbath school.' You give me a nickel every Sunday for six months, and then at Christmas I'll give you a 10-cent bag of candy."

The deficit of the federal government continues to grow. Up to date the disbursements of the current fiscal year have exceeded the receipts by $20,641,000, while a month ago the deficit was $20,181,000. The government collected $56,589,000 in November and expended $77,050,000.
The receipts for the previous month were $56,054,000 and the disbursements $60,188,000.

CURIOUS BITS OF HISTORY

By A. W. MACY.

A BLANKET PROCESSION.

In 1817 the dissatisfied weavers of Lancashire, England, got together and resolved to march up to London and lay their grievances before the prince regent.
As it was quite a way to London, each took a blanket along to wrap about him at night. About 5,000 made the start, and a curious looking parade it must have been. One eyewitness described the marchers as "a most deplorable lot, without food and without organization." Scarcely had they begun to move when they were attacked by the military and partially dispersed.
Some kept on, but the desertions became more and more frequent.
By the time the marching column reached the outskirts of London it had dwindled to six persons, and not one reached the presence of the prince regent.

A FAMILY REUNION.

Delightful Occasion in Southeastern Guilford Thanksgiving.

Thanksgiving day a family reunion was held at Mr. W. A. Welker's, in southeastern Guilford. All the children and grandchildren were present, except Mrs. Harold Woods and children of Statesville. While she was absent, she was in no wise forgotten.

For many weeks the children have been asking papa and mama how long it was till Thanksgiving day, and we would not be surprised if their parents had not taken a few extra peeps at the calendar themselves to see how long it was till Thanksgiving day. Early Thursday morning they began to gather at the old home place, and Grandpa Welker's face wore a broad smile as children and grandchildren arrived.

The men folks went rabbit hunting and had some fine chases, but along about noon they began to head towards the house as if some attraction were drawing them that way, and if you could have taken a peep in the dining room, you could have accounted for it.

The ladies did not go hunting, but all said they had as good a time as the men, and from the racket they made talking and laughing, I guess they did.

About 12:30 o'clock all went to the dining room, where the table fairly groaned under its load of good things to eat. And such a dinner! Not small dishes with long French names, but a good old time Thanksgiving dinner, such as only our good country mothers know how to bake.

Every one seemed to feel sorry for the load the table had to carry and did their best to lighten it, but after all had eaten there was plenty and to spare for as many more. Between thirty and forty ate dinner, so you can imagine that something to eat disappeared, and every body enjoyed it from Grandpa Welker to his youngest grandchild.

After dinner the men and boys again went hunting, and when they returned 25 of rabbit scalps adorned the belts of the hunters.

Mr. Welker's home is one of the oldest houses in that part of Guilford, but like its owner, winter's snows and summer's heat seem to pass lightly over it; and like its owner's heart, its porches and halls are just as broad and its rooms just as warm as they were half a century ago; and no matter how cold the day, you can always be sure of a warm welcome and a warm fire at Grandpa Welker's.

All too soon did the day pass and the time come to say good bye to Grandpa and Grandma Welker and go home; and all left hoping to meet with them many more Thanksgivings and have a good time.

His Fortune Destroyed by Rats.

Washington, Dec. 2.—The life savings of Jack Simpson, of Aitkin, Minn., amounting to $2,565, securely hidden from burglars, were reduced to pulp by hungry rats and mice, and in a letter received by President Taft today he appealed for the redemption of the pulverized fragments by the federal treasury.

His wealth, accumulated to buy a farm, Simpson explains, was placed in a box and deposited between the "upstairs floor and ceiling." No human being disturbed it, but when he took it from its hiding place, he found it reduced to dust by the ravages of rodents.

The president has referred the matter to the treasury department for investigation.

The treasury department recently redeemed for a Kansas farmer a roll of bills which slipped out of his back pocket while he was ploughing his fields and which was buried in the soil for a year. The money, subjected to rain and frost, was a sorry sight when he recovered it upon re-ploughing the field the following season. The treasury experts succeeded in piecing it together, sufficiently establishing its identity for redemption.

Make Your Grounds Extend A welcome to all who pass by

You can so completely put your own self into the planting of your house and grounds that they will "welcome" your guests as warmly as you would if you were at the entrance in person when they arrived.

It is not the amount of money you spend, nor the number of trees and plants you use, but the way you use them, that counts—and part of our business is to show you just how you can take a few things, costing only a little, and make a finer effect than some one else might get with more expensive but poorly-planned planting.

Our Trees and Plants Are an Investment That Increases in Value Every Year

A few shrubs, such as a good specimen Hydrangea, Spirea, or Rhododendron—planted close in around the house, or in clumps over the lawn—will help improve the looks of a place and add heavily to its price, if sold.

Some evergreens, used as a background for shrubbery, roses, or other flowers, or as a screen to hide unsightly objects, will brighten up your grounds in winter when other green things are gone, adding the welcome touch of color that you like so well.

Shade trees will keep the home cool in summer; roses and vines will brighten it and fill the air with perfume; a living hedge of Privet or Barberry will replace the wooden or iron fence, remain lovely the year round, and "set off" everything inside.

"Trees That Produce Results"

Our catalogue tells all about them—fruit trees of every kind that will do well in the South; shade trees, evergreens, roses, etc.; everything for planting the home grounds—and of the highest quality, as expressed by our motto, "Trees That Produce Results." You can depend strictly on what you get from us, and we will make it worth your while to buy here. Write for particulars, call or telephone.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Work Alone

By JULIA REED

Some Girls Take Much Interest in Labor

IT MAY SEEM somewhat paradoxical to say that a girl may take too much interest in her work, but it is nevertheless true. Of course, there is the class of girl (and she might be called almost typical she is so numerous) who is merely poised, so to speak, on her position temporarily, waiting until she shall flutter away to a husband and a home, but there is also the girl who becomes so wrapped up in her work that only on the rarest occasion can she take a peep beyond the narrow horizon that bounds it.

She works early and late until she is practically a nervous wreck, and is imposed upon quite as a matter of course.

Of course, it is a truism that she who wishes to succeed must put her whole heart into her work. This is self-evident.

But there is a sane and safe level between neglecting one's work and living for that and nothing else.

The good worker should also be the good player, and above all she should learn to drop her work when she leaves the office or schoolroom or workshop, and learn to take an interest in something outside her own little base of operations.

People quickly get the habit of avoiding as if she were a pestilence the girl who is constantly quoting the "boss" or bragging of the quantity or quality of the work she does.

The amusing things that happen at the office are legitimate subjects for conversation, and will be welcomed when recounted at home or at the boarding house, but the purely business details contain as a rule not the least glimmering of interest for the outsider.

This kind of girl becomes rather a nuisance to the "boss" himself in time, for she is always ready to take offense at anything which she considers a slight.

Many girls undergo real suffering by having certain work they were in the habit of doing given to some one else, when it should have been regarded as a relief and a kindness done to them.

The girls who can think of nothing but clothes, and who will suddenly break into any conversation with some irrelevant remark as to tucks or gathers or box plaits, and demand that you shall give your opinion regarding the same, is pretty bad, worse, perhaps, than the girl who thinks too much of her work, but the latter is nevertheless bad enough.

Ancient Idea of Real Home is Passing

By N. K. KILBERG

"I am going home," was the remark made to me by a friend and I immediately responded by asking: "Where is your home?" And the reply came: "In a flat building." But homes are few and flats are many.

The old idea of a real home is fast disappearing. Clearly, the change has come to stay; it may be worse as time goes by, but improvement is beyond hope.

What is the remedy? Simply to make the best of the situation instead of the worst.

The wife of my friend was reared in an old-fashioned home, while today she presides over a modern flat of six rooms. Her nature is conciliatory, while that of her neighbor in the next flat is domineering.

They are comparative strangers, but the spirit of the latter soon discovered the meekness of my friend's wife. "My home is this little flat," she said to the writer, "is a full quarter-section of eternal hades, but what can I do? We have moved three times already on account of unneighborly neighbors, but the change has been for the worse instead of the better. The whole trouble appears to lie in the fact that many people forget that the cheapest form of displaying wisdom is to find fault."

Little Quail is True Friend of Farmer

By W. W. DAVIS
Chicago

The papers have lately published the season for shooting quail and prairie chickens in Illinois.

There should be no season for destroying these friends of the farmer.

Our legislators do not read the agricultural reports of the university at Champaign, which show that our various birds feed largely on the injurious insects so destructive to the crops of grain and fruit everywhere.

The birds are the scavengers of the fields and the orchards.

Instead of granting a season of privilege to the reckless hunters, the law should make the shooting of all birds a finable offense.

Farmers should have conspicuous notices on fences and trees, "No shooting, under penalty," and if the rascals persist in intrusion club them off.

Let us have the music and services of the birds, and let hunters who are hungry for that kind of meat raise Plymouth Rocks.

What Compound Interest Really Means

By CLARENCE OHLENDORF
Park Ridge, Ill.

To illustrate the power and beauty of mathematics I have proposed the following problem: What is the amount in cents from the year 1 till 1910 of one cent compounded annually at six per cent. interest?

The problem is easily solvable by means of logarithms, using the well-known formula for compound interest.

The number of cents is approximately 2,198,500,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000—a figure with 49 numbers in it.

If all of these cents were made into one solid sphere it would have a radius of approximately 370 times the distance of the earth to the sun, i. e., 370 times 92,500,000, or 34,225,000,000 miles.

Indeed, at first one would not think that the interest on one cent would be so great.

The Fountain Head of Life Is The Stomach

A man who has a weak and impaired stomach and who does not properly digest his food will soon find that his blood has become weak and impoverished, and that his whole body is improperly and insufficiently nourished.

DR. PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY makes the stomach strong, promotes the flow of digestive juices, restores the lost appetite, makes assimilation perfect, invigorates the liver and purifies and enriches the blood. It is the great blood-maker, flesh-builder and restorative nerve tonic. It makes men strong in body, active in mind and cool in judgement.

This "Discovery" is a pure, glyceric extract of American medical roots, absolutely free from alcohol and all injurious, habit-forming drugs. All its ingredients are printed on its wrappers. It has no relationship with secret nostrums. Its every ingredient is endorsed by the leaders in all the schools of medicine. Don't accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this time-proven remedy of known composition. Ask your neighbors. They must know of many cures made by it during past 40 years, right in your own neighborhood. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Pres., Buffalo, N. Y.

NORTH CAROLINA DAY.

To be Observed by the Public Schools Friday, December 22.

County Superintendent Foust has received and distributed among the public schools of Guilford copies of the circular issued by State Superintendent Joyner treating of the observance of North Carolina day. This circular-booklet was prepared by Mr. R. D. W. Connor, secretary of the state historical commission, and is most attractively gotten up. North Carolina day will be celebrated this year on December 22, the last Friday before Christmas.

The state superintendent of public instruction states in the preface to the current program the purpose of the annual North Carolina day exercises as follows: "These programs have been arranged with a view of giving the children of the rising generation a knowledge of the history of the resources, manners, customs and ways of making a living of the different sections of the state. It is hoped in this way to awaken a proper pride in the history of the state, to insure a proper confidence in its present and hope in its future, and to give the people of the different sections of the state a better acquaintance with each other."

The 1911 program has to do with the history of the various North Carolina counties. The exercises promise to be interesting and instructive. They will no doubt help the rising generation of Tar Heels to become better citizens.

The booklet is of real historical value and contains a brief outline of the history of all the counties in the state, giving the date of formation, the county or counties from which formed, the origin of the name, etc. Guilford county was formed in 1770 from parts of Rowan and Orange and was named in honor of the earl of Guilford, an English nobleman, to whom much land in this section of the state, or province, as it was then known, had been granted by the crown of England. A large number of Germans from Pennsylvania settled in this county. In their covered wagons they followed the great road from Pennsylvania through Maryland and Virginia, and selected fertile lands along the banks of rivers and creeks in what is now Guilford county. Greensboro, the county seat, was named in honor of the famous American general, Nathaniel Greene. General Greene fought the great battle of Guilford Court House against Lord Cornwallis, not far from Greensboro. "Greensborough," wrote a traveler in 1849, is "a thriving, compact village. . . . It is the capital of Guilford county."

Very few of the villages in the interior of the state appeared to me more like a Northern town than Greensborough. The houses are generally good, and the stores give evidence of active trade."

The brief historical sketch of Guilford county is followed by "The Battle of Guilford Court House," from "Carolina," by James S. Shepard:

Hail, old Guilford, hail!
Thy soil is sacred. Thine the battle ground
Where England's strong and haughty hosts grew pale
In victory's presence. Here the brave were crowned
With fame immortal. Here the loud-est gale
Of battle sounded, while the blue profound,
Rent with thy shouts of triumph, cleared away,
And poured upon thee Freedom's perfect day.

Here brave Cornwallis led his glittering bands
In pomp and splendor—here the free winds played
With plume and banner—here the loud commands
Of battle thundered, as in strength arrayed
The veteran legions of the eastern lands
Moved to the music which their valor made
On their own heart-strings. Hark! the strife begins,
And the red squadrons come like rushing winds.

But Greene is here, and like a lofty rock,
Which rolls aside the tempest's deafening roar,
His hosts are stationed, and he seems to mock
The advancing squadrons. Now the changeful shore
Of the wide sea of battle lessens, and the shock
Of charging legions dyes the field with gore.

But hark! what sound was that which rose and fell
Amid the battle's deep and deadly swell?

'Twas Gunby's battle signal. Who hath swayed
A brighter manner than the one which throws
From off his brow the smoke his rifle made?
And now the strife is hushed, and dread repose
Broods o'er both armies. Britain stands arrayed
In haughty silence, while her humble foes,
Fixing their hopes on Gunby, bend to hear
His long shell rifles, musical and clear.

A low, deep murmur breaks the silence now,
A thousand eyes are glancing on the sight
Of each loud rifle, and the lofty brow
Of Gunby kindles with a glorious light.
To see his heroes, summoned from the plow,
Advance so firmly to the bloody fight.

The charge is sounded. His brave troops hath won
With gallant Greene so gloriously begun.

MAN OF FALLEN FORTUNES

He Was Stirred to New Ambition by the Act of a Cigar Salesman.

"Cigars of the brand I used to smoke," said the man of fallen fortunes, "are, like those of many others, made in various shapes and sizes, to be sold at various prices, and of my favorite brand there was one particularly size and shape that especially pleased my fancy and that I always smoked. Stogies I usually smoke now, but occasionally, when I feel that I can spare the money, I go in and buy a few of those fine cigars."

"For one of these occasional fond smokes I went in this morning and, looking down into the case, I named my brand and reaching into the case the salesman brought out a box. But these were not of my size and shape; I indicated the ones I wanted, and the salesman brought out that box—cigars at six for a dollar, of which I now took three. I noted casually the card on the box which the salesman had first brought out, and that card I confess gave me a little thrill of pleasure and then, what was better, a stir of ambition."

"The cigars in that other box were three for a dollar, and had not the salesman brought them out to me confidently as if I were that sort of a customer? He certainly had, and I must look it. And if I looked it, why should I not be it? Why should I continue to be a stogie man? Why should I not retrieve my fallen fortunes and far surpass them—come to be not merely a six but a three for a dollar man?"

WHAT TRUE EDUCATION IS

Rev. Charles M. Sheldon's Idea of the Right Development of the Human Mind.

What is an education? It is the right development, in the right direction, all the time, of the whole being, for the purpose of giving one as much life as possible for himself, and to share with others.

This means that the whole person must be taken into account. Education means more than a one-sided development of one talent or ability. It means symmetrical and many-sided growth. The reason why there are not more interesting people in the world is because so many people are content with a one-sided development. They are willing to be musicians and nothing but musicians. They are willing to be newspaper men and nothing but newspaper men. They are willing to be lawyers and nothing but lawyers; teachers and nothing but teachers; ministers and nothing but ministers. And so their range of thinking, of conversation, and of action is limited. True education takes into account a whole being, with many different possibilities—a life which has in it the elements of surprise and an eagerness to know everything which can be known about a very great world in order to sympathize with and enter into the thought, so far as possible, of all sorts and conditions of men.—Rev. Charles M. Sheldon in the Christian Herald.

"Tonsorial."

Berlin barber was sent to prison for a month for trying to force a customer to buy things he did not want. Make such sentence general and it may be possible for a man to get a plain shave when he asks for it.—New York Herald.

Man's Vanity.

No matter if a man isn't any more forceful than a glass of ice water, he likes to have a woman refer to him as a big, strong man.—Atchison Globe.
