ever be settled, for a time, at least; but shall doubt and distress always haunt the waking and sleeping hours of the people? For one, I am emphatically opposed to any such suicidal policy. It would be madness for any party to pursue it. [Applause.] Now, let us see what has happened in the recent past. By the act of May 13th, 1882, to provide for the appointment of a commission to investigate the question of the tariff, it was provided in the third section:

Sec. 3. That it shall be the duty of said commission to take into consideration and to thoroughly investigate all the various questions relating to the agricultural, commercial, mercantile, manufacturing, mining and industrial interests of the United States, so far as the same may be necessary to the establishment of a judicious tariff, or a revision of the existing tariff, upon a scale of justice to all interests; and for the purpose of fully examining the matters which come before it, said commission, is empowered to visit such different portions and sections of the country as it may deem advisable.

This was honest statesmanship. It was wise legislation. Men of both parties and from all sections supported it. The report of the commission, embracing the testimony of all who chose to appear and the conclusions on all that had been seen and heard, was submitted to Congress in December, 1882. That report was fully and ably discussed until March 3rd, 1883. A large surplus revenue, looked upon as a crying evil, was then to be got rid of, which, while it was unjust to the people to insist upon taxation longer than it was required by the needs of the Government, was also a constant temptation to extravagant appropriations and every conceivable scheme to deplete the Treasury. Beside, there were faults and incongruities to be corrected in the tariff laws which experience had shown to exist. And so general was this feeling that even the Industrial League publicly announced its approval of such reforms.

Legislation after all, and especially on economic and business matters, is a compromise between conflicting individual views of members and communities and interests. And, as the best thing that could then be done, Congress passed the act approved March 3rd, 1883, to reduce internal revenue taxation, and for other purposes. It was designed to make reductions in the revenue; but exactly how much was one of those problems which baffled prophecy. Experience and time alone could tell. Yet before the interests affected by the reduction could adjust themselves to the changed conditions a new agitation was set afoot in this House, and as far as possible, over the country, producing unrest in every industry and business. The panic was as dangerous and as hurtful as if there really was to be radical changes, although it has come to be understood no result can be reached at this session of Congress with an adverse Senate and a Republican Executive.

If I wished, I might quote Judge Story's celebrated summary, published in Elliott's Debates, of the position assumed and the arguments made in nullification times; and I might recite the earnest efforts made in the First Congress by Virginia Representatives to have her mineral coal pits protected as well as her hemp and beef, asking even in the latter case prohibition of the foreign article. It has come to be understood as it is like so much of the hot debate we have heard on this floor. But I do not like to cause prejudice or bias of a sectional character, or even to seem to do it, and therefore I refrain.

It is submitted to every member's judgment whether to apply at once to this bill the heroic remedy, or to let it linger on a sickly existence, bringing in its wake commercial disaster, business confusion, and general bankruptcy.

The bill reported by the Committee on Ways and Means, and now under consideration, is a sharp 20 per cent. horizontal cut of existing schedules of all duties on imported articles embraced therein. It is not based on any sound principle. We have had apologies for it but no defense. It is "guessed" it may reduce the surplus revenue likely to be collected in the future, but nobody pretends to speak with certainty.

There is no attempt at adjustment. It slices recklessly at the injury it makes to the certain interests of our people, and to the revenue. It is like the famous bed of the old robber, Procrustes: if the man was too small, he was stretched out to its inexorable length; and if too long, he was cut down to fit it exactly. [Applause.] It is an arbitrary, unprincipled, and unwise, well digested scheme of adjustment of duties laid, not only with regard to revenue but to the interests of people and Government, which are equally involved. For if there be inequality it is because of unjust adjustment, and a horizontal reduction affords no remedy. On the contrary, it makes worse what was bad before. It is a palpable confession of inability to handle the intricate and difficult problems in issue, or else a rash eagerness to do what was alike uncalculated for, unready, unwise, and unfortunate. It appears to be agitation only for the sake of agitation; always a mistake.

It was the clear dictate of common sense to have waited until we could be advised of the working of the tariff and tax law we had passed only one year ago, and then while informing ourselves for careful and accurate legislation, have acted from all the passion and turbulence of a Presidential election year.

But at the same time the rigor and arbitrary proceedings of excise laws seem hardly compatible with the temper of a free nation. For the frauds that might be committed in this branch of the revenue, unless a strict watch is kept, make it necessary, wherever it is established, to give the officers the power of entering and searching the houses of such as deal in excisable commodities at any hour of the day, and in many cases, of the night itself. It is proclaimed to be a firm first step toward free trade. The gentleman from New York (Mr. Dorsheimer) uses the following language:

It has never been our doctrine that taxes should be levied for the purpose of taking money from one citizen and giving it to another. The much-talked of Ohio declaration is for a tariff for revenue limited to the necessities of the Government, economically administered. If there is a Democrat here who believes that this bill will increase the revenue and who is still disposed to regard the declaration of his party, I say to him, "We are entitled to your vote, because the existing tariff is by your admission for above the revenue standard." Let us take off one fifth now. If that does not reduce the revenue we can take off more. Some time we will cut to the quick and draw the blood. If 20 per cent will not reduce the revenue, perhaps 50 per cent will.

Be well advised what you do ere it is too late. Consider what free trade, so called, means to us. It means the change of our whole scheme of collecting revenue. Our people have become accustomed to import duties; it has proved to be the easiest, safest, and best method of taxation; it causes no friction, or comparatively little. All this must be abolished, our internal revenue war taxes continued, and our revenue may be required to direct taxation. Is this House prepared for that? Is that the wish of our people? The old Confederation relied on direct taxation, and it was a failure. Our forefathers sought refuge under the Constitution in a different system, and the result was "a more perfect union," in order to "provide for the common defense and general welfare."

What does direct taxation mean? An answer is found in an extract from a speech delivered in this House April 12th, 1882, by Hon. Columbus Upshur, a Democratic Representative from the State of Texas. As an illustration of some of the practical workings of free trade and direct taxation the people of each State would have to pay annually their share of the national tax, according to the number of population in their respective States:

Alabama's share would be about	$6,000,000
Arkansas' share would be about	4,000,000
California's share would be about	1,000,000
Connecticut's share would be about	100,000
Delaware's share would be about	100,000
Florida's share would be about	100,000
Georgia's share would be about	100,000
Idaho's share would be about	100,000
Illinois's share would be about	100,000
Indiana's share would be about	100,000
Iowa's share would be about	100,000
Kentucky's share would be about	100,000
Louisiana's share would be about	100,000
Maine's share would be about	100,000
Maryland's share would be about	100,000
Massachusetts's share would be about	100,000
Michigan's share would be about	100,000
Minnesota's share would be about	100,000

—Cape Fear lumber is finding a ready market here. Within the last month the Greensboro Sash & Blind factory have purchased 700,000 feet of lumber along the line of the C. F. & Y. V. R. R.

—Senators Pendleton, Fansom, Vance, Jones, Hampton, and Cameron, R. T. Bennett and Wharton J. Green, were among the distinguished visitors at the celebration in Charlotte this week.

—The Winston graded school will be formally dedicated tomorrow. Gov. Jarvis and other distinguished citizens will be present. The building is said to be the best and finest school building in the State.

The size of the building will be 68x100 feet and 12 feet high. The work will be rapidly pushed, and as soon as the house is completed it will be opened for business.

—The Western North Carolina Railroad is being relaid with steel rails. By time the summer travel fairly sets in, not a single iron rail will be found on the track. A new and handsome depot has just been completed at Asheville, and the station at Round Knob is to be vastly improved. The telegraph station has been carried from Henry Station to Round Knob, where an office is to be opened, and the line will follow the railroad to Asheville.

—"Jane Eyre" was played Saturday night to an appreciative house. Miss Mamie Settle played the leading role with two days notice, taking the place of Miss Doris Jones, who was seriously indisposed. Mr. Murphy's "Rochester" seemed to please the audience. Though filling subordinate parts Miss Annie Caldwell and Miss Annie Smith were decidedly clever. John Bogart was simply "prodigious." In one of the tableaux scenes, Tom Sloan posed in convict garb, and received very demonstrative applause. It was almost Sunday morning when the curtain went down on the last scene.

Suspension of Donnell, Lawson & Simpson.

Many people in this county will hear with regret of the suspension of Donnell, Lawson & Simpson, 102 Broadway, New York. This firm, which has been in high repute among private bankers, was dragged down by the failure of the Metropolitan Bank, with which it carried a large balance. The house is composed of Robert W. Donnell, a Guilford county man, who has been reputed to be worth over a million dollars; Leonidas M. Lawson, his brother-in-law, who is now in Europe; and George E. Simpson, who was formerly the manager for Northup & Chick, a firm of bankers that failed in Wall street some years ago. The firm have about four hundred correspondents among Western bankers, and have been fiscal agents for the State of Kansas. They enjoyed the confidence to an unusual extent of Western moneyed men. The ramifications of their business into Missouri, Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas, Arkansas, Texas, Colorado, and into the Territories, are more extensive than from any other New York banking house. The Western bankers were accustomed to do their business either wholly with this firm or with it and a national bank. Many of the banks are so remote that they will probably not hear of the suspension for several days. Their balances with the firm aggregate several millions, but the Texas bankers will probably be the heaviest losers, for they have been carrying large balances, as a result of the activity in the cattle and land speculation. One bank in Bonham, Texas, is said to have a balance of over $50,000. Most of the banks involved, however, have small balances, and it will depend largely upon local conditions affecting each one whether the firm's failure will topple over the numerous small banks in the West.

Mr. Donnell, the senior member of the firm, removed from this county to Missouri many years ago, where he laid the foundation of his large fortune. About a year ago he became interested in the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railroad project and is a prominent member of the syndicate who now own that property. The disaster that has befallen him will in no wise affect the road.

Mr. Donnell is about 60 years old, a hater of Wall street speculation, according to the report of his friends, and a good representative of the conservatism in banking which made the old State Bank of Missouri, of the St. Joseph branch of which he was cashier for years, a powerful financial institution. He was formerly a dry goods merchant in St. Joseph, and is at present a large owner of real estate there and thereabouts. He is also the chief owner of the State Savings Bank of St. Joseph, a prosperous institution with a surplus of $90,000. Mr. Donnell's firm here was the only correspondent of this bank in New York, as it also was the sole correspondent of the banking firm of Donnell, Clark & Lamb of Deer Lodge City, Montana, of which Mr. Donnell was the senior partner. His associate, Mr. Clark, is a millionaire and the chief owner of the Moulton Mine. Mr. Donnell lives in Sixty-seventh street, near Fifth avenue. His habits are most simple. He belongs to no clubs, and is an attendant of the Fifth Avenue Baptist Church.

Mrs. Donnell, who is the sister of the wife of Mr. L. M. Lawson, Mr. Donnell's partner, is one of three sisters who were famous in Missouri society before the war, as "the three beauties of Platte." The third sister was married to Col. A. W. Doniphan, who, from his forced marches in the Mexican war, was entitled "the American Xenophon." Mr. Lawson, who was formerly a lawyer in prosperous practice in Booneville, Mo., is now in Europe, on a business trip. He is a member of the Union League and Manhattan Clubs, but is a rare visitor to them, being devoted, almost exclusively, to the purchase and study of quaint books. He has a well selected library of French and English books, and it is said that he sleeps with a book by his pillow. His habit for years has been to study from 5 a. m. to business hours and to spend his evenings in his library. His plan was to retire, after his fortune was sufficient, to devote himself to polite literature.

Mr. Simpson, the youngest member of the firm, was also from Missouri. He passed upon all the loans that were made by the house, and was reputed to be most conservative. He lived at Orange, N. J., in a beautiful house. His son is a physician there. Recently the presidency of an important bank was offered to Mr. Simpson, but he declined it because of the prosperity of his own business.

It is said that the firm's advances upon the bonds of the Cleveland, Youngstown & Pittsburgh Railroad Company have crippled it more than any other loan made.

—The Gordon Light Infantry, of Winston, S. C., carried off the first prize of $100 in Charlotte on Tuesday, in the competitive drill, and the Asheville boys the prize of $50. Capt. Jordan, of the Gordon Light Infantry, in accepting the $100, assured the donors that it is to be given either to the Confederate Home, or towards the erection of a Confederate monument in Winston.

—The Reidsville school district voted graded school last week 153 to 21. The Weekly says the vote is a wise one and is confident that it will do more than anything else to push Reidsville to the front as the live and progressive town of the State. Let there be no lagging on the part of the officials charged with seeing that its provisions are at once put into execution. The building should be ready and the school should commence operations the 1st of October.

—A meeting of the citizens of New Hanover, Pender and Onslow counties will be held in Wilmington on the 28th inst., to take action in the building of a Railroad from that city to New River, Onslow county.

Grand Lodge I. O. O. F.

The Grand Lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows in North Carolina, met in annual session in the hall of Winston Lodge, Winston, on the night of the 14th inst. J. F. Payne, of Monroe, Grand Master, presiding.

The order is in a healthy, flourishing condition. Within the past two years this Order has had incorporated in its workings, an Endowment fund, similar to that of the Knights of Honor, Royal Arcanum, &c., and at the late meeting important legislation was had in connection with that branch of their work which will tend to still further strengthen the Order.

The attendance of delegates and members was very full, perhaps larger than for several years, and they were royally entertained by their brethren of Winston and Salem Lodges.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

Grand Master—J. E. Woodward, Wilson.
Deputy Grand Master—J. H. Masten, Winston.
Grand Secretary—J. J. Litchford, Raleigh.

Grand Treasurer—R. J. Jones, Wilmington.
Grand Warden—C. B. Edwards, Raleigh.

Grand Chaplain—Rev. J. H. Gordon, North Carolina Conference.
Representative Sovereign Grand Lodge—James F. Payne, P. G. M., Monroe.

The invitation of Winston Lodge to hold the next session of the Grand Lodge in that town was accepted.

The Railroad Celebration.
The committee on the railroad celebration appointed by the citizens' meeting, met on Saturday night, and unanimously decided to have a celebration and agreed upon Thursday, the 19th of June, as the day. The committee passed the following resolution:

Resolved, That the chairman appoint a committee on subscription, a committee on character and cost of the entertainment, and a committee on transportation, consisting of five members for each committee.

The committee on subscription to ascertain how much money can be raised; the committee on entertainment to inquire into the cost and character of the entertainment and the committee on transportation to ascertain at what price guests and visitors can be brought here by the railroads. The said committees to report to this committee at the next meeting.

In compliance with the above resolution the chairman appointed the committees as follows:

On subscription—D. W. C. Benbow, D. Curtis, S. S. Brown, W. D. McAdoo and J. R. Mendenhall.
On character of entertainment—J. W. Scott, Neil Ellington, G. S. Sergeant, R. R. King and William Love.

On transportation—J. L. King, Thomas McMahon, W. M. Houston, W. H. Wakefield, G. T. Glascock.

The committee then adjourned to meet again on Thursday, the 22nd inst. JOHN N. STAPLES, Sec'y.

An Era of Low Prices.
It is of interest to notice how reasonable some important commodities are at the present time. Flour is unusually cheap, and grain has seldom been so low in price at this season of the year. Iron has not been so low since 1879. The best American pig iron is worth only $20 a ton, and some of the companies find this figure unremunerative; others, which have orebeds of their own, could sell the pig metal at $14, and net a profit; but, as the tariff is $6.72 a ton, they, of course, obtain a corresponding price. The iron can be produced in Alabama, it is said, at $10 a ton. In Scotland it costs $9; and it is averred that European buyers would be glad to take our iron at $10.

Sugar is cheaper than at any time since 1834, with the single exception of the year 1864. The cane crop of the world is steadily increasing, and the large yield of beet-root sugar in Germany, Austria and France likewise tends to bring prices to a low level; though Spanish misrule in Cuba and the financial embarrassments of planters and merchants there, also contribute to the depression of values. Coffee is cheap, but it is destined to become much more so. The development of the railroad system in Brazil encourages the culture in that country, and, moreover, we are annually increasing our importations from Central America, so that, though once we were almost wholly dependent upon Brazil for our coffee, and still derive the larger portion of our supply from her plantations, we are, nevertheless, gradually becoming more independent in this respect, and the increasing competition must inure to the benefit of the coffee-drinker.

Cotton goods are so low that many mills are closed, and the trade in woolen goods and silks of domestic manufacture is in anything but a satisfactory condition. And the list of low priced commodities might be made much longer; but enough has been said to give a general idea of the state of affairs in important avenues of trade. Rents show comparatively little change, but in other respects the cost of living has unquestionably been reduced.

This is due not only to the law of supply and demand in its direct relations to commerce, but also to the fact that money is not readily obtainable except on the very best collateral. Commercial paper is received by the banks with unusual caution, partly because of the numerous failures within the last two years, and partly because of the over trading and over discounting of commercial paper through brokers rather than through banks.

—The Moravians have just been celebrating their 427th anniversary. This leaves the Edenburgh tenebrary far in the rear. The Moravians claim to be the oldest Protestant sect in Christendom. They are able to go back to the year 1457.

Thomas M. Holt. He and his family were the largest mill-owners in the State, owning no less than seven cotton factories. Mr. Holt was the first to manufacture plaids south of the Potomac.

What to Do with Our Girls.

(Chicago Tribune.)

"Good day, gentlemen," said the horse reporter, looking up and discovering a young lady in the apartment.

"I would like to show you a work which I am selling," she began, "and am sure it will prove both interesting and instructive."

"What's it about?" asked the horse reporter.

"The book," continued the fair canvasser, "is by one of our best known writers and speakers, and is entitled 'What Shall We Do With Our Girls?' The question is certainly one of paramount importance and—"

"Are your girls bothering you much this season?" inquired the friend of Maud S.

"Why, no," said the young lady, blushing violently—"that is—why, of course I haven't any daughters."

"Oh, you're out on the road telling girls before you're even married, let alone the mother of five visions of loveliness? Well, that's all right. Some of our best cook books haven't been written by people who didn't know a griddle from the Fifteenth Amendment."

"But this question of what shall be done with the girls is really an important one," continued the young lady. "Have you ever given it a thought?"

"I can't say that I have," replied the horse reporter. "I suppose we might let 'em up in the back yard when a circus comes to town."

"I hardly think you comprehend the question in all its bearings. What is the legitimate sphere of woman? in what field of action can she best display and make use of the God-given talents, attributes of mental force, and physical grace with which she is endowed? These are living, burning issues, and must be fairly met. When we see—"

"All right," said the horse reporter, "you can meet them if you want to. Woman's sphere, so far as I have been able to discover, is to never have breakfast on time. It's no doubt a somewhat limited one, but she is gradually reaching out into the great unknown, and will eventually grasp with her billy-white fingers the black demon of domesticity, thus so long oppressed, and, struggling in the very stronghold of its power the great army which for centuries has fought along the great highway of progress."

"Why, that's lovely!" exclaimed the young lady. "You believe in lady suffrage, don't you?"

"Lady who?"

"Lady suffrage—believe that ladies should vote, and have all the political privileges that are accorded men. That's just what this book says. That chapter is perfectly sweet. It's just lovely."

"I presume so. But how about the chapter that says women should not cramp and distort their bodies with corsets and their feet with tight shoes? The gaunt demon of unrest that lurks in the maternal bosom may, in the child of that mother, become an ever-present monster of pain."

"Oh, those chapters are horrid! What the world is interested in are the nobler attributes of woman—her soul and heart."

"Yes, the soul-and-heart business is all right, but you must remember that the humble liver, working away unostentatiously, is also a pretty good scheme, and without health woman can never attain success. The deadly clasp of the steel corset and the fatal grip of the gleaming garter are hurrying to early graves the women of our land. The beautiful eyes that should sparkle so brightly are dull and lustreless, the cheek whose whiteness should be relieved by the rosy blush of health is sallow and wan, and the fairest temple ever made is rendered a ghastly ruin by the one who should take the greatest pride in its beauty."

"And will you buy a book?" asked the young lady. "I'm sure you talk beautifully."

"No," replied the horse reporter. "I cannot buy a book, because accents speak louder than words, and I do not wish to disturb the dramatic critic who is in the next room trying to write soul without a large S."

Pneumatic Transportation for Grain.

(St. Louis Globe-Democrat.)

An application was made to the Commissioners of the Illinois and Michigan Canal at their meeting to-day by a Chicago lawyer for the right of way along the canal to La Salle for a pneumatic tube. He proposes to sink a tube in the ground five feet from the surface and run from Chicago to La Salle, 100 miles. It is to be 18 inches in diameter, and is to be used in shipping wheat, bundles, and other portable stuff. Commissioner Callaghan asked the applicant how the articles were to be transported; whether it was designed to make the tube a highway for mere carriages. A disgusted expression flitted over the lawyer's face as he answered:

"By compressed air, of course. I shall have two engines, one at each end, and stations at Lockport, Joliet, and intermediate points."

"How fast can the bundles travel?" inquired the Commissioner.

"A mile a minute," answered the applicant.

"Wheat and corn will be put in bulk and will go faster," said one.

"Well, gentlemen," said the attorney angrily, "I didn't think that I should be made the target for your wit when I came here. Will you give me the right of way or not?"

The Commissioners talked over the matter and finally decided to let the attorney put down his tube, provided he would pay the usual toll charged on the canal.

At the recent annual meeting of the American Bible Society, the report showed that 2,115,765 copies of the Bible were printed or purchased during the year; of which nearly 2,000,000 were distributed; the circulation in foreign lands was 510,546 copies. The receipts of the society were $640,719, and the expenses $772,100.

Killed at Last.

(Chicago Tribune.)

Jeremiah Campbell, who was instantly killed by a locomotive at Decatur last week, enlisted and served during the war as a private and First Lieutenant in Company B, Thirty-second Illinois Regiment. He was shot through the head at Lookout Mountain, and laid five days on the field of battle for dead. Later he was shot through his body. After the war he served as United States detective, and finally served in the regular army as sergeant with Custer, when Major Reno lost seven companies; and Campbell dug a trench with his pocket knife behind a log to protect a wounded comrade and himself. While carrying the wounded soldier, the latter was shot dead, and Campbell and his friend were wounded.

The eldest daughter of Lord Lytton, though only 14, has taken up the family pen and written one of the most blood-curdling ghost stories that has seen the light for many a day.

Jones' Ventilated Trusses are the lightest, cleanest and most durable appliances in use, for the relief and cure of HERNIA. They are worn night as well as day, retaining the rupture with absolute certainty, and cause no heating or chafing, the fine perforations allowing the perspiration to escape and permitting free access of air to the parts covered by the Pads. They act as a support to the back as well as to the abdomen, and are absolutely unequalled for comfort and efficiency.

Physicians and surgeons of the highest rank in the profession, have pronounced them the most perfect instruments ever invented for the purpose designed.

Thousands of patients, young and old, male and female, have been radically cured by their use, and no one who has experienced the relief which they bring would use any other appliance.

ANALYSIS: Moisture, 11.66 Potash, 2.45 Nitrogen, 2.25, equiv. to Am., 3.09 Total Phosphoric acid, 8.34, equivalent to bone Phosphate, 18.20 Commercial value per ton, $37.95.

LEDOUX & RICKETTS, [Seal.] New York, February 9th, 1884.

Made from the very best fertilizing material, with the addition of Tobacco stems and ammoniated with genuine 10 per cent. Peruvian Guano, compounded under formulas from the leading agricultural chemist in the land, with all the light of knowledge and experience, and tested by some of the most successful practical farmers in the South, under all the different crops with the most satisfactory results. We can truthfully say that it stands without a superior and merits the patronage of the farming public.

Every pound of material is weighed out for a ton and that ton made and finished separately, thereby securing a thorough and uniform mix. Bear in mind these goods are comparatively free from water and sand. They are dry and bulky, as is evidenced by the sack—as it takes a sack four inches larger than the ordinary 200 lb. sack to hold 167 lbs. of our goods.

Remember, the Durham Bull Fertilizer is no experiment. It has been fully tested by the side of nearly every brand sold in North Carolina, and was the equal of any. While we have nothing to say against other Fertilizers, ours is a HOME GROWN. It is as good, and there can be no doubt about this, you ought to give us your patronage, and thereby aid us in building up a home enterprise. This high grade fertilizer is for sale by
