LOCAL NEWS.

IMPORTANT.

The PATRIOT wants a live correspondent at every postoffice in Guilford county. A correspondent who will furnish the neighborhood news will fill the bill. A fair compensation will be paid some man or woman who will undertake the work and do it promptly every week. Communications must be mailed so as to reach the Greensboro office by Tuesday. Regular readers of the PATRIOT will do us a favor by calling attention to this notice.

—Col. John Sloan and family are in town.

—County convention, Saturday, September 21st.

—The season of oyster festivals draweth nigh.

—Don't fail to attend the townships meetings Saturday week.

—See advertisement of M. K. Callum & Co. in another column.

—Guilford Superior Court is in session, Judge Phillips, presiding.

—Dr. Wesley Coble lost a tobacco barn and contents last Sunday by fire.

—It is important that the township meetings next week should be well attended.

—The excursion from Wilmington to Asheville passed through Monday night 250 strong.

—The northern mails have been knocked out of joint by the recent mishaps on the Virginia Midland.

—Mecklenburg county has built a stockade and will work the county convicts on the public roads. Capital move.

—Pat Winston "norated" in the court house Tuesday. He lamented the longevity of his "yankee dady in law."

—Last Wednesday was the hottest day of the year in the mountains. At Asheville the mercury registered 92°.

—September. The Anglo Saxons called it Gerstmonath, or barley month. In Switzerland it is still called Herbstmonath, harvest month. The moon fulfs Friday.

—Randolph was ablaze last week with Democratic enthusiasm. Tuesday night there was an immense torchlight procession and several open air speeches.

—The sale of the High Point and Randleman Railroad to the Richmond & Danville is reported. If true this will insure the completion of the road at an early day.

—There is talk of running a fast mail to Wilmington over the C. F. & V. R. R. via Shoe Heel, making the time between Greensboro and Wilmington eight hours.

—Capt. Coble's freight train was drenched near Wilson's mill on the N. C. R. R. last Saturday. The fireman was badly scalded. The accident was caused by a broken rail.

—Farmers who want to improve their lands can do so by using Orchilla Guano this fall on wheat, rye, or oats, and seed to clover and grass. See advertisement in another column.

—The mill property belonging to John L. King, which was destroyed by fire last week, was not insured. The loss is about $2,500. A spark from the engine is the supposed cause of the fire.

—Greensboro Female College is on a boom. 120 boarding scholars have arrived, and every train brings in new arrivals. This promises to be the most successful year in the history of the institution.

—Capt. White continues to improve. An effort will be made to remove him to his own home this week. He is receiving every possible care at the hands of the Railroad company, and wants for no attention or kindness.

—Mr. John E. Wharton, of Texas, who is visiting his father, Mr. David Wharton, in this county, is accompanied by his wife and children. Mrs. Wharton is now at Old Point Comfort. They return to Texas in October.

—The Fayetteville Light Infantry celebrated its 91st Anniversary Friday, August 23d. There was a banquet and ball at night. Greensboro was represented at the ball, which is described as a most brilliant affair.

In the glass ball shooting at Charlotte last week J. F. Jordan, of Asheville, brother of our townsman Samuel Jordan, won the championship badge for 1884 and the team match for a fine gun. Our Jordan is a crack shot, too.

—Col. John N. Staples, State Elector, will address the people of Guilford on Tuesday, October 6th. Speaking will begin promptly at 10 o'clock in the court house. At night in the same place addresses will be delivered by a number of distinguished Democrats.

—We are authorized to announce that L. C. Winchester, of Oak Ridge, is a candidate for the office of Treasurer of Guilford county, subject to the action of county Democratic convention. Mr. Winchester is well known in the county as a reliable and solid man.

—The Randolph Democratic convention, last week, nominated Hugh Parks for the Senate, Dr. Caviness and Barrell Steel for the House. Sheriff Mott, register Teague, surveyor Bulla and coroner Davis, present incumbents, were re-nominated. The ticket is a good one, through and through.

—Prof. W. A. Blair, of the Blair School, High Point, has secured as teacher of music Prof. Alfred Blau, of Germany, who has taken the degree of Mus. D. at Leipzig University, and is noted as a composer and instructor in music. Prof. Blau comes to High Point from the Charlter Institute, New York.

—The announcement in the PATRIOT some weeks ago that sheriff Gilmer was not a candidate for re-nomination appears not to have abated the ardor and zeal of his friends in the county. They insist upon his candidacy and will present his name to the convention despite his protest.

—The Forsyth county Democratic convention last Monday, nominated W. H. Sheppard, of Waukegon, for the House, D. P. Mast for Register of Deeds, Romulus L. Cox for Treasurer, M. H. Morris for Surveyor, Dr. W. P. Dicks for Coroner. It is considered a strong ticket.

—Remember the township meetings, Saturday, September 13th.

—Davidson county Democratic convention, last week, nominated J. A. Leach, of Thomasville, for the Senate, J. B. Sichel and Alexander Swiggood for the House, C. M. Griffith for sheriff, J. W. Tinch for register of deeds, John May for surveyor, and D. M. Michael for coroner. The sentiment of the convention was for M. H. Pinnix for Congress in the 7th District.

—A colored boy, living near the Junction, attempted to board the through freight as it moved off from the coal chute Saturday evening, when he was thrown under the wheels and was fatally injured. One shoulder was severed from the body, and he suffered great pain until death came to his relief the following day. So much for trying to steal a ride.

—Guilford's exhibit is growing in proportion and beginning to show what can be done with little effort. The articles now in the Lindsay corner store are worth the visit of all our citizens. The people should do all their power to aid Mr. Albright in getting up a fine exhibit, for besides the pride all should take in the matter, more than $3,000 in premiums will be awarded.

—Look after the township meetings, Saturday, September 13th.

—At the Senatorial Democratic convention at Forsyth and Stokes, held at Winston on Monday last, J. C. Buxton, of Winston, was nominated by acclamation. The nomination this year belonged to Stokes county, but a lack of candidates caused the county to defer the honor to Forsyth. The nomination was tendered to C. B. Watson, Esq., who declined on account of urgent private business. Mr. Walter King placed Mr. Buxton in nomination, and paid an eloquent tribute to the patriotism and unselfish liberality of the Forsyth Democracy. Buxton weighs 300 lbs. and stands 10 feet 6 inches in his stocking feet.

—The Western North Carolina Railroad. Col. A. B. Andrews, President of the W. N. C. R. R. Company, Monday officially notified the State Commissioners that the road was completed to the north of the Nantahala river, and also that the company had made the last deposit of $30,000 in North Carolina State bonds as required by the account of 1883, thus carrying out their contract with the State. The commissioners will make their official examination of the last section of the road on the 12th instant, when there will be a grand demonstration at Charlotte, Swain county, in honor of this great work of the termal improvement. The work will be continued from the present terminus on the branches toward Murphy, N. C., and Tennessee and Georgia. There is a universal feeling of satisfaction in this State over the results of the sale of the railroad, its completion, insuring the development of the extreme Western counties of the State.

This happy culmination, says the Charlotte Observer, has been reached under Democratic administration, and through the big brain and irrepressible courage and irresistible energy of that wonderful successful man Col. A. B. Andrews, who quailed before no obstacles, who pushed ahead with buoyant hope when others would have given up in despair.

The completion of this work is a monument to his tact, foresight and energy, and an honor to the Democratic administration under whose auspices, and by whose wise legislation the work became possible.

Died.

In surry county on Friday, 22d ult., of typhoid fever, Mrs. Martha Haymore, wife of Daniel Haymore.

Prof. W. B. Phillips, formerly of Guilford county, died at Norwood, Stanly county, on the 16th of August, of typhoid fever.

Wheeler Steps Down.

At the meeting here last week of the Republican and Liberal State and District committees, the party differences arising out of the nomination of Collector Wheeler for Congress, were adjusted. Nothing could satisfy the anti Wheeler crowd but his unconditional withdrawal. To this demand Wheeler would not yield, refusing to treat with the bolters. His purpose was to decline the nomination and let the District committee name a man. The anti-Wheelerites would not listen to this, as the District committee belonged to Wheeler, and would make any nomination he might dictate. It was finally agreed that the State committees should arbitrate the matter. The anti-Wheelerites adjourned their mass meeting at Reidsville, where making a nomination, and at a late hour Thursday night the committees presented the name of L. C. Edwards, of Granville, and in the august presence of Senator Plumb, of the National Republican committee, the compact was signed. Wheeler was invited to his own funeral and promptly responded by his presence. He expressed satisfaction with the result, and it has since leaked out that he wanted Edwards from the outset. Before the Greensboro convention he went to Oxford to see Edwards and begged him to accept the nomination. Joyce he would not support, because at some time or other Joyce had used fire and brimstone in connection with Wheeler's name. John H. Winston he regarded as a political dead beat, and the available men in the district would not accept. The tangle was then broken up about that has ended in a Wheeler man being the candidate. Wheeler says his health made his candidacy an impossibility, and had been officially notified of his nomination he would have declined it instantly. This may be blarney, but at any rate "a devilish sly dog" is Wheeler.

There is dissatisfaction, but the party is practically united on Edwards. He is a lawyer of ability and a man of good character, so far as we know. An extraordinary effort will be made to elect him.

The Anti-Wheeler Convention.

The anti-Wheeler mass meeting at Reidsville last week was a slim affair. Not more than a dozen men participated, but the spectators were numerous. Among the latter were a considerable sprinkling of Wheeler men, headed by his trusty lieutenants Hoskins and Snipe. They were on hand in the event of any emergency, which did not arise. Excepting the arrest of an escaped convict, who was a looker on, the convention was not an exciting incident.

Col. R. M. Douglas read the call for the meeting and nominated C. A. Reynolds chairman. On taking the chair Reynolds sounded the war whoop, the braves danced the war dance, singing a war song with "Wheeler's scalp" for the chorus. It was a weird spectacle. At this juncture a friendly message was received from the "big Injan" at Greensboro.

GREENSBORO, N. C., August 20th, 1884.

To R. M. Douglas:

If your convention will refer the matter of a candidate for Congress and Elector to the State Committee, we can make an amicable settlement of the matter. Answer immediately. J. M. Mott, Chm'n.

It had an electrical effect. The pipe of peace was smoked, and whilst under its tranquilizing effect the Douglas braves adopted the following:

Whereas, we earnestly desire the success of National principles, and the election of Republican candidates, and it is resolved:

1. That the entire time relating to the election of a Republican representative for Congress in the Fifth District of North Carolina be respectfully referred to the State Committee of the Republican and Liberal parties.

2. That the chairman of this meeting appoint a committee, consisting of one member from each of the counties comprising the Fifth District, to present these resolutions to the State Committee.

The peace commissioners appointed were J. L. Patterson, of Forsyth, J. L. Worth, of Surry, W. W. McCandless, of Stokes, J. W. Smith, of Rockingham, A. Bigelow, of Caswell, W. R. Neal, of Person, B. H. Cozart, of Granville, R. M. Douglas, of Guilford.

Thereupon the old man not afraid to be a candidate (J. R. Winston) said that he was the best "Injan" in the crowd, and that he felt like he was leaving "the happy hunting grounds" forever. Appealing to "the great white spirit," (Beast Butler) he tore the red feathers from the leather girdle that encircled his scapular head, rubbed the war paint from his sun-bronzed cheeks and stepped down and out, a dead "Injan."

The commissioners arrived in Greensboro, crossed tomahawks with the Mott braves, and after a brief bow-wow retired. Soon there after the Mott and Wheeler camps met.

Wheeler was sacrificed. The gleaming tomahawk of peace cleft his head asunder and his scalp now dangles from the belt of a pale faced ally. The old man of the squeaking voice (L. C. Edwards, of Granville), was declared the leader of the allied bands.

Homicide.

David H. Reid shot and killed William Hedrick at Lexington last Saturday. A feud existed between the parties of three years standing, growing out of a cow trade. Hedrick had threatened to kill Reid at sight. Though close neighbors they met for the first time in three years last Saturday. Hedrick opened fire with his pistol at two steps. A bystander knocked up his arm and before he could fire a second shot, Reid fired, killing him almost instantly. Hedrick was convicted of homicide in Yadkin county in 1874, sentenced to the penitentiary for 10 years, and after serving a short time was pardoned by Gov. Brogden.

Meeting of the Republican and Liberal State Committees.

The Republican and Liberal State committees met here last week to adjourn in the State ticket. Geo. W. Stanton was selected for Treasurer, and W. G. Chandler for Secretary of State. Stanton was nominated for Secretary of State by the State convention, but thinking Bain an easier man to beat than Saunders, preferred the nomination for Treasurer. The committees were in joint secret session two days, adjourning at 3 o'clock on Thursday morning. Senator Plumb was present, and holding "the soap" box, was the most conspicuous figure in the committee meetings. He was here at Mr. Blaine's special request to ascertain the size of the Liberal party. With the assistance of Messrs. Johnston and Price a census was compiled, which, after counting up the vulgar fractions, fixed the number at 18. The Kansas statesman was appalled at the mortality in the Liberal ranks since their State convention in Raleigh last June. He then numbered 55. He asked, "Where is the Liberal party?" The party had any foothold in the State. The plan of the State campaign was discussed. A proposition to remove Mott's paper from Statesville to Raleigh and make it the organ of the party excited a heated discussion. Spellman, of the State Journal, was the principal kicker. He threatened to use his dynamite on Mott and blow up the whole party. Mott attempted to place himself in the line of fire during the campaign. The party had any foothold in the State. # Testing a Hair's Thickness.

A curious little machine in the office of the Chief of the Stamp Bureau at Washington, is the cause of the cancellation of the contract of the New England firm with the Government for furnishing envelopes to the Postoffice Department. It is a queer looking contrivance, a cross between a set of butcher's scales and ordinary grocer's scales, or rather a combination of the two. There is a large dial, like the face of a clock, with a little hand that flies around the face pointing to the figures at the side, which are arranged like the figures on the clock face, with little dots between. "You see three dots?" said the gentleman in charge. "Well, the space between those indicates one sixteen thousandths of an inch. Getting it down pretty fine, isn't it? You see this movable piece of iron here which comes down with a smooth surface upon this other solid surface? Well, the raising or lowering of that moves the pointer which runs round the dial. To test the thickness of a sheet of paper we simply place it between this movable piece and the solid surface below, and when the movable piece of iron comes down upon the paper the hand registers the true thickness of the paper. Delicate instrument? Well, I should think so. Just give me a hair from your head, will you?"

Then he took a hair and slipped it deftly between the movable pieces. The hand on the dial followed the motions of the screw until it stopped at the figures 20. "Just twenty sixteen thousandths of an inch in diameter," he said. "Now let me try a hair from your mustache. They are generally much larger, especially if you have not been in a habit of shaving." He took up a pair of scissors, and clipping off a hair from the mustache and placed it in position. The hand stopped at 50. "Fifty sixteen thousandths of an inch thick," he said. "That shows the effect of shaving. I measured a hair from the hand of a gentleman a few minutes ago which was forty sixteen thousandths of an inch thick, but those in his mustache were precisely the same thickness, the reason being that he had never shaved. Yes, that is the machine that proved that the firm making our envelopes was not fulfilling its contract," he said, as he fell back smilingly.

"By this dial we can see just the thickness. By this lever, which is very much like a pair of grocer's scales, we can tell just what pressure the paper will stand. You see we have two other movable pieces of iron here, with a hole entirely through both and a plunger which passes through that hole. Well, we put the paper between those pieces, when they are pressed tightly together by this lever, hold it firmly. The plunger, which passes through the opening in the two pieces of iron, encounters this paper thus firmly held. To know what the pressure is we have the plunger attached to a scale lever with a weight attached, like an ordinary pair of scales, and by moving this weight out along the lever until the paper breaks, of course we can see just what the weight is that made it break. See? Very simple after you understand it. Well, that is what the paper-makers thought after they had lost an $80,000 contract by it. It was a new thing to them, but they are now convinced that they were beaten when they saw it."

This delicate instrument, only recently invented, is a companion piece to the scales in the Assayer's office of the Treasury, by which the weight of a hair is accurately tested.

Suicide of J. M. Reynolds.
(Richmond Weekly.)

Our community was shocked last Friday morning to learn that our townsman, J. M. Reynolds, Esq., had terminated his life by a pistol shot from his own hand. Mr. Reynolds had for years been the greatest sufferer it has ever been our misfortune to know. For several months he has often wished for death, and several times in the presence of friends has threatened his own life. He remarked to Mrs. Swann, with whom he was boarding, and who ran into his room instantly on hearing the report of the pistol, that he had tried to shoot himself through the heart, but had missed his aim. He held the pistol so close to his body that the burning powder set his night clothes on fire. He lived some three hours after the shooting.

The West Virginia Silver Mines.
The silver excitement in Ritchie county is assuming tremendous proportions, several rich mines having been recently discovered in the valleys of Shore Run and Buck Run, near Cairo. The most valuable of these belong to the Rev. John Walters, Cyrus Dalton, John Ferber and M. D. Bartlett. The mine of the Rev. Mr. Walters is in operation, and has a five foot vein. A late assay shows $300 in silver and $41 in lead to the ton. The Bartlett mine comes next, with $175 to the ton. The remaining mines are not so rich, yielding only about $100 per ton. In digging a well on the farm of widow Pool, near Cairo, a piece of almost pure silver, measuring eight inches by five, and weighing fifteen pounds, was found.

G. W. H. Arnold.
