We have the new powerful binders, mowers and rakes of the famous Walter A. Wood, also the genuine parts and "Wood" brand of twine, all choice. Walter A. Wood is not only an inventor, but a rare mechanic with the inborn faculty of putting bright ideas into common-sense shape. The intensely American style of his machines makes others look clumsy and foreign. He is one of those earnest men who do not say much; but his machines do, in the field. We have pamphlets explaining them in plain words, and would like to have thoughtful, thrifty men send for copies and come and see this fine group of machines.

The law as to colored papers and labels and the word 'poison' are all very well for persons who can read, and in daylight, but if the present law were amended to make it obligatory that every druggist should put poison in a three-cornered bottle (the cost is no greater) be the same pill, potion, or powder, and you have an absolute safeguard, day or night, read or no read."

THE BRUTE LYNCHED.

WHITE-CAP VENGEANCE WREAKED UPON A NEGRO RAVISHER.

Found Asleep in his Cell—Green's Neck Broken as the Mob Dragged Him Down the Steps.

CENTREVILLE, Md., May 12.—This town is in a ferment of excitement over the lynching here early this morning of Ashbury Green. He was the burly married negro, 25 years old, who, on February 28, ravished Mrs. Mary Ann Tolson, the pretty 24-year-old wife of Howard Tolson, a prominent farmer of Kent Island.

Green was tried and convicted here on May 10. Yesterday Judge Stump sentenced him to twenty-one years imprisonment because, as he declared, there was a probability that his identity had not been proved. Otherwise the death penalty would have been imposed.

This sentence so angered the community that a lynching band of sixty was immediately organized by people from all over the county, and particularly by Kent Island residents, for "the sad purpose of protecting our homes."

At 10 o'clock this morning with the rain falling and the town in pitch darkness, sixty well-armed men, masked in white caps and with their clothing turned wrong side out, met at a lane less than half a mile from the jail, and also at the southern end of the town, and formed in twos and threes. Silently they strode up the street, led by a tall, muscular man.

When the jail was reached, two whistles aroused Deputy Sheriff T. Frank Seward, and he called on Joseph E. Carney, Joseph M. Simons, James Seward, George Rimmer, Eliphaz Yeates and John Seward, prominent citizens, who had been sworn in as Deputy Sheriffs by Sheriff T. B. Turner in anticipation of just such action. Deputy Seward rushed out to the front porch of the residence, which is connected with the jail, at the signal, and was confronted by a score of deadly weapons.

"What's the matter?" asked Deputy Seward.

"Stand back!" exclaimed the leader of the mob. "We want that nigger."

"Do your duty, men," yelled the deputy to the sub-deputies. "Go back; I command you. You cannot have the prisoner," retorted Seward.

"Don't move a step!" exclaimed the leader to Seward, "but give us the keys."

NOT TO BE DELAYED. The mob rushed forward like so many madmen and brushed the deputy and the six aids to one side. As they got into the hallway of the Sheriff's residence the Sheriff appeared at the head of the stairs, lamp in hand. Instantly almost every member of the lynching band leveled a gun or revolver directly at him.

"Blow out the lamp, Sheriff!" they exclaimed, "and don't come any further at the peril of your life." Just then the lamp was extinguished, and Sheriff Turner retreated. Deputy Seward was thrust into a corner and choked almost into insensibility as the gang took the jail keys from his pocket.

There being but twelve cells in the prison, the one occupied by Green was soon located. Green had not been awakened by the noise, and he was found fast asleep. In a twinkling the noise of an eight-foot hempen rope five-eighths of an inch thick was tightened around his neck.

Green begged piteously for mercy, and yelled lustily "murder!" His cries were only for a half minute's duration. He was dragged into the streets, and as the doomed man was dragged down the steps from the Sheriff's office his neck was broken.

DRAWN BY THE SEER. The mob ran pell-mell down Broadway, firing as they ran, and dragging Green in the middle of the road. When the peach orchard of the Chesterfield farm, on the outskirts, was reached the end of the rope was thrown over the branch of a peach tree, nine feet from the ground, and the victim, who was already dead, was strung up. There he hung, within twenty-five yards of the public road, with his feet but eight inches from the ground. The mob then quietly dispersed.

The whole transaction did not occupy more than twenty minutes. The body was left hanging till 9:30 o'clock this morning, when it was cut down by Coroner Robert Goldsborough and taken to the jail. A verdict that the deceased "came to his death at the hands of parties unknown" was rendered.

All He Knew About Girls. A small boy in a composition upon a girl writes: "If a girl don't feel like doing a thing you can't make her, no matter whether she had order or not. If she won't she won't, and she will get out of it somehow. That is all I know about girl-this time." And if this boy marries three times and lives to a ripe old age that will be all he will ever know about girls. —Washington Post.

RAIN MADE TO ORDER.

Chicago Evening Post tells of a way to produce rain, whether it wants to or not.

Senator Fairwell, the inventor, has been hammering at this problem for a number of years.

It is well known fact that during the Mexican War as well as the Civil war it would rain for days at a time after a battle at a place when rain was hardly ever known to fall, and it is from this Senator gets his idea.

His first experiment was to fire several heavily charged cannon simultaneously, and as that did not produce the results wished for, he now has a scheme for sending up balloons inflated with heated gas and when the balloon gets a certain distance above the surface of the earth, it is exploded by means of an electric wire, and in that way he proposes to disturb the elements so that a rain will follow as a consequence.

THE GREENSBORO PATRIOT.

Mr. R. T. Beal, of Lenoir, who caused such a stir among the Alliance a few weeks ago, has a lengthy article in the Progressive Farmer this week, headed "Definition of the True Principles of Democracy and Third Party"—and a warning against the latter. The communication throughout is able and instructive, and will furnish food for the Alliance to think about on rainy days.

Mr. Beal says Mr. Cleveland's only objection has yet been to his plea for Clevelandism raised by two correspondents of the Progressive Farmer, one of whom "read him out" of the Democratic Party, the other out of the Alliance, using his language:

"And both in this summary eloquence have shown a spirit of bitterness which tramples in the very dust that injunction of our Constitution, 'To constantly strive to secure entire harmony and good will among all mankind, and brotherly love among ourselves.' The Constitution of my country guarantees to me freedom of thought and freedom of speech. The Constitution of the Alliance and the right give me a solemn pledge that there shall be no interference with my politics or my religion. With this shield I can turn all the shafts of malice that may be hurled at me. In that plea I attacked no man's life, I impugned no man's motives, I indulged in no personalities. I simply appealed to the sense of justice and right that all true hearted men possess."

In Mr. Beal's defense of Cleveland he says Mr. Cleveland's letter was not directed against a judicial coinage and circulation of silver but against a certain congressional bill which threatened to load the country with a depreciated currency, which does not affect capitalists so much as it does the poorer classes. Mr. Beal here brings to bear a very forcible illustration as follows:

Under the unlimited free coinage clause, every owner of a silver mine would become more powerful than Aladdin with his wonderful lamp. Every capitalist could more than double his capital in three investments. Let me illustrate: The mine owner has $700 worth of silver metal, or bullion, as it is called, or the capitalist goes into the market and buys $700 worth of bullion (the market price of a dollar is 70 cents in bullion). Now under the unlimited free coinage clause, the government must put its stamp on it, and it is immediately worth to the holder $1,000, thus clearing $300 on a single investment. But this is not all: The capitalist buys a poor man's farm for $1,000 and gives him note, payable in ninety days. He takes $700 and buys silver bullion, gets it stamped at the mint into $1,000, then offers to pay his note, and the poor man must take it, for under this bill it is a legal tender, and thus pays his $1,000 debt for only $700.

Mr. Beal closes his letter, which by the way, we would publish in full but for lack of space, with a burst of eloquence that shows how deeply in earnest he is:

In view of the recent peril which the nation, in the South particularly, has just escaped from force bills and other despotic centralizing measures, it looks like the folly of madmen for us to abandon our fortifications and expose everything we hold most sacred to risk of destruction.

What will silver bills and sub-treasury bills be worth to us if we are again placed under the domination of ignorance and rapacious greed, as in the days of reconstruction?

"It is folly to fly from ills we have to others we know not of."

What I have written is intended for the good of the Alliance, and will receive the calm consideration of my conservative brethren.

Extremists will denounce it as treason. But that word has no more terror for me than it had for Hampden and Pym, who stood up boldly for their constitutional rights.

I plant myself on the impregnable rock of the Constitution, and the pledge of my Alliance, and in the language of Patrick Henry, who was also denounced as a traitor, I say "if it be treason, make the most of it."

To Every North Carolina Teacher.

An event of special importance to the teachers of North Carolina will be the eighth annual session of the North Carolina teachers' Assembly at Morehead City, June 16-30, 1891.

Men and women of the highest reputation and success in our State, representing every department of education, will be present to meet you and give you their best thoughts and views in professional work.

The meeting will be one of unusual educational value, such as ambitious and progressive teachers cannot afford to lose. It will be a time to make most pleasant and valuable acquaintances, renew and strengthen old friendships, exchange professional experiences with those who are working in lines like your own, and to get broader, deeper and more practical conceptions of popular education.

The results of such a delightful meeting of our teachers as has been planned for the coming session of the Assembly are certain to increase the interest of all our people in education; and to establish our schools on a more prosperous basis than ever before.

There will be full and free presentation and discussion of such methods of teaching as are adapted to the peculiar conditions of our educational system, public and private.

Teachers cannot be too strongly urged to be present who desire to become more efficient in their work; to know why the most successful members of the profession succeed; to secure a good school position or a change of location for the fall term; to gain a new educational inspiration, or to recover from the fatigue of a school term by the refreshing influences of the refreshing sea-breeze and the exhilaration of an ocean bath.

The expenses of your trip will be exceedingly light—a two weeks' visit to the Assembly, including round-trip railroad fare from the most distant portion of the State and first class board at the famous Atlantic Hotel, need not cost over $25. The total average expense of attendance for the entire session, including railroad fare and board, will not exceed $18. The professional and social value of the meeting to a teacher will be many times greater than the slight expense of attendance.

The annual fees for membership in the Teachers' Assembly are $2 for males and $1 for females. Upon payment of the fee, to the Secretary or Treasurer, a "Certificate of Membership" will be furnished, which will entitle the holder to all special railway and hotel rates and every privilege of the Assembly session. Friends of education, upon recommendation of County Superintendents, are permitted to attend the Assembly on same terms as teachers.

The various railroads of the State have made, specially for the Assembly, a very liberal rate of about one and a half cents a mile each way. Tickets are good to return any time within six weeks, and permit stopping over on the return trip. The great Atlantic Hotel gives first-class accommodations to all who hold certificates of membership at a uniform rate of only $1 per day. The boatmen make reductions for sailing and fishing parties so that these delights may be constantly participated in by all.

The popular and eloquent Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage has been engaged for a lecture on Friday evening, June 19th, at the Assembly.

It will be necessary to show your certificate of membership to the railroad agent at your station when purchasing the teachers' ticket to Morehead City. Be sure that your baggage is checked through to Morehead City.

A cordial invitation is extended to teachers and friends of education of other States to visit the Assembly and enjoy with us the privileges of the session and the delights of the sojourn at our "Educational Capital by the Sea."

HAVE COOLED DOWN.

THE ITALIANS NOT SO WRATHY AS THEY WERE.

Baron Fava's Recall Was Italy's Protest—The Italians Anxious for Peace—Why Consul Corte Was Recalled.

ROME, May 14.—In the chamber of deputies to-day, Signor Quintieri after acknowledging what he termed strict legality of Premier Rudini's action in the dispute with the United States and the moderate character of his demands, asked whether, in view of the verdict of the New Orleans grand jury, it would not be more dignified to renounce the matter and leave the responsibility for lynching on those tolerating them.

Signor Cavallet expressed his regret at the rupturing in relations between the United States and Italy. He thought that little should be said about the affair, as it was a very delicate matter. He begged Premier Rudini to use every endeavor to bring about a settlement of the dispute, which, he said, ought not to be allowed to linger.

SHOULD NOT BE DISCUSSED OFTEN.

Rudini explained that the foreign policy generally of the Italian government aimed to maintain European equilibrium. It was undesirable, he said, that the foreign policy of a great country should be discussed often. [Cries of "Hear," "Hear."] Alliances were not made or renewed on the caprice of a moment. On the contrary, it was essential that a great nation should pursue a constant line of action in order to be able to gather the fruits of its own policy. Exaggerated importance ought not to be given to the New Orleans affair, nor a question, essentially judicial in character, converted into one of national dignity. The recall of Baron Fava was a protest against the conduct of the United States government in declaring itself irresponsible in the matter. The question seemed to be entering a new phase.

"Judicial proceedings had been commenced against the lynchers," he continued the premier, "but I cannot say to what extent the proceedings are serious. Nevertheless, I am certain that Europe approves of our action."

WHY CORTE WAS RECALLED.

"Our consul at New Orleans has been recalled, partly because the government wishes to obtain the fullest information in regard to the matter, and partly because we fear that some of the communications which the consul published, or permitted to be published, were inopportune."

Referring to Italy's commercial relations, Premier Rudini declared that he adhered to the policy of the treaties with neighboring states as would be to the best interests of national economy.

Replying to a question relating to the New Orleans grand jury and Signor Corte, Italian consul at New Orleans, Rudini added that he had learned through the newspapers of the incident regarding the consul. If the news were true, the matter would, of itself, suffice to prove the necessity of the recall of Consul Corte.

The discussion was then adjourned.

TEN MILLION DIMES PUT AWAY

Effect of the Craze About the Pocket Savings Banks.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 18.—A Treasury official, speaking of the embarrassment the dime pocket savings banks are causing the Treasury Department, is quoted as saying that it is estimated that there are $10,000,000 in dimes hidden away in these pocket banks to-day, and there appears to be no way to draw upon this reserve until the bank is glutted to its full capacity. It is getting to be a craze.

"I was coming down the other day on a horse car," he said, "and an old lady pulled one of these toy depositories out of her black silk handbag and cautiously slipped two dimes into its mouth, the exact change she had received from the conductor. Ordinarily this ancient female would have paid her fare in tickets, but she had the craze and wanted the change. Why, every other woman in the building has a bank, and lots of the men, too. There are a thousand dime banks in active operation in the department alone, and thousands in the other departments, and ten thousand more in the hands of Washington children, and every one of them has a wide-open mouth yawning to devour the fractional coin."

It is estimated that 75 per cent. of the dimes that were in circulation three months ago in the city have been banked in these little tubular depositories, and the cry is for more.

The craze has affected other cities, too. Baltimore, New York, Philadelphia and other commercial towns are sorely put to it for change of this unit of value. This demand is giving the bank cashiers and Sub-Treasurers a great deal of worry, for it requires three expert clerks a whole day to count $10,000 in this sort of money.

CARRIED OFF BY A BEAR.

A Farmer's Daughter the Victim, and She is Not Found.

CINCINNATI, O., May 18.—A special from Bristol, Tenn., says the Daily Courier of that city has details from Edgemont that Lilly Young, daughter of James Young, a farmer residing near Edgemont, was attacked and carried off into the fastnesses of Iron Mountain by a large brown bear. The beast has been seen in that vicinity a number of times. So far searching parties have not succeeded in finding the bear or the remains of the girl.

DREW HER BELT.

ONE HOLE TIGHTER AND STARTED IN THE RACE.

The Statistics Which Represent the South's Progress Are as Exhilarating and Cheering as Old Wine.

Statistics are said to be dull and stupid. That may be true as a general thing, but when you take an inventory of your property and find that you are worth just three times as much as you were ten years ago then figures become more fascinating than poetry and more thrilling than oratory.

The South will back us up in these statements. When it pulled itself together after the war it found that it had nothing—but bankruptcy and pluck as capital in trade. Its motto was, "The past is nowhere; the future is everywhere," and it drew its belt one hole tighter and started in the race.

The statistics which represent progress are as exhilarating and cheering as old wine. Its coal output twenty years ago was about two million tons; now it is nearly eighteen million tons. In 1880 it thought it was rushing along at a breakneck speed because it had erected mills on its streams and manufactured one hundred and eighty thousand bales of the cotton it had raised, but in 1890, only ten years later, it manufactured five hundred thousand bales and made contracts for more mills.

Before the war the sleepy negro lay in the sun on top of iron mines whose value was only suspected. Agriculture absorbed the people's attention and they let the negro sleep on. Now the mines are worked, the bonanza has been uncovered, dreams of wealth have become an inspiration; the roar of the forge, the hum of machinery are heard everywhere, and old Pennsylvania is beginning to tremble in her boots as she surveys her vigorous and daring rival.

The South has rolled up its sleeves and proposes to be rich again—richer than ever. It has all the natural resources which attract capital and enterprise. Young men from the North on the lookout for a career are making investments there, helping to develop the country, and they always receive a warm welcome. The tides of population, kept apart so long, are mingling their waters, and unless the politicians raise a row there won't be any North or any South twenty years from now, and in their stead we shall have a united, contented and prosperous country.

Therefore, hang the politicians and let the good work go on.—N. Y. Herald.

HE STOOD UP FOR WHISKY.

The Man in the Back of the Church Talked Back at the Preacher.

HARTFORD, Conn., May 16.—During an address by the Rev. J. F. Hector last night, he said:

"The weakness of this nation is the drinking habit. Some scientists tell us that the system demands whisky at times. Even reputable newspapers print advertisements which announce that pure whisky cures indigestion and dyspepsia. Show me a reputable doctor who will assert that this is so, and I will show you a doctor who doesn't know enough to cure a ham."

Instantly a man in the back of the church got up and said: "I know a man who took a dram of whisky every three hours for six months for a bad case of lung trouble, and it cured him. Whisky is a good thing and should always be kept on hand. I am a temperance man myself, at least at intervals."

The minister replied, "My friend says he is a temperance man at intervals. This seems to be one of his intervals."

This episode caused a sensation and some confusion among the audience.

THE SOUTHERN EXPOSITION.

North Carolina Editors Wish President Harrison to Be Present.

RALEIGH, May 16.—At the industrial convention which closed in this city yesterday a resolution offered by Dr. Foote was adopted providing for the appointment of a committee to act with a similar committee of the State immigration bureau in extending an invitation to President Harrison to visit the Southern Exposition. The following gentlemen were named members of the committee to visit Washington: Gov. Thomas M. Holt, Senators Vance and Ransom, Col. Burgwyn, Col. A. W. Shaffer, Dr. W. R. Capehart, Col. John Nichols, Col. G. Z. French, Capt. Rencham Cameron, Capt. S. A. Ashe, Capt. Nat. Atkinson, Col. T. R. Wood, and Messrs. B. M. Collins, James Boylan, and J. T. Patrick.

Then and Now.

In ancient days for many an ill we used to take a blue pill. We felt so sure that it would cure us, we felt for purgative ripe.

To-day, when sick, we take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They are gently aperient or strongly cathartic, according to dose. Cures Sick Headache, Billious Headache, Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, and all derangements of the Liver, Stomach and Bowels. Put up in vials, hermetically sealed, hence always fresh and reliable. Purely vegetable, they operate without disturbance to the system, diet or occupation. Sold by druggists, at 25 cents a vial.

He Hailed from Minnesota.

"Were you satisfied with the work done by the legislature?"

"Hardly. A bill should have been introduced providing for the arrest of the immodest men who sell undressed lumber."

GENERAL CLINGMAN

He is 78 Years Old, But Wants to Marry Worse Than Ever.

The Washington Star has been publishing a symposium on prominent people on how to attain long life. Gen. Clingman, of North Carolina, in giving the opinion among many things, says:

"I will be seventy-eight years old in a few days and I am in perfect mental and physical health. I walk about three miles every day and I think I have been growing younger during the last three years. I find that my nails grow faster and tougher, and the growth of my hair has increased. I think that the improvement of my health since 1865 has been largely due to the use of an extract of tobacco, which stimulates the perspiratory and other organs and opens up the whole system. I am a bachelor, but I have wanted to get married all my life and first fell in love at five. I have wanted to marry since then, and I want to marry now more than ever, but I can't afford it."

"LET US ALONE."

Is the Advice of a Negro to a Northern Missionary.

CHARLOTTEVILLE, May 16.—At the Virginia Baptist State convention, representing 20,000 colored Baptists, to-day, Dr. McVickers, of Toronto, Canada, in urging the raising of a fund of $5,000 for two colored seminaries, drew a gloomy picture of the colored people of the south, asserting that they were worse off now in many sections than they were thirty-five years ago. He then spoke of what the American Baptist Home Missionary Society desired to do for the people of the state.

In reply to Dr. McVickers, Rev. J. M. Armistead, colored, of Petersburg, Va., said:

"I am opposed to any more such help from the north. I would say to the home mission board, of New York, put your money somewhere else and let us help ourselves. If we are ever to stand alone, now is the time to do so; but as long as our northern brethren rock the cradle for us, we will be children, and forty years hence we shall be as dependent on northern help as now."

The speech created a stir, and provoked a long and heated discussion.

A Prominent Doctor Accused of Murder.

A gentleman recently made a startling accusation in the hearing of the writer. Said he, "I firmly believe that Dr. —, intentionally or unintentionally, killed my wife. He pronounced her complaint—Consumption—incurable. She accepted the verdict, and died. Yet since then I have heard of at least a dozen cases, quite as far advanced as hers, that have been cured by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Her life might have been saved. Of course it is not. The 'Discovery' will remove every trace of it, if taken in time and used faithfully. Consumption is a disease of the blood—a scrofulous affluence—and the 'Discovery' strikes at the root of the evil. For all cases of weak lungs, spitting of blood, severe lingering coughs and kindred ailments, it is a sovereign remedy."

A POSTOFFICE DIALOGUE.

There Was Nothing for any of the Posters, Becca Included.

A quiet looking coon entered the postoffice yesterday and bawled out: "Any mail ha'r for any of the Posters?"

Mr. Pool in his usual quiet manner said, "No."

"Anything for C. C. Foster?"

"No, not anything."

"Anything for Lillie Foster?"

"No."

"Anything for Miranda Foster?"

"No, there is not."

"Any for Pete Foster?"

"No, not a bit."

"Any thing for Kub Foster?"

"No, nor Jane Foster, Paul Foster, King Foster, Matilda Foster, Linda Foster, Jim Foster, dead, living, borne or unborn, native, foreign, civilized or uncivilized, savage, barbarous, male or female, black or white, franchised or dis-franchised, naturalized or otherwise. No, I positively say there is nothing for any of the Posters, either individually or collectively."

The coon looked at Mr. Pool in amazement and said, "Mister please look and see if there isn't nothing for Becca Foster?"

WHY HE CUT HIS THROAT.

Mr. Corbett Suddenly Felt Like Committing Suicide.

DANVILLE, Ky., May 15.—Nance Corbett, living near Springfield, made a desperate effort to commit suicide last evening by cutting his throat. He stated that while standing in his front yard a feeling of self-doubt came over him, and, drawing his penknife, he drew it across his throat. After feeling the gash he concluded it was not deep enough, and, wetting the knife on a fence rail, he inserted the blade in the wound and made another effort to sever the jugular and windpipe, which he failed to accomplish.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., May 16.—At Stanford, in this county, J. A. and Samuel Riley, of that place, and Berry Fowler, of Monticello, took drinks from a bottle which they supposed contained whiskey, but which was filled with aconite. In a short time J. A. Riley was dead and the other two will die.

A Woman Horse Whips a Lawyer.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 16.—Mrs. Eugenia Fox horsewhipped Lawyer Littleck at his office yesterday because of his impudence to her while she was on the witness stand in a case in which she was interested. She gave him one of the soundest thrashings ever administered by a woman.

CRUSHED HER SKULL.

AN AMERICAN TOURIST'S CRIME IN A WELSH RESORT.

R. C. Duncan, of Washington, D. C., Confesses an Attempt to Murder His Finnish Bride.

LONDON, May 15.—A dispatch from Chester states that Mrs. R. C. Duncan, wife of an American from Washington, D. C., has been found shockingly injured in the Snowdon Mountains, near Bettws-Y-Co., in North Wales, a favorite resort of summer tourists. Her husband has been arrested for assaulting her.

Duncan arrived three weeks ago at the Benar View Hotel, at Bettws-Y-Co., accompanied by a young foreign lady whom he introduced as his wife. He was already known at the hotel, where he had stayed last summer with two other Americans. On Tuesday Duncan and his wife left the hotel ostensibly with the purpose of going to Liverpool, but having left their baggage at the railway station, they returned to the hotel.

THE START ON FRIENDLY TERMS.

They started at mid-day, apparently on friendly terms, to take a walk. At 6 o'clock in the evening a farmer who was passing through a plantation in a secluded spot saw Duncan leaning over a woman who was lying on the ground. Duncan shouted that the woman was his wife, who had fallen and hit her head on a rock. The woman, who was unconscious, was removed to a farm house.

THE DOCTORS WHO HEARD DUNCAN'S story were unable to reconcile the nature of the woman's injury with his statements. Her skull was fractured over the right ear, obviously from a blow. The woman was afterwards taken to the hotel, where she was examined by four doctors, who concurred in the opinion that she had been the victim of violence, and the operation of trephining was performed.

HIS CRIME CONFESSED.

Duncan, who had been arrested, confessed, on being informed that his wife was alive, that he had battered her head, and the police have found a stone, covered with blood and hair, near the spot where the woman was slain.

Duncan, who on being taken before a Magistrate made no explanation of the affair, was remanded. It is stated that his family in Washington occupy a good social position. He is 27 years old, short, slight and fair-haired, and wears spectacles. He is a noted linguist.

It is stated that Duncan met his wife in Stockholm, and that her father is a cigar manufacturer at Abo, in Finland. Mrs. Duncan is still unconscious, and there is only the smallest hope of her recovery.

Duncan's motive for the crime is a mystery.

A CRIMINAL'S MONEY.

He Kept a Deposit in a Buffalo Bank.

A somewhat remarkable story was told by a bank president at the Buffalo club the other day. It was to the effect that about $20,000 was on deposit in a bank in Buffalo to the credit of a notorious cut-throat and train-robbler.

"We have money in our bank," said the speaker, "belonging to a man who has probably committed fifteen or twenty murders in as many years."

This startling statement caused some surprise, but the name of the depositor was not mentioned. It was stated that no draft had been received on this account for a long time, but the depositor is believed to be pursuing his vocation of murderer and desperado in the wild and woolly West. The depositor, it was said, was always made closely following some train robbery, and it was morally certain that the depositor was concerned in the thefts.

"On one occasion," said the banker, "this man was at a Southern town, standing on the levee, and about to take a boat down the river in order to escape arrest for a crime. An old acquaintance spoke to him, but he said he was missing, and, being told that he was right, the poor fellow was deliberately stabbed to the heart. That was during the war excitement, when such murders were of frequent occurrence. Hence this particular one attracted very little attention and no attempt was made to arrest the murderer. He has figured in numerous crimes of a similar nature." Buffalo Express.

HIGH POINT.

Its Development in Manufacturing Enterprises Most Encouraging.

Among the North Carolina towns that are showing growth and prosperity is High Point, near Greensboro, on the North Carolina Railroad. Its growth in population is marked. Its development in manufacturing enterprises is most encouraging. It is the sixteenth town in size in North Carolina, but the census shows that its growth in population was considerable in the last decade, and its building operations placed it among the twenty-four towns in the South showing the greatest advance in that particular. It has thirty-two manufacturing establishments of different kinds and it is still pressing ahead. Among the different industries are the manufacture of cotton, smoking tobacco and plug tobacco, furniture, wagons, leather, harness, shoes, mattresses, baskets, canned goods, flour, bobbin heads, shuttle blocks, spokes and handles, lumber and saw mills, sash, door and blind factories, foundries, and machine shops, and as a lumber market, High Point is the best in the State. It is well supplied with church edifices, hotels and banks, there being two each of the last two named. It is a thriving,

People you like to Keep Up With.

We received a pleasant call last Monday from Mr. London, of the Chatham Record. Glad to see you bro. London.

Miss Lillie Lockheart, of Durham, who has been on a visit to friends in Charlotte, passed through Greensboro last Saturday en route to her home.
Miss Cordie Hagan left last Saturday night for an extended trip to Maryland, on a visit to relatives in Baltimore and other towns in Md., we wish her a pleasant visit.

New Industry.

One of Greensboro's new industries is a steam laundry which is, by the way, one of the things a town as large as Greensboro cannot do without. Everything, except the finer work, is done by machinery, and there is no wear and tear to the clothes as is the case when the clothes are scrubbed to pieces on a board. The work done by this laundry is simply perfect. The clothes are first washed clean and white as snow and then a magnificent finish is put on, and you can have your linen glossed or plain as you like. Mr. Dick is making special inducements to parties living in towns at a distance. Parties at a distance wishing to have clothes done up by the steam laundry can save money by getting up a club of six persons in a club, the express will be paid one way, and to twelve persons in a club the express will be paid both ways. We take pleasure in recommending the steam laundry to your notice, and feel sure you will receive satisfaction if you give them a trial. See prices in advertisement this week.

That Snake.

The good people of Greensboro have been making it "warm" for the local editor of the Daily Record since the advent of that wonderful Anaconda story and he is getting very indignant at their unbelief. He declares that the girl who pulled the snake off the cow can be produced and the cow can be produced, go what more do you want? It is true, the snake cannot as yet be brought forth, but that is a small matter when everything else is at hand, to prove conclusively the truth of the story. "The great trouble about the matter it is a 'snake story,' people have come to the conclusion that it is rather praiseworthy to lie about a fish, or snake. If our bro. had taken a ghost for his subject there would have been no trouble about it, the majority of his readers would have swallowed it gladly and would have gone on their way rejoicing.

ANOTHER WATCH GONE.

And another Soul Happy—Only Took 2 C. Royal one day and a half to get five subscribers.
E. C. Royal who lives a few miles south of Greensboro, and is about 15 years of age, heard of our offer and he made up his mind that he wanted a watch, and being a plucky boy, naturally, he determined to have one. So he went to work and went from house to house and in less than two days he had given five paid up new subscribers to the Patriot for which he received a bright new watch, worth $3.00, and he is as proud of that watch as J. Gould is of his repeater. Now the price of these watches have gone up 50 cents a piece, but we have made the offer and we mean what we say and will stick to it if it breaks us. Now if Mr. Royal could get up a club why can't every other boy in Guilford get one? Who will get the next watch?

A NEGRO BOY DROWNED.

In Walking Across a Log over a Deep Creek, a Negro boy falls off and Drags his Mother In, She Escapes by Catching Hold of Bushes on the Banks.
Mr. Jno. Wilson, who lives near McLeansville, brought us the news of an unfortunate affair which happened near McLeansville, N. C., last Saturday. Nancy Jeffreys and her youngest son were crossing a log across the South Buffalo near Mr. T. B. Donnell's mill, when the child, which was about six years old lost his balance and fell into the deep stream below, in falling he caught hold of his mother's dress and dragged her in but she was able to catch hold of the branches along the banks and hung on till a negro woman came to her rescue. The child, however, was swept away by the swift current, made swifter by the recent rains and was soon drowned, his body was not recovered until Sunday morning.

Rheumatism was so bad that James Irvin, of Savannah, could hardly walk from pain in his shoulder and joints of his legs.

P. P. P. (Prickly Ash, Poke Root and Potassium) was resorted to and Irvin is well and happy.

AN ANACONDA IN GUILFORD

A Brave Girl Assaults the Snake. Which was Choking a Cow.

Last year a monster snake was seen in the neighborhood of Donnell's mill, in this county, and its length was variously estimated by several parties who saw it, at from eight to fifteen feet. An attempt was made to kill it, but it went into a dense thicket on the banks of the creek.

Nothing more was seen of this monster snake until last Friday, when Miss Ida L. Robinson, saw a cow, the property of Mr. Abner Schofield, down and struggling, and went to it to see what was the matter. Imagine her surprise to see, coiled around the neck of the cow an immense snake some four inches in diameter and at least ten feet in length. The cow was being choked to death, and the brave girl took hold of the snake with both hands, and being a strong girl, she with great difficulty, got it loose, or perhaps frightened it until it uncrolled itself, and ran into the thicket.

After awhile the cow, with aid from the young lady, got upon its feet and was driven home.

The snake was of a brown color and showed no signs of striking or biting as is common to all our native snakes, hence it is believed to be an Anaconda, which has made its escape from some menagerie.

Mr. Edward Starr saw this or a similar snake last spring near George Donnell's old mill, which is about six miles north of Greensboro, in Monroe township, and said it was at least ten feet long.

This is a genuine snake story, vouchered for by well known and reliable citizens, who will be but too glad to have his snakeship killed.—Daily Record.

Married.

On May 14th, at the home of the mother of the bride, Mr. J. R. Hardin, of Greensboro, and Miss Retta English were united in marriage in the presence of a few friends. The bride is a sister of Prof. English, of Trinity College, and Mrs. Amos Reagan, Archdale; a lady of fine mental attainments, deep piety, ranking first in her loyalty to the white cross—and a constant and very prominent worker for "God, Home and Native Land." Welcome to the "City of Flowers," where she will find ample scope for the prosecution of good works, and we congratulate Mr. Hardin upon his good fortune, and wish for both a long life of uninterrupted happiness and prosperity.

Sanford Express.

On Saturday at 11 o'clock at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. Mary Melver, Mr. T. B. Hunter of Greensboro was married to Miss Eugenia Melver of Euponia, Moore county. Rev. A. R. Shaw in his characteristic impressive manner performed a beautiful ceremony. Quite a number of relatives and friends of the bride and groom were present, and it was with a very pleasant time.

The Patriot extends congratulations and a hearty welcome to the happy couple to their home—our beautiful city.

Died.

In this city, last Wednesday night, at 8 o'clock, with pneumonia, after a relapse from the grippe, Mrs. C. G. Shaw, in the 66th year of her age. Mrs. Shaw was the wife of Mr. Malcom Shaw, and the daughter of the late James Leach, of Trinity College, and one of nine sisters—eight of whom are still living; among them are Mrs. Braxton Craven, Mrs. W. C. Gannon, and Mrs. C. C. Dodson, all widows of distinguished Methodist ministers well known in this State. She was also a sister to Mrs. O. W. Carr, of this city. Mrs. Shaw was a woman of fine intellect and great piety, and a member of Dr. Smith's church in this city.

She leaves a devoted husband and two daughters—Miss Fannie who is well known to our people, and the other wife of Dr. A. Cheatham, of Henderson, who have the sympathy of the community in this hour of their saddest bereavement.

There were carried to Trinity College for interment last Friday at 10 a. m., and the funeral service took place at the old homestead at 4 p. m., conducted by Rev. J. Henry Smith, D. D.

MILTON, FLA.

This is to certify that I have been afflicted with Scrofula, or Blood Poison, for a number of years. The best physicians of Mobile and this city said nothing could be done for me. I also took a large quantity of —, but found no relief in anything that I took. My limbs were a mass of ulcers, and when I was sent to a physician in Mobile my entire body was a mass of sores. I had given up all hope, and as a last resort tried P. P. P. (Prickly Ash, Poke Root and Potassium), and after using four bottles (small size) the sores have entirely disappeared, and my general health is never better than at the present time, and people that know me think it a wonderful cure. Respectfully, ELIZA DODD.

JULY THE 4TH.

ARRANGEMENTS PERFECTED

For A Successful Celebration.

In accordance with adjournment, last Friday night a week ago, a meeting of the citizens was held in the court-house last Tuesday night. Owing to the severe storm, which was raging at eight o'clock, not so many were present as would otherwise have been.

Judge Dillard, the chairman of the citizens' meeting, being absent from the city, on motion of Judge Schenck, Mr. Jas. W. Albright was called to the chair, and Capt. Geo. H. Gregory made secretary.

The chair explained that the object of the meeting was to hear the report of the committee on contributions, and appoint such other committees as were deemed necessary to make the celebration a success.

Dr. D. R. Schenck reported that $475 of the estimated amount ($500) had been subscribed and partly paid in.

On motion, the subscribers to this fund were requested to pay their subscriptions to Mr. J. W. Scott, treasurer, as early as possible.

Mayor Forbis introduced the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That it is the unanimous sentiment of this meeting that the citizens shall co-operate with the Guilford Battle Ground Company in a grand celebration on the 4th of July, 1891, on the grounds of the said company, and that enough money shall be raised for that purpose and proper committees appointed to carry it out.

Mr. Geo. Woodroffe offered the following, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the chairman of this meeting appoint a committee of ten on program for the day of the celebration, and a committee of seven on invitation, and a committee of nine on reception and entertainment, and a committee of three on transportation, and a committee of three on advertising, and a committee of three on music; and that Judge Schenck, President of the Guilford Battle Ground Company, be ex-officio a member of each committee.

The following was introduced by Mr. W. A. Scott and unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the ladies are cordially invited and requested to co-operate in the celebration and that a committee of ten ladies be appointed to assist in the decorations and other such work as they may suggest.

Dr. D. R. Schenck submitted the following, which prevailed without opposition:

Resolved, That the Board of Directors of the Guilford Battle Ground Company be constituted the chief executive committee to superintend the preparation of the grounds, the addition of improvements and other like work and that the treasurer pay out the money on the voucher of the President.

Col. J. E. Boyd offered the following, which was adopted:

Resolved, That all confederate and federal soldiers are cordially invited to participate in the celebration, and to hold their re-unions on the battle field that day.

Under the provisions of the resolution directing the appointment of committees, the chair made the following announcement of the committees:

J. M. Reece, chairman. H. W. Wharton, C. F. Crutchfield.

It is earnestly desired that the chairman of each committee call his committee together at an early day and take such steps as may be deemed necessary to make the celebration, the largest and most enjoyable ever held at the Guilford Battle Ground.

It is about time we were getting together again—as one people—and participating in an old time 4th of July celebration.

Catarth originates in scrofula taint P. P. P. purifies the blood, and thus permanently cures Catarth.

Now For the 4th—Committees at Work.

At a meeting of the Programme Committee of the Guilford Battle Ground celebration, Rev. B. F. Dixon, D. D., was elected Chairman.

W. R. Land was elected Chief Marshal with request to select not less than 25 assistant marshals for the occasion. It was resolved that space be allotted for the Bicycle Clubs, Base Ball Clubs and other athletic sports.

That all military companies who desire to participate in the celebration will be allotted space in the procession. That the Guilford Grays and Guilford Battle Ground Continentals will be expected to be present and participate.

That the ladies will be expected to decorate the grounds and add any entertainment suitable for the occasion which they may suggest.

The other committees will hold meetings at an early day, and all proceedings are in preparation.

Commencement at Guilford College.

We were pleased to receive a beautiful invitation from the faculty of Guilford College to be present at the closing exercises of that institution, the 27th of this month.
