My Ships are Always Coming In.
BY SIDNEY M. YOUNG.
My ships are sailing o'er the sea,
And every day they come to me.
They're laden down with freightage rare,
With richer goods than earth can bear.
As every day I send them out, I know without a tinge of doubt, That, carried by a favoring wind, Their cargoes will rich market find.
For, in the port to which they sail, There is demand which will not fail, For just the goods I have to send,
Though here I never could them vend.
There always is a market there Which no abundance can impair: Though all the world's goods should send,
That great demand would never end.
What wealth such trade must bring to me!
And daily, nightly, profit bringing!
'Tis God who takes the freight I send, My prayers, as with his Son's they blend.
As by his Spirit they are given, Like sweetest incense rise to heaven.
The love that Jesus to me shows, That daily, hourly, he bestows, Is dearest of all things that's dying, 'Tis love that earth and heaven's playing And evermore my heart is singing My joy and peace that doeth bring;
My ships are always coming in,
For, joined to him, his all is mine.
And all my needs are quick supplied, For every one he doth provide:
According to his wealth and power, He makes provision for each hour.
And so my ships are sailing,
And every day my wealth is growing,
As more and more of him I'm knowing.

SULLIVAN NO MORE.
AND CORBETT IS THE CHAM-PION OF THE WORLD.

The Big Bostonian Knocked Out in the Twenty-first Round—Corbett Comes Out of the Fight Almost Without a Scratch.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 7.—Fully 9,000 people were present when the fighters came in at 9 o'clock. Sullivan weighed in at 212, Corbett at 189. The pools closed at 8 o'clock 3 to 1 against Corbett.

Corbett won the choice of corners. Charley Johnston, Sullivan's backer, and Jack McAuliffe seconded Sullivan. John Donaldson and Billy McLaney seconded Corbett.

The time keeper for Corbett is Pat Masterson, for Sullivan, Frank Morgan, for the club, R. M. Frank.
The gloves weigh five ounces. Prof.
Duffy instructed the men on the rules.

Sullivan was on the aggressive.
Sullivan swung right, missed by five feet; Sullivan rushed but Corbett jumped away. Sullivan looks vicious now, rushes in at Jim who runs away and smiles, both spar, Sullivan tried to corner Corbett, who slipped away. The gong sounded ten. It was a very tame round.

Second round—Corbett danced around Sullivan, Sullivan attempted to corner Corbett, who slipped away, getting a light hit on the shoulders. The men clinched, both landing vicious blows on necks.
Sullivan's upper cut Corbett and touched him with the left a little later. In sparring Sullivan landed a heavy right on the shoulder. Corbett got back on the stomach as the gong sounded. The honors were easy.

Third round—Corbett ducked away from Sullivan's left. Sullivan landing right on stomach fell short. Sullivan swings right on Corbett's back. Sullivan very aggressive. Corbett landed two heavy punches on stomach. They both made a lunge with the right.
Corbett put a heavy right on Sullivan's ear, knocking his head back. Both men were fighting hard when the gong sounded.

Fourth round—Sullivan endeavored to rush and corner Corbett, but the latter rushes away. Corbett swings left on John's neck and lands right and left on Sullivan's head as the round closes.

Fifth round—Corbett jabbed Sullivan on the neck without return. Sullivan swung right with terrible force and Corbett barely missed it. Both catch. Sullivan very eager for hot work. Both exchanged hard blows. Corbett then swung left on Sullivan's nose, drawing blood. Sullivan very bloody.
The men fighting like demons. Corbett had Sullivan on the ropes pounding him unmercifully as the gong sounded.

Sixth round—Corbett landed on Sullivan's nose, making it bleed; Corbett landed heavy left on head.
Sullivan retaliated on neck. Corbett jabbed Sullivan twice on chin and ran away. They both landed heavy lefts on head. Honors easy.
Sullivan fighting like demons. Corbett had Sullivan on the ropes
gong sounded.

Seventh round—Corbett aggressor; punches Sullivan at will and knocks him on the ropes.
Eighth round—Heavy exchanges. Corbett still aggressor; Sullivan very tired.

Ninth round—Both exchanged hot lefts twice; both very cautious.
Sullivan jabbed Corbett in wind; Corbett retaliates hard on stomach; Corbett jabbed Sullivan with left.

Tenth round—Both exchanged lefts on necks, Sullivan aggressor.
Sullivan struck Corbett on the neck with a left light blow. Sullivan rushed at Corbett and got a jab on the nose. Corbett cheered as the gong sounded.

Eleventh round—Corbett fresh, both men landed good blows in the breast. Corbett landed a crushing left on Sullivan's nose without return. The champion forced to the ropes and gets two jabs on the nose; Corbett the aggressor; they clinched and Sullivan hurt Corbett a little. They exchanged vicious blows.

Twelfth round—Corbett landed left hand twice on stomach; Sul-
Corbett cross-countered on neck with left; Corbett landed another left on stomach; Sullivan rushes on Corbett; Corbett hits Sullivan hard on stomach and neck.

Thirteenth round—Sullivan landed left light on Corbett's neck; John led with left on Corbett's neck; Sullivan led with left on Corbett's wind; Sullivan aggressor Sullivan got a left pinch on nose.

Fourteenth—Sullivan landed on Corbett's neck, both men landed good blows, both exchanged heavy lefts on head, Corbett jabbed Sullivan; both exchanged lefts, both landed hot on neck; John landed good left on Corbett's forehead; Corbett now on the defensive.

Fifteenth round—Sullivan fore-ed Corbett around; swung right hand on Sullivan neck; clinched and were separated; Sullivan got a hard one in on the ear; Corbett landed heavy with the left on Sullivan's head; John gave Corbett a hard pinch in the stomach; both landed lefts; Corbett landed left on Sullivan's stomach and jumped away without return; Corbett landed left hand on Sullivan's stomach.
The crowd cheered Corbett.

Sixteenth round—Corbett has the best of the fight, not a mark on him.

Nineteenth round—Both men quickly responded. Sullivan landed heavily on Corbett's jaw; Sullivan van now was the aggressor. Corbett smiles at him and is dancing around him sparing; Corbett landed twice on Sullivan's stomach and followed it up with a right on the face. Sullivan rushed at him. Corbett met him with two lefters in the face. Sullivan is winded and he has the worst of the fight up to this time.

Twenty-first—Which marks the downfall of the greatest fighter of the age is as follows: Sullivan led with left, but every blow is weak, sparing for wind; both exchanged lefts; Corbett landed left on Sullivan's stomach; Corbett rushes Sullivan to the ropes, knocking him around the ring. Corbett knocked Sullivan down with a terrible right handed blow; Sullivan tried to respond, but could not get up. Sullivan was then counted out and Corbett given the fight.
Corbett came out of the fight with out a scratch. The crowd has gone wild. Sullivan is badly punished and is bleeding like a beef. The ovation that Corbett received was something tremendous. James E.
Corbett was declared winner in the twenty-first round and declared champion of the world.

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION—A FULL STATE TICKET NOMINATED.

Stormy Scenes at the Gathering in Raleigh—The Third Party Fusionists Driven to the Wall—The Candidates and the Platform.

RALEIGH, N. C., Sept. 7.—The Convention was called to order at 12 o'clock by Jno. B. Eaves, chairman of the Republican State Executive Committee, who made the usual remarks on such occasions, urging harmony, etc. As there were contests from several counties a Committee on Credentials was appointed and J. H. Schenck, colored, of Mecklenburg, was chosen temporary chairman of the Convention. The body then adjourned until 3 o'clock p. m.

The Convention was called to order at 3 p. m. Report of the Committee on Credentials showed all the counties represented except Bertie, Hyde, Mitchell, Washington, Watauga and Yancey. Contests were announced from the counties of Cumberland, Edgecombe, Harnett and New Hanover.
The committee decided in favor of seating both delegations from Cumberland, with divided votes for each. The delegation from Edgecombe, headed by Leigh Person, was seated. The Harnett delegation headed by Speers, seated. The delegation from New Hanover was seated. The report of the committee on New Hanover was hotly contested, causing much feeling. A vote was finally taken by counties, and the report of the committee was sustained by a large majority.

Zeb V. Walser was chosen permanent Chairman, and W. D. Parker, of Carteret, Secretary.

J. C. L. Harris offered a resolution that it was inexpedient to nominate a State ticket, but to leave it discretionary with Republicans to vote as they deem proper.
This resolution met with violent opposition. Harris led in a speech in the affirmative, and W. Z. Henderson in the negative.

T. R. Purnell moved to lay the resolution on the table, which motion prevailed by a large majority.

A motion prevailed to nominate State officers, and D. M. Furches, of Iredell, was nominated for Governor by acclamation. J. M. Moody of Haywood county, was nominated by acclamation for Lieutenant Governor; Rufus Ames, of Granville, was nominated for Secretary of State by acclamation. H. C.
Doekery, of Richmond county, was nominated for Treasurer by acclamation. E. C. Perisho, of Guilford, was nominated for Superintendent of Public Instruction. H.
L. Grant, of Wayne, Auditor, by acclamation. J. R. Purnell, of Wake, for Attorney-General, by acclamation; W. S. Ball, of Guilford, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, by acclamation. W.
R. Norwood, Judge of the Seventeenth District, by acclamation.

The following is a synopsis of the platform as reported from committee: Demands continuance of the Republican party in power; endorses the platform of the National Republican party and the nomination of Harrison; denounces the present system of county government in North Carolina; denounces the State election laws; against the present methods of providing for public printing; against employment of convict labor; favors increase of national currency and establishment of postal saving banks; favors shorter hours of labor. Aside from the excitement concerning the admission of delegates from New Hanover and the introduction of the resolution of J.
C. L. Harris, there was no considerable disorder in the Convention.

At 7 o'clock Judge Furches was addressing the Convention amid much enthusiasm, after which the Convention will adjourn sine die.

Thoughtful.
In one of Mr. Barrie's quaint stories, "The Little Minister," is a discussion as to whether it is possible for a woman to refuse to marry a minister. "I once knew a woman who did," said Sneeaky Hobart who was one of the characters.

"His name was 'Samson' and if it had been 'Tamsen' she would have taken him. Aye, you may look but it's true! Her name was Turnbull, and she had another gent after her named 'Tibbets.' She could not make up her mind between them and for awhile she just kept them dangling on."

"Aye, but in the end she took Tibbets. And what think you was her reason? As you ken, these grand folks have their initials on their spoons and nightgowns. Aye well, she thought it would be mainly handy to take Tibbets, because if she had taken the minister, the T's would have had to be changed to S's. It was thoctifu' o' her."

Arkansas Election.
FORT SMITH, Ark., Sept. 7.—West-Arkansas polled a full vote in Monday's election. Fishback Democratic candidate for Governor leads the ticket in all the parts of the State. His majority will be fully 25,000. In this city—his majority exceeds 700 which is nearly 200 ahead of the party ticket.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 7.—Returns from fifty-three counties give Fishback for Governor a majority of 16,329 over both Whipple, Republican, and Carnahan, Peoples' party. Desha and Phillips counties are Democratic by 350 and 400 respectively. This is the first election for a long time that these two counties have gone Democratic. In Yaukub county the Peoples' party elects the county ticket, but gives a majority of 150 for Fishback.

Send us twenty-five cents and get the PATRIOT until after the election!

Wakening.
The broad white curve of the beach,
That lies like a banded arm;
The amorous waves that seem over "a-reach
To kiss it and die a-calm.
And still the hovering sky,
And still the splendid day, And the far white sails, and the sea gull's cry,
And the sun path over the bay.
How many and many a time Have I questioned the stranded shells, If they knew, perchance, of the magical clime
Where the answer of dreaming dwells.
And harking the water's kiss, Content have I dreamed alone, In the glorious thrill of a day like this,
And a wistful want unknown.
There speed the outboard ships, Here lie the sunshine warm, With the spent waves pressing their curving lips,
On the white shore's banded arm.
Then for what is the day more fair?
Why blur the deeps of space?
Oh, the sun on the gold of a woman's hair—
The love in her eyes—her face!
—Chas. W. Coleman in Lippincott's.

Hover and the Third Party.
The fact that one H. F. Hover, the renegade nihilist who once lived and is well known around here, is now one of the great lights of the Third party—a lecturer, a leader, an inflamer—will, we think, be sufficient to cause every Third party man acquainted with this gentleman to stop and think and see if he is not in the wrong party.
Hover's career is too well known to require any comment. He is now in Washington and has issued a voluminous address to the "voters of the country." It is made up of infectious language and in it he places himself as one of the Third party leaders. He starts out by saying his "heart is full of thorns." If he would come to North Carolina he would shortly have it full of congealed blood. They would hang him. Still he is a lecturer and a leader in the Third party ranks.
Hover's lecture, of which we have a copy, is full of anarchy, incendiarism, etc., and we herewith quote two paragraphs.

"We must put the People's party in power this very year with our ballots, or else we will be compelled to do one of two most dreadful things, viz: First, all fold our hands and bow down in humble submission and become the willing slaves of these few moneyed kings; or secondly, rise up in dreadful revolution as relentless as the hand of fate, and kill, murder in cold blood, the entire race of plutocrats and all their kinsmen, and destroy, burn and blow up all their belongings." [Will North Carolina stand this?]

On the next page he says:
"If the poor white men at the South can be wise enough now to go to the poor negro and say to him, 'Come, let us reason together; we can never gain anything from either of the old parties by always voting against each other; it only helps the rich man to keep us both down. Now, let us go together into the People's party.'" Is it a negro party? Can white men endure such an insult as this above?—Press and Carolinian.

WEAVER'S BRUTAL CRUELTY.
Testimony of One Who Witnessed it in Tennessee.

LAUREL, Ga., Aug. 23.
I see in your issue of Saturday, the 20th inst., an extract from a letter written by an old citizen of Pulaski, Tenn.; also a copy of a clipping from the Giles County Democrat of the 20th of July, charging General Weaver, the people's party candidate for president, with beastly cruelty towards the citizens of Pulaski and Giles county while in command of the Union army at that place in 1861.

I can fully substantiate a number of these charges contained therein, and could add many others of like character, all from my own recollections. Although quite young at the time, such a state of terror as we were kept in by this brute in human form, made an indelible impression upon my mind.

My father, Dr. Perkins, was living in Pulaski at that time. Our house, my grandmother's (Mrs.
Dr. Ordway, now of Nashville), and Major Jones' a relative of ours were used as officers' quarters. We were all subjected to many insults.
Major Jones' family were ordered out of their house at about 12 o'clock on a bitter cold night in December. They were not allowed time to dress. Mrs. Jones had to wrap her sick child in bed clothing and carry it in her arms to a neighbor's house. Many acts of cruelty committed on my relatives and friends, are fresh in my memory.
Men of the highest standing, both old and young, were thrown into prison, kept there for months and some of them shot down like dogs with never a charge entered against them. Ladies were insulted on the streets—It was indeed a reign of terror. Such acts of vandalism and crime I have never even read of in a civilized country. All of it was done by the order, or with the consent of General Weaver—Mrs. Annie E. Hall in Atlanta Journal.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

Cleveland and Tammany Friends—

Hill May Take the Stump—Chloroform—North Carolina Personal

Other Minor Points.

(Special Correspondence.)

WASHINGTON, D. C.,

Sept. 12th, 1892.

Cleveland and Tammany are friends beyond a doubt, and it is surmised that Mr. Hill will take the stump as the campaign advances.

The political excitement in incident to a Presidential year has been overshadowed by the cholera scare during the past few weeks.

Every city is considering sanitary measures and looking to New York and the Canadian border with apprehension. Cleanliness and caution are the best weapons with which to ward off the scourge. Although of course, a strict observance of the ordinary laws of hygiene. No original case has yet been reported in this country.

The contract for heating and ventilating apparatus for the public building at Statesville, N. C., has been awarded to Robert Clark, of Peoria, Illinois, by the Architect of the Treasury. His bid of $8,000 dollars was the lowest.

Naval Cadet Horner L. Ferguson, of North Carolina, a graduate of the U. S. Naval Academy, has been ordered to the University of Glasgow, where he will take a two years' course at the expense of the Government. This young man has richly won the high honor thus accorded him. The Government only sends the brightest and best young naval officers to this finishing school.

Prof. E. A. de Scheveinitz, of Salem but later of the Smithsonian Institution, has been elected Professor of Chemistry in the Columbian University, this city, to succeed the late Prof. Fristoe. Prof.

Scheveinitz is a graduate of Chapel Hill and the Universities of Berlin and Göttingen.

The city is rapidly filling up with Grand Army men. Seventy-five thousand are expected.

I hope the rumor that Dr. Mott will vote the Democratic ticket is true and that all the malcontents will follow his lead. Dr. Mott is worth half a dozen Third party cranks any day. He has the courage of his convictions.

Col. A. S. Buford is in the city.

He says: "I don't think the Third party will cut much of a figure in Virginia this year. It appears to be weakening every day and I believe the State will easily be carried for Cleveland.

The North Atlantic Squadron has been ordered to Venezuela to protect our flag from insult and show the insurgents that we can put them down with a heavy hand when we wish to do so.

morrow to make ten campaign speeches in North Carolina.

That was not fair, the lion said,

That was not fair, the lion said,

That was not fair, the lion said,

That was not fair, the lion said,

That was not fair, the lion said,

That was not fair, the lion said,

That was not fair, the lion said,

That was not fair, the lion said,

That was not fair, the lion said,

That was not fair, the lion said,

That was not fair, the lion said,

That was not fair, the lion said,

That was not fair, the lion said,

That was not fair, the lion said,

That was not fair, the lion said,

That was not fair, the lion said,

That was not fair, the lion said,

That was not fair, the lion said,

That was not fair, the lion said,

That was not fair, the lion said,

That was not fair, the lion said,

That was not fair, the lion said, see us taller in the presence of the lions,

Must you be carried to the skies

On flowery beds of ease,

While others fought to win the prize

And bowed down in bloody sweat!

Toplady shouts in his holy hymn:

Your harp, ye trembling saints,

Down from the windows take;

And to the praise of love divine,

And every string awake.

While Charles Wesley, the Methodist, breaks forth in his favorite words, a little varied.

A charge to keep you have,

A God to glorify;

A never dying soul to save,

And fit it for the sky!

I look again and I see the gallery of the departed. Many of these other galleries have heard of, and we know them. Oh, how familiar they are! They sat at our tables, and we have forgotten us! Those fathers and mothers started us on the road of life. Are they careless as to what becomes of us? And those children—do they look on with stolid indifference as to whether we win or lose this battle for eternity? Nay, I see that child running its hand over your brow and saying,

"Father, do not fret." "Mother, do not worry."

They remember the day they left us

They remember the day they left us

They remember the day they left us

They remember the day they left us

They remember the day they left us

They remember the day they left us

They remember the day they left us

They remember the day they left us

They remember the day they left us

They remember the day they left us

They remember the day they left us

They remember the day they left us

They remember the day they left us

They remember the day they left us

They remember the day they left us

They remember the day they left us

They remember the day they left us

They remember the day they left us

They remember the day they left us

They remember the day they left us

They remember the day they left us

They remember the day they left us

They remember the day they left us

They remember the day they left us

ART AND ARTISTS.

Mrs. Ayres, an American sculptor, has completed a bust of Mr. Gladstone, which is commended by the critics as a portrait and a work of art. Mrs. Gladstone was obliged to reproduce the chief features of the great statesman from his studying them while he worked in his library.

Raphael's "Crucifixion," the gem of the Duderley Gallery of Philadelphia, only realized $55,650 at auction.

Though the price was $44,450 more than was paid for the picture when it was first purchased in 1845 by Earl Dudley, the smallness of the second purchase money has been a subject of much comment in English art circles.

Mrs. Ayres, the wealthy New York widow, has had her portrait painted by Caroline Duran. The lady is seated on a sort of throne, covered with antique tapestry. She is robed in heavy velvet of an indescribable hue, and a heavy purple mantle, bordered with Russian fur, is on her feet, and the artist's shoes are of color is further illustrated by the revealing of a bright-red pair of stockings. The English papers allude to the picture as "Queen Croesus."

It is a fixed and immutable law that to have good sound health one must have pure, rich and abundant blood.

There is no shorter nor surer route than by a course of De Witt's Sarsaparilla.

Sold by Richardson & Fariss.

Mrs. Keedick (praising young Mr. Adlet to her daughter): He doesn't smoke, drink, or swear.

He's a good boy and would be true to you. Miss Keedick (shaking her head): He's to good to be true, mamma.—Truth.

"To slum the world's allurements,

To bear my cross therein,

To conquer every sin:

Where duty bids me stay

To go where God may lead me—

This is my work to-day.

"I think not of to-morrow,

But still, with childlike spirit,

For the present mercies ask.
