en was pictured as an elysian land of peace and plenty, according to the effect of drink on the exhorter's mind. These stories may be slanderous, but it is true that during the first thirty-five years of the century it was considered entirely respectable to make whiskey, and it was not derogatory to ministerial or Christian character to drink it in moderation. A preacher would now and then step into a saloon and go to the bar and take a drink without his character suffering in the least up to 1830.

In one of the counties of South Carolina, peopled almost entirely by seceders, it was considered the proper thing at the annual meetings or presbyteries for the people who entertained delegates to lay in a few gallons of whiskey or brandy for their guests. The seceders were considered a very temperate people, though their Scotch characteristics of being mighty fond of good whiskey stuck to them, and nothing was thought of it. This custom was kept up until 1845, and the Methodists and Baptists declare now that some of the seceders haven't given it up yet.

THE PREACHERS DRANK. A few of the old-time distillers survived the war, and attempted to do a little business when it was over. One noted for making extraordinarily pure whiskey and fine brandy was known by everybody for miles around in both States as Uncle Edmund Blanton. About 1867 half a dozen delegates on their way to a Baptist association stopped over at his house for the night. It was about dusk when they arrived, and after their horses had been watered, fed and stabled and the guests were comfortably seated in split-bottomed chairs around a roaring light-wood fire, Uncle Edmund set his delectable out on the sideboard and said:

"Brethren, there is something that I think pretty good. I made it myself, and it is what I drink." He then took the stopper out and began filling the glasses saying in a self-satisfied, half-soliloquizing way as he poured: "Look what a beautiful yellowish amber fluid this is, and it is pure like castor oil, which shows brethren, that it is mellow to the Queen's taste. Will you all try a little?"

Two of the laymen declined, saying that they never "used," but two of the preachers stepped up to the sideboard and tasted the contents of the decanter. One of them remarked, as he finished his share and that of the laymen, too: "Well, brethren, I do 'use.' That's a part of my raisin' that I've never forgot."

The usual price of whiskey in the old days was from 37 1/2 to 50 cents a gallon. No license was taken out for making or selling it, and drunkenness then was not greater than now. At the militia musters, which were grand holiday occasions, whiskey and mutton ground gingerbread made the day and night go quickly and merrily. When held in summer, the people would remain on the muster ground all night drinking their home-made whiskey. Those same men would have turned up their noses at a Manhattan or a Martini cocktail, and a pousse cafe, would probably have been despised; but they had a mixed drink, as they called it—and it was the only one bordering on a fancy drink known to them—that they never tired of talking about. This was the Christmas stew. On Christmas day a congenial crowd would assemble and put into a pot from two to ten gallons, according to size of the crowd, of thick old whiskey, adding ground gingerbread, and sugar to suit the taste. While it was stewing down to the desired point the crowd would swap yarns. As soon as the concoction was ready all would surround the pot with tin cups and long-handled gourds in hand and drink until they gradually one by one fell by the pot's side. A person could drive from place to place and in each one find a crowd either standing or reclining about a Christmas stew pot.

THE MINT JUICE. Virginia claims that a mint julep that is a mint julep cannot be concocted outside of her boundaries, but old Carolinians, long ago and a few surviving, could never be convinced of the truth of this assertion. The man who was up in the world would send one pecknany camperv to the mint bed for mint while the dew still sparkled on the fresh green leaves, another to the spring for a bucket of fresh water, and a third to the cellar for a jug of five-year-old corn whiskey, while a fourth was detailed to bring a bowl of sugar, glasses and spoons. While the master was waiting for the return of the small but eager vessels he would spend the time in alternately entertaining his ever-present guest and swearing at the delay. As each little decanter came up with his burden he received a cuff, for which he grinned heartily, knowing full well that a nickle would fall to his lot next and was dismissed. The master then put into the glasses a little sugar, two or three choice sprigs of mint, just enough spring water to dissolve the sugar, and, finally, a good deal of the essence of corn. He and his guest would then settle themselves, cocking their feet on the piazza banisters, and there they would sit and sip, fanning themselves, and talking about old times, until they were called to a delicious breakfast, consisting principally of fried chicken, hot waffles and coffee.

As late as 1850 a Baptist church in North Carolina arraigned several male members; the charge against some of them was joining the Odd Fellows, and against others making and selling whiskey. None of them confessed to wrongdoing, but the Odd Fellows were excommunicated, while the whiskey men were kept in.

One of the old-time distillers who was almost reared in a still house, and who courted his wife in her father's still house, both being of excellent family, says that no good corn whiskey is made these days. The methods used are too rapid, and too much whiskey is made to the bushel of grain. He thinks the product ought to kill those who drink it.

THE GOLD IN THE TREASURY. The Belmont-Morgan Syndicate Has Nearly Completed Its Contract and the Reserve Is Not Gaining. WASHINGTON, June 7.—Since January 1st, the Treasury Department has lost within $10,000,000, as much gold as it gained by the sale of the bonds to the Belmont-Morgan syndicate. The gold lost—$55,162,000—was paid out in the redemption of United States notes and Treasury notes and most of these notes, at least seven-eighths, have been presented for redemption at New York City.

On February 8th, the agreement with the Belmont-Morgan syndicate went into effect and by its terms the syndicate agreed to protect the Treasury gold as much as possible. Of the $55,162,000 lost since January 1st, but $6,000,000 are chargeable between February 8th and June 1st. During the month of May gold withdrawn for redemption purposes has aggregated $1,000,000, or at the rate of about $33,000 a day. For the first two days of June the withdrawals amounted to $101,000. These figures show, in the opinion of Treasury officials, that the Belmont-Morgan syndicate is using all legitimate efforts to protect the Treasury gold; but they also show that more gold is being withdrawn than is required for ordinary business purposes. The syndicate has now fulfilled its contract within $8,000,000, and is said to be ahead of its payments. The Treasury gold reserve stands at $99,250,000, and if withdrawals in large amounts are not made for redemption purposes, when the $8,000,000 gold the syndicate is paid in, the gold reserve will foot up fully $106,000,000.

What the effect will be upon the syndicate's contract is a subject that is not discussed at the Treasury, but, judging from the past, the gold withdrawal will be much heavier than for the past four months and will materially weaken the gold reserve. Aside from the gold received from the syndicate during the past four months, the Treasury has had several other sources of supply. The gold received from custom duties has been light—not aggregating one-tenth of 1 per cent. From original coinage, the gold received has aggregated several million dollars, while in exchange for silver certificates of small denominations for removal of the crops in the South and West, considerable gold has found its way into the Treasury. Under the Treasury regulation authorizing the exchange of the World's Fair souvenir half dollars for gold, more than $700,000 has been received from this source. The supply of souvenir coin is fast being exhausted. The amount of paper money presented daily at the Treasury for redemption in gold is now being watched with interest.

THE DODSON-ALLEN WEDDING. Married at 12 m., the 11th inst., at the residence of the parents of the bride, on the corner of Dick and Russell streets, this city, Miss Eva Allen, daughter of Mr. Jno. J. Allen, to Capt. W. C. Dodson, the efficient and popular conductor on the C. & Y. V. R. R. line, Rev. R. A. Willis, pastor of the Methodist church, performing the ceremony. The bride is one of the loveliest women that for many years has grown up in Fayetteville, famed as it is for fair women; the groom, through several years of service in his calling, has drawn around him many friends, and both were recipients of many and costly presents. The attendance at the marriage was limited to the relatives and immediate friends. Capt. Dodson's father and sister being present. The wedding couple left on the 12:35 p. m. train for a northern trip and on their return will make Greensboro their home.—Fayetteville Observer.

Big Sale of Jersey Cattle. Dr. J. J. Mott, who has one of the finest herds of Jersey cattle to be found anywhere, sold, last week, 35 cows to Col. J. S. Carr, of Durham. The cows were shipped to Durham Saturday. The price paid has not been made public.—Statesville Landmark.

It Never Fails. Harris & Buquo, Erin, Tenn., manufacturers of the celebrated Erin Lims, have in their employ, in the various departments of their business several hundred men. The firm write to the Lane, New York, in great praise of the Dr. J. J. Mott's Remedy for Rheumatism, and say they have cured four cases with it, and that it has not failed in a single instance. The remedy always gives satisfaction. Send $5 to the Dr. J. J. Mott's Remedy Co., and they will ship to your address two large bottles—a month's treatment—by return of mail. Agents W.

INTERVIEW WITH MRS. DE-LANEY FORBIS.

In regard to Guilford Battle Ground, February 21, 1887.

The following interesting interview with Mrs. John Forbis, known as Aunt Laney Forbis, by Judge Schenck, is published for the first time below. It throws much light on the battle at Guilford Court House, and relates a very touching incident as to Col. Arthur Forbis: Tabitha L. Matthews married John Forbis, who was the son of Arthur Forbis (No. 2), and grandson of Col. Arthur Forbis (No. 1). The old house is gone, but the present house is in the same yard nine miles east of Greensboro.

Mrs. Bettie Forbis, wife of Col. Arthur Forbis, came to live with us from the time I was married, in 1828, and lived with us six years. She was ninety years old but retained her memory of early events, and loved to recount the troubles and trials of the Revolutionary war. She died at ninety-eight years old.

Arthur Forbis (No. 1) was a captain in North Carolina volunteers, in a regiment of which John Paisly (father of Rev. William Paisly) was colonel.

This company was composed of men from the Alamance church (Presbyterian)—Wileys, Gilmer, Keers, Ellisons, Gillespies, &c., &c.

In "cider time" (about September) 1780, Captain Forbis and his company were called into service and the company assembled at Forbis' house. It was a frame house—just weather-boarded—the first in that section, and the men played ball against the house the evening before they started. (Old Mrs. Forbis survived her husband fifty-four years.) They left the next day. Her recollection is that Captain Forbis' company went to join the Southern army and was with Greene. (Battle of Camden, August 15th, 1780).

The firing of the cannon at Guilford Court House was heard by Mrs. Forbis at her house, and she sat upon a leaning or stooping log tree in this (her) yard and listened to it.

The third day Mrs. Forbis, whose name was Bettie, started on horseback to the battle field to see if she could find her husband, and on the way to the battle field, at the forks of the road, near and west of Holt's Chapel, two miles east of Greensboro, she met her husband on a horse, and Miss Montgomery, who had three brothers in the army, leading it. Bettie passed them, not recognizing her husband, when Captain Forbis called out, "Don't you know me, Bettie?" when she turned and saw her husband bloody and wounded. They took him home.

Captain Forbis had one bullet in his thigh and one in his neck. He lived about three weeks. He was attended by Dr. Caldwell, and perhaps his son, David Caldwell, Jr. Other doctors were present and wanted to amputate the leg, but Col. Forbis refused to allow it, and said, "It shall all go together."

Before he died, he directed the hands of a number of Tories, which had been confiscated and transferred to him, to be conveyed to them on their refunding the taxes he had paid upon it.

He was buried at Alamance Presbyterian church, of which he was a ruling elder.

Captain Forbis had six children at the time of his death. His oldest son, John, was born in 1769, 14 years before his death. He was, therefore, supposed to be 35 or 40 years old when he died. In 1860 a monument was raised over his grave by the citizens of Guilford. It was done at the instance of Dr. Caruthers.

One Shoemaker treated Captain Forbis with cruelty—just as related in life of Caldwell—and a short while thereafter Shoemaker was hanged by the Whigs, very near Shoemaker's church. He (Shoemaker) was a weaver by trade. These Whigs took him from his loom and hung him.

Another "good Tory," (name not given) the Captain said, filled the cup with water and set it by him, and this was the only food or drink he had until discovered by Miss Montgomery.

The ball extracted from his neck was in the family for a long time. "Bettie" kept it and the Captain's cap together, but it seems to have disappeared or been lost.

Mrs. Forbis had seen it. "It was an ounce ball, slightly mashed. 'James Forbis now has the cap. He is my son.'"

"Bettie" said that Captain Forbis was in the first line behind Hoskins' fence. Their orders were to have their rifles in the cracks of the fence, and not to fire till they could see "the whites of the enemy's eyes," as they were scarce of ammunition.

A British officer, on horseback, rode along the line, when some one asked Captain Forbis if he couldn't bring him down. He replied "Yes" and fired on him with his rifle and the officer fell. In a short while the horse appeared again with another officer upon him.

He (Forbis) further said that the orders were to fire a certain number of times and then fall back. Col. Paisly and Captain Forbis had, before this, been on a tour of military duty together in Georgia, when it was said Paisly was made to wear a wooden sword for cowardice.

Caruthers obtained his information from Miss Ellison, daughter of Col. Paisly.

Mrs. Forbis confirms the story of "Bettie" driving off the Tory from the horse—"gathering a hoe, bade him leave, or she would put him where he wouldn't need that horse nor any other."

Captain Forbis was born in half a mile of where he lived. Alamance creek is in half a mile of his house. It heads about Alamance church.

William Paisly, who was wounded with Forbis, was the father of Rev. Samuel Paisly, who preached at Eno, where he is buried.

The first settlers were Forbis, Wileys and Stuarts. All buried at Alamance church. "Bettie's" grand-mother (Mebane) was the first person buried there.

POPULIST PRINCIPLES.

Resolutions of the State Executive Committee on Free Silver and the Income Tax.

The State Populist Executive committee met in Raleigh last week. Chairman Mewborne presiding, and Senator Marion Butler, Treasurer Worth, W. S. Barnes, S. Otto Wilson and W. A. Guthrie being present. It adopted resolutions setting forth that before any United States mint was opened North Carolina adopted the Spanish dollar as the unit of coin value; that the recent unpatriotic departure from the coinage laws of the founders of this Government has brought ruin to the great masses of the American people; that a bimetallic conference is called to meet at Memphis, June 12th, in the interest of the money of the Constitution and to checkmate the unpatriotic and dangerous gold crusade just started by President Cleveland and his Secretary of the Treasury; that free and unlimited coinage of silver and gold at a ratio of 16 to 1 was first declared for by the Populist party; that the financial question towers above all others and that delegates be therefore sent to Memphis to assist in advancing this principle of the Populist party and to impress upon the conference the necessity for uniting all free coinage elements of the old parties under the bimetallic banner of the Populist party; and that the delegates from North Carolina are instructed to request the conference to declare for the Populist party as the only political organization which has been and is now solidly united for the money of the Constitution and the American financial system.

Marion Butler will be chairman of the delegation, and among the other delegates will be all the Populist Congressmen, Treasurer Worth, Hal Ayer, editor of the Caucasian; W. S. Barnes and S. Otto Wilson.

The committee also adopted resolutions declaring that as the recent decision on the income tax, has paralyzed Congress on the subject of all just and equitable income tax, and whereas, an amendment to the Constitution is made necessary to give effect to the popular will, that Congress must remedy the defect, and requiring Senator Butler and the Populist Representatives to procure the passage by Congress at its next session of a constitutional amendment providing for an income tax.

SECRETARY HOKE SMITH.

He Believes the Silver Sentiment Is on the Wane in Georgia.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Secretary Hoke Smith, who returned upon the death of Secretary Gresham from a trip to Georgia, feels much encouraged by the evidences he discovered in that State of the gradual subsidence of the silver craze. Mr. Smith said to a representative of the Sun to-day: "There are men in Georgia now defending the policy of sound money who were talking silver sixty days ago. I find men who are working for salaries are beginning to wonder how the free coinage of silver would benefit them, and are discovering that to reduce the purchasing power of the dollar would be like reducing their salaries. Riding one day in the smoking car of one of the local accommodation trains into Atlanta, I found a party of railroad men discussing the question, and each of them had concluded that free silver would be a disadvantage."

"This is but an indication of the change that is taking place in the sentiment of the Southern people. My personal observation has been limited to Georgia, but from the reports received from other sections of the country I judge that the same thing is occurring elsewhere. I do not mean to say that there is not a strong silver sentiment in Georgia, but I do not think any one will deny that the cause of sound money has made great gains during the last two months."

Mr. Smith was asked whether the Memphis convention had produced any effect in the South. He replied: "Its effect has been good, undoubtedly, but many of the Southern people would have been better pleased if the convention had declared in favor of the repeal of the 10 per cent. tax upon State banks. The South wants more money for local use and believes it can best be secured through the State banks. I believe that the repeal of this tax would eliminate the silver question from politics in the Southern States."

A RAILROAD CENTER.

Greensboro is the railroad center of North Carolina. It is the natural distributive point for the entire State, and is peculiarly well situated for manufacturing establishments of various kinds, labor, cheap coal, and a delightful climate. It has the very best school advantages and all modern improvements of civil and manufacturing, especially those contemplated removal of their station Association.

Means danger. It is a serious condition and will lead to disastrous results if it is not overcome at once. It is a sure sign that the blood is impoverished and impure. The best remedy is

THE ANNUAL CELEBRATION AT THE BATTLE GROUND.

The approaching annual celebration at the Guilford Battle Ground promises to be the grandest and most interesting which has ever taken place on this consecrated, historic field. The dedication of the Winston statue presented to the company by that peerless patriot, ex-Gov. Thomas M. Holt, will be the most prominent event of the day. This splendid statue is a full life size representation of Major Joseph Winston, dressed in full continental uniform with his left hand extended and pointing to the enemy, while he holds a drawn sword in his right hand and is in the act of giving the command to charge the enemy. The eyes give great intensity to the determined countenance of this heroic figure. No one can look at it without involuntarily pausing a moment to hear the word of command from its lips. Many persons who come into the room where it is kept for several months, instinctively shrink from approaching nearer to it. An old lady, on being ushered into its presence, suddenly stepped quickly back exclaiming, "Lord, boss, that thing's got a spirit in it!" When you look at it and study its wonderful outlines, you will say the old lady wasn't far wrong. It is the only statue in the state outside of Raleigh, and our country ought to feel a patriotic pride in its possession. Every worthy citizen should remember with gratitude the noble and generous donor, who has given freely of his money to adorn the old battle field and place such a grand monument in our midst.

THE BALLOON ASCENSIONS.

will attract an immense crowd. There is no grander sight on earth than to see a splendid balloon, over fifty feet high and twenty feet in diameter, rise like a thing of life from the earth and soar away among the ethereal regions until it looks like a small globe floating away in the dim and starry distance. The eyes grow tired watching its gyrations as it twines itself to and fro, but the spectator becomes breathless when he sees a human being leap from the cover of the great monster, when 7,000 feet high, and swing down beneath it with only a parachute—an umbrella apparatus—to support her. The excitement becomes intensified as she, too, floats gracefully around in this lofty altitude, far above even the flight of the eagle. But now look again, the aeronaut is slowly descending; from appearing the size of a doll she begins to assume human proportions, the crowd hastens a mile off to welcome her to earth again. The brave little woman, however, reaches mother earth first and is up and on her feet to acknowledge the shouts of welcome. Come to the celebration and you will see all this free. Come and hear the classical oration by George T. Winston, LL.D., president of the University, on the "Life and Times of Major Joseph Winston," and the delightful poem on Col. Arthur Forbes, by Mrs. Harry C. Martin. Come and hear the music and the cannon and enjoy a glorious day.

OLNEY SECRETARY OF STATE.

Judson Harmon, an Eminent Ohio Lawyer, Becomes Attorney General.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—At 5 o'clock this afternoon the following appointments were announced from the White House:

Secretary of State, Richard Olney, of Massachusetts.

Attorney General, Judson Harmon, of Ohio.

Mr. Harmon is a man about 50 years of age, possibly a few years over that number, and a resident of Cincinnati. His name had not been used in the gossip about the succession to Mr. Olney, except possibly in private. For some years he was judge of the Court of Common Pleas of Hamilton county, and upon the removal of ex-Governor Ross to New York he became the head of the law firm with which the latter had been connected. He is said to be one of the foremost lawyers of the Central States.

Mr. Olney has served one term in the State Legislature of Massachusetts, and was an unsuccessful candidate for the attorney generalship of that State. Some years ago he was tendered a position upon the Supreme Bench of the State, but declined it. He also was prominently mentioned as a candidate for the chief justiceship of the United States Supreme Court to succeed Morrison R. Waite. In politics he is an old-time democrat, but was unable to support Butler for Governor. He did not take a prominent part in the last presidential campaign, but rendered effective service to Mr. Cleveland in an unobtrusive manner. Mr. Cleveland appointed him attorney general when he was making up his cabinet and now promotes him to the high office of Secretary of State.

Fairview Items.

Miss Daisy Clapp, who has been unwell, is now out again.

Prof. Whitsett has returned from Chapel Hill where he attended the University centennial.

Mr. Lacy Ingle, an old student at Fairview, now of the U. S. Army, is on a visit to his parents.

Rev. H. D. Lequeux administered the sacrament to a large congregation at Springwood on last Sabbath.

Masters L. and H. Foust of Arkansas are spending the summer in this vicinity, also Messrs. Hoyer and Tegahn of Indiana.

The wrought iron range agents have visited this community, and the wall of him that buyeth and repenteth is now heard in the land.

STATE NEWS.

—Rev. Thomas Dixon, Jr., of New York, passed through Greensboro yesterday and went on to Mt. Airy, where he lectured last night. He also delivered an address at the commencement of Elon College which is in progress this week.

—We make acknowledgments to Messrs. Geo. W. Sparger, R. A. Totten, J. B. Nutt and P. M. Hamer, of Mt. Airy, the committee in charge for an invitation to attend the picnic of the Knights of Pythias to be held at Lebanon Heights near Mt. Airy, June 21st.

—We learn that the stock company which purchased the Bain Building Company outfit some time ago at the receiver's sale, is making efforts to again start it in operation with capital and full equipment. It is proposed to enlarge the plant and make it one of the most extensive of the kind in the state.

—Manager Kittelle, of the Phoenix Hotel of Winston, having made an assignment there is to be a change of management of the hotel, and it is reported on good authority that efforts are being made to induce Dr. D. W. C. Benbow, for many years proprietor of the Benbow Hotel of this city, to take charge of the hotel.

—A delightful trip for every one to take before the summer is over is an excursion down the Cape Fear River on the steamer "Wilmington." The trip is a charming one on account of its picturesque and historical scenery. The tourists visiting Wilmington should not miss the opportunity to take this trip. J. W. Harper is captain of the Wilmington.

—The people composing the force of the Riverside Mill of Danville will picnic at the Guilford Battle Ground on June 15th. The Battle Ground is fast becoming a favorite picnicking spot. The Sunday school of the First Baptist church of Raleigh visited it last week and the Presbyterian Sunday school excursionists stopped there for an hour yesterday afternoon.

—Nell C. Hall, late postmaster at Clarkston, Bladen county, was arrested at Elizabethtown last week by Post-office Inspector Conard. He was short in his money order and postal accounts about $150 and failed to deposit it when called upon. He was taken before the United States Commissioner and held for appearance at the next term of the United States Court at Wilmington.

—Mrs. H. H. Cartland met with a painful accident one evening last week. She was driving in a buggy with her little daughter from Moore's mineral spring when something became wrong with the harness. She started to get out to fix it, when she slipped and fell and was so painfully hurt that she fainted. Assistance soon came and she was taken home and we are glad to know that she soon recovered from the shock.

—Yesterday evening at seven o'clock at Westminster Presbyterian church Mr. Augustus L. Rankin and Miss Sue Hall, sister of Rev. S. O. Hall, of this city, were united in marriage. Rev. Mr. Hall performed the ceremony and the following gentlemen acted as ushers: Messrs. Richard Brooks, Norman Willis, C. C. Shoffner and Robert Murray. Mr. and Mrs. Rankin left for Asheville and a tour of the Western part of the State.

—A negro boy named Richard Smith entered the store of Mr. A. Brockmann on East Market street last Monday evening while Mr. Brockmann was at supper and stole over $300 in small change out of the money drawer. He was caught a few hours later and had spent nearly all the money and had gotten on the train and started for Raleigh. He was put in jail to await trial and will probably get to Raleigh all right in due time.

—A report was circulated a few days ago that Shemwell, who is in jail at Charlotte, and who will be tried next month at Davidson court for the murder of Dr. Payne, had escaped. Investigation of the report proved that Shemwell had not escaped. It is, however, said that he is allowed great freedom in jail and receives and entertains callers in a parlor which has been fitted up for him and eats at a table especially prepared for him.

—Mr. J. B. Sneed, the popular clerk at the Benbow House, has accepted a position with the Park Hotel at Raleigh, where he will go in a few days to become chief clerk and head office man. Mr. Charles D. Benbow, formerly of Greensboro and lately of the Park Hotel at Raleigh, will become connected with the well known Yarrow House of Raleigh. Mr. Sneed is a clever and courteous gentleman and Greensboro regrets to part with him.

—The case of the Mt. Airy Granite Company against the C. F. & Y. V. railroad was heard here yesterday before Col. R. M. Douglass, master in chancery. It appears that the Granite Company was to pay for the grading of the road from Mt. Airy to the quarries and was then to have as consideration a credit of one half of their freight bills. When the road passed into the hands of the receiver this arrangement was discontinued and the Granite Company is now making a test of the case.

—Rufus W. Smith, of this county, has patented a new device for stringing primings of tobacco. It is simple, but promises to be a useful invention and much in demand. It is a piece of ordinary wire, bent around twice so as to make a spring coil; the two ends are then brought together in a shape which makes a kind of a clasp. As the pipe leaves are pulled off with one hand, the other hand holding the coil of wire, they are placed in this clasp and a stick and placed away, already to hang up.

—A New Brick Building. Mr. J. W. Jones, who now occupies the store in the Barker building, will on July first begin the erection of a new brick store on South Elm street, on the portion of the Small property which adjoins Newell and Matthews' harness store. It will be a substantial brick building 100 by 30 feet in dimensions and two stories high. Mr. Jones will probably occupy the store himself after the first of the year and will rent portions of the building. It will be a desirable and important addition to Greensboro.

—Miss Dora Jones of Greensboro, who has been teaching in Washington, will sail from New York on the steamship Car of the North Atlantic Lloyd Line, with nine young ladies, among whom is Miss Carr, of Durham. These girls will study music at the languages under the immediate supervision of Miss Jones in Paris, Berlin and European cities.

—The State Grand Lodge K. of P. of Pythias holds its annual session in Mt. Airy June 19th-21st. The Grand Lodge numbers about 90 members, and the sessions of the body will be held in Galloway's opera house. On the 21st the annual picnic will be held on Lebanon Heights, which is a beautiful eminence just beyond the Northern limits of the town. There will be on that day probably the grandest gathering of Knights in the history of the State. It is expected that at least 5,000 will be there.

The trial of Shemwell for the murder of Dr. Payne will come on at the July term of Davidson court at Lexington.

The tobacco factory of W. R. Doss & Co., at Copeland, N. C., was destroyed by fire. Loss about $30,000; insurance $18,000.

Hon. Walter R. Henry, of Henderson, will deliver the opening address at the Teachers' Assembly, at Morehead City.

Mr. L. Banks Holt, of Graham, will build a mill of 8000 spindles and 100 looms, and plans for same are now being prepared.

Prof. N. C. English, formerly superintendent of the Greensboro public schools, has been appointed county examiner for Randolph.

At the last meeting of the State Medical Society Dr. C. A. Julian, of Thomasville, was appointed a delegate to the Southern Surgical Convention. Anderson Brown and Whit Ferran will be executed in Salisbury July 25. This will be the first double hanging ever staining the record of Rowan county.

The Empire mine, formerly known as the Herring mine in Randolph county, has been reincorporated by Northern capitalists with six hundred thousand dollars capital.

High Point now has one of the finest baseball parks in the state. A crack team was organized this week and the boys are now ready to meet any club in the state. It will be remembered that High Point did not lose a game last season.

Lexington had a disastrous fire one night last week. Hedrick Brothers' flouring mills were destroyed and some other small buildings near the mill were burned. The property is valued at about $4,000; insurance $2,000. The fire is supposed to have been of incendiary origin.

Teachers for the Greensboro Graded Schools.

The city Board of Education met Friday afternoon in the room of the directors of the National Bank to elect teachers for the graded schools for the coming year.

Prof. G. A. Grimsley was re-elected Superintendent of the schools without opposition.

For Lindsay street school, No. 1, the following teachers were elected: Prof. S. C. Smith, Principal, R. W. Weaver, Misses Nannie Caldwell, Elsie Fulghum, Lizzie Lindsay, Annie White, Maggie Gannon, Minnie Hampton and Applewhite.

For Asheboro street school, No. 2, the following teachers were elected: Prof. Lee T. Blair, Principal, Misses Lizzie Melver, Carrie Mullins, Vivian Shober Hattie Eldridge, Marietta Stockard and Annie Meade Michaux.

Misses Gannon, Shober, Eldridge and Stockard are newly elected teachers. The following teachers were elected for the colored schools: No. 1, J. S. Williams, Principal, Mrs. Garrett and Mary Cotton; No. 2, Prof. C. H. Moore, Principal, Mrs. Nelson and Mrs. Day. There was quite a large number of applicants, though not so many as last year when there were at least a hundred.

Brass Manufacturing Plant for Greensboro.

For some time negotiations have been on foot for the establishment here by parties in Michigan of a brass manufacturing plant, and the Parsons learns on good authority that it is now practically a settled fact that such an industry will be inaugurated here in the near future. The plant will be on the line of the C. F. & Y. V. railroad near the city. The Michigan parties have been induced to look toward Greensboro as a desirable point to establish the plant for several reasons. Among other advantages coal can be had here very cheaply from the mine of the Egypt Coal Company, and the difference in climate between this point and the North makes a large difference in the amount of fuel consumed. Greensboro is also regarded as a fine distributing point for such an industry. It is understood that while some skilled labor will be brought from Michigan that most of the labor will be employed here. It will be the only brass manufacturing plant in this part of the country and Greensboro will be fortunate in securing it.

The Broekmann Concert.

The Broekmann Concert Company gave their first concert in the city at the court house on Friday night, preparatory to starting on their summer tour through the State. There was a large and cultured audience present and the programme rendered was of a high order and fully demonstrated the superior class of work of the Broekmann School of Music. The solos and ensemble work were alike very artistic and highly delighted the audience. The audience was particularly enthusiastic over the vocal renditions of Miss Leinbach, of Salem, who will accompany the organization on the tour and who will become a member of the faculty of the school next session.

Put Your Rock Crusher to Work, Mr. Mayor.

There are many places in the side walks of our beautiful city which need repairing and which would require but little labor and expense to repair them. After rains many muddy puddles appear to the annoyance and discomfort of the people. The city owns a rock crusher, and Providence has abundantly blessed us with an abundance of stone fit and made for only such uses. Put your crusher to work, Mr. Mayor, and make all our ways of pleasantness as well as of peace.

Up to DATE.
