A SONG OF THE WORLD.

This world of ours is not as drear As we would often take it, Nor is it half as lonely here As many people make it.
If skies are sometimes overcast
And all seems dark before us, The sunshine always comes at last And throws its splendor o'er us!

A little while and we are gay,
And then our hearts are saddened;
And so it is, from day to day,
Our lives are grieved and saddened.
We seek the joys that fortune brings, Though hardly worth the giving,
But oft forget the little things That sweeten life and living.

There is beauty that adorns This changing life of ours, For if our path way has its thorns
It also has its flowers;
And Hope is ever whispering nigh, If we would only hear it;
The cross would never make us sigh If we would meekly bear it.

Reminiscences of Greensboro from 1830 to 1850.

PART IV.

The courts were six in number each year, two higher courts presided over by judges as at present and four inferior courts presided over by three magistrates selected for this purpose by their own body.

The following persons are recollected as having served in this capacity: John M. Morehead, Dr.
John A. Mebane, Eli Smith, Peter Adams, Anselm Reed, Joseph Gibson, I. J. M. Lindsay and Jed. H.
Lindsay. It may be stated that Mr. Morehead did not consider it as any step downward to make himself useful in this way after he had held the office of Governor.

This lower court was then the tribunal that granted license to retail spiruous liquors. Then as now the applicant for such license was required to furnish proof that he possessed a good moral character.

On one occasion when an applicant for license appeared before the court (Joseph Gibson being one of them) and offered to present such testimony, Squire Gibson indignantly exclaimed, "Good moral character! If Father Paisley should ask for license to sell liquor, I would say his good moral character is gone."

By common consent the Tuesdays of each of these six courts were regarded as holidays, and persons from all parts of the county met to shake hands, exchange greetings or transact business, as those who had business to transact expected to find those whom they wished to meet.

A considerable portion of the lot between the Mendenhall building and the jail, now occupied as a hitching lot, was then an open space. On these Tuesdays this space, together with the street between it and the jail, was thronged with wagons containing cakes and beer or cider and the crowd of rustics which these attractions drew together. Both sexes mingled together in a kind of hilarity, but this soon came to be regarded as disreputable and the sentiment of the better and more intelligent class prevailed and these assemblages were discontinued.

During the whole or some portion of this period the Guilford bar contained as its members such men as Jno. M. Dick, Jno. A. Gilmer, Ralph Gorrell, Jno. M. Morehead, James T. Morehead, George Mendenhall, Cyrus Mendenhall, Robt. P. Dick and Jas. R. McLean, the last two named taking their place in this fraternity near the close of the period. We remember as visiting members Wm. A. Graham, Hugh Waddell, Jno. Kerr and Jno. F. Poindexter.

Many of those who have been named would be acknowledged as men of character and ability in any age or community. The first named was afterwards Judge Dick and was the father of Hon. R. P. Dick.
John A. Gilmer was the father of the late Hon. John A. Gilmer. I have heard it said of the father that he had a better knowledge of mankind and a greater influence over a jury than any of his contemporaries. Wm. A. Graham was a superior jurist and an honor to his state as a statesman. As a speaker his style was logical, chaste and pure. I never heard him utter a sentence which could not be repeated to ladies. John M. Morehead was elected Governor of North Carolina in 1840, memorable as the year of the Harrison campaign.

The political parties were then Whig and Democratic, the former party having as its leaders Clay and Webster, while Calhoun was an acknowledged leader in the Democratic party, though his extreme views on nullification were not generally endorsed except in South Carolina, his native state.
Though these three men were then and are now acknowledged as the leading statesmen of that day neither of them became President of the United States. The presidential campaign of 1840 has ever been styled the Log Cabin campaign. When Harrison was nominated by the Whig party as their candidate for the presidency, the Democrats ridiculed the nomination, saying that he was a man who was satisfied to live in a log cabin with a barrel of hard cider as a part of its furniture. To advantage among the masses by erecting miniature log cabins and carrying them on wagons drawn by six horses from point to point where vast assemblages met and were addressed by distinguished orators of the day. I well remember when log cabins, accompanied by enthusiastic crowds from Greensboro and other portions of the state, were taken to Salisbury as a grand rallying point, and addresses were made which stirred up enthusiasm to its highest pitch. The result was that of the 294 electoral votes then given Harrison received 234, and Van Buren received 60.

During the existence of these parties Guilford was styled the banner Whig county of the state. I have not been able to procure the official vote of the county for that year.

My recollection is that she gave Morehead 2250 votes, this being more than any one had received previous to this time. The state election was then held in August and the presidential election, as now, in November. The governors were then elected every two years.

Access being given, by the kindness of Mrs. Swaim, to a file of the GREENSBORO PATRIOT from 1843 to 1848 inclusive, the following official returns were gleaned: For Morehead in 1842, Guilford gave 1,615 votes, for Henry 418; in 1844, for Graham 1,920 votes, for Hoke 463; in 1846, for Graham 1,867, Shepherd 369. In 1836 the electoral vote for Van Buren was 170, for Harrison 73. In 1844 the electoral vote for Polk was 170, for Clay 105. In this state among the most effective speakers of that day in the Whig party were Morehead, Graham, Badger, Clingman and Kerr, and in the Democratic party Saunders, Shepherd, Henry and Hoke. In 1848 David S. Reid, the Democratic nominee for Governor, greatly reduced the Whig majority by his advocacy of universal suffrage, and was elected on this issue in 1850. By universal suffrage was then meant giving to every white man who had reached the age of 21 years an unequal right to vote.

Among the merchants doing business during the whole or a portion of this period were Henry Humphreys, Moberwell & Sloan, succeeded by the Sloan Brothers, James Robert M. and John; McAdoo & Scott; Rankin & McLean; Jesse H. and Robert G. Lindsay, afterwards the latter alone; Caldwell Brothers, D. F. J. Addison and Newton; Jas.
McIver, and W. J. McConnell.

The firm preceding Rankin & David McLean was Rankin & Joseph A. McLean, and still farther back Donnell & McLean.

The prominent physicians in the county were David Caldwell, Donnell, Foulkes, Scott, D. C. Mebane, I. J. M. Lindsay and D. P. Weir.
Two sons of Dr. David Caldwell chose their father's profession. In the first decade the older, Dr. Alfred Caldwell, after a brief period of practice in connection with his father, removed to another portion of the state and died in a short time thereafter. The other, Dr.
Andrew Caldwell, was a popular and successful practitioner from about the middle of the second decade till after the civil war, when he removed to Florida, where he died not long since. Drs. Loton G.
Watson & Son were also practitioners during the latter part of this period.

In 1830 Wm. Swaim was editor of the PATRIOT. Soon thereafter Lyndon Swaim became assistant and then sole editor. At the same time he and Michael Sherwood became sole proprietors of the paper, the latter remaining proprietor for a brief period after the former withdrew. Mr. Swaim, whose editorial career was of much longer duration than that of any other one who has occupied the editorial chair in connection with this periodical, was in every sense of the word a gentleman. The PATRIOT under his management maintained throughout a dignity seldom reached by any local political paper.

He never stooped to vituperation or to abuse a political opponent.
Being a decided Whig he was such after a careful and candid examination of the principles of government which this party had espoused, and was consequently free from that intolerant spirit which, whenever and wherever it is found, is an evidence of a narrow mind influenced by prejudice rather than by convictions formed by one who thinks for himself. It is remarkable how few expressions found their way into this periodical during his editorial career which he or his friends would have obliterated.

Southern Railroads.

BALTIMORE, Dec. 17.—The Manufacturers' Record publishes reports showing the aggregate amount of railroad building in the South during the last twelve months, the total for the time being 590 miles, against 692 miles in 1895. While this shows a decrease of 100 miles, it is believed that the proportionate decrease throughout the country has been very much larger, and that the South has this year built a larger percentage of the total mileage of the country than ever before. The details show the mileage by states as follows: Maryland, 17; West Virginia, 19; North Carolina, 27; South Carolina, 9; Georgia, 67; Florida, 80; Alabama, 25; Mississippi, 66; Louisiana, 87; Texas, 77; Arkansas, 91; Tennessee, 4; Kentucky, 17.

Love Could not Conquer.

"Love conquers all things," say the poets, but we know better. There are some things which love cannot conquer. Among them are business, constancy and duty. But if love cannot conquer them, what can? The answer is, duty. You cannot buy real love at a drug store, but no love drug will be found without Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. Love cannot do better than to recommend them.

A RAILROAD CENTER.

Greensboro is the railroad center of North Carolina. It is the natural distributive point for the State, and is peculiarly well situated for manufacturing establishments of various kinds.
It has a great abundance of raw materials close at hand at the lowest possible price. It has cheap labor, cheap coal, and a delightful climate. It has the very best school advantages and all the improvements usually found in cities of double its size. These advantages deserve the careful consideration of capitalists and manufacturers, especially those contemplating a removal of their plants. For special or more complete information write to the Greensboro Industrial and Inventation Association.

WEDNESDAY, DEC. 23, 1896.

CHRISTMAS IN THE HOUSE.

Now weather the walls with constant

And hark! a song is heard?

What matters it, the waning days,

When north winds often are merry?

Hang in the air the notes of the choir,

And hark! a song is heard?

Pack those clouds up round the roof,

There's Christmas in the house.

Now are the long nights full of dreams,

The brief days full of laughter,

For little ones, and for the best—

They know what follows after.

They wake and watch for Santa Claus

As still as any mouse—

Dear rogues!—with heart-beats all in tune

To Christmas in the house.

What though snow lies and frost nips hard,

And ice locks lake and stream;

A richer summer really shines

Within the heart's fire's gleam.

With open hand and open heart,

We pledge our friendly voice,

And hark! a song is heard?

There's Christmas in the house.

—HARPER'S BAZAR.

The Real Original Santa Claus.

Santa Claus is, for the time being, the chief of saints, for as certain German and Scandinavian customs have acquired root in this country, Santa Claus has become quite familiar with all good people. But they are so engrossed with the little ones, whom the saint blesses, that they allow the holy man to linger outside as a convenient myth. This very useful personage is no other than St. Nicholas, who was Archbishop of Myra in 342, and the name by which he has come to be known in this country is the German form of his name, which came with the German custom of the Christmas tree and all the rest of it. That we should take up the customs of the Fatherland is but proper, seeing that we are to a large extent a people owing, via England,

Teutonic origin through Schleswig and Holstein and the Northern Netherlands and the broken coast line beyond, where the prevailing tone of the people is thoroughly English.

St. Nicholas is a great saint with all the Teutonic and Scandinavian peoples. It was his prerogative to manifest his piety when, on his

STATE BOARD OF CHARITIES.

Interesting Meeting of the Board—

Full and Detailed Report by Secretary Denson.

RALEIGH, N. C., Dec. 18.—The state board of public charities met this evening. The principal business was the presentation of the annuual report of Secretary Denson.

This exhibits details of improvements and additions to state institutions during the year. It shows a doubling of the capacity of the insane asylums since 1889. There were ninety-six cures at Raleigh and 60 per cent. of cures upon the number admitted; eighty-five recoveries at Morganton, and 57 per cent. of cures upon the number admitted; at Goldsboro there were eighty-two cures and the percentage of recovery was about 35 per cent. upon the number admitted.

The death rate was under 3 per cent. at Morganton, 9 per cent. at Raleigh. Of county homes for the poor fifty-seven were reported as good, eight bad and the remainder as indifferent. Eight counties are without homes. Of jails fifty-six are good, thirteen bad, and the remainder indifferent. The new school for deaf and dumb at Morganton accommodates 185; the institutions at Raleigh, both department, 275; Oxford orphan asylum, 210; colored orphan asylum, 127, of which thirty are in Raleigh, 150 and other at convict camps. The report includes full discussions of important social questions, such as proposed state reform school, care of insane not inmates of asylums, increase of crime in the state and some reasons therefor, and recommends legislation in various details. It also includes a statement from treasurers of all the southern states, giving amounts appropriated for confederate veteran pensions and soldiers' homes, which shows that North Carolina maintains a home at 50 per cent. less cost than any other.

Many letters and reports have been collected and filed for use of the legislative committees interested in these subjects and the entire report is the most comprehensive summary of these matters issued in North Carolina.

THE STATE TREASURY.

Interesting Financial Exhibit.

The Treasurer Complimented.

RALEIGH, N. C., December 18.—The legislative joint committee this morning completed its biennial exhibition of the state treasury. It reports as follows: Balance on hand, general fund, December 1st, 1895, $303,239.

Disbursements, $1,343,013; balance, December 1st, 1896, $90,410. Total receipts during the year ending November 30th, 1896, $1,333,493; total disbursements, $1,243,140; balance on December 1st, 1896, $88,353. The aggregate receipts for the two fiscal years were $2,576,732; aggregate disbursements, $2,588,153; excess of disbursements, $11,421. The value of taxable property has within the two years decreased $3,500,000, and the committee says the rate of taxation must be increased or expenses decreased.

The report above is as to the general fund. That as to the educational fund, says it was, December 1st, 1895, $8,087, and the receipts during the following year were $49,747; the disbursements, $14,695; balance, December 1st, 1896, $35,157. Total receipts during the year ending November 30th, 1896, $36,707; disbursements,

Sunday with his family, returning to Julian on Monday.

Prof. C. D. Cobb, of McLeans-ville, was down last week shaking hands with his friends.

Mr. Cornelius Clapp, of McLeans-ville, was down on a visit last week.

He was once a student here.

Mr. W. M. Barker, of Mayville, was here last week to enter his son in school for the spring term.

The outlook for a large crowd of students here next term is very bright. Applications are coming in almost daily.

Mrs. A. T. Whitsett, of Greensboro, spent a day visiting friends the first of the week. We are always glad to see her.

Orchards in this vicinity would certainly be a good investment, judging from the quantities of apples being shipped here.

A large audience assembled for the entertainment by the Dialectic society on Saturday evening. The exercise was of a high order of excellence.

Prof. Whitsett was away Friday in eastern Alamance, where he delivered a literary address before the Oseola Library Association, near Friendship.

Fairview Institute has just received from the Secretary of the State Fair at Raleigh two elegant diplomas, one for "best general exhibit of school work," and one for "best commercial school display," at the recent State fair. Diplomas for best display of plain and ornamental penmanship were won by two students here, R. Pittman and

W. C. Rankin.

A merry X-mas and a happy

New Year to all.

Mrs. S. F. Coe and her three eldest children, Messrs. J. C. and C.

P. and Miss Vesta, have gone to Liberty to attend the marriage of Mr. Coe's sister, Miss Sarah J.

Staley.

Mr. A. M. Fantriss held the closing exercises of his Cedar Hill singing school last Sunday at Moriah church. A large crowd was in attendance and all seemed to enjoy the day. Two services were given during the day, the afternoon service being interspersed by an appropriate talk by Rev. Joseph Thomas. The time prize which was offered to those who had never attended a singing before was won by Miss Hallie Anthony.

Mr. E. P. Parker has sold his interest in the Brown Mercantile Company and moved to Baltimore, the former home of his wife, where he will reside in the future.

The Pope Manufacturing Co., Boston, is sending out its famous Columbia pad calendars for 1897. They have come to be looked upon as a necessity by most business men.

Mr. Daniel M. Albright, of Mt. Airy, was one of our callers Saturday. In years long gone by Mr. Albright was a compositor on the Patriot. We were glad to form his acquaintance.

Mr. W. B. Burroughs, of Dabney, Vance county, has located in Greensboro and the first of the year will open a grocery store on South Davis street, in the room now occupied by J. S. Hayden.

We extend holiday greetings to all the subscribers, readers and friends of the Patriot, sincerely trusting that they may enjoy the blessings of a Merry Christmas and a happy and prosperous New Year.

About three hundred excursionists from down the C. F. & Y. V. were here Saturday. They were mostly on a "shopping" mission, judging by the bundles they carried. It was a great day for the merchants.

One of the most suitable and useful presents for a Christmas present is a Waterman or Wirt fountain pen. These pens are guaranteed and will give satisfaction from ten to fifteen years. At Wharton Bros.

Tuerk's Water Pistol, a handsome and ingenious toy in the shape of a completely formed pistol, capable of throwing a fine stream of water a distance of twenty or thirty feet, is now on sale at Wharton Brothers. Price ten cents.

We sincerely regret our absence from the office Saturday at the hour Judge W. P. Shaw, of Winton, Hertford county, called. The Judge was here attending a meeting of the board of directors of the State Normal and Industrial School, of which body he is a worthy member.

The Danbury Reporter says: "Almost the only good sign we see in these diggings is that the people have concluded that pigs pay better than turkeys. There are more good hogs in this section than we have seen here for years, and not near so many dogs. Let the good work go on."

Mr. J. S. Hayden, the grocer, will on January 1st move his stock to the store building at the old Steele corner, East Market and Davis streets, at present occupied by Workman & Christman. He makes an announcement to his friends and patrons through our advertising columns.

The Asheville Courier of last week says: "Mr. J. T. Brittain has resigned as United States Commissioner for this county, in order that he may devote all his time to his profession. For ten years Randolph has had the best commissioner in the district and it is to be hoped that his successor will also be a good officer."

Will Lloyd, white, and two colored men named Cecil and Allen, got into a drunken row at some of the downtown bars Monday night and Lloyd received severe injuries from a knife in the hands of one of the parties, who are being held for trial until the other can appear. Twenty stitches were required to close Lloyd's wounds.

Mr. W. F. Bogart was in Washington City the latter part of the week, where he arranged with Rev. T. De Witt Talmage for an extended lecture tour through the Southern States, beginning about the first of February. Greensboro will be included in the itinerary. Full particulars will be given in the Patriot later on.

The sheriffs of the state have been instructed to prosecute in magistrates' courts in cases of nonpayment of special license tax, Schedule B. The prevailing opinion was that the grand jury would take cognizance of these cases, but they were decided to be within the jurisdiction of magistrates. The fines and penalties go to the school fund.

Dr. D. W. C. Benbow, of this city, has leased the Everett, the principal hotel of Jacksonville, Fla., and will take charge January 1st. The doctor has had much experience in hotel keeping and there was never a more popular host. We regret seeing his excellent family leave the city, but wish him unbounded success in his enterprise.

The friends of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Wilson will be pleased to learn that the latter has successfully undergone an operation at Baltimore that bids fair to restore her health. She has suffered for some time with a tumor and with her physician, Dr. Roberson, went north to have it removed. If no complications arise she may be able to return in a fortnight.

Two Chathamites fell by the wayside Saturday and missed the excursion train on its return south. One of them wore knee pants and appeared to be a mere lad, but to Mayor Nelson he admitted being 23 years old. He had the capacity for carrying a full sized jug and could swear like a pirate. He gave his name as "Jimmy Hancock." His friend paid his fine.

There will be a song service at the new Shady Grove church next Sunday, Dec. 27, to which all who enjoy good singing are invited. The service begins at 11 o'clock A. M. Three classes, in addition to the Shady Grove class, will be present and participate. The songs will be from "Spirit and Life," No. 3. If the weather is favorable a large attendance is expected.

The thoroughbred pigs sold by Mr. John A. Young are turning out well. Mr. Ragdale, of Jamestown, recently killed two, a year old, that weighed 894 pounds. Mr. Jule Frederick killed one of the same age that weighed 581 pounds. In the fall of 1895 Mr. Ragdale killed two of the same breed and age that weighed 798 lbs. And good stock requires no more feed than razor-backs.

Our theatre-going people are indebted to the Sisson Comedy Company for a series of high grade entertainments at the Academy of Music all last week. The company is composed of talented people throughout. Mr. Sisson and Miss Wallace, the leading characters, ranking unusually high in their profession. Large audiences greeted the company every night and everyone went away well pleased.

Dr. W. J. Richardson returned Friday from Philadelphia and New York, where he went to familiarize himself with certain lines of work in connection with his profession which he intends to take up soon. Mr. J. M. Walker, who accompanied the doctor to Philadelphia for the purpose of consulting a specialist, returned several days ago. His health is improving gradually and we hope permanently.

Dr. J. M. Spainhour, of Lenoir, gladdened the Patriot office with his presence last week while here attending a meeting of the State Normal School directors. A more zealous friend to the Normal School, magnificent institution that it is, cannot be found within the borders of our state. From its inception he has taken an active interest in its development, and as secretary to the board, of which he was until recently a member, his useful and comprehensive abilities are in no wise impaired.

One of our good friends who lives in the country is telling a good joke at his own expense. The gentleman, who is possessed of ample girth, called on a remote neighbor recently and during his stay noticed that the young son of the neighbor kept his gaze riveted on him until the time of his departure. The boy's mother afterward took him to task for such unbecoming conduct and he explained matters by replying, "Well, ma, he was the fattest man I ever saw. I was afraid he would bust, and I felt sure if I took my eyes off him he would bust." However, no such calamity has happened up to this writing.

At the meeting of the Board of Directors of the State Normal and Industrial School, held in this city last week, the biennial report of the institution was prepared and submitted to the Governor, who will in turn transmit it to the legislature at the coming session. It will not be made public before that time. Those attending the meeting were: Hon. John C. Scarborough, president; Dr. J. M. Spainhour, secretary; Hon. S. M. Finger, Hon. J. E. Fowler, Prof. M. C. S. Noble, Judge W. P. Shaw, Hon. John Graham, Col. A. C. McAllister and Hon. R. D. Gilmer. Only two members were absent, Dr. Wilcox and Mr. Hugh Chatham.

The People's Cents Savings Bank has an advertisement in the Patriot. This institution has been in successful operation in Greensboro for over nine years and bears the unequalled reputation of never having lost a dollar. The president of the bank is Mr. J. A. Scott, the vice president is Mr. J. A. Odell, and the treasurer Mr. Jas. A. Hodgkin. These well known gentlemen, together with an efficient board of trustees, composed of others of the best business men of the city, control the bank's affairs. The last quarterly report submitted to the State Treasurer shows nearly 1100 depositors. There has never been a time when depositors were not paid on demand. Money deposited on or before the first day of January, 1897, begins drawing interest from that date and will be entitled April 1st to three months' interest, which will be added to depositor's credit at that time. Deposits are subject to order at any time. Call on Mr. Hodgkin for details of this admirable system of money saving.

Superior Court Report.

The criminal docket of Superior court was cleared Saturday and court adjourned after a session lasting only one week. By agreement heretofore made among the attorneys the civil docket was not taken up, as it is so extensive that a special term will have to be called before it can be handled to advantage. About 175 cases are now on the docket ready for trial.

In addition to those cases reported last week, the following were disposed of, either by pleas of guilty or conviction by jury trial:

Wesley Thompson, larceny; five years on public roads.

Dennis Revels, larceny; four months on roads.

Charles Wilson and Malinda Howell, fornication and adultery; six months on roads as to Wilson; judgment suspended as to Howell.

Gus Culverson, carrying concealed weapons; two months on roads.

Jule Davis, larceny; eighteen months on roads.

William Weatherly, larceny; four months on roads.

Will Harvey and Jesse Walker, larceny; one year each on roads.

Ed. McCombs, larceny; one year on roads.

Addison Banner, larceny; one year on roads.

Harry Hill, malicious destruction of property; two months on roads.

Jas. McGibbons, carrying concealed weapons; thirty days on roads.

Arthur Allison, carrying concealed weapons; two months on roads.

Matt. Holt, firing calaboose; two years on public roads.

Landy Holt, assault and battery; two months on roads.

J. H. Williams, larceny; one year on roads.

Geo. Freeland, larceny; five years on roads.

Preston Williams, larceny; one year on roads.

Sam Coletrane, larceny; five years on roads.

Alex. Hooper, larceny; one year on roads.

Will Rhodes, carrying concealed weapons; two months on roads.

Jim Ferrell, carrying concealed weapons; one month on roads.

Luke Richardson, assault and battery; two months on roads.

Peter Williamson, under indictment for rape, plead guilty of attempt and was sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary.

Rufe Gibson, under indictment for a similar offense, secured a postponement of hearing until next term.

A mistrial resulted in the case against J. P. Turner, under indictment for larceny. The jury failed to agree, one juror holding out for conviction.

The verdict in case against L. A. Carmon was set aside by Judge Motter and a new trial ordered.

A number of minor cases were suspended on payment of costs.

One case, that of Lucinda McNeely, for maintaining a nuisance, was appealed to the Supreme court.

Two applications for divorce were granted, viz: Henry Donnell vs. Susie Donnell and Charles Ashe vs. Ella Ashe, all colored.

The grand jury was discharged Saturday morning, after submitting a favorable report on the county home, jail and county offices. About one hundred true bills were returned by that body.

Another of our charming Greensboro girls has been given in marriage. Centenary church was the scene of the happy event. At six and a half o'clock last Thursday evening Miss Ada G. Reynolds was led to the altar, where Revs. Jas. E. Gay and Livingston Johnson, after a short, but impressive ceremony, made her the wife of Mr. G. Cameron Smith. Miss Maude Marley was maid of honor and Mr. Z. V. Taylor best man. There were five charming bridesmaids. The wedding procession was unique and the effect beautiful. The bride looked bewitching in her tasteful traveling suit. Both bride and Mr. Smith are residents of this place and received congratulations from a host of friends. They took the southern bound train for an extended southern tour.

The grocery store of Johnson & Carr, 218 West Market street, was damaged by fire to the extent of about $150 dollars yesterday morning about 2 o'clock. A long stovepipe in the store became detached somehow and fell against the counter and shelving, starting a blaze that had gained considerable headway before Mr. Johnson, who lives in the rear of the building, was awakened. The department responded promptly when the alarm was sounded, and the flames were checked in short order. The main damage to the stock, which was fully insured, was caused by water. Mr. Johnson's household goods were badly damaged from the same cause, though not insured.

An Eminent North Carolina Scholar and Author.

EDITOR PATRIOT:—That dearth of state pride that keeps us willfully ignorant of North Carolina's illustrious names and deeds is confessedly a state sin. It is also a state sin. It violates the divine command, honor to whom honor is due. It is also the worst kind of state policy. To develop personal worth and achievement the state must honor personal worth and achievement. To quicken their appreciation she should recognize them when they do appear. Appreciation means stimulation. Sister commonwealths have a keen relish for North Carolina men of talent. Every year our blessings brighten as they take their flight to other states. It will not dry our eyes, but it may save us future tears to remember that oftentimes recognition means retention.

How many North Carolinians outside of college walls are aware that at Chapel Hill we have a man whose growing reputation as a scholar and author, among scientific circles at home and abroad, is shedding increasing lustre upon the University of our state? Our professor of chemistry there, Dr. F. P. Venable, is still a young man. The best work of his life, we trust, is yet before him, not to dim but to add to his past achievements. But the part is a noble record of hard and faithful labor in his chosen science.

In 1883 Prof. Venable published his first book, a "Manual of Qualitative Analysis," of which two editions have been issued and exhausted.

In 1894 he published his "History of Chemistry." From the nature of the subject books on chemistry appeal to an extremely small fraction of the general public, yet the first edition of this book only two years old is already exhausted, and the second has been on sale since June.

In the fall of 1896 appeared his "Development of Periodic Law." This is his greatest work, not only in the number of pages, but in the study and range of research which its profound and difficult subject required. Though published only a few months ago it has already been recognized on both sides of the Atlantic as a valuable addition to chemical literature.

Many striking indications could be mentioned of the high rank Prof. Venable holds among authors on chemistry. We shall mention but one. About a year ago an address was delivered before the students of the Columbian University, Washington, D. C., by the celebrated Dr. Henry Carrington Bolton, author of "A Select Bibliography of Chemistry, 1492-1892," the standard work of the world in that line. The subject of Dr. Bolton's lecture was "Chemical Books and How to Use them." In concluding his address the eminent lecturer stated that out of the 25,000 books that had been published on chemistry he would recommend five as indispensable to every student interested in science. Of these five one was by Johnson, one by Prof. J. P. Cook, two by the great Liebig, and one by Prof. F. P. Venable, of the University of North Carolina. In placing Dr. Venable's "History of Chemistry" among the five Dr. Bolton took occasion to pronounce it "without an equal."

Now, Mr. Editor, such facts as the above ought to be known from Person to Brunswick, from Currituck to Cherokee, for the honor of our state, for the glory of our University, and for the inspiration of every student within our borders.

The Best Remedy for Rheumatism.

From the Fairhaven (N. Y.) Register.

Mr. James Rowland, of this village, states that for twenty-five years his wife has been a sufferer from rheumatism. A few nights ago she was in such pain that she was nearly crazy. She sent Mr. Rowland for the doctor, but he had read of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and instead of going for the physician he went to the store and secured a bottle of it. His wife did not approve of Mr. Rowland's purchase at first, but nevertheless applied the Balm thoroughly and in an hour's time was able to go to sleep. She now applies it whenever she feels an ache or a pain and finds that it always gives relief. He says that no medicine which he had used ever did her as much good. The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by Richardson & Fariss, Druggists.

The Soldier's Home.

RALEIGH, N. C., Dec. 17.—Annual report of the soldiers' home was made today to the state board of public charities. It shows that during the year thirty-two new inmates were received and eleven died. There are now seventy present and thirty on furlough.

"It is the Best on Earth."

That is what Edwards & Parker, merchants of Plains, Ga., say of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, for rheumatism, lame back, deep seated and muscular pains. Sold by Richardson & Fariss, Druggists.

An Alabama Train Robbed.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Dec. 17.—Two bold highwaymen held up a west-bound Southern Railway passenger train near Bryan station, twenty-five miles west of here, tonight and succeeded in escaping with a large amount of money. Details are meagre. Deputies with dogs have gone to the scene.

According to the newspapers, an Ohio husband became the happy father of seven children not long ago. Of the seven all lived but one. It is to be hoped he laid in a supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, the only sure cure for croup, whooping-cough, colds and coughs, and so insured his children against these diseases. For sale by Richardson & Fariss, Druggists.
