GRAINS OF COMFORT.

If fortune doesn't smile on you,
And trouble seems to pile on you,
For all it's worth:
Don't think that you're the only wight For whom events don't come just right Upon this earth—
There are others!

If luck has naught to bring to you,
And fate does not a thing to you,
And you are blue,
Just ponder o'er some other wreck Who stopped a cyclone with his neck—Worse off than you—
There are others!

If some one doesn't come to you To pay a certain sum to you, Don't file a kick:
For you are not the only guy Who gets the down-to-zero eye That marks the kick—
There are others!

If a maiden fair goes back on you,
And woe makes an attack on you Till you're broke up, Remember, many a trusting lout Has puffed the pipe till it went out,
And then woke up—
There are others!

If she becomes a "sis" to you,
And blows a farewell kiss to you,
And you're ground;
Consume yourself by thinking that Your voice still penetrates your hat,
And look around you—
There are others!

—BALTIMORE NEWS.

A REMARKABLE PREDICTION.

A Prominent Free Trade Gold Standard Democrat Goes on Record.

The following letter written by Thomas G. Shearman to the New York Times, is extremely interesting. Mr. Shearman is strongly opposed to free coinage and to most of the features of the income tax, yet he believes that both of those measures will share with low tariff in a great victory in 1900. There are other reasons than those cited by Mr. Shearman why this outcome of the political situation may be reasonably expected. Chief among these is the standard of the complete failure of the pretense of its advocates that national prosperity is possible under it. Mr. Shearman bases his prediction almost entirely upon the disgust of voters with the monopoly tariff legislation which the present congress and administration seem determined to enact to the exclusion of everything else, but while the robbery of the trusts will play no small part, it will be far from being the sole cause of the next political revolution. The arrogance of the money power and its insistence that all financial legislation shall be shaped for its benefit, are even now swelling the tide of discontent, and we believe that even though the tariff question were eliminated as an influence upon one side or the other, there would be a sweeping triumph of bimetalism when next the people express their convictions in the choice of a president. But with the wholesale robbery proposed by the tariff barons, under the leadership of Mr. Hanna, thrown into the scale, there is no room for doubt that the Republican party will go down in defeat if the advocates of free coinage will unite their forces.

Mr. Shearman's note is not the only one that has come from the gold Democrats against the policy of those whom they helped to place in control of the government. Others have similarly denounced the course adopted by Mr. McKin-ley's administration. And since they profess a constant conviction that a Republican executive and congress can make nothing but a complete failure, we fancy they will be put to some trouble to explain why they were so frantically anxious a short time ago to do all in their power to elect that kind of an executive and congress.

It is not by any means unlikely that the revolution of public feeling will progress so rapidly as to change the complexion of Congress at the elections in 1898.

Editor Times:—There is small credit to be gained now for foresight in predicting a terrible defeat for the Republican party in 1898 and 1900. Most of my personal friends are Republican in politics; and I have yet to meet one of them who does not anticipate this defeat.
I may, therefore, be permitted to say that I have constantly predicted Republican defeat in both 1898 and 1900, ever since the kind of the elections in 1894, when it seemed to superficial observers, as if the Republican party had been restored to power for twenty years.

Last October you published a report of some remarks in a Brooklyn meeting, in which I distinctly foretold, not only the great Republican victory of 1896, but an equally great Republican defeat in 1898 and 1900.

This forecast of the future was not founded upon any guesswork, but was based upon a long study of political history and upon knowledge of the conditions surrounding and controlling the incoming administration and Congress. I have never for one moment shared in the hopeful views of those Democrats who believed that the tax on raw wool, once repealed, would not be restored. On the contrary, it has been my firm conviction, constantly expressed, that the restoration of the McKinley duties on wool would be the first act of the Republican party on its restoration to power. Neither have I ever been deceived for a moment by the ostentatious professions of Republican managers during the last campaign as to moderation in dealing with the tariff.

PROTECTIONISTS CANNOT BE MODERATE.
Moderation is impossible to pro-tectionists. Each wants something excessive and outrageous for his own peculiar benefit; and therefore he is forced to concede to everyone else the same excessive privileges. Moreover, the very certainty which all protectionist managers now feel of defeat in 1900 impels them to excessive impositions during the short period of their power. If they had any hope of retaining power for twenty years they would be content with a more moderate amount of extortion, prolonged over that period; but as they know that their time is short they resemble another personage who is described, on high authority, as greatly enraged by this consciousness. They want to make as much in their four years of power as they would be content, under other circumstances, to make in twenty.

For one, I do not regret in the least this prodigious scheme of public plunder for private benefit.
This new tariff, which is, upon all points in which the protected plundurers are really interested, from 20 to 30 per cent. higher than the McKinley tariff, will produce a tremendous reaction in favor of free trade. The majority against the new tariff, in 1898, will be greater than the majority against the McKinley tariff in 1892, and in 1901 the new President and Congress will be prepared for a measure of far more sweeping reform than even the original Wilson bill of 1894.

SILVER VICTORY FOR 1900.

The cause of free trade will take abundant care of itself. Its victory is assured. A vastly more important question just now is:
What will be the effect of this reaction on the currency question?
I regret to say that all present appearances indicate that in 1900 the country will be swept over the silver precipice. The silver men have complete control over the Democratic organization, and they will, with justice, feel so certain of regaining the votes of 1,000,000 gold Democrats, in the reaction against the Dingley tariff, that the prospect of any terms of reconciliation being offered on the silver question is very doubtful. Moreover, by adherence to the free silver issue, they will have thirty-five electoral votes guaranteed to them from the mining states, for any kind of tariff, or no tariff at all, which they would lose on any other issue. Nothing will induce them to risk the loss of these states, except such united action on the part of New York, New Jersey and Connecticut as would convince them that the votes of those states could certainly be had for the Democratic party without silver, and could not probably be had otherwise. But the probability is that by 1900 New York and New Jersey will be ready to vote for any Democratic ticket in preference to any Republican.

The manifest bad faith of the Republican party in postponing the settlement of the currency question to the next session of Congress, in which, it is unlikely that anything whatever will be agreed upon, is likely to make gold Democrats feel that the Republican party cannot be trusted for any purpose or under any pledges whatever.

INCOME TAX STILL MENACING.
Another important question looming up in the near future is that of the income tax. The Democratic party will certainly be united in 1900 in favor of some kind of income tax. The New York brokers who raised the fund by means of which litigation against the income tax of 1894 was successfully maintained, have entirely forgotten, in their rejoicing, by a majority of one, that the supreme court at the same time practically decided by a large majority, if not by unanimous vote, that a tax upon the incomes of bankers, brokers, merchants and manufacturers, derived from their business earnings, would be perfectly constitutional, although not apportioned according to population. This, of course, is to all of us the most objectionable, and in fact one may say the only objectionable part of the income tax.

The New York brokers who procured the late decision against the income tax had no real objection against the imposition of such a tax upon rents, and very little objection to such a tax upon the profits of corporations and other investments. What they revolted against was the requirement of returns as to personal earnings. But what the supreme court has decided is that rents and incomes from fixed investments cannot be taxed, while earnings of every kind can be; and therefore the next income tax law will impose a tax upon earnings twice as heavy as that of 1894, because the loss of the tax on rents and investments must be made up.

All that part of the income tax law which involved inquisitorial methods and put a premium upon perjury will therefore be put into force; while landlords, who contributed nothing to the expense of the late litigation, will enjoy entire exemption and enjoy a quiet laugh at their zealous and self-sacrificing friends, the New York brokers, who will have the privilege of paying, not only their share of taxes, but that of the landlords to boot.

I hope that it is not necessary, and yet it may be just as well to state explicitly that this forecast is not made because I enjoy the prospect or approve of the plans which are likely to be carried out, except so far as an increased measure of freedom of trade is involved.
But so many business men are living in a fool's paradise, from which in the course of a few years they will be rudely awakened, that it seems right to give them some slight warning now.

NEW PREY FOR FLOODS.

Levee at Shipland Landing, Miss., Crumbles Under the Strain.

GREENVILLE, Miss., April 21.— For the sixth time there was a break in the levee of the Yazoo Mississippi delta today. The huge 18 foot levee at Shipland Landing, Issaquena county, Miss., suddenly crumbled away, letting in with a mighty rush and roar the yellow torrent of the great river. Ship-land is on Promised Land plantation.

At the time of the break backwater from the upper crevasses was already against the levee 10 or 12 inches deep, and many high places around were still uncovered. Hope was entertained that the head water had passed and that the flood had spent its fury. But it was not so. Many fine plantations upon which partial crops might have been raised must now share the fate of others, and in all of Lower Issaquena, Sharkey and Yazoo counties, where there was a foot of water before, there will be three feet or more.

Places which have been havens of refuge for live stock and human beings will have to be abandoned, and in a few days there will scarcely be a dry spot in all of the country south of the new break and between the levees and the Yazoo river.

OVER 20,000 SQUARE MILES SUB- MERGED.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—The bureau of statistics of the Treasury department has made the following report on the damage caused to agricultural interests by the Mississippi river flood:

Since the publication, April 12, of a statement relative to the agricultural interests of the submerged districts of the Mississippi Valley south of Cairo, Ill., the area under water has been considerably extended. This extension is below Vicksburg, Miss., on the right, or west, side of the river, and is mainly due to a break 2,000 feet wide in the levee at Biggs.

The outflow of water at this place has submerged four parishes of Louisiana and partly overflowed five others, while a break at La Fourche Crossing, in the southern part of the same state, has resulted in the submergence of an additional area of nearly 300 square miles in La Fourche and Terrebonne parishes.

In this newly submerged region there was in 1890 a total population of 82,356, in the proportion of four colored persons to one white.
The region contained at the last census 7,747 farms, with a total area of over 1,000,000 acres, of which 420,000 were improved. Of this last mentioned area 213,000 acres were last year devoted to cotton, over 91,000 acres to corn, 6-000 acres to sugar cane and 2,000 acres to hay.

The total area submerged at this date is over 20,000 square miles.
It contained at the last census 46-936 farms, with a total area of 4-904,466 acres, nearly one-half of which was improved, and a total population of 462,041. If to the value of its farms, farm buildings and farm machinery, according to the census of 1890, there be added the value of its live stock on January 1 last ($9,174,636) and of its products of last season still on hand on March 1 last ($4,595,179) the total of $90,176,177 will represent the approximate value of the agricultural property of the submerged region.

DESTITUTION IN NORTH DAKOTA.

Secretary Alger today received the following telegram from the mayor and city council of Grafton, N. D.:
"The raging flood along the Red river bordering Walsh and Pembina counties, aggravated by cold high winds and zero temperature, has caused great destruction of property and suffering. Buildings with contents, stock and seed grain have been swept away. Immediate relief is necessary or great suffering will prevail. The requirements are beyond local aid. The assistance of the government is invoked, and at once."

The Graceland Remedy.

Mr. R. B. Greeve, merchant of Chil-howie, Va., certifies that he had consumption, was given up to die, sought all medical treatment that money could procure, tried all cough remedies he could hear of, but got no relief; spent many nights sitting up in a chair, was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery, and was cured by use of two bottles. For past three years has been attending to business, and says Dr. King's New Discovery is the greatest remedy ever made, as it has done so much for him and also for others in his community. Dr. King's New Discovery is sumption. It don't fail. Trial bottles

WASHINGTON, April 22.—President McKinley sent to the Senate today the nomination of Arthur Sewall, Jr., of Maine, son of the Democratic vice-presidential candidate, as minister to Hawaii. Mr.
Sewall voted for McKinley and Hoover as against Bryan and his father.

A Modern Gypsy.

A conspicuous candidate for literary promotion this year is Charles Theodore Murray's circus story, "A Modern Gypsy." While its sub-title warns the reader that it is "a romance of circus life," it is pretty evident that the author believes truth stranger than fiction, if not more interesting, and has stuck closely to the lines of every-day life under canvas. In fact, the entire ground plan of this absorbing novel is taken from actual life on the road with the Barnum & Bailey Show. Mr. Murray having traveled with that wonderful modern gypsy caravan in order to get his preliminary studies. As there is a genuine Countess, who has an international reputation as an equestrienne, now with that show, who answers pretty fairly to his description, it would not be difficult to guess where the author got his leading inspiration. She is the modern gypsy, without doubt. In his admirable delineation of this character of the modern gypsy, who lives on horseback, and finds the whole civilized world none too big for her to turn around in, Mr. Murray presents an excellent foil in the old boss canvasman, whose Romany dialect gets amusingly mixed with her French, Italian, Spanish, etc.

Her companion, the little French bareback rider, is almost pathetic in her ignorance and love; and the "petit comte," the little son, is of the little Lord Fauntleroy type of childish sweetness and purity. It has been some time since Mr. Murray has come to us between covers, though he has found time in the midst of his Washington newspaper work and his metropolitan association with the New York Herald to give us charming short stories now and then, and we welcome "A Modern Gypsy" as bright, clean entertaining and altogether wholesome.

It is elaborately illustrated by Chas.
H. Wright, and is otherwise up to grade. The book is sold with the show, and by all first class newsdealers.

A Great Religious Gathering.

The Wilmington Messenger says:
"Early next month the greatest religious body in the South is to meet in this city. The Southern Baptist convention will meet in forty-second session (it being also its fifty second year) in the noble building, First Baptist Church, beginning Friday, May 7, at 10 o'clock A. M.
The annual sermon will be preached by Rev. R. A. Venable, D. D., of Mississippi, or his alternate, Rev.
W. R. L. Smith, D. D., of Missouri.
This is indeed a great body, both in number, more than 1,000 delegates, and in ability. There is a large number of ministers—counted by the hundreds—who are alumni of literary or theological colleges, or both. There is a great deal of ability among them. The debates are ordinarily of unusual interest, and sometimes very fine ability and impressive oratory are displayed. The reports of committees call forth debates. There are no routine and ruts. The convention is not a legislative body."

RED SPRINGS, April 21.—The Fayetteville Presbytery is in session here. Rev. S. M. Rankin, who has had charge of the pastorate here for three years, has resigned, much Mr. Rankin was instrumental in Over a hundred pupils are enrolled, and the Seminary has a faculty of eight. The patronage has been so large that it has become necessary to put up another building. The

The Only Department Store IN REIDSVILLE.

WE UNDERBUY.

WE UNDERSSELL.

MAY 1st.

By this time our new President William McKinley has his plans pretty well mapped out and down to business.

There are plenty of us who can run a Racket Store or a one horse farm that can tell him how to run this great Government of ours. As a rule people can attend to other folks' business that cannot attend to their own.

We are going to let Mr. McKinley run the government, and we are going to run the racket Store, and all along month after month our best efforts and energy shall be given to our business, to make the Racket Store the Store for the People.

HARD TIMES.

This old horse has been rode to death, and now what are you going to do? There is no blessing given us that we abuse so much, as 'time or the present time. We never lived in a time so favorable to all conditions of mankind. Of course the corn must be shelled for some or you may drive on. Some never know when they have enough.

We are not satisfied and we commence on hard times. We were talking with a gentleman a few days ago and he said: "I jes' can't make a cent hardes' times I ever saw. We said you are mistaken. Have you any onions to sell?" "No," the peasant said, "no," any fruit "no." We said what he will be fair and he replied nothing at all, 'tirse of the next ' can't make a nickel. Is there any 'arrogant' times with this fellow? We were t'ing with another old gentleman who said "I always have plenty. I come to town once a week and bring something to sell. I leave plenty at home and it don't take much to do me. Goods are low. This man enjoys life, has his sugar and coffee every day and what bread besides. You grumblers can you remember when you got sugar and coffee only on Sunday morning Molasses, Sweet Cakes once a month. One pair of Shoes a year blacked off a pot at that. Home spun jeans made a splendid wedding outfit if you had a paper collar and a sheep skin for a saddle.

Now shame yourselves and bless the times you live in and be happy.

COURTENAY: "When you proposed to Miss Dexter did you get down on your knees?"

SHE (calmly): "Why don't you drink filtered water."

OUR BUSINESS.

When we started business in Reidsville in 1893 we stood almost at the foot of the business houses, ten were ahead of us in size of business. We never did like to stand foot, and along in the middle you are sure to be crowded, so the great space at the top fired us with new life, and we started. Watch the result as we march on and up one after another is passed until 7 have dropped out of existence, given up the fight and are no more, still our trade under the Cash Banner, Underbuy, Undersell, grows, and we continue to pass one after another until we are on the top round. Every merchant has to swear to the amount of his purchase every six months at the Registers office in Wentworth, and these are the figures taken from the Registers, books. No secret to any one, read them:

New York Racket,	$28,944.14
Second largest concern,	$8,546.32
Third largest concern,	$8,462.18

Hypnotized and Buried Three Days.

SIMCOE, Ont., April 23.—The man hypnotized and buried in the ground for three days has been disinterred. Great crowds followed the box containing the body to the Opera House. As the man was being brought back to a normal condition he became very restless and finally smashed the box into pieces. It required five men to control him in his struggles until he was fully restored to consciousness.

Found His Wife to be a Negro.

RALEIGH, April 22.—There was a curious and sensational divorce case here today. A white man of Raleigh eight years ago married a young woman in an adjoining county, thinking she was white. He discovered a few weeks ago she was a negro. This fact was fully proved in court today and he was granted a divorce. The woman is good looking, has straight hair and has no appearance of the negro.

Every woman needs Dr. Miles' Pink Pills.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Special Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, April 26, 1897.

The chief pie distributor and his assistants having gone to New York to take part in dedicating the monument to Gen. Grant, the pie hunters who hadn't the money or the railroad passes to accompany them are taking a rest. About half of Congress has also gone, as it was previously agreed that the House and Senate should meet today and Thursday only to adjourn.

It is becoming apparent that the administration is preparing to let down some of the civil service bars to the office pastures. Mr. McKinley has been talking over the matter with the civil service commission and two of his cabinet, Gage and Wilson, have publicly advocated modifying the civil service Rules as applied to their departments.

Some surprise was expressed by Ohio men who were not inside the game, so to speak, when Judge Day, of that State, who was supposed to be preparing to go to Cuba, as a special commissioner, allowed himself to be nominated First Assistant Secretary of State. They knew that Judge Day had resigned two judgeships, both paying more salary than any of the assistant secretaries get, and that he wasn't exactly the sort of man who would care to be anybody's assistant. Well, he is to be Sherman's assistant only in name. So far as the matters he will handle are concerned, he will be Secretary of State, and if Mr. Sherman, who is giving visible evidence that he feels his age, gets tired of the worry and resigns, the portfolio will be given to Judge Day. What Mr. Sherman thinks of this programme would make interesting reading, but unless he concludes to add another volume to his "Recollections" the public will have to be content with guessing. Had Sherman not been in Hanna's way in the Senate he would never have been made Secretary of State.

Senator Foraker won his fight against Bellamy Storer, of Ohio, without having to ask for votes in the Senate to reject his nomination to be assistant secretary of State. Storer was nominated Minister to Belgium instead, and Foraker has no objections to his going there.

Had twenty-two members, who were present but did not vote, supported Representative Bland's appeal from the decision of the Speaker, refusing him recognition to offer his resolution calling upon the Attorney General for information as to what steps had been taken to protect the interests of the Government in relation to the sale of the Union Pacific Railroad, the Speaker would have been defeated, as the vote stood 87 for sustaining the speaker and 75 against.

The death of Judge Holman, of Indiana, so closely following that of ex-Senator Voorhees, another distinguished son of the Hoosier state, is deeply felt by the old-timers in Congress. Notwithstanding his fame as an objector to bills carrying appropriations he believed to be unnecessary, no member of the House had more personal friends. That he valued the good will of his associates was strikingly shown several years ago. He was very poor and when approached by a publisher with a liberal offer, he decided to write a book covering his personal reminiscences during his long membership in the House, and actually began the preliminary work. About that time John Sherman's book was published, and when he saw the antagonism that was thereby aroused he concluded not to write a book. When remonstrated with he said: "I cannot do it. Every book of reminiscences that comes out only makes trouble for the writer. He is bound to say something, even if he is innocent of any mean intention, that will cause heart burning and misunderstanding. I must not let the end of my life be clouded in such a way."

Senator Jones, of Arkansas, said, speaking of the future of the gold Democrats: "Some will remain in the Republican party and the others will return to us. It is too early yet to predict what proportion will renew their allegiance to Democratic principles, but I think a very considerable number will. Those who are willing to support Democratic principles will be welcomed back. We shall be glad of the assistance of any man who believes as we do and votes with us; that is sound Democracy. The gold Democrats may not be permitted to vote at the primaries in some places, but that is a local matter determined by local sentiment. Generally speaking the Democrats who left the party last year, because of the money question, will be permitted to identify themselves with the organization again, if they will support our platform."

Purnell and Boyd Get Relief.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—Senator Pritchard stated tonight that the controversy over the North Carolina judgeship took a new turn today, which will probably result in the appointment of Mr. Purnell. Senator Pritchard called at the White House this morning and during his talk with the President insisted upon the appointment being given to a man in the eastern part of the state, and announced that he would stand or fall by Mr. Purnell. The President, who is anxious to recognize the political services of Col. Boyd, asked if the colonel would be satisfied with something "equally as good," and thereupon suggested that he could have the office of Solicitor of the Internal Revenue Bureau, if he would accept it. Senator Pritchard immediately left the White House to consult with Col. Boyd on the President's proposition. The office of Solicitor pays an annual salary of $4,500, and it was sufficiently rich to tempt North Carolina's national committeeman, so he accepted it. The President was informed of Boyd's acceptance, and thus the problem seems to be solved, with Purnell as judge, and Boyd well provided for.

A Cut on the Southern.

The different section foremen of the Southern have received orders to cut down their forces and this was done today. Each section man retains two men.—Salisbury Sun.

The Shakers have made a great hit. Their Digestive Cordial is said to be the most successful remedy for stomach troubles ever introduced. It immediately relieves all pain and distress after eating, builds up the feeble system and makes the weak strong.

The fact is, foods properly digested are better than any food not digested, but a digester does more harm than good. People who use the Cordial insure the digestion of what they eat and it is this way that the benefit of it is secured.

The little pamphlet which the Shakers have sent, through the free distribution, contains much interesting information on the subject of dyspepsia.

Death of Mrs. John M. Andrew.

Mrs. Elizabeth A., wife of Mr. John M. Andrew, a well known citizen of the Alamance church neighborhood, died Saturday of inflammatory rheumatism after an illness of only a few weeks. She was the mother of six children—five sons and one daughter. No more graceful tribute could be paid to her memory than that coming from the pen of her pastor, Rev. Lequeux.

Fell asleep in Jesus April 24th, 1927, Mrs. Elizabeth A. Andrew, aged 57 years, 2 months and 9 days. Nearly forty-two years ago she gave her heart to Jesus, and from that time until the Master called her from this "bank and shoal of life" her life was that of an humble, consecrated Christian. She was a devoted wife, a tender, loving mother and a kind neighbor. Her profession of faith in Christ was followed by her reception into the communion of Alamance Presbyterian church, of which she was a devoted member till called to the church triumphant. May God comfort the sorrowing ones.

H. D. LEQUEUX.

Dr. Staunton, county coroner, came to the city last Wednesday to investigate the death of Victor Bowman, whose remains were found beside the C. F. & Y. V. tracks that morning, and after diligent inquiry deemed an inquest unnecessary. From what could be learned Bowman had been on a spree for several days and the night before his death was considerably under the influence of liquor. A questionable circumstance has since come to light. Bowman's watch and pocketbook, which he was known to have Tuesday night, were both missing from his pockets when he was picked up, though no one to whom suspicion could be attached was seen in his company on that fatal night. The fact that very little blood was spilled on the railroad track might seem to strengthen the theory that he was foully dealt with, but it is generally believed that his death resulted from his own carelessness.

DIED.

Little Bobbie, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. An hour, died in Greensboro, March 4th, 1927, and was buried at Concord burying-ground, near Sumner. Little Bobbie's stay with us was short, but long enough to win our hearts' deepest affections. Whilst we feel keenly the sorrow of parting we are comforted in the assurance that he is safely gathered home.

Said in the arms of Jesus.
Safe on his gentle breast, There by His love overshadowed, Sweetly his soul shall rest.
Safe in the arms of Jesus, Safe from corroding care, Safe from the world's temptations, Safe cannot harm him there.
