DEATHS.

Those Who Have Answered the Summons During the Past Week:

Mrs. Fannie Lavenia Mebane.

Mrs. Fannie Lavenia Mebane, aged 73, passed away Saturday at her home in Mebane. Deceased had been in declining health for several years, though her last illness lasted less than a week.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon from the Presbyterian church at Mebane and attended by a large number of friends and relatives. The service was conducted by Rev. Dr. F. O. Hurley, pastor of the Mebane Presbyterian church; Dr. E. C. Murray, a former pastor of the deceased, and Dr. W. L. Poteat, president of Wake Forest College. Interment was in the church cemetery, the mound being banked with the many elaborate and lovely floral designs which came from every section of the state.

Mrs. Mebane was the widow of the late Dr. E. Frank Mebane, universally loved and esteemed for her sterling worth and loveable character. Aside from her many community works, church work, charities and rare personal charms, Mrs. Mebane was known generally, with her late and lamented husband, as the head of one of the state's best known families, surviving members of whom are, two daughters and three sons, three grandchildren and a host of relatives, who occupy prominent stations in every phase of the state's life. The children are Mrs. W. B. Scott, of Mebane; Mrs. H. W. Bason, of Thomasville, and Dr. George A. Mebane, of Spray; E. Frank Mebane, of Spray, and J. K. Mebane, of Graham.

Mrs. Cicero Causey.

Mr. Numa Causey and Miss Nell Causey passed through Greensboro Christmas day on their way to Liberty to attend the funeral of their mother, Mrs. Cicero Causey, of that place. The death of Mrs. Causey occurred quite suddenly Monday night and it was in response to a telegram telling this sad news that Mr. and Miss Causey came here from New York where they had recently gone to live, being connected with the Hunter Manufacturing Company, recently transferred to that city. Their mother's death was a severe shock to them as she was supposed to be in good health. She was sitting quietly in her chair at home when she died without warning illness.

Mr. G. W. Davis.

Mr. G. W. Davis, of Columbia, S. C., met a tragic death last Saturday while on his way home from a day's hunting near Columbia. At Shandon, one of Columbia's suburbs, while in the act of boarding a street car to complete the trip back to the city, the gun he was carrying swung against the starting car. The impact in some way discharged the gun. Mr. Davis lived only a few minutes. Mrs. Davis, the wife of the deceased, is better remembered in Greensboro as Miss Blanche O'Neal, who for some years taught in the graded schools here, and is the sister of Mrs. J. J. McCorley.

Mr. William R. Hollowell died Saturday night at his home in Goldsboro. He had been in feeble health for some time. He is survived by four daughters and one son, two daughters, Mrs. Victor C. Lewis and Mrs. David M. Prince, living in this city. Two surviving sisters, Mrs. G. H. Grantham and Mrs. W. R. Woods, also reside in this country. Mr. Hollowell frequently visited Greensboro and with Mrs. Woods, at Guilford College, he for years being a trustee of that institution. To many friends here and in the country his death will come as a personal bereavement.

Mr. Madison Bartley.

Friends in Greensboro have received news of the death of Mr. Madison Bartley at his home in Indianapolis yesterday. Mr. Bartley is well remembered in this county by older residents, having taught school before the war and having been at one time clerk in a Greensboro store. He went West just before the breaking out of the war. He was over 80 years of age and was a man greatly beloved. The telegram was from Charles M. Souder, deceased's son-in-law.

Friends in Greensboro, where he had often visited and was well-known, will regret to learn of the death of Mr. Scott Jordan, at Siler City, Tuesday. The deceased was a brother of A. D. Jordan, a local merchant, and an uncle of O. F. York and L. H. Jordan, of this city. He was about 60 years of age and one of the most respected and prominent citizens of Siler City.

Death of a Child.

Clyde, the three-and-a-half-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Frittle, of No. 57 Walnut street, Proximity village, died Thursday morning and was buried from Flat Rock church, near Okesdale, Friday.

Mr. Watkins Loses His Way.

The New Bern Journal in its issue of Tuesday tells of the harrowing experience of Mr. J. C. Watkins, of Greensboro, while out on a hunting trip in the eastern part of the state.

Mr. Watkins started out alone for Lake Ellis, lost his way and was compelled to spend the night in the woods in the bitter cold, without fire and in reach of all sorts of sounds—cries of wild animals with which he was unfamiliar. The next time he goes hunting alone he will take along a compass.

Family Reunion.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Sparger have celebrated Christmas with a reunion of their family. This is an annual celebration in this home on Blandwood avenue and was attended by all the members of the immediate family. These were Mr. S. W. Sparger, of Durham; Mrs. E. H. Kochitzky, of Mt. Airy; Mrs. O. W. Kochitzky, of Monroe, and Mrs. S. S. Steele, of Rockingham.

Mrs. Newby is the charming daughter of Mrs. W. P. Fife, and has hosts of friends throughout the state, as well as in the far West—in Denver and St. Louis where she spends part of her time. Mr. Newby is a very popular young business man, being assistant cashier of the First National Bank, and Captain of Co. L., of Thomasville.

CHILD LABOR BILL.

Being Fought by One Mill Owner Who Wants No Interference.

One cotton mill manufacturer in North Carolina is opposed to any legislation prohibiting the employment of child labor in the mills, as evidenced by the fact that circular letters are being received by representatives asking them to do nothing that would interfere with present conditions. In these letters leaders in the child labor movement are referred to as "fakers and time-servers, whose salaries and bread and meat depends upon their success in exploiting the generous and tender-hearted citizenship of the country."

He recommends to the legislator that he read "The Child That Tolled Not," a book written by Major Thomas R. Dawley, Jr., which Dr. A. J. McKelway declared on December 12, before the Farmers' Union, to be a tissue of misrepresentations, and which Clarence Poe, chairman of the child labor committee, says is the worst misrepresentation of the Southern farm and farm-life that he has ever seen."

The writer of the letter offers to furnish copies of the book free.

The North Carolina child labor committee is composed of the following: Clarence Poe, chairman; W. H. Swift, field secretary; Charles L. Coon, secretary; J. W. Bailey, of Raleigh; Joseph Plumb Cheshire, of Raleigh; Rev. Dr. Robert F. Campbell, of Asheville; Rev. J. J. Hall, of Fayetteville; David S. "n. of Greensboro; Thomas J. Jarvis, of Greenville; Julian S. Carr, Jr., of Durham; Henry A. Page, of Aberdeen; William L. Poteat, of Wake Forest; Herbert A. Royster, of Raleigh; A. M. Scales, of Greensboro; B. B. Daugherty, of Boone; W. E. Stone, of Raleigh; Heriot Clarkson, of Charlotte; Julius I. Foust, of Greensboro; R. T. Vann, of Raleigh; Robert Strange, of Wilmington, and S. B. Underwood, of Kinston.

In a statement Clarence Poe, chairman of the committee, said: he did not think that it could fairly be charged that the members of this committee were cranks and professional agitators, especially since the leading cotton mill men of the state readily agreed to their proposals. Mr. Poe did not think that the committee needed any defense, and gave it as his opinion that the program as agreed upon would go through the legislature without any difficulty. He thought the book, "The Child That Tolled Not," misrepresented the Southern farm and farmer more than anything printed in many years. Secretary Swift wired that many other manufacturers than those named by Mr. Poe as attending the meeting in which the legislation was agreed on were in favor of it. Those who attended the meeting held last spring were W. A. Erwin, D. Y. Cooper, Ceasar Cone, W. Entwhistle, R. S. Steele, Eugene Holt, Thomas P. Webb, Frank Borden, W. B. Cole, W. H. Williamson, James V. Williamson and Julian S. Carr, Jr.

These regulations would bar the cooking stoves, vicious dogs and other such parcels which have been the bane of life for "Parcels Post Pete."

All through the country the postal officials are waiting for a material expression from the people as to what proportions the use of parcels post law will increase mail quantities. Whatever the answer will be they will be ready to meet the demand for service.

The rates for carrying of parcels are divided into 9 classes, graded according to the distance the mail must be conveyed. This extends from the local rate, that matter which only passes through one postoffice and is marked for delivery in the city or on the routes out of the city, to the rate for 1,800 miles for the eighth zone and all over that limit for the ninth and last. The highest postage one can pay on a parcel sent by mail will be $1.32 and the cheapest will be one cent. Packages under four ounces in weight will cost one cent per ounce no matter what the distance of their destined route may be, and packages weighing more than four ounces up to one pound

PARCELS POST.

Things to Remember in Sending Packages by Mail Hereafter.

Parcels post went into effect all over the United States yesterday, and hereafter people living in the country can send their produce to market at small cost, and receive goods from their merchants in the neighboring town the same day, without the trouble of hitching up and driving twelve or fifteen miles, thereby losing their own time and taking the horses from the plow, often at great inconvenience.

Parcels post is intended particularly to benefit the farmer—to put him in close touch with the local market and to afford him regular and cheap transportation on the things he sells and the things he buys. Just how much it will be worth to him depends upon the extent of his appreciation as shown in his determination to profit by the advantages offered.

With an appropriation of $300,000 to start it off, the postoffice department will thoroughly test the practicability of the parcels post system in this country, and it will be the fault of those for whose convenience it was inaugurated if it is not a success.

For the information of the general public Postmaster Douglas, of Greensboro, emphasizes a few important rules in connection with parcels post—rules which must be observed:

All merchandise mail matter must hereafter bear parcels post stamps and if this law is not obeyed, such matter found in the mails with ordinary stamps on it, will be considered by the postal employees as being without stamps at all. The public is warned to take notice of this and to purchase the special stamps when mailing this class of matter.

For the benefit of those who do not know, merchandise matter or the mail matter which must go by parcels post is what has heretofore been "fourth-class" mail matter. It includes everything which does not go under the first, second and third classes of mail matter.

Again, the postmaster emphasizes the fact that patrons of the postoffice may not choose between the use of the parcels post and the old way of sending mail matter. Use of the new department is not optional but compulsory for the mail which falls into its class. One who sends merchandise through the mails must send it by parcels post and with parcels post stamps.

Another regulation which will be rigidly enforced is that all parcels sent by post must bear the name and address of the sender on the outside cover with the word "From" preceding them.

The new stamps were put on sale yesterday. One may mail any package of merchandise which does not weigh over 11 pounds and the combined length and girth of which does not exceed 72 inches. As an example: You may mail a map which is five feet in length and is rolled up so that the circumference of the roll will be one foot. This measurement would be 60 inches long and 12 inches in girth, or the limit of 72 inches. The only other conditions against such a package are that it does not weigh more than 11 pounds or that it be not of such nature as to easily cause injury to a carrier.

These regulations would bar the cooking stoves, vicious dogs and other such parcels which have been the bane of life for "Parcels Post Pete."

All through the country the postal officials are waiting for a material expression from the people as to what proportions the use of parcels post law will increase mail quantities. Whatever the answer will be they will be ready to meet the demand for service.

REPAIR COUNTY ROADS.

Many Badly in Need of Repair Will be Looked After.

County Auditor and Road Superintendent J. A. Davidson is getting busy preparatory to a general campaign of improvement on the various macadam roads of the county which are badly in need of repair. One of the convict forces which has just completed a strip of road from Gibsonville to Whitestown is now working toward Greensboro, while a second force will soon start from Brown Summit to this city. The macadam roads in both instances are to be thoroughly repaired, and as soon as these two links are worked other roads will receive attention.

County authorities believe that the plan adopted by Superintendent Davidson will put the now badly worn roads back in splendid shape and that by regular repair work the present roadbed will last for many more years. In places where the top surface has worn the convicts, under the present repair plan, are laying a top surface of fine gravel, a slight binder and then rolling well, the new surface binding splendidly to the old roadbed. In several points of the county this process has been tried out and in each instance has been found very satisfactory. There are about 130 miles of macadam road in the county, and it is said that fully 60 miles of this is now in urgent need of attention.

NEWS OF THE OLD NORTH STATE

A Survey of What is Transpiring in the Commonwealth.

The Federal building at Lexington has been completed and will be occupied the first of the year. It cost $65,000.

An 8-year-old boy, helplessly drunk and profane, was one of the arrests made by the Durham police Christmas week.

State Insurance Commissioner Young finds that 46 persons were injured in fires in North Carolina the past year and that 43 of the 46 died.

Mrs. Edna May, 74 years old, was found dead on the hearth of her home at Graham, last week, her body burned until it was unrecognizable. She lived alone.

Mr. A. G. Ferrell, one of the most popular members of the police force of Durham, died at his home at an early hour last Thursday morning after a very brief illness, of a complication of diseases.

Mr. George F. Cochran, of Newton, one of the brightest young newspaper men in the state, has gone to the Wilmington Star. Mr. Cochran for some time has been associate editor of the Newton News.

A negro arrested at Durham for bigamy said he had a divorce and undertook to produce the important paper. It turned out that he had written the divorce himself and as a result he spent the holidays in jail.

While Sheriff Davis, of Surry county, was absent from home, two men broke into his house at Dobson to rob. His wife was aroused and recognized the men, who fled. One was arrested later but escaped from the officers.

George McCue, a plumber from Richmond, got his head caught in an elevator shaft in the eleventh story of the Commercial National Bank building in Raleigh Saturday and his skull and lower cheek bones were crushed. McCue is 27 years old and unmarried.

Wiley Black, a notorious Asheville citizen, and Ollie Bird were convicted in Buncombe Superior court last week of attempting by deception to lead girls into immoral lives. Black was sentenced to 11 months on the roads and the woman to 10 months and each fined $300.

Three electrocutions will occur during the months of January and February. Sam Thompson, of Union county, will die January 17; Will Logan, of Anson county, will die January 24, and Arthur Johnson, of Pender county, will be electrocuted February 7. The two last are negroes.

Joseph P. Lovill, living at Spokane, Wash., wrote his mother at Mt. Airy, same weeks ago that he would be at home for Christmas. Later he was attacked with appendicitis and died on the 14th. His dead body arrived at Mt. Airy on the date he wrote his mother he would be at home for the holidays.

George W. Wood, of Wake county, who was best man at the marriage of Mary V. Bartley and Elias Doss, has been called to court to answer for making oath that the bride was 18, when the marriage license was secured. The young woman's father, who is prosecuting, says the bride is only 16.

Mrs. Lydia Bruce Dowd died Thursday night at her home in Charlotte of pneumonia, aged near 81 years. She was the widow of the late Clement Dowd, a prominent Charlotte lawyer, member of Congress and collector of internal revenue during the first Cleveland administration. A number of children survive.

A state political weekly paper (Democratic), with Messrs. R. F. Beasley, of the Monroe Journal, and A. J. Field, of Raleigh, editors, is contemplated. Mr. Beasley also edits the Carolina Democrat at Monroe and it would probably be merged into the new venture. Mr. Field is private secretary to Governor Kitchin.

Mr. R. R. Williams, member of the legislature from Buncombe county, will introduce a bill in the legislature to tax automobiles according to horse-power, the money to be used for the upkeep of the public roads. Mr. Williams says automobiles wear out roads faster than other vehicles and he thinks they should pay a proportion of the expense of road repair.

A dozen Santa Clauses, headed by Mayor John Underwood, distributed Christmas gifts to every child in Fayetteville Christmas day. The presents were distributed to the white children from motor cars, motor trucks and wagons, while the negro children received theirs at Evans' chapel. A census of the children under 12 years old, taken by a committee of women, guided the men in the work. The gifts were purchased with funds raised by a popular contribution.

The Asheville Gazette-News says the store of Hyder Bros., at Emma postoffice, Buncombe county, was burglarized last week—the safe blown open and a considerable sum in

BRIEF ITEMS OF GENERAL NEWS

A Week's Events of More or Less Interest to the Public.

Two students at the West Virginia Wesleyan College have been expelled for smoking cigarettes and the same punishment is said to be awaiting others reported as having violated the college order.

Although the holiday mail was heavier in practically every section of the country than ever before, the work of handling it was performed with less congestion and confusion than in previous years, according to reports received by Postmaster General Hitchcock. Slight interruptions were reported in a few sections of the country on account of weather conditions, but aside from that there was at no point in the service any congestion of the mails which was not under control.

Examination of the body of Mrs. Sarah Johnson, who with her sister, Miss Mary Scott, died Christmas eve of pneumonia, in St. Louis, Mo., apparently in dire want, revealed that a bag around her waist contained $5,604 in cash and three gold watches. In Miss Scott's effects were found deeds and papers showing bank deposits. Little is known of the sisters. They arrived two weeks ago at the address where death occurred, both suffering colds which developed into pneumonia. They refused to have medical attention because of the cost and declined to go to a free hospital.

Jeffersonian simplicity is to mark the coming inauguration of President-elect Wilson. There will probably be the greatest outpouring of people that has ever marked the inauguration of a president, but according to Chairman William C. Eustis, of the committee, there will be no entertainment. He contends that true Democracy demands that there be no display and he is upheld by Thomas Nelson Page, who is quoted as saying: "President Jefferson's act of riding up Pennsylvania avenue on horseback has been derided, but the people who have studied history have realized that he did it in a dignified manner and that this inauguration had at least as much real dignity and true simplicity as that of any president."

PARCELS POST.

The parcel post, which went into effect all over the United States yesterday, is another great forward step which this government is making towards bettering the conditions of rural life—making the farm and all that goes with it more desirable and attractive.

Heretofore, in the absence of such a means of reliable and cheap transportation, many things on the farm with a cash value in the local market have been allowed to go to waste because to market them, in the old way, meant an expenditure of time and labor greater than the profit derived from them.

From this on the farmer who fails to convert into cash every thing he raises, and who fails to raise every thing that is marketable, will have no one to blame but his own bad management—his own neglect of opportunities never enjoyed by his father, and for which he is indebted to the nation-wide movement looking to the country rather than to the towns for the future greatness and prosperity of the American people.

At no time in the nation's history has rural life and conditions governing it received more attention from those who look beyond the immediate present than during the past few years. The national government and state governments are doing every thing possible to bring about the preservation and improvement of our natural resources. The importance of preserving our forests, of tree culture; more scientific methods of treating the soil so as not to destroy its fertility; the best crops to plant in certain localities and how to market them with the greatest profit, are some of the things which are being taught the boys and girls of this generation who are to constitute our future citizenship and carry on the work begun by others.

State Secretary of Agriculture Graham says that the gratifying increase in corn grown in North Carolina the past two years was not due entirely to the boys' corn clubs—that the old men did their part. But the fact that the boys were in the contest served as a healthy stimulus to their fathers, who of course, were determined that their sons should not get ahead of them.

The girls' tomato clubs have also been a source of inspiration to the mothers as well as to the daughters who received instruction under government experts, and the American farmer of the future can truly be termed the most favored and independent of all men.

THE SECRET OF YOUTH.

"As long as my work remains with me I shall continue to be young. Enjoyment of one's work is one of the greatest secrets of youth," said Sarah Bernhardt in an interview recently.

And never was a greater truth spoken. Work of the right kind—work for which we are fitted and work which brings pleasure and satisfaction in its performance, never hurt any body. It is only the things to which we are not adapted—the things that are hard because we do not know the right way, that are tedious and irksome.

If every man and woman could follow the bent of his or her own genius, all labor would be a pleasant pastime and the results of such labor the highest expression of the one doing it. The world is gradually waking up on this subject and leading educators all agree as to the importance of vocational training.

At the meeting of the North Carolina Teachers' Assembly held a few weeks ago in Greensboro, the many eminent speakers, who represented the best thought in the educational world, laid great stress on vocational training, as the solution of all our labor problems, and conditions arising from the errors of ignorance.

All of us like to do the things we can do well. Sarah Bernhardt is a good actress—one of the greatest. She likes her work because she is a success. And there is no tonic that keeps the blood circulating and which tones up the entire system, physical and mental, like success; nothing which puts fire in the eye and color in the cheeks like the approval of our friends and the praise of those we endeavor to serve.

The best advice to every young man and woman starting out in life is, to learn to do some one thing well; to be a success at something. And to parents it is, to study the child; to try to find out what his leading talent is, and if a boy wants to be a cartoonist or a mechanician, not to attempt to make a minister or a lawyer out of him.

State Commissioner of Agriculture, Maj. W. A. Graham, gives some interesting figures in regard to the increase of grain raised in North Carolina the past two years. What causes him alarm, however, is a proportionate decrease in the meat supply. Unless farmers quit the practice of selling their young calves and hogs to the butchers, it will be but a few years until we will all be compelled to become vegetarians or depend upon the Western packing houses and the embalming fluid, and continue to complain about the high cost of living.

President Taft was unaware of the occurrence. No other damage was caused by the explosion and there was no excitement here over the affair, in connection with which two men were arrested.

No plot is suspected by the members of the secret service or by the Panama police.

ADMIRAL DEWEY'S BIRTHDAY.

Hero of Manila Bay Enjoys the Celebration of His 75th Anniversary.

Washington, Dec. 26.—Admiral George Dewey, hero of the battle of Manila bay, today celebrated quietly his 75th birthday. The veteran sea fighter said that he never felt better in his life and friends who called to congratulate him on the anniversary of his birth declared that he looked like an "ensign." The admiral attributes his splendid physical condition to constant riding and to the further fact that he keeps away from midnight banquets. He said he abandoned attending banquets long ago. "So should any man," he declared, "who wants to feel as young as I do when he is 75."

Admiral Dewey spent a few hours at his office as president of the general board of the navy. Later he went for a drive with Mrs. Dewey. There was an informal dinner at the Dewey home tonight.

The Biblical injunction against putting new wine in old bottles and new cloth on old garments—or words to that effect—holds good in regard to buildings. Whenever you begin to patch up and make additions to an old building you are sure to end by having something you don't want.

No body will quarrel with President Taft for appointing Colonel Goethals governor of the Canal Zone. He probably knows more about that country than any other man in America and would govern it more wisely.

Several people in Greensboro thought they felt a slight earthquake New Year's day about 1:30 o'clock. That was something unusual. Upheavals general come the day after Christmas.

There seems to be but little prospect of a new court house for Guilford county after all. Certainly if the majority of the people of the county are satisfied with the old one that should settle it.

President-elect Wilson was given a great time in his old home—Staunton, Va., on occasion of his visit there last week. As the mother of presidents the Old Dominion is again coming into her own.

Then you'll remember me—next Christmas.

W. R. Fox, 195 W. Other members of my family have used them with similar results." You will save time and money, and avoid needless pain and suffering by taking Foley Kidney Pills at the first sign of kidney trouble. Mr. Jake Stanley, of Kansas, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Stanley, this week. Mr. Stanley left this county and went West 26 years ago, and this is his first trip back to his native state.

Mr. Stanley says there have been great changes made since he left here, the towns have grown into cities, and the boys and girls into men and women, and there has been some change in Mr. Stanley, also, for his mother and father did not recognize him. He was not the boy they bid farewell on Easter Monday, 1886.

But Mr. Stanley's return should be happier than a great many are, for there has not a member of his family died since he went away. He left his mother, father, four brothers and three sisters, and they are all living in the county and glad to welcome his return.

Star-Fields Marriage.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Shoffner, of southeast Guilford, was the scene of a beautiful home wedding, when in the presence of a few intimate friends and relatives their daughter, Miss Charlie Mabel Starr, was united in marriage to Mr. Cecil C. Fields, of Climax. The ceremony was performed by the bride's pastor, Rev. D. C. Cox. Miss Myrtle Welker was maid of honor and Mr. Charles Shoffner best man. The parlor was beautifully decorated with evergreens with an arch of evergreen under which the words were spoken which made them man and wife. The bride is the only daughter of the late Rev. Charles A. Starr and wife, now Mrs. D. A. Shoffner, and a great granddaughter of the popular and well known preacher, the late Rev. G. W. Walker, and is one of Guilford's most popular daughters.

The groom is a promising young business man of Climax. The popularity of the young couple was well attested by the many and useful presents they received. They start out on their wedded life with the best wishes of a host of friends for a long and happy married life. X.

The 1912 hay crop is put at 72,000,000 tons, which is an increase of 17,000,000 over the yield of 1911.

The writer has seldom seen a heavier crop of hazel nuts than that of the season just past and never a crop more free from worms.

How suggestive of colder days to come is the clear staccato note of the chickadee which greets one as he walks through leaf strewn woods these fall days nutting or hunting.

The orchardist who does not want to waste his time and uselessly mutilate his trees will pass up fall grafting. This work should be done after the 1st of February and before the middle of May.

Senator McCumber of North Dakota recently made the statement in a speech on the floor of the senate that a steer for which the farmer received $75 cost the consumer in New York city $250 when set before him in hotel or restaurant.

For small towns that swarm with canines of various breeds, sizes and colors there is no method of getting rid of the pests so effective as levying of a good stiff tax by the town authorities and, after this is done, see that the tax is paid.

While it seems and really is pretty tough on the grower, the fact remains that the fellow who is earning $1.75 a day and has a wife and six children to support cannot help but chuckle a bit at being able to get potatoes for winter at from 30 to 40 cents a bushel.

The Kansas live stock commission estimates that 20,000 horses have died in that state during the past few weeks from the horse plague. In some instances farmers who have lost all their horses have broken steers to work and are getting some of their field work done with this motor power.

A chrysanthemum has about so much vitality to devote to blossoms, and the size of the blossoms will quite closely vary in an inverse ratio to the number of buds that are left on the plant. To produce the big blossoms that are five and six inches in diameter but one bud is left to each big stalk.

"Seven dollars a week and no washing," as the terms on which maid can secure hired help for the house, is calculated to make her meditate on the beauties of the simple life and appreciate the wisdom of reducing her work so as to dispense with the services of a maid girl. In many instances such a change would be expedient, in others a positive necessity.

With the cooler weather rabbits make a toothsome dish and give a change from the steady ration of beef and pork. This is particularly true of the young rabbits. They are greedily devoured with dumplings, boiled and fried or stuffed with dressing and roasted. In the latter case they should be basted at intervals so that the thinner portions of the meat will not be come too dry.

Hog cholera is wiping out the swine herds and knocking the prospective profits of many a farmer in the north states. If the cholera plague, or whatever it may properly be called, gets within a few miles of a fellow's farm he would do well to ship his hogs before they are smitten. In a number of instances which we have noted recently herds of from between 100 to 300 head have been completely wiped out.

While the gas tractor is supposed to be especially suited to the big wheat ranches in the far west and northwest a Pennsylvania farmer has the past season used one with gratifying success. He not only plows and harrows with this iron horse, but harvests, threshes and hauls his grain to market. The advantage about this motor power is that it is not stuffing grain and hay when off duty and is immune to all the ills that afflict the equine family.

Hogging down corn seems to be gathering in popularity in those sections of the corn belt where it has been given a fair trial. It is a method of harvesting the crop that gives a maximum of feeding value with a minimum of labor. The consensus of opinion of those who have tried the plan seems to indicate the wisdom of fencing off relatively small portions of the field so that the hogs will eat the corn more closely. A number of feeders have found that if shotes and brood sows follow the fattening hogs more satisfactory results are obtained.

IS SULPHUR A FERTILIZER?

Until two or three years ago sulphur was supposed to be an incidental and practically negligible chemical constituent of the soil. Recently tests and experiments which have been conducted in Germany, France and this country prove conclusively that the above notion is a mistaken one and that sulphur is an important and vital factor in plant growth and that the application of it to soils greatly increases luxuriance of leaf and stem and size of vegetable product. Perhaps the most striking results in the research work referred to have been secured by two experimenters of the University of Wisconsin station, Messrs. Hart and Peterson. While investigating the supply of sulphur in feeds and its relation to wool production these men found it necessary to ascertain the amounts of sulphur in the common crops used as feeds. The old method of determining the amount of sulphur in plants was to burn them and measure the element found in the ash. The Wisconsin experimenters questioned the accuracy of this method and instead of burning the plants and products to be analyzed dried them in the air. According to their analyses, there were removed from the soil in a thirty bushel crop of wheat 15.7 pounds of sulphur instead of 3.55 pounds, according to the old tables. In the case of barley, oats and corn they found that the per cent of sulphur removed was correspondingly greater than the amounts indicated by the former test. In 9,000 pounds of alfalfa they found that there were taken from the soil 64.8 pounds of sulphur instead of 37.8, that with turnips the crop from an acre contained 92.2 pounds of sulphur instead of 44.4 pounds, while with 3,360 pounds of potatoes there were removed 11.5 pounds of sulphur instead of none at all or a trace, as indicated by old methods.

The application of sulphur to the soil by German experimenters was found to reduce potato disease and increase the yield. A French experimenter found that the addition of 1,000 pounds of sulphur per acre doubled the crop of beets and increased the yield of turnips a third. The facts made plain in these experiments prove that sulphur will have to be classed with other needed soil fertilizers, and the tiller of the soil who is interested in the conservation of fertility would do well to bear the fact in mind. Sulphur may be added to the soil as flowers of sulphur, in gypsum calcium sulphate and in superphosphates, in sulphates of potassium and ammonium and in stable manures.

ORCHARD RENOVATION.

A friend who lives in north Iowa, who has recently been in the vicinity of Oswego, N. Y., to pack winter apples, states that there are literally thousands of carloads of apples in New York state in old and neglected orchards that range in size from a silver quarter to a dollar that are not worth anything—garnish, scabby and diseased. But he also reports that adjoining such neglected orchards are those which have been renovated by pruning and have been cultivated and sprayed carefully, in which there is a nice crop of fruit of good size and fine quality. The writer has never had the privilege of a personal inspection of these New York orchards, but from a knowledge of instances of orchard renovation in central and western states he firmly believes that there is a good opening in the purchase of some of these rundown orchards by men who have the courage to prune heavily and the patience to wait for results. With pruning, fertilizing, spraying, cultivation and thinning of fruit where needed, one would not need to wait long for substantial returns.

PRUNING SHADE TREES.

The writer has taken note lately of a number of shade trees in the locality in which he lives, which are in bad shape as a result of the carelessness and faulty way in which large side limbs have been removed. In taking off these limbs more or less of a stub has been left, which in the growing process will probably never be covered. But worse than this is the fact that these stubs are likely to begin to decay and thus weaken the tree and ultimately cause its destruction. When such limbs are removed the final cut should be made as close to the trunk as possible, and if the diameter of the tree is considerable two secondary cuts should be made, one on either side, so as to make the exposed stub or surface more nearly conform to the conical surface of the trunk. When the surface has been properly trimmed it should be given a thick coat of white lead paint to keep out the rot fungus.

INJUSTICE TO DAIRYFARMERS.

The makers of oleomargarine bid fair to again put forth a strenuous effort at the coming session of congress to secure the passage of legislation which will make it possible for them to palm off steer fat at a fancy price under the delusion on the part of the consumer that it is dairy butter. If congress sees fit to pass a law that will prevent oleomargarine from masquerading in the guise and at the price of butter, but will give it a plain label which it will bear when it comes into the consumers' hands, well and good. But any arrangement which will enable it to reach the market under the guise of dairy butter should be squelched as simply dishonest and a gross injustice to the dairy interests.

Are You Nervous?

What makes you nervous? It is the weakness of your womanly constitution, which cannot stand the strain of the hard work you do. As a result, you break down, and ruin your entire nervous system. Don't keep this up! Take Cardui, the woman's tonic. Cardui is made from purely vegetable ingredients. It acts gently on the womanly organs, and helps them to do their proper work. It relieves pain and restores health, in a natural manner, by going to the source of the trouble and building up the bodily strength.

TAKE CARDUI The Woman's Tonic

Mrs. Grace Forster, of Man, W. Va., took Cardui. This is what she says about it: "I was so weak and nervous, I could not bear to have anyone near me. I had fainting spells, and I lost flesh every day. The first dose of Cardui helped me. Now, I am entirely cured of the fainting spells, and I cannot say enough for Cardui, for I know it saved my life." It is the best tonic for women, and Do you suffer from any of the pains peculiar to women? Take Cardui. It will help you. Ask your druggist.

NOTHING EQUALS S.S.S. FOR OLD SORES

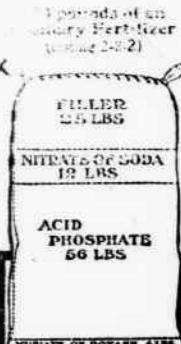

Nothing equals S. S. S. as a cure for Old Sores, because nothing equals it as a blood purifier. The source and supply of every chronic sore is impure blood; the circulation is infected with germs and morbid accumulations which are being constantly deposited into the open place. This causes ulceration and inflammation of the flesh tissues and produces a condition upon which salves, washes, lotions, etc., can have no curative effects.

I was afflicted with a sore on my face of four years standing. It was a small pimple at first but it gradually grew larger and worse in every way until I became alarmed about it and consulted several physicians. They all treated me, but the sore continued to grow worse. I saw S. S. S. advertised and commenced its use, and after taking it awhile completely removed the sore and healed it from the effect of S. S. S., and there has not been any sign of the sore since S. S. S. cured it.

Both of these are called "complete" fertilizers, but they are very different.

If you prefer ready-mixed fertilizers, insist on having enough Potash in them to raise the crop as well as to raise the price. Crops contain more than three times as much Potash as phosphoric acid.

To increase enough Potash to make it right, to increase the Potash 4 1/2 per cent. (for cotton and grain), add one bag Muriate of Potash per ton of fertilizer; to increase it 9 1/2 per cent. (cotton, tobacco, corn, etc.), add two bags Sulphate of Muriate of Potash per ton.

Talk to your dealer and ask him to carry Potash in stock or order it for you. It will pay you both, for Potash Pays.

DYNAMITERS CONVICTED.

Thirty-eight Out of Forty of the Accused Are Found Guilty.

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 28.—The United States government, with stern and decisive swiftness, today took into its possession 28 union labor officials convicted of conspiracy, or promoting explosions on non-union work throughout the land, aiding in the destruction which brought loss of life at Los Angeles, Cal., and of carrying on a "reign of terror" declared to be unparalleled in the history of the country.

Almost the entire executive staff of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers were convicted. Only two officials of that union now remain out of jail. At the head of the list of those convicted stands Frank M. Ryan, the president.

It was of this union, with 12,000 members that John J. McNamara was secretary treasurer while he conducted the dynamiting out of which the present convictions grew.

Today's convictions, coming on a scale unprecedented in a Federal court, were an aftermath of the killing of 21 persons in the blowing up of the Los Angeles Times building on October 1, 1910. McNamara and his brother, James, the Times dynamiter, were convicted in California, Ryan and his fellow officials, former associates of McNamara are federal prisoners here awaiting sentence.

Two of those convicted were not affiliated with the Iron Workers' Union, but they were found guilty of joining with the Iron Workers' officials in promoting the conspiracy.

One of these is Olaf A. Tveitmo, San Francisco, a recognized labor leader on the Pacific coast, the testimony against whom was that he aided in causing explosions at Los Angeles, wrote letters about them and referred to them as "Christmas presents," after the fatal Times explosion and that he aided in concealing evidence wanted in California. He is secretary of the California Building Trades' council.

Hiram R. Kline, Muncie, Ind., the other member of another union convicted was formerly an organizer for the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners in Detroit.

Another token of the Los Angeles explosion came in the conviction of J. E. Muncey, who was charged by the government of harboring J. P. McNamara for two weeks in Salt Lake City, while that dynamiter was fleeing from the scene of his crime. Many of those convicted were charged with knowing only of local explosions on the work of contractors who refused to recognize the union, but were thus brought into the general conspiracy. Ryan, John T. Butler, vice president of the union, Buffalo; Eugene A. Clancy, San Francisco; Frank C. Webb, New York; Mitchel J. Young, Boston; Phillip A. Cooley, New Orleans; Henry W. Legleitner, Denver, and Charles N. Beum, Minneapolis, were all convicted as having appropriated out of the union's funds $1,000 a month with which McNamara paid for explosives.

Herbert S. Hocklin, who resigned as secretary of the union only a few weeks ago and who was branded as the "Iago of the conspiracy," in having helped to instigate the plots and employing Orlie E. McManigal to carry them out, while afterwards, "betraying his fellow conspirators" to promote his own interest, stands among the most prominent of those convicted. He figured almost daily in the testimony.

Sixteen minutes was all the time required by the court to receive the jury, read its verdict of "38 guilty and two not guilty," and dismiss the jurors. That verdict brought to an end the historic three months "dynamite conspiracy" trial. Herman G. Seiffert, Milwaukee, and Daniel Buckley, Davenport, Ia., were the two men out of 49 to be adjudged "not guilty."

The verdict delivered in the somber court room in so brief a time struck first silence and then an outburst of hysterical sobbing among the women, who for months had hoped for a different result. Some of the women attempted to climb over the railing which separated them from that part of the room where the defendants sat. Arms appealingly were stretched forth. Mrs. Frank J. Higgins, Boston, fainted as she saw her husband led away. The children of others began to cry, but

Cut the High Cost of Living.

W. H. Chapman, Winnebago, Neb., tells how he did it. "My two children had a very bad cough and the doctor's medicines did them no good. I got a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, and before it was all used the children were free and cured of their cough. I saved a doctor's bill for one 25 cent bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound."

A mean stuffy cold, with hoarse wheezy breathing is just the kind that runs into bronchitis or pneumonia. Don't trifle with such serious conditions but take Foley's Honey and Tar Compound promptly. Contains no opiates. Conyers & Sykes ad.

the orders of the court were inexorable.

"Clear the court room," demanded Marshal Schmidt, who with a score of special deputies had 38 pairs of handcuffs ready.

But a scene almost like a page from Victor Hugo was yet to be witnessed on the streets in the terrorized faces and frenzied gesticulations of those who followed in the wake of the procession to the jail.

Sentence Passed.

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 30.—Imprisonment in the Federal penitentiary at Fort Leavenworth, Kans., today was imposed as punishment upon 33 labor union officials, convicted of having engaged in the destruction of property by dynamite over an area extending from Boston to Los Angeles.

Frank M. Ryan, president of the Iron Workers' International Union, whose strike was given as the motive for promoting the dynamite plots, was sentenced to seven years' imprisonment, the heaviest punishment.

Of the 38 men convicted as conspirators and aiders in the McNamara dynamiting schemes, eight of the men, all affiliated with Ryan, each were given prison terms of six years.

Two men each were given four years, twelve men each were given three years, four men each were given two years, six men each were given one year and one day, and six men, including Edward Clark, of Cincinnati, a dynamiter, who confessed, were allowed their liberty on suspended sentences.

Elimination of those who received suspended sentences left thirty-three who are to go to Leavenworth, where the shortest sentence will be one year and one day. By the liberation of Hiram R. Kline, a former official of the carpenters' union, Olaf A. Tveitmo, of San Francisco, remained as the only labor union official among the prisoners not released with the iron workers' union.

JURY FOREMAN TALKS.

Careful Consideration Given Each of the "Dynamite" Defendants.

Another token of the Los Angeles explosion came in the conviction of J. E. Muncey, who was charged by the government of harboring J. P. McNamara for two weeks in Salt Lake City, while that dynamiter was fleeing from the scene of his crime. Many of those convicted were charged with knowing only of local explosions on the work of contractors who refused to recognize the union, but were thus brought into the general conspiracy. Ryan, John T. Butler, vice president of the union, Buffalo; Eugene A. Clancy, San Francisco; Frank C. Webb, New York; Mitchel J. Young, Boston; Phillip A. Cooley, New Orleans; Henry W. Legleitner, Denver, and Charles N. Beum, Minneapolis, were all convicted as having appropriated out of the union's funds $1,000 a month with which McNamara paid for explosives.

In our minds there was no doubt as to the guilt of Ryan and other members of the executive board of the union. When we filed out to return our verdict I looked with sorrow on the faces of the women whose husbands, sons, brothers and fathers were about to be sentenced to a federal cell.

AFTER THE DYNAMITERS.

The Government May Turn Over Evidence to State Authorities.

Washington, Dec. 28.—Attorney General Wickesham will consider the question of turning over to various state authorities the evidence taken at the dynamite trial for such action as local authorities might wish to take toward the possible prosecution of the convicted men on charges of being accessories to murder and destruction of property.

According to department of justice officials, it is possible that sentences for the federal conviction might be suspended while the men were tried in state courts, or after serving part of their sentences, they might then be turned over to the state authorities.

Senator Kern does not expect to continue as counsel for the convicted men in the dynamite cases, because of the pressure of his duties in the senate. It was said today that Mr. Kern, when he associated himself with counsel for the defense, did not expect the trial would continue long enough to keep him away from Congress.

HOW BLOOD IS MADE.

The liquids and the digested foods in the alimentary canal pass through the wall of the canal into the blood. This process is called absorption and takes place chiefly from the small intestine. After absorption the blood carries the food through the body, and each cell takes from the blood the food it needs. A CHAPTER OF ACCIDENTS.

Christmas Celebrations Bring Sorrow to Several Homes.

James Crawford, the small son of Mr. A. J. Crawford, 124 West Lee street, Greensboro, suffered a painful and serious accident Thursday afternoon. The lad while playing around a saw at a wood yard near his home, came too near the saw, ending in getting three fingers cut off.

According to reports, Sherwood, the 13-year-old son of W. O. Scott, Raleigh, has consented to have his father tie him next Christmas day, the boy having come to the conclusion that Christmas is not a lucky day for him. Last year he was almost blown out of existence when a can of powder exploded and remained in a hospital for several weeks, and this Christmas he got hit in the face and eye with a lot of powder from a toy pistol and had to call in the doctor again.

Little Alpha Lashley, the four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George T. Lashley, of Raleigh, while playing about the room, drank a cup of whisky that a visitor had left at the Lashley home, and as a result death ensued. Alpha went to sleep and all efforts to arouse her failed. The dolls that she had longed for and had asked Santa Claus to bring her, were placed in her little arms. The funeral was held in Burlington.

The only accident of a very serious nature that has marred the pleasure of the Christmas season in Durham was the fatal burning of the little three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Marshall, of East Durham, Thursday night. Just how the child caught fire is not known. The mother was in another room, when she heard the screams of the baby, and running into the room found the clothes of the boy in flames.

Charles Miller, aged 15, was shot and fatally wounded in Winston Tuesday by his cousin, Ralph Johnson, aged 15, when the latter's shotgun was accidentally discharged. The boys were returning from a hunting trip near Mt. Airy. Miller was only a few feet away from Johnson, the entire charge from the shotgun entering the abdomen. He lived a few hours.

IN FAVOR OF NORTH CAROLINA.

Freight Rate Question Settled by Inter-State Commerce Commission.

A Washington dispatch under date of December 30, has the following, of interest, not only to North Carolina manufacturers, but to shippers of all classes and those receiving such shipments:

North Carolina furniture manufacturers won a victory of far-reaching effect today when the Interstate commerce commission handed down an opinion in favor of the North Carolina manufacturers in the case against the Virginia territory in which it was claimed that the rate on furniture to the Pacific coast was a discrimination against the North Carolina manufacturers in favor of Virginia furniture dealers.

The case was argued before the commissioners several months ago by Robert M. McNeill, of Washington, and E. J. Justice, of Greensboro.

Mr. McNeill said tonight that the victory won by the Tar Heel manufacturers is far-reaching and means many thousands of dollars for them. Mr. McNeill said ever since the furniture manufacturers got a start in North Carolina and moved the boundary of its market westward it has had to secure buyers in competition with Virginia territory, New York, Pennsylvania and New England, with a freight rate preference against them of $10 per car in favor of the competitor. The decision is a sweeping victory for the North Carolina shippers.

Californians in Greensboro.

In the party were Mr. William Kent and his sons, Mr. Albert E. Kent, Mr. Thomas E. Kent and Mr. William Kent, Jr., of Kentville, California.

AFTER LAYMEN'S MOVEMENT.

Picnic at Pleasant Garden.
Bishop Kilgo Has Something to Say About the Durham Water Co.

According to reports from Durham, Bishop J. C. Kilgo went after the Laymen's Missionary Movement and declared that the Durham Water Company was guilty of a monster crime in forcing muddy water down the throats of innocent women and children. Bishop Kilgo is said to have preached one of the most forcible sermons heard in Durham in many months at the union service of the congregation of Memorial and Trinity churches Sunday night.

The speaker was in good fighting trim and struck every blow straight from the shoulder, preaching a characteristic sermon, which the large congregation which filled the magnificent auditorium of Memorial church seemed to like very much. The bishop took as his text the story in the Bible which tells of the priest, the Levite, the good Samaritan and the sick man which these three found beside the road. The majority of the church people were compared to the priest, who passed the dying man by the side of the road. He jumped on the men in the church and members of society who thought they should not be bothered with helping their fellowmen because they paid a minister, and contributed their small mite to the charitable institutions.

His remarks about the Laymen's Missionary Movement came out of his discussion of the people who spent such a large amount of time studying statistics that they did not have time to do the real work of the Lord. He intimated that there was little dependence to be put in these statistical reports. What he termed a great crime of the Durham Water Company was an illustration of the way in which the helpless people of this day and time are treated. In the first place it was the duty of the officers of the city to have enforced the contract, but the company was responsible for the kind of water that was being sent to the people.

CONGRESS TO REASSEMBLE.

Law Makers to Get Busy Again After the Holidays.

Washington, Dec. 31.—Both houses of Congress will reassemble Thursday. In the senate the impeachment trial of Judge Robert W. Archbold, of the Commerce court, will be resumed, and the house Indian appropriation bill will again be under debate.

The house ways and means committee, the "money trust" investigating committee, the Glass subcommittee on banking and currency, the merchant marine committee, which has been subpoenaing witnesses for the inquiry into the so-called shipping monopolies, will prepare at once for hearings the following week.

The appropriation measures are in good shape for final passage before the short session ends, on March 4. For the first time in many years the urgent deficiency bill was avoided during the pre-holiday recess. The legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill has been passed from the house to the senate, and the India and post office appropriation bills are pending before the house. The fortifications bill, which will be cut considerably under the $7,000,000 estimate by the war department for the purpose, is ready to follow these supply measures. The army appropriation bill is almost completed and only a few finishing touches are needed on the rivers and harbors omnibus appropriation bill, which will run into a total approximating $30,000,000.

John P. Green, a North Carolina negro who has risen to a place of distinction in his adopted state of Ohio, being an ex-state senator, delivered an interesting address on Abraham Lincoln at the celebration of the anniversary of the proclamation of independence held in Greensboro on New Year's day. He still loves the South and the white friends of the old days in Guilford.
