AUDACIOUS GUESTS.

Unbidden Army of Three Hundred Enjoyed Themselves at a Private Reception at the White House.

A recent dispatch from Washington says: It has been whispered about for over two weeks that quite a number of uninvited guests obtained admission to the presidential reception given to the diplomatic corps some weeks ago. Two thousand invitations were issued, a number which exceeded the capacity of the house, and the daily papers widely advertised the fact that only invited persons were expected, and no person applying for admission to the Executive Mansion would be admitted.

It was originally proposed that the guests should show their invitations, but this did not meet with the approval of President, so it was decided to station at the entrance a number of men from the Senate and the House of Representatives, and the doorkeeper of the White House, and a man familiar with the names of the society people. They were given typewritten lists containing the names of the invited guests, and each person on the list was checked off as he or she appeared. When a man or woman entered who was not recognized their card was requested; if they had to read their names and addresses were taken. When the list and cards were turned over the next day for inspection to Col. Bingham, who has charge of official ceremonies, it was found that 300 persons had forced themselves into the White House who had not been invited. Letters were written these people asking for an explanation of their presence, but no responses were received, and many of the names and addresses are thought to have been fictitious.

Our Own Standard.

He was wise who wrote, "Half the sting of poverty or small means is gone when one keeps house for one's own comfort, and not for the comfort of one's neighbors."

Deny it as we will, few of us have the moral force to set up a standard of our own, based upon our own incomes and our own particular home environment. We commit the folly of regulating our expenses by the income of some else. If the Browns across the way hang expensive lace curtains, we are discontented until lace curtains have gone up to our windows, no matter how much smaller our income may be than that of the Browns. If the Smiths put down a velvet carpet, our neat and pretty ingrain becomes an eyesore to us. We are extremely mindful of what our neighbors will think about many things that ought not to concern them in the least. We have no standards of our own. Our dress, and even our tables, must be regulated by the standards of others. We have not the courage nor the independence to be indifferent to the comment of our neighbors. This form of moral cowardice is causing many families to live beyond their incomes. They can face debt and forfeit their self respect easier than they can face the unfavorable comment of their friends and neighbors. The extent to which this imitation of others is carried would be ludicrous did it not bring so much unhappiness in its train. It is frequently the direct cause of the discord and discontent and debt that have driven happiness from the hearth-stone. Let us have a standard of our own, based upon our own tastes, our own incomes, our own needs, and let us cheerfully and bravely adhere to this standard, heedless of that dreadful bugbear, "What will the neighbors say?"—Harper's Bazar.

For chapped hands and lips use Almond Cream Lotion. Every bottle guaranteed to give satisfaction. Howard Gardner, druggist, Greensboro.

His First Plea.

In a southern city a few years ago a young lawyer undertook the defense of an old darkey who had been arrested as a chicken thief, and who in the days of slavery had been owned by the lawyer's father.

It was the young man's first plea, and was not brilliant in either construction or delivery. The darkey looked a pretty severe sentence, his guilt being well proved.

"Thank you, sah," said the prisoner, addressing the judge cheerfully when the sentence had been pronounced; "dat's mighty hard, but I want anyhow near what I expect. I thought, sah, dat bein' my character and pore Mars' speech, dey'd hang me, sure."

Now both grand-juries these two negroes, and Dr. Pierce's—specially large than most—will get powerful in every operation. The best Laxer Pill ever made, and the best Laxer Pills ever made, and the best Laxer Pills ever made. Whole and 25 cents.

ROAD CONSTRUCTION.

TAUGHT AT THE RHODE ISLAND AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.

Two Years' Course on Highway Building Provided—Instruction Both Theoretical and Practical—Students Will Perform Actual Work on the Roads.

A most excellent departure has been made in Rhode Island, where a course of instruction in practical roadbuilding has been instituted in the Agricultural college at Kingston, and the papers announce, with justifiable exultation, that "this state leads the world" in such an undertaking.

The course of instruction is to extend over two years and has been laid out after consultation with General Stone. In the classroom theoretical instruction will be provided, and the roadmaking plant of the college will furnish ample opportunity for the acquisition of practical knowledge. Students who wish to enter the course must be well grounded in the common branches, including algebra and geometry. During the first year the course will include higher geometry, trigonometry, surveying and other English studies. In the second year physics, electricity, physiology, geology, mineralogy and steam engineering will be taken. The practical work will run side by side with the theoretical during the course. It will include actual work on the roads, handling the shovel, driving horses, running the stone crusher, traction engine and road roller and all machinery operated by the department. The student will thus actually perform all the varied operations connected with roadbuilding as well as receive competent instruction in all that pertains to the art. In this way not only will a large number of young men receive most valuable training, but a demand will probably quickly arise for special instruction for older men, who now are superintendents of streets, commissioners of highways and engineers.

WE SEE THEM EVERY DAY.

There is here a field which is not yet crowded or even full. As the Providence Journal remarks: "Of late years there has been a demand for competent roadbuilders all through the states that have been constructing macadam highways. In most instances either theoretical engineers or highway superintendents have risen to fill the places. And to the sorrow and costs of the big cities and the disappointment of the counties, in many instances, the latter have been compelled to pay for the lack of practical knowledge of the civil engineers and the lack of theoretical knowledge of the highway supervisors."

"But even with this school of men who have been educated by building the roads there have not been enough to go around in all the localities where good roads are needed and where there is money to build them. A man who thoroughly understands road construction today may easily get a position. What is needed is the educated man, who not only knows how to build a costly, ideal road, but one who can economically construct an eight foot country road—a man who knows both the theoretical and practical end of road construction. This is the style of graduate which the Rhode Island institution aims to turn out. At the end of the course they will have graduated a man who can plan the highway, draw the contracts, and who is able to run the machinery to build the road; a man who knows the business from the hoe handle to the tripod, from shoveling coal under the boiler of the steam roller to drawing the plans—a road engineer."

"There are a number of openings which a practical roadbuilder may fill. He may become a road expert for the United States government. By passing the civil service examinations of the road division, department of agriculture, he will be put on the list of eligibles, and as soon as a vacancy occurs will receive an appointment from the government. Then the builders of road machinery have a constant call for men to set up their plants in the various towns and cities which are constantly acquiring such equipments. They have to send with the machinery men who know all about operating it. As a rule, the men they send out are shop hands, and, beyond the rule of thumb experience with these identical machines, they know but little. The builders say there is a constant demand for roadbuilders with these plants and that they consider that this is a good field for young men."

"But the largest field for men educated as roadbuilders will probably be found as highway superintendents among the various counties and towns. There are few first class men in this line, and, with the spread of the good roads movement, the demand for such experts is growing."

A Good Suggestion.

Complaint is made that the roads running out of Washington are in poor condition. Why should not the national capital be the center of good roads, and all streets and highways in the District of Columbia be so built and cared for that they would be of interest to innumerable visitors and perpetual object lessons?—L. A. W. Bulletin.

Work For Good Roads.

The coming six months will afford a splendid opportunity to agitate for better highways, develop popular sentiment and force it upon legislatures.

IN MEMORIAM.

Achsah Pleas Jones, wife of James R. Jones, a beloved and gifted minister of Friends church, residing at Guilford College, N. C., departed this life Jan. 27, 1898.

The subject of this obituary notice was born in Spiceland, Henry county, Indiana, Dec. 28, 1839. Her father, Aaron Pleas, was born in Pasquotank county, N. C. Her mother, Lydia Pleas, nee Gilbert, was born near High Point, Guilford county, N. C. She received her education in Richmond, Indiana, and taught school a few years before she was married to James R. Jones April 7, 1862. She came with her husband and two daughters to North Carolina in the fall of 1879, and lived in High Point till the spring of 1880, then moved to Summerfield, then at the close of 1885 to Archdale, Randolph county, thence to Greensboro in 1891, thence to Guilford College in the fall of 1896. Achsah P. Jones was a faithful wife and a devoted, indulgent mother. Her husband was much from home as a minister of the gospel throughout his branch of the church in North Carolina, and as an evangelist among the Methodists especially and to some extent among Christians in this state, and since his home has been in North Carolina he has gone to all the Yearly Meetings of Friends on the American continent east of the Mississippi, and to Kansas and Iowa west of the river, and to all save one east of the river repeatedly. At one time he was absent seven months. Though a frail woman physically, she was intelligent, cultured, strong in spirit, bright and hopeful, self-denying; and though her husband was so much from the home circle she was favored to train her daughters, and by her counsel and devotion aid her husband in his large work for God and humanity. She was a life-long member of Friends church and for the last sixteen years an esteemed elder therein. Her self-sacrificing, self-denying life has been an inspiration to many of her acquaintances.

As is the general custom of Friends, a religious or funeral meeting was held in New Garden meeting house, Guilford College, at 2 o'clock p. m., on the 29th inst. After the singing of a hymn, "Go Tell It to Jesus," the reading of part of the 145th Psalm, beginning at the 9th verse, by Albert Peele, prayer by Rufus P. King, Mary C. Woody delivered a funeral discourse from Revelations, 7:16, in which she brought out much feeling, sympathy and confident joy as to the future life beyond the "film or mist called death" to all who like the departed confidently trust in God through Jesus Christ. A significant point made as to the life, service and reward of the departed, was that though her life was quite secluded—limited to her own home and local church—she shared in the labor, service and reward of her husband's ministry in which he has been the instrument in the conversion of hundreds of souls and in building up many in the faith, illustrating "As his part is that goeth down to the battle, so shall his part be that tarrieth by the stuff; they shall part alike." At the close the favorite hymn of the deceased, "Home of the Soul," was sung. She had been an invalid much of her life and for the last four months was confined to her home. Thus closed a life that has been a blessing to the world. A native and long a resident of Indiana she came to let her light shine in the Southland, the native place of her ancestors, where her body was shrouded for the tomb by loving hands and laid to rest on a sunny slope of the old New Garden cemetery by other loving hands in sight of her new home on earth, which she liked so much and in which she lived one brief week, there to rest while angels keep vigil till the trump of God shall wake the sleeping dead who die in the Lord and transport them to the mansions above. Among the redeemed throng we expect to see her. She leaves a husband, three daughters and many friends who mourn her departure, but let as those who have no hope. Let her daughters go forth to emulate her virtues and as larger opportunities offer improve upon them.

MADRID, Feb. 3.—The cost of the Cuban war from February 1895, to the end of 1897, is officially estimated at $240,000,000, besides the arrears due from the Cuban Treasury, amounting to $40,000,000.

The Imparcial complains that commercial negotiations between Spain, Cuba and the United States are being intrusted to Senor de Lome, the Spanish minister at Washington, and urges the government to appoint experts to examine the terms for the treaty on Spain's behalf.

SECRETARY WILSON COMING.

He Will Visit North and South Carolina and Florida.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Secretary Wilson, of the Agricultural Department, will leave Washington in a week or ten days for a visit to the South, his objective points being North and South Carolina and Florida. Probably the most of his time will be spent in the latter state, where Secretary Wilson wants to look into the question of raising high grade tobacco. He believes Florida to be capable of producing tobacco almost, if not quite equal to the finest produced in Cuba or Sumatra. If this opinion is borne out, it may result in the purchase and planting, under government supervision, of foreign tobacco seed, with a view to determine just what may be accomplished under careful cultivation.

Treating the Wrong Disease.

Many times women call on their family physicians, suffering, as they imagine, one from dyspepsia, another from heart disease, another from liver or kidney disease, another from nervous exhaustion or prostration, another with pain here and there, and in this way they all present alike to themselves and their easy-going and indifferent, or over-busy doctor, separate and distinct diseases, for which he prescribes his pills and potions, assuming them to be such, when in reality, they are all only symptoms caused by some womb disease. The physician ignorant of the cause of suffering, encourages his practice until large bills are made. The suffering patient gets no better, but probably worse, by reason of the delay, wrong treatment and consequent complications. A proper medicine, like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, directed to the cause would have entirely removed the diseases, thereby dispelling all those distressing symptoms and instituting comfort instead of prolonged misery.

Thousands of Sheep Frozen.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Feb. 2.—Thousands of sheep are reported to have perished from cold and starvation in western Wyoming. The cold has been intense for sixty days and old-timers say that it is the hardest winter they have seen for the past 19 years. Carbon county has 500,000 sheep and flock masters there fear the loss will amount to 25 per cent. Losses among cattle will not be so heavy, as owners had been preparing for several years to feed their stock during the severe weather.

CUBA'S SAD FLIGHT.

Consul Barker Says the Destitution is Growing, and the Death Rate Increases Hourly.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Hon. Chas. W. Russell, assistant United States attorney in the Department of Justice, has received a letter, acknowledging the receipt of a draft for $68, from United States Consul Barker at Sagua la Grande, Cuba, whose district of Las Villas embraces Santa Clara, the capital of the province of that name, San Domingo, Remedios and another city in the same province in the eastern part of the island.

In explanation of his estimate of the number of deaths from starvation up to the time of his recent visit, viz., 200,000, Mr. Russell says that he got that number from the common talk in Cuba. For instance, he asked a Cuban what the insurgents said about accepting the offer of autonomy, and the answer was that Spain had put 200,000 corpses between her and them, referring evidently to the reconcentrados. In his letter, Consul Barker says:

"Up to date my district has received nothing of the relief sent by our people, except through your thoughtful remembrance. Of course Consul-General Lee has not nor will he ever, in my humble judgment, have sufficient contributions sent to Havana to share with us. In view of this, contributions like yours, in money, will aid in saving thousands, who must die without sustenance and medicine immediately furnished. For instance, this remittance from the generous employees in your department will prove more beneficial than ten times the sum thirty days hence.

"I have certificates signed by the alcaldes of the principal cities and towns in Sagua la Grande zone alone, showing that my estimate of 50,000 perishing souls was under rather than above the mark. To my mind and to all Christian people there is but one issue in this Cuban question, viz., destitution and starvation. The status quo is as when you left—save the destitution grows and the death rate increases hourly."

Mr. Russell says that any contributions of money may safely be sent to United States Consul Walter B. Barker, at Sagua la Grande, Cuba. Food supplies can be purchased there.

The Progressive Farmer Opposes Butler.

RALEIGH, Feb. 7.—At last the Progressive Farmer, the organ of the National Farmers' Alliance, attacks Senator Butler as Populist national chairman. It says that while it heartily approves his course as Senator, it does not approve the St. Louis convention; that that convention was a grand farce and a failure, almost a criminal mistake. The statement is further made that "in advocating or rather secretly inaugurating fusion, Butler is doing the Democratic party more real and lasting service and Populism more unpardonable injury than any campaigner who ever fixed a voter. He is building up Democracy at the expense of Populism. Everywhere diminished Populism is the fruition of his policy. There is overwhelming evidence of his unfaithfulness and incapacity as the leader of a once great and growing party."

A Sale of Land Set Aside.

RALEIGH, Feb. 4.—In equity in the United States circuit court here today Judge Purnell set aside the sale of the Taylor tract of land in Chatham county valued at $39,000 sold under mortgage by D. F. Caldwell to the Langdon-Henszey Coal Company and mortgaged by the latter to Caldwell for the purchase money. The property is supposed to have coal on it.

No San Jose Scale in Greensboro, N. C.

When Prof. Brown and myself examined Greensboro for the San Jose Scale we were sure we had found it on Gaston and Edgeworth streets. I had never seen the San Jose Scale in the winter time when it was in its dormant condition, but from what I had seen and examined, I felt sure it was the true Scale. The Landscape Gardener, Mr. Withers, who has been in Greensboro for some time, also pronounced it San Jose Scale, and said he was in California when it broke out there and had seen it often and was well acquainted with it. Samples of it were sent to Prof. Massey, State Entomologist, who was in doubt about it, so forwarded the sample to Prof. Howard, Chief Entomologist at the Department at Washington, and he decided that it was not San Jose Scale but was Chionaspis lintneri, and the treatment for it should be the same as for the San Jose Scale. It is a bad Scale, but does not spread rapidly like the San Jose, but should be exterminated.

I am glad that it has turned out so, and can say now, after a pretty thorough examination, that Greensboro is clear of the San Jose Scale, and all nurserymen of the State are clear and everyone has a certificate that is required by law signed by Prof. Withers, chairman, and Prof. Massey, Entomologist.

Smallpox in the South.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Feb. 4.—Dozens of communities in East Tennessee, North Georgia and Alabama are suffering from an invasion of smallpox. It is estimated that there are from 1,000 to 1,500 cases. The spread of the disease has been so alarming that the boards of health of the three States have been asked to take action.

In one county alone in Georgia—Barton—there are 250 cases. All the smaller towns and the cities have passed compulsory vaccination ordinances, and there are more sore arms in the three States at this time than have been known before in a long time. There are several cases of the disease in this city.

The Southern Railway Company today issued orders to carry nobody suspected of having smallpox.

It orders a dual sale of the road—that is, a sale as a whole or in parts. It is not a reversal of Judge Simonton's decision, but a modification, and is in compliance with the terms of the mortgage. It is said the Baltimore bond-holders will appeal from it to the United States Supreme Court.

Three dwelling houses and one store at Wilmington, all occupied and owned by white people, were burned at 4 o'clock Sunday morning by fire bugs. All simultaneously burst into flames and were doomed before the arrival of the firemen. Chief Melton, of the fire department, occupied one, and after seeing his family safe, sounded the alarm. His house was saturated with oil and a quantity of lightwood was underneath. Only a very small portion of the contents of any of the buildings was saved.

Chronic Dyspepsia Cured.

AFTER suffering for nearly thirty years from dyspepsia, Mrs. H. E. Dugdale, wife of a prominent business man of Warsaw, N. Y., writes: "For 28 years, I was a constant sufferer from dyspepsia and a weak stomach. The lightest food produced distress, causing severe pain and the formation of gas. No matter how careful of my diet I suffered agonizing pain after eating. I was treated by many physicians and tried numerous remedies without permanent help. Two years ago I began taking Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills and Nerve. Within a week I commenced improving, and persisting in the treatment I was soon able to eat what I liked, with no evil effects. I keep them at hand and a single dose dispels any old symptoms."

Items of Interest Culled from Our Exchanges.

High Point Citizen: H. B. Donnell, who has been making High Point his home for several months, left for Greensboro yesterday, where he will reside in the future. Someone entered the residence of Mr. H. C. Bencini early yesterday morning and took possession of about $600 in money which he had stored away in an old chest. This is a great loss to Mr. Bencini, who has worked hard for the money.

Salisbury Truth: At a meeting of Concord Presbytery in the First Presbyterian church here Friday Rev. John Wakefield was received by certificate from the Wilmington Presbytery. Rev. Wakefield will have charge of the China Grove, Spencer and probably Lee street churches.

Oxford Ledger: It is rumored that Col. B. S. Royster, of Oxford, and Mr. R. B. Boone, of Durham, have the solicitor's bee buzzing in their hats. Either one of them would make most excellent prosecuting officers.

Leaksville Gazette: We learn that Mr. H. P. Foard will not only build a residence for himself between this place and Spray very soon, but will also erect about forty tenement houses for employees of the Woolen Mills.

Salisbury World: A. J. Warner, who has accepted a position with the Proximity mills at Greensboro, left for his new home this morning. His family will go home Thursday.

A thrill of terror is experienced when a brassy cough of croup sounds through the house at night. But the terror soon changes to relief after One Minute Cough Cure has been administered. Safe and harmless for children. Howard Gardner.

—We desire to acknowledge the receipt of a very handsome and valuable book, viz.: The Annual Catalogue of High Grade Seeds issued by Messrs T. W. Wood & Sons, Richmond, Va. Twenty years experience and study of the requirements of the South has enabled this firm to produce a manual of the farm and garden complete in every detail. Among the many interesting subjects contained in this book will be found a calendar which enables the farmer and gardener to have fresh vegetables on their tables every day in the year, at a very small cost. This is indeed a luxury. The information concerning the cultivation of all crops is very useful and practical, not only giving in full the most improved methods of culture, but also calling attention to those crops which yield the largest profits. The reputation which this firm has won is a sufficient guarantee of the quality of the seeds which they handle. We think that every one in any way connected with farming or gardening should have this book. It is sent free to all who apply to the above named firm.

—The Veteran Corps Band concert at the Academy Friday evening was one of the exceptional musical treats with which we are occasionally favored. The organization could hardly ask for a more appreciative audience, and music-loving people could not reasonably demand an entertainment which embraces more meritorious features for the money. The soloists, Miss Ogden, Prof. Lax and Prof. Nowack, were especial favorites with the large audience. The band fully deserves all the praise it has received on its southern tour.

We are anxious to do a little good in this world and can think of no pleasanter or better way to do it than by recommending One Minute Cough Cure as a preventive of pneumonia, consumption and other serious lung troubles that follow neglected colds. Howard Gardner.

—Among the marshals for the Newberne Fish and Oyster Fair, to be held the week beginning February 28, we find the names of the following young Greensboro gentlemen: W. B. Merrimon, R. D. Douglas, C. N. McAdoo, Ed. Williamson, Percy Page, John Fariss, Jim Williamson, Z. V. Taylor, J. B. Sneed, John Cator, J. Dolph McAdoo, R. S. Mebane, W. G. Mebane, J. S. Schenck, Henry Tate, F. Reid, Jno. Williams, Hal Mebane.

After years of untold suffering from piles, B. W. Pursell, of Knittersville, Pa., was cured by using a single box of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Skin diseases such as eczema, rash, pimples and obstinate sores are readily cured by this famous remedy. Howard Gardner.

A Good Suggestion.

EDITOR PATRIOT: It must be gratifying to the friends of public education to see the awakening interest in public schools throughout our borders. Over $5,000 has been contributed already to supplement the term of the public schools in various counties, and there is reason to hope that this is but a beginning. Many felt discouraged at the almost total failure of local taxation; but certainly we may feel encouraged when various townships show a willingness to supplement by private subscriptions the money to be used in the public schools.

As yet I know of no township in this county moving in this direction, but hope to hear of some township soon deciding to take this advance step.

The state cannot supplement donations to any one or two schools in a township; the fund must benefit, to some extent, all of the public schools in the township. The state will supplement the fund at any time before the close of the school year in June. The money raised for this purpose must be placed in the hands of the county treasurer who then forwards a sworn statement to the State Superintendent. A warrant is then issued by the State Superintendent for an amount equal to that raised by the township. In this way the state contributes an amount equal to the amount raised by subscription in the township, provided it is not more than $500.

It is to be hoped that some townships in Guilford will avail themselves of this opportunity to prolong their schools.

Yours truly,
W. T. WHITSETT.
