—If you need a new carpet this fall, or matting, floor oil cloth, rugs, art squares, window curtains or shades don't fail to go and look through Thacker & Brockmann's line, as they have put in a very complete stock of these things this season.

—Danville Register: "Mr. Orin A. Neal left yesterday for Greensboro to engage in the leaf tobacco business there. In the departure of Mr. Neal from Danville the city loses one of its best known young men. His friends wish him success in his new undertaking."

—Mrs. Sallie Clendenin is stopping a few days with friends and relatives in the city. She is returning to her home in Brazil, Tenn., from Haw River, where she was summoned to the bedside of her husband, Dr. W. G. Clendenin, whose death occurred a fortnight ago.

—Mr. T. B. Yuille and family left yesterday for Durham, where he will represent the American Tobacco Co. on that market. He made many friends here who regret his departure. His successor here, Mr. W. L. Ferrell, comes well recommended and we extend him a cordial welcome.

—High Point Enterprise: The many friends of Brother Abe Kirkman were glad to see him here Tuesday night. Guilford county has no better man than he. He has been register of deeds for a number of years, has made a good officer, and High Point people, irrespective of party, generally vote for him.

—A gentleman from near McLeansville who returned the first of the week from a visit in Alamance tells us the Populists down there are repudiating the fusion deal and almost without exception will vote with the Democrats. They declare their unwillingness to foster negro rule in a white man's state.

—Brown's buyers have returned from New York, where they bought an immense line of dry goods and everything that pertains to a first class dry goods store. Mr. Brown has bought the interests of several of his former partners in the Brown Mercantile Co. and will hereafter devote his whole time to the dry goods business. See his new ad.

—Mr. Geo. H. Royster announces in a new advertisement this week that he has adjusted his recent financial difficulties and resumed control of his store. We are glad to see him on his feet again and hope that he will in the future avoid misfortunes of a like character. He will carry a good stock, sell for cash and continue to treat his customers right.

—The county commissioners were in session Monday. About the only business aside from the routine was the appointment of poll holders for the approaching election. Aside from one change the men appointed to hold the election were those named by the various county chairmen. Mr. Jos. Worth's son was named in his stead, he being a candidate.

—The fire department turned out at midnight Saturday night in response to an alarm turned in from box 42. Smoke coming from the Fields building, on Fayetteville street, in which are located the Southern Varnish Co., the Consumers Brewing Co. and the Glenn Manufacturing Co., caused one of the brewing agency employees to turn in the alarm but no fire could be found.

—Mrs. Isaac Stanley, of Centre township, who has been sick for several months, died Sunday night and was buried Tuesday. She was a sister of Mr. J. A. Hodgins, an earnest consistent christian, a devoted wife and mother and an excellent neighbor. She was a member of the Society of Friends and will be sadly missed in her church and home. Five children survive her.

—Matthews, Chisholm & Stroud, in their new ad. this week tell you how they have provided for your comfort. It will be to your interest to call and see these gentlemen. Mr. Will R. Rankin, who is a recent addition to this already strong and popular firm, is giving all his time to his patrons and is anxious to fit you up in one of their splendidly made all wool garments at $10.

—Remember that you can get at Gardner's a corn cure that is guaranteed. Ask for Peerless Corn Cure.

—Mr. H. E. Brown, son of Mr. H. C. Brown, of Hillsdale, and late a member of Battery G, Third Artillery, U. S. A., returned Monday from Manila, where he went with his command, a part of the third expedition, in May. Mr. Brown's term of enlistment expired in August. He participated in the capture of Manila and tells many interesting things about that city and its inhabitants. He was not favorably impressed with either the place or people. Going over he spent about thirty-five days on the water, losing a pound of flesh each day. Coming back the trip occupied about twenty days, during which time he gained nearly a pound and a half a day. Honolulu he found to be a very attractive city, more so than Hong Kong, China, or Yokohama, Japan, both of which he visited. Mr. Brown has had all the army experience he cares for. He enlisted in 1893 when scarcely more than eighteen years old, and has seen much of the world, particularly in the last few months.

—If you are thinking of using some hair tonic remember Gardner's Rum and Quinine for the hair, 8 ounce bottle 50 cents.

—New House to Rent on corner of Morehead Avenue and Spring streets. 9 rooms with bath and city water. J. A. Groome, Greensboro.

—Millinery Opening. Mrs. Nannie Weatherly will have her display of fall and winter millinery and notions on Saturday, Oct. 5th. She extends a cordial invitation to all the ladies to attend. 109 East Market street.

—Millinery Opening. Mrs. Rosa Hamner Carter requests the presence of all the ladies at her Fall and Winter Opening of Millinery on Friday and Saturday, Oct. 7th and 8th, 1898. 107 West Market street, Greensboro, N. C.

—Solicitor W. P. Bynum was appointed by Governor Russell Saturday to serve out the unexpired term of Judge Adams. He is holding his first court in Bladen county this week. Mr. W. D. Merritt succeeds Mr. Bynum as solicitor. The latter have swapped places on the Republican ticket. There are now two Judges Bynum, but it isn't safe to get them confused and call Judge John Gray Bynum a Republican.

—See S. S. Mitchell & Co. before you buy your wheat fertilizers. They handle all grades and will sell you at right prices.

—The Banner warehouse greets our readers with a new advertisement this week. It would be a hard matter for us to say anything good about the Banner that the tobacco growers don't already know, and we will simply refer them to the ad. Messrs. Smith, Blackburn & Wharton, Auctioneer Brandon, Shell Porter and a number of other expert warehousemen will be found there at all times ready to serve their friends.

—Notice—My thoroughbred registered bull, "Romola's Chief," will stand at my stable near Finishing Mill.

—Two "trusty" road convicts from the Freeman Mill camp came to town Saturday night riding the camp mules. They hadn't been here long before a guard followed and took them in tow, heading for the main camp just north of town rather than travel back to the Mill, a distance of several miles. Soon after starting one of them, Joe Quicker concluded he didn't care to go further and in the "argument" which followed he was shot in the arm, but not severely hurt. The other man "took to the woods," but afterward turned up at camp.

—Barker's wholesale liquor house, on Court square, was entered by burglars Sunday night, but so far as is known only a few bottles of liquor were taken. The glass was broken from one of the windows and an entrance effected in that way. Drops of blood about the floor caused the police to believe that the burglar had cut himself on the broken glass and the next morning they arrested two colored boys who had been sleeping in a hallway nearby, one of them having a bloody foot. While the job was evidently done by amateurs it is questionable if the right parties are suspected.

A HUNTED ROEBUCK.

REV. DR. TALMAGE DRAWS A LESSON FROM THE CHASE.

Man Is Like the Hart Fleeing From the Dogs—Pursued by Sin. He Finds Safety and Refreshment in the Waters of Eternal Life.

[Copyright, 1898, by American Press Association.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Dr. Talmage, drawing his illustrations from a deer hunt, in this discourse calls all the pursued and troubled of the earth to come and slake their thirst at the deer river of divine comfort; text, Psalms xlii, 1. "As the hart panteth after the water brooks, so panteth my soul after thee, O God."

David, who must some time have seen a deer hunt, points us here to a hunted stag making for the water. The fascinating animal called in my text the hart is the same animal that in sacred and profane literature is called the stag, the roebuck, the hind, the gazelle, the reindeer. In central Syria, in Bible times, there were whole pasture fields of them, as Solomon suggests when he says, "I charge you by the hinds of the field." Their antlers jutted from the long grass as they lay down. No hunter who has been long in "John Brown's tract" will wonder that in the Bible they were classed among clean animals, for the deers, the showers, the lakes, washed them as clean as the sky. When Isaac the patriarch longed for venison, Esau shot and brought home a roebuck. Isaiah compares the sprightliness of the restored cripple of millennial times to the long and quick jump of the stag, saying, "The lame shall leap as the hart." Solomon expressed his disgust at a hunter who, having shot a deer, is too lazy to cook it, saying, "The slothful man roasteth not that which he took in hunting."

But one day David, while far from the home from which he had been driven, and sitting near the mouth of a lonely cave where he had lodged, and on the banks of a pond or river, hears a pack of hounds in swift pursuit. Because of the previous silence of the forest the clangor startles him, and he says to himself, "I wonder what those dogs are after." Then there is a crackling in the brushwood, and the loud breathing of some rushing wonder of the woods, and the antlers of a deer rend the leaves of the thicket and by an instinct which all hunters recognize the creature plunges into a pool or lake or river to cool its thirst and at the same time by its capacity for swifter and longer swimming to get away from the foaming harriers. David says to himself: "Aha, that is myself! Saul after me, Absalom after me, enemies without number after me; I am chased; their bloody muzzles at my heels, barking at my good name, barking after my body, barking after my soul. Oh, the hounds, the hounds! But look there," says David to himself; "that reindeer has splashed into the water. It puts its hot lips and nostrils into the cool wave that washes its lathered flanks and it swims away from the fiery canines and it is free at last. Oh, that I might find in the deep, wide lake of God's mercy and consolation escape from my pursuers! Oh, for the waters of life and rescue! 'As the hart panteth after the water brooks, so panteth my soul after thee, O God.'"

The Bible True to Nature.

The Adirondacks are now populous with hunters, and the deer are being slain by the score. Talking one summer with a hunter, I thought I would like to see whether my text was accurate in its allusion, and as I heard the dogs baying a little way off and supposed they were on the track of a deer, I said to one of the hunters in rough corduroy, "Do the deer always make for water when they are pursued?" He said: "Oh, yes, mister. You see they are a hot and thirsty animal, and they know where the water is, and when they hear danger in the distance they lift their antlers and sniff the breeze and start for the Raquet or Loon or Saranac, and we get into our cedar shell boat or stand by the 'runaway' with rifle loaded and ready to blaze away."

My friends, that is one reason why I like the Bible so much—its allusions are so true to nature. Its partridges are real partridges, its ostriches real ostriches and its reindeer real reindeer. I do not wonder that this antlered glory of the text makes the hunter's eye sparkle and his cheek glow and his respiration quicken. To say nothing of its usefulness, although it is the most useful of all game, its flesh delicious, its skin turned into human apparel, its sinews fashioned into bowstrings, its antlers putting handles on cutlery and the shavings of its horn used as a pungent restorative, the name taken from the hart and called hartshorn. But putting aside its usefulness, this enchanting creature seems made out of gracefulness and elasticity. What an eye, with a liquid brightness as if gathered up from a hundred lakes at sunset! The horns, a coronal branching into every possible curve, and after it seems complete ascending into other projections of exquisite fineness, a tree of polished bone, uplifted in pride or swung down for awful combat. The hart is velocity embodied; timidity impregnated; the enchantment of the woods. Its eye lustrous in life and pathetic in death. The splendid animal a complete rhythm of muscle and bone and color and attitude and locomotion whether couched in the grass among the shadows or a living bolt shot through the forest, or turning at bay to attack the hounds, or roaring for its last fall under the buckshot of the trapper. It is a splendid appearance that the painter's pencil fails to sketch, and only a hunter's dream on a pillow of hemlock at the foot of St. Regis is able to picture. When 20 miles from any settlement it comes down at eventide to the lake's edge to drink among the lily pods and with its sharp edged hoof shatters the crystal of Long lake it is very picturesque. But only when after miles of pursuit, with heaving sides and lolling tongue and eyes swimming in death the stag leaps from the cliff into upper Saranac can you realize how much David had suffered from his troubles and how much he wanted God when he expressed himself in the words of the text, "As the hart panteth after the water brooks, so panteth my soul after thee, O God."

Like a Deer at Bay.

Well, now, let all those who have coming after them the lean hounds of poverty, or the black hounds of persecution, or the spotted hounds of vicissitude, or the pale hounds of death, or who are in anywise pursued, run to the wide, deep, glorious lake of divine solace and rescue. The most of the men and women whom I happened to know at different times, if not now, have had trouble after them, sharp muzzled troubles, swift troubles, all devouring troubles. Many of you have made the mistake of trying to fight them. Somebody meanly attacked you, and you attacked them; they depreciated you, you depreciated them, or they overreached you in a bargain, and you tried, in Wall street parlance, to get a corner on them, or you have had a bereavement, and instead of being submissive you are fighting that bereavement. You charge on the doctors who failed to effect a cure, or you charge on the carelessness of the railroad company through which the accident occurred, or you are a chronic invalid, and you fret and worry and scold and wonder why you cannot be well like other people, and you angrily blame the neuralgia, or the laryngitis, or the ague, or the sick headache. The fact is you are a deer at bay. Instead of running to the waters of divine consolation and slaking your thirst and cooling your body and soul in the good cheer of the gospel and swimming away into the mighty depths of God's love you are fighting a whole kennel of harriers.

I saw in the Adirondacks a dog lying across the road, and he seemed unable to get up, and I said to some hunters near by, "What is the matter with that dog?" They answered, "A deer hurt him." And I saw he had a great swollen paw and a battered head, showing where the antlers struck him. And the probability is that some of you might give a mighty clip to your pursuers, you might damage their business, you might worry them into ill health, you might hurt them as much as they have hurt you, but after all it is not worth while. You only have hurt a hound. Better be off for the upper Saranac, into which the mountains of God's eternal strength look down and moor their shadows. As for your physical disorders, the worst strychnine you can take is fretfulness, and the best medicine is religion.

I know people who were only a little disordered, yet have fretted themselves into complete valetudinarianism, while others put their trust in God and come up from the very shadow of death and have lived comfortably 25 years with only one lung. A man with one lung, but God with him, is better off than a godless man with two lungs. Some of you have been for a long time sailing around Cape Fear when you ought to have been sailing around Cape Good Hope. Do not turn back, but go ahead. The deer will accomplish more with its swift feet than with its horns.

Waters of Comfort.

I saw whole chains of lakes in the Adirondacks, and from one height you can see 30, and there are said to be over 800 in the great wilderness of New York. So near are they to each other that your mountain guide picks up and carries the boat from lake to lake, the small distance between them for that reason called a "carry." And the realm of God's word is one long chain of light, refreshing lakes, each promise a lake, a very short carry between them, and though for ages the pursued have been drinking out of them they are full up to the top of the green banks, and the same David describes them, and they seem so near together that in three different places he speaks of them as a continuous river, saying, "There is a river the streams whereof shall make glad the city of God." "Thou shalt make them drink of the rivers of thy pleasures." "Thou greatly enrichest it with the river of God, which is full of water."

But many of you have turned your back on that supply and confront your trouble, and you are soured with your circumstances, and you are fighting society, and you are fighting a pursuing world, and troubles, instead of driving you into the cool lake of heavenly comfort, have made you stop and turn around and lower your head, and it is simply antler against tooth. I do not blame you. Probably under the same circumstances I would have done worse. But you are all wrong. You need to do as the reindeer does in February and March—it sheds its horns. The rabbinical writers allude to this resignation of antlers by the stag when they say of a man who ventures his money in risky enterprises, "He has hung it on the stag's horns," and a proverb in the far east tells a man who has foolishly lost his fortune to go and find where the deer sheds her horns. My brother, quit the antagonism of your circumstances, quit misanthropy, quit complaint, quit pitching into your pursuers, be as wise as next spring will be all the deer of the Adirondacks. Shed your horns.

The Redeemer's Reward.

But very many of you who are wronged of the world—and if in any assembly between here and Golden Gate, San Francisco, it were asked that all those that had been sometimes badly treated should raise both their hands and full response should be made, there would be twice as many hands lifted as persons present—I say many of you would declare, "We have always done the best we could and tried to be useful, and why we should become the victims of malignance or invalidism or mishap, is inscrutable." Why, do you know the finer a deer and the more elegant its proportions, and the more beautiful its bearing, the more anxious the hunters and the hounds are to capture it? Had the roebuck a ragged fur and broken hoofs and an obliterated eye and a limping gait the hunters would have said, "Pshaw, don't let us waste our ammunition on a sick deer." And the hounds would have given a few sniffs of the scent and then darted off in another direction for better game. But when they see a deer with antlers lifted in mighty challenge to earth and sky, and the sleek hide looks as if it had been smoothed by invisible hands, and the fat sides inclose the richest pasture that could be nibbled from the banks of rills so clear they seem to have dropped out of heaven, and the stamp of its foot defies the jack shooting lantern and the rifle, the horn and the hound, that deer they will have if they must needs break their necks in the rapids. So if there were no noble stuff in your make up, if you were a bifurcated nothing, if you were a forlorn failure, you would be allowed to go undisturbed, but the fact that the whole pack is in full cry after you is proof positive that you are splendid game and worth capturing. Therefore sarcasm draws on you its "finest bead." Therefore the world goes gunning for you with its best Maynard breechloader. Highest compliment is it to your talent or your virtue or your usefulness. You will be assailed in proportion to your great achievements. The best and the mightiest being the world ever saw had set after him all the hounds, terrestrial and diabolic, and they lapped his blood after the Calvarian massacre. The world paid nothing to its Redeemer but a bramble, four spikes and a cross. Many who have done their best to make the world better have had such a rough time of it that all their pleasure is in anticipation of the next world, and they could express their own feelings in the words of the Baroness of Nairn at the close of her long life, when asked if she would like to live her life over again:

Would you be young again?
So would not I;
One tear of memory given,
Onward I'll hit;
Life's dark wave foiled o'er,
All but at rest on shore,
Say, would you plunge once more,
With home so nigh?

If you might, would you now
Retrace your way?
Wander through stormy wilds,
Faint and astray?
Night's gloomy watches fled,
Morning all beaming red,
Hope's smile around us shed,
Heavenward, away!

Master of the Hounds.

Yes, for some people in this world there seems no let up. They are pursued from youth to manhood and from manhood into old age. Very distinguished are Lord Stafford's hounds, the Earl of Yarborough's hounds and the Duke of Rutland's hounds, and Queen Victoria pays $8,500 a year to her master of buckhounds. But all of them put together do not equal in number or speed or power to hunt down the great kennel of hounds of which sin and trouble are owner and master.

But what is a relief for all this pursuit of trouble and annoyance and pain and bereavement? My text gives it to you in a word of three letters, but each letter is a chariot if you would triumph, or a throne if you want to be crowned, or a lake if you would slake your thirst—yes, a chain of three lakes—G-O-D, the one for whom David longed, and the one whom David found. You might as well meet a stag which after its sixth mile of running at the topmost speed through thicket and gorge, and with the breath of the dogs on its heels, has come in full sight of Scroon lake, and try to cool its projecting and blistered tongue with a drop of dew from a blade of grass as to attempt to satisfy an immortal soul when flying from trouble and sin with anything less deep and high and broad and immense and infinite and eternal than God. His comfort—why, it wrenches away all bondage. His hand, it wipes away all tears. His Christly atonement, it makes us all right with the past and all right with the future, all right with God and all right with man and all right forever. Lamartine tells us that King Nimrod said to his three sons: "Here are three vases, and one is of clay, another of amber and another of gold. Choose now which you will have." The eldest son, having first choice, chose the vase of gold, on which was written the word "Empire," and when opened it was found to contain human blood. The second son, making the next choice, chose the vase of amber, inscribed with the word "Glory," and when opened it contained the ashes of those who were once called great. The third son took the vase of clay, and, opening it, found it empty, but on the bottom of it was inscribed the name of God. King Nimrod asked his courtiers which vase they thought weighed the most. The avaricious men of his court said the vase of gold. The poets said the one of amber, but the wisest men said the empty vase, because one letter of the name of God outweighed a universe.

God's Promise.

For him I thirst, for his grace I beg, on his promise I build my all. Without him I cannot be happy. I have tried the world, and it does well enough as far as it goes, but it is too uncertain a world, too evanescent a world. I am not a prejudiced witness. I have nothing against this world. I have been one of the most fortunate, or, to use a more Christian word, one of the most blessed of men—blessed in my parents, blessed in the place of my nativity, blessed in my health, blessed in my field of work, blessed in my natural temperament, blessed in my family, blessed in my opportunities, blessed in a comfortable livelihood, blessed in the hope that my soul will go to heaven through the pardoning mercy of God, and my body, unless it be lost at sea or cremated in some conflagration, will lie down in the gardens of Greenwood among my kindred and friends, some already gone and others to come after me. Life to many has been a disappointment, but to me it has been a pleasant surprise, and yet I declare that if I did not feel that God was now my friend and ever present help I should be wretched and terror stricken. But I want more of him. I have thought over this text and preached this sermon to myself until with all the aroused energies of my body, mind and soul I can cry out, "As the hart panteth after the water brooks, so panteth my soul after thee, O God."

Through Jesus Christ make this God your God, and you can withstand anything and everything, and that which affrights others will inspire you. As in time of an earthquake when an old Christian woman was asked whether she was scared, answered, "No, I am glad that I have a God who can shake the world," or, as in a financial panic, when a Christian merchant was asked if he did not fear he would break, answered: "Yes, I shall break when the Fifth Psalm breaks in the fifteenth verse, 'Call upon me in the day of trouble; I will deliver thee and thou shalt glorify me.'" Oh, Christian men and women, pursued of annoyances and exasperations, remember that this hunt, whether a still hunt or a hunt in full cry, will soon be over. If ever a whelp looks ashamed and ready to slink out of sight, it is when in the Adirondacks a deer by one tremendous plunge into Big Tupper lake gets away from him. The disappointed canine swims in a little way, but, defeated, swims out again and cringes with humiliated yawn at the feet of his master. And how abashed and ashamed will all your earthly troubles be when you have dashed into the river from under the throne of God, and the heights and depths of heaven are between you and your pursuers.

The Eternal Brooks.

We are told in Revelation xxii, 15, "Without are dogs," by which I conclude there is a whole kennel of hounds outside the gate of heaven, or, as when a master goes in through a door his dog lies on the steps waiting for him to come out, so the troubles of this life may follow us to the shining door, but they cannot get in. "Without are dogs!" I have seen dogs and owned dogs that I would not be chagrined to see in the heavenly city. Some of the grand old watchdogs who are the constabulary of the homes in solitary places and for years have been the only protection for wife and child, some of the shepherd dogs that drive back the wolves and bark away the flocks from going too near the precipice, and some of the dogs whose necks and paws Landseer, the painter, has made immortal, would not find me shutting them out from the gate of shining pearl. Some of those old St. Bernard dogs that have lifted perishing travelers out of the Alpine snow, the dog that John Brown, the Scotch essayist, saw ready to spring at the surgeon's feet in removing the cancer he too much hurt the poor woman whom the dog felt bound to protect, and dogs that we caressed in our childhood days or that in later time lay down on the rug in seeming sympathy when our homes were desolated. I say, if some soul entering heaven should happen to leave the gate ajar and these faithful creatures should quietly walk in it would not at all disturb my heaven. But all those human or brutal hounds that have chased and torn and lacerated the world—yea, all that now bite or worry or tear to pieces—shall be prohibited. "Without are dogs!" No place there for harsh critics or backbiters or spoilers of the reputations of others. Down with you to the kennels of darkness and despair! The hart has reached the eternal water brooks, and the panting of the long chase is quieted in still pastures and "there shall nothing hurt or destroy in all God's holy mountain."

Oh, when some of you get there, it will be like what a hunter tells of when pushing his canoe far up north in the winter and amid the ice floes and 100 miles, as he thought, from any other human beings! He was startled one day as he heard a stepping on the ice, and he cocked the rifle, ready to meet anything that came near. He found a man, barefooted and insane from long exposure, approaching him. Taking him into his canoe and kindling fires to warm him, he restored him and found out where he had lived and took him to his home and found all the village in great excitement. A hundred men were searching for this lost man, and his family and friends rushed out to meet him, and, as had been agreed at his first appearance, bells were rung and guns were fired and banquets spread and the rescuer loaded with presents. Well, when some of you step out of this wilderness, where you have been chilled and torn and sometimes lost amid the icebergs, into the warm greetings of all the villages of the glorified and your friends rush out to give you welcoming kiss, the news that there is another soul forever saved will call the caterers of heaven to spread the banquet and the bellmen to lay hold of the rope in the tower, and while the chalice click at the feast and the bells clang from the turrets it will be a scene so uplifting I pray God I may be there to take part in the celestial merriment. "Until the day break and the shadows flee away be thou like a roe or a young hart upon the mountains of Bethel."

Pingree's Novel Cane.

Governor Pingree was the happy recipient the other day of a walking stick, which came by express, as a present from James Milford of Deer Lodge, Mont. The body of the cane is the hard white wood of the extreme north. On the wood are pen and ink portraits of Dewey, Sampson, Schley, Evans, Clark, Hobson and all the other naval heroes of the recent war, besides pictures of the Maine and appropriate inscriptions. The portraits are really works of art, standing out on the wood in almost lifelike way. Accompanying the cane was a silk cover made in crazy quilt fashion. The governor dropped all business as soon as he saw the present and refused to resume work until he had admired it over and over again. Milford, the donor, was formerly a resident of Detroit.—Detroit Journal.

NEGRO RULE IN GUILFORD.

The Blight of Eastern North Carolina is Spreading.

The Republican party in Guilford county has recently demonstrated that it is woven of the same fabric that has brought a blight upon eastern North Carolina.

Negro rule in the east, fostered by a set of miserable unprincipled white men, has been pictured in all its horrible details by both the press and pulpit yet to many it has seemed more as a hideous nightmare than a reality. Those who have come personally under its baneful influence do not need to be told what it really is and what it means. Those who have yet to learn will never fully realize its awful consequences until brought face to face with it. Crime, persecution and humiliation are but three of its results, which follow as closely as does night the day when ignorant negroes are elevated to positions of power even restricted to the smallest latitude.

Guilford, grand old county that she is, has not suffered as yet in this respect, but the time has come when the issue has to be squarely met. The negroes are demanding official positions and their political masters can not longer keep them in subjection. Emboldened by the success of their race in the east they demand equality with their white political allies in the west and threaten vengeance on those who oppose them even for policy if not for principle.

If anyone doubts that negro rule is not to be feared in Guilford he has but to read the following affidavit signed by one of the best men in the county, a man whose word is sufficient where he is known but whose affidavit carries the weight of a solemn oath among strangers. Read it:

GREENSBORO, N. C.,

Sept. 24, 1898.

I, the undersigned, a resident of Centre Grove township, Guilford county, N. C., hereby certify that I was present as a spectator at the Centre Grove township Republican primary, held on the night of September 10, 1898, and that Leven Davis, a negro, was regularly nominated a magistrate for said township by the said primary. The nomination was made by W. L. Morton, one of Sheriff Hoskins' deputies, and was seconded and elaborately endorsed by Dr. Wm. Archer, a lifelong Republican.

There was no opposition whatever to the nomination of Davis, he receiving the unanimous vote of the primary. Another negro, Cal. Gorrill, was also placed in nomination for magistrate, but insisted on his name being withdrawn.

R. O. WEATHERLY.

Sworn and subscribed to before me this the 24th day of Sept. 1898.

W. B. BOGART,

Notary Public.

And this is but the beginning.

We are informed that a negro magistrate and constable have been placed on the Republican ticket by the executive committee of North Morehead township. We are also informed that at least one negro magistrate will grace the Republican ticket in Gilmer township. We have not had time to fully investigate these latter reports and we give them as we heard them, but we believe they will prove to be true.

White men, of Guilford county, are you prepared to submit to negro rule?

With negro magistrates and constables will come negro deputies, negro county officers, and heaven knows what.

The Republican party in throwing this meagre sop to the negro opens the way to a condition of absolute wreck and ruin similar to that in the east. The only salvation is a triumph of Democracy at the polls in November.

HURRIED TO CHINA.

Admiral Dewey Ordered to Send the Cruiser Baltimore to Tientsin to Protect Americans There.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—A dispatch to the Herald from Washington says: Instructions have been sent by Secretary Long to Admiral Dewey directing him to send the protected cruiser Baltimore at once to Tientsin, China.

This action shows conclusively the concern felt by the administration at the existing condition of affairs in the Celestial Empire. It would seem to indicate that more sensational information had been received from Minister Conger than the authorities have made public. It was stated, however, that the advice from the minister at Peking simply show a turbulent condition of affairs existing throughout the empire. In a dispatch made public by the State Department yesterday, the minister announced that riots had occurred at points not then known.

In view of the prospect of trouble in Peking over the death of the Emperor, and the efforts which will probably be made by his adherents to seek revenge, or, at least assure safety for themselves, the authorities deemed it wise to place a ship as near the capital as possible, where the members of the American legation and the consulates near the capital may find refuge in case of need. After a consultation with the President Secretary Long directed Capt. A. S. Crowninshield, chief of the bureau of navigation, to prepare instructions to Admiral Dewey to send the Baltimore to Tientsin without delay. These orders were signed and cabled yesterday afternoon, and it is believed the ship is now on her way to her destination.

The Baltimore has a long trip before her. The distance between Manila and Tientsin is 1862 miles, which she will cover under the "hurry orders" given her within seven days at the utmost. The instructions to Capt. N. M. Dyer require him immediately upon his arrival to communicate with Minister Conger and take every step needful to protect American interests.

The dispatch of the Baltimore from Manila is rather embarrassing in view of the necessity of maintaining a strong force in the Philippines, but there was no other ship immediately available, and it was recognized that prompt action must be taken.

It is evident that the administration is either more relieved concerning the international situation in the Philippines or that the danger to American interests in China is greater than in the islands. So far as Germany is concerned, the authorities are satisfied that her attitude is now as correct as they can desire. The Baltimore can, therefore, be spared from Manila.

Spain is Thunderstruck.

MADRID, Oct. 3.—The reported intention of the United States government to demand the whole of the Philippine Islands has created almost a state of stupefaction here. It is semi-officially announced that the Spanish government has resolved to combat vigorously any such action, which it is said, the terms of the peace protocol preclude.

HE COMES TO THE DEMOCRATS.

Mrs. S. J. Hartsell, of Cabarrus, Whose Daughter Was Assaulted Last Spring, Abandons the Populist Party Because Fusion Government Encourages Such Crimes.

The following appeared in the Concord Standard of yesterday afternoon:

CONCORD, N. C., Oct. 1, 1898.

Mr. A. B. Young, Chairman County Democratic Executive Committee, Concord, N. C.:

DEAR SIR: My daughter, Emma, was outraged and murdered at our home near Concord on Sunday afternoon, May 29th, 1898, by two negroes while I and others of my family were at church worshiping God. The two negroes, Joe Kizer and Tom Johnson, who did these crimes, were quickly hung to death that Sunday night by white men of Cabarrus, as they ought to have been. For several years I have voted the Populist and fusion tickets, because I thought I was doing in this way the best I could for our State. Nobody can know as I now know how wrong I was in voting these tickets and how I have suffered for it. I am sure that such votes tend to make the negro do such deeds; because when white men vote and elect officers with the negro he feels that the officers thus elected and the political parties winning elections with him and by his votes will protect him in anything he does. And I now appeal to the white men of North Carolina to vote for the protection of our mothers, wives, sisters and daughters. Use this letter as you please.

Truly yours,

SAMUEL J. HARTSELL.

The Standard says, editorially, referring to the foregoing communication:

We call attention to a letter in our columns that speaks for itself from Mr. S. J. Hartsell. Mr. Hartsell is esteemed as one of the very best citizens in the county and he speaks from realization. Read and ponder, ye from whose ranks Mr. Hartsell now leaves.

And the Observer is authorized to use the names of Messrs. A. B. Young, Jno. P. Allison, Robt. E. Gibson and Paul B. Means, all of Concord, as vouching for the excellent character of Mr. Hartsell. We had heard, as much as two weeks ago, that this horrid crime had been the cause of a number of Populists of the community in which it occurred having returned to the party of safety and good government.—Charlotte Observer, Oct. 2.

THE EMPEROR OF CHINA DEAD.

He Committed Suicide, Which Means that He Was Assassinated—American Missionaries Assaulted.

LONDON, Oct. 1.—A special dispatch from Shanghai, published today, says telegrams furnished by the Taotai, or local governor, a Chinese paper, alleges that the Emperor of China committed suicide on September 21, after signing the decrees which placed the Dowager Empress at the head of affairs in China. This, it is added, is understood to mean that the Emperor was assassinated. All the English speaking secretaries and the principal members of the Chinese Foreign Office, it is further announced, have been seized and banished. A later dispatch from Shanghai said it was semi-officially announced that the Emperor of China committed suicide on September 21.

The Foreign Office today received a dispatch from her majesty's minister at Peking, saying that Mr. Mortimer, a member of the British legation, on returning home yesterday with a lady, was insulted and attacked by a mob, which stoned him and covered him with mud.

Later in the day, the dispatch adds, some American missionaries were similarly attacked, as was the Chinese secretary of the United States legation. The latter's ribs were broken. Sir Claude M. McDonald, the British minister at Peking, reports that there is a dangerous feeling abroad. Steps have been taken to call the attention of the Chinese government to these outrages.

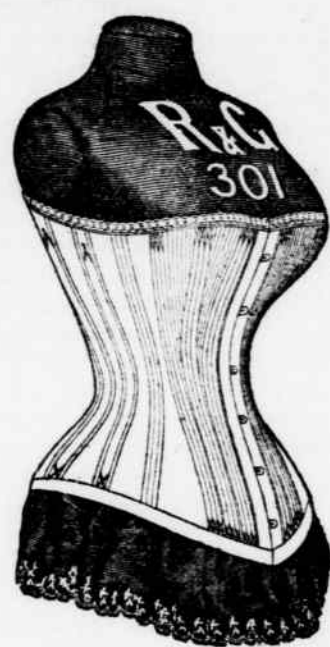

LONDON, Oct. 1.—A special dispatch from Shanghai says the announcement of the death of the Emperor is confirmed. The reports as to the means employed in his taking off differ. One story has it that he died by poison, and another that death was caused by strangulation, while a third states that he was subjected to frightful torture, a red-hot iron being thrust through his bowels.

Still Dying in Havana.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Special Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3, 1898.

Some idea of the panic existing in administration circles, on account of the prospect of Republican defeat in the congressional campaign, may be had from Boss Hanna's estimate, after going over all the information in the possession of the Republican congressional committee, that it would require a campaign fund of $2,000,000 to elect a Republican majority in the next House. Hanna is chairman of the national committee and under ordinary conditions would have nothing to do with the congressional campaign. But existing conditions are not ordinary. On the contrary, they are extraordinary. From Mr. McKinley's point of view, Chairman Babcock, of the congressional committee, told Mr. McKinley that he considered the election already lost. Then Hanna was telegraphed for and asked if he could not save the House for his party. He decided that it would take $2,000,000 to do it, and made out a list of men that must put up that amount. They are the men who furnished him the money he used so lavishly two years ago, and already they are being personally waited upon and made to come down again, some of them by Hanna himself and others by his agents.

Gen. W. J. Bryan, who has been confined to his bed by an attack of malaria, is now much better and expects to return to his regiment after a short stay in the Virginia mountains. None of the many attentions paid Col. Bryan during his stay in Washington gave him more pleasure than a magnificent basket of roses from the executive committee of the Maryland Democratic Association, accompanied by a communication, from which the following is quoted: "The executive committee of the Maryland Democratic Association deem it a privilege and a pleasure to present this basket of flowers to Col. Wm. J. Bryan, as a token of their respect, love and esteem for him who, more than any man living, stands as the personification of the most vital issue affecting the welfare of all the people of our nation and of the world. The intelligent, aggressive and disinterested advocacy of the cause of the plain people that marked your entrance into public life at once awakened a response in the hearts of your countrymen, and singled you out as an object of their affection. Your steadfast devotion to principle, your untiring zeal in the cause of the people, and the recognition by them of your rare talents, combined to make you their chosen leader in their contest for deliverance from the evils that are threatening the overthrow of republican institutions and the establishment of a plutocracy to rule and plunder under forms of law."

Gen. Fitz Lee, who was ordered to Washington last week, has gone to West Point to visit his son, who is a cadet there, but will return to Washington in a few days. Republican influence is being brought to bear upon the administration to cause it to give General Lee only a subordinate command in the Cuban Army of Occupation, instead of command of the entire army. It was to sound him, in order to find out how far he would allow himself to be pushed into the background without tendering his resignation, that he was sent for. Gen. Lee's admirers hope that if he is tendered anything less than command of that division of the army of occupation that will have Havana for its headquarters, he will tender his resignation and leave the army at once. If he gets less than that, a very positive promise will be violated, but that happens frequently in Washington.

Not being admitted to Boss Hanna's confidence I cannot vouch for its correctness, but there has been a lot of talk around Washington to the effect that "Teddy" Roosevelt was nominated for Governor with the deliberate intention of ending his political career by giving him badly defeated, and then to be traded for legislative votes wherever to do so will increase the chance of electing a Republican member of the legislature. According to this talk, Mr. McKinley and Boss Platt are acting together in this scheme to get rid of "Teddy" and at the same time elect a legislature that will select a Republican successor to Senator Murphy. Democratic advisers indicate very strongly that the Democrats will control the legislature as well as elect the entire state ticket. They say they can have Roosevelt without any assistance from Platt and his knifers.

Although Gen. Joe Wheeler has been offered command of all the cavalry that will go to Cuba with the army of occupation, there are reasons for believing that he will not go to Cuba, unless there is a hitch in negotiating the treaty of Peace at Paris. A close friend of Gen. Wheeler says he will resign his commission and resume his Congressional duties, as soon as the treaty of peace is signed; he has no hankering after the command of a mounted police force, in Cuba or elsewhere, and that is about all our cavalry will be after the treaty of peace becomes an accomplished fact.

That investigation commission promises to do some investigating this week; it has done nothing yet but get ready, except to abandon the idea of star chamber sessions, and agree to have the Press Associations represented at all sessions where testimony is taken.

Camps for Troops in Cuba.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Secretary Alger, after a conference with Quartermaster-General Ludington, General Eagan, commissary of subsistence, and Surgeon-General Sternberg, decided yesterday to send a board of officers to Cuba to examine the various points where troops are to be stationed and to select sites for camps.

This board will consist of Col. J. G. C. Lee, quartermaster; Lieut.-Col. Tasker H. Bliss, commissary of subsistence; Col. Robert N. Riley, surgeon; and Lieut.-Col. Roger Birney, ordnance bureau. They will visit Havana, Cienfuegos, Matanzas and Mariel. There will be four United States military posts in Cuba, in addition to those at Santiago and Manzanillo. The board will be instructed to make a careful examination, with a view to securing the best sites from a sanitary point of view.

The following official announcement of sites for Southern army camps, recommended by the Schwan board, sent to the South for that purpose, has been given out by the War Department; Augusta, Ga.; Columbia, S. C.; Greenville, S. C.; Spartanburg, S. C.; Atlanta, Ga.; Athens, Ga.; Macon, Ga.; Columbus, Ga.; Americus, Ga., and Albany, Ga.

FILIPINOS AT THE WHITE HOUSE.

Agoncillo and Lopez See the President, But not in an Official Capacity.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—Agoncillo and Lopez, representatives of Aguinaldo, the Philippine insurgent leader, called at the White House today, in company with General Greene, and had a private conference with the President in the cabinet room. The interview was entirely informal, it being distinctly understood that the administration did not receive the representatives of the insurgents in any official capacity.

While the Filipinos refused to discuss the interview, claiming it to have been to pay their respects, it is presumed they informally talked over their mission, which is to secure representation on the Paris commission, if possible; if not, then to be heard by the commission as to the attitude and wishes of the insurgents. Assistant Secretary of State Adee, also was present during the interview. No documents were presented.

Senator Quay Arrested.

PHILADELPHIA, October 3rd.—Warrants were issued today for the arrest of United States Senator Matthew Stanley Quay, his son, Richard R. Quay; ex-State Treasurer Benjamin J. Haywood, and Charles H. McKee, of Pittsburgh, law partner of Lieutenant Governor Lyon. They are accused of conspiracy with John S. Hopkins, formerly cashier of the People's bank, to use public moneys for their own use. Hopkins killed himself last March, shortly before the bank's failure.

District Attorney Graham said that from evidence in the shape of letters and papers furnished to him he believed it his duty to begin proceedings. He added: "If the state of affairs as represented to me is true it ought to be exposed. This rottenness ought to be shown up, no matter upon whom it reflects."

The Maria Teresa.

The transfer of the Maria Teresa to the American navy, says the Cleveland Leader, will be especially hard for Spaniards to endure, because that ship was not built by the Spanish government, but as a demonstration of national loyalty and pride. She was paid for by a popular subscription, and was the first of the new armored ships of the Spanish navy to be built in Spain, of Spanish material, by Spanish workmen. The fine cruiser was built at Bilbao, and on her official trial she made nearly 18½ knots an hour for eight hours, under natural draught. That is more than 21 miles an hour, as landmen reckon distances.

NORTH CAROLINA OFFICER.

Capt. Hall's Regiment Will See Service in Cuba—A Singular Coincidence.

Washington, Oct. 3.—Among the callers at the War Department today was Capt. Lee Hall, of the First United States Volunteer Infantry (Immunes), who is anxious that his regiment be given the duty in Cuba that will give the greatest opportunity for scouting and active service. Capt. Hall is well and favorably known among the officers of the army who have seen service in the West and on the frontier, having for a number of years commanded the battalion of scouts who held at bay all intruders on the Texas boundary. He was scheduled for duty in Cuba with General Wheeler, but his regiment was too far West at the beginning of hostilities for the men to reach Cuba in time for the fighting. Roosevelt's Rough Riders was in part composed of scouts selected by Capt. Hall from among the men who had served under him in Texas and few of his men returned from Cuba without wounds to show for their gallant work.

Captain Hall was born and raised in Guilford county and still claims North Carolina as his home. He has lately been in the State on a short visit to relatives and is now en route to Lebanon, Pa., to see his family. Today he told a peculiar coincidence, just after meeting an old friend from his native State, saying that he was going to the old home of Addison Brenzler, who married in Charlotte. Capt. Hall mentioned the fact that Mr. Brenzler, a Pennsylvanian, had married a North Carolinian, and that he (Hall), a North Carolinian, had married a Pennsylvanian, and that his wife and Mr. Brenzler were related, and Mrs. Brenzler was a relative of his.

His record on the frontier is one of which he should be proud, as it is complimented by General Gilmore of General Miles' staff, and by other officers here in the Department. It is stated by an official that Captain Hall's regiment will in all probability see service in Cuba and that if it does not it is certain that the Captain will be given opportunity to further distinguish himself. He leaves to-morrow for Lebanon.

A VOICE OF WARNING.

S. W. Stewart, Esq., of Union, Comes Back for Reasons Given.

We have received the following letter from Mr. S. W. Stewart, a justice of the peace in Sandy Ridge township, Union county. He is but one of the many Populists of that county who sees whether his party is drifting, and declines to go with it, but takes his manly stand with the Democratic party for honest government and white supremacy:

Mr. Wm. H. Bernard, Wilmington, N. C.:

DEAR SIR—When the Populist party arose in 1892, I was of the opinion that through it alone we could ever get good government, and for six long years I fought with all my ability for the upbuilding of Populism. But, alas, to my great sorrow and regret, I find my labors have all been in vain, for the Republicans by fusion have swallowed the Populist party, principles and all. And I firmly believe if the Republican party gets in full control of our State government that it will bring crime, bloodshed and ruin to our once peaceful and happy homes; and I believe that it is the patriotic duty of every honest white Populist to return to the great Democratic party and there battle for the rights of free men and white supremacy. I, for one, shall no longer be traded and bartered to the Republican party as if I was an ox or a sheep simply to give unprincipled leaders of the Populist party a seat at the pie counter.

Respectfully,

S. W. STEWART, Wolfville, N. C., Union county, Sandy Ridge township, Sept. 20th, 1898.

—Wilmington Star.

ALL OUT FROM PORTO RICO.

Admiral Schley Says the Spaniards Will be Gone by October 6.

SAN JUAN, Oct. 1.—The Spanish transport Isla de Panay arrived here this morning and a second transport is expected tomorrow or Monday. These, with a hospital ship, which will come from Havana to remove a number of sick troops, will carry away about 3,500 Spanish soldiers. Sufficient vessels are said to be now on their way here to remove the remainder of the troops. It is Admiral Schley's opinion that the evacuation by the Spaniards and the official delivery of the island to the American authorities will be completed by October 6th.

The Spaniards are now engaged in perfecting the details of the evacuation and arranging for the transportation of the officials and their families back to Spain. The official government Gazette announces that terms of officers of judiciary and government employees will end as soon as the island is formally delivered to the United States.

TO MY FRIENDS IN THE COUNTRY.

I have bought out several of my former partners in the Sample Brown Mercantile Co. and from this time forward will devote my entire attention to the Dry Goods business, at the old stand.
We will keep up our reputation for GOOD GOODS and HONEST MEASURE, and at same time sell you at lower prices than ever.

We are doing a Cash Business!

And can afford to sell you at rock bottom prices.

I have just returned from New York, where I bought an immense stock of Dress Goods, Notions, Underwear, Hosiery, Pant Goods, Sheetings, Plaids—in fact, everything in Dry Goods. No Shoes, no Cloth-

OUR GRAND FALL OPENING!

TAKES PLACE

Saturday and Monday,

Oct. 8th and 10th.

We want each and every one of our friends and patrons to consider themselves personally invited to attend our GRAND FALL OPEN-ING, SATURDAY AND MON-DAY, October 8th and 10th. We refrained from sending out special announcement cards, as we think it but fair that each and all should alike receive a cordial invitation.
While our store contains the richest, the finest, the most exclusive, of all the New Fall Goods, those whose taste and purse runs along more modest lines have not been forgotten. So we take this the most public, the most far-reaching way, to extend to each and all a hearty welcome to our display for the Fall and coming Winter.

Our preparations have been extraordinary, and we want you to enjoy the fruit of our labor, time and enterprise. All departments will appeal to you with items of special interest, whose "OPENING" prices will make your coming worth while.

Evening Reception will be held Saturday and Monday, Oct.
8th and 10th, from 7.30 to 9.30.
Prof. Elam's fine Greensboro Orchestra will be in attendance and render all the popular airs of the day to enliven the occasion.

Store will close at 6.30 P.
M.; open at 7.30 sharp, when we will welcome all to the reception.

EDUCATION IN GUILFORD.

Mr. Bryant Visits the State Normal and Industrial College—The College Farm Coming on Nicely—Dr. McIver is Still Bragging on That Jersey Cow Capt. Syd. Alexander Sent Him.

(Charlotte Observer.)

Greensboro, September 21.—Guilford county is fast becoming the leading county of the State in respect to good schools. She has more well equipped institutions of learning now than any other county. First in order comes the State Normal and Industrial College with five hundred boarders, and Dr. Chas. D. McIver as president; Greensboro Female College, with 200 girls, and Dr. Dred Peacock president; Guilford College, with 200 pupils, and Prof. Hobbs president; Oak Ridge Institute, with 250, and Messrs. J. A. and M. H. Holt proprietors, and Whitsett Institute, with 200, and Prof. W. T. Whitsett principal. These are schools for white students. There are two colored schools, the Agricultural and Mechanical College, with 200 pupils, and Rev. Jas. B. Dudley president, and Bennett College, with 200. In all there are 1,750, and they bring to the county about $35,000 annually. Besides these boarding schools Guilford county has two splendidly equipped graded schools—one in Greensboro, with 900 children, and with Prof. G. A. Grimsley as superintendent; the other at High Point, with 400 children, and Rev. Geo. H. Crowell as superintendent. The graded school building at High Point is the finest school building in the State. This is the only county in the State with two towns having graded schools.

The public school term throughout the county is about four to five months and will be seven or eight months as soon as the townships in the country follow the lead of Greensboro and High Point by voting a local tax to supplement the fund arising from the State tax.

Mr. McIver is a man who strives to help his fellow human beings. Dr. McIver is a man of ideas, a man of action, a man of power. Every North Carolinian has cause to be proud of the Normal and Industrial College at Greensboro, and Dr. McIver. There is no better authority in the South on schools than Dr. George T. Winston, president of the University of Texas. A few days ago he was at Greensboro and after looking over the State Normal and Industrial College, gave to a local paper the following unique and deserved compliment:

"The State Normal and Industrial College is simply a wonder. Its present material equipment and plans on foot for its enlargement unquestionably give it the foremost place among colleges for women of the South. The wisdom of its management is everywhere apparent. A few years will see it so beautified by art and splendid with equipment that people will come from all quarters of the State even to behold it. I look for it to be the greatest woman's college in the South."

This compliment, coming from such an able man as Dr. Winston, is one that any State or any man should be proud of.

Today I had the good fortune to spend several hours with Dr. McIver, driving about the city of Greensboro and looking over the college grounds and buildings.

The State Normal and Industrial College is six years old. The enrollment the first year was 223; last year, 683, of that number 185 were pupils of the West End Practice School, conducted with the college.

The college is located just north of the North Carolina Railroad as it enters the town from the west. Within the last six years, since the college opened, quite a town has sprung up in and around the college grounds. There are five stores, three churches and 105 residences—all because of the college. In all there are eight college buildings. There are five of brick and three of wood. The brick buildings are: The main college building, the main dormitory, the infirmary, the steam laundry, and the dairy. Those of wood: Two dormitory buildings and the president's residence. The college campus comprises 126 acres of land. It is a revelation to drive through the grounds. Dr. McIver is doing everything possible to make the State Normal and Industrial College the most attractive school in the South.

From the main buildings I went to the model barn that is run in connection with the college, though it is distinct and separate. The barn is located on a hill several hundred yards away from the main buildings. The buildings are modern in every respect. It is well ventilated and clean. Around the barn is a pasture that leads to a spring stream where the stock can get fresh water the year round. Dr. McIver has bought from various places in Guilford county a herd of good milk cows. In all he has 43. The prettiest cow in the lot was presented to the college by Capt. S. B. Alexander, of Mecklenburg. She is a fine, rich colored Jersey. Dr. McIver is very proud of her. Most of the feed for these cows is raised on the college farm. The barn is always full of pea vines, clover, oats and hay. Not very far, but across a small stream, and at the foot of a large hill, the dairy building with all modern appliances is located. It is over a spring drain. At present the cows furnish about 100 gallons of milk a day. This is furnished to the college at the same price that the dairies around the town sell it for.

From the cow pen it is but a short distance to the piggery. It is one of the neatest pig farms in the State. The central point is a house with a brick floor. The building is cut up into seven pens. From each pen a run, fenced in with plank, leads to the same spring streams that runs through the cow pasture. Hence there are seven runs and each run has pigs—one has the smallest size, another a little larger, etc. The pigs in any one run are all the same size. This gives all a hog's chance. There are 112 pigs in all. The swill from the college kitchen is sold to the farm for the hogs and in turn the pork is sold to the college.

In the gardens around the college strawberries, beets, tomatoes and other garden vegetables grow in abundance. An expert horticulturist has charge of the farm. Last year was the first year of the farm. It was a success.

During the last summer months many improvements have been made around the college and on the buildings. A new kitchen, 30x45 feet, with a cold storage underneath is now about completed. The kitchen is of the best kind. A laundry building and a power house, all in one, 80x30, has been built. The roofs and the walls of the brick buildings have been repainted. A complete system of heating has been put in every building. The main building is to be heated by warm air, by means of fans.

The next three buildings contemplated for the college are:

The Practice School building, a gymnasium, and a society hall and Y. M. C. A. The last named building is to be built by the students and friends of the college. Committees have been appointed and work has begun.

I enjoyed going through the practice school with Dr. McIver. It is now running and is the only one in the State. A large number of the rising senior class is here for the purpose of observation before beginning regular practice clinic to a medical college, a practice October 6th.

To the question: "What is a practice school?" Dr. McIver said:

"What is a practice school? What a moot court is to a law school, a laboratory to a department of science, or a clinic to a medical college a practice school is to a normal college."

"The students in the senior class having studied pedagogies for a year or more are required to spend at least one hour a day for one year teaching in the practice school under the supervision and kindly criticism of expert teachers. No diploma can be awarded without this work. Theories studied in the college are put to the test in the practice school."

"Greensboro is still on the jump. She is building dwelling houses by the score. I counted over 250 new houses in a two hours' ride to-day. Mrs. Sol Weil, of New York, is building a beautiful store building in front of the McAdoo House. There are several other new store buildings going up."

"If one stands around the depot at Greensboro as the trains arrive he will be surprised to see the number of chickens that come in every day from the section around Wilkesboro. Every night about 80 coops come with about 40 chickens to the coop. The way they are packed in is bound to be cruelty to animals. These chickens are shipped to Washington and other points North. It would pay some one to put a chicken dressing concern in Greensboro. I am sure that chickens dressed and expressed to the Northern markets in refrigerators from this section would bring more and would make much better food. They are shipped, feathers and all now. North Carolina is becoming a great chicken growing State. Thousands of dollars come to the State from the sale of chickens."

"This town is always on the alert. There is a general movement on foot now for municipal ownership of lights, water works, etc."

"Greensboro needs a street car system. The board of aldermen are at present advertising for bids to light the streets, by a company that will give a street car line and electric power for manufacturing."

"Guilford county is a white county. There are very few negroes. Greensboro is not cursed with negro loafers. This is a blessing. The county is cosmopolitan."

"From Greensboro in every direction the farmers are clamoring for good roads. The road from High Point to Greensboro is a graded road. It is a good road. The Battle Ground road is now being put in shape and good condition. Convicts are at work on it."

"North Carolina has two wholesale shoe stores. The one at Charlotte will make the third. Mr. E. L. Shuford, of Hickory, has one, and the Simpson-Shields Shoe Co. of Greensboro, have the other. It may be of interest to the readers of the Observer and business men in general to give the figures denoting the progress of the Greensboro company. The Simpson-Shields Shoe Co. was organized in April, 1897. Their total sales for that month were: $2,723, and for April, 1898, $10,324; for May, 1897, $3,845, and May, 1898, $28,347; for June, 1897, $5,687 and June, 1898, $32,897.21. They sell to over 1,200 merchants in the State."

"This goes to show what can be done in North Carolina. Wholesale stores do as well here as they do in other States."

Do You Doubt

that hundreds of cases of Consumption reported to us as cured by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery were genuine cases of that dread and fatal disease? You need not take our word for it. They have, in nearly every instance, been so pronounced by the best and most experienced home physicians, who have no interest whatever in misrepresenting them, and who were often strongly prejudiced and advised against a trial of "Golden Medical Discovery," but who have been forced to confess that it surpasses, in curative power, over this fatal malady, all other medicines with which they are acquainted. Nasty cold-liver oil had been tried in nearly all these cases and had either utterly failed to benefit, or had only seemed to benefit a little for a short time.

The photographs of a large number of those cured of Consumption, bronchitis, lingering coughs, "sore lungs," asthma, chronic nasal catarrh and kindred maladies, have been skillfully reproduced in one chapter of Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, an illustrated great doctor book of 1008 pages, a free copy of which will be sent you on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay cost of mailing only. Address, World Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

Pulled Into It.

We do not publish a tenth part of the letters which we see in our State papers from Populists, or rather men who were Populists, withdrawing from that party, but the following from G. G. Ward, of Pitt county, which we find in the Greenville Reflector, is so brief, but contains so much, that we publish it. He says:

"I have been in the Populist party ever since its organization. I was pulled into it by the Farmers' Alliance. I was told by the leaders that we could not succeed unless we went into politics. I have followed the party and obeyed the orders of the bosses until they have landed me into the Republican party—negro rule and disgrace. I shall vote the Democratic ticket at the next election in November. I appeal to all good citizens of the county, who love their wives and daughters, quiet homes and good government, to rally to the polls on the day of next election and cast their vote for the Democratic party, the only salvation of this country."

Mr. Ward was "pulled into it," to use his own words, just as thousands of other honest, well-meaning men were, but it was some time before they discovered what they were "pulled in" for and they didn't exactly see the way out until their pullers put on the last feather of weight of shame they could bear, and it was either get out or get down with their faces in the dirt and let their betrayers and the prostitutes of the Alliance walk over them, and use them as mud-sills to step into office. They have betrayed their people, have destroyed the Alliance, which was organized for a good purpose and was doing much good until these shameless, mercenary office hunters diverted it from its mission, converted it into a political machine and used it in carrying out their own selfish and base schemes. Honest Populists see through all this now and hence the loathing with which so many of them, like Mr. Ward, are turning their backs on their betrayers.—Wilmington Star.

Three Doctors in Consultation.

From Benjamin Franklin.

"When you are sick, what you like best is to be chosen for a medicine in the first place; what experience tells you is best, to be chosen in the second place; what reason (i. e., Theory) says is best is to be chosen in the last place. But if you can get Dr. Inclination, Dr. Experience and Dr. Reason to hold a consultation together, they will give you the best advice that can be taken."

When you have a bad cold Dr. Inclination would recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy because it is pleasant and safe to take. Dr. Experience would recommend it because it never fails to effect a speedy and permanent cure. Dr. Reason would recommend it because it is prepared on scientific principles, and acts on nature's plan in relieving the lungs, opening the secretions and restoring the system to a natural and healthy condition. ### Clever Southerners.

A gentleman who called on us this week said in all his travels, which are very extensive, that he had met all kinds of people, some so cold by nature that they could drink boiling water and spit snowballs, others who are distant and indifferent, but none so clever as the good, congenial Southerners, who will walk over Hades on a rotten plank to help a friend; shed their coat to help a worthy one in distress; ever ready to greet a stranger with a hearty handshake and a smile. He said with all of his varied experiences with Southern people, he had yet his first time to be treated other than friendly and kind by them. He had only met one man who thought the Southerners were not the most hospitable people, and he had just gotten out of jail.

This is much for a Northern man to say of our country, and we are pleased to believe it is true.—Milan (Tenn.) Hustler.

FARO BUILT THE CHURCH.

Bishop Put Up a Good Fight and the Sports Chipped in With a Winning of $1,800.

Bishop Worthington, of Omaha, says the Chicago Chronicle, is now a strict church man. His sermons are severe in doctrine and hold out little hope to sinners unless they repent. However, the Bishop knows human nature. He learned it in the best school for an education of that kind—the Far West.

Years ago, when Mr. Worthington was a recent graduate from the theological seminary, he began his gospel work in Butte, Mon. The town was then a mining camp pure and simple. It had saloons, dance halls and gambling rooms, but neither church nor school. Its inhabitants were rough, tough and ready—manliness was their god, and it was this manliness which made the West what it is.

At college Worthington was a boxer and an oarsman. In Butte these accomplishments served him well, for they gave him a strong arm and a quick eye. His gospel services were held in a tent. There was no money to build a church.

One day, as he was walking along the principal street, the bully of the town approached him.

"Do you want to fight?" asked the desperado.

"No," replied the clergyman.

"Then take that!"

But "that" never came. Worthington warded off the blow and with his good right fist sent the bully to grass in scientific fashion.

That night the affair was talked over in Cy Henry's gambling house.

"I like that chap Worthington," said Bill Johnson. "He strikes a good blow. Let's all play for him tonight."

The proposition was agreed to and the next morning $1,800 won at faro was presented to the minister. That money built the first church in Butte.

Banner Warehouse

GREENSBORO, N. C.

We desire at the beginning of another new tobacco year to state our thanks and express our appreciation to our friends and customers for their past favors and liberal patronage. It is known to most of us that we have the best market in this country and that

The Banner Leads in Big Averages.

Our buyers are now ready for all grades and kinds of your tobacco and we claim the advantage of having a buyer for every kind. Send them ship to foreign markets and are in a position to pay the very highest market price for all export grades, while others are representatives of the largest manufacturers in America. There is active competition between these buyers. The buyer for the American Tobacco Co. and our home manufacturers use all classes of stock. While this is true feel safe in saying that than Greensboro for your entire crop, from the commonest filler to the finest bright and mahogany wrapper.

The Banner Warehouse is fully equipped and operated by experienced warehouse men. No one will give your tobacco more attention or exercise better judgment in selling than will "Bill" Branks, our auctioneer, and W. J. Blackburn, who has charge of the sales. They have had many years experience in the warehouse business. They know the worth of tobacco and will get you its full value. John Wild Smith, our weigh and paymaster, discharges his duty correctly and conscientiously. W. L. Wharton and "Shell" W. Porter, our book men, thoroughly competent and dispatch business with correctness. James M. Sharp, Will R. McKinney and W. J. Branch are all at the Banner to see that you and your stock are properly cared for day and night. Hoping to see you soon, we remain your friends,

HE STOPS TO THINK.

A Prominent Randolph County Republican in Raleigh—He Came to Investigate.

To the Editor: I have been a life long Republican and have voted and worked for the success of the Republican party and its candidates in my native county—Randolph; I have, during the past few weeks, been reading of conditions in some sections of my State, where negroes were said to be largely in control of public affairs, and I have wondered how these things could be true. Indeed, like many others of my party, I have thought they were campaign lies.

I finally decided to investigate for myself, and I came to Raleigh yesterday from my home in Randolph county. I went first to the white Blind Institute, and I saw there carved into the corner stone of the new building now being constructed, the name of James H. Young, the colored politician of Wake county, as one of the directors. I then went inside and asked the superintendent, Mr. Ray, if he would let me see the official report signed by James H. Young, as one of the committee on inspection of that institution. He promptly showed me the official report signed by James H. Young himself, and Mr. Ray told me that this was the same report which had been printed in the News and Observer and other papers.

I also went into the Wake county court house and saw with my own eyes a negro man sitting at a desk in the office of the Clerk of the Superior court, he, the negro, being a deputy clerk in that office who was placed there by the Republican clerk of the court in Wake county to succeed a white man. I have seen and heard a good many other things that I never dreamed really existed in good old North Carolina. I have seen and heard enough. I know now that the statements that are claimed by some to be Democratic lies are actual facts, and facts that must make a white man stop and think. I have stopped and I have thought, and my mind is made up. I cannot and will not longer lend my aid or any influence that I may have to the support or endorsement of such a condition of affairs in my beloved State. The only way that I can see to prevent this condition of affairs is to vote the white man's ticket—the Democratic ticket, and this I shall not only do myself, but I shall do all I can to get others to do the same.

Looks Like Bulldozing.

The Michigan Methodist Episcopal Conference has projected itself into the political campaign in that State in a decidedly sensational, if not startling, manner. The majority has undertaken to control the votes of the minority. It has adopted resolutions which severely censure all clergymen who have voted for Republican or Democratic candidates, or for any candidates other than a Prohibitionist. Not content with this exhibition of political zeal in behalf of a party that throws away its votes, the majority of the conference has explicitly instructed the offending minority to abstain, in future, from voting for any man outside of the Prohibition ranks.

With the creeds of churches and sects The Post does not meddle, nor does this journal assail any religious body for protecting its faith by disciplining the unfaithful. But when an organization so large and influential as the Methodist Conference of Michigan plunges into politics, it challenges the attention of the secular press. And when the majority of such a body of citizens undertakes to coerce the minority, to tell them which of the various political parties they may and which they may not affiliate with, the time appears to have fully come for a protest against an un-American and altogether objectionable proceeding. In joining the Methodist Church and becoming a preacher, a man does not sacrifice his political freedom. He does not hand over the keeping of his political judgment to a majority of a conference. He does not bind himself to vote for the candidates of this or that party. No such surrender of manhood is required by any church in the United States. The ministers who were outvoted and rebuked and instructed in the conference of Lansing have exercised a right of which the majority cannot deprive them. And if they are the kind of men who laid the foundations and erected the great structure of Methodism, they will continue to vote according to the dictates of their individual judgment.

In 1896 thousands of Methodist ministers failed to vote for the Prohibition candidates, and for that failure they are lashed by a majority of their ministerial brethren in Michigan. If it were anybody's business—which it certainly is not—to question a citizen's right to vote as he sees fit, the minority in the Michigan Conference might well call the majority to account for throwing their ballots into the air on that momentous occasion. There are hundreds of Methodist ministers who do not believe that the cause of temperance is or can be promoted by maintaining a Prohibition party. They know that not one of the victories of the prohibition idea has been won by that party. They know that the Democrats in the South have accomplished genuine prohibition under the name of local option; and they know that, in the North, the Republicans have been the sole promoters of prohibitory legislation. Fortified by the facts of observation and experience, they will not be intimidated by bulldozing resolutions, and they will conspicuously fail to accept dictation in matters with which their brethren have no business to meddle.—Washington Post.

Land Sale.

By virtue of two deeds of mortgage hereinafter mentioned I shall, as executor of Lindsay Coltrane, deceased, sell at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, at the court house door in the city of Greensboro, N. C., on the following tracts of land, namely: The Elizabeth W. Alden tract of land, called the Kae lot, containing 1½ acres, in summer township, Guilford county, N. C., bounded as follows: Beginning at a white oak in F. F. Glenn's line and running east 20 rods with said Glenn's line to a stone at C. A. Ozment's corner, thence south 12 rods to a stone, thence west 20 rods to a stake, thence north 12 rods to the beginning. This lot being sold to foreclose the mortgage given by said Elizabeth W. Alden to Lindsay Coltrane on the 11th day of March, 1893.

Also the interest of F. F. Glenn in a tract of land conveyed to said F. F. Glenn by W. E. Allen and his wife M. A. Allen, which said tract is situated in summer township, Guilford county, N. C., and being a part of the old Henry Hodgins tract, containing 42 acres more or less bounded as follows: Beginning at a pile of stones on Henry Hodgins's line and running thence north 114½ poles to a cedar on S. P. Hodgins's line, thence west 62 poles to the beginning, being on the waters of Pole Cat creek. This tract is sold to foreclose the mortgage made by said F. F. Glenn and wife to said Lindsay Coltrane on the 10th of May, 1893, and to pay the debt secured thereon, and is registered in Book No. 92, pages 581 &c. This Sept. 6, 1898.

S. H. COLTRANE,
Executor of Lindsay Coltrane.

Desirable Farm for Sale.

175 acres of highly improved land well adapted to the growth of wheat, oats, corn, tobacco, and especially clover and grasses—30 to 40 acres now in clover and grass. The farm is well watered by springs and small streams running through it. Good well of water, 7-room dwelling, large grain and feed barn, and all necessary out buildings. Fine early Peach Orchard; also an Apple Orchard and a variety of apples; Pears, Plums, also a selection of grapes, all just coming into bearing. The farm is located conveniently to schools, churches, mills, markets and railroad, and is one of the best localities in the state, a family of 11 having resided on the farm ten years and not having required the services of physician during the time. An adjoining 30-acre tract can be obtained. Terms to suit purchaser. Apply at PATRIOT office.

"Buckeye" Steel Frame Disc Drills

Embody the latest features in Drill construction. Has features which put them far in advance of all others. The Glass Fertilizer Feeder is the only successful feeder made and the only one which will sow any kind of fertilizer, wet or dry, without clogging and choking up. Will sow up hill or down. Has the "Double Run" Force Feed for sowing Peas, Beans, Cow Peas, Corn, Beet Seed, Oats, &c. Wheat can be put in any depth desired, and the discs will not choke. Can be worked in the most trashy land, and one man can do the same work that two men would be required with Hoe Drill. Money can buy no better than the "Buckeye." We present a few of many testimonials from users of our Drill.

TESTIMONIALS.

WAKEFIELD HARDWARE CO., CITY.
GENTLEMEN—In reply to your inquiry as to what I think of the Buckeye Wheat Drill bought from you last season, will say that it has given me entire satisfaction. It is strong, easily managed and is of very light draft. The glass Fertilizer Feeder is the best I ever saw. It will sow any kind of fertilizer uniformly and will not clog or gum up. The wheat feeder could not be better. I sowed Red oats and put in my grass seed with the Buckeye to my entire satisfaction. I heartily recommend the Buckeye to do all you claim for it.

Yours truly,
THOS. D. SHEERWOOD.

GENTLEMEN—Our Buckeye Drill bought from you is all that we could ask for it. It is the lightest draft drill we ever saw. Our team is hardly middle sized, but it is no trouble to work it to this drill. The Glass Feeder has never given us the least trouble by clogging up or choking. It will sow any kind of fertilizer. The wheat feeder is all right. Would not have any other drill. The Buckeye is the best we ever saw.

H. C. BROWN and T. SCOTT.

WAKEFIELD HARDWARE CO., GREENSBORO, N. C.
GENTLEMEN—Answering your inquiry regarding the Buckeye Drill used on my place, will say it is the best I ever saw and if I had to buy again it would be a Buckeye. It sows wheat and oats perfectly, puts in fertilizer as near perfection as possible and the fertilizer feeder will not clog or gum. Have known hard phospho to stand as long as five days in the Buckeye and did not rust or corrode it and it did not gum. It is light draft; two small mules pulled it easily. I can't say too much for the Buckeye.

DR. D. A. ROBERTSON.

GENTLEMEN—It is my honest opinion that the Buckeye Wheat Drill sold by you is beyond all question the best drill made. I like it better than any drill I ever saw. I saw where it had sown peas for J. Van Lindley and prettier work I never saw done. It is the drill to buy.

J. W. COOK.

LOCAL NEWS ITEMS.

—The large circle of relatives, friends and acquaintances of Miss Lizzie Gilmer will be pained to hear of her death in Mt. Airy on Tuesday night, Sept. 27th. She had been quite sick for some months past and her friends had at times reasonable hope that she would recover, but for a week or so before she died it became evident that her end was not far off. Miss Gilmer was a daughter of Robert Gilmer, who nearly a half century ago moved from Guilford county to Mt. Airy, where he now resides. Of a family of eight children Mr. Gilmer, now in his ninetieth year, has outlived all of them except one son, Mr. William Gilmer. Of Miss Gilmer it can be truthfully said that she was one of God's noble women. For many years she was an eminently popular and successful teacher. In addition to her school duties she had for a considerable period the care of an aged aunt and her own parents. Her whole life was spent in behalf of others. Fearless and unflinching in the discharge of her duties, she was withal of quiet and unobtrusive manners, exhibiting her lofty christian character by kind and helpful deeds by self-forgetfulness and unstinted labor for the welfare of others. She has but exchanged a life of care, sickness and sorrow for one of restful calm, where grief, tears and sorrow find no admittance.

—Prof. D. L. Paisley, in remitting his subscription for the coming year, writes: "Please change my address from Auvergne, Ark., to Conway, Ark. I have been here two weeks and miss the PATRIOT. I have a nice position here—large school with good force of teachers. Conway is a school town. Besides the public school we have two of the best colleges in the state—Hendrix Methodist College and Central Baptist Female College. We have the cleanest roomiest little city I ever saw. Two thousand people and over fifty miles of well kept streets. Dwellings are on very large grounds. We have a cotton seed oil mill, electric lights, flouring mills, lumber mills, and many other industries. As my four children get larger I wish more and more to take them back to old Guilford to see their kin people. We will drop in on you some day."

—Miss Winifred McCaull, daughter of the late John A. McCaull, of theatrical fame, was united in marriage at St. Agnes Catholic church last Wednesday night to Mr. Francis M. Holahan, a young New York attorney, Rev. Father Joseph, of Salisbury, performing the ceremony. The church was nicely decorated for the occasion. The ushers were Messrs. G. P. Talbot, of Danville, Va., R. H. Graves, of Chapel Hill, and John S. Michaux and W. Giles Mebane, of this city. After an informal reception the bride and groom left for New York on the vestibule, their future home.

—On Sept. 14, 1898, at Friendship church, Mr. Jabez A. Knight, son of Asa and Aletha Knight, and Miss Jane Wakefield, daughter of Henry and Ann Wakefield, were happily married by Rev. John Wakefield, brother of the bride. A goodly number of relatives and friends from Greensboro, Charlotte, Oak Ridge and Guilford College were present to witness the event. The happy couple have the congratulations and good wishes of their many friends. The PATRIOT extends congratulations.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

By local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness caused by catarrh, that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. E. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 50c.

The Prohibition Ticket.

The Guilford county Prohibitionists held their adjourned convention Saturday, nominating a full ticket with the exception of a senator. Eleven men participated in the convention. Following is the ticket nominated:

House—R. S. Phipps and W. W. Cude.
Commissioners—Dr. Benbow, M. L. Cude and L. L. Kernodle.
Sheriff—M. S. Sherwood.
Treasurer—L. A. Smithdeal.
Clerk—J. R. Welborne.
Coroner—Dr. Ledbetter.
Register of Deeds—J. R. Parker.
Surveyor—Rev. Mr. Bowman.
Rev. J. F. McCulloch declined the senatorial nomination, which was tendered him by a unanimous vote.

Dr. Benbow presided over the convention. Rev. Joseph Potts was first asked to take chair but he stated that he was not a member of the party. Since the convention two of the nominees, Messrs. Sherwood and Smithdeal, have announced their unwillingness to be considered candidates. Neither was present when their names were suggested. Mr. F. S. Blair, who occupied a prominent place on the ticket a few years ago and at the same time forgot himself and voted a portion of the Republican ticket, figured quite prominently in the convention but failed to get a nomination this time.

—On account of a revival meeting in the neighborhood the appointment of Messrs. Brooks and Wilson at Jamestown last night was cancelled, or postponed, we should say. Mr. Brooks spoke to a big crowd at Proximity last night, the High Point band going along to furnish music to the Cotton-town folks. If there is any one class of white people more than another opposed to negro rule or equality it is the factory operatives.

Takes His'n Straight, Now.

"Please say for me," said Walter Green to a newspaper man Monday morning, "that I expect to vote the straight Democratic ticket this year; that I am tired of voting with a crowd posing as Prohibitionists and then voting some other ticket."

WISCONSIN FOREST FIRES.

One Town Totally or Partly Burned—Loss Estimated at Over $3,000,000.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 30.—The forest fires, which have been burning in various places throughout western Wisconsin for the past few days, were fanned into furious storms of flame by yesterday's winds and did great damage throughout Chippewa, Barron, Dunn, St. Croix and Polk counties.

A general destruction of telegraph wires make the reports very incomplete, but it seems that the villages of Clayton, Alameda and Poskin have been wholly or partly destroyed; that Cumberland has suffered heavy losses and that Glenwood, Barron, Prentice, Phillips and Turtle Lake were saved only by great efforts. Reports of loss of life are coming in, but have not been verified, except in one instance.

A railroad bridge and trestle over 700 feet long on the Soo Line, west of Barron, was burned last night, and trains are running by another route.

Fires have been checked in places by rains and the subsidence of the winds. A rough estimate places the aggregate loss at from $3,000,000 to $5,000,000.

THE OCCUPATION OF CUBA.

Four Military Posts to be Established Besides Those at Santiago and Manzanillo.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—Secretary Alger had an extended conference today with Quartermaster General Ludington, General Eagan, commissary of subsistence, and General Sternberg, Surgeon General, regarding the preliminaries for the occupation of Cuba. The conclusion was reached that a board of officers should be sent to Cuba to examine the various points where troops are to be stationed, and to select sites for camps. The board will visit Havana, Cienfuegos, Matanzas and Mariel. There will be four United States military posts in Cuba, aside from those at Santiago and Manzanillo. As soon as the selection of sites has been made officers will follow from the various bureaus and prepare the camps for the reception of the army.

Several thousand square miles of mountain forest lands are being swept by fire in the vicinity of Glenwood, Colorado, and the damage to ranches and homes is said to be enormous, though no lives are yet reported lost.

Changes Among the A. T. Co.'s Buyers.

There is to be some swapping around of American Tobacco Company leaf buyers, the Durham Sun learns. Mr. T. J. Walker, who has had charge of the leaf department of the American Tobacco Company in Durham, is to be transferred to Richmond, Va. Mr. T. B. Yuille, of Greensboro, takes Mr. Walker's place on the Durham market. Mr. Walker takes Mr. W. L. Walker's place on the Richmond market; the latter will go to New York to have charge of the leaf business there for the company.

Mr. L. W. Ferrell, who represents the American Tobacco Company on the Goldsboro market, will be transferred to Greensboro. Mr. Claude Walker will succeed Mr. Ferrell on the Goldsboro market.

The railway commission has rescinded its action in regard to reducing rates of freight on loose cotton in carload lots. It recently made an order reducing the passenger rate on the Wilmington and Weldon Railway and branches to 2½ and 3 cents per mile. It now modifies that order so that the reduction shall apply only to the main line.
