DEATHS.

Those Who Have Answered the Summons During the Past Week.

Rev. Benjamin L. Beall.
Passing as peacefully as he had lived, Rev. Benjamin L. Beall, who had enjoyed the distinction of being the oldest minister in the Southern Presbyterian church, closed his eyes in the last long sleep Friday morning at his home on East Lee street.

Of a gentle and unselfish nature, his life, as long as he was physically able to labor actively in the Master's field, was one of devoted service to the church and to the congregations committed to his charge. He was in his 86th year at the time of his death, and the greater part of this long span had been spent in Greensboro, where he was universally honored and beloved. For the past few years he had been confined to the house by infirmities attendant upon age and declining health, but always glad to see his friends and give them warm and hearty greeting.

Deceased was born in Georgia and was a graduate of the Georgia University, at Oglethorpe, and of Princeton University. For 60 years following his ordination at the age of 20, he was an active pastor in the church.

He is survived by his widow and the following children: Dr. W. P. Beall, of Greensboro; Mr. Herbert W. Beall, of Mayesville, S. C.; Rev. Charles T. Beall, of the Fayetteville Presbytery; Mr. Robert B. Beall and Dr. Louis G. Beall, of this city; Mr. George L. Beall, of Georgia, and Miss Meta Eloise Beall, of this city.

Funeral services, conducted by Rev. C. E. Hodgins, were held Saturday afternoon from the Friends' church on Asheboro street, owing to the fact that Westminster Presbyterian church, which is being rebuilt, is not yet completed. The services were attended by a large company of sorrowing friends and interment was made in Greene Hill cemetery.

Mr. H. M. Fowler.
Monday witnessed the passing of one of Greensboro's oldest citizens in the death of Mr. H. M. Fowler, who died at the residence of his grandson, Mr. L. K. Thompson, on Tate street.

Mr. Fowler was 84 years old and his death was not unexpected, as he had been failing rapidly the past few months. A naturally kind heart, with the courtesy and consideration for others which characterized gentlemen of his generation, had won for him many devoted friends and the respect of all who knew him. For more than half a century he was a consistent member of the Lutheran church and held a place in the church council for a number of years.

Mr. Fowler was born September 19, 1828, in Alamance county, and was married February 13, 1850, to Miss Nancy J. Compton, of the same county, whose death occurred five years ago. To this union there were born seven children, two sons and five daughters, three of whom survive. They are Mr. Henry Lee Fowler, of Randleman; Mrs. J. K. Thompson, who makes her home with her son, Mr. L. K. Thompson, and Miss Florence Fowler, of Graham. He also leaves ten grandchildren.

WANTED—A fresh milk cow. W. L. Sharpe, 328 Gorrell street.

Get a nice tailored suit for Easter, we will save you money, will fit and please you. I. W. Murphy Tailoring Company.

dren and one great-grandchild. Funeral services were held at the home Tuesday morning, after which the remains were taken to Burlington, his old home, and laid to rest in the cemetery at that place.

Mrs. Delilah White.
Mrs. Delilah White, wife of Rev. W. W. White, answered the final summons Saturday morning, when, after a long illness, she passed peacefully away at her home on South Spring street.

Mrs. White was 79 years of age, and during the past five years had been in feeble health, death resulting from heart failure. During her long life she had been a devoted member of the Baptist church, and had many friends in the city and county who will mourn her departure.

Members of her immediate family surviving are: Her husband and four children—George I. White, of Marion; Mrs. Dr. J. N. Stone, of San Antonio, Texas; Mrs. N. E. Parrott, of Knoxville, Tenn., and Mrs. J. H. Shaw, of this city.

Funeral services, conducted by the pastor, Rev. J. Clyde Turner, and largely attended, were held Sunday afternoon from the First Baptist church, interment in Greene Hill cemetery.

The pallbearers were Dr. W. W. Rowe, J. C. Olive, John Thomas, Whit R. Stone, C. W. Jennings, J. A. Coppedge.

Mr. Henry A. Williams.
Many friends in Greensboro, where he was well known and much liked for his pleasing personality and sterling qualities, learned with genuine regret of the death of Mr. Henry A. Williams, which occurred Sunday night at his home in Columbia, S. C., where he held the position of superintendent of the Charleston to Columbia division of the Southern Railway.

Beginning his service for the company as a brakeman, Mr. Williams, by force of character, attention to business, and ability which was soon recognized by the officials, fought his way up to that high position which he filled as acceptably as all others which he had held, both to the public and to his company. For several years he was stationed at Greensboro, as trainmaster for the Southern, going to Columbia, upon promotion, about eight years ago. About ten years ago he was injured in a train wreck from which he never entirely recovered. His widow survives him.

Mrs. John C. Foust.
Tuesday afternoon at her home ten miles southeast of Greensboro, in the Mt. Hope church neighborhood, Mrs. John C. Foust passed away at the age of 62 years. Before her marriage Mrs. Foust was Miss Barbara Whitesell, daughter of Mr. David Whitesell, who lived near Gibsonville. She leaves the husband, one grandchild and several brothers. The funeral was held today at Mt. Hope church, conducted by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Cox.

Mr. Tom Allred.
The body of Tom Allred, the white man who tried to commit suicide recently at his home at Proximity, was brought to Greensboro from Morganton where he died Sunday morning. Mr. Allred was a sufferer from pellagra, and the result was that he became severely ill, his mind being unbalanced. He was taken to Morganton in the hope that treatment would improve his condition. The body was taken to Ramseur for burial.

Mrs. S. W. Wall.
Mr. J. S. Moore and Mr. O. T. Leonard, friends of deceased, received news Friday of the death of Mrs. S. W. Wall, at Wallburg that morning.

Mrs. Wall was the mother of Mr. G. W. Wall and Mr. C. M. Wall, of Wallburg, and she had a number of friends in Greensboro. The funeral was conducted from the home Saturday by Dr. H. A. Brown, of Winston-Salem, assisted by Rev. O. A. Keller.

Mrs. Emma V. Delancy.
Mrs. Emma V. Delancy died Thursday at her home on Cherry street, aged 72 years. She is survived by four children, one son and three daughters. Another daughter, Mrs. Will Wray, is dead. Among other relatives are twelve grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Friday morning from the home, conducted by Revs. Christenbury and Milloway; interment in Greene Hill cemetery.

Mrs. J. O. Simmons.
After an illness of several weeks and a stroke of paralysis about three weeks ago, Mrs. J. O. Simmons died last night at her home on Asheboro street. She was 69 years of age and is survived by four children, three of whom, Mrs. R. M. Soop, Mrs. J. M. Taylor and L. G. Simmons, reside in this city. The body will be carried to the old home in Alamance county and the funeral will be held at Mt. Zion Baptist church Friday, interment following in the church burying grounds.

Mrs. Margaret Ewer.
Mrs. Margaret Ewer, aged 75 years, died yesterday morning at her home in Proximity. Pneumonia was the immediate cause of death. The funeral was held from the home in the afternoon, services being conducted by Rev. Mr. Christenbury. The deceased is survived by two grandchildren, E. D. Dunn and Mrs. Maggie West.

Miss Emma Siler.
Miss Emma Siler, aged 19 years, died Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Phillips, Cypress street, Proximity. The cause of death was pneumonia, which followed a case of measles. Her sister, Miss Nannie Siler, was present at the time of the death. The body was taken to Siler City for interment.

Mr. John Rich.
Mr. John Rich died yesterday at his home, five miles northeast of the city. The deceased was 56 years of age. He had never married and lived by himself on his farm. The funeral will be held at Holt's chapel at 8 o'clock today, conducted by Rev. Mr. Townsend.

Mrs. Ethel Seawell.
Mrs. Ethel Seawell died Thursday after a long illness, at her home on Maple street, Proximity. She was 32 years of age. The funeral was held Friday afternoon, conducted by Rev. G. H. Christenbury. The interment was made in Greene Hill cemetery.

Mrs. M. A. Allred.
Mrs. Mary Alice Allred died Thursday at her home on Maple street, Revolution. The body was taken to Millboro for interment. The deceased was 21 years old. She is survived by her husband and a four-months-old baby.

REGISTER OF DEEDS SUSTAINED.

Suit Against Mr. Rankin Results in Complete Vindication.

A case of unusual interest tried in the Superior court last week, was a suit brought by S. R. Lane, of High Point, against Register of Deeds W. H. Rankin for the sum of $200 damages, it being set forth in the complaint that the defendant had issued a marriage license for his daughter, who was under age, without his consent.

The case was unusual, in that, while the testimony of those concerned differed materially in several particulars, nobody accused any body else of a misstatement or intention to mislead.

Mr. J. Matt Sechrest, a justice of the peace of High Point, said on the stand that he wrote a letter to the register of deeds asking for the license and submitting the data necessary for securing it. On the other hand Mr. Rankin and his deputy, Roy H. Jones, testified that Mr. Sechrest personally appeared in the office and submitted the data to them, and that they asked him if the ages of the parties were correct.

The license was issued and mailed to Mr. Sechrest at High Point, and he signed an affidavit as to the ages before Mr. Parrish, of that place. The plaintiff laid stress on this manner of procedure as irregular, but it was ruled that this had little to do with the merits of the case, since there was involved mainly the reasons which the register of deeds had for issuing the license.

Mr. Rankin testified to the good character of Mr. Sechrest and said he knew of no man on whom he would rely quickly. Mr. Sechrest also testified as to the good character of both Mr. Rankin and Mr. Jones.

The jury sustained the defense, and upheld Mr. Rankin in the course he had followed in not issuing license until he was sure, so far as he could ascertain, that the parties were of age.

MARRIAGES.

Cupid Continues His Activities in Season and Out of Season.

Millikan-Tuck.
Many friends throughout the state will be interested in the announcement of the marriage of Mr. J. M. Millikan, of Greensboro, to Miss Mabel Tuck, of Durham, which occurred yesterday in Norfolk, Va., at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. N. P. Robertson. Among the Greensboro friends who attended the wedding were: Dr. J. H. Wheeler, Messrs. T. A. Hunter and G. S. Bradshaw.

Mr. Millikan is clerk of the United States court for the western district, and prominently identified with a number of important business interests in and out of Greensboro. Before being appointed to his present position he was United States marshal for two terms, and is counted among the public spirited and progressive men who always have at heart the welfare of the community.

Miss Tuck has for several years been a teacher in the Durham schools, and has won for herself the friendship and admiration of a large circle of acquaintances.

After a honeymoon trip to Cuba and Florida Mr. and Mrs. Millikan will be at home to their friends at Mr. Millikan's residence on Summit avenue.

SIARR-COBLE.

A telegram received in Greensboro Tuesday announced the marriage of a popular young couple of this city, at the Jai Street Methodist Episcopal church in New York, the parties being Miss Lillie Pearl Coble, daughter of Mrs. J. Henry Coble, and Mr. W. G. Starr.

The bride was accompanied to New York by her sister, Mrs. Lalah Coble, and by Miss Anna Fleming, of Philadelphia. After spending several days on their bridal tour in New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington, they will return to this city and be at home, 630 Asheboro street.

Lambert-Brooks.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Matthews, cousins of the bride, was the scene of a beautiful wedding ceremonial last night, when Miss Sue Maude Brooks was given in marriage to Mr. W. F. Lambert, of Chatham county. The marriage was witnessed by a large company of friends and relatives, and was followed by a brilliant reception. After the honeymoon trip Mr. and Mrs. Lambert will make their home near Siler City.

Greer-Davidson.

A pretty home wedding occurred at White Oak Sunday afternoon, when Miss Bessie Davidson, became the bride of William Harrison Greer. Rev. Mr. Barrs officiated. Miss Davidson is the popular daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Davidson, recently of Rockingham county, now residing in White Oak. Mr. Greer is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Greer, and is much liked among the younger set.

Engagement Announced.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Benbow have announced the engagement of their daughter, Mary Elizabeth, to P. Watt Richardson, of this city, the wedding to occur Wednesday evening, March 19, at First Presbyterian church.

The bride to be is a very lovable and accomplished young lady, a graduate of the State Normal and Industrial College and prominent in the social life of Greensboro.

Mr. Richardson is a son of R. P. Richardson, of Reidsville, the well known tobacco manufacturer, and a popular young business man.

The announcement, on account of the prominence of the two families, will be read with interest throughout the state.

Attention, Veterans.

The time for giving crosses of honor to Confederate veterans has been extended one year longer, so all veterans desiring to get crosses will please send names during this month, February, or next month, March, to Miss Lizzie Lindsay, president Guilford Chapter U. D. C. S., 215 South Greene street, Greensboro, N. C.

Rev. C. E. Hodgins, Messrs. Claude Pritchett, O. C. Wysong and E. P. Wharton are attending the Laymen's Missionary Convention in Memphis this week.

MERCHANTS' ASSOCIATION.

Annual Banquet and Election of Officers Thursday Evening.

A sumptuous banquet in the spacious dining hall of the Y. M. C. A. building was a feature of the annual meeting of the Greensboro Merchants' Association Thursday evening at which time the following officers were elected to serve during the ensuing year:

President, J. Norman Wills; vice president, Charles H. McKnight; directors, J. Norman Wills, C. H. McKnight, J. R. Oettinger, S. M. Bumpass, J. W. Scott, R. C. Bernau, C. H. Grantham, John J. Phoenix, J. M. Hendrix, C. H. Andrews, George O. Fowler, J. L. Thacker and W. H. Rees. These recommendations were adopted by unanimous vote and Mr. Wills was heartily applauded after a graceful speech of acceptance. Under his leadership during the past year the association has prospered and taken the initiation in many things which have gone toward making the past one of the most gratifying years Greensboro merchants and business men have known.

In his annual report Mr. Wills gave in detail the various works and accomplishments of the association during the year. He reported that the office work was well in hand and that through the credit reports the merchants had been guided in opening accounts. Other things initiated by the association were reported, as well as a reference made to the part the association had taken in reviving the local tobacco market, killing the municipal market scheme and various things which go for the upbuilding of the mercantile interests.

Among the speakers who enlivened the occasion with chunks of wit and wisdom were President J. Norman Wills, Messrs. W. S. Clary, T. S. Graham, J. M. Hendrix, G. C. Hendricks, J. G. Frazier, president of the Guilford County Farmers' Union; K. H. McIntyre, director of the county agricultural school at Pleasant Garden; E. P. Wharton, president Greensboro Chamber of Commerce, and Caesar Cone.

All told of the good work being done in Guilford county through the activities of the organizations represented, and the great amount of work yet to be done. The keynote of the meeting was "co-operation" between town and county—a get-together spirit necessary for the accomplishment of all great undertakings.

the family, Mrs. Letitia Moody, was present for the pleasant event.

NEW JUDICIAL DISTRICT.

Guilford Bar Association Makes Recommendations to Legislature.

The Guilford County Bar Association met Friday in the court room for the purpose of considering a new judicial district composed of the counties of Guilford, Alamance, Randolph and Chatham.

Upon motion of Judge W. P. Bynum, Col. James T. Morehead was called to the chair, and Mr. Clifford Frazier was chosen secretary of the meeting.

Judge Bynum read a letter from Attorney A. B. Andrews asking that information be sent him as to the needs of certain terms of court for Guilford county. A resolution was passed appointing a committee of three composed of O. L. Sarr, G.
S. Bradshaw and A. E. Kimball to forward such information to Mr. Andrews.

The following resolutions were presented by Mr. Sapp:

"Resolved first: That it is the opinion of the Guilford County Bar Association that a judicial district should be formed out of the counties of Guilford, Alamance and Randolph, or of Guilford, Alamance and Chatham.

"Second: That Guilford county should have during each year a minimum of 24 weeks of Superior court divided into 10 civil terms of two weeks each, none to be held between the 15th of June and the 15th of August, nor between the 15th of December and the 10th day of January, and four criminal terms of one week each, and that such terms be arranged so as to avoid conflict with the call of Guilford county in the Supreme court.

"Third: That the secretary of this meeting send a copy of these resolutions to Guilford county's representatives in the general assembly, to the end that they may use their best efforts to secure the same."

The resolutions were passed by the unanimous vote of the association.

Mr. Elijah Moffitt, an attorney of Randolph, who was present at the meeting, stated that at a recent meeting of the Randolph association, that association expressed a desire to have a judicial district composed of Randolph, Guilford and Alamance counties.

GUILFORD GRAYS FIRST.

Local Military Company Wins Fame
as Best Marksmen.

According to the official report
just issued of the marksmanship tests made at the various encampments held throughout the United States during the past year, the Guilford Grays stands first among the companies of the National Guard in point of marksmanship with 12-inch guns. The report goes on to say that the local boys fired twice with a 12-inch gun, the charge of which costs more than $1,000, and each shot found its mark, giving a marksmanship percentage of merit of 81.70, the highest attained by any company. The first North Carolina company fired three shots without a hit, as did the second company. The fourth, fifth and sixth North Carolina companies fired three times each, with one hit. The approximate range for each shot was 7,000 feet.

The local company, which is known as the third company of the state National Guard, was the only one of this state to attain first place in any of the marksmanship tests.
With a six-inch gun the sixth North Carolina stands ninth; with eight-inch guns the fifth company takes second place, the first company third and the second company fourth, which is the best collective record made by any state. In handling the larger 12-inch guns the local boys stand first. The fourth North Carolina company is the only other one of the state rated in this class, its position being eighth.

The local company made its almost perfect record during the encampment at Fort Caswell last summer, and while under the command of Capt. Frank Iaze, who has attained high rank in National Guard circles.
The boys, by their achievement of last year, show that they are worthy of bearing the name of the famous Guilford company of Confederate fame. It is a record for which they have every cause to feel proud.

SUPERIOR COURT GRIND.

Number of Small Civil Cases Get a Hearing During Present Term.

Among a number of small civil cases heard during the present term of court, one which attracted more than usual attention was that brought by John W. Welborn against J. E. Edwards, both of High Point, for the destruction of a shade tree on a building lot owned by the plaintiff. The tree was cut to permit the moving of a residence. The amount asked for was $50.

Other cases disposed of last week were:

The suit of Fannie and Ed. Smith
vs. the Western Union Telegraph Company for $2,000 damage, because of mental anguish, by the attached non-delivery of a telegram, was non-suited.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Burton secured a verdict of $158 against W. S.
Cecil for caring for an invalid. The judge cut the jury's verdict to $75 and stated that if this was not accepted the verdict would be set aside. The suit was for $165.

ed by deed by the said James Miles and wife, to Ceasar Cobb, as appears from book 138, page 188, and also 6 7-8 acres conveyed by the said
James Miles and wife, to Sam and Fannie Richardson, as appears from book 138, page 693, in the office of the register of deeds of Guilford county.

Also another tract of land particularly described and defined as follows:

Beginning at a stump on Anne Lewis' line, running thence north 198 poles to a sourwood near a large dead chestnut on — Lewis' line; thence west crossing the branch 109 1-4 poles to a stone; thence south ginning, containing 165 1-4 acres, and 26 poles, more or less.

Said lands will be sold in lots or parcels separately to suit purchasers, and then will be offered for sale as a whole. Said lands are well timbered, good farming lands, and very valuable.

TERMS OF SALE—One-third cash payable on the day of sale, and the remaining two-thirds on a credit of six months. Purchasers to give bonds for the remaining two-thirds and pay interest thereon from date of sale at the rate of six per cent.
per annum. These lands are near the railroad and about eight or ten miles northeast of Greensboro.

Men's Shoes at Half Price NOW DON'T JUMP

To the conclusion that we are going to offer you the whole of our splendid stock of men's shoes at half price. Nothing of the kind, sir. But we have about fifty pairs of men's patent leather and tan low shoes or oxford ties, carried over from last season, some of them from the season before, and these we are going to close out at half price. You will be wanting low shoes in six weeks from now, and this offer gives you a chance to get the four dollar kind for two dollars.
We know this is the month of February all right, but it would pay you to buy $4.00 Bostonian oxfords for two dollars a pair if it was December. Remember these men's shoes we offer at half price are low shoes, patent leather and tan, carried over from last season.

Blood Bath Knocks Rheumatism

Remarkable Effects of a Remedy That Actually Irrigates the Entire Blood Supply.

It seems queer to take a blood bath but that is precisely the effect of a most remarkable remedy known as S. S. S. It is the regular action of soaking through the intestines directly into the blood. In five minutes its influence is at work on every artery, vein and tiny capillary. Every membrane, every organ of the body, every emunctory becomes irrigated. It strains the blood of impurities. The stimulating properties of S. S. S. expand the skin, liver, bowels, and lead to all work to the one thing, getting out every irritating, every poisoning element of the blood. It dissolves all accumulations in the blood, breaks up all secretions, renders the blood pure and healthy. Those peculiar pains in the nerve centers that are so distressing and often baffling to the sufferer, this remarkable remedy removes to the weakest stomach, and it is a more vegetable infusion, it goes into your blood just as it is absorbed naturally into your system.

The Swift Laboratory has spent years of time in perfecting this remedy, placing it in the hands of the public. It is a wonderful remedy. So give your blood a bath with S. S. S. for it is the best remedy for rheumatism.

Do not get it at any drug store. It is a standard remedy, and is specifically ever discovered. It is a standard remedy, and is specifically ever discovered. It is a standard remedy, and is specifically ever discovered.

MR. GERINGER WRITES.

Thinks the Teachers Do Not Earn Their Money.

To the Editor of The Patriot:

I have noticed in your paper a great deal on educating the children. I believe in educating the youth in the right way, for I have helped to build school houses and colleges when I could have used my money at home. What the fathers have wanted for the last ten years has been to teach from six to seven hours per day, as the law required, not play time counted in and not teach four and five hours per day as has been taught and got their pay just the same. The child should be taught in school moral training and economy, but I am sorry to say a large per cent of the teachers have failed to teach those things. I declare free school money, as it is called, has been handled very carelessly. When you take the school law of North Carolina and read the requirements of law, I have come to the point that if the law of justice had been carried out the children would have been further advanced than at present. I have known of schools that have been taught in the county that were a shame to the taxpayers of said schools. I do not believe in attempting to mislead any one. But things down just as they are. The school tax money should be spent in a Christian way.

ANDREW D. GERINGER.
Brown Summit, N. C.

Defends the Dogs.

To the Editor of The Patriot:

I see a notice going the rounds in many papers, at least in two I take, and I think The Patriot one of them, copied from a paper called Charity and Children which contains this paragraph:

"It takes courage of a high order for a legislator to press a bill to tax dogs. A public man takes his life in his hands to do it. But everybody except those who own a gang of worthless curs knows that it ought to be done. A man with a valuable dog would not hesitate to pay a dollar a year for the privilege of keeping him. The clamor against a dog tax comes from those who maintain the mangy and mongrel hounds who live off the eggs of other people, and who slip out once in a while and slay a sheep by way of variety. They are a constant menace to life and limb. Being half starved they are the ones that go mad and set the neighborhood wild in the warm weather. A dollar on the heads of these dogs would do the work. Their owners would not pay it and the dogs would go. The killing of about 500,000 North Carolina dogs would be a happy ridance, and the man responsible for this wholesale slaughter would be entitled to the best postoffice in the state. Put what is the use of indulging in this golden dream? The legislature would sooner vote a successful tax on sheep or hens than on dogs. We are living in the hope, however, that mankind will reach that point in the onward march of civilization that a legislature will assemble in Raleigh and will smite the snarling canines hip and thigh!"

Now for any editor calling himself charity, that takes the bun. In the first place all this hot air about dogs isn't worth the space taken. There are not in North Carolina 500,000 dogs and the editor in question knows it. And if there were twice that many, if a man wants to own a dog or forty dogs, he should have a right to own them. The city chaps are always telling the farmers what to do and how to do it. How many people have been killed and crippled by automobiles this past year in North Carolina? And not a word about passing a law to abolish the automobile or kill the people owning them. How many men have we in the penitentiary? How many in lunatic asylums? Why not kill all the men because now and then one goes mad? Why not kill the poor devil who loses his mind and becomes a state charge?

I for one own three dogs and may own more. Dogs have not kept down the sheep industry any more than the politicians have. I make bold to say the politicians in North Carolina are more of a menace than all the dogs in forty states.

But just because a dog is dumb and helpless; because he can't speak for himself a lot of people labelled "Charity" go about with their newspapers crying out to crucify him.

How many half starved children and men are there in the state? Why pay a dollar on a dog when the state will not recognize him as property? Why tax something that if your neighbor kills you cannot get pay for? All dogs are valuable to their owners. A hungry hound dog following a negro is just as much loved as the lap dog of the millionaire's wife in New York. I say protect the dogs and do away with politicians and editors who have no charity.

JUSTICE.

WILL NOT INTERFERE.

United States Will Let Mexico Settle Its Own Troubles.

Washington, Feb. 17.—Secretary of State Knox was directed by President Taft to reply early this morning to the request of President Francisco I. Madero, of Mexico, for a definite statement of the policy of the United States toward Mexico.

Despite the alarming information that has continued to come into Washington for the last few days, not a member of the president's cabinet favored intervention when summoned to tonight's meeting. Most of the official family believes that the Mexican factions will solve their own troubles, and are of the opinion that interference by the United States is uncalled for at this time.

The president was plainly disturbed to learn that communication between Mexico and the United States was precarious and that an apparently strict censorship had been instituted by Mexican authorities. His fear has been that just such a condition might arise and that Americans in Mexico City might find themselves facing a situation like that which existed in Mexico during the boxer rebellion.

There was little doubt expressed here tonight that if a censorship is being exercised this government will demand that the communications from Ambassador Wilson and his family shall be permitted to go through without interruption. It does not propose to have the slender thread that connects the American colony with Washington interfered with for an instant.

DENOUNCE EDITOR JOHNSON.

Article in Charity and Children Accuses Members of the House.

According to reports, last Thursday was a day to be remembered by members of the lower house of the general assembly. There was "something doing," and all brought about by an editorial appearing in "Charity and Children," wherein Editor Johnson took the representatives to task for their action on the Stewart divorce bill which was killed in the senate. Indignant and outraged the house adopted this resolution:

"Be it resolved that the house of representatives condemns the unjust criticism of this body contained in an editorial in Charity and Children February 13 as reflecting upon the integrity, patriotism and intelligence of this house."

The members had found copies of the paper on all their desks that morning.

The editorial was headed, "Divorce Bill Dead," and credited the senate with saving the state from disgrace. It referred to the members of the house as "a lot of moral molly-coddles having about as much foresight as a drove of mules."

Representative Stewart, the author of the divorce bill, denounced Editor Archibald Johnson as devoid of charity or tolerance.

Representative Arsin wanted "Sunday school" words added to the resolution condemning Editor Johnson.

A GOOD AD—MAYBE.

The lower house of the legislature proceeded to resolve concerning the editor of Charity and Children, because the editor aforesaid said the average legislator was something like a gate post and a mule.

The resolutions were a bit scathing; they humbly attempted to peel the bark off the editor, and the editor proceeded to say that it was a good advertisement for him. It may be and it may not be. For the present, the now, the ad is good, because people who know Johnson know him to be well intentioned, and his criticism was not in anger—it was more the habit of expression than intent of expression.

Everybody knows that a man never resembles a mule—however much he may resemble a jackass. And everybody knows that no man is like a gate post, because a gate post always keeps its mouth shut and says nothing. Therefore the impossible of the exaggeration destroys the severity of the arraignment. The average legislator is like the cowboy in the Western wilds of New Mexico. The cowboy died one day and because his comrades loved him they put a slab over his grave which read:

"He done his d—t.
Angels could do no more."

And the average legislator generally measures to this sublime height. And when a man has done as much as the angels can do, no ordinary editor should allow himself to make fun of the patriot who has thus given the best in him for his state's perpetuation; his state's glory; his state's pride.

As we say, the present may not care. The present is not critical. But suppose that when the ruins of Raleigh's statehouse shelters some curious New Zealander and he goes through the records covered with the rust and must of time and finds the resolution wherein the editor of whom we speak was excoriated; held up to proud men's contumely; roasted to a finish, so to speak—think of that blush of shame for the Fourth Estate that must mount the cheek of the relic hunter. Then it will be that the bones of the editor of Charity and Children will turn in their grave; assemble themselves and push their way through the green sod of many years' luxuriant growth, gather themselves together and sit on the tombstone that tried to hold them down, and say "What's that?" when the New Zealander fills the air with his profanations.

No, better that the mule and the gate post figure of speech had remained unwritten. Better that the man who has "done his d—t" be let alone in his glory—handed a crown, rather than a kick.

The North Carolina legislature is the stuff—death to him whom slanderers it!

To President Taft belongs the distinction of being the only president since Washington to address the senate of the United States while that body was in session, and his appearance in the chamber last Saturday attracted large crowds to the galleries. The occasion was a memorial service held in honor of the late Vice President James S. Sherman, when routine business was suspended and the senators gave themselves up to listening to tributes to their former leader. Former President Roosevelt, President-Elect Wilson, Vice President-Elect Marshall and former Vice Presidents Fairbanks, Stevens and Morton had all been invited to participate, but none were able to attend.

In sentencing officials of the National Cash Register Company, United States Judge Hollister scored the defendants bitterly for their business methods, methods which, he declared, were needless in a concern where millions of dollars could have been made legitimately and without violation of the law. Closing, he declared: "The government is strong enough to protect its people, whether this protection extends to the transportation of dynamite across the land for the purpose of blowing up bridges or the laying of the hands upon men who seek to stifle competition by illegal business methods."

We can read unmoved, while enjoying peace oratorical contests at home, of the horrible atrocities and brutal butcheries going on in Turkey and other far off lands. But when it gets as close to us as Mexico and our own friends are in danger, the primal instinct of self preservation asserts itself and all our beautiful theories about peace are forgotten.

President Taft is greatly worried over the situation in Mexico. He does not want to hand Mr. Wilson a full sized war on the day of his inauguration, and the time between now and the fourth of March is too short for him to carry out while in office any well outlined policy. The president is at a disadvantage.

The anti-tipping bill was killed, as it should have been. There are too many matters of vital importance before the general assembly to waste time in considering whether a man shall give a quarter to a hotel servant who has gone to extra trouble to "treat him as a gentleman."

A correspondent wants the county teachers to have longer school hours and less play. It will be a shock to the public school teachers in North Carolina to know that some of their patrons feel that they are not earning their princely salaries.

President Madero, of Mexico, declared that he would die rather than resign, and the rebels were equally determined. President Taft's cabinet steadily oppose intervention on the part of the United States, and the end is not in sight.

Let's see that the country boys and girls are sure of a six months' school term before we begin to talk about buying new furniture for Governor Craig.

Conditions in Mexico are becoming alarming and it may be that the United States will be forced to take a hand whether she wants to or not.

The fall in the price of eggs is hailed with joy by the city folk, to whom the high cost of living is becoming a problem past the solving.

The bill for a six months school term has passed its third reading in the house, and the chances are good for its becoming a law.

KILLS HERSELF.

Mrs. R. W. Winston, of Raleigh, Meets Tragic Death in Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 18.—Her mind deranged by a nervous disorder Mrs. R. W. Winston, of North Carolina, eluded her nurse, plunged from a window on the seventh floor of a hospital here today and was instantly killed. Mrs. Winston has been suffering from nervousness for more than a year and had been under treatment at the local institution since early in January. Her home was in Raleigh.

Mrs. Winston was the wife of former Judge R. W. Winston, who was the law partner of the late ex-Governor Charles B. Aycock. She was 51 years old and a member of one of North Carolina's most distinguished families, a sister of Bishop Junius Horner, of Asheville, of the Western North Carolina Episcopal diocese. Four children survive, one being Horner Winston, a lawyer, of Chicago, another Robert W. Winston, Jr., a teacher in Bingham school at Asheville, and two daughters.

MADERO AND CABINET JAILED.

Fighting in Mexico Results in Victory to the Revolutionists.

Mexico City, Feb. 18.—Francisco I. Madero has been forced out of the presidency. He was arrested at the national palace shortly before 3 o'clock this afternoon by General Elanquet.

General Victoriano Huerta, commander of the federal troops, was proclaimed provisional president.

About the time Madero was seized by Blanquet, his brother, Gustavo Madero, the former minister of finance, was arrested by General Huerta.

All members of the cabinet were promptly placed under arrest with the exception of Ernesto Madero, the uncle of the president, who held the portfolio of finance. He was apprised of the intentions against the government and managed to make his escape.

Washington, Feb. 18.—The news tonight found this government still firm in its policy of non-intervention and unwavering in its preparation, upon a moment's notice, to strike an aggressive blow for the defense of American citizens should occasion demand it. Although the change, which it is believed, will bring relief from the intolerable conditions following in the wake of ten days of bloody fighting was welcome to those who carry the burden of state, official Washington had no comment to make on the outcome.

The formality of political recognition, in all likelihood, will fall to the administration of President-elect Wilson. There would hardly be time for the negotiations in the remaining few days of President Taft's term of office. In the event that Ambassador Wilson's term as ambassador of the United States in Mexico's capital should close with the administration which sent him it would be first necessary for the president of the United States to appoint his successor. This diplomat would be in a position to further negotiations incidental to recognition of the new Mexican regime when that government has demonstrated its ability to enforce the law.

Gustavo Madero Shot.

The former president and his brother, Gustavo, were sent this morning as prisoners to the arsenal from which Gen. Felix Diaz, the rebel commander, had bombarded the city for 10 days. Soon after their arrival there Gustavo Madero was subjected to the notorious "fugitive law" by which he was free to run under the rifle fire of his guards. He fell dead under their bullets.

WHITSETT.

J. Irvin Groome attended a reception Saturday night in Greensboro to his sister, Miss Helen Groome, who on March 15 will marry Dr. R. O. Dees. She is well known here where she has visited a number of times.

C. C. Barnhardt, Esq., of High Point, was here Sunday. He has promised to deliver a lecture here some Sunday night soon.

The lecture Sunday night was on "Purpose, Its Value in Life." It was well attended.

On Thursday a pouncing will be given the new Presbyterian minister by the members of the ladies' aid society.

Rev. A. S. Raper, of Trinity, was here Friday and Saturday looking after the sale of some property he had stored here. He owns a house and lot here now.

W. J. Thompson spent Sunday here. He is now at Holman's mills in the lumber business.

The baseball schedule is now being completed for this season. It will be published soon. Games are being arranged with Horner school, Bingham school, Mars Hill College, Trinity Park school, Liberty-Piedmont Institute and other places.

Among the first games will be two at Oxford with Horner March 4 and 5 and Bingham school in Harden park at Burlington, March 8. Mars Hill College will be here at Whitsett March 14. The full schedule will be given in a little later.

Fifty excellent books were placed in the library last week. The library is open every day and is free to use by the students.

Among the agents here last week were Spalding's representative in athletic goods, and the agent of the Green Clothing Mills.

New uniforms have been ordered for the basketball team this season.

Preaching will be held twice a month hereafter at the Presbyterian church.

An address on "The Reformation in the Sixteenth Century" was recently delivered by Dr. Whitsett in the First Reformed church in Greensboro.

E. O. Walker has opened up a room here in the room adjoining the postoffice.

The people were somewhat excited by a supposed mad dog one day last week. "Kill the stray dogs" would be a good motto to follow for a while in North Carolina.

Rev. J. D. Andrew is all smiles over the arrival of his sixth son recently.

Miss Corn McLean, of Sedalia, spent Saturday and Sunday here with her brother's family.

R. B. Ellington, of Charlotte, was a visitor the first of the week. His son was in last year's graduating class and is now in business in Charlotte.

There was a meeting last Friday of representatives from Springwood and Bethel Presbyterian churches, Whitsett M. E. church, Whitsett Reformed church, and Burlington and St. Mark's Reformed churches with a view to adjusting the various church services so that there would be no conflicts. The matter proved to be a difficult one to settle. Certain Sunday services were wanted by more than one, so the matter was postponed to a later date with the hope of better adjustment.

The fall of the "beautiful snow" last Friday, St. Valentine's day was about three inches here. It made a wonderfully beautiful picture for a few hours but was soon gone.

Prof. C. C. Wimblish was kept from his school work most of last week by a throat trouble. He is again able to take his classes.

Lincoln's birthday on February 12 and Washington's birthday the 22nd will both receive suitable attention here. They arouse an interest that is shown by the calls upon the library for books treating on these lives, and their impress upon history.

Automobile parties from Greensboro and other points are here almost every day. Come to see us; you are always heartily welcome.

MT. HOPE SOCIAL EVENT.

Saturday evening, February 8, at her elegant country home Miss Abigail Foust in her charming manner was hostess at a party given in honor of her guests, Miss Mary Griffin, of Greensboro, and Misses Emily Hoffman and Lois Workman, of Burlington, and Miss Anna Cox, of Pleasant Garden.

For the evening a program full of pleasant results had been planned. The interesting features of the evening were a guessing contest and fortune telling, followed by a number of games which created much merriment.

At the conclusion of the social hour, that passed all too quickly, delicious refreshments were served. After which the guests reluctantly took their departure, vowing the occasion a most delightful one.

Among those enjoying the hospitality of Miss Foust were: Miss Anna Cox, Misses Ida and Jessie Greeson, Misses Etta and Flora Jones, Miss Mary Griffin, Miss Mary Grey Thompson, Miss Lois Workman, Miss Emily Hoffman, Miss Bertha Neese and Miss Myrtle Myers; Messrs. R. L. Jones, Thomas M. Starr, H. W. Friddle, E. M. Greeson, Murphy Neese, C. E. and I. L. Phipps, A. S. and M. C. Foust, Victor Welker and J. E. Foust. X.

Guilford College Contest.

This method of educating college students begun a few years ago in Indiana and Ohio. This inter-collegiate peace work has spread from East to West to both oceans and south to North Carolina. Not less than eighty leading colleges and universities held local contests last year, and 300 or more orations were written and delivered last year.

North Carolina had seven colleges contesting and this year nine. Last year Guilford College had five contestants. Bryant Smith won first prize, $10. He also won in the state contest and got $75. This year nine colleges are enlisted. Guilford has eighty-five young men making strenuous preparations for the prizes of $15 and $10, and the honor of representing the college at Raleigh in the inter-collegiate contest which is expected to be Friday evening, February 28. Guilford's men are: Hardy Caveol, Ulysses White, Ezra Moore, J. Robert Brown, W. A. White, Matthew Perry, Clyde Smith, and Paul Mann.

The contest is set for Guilford College on Tuesday, February 25, 7:30 P. M. A great occasion is expected. All are cordially invited.

F. S. BLAIR, Organizer-Secretary.

Entertainment at Brightwood.

An entertainment will be given at Brightwood on the night of the 22nd of February, entitled "St. Slocum's Country Store." After the play fruit skits will be sold. Young ladies are asked to bring baskets. The proceeds will go to the benefit of the school. The entertainment begins at 8 o'clock. No admission is charged. The public is cordially invited. Come and enjoy the evening.

PLEASANT GARDEN.

According to old "bur" ground hog" we have four weeks more of winter weather.

The building of telephone lines is the order of the day in this section. Four new phones were connected to the central here the later part of last week, and there are several more to be connected this week.

The town people are preparing to have a better water supply the coming summer than the past. Six new wells having been bored in the past three months.

There are bright prospects of a hardware store being built on main street in the near future. This with the Jr. O. U. A. M. hall which is soon to be built will add much to the appearance of the town.

The members of the M. E. church are looking forward with pleasure to the time in the near future when they shall have a new church to worship in.

Rev. J. A. Sharpe and Mr. J. R. McCulloch, of this place, left Sunday to spend some time in Bladen county.

Miss Elizabeth Vanpoole, of Salisbury, is here visiting her sisters, Misses Mary and Ruth Vanpoole, on Depino, avenue.

Mrs. J. L. Isenhour, of Conover, and Miss Louise Kline, of Oklahoma, are the guests of Mrs. J. W. Rockett, on Ross Drive.

Mrs. Fitzgerald, of Thomasville, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. J. A. Sharpe, on Main street.

Miss Mary Hix left last week for an extended visit to her sister, Mrs. M. P. Woodell, of Achdale.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Cranford and Mr. Oran Fentress, all of Greensboro, were welcome visitors Sunday at the home of Mrs. Fred Fentress, on Main street.

The people of this community were greatly surprised to hear of the capture of our most famous bachelor, who was married to Miss May Hinchshaw, of Greensboro, January 28.

The play, "Mr. Bob," given for the benefit of the athletic association Friday night, February 14, was greatly enjoyed by a large crowd.

Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock a public debate between the representatives of the high schools of Carthage and Pleasant Garden will be held in the auditorium of Pleasant Garden high school. The question to be discussed is: "Resolved, That the constitution of North Carolina should be so amended as to give woman the right of franchise under the same qualifications as man." Carthage will be represented by Messrs. Rose and Cole, Pleasant Garden by S. C. Hodgkin and T. G. Bowman. Public is cordially invited to attend.

Cones Win Suit.

Messrs. Ceasar and Julius W. Cone recently appeared as witnesses in a case tried in Boston, Mass., for the Proximity Manufacturing Company against W. Wolf & Sons, and which was decided in favor of the Proximity Manufacturing Company.

Chief Justice Aiken, of the Superior court, is expected to report to the Supreme court on the question of whether the defendants have lost the rebate by failing to settle promptly for notes which they should have taken, in the action of the Proximity Manufacturing Company against W. Wolf & Sons which was heard by chief justice and a jury, the jury determining the three principal issues of fact in behalf of the plaintiff and awarding $8,320.

Joaquin Miller Dead.

Oakland, Cal., Feb. 18.—Joaquin Miller (Cincinnatus Heimle) "the poet of the Sierras," died yesterday in his one room cabin, he built in the Piedmont hills many years ago. The end came at 3 o'clock in the afternoon with warm sunshine flooding the room where lay the author of "Songs of the Sunland."

Health Warning.

Make every effort to avoid having damp chilled or wet feet. Chilling the feet results in congesting the internal organs, and inflammation of the kidneys and bladder, with rheumatic twinges and pain in back, generally follow. Use Foley Kidney Pills. They are the best medicine made for all disorders of the kidneys, for bladder irregularities, and for backache and rheumatism. They do not contain habit forming drugs. Tonic in action, quick in results. Conyers & Sykes.

Mr. D. R. Hyams, of Thomasville, who has accepted a position with the Odell Hardware Company, has moved his family to Greensboro.

Dr. W. A. Hornaday, of Burlington, was a surgical patient at St. Leo's hospital the past week.

Mr. Charles H. McKnight is in New York on business.

ELON COLLEGE.

The Christian Publishing Association opened its office here on the 10th inst., but its machinery has not yet all arrived. The engine is installed and the moveable type, galley, the folder and several other items, including the job presses, but the big No. 8 Octopus press and the Mergenthaler typesetting machine have been unavoidably delayed. When they arrive, the house will begin the publication of the Elon College Weekly and of the Christian Sun as well. Several other periodicals are contemplating moving their printing here in the near future.

Dr. W. C. Wicker, of the college faculty, has been chosen to represent the Sunday school department of the American Christian Convention in the World's Sunday School Convention, which meets in Zurich, Switzerland, in July next. Dr. Wicker will attend the gathering.

The new gymnasium rapidly nears completion. The carpenters, plasterers, painters, steam fitters, plumbers and electric light men all have some finishing touches to apply, but the work is advancing smoothly and was so far along that last week the regular work in class instruction in gymnasium began and the basketball team could undertake its regular practice then.

The following is the schedule for the season, all games to be played in the new gymnasium here: Greensboro Y. M. C. A. February 22; A. and M. February 27; Guilford, pending; University, March 1.

The annual public entertainment of the Clio literary society occurs on the evening of Washington's birthday. The program consists of orations, humorous selections, instrumental and vocal musical renditions, and a debate, the query which is, "Resolved, That the ships of the rest of the world should be entitled to use the Panama canal on the same terms as ships of the United States."

VANDALIA.

Col. W. H. Osborne visited his ranch last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Kirkman, Mrs. G. L. Anthony and Mr. D. W. Ramsour are improving, after being on the sick list.

Master Aubrey Ramseur, little Miss Sallie Fogleman and the Dorset children have measles.

Mr. Coble and daughter, of Tabernacle, visited Mr. J. C. Hanner, recently.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Norwood are visiting in Alamance county this week.

Miss Lillie Taylor returned to Baltimore after spending the holidays with her mother.

By all means give the people compulsory education, it is what they need. North Carolina must come to the front in educational matters. The day has passed when people don't need to go to school.

A cough in hogs may be the result of sleeping in dusty quarters, in which case the trouble should be removed by giving bedding that is clean.

The English White Leghorns belonging to Thomas Barron are still in the lead at the international egg laying contest which is being held at Storrs college, Connecticut.

A blanket thrown over a horse when it has to stand out in the cold is a good deal cheaper method of conserving body heat than giving extra feed in the stable to make a blanket of fat.

Mad dogs have been responsible for but four human deaths in Chicago in the last five years. Tubercular cows have been responsible for hundreds of cases of tuberculosis in the same period.

Sheep cannot eat silage in as great proportionate quantity as do cattle, though no one seems to know why. However, they do well on it, and it saves a great deal of hay and other feed.

A Jefferson county (N. Y.) farmer last year applied 1,200 pounds of ground lime-tone per acre to a sown meadow, and the result was an increase of 2,300 pounds of clover hay per acre. It was well worth while.

A good many Kansas boys and men make a snug sum of spending money by trapping gophers, on which a bounty of 10 cents is paid. One farmer improved the dull season by trapping and gathering a bushel basket of gopher scalps, on which he received bounties amounting to $59.

When other kinds of hay are scarce there is a temptation to feed millet or Hungarian to horses. The practice is not safe, and this is particularly true in case the seed heads were pretty well developed before the hay was cut. Millet of this description may be fed to milk cows, but not to the horses.

It is a pretty good idea for parents and other school patrons to visit school frequently enough so that neither teacher nor pupils will consider such visit an unusual thing. Then, too, visits tend to make the teacher and her boys and girls feel that the patrons consider the school as an institution worth while.

Get a boy or a girl into the habit of reading good books and the chances will be more than even that each will develop into a man or a woman worthy of the name. Equally true it is that if both acquire a taste for trashy, sensational stuff the chances are that they will flash in the pan before they arrive at maturity.

Fowls are obliged to throw off much of the waste of the body through the lungs. They do not sweat in the sense that do other animals, but instead breathe several times faster than sweating animals when heated. To keep in good health a hen requires nearly seven times the amount of fresh air in proportion to its size as does a horse.

The supreme court of the United States has lately handed down a decision in the Patten case, in which it was alleged that an attempt was made to corner the cotton business of the country; that the attempt to get a corner on any commodity is essentially in restraint of trade, hence a violation of the Sherman anti-trust law. The decision seems likely to have a far-reaching effect.

A lady reader of this department who somewhat more than a year ago began taking the exercises and diet prescribed by a well known health specialist has increased in weight from 110 to 140 pounds and is now haunted with the fearsome specter of overweight. It looks very much as if she would have to consult this same beauty specialist for a prescription for reducing weight. It seems to be a case where the health expert gets 'em coming and going.

For the rapid removal of small trees in grubbing the writer has found it an excellent plan to use a team and a hundred foot rope. The larger side roots which will be found on most trees except hickory and bur oak should be cut on a number of the trees to be removed. One man should then take charge of the team and the other with a ladder tie the inch rope well up in the top of the tree. Fastened at a good height, this gives a big leverage, and every stroke of the ax while the team is pulling will do double and triple the work and make the job of re-

TWO METHODS.

It's a bit early in the season to talk methods of eradicating quack grass and Canada thistles, yet next summer it will be too late to give methods with the expectation of getting results from them. Small patches of either of these pests may be disposed of by cutting off below the surface of the ground at intervals of a week or ten days throughout the growing season. Even these plants, which have much vitality, must have leaves breathing above ground or they will die. Another method which is much used is to let the plants grow until they come to the blossom stage, then to cut them before any seed is matured. The ground should then be plowed shallow and seeded to sorghum. This should be cut and removed in the fall and the ground seeded to winter rye or wheat. This may be pastured as much as may be practicable and in the spring plowed under and the land planted to corn.

A FEEDING EXPERIMENT.

Some feeding experiments conducted last winter by the Pennsylvania experiment station had in view seeing how cheaply beef breeding cows could be carried through the winter. There were ten Shorthorn and ten Angus cows. During the feeding period of 140 days each cow was fed an average of 57.61 pounds of corn silage and one pound of cottonseed meal per day. With the silage worth $3.50 per ton, and the cottonseed meal $30 per ton, the average cost of feeding each animal for the period was $16.13. With straw used in bedding worth $3.34 and the care of each animal put at $2, the total expense for each cow for the period was $22.07. Crediting each cow with manure worth $6.63 and an increase in weight worth $8.22, the net cost of keeping each cow was $8.22.

TAMING WILD DUCKS.

At the Storrs college, in Connecticut, some interesting experiments have been conducted the past few years along the line of domesticating several species of wild ducks. An expedition was sent to Canada to secure the eggs of wild fowl, including redheads, canvasbacks and bluebills. These eggs were put in incubators, and the ducklings that hatched thrived. These birds, now full grown, are in a state of domestication. The success of the experiment is attributed to the fact that the eggs secured were hatched under domestic conditions, so that the ducklings could have no remembrance of their wild life, for attempts at taming were found to be practically useless in case of ducklings, even though caught when but a few days old.

A $60,000,000 LOSS.

Exhaustive investigations which have been carried on by the United States department of agriculture show that from the time eggs are laid until they are served on the consumer's table in one form or another there is a loss in value of 17 per cent. This loss is distributed under the following heads: Ditties, 2 per cent; breakage, 2 per cent; chick development, 5 per cent; shrinkage or held, 5 per cent; rotten or moldy, 3 per cent. With the eggs of the country last year worth in the neighborhood of $300,000,000, this means that the poultry keepers of the country suffered a loss of not far from $60,000,000, and even more than this if the total value of eggs given represents but 85 per cent of their real value.

FANCY FRUIT.

It is a fact that the prospective apple grower might well keep in mind that in spite of the plentifulness of apples of some varieties, which are going begging at $2.50 to $3 per barrel, fancy Jonathans are retailing at $5 per barrel and at $2 per box or better when carefully wrapped and put up in this shape. There is little question that a practically limitless market exists for apples of the type of these Jonathans—the Spitzenburg and Yellow Newtown belong in the same class—allowed to come to full ripeness and carefully picked and put up in attractive packages. There are plenty of folks with long pocketbooks that will buy fruit of this kind if it is put up so as to appeal both to the eye and the palate.

THE BIG CORN CROP.

The final figures for the 1912 corn crop show a total yield for the country of 3,124,746,000 bushels. In the production of this vast amount of corn Iowa led with 432,031,000 bushels, Illinois ranked second with 426,230,000 bushels and Missouri third with 243,904,000 bushels. Indiana, Nebraska, Ohio, Kansas, Texas, Kentucky and Oklahoma follow in the order named with yields ranging from 199,000,000 down to 101,000,000 bushels. An interesting fact in connection with the yield per acre is that the New England states Connecticut, New Hampshire and Massachusetts lead all other states with yields of fifty, forty-six and forty-five bushels per acre.

A YOUNG CORN GROWER.

The champion corn grower of Ohio is a lad, fourteen years of age, of the name of Dewey Hanes, who lives at Arcanum, a little country town some forty miles from Cincinnati. On one acre of ground this boy raised last season 139 bushels of corn. This was the best record made by anybody in the state, and he was rewarded for his effort by a handsome prize and a free trip to Washington on the corn growers' special.

Bad Spells

"I suffered, during girlhood, from womanly weakness," writes Mrs. Mollie Navy, of Walnut, N. C. "At last, I was almost bed-ridden, and had to give up. We had three doctors. All the time, I was getting worse. I had bad spells, that lasted from 7 to 28 days. In one week, after I gave Cardui a trial, I could eat, sleep, and joke, as well as anybody. In 8 weeks, I was well. I had been an invalid for 5 weary years! Cardui relieved me, when everything else failed."

and often require lime as well as phosphate. The crop takes from the soil two and one-half times as much potash as phosphate. The best growers who use raw material in fertilizing the crop use them in about this proportion.

It is plain that any mixed fertilizer for peanuts should contain more Potash than phosphate. The use of 100 lbs. of Potash or 400 lbs. of Potash per acre, or 50 lbs. of Potash per acre, will furnish two-thirds as much Potash as 100 lbs. of phosphate. You can afford to feed this crop well—also to feed it right.

"Goin' out in this, Mr. Ellery!" exclaimed Keziah, in amazement, as the minister put on his hat and coat about seven that evening. "Sakes alive! you won't be able to see the way to the gate. It's as dark as a nigger's pocket and thicker than young ones in a poor man's family, as my father used to say. You'll be wet through. Where in the world are you bound for this night?"

The minister equivocated. He said he had been in the house all day and felt like a walk.

"Well, take an umbrella, then," was the housekeeper's advice. "You'll need it before you get back, I cal'late."

It was dark enough and thick enough, in all conscience. The main road was a black, wet void, through which gleams from lighted windows were big vague, yellow blotches. The umbrella was useful in the same way that a blind man's cane is useful, in feeling the way. Two or three stragglers who met the minister carried lanterns. John Ellery stumbled on through the mist till he reached the "Corners" where the store was located and the roads forked. There, he turned to the right, into the way called locally "Hammond's Turn-off."

A short distance down the "Turn-off" stood a small, brown-shingled building, its windows alight. Opposite its door, on either side of the road, grew a spreading hornbeam tree surrounded by a cluster of swamp blackberry bushes. In the black shadow of the hornbeam Mr. Ellery stood still. He was debating in his mind a question: should he or should he not enter that building?

As he stood there, groups of people emerged from the fog and darkness and passed in at the door. Some of them he had seen during his fortnight in Trumet. Others were strangers to him. A lantern danced and wobbled up the "Turn-off" from the direction of the bay shore and the packet wharf. It drew near, and he saw that it was carried by an old man with long, white hair and chin beard, who walked with a slight limp. Beside him was a thin woman wearing a black poke bonnet and a shawl. In the rear of the pair came another woman, a young woman, judging by the way she was dressed and her lithe, vigorous step. The trio halted on the platform of the building. The old man blew out the lantern. Then he threw the door open and a stream of yellow light poured over the group.

The young woman was Grace Van Horne. The minister recognized her at once. Undoubtedly, the old man with the limp was her guardian, Captain Eben Hammond, who, by common report, had spoken of him, Ellery, as a "hired priest."

The door closed. A few moments thereafter the sound of a squeaky melodeon came from within the building. It wailed and quavered and groaned. Then, with a suddenness that was startling, came the first verse of a hymn, sung with tremendous enthusiasm:

"Oh, who shall answer when the Lord shall call His ransomed sinners home?"

The hallelujah chorus was still ringing when the watcher across the street stepped out from the shadow of the hornbeam. Without a pause he strode over to the platform. Another moment and the door had shut behind him.

The minister of the Trumet Regular church had entered the Come-Outer chapel to attend a Come-Outer prayer-meeting!

CHAPTER IV.

In Which the Parson Cruises in Strange Waters.

The Come-Outer chapel was as bare inside, almost, as it was without. Bare wooden walls, a beamed ceiling, a raised platform at one end with a table and chairs and the melodeon upon it, rows of wooden settees for the congregation—that was all. As the minister entered, the worshippers were standing up to sing. Three or four sputtering oil lamps but dimly illumined the place and made recognition uncertain.

The second verse of the hymn was just beginning as Ellery came in. Most of the forty or more grown people in the chapel were too busy wrestling with the tune to turn and look at him. A child here and there in the back row twisted a curious neck but twisted back again as parental fingers tugged at its ear. The minister tipped to a dark corner and took his stand in front of a vacant settee.

The man whom Ellery had decided must be Captain Eben Hammond was standing on the low platform beside the table. A quaint figure, patriarchal with its flowing white hair and beard, puritanical with its set, smooth-shaven lips and tufted brows. Captain Eben held an open hymn book back in one hand and beat time with the other. He wore brass-bowed spectacles well down toward the tip of his nose. Swinging a heavy, stubby finger and singing in a high, quavering voice of no particular register, he led off the

Housework Drudgery!

Housework is drudgery for the weak woman. She brushes, dusts and scrubs, or is on her feet all day attending to the many details of the household, her back aching, her temples throbbing, nerves quivering under the stress of pain, possibly dizzy feelings. Sometimes rest in bed is not refreshing, because the poor tired nerves do not permit of refreshing sleep. The real need of weak, nervous women is satisfied by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and as Mrs. Briggs and others testify:

It Makes Weak Women Strong and Sick Women Well.

This "Prescription" removes the cause of women's weaknesses, heals inflammation and ulceration. It tranquilizes the nerves, encourages the appetite and induces restful sleep.

Dr. Pierce is perfectly willing to let every one know what his "Favorite Prescription" contains, a complete list of ingredients on the bottle-wrapper. Do not let any druggist persuade you that his unknown composition is "just as good" in order that he may make a bigger profit.

Mrs. Briggs, Bureau of 220 N. Washington St., Delphos, Ohio, writes: "Having taken your 'Favorite Prescription' for a bad case of intestinal disease and constipation with woman's ill, for which I was almost unable to do anything, I think I am safe in saying that there are no remedies in the world like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Purifying Lotion Tablets.' I am now enjoying the best of health, and thank Dr. Pierce for his wonderful medicines which have done me a world of good."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate liver and bowels.

LOCAL NEWS IN BRIEF FORM.

Matters of Interest to Readers of The Patriot Far and Near.

Mrs. W. F. Medearis was among the surgical patients at St. Leo's hospital this week.

Dr. W. M. Jones, county superintendent of health, left yesterday for Norfolk to attend the session of the Tri-State Medical Society. Dr. Jones is to make an address during the sessions.

James Holder, a young white man of White Oak village, was arrested to Greensboro last week on a warrant from Asheboro, Randolph county. An officer took him back to stand trial on a statutory charge.

Mrs. George G. Thompson, widow of the late George G. Thompson, for whose murder William Finley Blair was tried in Greensboro in December last, has returned to Greensboro with her two children and will make her home in this city.

Mr. A. K. Page, of Haver, Mass., who has been in Greensboro the past three months studying under Physical Director Williams, of the Y. M. C. A., has gone to Norfolk where he will become assistant physical director in the Navy Y. M. C. A.

Rev. Tilman Holson, the Quaker preacher from California, has been attracting large crowds to the Friends church during the two weeks' revival being held there. His appeals have resulted in a number of conversions and much interest has been shown.

Mr. G. O. Coble, who has been superintendent of the Pomona mills since 1909, has gone to Concord to assume the duties of secretary of the Locke Cotton Mills Company. He resigned his position here to take up the new work and has been succeeded at Pomona by Mr. T. A. Hunter.

Thacker & Brockmann are opening up new footwear for spring and at the same time selling a lot of slippers and shoes carried over from last season at greatly reduced prices. This store has a great reputation for selling first class, strictly reliable footwear at very moderate prices.

Captain Dave Scott has received notice of the passing of an act by the legislature which names him as constable for Guilford township, although he is a resident of Morehead township. He was elected to the office in the last election, but some opposing him raised the point of his change of residence disqualifying him and the special act of the general assembly was necessary to remove the disqualification.

The residence of Mr. C. A. Hendrix, on Hendrix street, was seriously damaged by fire Friday night, which broke out about 11 o'clock. The flames were discovered by Max Hendrix, on his way home, who aroused the sleeping occupants. Mr. Hendrix was from home, but the neighbors succeeded in saving most of the furniture on the lower floor. The fire is supposed to have originated in the kitchen. The loss is several thousand dollars, covered by insurance.

Mrs. E. R. Michaux was hostess at a delightful informal little party Saturday evening in honor of her house guests, Misses Austin, Chowning, Cook and Duval. The evening was very pleasantly spent in the regular game of "Forty-two," at which Miss Myrta Alderman and T. D. Dupuy tied for the winning score. Among those enjoying Mrs. Michaux's hospitality were: Misses Annie Sue LeGrand, Mary Yates, Kate and Myrta Alderman, Lawrence J. Duffy, T. D. Dupuy, James E. Latta, Thomas L. Simmons, T. Moody Stroud, H. Taylor and E. Roy Wharton.

R. R. Men Take Notice.

Conductor S. L. Miller, Norfolk, Va., on Bones' division of C. & W. Ry. Co., recommends Foley Kidney Pills with very satisfactory results and endorses their use for any one afflicted with kidney trouble. They are all right. All railroad men are prone to kidney and bladder troubles, due to the constant vibration of the cars. Foley Kidney Pills are a bracing and strengthening kidney medicine that will always help. No habit forming drugs. Conyers & Sykes, adv.

State Bond Issue.

Senator Long introduced in the senate last Thursday a joint resolution for a $500,000 bond issue to meet the deficit in the state treasury and also providing for converting the state treasury $217,000 now standing to the credit of the state penitentiary.

The senate concurred in the house amendment to the building and loan bill that fixed the limit for borrowing by associations at 30 per cent. of assets instead of 50 per cent. as the senate had passed the bill.

TOBACCO ASSOCIATION.

Garland E. Webb is Indorsed For Collector of Internal Revenue.

At a meeting of the Greensboro Tobacco Association held in this city last Friday, Mr. Garland E. Webb, of Winston-Salem, favorably known all over the state as a pioneer tobacco man and later as editor of the Winston Tobacco Journal, was endorsed for the office of collector of internal revenue for the western district of North Carolina, and a letter sent to the president asking that he be appointed.

At the same meeting a resolution offered by Mr. E. J. Stafford, and unanimously carried, thanked the newspapers of the city, the Merchants' Association, Chamber of Commerce and others who have assisted in reviving and building up the local tobacco market this season.

The Greensboro Tobacco Association, of which Mr. T. J. Penn is president, and Mr. A. A. Chandler secretary, has made itself felt as a factor in the upbuilding of the city, being one of the many organizations which is alive to the advantages and opportunities of the tobacco belt in the Piedmont section. The association is planning bigger things and better things for the coming year, and preparing to give rival markets something to think about.

County Road News.

Mr. Stanley, the county road foreman, has finished grading the road from Monticello to the Rockingham line, and has done a nice job of work. A short stretch of road has been built through Mr. R. L. Small's place, which I think the nicest piece of road work done in this part of the county. All of us thank Mr. Stanley for the work he has done for us.

Mrs. R. L. Small, Mrs. W. G. Wagner and Mrs. W. H. Chilcutt served cakes, pies and sweet pickles to the force. Of course it goes without saying it was enjoyed by every one. They have about one mile of road to work now. When this is done it will make something like sixteen miles of road graded in this part of the county.

W. H. CHILCUTT.

NEW SPRING GOODS.

We are receiving daily lots of new things in percales, ginghams, raincoats, corduroys, piques, lawns, etc. These goods you know; our prices are always the lowest, and while we are receiving these goods we are closing out all coat suits and coats at prices that will make you glad. We now have a complete line of Scuffer shoes for children, the best shoe made for both boys and girls. Also hundreds of pairs of sample shoes. Plant bed cloth and yard wide sheetings, men's odd coats and pants and boys' suits. We have a complete line, and remember A. V. Sapp sells it cheaper. 318 South Elm street. adv.

Greensboro and Guilford Colleg.

The Greensboro High school basketball team played the boys team of Guilford College on the latter's floor, Friday afternoon by a score of 17 to 22. King and Blake were the stars for the home boys while Long starred for the Guilford team. These teams met again Friday afternoon on Greensboro's floor.

Score, Greensboro, 22; Guilford, 17. Field goals: King, 4; Blake, 4; Miliken, 2; Wood, 2; Long, 2; Henley and Hodgein. Foul goals: King, 3; Wood, 3; Blake. Referee, R. P. Williams; umpire, A. Benbow; timer, A. K. Page; scorer, C. Moore. Time 15 minute halves.

MURDER, FIRST DEGREE.

That's what some people will say because we are going to sell as long as it will last, the balance of goods.

33 cents oil heavy window shades, complete for 27 cents.

All $2 and $3 ladies' shoes, but small sizes, for 98 cents.

10-cent dress ginghams, nice patterns, from 3 to 10 yard length, 5 1/4 cents.

A lot of 8 cent apron gingham, 5 cents.

About 300 pairs 15 cents children hose, 8 cents.

And if you haven't time to come, send for it, it will pay, as it is actually murder first degree to pay elsewhere more for same goods. Lesser's Star Store, 332 South Elm.

Also we sell on Saturday 8 cent heavy sheeting for 5 cents; 10 cent bleaching for 6 cents; 5 cent any kind laces for 2 cents.

Go and get your bargains at Lesser's Star Store. adv.

A verdict of guilty on three counts in the indictment has been returned by the jury trying the case of the 29 officials or former officials of the National Cash Register Company.

Lower Price For Eggs.

Chicago, Feb. 16.—Cheap eggs are in prospect for Lent and Easter. Hens are laying every day in the West and Southwest, and commission men are having difficulty in finding space in which to store consignments.

Prices have been breaking a little every day, and at the opening of business Saturday were two to three cents lower than on last Monday.

There is also a large stock of cold storage eggs left over. Storage eggs which cost 23 cents are offered now at 16 cents.

Mrs. S. S. S. Van Buren, street, Kingston, N. Y., (full name furnished on application) had such decided benefit from using Foley's Honey and Tar Compound that she shares her good fortune with others. She writes: "Foley's Honey and Tar Compound brought my voice back to me during a severe case of bronchitis and laryngitis. Oh, how many people I have recommended it to. Remember the name Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, and refuse substitutes. Contains no opiates. Conyers & Sykes. adv."
