All Is Ready for the Fair.

The next day or two will witness the completion of every detail in connection with the big fair which opens here next Tuesday. The main exhibit hall, an immense structure, the grand stand, the stables, sheds, stock pens, etc., are all completed, and only a few finishing touches are needed here and there to put the place in ship shape for the first great annual exhibit. Secretary Walsh was seen yesterday, and he informed a PATRIOT representative that already enough entries are assured to make a creditable exhibit, while every mail brings applications for space, which is now almost at a premium in several departments. One of the latest entries comes from Brooklyn, N. Y., an extensive art exhibit. The agricultural department gives promise of an excellent exhibit. It rests with the farmers to make this feature a success. Guilford can show as great a variety of farm products as any county in the state, and an opportunity like this to show the world our resources ought not to be overlooked. The women of the city and county are busy preparing the thousand and one things that will add interest to their departments. A much more extensive bench show is promised than was first anticipated. The race track is in superb condition, according to the testimony of the horsemen now at work there. Fully twenty-five horses are in training, and it is safe to say this number will be more than doubled by the close of the week. Every foot of the race track is visible from the grand stand, which is admirably arranged and seats two or three thousand people. Of the Midway we can only say that "it remains to be seen." Trains will be run to the fair ground every half hour during each day of the fair, round trip tickets costing but fifteen cents.

—Through the inscrutable providence of Him whose ways are mysterious and past finding out, death has again invaded the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Crutchfield, depriving them of their little son, William Green. For sixteen weeks he was a patient little sufferer, during which time the finest medical skill, the purest mountain air and the tenderest of nursing were of no avail. About two weeks ago he was brought here from Waynesville, whence he had been carried in the summer, to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dodson, his grand parents. Last Thursday evening at half-past nine his gentle spirit left the emaciated little body. Had he lived one month longer he would have been two years old. This is no ordinary sorrow for these good people. One after another they have laid their little ones to rest until they are now childless. No more promise-children were ever born to parents than little Robert, Elizabeth and William. Each one grew in sweetness, in beauty and in strength until their second summer, when God called them to that life where sorrow and care can never reach them.

—Asheboro Courier: Mr. J. W. Morgan raised 2,541½ bushels of wheat on his farm on Jackson creek in Concord township. The streets of Worthville and Central Falls are lighted by electric lights. The lights were put up by the Worth Manufacturing Co. and are furnished by the electric light plants at the cotton mills.—Mr. Will A. Underwood will open a new drugstore in Randleman at an early date. Mr. Underwood is formerly of this town but for the past two years has been with the Richardson Drug Co. at Greensboro. We learn that he will continue to travel and that his business in Randleman will be in charge of a competent druggist.

—Thacker & Brockmann's growing business has made it necessary for them to have more floor space and they have leased the entire second floor over their store, which gives them not only more room but light and ventilation "upstairs" from both front and rear. This large and well lighted room will be devoted to carpets, matting, rugs, shades, art squares and trunks. Messrs. Thacker & Brockmann expect to make a specialty of carpets, and the PATRIOT advises its readers who need anything in this line to visit their enlarged and improved carpet department.

TOBACCO NOTES.

Items of Interest to the Grower, the Dealer, and the Manufacturer.

MARKET REPORT.

Our sales have been larger for the past week than we had expected, considering the unfavorable weather for handling the weed and the fact that farmers are very busy at this season of the year. But good prices will bring it in under the most unfavorable circumstances.

We noticed a larger proportion of good tobacco on our sales for the week, and we are glad to see it, for good tobacco is wanted on this market.

Prices are as good as the farmers could ask, considering the quality of the tobacco. If your tobacco is common you get a good price; if it is good you get a great big price for it here.

The new tobacco year opened Monday.

J. Richard Moore, of Brown Summit, was here Wednesday with his third load of new tobacco.

The Tobacco Growers Association will meet in Raleigh Wednesday, Oct. 24th, during the state fair.

J. R. Brown, of Thompsonville, and J. S. Foster, of Union Ridge, are new employees at the Farmers warehouse.

"Bill" Brandon, one of our best known auctioneers, was on the sick list part of last week. His place was filled by W. W. Workman.

Among the many Guilford farmers on the market Saturday we noticed G. A. Simpson, J. J. Lambeth, W. H. Faucett and W. L. Miles.

The fair will be open next week and of course you will come, so bring a load of tobacco, sell it for a big price, see the great fair, and go home happy.

A barn of tobacco belonging to Henry Brown and David Sockwell was burned on the latter's farm, three miles east of McLeansville, last Friday night.

This week will see practically all the tobacco of this section housed. The favorable weather has caused some improvement in the quality of standing leaf.

J. J. and W. L. Barnett, of Alamance; T. W. Doggett, O. D. Cook, O. A. G. Wood, H. G. Moore, D. G. Case, Squire Burton, E. P. Chrismon and J. L. May, of Guilford, sold new leaf here Friday.

Mr. H. C. Haas, a prominent tobaccoist of London, was on our sales today, the guest of Bray Brothers. We are glad to have him with us and hope he will be favorably impressed with our city.

W. T. Osborn, of southern Guilford; R. S. Miner, Byrd & Maynard and J. M. Turner, of Alamance; J. W. & D. R. Friddle, of Rockingham, and R. A. Gamble, of Davidson, were among the market's patrons Thursday.

Our buyers have been making very large shipments of leaf the past week and are consequently in still better shape to handle the new crop. They are paying outside prices for everything being offered on our floors.

John R. Newell, W. W. Tucker, M. L. Delap, O. E. Combs, H. W. and F. M. Lee, W. P. Southard, J. M. Wilson and J. W. Pearson, of northern Guilford, and T. W. Isley and J. W. Andrew, of eastern Guilford, were on the market last week.

The biggest load of primings ever sold on this market was seen here Friday. It was ticketed at 2,381 pounds on the floor. W. H. Holt, of Freeman's Mill, was the grower and it was brought on one wagon. The price exceeded Mr. Holt's expectations.

The old reliable Banner warehouse is again a candidate for public patronage, as will be seen by the new adv. on another page. Messrs. Smith & Gamble are thoroughly familiar with every detail of the warehouse business and will spare no effort to please their trade. Try them with the first load you bring to town.

We cordially invite every tobacco farmer in reach of Greensboro to bring his first load of tobacco to this market. If you are satisfied that you can get as much or more for your tobacco here than elsewhere, we invite you back again. We can't ask you to sacrifice the fruits of your labor on our altar, but prices are what you want and we propose to convince you that the best prices are paid for tobacco in Greensboro.

Sixteen cash premiums are offered by the Central Carolina Fair Association on leaf tobacco—eight first premiums of $5 and eight second premiums of $3. These premiums are offered for twenty pounds each of bright lemon wrappers, bright mahogany wrappers, shipping, smokers, cutters, fillers, sun cured fillers and sun cured wrappers. In addition, special premiums are offered for the best ten pounds of leaf by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflammation of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a running ear or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflammation of the mucous surfaces. We will give one Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that can not be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

SPREAD THE GOSPEL.

DR. TALMAGE URGES CHRISTIANS TO SEEK NEW FIELDS.

Efforts of the Churches Should Be Directed Toward Saving Sinners. They Should Get In Sympathy With Those Outside Their Pale.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—In this discourse Dr. Talmage points to fields of usefulness that are not yet thoroughly cultivated and shows the need of more activity. The text is Romans xv, 20, "Lest I should build upon another man's foundation."

In laying out the plan of his missionary tour Paul sought out towns and cities which had not yet been preached to. He goes to Corinth, a city famous for splendor and vice, and Jerusalem, where the priesthood and the sanhedrin were ready to leap with both feet upon the Christian religion. He feels he has especial work to do, and he means to do it. What was the result? The grandest life of usefulness that a man ever lived. We modern Christian workers are not apt to imitate Paul. We build on other people's foundations. If we erect a church, we prefer to have it filled with families all of whom have been plous. Do we gather a Sabbath school class, we want good boys and girls, hair combed, faces washed, manners attractive. So a church in this day is apt to be built out of other churches. Some ministers spend all their time in fishing in other people's ponds, and they throw the line into that church pond and jerk out a Methodist and throw the line into another church pond and bring out a Presbyterian, or there is a religious row in some neighboring church, and a whole school of fish swim off from that pond, and we take them all in with one sweep of the net. What is gained? Absolutely nothing for the cause of Christ. What strengthens an army is new recruits. While courteous to those coming from other flocks, we should build our churches not out of other churches, but out of the world, lest we build on another man's foundation.

The fact is this is a big world. When in our schoolboy days we learned the diameter and circumference of this planet, we did not learn half. It is the latitude and longitude and diameter and circumference of want and woe and sin that no figures can calculate. This one spiritual continent of wretchedness reaches across all zones, and if I were called to give its geographical boundary I would say it was bounded on the north and south and east and west by the great heart of God's sympathy and love. Oh, it is a great world! Since 6 o'clock this morning 60,800 persons have been born, and all these multiplied populations are to be reached by the gospel. In England or in our eastern American cities we are being much crowded, and an acre of ground is of great value, but in western America 500 acres is a small farm, and 20,000 acres is no unusual possession. There is a vast field here and everywhere unoccupied, plenty of room more, not building on another man's foundation.

Need of Churches.

We need as churches to stop bombarding the old ironclad sinners that have been proof against 30 years of Christian assault. Alas for that church which lacks the spirit of evangelism, spending on one chandelier enough to light 500 souls to glory and in one carved pillar enough to have made a thousand men "pillars in the house of our God forever" and doing less good than many a log cabin meeting house with tallow candles stuck in wooden sockets and a minister who has never seen a college and does not know the difference between Greek and Chocotaw! We need as churches to get into sympathy with the great outside world and let them know that none are so broken hearted or hardly bestead that they will not be welcomed. "No," says some fastidious Christian; "I don't like to be crowded in church. Don't put any one in my pew."

My brother, what will you do in heaven? When a great multitude that no man can number assemble, they will put 50 in your pew. What are the select few today assembled in the Christian churches compared with the mighty millions outside of them? Many of the churches are like a hospital that should advertise that its patients must have nothing worse than toothache or "run rounds," but no broken heads, no crushed ankles, no fractured thighs. Give us for treatment moderate sinners, velvet coated sinners and sinners with a gloss on. It is as though a man had a farm of 3,000 acres and put all his work on one acre. He may raise never so large ears of corn, never so big heads of wheat—he would remain poor. The church of God has bestowed its chief care on one acre and has raised splendid men and women in that small inclosure, but the field is the world. That means North and South America, Europe, Asia and Africa and all the islands of the sea. It is as though, after a great battle, there were left 50,000 wounded and dying on the field and three surgeons gave all their time to three patients under their charge. The major general comes in and says to the doctors, "Come out here and look at the nearly 50,000 dying for lack of surgical attendance!"

"No," say the three doctors, standing there fanning their patients; "we have three important cases here, and we are attending to them, and when we are not positively busy with their wounds it takes all our time to keep the flies off." In this awful battle of sin and sorrow, where millions have fallen on millions, do not let us spend all our time in taking care of a few people, and when the command comes, "Go in to the world," say practically: "No, I cannot. I have here a few choice cases, and I am busy keeping off the flies." There are multitudes today who have never had any Christian worker look them in the eye and with earnestness in the accentuation say, "Come!" or they would long ago have been in the kingdom. My friends, religion is either a sham or a great reality. If it be a sham, let us disband our churches and Christian associations. If it be a reality, then great populations are on the way to the bar of God unfitted for the ordeal. And what are we doing?

Drop Religious Technicalities.

In order to reach the multitude of outsiders we must drop all technicalities out of our religion. When we talk to people about the hypostatic union and French encyclopedianism and Erastianism and Complutensianism, we are impolitic and as little understood as if a physician should talk to an ordinary patient about the pericardium and intercostal muscle and scorbutic symptoms. Many of us come out of the theological seminaries so loaded up that we take the first ten years to show our people how much we know and the next ten years to get our people to know as much as we know, and at the end we find that neither of us knows anything as we ought to know. Here are hundreds of thousands of sinning, struggling and dying people who need to realize just one thing—that Jesus Christ came to save them and will save them now. But we get into a profound and elaborate definition of what justification is, and after all the work there are not, outside of the learned professions, 10,000 people who can tell what justification is. I will read you the definitions: "Justification is purely a forensic act, the act of a judge sitting in the forum, in which the Supreme Ruler and Judge, who is accountable to none and who alone knows the manner in which the ends of his universal government can best be obtained, reckons that which was done by the substitute and the same manner as if it had been done by those who believe in the substitute and purely on account of this gracious method of reckoning grants them the full remission of their sins."

Now, what is justification? I will tell you what justification is—when a sinner believes, God lets him off. One summer in Connecticut I went to a large factory, and I saw over the door written the words, "No Admittance." I entered and saw over the next door, "No Admittance." Of course I entered. I got inside and found it a pin factory, and they were making pins very serviceable, fine and useful pins. So the spirit of exclusiveness has practically written over the outside door of many a church, "No Admittance." And if the stranger enters he finds practically written over the second door, "No Admittance," and if he goes in over all the pew doors seems written, "No Admittance," while the minister stands in the pulpit hammering out his little niceties of belief, pounding out the technicalities of religion, making pins. In the most practical, common sense way and laying aside the nonessentials and the hard definitions of religion go out on the God given mission, telling the people what they need and when and how they can get it.

Save the Skeptics.

Comparatively little effort as yet has been made to save that large class of persons in our midst called skeptics, and he who goes to work here will not be building upon another man's foundation. There is a large number of them. They are afraid of us and our churches, for the reason we do not know how to treat them. One of this class met Christ and heard with what tenderness and pathos and beauty and success Christ dealt with him: "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength. This is the first and great commandment, and the second is like unto it—namely, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. There is none other commandment greater than these." And the scribe said to him, "Well, Master, thou hast said the truth, for there is one God, and to love him with all the heart, and all the understanding, and all the soul, and all the strength, is more than whole burnt offerings and sacrifices." And when Jesus saw that he answered discreetly he said unto him, "Thou art not far from the kingdom of God." So a skeptic was saved in one interview. But few Christian people treat the skeptic in that way. Instead of taking hold of him with the gentle hand of love we are apt to take him with the pinchers of ecclesiasticism.

You would not be so rough on that man if you knew how he lost his faith in Christianity. I have known men skeptical from the fact that they grew up in houses where religion was overdone. Sunday was the most awful day in the week. They had religion driven into them with a trip hammer; they were surfeited with prayer meetings; they were stuffed and choked with catechisms; they were often told that they were the worst boys the parents ever knew because they liked to ride down hill better than to read Bunyan's "Pilgrim's Progress." Whenever father and mother talked of religion they drew down the corners of their mouth and rolled up their eyes. If any one thing will send a boy or girl to ruin sooner than another, that is it. If I had such a father and mother, I fear I should have been an infidel.

Grounds for Unbelief.

Others were tripped up to skepticism from being grievously wronged by some man who professed to be a Christian. They had a partner in business who turned out to be a first class scoundrel, though a professed Christian. Many years ago they lost all faith by what happened in an oil company which was formed amid the petroleum excitement. The company owned no land, or, if it did, there was no sign of oil produced; but the president of the company was a Presbyterian elder and the treasurer was an Episcopalian vestryman, and the director was a Methodist class leader and the other directors prominent members of Baptist and Congregational churches. Circulars were got out telling what fabulous prospects opened before this company. Innocent men and women who had a little money to invest, and that little they all said: "I do not know anything about this company, but so many good men are at the head of it that it must be excellent, and taking stock in it must be almost as good as joining the church." So they bought the stock and perhaps received one dividend so as to keep them still, but after awhile they found that the company had reorganized and had a different president and different treasurer and different directors. Other engagements or ill health had caused the former officers of the company, with many regrets, to resign. And all that the subscribers of that stock had to show for their investment was a beautifully ornamented certificate. Sometimes that man, looking over his old papers, comes across that certificate, and it is so suggestive that he vows he wants none of the religion that the president and trustees and directors of that oil company professed.

Of course, their rejection of religion on such grounds was unphilosophical and unwise. I am told that many of the United States army desert every year, and there are many court martials every year. Is that anything against the United States government that swore them in? And if a soldier of Christ deserts is that anything against the Christianity which he swore to support and defend? How do you judge of the currency of a country? By a counterfeit bill? Now, you must have patience with those who have been swindled by religious pretenders. Live in the presence of others a frank, honest, earnest Christian life, that they may be attracted to the same Saviour upon whom your hopes depend.

Remember skepticism always has some reason, good or bad, for existing. Goethe's irreligion started when the news came to Germany of the earthquake at Lisbon Nov. 1, 1775. That 60,000 people should have perished in that earthquake and in the after rising of the Tagus river so stirred his sympathies that he threw up his belief in the goodness of God.

Light Up Darkness.

Others have gone into skepticism from a natural persistence in asking the reason why. They have been fearfully stabbed of the fatal interrogation point. There are so many things they cannot get explained. They cannot understand the Trinity or how God can be sovereign and yet man a free agent. Neither can I. They say, "I don't understand why a good God should let sin come into the world." Neither do I. You say, "Why was that child started in life with such disadvantages, while others have all physical and mental equipment?" I cannot tell. They go out of church on Easter morning and say, "That doctrine of the resurrection confounded me." So it is to me a mystery beyond unravelment. I understand all the processes by which men get into the dark. I know them all. I have traveled with burning feet that blistered way. The first word that children learn to utter is generally papa or mamma. I think the first word I ever uttered was "why." I know what it is to have a hundred midnight pour their darkness into one hour.

Such men are not to be scoffed at, but helped. Turn your back upon a drowning man when you have the rope with which to pull him ashore and let that woman in the third story of a house perish in the flames when you have a ladder with which to help her out and help her down rather than turn your back scoffingly on a skeptic whose soul is in more peril than the bodies of those other endangered ones can be. Oh, skepticism is a dark land! There are men who would give a thousand worlds, if they possessed them, to get back to the placid faith of their fathers and mothers, and it is our place to help them, and we may help them, never through their heads, but always through their hearts. These skeptics, when brought to Jesus, will be mightily effective, far more so than those who never examined the evidences of Christianity. Thomas Chalmers was once a skeptic, Robert Hall a skeptic, Robert Newton a skeptic, Christmas Evans a skeptic. But when once with strong hand they took hold of the charter of the gospel they rolled it on with what momentum!

If I address such men and women today, I throw out no scoff. I plead them by the memory of the good old days when at their mother's knee they said, "Now I lay me down to sleep," and by those days and nights of scarlet fever in which she watched you, giving you the medicine in just the right time and turning your pillow when it was hot and with hands that many years ago turned to dust soothed away your pain and with voice that you will never hear again, unless you join her in the better country, told you to never mind, for you would feel better by and by, and by that dying couch where she looked so pale and talked so slowly, catching her breath between the words, and you felt an awful loneliness coming over your soul—by all that I beg you to come back and take the same religion. It was good enough for her; it is good enough for you. Nay, I have a better plea than that. I plead by all the wounds and tears and blood and groans and agonies and death throes of the Son of God, who approaches you this moment with torn brow and lacerated hands and whipped back and saying, "Come unto me all ye who are weary and heavy laden, and I will give you rest."

Help the Drowning.

Again, there is a field of usefulness but little touched, occupied by those who are astray in their habits. All northern nations, like those of North America and England and Scotland—that is, in the colder climates—are devastated by alcoholism. They take the fire to keep up the warmth. In southern countries, like Arabia and Spain, the blood is so warm they are not tempted to fiery liquors. The great Roman armies never drank anything stronger than water tinged with vinegar, but under our northern climate the temptation to heating stimulants is most mighty, and millions succumb. When a man's habits go wrong, the church drops him, the social circle drops him, good influences drop him—we all drop him. Of all the men who get off the track but few ever get on again.

Near my summer residence there is a life saving station on the beach. There are all the ropes and rockets, the boats, the machinery, for getting people off shipwrecks. One summer I saw there 15 or 20 men who were breakfasting after having just escaped with their lives and nothing more. Up and down our coasts are built these useful structures, and the mariners know it, and they feel that if they are driven into the breakers there will be apt from shore to come a rescue. The churches of God ought to be so many life saving stations, not so much to help those who are in smooth waters, but those who have been shipwrecked. Come, let us run out the lifeboats! And who will man them? We do not preach enough to such men. We have not enough faith in their release. Alas, if when they come to hear us we are laboriously trying to show the difference between subslarism and supralapsarianism, while they have a hundred vipers of remorse and despair coiling around and biting their immortal spirits. The church is not chiefly for goodish sort of men, whose proclivities are all right and who could get to heaven praying and singing in their own homes. It is on the beach to help the drowning. Those bad cases are the cases that God likes to take hold of. He can save a big sinner as well as a small sinner, and when a man calls earnestly to God for help he will go out to deliver such a one. If it were necessary, God would come down from the sky, followed by all the artillery of heaven and a million angels with drawn swords. Get 100 such redeemed men in your churches, and nothing could stand before them, for such men are generally warm hearted and enthusiastic. No formal prayers then. No heartless singing then. No cold conventionalisms then.

The Gospel Ship.

Destitute children of the street offer a field of work comparatively unoccupied. The uncared for children are in the majority in most of our cities. When they grow up, if unreformed, they will outvote your children, and they will govern your children. The whisky ring will hatch out other whisky rings, and grog shops will kill with their horrid stench public sobriety unless the church of God rises up with outstretched arms and infolds this dying population in her bosom. Public schools cannot do it. Art galleries cannot do it. Almshouses cannot do it. Jails cannot do it. Church of God, wake up to your magnificent mission! You can do it! Get somewhere, somehow to work!

The Prussian cavalry mount by putting their right foot into the stirrup, while the American cavalry mount by putting their left foot into the stirrup. I do not care how you mount your war charger if you only get into this battle for God and get there soon, right stirrup or left stirrup or no stirrup at all. The unoccupied fields are all around us, and why should we build on another man's foundation? I have heard of what was called the "thundering legion." It was in 179 a part of the Roman army to which some Christians belonged, and their prayers, it was said, were answered by thunder and lightning and hail and tempest, which overthrew an invading army and saved the empire. And I would to God that our churches might be so mighty in prayer and work that they would become a thundering legion before which the forces of sin might be routed and the gates of hell might tremble. Launch the gospel ship for another voyage. Heave away now, lads! Shake out the reefs in the foretopsail! Come, O heavenly wind, and fill the canvas! Jesus aboard will assure our safety. Jesus on the sea will beckon us forward. Jesus on the shore will welcome us into harbor.

Klondike Doughnuts.

Next to bread a Klondike cook strives to achieve distinction by his doughnuts. This may appear frivolous at first glance and at second, considering the materials with which he works, an impossible feat. But doughnuts are all important to the man who goes on trail for a journey of any length. Bread freezes easily, and there is less grease and sugar and hence less heat in it than in doughnuts. The latter do not solidify except at extremely low temperatures, and they are very handy to carry in the pockets of a Mackinaw jacket and munch as one travels along. They are made much after the manner of their brethren in warmer climes, with the exception that they are cooked in bacon grease. The more grease the better they are. Sugar is the cook's chief stumbling block. If it is very scarce, why, add more grease. The men never mind on trail. In the cabin—well, that's another matter. Besides, bread is good enough for them then.—Harper's Bazar.

Chimes for Corneville.

Corneville, in Normandy, in spite of Planquette's opera, never had a chime of bells. Subscriptions have been received from all parts of the world, however, and a peal of 12 bells will be set up in the village church at the end of this month. Each bell will bear the name of a country. One is "L'Americaine" and another "La Canadienne."

WHY BRIGHTS ARE LOW.

Correspondence Between a Prominent Tobacco Grower and Warehouseman and the Vice-President of the American Tobacco Company.

GREENVILLE, N. C., Aug. 29, 1900.

DEAR SIR:—Since 1891 I have been connected with the warehouse business on this market. At that time tobacco was selling at prices which were remunerative to everybody, and people to extend its cultivation which was done at an increasing rate. At that time, also, the price of tobacco had formed the principal money crop of the farmland, and was selling, and continued to sell for a number of years thereafter, at a higher price than ever before, and of course stimulated tobacco growing as nothing else could. But, when our people principally, the price of tobacco and cotton was the same, had much preference for cotton, as they understood cotton culture and it was less laborious. As time went on with the increased production of tobacco the price of this product has declined, and the short crop of last year caused the price to advance, and contrary to the predictions of many wiseacres of spring the tobacco crop in eastern North Carolina particular, was reduced in acreage not less than 25 per cent. and it is very probable 35 per cent. On account of extreme seasons I am firmly convinced that the condition of the crop is not more than 75 per cent. as compared with last year. I have gained this information from actual observation and from reliable information from my friends of the east. As one who respects his time and a very liberal share of his meager substance in the upbuilding and development of the tobacco industry here, I write to you as one of the heads of the largest tobacco concern in the world, to ask your views of the situation as regards the prospect of higher prices. I know this, sir, that with the present prices of the lower grades prevailing throughout the season, with cutters selling at a fair and prospects for even higher prices, there will not be much tobacco planted in eastern North Carolina next year, if it is all sold on the Greenville market, to give the warehousemen a good year's work. There are hundreds of idle barns standing in the fields of eastern North Carolina, and with the condition of the soil outlined in force throughout the season, when the next season comes around there will be thousands of them standing as sad reminders of a past dream. I have written you not because I think your company any more responsible than many other factors but because I know you are a broad-minded business man and a North Carolinian, and I trust you will read my letter as seeking information on a subject in which we are mutually interested. With best wishes, I am yours truly,

O. L. JOYNER.

The American Tobacco Co., 111 Fifth Avenue, New York, Sept. 7, 1900.

DEAR SIR:—I have received and fully considered your letter of the 29th ultimo.

The price of leaf tobacco in Virginia and North Carolina has been fairly observed by me for a number of years past. The low price of which it has sold since the fall of 1899 is due in my judgment to a number of causes, chief among them being over supply. The demand for this over supply are set forth in your letter, and as due, as you say, to conversion of farms into tobacco farms. Along with this large supply of tobacco has come a largely decreased demand for that particular leaf which has been grown in eastern North Carolina and Virginia, and which is used in the manufacture of cigarettes. I would only cite you that the output of manufactured cigarettes in the United States during the past year was a little over 1,500,000,000. The output in 1896 was 1,000,000,000. The decrease in output of manufactured cigarettes is due mainly to discrimination against the cigarette on the part of Congress and the legislatures of the different States. Tobacco which is used in the manufacture of cigarettes is taxed fifty cents per pound, whereas that used in plug and chewing tobacco is only twelve cents per pound, and that used in cigars is taxed from twenty to thirty cents per pound, according to the size of the cigar. A major portion of the Western and Southern States have inaugurated additional taxes on the sale of cigarettes, and this is also largely done in towns and cities in the West and South. I believe there are more cigarettes consumed in the United States today than at any time in its history, but a large portion of them are made from granulated tobacco by the consumer themselves out of such tobacco as "Bull Durham," "Duke's Mixture" and "Cameo."

Among other causes which have contributed to lower prices may be mentioned the fact that consumers have learned, through experience, that a ripe lug of ordinary color smokes just as well as a fine cutter, which sells at two or three times the price. A large quantity of bright tobacco is being exported annually for use in foreign countries, and if the supply could be curtailed for two years, prices would in my judgment go to a point where the raising of tobacco would bring profit to the farmer. It would be of great benefit if the sections interested in raising bright tobacco would give more attention and make greater effort in the direction of having Congress impose no heavier tax upon leaf grown in say, North Carolina, and used in cigarettes, than it does on leaf grown in that same state and used in plug or smoking tobacco, or grown in Pennsylvania or Connecticut and used in cigars.

You will pardon me for affirming in this connection that our company is earnestly desirous that the farmer shall make a profit upon the tobacco crop, and for two or three years past we have purchased more freely than was actually required in an effort to maintain prices. We are carrying today over 100,000,000 pounds of leaf tobacco, whereas a fair supply would be, say 60,000,000 pounds.

Yours very truly,

J. B. COBB.

DISMAL SWAMP FIRE.

Fifteen Thousand Acres of Fine Timber Has Been Destroyed.

SUFFOLK, Va., Sept. 28.—Fifteen thousand acres of timber land were burned over by a fire which has been raging in the Dismal Swamps. The fact was brought out by an investigation which was concluded this afternoon by William H. Gay, who inspected the burned district at the instance of William N. Camp, of Albion, Fla., the principal owner.

The fire is not yet out, but is now confined to small areas and its onward course is seemingly checked.

No intelligent estimate of the damage can be made. Valuable pine and juniper trees are burned and shriveled, and in some places scorched 80 feet from the ground. The soil, whose combustible nature resembles peat, has been burned in spots to a depth of several feet, leaving yawning excavations fringed in black. Bears, deer, wild cats and other animals forced from their haunts have either sought safety by fleeing to the highlands or have been driven further in the fastness of the jungle. A theory has been offered that the wolves which have been preying on the stock of North Carolina farmers were run out of the swamp by the fire. Several of the animals, which are of a species similar to the coyote and which are not indigenous to the localities were caught, have been taken alive. Two were sent to Delaware Park and another younger one was carried to Franklin, with a view to its domestication. Lake Drummond, normally a beautiful sheet of water, some eight miles across, has shrunk to much smaller proportion. Jericho canal, one of the feeders, has gone dry, and the lake cannot be reached from this side except on foot. A guide says hundreds of animals flock about its shores at night in search of water.

It Happened in a Drug Store.

"One day last winter a lady came to my drug store and asked for a brand of cough medicine that I did not have in stock," says Mr. C. R. Grandin, the popular druggist of Ontario, N. Y. "She was disappointed and wanted to know what cough preparation I could recommend. I said to her that I could freely recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and that she could take a bottle of the remedy and after giving it a fair trial if she did not find it worth the money to bring back the bottle and I would refund the price paid. In the course of a day or two the lady came back in company with a friend in need of a cough medicine and advised her to buy a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I consider that a very good recommendation for the remedy." It is for sale by C. E. Holton, druggist.

Rutherford Pratt Hayes, a son of the late President, is at Asheville, making arrangements to build an electric railway from that town to the sulphur springs, five miles distant.

For sprains, swellings and lameness there is nothing so good as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Try it. For sale by C. E. Holton, druggist.

A PAUSE FOR DISCUSSION.

An Evident Hope That Germany May Modify Her Aggressive Demand.

LONDON, Sept. 27, 5.15 a. m.—The China question is again in the phase of discussion of the stability of the European concert and the likelihood of Germany finding it convenient to modify her aggressive attitude. According to the Yokohama correspondent of The Daily Mail, Japan assents to Germany's proposal, but at the same time strongly urges that there should be no prolonged delay in the negotiations. The same authority says that Japan would decline to follow Germany in pursuing the imperial court into the interior of China.

From Shanghai comes the announcement that an imperial edict confers posthumous honors on the anti-foreign high commissioner, Li Ping Hong, who committed suicide after the evacuation of Tung Chow and Chung Yi, the late Emperor's father-in-law, who killed himself after the Emperor and Empress Regent left Peking.

Chinese papers assert that orders have been issued for the erection of a new imperial palace at Sin Gan Fu. They also assert that Li Hung Chang has started for Peking, escorted by Russian troops and that Lu Chuan Lin has been appointed viceroy of Canton Sheng's yamen confirms the rumor that Li Hung Chang has received orders to attempt to capture Peking.

Describing the disorders in the vicinity of Canton, the Hong Kong correspondent of The Times, wiring yesterday, says:

"The American church in the suburbs of Canton has been destroyed and the Catholic church at To Kam Hang and the foreign cemetery there have been desecrated."

GAINING IN THE EAST.

Capt. Lyon Thinks that General Carr Will Get More than Supposed.

Capt. J. F. Lyon, of Greensboro, is in the city on a visit to his daughter, Mrs. Jessie Dickson, on Lee street. He has recently been on a visit to the eastern part of the State to relatives and friends and stopped over here on his way home.

The captain says that General Carr is gaining friends and supporters in the eastern part of the State every day, and he thinks that the general will carry considerably more vote throughout all the eastern counties than many of the people think. He found the leading men all through the eastern section supporting the Durham candidate for the senate and even in Mr. Simmons' own district some of the leaders are strong Carr men.

Captain Lyon is of the opinion that General Carr will be elected with plenty of votes to spare, if the west goes anything like it is now thought that it will go—for General Carr with a considerable majority. His prospects of being elected by a large majority are getting brighter each day.—Durham Herald.

Mr. Bruner says that Mr. Brimer is out of town, and that he will be unable to accept the offer on account of the fact that all the cases suitable for exhibiting such specimens are at Paris with the cabbage exhibit.—Raleigh Observer.

WARD'S DRUG STORE

Glenn's Old Stand.

It can truthfully be said that a Nursery is known by its Fruits.

I introduced CONNET'S SOUTH-ERN EARLY Peach 15 years ago and the GREENSBORO 7 years ago, and after getting reports from them over a large extent of country, I feel proud of the fact that I introduced them. There are quite a number of new peaches introduced every year. After the first announcement the majority of them are never heard of, as they were probably introduced simply for the purpose of selling a new variety at an advanced price, and were either some old variety with a new name or else not adapted to general cultivation.

I would be pleased for my friends and patrons to look out for the GREEN-BORO and CONNET this year and let me know how they succeed in their section.

For Congressman, 5th N. C. District,

THIS is the season of year when newspapers naturally expect a substantial increase in their receipts of subscription. Like most other papers, the PATRIOT has a number of subscribers owing two, three or more dollars on subscription that ought to pay in full or at least in part before the year closes, and we are forced to urge on this class of delinquents a prompt settlement. The cost of publishing a newspaper is far greater now than it was a few years, yet the subscription price of every paper in the state remains unchanged. Inasmuch as this burden rests solely on the publishers, they ought at least to be rewarded by reasonably prompt payment. No one will accuse this paper of chronic grumbling about subscription payments, and we do not feel that a request of this kind is out of place just now. We give our patrons the privilege of paying at their convenience during the year. They ought not to ask more time except in case of an emergency. Our experience has been that indifference is responsible for more subscription arrearages than misfortune, and were it not that the wrong fellows generally take a notice of this kind to heart we would print more of them. Every person on our list knows whether or not he has done right by us. Now that we are needing money badly we urge our delinquent friends to show their good faith and integrity by favoring us with a remittance.

THE Guilford and Stokes county appointments of Hon. W. W. Kitchin, Democratic candidate for Congress in this district, are printed on another page of this issue. No one needs be told that our able and eloquent congressman will reward his hearers with brilliant addresses upon public questions. We have all long since learned to expect nothing else from him. His opponent, Revenue Officer Joyce, has not yet found courage to meet him in a joint canvass. Remember the dates of these meetings.

SISTER Mary Ellen Lease, of Kansas, until recently one of the brightest stars in the Populist firmament, has come within Mark Hanna's "sphere of influence" and will stump the west for McKinley and Roosevelt.

CARE THE MAN FOR SENATOR.

An Appeal to the People of North Carolina by Col. Abernethy.

It will become our duty, on the 6th day of November, to select a man to take the seat in the United States Senate now occupied by Marion Butler. Never in the history of our state have we had such material to select from. Every aspirant for the position is a worthy one to take the place, and we are proud that not a charge can be brought against any of them that would make them unworthy of the place. As to the ability of either of them no one can question, for they are capable and worthy in every respect. But in every conflict there are dissensions of one kind or another. The dissensions now, I am glad to say, are not against the ability of the men that are aspiring to the honored position, but who is the most suitable man is attracting the attention of the people. Of course we are divided in our opinions and the division of opinions is making the race a notable one, if not a powerful one, which will finally develop into one of the greatest battles ever entered into in the Old North State. With such noble men in the race as Gen. Julian S. Carr, Hon. F. M. Simmons, ex-Congressman A. M. Waddell, ex-Governor and ex-United States Senator Thos. J. Jarvis, and others may come out later on. With these the race is going to narrow down, and the race will be won by Gen. Carr or Mr. Simmons. The merits of the two gentlemen can be heard discussed by almost every man of intelligence. On the one side it is claimed that the Democratic party owes the place to Mr. Simmons, from the fact that the great battle just won in our state was due largely to his splendid management of the campaign. In my opinion the Democratic party owes no man anything. We have too often heard it said in the heat of a campaign, from the lips of prominent men and politicians, that what they were doing was without the hope of reward, but after a great battle has been won they are the first to come forward and claim everything in sight. My fellow North Carolinians, let me state to you that the government of our nation has rewarded Mr. Simmons, inasmuch as he was made district collector of internal revenue.

My fellow countrymen, the political machine is backing up this combination. And just think of it for a moment; we have nine congressional districts in our state. Each of them have made their nominations, and better men it would have been hard to put up. But think of it, each of them is a lawyer, and that of fame. And they are every one of them going to be elected, and with them and Jeter C. Pritchard, with either Mr. Simmons, Waddell or Jarvis, would make a solid delegation from our state of one profession. Good people, think of this! Of the thousands and thousands of men of other professions in our noble state not one of you represented in our next Congress. Fellow workmen and men of other professions, what do you think this? I ask you to consider carefully before you speak. Four years ago there was a certain man in our state that was worthy of being our governor. The politicians wanted him. That man they don't want to be senator now. Why? Because they say he don't need the place. Did he need the governor's place? It seems so in order to substantiate their argument. That man was a great man then and that man is a great man now. That man has done more for North Carolina, her people and her industries than any man in the state. He has come to the rescue of many a home that if it had not been for him would have been gone. There are many places of worship in our state that if it had not been for that man would have been grown up in broom straw. That man has done more for the educational institutions than any man in our state. His good deeds done to aid religion alone is surpassed by none. His friendship for the old comrades is too well known to dwell upon. His kindness to pay the soldiers at one time in the Spanish war has not been forgotten. He offered to go down in his own pocket and advance them over $25,000. Has any of the other candidates ever been so charitable? Tell me, fellow countrymen, have you ever known them to do anything for the poor and distressed? This man that I ask you to support has for 30 years come to the rescue of the Democratic campaign fund with his pocket-book. It was he who bore the pioneer of men, Wm. J. Bryan, over the state four years ago. This man is not cunning; neither is he in the habit of using artifice, which is one of Webster's ways of constructing a politician. He is a statesman, and one that wants the people to do less for him than he wants to do for them. Let's rally to his support and elect the man that everybody wanted for governor four years ago, and but from the fact of his dear wife and family not wishing him to enter politics he refused to let the people nominate him. I have heard it said in this campaign that the element that is wanting all the fat offices were the only people that had sense enough to fill them. My fellow-countrymen and private citizens, hurl it back at them. When we, the constructors of every adventure in life, and the feeders and clothiers of every class on earth, is it possible that we are going to sit still and take such always? Gen. Carr is a man of the people and for the people, and in conclusion with this message, I ask all patriotic men to fall in line and support Gen. Julian S. Carr, of Durham, for United States Senator. With best respects and wishing fair play to and for all I am very respectfully,

When arrested Thacker was wearing a suit that had been stolen from the store. He was brought here by Officer Mason and plead guilty at a preliminary hearing before Squire Eckel. In default of bond he was jailed.

One of the finest stretches of macadam road in the state leads out from Summit avenue to North Buffalo creek, a distance of nearly two miles. By extending the macadam half a mile further, over what is really the worst portion of the road leading to the northeastern portion of the county, the authorities will confer an everlasting favor on that section of Guilford. The people of the northeast are not demanding too much when they ask that this additional strip be built.

—The October term of the United States District court opened Monday, but according to custom almost immediately adjourned until the following morning, when the active work of the term began. His career on the bench gives promise of much brilliancy. Mr. Junius H. Hardin, of Alamance, is foreman of the grand jury. Ex-Sheriff Shuler continues to officiate as court crier.

OUR RALEIGH LETTER.

RALEIGH, Oct. 1.—A very interesting conversation between several prominent Democrats took place in the lobby of a Raleigh hotel a day or two ago, the subject of conversation being the senatorship, the race for which has become so interesting already and is getting to be more so daily.

The principal speaker was a prominent politician from the western part of the state, and as his remarks brought out a new phase of the case, which may have an important bearing with many electors, I feel that I should reproduce them here as well as those which followed by others who were parties to the conversation—as a matter of general interest to the Democrats of the state.

WESTERN DEMOCRATS EMBARRASSED. "We people of the west," said he, "are considerably embarrassed at the senatorial contest. The written law of the party for many years has been that the east must have one Senator and the west the other Senator.

We recognize the fact, of course, that the senatorship this time belongs to the east, and that we will have the Senator two years hence. We people of the west, therefore, are disposed to favor and support a man from the east, and the majority of the eastern Democrats prefer. We feel that it would be the proper course. It is the course we should expect to see to follow in 1902. We would not wish having our favorite man down at that time because we should prefer another, and we want to guard against setting a precedent this time by not appointing the east in its preference.

But the trouble with us just now is that we do not know which candidate the east prefers, and possibly we may not learn the fact until after the day of election, and then it would be exceedingly too late.

Suppose it should develop, when the senatorial returns are sent in, that the most popular candidate in the east had been defeated by the west. Such a result would not only be unfortunate, but also to the east and generally satisfactory—not to say that it might react upon us of the west as we come to select our Senators. Besides, it might be productive of dissensions and other bad results.

Our people, the great majority of them, are very anxious to avoid such a condition; the great majority with whom I have talked will have canvassed the sentiment of the west pretty thoroughly, in some way, many being present in the statement. But I don't know today which man the east prefers—whether it is Carr, Waddell or Jarvis. That is why I say we are greatly embarrassed. As far as I am personally concerned, I intend to stick myself on this subject and let it run accordingly, which ever the four gentlemen named he chooses.

THE CHOICE OF THE EAST? The present seemed to recognize the force of the above sentiment and one gentleman (also of the west) remarked: "I agree with you that it would be very unfortunate if the most popular man of the east should be defeated by the western vote, but how are we to avoid this danger? I think that all things being equal, with no special or personal bias to interfere, the Democrats of the west should give preference to the man preferred by the east." "Well," replied the original speaker, "I think it will be the duty of the pleasure of most western Democrats to inform themselves, as to who they can, as to the choice of the east and then act accordingly. There is some strong personal reason to interfere, and I feel they will take pains to acquaint themselves of the real fact and be guided thereby. Such action will insure a result that would be satisfactory to all, and would avoid the dangerous consequences of an untimely termination of this friendly family contest and its effect on the future of the state."

The other western man, already mentioned, observed as the crowd gathered: "I shall pursue the same course, and I will vote for Simmons, Waddell or Jarvis just as I am satisfied which one of them is the strongest man in the eastern contest. I have no prejudice or favoritism against or for either of them with that course, which I believe I know it will be for the good of the party."

MEMBERS OF CLUBS SLIMLY ATTENDED. The Democrats of North Carolina have got to get a move on them. They expect to elect Mr. Bryan entirely too much apathy, and it was painfully revealed by the meagre attendance upon the "State Convention of Democratic Clubs" in Raleigh last Wednesday.

Now, I might go ahead and say the convention was held and that delegates to the National Association of Democratic Clubs, which meets this week at Indianapolis, were appointed—and stop right here and say nothing about the crowd that was not present. But I am not going to do that.

This is one of the times when the truth will not hurt—not in the long run—for I believe the telling of it will have the good effect of contributing to wake up the dozing party workers who won the fight two months ago, and who must be largely depended on to win the one to be won or lost a month hence.

There were fifty-five men in the hall—a hall that will accommodate 750 people—and all of them were not delegates. So you can imagine the lonesome spectacle they presented. About half of them were from Raleigh and Durham, more from Durham than from Raleigh probably. The score left of the outfit represented different sections. Of the twelve clubs in existence in Raleigh during the state campaign, only three had representatives present at this convention, and but one country club in all Wake county had a single delegate here on this occasion.

What does it mean? Apathy and over-confidence, pure and simple—and our folks have got to get over both, and the sooner they recover the better it will be for us all.

WHAT THE NEGRO CONFERENCE DID.

The "State Conference of Negro Leaders" assembled here last Thursday, as advertised. About fifty, more or less well-known negroes, participated. The address of the president, C. H. King, of Raleigh, contained much good advice to the darkies, if they will accept it and be governed thereby.

A committee was appointed to issue an address to the negroes of the state warning them against the schemes of emigration agents and exodus games generally, and to counsel them to cultivate the friendship of the white men of the South who are their best friends, after all, etc. An industrial association was set on foot, whereby it is sought to encourage negroes to save part of their earnings and to invest in buying houses for themselves. Rev. C. H. King will be at the head of this association and headquarters will be at Raleigh. One of the expressions of the president in his speech was:

"I see no need of an exodus from this state; the negro who means to do well can live here as well as elsewhere. At least let us try it, and my belief is, if we cannot live peaceably with the good white people of North Carolina, we cannot do so anywhere."

NEWS NOTES.

It can now be stated positively, on the authority of Gov. Russell himself, that he will not remove to New York, as reported recently, after the expiration of his term of office. While he had a flattering offer to connect himself with a law firm there, he has declined and will remove to his old country home in Brunswick county, across the river from Wilmington and reopen his law office in the latter city. A new residence on his plantation is now being built for the use of his family.

The state board of education has just sold 1,000 acres of school land in Onslow and Jones counties for $26,500 to Charles Vedder, of Philadelphia. The land has been in dispute between Vedder and other alleged heirs and the state, and the sale is virtually a compromise of the suit. It is swamp land and contains little timber. What use the purchaser will put it to is not known.

The cotton growers of South Carolina, Georgia and Alabama have effected and organization, and it is said North Carolina and all the other cotton-growing states will be taken into the association the coming fall and winter, and that a strong compact organization will be perfected by the time cotton-planting time comes again. This is just what our farmers have long needed, and all of them should heartily enter into the new association, which has no politics connected anywhere about it, so its promoters declare.

Aspirants for license to practice law will not find it quite so easy to obtain hereafter. The Supreme court has issued an edict that applicants will hereafter be required to study two years, instead of one, and to add to the course of study "Shaw's Legal Ethics." Another large class of applicants was examined by the court last week, two of them being negroes. Thirty-three of the forty-seven were given their "sheepskin."

The hanging of Archie Kinsauls at Clinton for murder last Friday

(which required two drops from the scaffold to produce death, while the blood flowed from the lately self-inflicted wound in his throat,) is said to have been a particularly horrible and revolting affair. Chauncey Davis, the Edgemont firebug, who was hung at Tarboro on the same day for arson, was also strangled to death. Many people of this state already favor the New York plan of dispatching criminals—by electrocution at the state penitentiary in a "death chamber" equipped for the purpose. To my mind it is certainly a more humane method, and North Carolina would probably make no mistake in adopting it.

35-HORSE TEAM.

Driven at Break-Neck Speed by One Man—A Brilliant Triumph.

"Hark! They're coming! The race is on!" "Hear the distant sound of a hundred hoofs beating the earth in fierce delight!"

"Nearer and nearer they come! Soon the grand hippodrome arena presents a huge mass of palpitating, throbbing horses. The scene is one of animation and splendor."

"Around the great circle the world-famous team of thirty-five English thoroughbreds dash at terrific speed, two, three and four abreast, and there standing erect on two prancing steeds is the heroic rider, frantically urging the excited animals on in their thrilling flight."

The rider is William Gorman, known the world over as the "Hero Horseman," and the scene is one of the most beautiful and sensationally thrilling features of the combined Adam Forepaugh and Sells Brothers' circuses, which are announced to appear here on Saturday, Oct. 13.

Who does not love a horse? And why not? Through long and familiar association he has become by nature the nearest animal of mankind, serving and understanding the human race as no other animal does or can. The countryman possesses the same admiration for his easy-going, family horse that the professional trackman does for his fleet racer, or the wealthy for their proud, high-stepping, manless and tailless beauties. Indeed, all mankind loves the horse, and for this reason the great equine achievement which the Forepaugh Sells show introduces has made a most remarkable hit this season.

Many Oppose Revision.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Presbyterians throughout the country are now giving expression to their views as to the advisability of revising the Creed of the Westminster Confession.

Up to Saturday evening the votes of 61 presbyteries out of 232 had been received. Of these 27 are against revision, 6 favor a moderate revision, 11 want revision of some sort without specifying what, 4 want a supplemental creed, 2 want an explanatory statement and 3 are so vague in their views that it is not possible to determine what they want.

If anything like this proportion is maintained the sentiment of the presbyteries will be considered as very strong against revising the Confession of Faith.

The expression of opinion is being obtained by the committee of revision appointed by the last General Assembly to sound the presbyteries and to make some recommendation. The views given by the presbyteries are not final decisions on the question.

A Sensational Case.

RALEIGH, Sept. 27.—The grand jury of the Superior court here today returned a true bill against ex-State Senator J. A. Franks, of Swain county, for perjury. The case is a sensational one. Franks is a Republican and was a member of the state board of elections. Two years ago a man named Geo. W. Justice, a lawyer, came here from Asheville, stole a number of law books from the court house and other buildings and was arrested on a charge of larceny. Franks became his surety, giving a justified bond for $50, and swearing he was worth that much in excess of all indebtedness. Justice fled the state and went to Alabama, forfeiting his bail. The execution was sent to Swain county for the amount of Franks' surety, but was returned with the statement that he was worth nothing. The bill against him, which the grand jury today returned as true, was drawn last July. All efforts to induce the authorities of Alabama to arrest Justice have failed.

..IF..

A little word of only two letters, but a "mighty" big one when it relates to Drills. IF all other Drills happen to be "built that way." When you part with your cash for a Drill you want the BEST as a matter of course, and that's what you get IF you buy the Buckeye. We claim for it: The Lightest Draft. The Strongest Construction. The Simplest to Operate. The Least Machinery. The Best Wheat, Oats and Peas Force Feed. The only Fertilizer Feeder which will not choke or gum, and which will never rust or corrode. Here is what some of our best farmers think of this Drill:

Would Pay $10 More for the Glass Fertilizer Feeder.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN: This is to certify that I bought a Buckeye Disc Drill last fall from the Wakefield Hardware Co., and in the outset will say that I cannot say too much for it if I were to try. I have sown wheat, oats and fertilizer in all quantities and under all conditions, and will unhesitatingly say that there is no other drill made will, in any way, compare with the Glass Disc Feeder on the Buckeye. My 12-year-old boy does all my sowing by himself, and there is no need of any one following the drill—would not give any man his board to follow it. It does its own work. It is the lightest draft drill I ever saw and is the easiest managed. I would readily pay $10 more for the Glass Disc Fertilizer Feeder on the Buckeye than on any other kind of feeder I ever saw on any other make. Will say to any one wanting the best drill made, buy the Buckeye. Yours truly, S. H. COLETRANE.

We can save you money on a Drill this fall and only ask the opportunity to prove it. It will be to your advantage IF you will call on us before buying a Drill for this season. Ask us for a catalogue. Yours for $1.00 wheat.

THE FLAG IS INSULTED.

Mexicans Tear Stars and Stripes Down—United States Notified.

Chilapua, Mexico, Sept. 29.—W. W. Mills, U. S. consul here, has notified the federal authorities at San Antonio, Texas, and the State Department of an insult to the American flag over his consulate on the 16th anniversary of the Mexico independence by a mob of Mexicans. He hoisted the United States and Mexican flags in honor of the day. The mob tore down the United States colors.

The Plano Lever Binder demonstrated in the field the past harvest the merits I claimed for it and strengthened my chances for increased sales next year. So did the PENNSYLVANIA LOW DOWN Grain Drill last year show its merits in the accuracy of distribution of grain and guano, its lightness of draft and its freedom from troublesome breakages, and this year's business will have been just such an increase in sales as I expect next year's on PLANO Binders to be. My friends will be glad to know my PENNSYLVANIA LOW DOWN Drill trade is good, and that my sales already are 50 per cent. above those of 1899 and the season is not over yet. "Merit will tell," and the fact that men like Emsley W. Stratford last year traded his — drill and this year Walter J. Benbow, Thos. A. Hill and Wm. R. Friar have also traded me theirs of the same make (which I sold them—the last named only year before last) and each took a PENNSYLVANIA LOW DOWN, is an evidence strong and irresistible that the PENNSYLVANIA LOW DOWN has the MERIT I claim for it. These men are substantial, practical and successful farmers and buy none but the best implements. Have Disc and Hoe and both are guaranteed.

WADDELL NOT DISCOURAGED.

The Predictions as to the Large Majority for Simmons Are Absurd, Col. Waddell Says; and He Believes There Will Be No Election at the First Primary.

Hon. A. M. Waddell arrived in the city last night from Albemarle where he spoke yesterday. He will spend to-day in Charlotte; will speak in Concord to-morrow and will return to Charlotte to speak Tuesday.

When questioned by an Observer reporter last night as to his canvass he stated that he had been speaking in the western part of the State for the last three weeks and that his campaign would continue until within a few days of the election.

In reply to a question as to his own view of his chances for election Col. Waddell said:

"I am not over-confident, but I believe I have a good showing. I find that the people in the cities and towns wherever I have been are talking much for Simmons and Carr, but three or four miles out in the country men have not made up their minds as to how they will vote. In other words, nothing is certain as yet as to the senatorial race; and I am personally encouraged to continue in the race. The great majority of the voters in the State have not given the primary election much consideration, and it is all conjecture as to how they will cast their ballots.

"Simmons and Carr are very sanguine; but the predictions recently published by their respective friends as to their large majorities are all stuff and nonsense. It is absurd to say that Mr. Simmons will carry the State by a majority of 50,000, just as it is a wrong estimate to say that Carr will carry Mecklenburg county by a majority of 2,000. In my opinion there will not be over 120,000 votes cast in the senatorial primary, and Simmons may consider himself lucky if he gets 50,000 of these. I know I should feel fortunate to get that number of votes.

"I do not believe that any one in the senatorial race will be elected at the first primary. I am sure of this. There will be a second primary and I shall be in it if I get within 2,500 votes of the second man."

The reporter informed Col. Waddell that it had been predicted that both he and Gov. Jarvis would retire from the race before the 15th of October.

"I am just from the woods and had not heard any such talk as that," replied Col. Waddell. "You may say that I am in the race and that I shall stay in to the finish no matter if I do not get more than thirteen votes."

Do you think Gov. Jarvis will withdraw?

"I do not know," he replied, "but I doubt it. Jarvis is not of the backing down kind. You know his candidacy is hurting Simmons very much in northeastern North Carolina--in Perquimans, Gates, Pasquotank and the other counties.

"I repeat that I shall stay in this campaign until the end," said Col. Waddell. "Everything seems to be for Simmons and Carr, and I am telling my friends that I am satisfied to come along and take their leaveings. But the people haven't made up their minds."--Charlotte Observer.

MONEY FOR CHEROKEE INDIANS. Fund of $6,000 Being Distributed Among Them as Result of a Sale of Timber.

As a result of the suit of United States vs. D. L. Boyd et al, tried recently in federal court a $4 per capita distribution of money is now being made among the Cherokee Indians in North Carolina. The fund grew out of the sale of timber made by the eastern band of Cherokee Indians to D. L. Boyd on September 28, 1893.

This is the first per capita fund these Indians have drawn since 1868. There is a bill now pending before congress to give them $1,500 with fair chances to pass. They only have a small trust fund amounting to $25,000, now in Washington, which the secretary of the interior is authorized to use for educational and agricultural purposes. About $30,000 is appropriated annually for carrying on the schools. This comes out of the general fund, and their trust fund remains intact. Very little of this has been used in several years.--Raleigh Observer.

WILL NOW BE ANNOUNCED.

Progress of the Work of the Census Bureau--The Census Cost About $15,000,000.

Washington, Sept. 29.--The census to-day finished the enumeration of all the cities in the United States of over 25,000 inhabitants, with the exception of Los Angeles, Portland, Ore., Seattle and Tacoma. The work of announcing the States will come next, beginning with Arkansas probably next Monday or Tuesday. The States will be announced in short bulletins giving the total population, the increase over the two preceding census reports, the population by counties and the population of each of the cities under 25,000, including all the incorporated towns within the State limits.

So far as the work has progressed it appears likely that the present census will cost in the neighborhood of $15,000,000.

SOUTHERN'S ANNUAL REPORT.

Increase in Earnings--Industrial Development of a Year.

The annual report of the Southern Railway, just issued, shows a gain of $3,504,000 in earnings, as compared with the year before, of which $3,215,000 accrued in the freight department. The company has contracts being filled for passenger locomotives, 65 freight locomotives, 1,950 double hopper-bottom coal-cars, 800 ventilated box-cars, 500 flats, and 200 coke-cars.

The report shows that 514 manufacturing plants were completed and begun operations during the year along the Southern's lines. Textile industries at different points on the system are summed up as follows:

Twenty-seven new cotton mills began operations, equipped with 4,498 looms and 220,158 spindles, and having a combined authorized capital of $2,440,000. The equipment of old cotton mills was increased by the addition of 9,449 looms and 287,021 spindles, the improvements having an estimated value of $9,065,325. Total increase during the year in the capacity of active cotton mills, tributary to this company's lines, was, therefore 13,047 looms and 507,179 spindles, the additional capital invested being about $2,500,000.

Twenty-one knitting mills began operations, with estimated capital of $594,000.

Four hundred and forty-nine miscellaneous industries were established and put in operation during the year, among which may be mentioned 39 furniture factories, 30 wood-working plants, 66 lumber mills, 20 cotton seed oil mills, 29 flour mills, and 7 canneries.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1, 1900.

There will be a Democratic majority of not less than ten in the next House. That is the way the Democratic congressional campaign committee figures it out, and in doing the figuring allowance has been made for every reasonable contingency. Republicans privately admit that the figures are very conservative, and that they have almost given up hope of retaining control of the House, unless there is a change in public sentiment amounting almost to a stampede before election day. Even the Republican congressional committee has not been putting out any claim, except in the most perfunctory way, of a Republican majority in the House. On the contrary, its chairman, Representative Babcock, has been preparing his party for the worst. Among the contingencies considered for by the Democratic committee are loss of seats in New York and Pennsylvania, which the party managers in those states are confident of saving.

Mad as the Republican leaders are with the lust of power and conquest, and as determined as they are to try to turn this liberty-loving people into a world-conquering empire, founded on no higher principle than that which dominated the dark ages of youth, "Might makes right," they do not dare to publicly proclaim that purpose as plainly as Congressman Dungan, of Ohio, once a Democrat, did in a speech made in Washington, in which he attempted to justify Mr. McKinley, and his imperialistic policy in the Philippines. The following sentence from Mr. Dungan's speech reveals the true inwardness of the Republican policy, which they have been so anxiously trying to conceal by general talk about bettering the conditions of the poor natives and improvement in American commerce: "In my opinion, title is held only by the survival of the fittest, and that is why America is going to rule the earth." In other words, no people's title to our own country is good against greed and avarice of a stronger country. Surely a majority of Americans are not willing to enter the twentieth century championing such a document.

Representative Livingston, of Georgia, thus sums up the attitude of the two parties towards trusts: "In a recent speech made by Senator Beveridge, this statesman says that the Republican party, as well as the Democratic party, is opposed to trusts, only the Republican party proposed to limit and regulate trusts, while the Democratic party would do nothing." Now, this statement was made to intelligent people. If this is so, how could Mark Hanna go to Baltimore and get from the trusts of that city alone $80,000, while Bryan, even had he tried, could not have got eighty cents. Senator Hanna has said there are no trusts. He knows and so does every thinking man or woman that this is false. Here is evidence of the trusts. This year it takes 50 per cent. more wheat to buy a plow than it did last year. It takes 20 per cent. more corn and it takes from $4 to $4.50 a month more to live now than it did a year ago. Why is this? It is because of the trusts.

The Chinese minister to the United States having succeeded so well in getting the administration to act in accordance with his private advice has gone a step further and is now giving the administration public advice through the medium of newspaper interviews. He wants this government to act as mediator between the powers and China, and says if it doesn't it may in the end find itself shut out of China commercially. That "chink" has got nerve to thus threaten the man who has been as friendly to him and his government as Mr. McKinley has been.

Look out for preposterous Republican claims. Orders have gone out from Republican national headquarters to the party newspapers to print continually and conspicuously during the three weeks previous to the election paragraphs claiming states enough to give McKinley 25 or 30 more electoral votes than he had in 1896. The idea is said to be that such wholesale claims persistently made, will catch voters who wish to be on the winning side.

United States exports to Asia and Oceania decreased $3,000,000 in August, 1900, compared with the same month 1899.

Hon. William J. Bryan was enthusiastically received in a tour of South Dakota.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

News Notes of Interest About a Variety of Topics.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 27.—The South Penn Oil Company has made a tremendous strike in a new oil well in Lewis county, W. Va. The well is flowing at the rate of 200 barrels an hour, or 4,800 barrels a day. The tanks provided are too small to hold the great flow and the oil is being allowed to run into a creek and dammed up, with a view of pumping it out later.

RALEIGH, Sept. 27.—James R. Young, chairman of the Democratic committee of this district, publishes the appointments of Edward W. Pou, Democratic nominee for Congress and invites Giles, Republican, and Jenkins, Populist, nominees to meet Pou in joint debate, upon their assurance that they will remain in the field.

LONDON, Sept. 29.—The military importance of operations in South Africa are daily diminishing as the war passes the transition stage into armed occupation. It is not expected that fighting will henceforth develop beyond patrol collisions or brief swoops on the garrisons which Lord Roberts is quartering at all important centers.

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 29.—Samuel Fenton Carey died here tonight aged 87 years. He was nominated in 1876 for the vice presidency with Peter Cooper, the Greenback candidate for president.

HAVANA, Sept. 30.—Michael J. Dady, of Brooklyn, N. Y., has offered to the municipality of Havana a complete sewerage and paving system for the city, in accordance with plans officially approved, for $10,600,000. The municipality has the offer under consideration.

Price of Silver Advanced.

Washington, Sept. 29.—Owing to the advance in the price of silver, Director Roberts, of the Mint, today increased the price to be paid by the government for silver purchased from 55 to 57 cents a standard ounce.

The director of the Mint also changed the Indian rupee from its silver to its gold value to go into effect at the beginning of the next quarter. Thereafter the rupee will be reckoned at its gold value, 32.4 cents.

It is probable that the anthracite coal miners' strike in Pennsylvania will be ended very soon by mediation.

Germany the Center of Interest in China Affairs.

Germany has occupied the diplomatic stage in the Chinese play now in progress, trying to make the best of the doubtful attitude of the United States, Japan and Great Britain in regard to the German proposal. The Kaiser's idea of demanding the delivery of the chief Boxers—including, perhaps, Prince Tuan and the Empress herself—before beginning negotiations is unacceptable to most of the powers, particularly to the United States and England. It is hardly just and not expedient, say the critics, to ask a government—for Prince Tuan dominates the Chinese government—to deliver itself up for punishment unless one wishes to invite a refusal and precipitate war. Germany is supposed to be bent upon war and makes her demand such as will insure it. The other powers dissent more or less, and it becomes interesting to see whether the Kaiser will take an independent course. The logic of the situation suggests that he will do so. He has a large army and an exceptionally strong fleet in China. Count Waldersee has arrived. His force is nearly ready for a campaign against the Son of Heaven somewhere in the remote interior. Some diplomats, however, expect a solution of the problem through an agreement between Russia, Germany, France and Japan by which each power will get such territory as it wants, each promising to countenance the other in conquering Chinese resistance.

NEGOTIATIONS.

There are well-meant efforts to hurry the beginning of negotiations for peace, and the Chinese have the idea that a big indemnity in cash will satisfy everybody. But the English insist upon the punishment of the high officials who sanctioned the recent outrages. All the powers, in fact, agree upon this point. They differ upon the point of punishing before negotiating. The Russian proposal to withdraw all troops from Peking is defeated, as being only a sly dodge of the wily Asiatic to gain China's gratitude and lay a basis for a subsequent demand for more territory. It was inconsistent with Germany's program and was put forward, some say, to spoil it. At present the powers are halting upon the question of agreeing to negotiate with Prince Ching and Li Hung Chang. The discovery that Ching subscribed money to the cause of the Boxers rather embarrasses that notability, but he says he was forced to do it. Li is now charged with being in Russia's pay. If it be true, as reported, that Prince Tuan has been promoted to the Presidency of the Emperor's council, there seems to be little prospect that the negotiations, if begun, will be on lines satisfactory to the powers. Meanwhile Russia is annexing Chinese territory on the Amur and occupying points in Manchuria, at the same time retaining control of the British railway to Peking. Some 1,900 Americans will be left in Peking to guard our legation, the rest being withdrawn to the coast or to Manila. Our fleet in Chinese waters is being largely reinforced, so as to number 34 ships.

OUR EMPIRE.

Vigorous attacks were made upon the United States outposts in the district near Zapote bridge, Las Pinas, Paranaque, Bacoor and Imus, 12 miles south of Manila. It is feared that an American force of 51 men that went on an expedition was killed or captured. Aguinado holds out even more stoutly than Kruger. He rejects peace proposals. Recently he issued a proclamation directing that American prisoners be set at liberty, that good treatment be accorded to captives and that $40 be paid to Americans surrendering.

The American losses in killed, wounded or missing during the last ten days approach 100, including those at Sinloan, at the east end of Laguna de Bay, where the natives after the engagement delivered ten bodies of American dead.

General Gomez hopes that the Constitutional convention will yet secure Cuba's independence. In a recent letter he wrote: "Many are mortified at the prolongation of the American intervention. Others view the situation in a pessimistic light. But the Americans are not to blame for the delay, as the Cubans have placed obstacles in their path. No good man can doubt that the promises of the United States will be faithfully kept."

KOMATIPOORT.

The circumstances of the British occupation of Komatiport, where the Delagoa Bay railroad enters Portuguese territory, are more suggestive of Boer discouragement than anything that has yet happened. Before crossing the lines the Boers destroyed with dynamite a large quantity of military supplies, guns, ammunition, food, etc. Thirteen cannons were abandoned, most of the pieces having been first badly injured. A small number of burghers took to the mountains and are still in arms, but as they have no base or reserved supplies their condition is unpromising. The outlook would cause a less determined people to despair. President Kruger and his cabinet are fugitives. General Botha is ill and has resigned the chief command, and his army is scattered. Theron was recently killed. Cronje and 15,000 other patriots are prisoners. Cape Colony, which a year ago was relied upon for help, has just passed a law to punish and disfranchise as rebels all Dutch citizens who took up arms in behalf of the two republics. A number of European states promised aid, but Messrs. Fischer, Wessels and Wolmarans now issue their last appeal in vain.

BREAKING UP THE ARMY.

While no sign appears of the withdrawal of any considerable part of General Roberts' army of 235,000 men, a movement from South Africa has undoubtedly begun. The Canadian regiment, for example, will be at home in a few weeks laden with compliments for its fine conduct, especially at Paardeberg. The Colonials have shown more alertness and enterprise than the British regulars. The ruse of the Queenslanders by which General Olivier and others were captured at Winburg rivals that of the Boers at Sannas Post. Inducements in land and money are being offered to the Australians and Canadians by Cecil Rhodes to settle in Rhodesia, and the government will make strong efforts to plant a large semi-military colony of Britishers in the Orange and Transvaal states. What the country needs to be productive is irrigation, and the new regime is understood to be ready to undertake that. There is talk of General Roberts' return to England, but the earliest date named is six weeks hence.

RETURNING TO THEIR HOMES.

Civilians are being allowed to return by rail to their homes in Buluwayo and Mafeking. A few are allowed back in Johannesburg to look after their mines, which are not in as bad condition as expected. President Kruger extracted the gold from all the ore that had been got out, but did not blow up the mines. A considerable quantity of gold was taken to Europe during the week by members of his government who fled with him to Lorenzo Marquez. The money left in circulation now consists largely of the "bluebacks" of the Transvaal treasury, which is empty. The Netherlands Railway has been taken over by the British authorities, who assert that it has compromised itself by excessive zeal on the Boer side in the war. The Hollanders who operated it have been to a great extent deported. Large numbers of Hollanders, Germans, Irish and other foreigners who had served in the Boer army escaped across the Portuguese frontier at Komatiport recently and are now seeking passage to Europe. At Komatiport and Barberton over 125 locomotives were taken, with great numbers of cars, wagons, oxen, cattle, sheep, etc. At various points east and west similar captures of wagons, ammunition and cattle are reported with increasing frequency. As the British hold the railways and strategic points, the conveyance of Boer supplies for large bodies of men becomes difficult, and only guerrilla operations are possible. Delarey, however, still fights in the west, and a Boer force recently attacked Paget at Pienaar's river. In the east the patriots oppose Buller at the Micmac river, and it is found necessary to reoccupy Heilbron, Reitz and Lindley.

Hanna Defines the Issue.

"When the multiplicity of issues in this campaign is boiled down," says Senator Hanna, "there is really only one issue—McKinleyism or Bryanism."

Commenting on this the New York World observes: That is a most accurate definition of the situation. But there are a new McKinley and a new Bryan since 1896.

The new McKinley stands for imperialism, militarism, monopoly, for exploitations near and far in favor of the privileged few and in hostility to the industrious, peace-loving, opportunity-seeking many.

The new Bryan stands for justice at home and abroad, for enlightened and civilized and honorable policies of world-power and world-commerce, for equal rights, freedom, democracy.

A BIG DAY AT MT. HOLLY.

Forty-five Empire Drills are Seen on the Streets at One Time.

The following from the Charlotte Observer of Sept. 21st will interest our readers in the county, especially those using improved farm machinery. Mr. Gray, referred to in the article, lives in Greensboro and is resident agent for the Empire Drill Co. Greensboro is the central transfer point for these drills, and over 150 have already been sold and distributed in his territory this season, while orders are coming in every day.

"The largest grain drill delivery ever known in North Carolina was made at Mt. Holly yesterday by Mr. R. A. Gray, general agent for the Empire Drill Co., of Shortsville, N. Y. Mr. Gray was assisted in delivering the machines to farmers by Messrs. Ike Lowe and S. E. Seaborn, who made the sales. It was a magnificent and inspiring sight to see the delighted farmers drive through the little town of Mt. Holly each with a brand new Empire drill. It was the feature of the day, and nothing like it, old citizens said, had ever been seen in Gaston county before. The car containing the drills arrived at Mt. Holly late yesterday morning, but by persistent effort on the part of Mr. Gray and his assistants every drill was ready when the purchasers called for them. By request of Mr. Gray and his salesmen the well-to-do farmers all met at the same time so as to participate in the jubilee (for such it was) of parading the highways all together.

"Mr. Will I. Van Ness, of Charlotte, photographed the group before leaving the town.

"The number of drills sold was 45, and every man that bought and promised to take his machine yesterday was present. Mr. Gray is one of the oldest and best known men in the business and he said yesterday that he never saw the equal of the Mt. Holly delivery and he further stated that nothing like it had ever been seen in the South. This is saying a great deal for the farmers of Gaston, Lincoln and upper Mecklenburg. It is sufficient proof that these people are cultivating to a great extent more of the smaller grain. This fall more wheat will be planted than usual, and it is safe to say that a larger yield will be reported by the use of the new Empire drill than in former years, or when the old method of sowing from the hand was in vogue.

"The Empire drill is without a doubt the most effective drill in use today. It is the lightest draft drill made and reduces the draft fully 25 per cent. over drills of other makes."

A mass meeting of representatives of Catholic clubs of the country will be held in New York on Thanksgiving Day to form a federation, one of the objects of which is to influence legislation affecting the church.

THE WAR NOT OVER.

Melancholy Aspect of Official Intelligence from the Philippines.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—War department officials are still awaiting a detailed report from General MacArthur on the disaster at Santa Cruz which resulted in the capture and probable killing of Capt. Devereux Shields and 52 men of Company F, Twenty-ninth volunteer infantry. This is the eighteenth reverse met with by the American forces in the Philippines within the last two months, and the continued losses would seem, it is said, to discredit the report of the Philippine commission that the natives are seeking peace and that the war has been ended. The official bulletins posted by Adjutant General Corbin since August 1st show that during the intervening period three officers and thirty-eight men have been killed, two officers and forty-eight men have been wounded and one officer and fifty-two men have been captured and probably killed.

The reports of deaths in the Philippines, as posted by the War department, show that over 200 men have died from disease in the last two months.

THE EMPIRE DRILL COMPANY

Have transferred their local agency at Greensboro to the Greensboro Storage & Transfer Co. Mr. N. A. Steadman has been employed to take charge of the local retail trade, and will be pleased to see his friends and customers as well as the many friends of the old reliable Empire Drill. They keep a large stock of 6 Hoe, 8 Hoe, 6 Disc and 8 Disc Drills, and a large stock of Repairs, this being their general transfer point for North and South Carolina.

THE EMPIRE DRILL IS THE BEST

Because it is the Lightest Running, having a tapered axle like a wagon. The wheels have "gather and tuck" and can never wear in and rub the box like Drills will when their wheels hang on a straight and revolving axle. It is the only Drill in the world that will sow the same amount of wheat or oats per acre with the same gear in the same time and through the same run, i. e., making no change whatever to sow the same quantity of wheat or oats. Therefore it is the only Drill that can PROVE FASTER. It handles peas just as well as oats and wheat. It is the strongest Disc Drill made and does better work on rough or uneven land than any other, the discs having rods long enough to allow the discs seven inches drop. It pays to have the best, even if it costs a little more. You would soon lose the difference by loss of time paying for repairs, and worst of all, having your grain and fertilizer handled badly.

Call on Mr. N. A. Steadman for prices and terms. These drills will be on exhibition at the Central Carolina Fair. Farmers are invited to make the Empire warehouse or fair booth their headquarters.

Copyright, 1900, by the Pan-American Exposition Co.
This big structure is 500 by 350 feet, with a central court 100 by 175 feet. Its type of architecture is the Spanish renaissance, modified to suit the conditions of the Exposition. The roofs are laid with red tile and the cemented walls are brilliant with color. The colors are to be reds and yellows in light tints. The facades will present an arched effect, with broad, overhanging eaves, in imitation of the old mission buildings in California and Mexico. The Central Court will be a veritable tropical garden, with a long, narrow pool, containing interesting specimens of aquatic life, and will have seats, where the weary visitor may rest a moment. The Exposition is to be held in Buffalo in 1901 from May 1 to Nov. 1.

England and United States in China.

The United States and Great Britain are apparently in accord in respect to the punishment of the leaders of the anti foreign movement in China. The German government proposed that China should surrender "such persons as are determined upon as being the first and real perpetrators of the crimes committed in Pekin against international law." This surrender Germany "considers a preliminary condition for entering upon peace negotiations with the Chinese government." To this proposal the State department replied that "the government of the United States is not disposed, as a preliminary condition to entering into diplomatic negotiations with the Chinese government, to demand that the said government surrender to the powers such persons as, according to the determination of the powers themselves, may be held to be the first and real perpetrators of those wrongs." The punishment of the responsible authors of the anti foreign movement is, in the opinion of the United States government, "essentially a condition to be embraced and provided for in the negotiations for the final settlement." The answer of the British government to the German proposal is said to be identical with that of our State department.

According to Washington dispatches, Lord Salisbury's approval of the position assumed by the United States has "given the greatest satisfaction to the administration." While the British government's rejection of the German proposal delights Washington officials, it is not indorsed by leading English newspapers. The London Chronicle, for instance, refers contemptuously to the "weak-kneed policy of America" and declares that "the only way in which England can reap the fruit of her exertions in China is by standing shoulder to shoulder with Germany and Japan." The Times says the people of Great Britain would be "both astonished and shocked if our government did not warmly support the German proposal." So, in supporting his good friend, President McKinley, Lord Salisbury is unquestionably running counter to the wishes of the British jingoes, who want vigorous measures taken against the Chinese, even at the risk of war with the whole Empire of China. The position of the United States in regard to the surrender of the leaders of the anti foreign movement is sound from every point of view. If any power were to make such a demand upon Germany as the German government proposes to make upon China Emperor William's reply would be a prompt declaration of war. The Chinese, in the opinion of some of the powers, are outside the pale of international law. They have, it is contended by Germany, outlawed themselves by the murder of Baron von Ketteler and the attacks upon the legations. To this theory the United States cannot assent, however. The answer of our State department outlines the only course of action which is proper and just from the American standpoint. It may not suit the British jingoes, but Lord Salisbury is shrewd enough to fall into line with the American policy. Perhaps he does not like it any better than the London Times and Chronicle. Whatever his opinion may be privately, it is plain that he intends to do nothing that will give offense to the Washington government. American support may be essential in the future to enable the British government to carry out its plans in the East. No one appreciates this fact more keenly than Lord Salisbury.

It is to be hoped that Mr. McKinley's policy of moderation and common sense is not merely temporary and for election purposes.

It is whispered in some quarters not unfriendly to the administration that shortly after November 6 vigorous measures will be adopted; that the United States will formulate an ultimatum and force China to comply with our demands. "A high official of the government" is quoted as follows in a Washington dispatch to the New York Times: "A proper interval of time will be allowed in which the emperor of China may show his good faith by vigorously punishing the criminals. If the emperor fails to do this as fully and as completely as America should do it herself a peremptory demand will be made upon him by the United States envoys, accompanied by the designation of the persons whom America regards as guilty. If this demand is ignored a final ultimatum will be presented to the same effect. If the ultimatum is ignored, then war upon China." If this "high official of the government" knows what he is talking about the administration intends to take a step which will inevitably lead the United States into war with China in the event of the latter's failure to punish the real leaders of the anti foreign movement. Germany apparently proposes to go to war with the Chinese Empire unless the Boxer leaders are punished in advance of the peace negotiations. This "high official of the government" who outlines our policy for the New York Times declares that the United States will make war upon China after the peace negotiations are concluded if the Boxer leaders are not dealt with according to their deserts. If this actually be the situation, there seems, so far as results may be concerned, little difference between German and American policy. There is no reason why the United States should be embroiled in war with the Chinese Empire because of the latter's failure to execute the actual anti foreign leaders. The Empress Dowager is charged with complicity in the Boxer movement, and it is quite certain that she will not be punished. If the Chinese in high places escape punishment, as they probably will, the United States had better accept indemnity, demand guarantees that Americans will be protected and leave Germany to carry on a war of revenge if Emperor William will not be placated otherwise.

Steady Growth of Cities.

Statistics have been compiled at the Census bureau, based on the populations of large cities which have been announced up to the present time, which shows a most interesting fact in relation to the growth of the cities. It demonstrates that the 155 largest cities in the United States numerically increased in population from 1890 to 1900 almost exactly as they did between 1880 and 1890. These 155 cities increased their population 4,706,107 from 1880 to 1890, and 4,627,953 from 1890 to 1900, or just 78,154 less during the latter than in the former period.

"For three days and nights I suffered agony untold from an attack of cholera morbus brought on by eating cucumbers," says M. E. Lowther, clerk of the district court, Centerville, Iowa. "I thought I should surely die, and tried a dozen different medicines but all to no purpose. I sent for a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and three doses relieved me entirely." This remedy is for sale by C. E. Holton, druggist.

Prize Road Article No. 3.

[Awarded second prize from western Guilford in the contest arranged by Mr. C. G. Wright.]

Money spent on permanent macadamized roads, increases the wealth of the county, and is therefore a good investment.

The above proposition is self-evident, and susceptible of demonstration. It is neither new nor an experiment, and there are localities in this state, as well as others, that have put it to a practical test.

Before entering upon taking testimony in the case, it is necessary to define a standard of appeal; that is, what shall we take as a standard by which to show the above truth?

We answer that we must find our standard of appeal in the definition of wealth and the experience of people who have invested money in the permanent improvement of roads.

Mr. Webster defines wealth: Goods, lands, money; increased prosperity, etc. How are these obtained? Political economy and the experience of the human race answer: "By the most intelligently directed use of the forces which are to be applied to the accumulation of goods, estates, money, etc."

Among the most important elements on which force and energy are expended by the farmer, is that of transportation. This has always stood at the head of the list, and is especially true in this age of steam, electricity, and telephones. This is an age of "get there," and "get there now," and to keep in touch with the active agents of commerce and manufacture, the farmer wants to know:

1. How to economize time and force in transportation between farm and market.
2. What will enable him to take advantage of market fluctuations in buying and selling.
3. What will permit transportation of farm products in times of leisure and mud.
4. What will reduce the wear and tear on horses and vehicles.
5. What will enhance the value of real estate.

To the first question, a good road is the only means. It saves time, which philosophers define as money. If time is money; and money is wealth; and improved roads the means by which this is obtained, it follows that permanent roads increase wealth.

For example: In Chester county, N. J., a farmer living fourteen miles from town, required five hours to make a trip to town. After the road was improved, he made it in one hour, and carried four times the quantity. This was a saving in time and force. (Chaney B. Ripley's report on good roads, page 81.)

The improved road moved the man within one hour's ride of market, and enabled him to take advantage of fluctuations in prices, which meant an increase in money value to him.

Under the third and fourth, it is plain that the market can be taken advantage of when the mud would otherwise prevent, because there is no mud on a macadamized road, and transportation need not stop. The farmer also escapes the heavy wear on horse, harness and vehicle, which is unavoidable on mud roads.

In Mecklenburg county, this state, wood and all farm products are carried over the macadamized roads in the dead of winter. The increased quantity carried at a load, and the short time required to market it have cheapened the cost of living in Charlotte, with the mill people, so that they are saving money. This is increasing the wealth of the county, and the farmer and consumer alike are benefited by cheapening the cost of transportation; as the former can sell, and the latter buy, at a less price than formerly.

See how much it cost the people of Greensboro two years ago to get wood, when the mud had completely cut off intercourse with the county.

It is found, by comparing the cost of carriage on good roads with that on poor roads, to result in saving the farmer twenty-five cents per ton per mile. Statistics show that the haul in the middle and southern states is 12 1/2 miles. This, on improved roads, would save to the farmer carrying one ton, $3 1/2. But when this load is increased four times, he saves on the same trip, $12 1/2.

Capt. Alexander, the father of goods roads in Mecklenburg, stated before the road congress held in Charlotte last July that the improved roads with them had enhanced the value of real estate fifty per cent. He spoke of worn out farms, nine and ten miles from Charlotte, which, since the improved roads had been reclaimed and converted into dairy and truck farms, yielding a good profit, where only poverty had previously existed.

From actual tests, we are unavoidably driven to the conclusion that money spent on permanent road building increases the wealth of the county.

That a bond issue is the best way to secure permanent roads for this generation, ought to go unchallenged, since there is no other way of obtaining the money, and the present authorized tax is not increased thereby.

New York and New Jersey are wealthy states; their people are good financiers. They resorted to bond issues. If this was not the best way, why did they adopt it?

The present road tax in Guilford furnishes about $8,000. $4,000 additional would pay the interest on $300,000 bond issue. The excellent financial status of the county would enable the bonds to be sold at a premium. This would more than cover the $4,000, without a single cent of increased taxes.

Now, according to J. Van Lindley's paper, which appeared recently in the newspapers, we will, at the end of twenty seven years, have paid this bond issue, interest and principal, by paying in but $108,000 while taxes will not have been increased one iota. We will have built 162 miles of road (24 miles a year,) to say nothing of the income to be derived from the increased population and increased value of property sure to follow good road improvement. ### DECLARATION OF IMPERIALISM A Clever Parody of a Well-Known Document.

When, in the fateful course of blind Destiny, it becomes necessary for the people of a great Democratic republic to subjugate inferior peoples, and by destroying infant republics to assume among the nations of the earth the exalted and profitable station of a world power, a decent respect to the opinions of the better elements of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to depart from their Democratic ideals.

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that the God of infinite love is a judicious respecter of persons, who in His infinite wisdom hath created some men in superior station and with superior rights; that they are charged by their Creator with certain corresponding duties; that among these is the divine obligation of regulating the lives and liberties and ministering to the happiness of their inferiors through the strenuous processes of benevolent assimilation. That to perform these duties governments are instituted over inferiors, deriving arbitrary powers from standing armies and crooked taxation, and conserving the privileges of governing class by thereunto subordinating the rights of the governed. That whenever government becomes Republican in spirit and thereby destructive of these despotic ends it is the duty of the better elements to alter or abolish it, provided they do so in the name of patriotism, and to institute imperial government in its place, laying its foundations on such principles and organizing its powers in such form as to them shall seem most likely to effect the safety and happiness of inferiors, and to contribute most effectively to their own respectability, comfort and profit.

Prudence, indeed, will dictate that Republican government shall not be suddenly changed in form; for all experience hath shown that the lower classes and inferior peoples are more disposed to suffer the evils of independence than to relieve themselves by formally renouncing it. But when the fortunes of foreign war, pursuing invariably the same victorious course, evince the design of the god of battles to augment the paternal obligations of a superior people, whose benevolent rapacity is hampered by Republican government, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such government and to provide new guards for the security of their divine privileges and the advancement of their manifest destiny.

Such have been the unmistakable indications of providence, and such is now the necessity which constrains the superior classes of the United States of America to alter their antiquated system of government.

We, therefore, the representatives of the better classes of the United States of America, in imperial convention assembled, appealing to Plutus the Blind for the rectitude of our intentions, do, in the name and by the authority of the superior people of these states, including the editor of the Outlook, solemnly publish and declare that these United States are and of right ought to be a mighty empire, that they are as such absolved from all constitutional restraints, and that a relation between them and the glittering generalities of the Declaration of Independence is and ought to be totally dissolved; and that as an empire marked by destiny to hold despotic sway over the inferior children of our common Father, they have full power henceforth to levy war for purposes of conquest, to conclude peace with honor and spoils, to purchase powers of sovereignty over unwilling peoples, to govern the conquered and the purchased without their consent and as dependent subjects to contract alliances with other world-power empires, to maintain a standing army commensurate in magnitude with our imperial dignity and the necessities of military operations in distant parts of the globe, and for that purpose to draft conscripts from the inferior classes, and to do all other acts and things which world power empires may of might do. And for the support of this declaration, with a firm reliance on the almighty dollar, we pledge the lives and earnings of the American working classes and our own sacred honor.—Springfield Republican.

How Monopoly Works.

In his speech at St. Louis on Saturday Mr. Bryan presented one phase of the trust question in which every head of a family, regardless of party affiliation, is vitally interested. "When private monopoly," he said, "reaches its full development your son will buy the finished product at the price which monopoly fixes; he will sell raw material at the price which monopoly fixes, and if he works for wages, he will work for such compensation and upon such condition as monopoly may determine." If industrial concentration is not checked and monopoly is permitted to gain undisputed control what will the future offer to our young men? All of them cannot become trust magnates, while the vast majority of them will be dependent upon the trusts for employment. There will be no competition and little prospect of preferment for those engaged in industrial pursuits. As Mr. Bryan says: "Each branch of industry will be controlled by one man or a few men; the fruits of monopoly, like the divine right of rule, will be kept within the possession of a few from generation to generation, while the real producers of wealth will be condemned to perpetual clerkships or servitude." Every man who has sons is interested in securing such a solution of the trust problem as will increase the opportunities of employment rather than curtail them. Is it reasonable to assume that a political party which is dependent upon the trusts and notoriously in sympathy with them will contribute to any solution of the problem which is not to the advantage of the trusts?

Why He Refused a Consulship.

Mr. F. L. Huidekoper, of Washington, tells an amusing story of a disappointed office-seeker of years ago.

"Back in '56," says he, "when Buchanan was running for Presidency, he had an intimate friend in a Western state who was also a friend of mine. This man worked early and late for Buchanan's cause and really did as much as anyone else to put his state in the Buchanan column on election day. 'My friend, whom we will call Smith, had a wife who was an invalid. He thought that he was entitled to some recognition for the work he had done—as he was—and he applied for a consulate on the coast of the Mediterranean, believing that the sojourn there would improve his wife's health. 'Months went by and he heard nothing of his application, except that it had been received by the President. Then came the blow. He was notified that he had been made Consul at some little town in Iceland! Smith sat down and wrote a letter, which I saw before it left, so I can vouch for it. The letter read:

"To One James Buchanan, President of These United States: 'Since applying to you some months ago for a consulate on the balmy shores of the Mediterranean my wife who was ill, has gone to Heaven and you can go to—'

"To One James Buchanan, President of These United States:

"Since applying to you some months ago for a consulate on the balmy shores of the Mediterranean my wife who was ill, has gone to Heaven and you can go to—"

Republican Toleration.

A dispatch from Charlotte to the Atlanta Journal says under date of Sept. 26: "It is said that as a result of political animus on the part of the mill owners that every operative at the three cotton mills at Maiden, N. C., who voted the Democratic ticket in the August election, with one exception, has lost his place. The Democrats were either discharged or voluntarily quit on account of the existing unpleasantness. The managers of the mills are Republicans."

CANCER IS NOT INCURABLE

Time was when Cancer was considered as incurable as leprosy. Physicians and friends could give little relief or encouragement to one afflicted with this terrible disease. Even now doctors know of no remedy for this fearful malady; while admitting it to be a blood disease, they still insist that there is no hope outside of a surgical operation, and advise you to have the Cancer cut out, but at the same time cannot assure you that it will not return. You may cut or draw out the sore, but another will come in its place, for the disease is in the blood—is deep-seated and destructive, and beyond the reach of the surgeon's knife or caustic, flesh-destroying plasters. The blood must be purified and strengthened, the system relieved of all poisonous, effete matter before the Cancer sore will heal.

S. S. S. is the only medicine that can overcome this powerful and contaminating poison and force it out of the blood. It builds up and invigorates the old, and supplies new, rich, life-giving blood. S. S. S. is a purely vegetable remedy; no mineral can be found in it; the roots and herbs from which it is made contain powerful purifying properties that act directly upon the blood system and make a safe and permanent cure of Cancer. It has cured thousands, why not you?

Cancer is not always inherited; your family may be free from any taint, yet your blood may become so polluted that a severe and stubborn form of the disease may develop from a sore or ulcer on your tongue or other part of your body; a slight bruise or hurt, a little pimple on the eyelid, lip, little or no attention. If you have an obstinate sore, don't rely upon salves or ointments to cure it—begin with S. S. S. It will cleanse your blood and prevent the formation of cancerous cells.

Mrs. R. Shirer, La Plata, Mo., writes: "A small pimple came on my jaw about one inch below the ear on the left side of my face. At first it gave me no trouble, and I did not think it was anything serious until the jaw began to swell and became much inflamed. At the same time the sore began to spread and eat into the flesh, and gave me intense pain. I tried everything I could hear of, but nothing did me any good. I then began the use of S. S. S., and after taking several bottles the Cancer healed, and there is now no sign of the disease. This was two years ago, and I am still enjoying perfect health."

Send for our special book on Cancer; it contains much information that will interest you; it is free. Write our physicians about your case, and for any advice or information wanted; they have made a life study of Cancer and all blood diseases. We make no charge what-Address, THE SWIFT SPECIFIC COMPANY, ATLANTA, GA.

Impure Blood Invites Disease.

Want Southern Operatives.

A recent issue of the Atlanta Constitution contained an advertisement for operatives to work in New England cotton mills. Among the inducements offered were "high wages and short hours of labor." This hardly agrees with the recent announcement made of a decrease in the wages of New England operatives of over 10 per cent. and the subsequent shutting down of mills. "It is an interesting fact," says the New Orleans Picayune, in commenting on the advertisement in the Constitution, "that New England cotton mills are seeking operatives in the South. It is to be noted, however, that not a word is said as to the color and race of the persons wanted. There are negro cotton mill hands in the South, certainly in Georgia and the Carolinas, if not in Louisiana and Mississippi, and it may be that there is offered an opportunity for them to secure places in northern mills. But, in view of the recent race riots in many northern states, it may still be a problem whether negro operatives will be allowed to work alongside white people in the cotton mills of old liberty-loving, equality-preaching New England. The outcome will be watched with interest."

When you cannot sleep for coughing, it is hardly necessary that any one should tell you that you need a few doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to allay the irritation of the throat, and make sleep possible. It is good. Try it. For sale by C. E. Holton, druggist.

McClure's for October.

The October number of McClure's opens with an article on "The Strategy of National Campaigns," attractively illustrated by Jay Hambridge. The frontispiece, showing Governor Roosevelt and Senator Hanna in conference at Republican national headquarters, and the strikingly original portraits of Cleveland, Blaine, Quay, Croker, Bryan and others, lend especial interest to this paper on the tactics of party managers in the Presidential campaigns of the past twenty-five years. The author has been in the thick of the fight and has evidently been brought very closely into contact with the great leaders in the battles which he describes.
