City Engineer Bandy has established the grade of South Elm street between the Greensboro Loan and Trust Company's building and Depot street, in order that the Odell Hardware Company can put down a concrete sidewalk in front of its buildings.

Guilford county furnishes captains for two prominent Southern League ball teams this year. Bob Stafford and J. T. Bennett, of Oak Ridge, will fill that position for the New Orleans and Shreveport, La., teams, respectively. They are both stars of the first magnitude.

The Guilford Chapter of Daughters of the Confederacy have arranged to have Richmond Pearson Hobson and ex-Governor Bob Taylor lecture in Greensboro within the next few weeks. The Daughters have secured Hon. Wm. A. Henderson, of Washington, as Memorial Day orator.

Two young fellows who came to the city last week to enlist in the army and put up at a hotel came near being murdered into the heavenly hosts. They blew out the gas in their room, and had it not been for the watchfulness of an employee of the hotel they would have been asphyxiated. They will know better next time.

Asheboro Argus: Mr. Will A. Underwood, formerly of Asheboro, now representative of the L. Richardson Drug Co., Greensboro, was last week the recipient of a check for $100 from the Paris Medicine Co., of St. Louis, as a prize for having sold more of their goods than any other traveling salesman. His friends in Asheboro are glad to know that he is meeting with much success on the road.

Will Claiborne, a one-eyed negro who has been a familiar character around the Farmers' warehouse for several years, was arrested Sunday for selling liquor, the police catching him in the act. He had a jug, funnel and other "bar fixtures" concealed in the warehouse stable and was doing a thriving business when the officers asked to see his license. Claiborne was in trouble a year or so ago, having shot a woman.

A. L. Daley, the gold brick man, passed through Greensboro Thursday evening with a squad of convicts en route from the state penitentiary to Mitchell county, where he will work at railroad grading. He has not given up hope of securing a pardon. His partners, Howard and Hawley, are still at Raleigh. The former fell recently and broke an arm. Daley had no complaint to make about his treatment in prison.

The bank case against J. E. Dickerson, of Asheville, which is to be heard in the Federal court here, will hardly come up at the April term, owing to the fact that the term can continue only one week. The jury in the Breese case, after being out since Saturday, failed to agree and were discharged yesterday morning, making a mistrial. Breese, Dickerson's partner, was convicted on the first hearing, but secured a new trial.

Will Ezell, of Haw River, was injured at that place Sunday night by attempting to board the Southern passenger train No. 15, on the bridge just west of the depot, and died in a few hours from the injuries. He was on the bridge, which has several offsets in it for pedestrians to step out of the way of the moving trains, and as the train came by he attempted to board it and was jerked under the wheels. One arm and leg were horribly mangled and he received an injury to his back.

At the meeting of the directors of the Central Carolina fair association last Wednesday afternoon an executive committee composed of Messrs. T. M. Arrasmith, W. C. Boren and J. D. Helms was named to co-operate with Secretary King in the preliminary arrangements for the next fair, which will surpass all previous events of the kind attempted by the association. New buildings will be erected, others enlarged or improved, and everything will be done to promote the success of the fair. The date has not been definitely fixed as yet, owing to the fact that the State fair opens a week later than usual. Secretary King will open an office in the Scott building, on North Elm street.

Base Ball Organization Effected.

The base ball fever which has raged epidemic in Greensboro the past fortnight has culminated in the organization of a strong association that will promote the national game locally the coming summer. Following the return from Raleigh of several gentlemen who attended the meeting at which a state league was formed last week, a call was issued for a public meeting, and the result is a splendid organization of Gate City enthusiasts, or "cranks," as they are commonly termed. The officers are: President, Mr. C. G. Wright; vice president, Mr. Garland Daniel; secretary and treasurer, Mr. L. J. Brandt; directors, Messrs. Wright, Daniels and Brandt, Z. V. Taylor, J. P. Turner, Lee H. Battle and J. C. Morris. A site for a ball park was generously tendered by Mr. Caesar Cone. It will be located on Summit avenue, just beyond the residence of Mr. Sternberger. The work of fitting out the park will begin at once. Mr. George W. Kelly, manager of the pennant-winning Raleigh team last year, was chosen manager and captain of the Gate City team, and he will proceed at once to round up an aggregation of players. His instructions are to get only the best the market affords. "King" Kelly is easily the best man that played in the state league last year, and Greensboro is proud of her acquisition. The teams comprising the league this year are Raleigh, Charlotte, Wilmington, Newbern, Durham and Greensboro. The season opens May 12th.

The Cigar Factory Assured.

If one may venture an opinion based on what might be termed "circumstantial evidence," it is safe to say that the establishment in Greensboro of a branch factory of the American Cigar Company is practically assured. The modest resolution submitted to the board of aldermen last Friday night by Alderman Sherwood, authorizing a change in a portion of the grade of West Gaston street that the big leaf factory on the corner of Gaston and Greene streets might be furnished with sewer connection is, in our opinion, indisputable evidence of an important deal of some kind, and nothing suggests itself except the cigar factory. Like all vast enterprises, nothing is given out as to the American's plans, but the impression is general here that the factory will certainly be established, and at no far distant date. Several hundred hands are employed in each of the company's manufacturing branches elsewhere, and Greensboro will hardly be an exception to that rule. The city will profit immensely by the presence of such an extensive industrial establishment.

Greensboro people are still hopeful of the successful passage of the measure before Congress providing for an appropriation of $75,000 for improving and enlarging the government building at this place. It is felt that the circumstances make this a specially urgent case. It is not only a matter of importance to this congressional district, but is of interest to all the people in this division of the western judicial district, comprising all of the fifth and parts of the seventh and eighth districts, and embracing thirteen counties. These thirteen counties have a population equal to 17 per cent. of the population of the entire state. It would appear that this showing should entitle Greensboro to special consideration.

A special from Burlington says the Alamance Loan and Trust Company, which was organized at that place recently, has consolidated with the Burlington Banking Company, under the name of the Alamance Loan and Trust Company, with Col. J. H. Holt, president; J. A. Davidson, vice president; J. M. Fix, treasurer; J. C. Staley, secretary. Mr. R. G. Vaughn, of Greensboro, is on the board of directors. The paid up stock is $45,000 and an authorized capital of $100,000. Stock was eagerly sought for by local financiers, which attests the good feeling towards the venture. They will continue the banking business of the Burlington Banking Company, in the same building, which will be remodeled and arranged especially for the banking business.

Annual Meeting of Farmers' Mutual.

The next annual meeting of the Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Association of Guilford County will be held in the court house in Greensboro at 11:30 A. M. on the last Saturday in March, the 29th inst. It is highly important that there should be a full attendance.

MARKET REPORT.

The receipts on our market for the past week have been as large as they have for any preceding week during the present season, and our buyers and manufacturers were kept busy all the while handling their purchases. All during the week farmers have come in from all sections tributary to this market, and, in fact, we have seen lots of farmers here during the past two months whom we have not seen for quite a while, which shows that this market is extending its influence and selling tobacco from a larger territory than it has previously done for several years.

The quality of the tobacco which was offered was not fully as good as it has been for previous weeks, owing to the fact that it appeared to be some of the first curings and was thin and somewhat deficient in quality and flavor, but while this was true, the prices on all grades seemed to advance slightly, and we regard them the highest that has been paid for any previous week during the present season, and the patrons of this market were highly gratified for the prices they received for their tobacco.

A very large proportion of this crop has already been marketed and there is very little more tobacco remaining in the farmers' hands; consequently, the buyers will begin to wind up their business for the year earlier this season than they have done heretofore, and we would, therefore, advise all farmers to market the remainder of their tobacco as early as convenient, believing that the sooner they market it the better the prices will be.

Mr. A. B. Bray, of Statesville, spent Sunday here with his brother, Mr. C. A. Bray.

Mr. E. J. Ross, of Alamance, marketed 651 pounds of leaf here the other day that brought him $126.06, an average of over 19 cents.

Mr. D. Robertson Dunlap, the Winston buyer for the David Dunlop tobacco factory, Petersburg, Va., was on our sales yesterday.

Mr. S. W. Porter, a well-known tobaccoist, is here on a visit from Timmonsville, S. C., where he has been living for a few years.

Mr. H. W. Lambeth, of Guilford, sold the past week 1,799 pounds of leaf for $258.83 an average of over $14. His prices ranged from $9.75 to $34.

Rockingham furnished a number of well-pleased patrons for this market the past week. Among them were Minor & Mateer, W. M. James, P. S. Dixon, D. I. Cummins, J. S. Sharp, Thos. Slade, J. N. Southard, J. M. Turner, J. M. Wray, Michaux & Strader, W. H. Lester, J. R. Jones and Isaac McCollum.

The following Alamance farmers averaged from ten to fifteen cents on their sales here the past week: J. R. Jeffries, Jeffries & Fogleman, Mrs. Julia Cooper, S. M. Cooper, Miss Mollie Cooper, C. L. Enoch, J. H. King, G. R. Maynard, E. L. Lindley, Walker & Jeffries, C. B. & B. F. Trolinger and W. R. DeBrula.

Guilford growers have been coming right along the past week. Just a few of them were Anthony Long, C. P. Cummins, Annie Graves, Morehead & Mason, Pearson & Causey, J. E. Wyatt, W. H. Rankin, Lizzie Jeffries, Tatum & Pearson, W. F. Dawson, H. B. Smith, J. W. D. Michael, G. O. Hoskins, J. A. Smith, W. O. Doggett, A. W. Seagins, A. S. Clark, Hunt & Simpson, D. A. Smith, J. R. Kernodle and Andy Gerlinger.

Mr. G. W. Webb, one of Alamance's successful farmers, sold here last week and expressed himself highly pleased with results. Other Alamance farmers who sold here were Messrs. Cooper & Coble, Hornaday & Shoffner, G. R. Hornaday, Jim Martin, S. M. Cooper, Gilliam & Bain, Boston Cable, Wilkes Cable, R. C. Dickey, A. G. & G. W. Wright, A. L. Shade, Christian Iseley, A. J. Ross, J. H. Ross, W. F. Iseley, J. J. & T. A. Barnett, J. H. Thompson, J. A. and E. F. Lowe, W. H. Evans, Dickey & Gant and Rufus Dixon.

Would Smash the Club.

If members of the "Hay Fever Association" would use Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, the club would go to pieces, for it always cures this malady,—and Asthma, the kink that battles the doctors,—it wholly drives from the system. Thousands of once-hopeless sufferers from Consumption, Pneumonia, Bronchitis owe their lives and health to it. It conquers Grip, saves little ones from Croup and Whooping Cough and is positively guaranteed for all Throat and Lung troubles. 5c, $1.00. Trial bottles free at Holton's.

A Vile Nuisance Abated.

One of the most gratifying arrests of the past week was that of Aaron Reeves, colored, who was caught in the act of perpetrating one of the most objectionable nuisances known to the city authorities in a long time. For two or three months some one has been writing the most obscene language imaginable on the sidewalks and fences of the Southside. A number of people, including the police, have made repeated efforts to capture the miscreant who did it, but it was not until Thursday night that success attended their efforts. Officer Crutchfield stationed himself in a house that night which afforded a view of Gorrell street, where of late the writing has repeatedly appeared, and was rewarded about two o'clock by seeing a man stoop down and commence scribbling on the pavement. It proved to be Reeves. He placed him under arrest, but had quite a struggle before he would consent to go to jail. On the way there he offered the officer five dollars if he would release him, promising never to do anything of the kind again. Reeves appeared before Mayor Osborn Friday evening and was bound over to court on two charges, committing a nuisance and resisting an officer. He has been employed as a laborer at the mail transfer office at the Southern depot for some time, working under Mr. Tomlinson, one of those most active in trying to apprehend the perpetrator of the nuisance.

Miss Gould's Souvenir.

The State Normal and Industrial College has received from Miss Helen Miller Gould two very handsome copies of well known paintings by Lawrence Alma-Tadema, "The Coliseum" and "Reading from Homer." The latter picture is among the greatest works of the artist, who is a Dutchman by birth and education, although a naturalized British subject.

The following letter accompanied the pictures:

"DEAR DOCTOR McIVER:—I have taken the liberty of sending to the Normal and Industrial College in your care two copies of Alma-Tadema's paintings, and I hope the girls will enjoy these picturesque glimpses of life in olden times.

"Our visit to your school will always be a pleasant memory and I am glad that you invited us to make it. My only regret is that I could not adequately express my appreciation of the cordial welcome the students gave me and make a nice address when they were in the assembly room, but the gift of words has been denied me.

"With kind regards for all I met at the institution, I remain, Sincerely, HELEN MILLER GOULD."

Correspondence of the PATRIOT.

Raleigh, March 17.—On this "Saint Patrick's day in the morning" I would like to ask you if you intend to vote at the state election in November—and, if so, whether you have taken the necessary initial step to do so.

This is the year our new franchise law, under the provisions of the constitutional amendment adopted two years ago, goes into effect—and one of its requirements to qualify you to become an elector is the payment of your poll-tax on or before May 1st. Unless you can show your poll-tax receipt you will not be legally entitled to vote, no matter how white you are.

It has been announced that this is the year of the "questions" the Democratic state and central committees will take up when they meet in joint session here next week. But there really seems to be no question point attached to the "question" but a fact—the law and the law must be obeyed. See your tax collector at once.

THE NEGRO VOTE.

There would be more negroes qualified to vote than there are now, if the educational qualifications were lowered, than most people would like. Especially with the city and country negroes, who so generally take advantage of the good school facilities.

A very sensible and observant traveler has declared to me that "it is a great deal easier to get a negro education in North Carolina than the poor class of white education in the towns and cities." A proportion of them are obedient and their most white people are able to take into consideration the public and graded schools, and especially the Shaw University at Raleigh, the number of other colleges at Charlotte, Greensboro, and other places, and the means of securing their board at the occupations of the board and closed to white people. The observation does not sound so far from the truth. We are now hearing of the possible alienation of the negro vote from the Republican party. At a conference of negro leaders held to meet here soon, one of the purposes of which is to align the negro vote with the Democratic party, or at least to pretty equally divide it between the political parties.

And it is a little interesting, too, to find that some of the leading white newspapers are "cautiously" welcoming it, in their columns. What if the great bulk of the negro vote should come over bodily to the Democratic party? Are we prepared to welcome it?

There is a number of our "leaders" who are very stoutly. But even the latter admit that they would not like to keep them out as they would prevent the white vote from splitting at the same time, and very much for the same reason.

Some of the Republican leaders, and their party is now strongest in the white counties is also causing out a little to look into the "why" and the "wherefore" of that statement—if true. On the whole, the political developments of 1902 promise to be interesting and something out of the usual order, possibly—if the present trend continue to flow uninterrupted.

DIRECT IN OUR STATUTORY LAW.

Historical evidence has induced Governor Aycock to save another condemned burglar from the gallows, and Andrew Jackson, white, of Lincoln county, has had his sentence commuted to imprisonment. The newly proposed evidence casts a doubt upon the guilt of the prisoner and as there is no provision for a new trial in such cases, the governor thinks there is a possibility, his excellency leans to the mercy and gives the prisoner the benefit of the doubt to the extent of a year. If not guilty he ought to be free, and if guilty he ought to be free over such cases ought to be decided by our laws. It is almost impossible to look an innocent man in the face as it would be to hang him. If criticism should be directed at the criminal statute, it should be directed to the legislature to provide the

SOUTH CAROLINA AT CHARLESTON.

Prospects are that we will be largely represented at the Charleston Exposition during "North Carolina Week," and if President Roosevelt's plan of attending that week is carried out it will probably be the opening week of the South Carolina Exposition, April 7-12.

NEWS NOTES.

Dr. Hoffman is to be appointed to the State Board of Education and the sale of the "swamp land from Lumberton tells us that a few days Philadelphia will acquire the Cape Fear Railroad and will extend it to Lumberton, where it will join the part of the Carolina and Raleigh, which is going to be built. No matter which syndicate the road this will be the result, and Raleigh will get a new road to Charleston.

Governor Aycock has commuted the sentence of Lawyer Gorham, the South Carolina attorney convicted at the state court, so as to make the sentence a fine of $50 only. The defendant has been stricken with paralysis and the charge of embezzlement has been dropped.

There are today exactly 100 inmates in the Soldiers' Home here, the largest in its history—and it is expected to most of these broken down men, especially as well as physically. There would be as many as they could be accommodated. The Soldiers' Home, where the accident occurred a few days ago, says the arrangements to fill the new plant. The loss was only $100,000 and there was an insurance of $8,000 to cover it. Those of the operatives who are temporarily thrown out of work are being provided for by Mr. Holt, and where necessary to their comfort continued on the payroll of the mill. No wonder the operatives of his mill, like those of his brother, the late Governor Holt, hold him in such high esteem and decline to be alienated by professional "labor agitators."

Women Teacher's Institute.

TO THE PUBLIC SCHOOL TEACHERS OF NORTH CAROLINA:

The authorities of The State Normal and Industrial College, desiring to render every possible service to the educational interests of the state, have decided to offer women teachers an institute of one month.

This is intended especially for those teachers who desire to better equip themselves for their work, but who for various reasons, are unable to pursue the full course.

A matriculation fee of $5 will be charged which will entitle the person paying the same to all lectures, library privileges, use of textbooks, etc. The only additional expense will be for board and laundry, both of which will not cost more than $3 a week.

In the department of Pedagogy, lectures on the best methods of teaching all the common school studies will be given, and the students will have an opportunity to spend some time in the Practice and Observation School.

In addition, lectures and laboratory work will be offered in the different departments of science.

Besides the regular faculty of The State Normal and Industrial College, we shall have with us several city superintendents and other prominent educators to deliver special lectures.

The institute will begin April 29th and close May 24th.

If it is your intention to avail yourself of this opportunity, or if you desire further information, please write to

CHARLES D. McIVER, President.

The Dead Man Revived.

Wilmington, March 13.—An unusual and rather interesting occurrence took place yesterday. Mr. Jackson Davis, 57 years of age, and a veteran of the Mexican and civil wars, was given up as dead by his niece with whom he resided at 401 Bladen street. Rev. C. F. Webster, his pastor, was called in and an undertaker was employed to take charge of the remains. The local camp of Confederate veterans selected a coffin and paid for the same as their contribution was very poor. The camp had also been called out to attend the funeral this morning at 10 o'clock when a message came to the undertaker not to come to the house; Mr. Davis had revived and all the funeral arrangements were off. He had been considered dead for four hours but he took a new lease on life and at last accounts was still living. It is not, however, expected that he will recover, as he has been sick for a long time. Mr. Davis is on the pension rolls of the county and was a brave soldier.

Southern Negroes in Togoland.

Berlin, March 13.—The negroes of the Tuskegee Industrial Institute, who were engaged the latter part of 1900 by the German government to teach the natives of Togoland, German West Africa, how to grow cotton, have, according to the report of the colonial committee, succeeded in producing cotton which is graded on the Bremen exchange above American middling.

The Tuskegee negroes have demonstrated that the land in Togoland is favorable for cotton, of which there is great abundance. The only obstacle to the commercial utilization of this product is transportation and especially getting the bales to the coast. The colonial committee has sent an expedition of engineers to survey for a railroad from the coast town of Lome to Palime, in the interior.

Trainmen at Odds With the Chief Dispatcher.

Winston-Salem, March 14.—Conductors Frazier and Fayson, Engineers Goldsmith, Curlee and Light, of the Southern Railway, whose runs are between Winston-Salem and Charlotte, tendered their resignations yesterday, to take effect at once—at least as soon as men could be sent to relieve them. The conductors and engineers were still on duty today and it is not believed that the resignations will be accepted. It appears that the men resigned on account of differences with the chief train dispatcher.

Andrew Sherman Jackson, a white man, convicted of burglary at Lincoln and sentenced to be hanged, was placed in the penitentiary Thursday, his sentence being commuted to life imprisonment. The Governor says affidavits have been filed by five witnesses since the trial that on the night the crime was committed Jackson was at Guilford, S. C. He says it is entirely possible this evidence would have changed the verdict. He adds: "It is a misfortune that our law is in such shape that the supreme court, while granting new trials in civil suits for newly discovered evidence, will not do so in criminal cases."

Arrangements have been completed for the visit of Governor Aycock, his staff and the state officers to the Charleston Exposition. They will leave Raleigh on the morning of April 8 and reach there that afternoon, and will remain four days. The troops will leave April 7. There will be a composite regiment of twelve selected companies, with the band of the First Regiment, from Asheville. The state will pay transportation for three officers and forty-five men of each company.

In the Orange county Superior court last week two negroes, convicted of burning a barn, were sentenced to twenty and thirty years in the penitentiary, respectively, while a negro convicted of manslaughter got only ten months. The discrimination in favor of the latter was made upon the showing that the negro killed was the meanest and most dangerous bully in Orange county. Some of the professors at Chapel Hill certified to this fact and swore to the previous good character of the slayer.

Salisbury, March 14.—The death of the young son of Mr. E. S. Shoaf, of Tyro Shops, was a terrible accident. While out hunting his brother handed him the gun, with the muzzle toward him. The trigger caught and the lad was shot with one load in the side, dying in a very short time.

JIM YOUNGER'S DILEMMA.

He Cannot Marry Because Under Minnesota Law he is Civilly Dead.

St. Paul, Minn., March 13.—Jim Younger wants to get married. He cannot, because he is legally dead; hence he is unable to enter into any contract. Younger submitted the question of whether or not he could wed to Gov. Van Sant, who has looked into the matter with some surprising results. In Minnesota a life prisoner is civilly dead. The only way he can make contracts binding in the eyes of the law is through the board which paroled him, in this case the State board of control, which board is empowered to enter into a contract for him. It is not probable, however, that the three members of the board of control, separately, or as a whole, will agree to enter into a marriage contract with any woman for the benefit of the paroled life convict.

The only way for Jim Younger to become a married man in Minnesota is to get a pardon, which will restore him to the rights of a living citizen. Another phase of the law is that neither Jim Younger nor his brother Cole, if they shall establish any business of their own, as has been contemplated, can be held for any debts that they may incur. In his application to the governor requesting information as to his rights to marry, Younger said nothing regarding the proposed bride.

Memorial Bridge Scheme.

Washington, March 15.—President Roosevelt agreed today to aid the Grand Army of the Potomac to obtain authority from Congress for construction of a memorial bridge across the Potomac river. Two former Union soldiers, "Corporal" James Tanner and Thomas S. Hopkins, and two of the men who wore the gray, Colonel William A. Gordon and Frank Hume, visited the White House and called the President's attention to the fact that the annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic to be held in Washington in October may be the last which will take place in the capital city, and they desire that the occasion be made forever memorable by the laying of the cornerstone of the bridge. The President, it is said, cordially endorsed the plan. The construction of the bridge has been long advocated.

The late President McKinley took special interest in the subject and recommended that Congress authorize that the bridge be built. Upon the death of Mr. McKinley, Brig.-Gen. John M. Wilson, (retired) suggested that the McKinley Memorial Arch be made a part of the bridge, and that the whole structure be named the McKinley Memorial Bridge.

Revenue Seizure in Davie County.

Mocksville, March 14.—Revenue Officers Broadnax and Patterson came in last night from Yadkin, where they captured G. W. Seagrave and seized his distillery for removing spirits from cistern room to place other than warehouse. The officers are still in Davie making it warm for the violators.

The forty-second annual State Fair of North Carolina will take place at Raleigh, October 27th to 31st, next.

When the Hair Falls Out.

accompanied by mucous patches in the mouth, eruptions on the skin, sore throat, copper colored spots, swollen glands, aching muscles and bones, the disease is making rapid headway, and far worse symptoms will follow unless the blood is promptly and effectually cleansed of this violent destructive poison.

S. S. S. is the only safe and infallible cure for this disease, the only antidote for this specific poison. It cures the worst cases thoroughly and permanently.

My Condition Could Have Been No Worse.

In the fall of 1881 I contracted Blood Poison. I tried three doctors, but their treatment did me no good; I was getting worse all the time; my hair came out, my throat and mouth were almost covered with copper colored spots and offensive sores. I suffered severely from rheumatic pains in my shoulders and arms. My condition could have been no worse; only those afflicted as I was can understand my sufferings. I had about lost all hope of ever being well again when I decided to try S. S. S., but must confess I had little faith left in any medicine. After taking the third bottle I noticed a change in my condition. This was truly encouraging, and I determined to give S. S. S. a thorough trial. From that time on their improvement was rapid; S. S. S. seemed to have the disease completely under control; the sores and ulcers healed and I was soon free from all signs of the disorder; I have been strong and healthy ever since.

L. W. SMITH, Lock Box 60, Nashville, Ind.

S. S. S. is the only purely vegetable blood purifier known. $1.00 is offered for proof that it contains a particle of mercury, potash or other mineral poison. Send for our free book on Blood Poison; it contains valuable information about this disease, with full directions for self treatment; we charge nothing for medical advice; cure yourself at home.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

Correspondence of the PATRIOT.

Washington, March 17.—The question of amending the constitution to permit of the election of senators by the people seems to have taken a new lease of life during the past week in Washington and is being actively discussed by the Democrats in lobbies and committee rooms. Col. William J. Bryan spent Thursday at the Capitol and warmly advocated the change, which may have added to the interest in the subject, though the matter had been before Mr. Bryan since he came to the city. With a view to learning the actual status of the movement, I made a canvass of the situation yesterday and obtained the following opinions:

Senator Rawlins, of Utah, said that he was heartily in favor of the proposed change and believed it had a better opportunity of being adopted at this session than ever before. "It is not passed at this session, however," said the senator. "I believe there is considerable likelihood of its being made a party issue in the next campaign."

Senators Culberson and Bailey, of Texas, both expressed themselves as strongly in favor of it. Senator Vest, of Missouri, is unconditionally opposed to it. Senator Jones, of Arkansas, as is well known, is committed to it, as is Senator Berry, also of Arkansas, and both the Senators from Tennessee, Senator Clay, of Georgia, said he had discussed the matter with Col. Bryan and that he hoped to see the amendment adopted. Senator Clark, of Montana, said he was committed to it, and so did Senator Barrows, of Michigan. Senator Morgan, of Alabama, refused to express an opinion. Should the amendment pass the Senate it would be promptly adopted by the House, Mr. Richardson, the Democratic leader, told me all the Democrats would vote for it, and a number of Republicans could also. "It would make the strongest kind of a party issue," said a Democratic member, "and I earnestly trust it will be adopted as such."

A Democratic senator told me yesterday, apropos of Senator Hale's announcement to the newspaper men that he believed that Congress would adjourn about the tenth of June, that the policy of the Republican steering committee was to avoid the consideration of the many knotty problems which confront it until after the election. "They wish to prevent all further debate on their actions," said the senator, "and with that end in view will permit liberal debate of the issues which are more or less non-partisan and will select those upon which the Democrats seriously oppose. Then there will be the appropriation bills to be disposed of and they will occupy all of the time until adjournment. I think it most probable that considerable time will be devoted to the Isthmian canal problem, but I regard it as very doubtful if any bill will be passed."

The Philippine problem is daily becoming more embarrassing to the Republican party and, despite the efforts of the Republican press to present the news of the islands in an alluring manner, the facts will not down. Representative Slayden, of Texas, called my attention to some of the figures one day this week and said, "It is certainly remarkable that the people can be led to believe there is either wisdom or policy in paying out hundreds of thousands of dollars every year to maintain a standing army in the islands larger than the entire army in the United States before the Spanish war, and receiving in return a trade which amounts to a few paltry thousands. The only people who are receiving any benefit, or who will do so in the future, are certain capitalists who will secure franchises and land grants which will enable them to farm the Philippines while the people pay the expense of maintaining peace so that the unfortunate islanders will submit to the farming process." "What would be the policy if the Democratic party were in power?" I asked. "We would make the Philippines understand that if they would stop fighting and organize a government we would give them their independence in all internal affairs, and, as soon as they developed sufficient strength to warrant it, we would give them absolute independence," was Mr. Slayden's reply.

All last week the Senate discussed the ship subsidy bill. Senator Vest delivered a most able speech on the subject, exposing the fallacies of the Republican reasoning with a scathing logic. Senator Dewey supported the measure, as did also Senator Foraker, but the latter's support was half-hearted. He admitted that he was opposed to the bounty system and would greatly prefer helping the shipping interests by discriminating duties, but stated that he would vote for the bill because the majority favored it.

Senator Morgan has determined to report the Hepburn bill back to the Senate without amendment and he told me one day last week that he believed it would pass, but Senator Hanna will carry his fight for the Spooner amendment onto the floor of the Senate and the contest will be a bitter one. The Senator from Ohio is very angry with the Senator from Alabama because of the latter's determination and makes all kind of dire threats. That these senators will treat the Senate to another Tillman-McLaurin episode is hardly to be expected, although it is known that they nearly came to blows at one of the committee meetings and are very irascible old gentlemen.

The constant and severe application of the Republican whip has about procured harmony in the House on the question of Cuban reciprocity and it is expected that the joint committee which has been appointed to settle the difference between the beet sugar men and the party leaders will announce the terms of agreement today. The magnificent discipline of the Republican party has served it well in this issue, although, as used by Speaker Henderson and his lieutenants, it is tyrannical to an extent far in excess of any method ever adopted by "Czar" Reed.

The House has passed the rural free delivery bill after providing that the rural carriers shall receive a salary not to exceed $900 per year. The postoffice appropriation bill has also passed, including provision for the rural delivery. Saturday was devoted to the discussion of private bills, and it is hoped that the Ways and Means committee will be prepared at noon today to report the Cuban reciprocity measure.

Re-organization Progressing.

Charlotte Observer.

The statement that Senator Simmons has declared for Mr. Gorman for the next Democratic presidential nomination, made by our Washington correspondent yesterday, is confirmed by the Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun. This, with the further statement of our Washington correspondent yesterday that a majority of the North Carolina delegation in Congress concur with Senator Simmons in his preference, is agreeable intelligence. The party needs the leadership of Mr. Gorman or some such man—the individual is not so important as the type of individual. But the strength which Mr. Gorman developed in Congress Thursday as the outgrowth of discussion caused by Mr. Bryan's presence at the capitol, is an exceedingly hopeful omen. It is evidence that the party is being re-organized, is re-organizing itself, by logical and natural processes.

We were hopeful that the election of Senator Gorman to the chairmanship of the Democratic congressional committee, which was foreshadowed in yesterday's dispatches, would be accomplished last night, but the election of chairman was postponed for two weeks. The prospects that the Democrats will carry the next House is at present highly encouraging; that the Republicans will be much less strong in it than they are in the present body is conceded. Good generalship in the conduct of this year's campaign would almost assure Democratic control, and Senator Gorman would afford such generalship.

The Southern Railway has compromised the damage suit brought against the company by the Asheville Wood & Iron Works, the plaintiff receiving $10,000. The Superior Court of Randolph county gave a judgment for $12,000 and the case was appealed to the Supreme Court. This is the case in which it was alleged that the Southern sought to bribe a witness, the publication of the charge being the basis of libel suits Mr. M. H. Dooley, the Southern's chief law agent, has instituted against the Charlotte Observer and the Raleigh News and Observer.

HOW TO BE HAPPY EITHER WAY.

Fable of the Independent Tigress and Her Married Sister.

Once upon a Time there was a Tigress, who, although possessed of much Pulchritude and many Admirable Qualities, did not succeed in flagging Down any Masculine Creature, and who began to perceive that Spinster would be engraved on her Tombstone.

Happily, this Calamity cut no Ice with the Tigress, for she was an up-to-date Female, and instead of sitting down and bewailing her Fate in getting Left she did not let her Misfortune rub her Fur the Wrong Way.

"Without doubt," she said to herself, "a Good Husband is the best thing that ever Happened, but so many of my Friends have drawn Misfit Mates out of the Matrimonial Grab Bag that it is probably money in my Pocket to stay out of the Game. I am also wise to the Fact that it is much better to be Laughed at because you are not Married than it is not to be able to Grin because you are."

"Inasmuch, however, as I shall not have any Masculine Creature to stand for my Board Bill it is up to me to get out and chase the elusive Samsonite, for I do not propose to be the Fringe on anybody's Family or to lose my Beauty Sleep walking somebody else's babies with the Colic. It may be that the Proper Career for an unmarried Female is to bear Other Creatures' Troubles and Work Slippers for Married Preachers, but I am not It. I don't think."

With this the Tigress rolled up her Sleeves and Tackled a Good Job, and such energy and sagacity did she display that it was not long before Money was coming to her on Wings, and then she had all the clothes that were Fit to Wear, with Carbons a-plenty, and as she did not have any Husband to audit her accounts she blew in her Dough when ever she liked on Theatres and Feeds, and Life was one merry Toodle with her.

Now the Tigress had a Sister, who had the great Good Fortune to be exceedingly admired by Masculine Creatures, and in her early Youth she had espoused a Small and Runtty Bear, who was a Counter Jumper in a Dry Goods Emporium, and as there were many little Bears they would have been on the Bum except that the Tigress stood for their rent and was always good for a Toodle.

Notwithstanding this Mrs. Bear, pined for her Sister greatly, and when the Tigress came to bring the little Bears new Shoes she would tell her offspring that they must be very Good to Poor Auntie.

"How sad!" she would exclaim, "it is to be an Old Maid!"

"Oh, I don't know," replied the Tigress. "It is True that I miss the Companionship of a Husband, but as I also miss having Someone to Knock my Faults it seems to me that I break about Even."

"But," went on Mrs. Bear, "You have no Masculine Creature to depend on and have to earn all your Own Pelf."

"Right you are," responded the Tigress, "but when I want a New Bonnet or to go to the Matinee I do not have to do any Side Stepping or Hypnotize my husband before I can extract the wherewithal, nor do I have to give any Account of what I did with the Plunk he gave me week before Last."

"Alas!" cried Mrs. Bear, "how Ter-

Repairing Neatly Done

Never thought of such a sign for a medicine did you? Well, it's a good sign for Scott's Emulsion. The body has to be repaired like other things and Scott's Emulsion is the medicine that does it.

These poor bodies wear out from worry, from over-work, from disease. They get thin and weak. Some of the new ones are not well made—and all of the old ones are racked from long usage.

Scott's Emulsion fixes all kinds. It does the work both inside and out. It makes soft bones hard, thin blood red, weak lungs strong, hollow places full. Only the best materials are used in the patching and the patches don't show through the new glow of health.

No one has to wait his turn. You can do it yourself—you and the bottle.

This picture represents the Trade Mark of Scott's Emulsion and is on the wrapper of every bottle.

"Outside of Millionaires' Ruined Snaps in Life, but if doing Snaps in the Cooking Stove and with the Babies, and Patching Trouser Cinch it has gotten past me. Snaps on the level," continued the Tigress. "I advise you to keep your Snaps for home consumption. It is not understood that is a Jim Crow has none of the drawbacks of the Thing."

"What is it?" inquired Mrs. Bear. "I have a Parrot that says," replied the Tigress, "a Dog who, when you speak to him, says that Snokes and a Cat that I get up and open the Door and have a hunch coming to me that a combination that could be used on many a Wife in place of her husband and she would never mind the Difference."

"There are no Neckties so lovely," remarked Mrs. Bear, "as those that hang about the Neck."

SPECIAL NOTICE.

Several hundred people are owing THE PATRIOT small amounts on subscription that aggregate a good-sized sum, and we are compelled to ask that remittances be forthcoming at once from those whose accounts amount to one dollar or more. We hope that it will not be necessary to repeat this request. Don't wait for a statement.

Not a vote can be cast at the fall election by anyone who has failed to pay his poll tax before the first day of May. It is necessary for the workers in every precinct in the county to impress this fact on the voters, as many will be indifferent in the matter until it is too late, then will come a howl. The law on this subject is very explicit and admits of no subterfuge. The only thing to do is pay the poll tax or surrender the right of franchise.

It remained for the people of Stokes county to secure the unenviable distinction of filing the first petition ever submitted to Congress against rural free mail delivery. A bunch of perhaps fifty of Mr. Kitchin's constituents of the Sandy Ridge section have lodged an objection to the establishment of a route there. In so doing they have brought discredit on themselves and placed the whole district in a questionable light before the world. People may be indifferent to public improvements, but to oppose them is an entirely different matter. We hope our Sandy Ridge friends will reconsider the matter and withdraw that petition, which they have evidently been induced to sign under a misapprehension or at the instigation of some one who has an axe to grind.

RALEIGH is making a desperate effort to hoodwink the Democratic State Executive Committee with the idea that she can accommodate the coming State Convention crowd, when in reality the only improvement contemplated by the city, as regards the convention, is the enlargement of a public hall in which the sessions are held. So far this has not passed the promissory stage. With a great flourish of trumpets the announcement is made that the hall, when remodeled, will hold thousands and thousands of people, yet if one-half the people the wonderful structure is calculated, in print, to hold should happen to go there to a convention most of them would have to sleep on the capitol square lawn and tote their snacks around in a carpet-bag. It is the inadequate hotel facilities of the place that have given it a black eye as a convention town, anyway; and not its public halls, as it would have us believe. While these features should harmonize, as they do in Greensboro, it is safe to say that delegates to a convention would rather put up with a few inconveniences in a convention hall than feel that not one man in ten present could secure a square meal or find a comfortable bed after the stern duties of the day had ended. So long as no other town in the state offered any special inducements, Raleigh was content to keep the conventions and let delegates shift for themselves after they reached the city, but now that Greensboro, with a hotel, a convention hall, three times the hotel accommodations, boarding houses galore, better railroad facilities and a more favorable geographical location, looms up as a competitor there is quite a stir in the capital. It comes too late. If the executive committee at its approaching meeting listens to the voice of reason Greensboro will get the convention.

Traitors in Russian Army.

Vladivostok, March 16.—About sixty arrests have been made in connection with the condemnation to death by a court-martial at Warsaw of Colonel Grimm, a Russian officer, for the systematic revelation of military secrets to a foreign power. Among the persons apprehended are a number of Russian officers of high rank. Colonel Grimm has not yet been shot. It is said that during ten years he has revealed to Germany every plan prepared by Russia in the eventuality of war between the two countries. The discovery was due to Colonel Grimm's wife, who denounced her husband in revenge for his having paid court to another woman. General Puzyrevski, commander at Warsaw, is suspected of being implicated with Colonel Grimm.

Washington, March 16.—It is announced that Frank P. Sargent, Grand Master of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, has been offered the Commission-Generalship of Immigration to succeed T. V. Powderly, who, it is alleged, has not been in entire harmony with other Treasury officials.

New York, March 16.—Action will in all probability be taken this week looking toward the complete harmonization of the warring elements of the Democratic party in the State and ultimately to the agreement of all of the factors to recognize former Senator David B. Hill as the state leader.

Birmingham, Ala., March 16.—A cyclone struck the mining town of Piper, Bibb county, this morning, wrecking forty houses and damaging thirty-five others. Ed Turner, colored, was killed and John Allen, his wife and three children were severely injured. The storm did great damage at Gurnee Junction and Belle Ellen. The mines in the Piper section are flooded and cannot be operated for several days.

Macon, Ga., March 16.—A cyclone swept across the corner of Monroe, Upson and Crawford counties today. Chert Thorpe's handsome country residence was blown down and scattered about the plantation. One of his negro tenants was killed outright and a number of negro families were rendered homeless, their cabins being blown down. Montpelier Springs, an old college settlement, is reported destroyed, two big brick houses and a frame dwelling being demolished.

Norfolk, March 17.—Because he threw a large plank directly across the track in front of a car during the first days of the strike of the streetcar men, J. W. Jenkins, a young man well known here, was today tried in the corporation court and sentenced to serve two years at hard labor in the state prison.

Washington, March 17.—Representative Otter, of Virginia, today introduced a bill appropriating $100,000,000 as a "good roads fund," "to improve the highways of the country."

A Good Driver

Turns in a small space. A good merchant turns on a small profit :: ::

The main reason we can afford to be liberal in selling is because we save in buying. Buying for seven large stores puts us on the ground floor for prices, often closing out large lots at much less than cost of making. Don't wait to see what you want in the advertisements. Whatever you need come and get it at saving prices. Our store is constantly crowded with eager buyers. Many special lines are running low. All winter goods must go, we are so crowded for room, and our new place will not be ready for us before midsummer. So we are compelled to clean up all heavy goods, as we must have the room for summer goods. The prices we have put on Shoes, Clothing, Dress Goods, Etc., has set this whole county talking. Make good your opportunities by taking advantage of this great sale.

Quite a number of our young people attended the cottage C. E. prayer meeting at Mr. W. H. C. Shaw's. The meetings are edifying.

Mr. John T. Welker and family contemplate leaving for Idaho on the 25th inst., where they expect to make their future home. His real estate as well as all his personal property will be offered for sale on the 25th.

Kimesville Items.

Mr. Ollie Hudson went to Burlington Sunday.

There are several cases of whooping cough here now.

We've had some very nice weather for the past few days.

Misses Georgia Wheeler and Fiddle Friddle went to Burlington last Wednesday.

Mrs. Nan Reitzel spent Saturday night and Sunday with her daughter, Mrs. William Hamner.

There will be an entertainment at Mt. Pleasant church the first Sunday in April, something entertaining to all God's people.

Prof. E. C. Hamilton, a well-known singer, will leave a large singing of several classes at Rock Creek church on Easter Sunday.

Mr. W. F. Amick, of this place, will move to Mt. Pleasant parsonage soon. Mrs. Mary Steele will occupy the house vacated by him.

School closed at Oakdale the 14th. Oakdale and Cross Roads played a game of baseball, the score being 6 to 7 in favor of Cross Roads.

Mrs. Lydia Gorton, who has paid her son, Mr. A. M. Gorton, a long visit, returned to Burlington Sunday, where she will spend some time.

Mrs. Cora Steele, who has been feeble for some time, spent last week with her father, Mr. W. M. Patrum. Glad she is able to be out again.

Mr. James Black, who has been at work at Burlington for some time, came home last week. He returned Saturday, accompanied by Charlie Curtis.

Mt. Pleasant school, near Kimesville, will close March 22nd with an exhibition. A very able professor will make an address. Every lady and gentleman is invited, and there is no doubt but that everybody will enjoy the exercises, especially that part which will be rendered by the "fair daughters" of Mt. Pleasant. There will be an all-day exercise, so you had better bring your dinner.

Gutliff College Items.

The public school at Muir's chapel closed last Friday.

Mr. R. C. Short, of Summer, visited Gutliff last Monday.

Mrs. Lloyd, who has been having a severe attack of lagrippe, is now slowly improving.

Farmers generally improved the warm sunny days last week in plowing, sowing oats, etc.

Two mad dogs were killed near here last week, one by Mr. Younts and one by Carl and Steve Wheeler.

Mr. Younts' little girl, Ethel, has been very sick for some days past with pneumonia, but we are glad to learn she is getting better.

Prof. Geo. W. White, F. S. Blair and Mrs. Carrie L. Jones expect to attend the State Sunday school convention at Fayetteville this week.

Mrs. Mary Ann Thornbury, an aged lady who had been afflicted for some time, died last week. The funeral services took place at the regular meeting on Wednesday.

Mr. Henry Crutchfield, formerly of Liberty, is now stopping with Rev. C. E. M. Baper, but will occupy the cottage which Mr. Lee S. Smith is building near the parsonage until he can build on the farm which he purchased near the station.

Rev. Albert Brown, of Indianapolis, spent a few days here during the past week. He preached a very interesting and instructive sermon on Sunday morning, but the meeting was rather small owing to the heavy rain which fell that morning.

Our graded school is attracting attention and person from various directions are coming in to avail themselves of its advantages. I believe this is the first rural graded school in the state. It will close its first term April 12th with public exercises.

Whitsett Items.

Mrs. D. Thompson, of Lexington, visited here Friday.

Mr. S. E. Webb ran over to Brick Church last Friday.

Miss Ellen Barker is visiting her home at Randleman.

professional business. He is kept very busy now.

Much interest was manifested in a public meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Sunday morning.

Windows are on hand for the new school building and they will be used in a few days.

Commencement exercises this year will embrace the 18th to the 21st of May. The outlook is splendid.

The pulpit of the Reformed church was filled Sunday afternoon by Rev. Thomas Mansfield, of Burlington.

The students are very busy now, some on examination, some just entering and taking up a course, and some looking out that they perform the proper functions on commencement day, carrying with them at the same time the studies up to the close of this term.

The classes held their exercises last week, each one planting a tree. It is a pleasure to announce that the clever nurseryman, Mr. John A. Young, of the Greensboro nurseries, donated these trees to the classes. Each class desires to express very highly their appreciation of Mr. Young's kindness and assure him that pleasant recollections will be the result of his donating these trees, which are of splendid shape and size.

Sedalia Items.

Farmers are busy sowing oats and breaking land for corn.

Sedalia has a new correspondent to the PATRIOT. Guess who.

Mr. Willie D. McLean is in school again after a week's sickness.

Our people are well pleased with the change of type on the PATRIOT.

Mrs. Lawrence, of Catawba county, accompanied by her little son and daughter, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Robt. B. Andrew.

Prof. R. B. Andrew's school closed at Mill Point Saturday with a spelling match. The community was highly pleased with him as teacher.

The public school here, Berlin, closed last Friday. A number of prizes were awarded to the students by the teacher, Miss Espie Shepherd, after which a spelling match was given, the score standing 32 and 30 in favor of No. 2. Miss Shepherd taught a very successful school and we regret very much to lose her from this community. She will enter school at Whitsett institute, from which she will graduate in May.

Oak Ridge Items.

Miss Cora Donnell is visiting in Winston this week.

Miss Emma Williams is visiting at Pine Hall this week.

Mr. McDowell, of Winston, spent several days here last week on business.

Several lectures by distinguished visitors are expected in the next few weeks.

A new store building is under way and will be finished in the next two months.

The new baseball suits, Spalding's best, Yale gray and maroon, are expected this week.

The baseball team goes to Chapel Hill Thursday to try conclusions with the University boys.

Prof. J. L. Bennett spent Saturday in Greensboro. Prof. Whitaker visited Winston the same day.

The farmers are getting ready for work, but have not been able to do much yet on account of the late spring.

Luther Markham, of Durham, an esteemed former student, is here on a visit to his brothers who are students now.

S. W. Johnson, a former student, now with the Carolina Clothing Co., of Charlotte, spent some days on the Ridge last week.

The grounds around Prof. M. H. Holt's residence are rapidly assuming beautiful shape under the touches of landscape gardener C. T. Colyer, of Asheville.

Messrs. H. P. Lane, of Leaksville, and L. D. Harper, of Elm City, represented the Y. M. C. A. of the school at Charlotte last week. They report a pleasant time.

Brick Church Items.

Oat sowing is claiming the attention of the tillers of the soil.

Beaver Creek roller mill is receiving a large patronage now.

Mr. R. B. Foust, of Burlington, visited here over Saturday and Sunday.

A number of the Whitsett boys visited the Alamance battle ground last Saturday.

Wheat is showing in very well, although it has been very much damaged by recent cold weather.

Quite a number of our young men are making preparations to represent John A. Young's nursery the coming season.

On last Friday, the 14th, appropriate exercises marked the close of Shoffner's high school, near the Alamance battle ground. This school was taught by Miss Florine Robertson, a talented young lady. The program consisted of music by a string band, recitations, etc., with a forceful and enthusiastic address by Dr. W. S. Long, Alamance county's superintendent of public schools. He spoke on the subject of education. He said in part that two things were an ultimate necessity to make a country prosper, namely, good schools and good roads. Giving his experience as a school teacher for over thirty years, he pressed upon his hearers the fact that the wealth of a country was not in its fields, not in its forests, not in its resources, but in the minds of the boys and girls, and that no subject deserves more public attention and specific legislation than education. Dr. Long's ideas met the approval of his audience. He expressed his desire to make a speech on good roads, but as his time was limited he could not for the time being.

Merry Oaks Items.

Mrs. J. A. Forbis is still confined to her bed.

Miss Annie Hufflines spent Saturday and Sunday with Mrs. J. A. Forbis.

Mrs. D. F. Clapp and little daughter spent a day at Mrs. M. J. Rankin's recently.

We are sorry to note the illness of Mrs. Robert Wyrick. We hope for a speedy recovery.

The contest in spelling for this term in our school here closed last Friday with Misses Mollie Lambert and Annie Waynick as victors.

Our good people look forward to the coming of the PATRIOT with great pleasure especially since it has adorned itself with such clear type.

The student body and the community at large learn with regret that Prof. J. A. Forbis has accepted a position with the Van De Venter carpet mills and will leave for headquarters about the middle of April. We lose a teacher who attends strictly to his duty and who is punctual in all things.

Our hustling school will close a six months' term Friday. We wish to say for the benefit of our friends that if Saturday is a rainy day or the weather unfit for the audience to remain in the grove that instead of our exhibition being on Saturday, the 29th, it will be on Tuesday, April 1st. Exercises commence at 10:30 A. M., consisting of music by the Sedalia String Band and the Lay Band, recitations, declamations, dialogues and songs. All are cordially invited.

Ramsore Items.

Mr. W. T. Hurley, of Sanford, was in town Monday.

Mr. E. C. Watkins spent the past week at the Charleston Exposition.

Misses Julia Wood and Ada Parks went up to Greensboro last Saturday to do some shopping.

Messrs. A. R. Covington and T. S. Ellington, Jr., are in attendance upon court at Asheboro this week.

Mrs. Cyrus York died in Ramsore March 17th. She was a good woman, a devoted mother and an affectionate wife.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hayes returned to their home in Durham last Saturday, after visiting Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Thomas.

A chapter of orphans from the Oxford Orphan Asylum gave a very enjoyable entertainment in the Baptist church last Thursday night. We are very glad to know that a neat sum was realized for their benefit.

Mr. Edwin J. Steed and Miss Lula Ferree were happily married at the residence of the bride March 5th. Rev. T. S. Ellington officiating. After the ceremony the guests were invited to the dining room, where an elegant and sumptuous dinner was spread. The bride and groom took the train at Staley for the Charleston Exposition. Mr. Steed is a well known and popular mill man, while his bride is the beautiful and attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ferree. Their hosts of friends wish for them many years of perfect happiness.

South Buffalo Items.

The Shady Grove school, which has been taught by Miss Sallie Fryar, of McLeansville, closed Saturday.

There will be preaching at Shady Grove next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock by the pastor, Mr. Pike.

Some of our boys attended the lantern show at McLeansville last week. They report a very pleasant time.

Mr. Sam Dick and family, accompanied by Miss Sallie Fryar, spent one evening of last week at Mr. Ervin Donnell's.

Some of the farmers have been sowing spring oats and turning land for corn. Wheat and oats are beginning to show a little but the rabbits cannot hide very well in them yet.

Since our last writing some more of our young ladies have gone to your city to work. Miss Flora Cobb to sewing and Miss Annie Waggoner to Mrs. Rosa Hamner Carter's millinery store.

Miss Emma Waggoner, who has been in New York city for some time, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Waggoner. We are glad to see her back again. Some few seem exceedingly glad, by the calls they give.

"FITTERS OF FEET"

THE FAMOUS SAMAR EXPEDITION.

Major Waller's Report Reaches Washington--Suffering of the Soldiers.

Washington, March 12.—The Eastern mail has brought the report of Major Waller up on the famous expedition conducted by him across the island of Samar, resulting in the loss of a number of the marines and hardships and suffering on the part of the others beyond anything known before in the Philippine campaign. Major Waller's reports are formal and do not go into details of the movements of the marines, but the news of the affair is combined in a report from Lieutenant W. R. Chamberlain, U. S. N., who conducted the relief expedition that succeeded the marines. After detailing the arrival into the American lines of Captain Porter and Lieutenant Williams, with a portion of the men, the report says:

"Captain Porter and Lieutenant A. S. Williams, in conversation, gave me substantially the following account of their wanderings: On January 1, being then on half rations with very little food left, Major Waller decided to split the party—he taking fifteen of the strongest men and pushing on for Basey, and Captain Porter following his trail as rapidly as possible with the main body. On the 2nd a native came back from Waller with a note, stating that he Waller had given up the idea of getting through and would return, and directing Porter to make directly for the river and build rafts for the entire party. This Porter tried to do but failed to find wood. The river was a cut ten feet above normal level and running with violence. As Major Waller had not appeared, Porter sent Captain Basey to him to ascertain his plans, then return and report. Basey failed to return, but he reached Waller and went on with him. On the 3rd, I think, Porter pushed ahead to get assistance, leaving Williams to follow, with the crippled and lame, as far as the best, secreted on the way up to be used in emergency like the present. Porter reached the boat but found she had been damaged and was unfit for use. So he started on a twenty-five-mile hike for Lamang, reaching there with three men on the afternoon of the 11th. Five men had given out, but, lying on two dogs that strayed their way, they finally reached the post.

"The relief expedition, under Lieutenant Williams, First Infantry, on account of the height of the river, was unable to get away until the morning of the 11th. Williams deserves the highest praise for his twenty-five-mile fight against the current and up the rapids, hauling his boats along by hand a good part of the time. It was not until the morning of the 17th that he reached the starving marines in their last stopping place near the river. Their condition at the time was terrible. For days no man among them had strength to carry a rifle. Nine of them had either gone crazy or had fallen by the trail half dead from starvation and exposure. It had rained steadily for fifteen days. Lieutenant A. S. Williams had made every effort to get them along but had to abandon them. He could only save the men who were able to reach the boat by the river, the probable point of arrival of the relief expedition. He got there on the night of the 18th inst., his party having been without food except roots, the pulp of plants, and a very few sweet potatoes, for fifteen days. To further complicate matters, the native bearers, about thirty in number, became sulky, practically refusing assistance to the men. They would build shacks as a protection from the continual downpour for themselves only; and knowing the edible roots and plants were more skillful in obtaining food. A time came when no white man could carry a rifle and those now lost were in the hands of the natives under the altered condition. It required considerable diplomacy on the part of Lieutenant Williams to handle them at all. Just before reaching the river, two bearers tried to kill Williams, stabbing him about the chest with a bolo. He tried to shoot but had not sufficient strength to pull the trigger. Then they tried to kill him with his own pistol, but did not know how to work the weapon. Williams was rescued by a few of his men who trotted up, armed with sticks, and the natives took to the bushes. No Filipinos were seen in the region, there being no food. The relief party saw some coming from the direction of Hermance; so it is probable that the insurgents about there got wind of the desperate condition of the marines and were hurrying up to take advantage of it. Relief came just in time.

"It took practically all of January 18 to get the sufferers, thirty-one in number, including two officers—eighteen in stretchers unable to move—across the river and out through the surf to the vessel. The job was finished at 6:30 p. m., and at 7 o'clock we started for Tacloban direct, as an army surgeon said at Lamang, that an hour saved in transit might mean an arm or a leg to some. We reached Tacloban at 8 a. m., and the worst cases were transferred to the hospital. The others, including eight or ten natives, not included in the above total of thirty-one, I transported to Basey, seeing Major Waller. His party appears, from the statements of the officers, to have been reduced to nearly the same extremity as the other. They had practically given up hope when the opportune capture of a small boy, the only native seen, resulted in their getting through to the coast."

Schools and Wealth.

The wealth-producing power is measured by school privileges, says J. L. M. Curry, and as an illustration points to the wealth of Massachusetts. In Massachusetts $12,000,000 invested in education yielded $400,000,000. Whatever a nation sows, that must it reap. The South has been very poor—still suffers—but cannot afford to remain so; she is doomed to inferiority unless she does her duty to her children.

How to Cure the Grip.

Remain quietly at home and take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as directed and a quick recovery is sure to follow. That remedy counteracts any tendency of the grip to result in pneumonia, which is really the only serious danger. Among the tens of thousands who have used it for the grip, not one case has ever been reported that did not recover. For sale by C. E. Holton, druggist.

HON. JOHN P. ALTGELD DEAD.

Former Governor is Seized With Fatal Illness at a Pro-Boer Meeting.

Joliet, Ill., March 12.—Former Governor John P. Altgeld died in room 58, Hotel Munroe, this morning at 7:09 o'clock. He had been unconscious since midnight.

Mr. Altgeld was the principal speaker at a pro-Boer mass meeting last night in the Joliet theatre.

Just at the close of his speech, a sudden dizziness seized him and he was assisted from the stage. The meeting proceeded, the audience not realizing what had happened. Mr. Altgeld was taken to the door of the theatre, where several vomiting spells seized him.

This continued for nearly an hour and was so pronounced he could not be removed to the hotel.

Physicians were hastily summoned and Mr. Altgeld was carried to the hotel across the street. He retained consciousness and urged the newspaper men to keep the affair quiet for fear of alarming his wife. Shortly before midnight he became unconscious.

He remained in this condition until death. At 3:41 this morning it was thought he had died, but he revived and from that time until shortly before the end showed wonderful vitality, although he made no move.

Medical men here had a banquet last night, at which Dr. J. B. Herrick, of the Rush Medical College, of Chicago, delivered a lecture on heart disease. He and other physicians were called from the banquet to attend the patient. They remained with him the balance of the night. When the end came they worked his arms vigorously to revive respiration, but all to no purpose. The cause of death is given as cerebral hemorrhage, there having been an apoplectic seizure of the brain.

Vanquished Three Robbers.

West Point, N. Y., March 12.—While on his way to make an official inspection of the guard, as officer of the day, Lieut. Chauncey B. Humphrey, Third Infantry, who is at the United States Military Academy as instructor in the department of drawing, was last night held up by three tramps on the main road near the south end of the reservation.

A demand for his money was made by the leader of the gang, but instead of complying the Lieutenant rushed at his assailants, felling the leader and another one of the robbers. Turning quickly, he overpowered the third and put them all in a heap. The officer then summoned a mounted patrol, an ambulance was called and the trio were taken to the post prison. They were badly used up and were as docile as children.

Lieutenant Humphrey was appointed a cadet from Kansas and graduated with the class of 1895. He was a tackle on the academy football team and was an all-round athlete.

Cecil Rhodes in Danger.

The illness of Cecil Rhodes at Cape Town, while formidable, does not, it is said, promise an immediate fatal termination. He is only 48 years old, but has lived a very strenuous life and injured his constitution by intense application to business and to ambitious imperial projects. Delicate as a boy, he went to South Africa in 1871 for his health. Returning to England after making a lot of money at Kimberley, he took the degree of master of arts at Oxford and studied law. But his feat was his acquisition of an immense territory of some 800,000 square miles north of the Transvaal, to which by common consent the name of Rhodesia has been given. His desire to make all South Africa British is supposed to have caused the Jameson raid and influenced both sides to undertake the present war in that quarter. His railroad to Bulawayo was a brilliant enterprise and his Cape-to-Cairo project still charms some people. He has lived long enough to see his old opponent, President Kruger, in exile, but not long enough to see him certainly beaten. In emulation of his honors, some of Mr. Joseph Chamberlain's admirers facetiously propose to call the Transvaal "Joedesia," but the proposal is perhaps a trifle premature, since the Transvaal is not yet his assured conquest.

Dr. Talmage Has Lagrippe.

San Antonio, Texas, March 12.—Rev. Dr. T. De Witt Talmage, the noted divine, passed through San Antonio on the Southern Pacific en route to his home in Washington, accompanied by Mrs. Talmage and his physician. Dr. Talmage is returning from Mexico, where he went several weeks ago. Upon his arrival in the Mexican capital he contracted a cold and influenza developed. Dr. Talmage started home several days ago and has been confined to his berth in the drawing-room car since his departure from Mexico. He will stop one day at New Orleans to rest. Mrs. Talmage expresses no fears over his condition.

Lagrippe Quickly Cured.

"In the winter of 1898 and 1899 I was taken down with a severe attack of what is called Lagrippe," says F. L. Hewett, a prominent druggist of Winfield, Ill. "The only medicine I used was two bottles of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It broke up the cold and stopped the coughing like magic, and I have never since been troubled with Grippe." Chamberlain's Cough Remedy can always be depended upon to break up a severe cold and ward off any threatened attack of pneumonia. It is pleasant to take, too, which makes it the most desirable and one of the most popular preparations in use for these ailments. For sale by C. E. Holton, druggist.

IMPORTANT SALE OF LAND.

By virtue of a decree of the Superior Court of Guilford county made on the 14th day of February, 1902, in the special proceeding for the sale of the lands of the late John N. Neese for partition among the heirs at-law, to-wit: William G. Neese, Thomas F. Neese, Alfred Neese, Calvin Coble and wife and others, a part, the undersigned, as commissioner appointed by said court, will on at the hour of 11 o'clock A. M., at the residence of Mrs. Winifred A. Neese, widow of said John N. Neese, on said land in Greene township, Guilford county, N. C., sell at public auction to the highest bidder, three tracts of valuable land, situated on Stinking Quarter Creek, on the public road leading from the Salisbury road to the town of Liberty in the C. P. & V. railroad as follows:

First. The home place of the late John N. Neese, containing 85 acres more or less, adjoining the lands of G. W. Staley on the northwest, J. H. Bowman on the north and northeast, on the southeast by the dividing line between the lower land and the remainder of the home place, on the southwest by Alfred Humble and the Amick place, the tract lying on the north side of the public road, and the same being the lower land of the widow, Winnie A. Neese, is sold subject to her dower and life estate therein.

Second. The balance of the home place, containing 18 acres more or less, adjacent to the lower land on the west, J. H. Bowman on the north, Frederick Shofner on the east, and by Levi Humble and Alfred Humble on the south. This tract of land is not subject to dower.

Third. The Amick place, containing 25 acres more or less, is adjoined on the east by Alfred Humble, on the south by Henry Layton and David Neese, on the west by L. O. Brothers, and on the north by G. W. Staley and the home place.

These tracts of land are each large enough to make good separate farms, and the land and timber is valuable, being situated on a fine section, convenient to the railroad. The attention of people desiring to secure valuable lands is especially called to this rare opportunity.

Terms of Sale—One-third in cash, to be paid on day of sale; one-third on a credit of three months and remaining third in six months, bearing interest from the day of sale. No cash paid, secured by note with approved surety, and title will be retained until the purchase money is paid.

News Notes of Interest About a Variety of Topics.

Hamilton, N. Y., March 13.—In the Rowlands prize oration contest, in which six seniors of Colgate University took part, Samuel Howard Archer, of Petersburg, Va., won the prize of $50 this evening. Archer is a negro.

Galveston, Texas, March 13.—The steamship Cayo Romano has been ordered here and will inaugurate the Galveston-London Line, which has undertaken a contract to export 50,000,000 pounds of Texas flour to England.

Des Moines, Iowa, March 13.—The Woman Suffrage amendment was today given its final deathblow by the Legislature, when the House, by a vote of 56 to 38, adopted the report of the committee recommending its indefinite postponement.

London, March 13.—In County Mayo, Ireland, a wooden boat, believed to be nearly 2,000 years old, has been dug up by laborers. The boat is beautifully carved from the trunk of an oak tree. It is 46 feet long and shows no signs of decay. The wood was so hard that hatchets made scarcely any impression on it. Excursions are being organized to view this relic of Celtic handicraft, which will shortly be taken to the Dublin Museum.

Berlin, March 14.—It having been rumored that a change in the German embassy in Washington was possible, the Foreign Office here has authorized the correspondent of the Associated Press to deny that Dr. Von Holleben, the present ambassador, will be furloughed or retired.

Washington, March 14.—The House today passed the postoffice appropriation bill. The only amendment of importance was one to incorporate in the bill the provisions of the bill to classify the rural free delivery service, passed a few days ago. Mr. Crumpacker, of Indiana, moved to strike out the appropriation of $142,725 for the special fast mail facilities from Washington to New Orleans. His motion was lost, 36 to 59.

Washington, March 14.—Senator Penrose introduced an amendment to the pending resolutions providing for the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people, a proposition to increase the number of senators in proportion to population. It proposes an additional senator for every ratio of 50,000 persons, who shall be elected by direct vote of the people.

Washington, March 14.—The House Committee on Territories today decided upon an "omnibus" territorial bill, which will provide for statehood for Arizona, New Mexico and Oklahoma, instead of separate statehood bills for each territory.

Washington March 14.—The House today adopted a resolution to authorize the Secretary of War to loan tents to the Texas Confederate Reunion Association, which meets at Dallas, April 22nd.

Pekin, March 14.—Mrs. Edwin H. Conner, wife of the United States Minister here, assisted by the ladies of the American Legation and of the missions, entertained at luncheon today 11 princesses and ladies of the court. This departure from the exclusiveness of the Chinese court is unprecedented. The Dowager Empress sent her greetings and expressed the hope that the kindly relations established will remain unbroken.

Washington, March 14.—Representative Randall, of Texas, today circulated among his Democratic colleagues of the House a petition for a caucus of Democratic members to consider what course should be adopted in relation to the Government's attitude toward the Boers.

Salt Lake City, Utah, March 14.—Articles of incorporation were filed with the Secretary of State today of the National Railroad Company of Mexico. The capitalization is placed at $5,000,000, and the object is stated to be to build and operate a railroad line from Laredo, Texas, to the City of Mexico.

San Antonio, Texas, March 14.—Upon the complaint of his alleged eighth wife, formerly Mrs. Mary A. Parker, of Plattsburg, Mo., Christian C. Nelson, alias Capt. A. N. Freeland, alias John Anderson, alias Nelson Porter, was arrested here today at a hotel, while in company with a woman, claimed to be his fifth wife—Mrs. A. E. Millbury, whom he married at Fort Scott, Kan., two weeks ago.

Little Rock, Ark., March 14.—Gen. D. H. Reynolds, who was a brigadier-general in the Confederate Army, died today at Lake Village, Ark. Gen. Reynolds was one of the men who, though born in the North, had settled in the South, and who ardently espoused the cause of the Confederacy. He was born in Centreburg, Knox county, Ohio, in 1826, and was educated at the Ohio Wesleyan University.

Washington, March 15.—A high official of the Grand Army of the Republic is authority for the statement that the pension committee appointed at the last annual encampment will soon submit its report to the President and that they feel greatly encouraged as to the result. They say they are confident of Commissioner H. C. Evans' removal, though not immediately, and not in a way to humiliate him.

Mattison, Ill., March 15.—Larry McKee, a messenger in the employ of the Adams Express Company, is missing and a package containing $50,000 has also disappeared. The package was sent from Brazil, Ind., to St. Louis in McKee's charge. When the train arrived at St. Louis both the package and McKee were gone.

Lima, Peru, March 15.—At the inauguration of a new bridge over the River Marañon while the priest was blessing it, the structure divided in two and more than a hundred persons were drowned.

Seattle, Wash., March 15.—A special from Juneau, Alaska, says that a letter has been received there from the Greek priest at Kenai, on Cook inlet, telling of a terrible volcanic eruption in that vicinity about January 1. According to the account the whole side of a mountain seemed to be split open, and fire and lava poured from it. The village of Kenai was covered with ashes, and the earthquake which accompanied the eruption caused several tidal waves, doing much damage.

Fall River, Mass., March 15.—At a meeting of the Fall River Manufacturers' Association held this afternoon it was voted to increase wages in all Fall River mills 10 per cent. on next Monday morning. The meeting was attended by nearly all those who had signed the agreement not to advance wages more than 6 per cent. Today's events have been the most sensational in years in the local textile industry, as never before has a strike been averted after matters have gone so far. Early in the day a conference was held at which the millowners unanimously agreed to grant a 6 per cent. increase in wages, but refused the 10 per cent. raise. Before noon several mills posted the 10 per cent. agreement and at the afternoon conference it was granted by all of them.

El Paso, Tex., March 16.—Ten thousand people, most of them Americans, witnessed a bloody bull fight at Juarez, Mex., just across the river from this city, today, in which two of Spain's most noted matadors—Fuentes and Mazzantini—took a leading part. Six bulls were dispatched by the sword and five horses were gored to death. Fuentes and Mazzantini, who have been touring Mexico, go from here to Spain, for a series of 70 fights.

St. Paul, March 16.—North Dakota and the Canadian Northwest have experienced the worst snow storm in many years and railroad traffic is practically paralyzed. The Northern Pacific and Great Northern have not moved a wheel for nearly 36 hours in the blizzard-stricken district, and have abandoned all efforts to do so until the fury of the storm shall abate.

Southern Representation.

The Crumpacker resolution, introduced in the House of Representatives during the early days of the present session, has been given a new lease of life by the action of Speaker Henderson and the House leaders in deciding to report it favorably to the consideration of the committee on rules. This resolution provides that a committee of thirteen be appointed to investigate the disfranchisement of certain voters in the Southern States, with power to call for persons and papers. Now that the handful of House members who shape the course of legislation has taken this step it is possible the matter will be forced to the front although the history of the legislative course of the Crumpacker scheme does not presage its hearty endorsement by other members of the House. The committee on rules has been reluctant to approach this delicate subject, and the caucus which approved the inquiry did not exhibit an abundance of enthusiasm over it. The fact that in the Republican caucus only 56 votes were cast for its passage—less than a quorum—leads to the inference that it does not appeal strongly to the Republicans. The Democrats are almost a unit against any such action as is proposed by the resolution, and even though the Speaker and leaders have infused artificial life into the movement, it is probable the House will find other subjects of legislation to dispose of more in accordance with its tastes.

If the Republican members of the House would like to have something full of interest on the abridgment of the right to vote, they might take up some of the Pennsylvania elections, where it is said the disfranchisement occurs after the ballots are cast. There are diverse ways of doing this, their variety being limited only by the resources and ingenuity of some of those who conduct the elections. From the viewpoint of morality the Pennsylvania method is much worse than that complained of in the South, where the objectionable person is eliminated and he knows it. In Pennsylvania there sometimes seems to be a most reckless disregard of the ballots after the taxpayer who wished his voice heard has registered his decision. He thinks his vote will count, but this depends very much on the judgment of others.

Banks Issue Money Orders.

New York, March 15.—Formidable opposition to the express companies and the Postal department of the United States government was organized today at a meeting of a Bankers' Money-Order Association in the Waldorf-Astoria. Banks and trust companies of 26 states were represented by the secretaries of the various state bankers' associations, and later officials of several New York bankers were admitted. The meeting was held behind closed doors.

It is less than a year since the Bankers' Money-Order Association was organized. It was formed to provide a system of interchangeable money orders similar to the postal notes issued by the government and the receipts given by express companies for transfer purposes. At the outset the association's operations were confined to a few states in the West, but the business has increased so rapidly as to necessitate a change in the original plans.

To this end they have constituted the secretaries of the state bankers' associations as an advisory board. In order that members may meet local conditions and be free to meet possible reductions in the rates charged by express companies the association has adopted no set schedule of prices. Bankers may charge as little as they wish above the par value of the certificates.

Southern Railway Officials.

New York, March 14.—Official announcement was made today of the appointment of C. H. Ackert as general manager of all lines of the Southern Railway Company, except the St. Louis-Louisville lines, with offices at Washington, and of J. M. Culp as fourth vice president of the Southern Railway, in charge of the traffic departments.

Charles S. Clark was appointed general manager of the M. & O., vice C. H. Ackert, resigned. All these appointments became effective on March 15th.

The Southern Railway has promoted T. C. Powell to be freight traffic manager and W. A. Turk to be passenger traffic manager, both with offices in Washington. Lee McIlung has been appointed assistant freight traffic manager. The promotions are the result of the elevation of J. M. Culp to the office of fourth vice president, and some rearrangement of affairs.

PELTS AS CURRENCY

MINKS AND OTTERS WERE LIKE UNTO GOVERNMENT BONDS.

The Days When Muskrats and Coons and Foxes and Wolves and Bears Were the People's Money, So to Speak, in New York State.

The man of leisure from New York city who had been lazing away a fortnight or so of his not particularly valuable time at Kyserick, in Ulster county, N. Y., had made up his mind to return to his haunts in the metropolis and nonchalantly tossed the tavern keeper a one hundred dollar note out of which to take pay for his bill. The landlord could not change the note. Neither could Deacon Blimber, who was by.

It was not until it had been sent all about the neighborhood that any one was found with currency enough on hand to "break" the bill. Farmer Beacks had just received pay for his season's tater crop and had change for more than $100.

"It beats all, an' it's singular," said the landlord as he counted out the New Yorker's change, "what folks goes an' does with all their ready money. There don't seem to be no currency no more—no currency a-circulatin' at all."

This seemed to be Deacon Blimber's opportunity. "You orto ben here, then," said he, "when my folks settled, somethin' like seventy-five years an' more ago. There was currency enough then, I want to tell ye. It wa'n't silver, though. Nor it wa'n't gold. Nor it wa'n't paper. It was pelts."

"The circ'latin' mejum o' the deestrie in them days run from muskrat clean up to bar. There was minks an' there was otters, an' the man that could manage to harvest plenty o' them critters was the man that stood way up in the money market. But it wa'n't every one that could gether in minks an' otters, an' so muskrats an' coons an' foxes an' wolves an' bars was the real circ'latin' mejum in them days."

"Minks an' otters was what you mowt call gover'ment bonds. Muskrats an' coons an' foxes an' wolves an' bars was the people's money, so to speak. If you went to the tavern an' planked down your muskrat skin, you'd git your snifter o' rum and tanzy, but you wouldn't git no change. If you planked down a coonskin, though, you'd git your snifter an' two muskrat skins change."

"A feller that went in with a coonskin he was tofable well fixed, but with a foxskin or a wolfskin he could shop around quite some. A man with a barskin—oh, well! Nobody didn't ask no questions about a man that had a barskin with him when he went tradin'!"

"It didn't seem pertic'lar queer in them days the way things was run on that pelt currency, but I've an idee it'd strike folks a leetle sing'lar nowadays. 'Pears to me I'd have to snort out laughin' my own self if a feller should come to me an' say:

"'Deacon, I'm a leetle financially embarrassed today. Ken you lend me a foxskin for a couple o' days or so?"

"That surely would make me snicker if I heard it now. An' to hear some shoppin' goin' on today like I use to hear it many a time I bet would set me to gigglin' like all possessed. Somethin' like this, fer instance, over yender to Uncle Sile's store:

"'How much fer them air crowskin boots, Uncle Sile?"

"'Them? Why, a fox an' a coon."

"'Leetle high, Sileas. Can't stan' it. Give you three coons fer 'em."

"'No. Can't be did now. Best I ken do is three coons an' a muskrat."

"That'd be funnier to me than a nigger show now. An' somethin' like this would bust my buttons, I know it would:

"'Deacon, ken you give me change fer a wolf?"

"'Yes, but I'll have to give you all muskrats."

"But we didn't want nothin' o' it in them days, 'cause it was reg'lar business. That circ'latin' mejum was a leetle onhandy in one way, though. Folks had to carry their currency around in a bushel bag if they was out to do much cash business, an' if they was barskin men, why, Judas preachin', they had to carry it in a wagon."

"But them days o' pelt currency was the good old days, I tell you. Still," said the deacon after a pause, "I dunno but I ken manage to slide along jest as cheerful in these days o' gold an' silver an' paper currency, even though it is all pervadin' skeerce."—New York Times.

Tastes Differ.

People have different tastes. Do not grumble at your neighbor because he does not accept your opinions and does not like your amusements. The writer of this does not like football, and a party of students on the streets giving a "yell" annoys him, but other people like football, and we are willing to stand the "yell" and football. A public debate will be held at Sharp's Academy, southeast of the city, on Saturday evening, March 22nd, beginning at 7 o'clock. The question will be, "Is the Moral Tendency of the World Better?"

Mrs. Nancy C. Cobb, an aged woman well known in eastern Guilford, died Monday at Revolution and her remains were taken to Frier's church, near Greensville, yesterday for interment, accompanied by her sons, Messrs. S. B. and C. V. Cobb.

Miss Agathe Taylor closed a very successful six-months' term of school at the Franklin schoolhouse, three miles north of the city, last Friday with appropriate exercises. Miss Taylor has taught this school several terms, giving the most satisfaction.

The new Christian church in this city is nearing completion and the pastor, Rev. L. L. Cox, hopes to hold the first service in it the first Sunday in April. The basement of the church is ready for occupancy, and for a time services will be held there.

The Patriot acknowledges an invitation to the eleventh annual public debate between the Philological and Chlo literary societies of Elon College, Friday, March 28, at eight o'clock P. M. The query is, "Resolved, That Labor Organizations are More Beneficial Than Injurious."

A complete kit of burglar's tools was found one day last week under the North Buffalo bridge, out Summit avenue, by the little son of Mr. B. C. Phillips, who passes that way going to and from school. The owner can have them by calling on Mr. Phillips and proving his property.

The remains of Mrs. John Hutchison, of Newport, Tenn., who died Sunday, were taken through Greensboro to Graham Monday for interment. Mr. R. W. Hamlet and daughters and Messrs. J. N. Longest and J. H. Denny, relatives of the deceased, joined the funeral party here.

At the preliminary hearing of the Hubbards last week, before Justice Pritchett, the defendants were all bound over to court on the charge of retailing, a bond of $200 being required for each. Will Hubbard was also remanded on the charge of murder to await a preliminary hearing today.

"Round and round the rugged rocks, The rugged rascal ran."

The rocks would not look so "rugged" if they were coated over with a stand of blue grass or lawn grass. We sell the seed that will make the "rugged" and bare spots like an evergreen pasture. J. W. Scott & Co.

Rev. W. W. Cude, of western Guilford, who was married last Wednesday at Curtis, Alamance county, to Miss Rosalie Moser, by the Rev. L. L. Folger, passed through the city Thursday with his bride en route to Colfax to visit his father, Mr. M. L. Cude. Rev. Cude is a Wesleyan Methodist but has no regular charge.

Mr. George R. Troxler, of Brown Summit, died Sunday morning. He had been sick for several months with consumption. Mr. Troxler is survived by a wife, eleven sons and two daughters. Six of his sons are over twenty-one years old. The deceased was a brave Confederate veteran and a highly-esteemed citizen.

Hon. W. W. King, of Danbury, one of the leaders in the race for the seat of Judge Starbuck, of the Superior court bench, spent several days in the city last week. Stokes county would do well to see that he gets the nomination, which is equivalent to an election, as he is entitled to consideration in the matter of public offices.

The Enterprise says that while workmen were putting up a large smokestack at the High Point Machine Works one day last week a large pole, forty feet long, used in raising the stack fell while the proprietor, Mr. Richardson, was passing in the yard and just grazed his head and shoulder. If it had struck him on the head it would have meant sudden death.

Col. David Settle, one of Rockingham county's prominent citizens, was stricken with paralysis last week and his condition is considered serious. He is about sixty-three years old and has been in feeble health for some time. Colonel Settle was United States marshal during President Cleveland's first administration. He has been clerk of Rockingham Superior court and he has represented his county in the legislature.

Our Fern correspondent makes mention of a very serious accident to Mr. John R. Jones, of the Mt. Hope neighborhood, Sunday. During the storm that day, which was not very severe as compared with many, his whole right side from his head to his feet was burned by the lightning which struck his dwelling and damaged it badly. He was returning from his cook house when the flash came, and his escape from death seems almost miraculous when the force of the electric fluid is considered. A large hole was torn in the roof of his house, and the corner posts on both the house and the piazza were splintered. Mr. Jones is reported in a very precarious condition. We hope he will recover.

Washington, N. C., March 17.—Dr. T. Taylor, of the State board of medical examiners, and his entire family were poisoned to-day from coffee and hash containing arsenic, put there by Jim Walker, a negro driver, who had often threatened to kill the negro nurse. When arrested, rat poison containing arsenic, was found in his pocket. Quick aid saved the poisoned family, all of whom were seriously ill. The negro is in jail and confessed that he put the poison in the coffee and in the hash, but only to kill the old nurse, who had injured him. Feeling is high against the negro and Governor Aycock has granted the sheriff's request to call out the troops to protect him.
