Colonel Osborn's Secretary. A Washington special of April 27 said: Col. W. H. Osborn, who tomorrow morning will assume the duties of commissioner of internal revenue announced tonight that the first appointment which he will make will be Walter (Pete) Murphy of Salisbury, to be private secretary to the commissioner. Mr. Murphy worked hard for Col. Osborn's appointment and, aside from being a close personal friend of the commissioner.

John Joyner, state superintendent of public instruction, reports that county commencement exercises at Greensboro and Graham Friday and Saturday. An unusual feature of the Greensboro county commencement was the parade of club girls, wearing "toasted" caps. Large crowds were at both places.

LOCAL NEWS IN BRIEF FORM.

Matters of Interest to Readers of The Patriot Far and Near.

A number of people from Greensboro went to Pleasant Garden for the commencement.

Mrs. C. W. Banner and little son are home again from a visit to Mrs. Banner's parents at Mt. Airy.

Dr. and Mrs. Jefferson Scales, after a month's visit to Greensboro relatives have returned to their home in New York.

Don't forget to see "From Manger to Cross" at the Bijou in Greensboro May 1, 2 and 3. Read the big ad in this week's paper.

Miss Edna Laughlin, of Asheville, a student at the Woman's College, is recovering from an illness. Her mother arrived Monday to be with her.

Mrs. A. F. Fortune has for her guest, Miss Deatrick, of Martinsburg, Va., who is on her way home from Florida where she has spent the winter.

Rev. and Mrs. Shuford Peeler and S. C. Clapp are at China Grove this week to attend the session of the North Carolina classis of the Reformed church.

Mrs. Charles M. Stedman, who has been at Beaufort for several weeks past in the interest of her health, has returned to Greensboro and continues quite ill.

Glenn, the three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Glathe, died Monday at their home on Silver Run avenue. Interment was made at Zink's chapel, Rev. W. R. Cox conducting the services.

In compliance with a special invitation the McDowell chorus, composed of many of the best male voices in Greensboro, will go to Thomasville May 6 to render a musical program.

County veterans are looking forward with great pleasure to Memorial day exercises May 10, and the local chapter U. D. C. is preparing to make the day a delightful one. All should attend.

Mr. Percy Albright, assistant superintendent of the Atlantic Coast Line, has returned to his home in Wilmington, after a short visit to his mother, Mrs. S. A. Howard, on Church street.

Mrs. J. Norman White, accompanied by Miss Ethel Abbott, of the State Normal College faculty, went to Charlotte Tuesday to attend the Bonci concert, given by this celebrated metropolitan singer at the academy in that city.

The congregation of St. Andrew's Episcopal church worshipped Sunday in the newly remodeled building on West Sycamore street. The occasion was celebrated by the presence of Rev. Joseph Plouffe, bishop of the diocese.

Friends of Mrs. Henry Tate will be glad to know that she is recovering from an operation performed last Friday, a cataract being removed from one of her eyes. Her physicians have every hope that her eyesight will be restored.

President E. P. Wharton and Secretary J. C. Forester, of the Chamber of Commerce, in company with several other business men, went to Raleigh Tuesday for the adjourned meeting of the state commission and the railway representatives.

Mrs. Lucy H. Robertson, Mrs. R. B. Alley, Mrs. S. L. Alderman and Mrs. G. W. Whitsett have returned from the missionary conference at Concord. Mrs. L. W. Crawford, of Winston-Salem, stopped over to visit Mrs. Robertson for a few days before returning home.

"Bud" Chambers charged with retelling in two cases, tried in the municipal court in High Point the other day, was acquitted in one case and convicted in the second case. He was given three months on the road in the latter case on which he appealed to the Superior court.

Everything is in readiness for the great evangelistic campaign to be conducted during the next two weeks, when Dr. William E. Biederwill will begin a series of sermons in the union evangelistic services, and the churches of Greensboro uniting for the meetings are hopeful of fine results.

Roland Park, one of the new resident sections of High Point, will soon have a number of handsome residences. Messrs. J. J. Farriss, R. B. Terry, H. W. Krounheimer and others will let contracts for residences within a week or ten days on this property. High Point spent a million dollars in building last year and proposes to do better in the year 1913.

HODGIN HOME BURNED.

Flames Destroy Handsome Home of Assistant Postmaster.

The beautiful suburban home of Assistant Postmaster S. A. Hodgkin, on Spring Garden street road, was destroyed by fire Tuesday morning, which broke out shortly after 8 o'clock. The origin of the fire is unknown but is supposed to have been started by a spark from the furnace lighting on the roof.

The flames were discovered by Capt. A. V. Ward and Joe Burchell while with a crew of section hands working on the railroad. When first seen the fire was leaping from the roof and had already made such headway that there would have been but little chance of saving the building even if it had been within reach of the city fire department, which was not the case.

The alarm was turned in soon after Mr. Hodgkin had started for the postoffice. Mrs. Hodgkin not knowing that her house was in flames until warned by the men who rushed to her rescue.

The nearby plants of the South Atlantic Lumber Company and the Standard Table Company closed down while their entire forces assisted in taking the furniture from the burning building and saving such things as they could. The lower floor was practically cleared, but little could be taken from the upper floor. Misses Marshall and Coble, two teachers in the Pomona graded school, who made their home with Mr. and Mrs. Hodgkin, lost many of their effects.

The men worked faithfully until the building was too far gone to enter, and the fire department responded to the call. Only the chemical engine could be used however, and the firemen turned their attention to preventing the spread of the flames to the Caldwell home, which occupies the adjoining lot.

The home—one of the prettiest in Greensboro—cost about $8,000, partially covered by insurance.

T. P. A. CONVENTION.

Traveling Men Coming to Greensboro For Annual Meeting.

Members of the Travelers' Protective Association of North Carolina are looking forward with much pleasure to the state convention to be held in Greensboro Friday and Saturday, May 9 and 10. Delegates will be present from all over the state and the following cities will be represented: Asheville, Hickory, Charlotte, Winston-Salem, Fayetteville, Raleigh, Rocky Mount, Henderson, Durham, Mt. Airy and North Wilkesboro.

One year ago the national board of directors gave each state a certain number of applications to be written by April 20. The North Carolina list was placed at 1,200, and this will be the third state in the Union to come in with a full list. This state will lead all the states in percentage.

In the parade to be held in Richmond on the 9th North Carolina will have one member in the "Fifty" squad, composed of those who have written as many as 50 applications. The North Carolina representative, J. J. Nelson, of Winston-Salem, and perhaps others. Several from North Carolina will be in the "Twenty-Five" squad.

A Case of Smallpox.

A case of smallpox has been discovered in the home of Mr. L. J. Keech, 427 Walker avenue. The patient is Eris Whitworth, who is reported to be doing as well as could be expected under the circumstances. The health authorities have been notified, but under the law can do nothing except issue the customary warnings.

Back Home.

Mr. P. A. Hardin, a native of Guilford, who has been living the past few years at Snow Camp, has purchased the J. R. Coble place, near Tabernacle church, and he and his family will again become residents of the banner county of North Carolina.

Mrs. Spencer Adams Ill.

Mrs. Spencer B. Adams, who has been quite ill at her home on West Market street, was taken this week to St. Leo's hospital for treatment. Mrs. Lee Folger, of Charlotte, and Mrs. Bruce Powers, of Wake Forest, daughters of Mrs. Adams, are at the bedside of their mother.

PLEASANT GARDEN DEBATORS.

High Honors Gracefully Worn by Two Guilford County Boys.

The following copied from the North Carolina State High School Bulletin, just received, commenting on the final contest of the High School Debating Union of North Carolina will be of interest to our readers.

"To Messrs. Grady Bowman and Samuel C. Hodgkin, the affirmative speakers for Pleasant Garden high school, of Guilford county, belongs the proud honor of winning out over the other sixty-two debaters who were here. Their names, together with the name of their school, will be inscribed on the Aycock cup.

"Especially effective was Mr. Samuel C. Hodgkin, the second speaker for Pleasant Garden. In native ability and for rough and ready power in debating it would be difficult, if not impossible, to find his superior in any college of the state. He was as much at home as a seasoned stump speaker.

"The debate itself was of the intercollegiate caliber. The rejoinders were spirited on both sides. The applause was frequent when the debaters dug into their adversaries both in their speeches and in their rejoinders.

"The Debating Union, as provided for by the D. I. and P. I. Societies, is to be a permanent affair. This year its success was phenomenal. Letters from superintendents all over the state express approval of the societies' work in extending their aid to the schools. Every high school in the state is invited to become a member of the union next year. The great success this time and the benefit to 360 high school pupils are but forerunners of still larger achievements in the future."

FIRE IN THE FAIR GROUNDS.

Unknown Parties Are Responsible For Loss to Mr. J. H. West.

Between 3 and 4 o'clock yesterday morning the refreshment stand in the fair grounds of the Central Carolina Fair Association, operated by Mr. J. H. West, of Greensboro, was destroyed by fire, together with chairs, tables and other fixtures. The building alone cost $800, and furniture about $300, making a total loss of $1,100.

Mr. West has no idea how the fire originated. The gates of the fair grounds are supposed to be kept locked, but crime, like love, laughs at locks and bars. It is supposed that a midnight orgy of some kind—probably gambling or worse—was held by unknown parties afraid of daylight, and it being a cold night, that they built a fire and failed to put it out before leaving.

This is the theory, but no clue has been found that would lead to the identification of the culprits.

People living near the fair grounds saw the blaze, but the fire had gone too far to be controlled.

The building was owned by the fair association and the furniture and fixtures by Mr. West, who carried no insurance.

Property Transfers.

Among recent transfers of property in Guilford county are the following:

Julius M. Dick, commissioner, to O. W. Monroe, 170 acres in Jefferson township, adjoining the lands of Riley Totten, Riley E. Montgomery, P. M. Isley and others; consideration, $3,000.

Harley, of Asheville; second vice president, Mrs. Plato Durham, of Winston-Salem; third vice president, Miss Cora Earp, of Mt. Airy; fourth vice president, Mrs. H. A. Dunham, of Winston-Salem; corresponding secretary of the foreign department, Mrs. L. W. Crawford, of Greensboro; corresponding secretary of the home department, Mrs. James Atkins, of Waynesville; recording secretary, Mrs. T. F. Marr, of Charlotte; treasurer of the foreign department, Mrs. F. N. Peacock; treasurer home department, Mrs. R. L. Hoke, of Canton.

The district secretaries nominated by the committee, and whose nominations were approved by the convention are:

Asheville—Mrs. V. L. Stone. Charlotte—Miss Helen Erem. Greensboro—Mrs. S. E. Fordham. Morganton—Mrs. M. B. Goodwyn. Mount Airy—Mrs. F. J. Matthews. Wilkesboro—Mrs. W. F. Trogden. Salisbury—Mrs. C. M. Eobitt. Statesville—Mrs. M. M. Courtney. Shelbyville—Mrs. A. E. Brown. Winston-Salem—Miss Maude Eobannon.

Hendersonville was selected as the place for the next meeting.

LECTURES AT ELON.

Distinguished Speaker Will Address Ministerial Institute.

The third institute at Elon College for ministerial students for the present session will begin on May 8 and the speaker will be the Rev. Dr. W. C. Sargent, whose theme will be the Revelation. The others speakers have been Dr. J. J. Summerbell, Dayton, Ohio, who has since deceased, and Dr. W. S. Long, Chapel Hill. Dr. Summerbell discussed during the three days of his institute, "The Effects of Campbellism." Dr. Long's theme was "Systematic Theology," and Dr. Sargent will conclude the series with two days of institute work, three sessions of two and one-half hours each day, treating the difficult problems of the "Revelation," in which he is a specialist.

Dr. Sargent is pastor of the largest and most influential churches of Providence, Rhode Island, and is also secretary of education for the American Christian Convention, before emigrating to this country he held responsible charges in Canada, being pastor of one of the oldest churches of Toronto just before coming to Providence.

Dr. Sargent besides lecturing to the ministerial students on the "Revelation," will preach twice and speak to the entire student body on one of his recent pilgrimages into the realm of Belles Lettres, his subject for that occasion being "The Spiritual Teaching of Tennyson."

Mrs. R. W. Bingham Killed.

An Asheville dispatch Sunday says that Mrs. R. W. Bingham died Sunday morning at Louisville of injuries received in an automobile accident there Saturday. A brief message was received to the effect that Mrs. Bingham had been seriously hurt, and another later saying that she was dead and that her skull had been split in the accident.

State Nurses Association.

The North Carolina State Nurses' Association will hold its regular annual meeting May 28, 29 and 30, at the Langren hotel, Asheville. All registered nurses are invited to be present.

Communion Service.

On next Sunday at 11 o'clock, it being the first Sunday in the month, there will be a communion service at Buffalo church. The public is invited.

Several people who were up early Sunday morning tell that there was a heavy fall of snow in Asheville about 4 o'clock. Major Rollins is quoted as saying that the flakes were about as thick as any snow he ever saw. A rain fell just after the snow, however, and destroyed all traces of it by daylight.

SUBSCRIBE TO THE PATRIOT.

HOME FROM THE WEST.

Mr. John R. Coffin Visiting Boyhood Friends in Guilford.

A man thinks a good deal of his home paper when he is willing to travel half across the continent to pay his subscription.

That is the way Mr. John R. Coffin put it, when he dropped in Friday to shake hands with the boys in the office and left orders for The Patriot to be continued to his address.

Mr. Coffin is an old Guilford boy who has "made good" in his Western home, where he has lived for a number of years, holding at the present time the very responsible position of commissioner of public works at Terre Haute, Ind. He has a sister in Guilford and other relatives in the state and every few years he journeys back to look over the old scenes and renew the friendships of his early youth. He located in Terre Haute when that progressive city of sixty thousand inhabitants was a small town, and has watched the city grow to its present proportions. He talks interestingly of the West and his varied experiences, one of which was his narrow escape in the recent terrific cyclone which passed in two blocks of his house.

Mr. Coffin is a regular reader of The Patriot, and in that way has kept track of his old friends and the wonderful growth of this section, especially of his home county which he still loves to visit.

MUNICIPAL ELECTION.

Old Board to Serve City Another Two Year Term.

At the city primary held Tuesday in Greensboro, the old board led the ticket, the only contest now being between S. Glenn Brown and Charles A. Hines for municipal judge.

Ex-Sheriff E. E. Jones, running against R. M. Rees for commissioner of public safety, received 523 votes, the highest number received by any of the defeated candidates. Recognizing the desire on the part of the majority of the voters to continue Mr. Rees in office another two years, Mr. Jones has withdrawn from the race and will wait until next time to try it out again.

While it is generally admitted that there are many things in Greensboro that could be improved, there has been a growing sentiment in favor of giving the old board another chance to make good. And many people are asking: What's the use to go through the form of having another election?

Farmers and Business Men

Rapid strides have been made in agricultural lines during this generation. The successful farmer of today must not only be a good agriculturist but a good business man as well. Farming has become a business and, of course, it is the biggest business in the country with the greatest competition.

The man who makes a real success of farming must be as well posted in his line as manufacturers and merchants must be in theirs. The Monthly Crop report issued by this Bank will prove of great value to the farmer who realizes the necessity of being well posted regarding all crops in all parts of the country. These reports will be sent to you monthly if you desire them.

AS TO POLITICS.

A Common Error of Otherwise Well Informed and Educated People.

The controversy now on between the Cincinnati Children and the Greensboro Daily News as to the grammatical use of the word "politics"—whether singular or plural—suggests another common error into which many otherwise well informed people often fall, by reason of its plural form.

Both in conversation and in writing we hear a familiar, and for the past few months a very prevalent disease referred to as "they" and "them" in speaking of measles.

Webster's new international unabridged dictionary does give some latitude in the number of "politics," which it says, while plural in form, may be "construed either as plural or singular." So far as we have been able to ascertain, however, there is absolutely no authority anywhere from any body to speak of "measles" except in the singular, and those who have been through it will all agree in saying it is "it." Measles is a disease—one separate and distinct disorder—the same as fever or neuralgia or rheumatism. People who insist that they have had "them" are the same who, when at the table, ask you to pass "those molasses," the same who expatiate on the delicious flavor of "these cabbage," and commit similar outrages against the accepted forms of correct expression.

Politics, despite the license accorded by Webster's new international, is a science of government, and among grammarians generally is used as singular.

As the one word religion embraces countless creeds, so the one word politics takes in a thousand platforms and platitudes, to say nothing of politicians. Owing to the multiplicity of candidates people who are not sticklers for grammatical construction can be excused for putting this muchly used and terribly abused word in the plural column. However, politics is the science of government, no matter about the would-be scientists in this particular field of investigation and research.

We are glad to see the newspapers—the great educators of the century—calling attention to these matters, and urging to all readers and correspondents to take notice.

NEW WESTMINSTER CHURCH.

Magnificent New Presbyterian Church is Now Completed.

The congregation of Westminster Presbyterian church held services Sunday morning in the new edifice on Ashboro street, with exercises befitting such a joyous occasion. The congregation comes back to its own church after an absence of eight months, during which time regular service has been held in the Friends church through the courtesy of that congregation.

The new building is one of the prettiest and most convenient in arrangement in the city. It is of the old Grecian style of architecture and constructed of white pressed brick of classical design, with stone trimmings and wide granite steps leading to the vestibule, which is porticoed off by four massive pillars of granite. The interior is especially handsome, the finish and pews being in solid mahogany, with Florentine glass windows. The church auditorium proper has a seating capacity of 400, though by combining this with the Sunday school rooms the capacity is about 800. The Sunday school section is two stories, and also provided with a spacious balcony. There are 23 separate class rooms. The building also contains a pastor's study, ladies' parlor, kitchen and all the modern arrangements for holding affairs of the church.

Furniture Show.

The Southern Furniture Exposition will have its semi-annual show in High Point June 26 to July 12. Exhibits will be presented from every leading furniture concern in the Southern states. Already about forty different lines from factories located elsewhere than High Point have been assigned space for the exposition. Thirty thousand square feet of display space has been sold to the leading manufacturers variously located throughout the South. Seven thousand five hundred letters are being sent out each week to various furniture dealers asking them to be present and co-operate in the undertaking. High Point will give this body of business men a royal welcome.

Wonderful Skin Salve.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve is known everywhere as the best remedy made for all diseases of the skin, and also for burns, bruises and boils. Reduces inflammation and is soothing and healing. J. T. Sossaman, publisher of News, of Cornelius, N. C., writes that one box helped his serious skin ailment after other remedies failed. Only 25 cents. Recommended by Fariss-Klutzn Drug Company. adv.

SOCIETY OF THE CINCINNATI.

Notable Gathering of Notable Men in Greensboro Last Week.

The North Carolina Society of the Cincinnati held a business and social session in Greensboro last week. The meeting of the society brought together a number of North Carolinians who have established themselves in other states and for many who have remained at home. The election of President Woodrow Wilson to an honorary membership was unanimous, the president having previously signified his willingness to such a course.

There were four applicants for membership: D. C. Waddell, Jr., of Asheville; Dr. A. A. Cotten, of Trenton, N. J.; W. H. Callender, of Franklin, Tenn., and Dr. R. L. Williams, of Norfolk.

The old staff of officers were re-elected as follows:

Wilson Gray Lamb, of Wilmington, president; John Collins Daves, of Baltimore, vice president; Marshall DeLancey Haywood, of Raleigh, secretary; John Bradley Lord, Brooklyn, assistant secretary; Walter De Lyle Carstarphen, Plymouth, treasurer; Col. Bennehan Cameron, Stagville, as assistant treasurer, and the Right Rev. Joseph Blount Cheshire, Raleigh, chaplain.

Following the business session the visitors were driven to the historic Guilford Battle Ground. Returning to the city the annual dinner was served at the Guilford.

N. C. Academy of Science.

At the annual meeting of the North Carolina Academy of Science held in Greensboro Saturday the following officers were elected: President, Franklin Sherman, Jr., state entomologist, of Raleigh; vice president, Z. P. Metcalf, entomologist, of A. and M. College; treasurer, E. W. Gidger, of the State Normal College; executive committee, W. C. Coker, botanist, of Chapel Hill; J. J. Wolfe, biologist, of Trinity College, Durham; C. S. Brimley, naturalist, of Raleigh.

A man living at Auburn, New York had a severe attack of kidney and bladder trouble. Being a working man, not wanting to lose time, nor run up a heavy doctor's bill, he cured himself completely by using Foley Kidney Pills. A year later he says: "It is a pleasure to report that the cure was permanent." He has had no return whatever of the pain, backache and burning. His name is J. A. Farmer, and he says: "Of course I recommend Foley Kidney Pills as a very effective cure for kidney and bladder trouble." Conyers & Sykes. adv.

Ye Olde Tyme Comfort Footwear For Women

While our shelves and counters are crowded with new and stylish Ties, Pumps and Oxfords for young ladies and girls we have by no means forgotten to provide for the wants of middle aged and elderly ladies. "BETTER BABIES."

Exhibit at San Diego, California, With This Object in View.

San Diego, Cal., April 27.—How many babies in North Carolina can be judged by the rules adopted for the "better babies" exhibit at the San Diego exposition?

Another question is, "How many fathers will be willing to have their babies judged by the rules applied to prize animals?"

The purpose of the exhibit is to show that will produce better babies.

It has been a popular fad, and the term means simply "better babies," and this is the purpose of the proposed exhibit at the San Diego exposition.

President D. C. McWilliams, of the North Carolina Federation of Churches, has asked her to exhibit the results of these contests at San Diego, or to outline a plan whereby the exhibit can be made.

Following is the score card adopted and in use, which may be used at the San Diego exposition:

Body—Height and weight, 12; circumference of chest and abdomen, 8; symmetry and quality of skin and hair, 5; quality of muscle, hand grasp, sitting posture, walking, running, 6; bones of skull, spine, chest, and feet, 6.

Head—Circumference, 7; shape of head, 4; shape, size and position of eyes, 3; shape and size of lips, 3; shape and size of forehead, 4; shape of patency of nose, 5; shape and condition of jaw, hard palate, tonsils, 3; shape, size and condition of teeth, 5.

Psychological—Disposition, 5; energy, 3; facial and ocular expression, 3; attention, 3.

President Collier may decide to offer a big prize for the best baby less than three years old exhibited at the exposition during the year 1915, and awaiting Mrs. Lane's suggestions with a good deal of interest.

PRAYERS FOR CHINA.

Christian Churches Respond to Appeal From New Republic.

New York, April 27.—Churches in this city and throughout the country joined today the Christian churches of China in praying for that union, as requested by the present Chinese authorities. The response here was in connection with a world-wide movement to heed the appeal from the new republic, said to be the first that ever came to Christian forces from a non-Christian land.

Points specified by China as being subjects for petitions were the Chinese people, the president to be chosen, the constitution and its making and clean men wisely selected for members of congress. To this, in this country, petitions were addressed that Christians of American birth now in China may act wisely toward that country and that Christians in America may be liberal with money and tolerant in spirit.

Episcopal, Baptist, Methodist, Presbyterian and other mission boards appealed to their respective churches to observe today in such petitions. Bishop Greer prepared a prayer which was used in all Episcopal churches in New York, and Presbyterians prepared another which was said in concert at a union service held this afternoon at the brick church on 5th avenue, where the address was given by the pastor, the Rev. Dr. William P. Merrill.

Ciad to Appoint Woman.

Washington, April 26.—Mrs. Annie G. Rogers, wife of a business man in Leadville, Col., today was designated by Secretary Lane, of the interior department, for appointment as receiver of the land office at Leadville at a salary of $3,000 a year. Mrs. Rogers is a widely known suffragette.

"I am particularly glad to name Mrs. Rogers," said Secretary Lane, "because it is an established fact in the United States that money can be handled more safely by women than by men."

A slight cold in a child or a grown person holds possibilities of the gravest nature. Croup may come on suddenly in the night, bronchitis or pneumonia may develop, and severe catarrhal troubles and consumption are possible results. Foley's Honey and Tar Compound nips a cold at the outset, cures croup quickly, checks a deersated racking cough, and heals inflamed membranes. It does not constipate and contains no opiates. Refuse substitutes. Conyers & Sykes, adv.

FREE DRINKING CUPS.

Southern Railway Company Looking After Health of Passengers.

Washington, April 26.—Arrangements have been made by the Southern Railway to furnish sanitary individual drinking cups to passengers on all trains and a large supply of cups of the collapsible paper type has been ordered. As soon as the cups have been received each conductor will be furnished with a supply and any passenger desiring a cup will receive one free of charge on application to the conductor. Notices to this effect will be posted in each coach.

Furnishing drinking cups to passengers on the large number of trains operated by the Southern Railway will involve a substantial expenditure which is being undertaken to provide for the convenience of patrons of the railway. All common drinking cups have been removed from trains in compliance with United States government regulations and the statutes and ordinances of many states and municipalities.

Hereafter passengers on Southern Railway trains will be put to no inconvenience or expense in regard to drinking water and at the same time will not be subject to any possible infection through the use of the common drinking cup.

North Carolina Represented.

At the Southern Sociological congress held in Atlanta last week public health, courts and prisons, child welfare, organized charities, race problems, and the church and social service were considered at the various conferences.

The public health conference, over which Dr. W. S. Rankin, of Raleigh, N. C., presided, took up in detail the public health provisions contained in the statutes of various Southern states and considered possible methods of reform.

Dr. John H. DeWitt, of Nashville, Tenn., who presided at the conference on courts and prisons, made a plea for the abolition of convict lease and contract systems, and for the extension and improvement of juvenile courts and reformatories.

HEALTH AND MATRIMONY.

Medical Certificates to Precede Tying of Nuptial Knot.

Cleveland, April 26.—No medical certificate, no marriage license, is the edict which Cleveland ministers soon will announce if plans of the Cleveland federated churches do not fail. Couples bent on being spliced will not only have to hustle for a marriage license, but will have to put down in the expense account fees for examinations by physicians.

The executive committee of the federation, which includes all the Protestant churches in the city, has decided to obtain pledges from Cleveland pastors that they will not tie nuptial knots without the accompanying clean health bills. Rev. Dr. T. S. McWilliams, of Calvary Presbyterian church, will introduce a resolution at the next meeting of the federation exacting this pledge from ministers.

"We are impelled to this course because we believe it is time that the seriousness of the present situation be realized," said the Rev. C. E. Burton, of the Euclid Avenue Congregational church, who is active in the movement. "The danger of a marked deterioration of the race is imminent unless some method can be devised to protect the community from the marriages of the physically unfit."

Oppose President's Plan.

President Wilson's plan of consulting Republican senators as well as their Democratic colleagues about prospective appointments among their constituents, does not meet with the approval of some of the Republicans if they are correctly reported.

Senator Bradley is said to have told the president that while he had no personal objection to the men the president had discussed with him, he wanted to make it clear that he accepted no political responsibility for the appointments. The president was reported to have told Senator Bradley that his purpose in summoning Republican senators was not to obtain their political approval, but to learn whether there was anything in the personal character of the appointees to which the people of the state might object.

NOTHING DOING.

Colonel Osborn was confirmed by the senate as commissioner of internal revenue—an office almost as big as a cabinet position—and no kick came from Democracy. It was freely predicted in these parts that when it came time to confirm the colonel that it would be pointed out that he had once upon a time swerved from the straight and narrow path of Democracy; that he had conspired with Republicans to defeat a congressional nominee on the Democratic ticket, and that because of the colonel's aid and comfort to Republicans and mugwumps the Democratic nominee for Congress was defeated. It was asked: "What kind of a president would name such a man for position?" But when it was recalled that Attorney General McReynolds had been active as a gold bug against Bryan; that Asst. Secretary Williams, of the treasury, had formed a Palmer and Buckner party in Virginia, and that even the president himself had written that some painless way of chloroforming Bryan should be devised—why, it looked like those who had now and then side-stepped on the way to glory were the ones who were best fitted for place and power. So there was a silence about as long as six city blocks and the colonel is now commissioner, and we predict will make a first-class official.

The Democratic party is in power only for four years unless it makes good, and unless it brings within the fold all discontented. It must get together and remain together. That is why Bryan kissed and made up, figuratively speaking, with Speaker Clark. That is why Wilson is choosing all kinds of Democrats for place. Gold bug and silver bug Democrats meet now on a common level in Washington and especially around the pie counter. They are organizing anew. It is their intention and purpose to have no family quarrel. Else why did Oscar Underwood surrender his ideas on the tariff?

And that is not only politics, but it is business. Only in union is there strength, and simply because a man failed to vote straight in wet weather and fair weather, simply because now a day he voted against Bryan in a long life of political expediency seems no reason why a man should be discredited.

Colonel Osborn will make good, and as an organizer, as a politician, he will be useful and helpful to the national organization. Watch him. He will have politicians all over the country at work, and at work hard, to keep the banner of Democracy in the front.

Our congratulations to him.

THE BIRDS AND WOMEN. x

We received a circular from New York in which we are urged to appeal to women to join in one universal denunciation against the use of wild bird plumage for hat decoration. The idea suggested is that the tariff should carry a restriction against the use of certain feathers and that those used should be taxed out of sight. The fight has been on a long time. Books and books and then books have been written against the destruction of the bird, but the bird killers continue in their glee.

The world when it was new must have been a wonderful place so far as wild life was concerned. Before man commenced to shoot for sport and profit there were millions of birds and beasts that added to the gayety of wood and plane. But man, the highest of God's intellectual creatures, came along and fashioned a gun and went after life—the wanton and inexcusable destruction of God-given life, and the result is that the birds and beasts are about all gone. Too late man woke up to find the species about extinct—and then he commenced to make laws to protect what was left. But like a man spending all his dollars and hopelessly clinging to his last pennies—it is too late. Women have demanded the sacrifice of bird life because they wanted to adorn their hats. The ostrich plume, the most beautiful plume in the world, can always be used because the ostrich does not yield a life when the plume is plucked. But the birds of paradise; the fifty different species of birds from the foreign wilds, must give their lives to the hunters in order that an American woman with a burden of gold can decorate her head gear in what the fashion plate calls the latest creation. Let us hope that the bird life will be spared and that hats will carry other ornamentation.

LEWIS HAPPY.

It is said that J. Ham Lewis, the gentleman who has given his pink whiskers international fame, and who was born at Danville, Va., is exceptionally happy to know that he has been elected United States senator from Illinois. J. Ham has always been a joke—but now he passes into a reality. His whiskers gave him publicity—and yet there he men who rail out against the Chin Whacker.

Granville county sold last year just one million and a half dollars worth of tobacco—and yet there he horny-tongued politicians who insist that the trust dissolution did no good. Think of one county turning in a million and a half in gold on one crop—and that crop controlled by a trust.

A SOCIALIST SEES THINGS.

In talking the other day in Atlanta on the red light district of cities and the ideas now being tried of segregation—of putting the speckled birds out of business, especially by closing the houses where they heretofore have found shelter, this Socialist wanted to know what good it would do to close the houses. He wanted to know if it would stop death were you to close the gates of the cemetery. And in that he struck the center.

People who have looked into the question agree that the brothel comes from the fallen woman and not the fallen woman from the brothel. And it is true to a great degree. What is wanted to stop the so-called social evil are laws dealing with those who betray and deceive. The money question is not alone the cause of women falling. Small salaries do not justify a woman wanting to put on style. If a working girl gets six dollars a week and wants to spend twelve dollars she may resort to terrible methods to secure the twelve—but such a mind would want to spend twenty-four dollars a week if twelve were the stipend, and so on. In other words, the percentage of fallen women is small. One painted siren will make more noise and attract more attention than a thousand virtuous women. And generally speaking the woman who goes wrong from a cold-blooded financial standpoint would go wrong anyway. The young man who deceives and betrays a woman is the place where laws should be applied. Put him on the rack and then you will see only the commercial waston in business, and that has always been and will always be. Scientific men will gravely inform you that some are born that way—and if they are, nothing will keep them on the right road.

Editor Johnson, of Charity and Children, spoke a truth when he said: "A farm, no matter how barren or poor, is a better place to make a man out of a boy than the best regulated (cotton) mill in the world; and we now amend our statement by saying that a farm is a better place to train a boy than the best regulated bank, or store, or office, or even parsonage, to be found anywhere. In short, the farm is the proper plant-bed for manhood and womanhood. There is no other place like it in this world, and our friend who imagined we were making an assault on cotton mills missed the point altogether. Not that we love Caesar less, but Rome more. We are not reflecting on cotton mills when we say the farm is the natural place to raise a boy. It is. It has always been. It will ever be."

The great calamity in Omaha was quickly overshadowed by the terribly disastrous floods in Ohio. Great suffering and sickness from colds and exposure resulted which Foley's Honey and Tar Compound helped to alleviate. L. Poole, 2217 California street, Omaha, writes: "My daughter has a severe cough and cold but Foley's Honey and Tar Compound knocked it out in no time. My wife would not keep house without it. We have used it for years, always with good results." Conyers & Sykes, adv.

NO WINE.

Secretary Bryan gave a state dinner the other night at Washington and when it came time to take a drink only grape juice was served. To some of the foreign ambassadors this grape juice seemed rather weak. But Bryan explained that never at his home or at the home of his father was liquor of any kind served, and when Wilson asked him to be secretary of state he accepted with the understanding that no wine would be served at state dinners. Wilson agreed, and those seven ambassadors came and went with a dry whistle. But Bryan established the precedent—and the world wonders.

The English press tries to make fun of Bryan, but that makes no difference. This administration is sweeping out cobwebs and traditions, and maybe it will be for the best. Joe Daniels, as secretary of the navy, has passed such words as "Starboard side" out of his vocabulary—because they are nautical terms. What will happen next, we wonder? Wilson has read his speeches to Congress, gone to see the senators about appointments instead of having them come to see him, and the next thing, perhaps, Secretary of Agriculture Houston will be coming down into North Carolina with his overalls on showing the farmers how to plant cabbage and turnips. Plain old fashion Democracy—the kind your mother knew.

THE JAPANESE SITUATION.

Secretary of State Bryan has gone whirling to Sacramento, California, to consult with the legislature of that state regarding the alien land law—and this is the first time in the history of the country when a secretary of state crossed the continent to tell a legislature what it should not do.

The Japs want to object to many things America does, and America allows the little brown men to dictate terms. And in the interests of peace that is a nice thing for America. But one of these days we must fight Japan, and perhaps the sooner we fix for it and go at it the better off we will be. Governor Johnson insists that California is doing nothing that the United States has not done in the matter of laws, and the Japs, for many years hostile to all of California, see a possible chance to have excuse to fight the United States. We are for peace always, but we do not think Japan should interfere with the rights of a sovereign state. If California wants to pass a law like other states have passed regarding the ownership of lands by aliens, we feel that she should proceed unopposed. And if Japan wants to fight about it let her fight. That is one reason why we have a navy and an army. To protect our dignity and defend our citizens and their property.

Fishing isn't very good and politics is very tame. What we need is a war with some power or powers to give people exciting news. But the white winged dove of peace still perches, and now that Secretary of State Bryan has formulated his plan for universal peace, might just as well take the sh's out of your gun and turn off the motor. There will be nothing doing.

Greensboro will have a big tobacco market this coming year. Greensboro just lately awakened to the fact that Guilford raises much tobacco.

Too much dry weather has shortened the strawberry crop—and thus more short cakes than usual.

LET US HOPE.

Some of the newspapers feel the tariff tinkering will cause depression of serious nature in the money market. Others believe that great interests will simply sit steady in the boat, await the last word in the tariff bill and then go to it to adapt themselves to the situation.

Let us hope that this is to be the case. Let us hope that there will be no rich man's panic or poor man's panic. However, money will get tighter and tighter until the tariff tinkers quit the job. The tariff is an issue always raised, and one which will never be settled. Every fellow knows all about it, to hear them talk—whereas, it seems that no one knows anything about it.

We trust that the special session will speedily finish its tariff business and then let the nation adapt itself to the new order of things and keep commerce lively.

THE CITY ELECTION.

We are glad to note that the city campaign has passed off so far very quietly, and it looks like all will be serene up to the day of voting. This is the way it should be. All of us have our choice, but there is no use to become personal; no use to throw mud. No matter what comes out of the wash Greensboro will continue to forge ahead. Greensboro is on the up grade—let the present policies be continued and we will have here a great city before we know it.

And now we want to again insist that you be ready for Guilford Battle Ground on July Fourth.

And the fun is on in the matter of Watts vs. the Progressives.

NEWS AND OBSERVER BURNED.

Secretary Daniels' Cam in Face of Big Financial Loss.

The plant of the Raleigh News and Observer, owned by Josephus Daniels, secretary of the navy, was destroyed by fire last Friday afternoon. The loss is perhaps $75,000, partly covered by insurance. The News and Observer plant was one of the most complete in the South.

The fire took place when the streets were deserted. People were attending the opening game of the North Carolina baseball league between Raleigh and Durham. Mayor Johnson, who left the game early, discovered the fire and gave the alarm but the firemen were late in starting work and when they did "found water pressure too low to be of much use.

All that was saved was a linotype machine, the mailing list and some of the files.

Secretary Daniels, with other guests of the American Newspaper Publishers Association, was at dinner at the Waldorf when a telegram was laid before him. The secretary glanced at the message and then, turning calmly to Charles R. Miller, the toastmaster, said:

"I've just received some rather bad news. My paper has been burned up."

The news spread through the banquet room and within a few minutes the secretary was being told by dozens of editors and publishers how sorry they were that bad luck had come to him. Mr. Daniels left for Raleigh at 1 o'clock to make plans for the future.

The News and Observer, through its attorneys, has petitioned Judge Frank Carter to allow it to bring suit against the receivers of the Wake Water Company for damages because of the alleged failure of the water company to provide sufficient water with which to fight the fire that destroyed that paper's property. It is understood that damages in the sum of $50,000 will be demanded.

FLOODS IN LOUISIANA.

Thousands of People Driven From Their Home by Overflow.

Natchez, Miss., April 27.—The long-threatened break in the main lower Mississippi river levees along the west bank in upper Louisiana came at an early hour this morning, when the Lake St. John levee, 12 miles north of Ferriday, La., went out, turning the flood waters loose upon the fine farming lands and villages of lower Texas and Concordia parishes.

Approximately 20,000 persons will be driven from their homes as a result of this crevasse, which will flood a territory embracing about 900 square miles. The property damage will total several hundred thousand dollars.

The break in the levee at Lake St. John developed at 2:20 o'clock this morning. People living in the mediate vicinity of the crevasse and in nearby towns were advised to flee fully two hours before the crash came. It is not believed any loss of life has resulted from the break.

Six river steamers and a score of motor boats were dispatched to the scene of the crevasse from Natchez and Vicksburg early this morning for use in rescuing people from the flooded district.

Caster oil and glycerin, equal parts of each, rubbed on warts is said to be an effective cure following four or five applications.

The sum of money that is lost every year on the farms of this country by the dairy cows that are not bred especially for dairy work is stupendous.

It takes celery seed five or six weeks to sprout, and this means that seed that is intended for early planting should be sown at once in a box in a warm window.

It pays to whitewash, ventilate and properly light the stables; to brush and carry cows; to use clean and well covered utensils; to cool milk quickly and to have a cool place for the milk.

The length of stem of the bulbous plants that are now at their prime may be increased by placing a coil of paper about the stem just as the blossom spike is putting forth. The stalk seeks the light at the tip of the paper, hence stretches out.

As a rule, a pure bred animal will fetch from one-half to twice as much as a scrub, and often times much more than this. In this connection it should be kept in mind that it requires but little more feed and care to produce the pure bred than the scrub.

There is no confection that the writer is acquainted with that surpasses in deliciousness that made by dropping hot maple syrup, boiled nearly to the sugaring point, on a slab of clean ice. It is a treat that only those who have had pure maple syrup know the full meaning of.

While the hog has the reputation of being one of the dirtiest of farm animals, probably because of its inborn instinct to seek a wallow on a hot day, it is nevertheless one of the cleanest of animals in the matter of keeping its sleeping quarters dry and clean. In this respect it excels the horse, cow or sheep.

Whatever may be the outcome of the fight tests that are being given to the Friedlander consumption cure, it should be well for folks having a tendency to tubercular trouble to still keep in mind the necessity of getting in as large quantities as possible of wholesome food, fresh air and direct sunshine. If the cure comes out they will be just so much better off.

It is reported that 30,000,000 ladybugs have been captured by the California state insectary and will be shipped as needed to the various sections of the state in order to save the melon crops. The ladybugs prey on the melon aphids, which attack and destroy the young vines. Honeygrowers in other sections will also be furnished with these useful insects.

Unkempt or inflamed udder may be greatly helped by milking the leg dry, rubbing it gently, yet thoroughly, for some time and then applying and rubbing in a mixture of lard and turpentine. Sweet oil is as good as or better than lard. The rubbing of the udder and the application of the ointment should be repeated night and morning after milking until the swelling and hardness disappear.

Wonders can be done with scabious and unthrifty looking shotes by giving them tarrage with their corn at the rate of one part of the concentrate to nine or ten parts of the corn. Often, however, before this balancing of the ration will have the desired effect it is necessary to rid the pigs of worms. For this purpose the is excellent, given in small quantities in the corn or any of several commercial worm medicines are good.

One of the chief troubles with the bulk of the beef that is sold over the counter in the small town meat market is that it is sold and eaten altogether too soon after it is killed. Instead of a day or two days to cure, it would be vastly more tender if it could hang up in a cooler for three or four weeks. The average meat market does not have sufficient storage room for this hence the present block to table method persists.

The peony is one of the oldest of the known cultivated flowers. It is mentioned as far back as the days of Troy, when one of her physicians used the roots of the plant for medicine. Later the seeds were taken just before going to bed to prevent nightmare. The roots of the plant have been used until recent times as a medicine. Today there are in cultivation 2,000 named varieties. Among the varieties most highly prized are the Festiva Maxima, La Tropic, Baroness Schroeder, Mme. de Moine and Couronne d'Or.

Notwithstanding its excellence as a fungicide for bushes and trees, lime-sulphur spray has been found to be unfit for use in controlling blight in potatoes. The spray injured the vines and, as a result, reduced their growth and the yield of tubers.

Spring kids will breed that fall if they have an opportunity, but to allow them to breed before the next fall, when eighteen to twenty-two months old, will make them useless as milkers. They never recover from the stunting effects and exhaustion of bearing kids too early.

There is nothing in the butter-making process that will kill disease germs that might have been contained in the cream. This means that both butter and buttermilk may contain the bacilli of tuberculosis and other diseases, and one is no better off because he refrains from drinking the buttermilk, yet eats the butter.

Manure is money. There is no discounting this conclusion, and any landowner who doesn't believe it by the way he rubs his soil is making a great mistake that will soon stare him in the face. All soil is depleted sooner or later, and that farm comes to the turn the sooner to which nothing is given back.

Feeding a lamb by hand is often made necessary in case of the death of the dam, but it is an undertaking that takes a good deal of attention. The youngster has to be fed about every two hours, and, on top of this, whole cow's milk should be used. If it does not test as high as 6 per cent a little cream should be added to it and a little sugar.

The farmer reads and should receive a reasonable protection in the pursuit he follows as expressed in moderate protective duties, but at the present stage of the game the man who seems to be most in need of public sympathy on this score is the fellow who is trying to support a family of six or eight on $1.75 a day with meat and other necessities soaring constantly higher. It is this fellow who is put to it to make both ends meet.

Some folks would call this man queer. He came in from doing his chores one Sunday morning some time ago and, finding that plans were being made for a swell dinner, gave orders to have the stuff put away for another day. This wasn't because he was queer necessarily, but because he thought his wife was entitled to a little rest on the day set apart for rest. This is a type of consideration that ought to be practiced more than it is.

Three per cent of all hogs that are slaughtered under federal supervision are infected with tuberculosis. The percentage of hogs affected with the disease has increased considerably within the past half dozen years. The chief source of spreading the disease are the uses of the skimmilk and buttermilk from tubercular cows and the practice of having hogs follow feeding cattle that are affected with the disease and consuming the offal thrown out from slaughter-houses.

A level headed farmer with whom the writer talked the other day remarked, in the course of a conversation explaining that his hired hand had been with him three years, that he found it worth while using tact in his treatment of him. He amplified this by saying that he tried as a rule to let his men have his own way or do things largely in his own way when there was nothing to be lost by so doing. This man has largely solved in his own case one of the worst aspects of the hired help problem.

Where there is water under pressure in the house equal to about forty pounds to the square inch very good use may be made of the water motors for furnishing power for doing light forms of work, such as running the washing machine, sewing machine, and the like. Motors costing in the neighborhood of $5 are made which can be connected on to the ordinary faucet, the waste water running off through the sink. The motor is fitted with a belt wheel, which drives the wheel of the machine to be used.

While there is no telling what the season may bring forth along the line of weather conditions, the writer is of the opinion that any one who has the right kind of land for them would not go far wrong in planting a fair area to early potatoes. The seed is cheap. While there is an abundance of late potatoes held over from last season, which will tend to discourage high prices early in the season, these early potatoes may be wanted for seed the following spring at a good price. What is said of early potatoes applies equally to late potatoes.

A Canadian subscriber of an American agricultural paper tells of an interesting yet simple method of securing a summer's supply of ice. Briefly, it was to make an excavation, as for a cellar, 10 by 12 feet and 5 feet deep. Into this he poured gradually, as fast as it would freeze solid from the bottom, clean water. By the time cold weather was over this hole was full of solid ice, and he then covered it with about two feet of wild hay. He suggests that the ice will last much longer if it is given a sod house covering. This Canadian makes practical cold storage use of this arrangement by putting in a hog carcass or a half a beef and letting it freeze in with the ice. In the spring as the ice melts around the meat it is cut off and eaten.

A SIMPLE TESTING METHOD.

The cheapest as well as one of the best methods of testing seed corn is by the rag doll method. This plan requires a strip of cotton flannel cloth anywhere from twenty to forty inches long and eight or ten inches wide. Lengthwise of the smooth side in the center of the strip should be drawn a line with a soft pencil. At intervals of three inches and at right angles to this should be drawn cross lines. Beginning at one end in a space of about seven inches should be left at this end the spaces should be numbered back and forth from left to right. After being marked and numbered the cloth should be moistened, which will serve the better to keep the kernels of corn in place. Take the ears of corn to be tested and give each a number, beginning with "1," by fastening a small strawboard label to the butt of each ear by means of an eightpenny nail shoved full length into the pith. Then take six kernels, three from each opposite side so that the tip, middle and butt of the ear will be represented. Kernels from ear No. 1 should be put in space No. 1 and so on. When the kernels are all in place the strip of cloth bearing the kernels to be tested should be rolled up carefully and rather firmly so as to hold the kernels in place. When the roll is finished it should be tied at the end and middle with a piece of binding twine. Germination will be hastened if the "rag doll" is soaked in a dish of warm water for a period of from eighteen to twenty-four hours. It should then be put in a pan or box of sufficient depth and covered with sawdust or mellow earth and put in a warm place and at the same time kept moist. At the end of five days the test should be ready to read. It should be unrolled carefully so that the kernels will stay in place. The kernels in each space should be examined, and their condition, whether dead, strong or weak, should be marked on the tag fastened to the ear having the corresponding number. These ears may be classified according to the reading as one goes along or after the ears are read, as one desires. Any boy or girl can conduct this test once they understand the principle of it. The advantages of this method over the testing box method are ease of handling and inexpensiveness. For these reasons there is no excuse for any farmer guessing as to the condition of his seed corn.

FARM COMFORTS.

The writer visited a modern, yet not expensive farm home the other day and could not but notice that it was fitted up with every convenience of the town home, barring the single exception of electric lights. There were hot and cold hard and soft water on tap on two floors, a fully equipped toilet and in the cellar a furnace heating plant. The cellar was cemented throughout, thus reducing dust and dampness to a minimum. The feature to which the men in this home called especial attention was the bathtub that they said they were in the habit of making frequent use of during the hot, dusty weather of the spring and early summer, when the tilling of the fields was in progress. Farm work is hard enough at best, but it is immensely simplified, from the housewife's standpoint especially, in a home with such modern conveniences. Life on many a farm ought to be transformed by the providing of these conveniences. The old ratty, ill-lighted, stove heated dwelling should be torn down and a modern home built in its stead. We are a long time dead, and it is a pretty good thing to have some of these comforts as we go along when we have the capacity to enjoy them.

WHAT THEY ATE.

In the feeding test which is being made in connection with the national egg laying contest at Mountain Grove, Mo., some interesting things are being noted. It has been found that since these tests started ten hens that have had twenty-eight kinds of feed before them have eaten just the same amounts of wheat and corn and about three times as much of these two feeds as of any other one kind of feed. Rolled oats, millet and sunflower seeds came next in order in the amounts consumed. Of the ready ground feeds very small quantities were eaten, which would seem to indicate that the hen knows why the good Lord gave her a gizzard. About equal quantities of water and buttermilk were consumed. In connection with this feeding test it is also noted that the hens that selected the above ration on their own hook produced the most eggs.

INDIAN RUNNER DUCKS.

The active ranging habit of the Indian Runner duck is nicely shown in the observation of a reader of these notes of a flock of these birds one day last summer. A passing wagon had spilled a streak of oats for a half mile or more in either direction from their headquarters, and during the day our friend and his neighbors saw this flock of Indian Runners along the road in both directions from their home picking up the grains that lay in the road. They kept at it all day and when it grew dark came filing home. It is this activity of this breed of ducks, coupled with their hardness and remarkable egg laying capacity, that makes them so highly prized. Two other points in their favor are that they are immune from roup and other kindred complaints and are not bothered by lice or mites.

THE GENUINE SOUTH BEND CHILLED PLOWS

Are the Standard Throughout the World

No. 3-X Chilled Plow

The No. 3-X Chilled Plow is a light two-horse plow, and admirably fills the requirements where light teams are used. It is a very popular Plow in every section, and should be your favorite too, as we guarantee it to turn satisfactorily any soil in North Carolina.

Gopher No. 50 Subsoil

The Gopher Subsoil should follow your turning plow, loosening up the subsoil and thereby giving your crops a better opportunity to exist when the hot, dry days of summer appear. We believe the No. 50 Gopher Subsoil Plow to be the simplest, strongest, and most substantial subsoil plow on the market.

Springtime Conservation.

Be conservative about spring. Don't let the small boys and girls get too enthusiastic, either, about these warm days. Shoes and stockings will not warm them much for a few weeks more. The ground has not gotten thoroughly warmed yet. There is still too good a chance to catch that last spring cold if we let all the fires go and change from heavy to light undergarments, or cast aside the coats and hats and stockings all at once. Do these things gradually, one by one, instead of all at once the first warm day.

Another strange how otherwise healthy men and women will go from the dry baked air indoors to the fresh extreme outdoors these days, and then never go to the resulting cold pneumonia as a "mysterious disease" of Providence. Their own carelessness is the only mysterious thing about it.

The Half-Inch Hookworm.

The plain or garden variety of hookworm is a second cousin of the one which causes the sleeping sickness and somehow to the microbe that causes the tired feeling. When a hookworm hooks on to the bowels of a poor man the effect is laziness. If by accident it attacks the muscles of a flute, the result is called "fatigue."

The female half-inch hookworm is small, but does not cackle. As it feeds on the blood it accumulates it in its stomach and then it is passed out by anybody who happens to go.

The young half-inch hookworm is small enough to start in business on his own hook, he throws his hook into the bare heel of a cotton picker and starts to work his way up in life. If he gets as far as the stomach his fortune is made. He is now safe to marry and assume the responsibility of raising a large family. Occupying a strategic position, so to say, everything has to come his way. Whatever the cotton picker puts in his mouth, masticates, swallows and digests, is examined by the half-inch hookworm. After sorting out the tidbits, he absorbs them greedily.

On account of the fact that hookworms make a living without any sustenance, they belong to the better class.—The Nat. Rip-Saw.

The hookworm is a little cuss less than half an inch long and about as thick as No. 40 sewing cotton. It was brought here from Africa, along with the darkies. The darkies are associated with hookworms so that thousands of years that they have been immune against the disease that the hookworms cause in the whites.

The hookworm thrives where the sewer takes the place of sewers. It is a people, especially white children, catch the hookworm by running barefoot. The hookworm burrows itself up through the soles of the feet, and then on into the intestines.

Spring Hints.

Here are a few suggestions to aid the ambitious in the worthy project of getting through the spring alive: Shift your underclothing promptly. Putter a little discomfort to the skin than a sore spot on the back.

Control your fireplaces and the furnace fire by the thermometer, not by the calendar.

Keep the air in your house moderately moist by means of pans of water placed under the radiators or over the registers.

Take a cold bath every morning; there is no better defense against taking cold.

Keep your distance from people who cough or sneeze; a cold is as contagious as smallpox.

Don't say, "Oh, it's only a cold." The remedies are full of people who will never say that again.

No individual and no health department alone can ever cope with the cold problem. But all of us, working together, can very effectively cope with it.

Readiness offers a solution for almost every sanitary problem; it will insure more than anything else to solve the problem.

The flies and little children can dwell in the same habitation; if the first aren't killed, the second will be.

To Clean Up Salisbury.

The Industrial Club of Salisbury, believing that houses of prostitution are a detriment to that town commercially as well as morally, is planning a campaign to clean up the red light district that promises to be effective. The Post says the campaign will be made in earnest and there will be no foolishness about it. The plan is this:

"The city authorities will be asked to remove all prostitutes so that there will be none within four blocks of the Southern passenger station and within the same distance of any church, white or black.

"If this is not done by the first of June a campaign of publicity will be gone into at once, and there will be no compromise or shielding any one. In the meanwhile the club will begin to perfect plans for the campaign of publicity, so if there is need for it June 1 there will be no delay. In preparation for this a photographer has been engaged to take pictures of all houses known to be occupied by persons of immoral character and in any way engaged in immoral practices. Cuts will be made from these pictures and a full and accurate data be gathered as to ownership, occupant and other facts relative to the place. Space in the Post has been engaged and in large space and illustrated the story will be told, a plain unvarnished presentation of facts as they exist. Such facts as these will be published: Name of owner; character of tenant; picture of the house; what the police know about the place. These and such other facts as may be necessary will be published from day to day."

This Interests Every Woman.

A family doctor said recently that women come to him thinking that they have female trouble, but when he treats them for their kidneys and they recover. This is bladder, they soon know. This is worth knowing, and also that Foley Kidney Pills are the best and safest medicine at such times. You cannot get better pure medicine for backache, weary dragged out feeling, achy joints, irregular kidney and bladder action and nervousness due to kidney troubles. Try them. They are tonic in action, quick in results. Conyers & Sykes.

MAKE YOUR OWN PAINT

THIS WAY

You can make, or have your painter make, seven gallons of PURE LEAD, ZINC AND LINSEED OIL PAINT, by adding 3 gallons of LINSEED OIL at the price of LINSEED OIL, to 4 gallons of L. & M. SEMI-MIXED REAL PAINT.

The 3 gallons of Oil cost about .....$1.95
The 4 gallons of L. & M. Paint cost about $8.00

The 7 gallons of paint will then cost ....$9.95

THIS WILL BE ABOUT $1.42 PER GALLON

If you only need a few gallons of paint; then buy 3 quarts of Oil to add to each gallon of the L. & M. SEMI-MIXED REAL PAINT.

Are You Nervous?

What makes you nervous? It is the weakness of your womanly constitution, which cannot stand the strain of the hard work you do. As a result, you break down, and ruin your entire nervous system. Don't keep this up! Take Cardui, the woman's tonic. Cardui is made from purely vegetable ingredients. It acts gently on the womanly organs, and helps them to do their proper work. It relieves pain and restores health, in a natural manner, by going to the source of the trouble and building up the bodily strength.

TAKE The CARDUI Woman's Tonic

Mrs. Grace Fortner, of Man, W. Va., took Cardui. This is what she says about it: "I was so weak and nervous, I could not bear to have anyone near me. I had fainting spells, and I lost flesh every day. The first dose of Cardui helped me. Now, I am entirely cured of the fainting spells, and I cannot say enough for Cardui, for I know it saved my life." It is the best tonic for women. Do you suffer from any of the pains peculiar to women? Take Cardui. It will help you. Ask your druggist.

MARSHALL TO YOUNG LAWYERS.

Vice President Lays Down Some Rules For Their Guidance.

Washington, April 26.—In his speech last night at the first annual dinner of the George Washington law school Vice President Marshall laid down some rules for the moral and professional guidance of young lawyers. They comprise a sort of legal ten commandments. Here they are in condensed paraphrase of the vice president's utterances:

1. Don't put a fee before a just cause.
2. Don't worship money to the extent of being willing to write a dishonest contract in order to get a large fee.
3. Be a peacemaker; that is the lawyer's business.
4. Don't chase ambulances.
5. Honor your profession as your own sacred honor; therefore do not seek or confound litigation.
6. Don't accept contingent fees.
7. Use your influence against the system of allowing attorneys' fees in advance in divorce cases; there lies the evil of the divorce laws; when that has been abolished half the divorce cases will be stopped.
8. Use your influence to compel a person charged with crime to testify in the cause; the innocent man cannot be harmed thereby.
9. Take the part of the known criminal, but only to see that justice is tempered with mercy.
10. Don't inquire as to your client's pocketbook before fixing your fee.

Aviator Crosses Isthmus.

Colon, April 27.—Robert G. Fowler, the American aviator, made a flight across the isthmus in a hydroaeroplane today with a passenger.

Fowler left Panama Beach at 9:45 A. M. He circled over Panama city and the entrance to the canal for more than half an hour, ascending to a considerable altitude, and then turned in the direction of Colon. He met strong wind currents over Culebra, but in spite of this was able to carry out various evolutions. Low clouds occasionally hid the earth from view.

The clouds had cleared away by the time he reached Gatun, and a 25-mile breeze was blowing over Colon, where he arrived at 11 o'clock.

He crossed over to Cristobal, and the motor began to miss fire, and then stopped suddenly owing to the failure of the gasoline supply. Fowler brought his hydroaeroplane down gracefully, but it landed on shallow water over a reef, a hole being torn in the pontoon. The machine otherwise was not damaged.

Millionaire Talks to Young People.

Philadelphia, April 27.—In a heart-to-heart talk at the last rally of the Drexel-Biddle Bible classes in the First Methodist church at Camden

Millionaire E. T. Stotesbury, partner of the late J. Pierpont Morgan, advised 1,500 young men and women to prepare for a life of usefulness, develop character, save their money, and that success would most assuredly be their reward.

Mr. Stotesbury said that he saved the $200 and with this as a nest egg laid the foundation for the immense fortune which he now possesses.

Buy L. &amp; M. Semi-Mixed Real Paint.

It's the very best quality paint. It wears best and looks best. It costs the least money. Its use for thirty-seven years has proven these facts. It's white lead, white zinc and linseed oil. Just mix 3 quarts of linseed oil with each gallon of L. & M. Semi-Mixed Real Paint, and make 1 1/2 gallons of pure paint ready for use at a cost of $1.40 per gallon.

The L. & M. Semi-Mixed Real Paint is sold by Gibsonville Hardware and Furniture Co., Gibsonville; Odell Hardware Co., Greensboro.

Danville Man Hero.

In the list of those winning Carnegie hero medals is the following:

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address F. J. ## SCIENCE and INVENTION

STOPPER FOR WATER BOTTLE

Ring Attached to Bottom Prevents It From Being Lost—No Obstacle to Filling Bag.

Water bottle stoppers, like collar buttons, have a mania for getting lost, and without a stopper the bottle is about as much use as it would be without water. It took the combined intellects of a New York man and a New Jersey man to invent something that would keep the stopper where it belonged and the result is shown here. Attached to the bottom of the stopper by a chain several inches long is a ring that is just too long to pass through the neck of the bottle. How the ring got there is another chapter, unless it may be assumed that the bottle was built around it. The chain is long enough to permit the stopper being taken entirely out of the neck of the flask and of course the ring presents no obstacle either to the filling or emptying of the receptacle. This may be a little thing, but it is big enough to save many people the price of a new water bottle, which is what the loss of the old stopper means.

WHAT INVENTION HAS DONE

Among Other Things in Manufacture of Agricultural Implements Much Manual Labor Is Saved.

In leather manufacture modern methods have reduced the necessary number of workers from five to fifty per cent.

A carpet measuring and brushing machine with one operator will do the work of fifteen men by the old methods.

In the manufacture of flour modern improvements save 75 per cent. of the manual labor that once was necessary.

In making tin cans one man and a boy, with modern appliances, can do the work of ten workers by the old process.

One boy, by machinery, in turning wood work and materials for musical instruments, performs the work of twenty-five men by the old methods.

In the manufacture of boots and shoes the work of 500 operatives is now done by 100, a displacement of wage earners of 80 per cent. by aid of machinery.

In the cotton mills the manual labor has been reduced about fifty per cent. Now one weaver manages from two to ten looms, where one loom was formerly tended by one worker.

In the manufacture of brick improved devices save one-tenth of the labor, and in the manufacturing of fire brick 40 per cent. of the manual labor is displaced.

In the manufacture of agricultural implements 600 operatives, with machinery, including eighteen classes of wage earners, do the work of 2,145 wage earners without machinery, displacing 1,545 workers.

LATEST IN FLYING MACHINES

South Dakota Man Invents Apparatus With Plurality of Wings, to Propel and Raise It.

In describing a flying machine, invented by M. M. Renster of Gettysburg, S. D., the Scientific American says:

An object of this inventor is to provide a flying machine with a plurality of wings adapted to be swung through the air, to simultaneously raise and propel the machine. A still further object is to provide a machine with propelling means, and with mechanism for driving the same, the mechanism having an auxiliary driving connection whereby an accidental breakage may happen without destroying the flight of the aeroplane. The machine is shown here with in a front end view in elevation.

DEATHS.

Those Who Have Answered the Summons During the Past Week.

Mr. M. C. Workman.

Mr. M. C. Workman, an old and highly respected resident of Greensboro and known by many of the county people, died suddenly yesterday morning at his home on East Sycamore street.

Although he had retired from active business several years ago on account of his health, he was well enough to enjoy life and be interested in the home which he had provided when a younger man. He was working in his garden a half hour before the summons came, only stopping when he became dizzy from stooping, as he then supposed, but which proved in reality a warning that the end was near.

Besides his widow, a brother living in Greensboro and another in Norfolk survive, the latter, Mr. William W. Workman, being expected to arrive in time for the funeral which will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock from the First Baptist church.

Mrs. C. S. Williams.

After a week's illness Mrs. C. S. Williams died Tuesday night at the home of her son, Dr. J. A. Williams, where she had been on a visit. Her illness was serious from the first, and refused to yield to medical skill.

Mrs. Williams was 76 years old and the widow of the late James P. Williams, of Caswell county. She was a woman of lovable disposition and had made many friends in Greensboro during her short stay in the city.

The remains were taken to Prospect Hill for interment in the old family burying ground.

Mrs. L. H. Edgerton.

Mrs. L. H. Edgerton died yesterday morning at her home at Guilford College station after a long illness.

Mrs. Edgerton was in her 29th year and was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Moore, of Guilford College. She was a member of the Friends church and the funeral will be held from this church at Guilford this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

Mrs. E. J. Rawley.

Mrs. E. J. Rawley, of Mt. Airy, died at 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the home of her sister, Mrs. J. H. Sparger, of No. 402 Blandwood avenue, whom she came to visit two weeks ago. The deceased leaves one daughter, Mrs. Thomas C. McCargo, of Mt. Airy, and a host of relatives and friends, both in this city and in Surry county.

Mrs. Martha Butler.

Mrs. Martha C. Caroline Butler died Saturday afternoon at her home on Spruce street, Proximity. She was 71 years of age and is survived by four children as follows: Frank Clegg, Lead and Mrs. Ella Long. The funeral was held Monday at Camp Springs church, Rev. Mr. Byers conducting the services.

SEDALIA.

Capt. R. C. Dick has a force of hands putting in a new bridge at the angle ford.

Mr. Andy Whit, who has been seriously sick for the past few months, is able to be out again.

Mrs. Johnnie Lawrence, of Catawba, is spending some time visiting her sisters, Mrs. R. B. Andrew and Mrs. W. H. Pauley.

Mrs. Mary Gray has recently purchased a handsome new piano.

Communion services were held at Bethel Sunday. The pastor, Rev. R. E. Redding, preached an earnest sermon from second Cor. 5:20-21. On the second Sunday in May a congregational meeting will be held for the purpose of electing two elders and two deacons.

Mrs. Florence Ferguson and Messrs. George V. Poone and D. L. Summers visited at Mrs. Ella Boone's on Saturday night. We are sorry to note that Mrs. Boone is in feeble health.

Notice to Veterans.

Headquarters Guilford Camp U. C. V. No. 795. All members of this camp are hereby notified that the annual meeting will be held in the court house at 9 o'clock A. M., May 10, 1913, important business. Be on hand promptly.

W. W. WOOD,
Adjutant.

Dr. H. W. McCain, of High Point, narrowly escaped death Friday morning at the railroad crossing in the southern part of that city. He was in his automobile and rode up near the track and stopped for a train of cars to pass. After this train pulled by he attempted to cross and while on the track he spied another string of cars coming from the other direction and almost on him. He threw his machine into high and then it choked down and suddenly stopped. The car was knocked into splinters. He saved his life by jumping over the back seat.

MARRIAGES.

Cupid Continues His Activities in Season and Out of Season.

Corbett-Harris.

Invitations to the marriage of Miss Lenora Graves Harris and William Warren Corbett, both of Mebane, have been issued by Mr. Charles Stanhope Harris, father of the bride-to-be. The wedding will occur at the Harris country place, near Mebane, on the afternoon of Thursday, May 8.

Both Miss Harris and Mr. Corbett are well known in Greensboro and throughout the state. The former is a graduate of the Normal College and while a student there made many friends in Greensboro.

Mr. Corbett is one of Mebane's best known and most successful young business men. He is president of the Mebane Bedding Company and identified with other interests in that enterprising manufacturing town.

Willis-Farris.

The marriage of Miss Mabel Lee Willis and Edward Holden Farris was solemnized at 9:30 o'clock in the Episcopal church at Washington, N. C., on Tuesday evening, April 22. Rev. Mr. Hardin officiating. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward King Willis, one of the oldest families of eastern Carolina. The bridegroom, is a rising young lawyer and talented journalist of High Point, and is widely known.

Lindley-Gunn.

The engagement of Mr. Paul C. Lindley, of Greensboro, to Miss Helen Marie Gunn, of Tampa, Florida, was announced a few days ago at an elaborate reception in honor of the bride-to-be held in Tampa at the home of her aunt. Date of the wedding was not given.

Engagement Announced.

The engagement of V. H. Ballard, of this city, and Miss Bessie Withers, of Wentworth, has been announced, the wedding to take place May 28.

NEWS OF THE OLD NORTH STATE

Survey of What is Transpiring in the Commonwealth.

A Linville Falls special states that a destructive forest fire has been raging on Linville mountain for several days, and that the loss to timber, fences, galax and berry bushes will run up into thousands of dollars.

A full ticket composed of a mayor and eight aldermen has been announced at High Point. O. Arthur Kirkman has entered the race for mayor against Fred N. Tate, the present incumbent. Both sides are now represented by strong tickets.

Not a street car was operated in Asheville Saturday or Sunday. Mayor Rankin warned the street car company that it would be dangerous to attempt to operate cars with strikebreakers and that he would not be responsible for consequences if it were attempted. The strikers, 87 in number, were orderly throughout the day, but up to midnight Saturday had reached no agreement.

Three hundred and fifty of the 499 looms operated by the Holt-Morgan cotton mills at Fayetteville are standing idle, owing to a strike among the weavers. The striking operatives are demanding an increase of five cents per "cut," alleging that an inferior quality of warp is being furnished them, upon which they cannot make full time as piecework. The owners have refused their demands.

The trial of D. G. Wagoner, at Dobson, charged with setting fire to his store in Elkin on the night of December 16, 1912, which resulted in the wiping out of a large section of the town, came to an end Saturday morning when the jury returned a verdict of not guilty. The trial of Wagoner attracted widespread interest and more than 100 witnesses were in attendance at Dobson during the trial before Judge Cook in Superior court last week.

Next month the State Federation of Woman's clubs will meet in New Bern. The Woman's club of that place has invited the clubs in the nearby towns to attend the federation each day in a body and that they would be served luncheon by the local club. By doing this it is hoped that the benefits of the Federation will be more widely scattered in the neighboring towns, as it is impossible for the smaller clubs to be listed in a large delegation.

The finance committee of the Raleigh board of aldermen has directed the accountant to continue their probe into the books of John S. Jones, city tax collector, for a period of eight years, his entire tenure in office. The discovery of an item of over $1,000 not reported and the finding of over $18,000 in uncollected taxes for the years of 1910 and 1911 led the committee to believe that more taxes may yet be accounted for, if the system of collecting was no better four, six and eight years ago than it was for the past two years.

We Sell Shoes

LOTS AND LOTS
