In his sermon at the First Presbyterian church Sunday night Rev. Dr. Smith referred to the modern theater, the influence of which he considers entirely bad. Dr. Smith said there was no connection between the modern theater and true dramatic art.

Makes a Clean Sweep.

There's nothing like doing a thing thoroughly. Of all the Salves you ever heard of, Bucklen's Arnica Salve is the best. It sweeps away and cures Burns, Sores, Bruises, Cuts, Boils, Ulcers, Skin Eruptions and Piles. It's only 25c, and guaranteed to give satisfaction by C. E. Holton, druggist.

The Southern Loan and Trust Company, which has just decided to open a branch in South Greensboro, will erect a handsome building as a home for the institution. The building will be of brick, with a front of pressed brick and granite or metal trimmings.

The Southern Railway now has a station master on duty at the passenger station in this city. It is his duty to announce the arrival and departure of trains and to look after things around the station in general. His presence is quite an accommodation to the traveling public.

The University of North Carolina and the University of Virginia baseball teams will play an interesting game here on Thursday afternoon of next week, April 30th. At night a big dance will be given at the Benbow, complimentary to the members of the two teams.

Mr. E. H. Fox, one of the Greensboro Electric Company's conductors, received a severe electric shock while standing on the rear platform of an open car one evening last week. He fell from the car and struck his head against the stone pavement, inflicting quite a painful wound.

Last Thursday afternoon Mr. R. D. Douglas spoke on the good roads bond issue to quite a large crowd at Smith's schoolhouse, in Madison township. He was given an attentive hearing by an intelligent and appreciative audience and found a healthy sentiment in favor of the bond issue.

Mr. W. H. Richardson, a brother of Mr. J. N. Richardson, of this city, has arrived from Fort Worth, Tex., to spend the remainder of his days in Greensboro. He will make his home with the family of Dr. J. E. Wyche. Mr. Richardson is 86 years old and has lived in Texas for many years.

Mr. G. A. Grimley, who has been secretary of the company since its organization, has been elected manager of agents for the Security Life and Annuity Company, succeeding Mr. E. Colwell, who resigned a short time ago. Mr. Grimley will continue as agent, performing the duties of both offices.

Mr. Cameron Gales has resigned his position as chief clerk in the office of Superintendent Coapman, of this division of the Southern Railway, and will leave about the first of May for New York, where he will be employed by the American Tobacco Company. It is not yet known who will succeed him in Superintendent Coapman's office.

Mr. John S. Michaux, city clerk, reports that, during the past fiscal year, the sum of $20,279.96 was expended on permanent street improvements in Greensboro. During this same period the expenditure for sewerage purposes amounted to $2,063.04. These amounts have been charged to the bond funds for street improvement and sewerage extension.

A number of traveling men and jobbers met in Greensboro Saturday night and reorganized Post A of the North Carolina division of the Traveler's Protective Association of America. The following officers were elected: C. H. Ireland, president; R. H. Brooks, vice-president; Oscar Williams, secretary and treasurer. The membership of the post is about 40.

Messrs. W. F. Hayward and F. S. Pennypacker, prominent real estate men and bankers of Washington, D. C., have purchased real estate in Greensboro and expect to make important and extensive investments here. While they have not matured their plans, it is probable that they will organize a company to engage in the real estate, loan and trust business.

The municipal campaign in Greensboro has reached the stage where the adherents of the various candidates are flooding the local papers with communications showing why their favorites should be selected to save the city from impending ruin and disaster. Although the primaries will not be held until the 28th inst., everybody is taking much interest in the contest.

Saturday afternoon the Proximity baseball team defeated a team made up from the Greensboro lodge of Elks in a game of ball that was thoroughly enjoyable, to say the least. At the end of the game it was found that the score stood 29 to 8 in favor of Proximity, reminding one of the good old days when a team's prowess was judged by the number of runs that could be piled up.

Whether you are in favor of the proposed law or not, come out and hear the measure thoroughly discussed and fully explained. Our speakers will gladly answer all questions pertaining to the measure.

Respectfully,
A. M. SCALES,
R. D. DOUGLAS,
Joint Chairmen.

Court House to be Enlarged.

The Guilford county court house is to be enlarged and improved. This was definitely decided last Friday afternoon, when the county commissioners instructed Mr. Frank P. Milburn, a well known architect of Columbia, S. C., to prepare plans for an addition of 24 feet to the north end of the building. On the ground floor of this addition modern steel vaults will be built for the clerk of the court and the register of deeds, while room will also be provided for private officers for these officials. The new vaults will be fitted with steel filing cabinets and will be as near fire-proof as it is possible to make them.

The court room will be materially improved. The ceiling will be lowered four feet and a new steel ceiling put in. The room will be seated with nice opera chairs and the judge's stand will be changed from the east to the north end of the room. The benches at present in the court room will be transferred to a gallery to be built in the south end of the room. There will be five rooms in the north end of the building for the use of the judge, juries, witnesses, etc. The present grand jury room, which is on the first floor, will be converted into a commissioners' room. An additional stairway will also be built on the north end of the building.

It is proposed to begin the work of enlarging and improving the building in June and it is thought that it can be completed in three months. If the improvements can be made in this length of time, the work will interfere with only one term of court.

The proposed improvements will give Guilford as modern and convenient a court house as there is in North Carolina. There is more than enough money available to pay for all the work.

Young Man Killed.

The body of Mr. Arthur Fields, who met death by an accident in a lumber camp, reached this city last night from the western part of Tennessee. The body was accompanied by a friend, who stated that Mr. Fields met death by being caught under a rolling log, which mashed his head. Telegrams were sent to relatives of the deceased apprising them of the sad accident, but in some way the messages were not delivered.

Mr. Fields was probably 26 or 27 years old and had been living in Tennessee for about a year. He was a son of Mr. Harrison Fields, who resides in the Buffalo church neighborhood, and a brother of Mr. Charles Fields, of the Wakefield Hardware Company.

One hundred farm wagons and 200 buggies and carriages in stock at Townsend & Co.'s, all bought before the advance in price. Sold on easy payments. Come and see them. 14-4t

TOBACCO NOTES.

Items of Interest to the Grower, the Dealer, and the Manufacturer.

MARKET REPORT.

The receipts on our market for the past week have been the smallest for several weeks, which we attribute to two causes: First, that tobacco is about all sold out, and second, farmers are very busy with their farm work and will not stop to bring tobacco to market.

The quality of the offerings was very good, in fact, better than it has been for several weeks past, and the condition of the tobacco was excellent.

Prices on all grades remain about the same, to a shade better. We notice some grades are bringing from 25 cents to $1 per 100 pounds more than they were a week ago. We would advise farmers to put the remainder of their tobacco on market as early as convenient, as we are of the opinion that tobacco will go lower as soon as a few of the buyers begin to wind up their year's work, which will be within the next three or four weeks.

E. L. Adkins sold a load of tobacco last week from 6 to 13 1/2 cents.

A. D. Chandler was a well pleased patron of the market last week.

Mr. Jacob Sharpe, of Alamance, made good sales on the market Friday.

G. D. Green sold two loads here last Friday and two again on Saturday.

Mr. A. W. Scoggins was on the market with tobacco one day the past week.

J. R. Jeffreys, from South Alamance, sold a lot of tobacco on the market last Thursday for $116.58.

Weldon Smith made a sale here on Wednesday that was very satisfactory, realizing $70.05 for his load.

Mr. Rylie Sutton sold a load of tobacco last week for $85.70. Mr. Sutton was well pleased with his prices.

S. M. and R. G. Brown were on the market again last week. Their prices were $5.50, $8.25, $9.50, $10.75 and $14.75.

G. A. Summers, of Alamance, sold here last Thursday. His prices were satisfactory, ranging from $6.75 to $11.75.

W. F. King, Cobb & Chilcutt, W. D. Lambeth, Lambeth & Roberson, Rufus Watlington, Green & Wagoner, Johnson & Fryor, Susie Johnson, prominent Guilford tobacco raisers, were on the market last week.

Some of Guilford's farmers who patronized the market within the past few days are: J. C. Cobb, S. E. Coletrane, J. F. Jessup, I. R. Troxler, Troxler Bros., Thos. Caffey, W. S. Holt, Carter & Sockwell, J. D. Hufflines, Barber & Summers, Paschal & Smith and J. F. Marsh.

Deaths of a Week.

Mrs. Calista Wood, the aged mother of Messrs. W. P. and Thomas J. Wood, of Randolph county; Rev. Dr. Frank H. Wood, of Durham, and Mrs. James R. Pearce, of this city, died at the home of the latter last Thursday. The remains were carried to Asheboro, at which place the funeral took place Friday morning. Mrs. Wood was 86 years old, and until recently, had been active and vigorous for a person of her age. The direct cause of her death was cancer of the tongue, from which she had suffered for some time. Mrs. Wood had for a number of years divided her time between the homes of her son, Mr. W. P. Wood, of Asheboro, and her daughter, Mrs. Pearce. She was a devout member of the Methodist Church.

Miss Annette Tate, of this city, died last Wednesday night at a hospital in Salisbury, where she was carried about three weeks ago to undergo an operation for appendicitis. The remains were brought to Greensboro Thursday and on the following day the funeral took place from the home of the bereaved parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Tate. The service was conducted by Rev. Dr. L. W. Crawford.

The six-weeks-old baby of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Groome died Sunday and was buried at Shady Grove Monday.

During the past week several cases have been brought against the Southern Railway here for non-delivery of freight in a reasonable length of time. The cases were brought under a law passed by the last legislature for the protection of shippers. In Justice Pritchett's court Saturday Mr. E. E. Bain was given judgment for $40 in a case in which the Southern was charged with allowing a car of lumber to remain on the siding at Pleasant Garden for 48 hours. The Guilford Lumber Company was given judgments for $50 and $40 in two cases in which shipments from Asheboro to Greensboro were delayed. All these cases were appealed to the Superior court.

CIVILIZED TEETH

Toothache and tooth decay are among the penalties of civilization. The savage has no need of dentists. Only a few years ago though the dentist was a savage. If a tooth ached he simply worked away at it with crude and barbarous tools until he got it out. What a difference a few years have brought about. I am now extracting teeth without pain by the most modern and scientific methods and instruments, and am saving teeth and restoring them to good service that not long ago were condemned and taken out. I have all the appliances and employ all the scientific methods known to modern dentistry. Come to see me when you have tooth troubles. My prices are right and my work is guaranteed.

LOCAL NEWS.

Fewer gallons; wears longer.

A wealthy retired merchant from West Virginia is preparing to invest quite a large sum of money in Greensboro.

Don't buy a binder, mower or rake until you see Townsend & Co. They have some special inducements to offer.

Mr. W. C. Whitworth is now with the Greensboro Electric Company, holding a position as motorman on the street car line.

Buy a Barbour buggy from Townsend & Co. and get a chance to draw a prize worth from $30 to $210 without a cent of cost to you.

Contractor J. C. Morris went to Elon College last week with a force of men to build an addition to the Southern's depot at that place.

Mr. J. A. Giles, an attorney from Pittsboro, and editor of the Chatham Citizen, was here the latter part of last week on professional business.

Prof. T. Gilbert Pearson, of the State Normal and Industrial College, lectured at Guilford College Saturday night on "The Wild Animal's Place in Nature."

The two suits brought recently by Miss Versa M. Glenn against Julius C. Watson were compromised last Wednesday, Mr. Watson paying the plaintiff two hundred dollars and settling the costs.

Harrison's new drug store, in the Hotel Guilford building, is an addition to the business houses of Greensboro. Mr. Tom Pemberton, of this city, who was recently licensed as a pharmacist, is the prescription clerk.

FOR SALE OR RENT—The Presbyterian manse three miles east of Greensboro. Good six-room house, outbuildings, and nearly three acres of ground. Apply to J. W. Alexander or W. D. Wharton, Greensboro, N. C.

Mr. F. J. Muir has resigned the superintendency of the Fort Mill, S. C., Manufacturing Company to take a responsible position with the Cone Export and Commission Company, of this city. He will move to Greensboro about May 1st.

Mr. D. R. Huffines has moved his bottling works into his new building on Ash street. The first floor of the building he has vacated will be occupied by the Southern Express Company as a transfer station and the remainder of the building will be utilized by Hotel Huffines.

Stephen Combs, of Wilkes county, who is under indictment in the United States District court for stealing a horse and becoming involved in a violation of the internal revenue laws, was last Thursday released from the Guilford county jail on bond. His trial was to have come up at the recent term of court, but was postponed until the October term.

The Bethany Normal and Industrial Institute, located in the eastern part of this county, and conducted for the benefit of colored youths, offers good facilities for securing a normal and industrial training. Thirty or more acres of land have been set apart for the work of the industrial department. The principal of the school is Rev. M. L. Baldwin, who attended Talladega College, at Talladega, Ala., graduating from the theological department of that institution.

The suit of Mr. M. H. Dooley, chief law agent of the Southern Railway, against the Charlotte Observer, for alleged libel, came up before Judge Boyd, at chambers, a few days ago, on the argument of the demurrer filed to the complaint. Judge Boyd overruled the demurrer and the case stands for trial at the October term of the District court. The case was argued for Mr. Dooley by Col. W. A. Henderson, the Southern's chief attorney, and Judge W. P. Bynum, of this city, and by Judge A. Burwell, of Charlotte, for the Observer.

Revenue officers made a big haul in Caswell county last week, when they captured and destroyed an illicit distillery of 100 gallons capacity. The distillery was constructed in the interior of an old building and the owner had been doing a thriving business for some time, disposing of all the corn liquor he could make. Last week illicit distilleries were also captured in Durham, Cumberland and Granville counties. Revenue officers in this division have been very active during the present year, having made an unusually large number of seizures. When the peach and apple crops come in, it is believed that many people will register brandy distilleries for the prime purpose of manufacturing blockade corn whiskey.

A Great Sensation.

There was a big sensation in Leesville, Ind., when W. H. Brown of that place, who was expected to die, had his life saved by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. He writes: "I endured insufferable agonies from Asthma, but your New Discovery gave me immediate relief and soon thereafter effected a complete cure." Similar cures of Consumption, Pneumonia, Bronchitis and Grip are numerous. It's the peerless remedy for all throat and lung troubles. Price 50c, and $1.00. Guaranteed by C. E. Holton, druggist.

A Soldier's Watch Returned After 41 Years.

Mrs. Annie G. Fariss, of this city, has just come in possession of a gold watch which was worn by her brother, Capt. Henry C. Gorrell, of Company E, Second North Carolina Regiment, C. S. A., at the time of his death, now almost 41 years ago. Capt. Gorrell was killed at the battle of Seven Pines, on June 18, 1862, and at the time had on his person the watch and a copy of the New Testament, which his sister had presented to him when he left for the army. On the following day the watch and Testament were taken from the dead body by two brothers, musicians in a Massachusetts regiment of the Union army. A short time ago one of these men, Mr. George A. Brigham, of Charlestown, Mass., wrote Mr. John J. Nelson, clerk of the Superior court of Guilford county, that he had ascertained that Capt. Gorrell was a native of this county and added that he would like to be put in communication with any of the surviving relatives of the dead soldier. He was given the address of Mrs. Fariss and correspondence followed which resulted in the return to her of the handsome old gold watch of her dead brother.

Mr. Brigham writes that the watch passed into the possession of a citizen of Maine and that, while thinking of the matter recently, he concluded that it would be a nice thing to return it to the relatives of Capt. Gorrell. Accordingly he purchased the old time-piece and sent it to the sister of his former foe. Mr. Brigham was unable to return the Testament, for the reason that it was lost or misplaced a number of years ago. It was the Testament which established the identity of Capt. Gorrell, his name have been written on a fly leaf.

The remains of Capt. Gorrell were brought to Greensboro about two weeks after his death and interred in the old Presbyterian burying ground.

Commencement Speakers at Davidson College.

Davidson College is peculiarly fortunate in her list of speakers for the approaching commencement, May 24-25.

The baccalaureate sermon is preached on May 24th by Rev. John Sparhawk Jones, D. D., of Philadelphia, one of the most brilliant pulpit orators of the whole country. On the evening of the same day the annual sermon before the Young Men's Christian Association is delivered by Rev. R. F. Campbell, D. D., of Asheville.

On the evening of Monday, May 25th, the speakers before the literary societies are Hon. W. F. Stevenson, Cheraw, S. C., and A. L. Gaston, Esq., Chester, S. C.

The commencement orator is President Ira Remsen, of Johns Hopkins University, who speaks at 11 A. M., Tuesday, May 26th. Dr. Remsen is not only a profound chemist, and a great administrator, but also famous as a public speaker. He has made very few public addresses in the South, and the friends of Davidson are to be congratulated on this opportunity of hearing him.

Wednesday, May 27th, is commencement day, the exercises consisting of orations by representatives of the senior class, the delivery of diplomas, etc.

Letter to Peebles Shoe Company, Greensboro, N. C.

Dear Sirs: You know all about shoes. How many customers have you who know anything about 'em?

You have bought and sold shoes for years, and have learned what you know by your customers' liking one sort, and not liking another. They find out by wearing 'em.

So with paint; but we go deeper. We are 149 years old in the business; and we make, not buy—we make a good deal of paint.

We paint a good share of railroad and steamer property in the United States, and may as well paint the private property. Yours as anybody else's.

Devco Lead and Zinc is your paint. Costs half as much as mixed paint or lead and oil because it takes fewer gallons and wears twice as long.

Beck Bros. & Co., Williamsport, Pa., write: Mr. Ezra Rathmell had used 11 gallons of a well-known mixed paint for his house; he repainted it this year with Devco Lead and Zinc; bought 11 gallons and had 5 gallons left.

Yours truly,

Is not far off now and we want to call your attention to our "Sure Crop" Daisy Corn Planter, the cut of which you see above. Of course, as we are selling this planter, it would be perfectly natural for us to claim that "it is the very best planter made," but we will not do that for we don't know how many different kinds of planters there are in this big world, and it would be a mighty big statement to make to say that we had the best. But the farmers who have used this make of planter say that it is the best one sold in Greensboro, and they are usually the best judges of such things. If you want a planter which is simple, accurate, durable and easy to manage, we have it in our "Sure Crop." This planter has the corn box behind and each grain can be seen as it drops—no guess work about it. This planter will handle any kind of fertilizer, putting on from 20 to 450 pounds per acre. This planter will plant any depth—you can use your own judgment. This planter will handle any size grain. It has four corn rings and we give free one each pea and bean ring. This planter can be thrown in or out of gear without stopping the horse, which is not true of some other makes. This planter is the one for you to buy if you want a good one. This planter is fully guaranteed and you get your money back if it is not as we represent it. We want you to see it before making up your mind as to the kind you will buy this season. WILKES BOND CASE.

Argument in the Supreme Court of the United States.

Washington Special to Raleigh Post, 17th.

The Wilkes county bond case, involving the issue of $100,000 of bonds for the construction of the Northwestern North Carolina Railroad, was argued before the Supreme court of the United States today. The argument, which was not begun until shortly before the recess hour, was not concluded, and as the court does not meet tomorrow will not be resumed until Monday.

The interesting feature of today's argument was the caustic remarks of Judge John F. Dillon, the New York lawyer, with respect to the "repudiation of bonds debts" by governments. "The county commissioners of Wilkes," Judge Dillon declared, "come before this court and ask you to hold these bonds invalid because, and only because, there was no legal authority, as alleged, to build this road one inch beyond Winston. Not a bond was issued until the road was built into Wilkes and interest was paid on them for six years afterwards. It is a wretched business, this act of repudiation by the commissioners, the very people who issued the bonds. The people of the county voted twice for these bonds, the first time they voted for the only the nation they have with the outside world. In an evil hour and upon had advice the county entered upon this foolish policy of repudiation."

Judge A. C. Avery, who represents the county of Wilkes, had the opening argument, and for an hour and twenty minutes he elaborated the facts in the case, going over the history of the suit which was decided in favor of the county by the Supreme court of North Carolina, and afterwards, on an appeal to the Circuit Court of Appeals, was decided in favor of the bondholders, W. S. Coler & Co., of New York.

After Judge Dillon concludes his argument Monday, Judge Avery will resume and submit the final argument in the case to the court.

O. H. Price and Harry Hubbard, of New York, who appear for the bondholders, were present, but they will not speak. Several maps were exhibited in the court by defendants, showing the geographical location of the railroad in controversy. Justices Brewer and Day did not sit on the case today.

In his argument Judge Avery contended that it was not a question of bond repudiation, as maintained, but that no power was granted in the charter of the Northwestern North Carolina Railroad or any amendment thereof to authorize Wilkes county to issue bonds. The other side maintained that this authority did exist and that likewise authority was granted in the general law. Judge Avery contended that the established rule of the Federal courts is to reserve all reasonable doubts in favor of the construction placed by the state tribunals upon their statutes.

Judge Avery said further: "Under the established rule Federal courts must lean toward an agreement of views of the state courts because on the last hearing of the Stanley county bond case, involving only the construction of the road sections 1,966 to 2,000, the Circuit Court of Appeals, in Commissioners vs. Coler, agreed with the state court in holding that said sections were insufficient to empower a county to issue bonds, all of the judges concurring, while only a majority concurred on rehearing to overrule that decision."

MR. COBB PROMOTED.

Former Greensboro Man's Success With Big Trust.

Mr. J. S. Cobb, who was formerly engaged in the tobacco business in this city and who, for some time, has been general manager of the leaf department of the American Tobacco Company's Richmond branch, has been appointed manager of the leaf department of the British-American Tobacco Company, the future headquarters of Mr. Cobb will be in Durham. He will take up his residence in North Carolina at once. He will assume entire charge of the leaf department of the British-American. Just how the offices will operate cannot yet be ascertained, but it is supposed that it will be under the general supervision of the American headquarters.

The British-American Company is a factor in the tobacco world and its movements just now are of exceeding interest. It is a combination of the American tobacco trusts—the Consolidated of America and the Imperial of Great Britain—through which combine these two concerns intend to dominate the trade of the world. Its organization makes it somewhat of an unknown quantity of particular interest.

In the past few days the British-American, the trade of which will be largely export, has indicated that it is going to settle down to work in earnest. The purchase of the T. W. Bates Company, the largest independent concern in the United States, and that it would go in for it on a cash basis. The appointment of Mr. Cobb likewise shows that the new organization is now being very actively discussed is whether or not the concern will have buyers on its staffs, independent from those of the A. T. C. Company and the Consolidated. This means much, for in the concentration of the tobacco trusts competition upon which the industry depends is removed. The British-American would become one of the important buyers in the world.

Cut his Throat.

Charlotte, April 18.—R. A. Puckett, a young man in a ditch a mile from his home in Paw Creek township, late last night with his throat cut from ear to ear. The deed was done with a pen-knife. Mr. Puckett left home yesterday with his married daughter, and no more was heard of him until a neighbor revealed his body in the ditch. He was lifted to the ground and expired in a few minutes. His last words being: "I did it myself." His brain had been affected for some time. In a note book found near his body was written: "I can't read my brain." He was a well to do prominent farmer.

Good Roads Would Bring a New Era in Guilford.

JAMESTOWN, APRIL 14, 1903. Hon. A. M. Scales:

Dear Sir—You ask for my views on the good roads bond issue. I am for the bonds.

I regret that sickness prevents me from taking part in the good roads campaign. Good roads would bring a new era in old Guilford—would quicken and vitalize every interest, and especially so the farming interest. Good roads would be the beginning of many better things. They would give good free rural mail routes for all the county—would be the forerunner of more rapid transit for the more thickly settled parts of the county, and in time would most likely bring a county telephone system. In fact, the possibility and probability for old Guilford are beyond our most sanguine expectations if we as a people only stand together and use our resources—in this case only a little credit.

Our tax will be no higher. All the money, except a little for machinery, will be spent among us. In this case if the bonds are voted down, no doubt in the near future the road tax will be raised to build the roads. The good roads are bound to come, and there is no power that can stay their coming long. This is the situation today, and no backward movement will be made. We may be held up for the time—if so only to gather strength for the next contest.

Our farming population is conservative and cautious. They wish to fully investigate everything before they accept it. This is right. We trust they will fully investigate this question as broad gauge citizens, willing to all pull together for a grand forward movement for the noble old county of Guilford.

If the bonds fail, I shall feel it is a calamity to our county—to be removed only by renewing the battle and keeping in the field until victory crowns our efforts.

Most truly,
J. S. RAGSDALE.

Local Train Strikes a Rock.

Salisbury Special to Charlotte Observer, 17th.

No. 7, the afternoon south-bound local passenger train on the Southern Railway, struck a large rock weighing several hundred pounds, between High Point and Thomasville, this afternoon, and as the train was going at full speed, it seems a marvel that it was not wrecked like No. 97, the fast mail, when it struck a rock on the same section of track several days ago. The rock was smashed to pieces and a violent shock was given the engine and front cars. No one was injured and no serious damage was done. Even the pilot of the engine was not altogether demolished, as the engine seems to have glided over the rock. The train arrived in Salisbury about 50 minutes late, not having changed engines until it reached Spencer.

A small negro boy made an unsuccessful attempt to flag down the train in time by waving his hat, and a purse of five dollars was made up for him by the passengers. From all the circumstances there seems to be no doubt among the passengers that the rock was purposely placed on the track. This is the view taken by the passengers seen. Less than two hours before, No. 30, running behind time, had passed the point where No. 7 encountered the rock. If this belief is true, the wreck of No. 97 is also explained, and it only remains to hunt down the criminals.

The Durham and Charlotte Road.

Chatham Record.

The surveyors of the Durham and Charlotte Railroad Company will move their camp in a few days to some place near Peck's mill, on Haw river, and proceed on their preliminary survey toward Greensboro. They will not cross Haw river on this survey, but will go by Saxanahaw and Graham. The proposed road to Durham has not been abandoned, but it will not be built until after the construction of the road from here to Greensboro. Mr. John B. Lennig, of Philadelphia, the president of the company, made a short visit to this place on last Friday, and rode that afternoon to Gulf in order to see the route that had been surveyed and adopted between there and this place. He was much pleased with the route, and was gratified to find that our people are duly appreciating his efforts to build a railroad which will so much benefit our county.

Workmen Threatened.

Asheville, April 17.—The feeling of antagonism which exists here between labor organizations and certain contractors became manifest today when two non-union stonemasons employed on Central Methodist church received an anonymous letter saying they must cease work. Contractor Westall, who has the work in charge, says the men will not be intimidated and that he believes he could put his hand on the man who wrote it. The letter was written on union stationery.

Brodnax to Hang May 22.

John Brodnax, the 15-year-old negro boy who murdered Mr. Sydney Blair, a farmer living near Reidsville, on March 18th, was convicted in the Superior court of Rockingham county last Thursday and sentenced to be hanged on May 22nd. The jury arrived at a verdict within fifteen minutes.

The question was recently submitted to Attorney General Gilmer whether a voter in the coming municipal elections must pay his poll tax for 1902 or whether the payment for 1901 is all the law requires. The attorney general holds that the language, "for the previous year," means the year 1902 and before an elector can vote next month he must have paid last year's poll tax on or before May 1st.

The members of the Rockingham county board of education have decided to have a two-weeks' teachers' institute in Wentworth next summer. It will be conducted by Prof. Curtis, of Burlington. Superintendent Ellington will arrange to have a number of addresses and lectures by prominent educators and others.

A BATTLE WITH DESPERADOES.

The Sheriff Leading the Assailing Party Killed and a Constable Fatally Wounded

Bakersfield, Cal., April 19.—James McKinney, the outlaw, was shot and killed today. Deputy Sheriff Tibbitts was also killed and Constable Packard was shot fatally.

Sheriff Kelly, of Kern; Collins, of Tulare, and Lovin, of Arizona counties, with Officers Will and Burt Tibbitts, Gus Tower and City Marshal Packard, surrounded McKinney shortly before 11 o'clock in a house. Will Tibbitts approached the house and ordered him to surrender. McKinney opened fire, and Tibbitts was shot through the stomach. Packard was shot through the neck and shoulders and dangerously wounded. Burt Tibbitts, a brother of the dead deputy sheriff, shot McKinney through the mouth and neck, killing him.

McKinney has been in Bakersfield two days and was harbored by friends in a Chinese joss house. The house was a regular fort. In the place with McKinney was Hut Hulze, a desperado. McKinney had a sawed-off shot-gun and Hulze used a pistol. Hulze would not obey the order to come out of the barricaded house and the fire department was ordered to the scene. Hulze gave himself up. He was taken to jail. An immense mob surrounded the jail and tried to take him from the officers.

Another accomplice of McKinney was known to be in the house where the battle took place, but he would not surrender. At 4:50 P. M. the building was set on fire and he was soon smoked out and taken to jail.

McKinney was accused of having committed several murders. He was a native of California and was first sent to prison for murder and after he was released went to Randsburg, Cal., where he figured in some farther shooting trouble. He escaped trial, coming to Bakersfield soon afterward, where in the latter part of 1900, he shot and killed Tom Sears, a gambler, as a result of a dispute over a game of cards. No one saw the fight and McKinney was acquitted. Last July, in Portville, he killed one man, and wounded Constable John Willis and another man, in a drunken row. He made a sensational escape from capture and for several months wandered unmolested about the country. A few weeks ago Sheriff Collins located him at Hermisillo, Mexico, and application for his extradition was made. The Mexican authorities had released him before the arrival of the papers and he disappeared again for parts unknown. Nothing was heard from him until April 5, until news came that McKinney had murdered Charles Blakely, known as the "Cowboy pianist," and a young miner. Nothing definite is known for the cause of the murder, but it is thought that McKinney took the men for officers and laid in wait for them on the trail. After the shooting he went to a ranch and compelled the rancher to shoe two horses for him and then rode away.

Good Roads Would be a God-Send.

FRIENDSHIP, April 18, 1903. Chairman Good Roads Campaign Committee:

GENTLEMEN—Possibly a word from this part of the county might induce some good voter who does not feel sufficiently interested to speak a good word, much less to vote for good roads at the coming election, to wake up and not only vote but work for good roads, and induce his friends to do likewise.

We have an opportunity to help ourselves, and we should all go to the polls on the 12th of May and say by casting our votes that we want good roads and want them now. Some one has said that good roads would be a benefit to both town and country. Let us make it stronger and say they would be a blessing, yes more, they would be a Godsend to everyone. Let us avail ourselves of a good thing while we have the opportunity.

Respectfully,
T. T. DUDLEY.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know it.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours: a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes.

You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail, address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

NO HEART IN THE INVESTIGATION.

Trying to Hush the Postoffice Scandal—
Other News From Washington.

Correspondence of the PATRIOT.

Washington, April 20.—"If the President desires a thorough investigation of the postoffice scandals and the exposure of the rascals rather than a whitewashing, he had better manage to infuse a little of his strenuousness into his postmaster general," said a prominent official of the government to your correspondent today, and that is the general impression among all who have closely watched the course of events since Postmaster General Payne returned from his Southern cruise. It is evident that the postmaster general has no heart in the investigations which are being conducted by Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Bristow and that, as a result of political influence, or for other reasons, he would like to prolong the affair until the public is weary of it, and then drop it with as little publicity as possible. With an evident desire to curtail the publicity which the affair has been receiving in the newspapers, the postmaster general has twice taken occasion to say to the newspaper correspondents, whom he receives each day at 4 P. M., that he would expect them to prove the allegations which they send to their papers and that it was more than possible that General Bristow would attempt to drag them into the investigation and make them testify as to the sources of their information. Charges of the gravest import are being filed almost daily, but no word regarding them is given to the public, and it is doubtful if they will ever be made public, unless on an unequivocal order from the President or on the imperative request of Congress.

The appearance of "Cousin" Abner McKinley in Washington this week was not altogether surprising, but it is taken to confirm the rumor that Mr. McKinley is trying to protect his old friend Superintendent Machen, of the Postoffice department, from the fire of Presidential wrath. Mr. McKinley had a long talk with Mr. Machen and from him went immediately to the postmaster general, with whom he was closeted for some time. It was generally believed that when Perry Heath was first assistant postmaster general, it was Mr. McKinley that effected the withdrawal of the request for Mr. Machen's resignation, which had been made at that time.

A proceeding which reflects grave discredit on certain officials of the administration has just come to light in connection with the smuggling cases in Porto Rico. Officers of the army and navy and some civilians were recently arrested for smuggling wines, silks and tobacco into Porto Rico, and the case was taken up at the instance of the United States attorney for the island. When Secretary of the Navy Moody, Postmaster General Payne, Representative Cannon and others were in Porto Rico they were appealed to in the matter and immediately on their return to Washington the United States attorney was instructed to "mollify" the cases. The Porto Rican judge refused to entertain the plea, however, and the grand jury has indicted the officers and civilians. The Department of Justice, on being notified that the judge refused to dismiss the cases, issued an order of moment not confined to Porto Rico or individuals involved have moved administration, after full investigation and deliberation, to course directed which will be adhered to. What will be the further course of the administration, now that the culprits have been indicted, remains to be seen, but it is difficult to see reason or justice in the apparent exemption granted to smugglers, apparently on the ground that they are army and navy officers, who should be the first to uphold the law.

A news item has reached Washington from Ohio which has excited the best interest here. It is to the effect that Senator Hanna is to no longer enjoy the position of supreme dictator of Republican affairs in his state, but must, as a result of his defeat in Cleveland by Mr. Johnson, share his dictatorship with Governor Barker and George H. Cox, of Cincinnati. This information is of especial interest because of the fact that the Ohio Republicans hold their state convention in June to select a candidate for governor and Mr. Hanna has already selected his candidate, Mr. Myron T. Herrick. In selecting Mr. Herrick, Senator Hanna turned down General Dick, of Akron, now a member of Congress. General Dick has long had gubernatorial aspirations and there are those who believe he will hand the plum this year despite Mr. Hanna. Meanwhile the mere suggestion of a factional fight in Republican ranks strikes terror to the Republican politicians, because of the recognized strength of Tom Johnson.

Rumors of the necessity of an investigation in the Navy department, especially one that would go very thoroughly into the question of ammunition and the contracts let for naval vessels, continue to circulate, despite the efforts of the secretary to discredit them. The accident on the Iowa, the damage to the Maine, the prompt disavowal of any responsibility on the part of the contractors, by officers of the navy, almost before there had been time to ascertain the full extent of the damages to the latter vessel, all are cited as indicating the necessity for a full and thorough investigation, and it is said that some very forcible truths will be presented to the president on his return to Washington.

A scheme put into operation, by which Secretary Shaw has just afforded the National City Bank of New York an opportunity to make some very handsome profits in connection with his bond refunding scheme, has just come to light and has occasioned the greatest indignation on the part of other New York bankers. The secretary caused to be addressed, from the list of registered bond holders in the possession of the Treasury department, circulars of the bank named, offering to purchase the 4 per cent. bonds and exchange them for the new issue of 2 per cent. As there is a very handsome profit in the transaction for the bank making this exchange and the secretary was party to the scheme, numerous protests are being received.

A Bank Burglar Killed.

Wampum, Penn., April 18.—In a battle following an unsuccessful attempt to rob the First National Bank, of this place, early this morning, one man was killed and another seriously wounded. The dead man was one of the burglars and he has not yet been identified. The wounded man was Henry Willoughby, a baker, who surprised the burglars while at work. His injuries are serious, but not fatal. Willoughby was passing the bank at an early hour on his way to work, when he was suddenly confronted by a man, who, at the point of a revolver, ordered him to throw up his hands and keep quiet. He did so, but in his right hand was a revolver and a moment later both men fired at each other.

At the report of the revolvers two other men rushed from the bank and took a hand in the shooting. The three-cornered revolver fight aroused some of the people in the vicinity of the bank and they were soon at the scene of the battle, but before their arrival the burglars fled. While the men had broken into the banking rooms they had not completed the drilling of the safe and their attempt at robbery was unsuccessful.

This morning the body of one of the burglars was discovered in a vacant lot on the upper end of town. As the bullet wound was near his heart, it is presumed that his companions had to drag or drive their dying comrade from the bank to where he was found. While he was dressed in only an ordinary suit of clothes, he was not shabbily dressed, and on his body was found a gold watch and $44 in cash.

Willoughby was shot in both legs, and it is supposed he fired the shot that killed the burglar. Great excitement prevailed in the town and a posse was organized to pursue and capture the burglars.

Roosevelt to be College President?

Baltimore Sun.

High honors are in store for President Roosevelt, according to our esteemed contemporary, the Springfield (Mass.) Republican. It seems that the alumni of Harvard University, Mr. Roosevelt's alma mater, have decided that the President of the United States would make an admirable president of this great educational institution. They assume that Mr. Roosevelt will serve a second term as the nation's Chief Magistrate, after which he will be open to an engagement as head of Harvard University. The only living ex-President of the United States is connected with Princeton University, and it is intimated that Harvard will not be happy until it has an ex-President to add distinction to the university. Our Springfield contemporary suggests that Harvard alumni "have a keen realization of what a tremendous advertisement for the university would be involved in placing at its head an ex-President of the United States." This seems to be a rather mercenary view of the matter. Gentlemen who have filled the most exalted office in the gift of the American people ought not to be used for advertising purposes. Harvard alumni should be able to give a more dignified reason for inviting Mr. Roosevelt to become president of their university.

Mafia Suspects Held.

New York, April 18.—The 12 Italians, alleged members of the Mafia, and some, if not all, of a band of counterfeiters and blackmailers, who were arrested last night and this morning on suspicion that they knew something of the murder of the man whose body was found packed in a barrel on Tuesday morning, were held by Magistrate Barlow in the Jefferson Market court this morning and remanded to police headquarters on the charge of homicide. When the men were taken to court Inspector McCloskey said that there was still a thirteen man, for whom the detectives are looking. The 12 Italians are all stately-looking men of apparently more than ordinary intelligence. Morello, who the police say, is the ringleader, looks the part. He is known as "Three-fingered Pete" to his countrymen. Petto, the best dressed of the lot, is known as "El Boye," or "The Bull." He put up a hard fight with Detective McGafferty when the latter arrested him last night. Morello had a revolver in his pocket and a big home made knife, about nine inches long, when he was arrested.

Bishop Satterlee on Divorce.

Washington, April 19.—"The Jews are preserving the homes and family better than we Christians are doing. I do not know how to account for this, but I do know it to be a fact," Bishop Satterlee, of the Episcopal church, made this declaration in a sermon tonight in which the main subject was divorce. "Men," said the bishop, "are losing respect for the home and caring less for the family—the unit of our civilization. On the shoulders of the husbands and fathers of the land," he continued, "rests the responsibility for the low estate to which the family has fallen in this country. This fostered and encouraged the greatest curse of the age, divorce, and the loose manner in which the sacred marriage vows were being kept."

"The great evil—the most frightful danger—of our age is divorce and the breaking down of the family institution," said the bishop. "If it is not stopped women of this country and of our race will be degraded within fifty years."

Didn't Salute and was Slain.

Berlin, April 17.—A court martial has been ordered to try Ensign Hussner, of the German navy, who on Friday killed an artilleryman named Hartmann for not saluting him properly. According to Hussner's version of the affair Hartmann was a former school mate of Hussner and the latter asserts that the artilleryman attempted gross familiarity in trying to shake hands with him after he (Hussner) had arrested Hartmann for informality of his salute. Then, Hussner adds, Hartmann started to run, the ensign thrust him through the back with his sword, as follows:

"When I draw my sword blood must follow."

Hussner has written to Hartmann's mother saying it was hard that his "duty" as a Prussian officer required him to act as he did.

In Hussner's note book were the names of several private who must have been reported by the ensign for not having saluted him as respectfully as he desired.

SUPPRESSING THE BOXERS.

Effort to Reorganize the Boxer Movement
Discovered and Effectually Checked.

Washington, April 19.—Minister Conger reports from Peking, under March 12, that an attempt has been made in the district of Yu Tien, about 1,700 miles west of Peking, to reorganize the Boxer movement, but was promptly suppressed by the energetic action of the Viceroy, the famous Yuan Shih-Kai, who stood like a rock against the Boxers in 1900. Several soldiers lost their lives in the attempt to arrest the criminals. Several of the criminals were killed and ten others were arrested who are to be beheaded and their heads exposed. Mr. Conger says only such prompt and severe measures will prevent similar organizations in other localities, and it is hoped and believed Yuan Shih-Kai will continue as he has begun. The native officials report on the uprising is as follows:

"The Tung Chou Yangping brigade, General Lian Tang, and the district magistrate of Yu Tien, Cheng Chin, report: "In the matter of Boxers drilling at Liu-Ho-Tao, in the district of Yu-Tien, we sent petty officers to make thorough search and on the 20th of the first moon (February 23rd, 1903,) they arrested Ling Chiang and other men and women, 10 in all, who were practicing Boxer arts and who now ask for orders as to how we shall deal with them."

"To this reply we received as follows: The contents of the report have been carefully noted. Proclamations have been issued strictly forbidding any revival of the disturbances of 1900, which were originated by the Boxers, but Tuan Lun-Chiang and his party, having no regard for the law, assembled a lot of people to form a band of Boxers and drilled them in the dead of night. When they were being searched by the civil officers they dared to resist arrest and killed and wounded several soldiers. Thereupon seven of them were killed, men and women, and their heads exposed as a warning. Ten others, men and women, were arrested and their swords, spears, flags, charms and pledges, all proofs of their evil designs, were brought to light. I shall depute Taotai Chang Hai-Luan, of the military secretary, of the regular force, to proceed at once with all haste and make a thorough investigation and deal with the matter according to the regulations already in force. As to the ten men and women in custody, let them be carefully tried and afterwards beheaded and let their heads be sent to the place of their rebellion and suspended as a warning of all and a testimony to the rigor of the law. We shall expect also that some plan be devised to secure the remainder of the band. Let every exertion be made to root it out so as to prevent further trouble. Forward this with all haste."

The proclamation of Viceroy of Yuan Shih-Kai shows clearly the rigor of the measures taken by him to stamp out the Boxer movement. These persons are to be beheaded: Those dealing in magic spells to defoul the people; those practicing evil teachings and evil arts; those banded together to commit violent crimes; soldiers in sympathy with Boxer societies.

Heavy fines and penalties are imposed on householders who furnish quarters for Boxer meetings; on Boxers themselves and on those who fail to expose Boxers to arrest. Altars propagating evil teachings are to be destroyed and a reward of 200 taels is offered to any one delivering up bound any Boxer. Smaller rewards are offered for information on which arrests can be made. The magistrates are to be instructed for failure to prosecute any Boxers.

Scion of Clay Defies the Law.

Denver, Colo., April 20.—Cherokee Bill Smith, awaiting trial in the federal court on the charge of having robbed the Carlton, Colorado post-office on November 6 last, escaped from the county hospital this morning while his guard was sleeping. Smith was captured January 27 after a long chase and a desperate battle in which one of the deputy sheriffs was wounded.

Cherokee Bill yesterday said that his real name was Henry Clay Bateman, and that he was a great-grandson of Henry Clay. He began life as a cowboy on his father's ranch in Texas, and following a crime committed at the age of 16 years, he became an outlaw. He assumed the name of William Smith, he said, and eloped with a daughter of Governor Hubbard, of Texas. He deserted the woman and lived among the Cherokee Indians several years. He was employed by the government as a scout and interpreter.

Cowboy Feast for Roosevelt.

Hugo, Colo., April 17.—The suggestion that President Roosevelt be given an opportunity to partake of a genuine cowboy breakfast as a feature of the entertainment during his brief stop at this place May 4 will be carried out. A letter has just been received from Secretary Loeb saying that the presidential party will stop here long enough to greet the people early in the morning of that date. It is expected that stockmen and cowboys from all over the range in this vicinity will participate in the reception to the president.

The breakfast will be spread in true cowboy fashion, with the chuck wagon and all the rest of the paraphernalia common to such a feast.

MR. CLEVELAND ON THE NEGRO.

The Former President Upholds the People of This Section and Says the South is Entitled to Sympathy.

Grover Cleveland made a speech on the negro question, in New York, last week which has probably never been excelled for fairness and acuteness of perception. He spoke with the knowledge of a native of the South, taking the exact position the best white people of the South have always maintained. A synopsis of his address follows:

"I have come here tonight as a sincere friend of the negro and I should be very sorry to suppose that my good and regular standing in such company needed support at this late day either from certificate or confession of faith. I am, however, as there may be differences of thought and sentiment among those who profess to be friends of the negro, I desire to declare myself as belonging to the Booker T. Washington-Tuskegee section of the organization.

"I believe that the days of Uncle Sam's Cabin are past. I believe that after the decree that made the slaves free, the enactment that suddenly invested them with the rights of citizenship any more purged them of their racial and slavery-bred imperfections and deficiencies than it changed the color of their skin. I believe that among the nearly nine millions of negroes who have been internixed with out citizenship, there is still a grievous amount of ignorance, a sad amount of viciousness and a tremendous amount of laziness and thriftlessness. I believe that these conditions inexorably present to the white people of the United States, to each in his environment and under the mandate of good citizenship, a problem, which neither enlightened self-interest nor the higher motive of human sympathy will permit them to put aside.

THE SOUTH ENTITLED TO SYMPATHY.

"I believe our fellow-countrymen in the Southern and late slave-holding States, surrounded by about nineteen millions or nearly eight millions of this entire negro population and who regard their material prosperity, their peace and even the safety of their civilization interwoven with the negro problem are entitled to our utmost consideration and sympathy and fellowship. I am thoroughly convinced that the efforts of Booker Washington and the methods of Tuskegee Institute point the way to a safe and beneficent solution of the vexatious negro problem at the South, and I know the good people at the North, who have aided these efforts and methods, have illustrated the highest and best citizenship and the most Christian and enlightened philanthropy.

"I do not know how it may be with most tonight, the thought that after a day of the North may do, the realization of our hopes for the negro must, at least, mainly depend—except so far as it rests with the negroes themselves—upon the sentiment and conduct of the leading and responsible white men of the South and upon the maintenance of a steady and helpful feeling on their part towards those in their midst who much need their aid and encouragement.

"I need waste no time in detailing the evidence that this aid and encouragement have thus far been generously forthcoming. The schools for the education of negro children and institutions for their industrial training are scattered all over the South and are generally assisted by the Southern public and private funds. So far as I am concerned the sentiment in favor of the widest extension and broadest influence of Tuskegee Institute and kindred schools is universal, and I believe without exception the negroes who set themselves for useful occupations of service find willing and cheerful patronage and employment among the white neighbors.

THE WHITE PEOPLE OF THE SOUTH.

"I do not know how it may be with the Northern friends of the negro, but I have faith in the honor and sincerity of the respectable white people in their relations with the negro and his improvement and well being. They do believe in the social equality of the races and they make no false pretense as to it. That this does not result out of hatred of the negro is very evident. It seems to me that there is abundant sentiment and abundant benevolence among the Southern whites towards the negro, to make us doubt the wisdom of charging this denial of social equality to prejudice, as we usually understand the word. Perhaps it is a denial of something so much deeper and more imperious than prejudice as is attributed to a racial instinct. What it is, let us remember that it has allowed the negro's share in the spoliation and spoliation of the white people of the South during the saturnalia of reconstruction days and has allowed the feeling for the negro to survive when the South was deluged with a flood of indiscriminate, ignorant and blighting negro suffrage. Whenever it is, let us try to understand and consider of the feelings of the white countrymen of the South, and the solution of the negro problem and their own surroundings, and the heat of the day and stage of the weight of the white man's burden.

THE NECESSITY OF CO-OPERATION.

"There are, however, other considerations relating to this feature of the question, which may be regarded as important in keeping with the objects and purposes of this occasion. As the white people of the South, fully believing in the equality of this advancement, and confidently laboring to bring it about, it is folly for us to ignore the fact of the ungrudging co-operation tion on the part of the white people of the South in this work. Labor as we will, those who do the lifting of the weight must be those who stand next to it. This co-operation cannot be forced, nor can it be gained by gratuitously running counter to firmly fixed and tenaciously held Southern ideas, or even prejudices. We are not brought to the point of doing or overlooking evil that good may come when we proceed upon the theory that before reaching the stage where we may be directly in recognition of the negro's full enjoyment of civic advantages or even of all his political privileges, there are immediately before us and around us questions demanding our immediate care and that, in dealing effectively with these, we can confidently rely upon the encouragement and assistance of every thoughtful and patriotic citizen of the land—wherever he may live and whatever may be his ideas or predilections concerning the more remote phases of the negro problem. These questions that are so immediately pressing have to do with the practical education of the negro and especially with fitting him to compete with his white neighbors in gaining a decent, respectable and remunerative livelihood. Booker Washington, in speaking of the conditions and needs of his race, has wisely said: 'It is at the bottom of life we must begin and not at the top; nor should we permit our grievances to overshadow our opportunities.'

"In summing up the whole matter, there is one thing of which we can be absolutely certain. When we aid Tuskegee Institute and agencies like it, striving for the mental and manual education of the negro at the South, we are in every point of view rendering him the best possible service. Whatever may be his ultimate destiny we are thus helping to fit him for filling his place and bearing its responsibilities. We are sowing well in the soil at the bottom of life, the seeds of the black man's development and usefulness. These seeds will not die, but will sprout and grow, and if it be within the wise purpose of God, the hardened surface of no untoward sentiment of prejudice can prevent the bursting forth of the blade and plant of the negro's appointed opportunity into the bright sunshine of a cloudless day."

A HIGH-TARIFF REFUGE.

Actions at Law as a Weapon to Combat Trusts.

Washington, April 16.—It is now almost generally conceded that the Republican leaders of Congress, following the attitude recently outlined by the President, will not attempt any general tariff revision until after the presidential election.

Armed with the decision of the Eighth Circuit court of Appeals in the Northern Securities case, the Republicans in the next session of Congress will be in position, so they declare, to fight the Democratic contention that the surest and easiest method of settling the trust question is by reducing or abolishing the duty upon trust-made products. The Republicans will claim that the decision demonstrates that the trust question can be handled competently in the courts without resort to tariff changes.

Six months ago, when President Roosevelt in his annual message to Congress advised tariff revision, many prominent Republicans in Congress flocked to support this attitude. Today, as Mr. Roosevelt advises against such action, there is a correspondent rush to get back to the original position. Mr. Roosevelt has set the pace and his position is to be accepted.

Particularly noticeable in this respect are the cases of many of the Western Republicans in Congress. The attitude of Senator Shelby M. Cullom, of Illinois, stands out prominently. Last December he thought there was ample room for tariff revision, but since the President's recent speeches upon the subject he has experienced a change of view and now holds that it would be unwise at this time to pass a general revision law on account of what he says would be a danger of disturbing business.

Senator Jonathan P. Dolliver, of Iowa, occupies practically the same position. Mr. Dolliver was strong in his indorsement of the "Iowa Idea" when Gov. A. B. Cummins projected it, but more recently he has given evidence of only lukewarmness in favoring that plan.

These and other indications go to convince close observers in Washington that there is to be no tariff revision by the Fifty-eighth Congress.

The Democrats, however, will not drop the agitation. In the Senate the issue will be frankly discussed and various bills offered with the view to securing reduction in present schedules.

A Sweet Breath

is a never failing sign of a healthy stomach. When the breath is bad the stomach is out of order. There is no remedy in the world equal to Kodol Dyspepsia Cure for curing indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach disorders. Mrs. Mary S. Crick, of White Plains, Ky., writes: "I have been a dyspeptic for years—tried all kinds of remedies but continued to grow worse. By the use of Kodol I began to improve at once, and after taking a few bottles am fully restored in weight, health and strength and can eat whatever I like. Kodol digests what you eat and makes the stomach sweet." Howard Gardner.

"DON'T CHOOSE A PIOUS WIFE."

"Get One With Good, Common Sense," Says Bishop Fowler.

In a recent address Bishop Charles N. Fowler, the presiding officer of the New Jersey Methodist Conference, said to the conference class of candidates at Asbury Park:

You are not called upon to gabble or twaddle in the pulpit. A preacher nowadays must give his people food for thought, and food, too, that will be acceptable to people who come to church with magazines in their pockets and live on a diet of good literature.

There is only one bishop who can excuse you for duties unperformed, and that bishop is the undertaker. Don't talk about higher criticism and other nonsense. You will have enough to do to save souls. At the utmost you can preach only two hours a week, and evil influences are likely to have play almost all the rest of the time.

Circuit preaching is hard, but it is hard on the horse, not on the man. Why, it's almost as easy to be a circuit preacher as to be a bishop, and go around and preach your old sermons over and over again.

I hope you each have a good wife. If you have not, get one, and don't marry her because she is pious. Marry her because she has good common sense. If I had two women to choose from, one having common sense and the other only religion, I would take the woman with common sense; for if a person with common sense undertakes this work that person will be religious within the next hour. A woman who is only religious may backslide, and I have no doubt but a woman who has common sense will not expect us to be saints.

Many citizens of Enterprise who know the gentleman will testify to the truthfulness of this statement." For sale at Holton's drug store.

Sully Made $5,000,000.

New York, April 17.—The position of Daniel J. Sully in the cotton market is a matter of much speculation in Wall street circles. The general belief is that Sully is not only willing but anxious to get out of the market. He is willing to be satisfied with his present profit, which is estimated at $5,000,000 for himself and his small army of followers. The report is that Sully has settled with a number of shorts outside of the market. There is no doubt that the recent sharp rise in cotton came much sooner than Sully expected. This is assigned as the reason for his desire to get out of the market.

Sully's personal profits as a result of his strong bull movement are said to be very large. Speculators have their eyes on him and no doubt his action in either retiring or staying in will be an important factor in the dealings.

THE REASON.—There is no medicine equal to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, for the purifying of the blood. It carries off the poisons which contaminate the life fluid. It increases the activity of the blood-making glands and gives the body an increased supply of pure, body-building blood. It builds up the body with sound, healthy flesh instead of flabby fat, promotes the appetite, feeds the nerves, and so gives to weak, nervous people vitality and vigor.

There is no alcohol contained in "Golden Medical Discovery," and it is absolutely free from opium, cocaine and all other narcotics.

HON. LEE COHN

Many busy men suffer from dyspepsia caused by careless habits, too rapid eating and irregular meals. Little attention is paid to this until it is too late, and then you naturally ask yourself, "What shall I do to get well?" I have found your "Discovery" by far the most efficacious of any medicine I have known. A few doses gives relief. Being an honest medicine and well worthy of praise, it has my hearty endorsement. Yours respectfully, Hon. LEE COHN, Louisville, Ky.

"I have been greatly benefited through the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery," writes G. T. Rose, Esq., of 125 W. Short Street, Lexington, Ky. (Constable, Fayette Co.) "I suffered for years with biliousness and torpid liver, which affected the digestive organs and clogged up the entire system. Had used different medicines but found they did not help me any; in fact, nothing that I took was of any special benefit until I tried your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I soon found that this medicine wrought a wonderful change in my entire body; cleared up the sluggish channels of digestive organs. This activity restored the flagging strength, increased appetite and vitalized the forces until work seemed but play, my sleep was restful and sound, brain active, and I felt like a new man. Four bottles of your 'Golden Medical Discovery' caused this wonderful change, and I have certainly every reason in the world to feel gratified and to fully endorse your great remedy. For the past two years I have enjoyed perfect health."

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 22, 1903.

SINCE the largest tax-payers in Guilford county do not fear any increase of taxes through the operation of the proposed good roads bond issue, why should the small tax-payers be frightened?

It is well to remember the law requiring the payment of poll tax on or before May 1st before any one can vote. If you have not paid your poll tax by this date, you will not be permitted to vote at any election held this year.

IN TALKING to the South Dakota farmers the other day President Roosevelt took occasion to refer to what the Republican administration had done for them, through the instrumentality of the Dingley tariff bill. There is no record that the farmers gave him other than a most respectful hearing; but there is every reason to believe that when they had waved goodbye to the presidential train they turned away in silent meditation upon the facts which the president did not tell them—that the Dingley tariff does two things to the farmer; limits and restricts the area in which he may sell his products, practically holding down the price thereof; and compels him to pay monopoly prices for most of the articles which he requires about his home and his business, including clothing, boots and shoes, wire, implements, cutlery, glass, carpets and innumerable others.

COL. JOHN S. CUNINGHAM, of Person county, who is credited with gubernatorial aspirations, was in Greensboro this week. In a conversation with a friend he stated that the papers were slightly in error in regard to his candidacy for governor next year. It will be remembered that the Washington Post recently quoted Col. Cunningham as saying that he would shortly announce his candidacy, and, while the Person county gentleman denies the accuracy of the interview, he is careful to say nothing that will lead to the belief that he will not be a candidate. It is known among some of his friends that he is very anxious for the honor that a gubernatorial nomination and election would bring, and, if he can see any hope of success in the political signs, it is reasonable to infer that the announcement of his candidacy will be made in due season. If Col. Cunningham, Capt. R. B. Glenn and Maj. Charles M. Stedman should all decide to become candidates, the Democracy of the fifth district would have a lively time in choosing a favorite from the trio of distinguished gentlemen and experienced politicians. Maj. Stedman is in receipt of letters from quite a number of warm personal friends in different sections of the state pledging their loyal support in the event that he should decide to enter the contest.

The Young Women's Christian Association in the South.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., April 18.—At today's session of the national convention of the Young Women's Christian Association, Miss Rutherford, of Athens, Ga., addressed the delegates on the activity of the association in the South. She said conditions there are different from those in other parts of the country. There is not so much money, but the spirit is there.

Addresses were also made by Miss Anna Cassler, representing North and South Carolina, and Miss Howell, of the Women's College, Baltimore. The opinion of all the speakers was that the American committee can expect good results from the field in the next two years. A resolution was reported from special committee and adopted calling for more harmonious relations between the international board and the American committee.

Roosevelt Snubs Union Men.

Cinnabar, Mont., April 17.—President Roosevelt has decided that he cannot accede to the request of the labor organizations to refrain from riding on the Union Pacific road because of a strike on that line. His itinerary was arranged months ago and much as he would desire to favor the union men he cannot disappoint thousands of people by changing his plans at this late day.

The board of aldermen of Fayetteville have decreed that cigars cannot be sold or given away in that town on Sunday.

The proposed bond election for good roads in Caswell county has been called off by the county commissioners.

CONVICTS DASH FOR LIBERTY.

An Uprising at Castle Haynes—A Negro Killed and Others Wounded.

Wilmington Special to Charlotte Observer, 20th.

Twelve convicts, serving terms aggregating ten years on the New Hanover chain-gang, made a dash for liberty this morning as they were being taken out of the stockade at Castle Haynes, and seven of them succeeded in making good their escape. John Taylor, serving twelve months for larceny in Wilmington, was shot and almost instantly killed by the guards, and two others, Andrew Lee and another, serving short terms from Columbus county, were overhauled and returned to the stockade. Tonight Sam Leary, serving 12 months, and Charles Bryan, serving 60 days from Craven county, were captured by colored guards stationed at the northeast river bridge, which they attempted to cross. John H. Carter, white, serving six months, from Columbus, was also captured tonight. J. P. Hughes, white, serving four years for bigamy from Columbus county, was wounded as he ran, but has not been re-captured. Forney George, colored, from Columbus, was also wounded, according to reports by convicts captured, and several others are surrounded in a swamp near Castle Haynes. Two of the remaining convicts at large are from Columbus, two are from Craven, and two are from New Hanover.

The uprising among the prisoners was led by young Harrison, a man who claims Durham as his home, and who was convicted and sentenced to two years on the roads at last week's term of court after a sensational trial for perjury and assault with a deadly weapon upon a widow, an account of which appeared in this correspondence. The commissioners offer a reward of $50 for his capture; $50 for the capture of Hughes, who is also wanted in Anson, and $20 for the capture of each of the negroes.

To Cut North Carolina Timber.

A special from Springfield, Ohio, to the Charlotte Observer says the organization of the Southern Land and Improvement Company has been completed. The company is composed of Ohio—principally Cleveland—people and is formed for the purpose of developing and colonizing large tracts of Southern land. The largest interest is centered in North Carolina, where the company has an option on a tract of 250,000 acres of valuable timber land. The area includes almost the entire counties of Jones and Onslow. The tract which will be purchased by the company is situated only two miles from the Atlantic coast and is traversed from north to south by the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad. The tract extends forty miles back into the state and is covered by a great quantity of valuable timber. This growth includes 1,000,000,000 feet of pine and gum which it is estimated will take 10 years to cut. The corporation is chartered in New Jersey and has a capital of $500,000 and a bond issue of $500,000. The bonds are a 5 per cent. 50-year issue and are guaranteed by the Guarantee Bond Company, of Detroit. The officers of the company are: George H. Burrows, president; W. E. Trego and P. J. Joyce, vice president; Fred E. Pile, secretary; J. B. Hurst, treasurer and C. L. Gates, counsel. The projectors of the enterprise will clear the timber from the land and then sell it to colonists. They propose to establish a model farm in the midst of the tract.

New Advertisements.

Unusually wintry weather prevails in Northern and Central Germany, particularly in the Hartz Mountains. The weather station in the upper Hartz reported yesterday a snowstorm and a temperature of 25° Fahr. The mails have been carried since Tuesday on sleighs, and letter carriers, gendarmes and woodcutters are only able to move on snowshoes. The snow in some places is from three to four feet deep. The storm continues with increasing violence.

Significant Immigration Figures.

The national bureau of statistics estimates that the total immigration of the present year will reach the 800,000 mark. The immigration record remaining to be broken is that of 1882, when 788,982 foreign emigrants landed on our shores. Since that time the number of such arrivals has fluctuated considerably, it looking for a time as if South American and other fields of European settlement would permanently divert the stream of immigration from the United States. It is difficult to say just what has given this new impetus to American immigration, though many will not hesitate to ascribe it to the highly-colored reports of American prosperity abroad. Since the commercial invasion of the old world by our manufacturers the United States never appeared to be more of an Eldorado to the intending emigrant.

School Closing at Smith's.

Written for the PATRIOT.

On last Thursday morning, regardless of the floating clouds and the blustery March-like wind, loaded vehicles could be seen coming from Greensboro, Rudd, Brown Summit, Benaja, Company Mill, Gibsonville, McLeansville, Seabla and elsewhere, all headed for Smith's school exhibition. And long before the hour for the exercises to begin the campus was thronged with eager and anxious people to see and hear what had been prepared for the occasion.

Then after the hearty and cordial welcome, by the teacher, Mr. Herbert V. Cobb, followed an entertainment consisting of declamations, recitations, dialogues, dramas and music, which reflected honor upon pupils and teacher alike.

In the afternoon Prof. E. W. S. Cobb, of McLeansville, made an address of excellent literary worth, in which he set forth many of the possibilities of life.

This was followed by the awarding of prizes, to those who had made the highest grade in their respective classes during the session. The prizes were awarded to Misses Alvah Melvin, Esther Smith, Vannie Howerton, Maud Wyrick and Mr. Albert Melvin.

Hon. R. D. Douglas arrived just as the program of the school was being completed. He was then introduced and spoke for about three quarters of an hour on the subject of good roads. Music was furnished by the Lewis and Summers string band.

In short, it was a day of pleasure and profit long to be remembered. Mr. Cobb has made an excellent record as a teacher, besides gaining many friends in this vicinity, and late in the day when students and patrons began to gather around him to say, "good-by," among the last things we heard were: "We want you to be sure and teach our school next year." This is criterion enough to say that the school has been a decided success.

May God add his blessing to the work done at Smith's, during the past six months, and let similar occasions be in store for the future.

Sharp Institute Defeats Madison.

On Madison's ground, Sharp Institute defeated Madison today in a very snappy game. Sharp started off in the lead, but Madison came evenly up and in the half of Madison at the bat, in the eighth inning Madison was in the lead nine to eight, but in Sharp's half the score stood 9 to 12 in favor of the visitors. In Madison's last half, only one run was scored. Hence the score stood 12 to 10, in favor of Sharp Institute.

The features of the game were the fine execution with the stick, by Sharp, batting five two base hits and one three base hit.

Sharp's boys feel highly pleased with the results, since they had to play against such well known league men as Walters, Pool, and Tucker.

Batteries: Madison—Price, Walters and Tucker; Sharp—Turner and Hopper.

Madison, April 18.

Card of Thanks.

EDITOR PATRIOT:—Please allow us space in your columns to thank the people of Jamestown for their kindness to us during the illness of our little daughter Edna.

J. W. AND ALICE LEE, Jamestown, April 20th.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident is narrated by John Oliver of Philadelphia as follows: "I was in an awful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite, growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Then I was advised to use Electric Bitters: to my great joy, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents, guaranteed at Holton's drug store.

Administrator's Sale.

North Carolina, Guilford County, In the Superior Court. C. F. Coe, administrator with the will annexed of L. A. Witty vs. William E. Martin, Elizabeth Terry and E. M. Witty.

Ninth Annual Meeting of Farmers' Mutual Insurance Association.

GREENSBORO, N. C., April 11, 1903.
Meeting was called to order by John A. Young, president. Present, Supervisors J. J. Williams, C. R. Doggett, J. A. Rankin, C. T. Weatherly, W. L. Miles, C. H. Hancock, W. M. Kirkman, W. F. Doggett, N. M. Knight, J. H. Smith, W. E. Bowman, W. R. Davis. Fifteen out of eighteen townships were represented by supervisors. The number of members was not so large as it should be. A member who will not kick against anything done at the meeting. The minutes of last meeting were read and approved. All the old officers were re-elected.

On motion Mrs. Jesse Hoskins was allowed $10 for claims for printing done by Mr. Jesse Hoskins for the benefit of the association.

The following resolutions were then offered and after some discussion were almost unanimously adopted:

Whereas, In the opinion of this association the insurance of mill property is considered a greater risk than that on private dwellings, and

Whereas, It is more difficult to ascertain the actual value of that sort of property than dwelling houses, now be it

Resolved 1st, That our agents be instructed to write no more mill property, and further,

Resolved 2d, That one-half of the insurance now written on mill property be and is hereby cancelled; provided, that the owners of such property be allowed to insure in any reliable company to an amount not exceeding that which has now been cancelled in this association.

Resolved 3rd, That the secretary be instructed to notify the owners of mill property now insured by this association of the action of this association.

The following report of the finance committee was then read, and on motion was received and adopted almost unanimously:

JOHN L. KING,
Committee.

The secretary then made the following additional statements:

Since our last annual meeting, May 1st, 1902, but one assessment has been raised—that for the Horney fire—20 cents on the hundred, by order of the association for the purpose of paying all claims and having a reserve fund. The wisdom of this action has been demonstrated by the fact that soon after all the claims were paid the county was visited by the worst wind storm ever known in this county, causing a loss of nearly $250. This was paid by the surplus on hand without the cost of about $2 of another assessment. As the average annual cost of insurance on something over $1,000, it would seem to be economy to never fix the rate of assessment at less than 20 cents on hundred dollars, which will ordinarily pay the losses for twelve months.

There are now on our rolls 569 members who owe no back dues on insurance to the amount of $520,000. About 10 more are due on assessment and 15 who are due two assessments on about $4,000. At least half of these will pay up back dues and be reinstated. My books show that on the average 90 per cent. of the dues are eventually paid. Something over $25,000 of insurance has been written within the past year. Never in the history of our association has it been on a better footing than at present. Supervisors should see that no property is written for over three-fourths its actual value, and members who know of any property too highly valued should report it to their township supervisor, whose duty it will be to at once reduce it to three-fourths value and report it to the secretary and treasurer.

J. R. WHARTON,
Sec.-Treas.

THE SOUTH DAKOTA BOND SUIT.

Attorney Peckham Shifts His Ground in Argument Before Supreme Court.

Washington Special to Charlotte Observer.

Wheeler H. Peckham, the attorney for South Dakota, in the bond suit, shifted his position in concluding his argument before the Supreme court of the United States this afternoon. He especially cut loose from the individual bond-holders, whose claims, if allowed, would cost the state over half a million dollars.

"The claims of the individuals can be dismissed for all we care. South Dakota is not a trustee for the second mortgage bond-holders." Such was the declaration of the learned New York lawyer this afternoon, in concluding his speech. It is needless to say that it was a great surprise to all present, for the day before in opening the argument he spoke as much for the individual second mortgage bond-holders as he did for South Dakota.

In addressing the court yesterday morning Mr. Peckham demanded a decree foreclosing on the state's stock in the North Carolina Railroad, the proceeds of which he asked be applied to meet the first and second mortgage bonds alike. Today he did not ask for an immediate foreclosure and seemed to prefer a cash payment.

This change of base on the part of South Dakota's attorney was interpreted by counsel for North Carolina to mean that he had cut loose from the second mortgage bond-holders, realizing that it would be impossible to maintain a suit against a state in which individual citizens were jointly interested. This side has been strongly advanced by the attorneys representing North Carolina and it is believed that the elaboration forced South Dakota to fall back upon her own case, separate and independent from the second mortgage bond-holders. There is this difference in the situation. If, as maintained yesterday by Mr. Peckham, the court should issue a decree of foreclosure on the North Carolina road, the State of North Carolina would have to pay out a sum estimated at from $400,000 to $700,000. Should, however, the court go no further than Mr. Peckham urged today, that is to pay South Dakota's claim and dismiss that of the individual bond-holders, the state would not suffer as much. South Dakota's claim is for $10,000, with interest for something less than $20,000, making an approximate total of $30,000.

The belief is expressed that rather than take chances on losing the case as it was first presented the bond claimants whose interests are the same decided to relegate the individual second mortgage and bond-holders to the rear in the final appeal to the court. It was a bold move, but not without evidences of wisdom. The law was apparently against the suit brought in conjunction between a state and individuals. South Dakota, pressing her claim independent and alone, has a much better prospect for a favorable decision.

If South Dakota wins for $30,000, the game will be to force North Carolina to compromise with Shaffer Bros. on terms favorable to them or stand suit by South Dakota for more than half a million.

A decision may be handed down before the court adjourns next month, but the lawyers seem to think that the opinion will not be rendered until the court meets next fall.

Wheeler H. Peckham made a great speech in concluding. He followed Judge Shepherd, who finished his argument begun yesterday. Judge Merrimon decided at the last moment not to speak.

Farmer Argues and Wins Lawsuit.

An interesting case is reported in the advance sheets of the Federal Reporter, volume 120, number 4, the style of the case being Terry vs. the United States. This is a case which came up in the Circuit Court of Appeals recently and was argued and won by a Virginia farmer. In the District court for the eastern district of Virginia Terry was convicted on an indictment charging him with furnishing raw material to a distillery on which no sign of registration appeared, as the law provides. When the case got into the Circuit Court of Appeals Terry, spurning the assistance of a paid attorney, arose and addressed the court in his own behalf. He called the attention of the bench to the fact that, inasmuch as the district attorney had failed to specify the character of the distillery or the kind of raw material, he could not be lawfully convicted. When Judge Boyd wrote the opinion he coincided with the views of old man Terry and held that the indictment was insufficient. This decision will probably have the effect of rendering useless the printed forms of indictment which have been in use by the district attorneys all over the country for a number of years. These forms were adopted by the Department of Justice and are furnished to the district attorneys. It is quite a feather in the cap of a rustic citizen to detect a flaw in the machinery of the judicial department of the government.

The following have been appointed carriers for the new rural free delivery routes to start out from Reidsville on July 1st: Route 2, J. Will Crafton; route 3, James R. Grogan; route 4, James S. Paschal. The appointment of a carrier on route 5 is held up until the Spanish-American war records of Messrs. R. D. Holderley and O. L. Fitzgerald can be investigated. The carrier on route 1 has not missed a single trip on his route in thirteen months.

Salisbury Truth: It is often the case that when two boys are out shooting together, that one of them gets hurt, but it is seldom that both shoot each other. This is what happened to Henry Alford and Jim Herston last Friday. The boys had a target up and were shooting at it from opposite sides. Alford was shot in the arm, and the leg. The wounds are not serious.

Washington Messenger: Mr. Joseph Ingram, of South Creek, who is one of the largest potato growers, tells us the shipment of cabbage has already begun and the prospect for an early shipment of potatoes was never better. He would not be surprised if the shipment of potatoes did not begin this season from ten to fifteen days earlier, and the crop be the most remunerative in years.

Wreck of the Southern Fast Mail.

Charlotte Observer, 16th.

All railroad men agree that the Southern Railway Company got off comparatively light in the wreck of the fast mail, No. 97, at Conrad, last Monday evening, the loss to the company both in dollars and lives being unusually small as compared with other recent wrecks. Only two men were killed, this being accounted for by the fact that the train carried no passengers.

The loss is estimated at from $20,000 to $30,000, this being the immediate loss. The engine, which was a total wreck, was worth $10,000. The cars can be repaired, the trucks being damaged most. The trucks were torn up for a distance of about 200 feet and had to be built again. The cost of repairing the four cars, re-laying the tracks, clearing away the wreckage, and the loss occasioned by the delay of trains, is variously estimated at from $10,000 to $20,000, making the total of $20,000 to $30,000.

"If a first-class passenger train had been running at 60 miles an hour and had been wrecked just as 97 was, the loss would not have been less than $100,000, and the loss in lives would probably have been awful," said a railroad man.

"The most awful thing about the wrecking of a train," he continued, "is the fire that often breaks out among the wreckage. Then men are held down by the debris and watch the flames approaching, knowing not whether they will be rescued or burned alive. God save me from such a wreck."

VISIT OF GERMAN FARMERS.

They are Coming Over to Study American Methods.

Berlin, April 16.—The delegation of estate owners and farmers that the German Agricultural Society is sending to the United States to study American methods will sail from Hamburg Saturday for New York on the Hamburg-American Line steamer Pretoria.

The party, which numbers 46 persons, includes two Bohemian counts, Eugen von Ledebur and Franz von Kinsky. Among the others are Baron von Schurbein, High Government Councilor F. Brettreich and Government Councilors Dr. Alfred Dietrich and F. von Pracher.

In a pamphlet containing traveling directions which has been distributed to the party light clothing is recommended for the summer. Travelers are further advised to take their own cigars, as they "cannot buy anything smokable under 10 cents."

Rev. Francis J. Davidson, pastor of the St. Matthew Baptist church and president of the Third District Baptist Association, 2731 Second St., New Orleans, writes as follows: "I have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for cramps and pains in the stomach and found it excellent. It is in fact the best cramp and colic remedy I have ever used. Also several of my parishioners have used it with equally satisfactory results." For sale at Holton's drug store.

The commission of British workmen which visited the United States reports that the workmen here are not superior and concedes that there is something to learn from the employers.

The attempt by the administration to prevent prosecution of army and navy officers in Porto Rico for smuggling will result in an investigation by Congress.

There is talk of naming a Southern man for Vice-President on the Republican ticket to try to offset Mr. Roosevelt's probable loss of states in the East.

TALMAGE SERMON

By Rev. FRANK DE WITT TALMAGE, D.D., Pastor of Jefferson Park Presbyterian Church, Chicago

Chicago, April 19.—In this sermon the preacher draws a realistic picture of the numerous class that dabbles with evil indulgence, making a mock of danger and heedless of admonition until it is too late. The text is Proverbs xiv, "Fools make a mock at sin."

There are times when hints and delicate phraseology are inadequate for the purpose, and when the kindest and wisest course is to use plain, outspoken characterization shot forth on arrows of denunciation and exhortation. So in my text Solomon says plainly that the man who mocks at sin is a fool. When the human body is slowly but surely being eaten up by a cancer it is time to use the surgeon's knife. The gangrened limb needs amputation, not balms or plasters or poultices of fragrant ointments. And when men and women with wide open eyes deliberately place themselves in a position where they may inhale the fetid atmosphere, reeking with the deadly gases of that contagious and fatal plague called sin, it is high time that some one should be bold enough to exhort them by an appropriate name. They are not misguided children who are merely lost in the crookings of life's journey. They can see the evil results of sin everywhere they go if they will only look as they are capable of looking. They are not innocent workings who have been caught behind the iron bars of a lunatic asylum. They can think, and clearly think, if they will and do what they want to do. Such men and women are displaying suicidal folly, and the only appropriate name for them is that which Solomon applies to them; they are fools. Going to destruction by their own choice and volition, mocking at things who have already been delivered, heedless of the fate impending over their own heads, they are as foolish as would be a sea captain who had taken on and in the grip of a hurricane tossed his rudder chains, threw his helm out of gear and smashed his compass.

When a gigantic sin is working evil to such a point and is endangering our eternal well-being, Solomon's method is demanded. President Roosevelt evidently thought so when, a short time ago, referring to a common sin, he wrote: "I do not know whether I must pry or despoil the foolish and selfish man or woman who does not understand that the only things really worth having in life are those the requirement of which normally means cost and effort. The man or the woman who deliberately avoids marriage and has a heart so cold as to know no passion and a brain so shallow and selfish as to dislike having children is in effect a criminal against the race and should be an object of contemptuous abhorrence to all healthy people."

Why Mockers Are Fools.
The same kind of warning against sin Hugh Latimer gave when he sent to Henry VIII, his king, the present of a New Testament, with these pungent words written in plain letters upon the fly leaf: "For this ye know that no ungodly person hath any inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and of God." The same kind of warning against sin John Knox used to give in his court preacher he would look down from his pulpit and denounce the sin of his ruler until the beautiful Mary, queen of Scots, would grit her teeth and turn pale and clinch her tiny fists in paroxysms of rage. Let me ask you why the mockers at sin are fools? Also why men and women in the daily walks of life should kneel every morning and evening and ask the Heavenly Father to protect and guide and save them from the evil temptations that beset them everywhere they go.

Evil temptations invariably are introduced to their victim in a seemingly harmless way. They seek your companionship at first as friends, and not as foes. They do not approach you with a gun and convulsively working their arms and leap at you, as the man eating monster might try to get at you when in all his fury he is caged in the zoological gardens of Calcutta. The temptations come to you at first in the soft fur and the purring salutation of the little kitten which might creep into your lap. They come in the form of the cholera germs which might be wrapped in the beautiful garment which is sent to you from far-off India. They come with all the fragrance of the poisonous leaf which is death to every creature that touches it. Dr. Cuyler once gave a beautiful description of one of the most beautiful, aptly called the Judas tree. He said that the blossoms of this tree are of a brilliant red. From far and near the fatal beauty of those blossoms attracts the insects. Yet "ever" wandering in search of honey, the insects upon the blossoms imbibe the fatal opiate and drops to the earth. In this enticing tree the earth is covered with the victims of its fatal seduction. That fatal plant is a symbol of the way deadly sin is a deadly seduction to its victims. Sin in the beginning fascinates the eyes as with the brightest of floral colors. It fascinates the ear as with the sweetest of melodies. It soothes the sense of touch as with the velvet softness of a woman's paw, while beneath is concealed the sharp claw. It first woos its victim to pillow his head upon the lap of a beautiful Delilah, and while the sinner sleeps his lips are parted in a smile as he dreams the happiest of dreams.

How Temptation Comes.
"Sin is a sweet poison," once wrote Anthony Burgess. "It tickles while it stabbeth. The first thing it does is to bewitch, then to put out the eyes, then to take away the sense of feeling." It is when the temptation is concealed and hidden among attractive surroundings that it has its greatest danger. The mighty furred brin of the Rocky mountains is not caught by the steel trap lying unobserved in the opened pathway. He stumbles along, sniffs it, pushes it aside with his paw, moves round it or leaps over it, but when that trap is concealed under the green grass a short distance from the tempting ment then the mountain bear has need for fear. No sooner is the great paw placed upon that harmless looking covering than the steel teeth of that trap spring shut. The massive limb is held in a vise, and the great beast is as helpless as the murderer about to be executed in the prison yard. The wild turkey will not stoop down of his own accord and enter the small aperture of the fatal trap, but after the hunter has scattered along the forest path the many grains of corn this wild fowl will lower his head and eat and eat until he is confined within the wire screens from which he will be taken out to his death. My brother and sister, are you among those whom King Solomon designates as fools? Do you mock at sin merely because it comes around in a harmless way? The mere fact that the highwayman crouches behind the rock makes his sudden attack the more dangerous; the mere fact that the quicksands look to the unpracticed eye as strong as the rock under your feet makes their invitations to step upon them the more fatal.

Evil temptations should not be defied. They assail a man at his weakest points of character. They do not try to assault his impregnable citadel or attack him at those points of his nature that are protected by massive walls, so high and thick that the heaviest of battering rams can only make the slightest indentations, but they try to destroy their victims by strategy, by throwing them off their guard; wounding Achilles not through the breastplate, but in the heel; conquering Alexander the Great not with the sword, but with the wine cup; destroying Charles Stewart Parnell not with a man's gruff voice, but with a woman's gentle arm; making Thomas Cranmer sign his recantation not by the power of argument, but by the power of fear. It only needs a comparatively light blow between the eyes to stun the most powerful animal which was ever driven into the Chicago slaughter houses. It only needs one small sinful temptation to appeal to us in the right way to destroy any man unless he is upheld by a divine panoply.

Sin Strikes the Weakest Point.
Evil temptations always assail their victims at their weakest points. Is there any man foolish enough to think that his character is so perfectly formed that there is no weak point in his moral armor? A constructor who would not try to strengthen his sagging girder is a criminal. A few years ago a great bridge across the river Seine broke under the feet of the multitudes merely because one of the iron links snapped. Poor is the general who would not be vigilant about the weakest part of his fortifications. It was after the famous mine was exploded under the earthworks of Petersburg that the Federal troops were able to drive back Robert E. Lee's forces into Richmond. And can it be that with all your brain and force and past experience you do not realize there is some helplessness, some weakness, in your nature? Have you never been tempted in the past and overthrown? Can you not realize that you may be tempted again in the future and overthrown in the same way?

By being aware of and trying to strengthen our weaknesses we are able to supplement our strength. A well known and thrilling story is told that the engineer of the Holland dikes was one night invited to a party. That afternoon an awful storm arose. As the hour drew near for the festival the engineer wavered, but at last he said: "No! I will go to the dikes, where my duty calls. My services may be needed there." When he arrived upon the dikes, he found that under the ceaseless bombardment of the seas some of the stones in one place had become loosened and a little water was beginning to trickle through. That little stream was gradually growing larger. Over the walls the engineer went. He tried to stop that hole first with stones. Then he took off his coat and jammed it into the loosened rocks. "More clothes!" he shouted. "More clothes!" And he made his men take off their garments, and at last the dikes were saved. Had that water been allowed to trickle on and had not the weak part of the wall been strengthened all the dikes would have been swept away, and thousands of men, women and children would have been drowned.

Solomon well said that when a man with his moral weaknesses scoffs at sin he is a fool. I heard the reformed John Gough, after he had been forty years a teetotaler, say: "Rather than eat a piece of mince pie flavored with brandy I would cut off my right arm. I would not more touch it, knowing my physical and moral weakness for drink, than I would be willing to touch a lighted match to a keg of gunpowder." It is sometimes more manly to run from sin than it is to fight sin. God gave us two feet as well as two hands. That means there are certain times when we should flee from temptation; that we should never allow ourselves to be placed in a position where we may be tempted. Temptation always fendishly strikes its victim at his weakest point. Therefore "let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall."

Effects of Evil Indulgences.
Evil indulgences should not be derided. They dull the moral sensibilities. Their sinful effects cannot be seen so much in the wasting away of the moral tissues, as Bright's disease might wreck the kidneys or tuberculosis might eat away the lungs. But evil indulgences have a hardening or a dulling effect, as cirrhosis hardens the liver or as paresis affects the cell tissues of the brain. It is said that when a man's right side is benumbed through the effect of a paralytic stroke the doctor can take a pin and drive it into his limb and the patient is oblivious to the sense of pain. So when a human being is suffering under the paralyzing effect of sin he loses his moral sensibilities. What appeared to him once as wrong now appears to be right, and what was once right now does not appear to have any special significance in his life.

The gradual dulling or the paralyzing of the moral sensibilities by the touch of sin may be seen in the life of a country boy who has come to live in our large cities. When that young man left home, he was as pure as his sister or his mother. He had a delicate, spiritual touch. He could distinguish right from wrong as readily as a trained artist's eye can tell the harmony of colors or a musician's ear can be shocked at the slightest discord. But after awhile that young man allows himself to be led into questionable enjoyments. When he first saw an enticing sin, a fiery blush mantled his cheek. But after awhile his perceptions are dulled; evil is no longer repulsive to him; he begins to believe that the theater may have a beneficial influence. He can argue for it with a clear eye and a steady heartbeat. After awhile he can go and with absolute no qualms or upbraidings of conscience can sit and listen to the vilest of talks which are being uttered upon the stage; sit there with a young girl by his side who is no more ashamed of what she sees and hears than is her masculine escort. The fact that the young man is able to argue with you and that he sees no wrong in watching a sinful play proves beyond a doubt that he has cirrhosis of the soul, a hardening of the moral sensibilities, an inability to spiritually distinguish right from wrong. What color blindness is to the locomotive engineer who is unable to distinguish warning signals alongside the railroad track spiritual color blindness is to the sinful soul. After awhile by the touch of sin the sinner loses his capacity to distinguish right from wrong and, like the eyesight ground mole, is unable to tell the brightness of midnoon from the darkness of midnight.

Hardening the Moral Sensibilities.
I have seen, more than once, this hardening of the moral sensibilities by sin. Within a few blocks of my old Chicago home there was a sinful place, where most of the victims caught were young boys of fifteen or sixteen years of age. That evil place, thank God, has since been closed. In the windows of that poolroom were hung up a great number of lewd pictures. Again and again I have seen young men come up to that place for the first time. When they would do it, they would stagger back as though stunned. Then they would look around the street as though they were thieves about to rob a house. Then at those lewd pictures in the windows they would look again, with glassy eyes and flushed face. But afterward those same boys, who at first were ashamed to look, would become bold faced and vile tongued. They would stand around that corner, smoking filthy cigarettes and insulting young girls as they would pass by. Within the walls of my own church I have seen this paralyzing of the moral sensibilities by sin. I have seen a man who once led a noble woman to the marriage altar not only sacrifice himself, but sell his own child into sin, for the gratification of quenching a drunkard's thirst. My brother and sister, with such examples before you of the metamorphosing power of sin, can you afford to run the risk of scoffing at sin? Are you not afraid that, as in Circe's palace, you may be changed into the form of a human brute? Are you not afraid that by the touch of sin your conscience may become so hardened that you shall have no moral sensibilities left?

Evil temptations should not be derided. The depths of human misery into which they can fling their victims this side of the grave are unfathomable. It is upon the dark side of the results of sin I would speak. The trouble with many of our so-called Christian teachers is that we put a halo over sin. We picture temptation as a creature of beauty seated upon a silver cloud lined with gold. She holds in one hand a pack of cards and in the other a goblet of wine. The color of her cheek, the flowers caught in the folds of her garment, clinging about her little form, make her look so innocent one cannot help loving her even though she may be bad. But I would tear away the beautiful robe, and under the rim of that cloud I would show you a crouching demon whose only music is the agonizing cry of those whom he has got in his clutches, whose only joy is in tantalizing those whom he is destroying and whose frightened, pleading eyes have no more effect upon his stony heart than the cry of the helpless fawn upon the box constrictor who is wrapping its coils about the trembling body for the fatal hug.

First Steps to Destruction.
The first steps to moral destruction may wind through a garden, but that floral pathway soon changes into the hilly road covered with jagged rocks and running by the side of yawning precipices. The bracelets of gold are soon changed into the handcuffs of steel. The merry-makers will soon hear the echoes of their laughter in the shrieks of the doomed and the lost. There is no permanent happiness in sin. Mark that, my brother—no real happiness in sin!

Tell me, O drunkard, that you are happy? No, no! Any one who has heard John B. Gough describe the miseries of his past life knows that no drunkard is happy. Tell me that the libertine is happy when by his crimes he lost the respect of all good men and women? Tell me that the gambler is happy? No, no! When he sat at the gaming table, he not only lost his honor, but his home, his business, his all. He cannot even buy a pair of shoes for his feet or a coat for his back. Thomas Guthrie once described the cup of sin as a beautiful chalice filled with wine, but at the bottom of the cup lay coiled a serpent. And so after we have sipped for a little while the cup of pleasure, then the evil serpent will appear and sting us and bite us as we put the chalice to our lips. Let no man consent to be a mocking fool by supposing that an evil life ever brings happiness this side of the grave.

But how much more awful must be the evil results of sin on the other side of the grave! Can a tiger change his striped fur? Can a wolf have his hair bleached into the white wool of a lamb? Can a man born in sin, reared in sin and living in sin and dying in sin be emancipated from sin merely because his body sleeps for a little while in the tomb? Oh, no! The soul that sinneth is the soul that must suffer the results of its sins unless Christ forgives those sins and washes them clean in the blood of the Lamb. And whenever there is sin, whether in this world or the next, there is agony. I do not care whether you call the place of eternal punishment a "lake of fire and brimstone," a great, heaving, molten sea of burning lava, a dungeon or the haunting caverns of memory. The sinner dying unrepentant must suffer and suffer and suffer forever. The Bible declares it. We must believe it.

Suicidal Folly of the Sinner.
The suicidal folly of the sinner who year by year adds to the long record of his sins was vividly and impressively compared by Mr. Spurgeon to a blacksmith, who at the command of an oriental tyrant forged for him a long chain. The blacksmith at his forge worked week in and week out, month in and month out; then he brought the chain to the fiend and said, "Here is the chain which thou didst order." "Make the chain longer," said the tyrant; "longer, make it longer." When at last the blacksmith answered, "I cannot make the chain any longer, for I have used up all my material," the tyrant said to his slaves, "Take it and bind the blacksmith with his own chain and cast him into a furnace of fire." So Satan as a demon by the power of sin and by a man's own acts will not only destroy a man's life for this world, but also for the next.

My brothers and sisters, who have heretofore been mocking at sin as a picture, with the dark background of warning, will you not let me point in the bright foreground a sweet, divine love? Will you not let me describe for you the Christ who is ready to stand between you and all future temptation, the Christ who will not only forgive the past, but by his power will keep you in the future? Who is he? The Unchanging Rock, the Lily of the Valley, the Bright and Morning Star, the One who is altogether lovely, the One who is now standing by your side. Will you receive him? Will you not let Christ come into your heart?

Ye mockers at sin, I would plead with you also. Come to the fountain of which if one drink he shall never thirst again. I would plead as I have never pleaded before. Why? Because I know that under your sneers and laughter you have a breaking heart. I know that you are at heart weary of your sin and dread its punishment. Come, then, and let Christ save you. Do not be kept back by the thought that you are too bad to be saved. You are invited and Christ assures you that none that come to him shall be cast out. I tell you this invitation is for all. Yes, it is for all. It is for you just as it was for that poor drunken loafer who crawled up to the altar in Pittsburgh many years ago. "What is the good of trying to save him?" some men said to Francis Murphy. "No good," answered Murphy, "for me to try to save him, but it is good to let God try." And God did save. He put his divine, loving, forgiving arm about Captain Barbour and the mocker at sin became a redeemed child in the King's palace. Oh, my sinful, sorrowing friends, will you cease to follow sin? Will you here and now surrender your life, your broken life, into the hands of the Divine Master? Then, at that glad moment, all the celestial chimes will ring out the tidings that an immortal is born again!

You are redeemed, but not with silver. You are bought, but not with gold. Bought with a price, the blood of Jesus, Precious price of love untold.

Baby Cries by Telephone.
A West Philadelphia druggist who recently became the proud father of his first baby was called to Baltimore the other day on a business trip. Early in the afternoon the telephone bell in his home rang, and his wife answered the call. Hubby was at the other end in Baltimore. "It seemed so funny not to hear the baby crying," came the voice over the wire, "that I couldn't stand it any longer. Can't you bring him to the phone so I can hear him?" Wife woke the child up out of a sound sleep, and he very accommodatingly began to bawl at the top of his lungs into the receiver while his mother held him in her arms. This continued until the long distance wire, when the happy father rang off.—Philadelphia Record.

EUREKA HARNESS OIL
Rain and sweat have no effect on harnesses treated with Eureka Harness Oil. It resists the damp, keeps the leather soft and pliable. Stitches do not break. No rough surface to chafe and cut. The harness not only keeps looking like new, but wears twice as long by the use of Eureka Harness Oil.
Sold everywhere in cans of all sizes. Made by Standard Oil Company

ONE MINUTE

One Minute Cough Cure gives relief in one minute, because it kills the microbe which tickles the mucous membrane, causing the cough, and at the same time clears the phlegm, draws out the inflammation and heals and soothes the affected parts. One Minute Cough Cure strengthens the lungs, wards off pneumonia and is a harmless and never failing cure in all curable cases of Coughs, Colds and Croup.

Our little girl was unconscious from strangulation during a sudden and terrible attack of croup. I quickly secured a bottle of One Minute Cough Cure and gave her three doses half an hour apart. The croup was mastered and our little darling speedily recovered. I cannot praise One Minute Cough Cure too much for what it has done in our family.—A. L. Spafford, Postmaster, Chester, Mich.

Seed corn—four of the leading kinds just in. C. SCOTT & CO.

Exsheriff John W. Cook is confined to his home by illness.

No use of running off your corn rows when you use a Hoosier planter.

The revival services at the Christian church are well attended and much interest is being manifested.

Mr. W. C. Hammond, clerk of the Superior court of Randolph county, was in Greensboro Saturday.

Last night Hon. John L. King addressed the people of Oak Ridge on the good roads bond election.

Pure White Wyandotte eggs, 13 for one dollar. GEO. BLAKE, 16-21, Greensboro, N. C.

A revival meeting is in progress at Grace Methodist Protestant church. Rev. T. J. Ogburn is assisting the pastor.

Mr. W. E. Barr is in Burlington installing an electric light plant in Mr. J. Q. Gant's new cotton mill at that place.

The Hoosier corn planter is very simple and drops 16 and 26 inches, 22 and 38 inches, 30 and 48 inches without changing plates.

Plug tobacco at half price. Only have a few boxes of these goods, which are slightly damaged. Come quick if you want any of it. C. SCOTT & CO.

Mr. Everett Holder and Miss Lillie Tomlinson, of this city, were married last Wednesday night, the ceremony being performed by Rev. J. H. Rich.

Mrs. A. J. Dunn, whose husband was formerly a contractor in this city, died last week in Riverside, Ala. Mr. and Mrs. Dunn left Greensboro last fall.

Mr. E. M. Andrews, whose removal to Greensboro was announced in last week's PATRIOT, is expected to leave Charlotte with his family either today or tomorrow.

Townsend & Co.'s plow trade is enormous. The reason why is that the Vulcan is the "best plow on earth." The farmers buy and recommend them. Every one guaranteed. 14-21

Prof. R. N. Wilson, of Guilford College, who recently went to Philadelphia to undergo an operation for appendicitis, is reported to be on the road to recovery. During his absence his place in the college is being filled by Miss Ada Fields.

Students who enter Peele College between May tenth and July tenth will get special summer rates. Peele College is a standard school of business and stenography, located in the famous Piedmont section of North Carolina, at Greensboro. 16-17

Prof. J. R. Wharton has announced that he will resign his office as county superintendent of schools at the next meeting of the board of education. Prof. Wharton has served the schools of the county in this capacity for about 20 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Fawcett, of Mt. Airy, have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Mary Lyon, to Charles H. Armfield, of Statesville. The ceremony will take place at Trinity Episcopal church, Mt. Airy, on Wednesday evening, May 6th.

A few weeks ago a citizen of Liberty was appointed a rural free mail delivery carrier, but before his commission was received he died. Now his widow writes and asks for the place, but it is not thought that a woman is eligible for appointment to a position of this kind.

There will be a good roads speaking at Hillsdale on the evening of Saturday, May 2d, at early candle light. Col. F. P. Hobgood, Jr., and others will be among the speakers present. A large attendance of the people of that section is desired, as the measure stands the fullest investigation.

Farmers in this county are complaining that the recent protracted rains have thrown them badly behind with all kinds of farm work. The ground is too wet to plow and but little corn has been planted. In addition, the public roads, which are usually fairly passable by spring, continue in a most miserable condition.

In our next issue we will print a letter from our good friend Mr. W. O. Stratford endorsing the good roads measure in no uncertain terms. Mr. Stratford has always been a good roads advocate, and is fully satisfied the proposed bond issue is the surest means of getting good roads in Guilford in the time of the present generation.

We have just received two more car loads of fertilizers. Come on and get what you want. Our aim is to please. We have the very best goods at low prices for cash. Our stock of hardware is of the best quality. Sewing machines a specialty.

THE GREENSBORO HARDWARE CO., 521 South Elm St.

Monday night a conflagration in the room occupied by the sanctificationists, in one of the Groome buildings, on South Elm street, was narrowly averted. During the service a window curtain caught fire, but the blaze was extinguished before the arrival of the fire department. A fire had previously occurred in this room under similar circumstances.

The popular saying that "few office holders die and none resign" is disproved now and then. An instance which seems to prove an exception to this rule is furnished by Mr. Isaac F. Trogdon, who has resigned as postmaster at Worthville and requested that his successor be named as early as possible. Mr. Trogdon resigns to engage in the mercantile business at Cooleemee.

Excongressman Blackburn, who recently located in Greensboro, has purchased four acres of land on Summit avenue, just opposite the residence of Mr. Caesar Cone, on which he will build a magnificent residence. The location is a most attractive and desirable one in every particular. The PATRIOT understands that Mr. Blackburn will build during the coming summer.

Sunday the big 16-inch water main was connected with the new stand-pipe being erected on Greene street by the water and light commission. Five hours were required to connect the main, and during this time the city's water supply was, of course, cut off. The new stand-pipe has a capacity of 300,000 gallons and will afford a pressure of 80 pounds, just twice the pressure heretofore available.

The following young ladies have been selected as sponsors by the fire companies named for the street carnival to be held here during the week beginning May 11th: Miss Allie Vickory, for the Hook and Ladder Company; Miss Margaret Merrimon, for the Steamer Company; Miss Carrie Smith, Eagle Hose Company; Miss Emma Sharpe, West End Hose Company; Miss Annie Reynolds, South Side Hose Company.

Greensboro, N. C., in the Piedmont section, is an ideal place for a summer school. Then, Peele College summer school will be conducted on the fifth floor of one of the most perfectly appointed buildings in the South, where the mountain breezes are unobstructed. Plenty of filtered ice water, and a hydraulic elevator to take the students to the room in quick time. Special rates. Business and stenography.

Rev. Howard Rondthaler will deliver an illustrated lecture on Palestine at Moravia church, near Oak Ridge, on Friday evening of this week. Following this lecture Mr. A. B. Kimball, of this city, will speak to those present on the good roads measure, illustrating his remarks by a number of views that he has obtained for the occasion. It will be an occasion of pleasure and profit to all who may attend.

K. D. Urquhart, a commercial salesman from Lynchburg, Va., has instituted suit in the Superior court of Guilford county against the Southern Railway for $5,000. He claims this amount of damages for have been put off a passenger train near the coal chute one night last January. He did not relish the walk from the coal chute to his hotel in this city and will ask a jury to reimburse him to the extent of the amount named above.

The annual meeting of the Greensboro fire departments was held Monday night, when the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Fred N. Taylor, chief; W. R. Pleasants, assistant chief; E. L. Clarke, secretary; E. E. Bain, treasurer; members of the executive committee, E. E. Bain, Harry Poezolt, John Lewis, W. B. Hunt, Flavius Keith. The election of these officers will come before the next board of aldermen for confirmation.

Nothing, perhaps, is a surer index of the general business prosperity of a community than the condition of its banks. The banks of Greensboro have kept pace with the rapid growth and development of this community. During the past six or eight years the deposits in the local banks have increased from something in the neighborhood of $700,000 or $800,000 to about $1,800,000. In the past three years the deposits of one bank have grown from $113,841.51 to over $577,077.

The Pinehurst Outlook prints an interesting interview with Mr. Charles D. Benbow, of this city, relative to the growth and prosperity of Greensboro. The Outlook quotes Mr. Benbow as saying that he believes fifty dwellings, costing from $1,000 to $2,000 each, could be rented here before completion at from twelve to fifteen per cent. on the cost, according to location, and that even still cheaper houses would rent well and give good returns in the way of interest, and at the same time steadily increase in valuation.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. The Guilford County Bar Passes on the Tax Provision of Guilford's Proposed Road Law.

We, the undersigned attorneys at law, do hereby certify that we have carefully examined the road law now in force in Guilford county, and also the proposed law for the issue of bonds for the improvement of the roads, and that in our opinion the adoption of this law and the issue of these bonds will not and can not increase the road tax or any other tax above what is allowed by the laws now in force in Guilford county:

R. R. King, A. B. Kimball, L. M. Scott, W. P. Ragan, James T. Morehead, Chas. M. Stedman, W. S. Thomson, A. Wayland Cooke, B. C. Sharpe, N. L. Eure, R. C. Strudwick, F. P. Hobgood, Jr., Geo. S. Bradshaw, Thomas C. Hoyle, T. J. Murphy, J. I. Scales, E. J. Justice, Chas. W. Sapp, Z. V. Taylor, C. G. Wright, John A. Barringer, John N. Wilson, Wescott Roberson, J. A. Long, Wm. P. Bynum, Jr., A. M. Scales, R. D. Douglas.

Solicitor Brooks is out of the city and this document could not be submitted to him for his signature, but we take the liberty of saying that he is an earnest advocate of the bond measure and will be heard in the campaign that begins Friday at Pleasant Garden.

A Thoughtful Man.

M. M. Austin of Winchester, Ind., knew what to do in the hour of need. His wife had such an unusual case of stomach and liver trouble, physicians could not help her.
