The principal damage reported comes from along the coast and some of the northern cities, principally New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Washington.

PLURALITY BEATS RECORD.

Latest Returns Indicate That Roosevelt's Plurality Will Exceed 1,500,000—Far in Excess of McKinley's in 1896.

New York, Nov. 9.—With the election returns still incomplete, the plurality of President Roosevelt in the nation, according to all indications tonight, will exceed 1,500,000, the greatest plurality ever given an American candidate. The nearest approach to this vote was in 1896, when McKinley received a plurality approximately 850,000.

Tonight the interests certain in Missouri and Maryland. Late returns indicate that the former state is in the Republican column so far as presidential electors are concerned, but that Joseph Folk, the Democratic candidate, has been elected governor. Maryland's presidential vote will be cast for President Roosevelt. Late returns tonight indicate that Thomas A. Smith, Democrat, has been elected to Congress in the First district by 450 plurality. Congressman Jackson of this district tonight, however, puts forward a claim of trick ballots and fraud and says he will contest the election.

In the other states it is only a question of pluralities.

The solid South was broken by the probable defection of Missouri—this section of the country usually having 13 states in the Democratic column. The figures tonight show but 12 states with 133 votes for Judge Parker.

President Roosevelt carried all the Northern states—except them, in fact—and tonight he had 343 electoral votes. The banner state is Pennsylvania. Twenty-four hours after the polls closed the returns from this state indicated that Roosevelt's plurality would reach 485,000. Next came Illinois, where the President polled approximately 225,000 more votes than did Judge Parker. Ohio gave Roosevelt 200,000 and New York 174,000.

The New York city returns are still incomplete, but the amazement over the result has not subsided. Judge Parker carried Greater New York by only 41,000 votes.

In general, the situation is chiefly interesting because of the fact that the tickets in many states were cut. President Roosevelt ran ahead of his ticket in many localities, notably in Massachusetts, where he secured a plurality of 86,000 votes, while the Republican candidate for governor was defeated by 35,000. In that state the legislature is Republican and the entire Republican ticket, with the exception of governor was elected. In Missouri circumstances are similar.

In Nebraska the definite announcement that the legislature is Republican disposes of the statement that William J. Bryan had aspirations for a United States senatorship. In that state, too, the governorship is in doubt, and it will require careful returns to determine who is elected. Both sides claim a victory.

There is a curious situation in Minnesota, where Roosevelt secured 125,000 plurality, but where a Democratic governor and a Republican lieutenant governor were elected. The election of a Democratic governor is the second in the history of the state. Chairman Babcock of the Republican congressional committee has been returned to Congress from Wisconsin, but Chairman Cowherd, of the Democratic congressional committee, was defeated in Missouri. The situation in Colorado presents an interesting phase. Roosevelt has carried the state by probably 15,000, but the governorship is still in doubt, both sides claiming a victory.

KENTUCKY THANKSGIVING.

Mayor of Henderson Makes an Innovation in His Proclamation.

Mayor J. H. Powell, of Henderson, Ky., in issuing his Thanksgiving proclamation, says:

"Let us be thankful that our colonels are not so full of corn as our corn is full of kernels. Though the surrounding soil, tickled with a hoe, is laughing with a harvest, poor folks are still with us. From thin soup and cold potatoes, Good Lord, deliver them!"

"Oh, Christian men and women, astonish the stomach of the starving, suffer with oysters, turkey and mince pie. Adorn the ragged pauper with comfortable clothing. An ounce of practice is worth a pound of preaching. "Dearly beloved, let us play upon a harp of a thousand strings and sing a new song of praise, and give thanks unto the Lord for the most charming crop of beautiful babes ever born in the old town since creation dawned and the morning stars sang together. Sweet, dainty, darling ones, like sunbeams in shady places, kick up your little heels and make of earth a heaven. "With charity unto all and malice toward none, I do hereunto subscribe my official signature to the words that have been written this fourth day of November."

Faculty of State Normal College Commend Crawford.

The faculty of the State Normal College have passed the following resolutions concerning Rev. Dr. L. W. Crawford, who has always taken a very great interest in the college:

Whereas, In accordance with the policy of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, it has become necessary for Rev. L. W. Crawford to change his field of labor in the Western North Carolina Conference, be it resolved:

1. That we, the faculty of the State Normal and Industrial College, express to him our genuine appreciation of him as a man and a citizen whom the city of Greensboro is loth to lose.

2. That on account of the voluntary service which he, as a Christian pastor and teacher, has for more than ten years given to our college, we are grieved at the thought that our relations must cease.

3. That we thank him heartily for his dignified, tactful and brotherly interest in us and our students, irrespective of denominational differences, and for the truly intellectual and spiritual influence he has exerted among us.

4. That we assure him of our affectionate regard and bid him God speed in his new work—wherever and whatever it may be.

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Boyd attended the marriage of their sister, Miss Sallie R. Boyd, and Mr. Samuel A. Hubbard, which took place at Reidsville last Wednesday night. The bride is one of Buckingham's fairest daughters. The groom is a prosperous young business man.

The C. P. Vanstorty farm, a portion of which lies inside the eastern limits of the city, was purchased by Mr. Garland Daniel last week, the consideration being $20,000. The property will be subdivided and placed on the market through the Greensboro Real Estate and Loan Company in which Mr. Daniel is a stockholder.

The United States Civil Service Commission announces an examination on November 30, 1904, to secure eligibles for which to make certification to fill a vacancy in the position of janitor, at State prison, in the United States penitentiary and courthouse building at Greensboro, and other similar vacancies as they may occur in the Custodian service in this city.

Mr. J. C. Hedditch, manager of the Kellum Medicine Company, Newport News, Va., was here the first of the week and placed several orders for what is said to be a wonderful cure for indigestion, "Kellum's Sure Cure." ## Another Monument for Guilford Battle Ground Nearing Completion.

Just before departing for Morehead City last week to join Senator Aldrich and the party of northern capitalists who are touring the state, Major Jos. M. Morehead, president of the Guilford Battle Ground Company, announced that a handsome granite memorial to Colonel William Washington and the Marquis of Bretagne, and their Virginia and North Carolina cavalry, is about completed and ready for shipment to the Battle Ground. It will be erected east of Spring Vale, on top of the steep hill where these cavalymen made their fierce and successful charge through the ranks of the Highlanders, whose accomplished leader, Colonel Stewart, was killed in the melee. Major Morehead is not unkindful of Senator Aldrich's in promoting the measure providing for a monument to General Greene at the Battle Ground, and he is determined that his appreciation shall assume a tangible form.

It is interesting to note in this connection that Capt. R. J. Johnson, of the corps of United States Engineers, Wilmington, is now calling for sealed proposals for the monuments to Generals Nash and Davidson which the government will erect on Guilford Battle Ground. Bids will be received until noon of December 12th at the office of Capt. Johnson in Wilmington. These monuments will likely be unveiled at the annual Fourth of July celebration next year.

According to the programme mapped out the distinguished gentlemen from the North and their escort of state officials and other prominent North Carolinians will be here today and their local itinerary will probably include a drive to the Battle Ground.

Some nervous person who evidently couldn't wait to discover the cause of an unusual smoke rising from a residence on Summit avenue Friday afternoon turned in an alarm that took the firemen out that way post haste. A pile of trash near Mr. Abe Mendenhall's residence was burning merrily when the department reached the scene and Mr. Mendenhall was standing nearby with a garden hose ready to see that no damage resulted. The same evening some one tested a new alarm box near Wyong & Miles' machine shop, near the coal chute, giving the department a needless run of several squares.

Mr. Sydney Gallimore, a young married man who recently moved here from High Point, was seriously injured Friday afternoon while engaged in digging a tunnel connecting the White Oak Mills and to be used for electric wires, hot air pipes, etc. A large quantity of dirt and rock broke loose from the sides of the walls and fell on the man, who was in the tunnel. He received an ugly wound over the eye and was also painfully bruised. He was carried to his home and physicians summoned to attend to his wounds. No bones were broken and the physicians think he will recover.

Mr. J. F. Tucker, a special agent of the Department of the Interior, Washington, is here making an investigation of the cost of road building in this county, preparatory to issuing a pamphlet setting forth the comparative cost of the same in various states and localities. In conversation with a newspaper man last week Mr. Tucker stated that his first visit to Greensboro was made over forty years ago while a soldier in the Confederate army. He was surprised at the wonderful growth and development of the city as well as the country roundabout. He is a native of Florida and loyal to the South and its traditions.

$250,000 FIRE IN KNOXVILLE.

Accompanying Explosion Injured Six Firemen and Shattered Glass for Two Blocks.

Knoxville, Tenn., Nov. 12.—A fire, accompanied by an explosion of either dynamite or powder, occurred today on Gay street, the principal business street of the city, causing a loss of about $250,000. Six firemen were injured. The most seriously hurt is Fireman J. B. Hawkins, both of whose legs were broken.

A number of other persons sustained slight cuts from flying glass, but none were seriously hurt. The fire originated from an unknown cause in the Woodruff Hardware Company's seven-story building, which was reduced to ashes. The recently completed five-story marble front building occupied by the Cable Piano Company was wrecked by the explosion, which followed the fire in the Woodruff building adjoining, and the six-story Arnold, Henegar & Doyle wholesale shoe house was damaged by both fire and water.

The explosion shattered almost all window glass and many show cases in nearly every store within a radius of two blocks of the fire. The blaze was confined to the Woodruff block.

It is believed the losses are covered by insurance.

A $30,000 Fire at Savannah.

Savannah, Ga., Nov. 12.—Fire in the receiving warehouse of the Seaboard Air Line Railroad tonight did about $30,000 damage. The entire fire department of the city was called out, and in addition two tugs assisted in fighting the flames. Two firemen were hurt, neither seriously, however. The stores burned consisted chiefly of grain and general merchandise.

Boys Fired the School.

Asheville, Nov. 12.—The farm school under the management of the Northern Presbyterian Board of Home Missions, and located about ten miles from Asheville on the Swannanoa river, had a narrow escape from destruction last night when two students, Willard Gonsell and Cal Furehes, aged sixteen years each, went to the basement of the dormitory building, and piled a lot of paper and broken boxes on the floor applied the match with the purpose of burning the structure.

That the building was not destroyed with the loss of many lives is due to the fact, it is said, that another student of the school smelled the smoke and investigation located the flames. The alarm was given and the fire quickly extinguished with the admirable fire system in vogue at the school. The two boys were taken in charge by the superintendent and today Sheriff Reed was notified of the affair.

The boys made a confession and said that they were tired of going to school and conceived the idea of destroying the building in hope to gain this much desired end. It is said that one of the boys recently ran away but was subsequently sent back by his uncle, and that he had declared in order to get out of school he guessed he would have to burn the buildings.

Sheriff Reed left this afternoon about 3 o'clock for the school for the purpose of bringing the boys to Asheville and placing them in jail.

Orphans' Day.

Thanksgiving Day is a special donation day to the orphans' homes of our state and this is most fitting.

A people greatly blessed of God desire to make some expression of their gratitude to Him. They find no cause more worthy than that of the destitute, homeless orphan child. They realize that our orphanages are performing a necessary, an important work for childhood and for the world. These institutions are being greatly used in the salvation of the children, in their preparation for useful lives. Without care and training the lives of these boys and girls would likely be given over to evil.

Surely an offering, lovingly made, to a well-conducted orphan's home is accepted by God as a true thank-offering to Him.

We would that all of our people, and especially our children in the homes of the state might enter more and more earnestly and actively into work for homeless children. The boys and girls of today will be the ones who will, in a few years, carry forward this noble work of love.

Alamance Official Count.

Burlington, Nov. 12.—The following are the majorities of the officers of Alamance county as shown by the official count: State Senate, H. A. Foushee 50; James A. Turrentine 73; House of Representatives, A. J. Graham 43; Treasurer, R. A. Freeman 41; Register, L. Deeds, C. D. Johnson 42; Surveyor, L. H. Holt 74; Coroner, G. W. Long 68; Sheriff, R. T. Kernodle 123; County Commissioners, John Waggoner 15, George T. Williamson 73, J. G. Clark 56, T. B. Parker 45, W. E. Vincent 60. The entire county ticket, with the exception of sheriff and one commissioner, Vincent, went Democratic.

Blackburn's Majority 256.

North Wilkesboro, Nov. 11.—According to the official returns from the county received by the Republicans and conceded by the Democrats, Blackburn's majority is 256. Counties with majorities for Blackburn, are Alexander 68; Watauga 294; Ashe 415; Wilkes 1,232; Surry 442; Caldwell 191; Stanly 48. Counties with majorities for Newland, are Alleghany 128; Cabarrus 202; Rowan 1,261; Iredell 683. One township in Watauga, which gave Blackburn a majority of 34, was thrown out.

Somewhat Embarrassing.

Some little while ago a popular writer visited a jail in order to write a magazine article on prison life. On returning home he described the horrors he had seen, and his description made a deep impression on the mind of his little daughter Mary.

The writer and his little offspring a week later were in a train together, which stopped at a station near a gloomy building. A man asked:

"What place is that?"

"The county jail," another answered promptly.

Whereupon Mary embarrassed her father and aroused the suspicions of the other occupants of the car by asking, in a loud, shrill voice:

"Is that the jail you were in father?"

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

Correspondence of the PATRIOT.

Washington, Nov. 12.—There is no denying the fact that we Democrats were on Tuesday night astounded and confounded. That Parker might be defeated—that, of course, was among our counts and discounts. But other announcements excited more than transient incredulity. I was in the committee of the Democratic party in the Regs. House when the wires first began to buzz. Congressman Cowherd, chairman of the committee, held the floor in his usual buoyant temper, and walked up and down reading aloud the dispatches handed to him. He had just returned from the West where he had found his own Kansas City district "all right and secure" and had discovered that Missouri "ought to give 10,000 for Parker." Even before the returns began to come in he was feeling very sore because the party had not backed up his committee and when a dispatch said that Pennsylvania would send to Congress one Democrat and thirty-one Republicans he came nearest profanity as he ever does, and told the hundreds of friends assembled round him that his committee had not received a single dollar from the national committee during the campaign and that the members had taken $500 out of their own pockets to pay for the printing they had been able to get. The declaration caused grave faces, sharp comment, and many expressions of sympathy, especially when it was announced that Cowherd had been overthrown in his own district because he had been compelled to be present in Washington. He is very popular in the House, one of the shrewdest, readiest, active and enterprising members, chosen out of the entire body because of his political sagacity.

The causes of the landslide to Roosevelt—for there are many. You can judge as well as your correspondent can. There seems to be in the United States about eighty million opinions on this subject. I asked a prominent Republican yesterday for his diagnosis. "Well," he said, by his sagacious action, Roosevelt made himself solid with the Catholics, the Hebrews, the negroes, and the union labor vote. He nished the Panama business through, and, whether right or wrong, the people like a man who does things. The normal Republican vote on Tuesday was reinforced by a million men who want the President always to carry a chip on his shoulder and who will back him up to any extent.

"And all the people cried, 'Come brother! Your one good term deserves another!'"

Senator Jones seen at his residence here says it was the alleged prosperity that carried the day,—the people that have money and the people who hope to get money. To this was added the belligerent feeling which has prevailed in the United States for the last six years, filling the streets with boys in uniform and sending to the polls an army of converted Democrats willing to follow to any conquest Theodore the king of the Northern Goths. A Republican friend of mine insists that every lynching anywhere in the United States cost the Democrats at the polls on Tuesday ten thousand votes. But I think he is dreaming.

The President's formal declaration that under no circumstances would he be a candidate for re-election is received here at per as a sincere avowal. It seems a little hasty and premature, but it is just like the impulsive Roosevelt. The fact, however, remains that a President of the United States is no longer the author of his own destiny, and he is liable to be seized by eulogists and flatterers, and dragged into the White House again even against his own protest. What he will do during these next four years nobody can tell. He has conducted himself as to promote national harmony, unity and peace; he has adopted a policy which will make his name a synonym of aggression and conquest, and bring the republic to the verge of ruin. He should be kept strictly by the co-scientists and the eyes of the world are upon him.

Shining in bronze gentlemen on a pedestal first people over the squares and circles of the city are to receive an illustrious visit in the person of a solitary pedestrian in military uniform of foreign and antiquated aspect, whose metallic counterpart will be met in the grounds of the new War College next Saturday. These are better known as the arsenal grounds, but during the last two or three years a long row of handsome villas has been erected here for the use of officers, and flanking them on the other side of the park are being built very comprehensive and substantial barracks, adequate to all emergencies. The personage to mount the pedestal is Frederick the Great. One hand rests on his sword hilt and the other carries a cane—perhaps the very cane that his father bequeathed him when the youth was caught in his boyish pranks; perhaps the very sword that he flung away at the battle of Mollwitz when he found refuge in a barn ten miles from the battlefield; perhaps the very cocked hat which he wore when he sold his Hessians to George III to conquer the American colonies within. Our forefathers tore down the statue of George III in New York City and moulded it into bullets on that occasion; but this statue of Frederick, presented by the Emperor William, is to occupy one corner of a quadrangle in the War College grounds as an example to American youth. The other corners are, it is rumored, to be occupied by Alexander the Great, Napoleon Bonaparte and Theodore Roosevelt; and another quadrangle at the head of the "army close" probably will be decorated with the statues of Cornwallis, Cortez, Captain Kidd and Jack the Giant-Killer. The ceremonies on the 19th will consist of the formal presentation by the German ambassador and a grateful eulogy of Frederick by President Roosevelt.

The illustrious British statesman John Morley is in the city today, a guest of the President. He seems slightly incongruous and embarrassing, for this is the liberal and courageous statesman who for years has opposed the insolent aggressions of his own country and ours against the republics of South Africa and the Orient. As a Little Englander, pro-Boer, and a professor of the art of "scuttling" one naturally wonders what he talks about with the President.

A woman hates to have her husband waste his health on cigarettes and his money on cigars.

MR. ROOSEVELT WILL GO TO ST. LOUIS.

His Journey There November 26 Will Be in Grateful Recognition of Missouri's Embrace of Republicanism.

Washington, Nov. 10.—President Roosevelt tonight accepted an invitation to visit the World's Fair at St. Louis again. He promised to be in St. Louis on Saturday, November 26. He said he would remain only that day, but the officials confidently hope to keep him there over Sunday.

Kolla Wells, mayor of St. Louis; W. H. Thompson, treasurer, and Corwin H. Spencer, first vice-president of the Exposition Company, went to the White House tonight and formally extended the invitation. The President accepted it most graciously. The invitation includes all the cabinet officers, and it is expected that several of them will accompany the President.

Mr. Roosevelt told the committee, jokingly, that he was sorry the landslide in Missouri had overwhelmed his old friend, Senator Cockrell. His journey to St. Louis will be in the nature of a triumphal procession and will be the first of many such journeys throughout the country.

The President's trip to St. Louis will be in special recognition of the fact that Missouri gives him her electoral vote and will send a Republican to the United States Senate for the first time in three decades. He will go to stimulate this affectionate leaning toward Republicanism.

SHAKE EVERY HAND HE CAN REACH.

He will depart by one route and return by another, and in one or the other direction he will pass through West Virginia, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, four states which rendered him much honor at the polls. He will shake every hand he can reach, and make a personal, and perhaps a grateful response to every salutation.

This journey will be the President's first thankful acknowledgment to the people, who have given him the largest popular vote ever cast for a Presidential candidate. He is determined to know the people better, to mingle with them. He is resolved, particularly, to get closer to the people of the once solid South.

Mr. Roosevelt will invade the South with arms wide open. He will visit his mother's birthplace. He will go into Georgia, which he regards as the state most hostile to his negro policy. He will make a speech explaining to the Southern people exactly what his attitude is on the race question. He will declare that he has never sought to establish race equality. He does not consider this possible or desirable. He will assert that his only idea is to recognize manhood wherever it is found, either in white or black, and that he seeks to elevate manhood in the negro. He believes that such action will establish better feeling between North and South.

PATRIARCH OF THE PEOPLE.

In a word, Theodore Roosevelt henceforth will devote all his tremendous energies to become a patriarchal, almost a pastoral, head of the people, and not a political President. He will strive to be the stepfather of his country. He believes his triumphant election to the Presidency is due solely to the people and not to partisan leaders, politicians or machines.

So hereafter during his incumbency in office, he will deal with the people at first hand; he will mingle with the masses and learn their necessities, their desires, their ambitions; he will ignore the recommendations of politicians and the behests of party organizations. He will appoint to Federal office only such men as are acceptable to the people, and in his selections for office he will not be influenced by senators, representatives or by any leaders. Mr. Roosevelt will go even further. He will weed out all those now holding office, as the result of pledges made during former campaigns, and will fill their places with men whom he considers more deserving of Federal patronage.

This determination follows and hangs on the pledge which Mr. Roosevelt voluntarily gave last Tuesday night:

"The strict custom which limits the President to two terms regards the substance, and not the form; under no circumstances will I be a candidate for or accept another nomination."

First Snow at Washington City.

Washington, Nov. 12.—As a result of a snow storm which set in here shortly before 11 o'clock this morning, Washington today for several hours was completely cut off from telegraph and telephonic communication with the outside world. Later, a wire was obtained west, but none north, south or east. Both the Western Union and the Postal Telegraph Companies report severe damages to their wires and their inability to get any messages through. Inquiry at the railroad stations developed the fact that trains were departing on schedule time, but that incoming trains were three or more hours late.

The snow fall of today was the first of the season, several inches covering the ground. It started with a drizzling rain, which later turned into a heavy wet snow. The local telephone service was seriously hampered in its operations.

SNOW REACHES NORTHERN GEORGIA.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 13.—The edge of the snow storm which visited the North and East, struck Atlanta this morning between 4 and 5 o'clock. The fall here was very light, but was reported heavier in the more northern part of the state.

A Lonesome Congressman.

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 10.—Nearly complete returns from Ohio tonight show close to 250,000 plurality for the Roosevelt and Fairbanks electors. Only 18 out of the 88 counties in the state have been carried for Parker, and only one Democratic Congressman has been elected out of 21. State Chairman Harvey C. Garber, the Democratic candidate in the Fourth district, has 1,630 plurality in a district normally 6,000.

Dr. Montgomery Inaugurated President of Muskingum.

Zanesville, O., Nov. 11.—With ceremonies lasting throughout the day Rev. J. Knox Montgomery, D. D., of Charlotte, was inducted as president of Muskingum College, at New Concord today. President W. O. Thompson, of the Ohio State University, participated in the inauguration exercises, delivering an address on behalf of the Muskingum alumni.

ARMY DESERTIONS FOR ONE YEAR.

Two Officers Among the Number—Ainsworth's Startling Report.

Washington, Nov. 10.—The most startling statement made by Major General F. C. Ainsworth in his first annual report as military secretary of the army, issued today, is that during the past year 5,889 enlisted men and two officers deserted, or 8.41 per cent. of the entire army. The report shows that the total strength of the army including the Porto Rican provisional regiment, and the Philippine scouts was 65,946 enlisted men and 3,871 officers on June 30 last, an increase of about 750 over the previous year.

During the year 80 officers were retired, 38 resigned, 13 were dismissed and 24 died in action, of wounds, or disease. Of the enlisted men 16,896 were discharged because of expiration of enlistment; 5,500 for other causes, 479 were killed or died of wounds or disease, 35 by suicide. Six were murdered and 188 retired. Other tables show that there are now 27,742 men in the ranks with a credit of more than three years' continuous service. The total enlistment in the regular army, exclusive of the hospital corps and the Philippine scouts, was 27,389.

Three "Boys" go to Congress From Chicago.

Chicago, Nov. 10.—The Republican landslide in Chicago has brought about some curious results. Three Congressional districts in the city had a normal average Democratic majority of 15,000. In 1902 only one district was contested. This year three men, all under thirty years of age, were given the Republican nominations in the districts as a compliment. One of them, Anthony Michalek, twenty-seven years, self-educated in the ghetto, working for $15 a week as a book-keeper, was elected in the Fifth District. He spent less than $100 on his campaign.

Charles Wharton, victor in the Fourth District, is a lawyer, aged twenty-six. He spent $100 in his campaign. "I never thought I had a chance, and just went around to get acquainted," said he.

Charles McGavin, victor in the Eighth District, is twenty-nine, a lawyer. He beat William Preston Harrison in a district that gave 18,000 Democratic plurality two years ago. The entire City Hall was out to elect the Mayor's brother, but McGavin beat him on one issue. He said Harrison was a carpet-bagger and had not lived in the district six months, and he proved it.

An Ireland man has left the Democratic party because his girl refused to marry him, thus establishing a new form of dissipation.

EASY GRAFT OF MEDIUMS.

Nothing Mysterious About the Means by Which They Play on the Credulity of Their Victims.

New York Sun.

"I suppose I have one of the queerest jobs on earth," said the man on the hotel sofa. "My passion and hobby is mediums, clairvoyants," psychic card readers and others of that ilk. Not that I'm a spiritualist. The graft side of the medium business is what interests me.

"There are poor pickings for me in New York now, because the police have been interfering with the medium business. Still, I can find a cheap little test office here almost any time, and I even know a place, just off the Tenderloin, where you can see real ghosts developed in full view of the audience. To see it in full blast, though, you must go to Boston, or, better, to the far Western cities.

"Most people suppose that mediums go to profess to summon up real ghosts—that, in the language of the profession, they materialize. That isn't true. To one materializing medium in these days there are a hundred test mediums.

"The test medium holds forth usually in a cheap hall. The admission is low, for her patrons are poor. Usually it runs from 10 to 25 cents.

"She starts off with a hymn. Then she utters an article from each person in the congregation and begins her test.

"For example, she'll hold up a glove and ask who owns it. When the owner has spoken up she'll hold the glove to her forehead and say something like this:

"I hear the name John. Have you a John in the spirit world?"

"If the owner of the glove has a John among the departed the medium sends some beautiful communications, and then tries to draw the victim out. With a cleverness born of experience, she forces together his occupation, his friends and his wants and tells him all about them.

"He is paralyzed with astonishment, and so are the rest of the circle—for the people who go to seances aren't critical, and they go with a great desire to believe.

"One of the hardest things for a test medium to do is to call at once the name of the dear departed in the spirit world. It she starts off with John, and then through Mary and Katherine and

Lily, and none of them hits the mark, then the most credulous seeker after spirits is inclined to pronounce her a fake. On the other hand, if she hits at once the name of the very spirit which the seeker most desires, she's pronounced a great success.

"Their best means of getting at names is a sort of Mediums' Union, an unorganized society for mutual help which exists in every medium ridden town.

"Mme. Fake, the medium, has a new visitor, a fat woman in black, we'll say, who wears her front hair in gray frizzes and has a slight limp. Mme. Fake tries out a half a dozen names on her. Perhaps she gets down to the sixth before she finds that Robert fits some dead relative of the old lady in black.

"Before Mrs. Fake gets through, she's learned further that the old lady has a dead sister named Annie. The old lady, remembering how long Mme. Fake has been in getting those names, goes away declaring that she's no good.

"Mrs. Fake knows all that, and knows that the old lady won't come here again, but that she'll surely go to another medium—for when a person is bitten by the spiritualistic bug he usually keeps going to mediums until he gets satisfaction.

"So, Mrs. Fake notifies every medium in her crowd, giving a close description of her old lady, together with the names of her spirit friends and any other accurate information which she has been able to drag out. Next Sunday night, when an old lady in black, with frizzes and a limp, shows up at the Home of Truth Circle, conducted by Mrs. Soakem, the second sight wonder, the old lady is told right off the bat that Robert wants her and a beautiful spirit named Annie is over her shoulder calling her sister.

"She goes away firmly convinced that Mrs. Soakem is a wonder and that immortality is proved. In a Western city I've seen printed blanks used to distribute such information among mediums.

"That isn't their only method of getting names, though. Some of them are very clever lip-readers. When in doubt they play 'William' or 'John,' those being the most common Anglo-Saxon names.

"Then they make it a point to learn the names of people living in the neighborhood and to watch the obituary notices, knowing that half their victims are driven to them by the ache of some recent bereavement.

"That's the nasty part of the whole business. The laboring men's wives and daughters, the hired girls and stable boys, who haunt cheap seances, come because they're in trouble and want some help and consolation. These people put their hearts on their sleeves and tell about their love affairs and family difficulties in a way that makes you gasp. I blush sometimes to listen to them.

"The cheap test seance isn't the place where the mediums make their money, though. It is really only an advertisement to get custom for the 'private' and developing seances. All the time she is sending communications to her audience, she is sizing them up. If one looks more easy or eager than the rest, she says something like this:

"John tells me that the spirits have much to tell you, but you're holding back. You need to draw closer to 'em."

"That suggestion is thrown out once or twice. About the third time this particular victim visits the seance, the spirits say:

"We have something to tell you that can't be told in public. You must see a medium alone."

"If the victim is a woman—and she usually is—curiosity brings her around the very next day. The private sittings cost from 50 cents an hour up, according to the means and credulity of the victims. The medium loses no chance of leading her on to come again.

"Developing sittings are a beautiful graft. The medium uses this dodge on people who have what they call the psychic temperament—they can pick them a mile away.

"These people are usually hankering to be mediums and to talk to the spirits themselves. The medium leads them on, saying that they have psychic powers and the spirits want to come into close communion with them. It all leads up to the private developing seance, which costs all the victims can pay and lasts as long as they'll stand for it.

"This is their common or garden variety of graft. But they work all kinds of variations. There's a medium in Boston who has cleaned up a pile by 'discovering' lost treasure. Locating mines is a favorite variety in the Far West.

"There is a medium in San Francisco, Mme. Smith, we'll call her, who's a wonder in her way. The Pacific Mail liner Rio de Janeiro was sunk in the Golden Gate on Washington's birthday, 1901, with $50,000 in gold aboard. No one could find the hull.

"After the steamship and wrecking companies had tried and failed, Mme. Smith had a revelation from the captain of the Rio, which showed her the exact spot where the hull lay in shallow water. Mme. Smith had this revelation one evening in a full circle. She said that it wouldn't do for her to take all that money; she'd lose her power if she did. But she was going to let in all her dear friends and believers—for a consideration.

"According to a faked story in with her then, but fell out with her later, she sold $25,000 worth of stock in her wrecking company. They made a few bluffs at diving and announced that Mme. Smith had been guided wrong by an evil spirit, and that the expenses of diving had eaten up the capital.

"But Mme. Smith would make it all right. She'd give in return for wrecking company stock shares in an oil company, which was to make a fortune from wells discovered by her psychic powers. They took it like lambs, and she's doing business at the same old stand.

"Materializing or bringing ghosts out of the vasty deep doesn't pay so well. It is a kind of public show, with very little side graft. Therefore, it is less common and admission is higher, usually a dollar a head.

"I've seen dozens of developing seances, and in every case the method was the same. The cabinet is hung with black and covered in front with a black curtain. The surrounding wall is also draped in black.

"Often the cabinet is the bow window of a house or hall. The audience is asked to inspect the walls and curtains. They may inspect all they like. The trick isn't there.

"There is a dim, shaded point of light in the back of the room, practically no light at all. When all is ready the medium takes a seat near the curtain and calls for a hymn.

"While it is being sung his assistant—usually a woman—steals into the room by a side door near the cabinet. She is dressed in a dead black robe, and against the black background of the walls and cabinet she can't be seen at all in that light, no matter how much she moves. She wears rubber-soled shoes and the hymn helps her to enter without being heard.

"Under the black robe she is dressed in ghostly white, and often she wears a mask lightly coated with phosphorescent paint to make a shining spirit face.

"When the signal is given to appear she opens the black robe in front, and when she disappears she simply closes it again. By closing it a certain way she produces the effect of disappearing through the floor. There are often two or three assistants, one a child or a small woman.

"The developing medium, like the test medium, keeps tabs on the departed dear ones of his regular customers, and trots them out for their benefit. It makes you ashamed of humanity to see the way these fakirs draw back bereaved mothers who live from week to week just to talk to their dead children.

"There are many other methods of materializing, but this one is the cheapest and most satisfactory, and has supplanted all the others.

"I saw this month in some of the papers that a Chicago man has been exposed as a maker of apparatus for mediums. I've had in my possession for four years the catalogue of a Chicago firm which deals in medium's supplies.

"It came to me through a postoffice employee, who fished it out of a pile of discarded second and third class matter. It was addressed to a medium who had skipped the country.

"This describes and advertises about a hundred mechanical devices and secrets for the use of mediums. Prices run from $1 to $50.

"There are about fifty slate writing devices. One for $3 is described as very satisfactory, but requires some skill on the part of the medium. For $10 you can get one which 'requires no skill.' A double slate is written on and closed. When opened, spirit message and answer to any question are found written on it. 'No chemicals, $10.'

"The firm advertises a full line of single and double slates for cases where local purchase of the same would cause comment. There are self-playing guitars, mystic hands, which appear on the wall and disappear, and spirit trumpets, which float through the air and deliver messages, all at prices running from $1 to $20.

"The trumpets, the catalogue states, are only for 'work under cabinet and materializing conditions.' Lot 38 is the 'Fox Sisters' rapping table, used with great success by these celebrated New York mediums.

"For $50 they will furnish a first class assorted medium's outfit, which will answer all reasonable purposes of an up to date medium or psychic demonstrator and convince the most skeptical.

"Spirit forms, no two alike, of special luminous material and very durable, cost from $20 to $50. The $20 ones are children's size. I'm not faking this language. It is all in the catalogue. The whole thing is a regular business that goes on underground and thrives on hundreds of thousands of victims.

"Mediums are usually women. As a class, they are domestic, comfortable, middle aged women, who knit and gossip together in off hours, rear large families and support worthless husbands, who collect at the door for the public meetings and help to gather useful information.

"In their public utterances they have a singular line of talk, made up of highfalutin' words and phrases, nearly always used inaccurately, and very bad grammar. In all my experiences with them I've never known one to talk straight English. A recreant medium who'd fallen to be a patent medicine sharp told me once that their public expects bad grammar and that accurate English would drive people away. 'It's part of the graft,' he said."

FROM SOUTH AFRICA.

New Way of Using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Mr. Arthur Chapman writing from Durban, Natal, South Africa, says: "As a proof that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a cure suitable for old and young, I pen you the following. A neighbor of mine had a child just over two months old. It had a very bad cough and the parents did not know what to give it. I suggested that if they would get a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and put some upon the dummy test the baby was sucking it would no doubt cure the child. This they did and brought about a quick relief and cured the baby." This remedy is for sale by Conyers & Sykes.

Once upon a time they tried to shut a woman up in a lunatic asylum—but she kept right on talking.

Seven Barks

(Extract of Hydrangea Bark).

Is the name given a wonderfully successful medicinal preparation, discovered and formulated 33 years ago, by the once celebrated physician and chemist, Dr. Franz Gauswein, of Weisbaden, Germany. The curative properties of "SEVEN BARKS" are extracted from the bark of a specially grown species of the Hydrangea plant—the bark of which, as botanists will tell you, grows in seven layers, each of different color and each possessing a distinctive medicinal value. It is the only plant known from which is extracted providence-given elements, which in combination produce a single panacea that is a sovereign remedy for most all ailments and diseases of the Lungs, Stomach, Bowels, Liver, Kidneys and Nerves.

"SEVEN BARKS" was introduced in America in 1872 by Mr. Lyman Brown, of New York City, a chemist of national reputation, who in the early '70's spent nearly a year in Weisbaden before he could secure the highly prized formula. Although "SEVEN BARKS" has never been advertised in newspapers, yet thousands of American families are never without a bottle, while hundreds of physicians and druggists are recommending and prescribing it. By this slow process of personal recommendation "SEVEN BARKS" is today one of the most popular and most successful remedies on the American market. The reader has no doubt heard of it.

The undersigned purchased the formula and sole right of distribution in the United States. He realizes that every family desiring continuous good health should always keep a supply on hand, therefore strenuous efforts will be made to introduce it in every home where it is unknown.

If From any disorder of the stomach, or you are inclined to attacks of biliousness or constipation; if your bowels are inactive at times; if your kidneys are sluggish or pain you, or you suffer from sick or neuralgic headaches, buy a 50 Cent bottle of "SEVEN BARKS" from your druggist. If this first bottle does not benefit you, or you are disappointed in its action, take the remaining portion back and get your money. It will be cheerfully returned.

600,000 Votes Cast For Debs, the Socialist.

Not the least surprising result of the election last Tuesday was the unexpectedly large vote for Eugene V. Debs, the Social Democratic candidate for President, and the slump in the vote anticipated for Thomas E. Watson, the Populist candidate.

Debs polled a great many more votes than Watson, when all campaign predictions indicated the reverse. The actual figures of the vote for Debs have not been finally computed, but the leaders of his party say the full returns will give him 600,000 votes, or more than 4 per cent. of the entire vote, while Watson, who was generally believed before election to have a stronger hold on the radical element in politics, polled less than 100,000.

Debs has twice been presidential candidate. Four years ago he had 97,730 votes. Then, in view of the radical leaders, he was a more desirable candidate than during the recent campaign. He had come from prison, where he was sent by the United States court for violating the law in connection with the great railway strike of Chicago.

The platform upon which he made his last venture at the presidency was, if anything, more radical and Socialistic than that upon which he ran four years ago. Some of the most typical planks in it advocated "freedom from wage-slavery," "work for the unemployed," "the ownership of public utilities," "co-operation of labor," "equal rights of labor," "reduction of taxes" and a modified form of free trade.

Rockingham Man Convicted of Second Degree Murder.

Reidsville, Nov. 14.—The murder case against Pleas Head, for the killing of W. A. Bryant at Maydan on October 8th, was concluded in Superior court at Wentworth this afternoon. The trial has been in progress since Friday. After remaining out just long enough to take a vote the jury returned a verdict of murder in the second degree. Judge Oliver H. Allen will pass sentence tomorrow morning. The evidence showed that Head had been teasing Bryant about being drunk, when the latter became incensed and commenced to approach and curse Head in a violent manner. Head was standing on his porch washing his hands, having just come out of the cotton mill. Head told Bryant not to come any further, whereupon the latter threatened to whip Head. Then it was that Head stepped into the house and secured a gun. Bryant was still advancing when Head again told him not to come upon him. He kept approaching, however, and Head, in order to frighten him, shot him in the leg, not intending to kill him, so he claimed. The shot struck an artery and Bryant bled to death in a few minutes.

Pension Commissioner Ware Resigns.

Washington, Nov. 14.—Commissioner of Pensions Ware today tendered his resignation to the President and it was accepted to take effect January 1st.

When seen tonight, Commissioner Ware refused to discuss his action in any way, except to state that the newspapers of the country had been "resigning" him for the past two years. For at least one year, however, it has been definitely known that Mr. Ware would retire from his office soon after the fall elections and return to his home in Kansas to resume his law practice. It is believed here that Commissioner Ware's action was not due to any suggestion that the severance of his relations with the Pension Office would be agreeable to the President. On the contrary, it has been no secret that Commissioner Ware, soon after assuming his duties, found the duties of his office distasteful to him, and that this distaste steadily increased. There is no intimation tonight as to who his successor will be.

Kitchin's Majority 4,954.

Congressman W. W. Kitchin, who defeated Postmaster Chas. A. Reynolds for election to Congress from this district, states that his official majority is 4,954. This is hardly as large a majority as he received two years ago, although the general apathy on the part of Democratic voters this year was largely responsible for such a result.

Jack Dillard Captured.

Roanoke, Va., Nov. 15.—William Wright, colored, alias Jack Dillard, who shot and probably fatally wounded Policeman J. J. Hall, at Danville, August 29, of this year, while the officer was trying to arrest him, was captured here today by the local police. There was a reward of $1,250 for Dillard's arrest.

Charlotte News: The Fifth Congressional district in this state is a remarkable district. From present indications it will have two congressmen in the next House, Hon. W. W. Kitchin, one of the strongest men in the state, and Spencer Blackburn, who appears to have defeated Newland by a very slender majority.

Joe Faucette, the negro who was charged with setting fire to the railroad company's hotel at Burlington, which was burned last spring, was found guilty of arson in the Superior court at Graham Friday and sentenced to be hanged December 23rd.

The Logic of Politics

Atlanta Constitution.

Is there logic in politics? Will election returns show logic in their analysis?

The question is a moot one. We leave it to the logicians. Take, for example, Massachusetts. Its plurality for Roosevelt was of the "normal" Republican dimensions, if not more so. Roosevelt was running on a hide-bound "protection" platform. His party stood for the most uncompromising tariff "standpatism." Senator Lodge, the leader of his party in Massachusetts, was particularly emphatic in his declarations that there would be no compromise with the tariff revisionists and the reciprocity sentiment. On the face of the presidential returns Massachusetts unqualifiedly endorsed the Republican party's policy of high tariff.

Notwithstanding this fact, the friends of reciprocity and tariff sanity in Massachusetts are pointing to the election of William L. Douglas, Democrat for governor, as a victory for their side of the tariff controversy. Mr. Douglas made his splendid campaign mainly on the issue of free raw material, which he advocated in every speech and public expression. He is the largest shoe manufacturer in New England and is greatly handicapped in his business success by the Dingley duty on hides. Other lines of manufacturing than shoes in Massachusetts are sadly handicapped by the tariff on their raw material, and the Douglas political crusade for free raw material is said to have enlisted their heartiest sympathy and votes. Douglas simply walked away with the vote of Massachusetts. His vote shows an increase of 51 per cent. in a Republican tidal wave year. He carried the great city of Boston by the phenomenal majority of 31,000.

Strange, is it not, if there is anything in the tariff phase of the case, that the intelligent voters of Massachusetts should vote dead against tariff reform in the presidential and congressional contest, where tariff reform was alone possible, and vote to endorse reciprocity and revision in their support of the gubernatorial candidate of the Democracy, who can have nothing to do with the tariff question in any official way, shape or form?

"Free raw material explains Mr. Douglas' success," concludes the New York Evening Telegram. The leading Democratic and independent papers of Massachusetts incline to the same view.

If this be true, the logic of politics is past finding out when the supereducated and uncommonly enlightened commonwealth of Massachusetts so grotesquely contradicts its principles on the face of the returns.

But perhaps the case of Massachusetts will better serve to show the illogicality of party politics, for as the return, reflecting any principle is concerned.

And this is the weak spot in the armor of popular sovereignty, if one is inclined to be too analytical.

The Young Man's Side.

Youth's Companion.

There died recently in Chicago a successful merchant, who in the long course of a busy life never forgot that he had once been a boy.

"In the whole world," he often said, "there is no one else equal to a fine, strong, clean young man—except a fine, strong, clean young woman."

He not only believed that, but acted on his belief. So it happened that no business was ever so pressing that he had not time, when he found a youth of the kind described, to seek employment for him in his own office or with some acquaintance.

"Business is a little slack just now," the acquaintance would sometimes say. "I'm afraid I can't find room for another man—one who has no experience."

"Don't tell me you are going to let this opportunity go by," the other would interrupt. "Why, you can't afford to. Room for him? Who asked you to 'make room for him'? Give him a chance. He'll make his own room. Here's a young man—do you realize what that means? One of the noblest creatures in the world. Not only a man like you and me, but young, with all the world before him. He offers to give you his whole power, to come into your business and use his God-given intelligence in mastering and improving it. You are asked to accept a favor—and if you don't, some more enterprising rival will. Take him while you can get him; you may not have another chance."

Boys who deserve such introductions are not so rare as is sometimes thought. This man had a faculty for finding them and for bringing out by stimulating words the very best in them. And he brought home to many employers besides himself the fact that a boy seeking work, if he be the right kind of a boy, is offering in his manly ambition something for which the money paid is in no sense a return.

New Advertisements.

If William L. Douglas was not a good man and if he did not put up mighty good shoes, it stands to reason that the people of Massachusetts would never have elected him governor of that great state as they did by a big majority last Tuesday. Thacker & Brockmann sell the "Governor Douglas" line and have just put on sale a big lot of the new $2.50 grade. Read their ad. on last page.

From generation to generation Buck's stoves and ranges have been handed down and found true. E. M. Andrews gives a fifteen-year guarantee with every one he sells.

PARKER ISSUES ADDRESS.

Declares That He Will Never Again Seek Nomination For Public Office and Thanks All Who Helped Fight Against Overwhelming Odds.

Esopus, N. Y., Nov. 9.—Judge Parker tonight gave the press an open letter addressed "To the Democracy of the Nation," in which he thanked those in charge of his campaign work and declared that the people will soon realize that "the tariff-fed trusts are absorbing the wealth of the nation." He said that when that time comes the people will turn to the Democratic party for relief. In this letter, Judge Parker says he shall never seek a nomination for public office. The letter follows:

"To the Democracy of the Nation: Our thanks are due to the members of the national committee and to the executive committees in charge of the campaign for their unselfish, capable and brilliant party service. All that it was possible for men to do, they did, but our difficulty was beyond the reach of party managers.

"I am most grateful to them and wish in this general way to extend my thanks to the workers, as well as the rank and file, all over the country. I know how hard they struggled against overwhelming odds, and I only wish I could take each one by the hand and thank him.

"Deeply as I regretted leaving the bench at the time of it, in the presence of overwhelming defeat I do not lament it. I thought it was my duty. In the light of my present information I am now even more confident that I did right. I shall never seek a nomination for public office, but I shall to the best of my ability serve the party that has honored me, and through the party my country.

"The party has in the near future a great mission. Before long the people will realize that the tariff-fed and illegal combinations are absorbing the wealth of the nation.

"Then they will wish to throw off these leeches, but the Republican party will not aid them to do it, for its leaders appreciate too well the uses to which the money of the trusts can be put in political campaigns.

"When that time comes, and come it will, the people will turn to the Democratic party for relief, and the party should be ready—ready with an organization of patriotic citizens covering every election district who are willing to work for the love of the cause—an organization supported by as many town, city, county and state officers as we are able to elect in the meantime. We entered this campaign with every Northern, Western and Eastern state, save one, in Republican control.

"This gave to that party a large army of office-holders, reaching into every hamlet, many of whom gladly followed the examples set for them by the members of the President's cabinet in devoting their time and services to the party.

"To accomplish much in this election, however, we must forget the difficulties of the past. If any one suspects his neighbor of treachery, let him not hint of his suspicion. If he knows he has deserted us, let him not tell it. Our forces have been weakened by divisions. We have quarreled at times over non-essentials. If we would help the people, if we would furnish an organization through which they may be relieved of a party that has grown so corrupt that it will gladly enter into partnership with trusts to secure money for election purposes, we must forget the differences of the past and begin this day to build up, wherever it may be needed, a broad and effective organization. And we must, by consistent teaching through the press and from the platform, apprise the people of the way the vicious tariff circles work.

"We must bring home to them at other than election times, the fact that money contributed to the Republican party by the trusts is not only dishonest, but it is given that the trusts may, without hindrance, take a much larger sum from the people.

"In the presence of a defeat that would take away all personal ambition, were it true that otherwise it possessed me, I do not hesitate to say that in my opinion the greatest moral question, which now confronts us, is: 'Shall the trusts and corporations be prevented from contributing money to control or to aid in controlling elections?'

"Such service as I can render in that or any other direction will be gladly rendered. And I beg the co-operation of a fellow-worker of every Democrat in the country."

ALTON B. PARKER.

Going to a Fire in China.

Chicago News.

"I was in Peking," said an American tourist, "when a fire broke out a few doors below the house in which I was lodging, and at the first alarm I rushed out and into the burning structure to see what could be saved. I was at once arrested, and later on discovered the Chinese way of fighting a fire.

"A policeman first required an affidavit of the head of the household to the effect that he did not deliberately set the blaze, and for this purpose took him before an official half a mile away. A second was stationed to see that no one removed any furniture until the papers had been made out.

"After a lapse of forty minutes the firemen arrived. They looked at the burning house and decided that it was on fire. After much argument it was further agreed that it would be a waste of water to try to put out the flames. Two members, who erected a ladder and climbed part way up, were duly reproved for too much zeal, and after the name, age and habits of the owner had been taken the fire department retired in good order.

"As the flames were unhindered the house burned to the ground, and when the owner returned he was beaten by his neighbors for endangering their property. I was held in detention, vile for two hours and then fined 40 cents."

The man who is in the hands of his physician is up against it almost as hard as the political candidate who is in the hands of his friends.

Cured His Wife

E. C. Watkins, sexton of the Methodist Church, Springfield, Pa., writes: "My wife has been very bad with kidney trouble and tried several doctors without benefit. After taking one bottle of FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE was much better, and was completely cured after taking four bottles."

One Bottle Cured Him

A. H. Davis, Mt. Sterling, Ia., writes: "I was troubled with kidney complaint for about two years, but a one-dollar bottle of FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE effected a permanent cure."

CHARITY USED TO CLASH VANITY.

Grover Cleveland Speaks at Laying of Cornerstone.

New York, Nov. 11.—Mrs. Grover Cleveland today performed the ceremony of laying the cornerstone of the new building of the Hebrew Technical school for girls, now being erected in this city. Former President Cleveland acted as presiding officer of the exercises and delivered an address.

In the course of his remarks Mr. Cleveland said:
"It is not altogether a fanciful or pessimistic notion that teaches many of our patriotic and sincere citizens to lament the growth among us of materialism. Our people are undoubtedly becoming more and more infected with a feverish desire to accumulate wealth and to succeeding in undertakings far removed from philanthropic intention. Men must also regretfully concede that even the best and highest civilization movements called charitable and benevolent are sometimes used to cloak self-exploitation and pursue proud vanity or a whim and caprice of the restless rich."

"It is a matter of common observation too, that projects really benevolent in motive and in purposes are frequently so ill ordered and so impractical in their management that they are only wasteful of money and effort and fall short of the good they should accomplish among their beneficiaries, and thus actually recruit the ranks of willing mendacity."

"Public appropriations and private charity are mindful of men and women in poverty, sickness and distress; orphan girls and boys are compassionately cared for and sheltered; but it was an inspiration of genuine benevolence which led to the establishment of an agency for good which goes further than to furnish the object of its care with food and raiment and things that perish with the using."

"Here girls who are shut out from opportunity for needed improvement and who would otherwise listlessly wait for the coming of an uninviting and unpromising destiny are taught remunerative occupations. The teachings and influences here bestowed will decide the course of those who in the future as wives and mothers will fix the quality of many of the homes of our land and will so mold the thought and inclinations of the children in these homes as to affect our citizenship and our country's welfare in generations to come."

A Japanese Colony Comes.

San Francisco, Nov. 11.—Five Japanese the advance guard of a colony of forty or fifty families, have arrived by the steamer Manchuria on the way to Dade, Fla., where they intend to cultivate 67,000 acres of land.

The colony will raise silk, cotton, tobacco and pineapples and experiment with them.

Ohioan Boosts the Crumpacker Scheme.

Springfield, Ohio, Nov. 12.—Ex-Speaker Keifer, citing the John Sharp Williams case, says he will lead the movement in the next Congress to reduce the representation of the South.

Mr. Roosevelt's Victory.

Washington Post.

The completed returns disclose a victory beyond the most extravagant expectations of the most enthusiastic optimist. Even that veteran rainbow chaser, Gen. Charles B. Grosvenor, of Ohio, had not indicated in his wildest horoscope a result so colossal and overwhelming. True to the ancient and honorable traditions of the noble brotherhood of wisecracks, they claimed everything that could be claimed without seeming ridiculous, but the facts show that the most roseate computer of them all did not even vaguely prefigure the astounding consummation.

It is as we said on the morning after the elections. The matter was between Mr. Theodore Roosevelt and the American people. He laid his case frankly before them and asked for their endorsement. There were no middlemen, no professional experts, no resorts to the conventional methods and machinery. He planned the campaign from first to last, and he ordered its conduct in his own way. The victory was a purely personal achievement, to which no boss, manipulator, or spell-binder really contributed at all. Quite a number of suave and mellifluous gentlemen went about entertaining the multitude and scattering flowers of rhetoric. An equal number of earnest and industrious gentlemen prepared essays, statistics, &c., which were capably disseminated, and which nobody thought of a second time, if a first. One need only consider the figures, however, in order to satisfy himself that Mr. Roosevelt's real triumph has been given him by voters who do not go to the hustings for their opinions or consult campaign literature for their facts. The regulars toed the mark, of course. The rank and file, who stand up to be counted, who populate processions, barbecues, and popular demonstrations—all these did their chores as usual and voted nobly on the 8th. But the astonishing results in such states as New York, New Jersey, Indiana, Connecticut, &c., represent a personal tribute to Theodore Roosevelt by men who think and act for themselves, and whose intentions no boss can forecast or committee tabulate.

Strictly speaking, this election has been a personal matter between the President and the people. He has been elected not as the result of shrewd campaign management or powerful and seductive oratory, but because the great mass of independent voters—the silent, thoughtful, self-contained, and self-reliant element of the population—believed in him and wanted him to realize for them the principles and policies which he professes and which they approve. No other interpretation can possibly be put upon the popular verdict pronounced last Tuesday. No fair-minded and enlightened man will consider any other. It is Roosevelt's victory and nothing else.

Everything Conceded in West Virginia.

Parkersburg, W. Va., Nov. 11.—The Democrats have conceded everything to the Republicans in West Virginia, including congressmen and the legislature. The only dispute is in the size of the majority. Republicans claim it will be 10,000, while the Democrats say 5,000 for governor.

DEFEATED BY A KISS.

Novel Issue Costs Montana Republicans Many Votes.

Butte, Mont., Nov. 10.—W. F. Meyer, the kissing state senator of Carbon county, has been defeated for re-election and his defeat cost Roosevelt a great many votes. A month ago Meyer, who is a married man with a family, met on the street of Red Lodge, Miss Groves, a sister of the Episcopal minister, formerly of Brooklyn, and walked home with her. It was dusk, and when in an unfrequented part of town he imparted a passionate kiss upon her lips and bade her good night. A few days later she told her brother about it, and the affair became a public scandal. Town meetings were held, and Meyer was denounced. Political associates ostracized him, and candidates on the Republican ticket with him resigned. The chairman of the county committee refused to support him. Republican newspapers demanded his resignation, which he refused to give.

The state committee and ex-Senator Tom Carter were appealed to to draw Meyer off the ticket, but they declined to act, and the newspapers of the Yellowstone Valley bolted Meyer's candidacy and fought him. His persistence in remaining on the ticket threatened Republican success in the state and imperiled Roosevelt's chances of carrying the state.

National and state politics were overlooked in the Yellowstone Valley, being overshadowed by the tremendous issues raised by the stolen kiss. The offender has been defeated by Gidden, the Democratic candidate.

Previous Landslides.

Great as Mr. Roosevelt's majority in the electoral college is, it is by no means unprecedented.

In 1820 James Monroe received 231 electoral votes to one cast for John Quincy Adams, a majority of 230.

In 1840 William Henry Harrison received 234 votes to 60 for Martin Van Buren, a majority of 174.

In 1852 Franklin Pierce received 254 votes to 42 for Winfield Scott, a majority of 212.

In 1864 Abraham Lincoln received 212 votes to 21 for George B. McClellan, a majority of 191.

In the election of 1872 Grant received 286 votes, while 80 Greeley electors were chosen, whose votes were divided when the college met by reason of Greeley's death, Grant's majority being 306.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is Pleasant to Take.

The finest quality of granulated loaf sugar is used in the manufacture of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and the roots used in its preparation give it a flavor similar to maple syrup, making it quite pleasant to take. Mr. W. L. Roderick, of Poolesville, Md., in speaking of this remedy, says: "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy with my children for several years and can truthfully say it is the best preparation of the kind I know of. The children like to take it and it has no injurious after effect. For sale by Conyers & Sykes."

WEEKLY MARKET LETTER.

Greensboro, Nov. 14, 1904.

This has been the busiest week of the year and the prices have kept up. We feel sure this is the best time to sell tobacco, and there is no better place to sell it than at the Banner. That is what one of our old Almanac friends said one day last week. He said he had tried all round and he had never found any place to beat the Banner warehouse yet. The average crop is selling for something like ten cents and a good extra crop will do better than that. Here a few of the many farmers who have sold with us the past week and went away well pleased:

A. D. Gerner, S. A. Apple, W. R. Smith, Briggs & Turner and B. Miles, all from Guilford.

Sharp & Sharp, from Rockingham, sold two loads during the week.

F. M. Pegram, of Stokesdale, a good farmer, was here the first of the week.

We were glad to see our old friends Weatherly & Wrenn, Moore & Austin, Johnson & Friar, W. R. Moore, Luther Howerton, Z. T. Melvin and James May, all of eastern Guilford, here this week.

J. B. Dawson, one of Rockingham's large tobacco growers, was here with the largest load of tobacco that has been on the market this year.

J. F. Faurett, J. A. Scott, J. H. Minor, J. V. Rail and Conaway Bevil were here and all expressed themselves as well pleased.

J. A. Terry, one of the Banner's old standbys, knows how to farm and our folks know when Jerry puts it on the market it is straight and all right.

J. E. Barham, W. T. Barham, Morris Groome, Coltrane & Davis, of Guilford, sold with us.

G. T. Lester and G. W. Barker were here with a big load Saturday.

When you come to town come right to the Banner for good accommodations and high prices.

Respectfully yours,
SMITH & STONE.

BAILES IS BETHRONED.

The Marrying Squire Has His Commission Revoked by the Governor.

Columbia, S. C., Nov. 10.—Governor Heyward today revoked the commission as notary public of "Squire" W. O. Bailes, the man who has become famous throughout two states, for the splendid marrying business he has built up at his home at Pineville, in York county, near the North Carolina line. Bailes boasts of marrying an average of 865 couples a year, the difficulties of the North Carolina and Virginia marriage laws sending many runaway couples to him on account of the extreme laxity of the South Carolina laws. He has flooded the country with circulars, folders and other forms of advertising, which announce a schedule of prices and bear love-sick poetry. This literature is what lost him his commission. The governor this morning acted on a batch of this literature sent in to him with the request that the commission be revoked. The governor, in revoking the commission, gave out this statement:

"There was presented to the governor today certain literature which Mr. Bailes is circulating generally, and which the governor deems absolutely detrimental to the good of society. A perusal of it shows an almost ridiculous and absurd view of the duties of a notary public, in reference to the marriage ceremony. The conception of the duties as exercised by this officer clearly falls within the purview of section 662, of The Code, which authorizes removal for cause. Mr. Bailes' conduct is a menace to social organization."

New Company Formed to Build Electric Railroad in Alamance.

Elon College, Nov. 10.—Sometime in the near future Alamance county is to have one of the longest electric railroads in the state. It will be twenty-two miles long, connecting the towns of Burlington, Graham, Haw River, Swepsonville and River Falls. These are all principally factory towns and some of them six or eight miles from any railroad, so this proposed electric line will be a great thing for the mill owners as well as the towns through which it runs.

There was a charter granted some time ago to the Graham, Burlington and River Falls Railway Company, but for some reason the plans were never perfected and a new stock company has been organized under the name of The Alamance Supply Railway Company, J. W. Meneffe, of Greensboro, president. The company is incorporated for $125,000. They will develop a water-power plant, with an eighteen hundred horse-power capacity, using five or six hundred horse-power to operate the road and selling the remaining power for lights and other things to the different towns within its reach.

There is to be a meeting of all parties interested on November 19, 1904, for the purpose of perfecting the plan so that work can be commenced as soon as possible.

If this plan is carried out it will not be many years before Graham, Burlington and Haw River, which are only two miles apart, will be as one town.

"Leave Enough for Seed."

New York, Nov. 9.—Chairman Babcock received the following message from Chairman Cowherd of the Democratic congressional committee:

"Washington, Nov. 8, 1904.
Hon. J. W. Babcock, Republican Congressional Committee, New York:
"Congratulate you on a great Republican victory. Leave us enough for seed."
W. S. COWHERD."

Chairman Babcock replied to Chairman Cowherd as follows:

"New York, Nov. 8, 1904.
"W. S. Cowherd, Washington, D. C.:
"Accept thanks for your kind congratulations. I assure you that you and your colleagues shall have the same kind consideration in the future you have had in the past. We love you as a minority, but fear you as a majority."
J. W. BABCOCK."

A systematic effort is to be made to raise funds for the state reformatory for young white criminals. A site has been selected near Lakeview, in Moore county. It is absolutely necessary that a few thousand dollars be raised before the first of the year, and the King's Daughters and Sons have undertaken the work.

GIRLHOOD WOMANHOOD MOTHERHOOD

The first lesson that the young girl has of womanhood is usually a painful one. She learns to know what headache means, and backache, and sometimes is sadly borne down by this new experience of life. All the pain and misery which young girls commonly experience at such a time may, in almost every instance, be entirely prevented or cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It establishes regularity. It tones up the general health, and cures headache, backache, nervousness and other consequences of womanly weakness or disease.

The anxious mother of the family often-times carries the whole burden of responsibility so far as the home medication of common ailments of the girls or boys are concerned. The cost of the doctor's visits is very often much too great. At such times the mother is invited to write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., for medical advice, which is given free. Correspondence is held strictly confidential.

Backed up by over a third of a century of remarkable and uniform cures, a record such as no other remedy for the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women ever attained, the proprietors and makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in legal money of the United States for any case of Leucorrhoea, Female Weakness, Pro-lapsus, or Falling of Womb, which they cannot cure. All the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Proprietors, of Buffalo, N. Y., ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

"Your wonderful medicine, 'Favorite Prescription,' has helped me greatly in time of suffering," writes Mrs. Minta Wright, of Edwards, Ind. "Last winter I was unable to do my work, was to be confined in February, and a lady in Illinois wrote and told me about your medicine. I used three bottles of 'Favorite Prescription,' and will say I had the easiest and quickest confinement I ever had. Had three children before, and would suffer from twenty-four to thirty-six hours before birth, but this time only two hours. Have a fine baby girl and she is the most healthy one of all. I am still using the 'Favorite Prescription' as a tonic."

War News of the Week.

Charlotte Observer.

There has been little fighting during the past week, but considerable talk of efforts to bring about peace between the belligerents in the far East. It seems that Japan, in an unofficial capacity, sounded Russia as to whether she was willing to enter into negotiations, and found that she was not, and so ended the matter for the present. It seems, however, that Japan expects a more favorable outlook for ending the war when the fall of Port Arthur has been accomplished. That accomplishment is yet in the future, for only rumors have come from the beleaguered garrison since last Monday. One of these stated that General Spooel had asked an armistice, and another of these stated that the Japanese officers feared a massacre when they finally captured the city, the Japanese soldiers being so exasperated by the prolonged siege.

In Manchuria the armies continue to face each other at such close quarters that the Russian and Japanese soldiers are said to be able to swap cigarettes and other things and to jeer each other. But the fighting seems to be at a minimum, both sides apparently waiting for something to turn up. Meanwhile the severe Manchurian winter is coming on, when soldiers can do little more than maintain themselves and hold their positions.

A Russian correspondent of the Associated Press, telegraphing from Mukden Saturday, declares that the reports circulated some time ago that General Kuroki was killed during the battle of Liao Yang have been confirmed. He asserts that his death occurred on October 4th, and that his body was sent to Japan. It seems almost impossible that the death of so prominent an officer should be concealed for over a month, and, therefore, there may be some doubt as to the accuracy of the information. However, when it is recalled that the Japs kept in doubt for months the fact that the battleship Yamashiro had been sunk, despite reports of the event which were circulated shortly afterward, they could doubtless do the same thing regarding the death of Kuroki. If it is true that he is dead, Japan has lost one of her best men. It was the army under his command which won the victory at Liao Yang, and he was rated as one of the best officers Japan had in the field.

The Russian squadron is continuing its course toward the scene of hostilities, and is now off the coast of Africa.

The Christmas Delineator.

The December Delineator, with its message of good cheer and helpfulness, will be welcomed in every home. The fashion plates are unusually attractive, illustrating and describing the very latest modes in a way to make their construction during the busy festive season a pleasure instead of a task, and the literary and pictorial features are of rare excellence. A selection of Love Songs from the Wagner Operas, rendered into English by Richard de Gallienne and beautifully illustrated in colors by J. C. Lyendecker, occupies a prominent place, and a chapter in the Composers' Series, relating the Romance of Wagner and Cosima, is an interesting supplement to the lyrics. A very clever paper entitled "The Court Circles of the Republic," describing some unique phases of Washington social life, is from an unnamed contributor, who is said to write from the inner circles of society. There are short stories from the pens of E. Hopkinson Smith, Robert Grant, Alice Brown, Mary Stewart Cutting and Elmore Elliott Peake, and such interesting writers as Julia Magruder, L. Frank Baum, and Grace MacGowan Cooke hold the attention of the children. Many Christmas suggestions are given in needlework and the Cookery pages are redolent of the Christmas feast. In addition, there are the regular departments of the magazine, with many special articles on topics relating to women's interests within and without the home.

Gov. Aycock on State Election.

Raleigh Post.

In speaking of the general result of the recent election in this state Governor Aycock said this afternoon: "Republicans seem to take some gratification out of the returns of the election and yet not one of them, not even the state chairman, can name fifty men who have left the Democratic party and gone over to the Republican party within the past two years in this whole state. On the contrary, Republicans have joined the Democratic party within that time."

"There were local conditions which in the opinion of many Democrats justified them by remaining away from the polls. These still believe in Democratic principles. North Carolinians favor tariff for revenue only and are for local self-government and strongly opposed to the centralization of power, and when it becomes necessary for them to assert their faith in these principles they will be found at the polls."

James L. Webb Appointed Judge.

The contest between the friends of Solicitor Jas. L. Webb, of Shelby, and Hon. Heriot Clarkson, of Charlotte, for the appointment as judge of the Twelfth judicial district, to succeed Judge W. A. Hoke, who resigned after his election last Tuesday to the Supreme court bench, was settled to the satisfaction of all parties Thursday by the appointment of Mr. Webb as judge and Mr. Clarkson as solicitor of the district.

Governor Aycock announced the appointment of Mr. Webb at four o'clock. The appointment of Mr. Clarkson as solicitor was announced an hour later. Both gentlemen have accepted their appointment to the respective offices. Judge Hoke's resignation was received by the governor on Wednesday. Judge Webb presides at his first court in Bertie county this week.

BOXER UPRISING THREATENED.

Heavy Taxation Laid by Them at the Doors of Foreigners.

Beloit, Wis., Nov. 11.—Sensational reports of a threatened Boxer uprising come from Pekin, China, in a letter from Charles F. Gammon, of the American Bible Society, to his father, E. M. Gammon, of Beloit.

Mr. Gammon says that a second Boxer outbreak is inevitable and states that United States Minister Conger is alive to the danger and has notified the Chinese officials that unless the movement is suppressed an once he will request United States troops to be sent to Pekin.

Mr. Gammon's letter read in part as follows:

"I find the situation in some parts of the north very unsatisfactory, particularly in Shantung and Huanan. Dates have been set for the slaughter of all foreigners and the general symptoms resemble those of 1900."

"Several secret societies including the Boxers, have united in one great society, the purpose of which we do not understand. The officials are helpless because many of their underlings are members. In fact, the officials are forced to obtain information from missionaries. The cause of the trouble I do not know wholly, but heavy taxation is one of them. This is being laid at the door of the foreigners."

Every family should try Foley's Honey and Tar, free trial bottles of which are now being distributed, as it is the best remedy for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. Prevents Pneumonia and will cure incipient consumption. Contains no opiates, and is safe and sure. Insist upon having Foley's Honey and Tar and refuse any substitute offered. Recommended by J. D. Governor Aycock has refused a pardon for Arthur L. Bishop, a traveling man who was sent up from Charlotte for five years for murder.

Talmage Sermon

By Rev.
Frank De Witt Talmage, D. D.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 13.—To that class of nominal Christians who are hearers, but not doers, and who pin their faith upon their religious ancestry and their favorable environment instead of getting right with God personally, this sermon will come as an agonizing call. The text is Matthew 23: 23, "Give us of your oil, for our lamps are gone out."

All men may be broadly divided into two classes. There are some on the outside line, belonging not altogether to one class or the other, having characteristics of each, but the great majority are separated into two groups—the hearers and the doers. The one group includes the tellers, the pullers, the grinders, the climbers, the strugglers, the strugglers in a narrow way. They do not mean to be parasites. They want a share of the good things of life, but they do not expect to receive them as a reward for their honest work. They hope for promotion, and they seek to merit it by seeking to make themselves worthy of it. They are ready to take advantage of the opportunity that comes. They are ready to do their work well, and when the call comes to go higher they are prepared by long years of hard work to perform the duties of the high position.

"Way do you study so hard?" a Yale graduate asked one day of John C. Calhoun, the South Carolina student, who was his roommate. "You are now the leading student in the college. No man can successfully compete with you in any study." "Oh," answered the young man, "I am not working for scholarship in a college town. I am working to be a leader in the nation." "When Calhoun—do you expect to be a great statesman in Washington?" "I do not expect to go to congress within six years," answered Calhoun. "I would pack up my books at once and go to Yale tomorrow. I feel so sure of my own mind that I must be in every wasted minute. I must put myself by increasing labor to the nation's leaders in the arena of debate." John C. Calhoun wanted to win success. He did more than that. He wanted to prepare himself by hard work for the time when that success should come as it did, and as it is always will come to those who are conscientious in preparatory work.

No Short Road to Success.

The second class is a group of men who want to win success by a minimum of labor. They hate drudgery; they hope to succeed by some lucky stroke. These are the men who, going on a foreign tour, expect to learn the German language in five weeks; they hope to marry a rich wife and have an easy time living on the savings of their wives' money; they prepare to conduct the business of their fathers, not by learning the business, but by taking a six month course in a business college or by attending their fathers' nominal business meetings. During their easy days they would spend three dollars a week playing golf and five nights out of every week at the theatre party or in the dissipation. The little business day at business is when they are working at play. These are the men who, for as an old man once said, "People who never do more work than they are paid for, are never paid for any more than the people who always want to be paid with a minimum of work."

There are two kinds of people on earth. I mean the people who lift and the people who are lifted. When you go you will find the world's people are divided in just these two. And, by the way, you will find, too, I mean the people who lift and the people who are lifted.

There is only one lifter to twenty who are lifted.

There are in the busy beehives of temporal life. Drones there are in the busy beehives of spiritual life. They know their work. They have existed in every age—men who hope to enter heaven, but are not willing to deny themselves, nor to resist temptation, nor to strive to enter through the narrow gate. It was to warn people of the facility of such lives that Christ told the parable of the ten virgins. Five of them, he said, were foolish, and the other five were wise. He is not here denouncing criminals or vicious people. These virgins were nominal Christians, not the murderers and robbers who infested the lonely tracks of Palestine, ready to waylay the traveler; not the openly immoral, like the Magdalene or the woman of Samaria, but the people who, as an old commentator has said, make a "profession of the gospel and act in such a manner as to give real Christians a favorable impression of them and so gain admittance into their midst." He is talking to Christians in name only, who outwardly appear all right and yet have not the true inward consecration of heart and who expect therefore to go to heaven upon borrowed spiritual capital.

The Spiritual Mendicants.

These spiritual mendicants of my text are, in the first place, the men and women indifferent to the commandments of Jesus Christ, who expect to ultimately reach heaven on account of the ease with which a Christian ancestry. They are not bad men as the world looks upon bad men. They have been reared in Christian nurseries and Christian Sunday schools. During their childhood days they have knelt at family altars and sat in Christian homes. But as far as their own hearts are concerned they have never had any experience and have never confessed Jesus Christ as their Saviour. They have never done anything to show their devotion to God as consecrated disciples of Christ. And yet if you should ask these men today if they expected to reach heaven they would instantly answer: "Of course, of course, of course! The home of my youth was a Christian home. I am a child of the covenant. My father was a good Christian man. My mother prayed over me from the time I was born until she died. Why should I not go where they are?"

Oh, yes, my friend, you would certainly go to heaven upon the borrowed capital of your father's and mother's lifelong consecration if they had any power to take you there. But the difficulty is that your father's and mother's spiritual power is limited. From the time you were born your parents lived entirely for you and your brothers and sisters. Every pleasure and every indulgence they had they shared with you.

But there is one blessing your mother and father have that they cannot divide with their children. They cannot divide with you their oil of spiritual life. They could lead you to the rock of Calvary, where, in the blood of Jesus, you might see how your sins might be cleansed, but you must yourself seek an interest in his atonement. They could tell you of the Holy Spirit, whose illumination could scatter your spiritual darkness, but the oil of his divine influence you must implore for yourself. They could compel you as a child to go and sit in the church pew, but they could not compel you to receive Christ as your Saviour. That is a matter simply between you and Jesus. They could introduce Christ to you as their very best friend, but they could not force you to make their friend Jesus your friend. He will never become a part of your life unless you yourself open to him the holy of holies of your heart to let him in. Neither will Christ receive you as one of his own unless you truly come to him with the countersign of the cross.

Borrowed Spiritual Oil.

And yet many people expect ultimately to reach heaven on account of the borrowed spiritual oil of a consecrated Christian ancestry. "Oh," said a minister's daughter to me some time ago, "I know I am not living as I ought, but I am all right. I have no fear about the future. I have made my husband promise to bury me at the foot of my father's grave. When the angel's trumpet sounds and we all come up I am going to cling to my father's hand. I know Christ will let me in if I am by his side. I know it, because my father was such a good man. I know Christ would not refuse my father anything," she said this half in jest and half in earnest. Many of us have the same hope and say the same things, not half in jest, but in dead earnest. No, my friends, when the Bridegroom cometh on that great day of resurrection your father and mother will have no spiritual oil to spare. Then we cannot follow the Divine Bridegroom with our parents' spiritual light. We must have our own lighted oil to become part of the wedding procession of the redeemed or, enveloped by the impenetrable and crushing darkness of the eternal night.

These five foolish virgins represent another class. They represent the nominal church members. They represent the men and women who look upon church membership as a kind of fetich. We read that during the dark ages the Catholic devotees used to buy "plenary indulgences," which would absolve them from their future sins, which they were about to commit intentionally. So some people who are nominal church members seem to think that they can lie and steal and cheat and commit all the forbidden sins of the Decalogue if they are only church members in good standing. They seem to think that the crucial essential of Christianity is a perfection of creed for the head and not absolute consecration for the heart. They seem to think that they can walk hand in hand with sin and continue to so walk if they can only repeat this sentence as they go: "I believe in Jesus." I believe in Jesus. Yes, I believe in Jesus. Now, Christ, by the parable of my text, says that a mere mental faith in him, unaccompanied by a surrender of the heart and life, is not faith at all. The faith that saves is a faith that transforms the life, a faith that takes complete control of a man. The nominal church members must have consecration of heart and pure life as well as a perfect gospel creed. I believe that Christ's fuller teachings affirm that he is more willing to forgive the sins of an out and out enemy who once blasphemed him, but repents of his sin, than he is willing to forgive a Judas, who never denied him publicly, but who in private life betrays him with a kiss.

Christ's Forgiveness of Peter.

How about Peter? Did not Christ gladly forgive him his three denials when Peter repented after the cock crowed? The most powerful pulpit description of any Bible scene I ever read or heard was that delivered by Joseph Parker of "Peter's Three Denials." In the first place, the great preacher described the scene of Judas, hypocritical Judas, stealthily approaching Christ and planting a betraying kiss upon the Saviour's cheek. Then came the tramp of the Roman soldiers. Then the lines were formed as the prisoner was being marched back to the capital. In olden times, as now, when a man is arrested the crowds of curiosity seekers were augmented step by step. Peter, when he saw the multitude, became very much frightened. Instead of walking side by side with Christ, as he ought to have done, he followed afar off. When they approached the home of Calaphas, the high priest, Peter came into the house and sat down by a fire and began to warm himself as though he had never been with Christ or seen Christ in his life. While he sat there by the fire a young Jewish maiden came up and eyed him sharply. Then she tapped him upon the shoulder and said: "Are you not a friend of Jesus?" But Peter merely shrugged his shoulders as he answered, "I know not what thou sayest." Peter then gets up and leaves the room and goes out upon the porch. When he has gone out another Jewish maiden touches him upon the shoulder and says, "This fellow was also with Jesus of Nazareth." Then old Joseph Parker shook his head and let out a growl as he said, "I do not know the man." For the Bible says, "He denied him with an oath." When the people began to crowd about him Peter still more vehemently began to protest his ignorance with oaths and curses. He denied Christ. He denied him once, twice, thrice. He denied him in the meanest, the most contemptible and cowardly way. Yet when Peter repented of his sin Christ forgave him and restored him to his apostleship. Christ is magnanimous. He will save the worst sinner if he comes to him in sincere penitence, grieving for his sins and entreating pardon. But for the man who confesses him with his lips, but denies him by his life, he has no word but "woe, woe unto you hypocrites!"

Not unto every one that calleth, "Lord, Lord, open unto us," shall the banquet hall of Christ be opened. Not unto the nominal church members shall the invitation be given to come and sup with the Divine Bridegroom. What became of these five foolish virgins who had no oil in their lamps? All the ten virgins had the same kind of lamps. The creed of man can aptly be symbolized in the lamp which holds the oil. They all believed in the coming of the Bridegroom. They all believed in Jesus Christ. But the oil of consecration, the purity and devotion of life were lacking. If belief in Christ would suffice, Judas himself might have been saved. The belief that has no effect on the life is not faith at all and can never bring man into spiritual relation with Christ. Oh, nominal church members, you must have consecration of heart as well as perfection of creed. You must have spiritual oil for your "lamps of faith," else you can never follow the Divine Bridegroom into the banquet hall of the marriage of the Lamb.

These spiritual mendicants of my text represent another class of spiritual beggars. They are the type of men and women who are not loafers, as we call loafers, or mere hangers on. They represent the so-called moral and upright people who expect to go to heaven on account of the mere temporal good which they have been able to do some of their fellow men. They represent the large class of people who expect to bribe their way into the wedding banquet because they have given to some town a library or endowed some college professorship or helped some hospital or financially helped to support some church or foreign missionary. They do not claim that they have lived for the purpose of honoring Christ and consecrating their lives to his service, but they do say that on account of the good they have been able to do Christ will invite them to join the wedding procession on the night that the Bridegroom cometh.

"None That Doeth Good."

Is this true? Will Christ allow any one to join the wedding procession who comes to him merely with the "lamp of good works" in his hand? Oh, no! For if we are honest with ourselves we know "there is none that doeth good—no, not one." We know that many of the acts for which the world praises us we have done with the most selfish desires and the most corrupt motives. Some of them have been done to win popular applause, some to secure the good opinion of the church and the world. For these we have received our reward, but Christ does not reward them. We know that there is not one of us who would like the thoughts of our brain and the desires of our heart to be read by the most intimate of our friends as an open book. I know some people say they are proud of their past and of what they have done. John Churchill, the first Duke of Marlborough, when a very old man exultantly lived over the scenes of his sturdy manhood. Day by day his secretary used to read to him the histories of the military campaigns of which Blenheim and Ramillies and Oudenarde and Malplaquet battlefields were the successful climaxes. When a particularly brilliant move was described, on which the success of the English armies turned as upon a pivot, the old duke's eyes would flash as he raised himself and said: "Wonderful! Wonderful! That was a masterly movement. How did I ever execute it?" He would glory in and praise his own deeds, even as aged Dean Swift would glory in the works of his youth when he said, "What genius I must have had when I wrote that!"

As Sands of the Sea.

But, though the Duke of Marlborough gloried in the military strategy of his past life, there is not one of us, from a gospel standpoint, who can truly glory in the "good works" we have done. Our wasted opportunities are as the sands of the sea. The good deeds we might have done and which we have left undone completely overshadow the little good we have been able to do. No, no. No man can light his way to the wedding banquet hall with the empty lamp of "good works." When the Bridegroom cometh it will then be for us as dark as midnight unless we prepare our spiritual oil in Christ's own way. "Faith without works is dead." "Work without faith," in the sight of the Divine Bridegroom, is also as black as the tomb. If we find our gospel mendicants among those who are depending upon their mothers' and fathers' consecration we also find them among those who would call upon the name of Jesus Christ as a fetich and those who are depending entirely upon their "good works."

I think, however, that the majority of spiritual beggars can be found and always will be found among those who expect some day to consecrate their lives to Jesus Christ, but keep putting off the acceptance week by week and day by day and hour by hour until suddenly the cry is taken up, "Behold the Bridegroom cometh; go ye out to meet him," and they will be called unprepared. I do not believe that all of these foolish virgins deliberately intended to be unprepared for the coming of the Bridegroom. They intended to go and get the oil which is the symbol of the spiritual life. But they kept saying to each other, "Oh, we will go tomorrow," or "We will go next week," or "We will go next month. There is plenty of time; do not worry."

Prepare for Old Age.

These gospel mendicants can find their exact symbols in the financial lives of every man and woman who live day by day and never provide for the future's rainy day. I go to you and say, "Jones, you ought to look out for your financial interests and those of your family." You get very indignant. You answer me sharply and say: "I do not know that you have a right to give me such advice. I am looking after myself. I am paying my bills and owe no man anything." "I know it, Jones," I reply, "but you are not saving anything for the future. You are not preparing for future sickness or old age or even death. You are living up to every cent of your income. If you should die tomorrow your family would not have a cent." At once your face becomes earnest. You say: "That is so. I have not a cent laid up for the future. Last week my little girl found a gray hair in my head, and it was a warning for me to prepare for old age." But you go away from me, and your new resolve is soon forgotten. A couple of years later I read in the newspaper that you were in a railroad wreck. Your leg was crushed and had to be amputated. Or I hear from some one that you are in hard financial straits on account of a long typhoid sickness. I go to your late home and find that you have moved. Your house is now a very humble one. After calling a short time I say, "Well, Jones, how are you getting along financially?" You hesitate a moment. Then you gulp down a big lump in your throat as you answer: "I have not a cent left. My doctor's bills and the loss of my position have swept away everything. Alas, I know now what you meant when you said, 'Jones, lay up for the future.' But I did not think the 'rainy day' would come so soon."

This is the figure of my parable. The duty that was always being postponed was postponed too long. The oil that those foolish virgins should have had was not there when it was needed. While the Bridegroom tarried they all slumbered and slept. And at midnight there was a cry, "Behold the Bridegroom cometh!" That means, when the last call for repentance came, it came suddenly. The Bridegroom always comes suddenly. Then what happened? Why, the five foolish virgins, who in the near future expected to have the spiritual oil prepared, were found without the necessary preparation. Those that were prepared went to the wedding. The door was shut. Those who were not prepared had to stay out. The five foolish virgins became spiritual bankrupts forever. Oh, my friends, are you and I going to make the awful mistake of putting off and putting off and putting off the day necessary for the consecration of our hearts and lives for the coming of the Divine Bridegroom?

Coming of the Bridegroom.

The coming of the Bridegroom may be expected at any moment. The Bible distinctly says so. When Christ comes as the Bridegroom he will come as unexpectedly as a thief in the night at a place and at an hour when he is least expected. Rev. Dr. Wallace, late American consul to Jerusalem, once told me that nearly all the American Christian residents of the Davidic capital were living there in the belief that when Christ should first appear upon earth he would be seen standing among the Judean hills, and therefore they were there waiting to welcome him. But Christ when he comes will appear unto us in America as well as though we were in Europe or Asia or Africa. Therefore, like old Robert McChesney, I cry: "Prepare! Prepare! Prepare for the coming of the Redeemer, for the Son of Man cometh at an hour when ye think not!" Will you now prepare for the most momentous cry of the ages: "Behold the Bridegroom cometh! Go ye out to meet him!" Will you be prepared so that at his glorious coming he can greet you and take you into his banquet house and lift over you the banner of love?

He is faithful that hath promised.

He is faithful that hath promised, and he'll surely come again. He'll keep his trust with me, at what hour I know not. But he bids me still to wait and ready eye to be To gang at any moment to my ain country. So I'm watching aye and singing o' my home as I wait. For the sounding o' his footfall this side the golden gate. For his hand hath made me white, and his hand shall dry my eye. When he brings me home at last to my ain country. A dozen or more mighty fox hunters, including such notables in that line as Sheriff Jordan, S. L. Gilmer, John J. Nelson, Capt. Neil Ellington, J. E. McKnight, W. C. Tucker, Carey Glass, Charles Tate and Dr. J. E. Brooks, of this city, and J. Elwood Cox and Mr. Parker, of High Point, and others, went to Manchester this week for a chase and incidentally kill a few birds and rabbits. In addition to the hounds carried by several of the gentlemen named the famous packs of Sheriff Kernodle, of Alamance, and Mr. Garrett, of Rockingham, will be used by the party, and there is rare sport ahead. Most of the party belong to a club that maintains a nice hunting lodge at Manchester and may be absent a week or more. Game is unusually plentiful in that section this year if reports are true.

Mr. Ogburn Madren, of Lynchburg, Va., and Miss Minnie E. Apple, of this city, were married at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. Alfred Apple, on Keigh street, Sunday afternoon at five o'clock, Rev. Dr. E. W. Smith, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, being the officiating minister. Only a few invited friends of the contracting parties were present to witness the simple home wedding. Immediately after the ceremony supper was served to the members of the bridal party. Mr. and Mrs. Madren left Monday for their future home at Lynchburg.

Mr. J. W. Jones was thrown from his buggy yesterday in front of the Bevil building, on North Elm street, and painfully bruised about the hip, s and breast. He had stopped there to talk to Mr. C. E. Pugh when a street car came along, striking a rear wheel of his buggy before he could drive out of harm's way. His injuries were inflicted by his horse, which stepped on him after he had fallen underneath the buggy. It was probably Mr. Pugh's presence of mind that saved him from serious if not fatal injury.

Mr. Henry G. Easley and Miss Hattie J. Turner, both of this city, were united in marriage Monday evening at 8:30 o'clock at the residence of Mr. W. C. England, 1210 Walker avenue, Rev. Dr. H. W. Battle, pastor of the First Baptist church, was the officiating minister. Mr. Easley is known all over North Carolina as a young man of great musical talent and is a salesman and piano tuner for A. D. Jones & Co., of this city. They will make their home with their uncle, Mr. England, on Walker avenue.

Death Invades Three Households.

Mr. Charles Hunter, an excellent christian woman who had a large circle of friends, died at her home on King street last Wednesday evening after an illness covering a period of several months and was buried at Tabernacle Friday morning after appropriate funeral services at her late residence. Mrs. Hunter was 73 years old and leaves three children, Miss Sallie and Mr. M. S. Hunter, of this city, and Mrs. J. T. Kelly, of Kinston, beside her sorrowing husband.

Mr. W. J. Chandler, well known to many of our readers, died Friday afternoon at his home on Asheboro street at the age of 62 years, leaving a wife and three children, Mr. A. A. Chandler, Mrs. John Watson and Mrs. Parker. Mr. Chandler had been sick for some time with typhoid fever yet his friends were not prepared for the announcement of his death. His funeral took place Sunday morning from the Southside Baptist church, where he was a highly esteemed and useful member.

Mr. Samuel Newton Wilson, a prominent farmer living a few miles north-east of the city, died Thursday of a complication of diseases that had caused a steady decline in his health for some time, and was buried Friday at Midway church, the funeral being conducted by Rev. A. G. Kirkman, of this city. Mr. Wilson was 57 years old at the time of his death and leaves a wife and three daughters, beside one brother and two sisters. He had been a member of Lee's chapel M. E. church for many years.

One Friendship Farmer's Crop.

It is a pleasure to record the success of farmers as well as that of men in other professions, as farming affords an opportunity for the same exercise of good judgment and application that the so-called learned professions do. Very few men in any calling will show a better balance than that of our friend R. M. Gretter, of Friendship township, whose harvest this year yielded 1,400 bushels of wheat, 1,600 bushels of corn, 800 bushels of oats and 1,200 bushels of potatoes, besides a great quantity of hay and other things common to Guilford farms. Mr. Gretter also raises good stock.

The gross receipts of the chrysanthemum show given last week by the ladies of the Methodist Episcopal churches of the city, for the benefit of Greensboro Female College, amounted to over five hundred dollars, or nearly twice the amount realized at previous entertainments of this character. By combining the strength of the three churches much more elaborate plans could be made than by either individual church, hence the unusual success of the enterprise.
