LOCAL NEWS.

Mr. E. D. Broadhurst, of the University, was here the first of the week.

Associate Justice R. M. Douglas came up from Raleigh yesterday to vote.

The Benbow Hotel is installing a 150 H. P. boiler which will furnish steam for the main building and annex.

Mr. John R. Stewart, who has been sick for several days, went to the Greensboro hospital Monday for treatment.

Mr. William W. Clemson, of Pomona, died Friday morning and was buried Saturday at Muir's chapel funeral services being conducted by Rev. J. J. Renn. His age was 77 years.

The chrysanthemum show for the benefit of Greensboro Female College opens today in the big building recently vacated by the Merchants Grocery Company.

A nice pair of shoes marked "Mrs. Frederick" was left in Thacker & Brockmann's store the last week in October. The owner can have them by proving property and paying for this notice.

Mr. Thomas C. Murrah, clerk at the Guilford Hotel, and Miss Hallie Caldwell Hall, of Charlotte, will be married at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Miriam C. Hall, in Charlotte, on November 16th.

Mr. D. L. Payne, the Greensboro traveling man hurt in the awful flood which followed the breaking of Winston's reservoir last week, is recovering rapidly and will return to work in a few days. All the rest of the injured are doing well and no additional deaths will result.

The old reliable Banner warehouse is making a strong bid for business this season and is reaping a consequent reward. Recent improvements in the house, together with active yet careful management and a competent force of employees, leave nothing to be desired by patrons.

The remains of Mrs. John T. Pannell, of Reidsville, whose death is reported in a special from that city, printed elsewhere in this issue, were brought here Saturday and interred in Greene Hill cemetery. A number of friends and relatives of the deceased made up the funeral party.

Mr. B. MacKenzie has taken contracts within the past few days for installing heating plants in the residences of Mr. J. T. Pruden and Mr. C. H. Ireland, Mr. C. N. McAdoo's new office building on South Elm and in the postoffice at Durham. The hot water system will be used in each.

Mr. C. A. Whitworth, an excellent old gentleman known to many of our readers, is quite ill at his home in this city. Mr. Whitworth has lived near Jamestown the past two or three years, but recently he returned to Greensboro, renting a house on Keogh street. He has been in failing health for months.

State Superintendent J. Y. Joyner, who came up from Raleigh yesterday to vote, was handed a telegram as he stepped from the train announcing the death of his aunt, Mrs. Faircloth, widow of the late Chief Justice W. T. Faircloth, of Goldsboro. Mr. Joyner took a train for Goldsboro an hour later.

Mr. Samuel W. Causey, of Proximity, died last Thursday at the Greensboro hospital and was buried Friday afternoon. He had been sick for some time and entered the hospital for an operation which was unavailing. He was about 28 years old and leaves three small children, his wife having died a few months ago.

The postoffice at Bear Creek, the first station on the A. & Y. branch of the Southern below Siler City, was robbed Sunday morning of over fifty dollars in cash. A package containing over $200 was overlooked by the burglars, who are supposed to be two strange white men that had been loitering in the community for a day or two previous.

U. S. Senator Aldrich, of Rhode Island, and a party of New England capitalists who will visit the state as guests of Mr. R. S. Howland, president of the Howland Improvement Company, lessees of the Atlantic & North Carolina Railroad, will spend a day in Greensboro next week, in company with Governor Aycock, Senators Simmons and Overman and others prominent in state and national affairs. The Gate City will welcome them.

REPUBLICAN AVALANCHE SWEEPS THE NORTH.

All the Pivotal and Doubtful States Give Roosevelt Their Electoral Votes—Only the Solid South Stood Firm For Parker—Little Change in the Representation in the Senate and House.

The following message, dated Rosemount, Esopus, N. Y., Nov. 8, 8:30 P. M., and which was flashed over the country a little later, gave the story of the national election in a nutshell: The President, Washington, D. C.: The people by their votes have emphatically approved your administration and I heartily congratulate you.

ALTON B. PARKER.
The painful details of the story are outlined in dispatches printed elsewhere. To offset the sting of national defeat is the comforting situation in North Carolina and Guilford county. Mr. Glenn's majority of approximately 50,000 and a majority of 1,200 or more in our good old county leaves much to be thankful for, inasmuch as we are assured the perpetuation of good local government, which comes nearer to us in a sense than the national government.

Hon. William W. Kitchin, our able representative in Congress, is re-elected by a handsome majority, but the exact figures are not yet available.

In Guilford as in other counties the vote was lighter than usual for a presidential year, but various causes contributed to that result, chief among which was the feeling that the state was all right and all the votes would not be needed. At this hour returns have not been received from several outlying precincts and no attempt is made to tabulate the vote. There were no unfortunate surprises sprung on the Democratic candidates anywhere, the entire ticket running well together. At Proximity the Republicans made a gain over their vote two years ago.

The election was perhaps the quietest on record. Aside from the various party workers there were no unusual crowds about the polls during the day. Comparatively a full vote was cast in the four city precincts, thus giving the Democratic ticket a lead of over 700. The decreased vote came from the country precincts.

Early returns from neighboring counties show that Alamance is Democratic by a small majority, although Kernodle, Republican candidate for sheriff, is probably elected. Randolph is Democratic by several hundred. Rockingham and Chatham are Democratic. The Republican majority in Stokes was reduced to less than one hundred. Forsyth gives a Democratic majority of two to three hundred. The lowest estimated Democratic majority in Davidson is 250.

Election returns were read at the court house last night, the telegraphic service being augmented by a telephone service graciously provided by Manager Wood, of the Bell company. The Republicans had headquarters down town in one of the lodge rooms. One or two of the hotels also had a bulletin service.

Much praise is bestowed on Chairman Osborn and Secretary Schenck for the admirable manner in which they conducted the county campaign. They deserve the lasting thanks and consideration of the party.

This morning the local Republicans are claiming the election of Blackburn in the Eighth district, but no definite information is available on the streets. An official count will likely be necessary to determine the exact result.

GLENN'S MAJORITY 45,000 TO 50,000.

Probable That the Democrats Will Have a Solid Delegation in Congress, Although Returns from the Eighth Are Meagre.

The Charlotte Observer's summary this morning says: "Capt. R. B. Glenn was yesterday elected Governor of North Carolina by a majority estimated between 45,000 and 50,000, the vote being generally light. It appears probable that the Democrats have elected all ten congressmen, although there is a lack of information from the Eighth and Tenth districts, the only ones in which the Republicans had any chance. In the Tenth it seems certain that Guder, Democrat, is elected. As to the Eighth returns are meagre, word having been received only from Irell, Rowan, Cabarrus, Stanly, Caldwell and Alexander. These leave Newland, considerably in the lead, but Blackburn's strongholds, Wilkes, Ashe, Watauga and Surry, are yet to hear from, as is also Alleghany, which is usually Democratic by a small majority.

SAFE MARGIN FOR ROOSEVELT.

Returns by the States Give Him 293 Electoral Votes and Parker 151, With 32 Doubtful or Not Heard From.

New York, Nov. 8, 10:15 P. M.—From returns at hand at this hour, the electoral vote stands as follows: For Roosevelt—California, 10; Connecticut, 7; Delaware, 3; Illinois, 27; Indiana, 15; Iowa, 13; Kansas, 10; Kentucky, 12; Louisiana, 10; Maine, 4; Maryland, 10; Massachusetts, 12; Michigan, 15; Minnesota, 13; Missouri, 10; Montana, 3; Nebraska, 6; Nevada, 3; New Hampshire, 4; New Jersey, 14; New Mexico, 3; New York, 36; North Carolina, 12; North Dakota, 3; Ohio, 21; Oklahoma, 5; Oregon, 3; Pennsylvania, 23; Rhode Island, 4; South Carolina, 8; South Dakota, 3; Tennessee, 10; Texas, 10; Utah, 3; Vermont, 3; Virginia, 12; Washington, 5; West Virginia, 5; Wisconsin, 10; Wyoming, 3.

THE D. A. R. CONFERENCE.

Adjournment Follows a Very Interesting and Profitable Session—Officers for the Ensuing Year.

The fourth annual conference of the North Carolina branch of the patriotic organization of women known as the Daughters of the American Revolution, which opened so auspiciously last Tuesday evening with a reception given at the home of Mrs. Charles L. Van Noppen, regent of Guilford Battle Ground Chapter, was beyond question the most interesting and profitable session of the organization ever held. Beginning with the welcoming address of Dr. Charles D. McIver, on behalf of the city, Thursday morning, and the cordial greeting extended the visitors in behalf of Guilford chapter by Mrs. Van Noppen, the interest was continuous to the close, a vast amount of business being transacted in a manner that reflected great credit on the officers. An appropriate response to the addresses of welcome was delivered by Mrs. Phifer Erwin, regent of Council Oak chapter, Morganton, following which came the address of the State Regent, Mrs. Mary Stringfield Wulbern, when dealt with the purposes and duties of the society. She strongly urged the perpetuation of the memories and history of the men who had fought in the War of the Revolution. Next came greetings from other historical and patriotic societies of the state.

At the afternoon session reports of the officers were submitted. These were by the recording secretary, Miss Julia Alexander; corresponding secretary, Miss Lelia Mae Johnson; treasurer, Mrs. W. O. Shannon; historian, Mrs. Chas. L. Van Noppen. Following these reports from the various chapters represented were read by the following delegates: Mecklenburg chapter, Miss D. Parks Hutchison; Elizabeth Maxwell Steele chapter, Mrs. Edwin Overman; Guilford Battle Ground chapter, Mrs. Dorian Blair; Whitnell chapter, Mrs. W. O. Shannon; Salem Centennial chapter, Miss Claytor Chandler; Edward Buncombe chapter, Mrs. Thomas Settle; Council Oak chapter, Mrs. Hague; Mary Slocum chapter, Mrs. George Goodman; Dorcas Love chapter, Mrs. Baker.

In the evening a recital was tendered the society by the Euterpe Club of this city, which embraces some of the best musical talent in the state. A delightful program was rendered. The event marked the fifteenth anniversary of the club.

After a short business session of the conference Thursday morning the delegates were given a trolley ride by President McIver to the State Normal and Industrial College, where over two hours were spent. Over five hundred students greeted the visitors in the assembly hall and entertained them with patriotic songs. Brief addresses were made by some of the visiting ladies. All were impressed with the scope of the work being done at the college.

In the afternoon the members visited Guilford Battle Ground in a body and were shown over the historic spot by Major Morehead, the worthy and energetic president of the patriotic organization which rescued this sacred ground from comparative oblivion. The visitors appreciated this courtesy, as was shown by their interest in the lines of battle marked there and the monuments commemorating the deeds of heroes whose dust now rests beneath them. Earlier in the day Major Morehead had presented the society with a hundred copies of historical addresses recently made at the Battle Ground, as well as a beautiful photograph of the only monument that has been erected on American soil to a Revolutionary heroine. A rising vote of thanks for his consideration was taken by the conference.

Thursday evening's session, the last of the conference, was taken up with the election of officers for the ensuing year. The following were chosen:

Vice President General for the State of North Carolina—Mrs. E. D. Latta, of Charlotte.

State Regent—Mrs. Phifer Erwin, of Morganton.

Vice Regent—Mrs. Thomas Settle, of Asheville.

Recording Secretary—Miss Julia Alexander, of Charlotte.

Corresponding Secretary—Miss Grace Jones, of Asheville.

Treasurer—Mrs. W. O. Shannon, of Henderson.

Historian—Mrs. Charles Van Noppen, of Greensboro.

Chaplain—Mr. M. J. Banner, of Waynesville.

The members regretted very much that they found it necessary to elect a new State Regent to succeed Mrs. Mary Stringfield Wulbern, who is no longer eligible on account of her recent removal to South Carolina, becoming a member of the South Carolina Conference. The newly elected

GREENSBORO TOBACCO MARKET.

MARKET REPORT.

The receipts on our market have been the largest for the past week that we have had this season, and on Saturday and Monday we had big sales for those days. Of course yesterday was election day and we had no sales, but we will have larger receipts from now till the end of the week.

Prices on all grades are so satisfactory that farmers are very anxious to strip and market their tobacco and we don't blame them, for we believe there is no better time to sell tobacco than when it is high. Our buyers are very anxious for the weed and are showing the farmers they are by the long prices they are paying for same. The quality of the tobacco which was offered last week was very poor yet prices ranged from $6 to $30 in the main, very few piles of leaf sell under $6. We regard this the most excellent opportunity for farmers to sell tobacco and we insist on your bringing us your next load, feeling that you will be more than pleased with your prices.

J. W. Thomas, one of Guilford county's good farmers, realized the following prices for a medium load of tobacco on this market last week: $7.50, $10.25, $11.75, $23.50 and $30 per hundred pounds, making a handsome average of $17.

We could give you hundreds of names of men who have sold on this market the past week and were more than pleased with their prices, but we give you our space to election news this week, as we feel you will be deeply interested in this matter. The election is over and Greensboro is unanimously elected the best market in this country.

G. F. College Fund Increased.

At West Market street church Sunday morning the pastor, Dr. Turrentine, announced that instead of preaching to the assembled throng he wished to present a matter of vital importance to the denomination as a whole but of special import to the West Market congregation. Proceeding he told of the two great crises through which Greensboro Female College had passed within the past year, stating in substance that another and a third crisis now confronts the institution that is so dear to North Carolina Methodism. In rebuilding the college the committee, in an effort to have the greater portion of it ready for the opening this fall, found it necessary to incur an indebtedness of about $14,000. The facilities thus provided, while sufficient to accommodate over one hundred students, are yet inadequate and $8,000 is needed to complete the building. It is known that a number of students wish to enter the college at the beginning of the spring term in January, and it is to prepare for these and lift the indebtedness that contributions are necessary. In order to be able to present the matter most effectively to the conference this month West Market church was asked to demonstrate its faith in the college by another handsome subscription, as Greensboro is recognized as a leader in its behalf. There was a ready response to the forceful appeal of the pastor and over $2,700 was contributed with a spirit both gratifying and encouraging to those who are laboring to place the college in a position to do the most effective work possible and in keeping with modern standards. Outside contributions which were reported, coming from the people of Greensboro without regard to denominational lines, swelled the aggregate to $3,372.35, or more than one-seventh of the amount required. "Praise God from whom all blessings flow" was sung with unusual fervor at the close of the service.

Strayed or Stolen.

JOHN M. DICK.

regent, Mrs. Phifer Erwin, of Morganton, is a loyal daughter and a worthy successor to the retiring regent. In token of the appreciation of the services of the retiring president, Dr. McIver on behalf of the state organization presented to Mrs. Wulbern a beautiful loving cup, which she accepted in a nice speech full of tender sentiments and expressing her regret in having to sever her connection with the state organization.

A discussion of the revised constitution and by-laws before the body occupied some time and finally resulted in their adoption. One of the provisions of the new governing regulations is that the conference shall meet hereafter on or about the 20th of May each year. The submission of a number of final reports marked the close of the conference.

A Whirlwind Finish.

The campaign in Guilford closed with a flourish that brought results. Senator Overman made a fine speech here Thursday night, being heard by a large crowd that thoroughly enjoyed his presence and argument. Friday night the county candidates held forth. But it remained for Bob Glenn to "set the woods afire" Monday night. The dauntless candidate for governor taxed his strength to come, notwithstanding that this was his 34th speech of the campaign, and spoke to a crowd that almost overflowed the big court room. Unquestionably it was the finest speech ever made here by that able, fearless and eloquent champion of Democracy. No speaker was ever favored with a closer hearing or more generous applause.

Jones & Jones have opened a nice grocery store on West Lee street in the new brick building recently built by the Lewis brothers.

The many friends of Miss Carey Ogden, of High Point, who has been very low with typhoid fever, will be glad to know that she is some better and her condition more promising.

Mr. R. L. Caviness, of Charlotte, has purchased, at receiver's sale, the cotton mill of the Enterprise Manufacturing Company, of Coleridge. It is thought he will overhaul the mill and put it in operation.

Paul Banner, an employee at the Cape Fear Manufacturing Co., had three fingers of his left hand mutilated Saturday morning by getting them caught in a machine. His wounds were dressed by Dr. J. P. Turner, who amputated the fingers.

Reidsville Review, 4th: Col. B. Frank McCreary and Col. R. K. Terry, of Spray, boarded the noon northbound train here yesterday for New York, where they were called on account of the illness of Mr. Jenks Mebane, a member of the former gentleman.

Mr. Clarence MacKay, president of the Postal Telegraph and Cable Company, is building a magnificent lodge on his preserves recently purchased a mile or more north of Jamestown, on the road to Guilford College. He has bought several hundred acres for hunting purposes and his lodge will cost something over $30,000.

A gentleman who recently advertised in the PATRIOT that he wanted a small farm near this city was surprised a few days later to receive in response a letter from a Muskegon, Mich., man who had several small tracts of land for sale in the Badger state. Either the United States is small or news travels fast when it gets in the paper.

The auxiliary pumping station of the city waterworks was closed down last week after the good rain that fell, the water supply at the main station being ample for immediate needs. The advantage of having an auxiliary station has not yet been put into operation at almost moment's notice has been demonstrated to the satisfaction of everyone. The city has given our people a feeling of security that they did not expect a year past.

Statesville Landmark: Miss Mattie Thomas has issued invitations for the marriage of her sister, Miss M. Gertrude Thomas, and Mr. Thomas C. Hobbs, the latter of Greensboro. The ceremony will take place at the Thomas home, "Clover Bottom," near Enfield, in this county, on the afternoon of the 24th at 4 o'clock. The bride-elect is a daughter of the late S. S. Thomas and is well known in Statesville. She is a stenographer and has for the past two or three years held position with the Cone Company in Greensboro.

Greensboro's School Census.

Mr. L. T. Workman completed a school census of the city Monday and submitted his report to the board of education and state authorities. While the census required this year the report of the number of children in each of the two townships, Gilmer and Mountain, that contribute to the territory comprising the corporation of Greensboro. For purposes of comparison the figures for 1902 are given with those of the present year:

Greene, 1902—White, 884; colored, 1,062; total, 1,946.

Gilmer, 1902—White, 992; colored, 1,204; total, 2,196.

Percentage of increase, 13.

Mountain, 1902—White, 1,032; colored, 1,365; total, 2,397.

Mountain, 1904—White, 1,419; colored, 1,845; total, 3,264.

Percentage of increase, 35.

The percentages given above are approximate. The net increase in the number of school subjects is over 22 for the city.

Of the 1907 school subjects in the city 1,034 attend the public schools.

Mr. Workman's records show that there are 134 school subjects in the city who are neither read nor write. Of these there are 19 pairs; deaf and dumb 2 and blind 2.

Mr. Bain Will Build the Library.

At a meeting of the board of managers of the Greensboro public library last Friday afternoon the contract for the erection of the new Carnegie library building was awarded to Mr. W. C. Bain, of this city, his bid being $22,947. The steam heating contract in connection with the building was awarded to Mr. B. MacKenzie, whose bid was $1,150. Plans for the library were made by Hook & Sawyer, of Charlotte, and the work of construction will begin as soon as the title to the site can be passed. The library will stand on the lot just north of West Market M. E. church, fronting both West Gaston and Ashe streets.

Sad Death of a Hunter.

Wilmington, Nov. 5.—Two days and a night without food or shelter from a northeast storm sweeping down the coast, half dead from exposure and only semi-conscious, N. M. Hunt, 40 years old, a foreman in a Wilmington cotton mill, was accidentally found by R. A. Barrette late yesterday afternoon lying on his back in a reed marsh at the mouth of Brunswick river, three miles below the city.

Barrette was in a boat duck hunting and heard a groan. He had paddled his canoe near the spot whence came the sound, and mistaking the half-submerged form for an alligator, he was about to shoot, when he recognized the man with whom he had formerly worked. Hunt was brought to the hospital here, where he died this morning of congestion of the lungs. Hunt went down the river Thursday morning on a gunning trip, and it is presumed that his canoe was capsized by the storm and that he swam to the marsh, but was unable because of the exhaustion to get ashore. He was a member of the Odd Fellows and Masonic fraternities, by whom he will be buried.

Southern Trading Stamp Company.

Raleigh News and Observer, 5th.

The secretary of state yesterday issued a certificate of incorporation to the Southern Trading Stamp Company, of Greensboro, which will enter the field in competition with the green, blue, gold and other colored stamps which are dear to women's hearts, although the color of the stamp to be used in this case is not stated.

The capital stock is $25,000, with privilege of increasing to $100,000. The principal incorporators are: P. F. Freedland, A. F. Larkin, E. B. Gibson and E. M. Andrews, all of Greensboro. The object of the concern as set forth in the application filed is to do a general trading stamp business, advertising and selling trading stamps to merchants and redeeming same for certain premiums, to maintain premium stores, etc., in the state of North Carolina.

A certificate was also issued by the secretary of state allowing the Williams-Nall Company, of Greensboro, to change its name to the Williams Grocery Company.

Good Results Follow a Greensboro Man's Campaign Speech in Rockingham.

Reidsville Review.

Hon. A. L. Brooks, who spoke here Tuesday night, made one of the very finest speeches ever heard in Reidsville. The hall was crowded to overflowing, all the available space being taken up by those standing. His speech was a vote-winner and much good has resulted. Reidsville Democracy will show good results of his visit here by giving the entire Democratic ticket a majority of 500 or 600 on next Tuesday.

Dr. Lowe Commits Suicide.

Asheboro, Nov. 4.—Dr. Wilbur Lowe, aged 38 years, a dentist and son of John T. Lowe, a farmer of Cedar Grove township, this county, committed suicide early this morning by shooting himself. A double barreled shotgun was used and all the top of his head was blown away. Deceased was addicted to the morphine habit and had been in bad health for some time. He practiced dentistry here several years ago, but has done nothing lately owing to ill health.

No Bail for Grubb.

Lexington, Nov. 5.—Judge O. H. Allen has refused to grant bail to Clay Grubb, the slayer of O. S. Davis. The decision reached here tonight and is the result of the habeas corpus proceeding heard at Greensboro the first of this week. Judge Allen heard testimony on both sides and rendered his decision upon the evidence and briefs of opposing counsel. Unless a special term is ordered Grubb must stay in jail until February, 1905, the next term of Davidson Superior court.

Col. Davidson Extremely Ill.

Asheville, Nov. 4.—Col. Allen T. Davidson, father of ex-Attorney General T. E. Davidson, is critically ill at his home in this city. His condition this evening was reported as unchanged. Little hope is entertained for his recovery. Colonel Davidson is 85 years of age and is one of the few surviving members of the Confederate congress.

Large Contract.

Philadelphia Inquirer.

"Not a single religious problem of any importance has been solved by the theological seminaries of the United States in fifty years," says President Harper, of the University of Chicago. Therefore he wants his university to go to work and solve them all. It is a great undertaking, and will probably keep the Chicago institution busy for the next year at least.

Charlotte Observer: Rev. Joey Munday, the evangelist, is to lecture in Statesville Sunday afternoon. The lecture is not to have the disagreeable feature of money at the door, but there is to be a collection and the revenue, as is learned from The Landmark, is to be devoted to sending Joey to Keeley. He has a little infirmity which he cannot control alone, and wants assistance. The idea is a novel one but we hope the attendance will be large and the contributions liberal, for every infirm man who wants help should have it.

The state auditor is preparing the pension warrants, which as usual will be sent out by the 15th of December. They will cover the $20,000 allowed, the allowance to the various classes of pensioners being the same as last year though there are more pensioners. No one can tell whether the top figure has yet been reached in the number of pensioners or not. There may be an increase for a year or two. The death roll is a large one.

AFTER BOOKER WASHINGTON.

Congressman Heflin Renews His Attack, Saying Washington is in Politics and Wants Social Equality.

Mobile, Ala., Nov. 5.—In a speech delivered at New Site, Ala., last night, Congressman T. Thomas Heflin paid his respects to Booker Washington as follows: "The example of social equality set by Mr. Roosevelt when he dined Booker Washington put vicious notions in the negro's head and has had a dangerous influence with many members of that race. Booker Washington is setting a bad example by going to banquets in the North and dining with white men and women. If Booker Washington did not believe in social equality he would not do as he is doing in this respect. That negro is in politics and we have a few white men in Alabama who puppy around him to get a job. He may enjoy being 'negro patronage boss' for Alabama. He is making a mistake. He is destroying his usefulness; his head is turned; he is a changed negro; he is nothing like he was five years ago. The mistake that he wore so long for policy's sake has, under recent conditions, been thrown aside, and the real Booker is seen as he really is. Against the practices of Booker Washington plain talk is necessary. The negro must be told the truth."

Batie Hodgkin Laid to Rest.

Death is always sad, but the saddest death, possibly, that has recently occurred is that of young Mr. Hodgkin, who came to his death by the kick of a horse which took effect directly over the heart, killing him instantly. Batie Collins Hodgkin was born October 29, 1886, and was killed Tuesday, Nov. 1, 1904, about 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

He was the oldest son of Joseph G. and Julia E. Hodgkin, who live at Center, three miles from Pleasant Garden. Batie was an exceptionally good boy. He was never known to curse or swear, and did not know the taste of liquor; and unlike so many boys of his age, was very obedient to his parents and faithful at his work. Mr. Hodgkin was converted about four years ago in a meeting at Center Friends church conducted by Rev. Thos. E. Hodgkin, and since that time has been a faithful Christian boy. The funeral service was conducted by M. Davis Brannon, of Greensboro, and Rev. T. B. Johnson, pastor of Pleasant Garden Methodist church. The largest congregation possibly ever gathered at this place on a similar occasion was present to pay a last tribute of respect to this noble young man. The obsequies of beautiful flowers which covered his casket expressed as nothing else can how much they loved him. The pall bearers were six young men who were comrades and special friends of the deceased young man. This is the first death in Mr. Hodgkin's family, and while the family circle will always be broken here, we pray that one day as one by one the members pass over it may be a united family in heaven. May God sustain the bereaved family by His Grace, and add unto them His richest, constant blessings. A FRIEND.

COMPARISON IS WHAT TELLS THE STORY

Daily it brings and holds patrons for us. Men do more shopping than you think, especially the man with a certain amount to put into a Suit or Overcoat. He makes the rounds and buys where he gets his best money's worth. When they drop in here first, but want to see what so and so has before buying, we always encourage them to look around. If our clothing is not better in style and fit and lower in price than the other fellows, we deserve to loose the sale. Rather a liberal policy, but it wins out in the end.

We wouldn't personally ask a man who'd been dealing at another store to transfer his trade to us; in fact, if he professed to be perfectly satisfied with what he'd been getting we'd advise him to "stick." But there are thousands of men dealing at various stores who've never been satisfied and only kept on because they supposed they couldn't do any better. These are the men we are after. We get such men every day. Our clothes are a revelation to them. They didn't know such perfect clothing could be had.

It usually takes but a glance to convince the most skeptical that there are no clothes as good as ours, and they don't cost a penny more than other kind. We try to sell you clothes that will bring a customer back after second and third suit, and how well we have succeeded is best shown by growth of our business.

304 S. Elm, I. L. BLAUSTEIN,

DEATH PENALTY FOR McCUE.

Jury Out Only Twenty-Five Minutes—Wife Murderer Heard the Verdict Calmly, But Gave Way While His Attorneys Were Preparing a Motion for a New Trial.

Charlotteville, Va., Nov. 5.—J. Samuel McCue, for four years mayor of Charlottesville, was found guilty today of the murder of his wife, Fanny McCue, on Sunday night, September 4th last. The verdict was murder in the first degree, which carries with it the death penalty. The jury deliberated less than half an hour.

A dead silence prevailed in the court room when the jury filed back into the chamber to announce the fate of the accused. The crowd that filled the court room remained until the jury came in. Mr. McCue had grown nervous as Mr. Gilmer, the commonwealth's attorney, was closing, and the suspense while awaiting the jury's verdict was a severe strain; but he held up, occasionally taking a Testament from his pocket and reading a passage or two.

When asked to stand up to hear the verdict, he rose calmly, and with set features heard the words that sent him back to prison, condemned to the severest penalty of the law.

It was when relaxation came during a half hour's interim while his attorneys conferred as to their motion for a new trial that McCue showed emotion. His little daughter Ruby climbed on his lap, her eyes reddened by weeping, while there also clung to his side two other small children. Great tears streamed down his cheeks. Surrounding the group were relatives, who scarcely knew what to say to cheer the condemned man. The verdict was received in silence by the throng, which literally obeyed the court's injunction that there must be no demonstration. Counsel for the defense moved that the verdict be set aside, on the ground that the jurors had read newspapers. The court called the jurors to the witness stand one by one, and questioned them under oath as to whether they had read the newspaper. As a whole, they said they had not been influenced by anything they had read. The motion will be argued later. As McCue left the court house to go to jail, accompanied by four guards, a large crowd was standing on the outside, but there was no untoward act.

When court was opened this morning Commonwealth's Attorney Gilmer resumed his closing address to the jury. The exhibits, reminders of the tragedy, was once more brought into court.

Mr. Gilmer closed at 11:09 A. M. when Judge Morris placed the case in hands of the jury. The verdict was rendered at 11:34 A. M.

One particular sad feature of the trial was the fact that McCue had for years been a lawyer at the bar before which he was tried and convicted, and had been on friendly relations with most of those identified with the trial. The jury evidenced the greatest interest, frequently questioning witnesses.

The foreman shook hands with the prisoner and the relatives that surrounded him just before he was taken to jail. The crime for which the former mayor was tried and convicted occurred on the night of September 4. Mr. and Mrs. McCue had gone to church, returning home about 9 P. M. Shortly afterwards, Mrs. McCue's dead body, clad in a night robe, was found in a bath tub filled with water. Mr. McCue told those who came in that some one had entered the house upon their return from church; that he had been knocked senseless and his wife probably killed. An investigation led to the arrest on the charge of murder of the man who, only four days before had retired from the highest office in the city.

Mrs. McCue had received the contents of a shotgun in her breast—a sufficient wound to cause instant death, but in addition she had been struck a heavy blow on the head, cutting an ear nearly in two.

Another great legal battle will be waged in an effort to save ex-Mayor McCue from the death penalty. His lawyers promptly laid the foundation for seeking a new trial by moving to set aside the verdict, setting forth as grounds, among other things, the statement made by a plain Woods that he had received a large fee, as well as the allegation that jurors had read newspapers. Arguments will be heard by Judge Morris next Wednesday on the motion and should be overruled, the case no doubt, will be carried to the Court of Appeals. The jurors plainly showed the effects of the strain they have undergone and a number were unable to restrain their emotions when they were discharged. It is said that one of the jurors asked the other members of the jury to join him in prayer while in the jury room, and one of the jurors said he had hoped and prayed that some evidence might have been adduced to permit him to render a life sentence. The jury was unanimous the moment the members retired to the jury room.

Met us said to one of the jurors who shook hands with him after the adjournment of court that the verdict was an unjust one, at the same time protesting his innocence.

Can't Agree at Fall River.

Fall River, Mass., Nov. 6.—By a unanimous vote, the textile council today refused to adopt the recommendation of its executive committee that a committee of five be appointed to verify the statements of the cotton mill manufacturers that they were unable to pay the rate of wages in force before the strike of nearly 25,000 operatives was declared 16 weeks ago.

Another conference will be held tomorrow between the executive committee of the textile council and the manufacturers' committee, at which time a new proposition for the abatement of the strike will be taken up.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is Pleasant to Take.

The finest quality of granulated loaf sugar is used in the manufacture of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and the roots used in its preparation give it a flavor similar to maple syrup, making it quite pleasant to take. Mr. W. L. Bolerick, of Poolesville, Md., in speaking of this remedy, says: "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy with my children for several years and can truthfully say it is the best preparation of the kind I know of. The children like to take it and it has no injurious effect. For sale by Conyers & Sons."

War News of a Week.

Charlotte Observer.

The feature of the war news during the past week was the positive announcement from Chefoo that Port Arthur is doomed, and that the Japanese can take the Russian stronghold whenever they are ready. This information is doubtless accurate to a degree, but it may mean that Port Arthur will fall in a few days or a few weeks there is no telling. Judging from the past, however, it would not be surprising if General Stoessel were permitted to eat his Christmas dinner in the city which he has so long and apparently so bravely defended against the thousands of Japanese besiegers, whom, it seems, have never faltered in the least in their determination to take it, despite the loss of thousands of men. It is said that Field Marshal Oyama is awaiting the result of the present operations at Port Arthur before making a general move against the Russians at Mukden, where the two opposing armies are so close together that maneuvering is practically impossible. The first snowfall of the season was reported from Mukden Saturday.

The North Sea incident has been practically closed by the agreement that the matters at issue, as well as an investigation of the firing on the British fishermen, shall be submitted to an international commission. The coroner's inquest held by the British authorities showed that there were no "mitigating circumstances" whatever and apparently established the fact that the story of Japanese spies being among the fishermen was fiction in its entirety. The Baltic fleet has proceeded on its way to the far East, but whether it ever reaches the war zone is still open to doubt.

A writer in Scribner's, under date of August 1st, in a letter from Manchuria, gives an exhaustive review of the conditions surrounding the Russian army, showing its weak points and explaining why the Japs have been victorious. Incompetent officers is the main cause given. The same writer devotes considerable space to the transportation problem, and while claiming that the Siberian Railroad is a fairly well built line and that it has been well managed considering the fact that it is in the hands of the Russians, he is of the opinion that it cannot transport more than enough supplies and men to keep in the field an army of over 250,000 men. This being true, the Japanese, so long as they do not penetrate too far into the interior of Manchuria, are in much better position, and the war may therefore drag on indefinitely until other powers step in and bring it to a close. There is every reason to believe that the war has only fairly begun.

PORT ARTHUR HOLDING OUT.

London, Nov. 7.—Special dispatches from Chefoo and Tien Tsin report that the defenders of Port Arthur have retired to the Laati Hill fort, where they are holding out desperately, entrenched, and with ten guns of large calibre. Many Russians, the correspondents assert, are deserting and surrendering. The Japanese, it is added, are advancing with irresistible energy.

More reliable reports do not confirm these statements, but the Tokio report of the capture of Wantai Hill, a dominating fort within two miles of the railway terminus, shows that the Japanese are making rapid strides. Bennett Burleigh, The Daily Telegraph's correspondent, reports from Chefoo that there was no fighting on the night of November 5. The troops of the Mikado, he says, have frequently stolen into the native town of Port Arthur after dark, but invariably were driven out at daylight with heavy losses. The Japanese have four large forts, facing the Russian works on Hihlung Mountain, where they are mounting naval guns on stone foundations.

Mukden dispatches to Berlin state that the Russian commanders are preparing their men to hear of the fall of Port Arthur.

Corbin Attacks the National Guard.

Major General Corbin has written an article entitled "The Third Battle of Bull Run," a critical study of the military manoeuvres in Virginia last September. General Corbin attacks strongly the present organization of the National Guard, reliance on which in time of war, he intimates, would resemble leaning on a broken reed. The remedy he proposes is a change from state militia to a United States militia. "The United States is a peaceable, but never has been a peaceful nation," he declares. "Under the laws now existing the organized militia comes under the United States military authorities for the purpose of drill and instruction only, the discipline remaining with the state authorities. This is a condition which will militate against the efficiency of the militia as national soldiers."

Mill Men Favor Arbitration.

Fall River, Mass., Nov. 4.—It is understood that steps have been taken to bring about another conference between representatives of the striking cotton mill operatives and the manufacturers to discuss a proposition to submit the strike issue to arbitration. It is said that in answer to repeated claims by the operatives that figures as to costs have never been presented to the unions, the mill men have indicated a willingness to submit such figures for the consideration of disinterested persons or person, who will pass upon their correctness, both sides agreeing to abide by the findings.

Will Fight Jim Crow Laws.

Washington, Nov. 4.—Prof. W. H. Hart, of Howard University, announces that he will try to have the "Jim Crow" laws of the Southern States made inoperative. Prof. Hart was recently arrested on a Baltimore & Ohio train in Maryland and fined for not sitting in a "Jim Crow" compartment. He says he is an Indian and not a negro, and therefore should not be forced into the "Jim Crow" seats. But nevertheless he will test the constitutionality of the law in the courts.

In Cabarrus Superior court last week Cabel Melchor, an aged colored man, was given $500 damages against the railroad because he was put off the train when he had a ticket which the railroad claimed was "not properly validated."

NO MORE PAY FOR SOLDIERS.

Public Sentiment Believed to Be Against Larger Pay for the Army.

Detroit Free Press.

Brig. Gen. Frederick Funston's recommendation that there should be a substantial increase in the pay of the enlisted men of the army will undoubtedly appeal to those in the service, but it will fail to strike a responsive chord in the public mind. Gen. Funston declares that an increase over present rates of pay of 50 per cent. for non-commissioned officers and 30 per cent. for privates would bring into the army a vastly superior body of men who would remain in the service, and adds that it is doubtful if it would prove more expensive than the present plan, "when so much time and money are wasted in trying to make soldiers out of the inferior class of men who constitute at least half of the rank and file of the army today."

That the increase recommended would result in attracting a greater number of men to the service is certain. The pay of non-commissioned officers and privates is not conducive to affluence, although higher than is paid by other nations. However, until there has been more general complaint of inability to get a sufficient number of desirable recruits the necessity of holding out greater inducements is not clear. There is no need of a large army under existing conditions. Should such a contingency arise there would be no difficulty in recruiting any number of men in a remarkably brief period of time, as has been demonstrated in the past. As to the "inferior" class of men whom Gen. Funston charges constitute at least half the rank and file of the army, there is room for an honest difference of opinion. American troops have always given an account of themselves that was anything but enjoyable to those with whom they came in contact, and the creditable manner in which they have acquitted themselves whenever called upon serves in the minds of those in private life at least to belie the charges of inferiority.

There is no compulsion about entering the service. The man who enlists does so of his own accord, and supposedly weighed the matter carefully in advance. The remuneration may be small, but this very fact forms one of the most valuable features of the present system, offering no inducement to the young man whose energies might be directed in other channels with greater profit to all concerned and leaving the military service open to those whose longing for the life is not prompted by any desire for material prosperity. Unless some more potent reasons than have yet been brought forward are produced, Gen. Funston's proposal can be put back in storage for some time yet.

SIX DEAD IN THE RUSHING WATERS.

012 City Reservoir of Winston-Salem bursts with earthquake shock, flooding streets with river of doom.

Winston-Salem, Nov. 2.—The most horrible catastrophe in the history of Winston-Salem occurred at 5 o'clock this morning when the north side of the city reservoir on North Trade Street collapsed, transforming the street into a veritable river of death, which took the lives of six persons and washed away a number of small houses in its path.

Most of the dead are as follows: Mrs. Louise Southern, aged seventy, who lived in the city yesterday from the city.

Mrs. Martin Peoples, aged fifty, who lived in the city yesterday from the city.

Mrs. Selma Vogler, aged sixty, who lived in the city yesterday from the city.

John Poe, aged fifty, who lived in the city yesterday from the city.

John Southern, young man, who lived in the city yesterday from the city.

John Southern, young white woman, who lived in the city yesterday from the city.

John Southern, young colored woman, who lived in the city yesterday from the city.

with a scene of agony and desolation. Anxious relatives hurrying to and fro in the search for loved ones, the heart-rending cries of the desolate, the utter ruin of several houses in the path of the flood, those are some of the details of the scene which greeted the eyes of the onlookers. A more horrible sight would be hard to imagine.

As soon as the terrible nature of the catastrophe was fully known undertakers and others were summoned and the gruesome work of recovering the bodies of the dead and preparing them for burial was begun and continued the greater part of the morning, the work being witnessed by a large number of people. Heroic measures have been taken by the city for the relief of the homeless and suffering, who were rendered so by a catastrophe which wrung the heart of every man, woman and child here.

MIRACULOUS ESCAPE.

Although most of those who came within the path of the river of death were carried to a swift doom, there were some miraculous escapes. A notable case was that of William Adams and wife, colored, who were asleep at the time the reservoir burst. Their house, which is situated to the northeast of the reservoir, was floated and they were carried in their beds to the railroad junction, a distance of five hundred yards. Both of them escaped without a bruise.

A white man who was in the street at the time the great catastrophe occurred, escaped unhurt by climbing to a fence, after being carried a few feet by the resistless flood.

A colored boy, who rushed to the street upon hearing the crash of falling walls, had a hard race for life, barely missing the flood of water in time to escape unhurt.

John Jordan, a white boy about fifteen years of age, who lives fifty yards from the reservoir, awoke at 7 o'clock, knowing nothing of the catastrophe. Upon investigation, he found, to his horror, that his mother and sister had been badly injured.

Mr. John Poe, janitor at the court house, left his home and went to the court house about 1 o'clock this morning. Hearing of the disaster, he rushed home, arriving on the scene in time to see his wife and daughter in the embrace of death.

HEART-RENDING SCENES.

There were some scenes in connection with the affair sufficiently horrible to rend the heart of the most unimpassioned. Mrs. Martin Peoples, whose house next to the reservoir was damaged, was pinned under a mass of brick and mortar, crying pitifully for release from an awful fate, but a merciful death relieved her agonies.

"Save me, save me," cried a boy who was being carried away by the awful flood, but he cried for relief that could come only too late. It was thought at first that the boy's body would be found in the effort to find the bodies of some who are missing, but this idea will probably be abandoned, owing to the fact that the officers are of the opinion that such an act would endanger health.

Parties who live near the reservoir say that they thought at first that the shock felt in that neighborhood was due to an earthquake. One man says that the shock was felt a considerable distance away. In one house a negro woman and six children were awakened by the rushing water just in time to be saved from a grave in the flood by swimming out of danger.

SKETCH OF THE RESERVOIR.

The reservoir was built by the Winston Water Company, comprised of about sixty citizens, in 1882. It was sold to the city of Winston in 1894. The city added ten feet to its height and extended it six feet. The city has an abundant supply of water for all purposes. A large stand pipe was recently completed in connection with a new and larger water plant.

The reservoir was situated about five blocks from the center of the business district of the city and was surrounded by a number of residences and several small stores. It is understood that the structure had been condemned but the city authorities had failed to remove it.

A. & M. College Notes.

Deferred from last week.

A. & M. COLLEGE, RALEIGH.

EDITOR PATRIOT.—The week just passed has been one of unusual pleasure and instruction to students of the A. & M. college. The state fair has been in progress, affording opportunity for the boys to get many ideas from the exhibits as well as a great deal of fun and amusement. Many people have visited the college on their way to and from the fair grounds, looking over the campus and buildings. The students were thus enabled to meet many of their friends and acquaintances on account of the favorable situation of the college.

The students in agriculture made daily visits to the fair, inspecting the exhibits in animals, poultry, seeds and farm machinery. Under Dr. Burkett, one of the judges on animal exhibits, and Dr. Roberts, veterinarian, the classes in animal judging had recitations of a practical nature at the fair grounds. They examined the stock, took measurements and made records. There was competition in this work, a silver medal being offered to the one doing the best. Horses, cattle and hogs were examined in turn.

Under Prof. Kendall the dairy students gave an exhibition every day in milk testing, churning and butter-making. This attracted the attention of hundreds of people. Dairying is growing to be a great industry in the South and so this exhibition of skillful work in the dairy did not lack for spectators.

The long line of mechanical, textile and civil engineering displays attracted the attention of thousands of visitors from all over the state. The work in carpentry, forge shop and machine shop, as well as the textile display was viewed with pride for it showed how boys are being trained for industrial pursuits in the Old North State.

On Thursday all the students visited the fair, taking the day for a jolly good time. And they had it, but in no rough and ungenteel manner. The cadets were conspicuous in uniform, but no complaint of ungenteel conduct was heard. On the other hand they were complimented for their uniformly good behavior.

The midway of the fair, or the pike, as it is now commonly known, was unusually clean this year. Of course there were fakirs and fortune tellers, but altogether it was very respectable. The races and outdoor attractions kept the grand-stand amused. The gun club's shoot also attracted some attention.

The A. & M. college is one of the state's greatest institutions and one which is growing in popularity. It is filled now and in a few years will be the largest college in the state. The new agricultural building is now in course of construction. It is just opposite the fair grounds and will add much to the already beautiful perspective of the campus and buildings. It will be modern in every respect and will be adapted to agricultural education only.

The athletics of the college are coming along in fine order. The coach has made a set, mostly of new men, into a good team. We expect to hear from some victories over the colleges which they intend to play shortly. The next game will most probably be with South Carolina college.

MRS. LUCY PANNILL DEAD.

Daughter of the Late Judge Dillard, of Greensboro.

Reidsville, Nov. 3.—Mrs. Lucy Dillard Pannill, an estimable woman of this place, died at her home on Lindsey street tonight at eight o'clock, after a short illness. Although she had not been in the best of health the past few years, it was thought her condition was daily growing better. Yesterday, however, she was forced to her bed. She is survived by her husband, John T. Pannill, Esq., a prominent lawyer of Reidsville, and six children: John D., of Reidsville; William of Winston-Salem, and Misses Florence, of Greensboro, Annie, Corn and Lucy. One sister, Mrs. E. F. Hall, of Reidsville, and three brothers, J. H. Dillard, of Murphy; J. Rudin and Drew Dillard, of Summerfield, also survive her. The deceased was about fifty years of age and was a daughter of the late Judge Dillard, of Greensboro. The burial arrangements have not yet been perfected.

Value of North Carolina Real Estate.

Raleigh, Nov. 2.—The state auditor today completed the statement showing the valuation of real estate in North Carolina for 1903, as it will appear in the report for the year ending November 30th, 1904. The total number of acres is 29,304,882, and the valuation $144,299,619. This is the valuation of real estate in the country. There are 20,000 acres owned by manufacturing establishments outside of towns the value of this being $550,000. The value of mineral, quarry, and timber interests is $1,237,361. The number of town lots is 108,386, the valuation of these being $74,456,870. The total valuation of real estate in North Carolina is $229,306,339. The previous year it was only $175,892,819. The increase during the year is over 30,000,000, which is by far the greatest ever recorded in any one year. This shows the great prosperity of the state and the marked advance in the value of farm lands. It is a very practical proof of the prosperity of North Carolina.

State Superintendent Joyner gives notice to the county superintendents of public instruction that the annual meeting of their state association will be held here November 30th, and December 1st. Attendance upon this is compulsory, and every superintendent is expected to be present.

Mr. McLean Explains About the Crows at the Speaking.

Salisbury Sun.

"Speaking of the small audiences that have heard so many campaign speakers this year," said Hon. Theo. F. Klutz this morning, "reminds me of a conversation I had with Daniel Hugh McLean at Greensboro the other day."

"What sort of crowds do you have this year, Dan?" I asked.

"Well, from three to five hundred."

"That's not true."

"Hold on, you speak harshly. I mean to say that I have never spoken to less than three people and certainly not more than five hundred."

And Mr. Klutz admits that he had the small end of it.

Tom Settle in a Fight.

Asheville, Nov. 2.—Thomas Settle, of Asheville, and Homer Cathey, a Democrat of Skyland, this county, engaged in a personal encounter in the lobby of the Hotel Berkeley this afternoon about 3:30. Mr. Cathey knocking Mr. Settle into one of the large plate glass windows on the east side of the office, and then kicked him onto the stair leading to the basement of the hotel. The fight was the result of a political discussion, and it is said that Mr. Settle first struck Mr. Cathey with a walking stick, whereupon the assailed replied with a blow of the fist that sent the ex-congressman into the window light. Both men were cut about the hands from the broken glass.

The Best Liniment.

"Chamberlain's Pain Balm is considered the best liniment on the market," write Post & Bliss, of Georgia, N. C. No other liniment will heal a cut or bruise promptly. No other affords such quick relief from rheumatic pains. No other is so valuable for deep seated pains like lame back and pains in the chest. Give this liniment a trial and you will never wish to be without it. Sold by Conyers and Sykes.

Peacock & Gold Company, General Agents Provident Savings Life Assurance Society of New York, Greensboro, N. C.

Gentlemen—We beg to acknowledge receipt of checks aggregating $2,527.00, payable to the various beneficiaries under Policies Nos. 20,769 and 73,341, for $1,000 each, upon the life of the late W. J. Clary, of Greensboro, N. C.

These policies were taken out on April 30th, 1894, and December 25th, 1895, respectively, and since that time, in less than ten years, have accumulated $27.00 in additional insurance. They have proven a very profitable investment, and the excellent earnings of same should be sufficient warranty of the excellent management of the company and another evidence of the truthfulness of its claim of the largest returns to its policy-holders.

Yours very truly, (Signed) ALICE P. CLARY

Partisan Vituperation.

Washington Post.

The inevitable drift of the campaign into personalities this year, in spite of all the good resolutions of its principal candidates, and after the orators on both sides had held themselves in check through several months of eager work, recalls the fact that for the last forty years no such contest has escaped the taint. There seems to be a streak in human nature which demands that sort of thing as an accompaniment of really active electioneering. Even in years when there have been big issues enough to satisfy every requirement for an impersonal struggle, it has seemed impossible to keep shut entirely the floodgates of abuse.

A particularly flagrant example was the warfare made against Mr. Lincoln when he ran for re-election in 1864. He was represented as a buffoon, a libertine in speech, a heartless ghoul, who would crack jests on a battlefield strewn with dead and dying soldiers; while McClellan was only a carpet soldier, a traitor, who wore the Union blue while confiding with the Confederacy, a coward who would buy peace a tany price.

Four years later, Grant was a popular hero, but that did not prevent his detractors from assailing him as a brainless clown, a political general purely, and a confirmed drunkard; and as for Horatio Seymour, he had been a copperhead throughout the war, and had begun his address to the mob which he tried to disperse in the draft riots of 1863 with an appeal to "My friends."

In 1872 Grant was a dissolute wretch who had turned the White House into a dive, a speculator in gold and stocks, who used the people's trust as a common asset in his business, and a nepotist, who took care of his own even when he knew them to be corrupt and worthless. Greeley was a hypocrite in his war record, a fanatic in his views and temper, and a humbug in his "muck-raking" and manners.

In 1876 Tilden was a railroad-wrecker, a blackmailer of canal thieves, and an auction bidder for electoral votes, while Hayes was a weakling, who made bargains with the Southern leaders, buying his seat with pledges of immunity to the Ku-Klux-Klan.

In 1880 Garfield was a purchasable statesman and a crooked lobbyist, while Hancock was the tool of Tammany Hall and an ignoramus on all the financial and fiscal questions then before the country. In 1884 Blaine was all that Garfield had been and worse, while Cleveland was a moral leper, a hater of Irishmen and Catholics, and a "trimmer" on vital issues.

In 1888 Cleveland was a free-trade bogeyman, while Harrison was a ruler of corruption funds and seeking the White House as the only alternative of the poor house. In 1892 Harrison was responsible for the Sherman silver act, and a financial kiter who was keeping the nation out of bankruptcy by methods which would not bear inspection, while Cleveland had played hocus-pocus with the Democratic platform, and did not mean to do a solitary thing that his party had promised in his behalf, to say nothing of the scandalous stories about his land speculations and his former goings-on in the Executive Mansion.

In 1896 Bryan was an anarchist, and McKinley was owned by the corporations and his creditors; in 1900 McKinley was a tyrant who played at Sultan in the Philippines, and maintained polygamy and slavery there of his own deliberate accord, while Bryan was a paper colonel, and oratorical windbag, and false to his friends.

Yet history will teach our posterity to think that Lincoln and McClellan, Grant and Seymour, Tilden and Hayes, Garfield and Hancock, Cleveland and Blaine, Harrison and Bryan and McKinley were men who loved their country and deserved well of her. And we doubt not that after the reversed amenities of the pending campaign have passed out of mind, even the champions of Parker will look with complacency upon Roosevelt's aspirations to a second term, and the devotees of Roosevelt will admit that Parker possessed some virtues that decent young men could afford to emulate. So was the world of politics!

Blackburn Loses His Vote.

Wilkesboro, Nov. 7.—Hon. E. Spencer Blackburn was challenged here Saturday and the hearing set for today. Notice was served upon him, but he did not even appear before the board and his name was stricken from the registration book today.

Winston-Salem, Nov. 7.—A special from North Wilkesboro states that Mr. E. Spencer Blackburn, Republican candidate for Congress in the Eighth district, will not be allowed to vote tomorrow. He registered but was challenged. When the case came up this afternoon it was unanimously decided that he was not a resident of Wilkes county and his name was erased. When the papers were served upon him Mr. Blackburn is quoted as saying that he knew he was not entitled to vote. Mr. Blackburn and family are expected to return to their home at Greensboro, in the Fifth district, the latter part of the week.

Doubtful or not heard from—Colorado, 5; Idaho, 3; Maryland, 8; Montana, 6; Nevada, 3; Utah, 3; West Virginia, 7. Total, 32. Necessary to elect, 239.

ONLY 151 VOTES FOR PARKER.

New York, Nov. 9.—If Maryland is Republican, as indicated, the returns received up to 1 A. M. Wednesday morning show that Roosevelt has 325 votes and Parker 151 in the electoral college.

The Vote in New York City and State.

New York, Nov. 8.—Theodore Roosevelt's plurality in this, his native state, is second only to McKinley's in 1896. It exceeds McKinley's in 1900 by about 41,300. The late returns show that there were cast for him in New York about 155,000 votes more than for Parker. Not only was his vote heavy in the country districts, where the Democratic strongholds are, but in Greater New York, naturally Democratic, he ran much closer to Judge Parker than had been expected. It had been estimated that he would come down to the Bronx with better than 140,000 plurality, but the figures tonight showed that this forecast would be exceeded by approximately 85,000. In the city, Parker's supporters had expressed hopes that their candidate would have from 140,000 to 160,000 more than Roosevelt; but in this they were disappointed by more than 100,000 votes. So overwhelming was the Republican vote that the result was known positively early in the evening. The earliest counties to report made it clear that the Parker vote everywhere fell below Bryan's in practically all the up-state districts.

The small plurality for Parker in New York city caused great astonishment, the lowest preliminary ante-election estimates having figured that he would go to the Bronx with 120,000 or more. When the reports came in, showing that he would lead Roosevelt by only 40,000, they were received with amazement.

It was a great surprise for Higgins, for governor, he running far ahead of the Odell vote in the counties, and winning by about 85,000. His plurality above the Bronx was probably 160,000, while Herrick's, in Greater New York, aggregates about 75,000. Herrick did not carry Albany, his home county, nor did Parker carry Ulster, in which he lives.

Results in Various States.

Detroit, Nov. 8.—Scattering returns indicate Roosevelt has carried the state by 100,000.

Knoxville, Tenn., Nov. 8.—Parker carries Tennessee with the legislature Democratic. Republicans elect congressmen in the First and Second districts. Large Republican gains in this end of the state.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 8.—The Democrats admit that Roosevelt has carried the state of Washington by 15,000. Indications are that the Republican majority will run between 30,000 and 40,000.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 8.—Indications point to a majority of 18,000 to 20,000 for Parker and Davis in Kentucky. The election of ten Democratic congressmen out of eleven districts is assured.

Richmond, Nov. 8.—The election in Virginia was absolutely without disturbance. The majority on the presidential ticket will be about 25,000. Nine Democratic congressmen have been chosen. Henry, the Republican incumbent in the Ninth district, is apparently re-elected by a majority of about 1,200.

Hartford, Nov. 8.—The Republican state chairman claims Connecticut by 50,000 for Roosevelt and the election of the entire state ticket and all five congressmen.

New York, Nov. 8.—Early returns from New Jersey indicate 30,000 majority for Roosevelt and a Republican legislature.

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 8.—The Evening Dispatch claims Roosevelt has carried this state by between 75,000 and 100,000.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 8.—The Democrats concede the state to Roosevelt by 50,000.

Bismarck, N. D., Nov. 8.—The Republicans have carried the state. The Republican state ticket is elected by 16,000 majority.

Chicago, Nov. 8.—Indications are that Illinois has gone Republican by 70,000 or over for Roosevelt and elected full Republican state ticket.

Columbus, S. C., Nov. 8.—Parker carried South Carolina by not less than 40,000 plurality. The Democratic state ticket has been elected without opposition. The state legislature is unanimously Democratic.

Little Rock, Ark., Nov. 8.—Arkansas voted for presidential electors and congressmen only today, the state election having taken place September 2. It is conceded that Parker and Davis carried the state by 40,000 to 50,000 majority. Bryan carried the state in 1896 by 70,000. The only change in the present congressional delegation is the retirement of H. A. Dinsmore, who is succeeded by J. C. Floyd.

Boston, Nov. 8.—Douglas, Democratic candidate for governor, has been elected by 12,000 plurality. Roosevelt has carried the state by a good margin.

Topeka, Kan., Nov. 8.—The Democrats concede Kansas to Roosevelt by 50,000.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 8.—At 8 o'clock Roosevelt was 5,000 votes ahead of Parker in this city. The state will go for Parker, however. Folk, for governor, is elected.

Wheeling, W. Va., Nov. 8.—Partial returns at 9 o'clock indicate a majority of 25,000 for Roosevelt.

Montgomery, Ala., Nov. 8.—Returns so far show that the state will send to Congress nine Democratic congressmen, notwithstanding the efforts of the Republicans to capture the Fifth and Seventh districts. This state is solid for Parker and will show his majority to be over 30,000.

Roosevelt's Last Candidacy.

Washington, Nov. 8.—President Roosevelt tonight, after the election returns clearly indicated the result, issued the following statements: "I am deeply sensible of the honor done me by the American people in thus expressing their confidence in what I have done and have tried to do. I appreciate to the full the solemn responsibility this confidence imposes upon me, and I shall do all that in my power lies not to forfeit it. On the 4th of March next I shall have served three and a half years and this three and a half years constitutes my first term. The wise custom which limits the President to two terms regards the substance and not the form. Under no circumstances will I be a candidate for or accept another nomination."

To Commit Suicide With Comfort.

Louisville Courier-Journal.

"Do you know of the only Irishman who ever committed suicide?" asked W. B. Pollard. "You know it is said that Irishmen never commit suicide, and when the argument was advanced in a crowd of that nationality he was so unstrung that he decided to show his opponents that Irishmen do sometimes commit a rash act. He accordingly disappeared and the man who employed him started a search. When he got to the barn he looked up toward the rafters and found his man hanging with a rope around his waist."

"What are you up to, Pat?" he asked. "I'm hanging myself, begob!" the Irishman replied.

"Why don't you put it around your neck?"

"Faith, Oi did, but, Oi couldn't braythe," was the unsimiling reply from the man from the Emerald Isle.

Prof. and Mrs. J. Franklin Davis attended the funeral of Mrs. Wm. B.
Hockett at Center last Sunday.

Mr. D. W. Lindley left the first of this week to deliver the nursery stock which he sold in the early part of the season. He will be away till near the last of the year.

Prof. John W. Woody will deliver a lecture on his travels in Palestine in Memorial hall next Saturday evening at 7 o'clock, to which the public is invited. The lecture will be illustrated by stereopticon views.

Mr. John Jerrell's little son met with a very serious accident last Friday. A horse ran away with the wagon in which the boy was riding and threw him out and the wagon wheel passed over the boy's body and seriously if not fatally injured him.

The community seems to be infested with thieves. On last Saturday night
some one broke into Wheeler's store and carried away some articles in the way of shoes, snuff, tobacco, etc., and also a small amount of money, mostly in pennies. The same evening just after dark some one stole Mr. Lucien Smith's horse out of his stable, but Mr.
Smith, going late going to feed missed him, and on account of the recent rain he was able to follow the track
which led in the direction of Kernersville, and the horse was recovered between Kernersville and Winston, but the thief jumped from the horse and ran when he was that he was about to be caught, and made good his escape.

Friday morning a week Mrs.
Wm. B. Hockett suffered a severe stroke of paralysis of the left side which rendered her unconscious most of the time and prevented her speaking and a few words at a times until death came after suffering last Saturday morning. Her funeral services took place at Center church Sunday evening
and were conducted by Rev. Douglas Cox, of Asheville, in the presence of a large number of sorrowing relatives and friends. Mrs. Hockett was 71 years old, a member of the Friends church
for many years, and leaves a number of children and grandchildren.

A Startling Test.

To save a life Dr. T. G. Merritt, of
No. Mehoopany, Pa., made a startling test resulting in a wonderful cure.
He writes, "a patient was attacked with violent hemorrhages, caused by ulceration of the stomach. I had often found Electric Bitters excellent for acute stomach and liver troubles so I prescribed them. The patient gained from the first, and has not had an attack in 14 months. "Electric Bitters are positively guaranteed for Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Constipation and Kidney troubles. Try them. Only 50c at all druggists.

Copper for Typhoid.

A very interesting discussion is now going on in the papers over the claim of Dr. George T. Moore, of the laboratory of plant physiology at the Department of Agriculture that the use of copper sulphate in the water reservoirs will destroy typhoid fever germs, and that no harm can possibly result from the use of the copper-treated water. The amount of copper used would be but one part in a million, while many foods are used in which copper appears, both naturally and artificially, in vastly larger proportions. "Generally speaking," said Dr. Moore, "there are from 100 to 800 times as much copper in wheat and other grains as would be used in a public water supply."

In combating the claims that the use of copper in water would be detrimental to health, Dr. Moore referred to a recent report from the Massachusetts state board of health, which states that its investigation revealed two grains of copper to the can of pens and other
"greened" vegetables, without known injurious results to the consumer. Referring to this report, Dr. Moore said it would take a person three years,
drinking a gallon of water every day,
to consume that amount of copper, the way the water supply would usually be treated, and provided all the copper put in the solution remained. But the amount put in the water is consumed by organic matter and in two or three days it is all gone.

The copper treatment for typhoid, it appears is not a new thing, as Dr.
Moore points out. He shows a letter which the department received last May from Dr. Lucien M. Solomon, of New Orleans, in which that physician
says:

"For a number of years I have been using a salt of copper in the treatment of typhoid fever. Two years ago I published the results of my experience, claiming to cure typhoid fever with
the arsenite of copper.

"Subsequent experience in its use confirms the claims then made. I use the word cure because within seventy-two hours after beginning its administration in a given case what was a severe case of typhoid becomes converted into a simple benign fever, and the patient recovers in ten or twelve days.

"If the department of agriculture intends to make investigations as to efficiency of copper salts in the direction
mentioned, permit me to suggest that experiment be made with the arsenite;
for I feel confident that it will be found to inhibit the growth of, and even destroy, the bacillus typhosus. I am writing this in the interest of scientific investigation, as well as to make your department cognizant of my claim to have demonstrated that arsenite of copper will cure typhoid fever."

Dr. Moore also claims that the reported cases of poisoning due to cock-ing in copper vessels are due to plom-baine which gets into the cooking utensils, and not to the copper. The statement that copper vessels were discarded because of copper poisoning is erroneous, he says. They were discarded because enamel ware came in vogue and is much cheaper than copper, which is a dear metal. The change was made as a matter of economy. There have been many cases of poisoning, Dr. Moore added, from the use of enameled ware, as they contain a certain amount of arsenic and lead.
There are a great many cases of typhoid in Washington at present, and this discussion has been sprung in consequence of Dr. Moore's proposition to apply the copper treatment.

DESTRUCTION IN ALASKA.

Federal Aid Necessary to Keep Indians
From Starving.

For the third consecutive winter extreme destruction prevails among the Alaska Indians, and government help is absolutely necessary to save them
from starvation and extermination.
Lieut. Emmons, a retired naval officer and an expert in Alaska matters, has been giving special attention to the conditions of these Indians, and has made a report to the President, which has been transmitted to the War department, setting out strongly the deplorable conditions, especially in the Copper River district of Alaska. On the strength of this report Acting Secretary of War Oliver yesterday issued the following memorandum for the chief staff:

"By directions of the President, the commanding officer of Fort Lissum will ship to Copper Center 10,000 rations, or so many thereof as may be found necessary for the relief of the destitute Indians of the Copper River district during the next six months. He is authorized to secure the necessary transportation and to forward at once the first consignment, by pack train or otherwise, utilizing beyond the mountains as many Indians as can be employed. An officer or reliable non-commissioned officer will be placed in charge of the supplies at Copper Center,
and will issue free of expense to the destitute and sell at cost and 33 per cent. added to such as may wish to purchase, but are unable to obtain food otherwise; consulting with Mr. Clavenger, the missionary at Copper Center, as to the necessities involved. Careful record of condition, habits and resources of the Indians during this period will be kept, and full report on the same furnished at the end of the detail by the officer in charge. These instructions should be telegraphed.

ECONOMIC MODERN HEATING.

View Taken by Property Owners of All Classes at the Present Time.

Chicago Chronicle.

Coal was first discovered to be available for fuel in 1728 by a blacksmith named Hovill living at Nancy, in France. He learned its combustible properties while using what were then called "black stones" to bank his charcoal forge fire. Discovering that they would burn with good heating results,
he continued to use the "stones" and gradually their use has extended until in the year 1903 the consumption of coal in America alone amounted to about 345,000,000 tons. Undoubtedly the supply is practically inexhaustible,
but as men may be compelled to dig deeper for it, with increased mining expenses, the subject of its economical use is one of great importance.

At the present time property owners of all classes are more and more becoming interested in forms of apparatus for steam and water warming
which burn hard and soft coal or coke,
and which extract and utilize such a large measure of the heat value of coal that the demand for such apparatus is rapidly increasing. These forms of heaters not only produce very sharp and effective combustion but in connection with various forms of heating radiators they thoroughly distribute the warmth to all parts of the building. Measured by the uniform and reliable results they produce they are unquestionably the most economical appliances now in use.

It is a noteworthy fact that while even a decade or so ago steam and hot water heating was considered a rich man's luxury, to be afforded only by the favored few, today these methods are being introduced by the thousands into the more modest cottage homes of our country. A very large majority of property owners (especially in urban districts) in building consider the merits of these modern sanitary means of comfort, healthfulness and home cheer
and an increasing number purchase every year. With good judgment many conclude that it is the part of wisdom to reduce expenditures for things which are less consequential and put their money into good reliable heating apparatus.

It is also noticeable that landlords
who formerly rented their hotels, apartments and other leased properties
subject to the fire risks, dirt, damage and discomforts of stoves and other cheap forms of heating apparatus are increasingly demonstrating the better judgment of equipping their buildings
with steam and water heating outfits,
which eliminate the risk, dirt and damage and increase the rental returns.

In fact the investment feature attending the purchase of the highly improved modern cast iron steam and hot water heating apparatus is a matter of prime importance. Buildings so equipped become permanently more valuable to live in, to rent or to sell.
While cheaper forms of heating apparatus by average will endure possibly ten years and then go on the scrap heap, a good cast iron steam or water heater and the radiators used therewith will last as long as the building are practically indestructible by use. So an investment in steam or water apparatus is not an expense item, but means an addition to permanent property value.

Churches and Divorce.

Every religious body has an unquestioned right to make its own rules on the subject of divorce. Every member of a church has a right, under the laws of the land, to go out of a church if he finds its rules too stringent to command his obedience. That the action of religious bodies on this question will have any great influence on state legislation, except at long range, is improbable.

The Protestant Episcopal church conference, after a long period of earnest disputation, has adopted a compromise
canon on the remarriage of divorced persons. It provides that the innocent party to a divorce for adultery may hereafter be remarried by a clergyman of the church only (1) if a year has elapsed from the date of the divorce,
(2) if evidence of the facts of the divorce
from the court records are submitted to the bishop and found satisfactory by him, and (3) if the minister has no conscientious or other scruple against solemnizing the marriage.

This will be a check, but not a complete preventive, of hasty remarriage,
for persons who are in a hurry can always find a clergyman of some church to perform the ceremony. And, if they are not fastidious, the work of a magistrate is tolerably satisfactory. Still, as disobedience of this sort will be valid ground for dismissal from church fellowship, the new regulations will exert
a strong restraining influence.

OUR RALEIGH LETTER.

Correspondence of the PATRIOT.
Gorman News Bureau,
Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 7, 1904.
The famous Gattis-Kilgo case has been continued by consent to the next term of Wake Superior court, sitting for the trial of civil causes.
It will be recalled that this is the case wherein Rev. Thos. J. Gattis, of Durham, is suing Dr. J. C. Kilgo, president of Trinity College, and Mr. B. N. Duke, of Durham, and Mr. Odell, of Concord. The case has been twice tried and new trials afterwards granted by the Supreme court.
The State Association of County Superintendents of Public Schools will convene in the hall of the house of representatives, this city, Wednesday, November 30th, and continue in session through Thursday, December 1st, and Hon. J. Y. Joyner, state superintendent of public instruction, today sent out to every county superintendent in the state a letter urging attendance on this convention and outlining somewhat the business that is to come before the body. The letter is an interesting and comprehensive document.
Mr. Sherrill, the state librarian, says he will go to Charlotte on the 11th of November to attend a meeting of the North Carolina Library Association, an event that will be of much interest, as it is the first meeting of the association organized in May last at the State Normal in Greensboro.
The meetings will be on the 11th and 12th of November, and will be held in the Colonial Club and a program of great interest is being prepared, some of the speakers being Dr. C. D. McIver, Dr. Kilgo, Prof. Eben Alexander, Prof. J. A. Bivins, Mr. A. H. Hopkins, of the Louisville, (Ky.) library; Miss Ann Wallace, of the Atlanta library; Mr. J. P. Kennedy, the state librarian of Virginia.
Librarians from North Carolina who are expected to be present include Mr. Louis R. Wilson, of the University of North Carolina; Mr. J. P. Breedlove, of Trinity; Miss Campbell, librarian at Asheville; Miss White, of the Guilford College library; Miss Petty, librarian at the State Normal School; Miss Caldwell, of the Greensboro public library; Prof. A. Currie, of Davidson College; Miss Sherman, of the A. & M. College; Mr. Rast, Monroe library; Mrs. Harper, Lenoir library; Mr. M. O. Sherrill, state librarian, and others.
The state board of public charities will be represented by committee at a conference which is to be held this month by the directors of the two asylums for the white insane.
The matter to be discussed is the possibility of securing more room, for which there is such urgent need. The legislature will again be asked to make provision for an enlargement of the Central hospital at Raleigh. The building at present is inadequate. There are many applications for admission, especially for women, who cannot be accommodated.
The secretary of state has issued a certificate of incorporation to the High Point Hosiery Mill (Incorporated), of High Point. Total authorized capital stock, $20,000, divided into 40 shares, of $50 each. The principal incorporators are: J. H. Millis, J. H. Adams, W. H. Ragan, E. M. Armfield, H. A.

Millis, J. E. Millis, W. J. McAnally, W. R. Newby, G. L. Robbins, R. O. Lindsay, C. C. Robbins, G. A. Matton, of High Point, and A. G. Kirkman, of Greensboro.
Mr. C. B. Ryan, general passenger agent of the Seaboard Air Line, was in Raleigh Friday, en route to Atlanta. While here Mr. Ryan had a talk with Mr. Howell Cobb, lessee of the Park Hotel. Mr. Ryan feels that Raleigh can be made a great tourist resort, and his road is going to "back up" by good work the vigorous efforts of Mr. Cobb to provide the best of hotels for travel of this kind.
Wrong Diagnosis.
New Orleans Times-Democrat.
"Gov. Bob Taylor, who still dabbles a little in politics, is out with a new story," said an admirer of the light-hearted sunshiny Tennesseean, and it is told by the governor at the expense of the Populist party. The governor told the story at Dresden, and repeated it at Memphis to a jovial crowd of friends. Here is the way he put it: "Up my way there was a fellow who came into a car full of men one day, and declared that he could tell the politics of every man in the car without asking a single question, and asserted that he didn't know a single man there. Well, they told him to cut loose, and he did. He said: 'That big fellow over there with the side whiskers and the diamond stud in his shirt front is a Republican.' The big fellow with the side whiskers acknowledged it. 'And that little fellow in the back seat with the red hair and stubby beard and the snub nose, smoking the clay pipe is a Democrat.' 'O! am, that,' said the red-haired man. 'And that long lanky, tall-faced fellow over there is a Populist,' he continued. The long, lanky fellow rose in wrath and exclaimed: 'It's a darn lie; I've had the yaller janders!'"
Mark Twain and the Girl Who Didn't Laugh.
Mark Twain once expressed the following sentiments to a young woman who had not smiled at a thing he had said during an impromptu reception in his honor at Bryn Mawr College, to which his daughter had invited him.
All the young ladies but one were in a state of great glee during the humorist's address—all but one had laughed heartily at every witty remark. Just as Twain finished, he turned to the young woman who had not laughed, and said, in an undertone: "You are the only sensible one here. I have not said a single amusing thing. If it were not for the conspicuousness of it, I would like to press your hand."

HOW TO AVOID PNEUMONIA.
Approach of the Season When Disease is Prevalent.
Chicago Tribune.
A sudden and startling increase both in this city and in New York of deaths from pneumonia, and the appropriation in the latter city of $10,000 for the study of the disease, draws attention to the approach of the season when pneumonia is most prevalent. For the week ending the 17th instant the number of deaths in Chicago from "the new captain of the men of death" was 80 per cent. greater than for the corresponding week a year ago.
Pneumonia is the despair of the medical profession. While the death rate from many other diseases has been reduced, that of pneumonia has steadily increased. While in 1860 pneumonia claimed four out of every 10,000 Chicagoans and consumption twenty-five, in 1900 twenty lives were lost to pneumonia for every fifteen to consumption.
Not only is there no specific for pneumonia, but many people are to an extent in the incipient stages of the disease without knowing it. This is due to the fact that the bacterium of pneumonia exists so commonly in the saliva of many healthy persons that it is considered "almost a normal inhabitant of the upper part of the digestive tract."
During the six months of the coming winter more than 2,100 persons in this city will become victims of pneumonia. Nobody will be immune from the summons of the death captain. It will be served upon the strong as well as upon the weak.
But there are certain rules of living which will reduce one's liability to the disease. From the bulletins of the health department and from other authoritative sources the following rules may be set down for observance:
Do not overheat the house. Most people habitually dwell in apartments the temperature of which is from 3 to 10 degrees too high.
Wear light underwear and heavy overcoats rather than heavy underwear and light overcoats.
Avoid mingling with crowds when extremely tired or when food has not been taken for a longer interval than usual. Avoid becoming chilled when over-tired.
Admit into all rooms where you live and work plenty of sunlight and fresh air.
Keep warm when indoors, even if it is necessary to build fires in seasons when it is unusual to do so. Avoid indoor chill and dampness as much as possible. For this reason be careful to remove the chill before moving into apartments freshly papered or calcimined.
Be careful during variable weather. Where there is continual cold or constant warmth the disease is little known.
If you have an attack of the grip be unusually careful about your diet and about exposing yourself to the weather. Neglected colds develop into pneumonia with startling rapidity.
Take plenty of exercise in the sunlight and fresh air. As good nursing is practically the only cure for pneumonia, so good living is practically the only preventive.

WEEKLY MARKET LETTER.

Greensboro, Nov. 7, 1904.

The breaks have been the largest of any week of this year and the prices the highest. This is the best time to sell tobacco that we have seen for years. Our buyers are anxious for the weed and the bidding is lively. Bring us your tobacco and we are sure to please you in prices. We have heard a number of farmers say they wished they had their whole crop on the market. Everybody seems to get more than they expected when they left home. All we ask is a trial load and we feel sure you will be back to see us in a few days. We have had numbers to come with their second and third load during the week and go away pleased every time. When you come to town drop in at the Banner and see our prices, and when you bring us your tobacco we will see that every pile brings its worth.

Respectfully yours,
SMITH & STONE.

FIRST SALES:
Thursdays, Fridays, Saturdays

OUR LIGHT---We have the best light in North Carolina to sell Tobacco under. It is a mellow soft light that puts the "Sunday Clothes" on Tobacco.

OUR FORCE IS NOT EXCELLED by any. With M. T. Wagoner and G. Rank Herbin as solicitors, A. J. Apple as floor manager, our Mr. R. W. H. Stone to show your Tobacco up in his quiet way, and Bill Brandon to auctioneer it, how can you expect to get more anywhere in the world? Come and see us. We are yours to count on.

Neighborhood News.

Matters of Interest Reported by Our Corps of Correspondents.

Liberty Items.

Mrs. Dr. H. P. Bowman, of Gibsonville, spent a few days here last week visiting her sister, Mrs. W. F. Bowman.

Miss Ila Brower, of Greensboro, was noticed in our town recently. Several other visitors were in our town last week.

The farmers are getting in their wheat nicely. Most of them are sowing a good crop this year. Their corn is good and turning out well.

The quarterly conference of the Liberty circuit, M. E. church, was held last Saturday. Presiding Elder Scroggs was here to hold the conference.

Mrs. Flora Coletrane expects to move into her new house within the next few weeks. She has commenced a beautiful new home in West Liberty.

Liberty has had quite an exodus recently. The fruit tree agents, about fifteen in number, more or less, have departed to deliver their trees. We wish them a successful trip.

A number of our people attended the dedication of Mt. Pleasant Methodist Protestant church, in Guilford county, on last Sunday. An immense crowd of people were there. The services were conducted by Rev. G. F. Milroy, of Burlington, assisted by the pastor, Rev. W. F. Ashburn.

Miss Rosa Stewart, of Ramseur, Mr. Claude Caveness, of Hillson, and Mr. Cleveland Dixon, of Reidsville, entered the Liberty Normal College last week. The number has reached the highest mark that it has reached in the history of the school. Our class in art took the premium at both the Winston-Salem and Greensboro fairs. This speaks well for the work done in our college here.

A number of speakers in our community during the last few weeks. I believe the general verdict is that the Democratic speakers have carried off the palms. When the other side commenced arguing against the Watts law and other important legislation enacted by the Democrats, they find that the ears of the people are unwilling to listen, and they have had a poor showing in this community.

The community was saddened over the death of Miss Lena Kirkman, who died on Tuesday morning of last week. She was a most excellent young lady and had a multitude of friends both here and elsewhere who feel the loss. The funeral services were conducted on Wednesday evening by her pastor, the Rev. W. F. Ashburn, and her remains were laid in the Liberty cemetery, where they await the call of the resurrection morn.

The young ladies of the Liberty Normal College will give an entertainment soon. Both the young ladies' and the young gentlemen's societies are doing good work this fall. The people will hear from them in the near future. The students of the college are doing the best work that they have ever done. Messrs. R. G. McPherson, W. G. Amick, T. H. Smith, F. A. Shepard, M. L. Wright and others of the college, are now in the University of North Carolina taking different courses of study.

Oak Ridge Items.

D. B. Stafford has just returned from a visit to St. Louis. He reports a fine time.

Prof. T. E. Whitaker expects to attend the conference of the M. E. church at Charlotte this week.

Miss Lottie Whitaker writes from Alabama that she is delightfully situated and much pleased.

Mrs. May Gaston and Miss Winnie Lyon, of Oakhurst, spent Wednesday in Greensboro shopping.

Mr. L. H. Lambeth has gone to his farm on Reedy Fork to spend a day or two. He is quite feeble.

Mr. W. E. Benbow has gone South to deliver fruit trees for the J. Van Lindley Nursery Company.

Milton Ballinger, of Guilford College, will auctioneer the sale at L. H. Lambeth's farm Thursday, Nov. 17th.

The public school, under the management of Prof. E. S. Cude and Miss Ann Lowrey, began its work last week.

What The Earth Produces.

The earth has nourished us through unknown ages of human existence. Is it not true that the earth supplies us with everything that we really require for existence? Have you ever thought that it is probable that the earth supplies us with the means to keep our bodily vigor, our health, if we only knew it? The animals know by instinct what is good for them and will search until they find in some plant what they need for correcting indigestion or constipation, etc. Is it therefore, not possible that there are roots and herbs supplied by nature which will cure the diseases that afflict human kind? That is why Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., has such faith in his "Medical Discovery." Years ago, when he was in general and active practice, he found that a combination of certain herbs and roots made into an alternative extract, without the use of alcohol, would always put the stomach into a healthy condition, nourish the tissues, feed the blood and nerves and put healthy tone into the whole system.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery restores the lost flesh by curing diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition and enabling the perfect digestion and assimilation of food from which flesh and strength are made.

"I was all run down, very nervous, and suffered terribly from stomach trouble, which the doctors pronounced indigestion," writes Mrs. Wm. Morey, of Marshall, Mich. "I doctored for a year without permanent relief. Was advised by a friend to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and after the use of nine bottles I was cured. I can heartily recommend the 'Golden Medical Discovery' to any one suffering from stomach trouble. My husband was also greatly benefited by its use."

Rev. J. F. Kirk preached the last sermon of this conference year at the M. E. church yesterday to a large audience.

Our people and students are still talking about the beautiful and impressive lecture delivered before the students here last week.

Rev. C. E. M. Raper, of the M. P. church, preached to a good-sized audience here Sunday night. It is his last appointment here this year.

Prof. Earl Holt was hit on the head by a base ball Saturday during a practice game and was seriously hurt. He is still in bed in consequence.

An entertainment will be given by the gymnasium class in the gymnasium next Saturday night. The class is large and the work of a high order.

The institute band furnished the music at the ovation given to Governor Glenn at Kernersville Saturday night and the students attended in a body.

On Monday night, the 21st, Hon. N. B. Broughton, of Raleigh, will deliver an address here to students and friends. The public will find a cordial welcome.

Charlie Shields (class of '83), of Moscow, Idaho, spent Sunday in the Ridge with his charming wife. He is well remembered here, and we are glad to know he is so successful.

McLeansville Items.

Miss Josie Hubbard visited her parents last Sunday.

Rev. Mr. Renn filled his last appointment at Mt. Pleasant church last Sunday morning.

Mr. Edgar L. Wagoner has accepted a position with the Greensboro Coal and Ice Company.

Mr. Charles D. Boone spent last week with his brothers and other friends in Fayetteville.

Mr. Sam W. Davis has just returned from the World's Fair. He gives a glowing account of the exhibits.

The farmers all still sowing wheat and rye. We had a good season last week, which aided the farmers very much in their work.

Mr. A. J. Wagoner has lately moved with his family to Burlington. Mr. J. W. Underwood has taken charge of Mr. Wagoner's farm.

Mr. A. J. Blackwood, who is a student at Jefferson Academy, paid a visit to see his parents in Burlington last Saturday and Sunday.

The Sunday school at Jefferson Academy has decided to have a Christmas entertainment just before Christmas. The exact date is not yet fixed, but will be announced later.

Dr. W. T. Holt has recently moved into his new home a few hundred yards north of this station. He purchased the same of Mr. R. L. Davis.

Mr. E. J. Phibbs, of Brown's Summit, was one of the number of the new students at McLeansville today. We are glad to welcome Mr. Phibbs again.

Mr. I. R. Cobb's child died last week after having lingered for some time with brain trouble. Interment was made at Peace church. The neighbors and friends wish to extend the hand of condolence and comfort to the bereft father and mother.

Fern Items.

Mr. Gurley Starr, of Mt. Hope, is now engaged in work at Greensboro.

Mr. T. A. Hunter and family, of Greensboro, visited his people here this week.

Messrs. John Jones, Billie Phipps and Jacob Coble had corn huskings last week.

Our farmers are getting along fairly well with wheat sowing and general fall work.

Master Grady Smith, of Elon College, is spending some time at Mr. W. H. Phipps'.

The public schools at Patterson's and Coble's will commence the second Monday in November.

Margaret C. Hunter, of Greensboro, spent a few days with her grandmother, Mrs. W. H. C. Shaw, recently.

Rev. J. D. Andrew and family, of Burlington, attended Mr. and Mrs. Newton Woody's golden wedding anniversary last week.

The attendance at our last Endeavor meeting was good. Next meeting the second Sunday afternoon. This will be our regular consecration service.

Miss Dorothy Starr, of Mt. Hope, has been in Burlington for the last two weeks nursing her cousin, Miss Emma Shaw, who has been sick with fever. We are glad to know that the latter is very much improved.

On November second Mr. Newton Woody and wife, of Woody's mill, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. Mrs. Woody's sister, Mrs. Emily Welker, and her brother, Mr. John Corsbie, were present at their marriage fifty years ago. They with Mr. and Mrs. Woody's children and grandchildren were present on this happy occasion with other near relatives and friends. Mr. and Mrs. Woody's family and friends trust they may yet live many years.

Whitsett Items.

Mr. E. B. Wheeler was in Greensboro Saturday last.

New students continue to enter school every day or two.

Mr. J. R. Hoffman, of the University, is at home on a short visit.

A postoffice inspector was around last week examining the offices.

A special service is being prepared by the Y. M. C. A. for Thanksgiving this year.

Prof. Whitsett was in Greensboro last Saturday attending a meeting of the board of education.

Next Saturday night at 8 P. M. there will be a minstrel show here. The boys have made extensive preparation and will doubtless give an enjoyable entertainment. It is given for the benefit of one of the literary societies to improve their hall. Admission 25 cents. The public invited.

Knew of Her Father.

New York Times.

At a reception at Bar Harbor the other evening for Miss Alice Roosevelt a young man was introduced to her. In the embarrassment of having something to say he stammered:

"Miss Roosevelt—ah—I'm very happy to meet you—I have often heard of your father."

Gibsonville Items.

Both of our cotton mills are now running on full time.

Most of the cases of typhoid fever here have about recovered.

The brick work on Dr. Jordan's new drug store will soon be finished.

Master Paul Wynn, who visited his grandfather last week, has returned.

Part of the large 950 H. P. engine for the new Mineola mill has arrived.

Our new graded school building will be ready for occupancy in a short while.

Mr. John Whitesell's children, who have been seriously sick, are improving slowly.

Misses Ida and Jennie Sockwell and their mother have moved to Gibsonville into the house they purchased of Mr. John Wright. We gladly welcome them.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Cone, who recently returned from a trip north, will soon be ready to move into their new residence, which is nearing completion.

Rev. Lingle went to Rowan last week to purchase a horse and buggy. Not being able to return in time on account of the rain, Rev. Parker filled his appointment at Frieden's last Sunday.

Pine Grove Items.

Little Eula Fentress, daughter of Dr. R. F. Fentress, is sick and not expected to live.

We were shocked to hear the sad news that Mr. Beattie Hodgkin was instantly killed by a horse kicking him November 1st.

Miss Maggie Renn, of Guilford College, is to teach the Pine Grove school this winter. The school is to commence November 14.

Mrs. William Hockett, who was struck with paralysis about a week ago, died Saturday and was buried at Center on Sunday, November 6th.

Mrs. C. P. Elliott lost a black shawl between Buffalo and Pleasant Garden last week. Anyone finding it, she would be pleased for them to leave it at Tucker & Erwin's store.

NAGGING PAINS

Newport News, Va., July 22, 1903.
Last summer while recovering from illness of fever, I had a severe attack of Inflammatory Rheumatism in the knees, from which I was unable to leave my room for several months. I was treated by two doctors and also tried different kinds of liniments and medicines which seemed to relieve me from pain for awhile, but at the same time I was not any nearer getting well. One day while reading a paper I saw an advertisement of S. S. S. for Rheumatism. I decided to give it a trial, which I did at once. After I had taken three bottles I felt a great deal better, and I still continued to take it regularly until I was entirely cured. I now feel better than for years, and I cheerfully recommend S. S. S. to any one suffering from Rheumatism. 613 3rd St. CHAS. E. GILDERSLEEVE.

Rheumatism is caused by uric acid or some other acid poison in the blood, which when deposited in the muscles and joints, produce the sharp, cutting pains and the stiffness and soreness peculiar to this disease. S. S. S. goes directly into the circulation, all irritating substances are neutralized and filtered out of the system, the blood is made pure and the general health is built up under the purifying and tonic effects of the vegetable remedy.

Write for our special book on Rheumatism which is sent free. Our physicians will advise without charge all who will write us about their case.

Death Comes Gradually.

Did I say death is coming to you gradually? Oh, yes, he has sent me a message after message to notify you of his early arrival. The first message came to you when you were about twenty years of age. You had a fearful attack of pneumonia. For days and days they thought you could not pull through. You recovered partially, but your lungs since then have never been strong. Every winter you catch a cold. Each year the cough is harder to get rid of. Or years ago when a child you had an attack of dreaded diphtheria. The nurse let us sit us too soon, and the strain was too great upon your heart. It left it weak. For years you did not mind, but now the old trouble has come back. Or the message came to you that death was on his way to your home in failing eyesight. You have to put on glasses now when you read the Bible or the evening paper. Or you can hear his footsteps in your dulled hearing. You find out that people do not talk as loud as they used to do. You keep asking them the irritating question, "Why do you not speak more distinctly than you do?" Or it came to you last week in a startling way. You had your picture taken

Span of Life Is Short.

The span of human life on earth is very short, yet like that of the life God does not permit man's life, should it be, to end until his work has been fully accomplished. The Bible teaches us that man's earthly "days are as grass, as the flower of the field, so flourisheth. For the wind passeth over it and it is gone and the place thereof shall know it no more." But, though the life of the grass or the leaf may be short as that of an insect, yet its life is absolutely vital to this country. Or, destroy the vegetation of a land and you turn that land into a Sahara. Leaves suck in the moisture. They

Too Great a Resemblance.
Bishop Olmsted of Denver is interested in a number of charities and contains many generous contributions to their behalf from rich Episcopalians.
There is in Denver, however, a millionaire who will rarely consent to be Bishop Olmsted's pet projects. He is a generous man, and in his own way he assists the poor, but to organize charity, for some reason, he heartily objects. The bishop often asks him for subscriptions, but these requests are almost invariably refused.
Recently the millionaire had his portrait painted. Bishop Olmsted visited him the other day and said:
"I saw this morning your admirable portrait."
"And did you ask it for a subscription?" said the millionaire, smiling.
"No," said Bishop Olmsted. "I saw there was no use—it was so like you

Two good horses for sale cheap, by Townsend & Co. 44-2t

We are requested to announce that the Clay township public schools will open next Monday, the 14th.

Raleigh Post: Messrs. J. S. Wynne and Rawley Galloway have gone north to purchase the fixtures for the Galloway drug store in Greensboro.

Two valuable diamond rings stolen from Mrs. P. D. Gold a month ago were recovered this week from a colored servant, Ida Mock, employed by Mrs. Gold at the time.

Only two of the 345 cases on the civil docket were tried in the Superior court last week—those of J. W. Underwood vs. Lou R. Pender and the Greensboro Security and Investment Company vs.
D. W. Corl. The plaintiffs in both cases were awarded judgments. The injunction proceedings instituted recently by the Gate City Ice Company
et al. vs. T. A. Armstrong was heard Friday just before the adjournment of court for the term. The injunction was dissolved, it being shown that the plaintiffs had corporate authority to adjust the matters at issue.

The management of the Sunday school in the new graded school building on the Pomona road expects to make its music one of the special features. They have a new upright piano, and have several good singers. It is expected that the Bible class will be one of the very largest, as it will be conducted by Mr. William Clement Galen, who everybody knows does whatsoever he undertakes. This is an invitation to every man and woman
in each of the school, who does not go elsewhere to Sunday school, to represent—it is understood that this is three-for-all school. And if the parents and home, of course there will be a big crowd of children. The teacher of the young ladies' class is a good one, as well as all the others. The building will be comfortably heated by steam,
and the school opens promptly at 9:30
and closes at 10:30 so any who wish
can go to Greensboro to church.

A Card to the Public.

I have bought the brick yard plant and good will from the Messrs. W. G.
Jennings & Sons and am now engaged in overhauling it ready to operate it.
Mr. J. W. Jennings, who is associated with me in my other yard, No. 1, will be also associated with me in the other,
No. 2, and both will be operated under the name of Stratford-Jennings.

Respectfully,

W. O. STRATFORD.

November 3, 1904.

We respectfully solicit a liberal patronage from contractors and others who may want brick. We have on hand now 600,000 good brick.

L. H. Lambeth's Sale.

Perhaps a better opportunity was never offered the people of Guilford county, who stand in need of first-class household and kitchen furniture, up-to-date farm implements, horses, cattle, grain, hay, etc., than will be offered at the Lambeth farm, near Hamburg mills, the 17th inst. The farm itself, one of the best in the county, is also
for sale at a low price and on easy terms.

Quick Arrest.

J. A. Gullledge, of Verbena, Ala. was taken in the hospital from a severe case of piles causing 24 tumors. After doctors and all remedies failed. Bucklen's Arnica Salve quickly arrested further inflammation and cured him. It conquers aches and kills pain. 25c. at all

Last Quarterly Conference.

The last quarterly conference of West Market Methodist Episcopal church for the conference year just closing was held Monday night.

Prof. Wiley H. Swift was elected superintendent of the Sunday school to succeed Mr. M. S. Sherwood, who after several years of very faithful and efficient service, has resigned.

Resolutions were adopted extolling
most highly the labors of Rev. J. R.
Scroggs, presiding elder, and Rev. Dr.
S. B. Turrentine, the pastor of the church, both of whom having held their charges for four years will not be eligible for a return. These resolutions were as follows:

Whereas, Our highly esteemed and efficient Presiding Elder Rev. J. R.
Scroggs, has finished a quadrennium
on this district, and by the laws of the church will have to move at this approaching annual conference, we, the board of stewards of West Market street church would testify to the feli-
city and successful work of Brother Scroggs on the district, and commend him to the conference as one of our safest and best leaders in all matters pertaining to the best interests of the church, and we assure Brother Scroggs
of our highest regard and esteem.

Whereas, The law of the Methodist church makes necessary a change in the pastorate once in every four years,
and whereas our beloved pastor, Rev.
Samuel B. Turrentine, having served his charge for four years, must sever
his connection with us, we, the board of stewards of West Market street church desire to give this evidence of our appreciation of the devoted, faithful and efficient service rendered by our brother during his ministry here,
and to express our high regard and deep affection for him who will leave us to labor in some other field, and we do commend him to those among whom his lot may be cast as one worthy of the highest confidence and esteem. We pray God's blessing upon him and his family in whatever field
he may be called to labor.

everybody knows that their store is the

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dread disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work.
Chronic catarrhs have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars to any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address:

When a Man is Poor.

A man is poor when he has lost the confidence of his friends, when people
nearest to him do not believe in him;
his character is honeycombed by defect, punctured by dishonesty. He is poor when he makes money at the expense of his character, when principle does not stand clear-cut, supreme in his life. When this is clouded he is in danger of the worst kind of poverty.
To be in the poor house is not necessarily to be poor. If you have maintained your integrity, if your character stands four-square to the world, if you have never bent the knee of principle to avarice, you are not poor, though
you may be compelled to beg bread.

Vanderbilt's Taxes.

Last year, when the personal property of George W. Vanderbilt, aggregating several million dollars, was assessed for taxation in New York city, he "swore off" the tax, truly alleging that he is a resident of North Carolina. He is one of the largest tax-payers in North Carolina, as the following from the Asheville Gazette shows: "The county of Buncombe and the state of North Carolina receives annually from George W. Vanderbilt a sum of money that to the average individual would seem a small-sized fortune. Mr. Vanderbilt's tax this year is something in the neighborhood of $16,000, half of which amount he settled last week."

Japanese as Farmers.

The Japanese have surprised the world as fighters, but, according to Harold Bole, they are also the most remarkable agricultural nation in the world. They have only 10,000 square miles of arable land. An automobile going fifty miles an hour could skirt
this area in eleven hours. Yet it supports an imperial nation—the rising power of the far East. Experts admit that the scientific skill of Japanese agriculturists is unapproached. "Patient diligence, with knowledge of the chemistry of the soil and the physiology of plants, have yielded results that have astounded the most advanced agriculturists in western nations."

Women's clothes would be awful queer if women weren't so awful queer themselves.

in city schools 7,138; Croatan schools 572; total 293,874. The average length of a school term for whites was 17 weeks, colored 16 weeks. Average salary of white males $31.09; females $27;
colored males, $22.94, females $21.- 59. The value of rural school property is $1,908,675, and of city $555,882.

Noblesse Oblige.

Chicago Tribune.

The customer was looking at the stock of canary birds.

"This one is your best singer, is it?"

she said.

"Yes'm," replied the proprietor of the bird store.

"Has it any amiable disposition?"

Does it ever get the sulks?"

"No oftener, ma'am," he said "than you would naturally expect in the prima donna of the establishment."

The Fictitious Bootjack.

Philadelphia Press.

"That Thomas cat must be very old."

said the first feline.

"I guess he is," replied the other.

"Oh, he must be, or else he's just using his imagination. He claims to have seen a bootjack once in his young days."
