ANOTHER TOBACCO WAREHOUSE.

"The Planters" to be Built at Once by the Safety Building Company.

The Greensboro tobacco market is to be strengthened by the addition of another big warehouse which will be built on North Greene street, at the intersection of Battle Ground avenue, only a short distance from the other warehouses and easily accessible from every direction. The matter has been under consideration for some time, but has only taken definite shape within the past week. The Chamber of Commerce gave substantial encouragement by the adoption, on the part of the executive committee Thursday afternoon, of the following resolution:

"Realizing that there is a great deal more tobacco grown tributary to this market than there is sold on it, all of which would be brought here with the proper inducements, and believing it to be to the best interest of the city to encourage the tobacco business in any possible manner, we do, therefore, heartily endorse the movement now on foot to build the new Planters warehouse on North Greene street, and to this end we urge the co-operation of every member of the Chamber of Commerce and every other good citizen interested in the business growth of Greensboro."

The Safety Building Company, which will finance the enterprise, is composed of the most progressive men of the city, and the intention is to have the house ready for business almost with the opening of the new season. Plans have been drawn by S. W. Foulke & Son, of this city, for a structure that will embrace a sale floor 80x125 feet, located on a lot 120x282 feet. Every convenience for farmers and their teams is contemplated in the plans and it is the intention to perfect every detail that will add to the successful handling of leaf tobacco. The following gentlemen have already taken stock in the Safety Building Company, which has an authorized capital stock of $50,000, with $5,000 paid in, while there are a number of others who have signified their willingness to subscribe but have not yet signed for any definite amount: Messrs. T. J. Penn, C. M. Vanstory, C. A. Bray, J. M. Hendrix, G. H. Royster, Wharton, McAlister & Vaughn, T. J. Murphy, M. W. Thompson, R. M. Rees, T. A. Hunter, D. R. Harry, L. J. Brandt, J. B. Stroud and J. T. B. Shaw.

The new house, which will be known as "The Planters," will be leased by the owners to some progressive warehouseman who will operate it on the broadest and most extensive scale, and there is no doubt but that the presence of another good house will stimulate the tobacco trade of the city immensely, as this is the natural market for a great scope of territory that produces fine tobacco.

B. J. Bethea, who had been engaged in the barber business here for some time, slipped out of town recently with his little daughter, Flossie, going to Cooleemee, where he cut the child's hair and put her in boy's clothing, with the evident intention of concealing her identity, was overtaken last Thursday by officers who recovered the child but let him slip through their fingers at a critical moment. Bethea had not lived happily with his wife, because of his infatuation for another woman, and his departure is really no great loss to the town. Mrs. Bethea, who is a sister of the Messrs. Campbell, who are superintendents at the White Oak and Proximity mills, is a woman of excellent standing. She will apply to the court for a legal separation from her faithless husband, and it is not likely that he will resist a decree. It will be exceedingly uncomfortable for him if he again attempts to get control of his daughter, who is safe and happy in her mother's home.

A heavy wind and rain storm swept over this section Friday afternoon, doing considerable damage to trees, crops and roofs, although the city seemed to escape the hardest part of the storm. North of town one or two small buildings were blown over and at one place, Mr. Loman's, where several neighbors were assisting in threshing and had taken refuge in a barn, the building collapsed and covered the men with debris. Mr. M. C. Sikes sustaining painful bruises that required the attention of a surgeon. Two or three other men barely escaped serious injury. The roof was blown off a portion of the steel and iron furnace, and several window lights at the finishing mill were shattered by the gale.

CORPORAL H. B. DONNELL'S DEATH.

A Faithful and Efficient Officer Gone—Burial Thursday at Alamance Church.

After the PATRIOT had gone to press last Wednesday morning news of the death of Corporal Henry B. Donnell reached us, and in a part of our issue of that day was a brief mention of the sad occurrence. Mr. Donnell, who had been a faithful and efficient member of the city police force for two years and had recently been promoted to the position of corporal, took sick only a few days preceding his death, seemingly from overexertion while training for the firemen's races at Winston, he being a member of the Southside reel team, which has won so many honors at tournaments. His family and friends had little thought that his illness would terminate fatally until last Tuesday night, when he took a decided turn for the worse, and before it was generally known that he was seriously ill came the announcement of his death.

Mr. Donnell was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Venable B. Donnell, who live a few miles southeast of the city. He was born May 17, 1867, and a few years ago married Miss Sharpe, of Reidsville, who, with two children, survive. For several years Mr. Donnell was a successful builder and contractor here, giving up that work to go on the police force. He had a wide acquaintance both in and out of the city, and enjoyed the esteem and friendship of a large number of people, hence his untimely death brought widespread sorrow. He had been a faithful member of Bessemer Avenue Presbyterian church since its organization.

His funeral took place Thursday morning at old Alamance, the church of his youth, the last sad services being conducted by Rev. J. W. Goodman and Rev. S. M. Rankin in the presence of a large number of sorrowing kinsmen and friends. The pallbearers were Chief of Police Neeley, Sergeants J. R. Barnes and R. E. Pearce and Officers John Rhea, H. S. Patterson and D. F. Causey.

TAR HEEL REUNION POSTPONED.

Railroad Rates Not Available This Year, Because of Western Travel.

The PATRIOT regrets exceedingly to announce that there will be no reunion of native North Carolinians at Greensboro this fall, as contemplated. Only a few weeks ago the people of this city in mass meeting decided by unanimous vote to hold another reunion similar to that of 1903, but on a more extensive scale, and committees were at once put to work to arrange all the preliminaries, but it develops that the railroads, especially those in the West, are so situated as to be almost wholly unable to give the matter of rates and schedules for the reunion much attention this year, on account of the heavy travel westward. There are assurances, however, that the railroads will do all that is possible next year to make the reunion a success, and it was decided by the board of managers, after the most careful consideration, to postpone the reunion for one year rather than to attempt to hold it under what might be called adverse conditions. The local reunion organization will stand, and really with the time at its disposal will be able to provide more attractive features than would otherwise be possible.

Mr. Douglas' Name at the Masthead.

The directors of The Industrial News, the Republican daily that is scheduled to appear here about September 1st, met Monday and selected Mr. R. D. Douglas, a prominent young lawyer who is secretary of the News company, for the position of editor-in-chief. Mr. J. P. Ackery, of Washington, D. C., who will be foreman of the paper, will select the equipment of type and material, and these, with the three linotype machines and Goss press, which have already been ordered, are expected by the middle of August. A location for the office and the reportorial and business staff will be selected within the next week or so. State Chairman Rollins, Mr. Marion Butler, District Attorney Holton and Mr. J. M. Parrott, of Kingston, were among the directors present at the meeting.

Mrs. Gertrude May, wife of Mr. Joseph May, who is employed by the Greensboro Electric Company, died of typhoid fever last Thursday morning at 5 o'clock and was buried Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock from the family residence on East Market street, Rev. Dr. Smith conducting the funeral services. Mrs. May was not quite 23 years old. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Holt, and was an excellent young woman. Much sympathy is felt for the bereaved husband.

THE POMONA COTTON COMPANY.

Strong Organization That Will Take Over the Etowah Mills and Push Them to Completion.

A strong financial organization has just been perfected here under the name of the Pomona Cotton Manufacturing Company to take over and carry on the work of constructing the Etowah cotton mills, at Pomona, which were begun some months ago by Mr. W. I. Young and associates. The subsequent death of two prominent stockholders in Mr. Young's company caused some embarrassment and delay which the new company has already overcome and work will progress rapidly until the plant is ready for operation. The Pomona company was incorporated Saturday with a capital of $250,000, the incorporators being Messrs. J. E. Sirrine, D. T. Gallivan and J. F. Gallivan, of Greenville, S. C.; A. T. Wing, of Palmer, Mass.; Lee H. Battle, W. S. Thomson and A. L. Bain, of Greensboro. At a meeting held Monday afternoon Mr. Lee H. Battle was elected president and treasurer of the company and Mr. A. L. Bain secretary and general superintendent. The directors chosen are Messrs. Thomson, Battle, Bain, Gallivan, Sirrine and W. I. Young. Secretary Bain, who will have general supervision over the construction and operation of the mill, is one of the most successful cotton mill men in the state, with an experience covering a period of twenty or more years. He expects to have the plant in operation by the first of the year with at least 10,000 spindles. The exclusive product will be high grade white goods.

NEW MUSIC DIRECTOR AT G. F. C.

Herr Felix Heink Has Been Secured For This Important Position.

It is a matter of congratulation to G. F. College, as well as to the musical people of Greensboro, that Herr Felix Heink has been secured as music director for the coming year.

This distinguished musician is a native of Germany and has enjoyed the finest advantages in his musical education. He is a graduate of the Royal Conservatory of Dresden, and has been a private pupil of some of the most noted European teachers. He has won a reputation, both in his native land and in America, as a singer, pianist, and composer. Rarely is there found in one individual such a combination of the qualities that go to the making of the real musical artist. This deep emotional feeling with regard to music, with his mastery of piano technique, renders him a most appreciative interpreter of the classics as well as of the modern romantic school of music.

Prof. Heink does not come into our midst as a stranger, having given two most charming song and piano recitals at the Normal College and at G. F. College, which delighted his audiences and causes him to be most pleasantly remembered by those so fortunate as to hear him on those occasions.

Trusted Colored Men Turn Out to be Thieves.

Clyde Tucker and Oscar Lee, colored men who have been employed by Coe Brothers, the Southside grocers, for a year or more, and were trusted implicitly, were caught in the act of stealing money from a safe in the store Saturday and are now behind the bars on a serious charge. The Messrs. Coe have been missing various sums of money from the safe for several weeks, but could discover no trace of the thief or thieves. The aid of the police was invoked, and it was only after an officer had been secreted in the store that the men were trapped. Tucker and Lee were known to be spending money quite freely of late, still there was no direct evidence to connect them with the theft until the climax came and their plans were laid bare. The safe that they had been visiting so often stood near the middle of the store, and it was by a system of signals that one of them would be enabled to extract the cash while the proprietors were busy at the front of the store. In all nearly $250 have been taken within a few weeks, and as the money really belonged to the government, a sub-station of the city postoffice being located at the store, the case has been turned over to the Federal authorities, who will prosecute it to the uttermost. Tucker and Lee do not deny the theft, but claim they did not get all the money, and another colored man who was employed there temporarily is undoubtedly implicated. His arrest is expected at an early date unless he has succeeded in getting into Pennsylvania, which all colored thieves and murderers now look upon as a haven of refuge since Gov. Pennypacker refused to deliver up a man who was wanted here last year for murder.

A Queer Situation.

Uncle Sam owns a single track railroad in Panama. Its business has grown so great that Uncle Sam finds it necessary to double track it. This brings him up facing a strange proposition.

If Uncle Sam's laws apply to the canal zone through which the railroad runs, then he will have to pay $25 a ton for the rails, for the steel rail pool organized under Uncle Sam's beneficent tariff laws has made that price and provided a heavy penalty on the member of the pool who underbids. If Uncle Sam's laws do not apply, then he can buy steel rails for $20 a ton, that being the price the steel rail pool makes in the foreign market to meet foreign competition.

It is a queer situation for Uncle Sam. If he is under his own law he is mulcted to the tune of $5 a ton on every ton of steel rails he buys for his own railroad. If he is a foreigner he can buy them for $20 a ton. If he owns to his relationship to his nephews he pays $5 a ton for giving his nephews recognition. If he disowns his nephews he saves $5 a ton. If he pays $25 a ton for the rails that his foreign cousins can buy for $20 a ton he confesses that he permits his rail making nephews to rob and plunder his rail consuming nephews. If he buys them as a foreigner in order to save $5 a ton he confesses that he is willing to make his rail consuming nephews pay a tribute that he himself is unwilling to pay—an unlawful act that even Uncle Sam would hesitate to commit.

Household Expenses.

Chicago Tribune. One of the puppies the man at the edge of the sidewalk was exhibiting caught the fancy of Mr. Ferguson, and he stopped to look at the animal.

"What's he worth?" he asked. "Five dollars," said the man. "I'll take him."

Mrs. Ferguson, meanwhile, had been inspecting the roses and carnations for sale by the man ten feet away. "George," she said, "I want a dollar."

"What for?" "I want to get a bunch of these beautiful flowers."

"That's just like a woman," he grumbled, doling out the money with a scowl. "You can't pass a place where there's a chance to spend money."

CITY FATHERS MEET ON CALL.

Action on Underground Wire Ordinance Held Up One Week—Street Improvements Ordered.

There was a called meeting of the board of aldermen last Wednesday afternoon to consider the amendment of the ordinance requiring the city to place its underground wires so as to include telephone companies, and such other matters as might claim the attention of the board. The meeting was attended by Aldermen Brandt, Harrison, Hunter, Thompson and Wysong.

At the call of the mayor was read the report of the firm of King & Kimball, engineers, who had been asked to prepare a plan for the improvement of the city's underground wires. Mr. Kimball stated that he had not had the time to prepare the plan so as to properly present it to the board. On motion it was ordered to defer action until next Wednesday night.

Dr. D. McVey and Prof. J. L. Thompson, of the State Normal and Industrial school, appeared before the board and stated that the board have the right to place the college buildings on Walker avenue done.

This request was made so that the college buildings might be established on the line where the college buildings are now located. The college buildings are now located on the line where the college buildings are now located.

It was decided to have the college buildings on Walker avenue and Lithia street as early as possible. The board also ordered that the college buildings be established on the line where the college buildings are now located.

Mr. J. H. Grimsby stated that as there has been some complaint in regard to the college buildings, he had been thinking of having the college buildings established on the line where the college buildings are now located.

WORK TO BE RESUMED ON G. F. C.

Field Agent Curtis Issues a Statement Showing What Remains to be Done.

Rev. W. M. Curtis, secretary and treasurer of Greensboro Female College, has in last week's Christian Advocate an interesting letter about the college in which he announces that in a few days work will be resumed on the college. In the course of his letter Mr. Curtis says:

It will be remembered that the new building was commenced in July of last year and the school was opened in October. It was impossible to complete the building in so short a time, and besides the funds were not available for doing so. Only enough rooms were finished up to accommodate about one hundred girls and carry on the school. To complete the building as it now stands will cost ten thousand dollars. In the circular front, which is partly built, there will be, on the first floor, the president's office and a porch. The parlors and library will be on the second floor, and the art room on the third floor. The architect's estimate on this part of the building is five thousand dollars. The parlors and library require one thousand, the art room another, and the offices and porch nearly as much. The halls, stairways, slate roof, etc., will take up the balance of the five thousand dollars. The alumni association has subscribed one thousand dollars to go on this part of the building. The most attractive room at commencement is the art room, and next to the chapel, it is the most costly in the building. We would like for some friend of the college to build this room. As a memorial it is, in my opinion, the most desirable room in the college.

In the east wing of the building there are nine dormitories and five recitation rooms, including laboratories, and back of the chapel four practice rooms, which are yet unfinished. One of the society halls and two bath rooms are not yet plastered. Some of these rooms, though unfinished were used last year, but not the dormitories. These were greatly needed, for some were turned away because of a lack of room. We must finish these rooms during the vacation. They will cost $900.00 each. Seven have been provided for by the following persons:

Mr. John A. Young, Greensboro. His daughter will occupy the room this fall.
Mr. N. D. Sullivan, Walkertown. He expects his granddaughters to occupy the room for several years to come.

Mr. B. B. Adams, Four Oaks. This room will be in memory of his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. William Gaston Adams.

Dr. J. W. Long, Greensboro. Dr. Long wishes his room to be a memorial of his daughter, Mary Long, who died in Richmond, some years ago. Another daughter will enter the college this fall and expects to take the full four years' course.

Mr. O. R. Cox, Cedar Falls. This room will be a memorial of his grandchild, Lucy Josephine Cox.

Mr. W. H. Watkins, Ramseur. Mr. Watkins completes the room in memory of his daughter, Fleta Watkins Cole.

W. M. Curtis, Greensboro. This will be in memory of his wife, Kate Wright Curtis, an alumna of the college.

Greensboro District Conference.

The delegates and local ministers who attended the Greensboro district conference at Ramseur last week returned Saturday morning and report that the gathering was most pleasant and helpful for everyone. The conference opened Thursday morning at 9 o'clock with Rev. Dr. S. B. Turrentine, presiding elder, in the chair. Rev. J. A. Bowles, of Greensboro, was made secretary, with Rev. G. F. Kirby, of High Point, as assistant. Out of the 110 members, 76 were present on the opening day. The reports showed the district to be in a splendid spiritual and financial condition. During the year there have been a great many revivals and many accessions made to the membership of the church. Delegates and alternates to the annual Western North Carolina conference, which meets at West Market Street M. E. church, Greensboro, November 8th, were elected as follows: Delegates: I. F. Craven, of Ramseur; W. G. Bradshaw, of High Point; P. H. Williams, of Reidsville; J. A. Odell, of Greensboro. Alternates: John W. Merritt, of Greensboro, and Frank Gurley, of High Point. Asheville was selected as the meeting place for the conference next summer. Other places inviting the conference were Trinity and Washington Street M. E. church, of High Point. During the conference sermons were preached by Rev. G. F. Kirby, of High Point; Rev. Dr. G. H. Detweiler, Rev. P. J. Carraway, Rev. Harold Turner, of Greensboro, and Rev. W. M. Bagby, of High Point. Rev. Ira Erwin, of Greensboro, delivered an address on the "Epworth League." Mr. John A. Young, of Greensboro, spoke on "Missions," and Rev. G. H. Crowell, of High Point, addressed the conference on "Home Department, Cradle Roll and Baraca."

THE FARMERS' INSTITUTE.

Important Gathering Here Saturday—Papers and Discussions Both Helpful and Entertaining.

About two hundred of the best farmers in Guilford, the class that is most willing to receive and impart instruction, gathered here Saturday to participate in an institute that afforded both information and pleasure.

In addition to the carefully considered papers that were read before the assembly by some of the state's best men, there were numerous discussions that brought out ideas mutually helpful to most everyone present.

The first address was by Prof. C. M. Connor, of the University of Florida, on "Fertilizers for Cotton, Corn and Other Crops." After a number of questions had been asked and answered relating to the points brought out by Prof. Connor, the gathering listened to an instructive and entertaining talk by Mr. John A. Young, of Greensboro, on "The Importance of Leguminous Crops," such as cow peas, clover, etc. Prof. H. H. Hume, state horticulturist, addressed the institute on "The Farmer's Vegetable Garden," and Prof. J. S. Jeffrey, poultryman of the North Carolina experiment station, spoke on the subject of "Farm Poultry."

The institute adjourned at 12.30 for dinner and reconvened at 1.30, with a larger crowd present than in the morning. Papers read and discussed during the afternoon were: "Alfalfa," by Mr. Samuel L. Trogon, of Greensboro; "Feeding Beef Cattle," by Mr. John G. Gutter, of Guilford College; "Farm Dairying," by Prof. J. C. Kendall, dairymen at the Agricultural and Mechanical College, Raleigh, and at the North Carolina experiment station; "Second Crop Irish Potatoes," by Mr. W. L. Kivett, of High Point; "The Silo in Stock Feeding," by Prof. J. Franklin Davis, of Guilford College; "How I Improved My Farm," by Mr. W. C. Bain, of Greensboro.

The discussions covered a wide range and in themselves were productive of much good, besides giving evidence of gratifying progressiveness on the part of our farming population, which furnishes the real basis of the country's wealth. Guilford ought to have more of these institutes.

The South's Seaside Capitals.

Old ocean's cooling breezes temper the summer's heat at the South's seaside capitals, Morehead City and Beaufort, N. C. Not a day during the summer when one is not thoroughly comfortable; the famous southwest winds prevailing along the Carolina Coast during the summer months sweep Morehead with peculiar advantage owing to its topographical situation and there is no time when discomfort prevails.

Fishing and sailing at Morehead are unparalleled on the Atlantic Coast. The waters teem with a great variety of game fish, affording magnificent sport the entire season. The boating is unexcelled. The landlocked waters of the sound and the open sea furnish the timid as well as the deep sea sailor with the best of sailing in the safest and smoothest of all sea-going boats, the famous Sharpie. In addition the fleet of gasoline launches here is the finest on the coast.

The convenient schedules arranged by the railroads make a Sunday's stay particularly easy for the business man. 110-112-114-116 N. ELM ST., OPP. COURT HOUSE.

The third sub-district conference of the Methodist Protestant church met in Kernersville on July 19-21. An important feature of the session was the emphasis given to education. A resolution was passed to memorialize the state annual conference to set apart some particular Sabbath during the year when the pastors shall be requested to preach upon the subject of education, and especially to awaken a larger sentiment in the cause of the public schools in North Carolina.

Rev. Dr. H. W. Battle, pastor of the First Baptist church, left Monday morning for Asheville to join a party of friends for a mountain trip. He will be out of the city for about three weeks. During his absence his pulpit will be occupied by Rev. Mr. Doan, a very accomplished Baptist minister, of Petersburg, Va.

Cures and Prevents Disease

The cause of ninety per cent of all disease is a faulty digestive and drainage system—the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Let one of these organs become clogged or inoperative, and there remains in the system many poisons that will, in time, breed disease, difficult to correct. One should never allow even a temporary stoppage of any one of these organs—they should be kept constantly in perfect working order.

SEVEN BARKS

Is positively the ideal corrective of all internal ailments. It is not a patent medicine, but an honest, vegetable preparation, extracted from the bark of a species of the Hydrangea plant. An occasional dose will keep the whole system in perfect condition and will act as a safeguard against disease.

CREW MANGLED BY EXPLOSION.

Boiler on the Gunboat Bennington Bursts at San Diego—Many Blown to Fragments—Disaster Came as the Ship Was Lying at Anchor with Steam Up Ready to Sail.

San Diego, Cal., July 21.—Sixty members of the crew of the United States gunboat Bennington were killed and nearly 100 sailors were injured, some fatally, at 10 o'clock this forenoon by a boiler explosion that disabled the battleship in San Diego harbor. Ensign Perry was the only officer killed. Fifteen sailors are missing. There were more than 250 men aboard the warship when the accident occurred, and many men were hurled or forced to jump into the sea by the terrific explosion, which lifted part of the deck and compelled the heaving of the ship.

The Bennington at the time of the accident was lying in the stream just off the commercial wharf at H street. The warship had received orders from the Navy department at Washington to sail this morning for Port Harford to meet the monitor Wyoming and convey the monitor to Mare Island navy yard, San Francisco.

Steam was up and rigging in readiness for the departure of the Bennington when the starboard forward boiler exploded with a deafening roar. The explosion was terrific. People standing on the shore saw a huge cloud of steam rise above the Bennington. Columns of water were forced high into the air. A dozen or fifteen men were blown overboard by the force of the terrific explosion.

Human Bodies Hurling Upward.

Captain Wentworth, who was looking at the Bennington when the disaster occurred, says he saw human bodies hurled over 100 feet upward. The air was clouded with smoke, which enveloped the ship. When the haze cleared away, only a few men could be seen on the decks, while a number were floundering in the water. A boat was lowered from the vessel's side and most of the men in the water were picked up and taken on board.

On board the Bennington were presented terrible scenes. The force of the explosion had torn a great hole in the starboard side of the ship, and the vessel was already commencing to list. A section of the upper deck was carried away from stem to stern. Blood and wreckage were distributed over the entire ship, the after cabin and that part of the ship adjacent to the exploded boiler resembling a charnel house.

The shock of the explosion penetrated every section of the ship, blood and ashes being found as far as the stern of the captain's cabin. Great damage was done in all parts of the vessel.

Boiler Regarded as Unsafe.

The boiler which exploded, it is said, was regarded as unsafe. Commander Young stated that during a recent return from Honolulu the steam pressure was kept reduced in that particular one.

At the time of the accident Commander Lanyon Young and Surgeon E. K. Park were on shore. The two officers, as soon as they learned of the disaster, hurried to the water front. Commander Young, as soon as he reached the ship, gave orders that the night compartments be closed to prevent the drifting ship from sinking, and that the magazines be flooded to avert further explosions. He then beached the ship at high tide.

The ferry-boat Ramona, which was crossing the bay at the time of the accident, changed its course and hurried to the aid of the stricken warship. The government launch, General de Russen, and a large number of other launches and water craft which were out at the time, also rushed to the assistance of the Bennington.

By the time the Ramona reached the Bennington many of the sailors of the Bennington who had jumped into the bay to escape the scalding steam and been rescued by small craft. The removal of the wounded from the ship was conducted in perfect order. The crews of the de Russen and the other boats assisted in picking up the wounded sailors and transferring them to shore.

Physicians Hurried to Scene.

The news of the explosion spread over the city like wild fire. At first reports were that half of the crew had been killed. The scene of hurrying ambulances and carriages of every description, which had been summoned, added to the excitement. Every physician who could be reached by telephone was called to the water front. Within a short time a score of physicians were attending the wounded.

Most of the dead and injured were taken ashore, where the undertakers and physicians were assembled.

The bodies of many of the men taken from the wrecked interior of the ship were mutilated almost beyond recognition. The faces of many were covered with blood and ashes. Some bodies may never be identified.

Temporary quarters ashore were arranged for the wounded, and sixty citizens volunteered and hurried in launches to the relief of those on the ship. Some of the volunteers were unable to stand the sickening sight which met their gaze on the Bennington. As fast as the wounded could be removed they were hurried in ambulances, carriages, wagons, and automobiles to hospitals. For a long time the hot steam prevented access to the space between decks, where most of the dead bodies lay, and it was not until late in the afternoon that the last were removed from the boiler-rooms. Several bodies were so tightly wedged in by a bulkhead that the woodwork had to be hewed away to free them.

Officers and Men Acted Bravely.

When the explosion occurred the engineer was inspecting the boilers. He was not seriously injured. Officers and men who were able to assist in rescue acted in a brave and collected manner. Pumps were manned to keep the water from the upper compartments, the magazine was flooded, and men fought their way through the steam into the darkened hold. Many slightly injured sailors remained in the ship and assisted in rescuing the more severely injured.

The ship's inner works are a tangled mass of machinery and the vessel probably will have to be dismantled to repair the injuries, if, indeed, the warship is not a total loss.

Lieut. Yates, executive officer in charge of the Bennington at the time of the disaster, was in the after cabin. He rushed out, to be met by a blinding, scalding cloud of steam as it swept the vessel. Speaking of the occurrence, he said:

"I must have remained seated in my chair several seconds after it occurred, and did not know what had happened. I then rushed out, and the steam, even at the extreme after part of the ship, was so dense that I could not get a breath of air until I ascended the rail. As I ran forward I passed one of our boys crawling along. There was no time to attend to individual cases, as there were so many. About thirty of the boys were on the fore deck, all severely wounded. I called for men to man the boats, and only a dozen men, including officers, responded at that moment. All of the rest were injured, blinded, or had been thrown overboard."

Total Dead Fifty-nine.

San Diego, July 23.—A careful compilation of casualties was made by the Associated Press at 9 o'clock tonight and is as follows: Buried in military ceremony at Fort Rosecrans today, 47; dead now in morgue, 10; dead in fire room of Bennington still unrecovered, 2. Total dead, 59. Injured at various hospitals, 50; missing, 16; grand total, 125.

Of the injured at hospitals seven or eight are expected to die. Forty-nine bodies were taken to the cemetery today, but two were brought back upon telegraphic orders for shipment which reached here after they had been started for the cemetery.

Ensign Perry's body has been embalmed and will be shipped to Annapolis.

Col. Daniel Lamont Dead.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., July 23.—Col. Daniel Lamont, Secretary of War under President Cleveland, died at 9:15 this evening at his country residence, at Millbrook, Dutchess county, N. Y., after a brief illness. Heart failure was the cause of death.

Colonel and Mrs. Lamont were out driving this afternoon and Colonel Lamont appeared to be enjoying the best of health. After dinner he complained of feeling ill and Dr. Stewart, of New York, who is a guest at the house, immediately went to his aid. The physician diagnosed the case as an attack of heart failure and in spite of the heroic treatment, Mr. Lamont passed away within half an hour. At his death he was Mrs. Lamont and two daughters, Frances and Bessie. Several guests at the Lamont home were also present when the end came.

Colonel Lamont had been in feeble health and the members of the immediate family were gathered at the "Albion," the Lamont country home at Millbrook. Intelligence of his grave condition was sent earlier in the evening to Dr. Joseph D. Bryant, of No. 22 West Forty-eighth street, New York, a life-long friend, who was summoned to Millbrook. Dr. Bryant had, however, been called out of town for the night and could not be reached by Mrs. Bryant, who later received a second message announcing Colonel Lamont's death.

Beniel Scott Lamont was born at Cortlandville, N. Y., on February 9, 1851. He began life in journalism and from 1885 to 1889 was private secretary to President Cleveland, by whom he was appointed Secretary of War on March 6, 1893. Mr. Lamont was vice-president of the Northern Pacific Railway, and a director and trustee in many railroad and financial corporations. He leaves a widow and two daughters. He was a member of many New York clubs.

Fire at High Point.

High Point, July 22.—Tonight at 7:15 o'clock fire broke out in the enameling and finishing department of the High Point Metallic Bed Company, burning this part of the building to the ground. The plant of this factory is built in three sections of brick, with fireproof walls between the sections. It is located just outside the corporate limits of the town, and, notwithstanding the fact that the firemen were handicapped in their work, they managed to save the sections on either side of the burned portion. The loss is quite severe, but will not necessitate the closing down of the plant for more than a few days. This makes the second time, in the past nine months, that this plant has suffered a loss by fire, it having been burned to the ground last October.

$200,000 Bridge Over Newport River.

Newbern, July 22.—At a meeting, held in Morehead City yesterday, the proposition of the Atlantic & North Carolina Railway company to build a bridge across Newport river, from Morehead to Beaufort, was formally presented. The plan was discussed at length, but there was no adverse comment, all seeming to be in favor of building the bridge. Work will be commenced on the structure at once and it will be completed in about six months at a cost of $200,000. The bridge will be about two and one-half miles long.

More Money for Postmasters.

Washington, July 21.—The annual readjustment of the salaries of postmasters by the Postoffice department has been completed with one or two exceptions, which will not be announced until the latter part of the month. In North Carolina 47 cities and towns have made sufficient gains in postal receipts to warrant increased salaries for postmasters. With this gratifying growth of postal business in the state, it is interesting to note that only one North Carolina town has gone backward. The salary of the postmaster at Concord is decreased from $2,200 to $2,100 as the result of diminishing business. The three points that make the best showing as the result of the new adjustment are Mt. Olive, Kernersville, and Davidson. The postmasters in those towns will receive $200 increase in salary, while the other 44 postmasters who receive increases will only get $100 additional compensation. The following is a partial list of the offices where postmasters receive increased salaries as the result of growing business:

Governor Reviews Troops.

Wilmington, July 22.—The Governor's review of the State troops of the Second and Third Regiments was the chief feature of life at Camp Glenn, on the sound, today. The spectacular event was witnessed by hundreds of people from the city and the beach. The militia showed up exceedingly well, and the Governor expressed himself as immensely pleased with the evidences of progress on every hand. The Governor and his personal staff were met at the station by a detail of two companies of the Third Regiment Band, under command of Col. T. C. James, and was escorted into camp with the usual military honors. The Third Battalion of the Third Regiment, composed of the Reidsville, Greensboro, Burlington, and Sanford companies, had their turn at the targets today. The highest score for Reidsville was 19, by Private Gwyn; for Greensboro, 15, by Smith; for Burlington, 29, by Phillips; for Sanford, 22, by Wicker. Tomorrow the soldiers will spend a quiet day, though thousands will visit the camp, if the weather is at all favorable. The encampment has brought to the sound and beach the largest crowd ever seen there and the consolidated company is taxed to its utmost to handle the traffic.

FACTORY IMPROVING.

Remarkable Change Wrought by Landscape Gardening in Ohio.

Several years ago a well known Ohio manufacturer, on his trips to and from Dayton, O., was greatly impressed with the barlike appearance and desolate air of the little homes lining the railroad as it approached Dayton and other towns, writes William H. Talman in the Review of Reviews. He said to himself that the fences and back porches would be improved by a few creeping vines and flowers. From the back-yard view of these homes his thoughts turned to the barrenness of his own factory, and he decided to try the effect of some flowers and vines.
The first thing he did was to plant a big bed of flowers in the center of the factory lawn. Instinctively he felt that something was wrong. He knew that his ideas were right, but he lacked the knowledge of how to carry them out, and he finally sent for John C.
Olmsted, the famous landscape gardener.

The first suggestion was the removal of the set piece in the center of the lawn. Then he corrected the planting of one bed of flowers with eight or nine colors. He pointed out how, by making little bays and inlets of shrubs and flowers along the sides of the lawn, a pleasing effect might be secured. Next he suggested that the two stable sheds opposite the factory should be connected with an arch, the roof painted vermillion, the sides olive and rapid-growing vines planted at each end, thus forming a harmony of color that would be restful to the eye.

Mr. Olmsted's suggestions fell on fertile soil. Mr. Patterson not only decorated his factory grounds and buildings, but covered the telegraph poles and lamp posts with vines, so that the streets about the factory seemed like the approaches to a park.
When he saw how beautiful all this looked for the factory, and when he reflected how simple were the principles of landscape gardening, he thought how fine a thing it would be to bring it to the homes of his factory people.

He began this educational work in the factory Sunday school, and when spring came he distributed 12,000 packages of seeds to the children. To stimulate the best effort prizes were offered for the best ornamental planting about the home and for the most artistic arrangement and training of vines on houses, verandas, buildings, fences and posts. Boys and girls under sixteen were invited to compete for the best kept back yards, whether lawns or planted in flowers and vegetables. Five prizes of $5 each were offered for the most artistic window box effects. The best planted and cultivated vegetable gardens were to be rewarded by five prizes of $10 each. To take charge of this work he engaged the services of a landscape gardener, who could be consulted by any of the employees.

Previous to the time the work began the bare houses looked like those of the North's ark village—no adornment, the lots separated by board fences, with no regard to harmony of color. The children then planted the seeds and eagerly watched the rapid growth of the morning glories and the moon flowers. Gradually the stiff lines of the fences disappeared under the luxuriant growth of the vines. Then the mothers, seeing the pretty effect of the vines, began to train them over the porch and added window boxes, making bowers of beauty out of the previous packing box style of house. When the autumn came and the vines disappeared they realized how very ugly the fences looked without any adornment. The training of the summer bore fruit, and when Mr.
Patterson advised taking them down and replacing them by a wire fence, which was just about one-third cheaper and better adapted to the climbing vines, they were ready to do so. Some occupiers of adjoining houses improved on this plan by doing away with any kind of a fence and planting instead a divisional line of flowers.

Some idea of the interest in the contests for the landscape garden prizes may be shown by the fact that an audience of 4,000 people thronged the great auditorium at the fair grounds when the prizes were distributed. Thus those who had striven all summer were rewarded additionally by the public recognition of their friends.

We live in a prosaic, matter of fact world, where most of us wish to be paid for what we do. How did this pay Mr. Patterson? No one can visit his factory without noting the happy and contented workers everywhere.
Each one is individualized. He does not feel that he is a cog in the wheel, but is an essential part of the vital mechanism credited with intelligence.
In the old days the men spoke of the factory as "Patterson's penitentiary;" now it is called "Patterson's paradiso."

The factory people have organized the South Park Improvement Association so that they may extend these advantages throughout that section of the town. Viewed from no higher plane than that of commercialism, there has been a decided increase in the value of property.

Whatever makes the wage earners contented with their homes has value for the employer, for the greater the home contentment the less likely will the workman be to do that which will imperil or impair its integrity.
The very inexpensive and simple application of the fundamental principles of landscape gardening to the factory grounds and homes of the wage earners is the first step in the improvement of their condition by any employer who feels that he owes his staff more than the mere payment of wages.

Majesty of the Law Upheld.

In Wadesboro the other day Dan E.
Teal criticised Policeman Bennett for an arrest he had made. The policeman resented the criticism and by agreement the two adjourned to the woods to fight it out. Interested spectators followed and watched. The two men laid aside their coats and weapons, shook hands and then pommelled each other until Teal said he had enough, leaving the policeman the victor. Then the combatants shook hands, put on their coats, and went about their business.
It is presumed that everybody is satisfied.

THE HARVESTER TRUST.

Evidence in Court Offers Some Interesting Pointers to the Administration.

The farmers of the country will find some mighty interesting reading in the suit between the International Harvester Company and Rodney B. Swift, a discharged employee. Mr. Swift is being sued by the company on a charge of fraud in the sale of a patent, and in his answer he asks the court to dissolve the corporation on the ground that it is an illegal trust and a conspiracy in restraint of trade.

Mr. Swift, who was formerly the head of the experimental department of the McCormick branch of the Harvester Company, charges that four men, Cyrus H. McCormick, Charles Deering, George W. Perkins, and William C.
Laue, virtually control the manufacture and sale of all the agricultural implements in the West. He claims that shortly after the incorporation of the International Harvester Company, which is a huge combination of many smaller concerns, these men were elected as trustees to control and vote the stock of the company until 1912.
He alleges that the company froze its competitors out of business by forcing the railroads to grant it rebates amounting to over $3,500,000 from two railroads alone up to 1902. Since then it is claimed that nine other railroads competing for the company's enormous business have granted it rebates amounting to millions of dollars.

Some idea of the enormous profits of the business is given in Mr. Swift's statement that harvesting machines which cost the company $37 are sold to agents for $95, and by them sold to customers for $125. He also alleges that the Harvester Company is in a combination with the Plymouth Cordage Company to monopolize the binder twine trade of the United States.

The International Harvester Company is the concern which got nearly all the railroads in the West into trouble with the United States government. They are now being prosecuted by the government for granting it rebates in violation of a Federal injunction issued three years ago. The cases will come up shortly before Judge Grosscup in Chicago.

It would be an immense relief to the farmers as well as the railroads to have this great combination broken up, and the progress of this case will be watched with corresponding interest. In any event, the exposures already made as to the company's methods will result beneficially to the farmers.

A Clean Sweep Ordered.

Washington, July 19.—Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Willet N. Hays has taken hold of the affairs of the Bureau of Statistics, with instructions from Secretary Wilson, approved by President Roosevelt, to cleanse the bureau of the stigma left by the cotton leak scandal. His authority is unlimited. He has been told that he may have whatever clerical force he needs and if there are any employees whose services he thinks should be dispensed with, they will be discharged. It is regarded as extremely likely that there will be a complete reorganization of the force employed in the statistical department as well as a thorough revision of the orders governing the monthly crop reports, the latter having already been outlined in a circular issued by Secretary Wilson. In that regard Secretary Wilson said today that hereafter if there are accusations against the integrity of the bureau it must be directed against himself or Assistant Secretary Hays, as he has no intention of allowing any other person access to information that might be used in stock jobbing.

Mr. Hays probably will be in charge of the bureau until after Congress assembles, as it is believed that a competent man to take the place of Mr. Hyde, who resigned yesterday as chief statistician, can not be had for the salary paid by the government, $3,000 a year.
Congress will be asked to increase the salary and it is the intention of Secretary Wilson to place in charge of the office a man whose ability has been established, but one who has no connection with statistical bureaus attached to stock brokerage offices. Whoever is appointed will first be approved by the President.

A rumor has been circulated that when Congress assembles a movement will be started to have the crop gathering bureaus transferred to the Department of Commerce and Labor in order to insure a more complete reorganization. Senator Dolliver, of Iowa, a warm personal friend of Secretary Wilson, is slated for the chairmanship of the Senate committee on agriculture.
He has made a study of the methods of crop reporting and it is known that he is opposed unalterably to any change of the character suggested.

Abused Wrong Man.

Roanoke, Va., July 19.—In the police court today J. O. Hanes, proprietor of the Stratford Hotel, of this city, was fined $5 for assaulting L. R. Vickery, of Statesville, a drummer. A guest named Chernoff complained because he could not get eggs without ham and threatened to leave the house. The mater was reported to the proprietor, and when Vickery left the dining room, Hanes mistook him for the fellow who didn't like ham and proceeded to administer a cursing and a lot of kicks with the end of his boot, the latter landing just below the end of the Tar Heel's coat tail. The Statesville man, who travels for a New York cash register concern and who is passionately fond of hog meat, but who objects to being kicked, swore out a warrant and Hanes paid for his mistake.

Artificial Gold.

A new metal harder than steel, as brilliant as gold, from which it can not be distinguished, and as good a conductor as copper has been invented by an Italian, says L'Echo des Mines et de la Metallurgie. It is composed of copper, iron, silver, phosphorus and, of course, radium. It is lighter than copper, and its beautiful color is not changed by any chemical reagent.
This is wonderfully interesting if true, says the Engineering and Mining Journal. Indeed "we will go further; it is interesting if only half true."

Stokesdale Boy Killed on the N. & W.
Stokesdale Chronicle.

Mr. Victor L. Gant, of Stokesdale, brakeman on the Norfolk & Western Railroad, with one other, was killed and horribly mangled early Sunday morning, the 16th inst., in a head-on collision near Milvale, Va., on the Shenandoah division, about 60 miles north of Roanoke, Va.

The father, Mr. Fayette Gant, and family were promptly notified of the awful disaster by wire.

The remains arrived here over the Southern from Madison after 1 o'clock Monday, accompanied by a delegation of railway employees and friends. Hundreds of friends and relatives met the remains at the depot.

Prof. Joseph Moore Dead.

High Point, July 20.—Joseph Moore, of Earlham College, Richmond, Ind., is dead. Professor Moore was a well-known friend in this and other states. For several years he attended the yearly meeting of the Friends at this place and was one of the most prominent leaders. For two years he was at the head of the New Garden Boarding School, now Guilford College. For years he was also at the head of the educational movement in the Society of Friends. He was one of the thirty-two men whose opinions were printed in a much read book, "The Successful Men of the Day."

Senator Mitchell Sentenced.

Portland, Ore., July 25.—United States Senator Mitchell, convicted of using his office of United States senator to further the law practice of the firm of Mitchell & Tanner of this city, was today sentenced to pay a fine of $1,000 and to six months penal servitude. Pending a review of the case by the Supreme court of the United States execution of the sentence will be deferred. Meantime Mitchell will be placed under bail to the amount of $2,000.

Every worthy institution, as well as every man who is ambitious to succeed, has a few detractors. Again a young man or woman who would please a man of note would give dissatisfaction to a man of small business, etc., etc. But it is a fact, notwithstanding all that has been said, that every full graduate of the Peele school has succeeded. This excellent school has been in successful operation, in Greensboro, for more than four years and gets better every year. There are no better courses of business and shorthand offered in this or any adjoining state.

Policeman Isaac Rogers, of Raleigh, who five weeks ago shot and dangerously wounded Deputy Marshal John Dockery, on the ground that the latter had ruined his young daughter, was admitted to bail Monday in the sum of $5,000 for his appearance at the September term of Superior court. Dockery is practically out of danger.

Congressman Blackburn denies that he has entered into any agreement with State Chairman Collins in regard to the distribution of Federal patronage. He says the collectorship and district attorneyship can't both go to the Tenth district, which increased its Democratic majority 800 at the last election.

At the recent meeting of Statesville district conference in Lenoir, J. L. Nelson, of Caldwell, M. A. Abernethy, of Catawba, J. B. Cornelius, of Davidson and R. B. Joyner, of Statesville, were elected delegates to the annual conference, which meets in Greensboro November 8.

There are twenty or more cases of yellow fever in New Orleans and strict quarantine regulations are being enforced. Only a few people have died from the disease.

Dan Teschy was hanged at Kenansville, Duplin county, Thursday morning for the murder of Robt. Rivenbark. Teschy died protesting his innocence.

Two Views of Automobiling.

Rudyard Kipling says that the development of the motor car has benefited mankind spiritually, physically, and mentally. S. Lewis Dickinson, an English author of some repute, takes the opposite view. He regards automobiling as a pernicious manifestation of the almost universal desire to rush and hurry. It is detrimental, he asserts to calm and steady mental progress.

There is much to be said on both sides. It is certainly true that the management of a motor car demands a strong and steady arm, a clear head, an accurate eye, and the possession of all the faculties to meet the emergencies which present themselves without warning. It is also true that automobiling is but another manifestation of the restlessness of the age. It is the physical expression of the haste which dominates everything. If Plato and Seneca should return to earth they would have no time to think. They would be caught up and whirled away in the mad bustle of the present-day world. We do not longer tolerate slowness. It has become one of the sins to be avoided. We do not write, because the telephone puts us into instant communication with the distant friend. We do not walk, because we can save time by hurrying along in the electric car. We do not spend time in mental introspection, because while we are absorbed in thought the crowd is rushing by and leaving us in the rear. In other words, the philosopher is now almost extinct. The man who does not hustle is not only the exception to the rule, but he is soon apt to become an object of his neighbor's pity. If he does not help himself, he will soon have to be helped.

If the human race does not cease its rush and hustle, what will be the result? The answer is simple. The next generation will be intoxicated with its own rapidity. It will be unable to keep still. It will demand constant action, abandoning sober reflection, and even its amusements will be of the hustling, hurrying kind, just as many men today divert themselves by flying along country roads at the rate of thirty or forty miles an hour. Everything will be highly spiced or it will be rejected as tame and tasteless. The phlegmatic man will entirely disappear, and in his place will come a creature of highly sensitive organization, who will wear himself out in half the time which, in the Biblical era, was the allotted span.

Is it worth while, all this rush and hurry? The answer is the affirmative. He is having a new sensation. The microbe of fast motion is in his veins. If he could have his way, the revolutions of the earth would be increased until the sensation of whizzing through space would be perceptible to the dull sense.

If a Dog Bites You.

Country Life in America.

In all my own experiences with dogs I have not only never seen a "mad dog" but have never known a dog owner—and by that I mean a man who has had experience in keeping dogs—who has seen one. If, then, rabies is so exceedingly scarce hydrophobia becomes really an impossibility, and the fear of it should be dismissed without a thought.

A person may get dog bitten, but in the language of the New York tough, "Forget it." If it is a bad bite it may twitch later on and you may begin worrying, so it is a good plan to get rid of the twitching or throbbing in order to forget. I have been bitten so often that I think no more of it than a mosquito bite, and this is what I do. If it is on the hand I put it under the faucet and wash thoroughly, with the object of cleansing the wound and preventing inflammation from any dirt or foreign substance.

While doing this some one is getting the bicarbonate of soda and some clean rags or lint. With water a cream paste of the soda is made sufficient to plaster the wound well, then putting some on a rag it is applied to the wound and bound up. If in the course of an hour or more the application seems to be drying a little water is poured on the bandage to soak through to the soda, or the hand dipped in water.

A Sure Smallpox Cure.

Dr. J. J. McElree, secretary of the Missouri State Board of Health, gives the following recipe for smallpox:

"I herewith append recipe which has been used to my knowledge in hundreds of cases of smallpox. It will prevent or cure though the pittings are filling. When Jenner discovered the cowpox in England the world of science overwhelmed him with fame, but when the most scientific school of medicine in the world, that of Paris, published this recipe it passed unheeded. It is unfailing as fate, and conquers in every instance.

"It will also cure scarlet fever.

"Here is the recipe as I have used it to cure smallpox: Sulphate of zinc, one grain; digitalis, one grain; sugar, one-half teaspoonful. Dissolve in a wine-glass of soft water which has been boiled and cooled. Take a teaspoonful every hour. Either smallpox or scarlet fever will disappear in twelve hours. For children the dose must be diminished according to age. If communities will compel their physicians to use this treatment there would be no need of pest houses. If you value your life use this recipe."

WHERE IS ARCADY?

Now is the season of the year when we would go to Arcady. We know that it is a place of simplicity and rest, upon whose gentle shores no wave of trouble rolls, and whose inhabitants dwell together in delightful harmony.
Ever since Virgil sang of the Arcadian paradise the world has sought to somewhere find a spot equally blessed. And now, when the hot sun of summer stag-nates the blood and makes us ill and fretful, we, too, would like to find the haven of bliss wherein we can "loaf and invite our souls."

How is Arcady to be discovered? If we believe all that we read in the attractive railroad advertisements, there are a thousand places where care can be forgotten and happiness secured. In fact, there is such a multiplicity of invitations that one begins to doubt whether, after all, there is not some fly in each ointment. We wonder whether there can be so many Gardens of Eden without a hidden serpent. If the pictures are to be believed, all the hotels are beautiful in their exteriors and sumptuous in their furnishings. Their surroundings, too, appeal to every fiber of our esthetic tastes. The mountains in the background stir our imagination, the ocean in the foreground invites us to its cooling and refreshing bosom.
We can almost hear the birds singing in the trees which thickly dot the landscape, and the water in the fountain on the lawn seems to ripple with soothing music. Here would be Arcady, indeed, if we had not tasted of the tree of knowledge! We know, from soil experience, that even a picture can deceive. It is a thousand dollars to one that when the charming view is seen in all its reality the result is a dismal disappointment. The mountains become mere hills, as far away as hope is from despair. The waves of the ocean roll upon some distant shore, the birds do not sing, the fountain never plays. Instead, we find mosquitoes and malarial canned vegetables, and stale bread.
When we would listen to shepherds piping sweet strains upon rustic flutes we have the gossip and the scandal of a city forced upon us. No, this is not Arcady. It lies beyond.

And still the question is, Where shall we find it? If we consult our friends, our minds become confused with tales,
as many as are told in the Arabian Nights. For, after all, Arcady depends very largely upon one's self. It may be a farm, far away from civilization, where the lowing of the kine and the cackle of the hens are the only sounds that reach the tired ear, unless it be also the murmuring of innumerable bees. It may be the lonely camp upon the mountain top, where the stars seem close enough to reach with outstretched arm, and the wind sighing through the pines hurls the weary body into dream-less slumber. It may be the seashore, where the starry ships pass by, and where the curling waves break in a mass of foam upon the sandy shore.
Or it may be found in some quiet valley where existence knows not the noisy bustle of the world, and the minutes slip into the hours as the raindrops fall into the sea.

One thing, however, we must learn.
It does not pay to hunt for Arcady. It does not lie at the end of a long and thorny lane. We must drift into it or reach it not at all. If we are to find it, we must better stay at home. And perhaps those who are wise enough not to go away at all will find that Arcady is nearer than they think.

Struggle Between Science and Death.

Will the Isthmian Canal Commission, in spite of unlimited money, be forced to suspend excavation work on the Panama canal while it wrestles with the problem of hygiene? The question is daily becoming more pressing, as the peculiarities of the Panama situation are becoming better known. The old and new French canal companies attempted to carry on excavation work hand in hand with sanitation, and failed. The same plan is being attempted by the canal commission. The whole world will watch this struggle between science and death.

On the one hand, science is furnished with all the facilities that money will buy, indomitable courage and enthusiasm inspire the American officials, and recent researches into the nature of malarial and yellow fever give hope of successfully combating those diseases.
On the other hand, the Isthmus of Panama is death's citadel and recruiting ground. Not only do certain endemic diseases prevail, but the climate itself exerts a malignant influence, the exact nature of which is imperfectly understood.

A writer in the London Lancet, discussing the sanitation of the Canal Zone, refers to this climatic influence.
The most noteworthy characteristic of the climate, he says, is the remarkable uniformity of temperature throughout the year. The only foreigners who have been able to withstand the climate with success have been people of Iberian extraction, inured from their birth to a tropical environment, Caribbean negroes, and a few Chinamen. Not a single French engineer employed by the French companies was able to attend to the work beyond a year and a half, although the contract called for two years. In September, 1884, the French company buried 654 officers and men.
In the first eleven months of preliminary work by the French company, 65 Europeans and 800 laborers died of disease. It is recorded that later the French company, with a force of 7,000 men, always calculated on having 1,000 men in hospital, and in March and April, 1882, 37 out of less than 100 engineers died.

The terrible inroads of disease and death were increased, beyond question, by the disturbance of the soil. This fact was noted when the Panama rail-

The Way Out for Russia.

M. Witte, the Russian plenipotentiary, is reported as saying that Russia is in need of peace, desires peace, and will sincerely negotiate with a view to securing peace, but that she will not pay for it more than it is worth. He goes on to talk about a united Russia in case the terms of the victor are exorbitant, and the ability of Russia to fight for years.

No doubt Russia is powerful and has immense resources and energies that have not been brought to bear in this struggle. No doubt she can postpone peace for years; but she is at such disadvantage that peace would be cheap at almost any price.

Russia is in the fix that Charles the Bold was. Charles was one of the most powerful princes in Europe, though he was a feudatory of France, but he did not hesitate to imprison and levy war on his master. His dominions included Burgundy, and his dukedom was about the richest and most powerful in the world.

Charles got into a war with the Swiss. It was impossible that he could gain anything even by a victory over such a people, the poorest in Europe. But Charles didn't get a victory. He got two terrible defeats, and in one of them he lost his life, after which the houses of Austria and Valois quarreled and fought over his dominions. This war that Russia has on hand is just as profitless and just as hopeless as that Charles of Burgundy waged against Switzerland.

Japan is inaccessible, just as Switzerland was in that remote age. The elephant can't get to the shark, and Bismarck said that was all that kept the peace between England and Germany. Had the rulers of Russia been as wise as Bismarck, this idea of the elephant and the shark would have prevented the Japanese war.

Russia must turn her eyes elsewhere. She should never have taken them off Constantinople, which would be of more advantage to her than many Port Arthurs. She is in a fix, and a bad one. Either of two things will save her—reform or revolution. If reform, it must be thorough; if revolution, it must be desperate; and doubtless revolution is easier of attainment than reform.

But the first thing in order is to get out of that hornet's nest in Manchuria, and the only way out is to buy out.

Then for reform, or revolution, in European Russia!

IN MEMORIAM.

WILLIAM R. PEARSON.

To only a comparative few is it given to live out the allotted days of man, the three score and ten years, and only in rare instances do men pass the ninety-year milestone in the pathway of life. William R. Pearson lived to the extreme old age of ninety years six months and twenty-six days. He was born September 19, 1814, and died July 15, 1905. He was the oldest citizen of northwest Guilford, and in former years was one of the leading men in his church and community. For the past ten years he had been rather infirm, and had led a very quiet, retired life, not often leaving his own farm. For several weeks he had been expecting death; the end came peacefully, and after four score years and ten of storm and stress, his life's voyage is ended and he has entered the haven of rest.

When but eighteen years of age he was converted and joined the Methodist Episcopal church. For more than seventy-two years he tried to be a follower of Jesus Christ not only in name but in spirit. He was not a perfect man, he was human, and with his humanity he had some of humanity's weaknesses. He was a man of very positive convictions. When he had once decided upon what he thought was the wisest and best course of action, he was not easily moved to change his position. For years he was a steward and trustee of the Methodist church, and it was a great pleasure to him to meet with them in their annual reunions. For several years he had been too weak to attend these reunions and the writer has heard him speak of his regret at not being able to meet with old friends on these occasions.

The funeral services were conducted by his pastor, Rev. John E. Kirk, on Sunday afternoon in the presence of a very large congregation. In the old burial ground at Gettsman, the church for which he labored so faithfully for so many years, was placed all that was earthly. Rest here his ashes in peace! May his memory hover over us as an incentive to greater faithfulness in the duties that come to us and may we, like him, be able to leave a good testimony behind.

Only Three Times.

Only three trains on the A. & Y. branch of the Southern Railroad succeeded in leaving the track last week, and one of the men managed to get off twice in a distance of thirty miles. Last Thursday the Shoo Fly, a mixed train leaving this city at 2:30 p. m., ran off the track twice between here and Rural Hall, delaying the regular passenger train six hours, and incoming passengers say that when they met the Shoo Fly at Dalton, there was only one car, all the balance being scattered along the route. On Friday the Ram-scar train got on the ground below Greensboro, delaying all trains several hours, and on Saturday an engine belonging to a freight train took to the woods, and ran about 100 yards.

Cannibalism Undisturbed.

Berlin, July 19.—An official report from Colonial authorities in West Africa describes an outbreak on the part of the cannibal tribe of Nijems in German cameroons. It is stated that during the month of June this tribe of Nijems devoured two thousand negroes and eight white people. The German military force in the district is too weak to cope with the savages.

Fruit Cure for Drunkenness.

"There is but one sure cure for the drinking disease or habit, and that is the simplest of all," says What to Eat. "The cure consists in eating fruits. It will entirely destroy the taste for intoxicants and will make the drunkard return to the thoughts and tastes of his childhood, when he loved the luxuries nature had provided for him and when his appetite had not become contaminated by false, cultivated tastes and attendant false desires and imaginary pleasures. No person ever saw a man or woman who liked fruit and who had an appetite for drink. No person ever saw a man or woman with an appetite for drink who liked fruit. The two tastes are at deadly enmity with each other, and there is no room for both of them in the same human constitution. One will certainly destroy the other."

Genuine Temperance Reform.

The actual production and consumption of spirituous liquors in countries that, like the United States, levy upon them an exorbitant excise tax will never be known with any reasonable degree of accuracy. How much contraband whiskey is distilled in the almost inaccessible mountain ranges of this country or in the obscure garrets of some of our cities will remain a matter of conjecture. In Italy, on the other hand, statistics demonstrate that by a long process of evolution spirits have become repugnant to the taste of the masses of the inhabitants. The same is true also of the Spaniards. Without the aid of legislation or instruction in the schools the Italians have found out that the habitual consumption of spirits is injurious to them, and they have given it up.

Chinese Boycott Begins.

Washington, July 19.—A cablegram received by the State Department from Shanghai says that the boycott against American goods commenced today. Every effort was made to allay the agitation which, it is stated, is a part of the retaliation of the Chinese against the exclusion laws of the United States. The State Department has been informed by the consuls that the proposed boycott was organized by the trade guilds in five ports, Shanghai, Canton, Tien-Tsin, Hankow, and Newchwang. It is believed the boycott will not be successful or do any particular injury to American goods except in the cities of Canton and Shanghai, where the guilds are stronger than elsewhere.

Food of the Gods Found.

The food of the gods appears to have been discovered at last. According to a report of tests made by Dr. Clement and Dr. Huchard, in London, formic acid can increase the strength of people in an extraordinary manner. One delicate subject who could only raise a light weight was, after being experimented upon, able to lift five times the amount. Dr. Huchard's experiment upon himself is decidedly interesting. In two days, it is said, he doubled his strength, and in five days trebled it. To achieve this he had taken five grams. Formic acid is a colorless liquid found in the bodies of ants, in the hairs and other parts of certain caterpillars, and in nettles. It has a pungent smell, is highly corrosive and may be prepared artificially in many different ways.

Well Known Artist Seriously Ill at Blowing Rock.

Mr. Randall, the noted young North Carolina portrait painter, is desperately ill at his home, Blowing Rock. He tried the western climate, spending some months in New Mexico, but longed for his own people and the beautifully wooded mountains of North Carolina, so he returned last spring. The dreaded disease, consumption, is claiming his strength rapidly. His last work, a magnificent portrait of Judge Thomas Settle, just finished, is considered one of the best in the capital at Raleigh. This portrait was presented by Judge Settle's son, Lieut. Douglas Settle, U. S. A., at the solicitation of the Judge's many friends.

By WASHINGTON LETTER.

Office of the PATRIOT.

Washington, July 22.—The indictment against the cotton grafters in the Department of Agriculture seems to be an interesting possibility. In view of the fact that it is reported Holmes made a million out of his crookedness, it is quite likely that the Department of Agriculture would have been pleased with Holmes' dismissal from service, but he has been produced before the Executive and the acting Attorney General and the attorney for the Department of Columbia have been in conference and now "think" they will be able to proceed with a prosecution that may include people other than Holmes. A Washington insider who knows the ins and outs of the cotton market, said in an interview today that if he had had the information in Holmes' possession, he could have made a million for himself in the market and given another million to his informant. He said with an anxious smile that if he had not been guilty of crookedness, but the possibility of a million to Holmes is patent from the indictment and it is probable that if nothing else will force a confession of the case.

The results of the cotton leak in the reorganization of the Agricultural Department as far as the standard is concerned. The preparation of reports are to be placed in the hands of a board. As soon as the board has been formed, they will be in a position to make a report. On a given day he will hand the report to the other members of the board. The board will be four division chiefs, each of them figure averages. An average of the report issued. The work will be done in an inside room of the Department and Secretary Wilson is responsible for the assurance that a leak of this sort will be absolutely impossible. The late statistician, Mr. Hyde, has been giving that same sort of assurance for at least five years past, but, however, the Secretary's assurance will be more assuring.

The government is on the point of making bids for the importation of the cotton bales to the isthmus to work on the canal that will be built some time in the future. The Chinese are to be permitted to import the cotton bales and the trans-continental railroads. There will be between 5,000 and 10,000 bales of cotton, Hindus, and others, landed by the contractors on the isthmus. The laborers will be sent to their homes and shipped to the isthmus by the contractor. He is to make his profit out of the transportation of the laborers, which will be a considerable sum. The deal will be of any substance of service to the government of each laborer coming to the isthmus and asking in a woman whether the builders of the canal will give him a job. The probability is that after being brought to the isthmus, four thousand miles for that purpose that a job will be given him, and he will thereupon

LILIES OF HEALTH AND BEAUTY.

In a recent interview with Mrs. Lily Langtry, she very wisely said: "The fact that I believe in the superior force of mind over matter does not blind me to the truth that the foundation of every successful life is good health; that the key to physical beauty is perfect physical health."

"A sick woman cannot be a beautiful woman, nor can she be anything but what we English call a poor-spirited woman."

"It is a great extent a woman's beauty is measured by her vitality—by her health."

"Work, Sunshine, Exercise, Water and Soap, Plain, Nourishing Food, Lots of Fresh Air, and a Happy, Contented Spirit—these, as you say, 'honest and true,' is my working rule for youth, youthful spirits and youthful looks."

"One great secret of youth and beauty for the young woman or the mother is the proper understanding of her womanly system and well-being. Every woman, young or old should know herself and her physical make-up. A good way to arrive at this knowledge is to get a good doctor book, such for instance as 'The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser' by R. V. Pierce, M. D., which can readily be procured by sending twenty-one cents in one-cent stamps for paper-bound volume, or thirty-one cents for cloth-bound copy, and addressing Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y."

"Mrs. Boykin, of Acme, La., Concordia Parish, speaking of his wife's experience, says: 'I write you thanking you for the benefit of your wonderful Favorite Prescription, and also the Golden Medical Discovery.' I find that your remedies have done more good than all the doctors that I have used. I thought my wife would die at times; now am able to say that through you and your medicine we have a fine boy two months old. Weighs 16 lbs."

"It is a wonder to the people to see my wife going about with a baby. She is able to do her own housework, can walk six miles with baby without stopping and feels as though she could stand all day; so healthy, she can eat anything."

"Before using your medicine my wife's weight was 100 lbs., and now she is weighing 175 lbs. She only used 12 bottles of your medicine."

"My mother-in-law, also my sister, have been cured entirely of uterine trouble by your Favorite Prescription."

make an individual contract with the government. After his contract term is over, if he is not dead in the meantime, which is a probability also, he will be returned to China or wherever he came from by the contractor, that is if he does not immigrate to the United States by way of the Texas border. The chances of Chinese immigration over that border are large and the remuneration is fully proportionate to the risks.

China has sent an identical note to the powers on the subject of Manchuria. No one cares particularly what China says on the subject of Manchuria, but the note has arrived in Washington and has been forwarded to the President at Oyster Bay. China declares she will not be bound by any agreement entered into by Russia and Japan at the coming peace conference that does not recognize her sovereign rights in Manchuria. This is chiefly interesting from the fact that Japan has loudly proclaimed that she did not intend to do anything with Manchuria but return it to China. China's note seems to indicate a lack of faith in Japan's assurances and it is just possible that if any result is reached at all by the Russian and Japanese envoys at Portsmouth it may be of such a nature as to awaken the fears of all the powers, including the United States, that have the territorial integrity of China at heart. Chinese diplomacy is not usually asleep at a critical juncture, and it is just possible that she may have gotten a hint of the proposed Japanese terms before anyone else outside of Japan.

The will of the late Secretary Hay has been submitted for probate in the District court. It is a short document and with the exception of three personal bequests, leaves the whole of the estate to Mrs. Hay. The amount involved is said to be well over a million dollars.

The question of tariff revision at the coming session of Congress is retiring further into the background as the leaders of the two houses intended it should. There must be some legislation to meet the growing deficit of the Treasury, but it probably will be of a makeshift character, such as a re-imposition of the Spanish war taxes or an increase of the tax on beer. The threats of the administration seem to have had no other effect on the "stand-patters" than to make them stand pat. The talk of buying isthmian canal supplies abroad was intended as a scare for the protected manufacturers but while it showed up plainly enough the need for tariff revision, it was without any other effect and will be used most cheerfully by the opposition as campaign ammunition when the issue of tariff reduction can be postponed no longer by the Republican leaders in Congress.

War News of the Week.

Charlotte Observer.

According to Baron Hayashi, the Japanese minister to Great Britain, Japan is carrying on her plan of warfare just as though nothing in the way of a peace movement had occurred, the capture of the island of Sakhalin being a case in point. Reports have been received of the landing of a Japanese army north of Vladivostok, and while these have not been officially confirmed, it is likely that if not accurate, they are at least anticipatory of the real situation. It is probable that Japan proposes, despite the assembling of the plenipotentiaries in the United States, to make a move upon Vladivostok, and at least isolate it by cutting both land and water communication. There has been no fighting of any moment in Manchuria, so far as known, during the past week, but the Japanese seem to be continually on the move to improve their positions, to judge by the reports that come from the Russian lines. The latest news regarding the Japanese disposition of their forces is that the armies are in the shape of a big sickle, and that they have 55,000 bayonets, 2,000 field and mountain guns, and about 100 siege guns. It is added that the rains have been less severe this year than usual, and that it will be possible to begin operations sooner than supposed.

Baron Komura, one of the Japanese peace commissioners, is now en route East, having landed at Seattle Thursday from Japan. News from Tokyo is that Japan continues to suspect Russia's good faith in the matter of bringing the war to a close, and it is believed there that Linvitch has been promised men sufficient to finally win the contest. This seems hardly possible, when Russia's plight is considered, but there is no telling by reason of what she says about the matter, what Russia is really going to do.

Penitentiary Cleared $120,000.

The state penitentiary has sold the last bale of the 1904 cotton crop and the crop has brought over $20,000 more than the estimated value as given in Superintendent J. S. Mann's report to the legislature last January. Hence the net earnings of the prison for last year will be slightly above $120,000 instead of about $100,000.

The state farm last season produced 1,198 bales of cotton and none of this had been sold last January when Supt. Mann and the directors made their annual report. The value of the crop was estimated at 6 1/2 cents per pound, the current price at that time. However, the prison authorities were wise enough to stand with the farmers in their effort to get a higher price and were successful. First 200 bales were sold at 9 1/2 cents, 300 at 10 1/4 cents, 318 at 10 1/2 cents, and Tuesday the last of the crop, 280 bales, were sold in Norfolk for 11 cents. The entire crop brought about $55,000, though the January estimate had been about $35,000.

Four Stills Captured.

Statesville, July 21.—Sheriff W. A. Summers, Special Revenue Agent R. E. Sams, of Greensboro, and Officers T. L. Green and V. V. Tilson made a successful raid in Union Grove and New Hope townships, this county, yesterday. They destroyed two stills in Union Grove and the beer and low wines at another place in the same township from which the still had been removed and a large still of 100 or 125-gallons capacity in New Hope township.

Good resolutions are apt to run down at the heel.

"ASIA FOR THE ASIATICS."

Powerful Compact Between China and Japan as Result of War.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 21.—President Roosevelt and Elihu Root, who assumed formally last Wednesday his new duties as Secretary of State, were in conference tonight at Sagamore Hill. Among the many questions considered by them, none is fraught with deeper significance and importance to the United States than is that relating to an identical note which the foreign office of China within a day or two has sent to the powers neutral in the far Eastern contest between Russia and Japan.

The text of the note, made public this evening by President Roosevelt, is as follows:

Having viewed with profound regret the unfortunate interruption of peaceful relations between Japan and Russia, the imperial government now learns with sincere gratification that negotiations are about to commence for the restoration of peace and amity. But in the present conflict Chinese territory has been made the theater of military operations. Therefore, it is hereby expressly declared that no provision affecting China without the approval of China being previously obtained which the treaty of peace may contain, will be recognized as valid. The diplomatic representatives of China in Japan and Russia have been instructed by telegraph to communicate this declaration to the governments of Japan and Russia, respectively.

Involves "Open Door."

On its face the note appears to be a simple declaration that no determination of the peace conference affecting Chinese territory will be recognized as valid "without the approval of China previously obtained." It really means far more than that, as it is construed here. The United States, in common with other nations, is interested particularly in the "open door" to Manchuria, and behind China's simple declaration lies the whole question of the commerce and the commercial relations of a great empire.

Far Eastern advices reaching Washington tell of the marked effect upon the Chinese of the unbroken series of victories gained by Japan over Russia. Not only has the government been affected, but the people have come to regard Japan in a new light, and the diplomatic corps at Peking has already begun to discuss the probability of an alliance between China and Japan.

On this point a high official, a diplomat thoroughly cognizant of the situation at Peking, and in touch with official and popular feeling in China, said today:

"It will not come today or tomorrow, this alliance with Japan, but it is only a question of time when China and Japan will enter into a strong alliance, the keynote of which shall be the development of the far East, under the administration of far Eastern people. China would be the loser by such an union at this time, because she has not enough to offer Japan to insure an alliance of mutual benefit."

Defensive Alliance.

"But, say ten years from now, it is the dream, and I believe it will be the realization, of those to whom 'Asia for the Asiatics' is a real principle to be worked for, and if necessary fought for, that China and Japan will form a strong defensive alliance, which will insure the preservation of their sovereignty over all territories now in their possession."

"Advices from the best official sources in China tell of the increasing regard felt by the Chinese for the Japanese, and the far-sighted men of both countries believe they see in this the cornerstone of what years from now will be one of the strongest alliances the world ever saw."

"You do not think that Russia and Japan, after the treaty of Washington is signed, will become allies?" the official was asked.

"I do not believe the Japanese will accept any such offer," he replied. "With China rehabilitated, her legal system reformed, modern ideas introduced, and the country developed along the lines of Japan, I believe Tokyo will welcome, in fact, seek, from China some sort of alliance. But as I said at the outset, this will not come in a day or in a year. China is not ready for it yet."

"The first effect of the war to be noticed in China, once peace is declared, will be the prestige of the Japanese there. Their promoters, their instructors, their tradesmen, will all be welcomed as they have never been before, and Japan will undertake the preparation for an alliance which I firmly believe will become an effective factor in the world's politics ten years from now, or even within five years, provided China's progress be rapid."

The position of the speaker and the fact that he has spent some time in China, gives a weight to his words, the significance of which finds further strengthening in advices recently reaching Washington from China.

Tariff Shunted Aside by Prosperity.

It is not at a period of general prosperity that a people set about works of reform. There was a deal of human nature in the declaration of that Arkansas gentleman—that when the weather was fine his cabin did not need a roof. That is what the Republican party is going to remark when Congress meets—that in times of prosperity the tariff needs no revision. The crops are fine. Kansas alone raises 80,000,000 bushels of wheat this year. The corn crop promises an immense yield, and that means fat cattle, fat hogs, fat live stock of all sorts. These mean freights for railroads and work for many tens of thousands.

With the farmer prosperous and labor employed, the standpatters will be monstrously independent when the tariff is mentioned in the Fifty-ninth Congress. Reciprocity is dead—everywhere except in Massachusetts and Chicago; but there will be some remarkable speeches made on the new lodge—the maximum and minimum. For some twenty years the people were placated and amused with promises of reciprocity. By it we were to capture the markets of the world. South America, especially, was our territory for trade purposes, and we were to banish from every South American port every commercial flag but our own. These were promises. President McKinley did his best to redeem them, and his last public utterance was a pledge.

The enormous crops of this year will postpone tariff revision for at least two years—and for the past thirty years the U. S. P. has assumed all credit for good crops, and laid all bad crops on the democrats. The Fifty-ninth Congress has no more intention of tinkering with the tariff than it has of re-establishing 13 to 1. But it must deal with the deficit, either by retrenchment, or by increased taxation. The first is un-Republican, and if it were superlatively Republican, it is impracticable. Then there is coffee. That is difficult. Besides, it is also Democratic, or was in the 13 days of Robert J. Walker and George McDuffie. But the G. O. P. is not fastidious. It appropriated the old Democratic doctrine of sound money, and some of its leaders will be for the coffee tax. Then there are those who would get an additional $30,000,000 out of beer. The stamp tax will be debated and rejected. Something will be said about an income tax and a constitutional amendment.

But the standpatters will be on top, and if they were less elegant in manners and less gentlemanly in instinct, they would be insistent. They will do as they please.

MALARIA UNDERMINES THE HEALTH

When the germs of malaria enter the blood the entire health is affected, and if the blood is not purified of these germs and microbes, Chronic Sores and Ulcers, Liver Spots, Chills and Fever, Boils, Aches and Pains, and a great variety of troubles manifest themselves, and soon the entire system is undermined, leaving the sufferer a prey to a most miserable, weak and nervous condition.

913 W. Market St., Louisville, Ky.

For several years I suffered with Chills and Fever, caused by Malaria in my system, and each summer for several years I would have a relapse. Finally my physician prescribed S. S. S. I took a few bottles; this was about six years ago. It entirely cured me, and I have never been troubled since. I am sure no other medicine could have given me so complete and immediate relief, and I cannot speak too highly of S. S. S. My partner in business is now taking S. S. S. for an eruption of the skin, and a general run-down condition of the system, and although he has taken but one bottle, already commences to feel better. I. SHAPIROFF.

S. S. S. counteracts and drives all the poison from the blood and builds up the system by its fine purifying qualities and tonic effects. It strengthens every part, increases the appetite, helps the stomach and digestion, and by supplying the body with rich, pure blood, cures Malaria and all its disagreeable ailments. Unlike most blood medicines S. S. S. is purely vegetable. It does not contain a particle of mineral of any kind to disagreeably affect the stomach, digestion and bowels, but by cleansing and strengthening the blood, puts every part of the body in healthy condition. Book on the blood and any medical advice desired without charge.

READY TO MIX PAINT

NOT READY MIXED

If you intend having painting done this spring, consider just a minute.

Ready mixed paint is not the best paint to use, not because the material isn't good, but because paint necessarily loses "life" in the ready-mixed can by deterioration, and because the oil becomes stale.

Fresh, Pure, Raw Linseed Oil mixed with the thick Davis Paint pigment means that the paint is right—and full of life and the best your money can buy.

It's a small matter in the beginning to specify "Davis Pure Lead" Paint and is a big matter at the end of many years to find that Davis Pure Paint is still in good condition.

Sickening Shivering Fits of Ague and Malaria, can be relieved and cured with Electric Bitters. This is a pure, tonic medicine; of special benefit in malaria, for it exerts a true curative influence on the disease, driving it entirely out of the system. It is much to be preferred to Quinine, having none of this drug's bad after-effects. S. S. Munday, of Henrietta, Texas, writes: "My brother was very low with malaria fever and jaundice, till he took Electric Bitters, which saved his life." At all druggists; price 50c, guaranteed.

Mr. J. H. Whitt Retains the Management of the Farmers Warehouse.

Mr. J. H. Whitt, who for so many years has been identified with the Farmers warehouse, will retain the management of that popular house the coming year, and it goes without saying that he will keep the establishment up to its usual high standard. The Farmers warehouse is one of the pioneer leaf establishments of the city, and everybody in this belt knows that it can be depended on the year round for excellent service in behalf of the tobacco growers. Large, well lighted and well located, it offers every facility that a careful tobacco grower appreciates, and there is every reason to believe that it will be accorded a handsome patronage this year. Mr. Whitt will give his personal attention to all the sales, and with a careful and competent force of assistants will serve his patrons in a way that insures mutual satisfaction.

Mr. McPherson was married only two weeks prior to his last illness to Miss Blanche Schultz, of Marion, a daughter of Judge Schultz.
