CRIMINAL TERM OF COURT.

Judge Moore Presiding Over Week's Term—A Heavy Docket.

Judge Fred Moore, of Asheville, is presiding over a week's criminal term of Guilford Superior court which convened Monday, he having exchanged courts with Judge James L. Webb in order that the latter might preside over the first term of court held in the new court house of his home county of Cleveland.

Mr. W. H. Ragan, of High Point, is foreman of the grand jury.

The docket is an unusually full one for a week's term, the cases numbering 165. There are about 40 jail cases.

A number of unimportant cases were disposed of Monday and yesterday.

The case of State vs. H. C. Leonard, a former brakeman in the employ of the Southern Railway, who is charged with manslaughter in connection with the disastrous wreck at Rudd last October, is set for today.

The case of Will McAdoo, who is charged with manslaughter in killing Ed. Aldred while on a hunting trip in the eastern part of the county last winter, is set for tomorrow.

Yesterday the grand jury returned a true bill for murder against Will Jones, a white man, who killed a woman by the name of Ferguson, in High Point, a few weeks ago.

In the absence of Solicitor Brooks, Col. W. S. Thomson is prosecuting the docket.

MEMORIAL SERVICES.

Greensboro Firemen Pay Tribute to Memory of the Dead.

Sunday was memorial day with the volunteer firemen of North Carolina, and the occasion was observed in an appropriate manner by the members of the Greensboro fire department. At 10 o'clock in the forenoon the firemen assembled in the hall of the Steamer Company, where tribute was paid to the dead members of the department in brief addresses.

Following these services, which lasted for nearly an hour, the members marched in a body to West Market Street Methodist church, where the annual sermon was preached by Rev. Dr. G. H. Detwiler. Dr. Detwiler began by telling of the time when life-saving campaigns were first organized and of the improvements that had been made on up to the present time.

He advocated a greater pay for those who risk their lives in service for others and for the property of others, and also a pension for those who have become unable to serve.

In concluding his sermon Dr. Detwiler paid a beautiful tribute to the deceased members of the department.

Mr. G. W. Malcolm, of the West End Hose Company, was the only member of the Greensboro department to die during the past year.

Death of Mrs. D. W. Corl.

Mrs. D. W. Corl, who had been critically ill for several months, died at her home on North Davis street early Sunday afternoon. The funeral was held from the family residence Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock, the service being conducted by Rev. C. E. Hodgkin, of Westminster Presbyterian church, and interment made in Greene Hill cemetery. The pall-bearers were: Messrs. J. W. Scott, W. C. McLean, J. D. White, S. A. Kerr, L. Richardson and J. B. Minor.

Mrs. Corl was a native of Greensboro, having been born about 63 years ago. She is survived by her husband; one son—Mr. Charles L. Corl; two daughters—Misses Sallie and Bertha Corl, and four sisters—Mrs. Lella Dobbin, of Little Rock, Ark.; Mrs. A. P. Lynch, Mrs. J. W. Mangum and Mrs. B. J. Sogumerow, of Charlotte.

The deceased had been a faithful member of the First Presbyterian church for many years.

New Paving Ordinance.

The aldermen have adopted an ordinance governing the paving of sidewalks which stipulates that the city shall, after giving a property owner ten days' notice, proceed to pave the sidewalk and charge the property owner with the actual cost. The work is to be done under the direction of the street commissioner. After notice to pave has been served on a property owner he cannot pave the property himself, but will have to allow it to be done by the city. He can pave it himself, however, before notice has been served. It is thought that, by securing a competent man to have charge of the work, it can be done cheaper than by contract.

You Should Know This.

SENT TO WORK HOUSE.

Young Negroes Stole Horse and Buggy From Mr. J. S. Ingold.

Radiel Green and Wilson Moore, two young colored boys, were given a hearing in the Superior court Monday and sent to the county work house for two years for larceny and cruelty to animals. Thursday afternoon the youthful criminals took a horse and buggy that had been driven to the city by Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Ingold, of Vandalia, and drove the animal for two or three hours.

The horse was hitched on East Sycamore street, near Corl's blacksmith shop, and had been in the hands of the reckless boys over an hour before its absence was discovered. Mr. Ingold notified Deputy Sheriffs Weatherly and Shaw that his horse was missing, and the officers immediately went in pursuit, following the young criminals in Mr. Ernest Clapp's automobile. The boys were arrested on Pearson street.

The horse had been driven unmercifully and was in such a bad condition that it had to be left in town a few days. The buggy was damaged also, showing that the driving had been of the most reckless kind.

The Green boy was connected with a similar case a few weeks ago, and in addition, he was charged with the theft of a bicycle from the young son of Mr. W. A. Fields.

HAS SECOND PLACE.

Greensboro Baseball Team Has Won 19 and Lost 18 Games.

The Greensboro baseball team occupies second place in the standing of the clubs, having won 19 and lost 18 games. The home team is playing Charlotte on the local grounds this afternoon. A double-header was played yesterday afternoon, rain having interfered with Monday's game. Charlotte won the first game yesterday by a score of 4 to 2. The second game was won by Greensboro, the score standing 2 to 0.

Following is the standing of the clubs in the Carolina League:

	Won	Lost	Pct
Greenville	26	13	.666
Greensboro	19	18	.513
Spartanburg	20	19	.512
Winston	19	19	.500
Anderson	17	22	.436
Charlotte	14	24	.368

Death of Former Convict.

News has been received here of the death, at his home in Springfield, Ill., of George A. Summers, who was recently pardoned from the convict road force of this county. Dropsy was the cause of his death. Summers was formerly manager of the Greensboro office of the Singer Sewing Machine Company and about four years ago was charged with embezzling the sum of $1,400 from the company. While under bond he left the state and later was captured at his home in Illinois. He was brought back to Greensboro, and after being tried and convicted, was sentenced to the roads for five years. Governor Glenn pardoned him about four months ago on account of failing health.

Back From the Seat of War.

Mr. G. S. Bradshaw has returned from Chicago, where he appeared before the Republican national committee as counsel for the delegates from North Carolina whose seats were contested by representatives of what is known as the "allied forces." Contests were filed against the four delegates at large and the delegates from seven congressional districts. The contest made against the North Carolina delegates seems to have been a very tame affair, the committee rendering a unanimous decision in favor of the regularly elected delegates immediately after hearing the evidence.

Mr. Bradshaw says the certainty of the nomination of Secretary Taft for president has killed the interest that usually attaches to Republican national convention.

COMMITTEES MEET.

Creditors and Stockholders Consider Reorganizing Odell Mills.

A joint meeting of committees of the creditors and stockholders of the Odell Manufacturing Company, of Concord, of which Mr. Caesar Cone, of this city, is receiver, was held here Thursday afternoon to consider plans looking to a reorganization of the company and the future disposition of the plant. It was agreed that the stockholders be allowed to submit a plan to a meeting of creditors to be held in Concord about July 1st.

It is believed that the stockholders will agree on a plan that will be acceptable to all concerned and that a reorganization of the company will follow. It was made clear in the meeting here that the creditors desire to protect the interests of the stockholders.

The meeting was attended by the following named gentlemen: H. T. Deckert, of Philadelphia; George P. Erhardt, of Reading, Mass.; D. B. Coltrane, of Concord; Joseph G. Brown, of Raleigh, and J. A. Long, of Roxboro, representing the creditors, and E. Wittkowsky, of Charlotte; R. H. Wright, of Durham, and H. W. Jackson, of Raleigh, representing the stockholders. In addition, George W. Watts, of Durham; George M. Miller, of Richmond, Va.; James H. Pon, of Raleigh; R. R. King and Caesar Cone, of Greensboro, were present by invitation of the committees and participated in the deliberations.

MCCRARY-BEESON.

Lexington Lawyer Marries Greensboro Woman—Quiet Wedding.

Mr. T. E. McCrary, of Lexington, and Mrs. Ida J. Beeson, of this city, were married Thursday, the ceremony taking place at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. N. E. Jordan, on Price street. Rev. Melton Clark, of the First Presbyterian church, was the officiating minister.

The wedding ceremony was informal and only a few friends witnessed the event. The bride wore a blue traveling suit and after the ceremony the couple boarded train No. 35 for Asheville. They will go to Chicago next week, where Mr. McCrary will attend the national Republican convention as a delegate from the Seventh congressional district.

The bridegroom is a member of the law firm of McCrary & McCrary, of Lexington, having received his license only a few months ago. He is an alumnus of Trinity College of the class of '88. Mr. McCrary is well-known in Greensboro, having been for nine years chief deputy in the office of the United States marshal in this city.

Among the guests from out of town were J. R. and R. L. McCrary, of Lexington, brother and cousin of the bridegroom; Mrs. Georgia Thomas, of Salisbury; Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Burns, of High Point.

Editor and Politician Fight.

After the Democratic congressional convention had adjourned last Wednesday night, Prof. J. Allen Holt, one of the defeated candidates, and Col. John R. Webster, editor of Webster's Weekly, met at the Southern Railway station and engaged in a slight altercation. The misunderstanding arose over a statement Col. Webster had made in his paper, Prof. Holt characterizing it as a damnable outrage. Editor Webster struck Prof. Holt in the face and Prof. Holt raised his arm to strike Mr. Webster, when Mr. A. S. Galloway separated the fighters. Later Prof. Holt apologized to Col. Webster and the two men shook hands.

The Caldwell Memorial.

Last week Mrs. J. Sterling Jones, Mrs. J. W. Fry, Mrs. Charles L. Van Noppen, Misses Bettie and Pattie Caldwell, Maj. Joseph M. Morehead and Capt. J. W. Fry held a conference to formulate plans for raising the requisite funds for the completion of the David Caldwell memorial at Guilford Battle Ground.

These ladies propose for the numerous descendants of this grand and good man everywhere to supplement the amount recently raised by the General Assembly of the Southern Presbyterian church so as to secure the early erection of the monument then proposed.

If one feels dull and spiritless, in the spring or early summer, they call it "Spring Fever." But there is no fever—usually. It is the after effect of our winter habits. The nerves are mostly at fault. Tired, worn-out nerves leave us languid, lifeless, and without spirit or ambition. A few doses of Dr. Shoop's Restorative will absolutely and quickly change all of these depressing symptoms. The Restorative of course won't bring you back to full health in a day or two, but it will do enough in 48 hours to satisfy you that the remedy is reaching that "tired spot." Druggists everywhere are advising its use as a splendid and prompt general tonic. It gives more vim and more spirit to the spoonful than any other known nerve or constitutional tonic. It sharpens a falling appetite, aids digestion, frees sluggish livers and kidneys, and brings new life, strength and ambition. Test it a few days and be convinced. Greensboro Drug Co.

COBBINGTON-LYON.

Greensboro Society Belle Marries New Jersey Man.

The marriage of Mr. Charles C. Cobdington, of Elizabeth, N. J., and Miss Majorie Minor Lyon, of this city, which took place at the First Presbyterian church last Thursday at high noon, was a brilliant social event. The church, with its decorations of palms and ferns, made a fitting frame for the impressive ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. Melton Clark.

To the strains of the wedding march from Mendelssohn the bridal party entered, the ushers leading the way. They were: Messrs. Robert Sloan, Thomas Crabtree, William Hewitt and Paul Schenck. The bridegroom followed the ushers, accompanied by his best man, Mr. John D. Turner, Jr. Miss Frances Logan Lyon, maid of honor and sister of the bride, was next in the procession. The bride entered on the arm of her father and proceeded down the aisle to the altar, where the ceremony was performed.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Cobdington left for a tour of northern cities and resorts. They will make their home in Philadelphia.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Lyon and one of the most popular young society women in Greensboro.

SHUTTLE WOOD EXHAUSTED.

Dogwood and Persimmon Trees in Southern States Disappearing.

The supply of dogwood and persimmon shuttles in the Southern states is nearly exhausted. This statement will not appear significant to the average man when he first hears it. But when he is told that the entire supply of shuttles, bobbins and spindles used in the cotton and woolen mills in all parts of the country is furnished by the dogwood and persimmon growing in the Southern states, the seriousness of the situation is apparent. The textile mills of the country represent a capitalization of nearly a billion dollars. Shuttles and spindles are just as necessary parts of these mills as the throttle is to the locomotive.

Fortunately the shuttle manufacturers have found another source of supply in the dogwood stands in the far northwest part of the country. Two large companies manufacturing spindles, shuttles and bobbins have erected plants in the Cascades in Oregon, whose dogwood forests are the greatest in the world, the tree often attaining a height of 75 feet and a diameter of one to two feet. The southern dogwood is rarely more than 6 inches in diameter. Extensive stands of dogwood are also found in California and Washington. Up to the present time, lumber users in the Pacific northwest have found dogwood valueless except for fuel, and its utilization for the manufacture of shuttles will bring about a considerable increase in stumpage value of this tree.

Pomona, Guilford County, N. C., March, 27th, 1908.

Mr. Sides,

Dear Sir:
I am thinking you would like to hear how I am getting along after using the new remedy you and Mr. Yates so kindly had me to use. After nearly four months of suffering with rheumatism and kidney complaint, and everything done for me which only relieved for the time being, I am now using the Band, which seemed to help me at once. At the time my feet, knees and hips were so swollen that I could not walk a step. As soon as I put it on there was a heating sensation all over my system, and in one week I was surprised that the swelling was going out, and I could sleep. In two weeks I could walk around the room, the third week I could go where I pleased. I feel stiff in my knees somewhat, but that is going out fast. You may think this is quick work, but it is nevertheless true. My family and neighbors will testify the same. They all know I have suffered all winter, and I feel very grateful to you both, for what this remedy has done for me, and will recommend it to all suffering as I have.

(Signed)

Respectfully yours,
A. D. V. LEIGH.

Why don't you profit by the experience of others? Your family doctor is all right, and will do all he can for you, but he cannot cure that rheumatism. I have cured hundreds of hopeless cases with my wonderful Band, dozens of them right here in Greensboro, and in Guilford county.

FILLIJUSTERING IN 1778.

Thomas Burke, of North Carolina, Adjourned Himself When House Refused.

Washington Correspondence New York Evening Post.

The same thing happens over and over again in Congress. Today John Sharp Williams is conducting a filibuster. Thomas Burke, of North Carolina, conducted another one hundred and thirty years ago. For a time he had one follower, Edward Langworthy, of Georgia.

At about 10 o'clock on the evening of April 10th, 1778, the Continental Congress took into consideration the draft of a letter in answer to General Washington's letter of the 4th, and some progress being made therein.

A motion was made to adjourn, it being 10 o'clock.

While the roll of the states was being called, Mr. Burke declared, after voting for adjournment, that the others might vote as they pleased; he would upon his honor adjourn himself; and thereupon he immediately withdrew, "by which means Congress could not proceed to business." Mr. Langworthy, the delegate representing Georgia, also withdrew. Whereupon a messenger was ordered to find the absent members, "and desired them to attend Congress."

Presently the messenger returned and reported, "That he had delivered the message of Congress to the members." "That Mr. Langworthy replied he would return presently." That Mr. Burke replied, "Devil take him if he would come; it was too late and too unreasonable." In a few minutes Mr. Langworthy bustled into the chamber, and declared that when he withdrew he thought Congress was adjourned, and under that opinion he withdrew. The gentleman from Georgia here disappears from the chronicle. Not so the fiery Mr. Burke.

When the delegates of the Continental Congress assembled on the following day the journal was read, approved, and it was ordered that Mr. Burke be furnished with a copy of the minute "relative to the manner in which Congress was last evening prevented from proceeding on business; and that he be allowed until Monday next to answer." Whereupon the beligerent delegate from North Carolina took the floor and declared, "That he will not submit to a tyranny of a majority of this Congress, which would keep him at unreasonable hours; that he wished to know the power of Congress over their members; that he will attend at times he thinks reasonable, but will not attend at times he thinks unreasonable, unless by force on his person."

He admitted the answer reported by the messenger; but, that, on his absence last evening, the members ceased to be a body, and therefore he was guilty of no rudeness to Congress, and if he was guilty of an affront, it was to individual members, and required another kind of an apology; that he was not convinced that he had done any wrong; was not disposed to make any kind of apology; and if he had been guilty of improper behavior, he will answer to his state. That he was yesterday evening unwell, and not able to attend without prejudice to his health.

Later in the afternoon of the same day Mr. Burke, still smarting under his injuries, again took the floor and said: "I do believe that the gentleman from New York (William Duer), and others, are in a combination against me in this business." He was sharply called to order for this outbreak. Mr. Burke then made a speech setting forth his rights and obligations. These words being taken down, and read by the President, the member from North Carolina acknowledged they were truly taken down.

"That it is criminal in members of Congress to withhold their attendance when the public safety requires it, but that they are to be judged and punished by the laws of the state they represent, and no other power

"These sentiments however expressed, I avow, and as to the language, I know no obligation I am under to use a courtly style. My expressions are usually what first occur and in this instance were not intended to offend.

"I shall only add that I mean not by anything I have here said to submit myself to your jurisdiction, but that of the state I represent, such submissions being in my idea injurious to the majesty thereof; nor do I mean to forego any of my own rights as a citizen entitled to the benefit of the laws and constitution of the free state of North Carolina."

The Congress showed itself sensitive about its dignity, and finally a committee of three was appointed to examine witnesses and report on Mr. Burke's conduct. This investigating committee gave a hearing. The messenger who was sent after Mr. Burke gave this testimony:

"That on or about the 10th of this month, the secretary desired him to go and summon Mr. Burke and Mr. Langworthy to attend. That he went to Mrs. Moore's, where he found both the gentlemen together, and addressed them in these words:

"Gentlemen, your attendance is desired in Congress."

"Mr. Burke replied: 'Devil a foot will I go tonight.'

"He then addressed Mr. Langworthy in particular.

"Mr. Langworthy said: 'I do not know whether I will go. Who sent you?' To which the messenger replied: 'The Secretary.'

"Mr. Burke then said: 'It is too late and too unreasonable.'

The upshot of the whole business was the adoption of the following resolution:

"That the manner in which Mr. Burke withdrew, on the evening of the said 10th instant, was disorderly and contemptuous; and that the answer then returned by him was indecent. That the principle upon which he has attempted to justify his withdrawing from the house is dangerous, because it strikes at the very existence of the house, and, as in the present case actually happened, would enable a single member to put an instant stop to the most important proceedings of Congress. That his charge against the member from New York and others, of a combination against him, not having been even attempted by him to be supported by evidence; therefore, appears to be affrontive and groundless.

"Ordered, That a copy of the minutes, and of the proceedings respecting

Mr. Burke, be transmitted to the Assembly of North Carolina."

This tale, with its quaint flavor of other days and other times, is drawn from Volume X, of the Journals of the Continental Congress, now issuing from the Library of Congress under the supervision and editorship of Worthington C. Ford.

AN OLD DOCUMENT.

Tardy Care of the Declaration of Independence.

A message from the White House a few weeks ago announced that the President had given a permit to a man who wanted to see with his own eyes the original copy of the Declaration of Independence, or what is left of it.

The permit, however, must have died a-borning, for it did not further materialize. If that permit had been presented at the Department of State it would have enabled its holder to have the first view of the Declaration of Independence that has been had since the spring of 1903.

No one has seen the document for five years. It is locked up in a safe in the library of the State Department and not even the officials of that department get it out to look at it.

Even before 1903 it had been kept in the safe, but it was often brought out for admiring citizens to scrutinize and to exclaim over. Since 1903 the light of day has not fallen on it.

There had been too much light of day before that. In fact there had been too much of a good many things; too much folding, too much rolling, too much handling, and, alas! too much stealing of its immortal language by a press copying operation resorted to in 1820.

This was tried as a means of securing a facsimile copy. It was good enough for the copy, but it was powerful bad on the original, for it resulted in transferring to the copy the ink which belonged on the old parchment itself. Not content with swiping its ink, the government put the document up on exhibition in a nice bright light so that visitors could decipher the traces of ink which remained.

For thirty years the Declaration of Independence hung in the light and the longer it hung there the more necessary the light became for the ink that was left grew paler and paler until it was hard to make out any of the signature except the big black name of John Hancock. Finally it became evident that if anything except the parchment was to be left the document would have to be kept in the dark.

So it went into retirement in the safe, being brought out only upon special request.

In 1903 the late John Hay, then Secretary of State, appointed a committee to examine the condition of the Declaration and to recommend what should be done to preserve it. The committee found it erased and bereft of its ink, but they were "pleased to find no evidence of mould or other disintegrating agents." They recommended that the document be kept dark and dry, and their recommendation has been religiously followed.

The original parchment was photographed in 1888 and again in 1903. The committee recommended that it be photographed again, from time to time. The present indications are that it will not be seen until perhaps another twenty years has gone by and the time comes, in 1923, for taking another photograph.

In the safe with the Declaration of Independence repose also the original copy of the constitution of the United States. It is not on exhibition, but if doubt as to its existence continues to grow it may be produced to set such fears at rest.

There is nothing the matter with the constitution, that is to say, not with the document itself. The ink is all right, the provisions clear—so far as the writing goes. It is shut up in the safe to preserve it from the fate of the Declaration.

Kansas Women in Office.

Kansas City Journal.

The appointment of Mrs. Levi Cooper as probate judge of Mitchell county by Governor Hoch and the discussion that resulted from this appointment have developed the fact that nearly every kind of office in the state except state offices has one or more women occupants.

Mrs. Cooper is the only woman in the state who is serving as probate judge. However, there is one woman county attorney in Kansas. Miss Ola Helmline is serving her third term as county attorney of Sewall county.

Western Kansas has had several women county attorneys, but the custom never appears to have become popular in the eastern part of the state. In Norton county Kate Johnson has just completed a term as county treasurer. There are half a dozen or more county registers of deeds in the state, and probably thirty women county superintendents of schools.

So far as is known there are no women in Kansas serving as clerks to the district courts or county commissioners. However, several have served as mayors of cities. In several instances there have been women candidates for state superintendent of public instruction, but they were not elected.

The Socialists at their recent convention in Topeka nominated a Girard woman for state superintendent in spite of a strong speech made against it by her husband.

Average Length of Life.

The man who lives until he is more than a century old and the child who dies in infancy are alike included in the law of averages. They balance each other's chances, as it were.

Of 100,000 people living at the age of ten, only 95,614 will live to the age of twenty-one, only 82,284 will be living at forty, only 49 will be living at ninety-six, and only 9 at ninety-seven. At thirty, the average man may take it that he has under thirty-five years to live; at forty, under twenty-eight years; at fifty, under twenty-one years; at sixty, under fourteen years.

In each and all of these cases, how he lives will determine whether he will have a longer life or a shorter life, but the average will infallibly work out without a space of ninety years.

Killed by Bride's First Stew.

Lynn (Mass) dispatch to Philadelphia Record.

The first beef stew cooked for him by his bride of two weeks killed Fred C. Remmonds, a shoe dealer. The couple returned Sunday from their honeymoon trip and started housekeeping. This noon Mrs. Remmonds had a succulent beef stew for lunch. Like a fond husband, Remmonds congratulated his wife on it and ate a lot.

How it happened, the half-crazed bride doesn't know, but somehow a piece of meat got caught in Remmonds' throat, and while she was screaming for aid, he died. The physician who finally came said death was caused by suffocation. The bride is prostrated.

Hanged Himself in Jail.

Columbus, June 10.—Dan Moss, a young white man held in jail here, charged with sodomy on a negro boy, committed suicide this afternoon by hanging himself with a blanket in his cage in jail. He was given a preliminary hearing yesterday and committed to jail without bail for the Superior court.

Women Who Wear Well.

It is astonishing how great a change a few years of married life often make in the appearance and disposition of many women. The freshness, the charm, the brilliance vanish like the bloom from a peach which is rudely handled. The matron is only a dim shadow, a faint echo of the charming maiden. There are two reasons for this change, ignorance and neglect. Few young women appreciate the shock to the system through the change which comes with marriage and motherhood. Many neglect to deal with the unpleasant pelvic drains and weaknesses which too often come with marriage and motherhood, not understanding that this secret drain is robbing the check of its freshness and the form of its fairness.

As surely as the general health suffers when there is derangement of the health of the delicate woman's organs, so surely when these organs are established in health, the face and form at once witness to the fact in renewed comeliness. Nearly a million women have found health and happiness in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. Ingredients on label—contains no alcohol or harmful habit-forming drugs. Made wholly of those native, American, medicinal roots most highly recommended by leading medical authorities of all the several schools of practice for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments.

For nursing mothers, or for those broken-down in health by too frequent bearing of children, also for the expectant mothers, to prepare the system for the coming of baby and making its advent easy and almost painless, there is no medicine quite so good as "Favorite Prescription." It can do no harm in any condition of the system. It is a most potent invigorating tonic and strengthening nerve nicely adapted to woman's delicate system by a physician of large experience in the treatment of woman's peculiar ailments.

Since 1894 I have been afflicted with Chronic Diarrhoea. About six months ago I commenced using your Concentrated Iron and Alum Water with the most wonderful and satisfactory results. For three or four years past I have been deprived of the privilege of visiting friends or going to church, as my trouble kept me in constant apprehension, having lost almost entirely the control of my bowels; but now I am happy to state that after using about a half dozen bottles of your remedy I am entirely cured, not having used any for the last four months. I can confidently and most gladly recommend your remedy for Chronic Diarrhoea.

I have used and prescribed waters from several Iron and Alum Springs, but none of them begin to come up to your Concentrated Water in all that goes to make the ideal alternative, strengthener, appetizer and restorative. It is at once a fine tonic and flesh-builder. Have advised several recently to try it, and always with fine and quick results. In January I had a bottle sent from one of your dealers to a lady, with the understanding that if it did not at once improve her digestive apparatus, I would pay the $1.00 myself. She not only willingly paid the bill, but used a part of one-half dozen more bottles, and is now completely cured of a long and annoying Stomach Trouble. This seems to be the case with all who try it.

CONGRESSMAN BROOKS.

The Democracy of the Fifth District has every reason to feel proud of its standard-bearer in the approaching congressional campaign. The battle-flag, in the hands of A. L. Brooks, will never trail in the dust; and when he takes his place in the halls of Congress the people of no district will have an abler or worthier champion of their rights. The nominee of the Fifth District Democracy is splendidly equipped for any duty on the hustings or in the realm of legislation. While one of the youngest, he will be one of the most active and useful members of congress. He has lived always close to the people, and therefore has learned of the needs and necessities of the people—and he will not forget that he is their servant. His nomination, while not a surprise, is a great pleasure to the friends of Mr. Brooks, who predict for him a brilliant and useful career in the nation's highest legislative body. He will take his rightful place as a leader among the stalwart Democrats who make their influence felt for the public good and leave their impress upon wise and judicious legislation.

NO REVOLT IN CUBA.

Officials in Washington place no credence in reports of a revolution brewing in Cuba, and say that no basis exists for a rumor that the foreign element there is fomenting a revolt for the purpose of compelling the United States to maintain an army in Cuba beyond February 1st next, which is the date set by President Roosevelt for evacuation of the island. The municipal and provincial elections have been set for August 1st, and while the elections may be attended by disorders in some parts of the island, there is little likelihood of anything more serious. The American army is well scattered over the island and while it consists of only 5,000 troops it is distributed in such a way that a fair sized body of trained regulars could be mobilized at any point in the island in a few hours.

Messrs. Kitchin and Craig, the two leading candidates for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, engaged in a joint debate in Charlotte, Monday night, and while they were given an enthusiastic hearing by a crowd of 5,000 people, we have not heard it intimated that anything was said or done calculated to strengthen the party. The issue between these gentlemen is purely personal, and there is no reason why they should engage in a joint discussion.

There will be a complete re-organization of the United States consular service on July 1st, when the act passed at the last session of Congress goes into effect, providing for a re-adjustment of the service to meet modern requirements. Twenty-eight offices will be closed, seventeen new offices will be established, seven offices will be transferred, and there will also be about a dozen increases in salary.

Mr. John L. King, as permanent chairman of the Democratic congressional convention, demonstrated that he is a parliamentarian of no mean ability and a presiding officer of exceptional ability and wisdom. He possesses the "know how" so necessary to one who would successfully guide the deliberations of a political convention.

Both Judge Strudwick and Professor Holt have published cards denying that they will run for Congress as independent candidates. Judge Strudwick says he will vote the straight Democratic ticket, as he has always done. Professor Holt is not quite so explicit.

It is said that at least 63 of the delegates in attendance upon the Republican national convention are millionaires, their combined wealth aggregating about $189,000,000. Every member of the New York delegation is rated as a millionaire.

WEST VIRGINIA FOR BRYAN.

The remarkable success of William E. Chilton, of Charleston, W. Va., in securing the instruction of the West Virginia delegation for Bryan against the combined forces of Henry G. Davis, Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, Standard Oil, Fairmont Coal Company, the Harmon, Gray, and Johnson interests; Sheehan, Parker, and Ryan, of New York, and nearly every large corporation in the state, has attracted the attention of Bryan men all over the country. Mr. Chilton's complete victory has caused him to be regarded as one of the most available men in the Democratic party for chairman of the national committee. The moral effect of West Virginia instructing for Bryan was dreaded by the corporate interests opposed to Mr. Bryan, and an especial effort was made to prevent Mr. Chilton from carrying out his intention.

Our esteemed friend of the Charlotte Chronicle thus sizes up the situation as regards joint debates between Democratic candidates: "When Vance and Settle were giving and taking giant blows over party questions, who would have thought the time would come when two aspirants for the governorship of North Carolina would be found gifting and taking giant blows over personal questions? Yet to that pass has it come in North Carolina."

The last of the Democratic primaries for state officers was held yesterday, when the Democrats of Mecklenburg expressed their choice of candidates. Horne had a good lead for governor, receiving half of the county's 22 votes, while Kitchin received 6 and Craig 5. The total instructed vote for governor now stands: Kitchin, 343.31; Craig, 315.20; Horne, 142.47. This promises an interesting situation in the state convention next week.

The Republican national convention met in Chicago yesterday to ratify President Roosevelt's choice of his own successor. Over 14,000 people were present at the first session, which was consumed in speech-making. The convention is expected to get down to business today. Apparently all opposition to the nomination of Taft for president has disappeared.

The North Carolina Teachers' Assembly, an organization comprising many of the state's most patriotic and self-sacrificing citizens, is in session in Charlotte this week. Prof. J. A. Matheson, of the State Normal and Industrial College, is president and Prof. Thomas R. Foust, county superintendent of schools in Guilford, is vice-president of the association.

This talk of an independent candidate for Congress can be of little or no force, for true Democrats always bow to the will of the majority. If any one desires to run as an independent candidate in the Fifth district, he might as well make up his mind at the start to look to the Republicans for the few votes he will receive.

It should be remarked in passing that the speech of Col. John A. Barringer, in the Democratic congressional convention last Wednesday, was an effort that one does not hear often. It was plain, straightforward, unevasive and forceful—and it "touched the spot." The speech appealed to a reasonable man's reason.

Not all North Carolina Democrats favor Bryan for the presidency, but it appears to be a foregone conclusion that the state convention next week will send a delegation to Denver instructed to vote for the nomination of the Nebraskan.

We do not know who will be the Republican candidate for Congress in the Fifth district this year, but if he meets A. L. Brooks in joint debate, we do know he will be sorry that he permitted himself to be drafted into service.

With every passing term of Superior court it becomes more apparent that Guilford county should be a separate judicial district. This might have been brought about at the special session of the legislature, if —

It is now settled that Mr. Kitchin will go into the state convention next week with a good lead over his competitors, and his friends confidently expect him to receive the nomination for governor.

It begins to look more like Governor Kitchin. We have believed all along that he would go into the state convention as the leading candidate, and that is what he will do at Charlotte next week.

After the agony is over in Charlotte, we can take a long breath and begin to consider county candidates.

Congressman W. W. Kitchin will have a worthy successor in Congressman A. L. Brooks.

IN NORTH CAROLINA WATERS.

Silver Service Presentation to Take Place in Near Future.

Raleigh, June 16.—A conference between Gov. R. B. Glenn and Congressman Charles R. Thomas resulted in an agreement that the ceremony for the presentation of the silver service from the State of North Carolina to the cruiser North Carolina be in North Carolina waters, either at Lookout, or off the Beaufort Inlet, and that the date for the presentation be left to the Navy Department and the officers of the vessel, with the suggestion that it be some time between July 19th and August 9th, during which period the encampment of the North Carolina National Guard by regiments will be in progress.

Both Congressman Thomas and Governor Glenn have been especially anxious to have the ceremony in North Carolina waters rather than at Norfolk, where it has been urged that the accommodations would be superior and the vessel be more accessible by North Carolinians as well as where the North Carolina Society of Norfolk could give some social function that would be commensurate with the occasion. However, Congressman Thomas points out the fact that the hotels at Beaufort and Morehead City will be ample, and says that the Navy Department has promised to have two revenue cutters in attendance to convey the North Carolina people, including the governor and his party, to and from the cruiser. Then there will, he says, be the satisfaction of having had the presentation in North Carolina waters.

OBJECTED TO FLAG.

Grand Army Commander Hauls Down Confederate Flag.

Ossining, N. Y., June 15.—A Confederate flag flying from the printing office of William J. Physioc, on Main street, was hauled down today by Commander Sumner A. Smith, of Morrell Post of the Grand Army. Physioc was cited to appear before the post tonight and explain his action in hoisting the flag so that it overlapped the American flags also flying from poles on the roof.

Ossining is in gala attire because of a convention of farmers, and Physioc decorated his building in honor of the celebration. He declared today that the flag belonged to his father, a Virginian who fought under it during the civil war and that he hoisted it intending no disrespect to the Stars and Stripes, but to add to the beauty of the decorations. Physioc, it is said, was a member of the Rough Riders regiment during the war with Spain. He was not at his office when Commander Smith appeared there to demand that the flag be lowered, and in his absence Smith hauled it down and carried it away.

Bridegrooms Must Wait.

Seattle, Wash., June 14.—More than fifty Japanese brides arrived among the 200 passengers on the Tango Maru yesterday, and a dozen intended husbands were at the dock to receive them, only to be met by the new immigration regulations, restricting the landing of the Japanese.

It will probably be two weeks before the passengers are passed by the inspectors, and in the meantime the number of waiting bridegrooms is increasing hourly.

MORTGAGE SALE.

By virtue of the power of sale contained in certain mortgage deeds made and executed by J. T. Sweatt and wife, Martha E. Sweatt, to H. G. Cartland on August 22, 1906, and on September 5, 1906, and duly recorded in the office of Register of Deeds for Guilford county, in book 185, page 210 and in book 195, page 254, I will sell at public auction for cash to the highest bidder on Monday, June 29, 1908, at 12 o'clock M. at the court house door in Guilford county, North Carolina, the following described piece or pieces of land, lying and being in the county of Guilford, state of North Carolina, in the city of Greensboro, adjoining the lands of Westminster church and others, and bounded as follows, viz: Beginning at a stake in the property line between J. T. Sweatt and Westminster church at a point sixty-four and eight-tenths feet eastward from said Sweatt's northwest corner, and running thence eastward with the property line between said Sweatt and Westminster church one hundred and twenty-six feet to a stake in said line, W. P. Beall's corner, thence north, with Beall's line thirty-four feet to a stake; thence westward one hundred and twenty-five and two-tenths feet to the point of the beginning. Together with a right of way over an alley eight feet wide, leading from Asheboro street eastwardly as far as the church line extends. The above land is sold because of default made in the payment of certain indebtedness secured by said mortgages. Terms of sale cash. This May 28, 1908. MRS. H. G. CARTLAND, Mortgagee.

PLENTY OF CAPITAL.

Enough Cash in Sight to Stimulate Business.

Philadelphia Press. A year ago there was not enough money available to finance the needs of mankind. Today American bank reserves are at the highest point in a decade, and the Bank of England's rate is as low as it has been in ten years.

In 1907 expansion in every conceivable line in all civilized countries stopped short. Since then all industries in all lands have merely marked time. Under such conditions the accumulation of money has grown rapidly, until now it exceeds the supply for many years.

Lack of liquid capital last year was the cause of the remarkable and world-wide shut-down. Can any one doubt that the abundance of such capital now will stimulate enterprise everywhere?

Hiccoughs for Eight Days.

Norfolk, Va., June 15.—After hiccoughing continuously for eight days, Edward Raby is dead from exhaustion.

Efforts by physicians to stop the hiccoughs failed until about two hours before Raby died. It was then too late to save him, as his vitality had been exhausted.

MR. MAN

If you have any use at all for a Grindstone, you certainly can not afford to be without one of our "Cycle Ball Bearing Steel Frame Grindstones." This is positively one of the BEST grindstones ever offered for sale. The stone is of the best "Berea" grit. The frame is made of steel, well braced and strongly built. The upper frame is constructed to form a brace for legs, making the most rigid frame possible. This is in ideal stone for grinding mowing machine sections. It is all right for that matter for grinding any kind of edge tool. Some of our customers have told us they would not take $25 for their "Cycle" grindstone if they could not replace it. Let us show you one.

SOMETHING TO THINK OF

Did you ever hear of a family having pneumonia who had GOOSE GREASE LINIMENT in their home?

Did you ever hear of a child dying of croup or cold who had rubbed Goose Grease on their chest?

This is something to think of.

Mother, don't be without this liniment for the sake of your little one.

The Song of the Hair

There are four verses. Verse 1. Ayer's Hair Vigor stops falling hair. Verse 2. Ayer's Hair Vigor makes the hair grow. Verse 3. Ayer's Hair Vigor cures dandruff. Verse 4. Ayer's Hair Vigor makes the scalp healthy, and keeps it so. It is a regular hair-food; this is the real secret of its wonderful success.

FOUR DROWN IN AUTO.

Runaway Touring Car Plunges Into Hudson River.

New York, June 15.—A big, high-powered touring car raced down West Fifty-sixth street late this afternoon, veering drunkenly from one side of the street to the other.

Two men sat in front, and in the covered tonneau were another man, two women and a little girl. As the car rushed on toward the North river the women and the girl screamed, and covered back in their seats. The chauffeurs tried to turn into Eleventh avenue, and the car went on, down the length of the pier, and, striking the stringpiece at the end, turned a somersault into the river.

Just before reaching the end of the pier, the man sitting with the chauffeur jumped, and, landing safely, ran away. The man, two women, and the girl in the tonneau were drowned. The chauffeur, after going down with the auto freed himself and swam to the pier. He was pulled out by men on the pier and then ran away.

The car was a Renault, belonging to Mrs. C. S. Elebash, of 29 West Eighty-sixth street, the widow of Dr. Clarence Summers Elebash, who died four years ago. She is to be married this week to Bedell H. Harned, private secretary for Frank J. Gould.

Mrs. Elebash keeps her car in Mr. Gould's garage, at 218 West Fifty-eighth street. After spending this afternoon shopping, she told her chauffeur, John Bauer, the car would have to go to the shop at once, as it was in poor condition.

Bauer, however, did not return to the garage. He drove to 531 West Fifty-first street, and invited some friends for a ride—John Nolan, himself a chauffeur; John Coleman, the latter's wife, Rosie, aged twenty-three; Adelaide Berdon, aged nineteen, and Mrs. Coleman's eight-year-old sister, Virginia Knight.

Bauer speeded down toward the dock with the party. He said afterward that when he got near to the dock he tried to apply the brake, and found that it would not work. The machine was going at a fast pace, and just before it reached the end of the pier, Nolan jumped. Two men saw the machine go into the water and ran up in time to throw a rope to Bauer.

Four Tons of Snakes.

Brownsville, Tex., June 14.—Frank B. Armstrong shipped four tons of live rattlesnakes today to different points in the North and East, where the reptiles will be placed in museums and distributed among circuses.

Mr. Armstrong has had a big snake farm near here for several years. He received $1 each for the snakes at his farm. He extracted the poison and fumes from all of them and they were harmless.

DIES OF HYDROPHOBIA.

Horrible Death of Nine-Year-Old Asheville Boy.

Asheville, June 15.—Clyde Pinner, a lad 9 years of age, son of Mr. J. D. Pinner a resident of West Asheville, died this morning at 10 o'clock from the effects of hydrophobia. The child died in great agony, although consoled the child insisted that his dog be slain, saying that he knew he was dying but he wanted to make sure that his dog would never bite a person and probably cause such a death. Relatives of the child killed the dog just a few minutes before the child passed away.

The little fellow was bitten by a dog eight weeks ago. He, with several playmates, were in a cow pasture when a dog came up and snapped at one of the children. Clyde Pinner went to the rescue and in attempting to drive the dog away was bitten through the side of the face. Two weeks ago the dog developed the rabies and was killed. Clyde Pinner showed no ill effects of the bite until Friday, when he complained that his face hurt. It was at first thought that perhaps the boy's pain was due to a tooth. The child continued to grow worse, however, and Saturday the attending physicians pronounced the child suffering with hydrophobia. The little fellow continued to call for water and every time he was handed a drink he went into spasms. His sufferings were terrible.

Asheville's dog ordinance will go into effect Saturday and it is the purpose of the authorities to enforce it rigidly. The law provides that all dogs found on the streets or about public buildings, hotels or vacant property without muzzle or in leash, be taken up and if not called for within 24 hours that they be killed. There is also a tax on dogs. It is believed that the ordinance if rigidly enforced will wipe out hundreds if not thousands of worthless cur dogs that now roam the streets and menace the life and the happiness of children.

The death of Clyde Pinner today was the second death from hydrophobia that has occurred here within the past six weeks. Several other persons have been bitten this year and their relatives are in constant dread of the development of hydrophobia.

CANADA EXCLUDES JAPANESE.

Notifies Tokyo Number Allowed to Land Has Been Reached.

Vancouver, British Columbia, June 15.—The Canadian government has notified the government of Japan that the limit of emigrants for one year has been reached, and that no more laborers should be sent to Canada before January 1st of next year.

This is in accordance with the understanding reached last year, when provided that not more than 400 each year should be sent.

Seattle, Wash., June 13.—One thousand Hindu residents of British Columbia will be deported to India if the plan of the deputy minister of labor of the province is approved by the Dominion government. He claims that there are 1,000 East Indians in Vancouver, New Westminster, and vicinity out of work, who are living by begging. Of this number 300 are willing to be deported. Under the law, the minister of labor has the authority to order the deportation of the other 700.

If the deportation plan is carried out the Canadian Pacific Railway, whose steamers landed the immigrants in Canada, will be required to carry them back to Hongkong. Mr. King's plan is to have the Dominion government pay the cost of transportation from Hongkong to India.

Louisiana Will Not Enter "Dry" Column.

Baton Rouge, La., June 15.—Louisiana won't become a prohibition state during the term of the present assembly. This was decided tonight by the house of representatives when that body by a vote of 58 to 47 indefinitely postponed consideration of the Dousan bill providing for a referendum on state-wide prohibition.

MURDERS SIX AND HERSELF.

Cemented Mother Shoots Entire Family, Killing All But One.

Cadillac, Mich., June 13.—Seven persons, all of the family of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Cooper, were murdered last night, probably by the wife and mother, who has been insane. Fred Cooper, a son, is the only one of the family now alive, and he is dying. In every instance the victims were killed with a bullet through the head.

The dead are Daniel Cooper, forty-eight; Mrs. Cooper, forty-five; Harry, fourteen; Inez, eleven; Samuel, ten; Georgianna, five, and Florence, aged one and one-half years.

When Mrs. Cooper's mother and neighbors entered the home, the bodies of the victims were scattered about. Some were in their beds and others on the floor. Mrs. Cooper lay across the body of a baby on the bed, with an emptied revolver beside her.

It is believed that Mrs. Cooper committed the murders and then killed herself. She was once confined in an insane asylum, and for some time had been brooding over the fact that Cooper was out of work. A few days ago she is reported to have said she would "end it all."

Developments indicate that the crazed mother first chloroformed the members of the family before shooting them. There were no signs of a struggle in any instance. Neither were there powder marks, which indicate that the woman stood some distance away in firing the shots. A four ounce chloroform bottle was found in one of the rooms.

Threatened Judge's Life.

Asheville, June 15.—Considerable excitement was created on South Main street, one of the principal business streets of the city, this evening, when Wiley P. Black, a former saloon keeper, appeared on the street armed with a shotgun, a rifle and three pistols and threatened to kill George Spears Reynolds, justice of the city police court. The combined efforts of several policemen were required to disarm Black and take him to the city lockup. He was not allowed bond.

Black has been indicted, charged with blind tigering and his case was to come up tomorrow. It is not known whether or not this threat against the life of the police judge was due to this case.

New Clash in Cabinet.

Washington, June 14.—Another serious disagreement between the president and Attorney-General Bonaparte became known yesterday, when it was announced that United States Norman M. Ruick and United States Marshal Ruel Rounds, of Idaho, had been summarily removed by order of Mr. Roosevelt.

Mr. Bonaparte was strongly opposed to the removal of these officers, and the president finally took the matter out of the attorney-general's hands. The order of removal was handed to Assistant Attorney-General Alford W. Cooley, who was going West for a vacation. He was instructed to go to Boise and deliver the president's order.

Hughes to Quit Politics.

Chicago, June 15.—Gov. Hughes will retire from public life and return to the practice of law in January next. Gen. Stewart L. Woodford, head of the New York delegation and president of the Hughes national league, made this statement today in a final and most positive manner.

Governor Hughes' attitude toward the governorship, according to Gen. Woodford, is precisely the same as his attitude toward the Vice-Presidency, which he re-affirmed yesterday. He will not accept a nomination for governor and will not qualify for the office if selected.

Can Make Aeroplane Soar.

Paris, June 13.—Prof. Marcel Deprez, in a paper read before the Academy of Sciences, announced he had solved the problem of the stationary hovering in the air, thus imitating the power of eagles, vultures, and other birds, which are able to remain in the air and ascend and descend without beating their wings.

Deprez offered to repeat the experiment whenever any one wanted to see it. The discovery, it is confirmed, means that M. Quinton's prize will soon be won.

Cheap Postage to France.

A parcels post agreement between the United States and France was signed Monday by Postmaster General Meyer and Ambassador Jusserand, of France.

Under the terms of the convention, which is effective August 15 next, packages up to four pounds and six ounces will be carried at the rate of twelve cents a pound. Later the maximum weight of packages which can be sent by mail to France at the rate of twelve cents a pound will be increased to eleven pounds.

Canadians Ate Their Guide.

Montreal, Quebec, June 15.—The provincial police here have received particulars of a case of cannibalism in Northern Quebec. Two hunters, Gussett and Bernard, it is said, ate their guide, Auguste Lemieux, and then one of the two ate the other. Remains have been found to verify the horrible story. The third man is believed to have starved to death.

A case of provisions was found not far off, but the unhappy man could not locate it.

W. R. Ward, of Dyersburg, Tenn., writes: "This is to certify that I have used Foley's Orino Laxative for chronic constipation, and it has proven without a doubt to be a thorough practical remedy for this trouble, and it is with pleasure I offer my conscientious reference." All druggists.

The New York legislature has passed a bill prohibiting betting at the race tracks in that state.

WILL SIGNED WITH BLOOD.

Stained Paper Entitled Suicide's Mother to All His Estate.

Pittsburg, June 13.—"I, John Smith, say that all I have got is for my mother."

Such is the will signed with John Smith's mark, the print of his blood-stained hand, made the moment before he expired, which the Probate court held to be valid and good today. By this brief testament Smith's mother inherits about $2,000.

Smith, despondent, shot himself. Just before the end came he told the friends wished him to leave everything he owned to his mother. He gasped the thirteen words the will contains, and they were written hastily. But Smith was too weak to sign his name, even to "make his mark," when someone thrust a pen in his dying grasp. With a last desperate effort he placed his hand over the wound in his breast, then dropped it, ensanguined, upon the sheet of paper.

"Health Coffee" is really the closest Coffee imitation ever yet produced. This clever Coffee Substitute was recently produced by Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. Not a grain of real Coffee is in it either. Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee is made from pure toasted grains, with malt, nuts, etc. Really it would fool an expert—who might drink it for Coffee. No 20 or 30 minutes tedious hollering. "Made in a minute" says the doctor. Sold by C. Scott & Co.

Kerosene poured on the top of a burdock may kill it, but a better way is to run a spade through the root about three inches below the surface.

Oftentimes the fact that the butter comes hard is due to the cow not getting the salt she needs. Once a week is hardly often enough to salt the cow that is giving a generous flow of milk.

When the family cow is giving, a good supply of milk she should be given free access to all the salt she wants. This will keep her in good condition, satisfying her physical needs and keeping her capacity to digest and assimilate the food she eats at a maximum.

A recent report is to the effect that peanuts are found growing wild throughout Nigeria and that immense quantities could be grown for export. As it is, due to lack of enterprise on the part of the people, not enough of the groblers are grown to supply the home demand for them as food.

Inasmuch as the curculio, which damages plums and apples, does its work by stinging the immature fruit rather than by biting it, an ordinary spray like bordeaux is only partially effective. Such treatment should be supplemented by a jarring and cultivation of the trees during the months of July and August.

Cabbage, tomato and young plants of other kinds will be much stockier and more vigorous if they are transplanted several times before being set in a permanent bed. The process of transplanting seems to develop an exceptionally strong root system, which enables the plant to make a vigorous growth when it is finally set out.

Since cultivation is given growing crops not only for the purpose of destroying weeds, but for the stirring of the soil so as to facilitate a proper circulation of moisture in the soil and radiation of heat, pains should be taken to cultivate growing things whenever possible shortly after heavy rains, so as to prevent the earth from baking and thus interfering with the processes above referred to.

Contrary to the opinion which may be at first quite naturally held by some of the little folks who may now and then glance at these notes, peanuts, instead of growing on trees and bushes, as do most other varieties of nuts, grow, like potatoes, beneath the surface of the ground. When ripe they are pulled, washed and dried, being put in large sacks for shipment to the home grower, who has to roast them before the small boy gets them in five cent sacks.

Probably the common black crow is the worst enemy of the poultry raiser, especially on the farm where the hens have plenty of range and lay eggs on the outskirts of the farm buildings as well as roam into the wood lots and pastures with the little chicks. While the crow may consume a few grubs, the harm he does in devouring the growing corn and the damage he inflicts upon the poultry justify all in marking him for extermination whenever opportunity offers.

The operation of Wisconsin's recently enacted pure foodstuffs and fertilizer laws is having some very wholesome effects. A recent bulletin on this subject not only contains a discussion of the use of fertilizers for the different farm crops, but also a list of manufacturers' guarantees as to ingredients and a list of licensed fertilizers, together with a list of twenty brands licensed for sale this year. The report also shows that some 600 brands of concentrated foodstuffs are registered, four times the number registered a year ago, while 180 manufacturers are now registered, three times the number that had registered for a license a year ago, before the new law went into effect.

While there is all too little tendency with the average business organization or corporation to give that heed to the physical and moral well being of their employees which admits the necessity of one day of rest and recuperation in the seven, now and then the case of such an employer is noted. Of this type is one of the big railroad systems running west of Chicago and which by the west is known as one of the most businesslike concerns of its kind in the country. Some time ago this road inaugurated a policy of discontinuing practically all Sunday train service except that involved in the movement of through mail and express and the running of stock trains, it being deemed a mercy to the stock to transport it on a day when there would be as few interruptions to traffic as possible. This evidence of consideration on the part of these employers is unquestionably repaid manifold in the more energetic as well as willing service of appreciative employees.

The productive capacity of certain types of humanity seems to be on a par with the virility and fecundity of certain kinds of weeds. Not being able to perform a useful mission in life, the natural instinct of self perpetuation seems to be allowed full sway.

The good wife has more grounds for a kick on an empty wood box or water pail than the man of the house has on an empty salt cellar or pepper shaker. Moreover, it is quite likely to be the fellow who neglects the wood box who is most exacting when it comes to the table service.

In producing pork to sell there is probably no food that gives as large a gain in pounds as does corn. Yet if the pork is being produced for one's own use it will be more enjoyable if the ration of corn is substituted by a meal made of barley, peas and oats. This latter ration gives a somewhat better quality of meat, while the texture is such that it does not fry away as much as does the corn fed product.

According to the last report of the commissioner of internal revenue, there were used for the production of distilled liquors in the United States in the fiscal year 1906-7, 23,474,509 bushels of corn, 6,250,808 bushels of rye, 4,440,315 bushels of malt, 21,452 bushels of wheat, 17,301 bushels of oats, 1,629 bushels of mill feed, 685 bushels of barley and 4,442 bushels of other materials, or a total of all kinds of 34,211,231 bushels.

The sensible attitude to take toward the dairy cow is that she is a machine whose mission is the converting of feed into milk and butter fat. In view of the fact that the average cow has to produce 140 pounds of butter fat per annum to pay the expenses of keeping her, it follows that to have a mission that means anything to the dairyman she must produce considerably more than 140 pounds of butter annually. If she isn't good for more than this amount she is useless and should be forthwith converted into canned beef.

The large sized tiles which have been used quite extensively in years past for culvert purposes throughout many of the northern states have proved a decided disappointment in that they have been cracked as a result of allowing water to stand in them and freeze. A substitute which is being used quite extensively is a heavy galvanized iron piping quite heavily corrugated, which adds many fold to its strength. Being thickly galvanized, it does not rust readily, while it is so tough and strong that a small quantity of water freezing in it does not seem to injure it.

In many cities boards of health have been passing ordinances requiring that all cows whose milk is peddled to customers within the city limits shall be given the tuberculin test to detect the presence of tuberculosis. In some towns so large a per cent of cows are being found infected with the disease, with the accompanying decrease of those whose milk is fit for use, that the price of milk has advanced from 8 to 10 cents a quart. The populace will probably demur at this advance in price, yet most of them would pay it rather than consume milk laden with tuberculous bacilli.

One of the causes contributing to make low priced hogs, besides the rather "hard times" which have held sway during the winter just past, is the fact that there has been an almost entire absence of hog cholera in most all sections of the country. It would be interesting to know, as a sort of side issue on the situation, whether this absence of hog cholera may not be quite closely connected with the fact that corn was very scarce and high last fall and that as a result it was fed quite sparingly, whereas in previous years hogs have been allowed to gorge themselves with the soft and immature corn. The situation presents several important aspects which it would be worth while for experts to look into carefully and report upon.

Recently enacted pure food and paint laws in the state of North Dakota have brought some interesting things to light. A careful inspection of all of the brands of paint offered for sale in the state showed that two makes of paint advertised as being pure white lead paints contained not a particle of this ingredient, while another, the direction for the use of which contained precautions not to use in damp weather, contained 20 per cent of straight water. This report, which is an exhaustive one, showed that, as a rule, paint which was offered at much less than the usual price did not contain the ingredients its manufacturers claimed or was adulterated with water or other ingredients. This seems to indicate that the best paint is seldom the cheapest.

As showing the way the federal government should and often does cooperate with the several states in the work of ascertaining the causes of plant and animal diseases or holding in check the ravages of insect pests it is a matter of interest to note that the University of Wisconsin agricultural experiment station has lately entered into an agreement with the bureau of entomology of the United States department of agriculture to carry on cooperative work in the matter of studying the problems relative to the eradication of the insect and fungus diseases which affect the cranberry crop more disastrously each year. An experiment station has been opened at Cranmoor, where data will be gathered and published in pamphlet form for the benefit of the cranberry growers of Wisconsin and other states.

BENEFITS OF IRRIGATION.

It is doubtful if there is an industrial enterprise which has ever been undertaken by the federal government which gives promise of having such far-reaching and beneficent effects as that which has been inaugurated under the irrigation reclamation service under the direction of the department of agriculture. While a dozen or more separate irrigation projects have been undertaken under the terms of the Carey act, the first to be completed, and such marvelous results have been attained through the application of water to heretofore arid and barren land that the excellence of this piece of legislation has been demonstrated beyond the question of doubt, giving additional impetus and meaning to every other similar project which has been started. By means of the irrigation system referred to water is taken from the Truckee river ten miles above Wadsworth, Nev., and carried to the channel of the Carson river by a canal thirty miles long. On Jan. 1, 1906, 50,000 acres of land had been brought under irrigation in the Carson river valley, and this has been nearly doubled since that time. Grain and fruit are now growing and herds of sheep and cattle feeding where but a short time before the desert stretched as bare and barren as a board floor. Under the terms of the Carey act the fund provided by the government for the prosecution of these irrigation projects is revolving—that is, the public land is sold to the settlers. After the completion of the irrigation works the sum expended on the project is returned to the government by the settlers in ten annual equal instalments. As fast as it is paid back the money is devoted to the completion of other projects, and so on until all are completed. The water rights are perpetual and are held with the title of the land. A commendable feature about the plan is the fact that the purchase of land is restricted to a limited number of acres, which tends to do away with speculation entirely and encourages the location of bona fide home seekers. Wherever water has been turned on in these irrigating systems the soil has shown a remarkable productivity. The Truckee-Carson project is but one of several which promise to transform millions of acres of bleak and arid lands throughout the mountain and Pacific slope states into veritable garden spots.

HAS THE RIGHT IDEA.

One level headed young fellow with whom we were talking not long since in reply to a question why he was this year working less land than last year said that he had learned something from the experience of his father, who, with his wife and all of the children of an age to help, was always head over heels in work. Our friend stated that the hired man problem was a serious one—not only the getting of a man at all, but the getting a man whom a fellow cared to keep after he had hired him. With a quarter section farm he estimated that he could get along with the help he could hire by the day, while if he rented more land he would have to hire a man for the whole season and find something for him to do during that time. Working the smaller farm, he figured that, while there would not be so many bushels of grain to thrash and so much corn to husk, there would also be less work and worry and a good deal less to pay out for expenses of one kind and another.

A VALUABLE WOOD LOT.

The United States government has recently come into possession of a very valuable tract of land, 235 acres of redwood timber located in Redwood canyon, near San Francisco, the gift of a public spirited resident of that locality. It seems that the gentleman was without heirs, and fearing that if his property were disposed of according to the usual process of law, this tract of timber might fall into the hands of lumber sharks, he made a deed of gift of it to the government, with the understanding that it is to be kept intact under the supervision of the forest service. This is one of the few plots of virgin redwood timber in the country, and the officials of the department are delighted at having it placed under their charge.

HORSE STANDARDS RAISED.

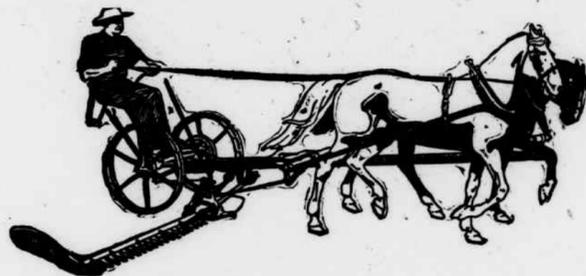

One very noticeable fact in connection with the horses of the middle west, where special pains is taken in the raising of the heavier types, is the marked improvement in the character of the draft horses that are brought in and offered for sale at the small country towns. For the past fifteen years and more thoroughbred sires of very good general traits have been used and the character of the horses raised materially graded up, with the result that it is today no uncommon thing for a well matched team of high grade Shires or Percherons to fetch from $400 to $500.

TO KILL NETTLES.

While the common nettle does not prove a pest in cultivated fields, it is at times entirely too aggressive in pasture lot or on the border of grain-fields or garden. This is due to the fact that the nettle belongs to the class of root stalks—that is, multiplies by root underground as well as by seed. It follows that the only way to eradicate the plant is to smother it out or dig it out of the ground, root and all. If the latter method is followed, the roots should all be taken from the ground and hung on the fence or dried and burned.

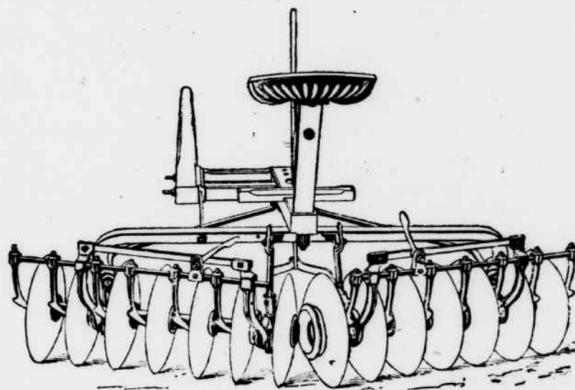

MOWERS, BINDERS, RAKES

"Fresh air," he murmured easily; "it's so beautifully warm, you know. I rather fancy I'm a bit feverish, really." Mr. Renwyck frowned thoughtfully. "Lord Croyland," he asked, "did you open that window yourself?"

"To be sure," lied Richard suavely, while he screwed in his ever ready monocle, thanking God that he had not laid it aside. Somehow the thing seemed to give him confidence now. It was something to cling to. "No harm, I trust?"

"Well, no," returned Mr. Renwyck slowly, "only I don't understand why it didn't raise a hullabaloo. I'm positive I set the burglar alarm, and"—He took a step toward the wall. "By George! It's turned off!"

Now, Richard knew nothing whatever about the burglar alarm and began to feel icy beads of perspiration gathering on his brow, the more so as Mr. Renwyck was gazing at him in ill disguised and increasing suspicion.

"Oh, that!" he laughed. "I turned the lever before I raised the sash. Miss Renwyck explained it to me yesterday. Jolly little contrivance, 'pon my word, I should like immensely to have the system installed at Croyland Park."

The bogus earl looked innocent to the point of childishness, and the mystified host was forced to accept the very inadequate explanation of the episode. Without comment he closed the window, set the alarm once more, switched off the lights and silently, not to say grimly, led the way upstairs, meekly followed by the Texan, glad to have escaped further inquisition.

"How lovely!" exclaimed Miss Harriet as she glanced through a delicately tinted note, then turned to Richard. "Such a dear friend of mine is coming out this morning to stay over Sunday. I know you will be charmed to meet her."

"Delighted, I'm sure," drawled Richard indolently.

"Who is it, Harriet?" Mrs. Renwyck asked.

"Nellie Sempton."

Richard's indolence departed instantly. The name recalled several things.

"Er—beg pardon," he questioned, "is the lady rather tall and blond—ah—twenty-two or thereabout, with a rippling figure?"

"Why, yes!" cried Imogene delightedly. "Do you know her?"

"Well, no, not exactly," returned the smiling Texan. "She has—er—been pointed out to me." He screwed in his monocle and picked up a letter from Lord Croyland's mail which lay beside his plate. "I'm awfully sorry that I shan't be here when Miss Sempton arrives, but I find I shall have to go to New York this morning. Too bad, really."

"But you haven't even read your letters yet," chirruped Miss Imogene. "Can you tell from the outside that it's some he-rid business?"

Richard nodded sadly and tapped a formidable official envelope.

"Too true," he murmured. "It's business and, as you aptly express it, horrid."

In one sense the Texan spoke the plain, unvarnished truth, for business of an unpleasant character called him in several directions. He had entirely forgotten until the mention of Miss Sempton's name recalled it to him that he had a smashed automobile on his hands, not to mention a prospective lawsuit from a justly irate farmer. Then, too, it would be most awkward to have the charming Miss Sempton extend her hand and say, with a most engaging smile: "How do you do, Mr. Peter Wilson? I knew you were not a chauffeur. How many other names do you happen to possess?" Yes, "horrid business" called him away from Irvington at once and bade fair to keep him away until Miss Sempton departed.

"Woolsey and I," he muttered to his inward, disgusted self, "must seek seclusion in some faroff, happier clime."

Breakfast was scarcely over when Mr. Corrigan was announced. He entered with a cheery good morning to every one, then went with Mrs. Renwyck to the library. Miss Schermerly strove with all her crafty wiles to lure Lord Croyland away for a morning walk and a chat on the superior advantages of being a nobleman, but the nobleman in question met guile with guile and pleaded an excuse of having to catch the next train. He said he would walk to the station, especially as on foot he might dodge Miss Sempton if she happened to come earlier than expected, and started across the lawn.

On the lawn he lingered in the hope of seeing Miss Harriet once more, for he did not wish to leave Irvington without confessing his deception and declaring himself her humble worshipper from the Lone Star State. He had almost given up hope when he spied her coming from the house toward him. She, too, had been dodging difficulties in the path of a meeting with him alone. And now as she tripped across the grass he saw in her eyes a light, on her cheeks a color which caused his heart to bound, while the warm blood tingled through his veins. "Lord Croyland," she said, "before you go I want to thank you for what you did for Imogene and me last night. It was splendid of you to take the blame, and—"

"But how do you know what I did?" he asked her laughingly.

"Because," she stammered, "we—we didn't go upstairs when you told us. We stayed in the billiard room and— and listened." She finished with a violent blush, which made her irresistible in the Texan's biased eyes.

"Oh!" he laughed. "I see."

Miss Harriet did not join in his merriment. She looked up earnestly and asked:

"Why didn't you tell the whole truth and explain to father?"

"Explain to father?" he echoed, mistaking her meaning. "Good Lord! How could I?"

Miss Harriet nodded, smiling happily.

"I think I understand. You wanted to save her?"

"Of course," answered Richard, relieved again. Really, these sudden shocks almost broke his nerve.

"Now, tell me one thing more," continued the girl. "You are not an Englishman, I suspected it before, and last night I knew it. Who are you?"

Richard gasped and took a backward step, while the hot blood mounted to his cheeks and tinged the dusky bronze.

"Who am I?" he repeated earnestly. "A man who loves you with his heart and mind and soul—a man who has deceived you only that he might be near you, to touch your hand and look into your eyes—a man who has followed you from Tex!"

"Harriet, Harriet!" came a cry of shrill distress from the front veranda. "Harriet, the diamonds! They are gone!"

Mrs. Renwyck clung limp and disheveled to the railing, while Mr. Corrigan strove to hold her up and at the same time murmur words of comfort in her ear, a task in which he was greatly handicapped by shortness of stature and disproportionate rotundity.

"Gone?" cried Harriet, whitening to the lips. "Gone where?"

Mrs. Renwyck immediately forgot family traditions, etiquette and everything else beside the crushing loss and her rising Irish blood.

"Don't be a fool!" she shrieked. "How do I know where they've gone? Do you think I've got 'em in my pocket? Police! Fire!"

With this dramatic finish Mrs. Renwyck promptly fainted, sinking down into a huddled heap and dragging little Uncle Michael with her.

The household was already in an uproar. With Richard's assistance Mrs. Renwyck was laid upon a sofa, and smelling salts were administered in such generous quantities that she returned to consciousness with gasping protests and gusts of rage. Miss Schermerly offered consolation in the form of various questions and was so offended by the answers she received that she retired to her room in righteous indignation. Miss Chittendon crept close to the edge of the circle of excitement and listened as one in a frozen trance. Both she and Miss Harriet, to say nothing of Richard himself, had worked out a solution of the problem by the simple process of deduction, and three hearts sank to the utmost depths of despondency. Uncle Michael added to the depression by a cheerful statement which gave at least a clew to the robbery.

"I'm not a bit surprised at this," he said, "and it's all Jacob's fault for being so puffed up and bullet-headed," which was truly an Irish mixture of adjectives.

"What do you mean?" demanded Mrs. Renwyck, instantly taking the side of her abused husband.

"Why, simply this," said the little lawyer coolly. "There was a cock-eyed vagrant nosing around the place several days ago, and I warned Jacob to place a detective in the house while the diamonds were in this toy safe of his, but he wouldn't do it."

Harriet flushed and bit her lips. Imogene gave evidence of approaching hysteria, and Richard listened, while ice cold shivers frolicked up and down his spine. The Texan could place the "cock-eyed vagrant," and also feared he could place the confederate who had evidently helped himself to the contents of the safe while Mr. Roderick Fitzgeorge engaged the ladies in the billiard room. It was all so simple, so pitifully simple! The diamonds were gone, and so was Woolsey Bill.

Richard's trip to New York was now out of the question. He must stay and face the music, though the price he must pay the fiddler was a question he dared not dwell upon. He could only hope Miss Sempton would not appear until it was all over. He was now burning to get hold of Harriet and confess everything and then to shout out the truth from the very housetop.

While not personally responsible for the loss of the diamonds, the Texan was morally responsible in view of the fact that he had allowed Lord Croyland's valet to remain under the Renwyck roof when he knew in advance that the man was not a character to be trusted. The real master had wanted him discharged for theft, and while it never dawned on Richard that Bills might flinch from any one except his master—the lawful prey of many of his kind—still it was his duty to have discharged the rascal without delay. Truly, the humor of the situation was in much the same condition as the missing gems.

With a very solemn face, but with a good deal of inward pleasure, Uncle Michael telephoned to Mr. Renwyck. He had given sound advice, and Jacob had derided him, hooted at him, laughed him to scorn and had finally suggested that he look under the bed for a burglar. Mr. Corrigan by all Christian precepts should have been sorry for his brother-in-law, but the plump little Irishman was not. On the contrary, he was glad with a gladness which filled him with delirious chuckles when no one was looking. He was even with Jacob at last! He meant to be more even before the day was out.

"Hello!" he called over the wire. "Yes, I want Mr. Renwyck! Hello, Jake! Good morning! Wha—yes, Corrigan! Me! Don't you know my musical voice? Yes, yes, of course I know you are busy! But, say! I've got something interesting to tell you. You remember that fellow with a cast in his eye—the one you laughed at me about? What? That's it—the tramp." Here Mr. Corrigan covered the mouth-piece with his hand and released the merriment that was struggling with his insides. Then he took up his joyful narrative. "I looked under the bed for him last night, but he wasn't there. Do you know why? He slept in your little toy safe, got up early and took your diamonds with him. No! Honestly, it isn't a joke. I'm telling you the whole miserable, wretched truth. Your safe has been robbed. Cockey made a clean sweep. What? What? Oh, Jacob, Jacob, you shouldn't talk like that! It's against the rules of the Telephone Exchange."

The rest of the conversation was more serious. Mr. Corrigan advised his brother-in-law of the true condition of affairs and offered to do anything in his power to help matters along. Mr. Renwyck, while very much engaged over his harbor scheme, concluded to drop business for the morning and hasten out to Irvington with two experienced detectives.

"Good!" applauded Uncle Michael. "The more the merrier. I believe I can furnish these gentlemen with several valuable clews. I hate to say 'Told you so!' Jake, but if you had listened to me you—what? No, I won't! It's hot enough out here. Goodby."

When Mr. Corrigan left the telephone he found that Harriet and Imogene had gone upstairs. The latter young lady had been unable to restrain her emotions longer, and in the seclusion of her chamber she gave vent to every species of pyrotechnic despair to which the tender age of nineteen is subject. Miss Renwyck was the busiest Samaritan on record, and her ministrations to the stricken one made a word with Richard out of the question for the present.

Mr. Van der Awe perceived that his inamorata was profoundly agitated, but why he could not imagine. Therefore he paced solemnly up and down the hall, looking more like a funeral director than ever. Richard sat on the front porch, smoking one cigarette after another furiously, when Mr. Corrigan came out and accosted him.

"Hello, your lordship! What is your British opinion on hornets' nests in general?"

"The inmates thereof come at you endwise and all at once," observed the young man grimly. "In my humble opinion things are going to wake up presently."

"Right!" laughed the merry little lawyer with what Richard could not but feel was ill timed merriment. "My esteemed brother-in-law is fairly boiling. He's on his way out here now with two policemen. I'm glad you're not mixed up in this particular phase of the comedy, Dicky, boy. You have somewhat of a load to carry as it is."

"Um!" granted Richard, staring absently at the gravel path.

Mr. Corrigan eyed him suspiciously and started away. Richard was about to ask permission to accompany him, intending again to lay bare his heart to his counsel, but at that instant his attention was arrested in an entirely different direction.

Woolsey Bill was coming toward him from the direction of the railroad station.

During 1900 I was running a farm on the Mississippi river and became so impregnated with Malaria that for a year I was almost a physical wreck. I tried a number of medicines recommended as blood purifiers, chill cures, and Malaria eradicators, but nothing did me any good until I began to use S. S. S. The result was that after taking it for awhile I was as well and strong as I ever was. I have never had a chill since nor the slightest symptom of Malaria. I hope others will be benefited by my experience, and with that end in view I give this testimonial, knowing that S. S. S. is the best remedy for Malaria. Amory, Miss. S. R. COWLEY.

S.S.S. CURES MALARIA

Malaria is due to impurities and poisons in the blood. Instead of being rich, strong and healthy, the circulation has become infected with germs of disease which destroy the rich, red corpuscles that furnish nourishment and strength to the body, and reduced this vital fluid to such a weak, watery condition that it is no longer able to keep the system in health, or ward off the countless diseases and disorders that assail it. The loss of these red corpuscles takes the color and glow of health from the cheek, and we see pale, sallow faces and washed out, chalky complexions among the first symptoms of Malaria. But Malaria is a general systemic disease, and as the blood becomes more heavily loaded with its germs we have more serious and complicated symptoms; the impure blood having its effect on all parts of the body. The appetite fails, digestion is weakened, chills and slight fever are frequent, and the sufferer loses energy and ambition because of a constant tired-out and "no account" feeling. The lack of necessary nourishment and healthful qualities in the blood causes boils and abscesses, skin affections, and in some cases sores and ulcers to break out, and sometimes the patient is prostrated with a spell of malarial fever which may leave his health permanently impaired. To cure Malaria both a blood purifier and tonic are necessary, in order to remove the cause and at the same time build up the system from its weakened and run-down condition. S. S. S. is the medicine best fitted for this work. It is the most perfect of all blood purifiers, and the purely vegetable ingredients of which it is composed make it the greatest and safest of all tonics. S. S. S. goes down into the circulation and removes every trace of impurity or poison, and at the same time gives to the blood the health-sustaining qualities it needs. It cures Malaria thoroughly and permanently because it removes the germs and poisons which produce the disease, and while doing this tones up and strengthens every part of the system. When S. S. S. has cleansed the blood the symptoms pass away, the healthy color returns to the complexion, the old tired, depressed feeling is gone, and the entire health is renewed. ATTEMPTS TO KILL WIFE.

Roanoke Man Cuts Her Throat and Then Commits Suicide.

Roanoke, Va., June 14.—Mrs. Walter Wood, whose throat was cut by her husband last night in a quarrel, is in a critical condition today, but the physicians believe her life will be saved. Wood, after cutting his wife's throat, swallowed carbolic acid, dying soon afterward.

Wood lost his position some months ago, and left Roanoke to hunt work. He returned last night, and, going to his home, asked for his wife. Mrs. Wood was absent from the house and did not return until a late hour. When she entered the door Wood at first upbraided her, but afterwards offered her some money and asked forgiveness for his harshness. His wife told him she had been mistreated by him for a long while and that she did not wish to live with him any longer.

At this Wood pulled a razor from his pocket and attacked his wife. The woman fought desperately and in the scuffle received a number of deep cuts on her hands and face. Finally Wood overpowered her and slashed her across the throat, inflicting a wound five inches long.

New Goods at Lower Prices.

This store is the first to reduce prices when goods are coming down and the last to advance prices when goods are going up. We are glad to inform PATRIOT readers that on many lines of new goods we are now able to name prices that are substantially lower than they have been paying for a long time. This applies especially to staple dry goods, such as sheetings, bleaching, shirt goods, calicos, white dress goods, wash goods, etc. These are not old shop worn goods "marked down," but right fresh new goods, bought at new prices to be sold at new prices. Come and take a look at these "new goods at low prices." This is the coolest store in town in the summer and we always have plenty of ice water for you whether you are buying goods or not. Make yourselves at home with us whenever you are in town.

JUST A FEW THOUGHTS

Before You Part With Your Hard-Earned Cash.

Did it ever occur to you why it was any merchant would have a "sale?" No doubt you understood it's because he has not done the volume of business he anticipated when he bought his goods; we can tell you why. There can't be but one reason (when his goods are bought clean, new, and up-to-date, and that is he is not satisfied with a small living profit. He thinks when the season is on everybody wants his goods, no matter what the price. At the end of the year he finds they have bought their goods from a merchant who was willing and did sell them their merchandise at what they call sale prices in their great special sales. That great sale price is just the same price that you can get your goods from the Original Racket Store every day in the year, without being faked on a single article. You will notice the people who are judges of merchandise don't fall all over themselves to reach these great sales, for they know when they reach the scene of this great, grand offering of merchandise that they will be only told that that particular item advertised is out. It's a great game but it's playing out. The people are on to it, and it's like every other skin game, it don't work very long. We contend and we can prove by our 21 years' business experience in one store in Greensboro, that there is only one way to do business and exist, and that is to do a straight, legitimate business every working day in the year. We don't profess to sell goods cheaper than the mills can make them or cheaper than they ever came through any auction house in this country, for every dollar's worth of goods that is billed to us we pay one hundred cents for, but we do say we turn loose this merchandise at a smaller profit than any other merchant in Greensboro can afford to and we do it every day in the year. If we were to have one of these great gigantic sales and mark every dollar's worth of goods in our store at exactly what we paid for it, the decrease at what what we would sell it at then and now would be so slight you probably would not notice it.

They cry hard times; they tell you the working people are not at work. The country people are not coming to town. They give you every other excuse in the world because they have not done the business. Right in the face of that our business is increasing every day and this year is not expected and why? Simply because every customer that comes in our store gets one hundred cents worth of merchandise for every dollar he spends and he don't have to wait for any special sale to get it. He gets it every day in the year.

We guarantee to save you money on your purchases. Get your sale price and come and see us. We will do the rest. Yours for business.

A. L. BROOKS NOMINATED.

WILL REPRESENT FIFTH DISTRICT IN NEXT CONGRESS.

Named by Democratic Convention on First Ballot to Succeed Congressman
Kitchin in House of Representatives—
Large and Enthusiastic Convention—
John L. King Permanent Chairman—
P. W. Gildewell for Presidential Elector—Delegates and Alternates to National Convention—New Executive Committee.

Hon. Aubrey L. Brooks, of Greensboro, will represent the Fifth district in the next Congress, he having been nominated on the first ballot by the Democratic congressional convention in this city last Wednesday night. He received 182,1136 votes, a fraction more than the combined vote of his four opponents and over 120 votes more than the second strongest man received.
The result did not come as a surprise, for, although a bitter fight had been waged during the campaign, it had been apparent from the start that Mr.
Brooks was the strongest man in the race.

The convention was one of the most largely attended and interesting ever held in this district. Every county was represented and cast its full vote, and practically all the delegates manifested a lively interest in the proceedings. With the exception of an adjourning of about an hour, while the body was waiting for the credentials committee to report, the convention was in session continuously from a little after 3 o'clock in the forenoon until about 10.30 o'clock at night.

ORGANIZATION.

The convention was called to order by Mr. C. T. Willson, of Roxboro, chairman of the district executive committee, who asked Dr. E. J. Tucker, of Roxboro, to act as temporary chairman. The representatives of the Democratic press present were requested to act as temporary secretaries.

The delegates from each county were asked to name their representatives on the committees on permanent organization, credentials and platform and resolutions, and the committees were appointed as follows:

Permanent organization—J. M. Cook,
F. W. Brown, B. Lovenstein, W. M.
Hendren, W. Robertson, Robert W.
Lassiter, W. F. Parks, J. A. Long, T.
R. Pratt, J. T. Smith, J. A. Hadley.

Credentials—H. W. Scott, Julius
Johnson, C. B. Green, G. H. Hasten,
J. A. Barringer, F. W. Hancock, S. W.
Andrew, J. A. Noell, J. S. McAlister,
S. Boyd, W. F. Carter.

Platform and resolutions—W. K.
Holt, M. C. Winstead, S. C. Brawley,
J. S. Grogan, A. B. Kimball, A. W.
Graham, W. W. Pickard, Jr., Col. J.
S. Cunningham, C. O. McMichael, Dr.
E. Fulp, W. L. Reese.

When the roll of counties was called contests were reported from Stokes and Rockingham, and these were referred to the committee on credentials. (Later a contest was filed from Surry by members of delegations from other counties.)

Chairman Wescott Roberson reported for the committee on permanent organization, naming Mr. John L.
King as permanent chairman and Mr.
J. Leslie Abbott as permanent secretary. These were elected by a unanimous vote. Later Mr. George P. Pell, of Winston-Salem, was made assistant secretary.

BRYAN ENDORSED.

Mr. E. A. Brown introduced a lengthy resolution endorsing the presidential candidacy of William J. Bryan and instructing the delegates from this district to cast their votes for his nomination "first, last and all the time, or until they are released from this obligation by Mr. Bryan himself." After some debate, the resolution was adopted by a unanimous vote without being referred to the committee on platform and resolutions. The vote was by roll call, every county voting its full strength.

REPORT OF CREDENTIALS COMMITTEE.

Cel. John A. Barringer, chairman, submitted a report for the committee on credentials, stating that the vote of each county was regular and should be cast as reported to the convention.
He said there had been contests from Stokes and Rockingham counties. In Stokes the complaint had been made that Germantown and King precincts ought to have been thrown out of the county convention, but the committee found that the county convention had already thrown out those votes. In Rockingham it was charged that in Madison precinct some parties were not allowed to vote, but the committee, after hearing the evidence, found no irregularities. The committee therefore recommended that the vote as certified from the county conventions be allowed.

Mr. G. H. Hasten, of Forsyth, submitted a minority report in behalf of himself and others. Complaint was made that the credentials committee had ignored a contest from Surry, based on the fact that the primary in Dobson precinct had been held on the same day as the county convention.
The minority report recommended that the vote of the precinct be thrown out;
also that the vote of Germantown and King precincts be thrown out.

It was apparent that the minority report was instigated through a desire to defeat the nomination of Mr. Brooks on the first ballot, and the debate that followed was lively and interesting.
Finally the report of the committee was adopted as submitted.

It was announced that the committee on platform and resolutions had no report to make, whereupon the chairman announced that nominations of candidates for Congress were in order.

NOMINATING SPEECHES.

In a brief, strong and clear-cut speech, Mr. E. S. Parker, Jr., of Graham, placed the name of A. L. Brooks before the convention, saying he stood for "simple manhood and rugged honesty, and that upon the impregnable armor of his honor all the shafts of criticism directed against him had been broken and shattered."

Mayor Eaton, of Winston-Salem, placed J. C. Buxton, Esq., in nomination and Judge A. W. Graham, of Oxford, named Gen. B. S. Royster.

Prof. J. Allen Holt was nominated by ex-Judge R. C. Strudwick, who, instead of eulogizing his candidate,
consumed his time in criticizing Mr.
Brooks, making a bitter and interperate speech.

Mr. Reuben D. Reid, of Rockingham, was nominated by Mr. C. O.
McMichael, of Madison, who made one of the best speeches of the convention.

The nominations were seconded as follows: J. C. Buxton, by C. B. Watson; A. L. Brooks, by John A. Barringer; J. Allen Holt, by T. E. Whitaker;
B. S. Royster, by B. K. Lassiter; R. D.
Reid, by J. D. Humphrey.

In seconding the nomination of Mr.
Brooks, Col. Barringer replied most effectively to ex-Judge Strudwick's attack, saying Mr. Brooks had never been guilty of anything unbecoming a gentleman or a Democrat, and that, if there had been anything in the charge,
he would have been damned long ago.
Col. Barringer's speech evoked great enthusiasm, and when he attempted to desist, there were cries of: "Go on!"
"Tell it all!" etc. It is significant that Col. Barringer was the only speaker who was urged to proceed, and when he concluded a large number of the delegates arose to their feet and gave him a great ovation.

BROOKS NOMINATED.

After the roll of counties had been called, the secretary announced the vote as follows:

Brooks	182 1136
Buxton	61,1592
Royster	43 6700
Reid	38 9698
Holt	34 8760

The chairman's announcement that
Mr. Brooks had received the nomination was the occasion for long and enthusiastic applause.

Mr. W. F. Carter, of Mt. Airy, who had supported another candidate, moved that the nomination of Mr.
Brooks be made unanimous. Ex-Judge Strudwick, who was not so gracious, demanded a roll call, whereupon Mr. Carter withdrew his motion.
Mayor Brandt, of this city; Mayor
Eaton, of Winston-Salem, and Mr. E.
S. Parker, Jr., of Graham, were appointed a committee to escort the nomination to the hall. The appearance of Mr. Brooks was the signal for another outburst of applause.

Mr. Brooks was presented to the convention as "the next congressman from the Fifth district." Mr. Brooks made a brief but able and effective speech, entirely free from any bitterness or criticism of those who had opposed him. He thanked the convention heartily for the honor conferred upon him and urged harmony and united effort in fighting the battles of Democracy. The campaign preceding the convention, he said, was perhaps the most notable that had ever been waged in North Carolina. But he said the result was not a surprise to him, for he knew the people and they knew him. It had been a vigorous and an unpleasant campaign. He might have said things he ought not to have said, but he had never struck below the belt and had never stabbed a Democrat in the back. The devotion of his friends had, he said, renewed in him a more determined energy and zeal than ever to serve his district ac-ceptably. When elected to Congress, he said, he would have many friends to remember and he would undertake

HON. AUBREY L. BROOKS, DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE FOR CONGRESS IN THE FIFTH DISTRICT.

to wreak vengeance on no one. He declared that he had received the nomination without making a pledge to any one.

ELECTOR AND DELEGATES.

Mr. P. W. Gildewell, of Red-ville, was unanimously nominated for presidential elector in this district, his name being presented to the convention by Mr. Charles O. McMichael, who had been a candidate for the position.

Dr. George A. Mebane, of Rockingham, and Mr. B. S. Graves, of Caswell, were named as delegates to the national convention in Denver, with Mayor Brandt, of Greensboro, and Mr.
J. Ed. Kirkman, of High Point, as alternates. These four gentlemen were nominated by unanimous votes.

An executive committee for the district was chosen as follows:

- Alamance—Charles A. Scott.
- Caswell—T. C. Womack.
- Durham—S. C. Brawley.
- Forsyth—G. H. Hasten.
- Guilford—John N. Wilson.
- Granville—W. A. Devin.
- Orange—D. C. Parks.
- Person—J. S. Cunningham.
- Rockingham—P. D. Watt.
- Stokes—R. W. Hill.
- Surry—C. M. Hanes.

DENY THE RUMORS.

Judge Strudwick and Prof. Holt Will Not Run for Congress.

When it became apparent that Hon.
A. L. Brooks would secure the Democratic nomination for Congress in this district there was a rumor to the effect that the interests opposing him would put out an independent candidate, and this talk was renewed when Wednesday's convention gave Mr. Brooks the nomination on the first ballot. When a motion to make the nomination of Mr. Brooks unanimous was made by Mr. W. F. Carter, of Mount Airy, ex-Judge R. C. Strudwick, of this city, demanded a roll call, and immediately it was surmised by some people that ex-Judge Strudwick would be the independent candidate. The Industrial News referred to the matter in a story naming ex-Judge Strudwick and Prof.
J. Allen Holt as two of the men rumor has connected with the independent movement.

In denying the rumor, ex-Judge Strudwick made this statement to the press:

"I wish to say that I have never said or done anything to justify such a rumor. I have not and never have had any such intention; I shall, as ever, vote the straight Democratic ticket."

Prof. Holt published the following card in Monday's Charlotte Observer:

"Referring to a rumor that I may enter the race for Congress in the fifth district as an independent, I wish to say that there is absolutely nothing in the rumor and there has never been any foundation for such a belief. The rumor was started before the convention for political effect. I recognize my obligations to the party whose favor I sought and shall always do so when not inconsistent with my obligations to the state."

Mrs. S. Joyce, Claremont, N. H., writes: "About a year ago I bought two bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy.
It cured me of a severe case of kidney trouble of several years standing. It certainly is a grand, good medicine, and I heartily recommend it." All

PRESCRIPTION LIQUOR.

Physicians Make Recommendations for Its Sale—Committee Appointed.

The question of the sale of liquor on prescription in Greensboro came up again at a meeting of the board of aldermen Friday afternoon, a committee from the Guilford County Medical Society appearing before the board with a request that the present plan be changed. The committee was composed of Dr. W. P. Beall, Dr. Thomas R. Little, Dr. J. P. Turner, Dr. Edmund Harrison and Dr. A. E. Ledbetter. The report submitted by the committee embodied the following suggestions:

That license for the sale of intoxicants on prescription be granted to only one drug store in the city, the license to be renewed quarterly; that the chief of police be required to visit the licensed store daily and make a personal inspection of all prescriptions filed; that the names of physicians writing prescriptions be published once each month, the published list showing the number of prescriptions written by each physician and the aggregate amount of intoxicants represented by the prescriptions. The further suggestion was made that any physician who should appear to be writing more prescriptions than might be demanded by his legitimate practice shall be officially warned by the chief of police and make an explanation of his conduct to the board of aldermen, a warrant for his arrest to be issued in the event of the failure of the physician to desist from such practice.

Mayor Brandt appointed Aldermen
Brown and Bain and City Attorney
Shaw members of a special committee to investigate the matter and outline a plan to be followed in regulating the sale of liquor on prescription. The report of the physicians representing the Guilford County Medical Society was placed in the hands of this committee.
The committee is expected to make a report at a meeting of the board of aldermen Friday night.

Reunion of Donnell Family.

There was a delightful reunion of the Donnell family at the home of Mrs. Susan Donnell, on East Washington street, Thursday. All the sons and daughters, sons-in-law, daughters-in-law, grandchildren of Mrs. Donnell were present, numbering 34. The occasion was a most pleasant one in every particular. Those present were:
Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Donnell, of Stephensville, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. C.
P. Albright, of Graham; Mr. W. C.
Donnell and family, of Greensboro;
Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Donnell, of Greensboro; Mr. George L. Donnell and family, of Durham; Mr. A. G. Alexander and family, of Greensboro; Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Donnell, of Greensboro, and Miss Annie Donnell, who makes her home with her mother, Mrs. Susan Donnell.

Wreck at Elon College.

Southern passenger train No. 139 from Goldsboro, due to arrive in Greensboro at 8:30 o'clock P. M., was wrecked at Elon College Sunday evening. The engine and express car left the track, which was badly damaged for about four car lengths. Engineer
Lewis Atkinson, Express Messenger
B. S. Morris and Fireman Worth Galloway, colored, all of whom reside in Greensboro, received slight injuries.
At the time the accident occurred the train was running at a low rate of speed, or doubtless the damage would have been much greater. The passengers and crew were transferred to a special train sent from Greensboro and reached this city soon after midnight.
The special was met at the station
here by Dr. E. R. Michaux and Dr. A.
R. Wilson, the Southern's surgeons, who attended the three injured men.

HILL IS PESSIMISTIC.

Former Leader Says There Is No Democratic Party Today.

David B. Hill, formerly United States senator from New York and for many years a leader of the Democratic party, but who says he has retired permanently from active politics, sailed from New York a few days ago on a trip to Europe. Before leaving the country, he gave out an interview in which he said:

"There is no Democratic party. When I met the late Gov. Altgeld in a little room up a back stairs in a Chicago hotel shortly before the first so-called Bryan convention, I told him that the policies which Bryan represented would drive the Democratic party to hell. Then, when he begged for another try four years later, I said: 'You are most there; stop before you have absolutely ruined the party.' But Bryan was nominated, as I saw the futility of a minority report with only ten votes to back me.

"I admit that the Republican party is badly disorganized at the present time. Both parties are disorganized. There was an opportunity, but I fear that it has been overlooked.

"The key of this political campaign should be 'Taft, the candidate of political patronage.' What else is he? He is put before the people as a candidate by the 'power of political patronage.' Nothing else.

"Now both sides in the coming political struggle will have to go to the masses for their votes. They must draw from the masses, and what better man could stand against the candidate representing the 'power of patronage' than John Johnson? From what I have been able to learn, Mr. Johnson is more than a mere near-to-the-people candidate; he is a well-balanced man and an able man.

"Every time Bryan says 'I have kept the faith' it makes me smile. He has kept his faith, indeed. He kept it out in Nebraska, his own state, which is now Republican to its political core.

"The Democratic party never wanted Mr. Bryan. Mr. Bryan wanted the Democratic party. He forced himself on the party in 1896, and again on what was left of the party in 1900, and now, in 1908, he calls himself the Democratic party and says 'I have kept the faith.'"

THE MOTHER OF 30.

New Record Set by Woman Only 32 Years Old.

Caldwell, N. J., June 13.—Four boys were born to Mrs. Abram Gotofsky, of Troy Hills, N. J., on Wednesday. All of them are in good health. The combined weight of the quadruplets is sixteen pounds and four ounces.

Mrs. Gotofsky, who is thirty-two years of age, is the mother of thirty children, fourteen of whom are living. She was born near Warsaw, Poland, and came to this country in 1891. She married in New York in April, 1892, and immediately left for her new home on an eighteen-acre farm near Troy Hills.

Mrs. Gotofsky gave birth to twins on March 22, 1893. Both are living. Since then the Gotofsky family has had an annual increase of one, two, or three members. In 1894 but one came, and that one died within a week after its birth. Twins followed in 1895, and in 1896 triplets, all of whom are living. The twins born in 1897, 1898 and 1899 all died in infancy.

Mrs. Gotofsky gave birth to one child only in each of the two following years, but in 1902 she was again the mother of twins. For the next three years one child was born annually, and then in 1906 triplets came. Last year they were twins, and the four which were added on Wednesday make the total number thirty.

Besides raising his family, Mr. Gotofsky has had time to farm so successfully that he now owns his own place, with no mortgage, and has added about twenty acres to the original eighteen.

C. F. KING RETURNS.

Former Boston Financial Agent Surrenders to Police Authorities.

Boston, Mass., June 12.—Cardenio F. King, the financial agent, who for some time maintained extensive offices in Boston and New York and who left this city last February, appeared at police headquarters here today and surrendered himself to answer to the charge to an indictment charging him with larceny of $29,838. The indictment, which is in 31 counts, was returned against him two months ago after he went away and is based on evidence of persons who claimed to have sent money to King for him to buy stock for them, and that the stock had not been delivered.

A few days after his disappearance a receiver was appointed to take care of King's business and after an examination of his books it was found that only a few dollars in cash and bank deposits remained. Bail is fixed at $25,000.

NATIVE OF NORTH CAROLINA.

King is a native of North Carolina. Formerly he was engaged in newspaper work but for many years he has been active as a promoter and financial agent. In 1905 King opened offices here, occupying an entire floor in a big Washington street building. The rooms were lavishly furnished. An office was also opened in New York and King began an advertising campaign, which apparently succeeded. On January 1, 1907, he started a daily paper, the Boston Tribune, but abandoned the project after ten months, saying that it had cost him more than $250,000.

Early this year his affairs became so entangled that he made his business over to three trustees. A short time later he disappeared. Soon after that a receiver was appointed and the receiver's examination disclosed that King had liabilities aggregating $300,000. His house, furniture, automobiles and library were sold at auction to satisfy the claims of his creditors.

POWERS AND HOWARD PARDONED.

Central Figures in Goebel Assassination Released from Prison.

Frankfort, Ky., June 13.—Governor Wilson, recently inaugurated, Republican, today granted an unconditional pardon to Caleb S. Powers and James Howard, serving life sentences for complicity in the assassination of Governor Goebel, Democrat, several years ago. Both were considered as political prisoners, and a pardon was predicted when Wilson was elected. Governor Wilson has been besieged by petitions to exercise clemency since he has been in office.

Governor Wilson, in his decision in the Powers case, rehearsed the tragedy, saying it was the stain of the state. He declared that he knew that no matter what position he took he would be severely criticized. He said the cases had held the attention of the state and the nation for nearly eight years, had become a political issue in Kentucky and almost caused war. The petitions, he said, which had been presented to him were signed by a number of people all over the country, among them being Democrats as well as Republicans. He had not heard but refused to hear or consider any private or secret request for pardon, and his decision was based on a review of the evidence, and he believed that his act was just.

Not on Your Life!

Statesville Landmark.

After the strenuous and bitter contest for the Democratic nomination in the Fifth congressional district it was not expected that the convention would be a love feast, and if the reports are correct the one held at Greensboro Wednesday evening was a warm number. A motion to make the nomination of Brooks unanimous had to be withdrawn. They're fixing to elect a Republican in the Fifth district.

FROM OUR EXCHANGES.

Burlington News.

Esquire Jno. R. Ireland, who recently underwent an operation at Greensboro, is at home again and is greatly improved, we are glad to state. We hope he is now entirely well.

Messrs. Ralph and Albert Stewart of Guilford College spent Sunday in the city visiting their sister, Miss Myrtle Stewart.

Mrs. Francis Burch, of Greensboro, is spending the week with Mrs. W. M. Leath.

Mrs. Susan Woody, of Siler City, is in our city visiting her nieces, Mrs. J. D. Andrew and Mrs. T. F. Coble.

Mrs. Emily Welker, widow of the late Dr. G. W. Welker, is in the city visiting her daughter, Mrs. T. F. Coble.

The Burlington base ball team goes to Greensboro, on the twentieth of this month, to play their old rival—Proximity. A special car will be attached to the west-bound train, on that morning, for the Burlington boys who wish to go.

Prof. H. M. Loy, of Jacksonville, is in the city, having come to Alamance to spend his vacation. Prof. Loy is the principal of the graded school at Jacksonville, and was re-elected for another term, and to show their appreciation of his services the trustees increased his salary for another year without any request for same on his part.

Alamance Gleaner.

Mrs. C. P. Albright went to Greensboro yesterday to be present at a family reunion at the home of her mother, Mrs. Susan Donnell.

Miss Callie Gray, who has been sick for some time, was brought from Greensboro a few days ago to the home of her sister, Mrs. Sallie F. Turner, here.

Mrs. Sim Wrenn was carried to St. Leo's hospital, Greensboro, Tuesday and operated upon for appendicitis. She stood the operation all right and is doing as well as could be expected.

Leaksville Gazette.

Mrs. James D. Martin has received her appointment as postmistress of Leaksville, and Mr. A. E. Fleming has also been appointed assistant.

The number of Democratic candidates for sheriff has grown to seven. We suppose the Republicans will contribute a few to the number before their convention is called. As yet we have heard of no one who has legislative aspirations.

Webster's Weekly.

A genuine building boom has struck Reidsville. Any direction you may go you will see new houses under process of construction.

Sheriff Plunix was thrown violently from his buggy by a run-away horse this afternoon on Main street and received painful but not serious injuries.

We learn from what we consider reliable authority that C. O. McMichael has sold the Madison Herald to his foreman, Mr. Misenheimer. We welcome Mr. Misenheimer to the field of journalism.

Miss Hunter Irvin, who holds a very responsible position as principal of one of the graded schools in Greensboro, is visiting relatives here. No one who has ever lived in Reidsville has a warmer place in the hearts of all our people than Miss Hunter.

Hon. A. L. Brooks, our next congressman, came over from Greensboro today to visit relatives and friends. He is feeling good over his triumph in the convention yesterday, but we doubt if he feels greater elation than his host of Reidsville friends do. He says he is going to take a much needed rest and will not begin his campaign till the fall. There has been so much excitement in the state this year that the people ought to have a rest from politics till September or October. It is pleasant to know that Mr. Brooks feels that the Weekly did him good service in the contest for the nomination.

Asheboro Courier.

J. M. Burrow has been appointed postmaster at Asheboro. Mr. Burrow returned his bond to the department at Washington Friday and he expects to take charge of the office about July 1st.

Sheriff Hayworth destroyed the remains of a distillery near Central Falls last week. The worm had been removed, but evidence showed that the still had been closed down only a short time.

Mt. Airy Leader.

Dixie Gilmer and wife and children left Ardmore, Ind. Ter., last Sunday to visit relatives and friends in North Carolina. They will first visit relatives of Mrs. Gilmer at Monroe, and then spend some time in this city.

W. W. Pharr, of Charlotte, and C. H. Phipps, of Greensboro, both of whom are graduates of Davidson College, are now teaching and doing missionary work in the Pine Ridge section of this county.

Mrs. Moses Gordon, of Dobson, was bitten by a spider last Saturday afternoon, and her life was in danger during Saturday night and Sunday, since which time her condition has improved and she is now regarded as out of danger.

J. M. Albright, of Greensboro, was here Monday getting things in shape to lay granite sidewalks on South Main street. The city will establish the grades and get ready for Mr. Albright's force of hands to begin work in about ten days.

Will Stand by Choice of Party.

Mt. Airy News.

It was with pleasure that we learned in conversation with Prof. J. Allen Holt, after the convention, that he takes his defeat as becomes one who is worthy to aspire to high position. He will stand by the choice of the party, now that the contest is over. This is the only wise course, and Prof. Holt's example is a good one.

He Got What He Needs.

"Nine years ago it looked as if my time had come," says Mr. C. Farthing, of Mill Creek, Ind. Ter. "I was so run down that life hung on a very slender thread. It was then my druggist recommended Electric Bitters. I bought a bottle and I got what I needed—strength. I had one foot in the grave, but Electric Bitters put it back on the turf again, and I've been well ever since." Sold under guarantee by all druggists. 50c.

A THOUGHTFUL ECONOMICAL MAN

Will consider, first of all, whether he needs an article before he makes a purchase. This point settled, the question arises, Where shall I buy, and why?

No argument can convince a thinking man that a dollar saved in a clothing purchase isn't as good as one made by actual labor. We can save you the dollar, together with many other dollars, according to the amount of your purchases.

WHY?

For the reason that we pay cash, get all discounts and do our own work, and we are catering to your wants and needs.

Ask to see that black Worsted Suit, $10.00.
And that patent leather Shoe, blucher style, $3.00.

LIGHTNING'S DEADLY WORK.
One Lexington Boy Killed and Four Shocked Sunday.
Lexington, June 14.—Odell Young, the 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Young, of this place, was killed this morning about 10:30 by lightning, and four other boys who were with him were injured but it is thought that all will recover, although two of them were severely shocked. The boys were out gathering wild plums, when a heavy rainstorm came up and they took shelter in a building formerly used as an office of the Victor Brick Company. Formerly a telephone had been in the office and the wire remained, although the telephone had been removed. The lightning struck the wire and in this way was carried into the office where the boys were gathered. Odell Young was killed instantly. Of the seven boys in the party two were uninjured and they hurried to a nearby residence and told what had happened. Other boys in the party, and who were shocked were: Ernest Bean, 15, son of Mr. Richard Bean; Mack Andrews, 14, son of Mrs. Frank Andrews; Everett Welborn, 14, son of Mr. William Welborn, and Hollis Craver, son of Mr. J. A. Craver. The last named young man is about grown.

THE NEWS IN BRIEF.

State.
Wayland McLoud, a Durham young man, was drowned while seining in Eno river last Wednesday.

Thirteen prisoners escaped from the Richmond county jail, at Rockingham, last Wednesday night.

Carey Brodus Mercer, the 15-year-old son of the pastor of the First Baptist church of Rocky Mount, was drowned while bathing in Tar river Friday afternoon.

Reidsville dispatch: Revenue officers cut up two blockade distilleries about five miles from Stoneville a few days ago. It is said that the daily output has been upwards of 100 gallons.

The American Stone Company, which operates granite quarries in Rowan county, has received an order for a large quantity of granite to be used in paving the streets of Chicago.

Mrs. Eliza Montgomery Leach, widow of the late James Madison Leach, for many years a resident of Davidson and Randolph counties, died recently at the home of her sister, Mrs. W. M. Robbins, in Statesville, aged 82 years.

The friends of the late Capt. Cullen Blair, a Southern Railway conductor, who was shot and killed in Columbia by his wife, will be interested in the following dispatch from Columbia: "The case against Mrs. Erhel W. Blair for the murder of her husband, Conductor Blair, has been continued."

Capt. Blair was a native of Randolph county and was well known in this section of the state.

General.
J. E. Cole, a well known citizen of Spartanburg county, S. C., and his son Albert were instantly killed and the former's two daughters badly stunned by a stroke of lightning Thursday.

Harry K. Thaw will remain in the Poughkeepsie, N. Y., jail pending an application of his counsel to Justice Dowling of the Supreme court, for a change of the order committing him to the state hospital for the insane at Matteawan.

United States Senator Joseph W. Bailey, of Texas, who has been in with throat trouble in New York, has submitted to a surgical operation and is recovering. His condition is reported to be favorable, although he is suffering from a slight fever.

A dispatch from Houston, Tex., says: "Almost 100 pistols were taken from spectators and witnesses before they entered the court room where the trial of R. O. Kenly, on a charge of killing former County Attorney H. S. Robb, at Groveton, last April, was called today."

The meeting between King Edward and Emperor Nicholas at Reval and the rapprochement between Great Britain, Russia, and France have been made the subject of grave representations on the part of Germany, which has met the threatened birth of a new "triple alliance" with a display of the "mailed fists."

Texas has been caught in the prohibition wave. July 25 a state primary will be held and state-wide prohibition will be put squarely before the voters. This program was decided on last week after an all day fight in the Democratic state committee, which ordered the primary. The liquor interests tried to prevent action, but their efforts were of no avail as the advocates of prohibition stood firm.

A cablegram from London says that, according to the Iron and Steel Trades Journal, there has been effected recently a great combination in the British steel trade with a capital of $375,000,000. The main object of the combination, according to the Journal, is to secure control of the international export trade, and similar organizations in America and on the continent are said to be supporting the British amalgamation.

POLITICS AND POLITICIANS.

Governor Hughes, of New York has made a final and positive declaration that he will not accept the Republican nomination for vice-president.

The Sixth district Democratic congressional convention met at Wrightsville Beach Friday and renominated H. L. Godwin by a unanimous vote.

O. H. P. Belmont, a former Democratic congressman from New York, died at his country home at Hempstead, Long Island, last week, aged 50 years.

Several days ago it was stated that Booker T. Washington may second the nomination of Taft for President in the Republican national convention which convened in Chicago yesterday.

A correspondent of the Daily Industrial News writing from Lincolnton, urges Judge Jeter C. Pritchard, of the United States Circuit court, for the Republican nomination for governor of North Carolina.

A. C. Shuford, of Newton, has organized a Hearst Independent Democratic club in Wilmington with a reported membership of 75. It is announced that John Temple Graves will address the club and its friends at some date in the near future.

The Georgia state convention of the Populist party will be held in Atlanta July 9th. Thomas E. Watson will be formally notified at this convention of his nomination on the Populist ticket for president of the United States and will make his speech of acceptance. The convention, it is believed, will not name a state ticket. On the afternoon of July 9th Mr. Watson will make an address on state issues, and in the evening on national matters.

Methodist Orphanage Chartered.

The charter for the orphan's home to be established at Winston-Salem by the Western North Carolina conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, has been issued by the secretary of state. It is a non stock company, the name being the Children's Home (Incorporated). The erection of suitable buildings for the home life, schooling and workshop and farm training of the children are among the powers specified; also the right to place children in desirable Christian private home and, later, if approved by the directors and the conference, to establish, separate and apart from the Orphan's Home, homes for feeble-minded children and aged indigent and helpless women.

The incorporators are as follows: Rev. Dr. G. H. Detwiler, Greensboro; Walter Thompson, Concord; J. A. Glenn, Charlotte; G. L. Hackney, Asheville; Rev. Frank Siler, Charlotte; Rev. N. R. Richardson, Greensboro; George F. Ivey, Hickory; J. K. Norfleet, Winston-Salem; Rev. Harold Turner, Charlotte; C. H. Ireland, Greensboro; J. L. Nelson, Lenoir; S. L. Rogers, Raleigh.

MADE TORCH OF WOMAN.

Boy Set Fire to Her in Park and She Died at Hospital.

New York, June 13.—While Miss Catharine McCormick, thirty-eight years old, was sitting on a bench in Rose Hill Park, near Fordham station, the Bronx, this afternoon, several persons saw a half-grown boy slip up behind her with a big bundle of newspapers in his two hands. The boy piled the papers in a heap underneath and behind the woman, and before anybody divined his purpose he had touched a match to the heap and was running away.

As the flame sprang up Miss McCormick's light summer gown ignited. With a scream she leaped to her feet and stumbled wildly across the lawn, tearing at her burning garments with her hands. Before she had gone twenty feet she fell, with her hair ablaze and her clothing dropping from her in charred wisps. The woman died at a hospital later.

Seeks Divorce From Tight-Wad Husband.

New York, June 15.—Mrs. Minnie Eckhard wants a divorce from her husband, Henry Eckhard. She filed a petition in the New Jersey Chancery court and included a category of alleged shortcomings which she believed entitled her husband to the diamond belt for meanness.

They were married on October 7, 1886, and on the twelfth anniversary of the event she made bold to ask for an increase in her weekly allowance of $2 to supply the table. Eckhard got mad and left the house. Mrs. Eckhard has not seen him since. She was left without means to care for her six-year-old son and herself.

Of all her husband's methods to choke the family pocketbook, she says the limit was reached when he made their son take long steps to save his shoes. Short-stepping was an extravagance, he said, because the boy could cover just as much ground and save leather by increasing his stride.

Temperance Centennial.

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., June 15.—Jubilant to the point of wild enthusiasm at recent prohibition successes and confident of soon making this a "dry" world, the hosts of temperance have gathered in Saratoga to celebrate during the next ten days the centennial of the first temperance society. One hundred years ago the first total abstinence society in the world was founded at Moreau, in this county, by Dr. "Billey" J. Clark. Preparations to commemorate this event have been going forward for over a year, with the result that the World's Temperance Centennial Congress will likely go down in history as the greatest demonstration of its kind in the world's history.

Warning to Panama.

Washington, June 13.—In language that cannot be mistaken, the exact text of which was made public by the War Department yesterday, the President and Secretary Taft have notified the Panama government that elections in the republic must be conducted fairly. Circumstances attending this warning were given out for publication as if in preparation for active intervention on the part of the United States by the use of whatever force shall be necessary to make it effective.

"BLIND TOM" DEAD.

Famous Negro Musician Dies at His Home in Hoboken, N. J.

New York, June 14.—"Blind Tom," famous negro musician, marvel of three generations of playgoers, died yesterday in Hoboken, N. J., where he has been living for years in retirement and subsisting on charity. Thomas Wiggins is the name given in his burial certificate, but the surname was one which the famous pianist adopted. He was born a slave near Columbus, Ga., about 1850.

In early childhood Tom, who was born entirely blind, and more than half idiotic, showed himself remarkably imitative, frequently stealing into the house of his master to reproduce on the piano the pieces he had heard played by others. In 1861 he became so proficient on the instrument that he was taken to New York and exhibited as a phenomenon and later was widely heard in the United States and Europe.

Confederate Veterans Choose Georgian as Chief.

Birmingham, Ala., June 10.—With the selection of Memphis as the place for the next reunion, and the election of Gen. Clement A. Evans, as commander in chief to succeed the late Gen. Stephen D. Lee, the United Confederate Veterans adjourned their convention this evening.

The selection of the place of the next reunion aroused great rivalry between Memphis and Atlanta. Strong speeches were made for each city, but when Virginia came over to the side of Memphis, the Atlanta supporters realized that the fight was lost.

Gen. Clement A. Evans, the new commander in chief, is a native of Georgia, born of North Carolina and Virginia revolutionary parentage. He is a graduate of the Georgia law school and began the practice of law at nineteen years of age. He was elected judge of the county court at twenty-one, and state senator at twenty-five.

Announcement is made by the executive committee of the North Carolina Literary and Historical Association that the special orator for the next annual meeting, to be held in Raleigh during state fair week in October, will be Thomas Nelson Page, and that there will be special addresses by Dr. Edwin Mims, of Trinity College; Dr. C. Alphonso Smith, of the University of North Carolina; R. D. W. Connor and D. H. Hill, of Raleigh, in the way of tributes to the lamented John Charles McNeill and appraisals of his character and talents.

Neighborhood News.

Matters of Interest Reported by Our Corps of Correspondents.

WHITSETT NEWS.

The usual services were held Sunday at Springwood Presbyterian church. Rev. S. M. Rankin, of Greensboro, was present and preached.

Mr. and Mrs. James T. Dick, of Albemarle, visited Mrs. Dora Dick last week.

The frame of the new Methodist church is now up, and work is going on rapidly. Rev. A. S. Raper spent two days here last week looking after the work. It will be a great addition to our place.

Dr. John C. Clapp, of Greensboro, spent all of last week here looking after the new home he is having erected. The foundations are now about completed and much material is on the ground. He hopes to complete it by August.

Mr. John W. Summers has recently sold his farm in Jefferson township to Mr. Charlie Starr.

Mr. Carlos Colon left Tuesday to spend a month in New York City, after which he will return for another year in school at Whitsett.

Mrs. W. T. Whitsett and Miss Effie E. Wharton are spending this week in Winston-Salem.

Several fishing parties had delightful trips last week. One crowd caught more than a bushel of fish.

Quite a number of our people are in Charlotte this week attending the N. C. Teachers' Assembly. The assembly always gets a good representation from this place.

Wheat cutting was the order of the day last week. The crop is not quite so good as usual.

Mrs. M. A. Dusenbury and daughter, of Anson county, are here on a visit to Mrs. R. B. Clark.

Dr. Whitsett went down to Charlotte Monday to hear the Kitchin-Craig debate and remained for the Teachers' Assembly this week.

Several young men were here last week to arrange to enter school the coming term.

Mr. M. O. Siler, of Chatham county, was here on a visit Thursday.

Mrs. J. D. Oldham and children have returned from a brief visit to relatives at Goldston.

Mr. Ernest Clapp, clerk of the Superior court, was here on a short visit Wednesday.

We were glad to see Mrs. W. H. McLean, of Sedalia, here Friday. Her daughter, Kate, is taking music lessons here during the vacation.

The twelve students who are remaining here for the vacation are enjoying the summer very much.

Prison Term for Motorist.

Seattle, Wash., June 12.—Guy S. Stratton, prominent clubman, convicted of manslaughter on the charge of having run over and killed seven-year-old Henrietta Johnson while speeding his automobile, has been sentenced to an indeterminate term of from one to twenty years in the penitentiary and to pay a fine of $500.

This is the first conviction for manslaughter under the State automobile law. The defense gave notice of an appeal.

GUILFORD COLLEGE ITEMS.

Prof. S. M. Hodgkin is preparing to build a nice dwelling house on his lot just east of the college.

Prof. Raymond Binford, who spent last year at Johns Hopkins University, returned last week and after spending a few days at the college has gone to Beaufort for the summer.

Prof. R. N. Wilson is now in Florida doing special work in chemistry.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Reynolds, with their two children, of High Falls, spent several days during the past week with his sister, Mrs. Millis, at this place.

The work on Mrs. Couch's dwelling is moving along lively.

Miss Josie Griffin has been visiting Miss Florence Robertson for some weeks.

Some of the teachers from this locality are expecting to attend the teachers' assembly at Charlotte next week.

The Sunday school convention for Friendship township will be held at Hickory Grove on the 28th of June. It is hoped that all schools in the township will be represented by a good delegation.

Tax listing is now in season, and those living in this township who have not already done so had better see Dr. Millis at once and save trouble.

Mr. June Greeson is sporting a new wheel.

The children's day service will be held at Mt. Hope the fourth Sunday in June. Everybody cordially invited.

CHILDREN'S DAY AT FRIENDSHIP.

The Friendship Methodist Sunday school, Friendship, N. C., observed children's day last Sunday. In spite of the rainfall, a large crowd gathered on time for the opening exercises at 10 A. M.

Rev. A. G. Kirkman, the superintendent, and a local preacher who still continues to enjoy a life of eminent usefulness and acceptability among his people, was in charge of the occasion.

Mrs. Charles O. Stewart, assisted by a number of other elect ladies, had prepared a very interesting program, consisting of recitations, declamations, songs, etc., which was rendered in two parts with great credit to the school, and highly entertaining to the large and appreciative concourse of people present.

The singing was under the direction of Prof. Cude, who had the choir well trained in songs appropriate to the occasion. Much praise is due him for his excellent work in this respect.

The school has recently purchased a new Epworth organ, and this is adding much to the attractiveness of both the church and Sunday school public services. Nothing inspires and attracts people generally as good congregational music, both instrumental and vocal.

A very strange, and yet a most sad co-incident, intercepted the morning exercises. Just before noon, without previous notice, a funeral procession drove up, bearing the remains of the 18-months-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Rayl, of Sandy Ridge section.

Children's day and a child's funeral. The funeral, which was conducted by Revs. Bowles and Kirkman, was arranged as though it was a part of the program, after which the remains were tenderly laid to rest in the cemetery nearby.

The scene was pathetic indeed, and made more so by reason of the fact, just one year ago, during children's day at the same place and day, Mr. and Mrs. Rayl buried another one of their little ones.

After dinner, which was served in old fashion basket picnic style, the crowd reassembled to witness the second part of the program, which was participated in, for the most part, by the adult members of the school.

Rev. Mr. Kirkman, in his usual happy versatile way, interspersed the exercises with clever and appropriate remarks. The closing address was made by the pastor, Rev. J. A. Bowles, upon the subject of "Faith, Hope, Love." Thus closed what Bro. Kirkman publicly stated was the best children's day he had ever witnessed at that place, and he has been a member of that school "lo, these many years."

A SPECTATOR.

June 15, 1908.

SOUTH BUFFALO ITEMS.

Farmers are busy harvesting. Fruit is plentiful in this community.

Mr. J. G. Hackett has purchased a wheat binder.

Mr. Will Fogleman, of Rockingham county, visited his uncle, Mr. Edwin Fogleman, recently.

Several from here attended the children's day exercises at Moriah Sunday.

There will be preaching at Shady Grove the fourth Sunday at 3 o'clock P. M.

A large crowd of young men gathered at Mr. William Forsyth's last Saturday and enjoyed a game of ball.

Miss Francis Lineberry spent Saturday night with Miss Laura Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Jobe visited at Mr. J. G. Hackett's quite recently.

We were sorry to learn of the death of Mrs. Levina Clapp, who died on the 28th of May and was buried the following day at Mt. Pleasant church. The relatives have the sympathy of many friends.

GLENWOOD ITEMS.

The recent showers have been very beneficial to crops in this section.

Mr. S. J. Lambeth has returned to his home in Richmond, Va., after a brief visit to relatives in this section.

Quite a number from here attended services at Lee's Chapel Sunday.

The strong Glenwood team was defeated by White Oak in a game of baseball Saturday, the score being one and nothing. Batteries—White Oak, Strong and Wyrick; Glenwood, Wyrick, Lewis and Brewer. Umpire, Andrew.

Mr. Chas. E. Landreth, of Bessemer was a recent visitor in this community.

There will be a lawn party at Glenwood Saturday evening, June 20th, under the auspices of the athletic association, the proceeds to go toward the support of the baseball team. Music will be furnished by the Glenwood orchestra. Every body invited to be present.

CLIMAX ITEMS.

Wet weather is hindering harvest in this section, also the cultivation of corn.

Red Cross second nine hereby challenges Tabernacle first nine for a game of baseball at Hickory ball park Saturday, June 27th, at 3:30 P. M.

From all indications the celebration at Randleman July 4 will be well attended by our people. One attraction being a match game in Routh park between Red Cross and Mboro that day. It bids fair to be a fine game of amateur ball.

Three games of ball at Hickory ball park next Saturday, June 20. Alliance at 1 o'clock, Milboro about 4 P. M., then St. Peter and Climax Ebonies, both colored teams. No whites allowed to participate or interfere. Everybody come.

Diver Plunges to Death.

New York, June 13.—While hundreds cheered him for what they believed was a part of his daring act, Joseph Jakobe, a professional diver, lost his life at Bergen Beach today, when the rope which held his sliding seat on a descending wire broke and plunged him into Jamaica Bay, nearly one hundred feet below. Only the diver's wife and two children, who were watching the performance, knew that an accident had happened.

Jakobe's act was to slide on a sloping wire attached to two poles set in the water and when midway between them to jump from his seat and turn several somersaults before striking the water. While making the slide today the strap, holding his suspended seat to the wire, broke, and Jakobe fell flat upon the water far below.

Presidential Candidates of Both Parties Known in Advance.

Correspondence of the Patriot.

Washington, D. C., June 15.—It is not often in the history of presidential nominations that the candidates of both the great parties are known so long in advance. Four years ago, it was, of course, known that Theodore Roosevelt would be nominated on the first ballot at the Republican national convention, but this year it is known beyond doubt that Taft will receive the Republican nomination at Chicago and Bryan the Democratic nomination at Denver. No one, of course, knows who will be elected. Democrats think they have a better chance to elect their candidate than at any election in the last twelve years. Mr. Taft will not create the enthusiasm among Republicans that Roosevelt would have created. He is a good man, but not a popular or, as the saying is, magnetic. He is a very poor orator, prone to make mistakes and faux pas, as he did in the matter of characterizing Grant as an ex-inebriate, when he attempted to eulogize him on Decoration day. It is quite probable that if he is allowed to talk (and who can prevent him?) he will say many things that will hurt and perhaps be fatal to his candidacy. Mr. Bryan is also given to talking a good deal and not always with perfect prudence, but he is a much finer orator, and on the whole has better command of his tongue than his competitor for the presidency.

The platform is practically ready for presentation at Denver, it is understood, and, among other things, will contain a clause denouncing the Crum-packer campaign publicity bill, and another denouncing the extravagance of the Republican administration, and will declare for tariff revision and for Federal improvement of public highways.

John Mitchell is considered out of the race for nomination for the vice presidency on the Democratic ticket. The claim is now made that he and his friends could do vastly more for the good of labor were he governor of Illinois than he could do as vice president of the United States, and the expectation is that he will give consent to his name being put up for that office.

That the reduction of postage from the United States to the United Kingdom of Great Britain is greeted with universal approval is shown by the number of letters and telegrams of congratulation with which the postmaster general has been deluged recently. "In Great Britain," Mr. Meyer said, "there has been a growing sentiment for reduction of postage to and from this country for a number of years to two cents an ounce, and I am certain that in the course of time the Postoffice department can arrange for the same rate with other countries." Only within the last few days Postmaster General Meyer issued an order increasing the weight limit on parcels for Great Britain and Ireland to eleven pounds effective July 1st, instead of four pounds six ounces, which is the present limit at which packages can be sent in the mails to the United Kingdom.

SERVANT A MILLIONAIRE.

Title and Estate Falls to Butler in Virginia Home.

Richmond, Va., June 12.—Theodore von Thien, a butler in the home of Patrick P. Ryan, yesterday received from the French Ambassador in Washington papers by which he becomes Count von Thien, of the provinces of Kronenfeld and Thien, and, with his brother, inherits the large fortune and estates of his father, August von Thien, the brother, in a cablegram from Paris, announces that his attorney has established their claims to their titles.

There are amounts aggregating $2,000,000 in the banks of Germany and France which will be turned over to the brothers in December. The father was drowned and his body was never recovered, causing the delay in establishing the fact of his death.

August and Theodore von Thien came to the United States as young men, and both held positions as butlers in Sherry's New York restaurant. Theodore came to Virginia two years ago. When told that he was a count he simply said:

"I'm sorry for it. I have traveled so much, and have never been as happy as I am in Richmond."

Drastic Dog Ordinance.

Asheville, June 15.—The Asheville board of aldermen has passed a drastic dog ordinance. It provides that every dog caught on the streets without a muzzle or in leash shall be taken up and if not claimed inside of 24 hours killed. Violation by owners of dogs of section of the ordinance is made a misdemeanor and punishable by a fine of $5. The ordinance is designed to rid the city of hundreds, if not thousands, of dogs now allowed to run loose on the streets. It was prominently to the front as a result of a large number of alleged mad dogs being killed. Several persons have been bitten this year by dogs supposed to have the rabies and the public demanded that drastic action be taken looking to the better protection of men, women and children.

Virginia for Bryan.

Roanoke, Va., June 11.—The Democratic state convention of Virginia tonight, amid confusion and prolonged disorder, and after a fight lasting for hours, instructed its delegates to the national convention at Denver to vote for William J. Bryan "so long as his name shall be before that convention," and elected United States Senators John W. Daniel and Thomas S. Martin, Gov. Claude A. Swanson, and former governor J. Hoge Tyler delegates at large.

Death Was on His Heels.

Jesse P. Morris, of Skippers, Va., had a close call in the spring of 1906. He says: "An attack of pneumonia left me so weak and with such a fearful cough that my friends declared consumption had me, and death was on my heels. Then I was persuaded to try Dr. King's New Discovery. It helped me immediately, and after taking two and a half bottles I was a well man again. I found out that New Discovery is the best remedy for coughs and lung disease in all the world." Sold under guarantee at all druggists, 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free

BATTLEFIELD OF THE CAMPAIGN.

Republican Leaders Believe It Will be in the Middle West.

Washington, June 12.—Republican leaders believe that the battleground of the Presidential campaign will be the Middle Western States, and not the East, as in former years. At the same time they admit that the situation there has large elements of danger. They do not know which way the radical vote will go, which gave to Roosevelt his tremendous pluralities in that section in 1904.

Party lines, Republican leaders state, have been badly shattered during the past two Presidential campaigns. Whether Taft will be able to hold the great following which the progressive Roosevelt policies have in the Middle West is the problem that is worrying the managers. Some of them admit, with rather surprising frankness, that Johnson would certainly take away from Taft several of these states which Roosevelt carried with enormous votes, and further, that it is a question whether Taft will be able to hold them against Bryan.

Representative Charles F. Scott, of Kansas, expressed this fear today. He is the Republican chairman of the House Committee on Agriculture, and the proprietor of a big newspaper, and a keen political observer.

"The fight this year," said Mr. Scott today, "will be in the states of Illinois, Ohio, Indiana, Wisconsin, Iowa, Minnesota, Kansas, and Nebraska, instead of the East, where former contests have been determined. The reasons for the change of battleground are about as follows: The Roosevelt administration is popular in those states, where the people believe thoroughly in the Roosevelt program.

"The people of that section want the President's program carried forward. They are so earnest that if they thought it necessary to elect a Democratic administration in order to carry it forward, they would do it.

"There is danger in the Middle Western situation. If the Democratic convention at Denver should have a lucid interval and nominate Johnson, I should think there would be a good chance of losing two or three Middle Western States. Of course, this will not happen. The Denver convention will nominate Mr. Bryan, and he is not any stronger now than he was in 1900, unless he is made stronger by the failure of the Republican convention to take advantage of its opportunities."

Officer Killed Negro.

Winston-Salem, June 14.—In a desperate battle with a police officer in the eastern part of Salem known as Happy Hill, Charles Phelps, colored, was shot and killed by Special Officer Swain at an early hour this morning. The negro had been arrested on the charge of gambling, but broke from the officer before he could get the handcuffs snapped. The officer followed in hot pursuit and had almost overtaken the negro when the latter began firing at the officer over his shoulder. The officer took deliberate aim at the negro and one shot ended his life, the bullet taking effect in the head.

Unwritten Law Holds.

Lexington, Ky., June 11.—Mrs. Nancy Murrill was justified, a jury has decided, when she killed Miss Mary Terry, who had won the affections of Mrs. Murrill's husband. Mrs. Murrill found her husband in company with Miss Terry in the latter's home. She drew a revolver and shot Miss Terry three times, causing instant death. Mr. and Mrs. Murrill had lived happily together until the advent of the affinity. Mrs. Murrill surrendered herself, and told her story to the jury, which held her guiltless.

RELIGIOUS THOUGHT.

Gems Gleaned From the Teachings of All Denominations.

Life holds many lamps that shine in the night, but the brightest is the lamp of experience.—Rev. Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis, Congregationalist, Brooklyn.

Greatness.

There is no proof of greatness so very great as that of true, abiding affection.—Rev. Dr. S. Edward Young, Presbyterian, Pittsburg.

What is Needed.

The greatest need today is not more men, but more man; not more women, but more woman. To be rich in deed and in truth is ultimately a consciousness.—Rev. James Montgomery, Methodist, Denver.

Sympathy of Women.

The heart of woman, while a weaker vessel in the face of daring deeds and trying moments, has a more active sympathy toward Christ.—Bishop P. J. Donahue, Roman Catholic, Wheeling, W. Va.

A Welcome Compliment.

No higher compliment can be paid one than to speak of him as good humored and good natured, for these qualities usually spring from a healthy body, a healthy mind and a healthy soul.—Rev. Guy A. Jamieson, Episcopalian, Tottenville, N. Y.

Happiness and Marriage.

There will be happiness in the home if the husband is as gentle, unselfish and courteous after marriage as before. There should be as much of the sunshine of love for all the years after the marriage as there was before.—Rev. J. Y. Reid, Methodist, Belleville, Mo.

Test of One's Religion.

If it is something real to be a Christian, it will show in what a man does. A Christian will be busy being neighbor to some one who is in need. The most evident test of a man's religion will be found in his attempts to do something for some other.—Rev. William H. Day, Congregationalist, Los Angeles, Cal.

Right Use of Wealth.

Money must be used to have power. Wealth not used for the good of the public may stagnate and breed miasma, but given to good use it may generate health and happiness. No man can really enjoy his prosperity unless he divides his leisure and wealth with others. He only is rich who has the most glowing sympathies.—Rev. William George Trevor, Presbyterian, Chicago.

Religion and Doctrine.

Religion is a life and not an opinion about life. Redemption is a new and divine spirit and not a definition of redemption. There is a new theology, and there always will be one. God, love, redemption, remain unchanged. The definition of those things changes. Doctrines are like the leaves on a tree. The kindly autumn comes and kills them off. If it does not, but shows the old, withered leaves clinging to the branches, it is dead. Doctrines should be evidence of a living spirit. Doctrines die, but the truth does not die. It lives on.—Rev. Dr. Eakin, Episcopalian, Toronto, Canada.

Gospel of Out of Doors.

We need the gospel of out of doors. Much is to be learned which the book-makers cannot teach. The American must learn to love the woods and streams. It will keep him from becoming hard and conventional. It will give wider and fuller horizons. It is good to stand in the presence of trees and to listen to song of birds and rippling waters. Give the nature study of the schools a large place. We must take pains to encourage the beautiful; the useful will take care of itself. The outside means not only sounds, but doctrines. The cherry festival of Japan is the result of the Shinto worship. But nature worship without the recognition of nature's God is only to make a Buddha without a soul. Beyond the natural is the supernatural. The Japanese is in the habit of saying, "The end of snow is Nirvana," meaning that beyond that snow line is the void of the sky. The Christian sees beyond the blossom and the snow. We hear in the silence the whisperings of the Divine Spirit and read in flower and rock the loving teachings of a fatherhood.—Rev. Dr. Wallace Radcliffe, Presbyterian, Washington.

What You Do, Do Properly.

Too much of the goodness of this world is cantankerous goodness. It is a rule of universal applicability full of universal fruitfulness. If you are going to do a thing, do it. Either come in or go out. God Almighty cannot make a door to be both open and shut at the same time. If you are going to do a thing, do it properly. Sit down and consider the cost if you must, though it is better to do the right in scorn of cost, not so much as considering whether there be such a thing as cost. But when you have decided to do the right thing do it finely, nobly, greatly. Have you decided to give? Then give graciously, spontaneously, with open handed, whole hearted kindness, which doubles all the value of your giving. Consider. Why are you helping this man at all? Why, to help him. Out of the goodness of your heart and out of a wish to be of service to him? Then how foolish to do it in such a way as to spoil his happiness in receiving! How foolish to defeat your own object by a way of doing things which brings you no gain and involves him in loss! There are men who have tried to do us a kindness, and they have set about it in such a fashion that we have not forgiven them yet. Give or do not give, one or the other. But if you are to be generous, be generous generously and get all the credit, all the benefit, all the happiness and all the influence for good out of it.—Rev. Dr. Charles F. Aked, Baptist, New York.

MILL WASTE UTILIZED.

New Process Said to Effect Great Saving of Wood Pulp.

Scientists here are deeply interested in what is believed to be a means of manufacturing paper from ground wood in which the waste of mills can be used, says the New York Herald. If successful the plan will eliminate the cost of wood specially cut for the manufacture of paper pulp. The pitch and resin which have heretofore interfered with the use of wood of this character are overcome in the new process by so treating the pulp that these substances pass off in vapor and the fiber is recovered by subjecting the mass to a system of pressing.

Experiments now in progress indicate that the system of using mill waste can be made a success and that it will materially decrease the price of paper by lessening the cost of the wood from which the fiber is produced. A plant is now in operation in Vancouver and is said to have proved a success. While the operations have up to this time been limited, the plan contemplates the assembling of the waste from a large number of local mills. This wood is placed in a clipping machine, which reduces it to shavings, and these pass up a flume to a digester. This is a copper lined circular reservoir perhaps twelve feet in diameter, filled with a solution of caustic soda. This mass is cooked until the cellulose is thoroughly released and then removed to a draining floor.

After the soda has been separated from the pulp as much as possible the material is taken to a beating machine, where it is cut and washed clean. From the beating machine the pulp goes to a refining engine and is then ready for manufacture.

It is estimated that an area half as large as the state of Rhode Island is yearly stripped of spruce to make wood pulp and that 3,500,000 cords of pulp wood are used yearly. The successful use of the waste of mills would probably reduce this by at least one-fourth.

GIBRALTAR'S CURRENTS.

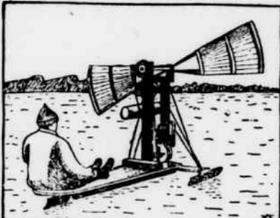

Two of Them Constantly Flowing Through the Strait.

Through the strait of Gibraltar two currents are constantly flowing, the one being superimposed on the other. The upper and more copious one flows in from the Atlantic at a rate of nearly 140,000 cubic meters per second, or three miles an hour, and supplies the difference between the rainfall and the evaporation, while an undercurrent of warmer water, which has undergone concentration by evaporation, is continually flowing out at about half the above rate of movement, getting rid of the excess of salinity, even this, however, leaving the Mediterranean saltier than any other part of the ocean, except the Red sea.

In the eastern portion a similar phenomenon occurs, when the fresher waters of the Black sea flow as a surface current through the Dardanelles and the saltier water of the Mediterranean pours in below it.

Iceboat Propelled by Aerial Screw.

The motor boat shown in the accompanying illustration is driven by a four horsepower motor which propels an aerial screw. The average speed of the boat is thirty miles an hour. At this speed the wings of the screw whirl so rapidly as to be almost invisible.

Synthetic Camphor.

Synthetic camphor, the production of which has been a problem among chemists for many years, seems to be at last a commercial product, but the high price of turpentine oil may prevent it from coming quickly into use. At least four processes have been devised for making this product from pine, which forms 70 per cent of turpentine oil. By chemical treatment and oxidation the pine is given the chemical structure and chemical properties of the natural camphor, but with different reaction in polarized light and somewhat less fragrance. About 90 per cent of the world's camphor is used for making celluloid, for which the synthetic material is claimed to be perfectly suitable.

Cotton as a Food.

Absorbent cotton is practically pure cellulose and can be easily converted into a grape sugar by the action of sulphuric acid. Cellulose and starch are identical in formula to the chemist. When we have learned to actually and cheaply transform cellulose into starch, says Red Cross Notes, absorbent cotton will become a source of food, and the struggle for existence for want of food will be at an end. When bread and cakes are made from absorbent cotton there will be no more "corners" in wheat, no famines and no high priced food.

Low Temperature Solder.

A solder that will fuse at a low temperature and used in uniting soft metals is made by adding three drops of mercury to each ounce of common solder.

HASTE MAKES WASTE.

Don't be in a hurry. Modern haste is often waste. Many ills, economic, moral, individual, come of it. Life may be too strenuous for good results. The spirit of hurry, good in its place, causes friction, clashing, losses.

Don't be in a hurry. Many are in haste to get rich. They patronize get-rich-quick schemes. They speculate. Where one wins, a thousand, ten thousand, lose. There is only one safe way to make money—the old fashioned way of honesty, industry, economy. That way is slow, but it is reasonably sure.

Don't be in a hurry. Young persons get in a haste to be educated. Education is a GROWTH. Knowledge, experience, must not only be digested, but assimilated. That requires time. It does not delay the boy or girl to stop between terms to teach school. Opportunity is given to put into practice some of the things learned in college.

Don't be in a hurry. Some are in haste to make a reputation, but reputation without character behind it is worthless. And character is a GROWTH. Mushroom characters will make mushroom reputations. You will be taken for what you are. The world will size you up. Build solidly.

Don't be in a hurry. You cannot expect to get rich quick, educate yourself in a day or build a reputation on a flimsy foundation.

Don't be in a hurry. Mind and body can only be strengthened by DEVELOPMENT. That takes time. Science has given it out that RELAXATION is the secret of mental and physical life. Nervous and muscular contraction is wearing the hurried man to a frazzle. Therefore men and women are excitable, frictional, erratic; therefore the breakdowns, the asylums. It is the constant TENSION of nerve and muscles. Relax frequently. You will succeed better. You will live longer.

Don't be in a hurry. Suppose you get wealth. How will you enjoy it or use it to the advantage of the world if you are worn out, enervated, wrecked? Suppose you get an education and, like Thomas Curran, aged twenty, of the senior class of Yale '03, you receive your diploma on your deathbed, having killed yourself for a piece of sheepskin. Suppose you gain a reputation for brilliancy and give in exchange a well balanced, amiable mind or a sound physique.

Don't be in a hurry. Work steadily, sanely, surely. Hold the even tenor of your way.

Don't be in a hurry.

A LIVING OR A LIFE.

"Make a living," said the late Governor Russell of Massachusetts in an address to young men, "but remember there is one thing better than making a living, and that is making a life."

What is the difference between making a living and making a life? It is the difference between material and ideal, between selfishness and altruism.

For instance: The philosophy of Goethe and Schopenhauer, which is the philosophy of many "successful men" of today, is this: Look only on the serene and bright. Do not concern yourself with suffering. Let the miserable ones alone. Be cheerfully blind to the misfortunes of others. The more you do for others the less you can do for yourself. Use others. Be careful they do not use you. Cultivate yourself.

In other words, this philosophy says, "Get there!"

But there is another philosophy which says: Be mindful of others' misery. Help your neighbor. Make good principles into flesh—CHARACTER. Open your mind and heart to truth and beauty and love, and put as much of "generous and outgoing sympathies and interests" in your life as you can.

That's making a life.

In the nervous tension of modern existence men are so absorbed in the task of making a living that many forget the higher part of themselves. They have no time for real living.

Nowadays men are trying to make a living after they are millionaires. They stunt their best faculties and rob themselves of the joy of normal living. They become one sided, half developed individuals.

Like the Spaniards, they say "Manana." They will be happy tomorrow or next year. And they sink into the grave still trying to make a living.

What grander thing in all conception than to make a life—to feel and know every day that one is growing wider, deeper, higher in mental and moral power?

Anybody can make a living. Too few of us are trying to make a life.

Remarkable Story

The story of Mrs. Matilda Warwick, of Kokomo, Ind., as told below, proves the curative properties of that well-known female remedy, Wine of Cardui. Mrs. Warwick says:

TAKE CARDUI

It Will Help You

"I suffered from pains in my head, shoulders, limbs, side, stomach low down, dizziness, chills, nervousness, fainting spells and other female troubles. I was almost dead. Three doctors did not help me. At last, I took Cardui, and with the first bottle obtained relief. Now I am cured. But for Cardui, I would have been dead." Try Cardui.

The building is to be erected on the vacant lot on the corner of East Mycamore and South Forbis streets, and according to the terms of the contract, is to be ready for occupancy by September 12th.
 Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury.
 as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is tenfold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.
 Sold by druggists, price 75c per bottle. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.
 Mrs. J. B. Minor is visiting friends in Randleman.
 Shoes or No Shoes.
 Barefoot time has come again once more, but most of the grown-up feet in this county look better with shoes on, and fortunately we can sell shoes at somewhat lower prices than for several seasons past. Split leather plow shoes that you paid $1.50 for last year we now sell you at $1.25, and the best quality top sole split leather shoe that used to cost you $1.75 goes back to the old price, $1.50. Women's $1.50 Kangaroo calf shoes we now sell at $1.35. Women's comfortable common sense oxfords in the old ladies' comfort style at $1.10, $1.35 and $1.50. Ladies' tan oxfords at $1.60, $1.75, $2 and $2.25. Men's "Sunday" shoes, cheap but good, at only $1.50 once more. People like our way of selling shoes, that is, to give you money back without any "arguifin" if you don't like the shoes when you get home, and to "make good" every guarantee under all circumstances. Folks who know say this store is the best place in town to buy shoes.
