PRESBYTERIAN GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

Much Business Being Transacted by Supreme Legislative Body of the Church —Aggressive Forward Movement in Missions.

The General Assembly of the Southern Presbyterian Church, the supreme legislative body of the denomination and one of the world's great deliberative religious bodies, convened in the last Presbyterian church of this city Thursday and will remain in session during the approaching Sunday. The body was called to order by Rev. J. R. Howerton, D. D., of Lexington, Va., the retiring moderator, who preached the opening sermon. Rev. W. W. Moore, D. D., president of Union Theological Seminary, Richmond, Va., was elected moderator. Rev. E. M. Craig, of Dothan, Ala., and R. B. Eggleston, of Richmond, Va., were elected temporary clerks. Rev. T. H. Law, D. D., of Spartanburg, S. C., is the permanent clerk, having held this position for a number of years.

The General Assembly has received a number of communications and overtures and has transacted a good deal of business of interest to the church at large. The prevailing sentiment of the commissioners is that the church is committed to a distinctively aggressive forward movement in home and foreign missions. The reports of these two branches of church work show what is being accomplished along this line.

MINISTERIAL EDUCATION.

The question of Ministerial Education and relief is another subject that is receiving much attention. The report of the executive committee shows that there was received from all sources for ministerial education, in the last year, $24,980; for ministerial relief, $31,451; and for the endowment fund of ministerial relief $44,206. The aggregate receipts were $100,588.

The need of additional ministers is shown by the following paragraph from the committee's report: "In our church are 1,050 organizations that have no one to lead them. Some of them are hard fields. Thoughtless ones might say they are unimportant.
In some of these from three to six must be grouped together, and with the aid of home mission funds, they can offer a support to about 200 pastors."

Continuing, the report says: "We are rendering aid to 240 candidates this year as against 223 last. The amount forwarded these was $24,365 as against $22,077 last year. This is the largest amount, by more than $2,000, that has been used in the history of the church in any year. This maximum amount of appropriation continues at $100 per year to each candidate who needs that amount. Of the 240 candidates enrolled, 95 are in the theological seminaries and 145 in the colleges."

"The manual adopted by the Assembly provides that any minister over 70 years of age, who is in need, and who has served the church for a period in the aggregate not less than thirty years shall be entitled by such service to draw from the committee of ministerial relief an annual sum for his support without the necessity of being annually recommended therefor by the Presbytery. We have on this roll of honor during this year, 25 ministers whose average age is 77 years, and who have rendered an average term of service of 47 years. Of this 25, three have died during the year. None of those whom we assist received more than $400 last year."

The subject of negro evangelization consumed much of the time of the Assembly Saturday, many delegates participating in the discussion. The Assembly adopted the committee recommendations, approving the interest in the evangelization of the negro and coming conferences between white and negro ministers and establishing Sunday schools for the negroes under the direction of white teachers, etc.

The committee on the celebration of the four hundredth anniversary of John Calvin made a report, recommending that the day be celebrated by the Assembly at its next session, May, 1909. The committee recommended also that a memorial to John Calvin be erected at Montreux, in a building to cost $25,000 and to serve the purpose of the summer associations and the school it is hoped to erect there. It was stated that a subscription of 10 cents per capita within the church would raise the needed amount.

INFANT SALVATION.

Overtures were received from the Presbyteries of Brownwood and Bu-wannee requesting that a change be made in Section 3 of Chapter 10 of the Confession of Faith so as to make the meaning of that section, which refers to the election of those who die in infancy, perfectly clear to all Presbyterians and to those of all denominations.

An overture from the Synod of Alabama on this same subject recommended that two explanatory foot notes be appended to this section.

A lively discussion was precipitated by a motion made by Prof. C. Alphonso Smith, of the University of North Carolina, that the subject of "Calvin and Infant Salvation" be eliminated from the program for Calvin day at the next General Assembly. Prof.
Smith argued that it is hurtful to the church to keep up a discussion as to infant salvation and infant damnation.
He said it is a dead issue and thought the church had reached the point where it didn't care particularly what John Calvin believed upon the subject.
Professor Smith said that for a long time he did not think that John Calvin believed in infant damnation, but as a result of research he is convinced that Calvin believed this doctrine.

After considerable argument, the motion was lost by a vote of 38 to 55.

PROHIBITION.

At Monday's session a motion was made that a committee be appointed to express sympathy with the prohibition election in this state yesterday.
Objection made to such action, whereupon a motion was made that the Assembly not meet until 10 o'clock the following day, in order that members of the body might join in the prohibition movement in Greensboro. This was also objected to, and the matter was finally disposed of by reaffirming the resolutions adopted by the assembly of 1886 upon this subject. This decried the liquor evil, "and recommends to all our people the use of all legiti-mate means for its banishment from the land."

The pulpits of nearly all the Protestant churches in Greensboro were filled Sunday morning and evening by ministers attending the General Assembly.
A big missionary meeting for men was held at the First Presbyterian church at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Rev. Dr.
S. L. Morris, of Atlanta, secretary of the board of home missions, presided and short addresses were made by several ministers and laymen.

BIG PROHIBITION MAJORITY.

North Carolina Goes Dry by at Least 40,- 000—Guilford County's Majority May Reach 1,800.

The people of North Carolina yesterday voted for state prohibition by an overwhelming majority. Returns from 91 of the 98 counties indicate a majority of at least 40,000, and full official returns may give a majority of 50,000.
All the counties heard from gave prohibition majorities save the following:
New Hanover, Franklin, Durham, Orange, Wilkes, Martin, Person, Edgecombe, Stokes, Wake, Yadkin, Johnston and Onslow.

Alamance reports a prohibition majority of 1,092 and Randolph 1,500. Reids-ville went dry by 239, and the prohibitionists are claiming the county of Rockingham by a small majority.

The results in Winston-Salem and Salisbury were among the great surprises of the election, both places going for prohibition by big majorities.
The majority in Winston-Salem was 841 and in Forsyth county 1,568. Salisbury gave a majority of 126. Incomplete returns from Rowan county indicate a small majority for prohibition.

GUILFORD GIVES BIG MAJORITY.

Returns from 14 out of 27 precincts show a majority of 1,632 for prohibition in Guilford county. Greensboro went dry by 767 and High Point by 668. Complete returns may increase the majority in the county to 1,800. The vote by precincts that have reported is as follows:

Good for Everybody.

Mr. Norman R. Coulter, a prominent architect, in the Delbert Building, San Francisco, says: "I fully endorse all that has been said of Electric Bitters as a tonic medicine. It is good for everybody. It corrects stomach, liver and kidney disorders in a prompt and efficient manner and builds up the system." Electric Bitters is the best

STATE NORMAL COMMENCEMENT.

Year's Work Closes With Interesting Exercises—Graduating Class Numbers 47
—Annual Address by Superintendent Martin.

A recital by students of the music department Friday night marked the opening of the commencement exercises at the State Normal and Industrial College. The graduates in this department are: Miss Flintoff, Caswell county; Miss Rudisill, King's Mountain; Miss Mattie Williams, Greensboro and Miss Hattie Clement, Oxford. The recital was given by Misses Flintoff and Rudisill.

Saturday night was given over to meetings of the Adelpian and Corne-lian Literary Societies, each of which had prepared an interesting program.

The sermon to the graduating class was delivered Sunday morning at 11 o'clock by Rev. Dr. John E. White, of Atlanta. The sermon was one of power and eloquence, abounding in numerous practical illustrations. His discourse was an earnest and forceful appeal to the young graduates to conform their lives to God's will if they ever expected to exert any influence and be of any usefulness to the world about them.

Dr. White took for his text John 8:29:
"I do always those things that please Him." Every person, said the speaker, wants to succeed in life. All have ideals of some kind. He referred to the life of Christ as the life in which these ideals were the highest. Every man or woman should find out God's will for his or her life and then strive to do His will.

CORNERSTONE LAID.

Monday morning at 10.30 the cornerstone of the McIver Memorial building was laid with appropriate exercises by the North Carolina Grand Lodge of Masons. The six hundred students, visiting alumnae and former students, members of the faculty and over one hundred Masons, in addition to a number of visitors from the city and elsewhere were present. Grand Master S.
M. Gattis, of Hillsboro, called the Grand Lodge of Masons to order and announced that the first number on the program would be music, the students singing "America." This was followed by a prayer by Rev. Melton Clark, and Grand Master Gattis introduced Grand Treasurer Leo D. Hearty, of Raleigh, to deposit the documents in the box to be placed inside the cornerstone.

The Masons then went through their ritualistic work, applying the square, plumb and level to the cornerstone,
which was found to be true and was so declared. Wheat, wine and oil were poured upon it and the implements of construction were turned over by the Grand Master to Mr. C. C. Hook, supervising architect.

The audience joined in singing "The Old North State," and after a brief address read by the Grand Master the ceremonies closed with the benediction by Rev. Melton Clark.

CLASS DAY EXERCISES.

The class day exercises, always an interesting feature of commencement at this institution, were held Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock, beginning with an entertaining program rendered in the auditorium of the Students' building and concluding with the planting of ivy at the southwest corner of the college library and the presentation of the gift of the class of 1908 to the college.

Before the exercises the college orchestra, composed of students directed by Prof. C. J. Brockmann, rendered a number of pleasing selections, and to the strains of one number the members of the Freshmen class entered bearing the chain of ivy and violets which they placed upon the backs of the chairs on the stage to be occupied by the Seniors who marched in later, after the Freshmen had marched in single file from the stage to the seats directly in front of the stage.

REPRESENTATIVE ESSAYS.

A large audience was present Monday night to hear the reading of the representative essays. The exercises of the evening were in the hands of the senior class and were presided over by Miss Bright Ogburn, the president.
The first essay was read by Miss Hattie Clement, of Granville county,

JUDGE PRITCHARD TO NEGROES

Makes an Address Abounding in Sound Advice and Mature Wisdom.

The commencement of the Agricultural and Mechanical College for the colored race came to a close Thursday afternoon with exercises by the graduating class and the annual address by Judge Jeter C. Pritchard, of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals. The commodious assembly hall was filled with a large crowd of representative colored people, several members of the board of trustees and other white friends of the institution being present. An excellent program was rendered in a manner highly creditable alike to the students who participated and their trainers.

The exercises were opened with a chorus, "Oh Hail Us, Ye Free," after which Rev. J. G. Walker, pastor of the colored Presbyterian church, delivered an invocation. After a cornet solo, Beaton Baldwin, of the mechanical department, delivered an oration on "Why the Negro Should Be a Mechanic." He spoke exceedingly well and gave many sound reasons why every negro should learn some useful trade. "The Wise Use of Time" was the subject of the oration of Wylie W. Powell, a graduate of the English department. J. H. Smith, who graduated from the agricultural department, delivered an oration on "Why the Negro Should Remain on the Farm." He took the position that the colored man has been and should remain the most important factor in the agricultural life of the Southern states, maintaining that the negro who makes a good farmer of himself is accomplishing as much for his country and posterity as his brother who becomes a lawyer, teacher or a doctor.

It is not too much to say that the speeches of these three representatives of the graduating class would have reflected credit on any educational institution. The young men chose practical subjects and spoke in a manner which showed that they were interested in the matters they talked about.

President Dudley introduced the speaker of the occasion, Judge Pritchard, who delivered an address abounding in sound advice and mature wisdom. He complimented the negro race on the great progress it has made since emancipation, stressed the importance of moral and industrial training and made a strong plea to his hearers who are voters to cast their ballots for prohibition. He took a fall out of the recent social equality dinner in New York, saying the affair was a disgrace to both the white and colored people who participated. His statement that the white and colored man who advocates social equality does that which hurts the colored race most was received with vociferous applause. In urging the colored people to vote for prohibition, Judge Pritchard said the bar and stillhouse had done more than all other agencies combined to retard the progress of the colored race, and therefore the result of the approaching election affects the colored people more vitally than any other class of citizens.

Following Judge Pritchard's address, President Dudley awarded diplomas to the 17 members of the graduating class. In the course of his remarks President Dudley said the college reached the high-water mark of attendance during the past year, the number of students enrolled being 194. He was especially proud of the fact that the deportment of the students will compare favorably with that of the students of any other college. The scope of the work of the college is being extended gradually, and it is noteworthy that the colored people of North Carolina are taking a greater interest in the institution.

As an evidence of the high standard of the work of the college, it is of interest to note that Booker T. Washington has requested President Dudley to send him five graduates for the teaching force of Tuskegee Institute.

Married in Pittsburg.

A marriage of interest to a number of Guilford people was that of the Rev. A. G. Dixon, pastor of the Methodist Protestant church, at Henderson, and Miss Margaret M. Kuhn, the traveling secretary of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Protestant church. The marriage took place in Pittsburg, Pa., on the 16th inst., in the presence of some fifty of the North Carolina delegation who are in that city to attend the General Conference of the Methodist Protestant church.

Mrs. Dixon has visited this city and many towns in North Carolina, where she has made a fine impression both in her work in the interest of missions and in her personal fitness for the vows she has recently assumed.

No Use to Die.

"I have found out that there is no use to die of lung trouble as long as you can get Dr. King's New Discovery," says Mrs. J. P. White, of Rushboro, Pa. "I would not be alive today only for that wonderful medicine. It loosens up a cough quicker than anything else, and cures lung disease even after the case is pronounced hopeless." This most reliable remedy for coughs and colds, lagrippe, asthma, bronchitis and hoarseness, is sold under guarantee by all druggists. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

MISSIONARY REPORTS.

What the Southern Presbyterian Church is Doing in Home and Foreign Fields.

The report of the executive committee of foreign missions of the Southern Presbyterian church, submitted to the General Assembly now in session in this city, shows that during the past year there were more than 8,000 baptisms, nearly a third of this number being in the African missions. The receipts for the year were $23,878.64, nearly fifty thousand dollars more than for the preceding year. At the close of the year the treasury was still due for borrowed money $12,207.50, this deficit resulting from the financial panic. The report further recited the fact that the adoption by the last assembly of the Missionary platform, calling upon the churches to make the effort to bring their foreign missionary contributions up to the sum of $4 per member, has given a standard for those who have been engaged in the work of the forward movement, and has enabled them to bring a large number of churches visited by them to this standard.

Following is an extract from the report on home missions:

"The executive committee of home missions would hereby respectfully present its annual report, with grateful acknowledgment of the 'good hand of our God upon us,' as manifest in the continued prosperity of the work year after year. The receipts for the year amounted to $71,133.58, being less than the previous year by $3,680,565. This is the first year in seven that we have failed to show an increase over the previous year. Even this year, however, can scarcely be considered an exception, for the decrease has been only in legacies, which are $13,840,656 less than last year. Leaving out this item, there has been in reality an increase from the other sources of $10,160.10, and we believe an increase in interest throughout the church. Our chief element of rejoicing is in the spiritual prosperity of the work. It has been a year of steady ingathering, of expanding growth in new churches organized, and of strengthening our stakes. Doubtless this accounts for the fact that for two years in succession statistics show that the two larger Presbyterian bodies have led all denominations of the United States in the net increase of added membership."

The report showed that the amount of money handled during the year, $165,477.00, was the largest ever handled by the committee in one year.

Tired nerves, with that "no ambition" feeling that is commonly felt in spring or early summer, can be easily and quickly altered by taking what is known to druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. One will absolutely note a changed feeling within 48 hours after beginning to take the Restorative. The bowels get sluggish in the winter time, the circulation often slows up, the kidneys are inactive, and even the Heart in many cases grows decidedly weaker. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is recognized everywhere as a genuine tonic to these vital organs. It builds up and strengthens the worn out weakened nerves; it sharpens the failing appetite, and universally aids digestion. It always quickly brings renewed strength, life, vigor, and ambition. Try it and be convinced. Sold by Greensboro Drug Co.

Machinery Dealer Held for the Superior Court.

K. R. Baughman, manager of the Carolina Machinery Company, was given a hearing before Justice of the Peace Collins last week on the charge of having obtained $175 from T. A. May, of Elon College, by false and fraudulent representations. He was held for the June term of Guilford Superior court under a bond of $800.

Mr. May was the principal witness and testified that the defendant on January 1 of this year sold him an engine and boiler, defendant representing that he was the owner of both. The witness was told that the boiler was at Steadman, N. C., and was ready to be shipped. An investigation showed that the boiler did not belong to Mr. Baughman, but was the property of Deputy Revenue Collector Downing, who was also a witness. Mr. Baughman testified that he was negotiating with Mr. Downing for the purchase of the boiler when he sold it to Mr. May.

How to Keep Juice in a Pie.

Any one who has ever had the juice from an apple, rhubarb or other pie run all into the oven while baking knows just how annoying it is. I have overcome the difficulty by taking a strip of clean white cloth, about an inch wide and long enough to lap when put around the edge of the pie plate, wringing it out of hot water, doubling together lengthwise, and pinning tight around the edge of the plate. When the pie is baked, take off this rim, and you will find the juice in the pie instead of in the oven.—From Woman's Home Companion for June.

Many of the best people in Guilford county have learned by experience that this store is a good reliable place to buy shoes, dry goods and carpets and do all their trading in these lines here. We are especially strong in some lines of goods that are neglected by many houses these days, for instance in piece goods for making men's and boys' pants and suits. You can always find a good stock of these goods here, as well as plenty of goods for shirts, both for dress and work. Nice dress goods at prices you can afford to pay will be found here in the greatest variety of styles and colors. If you have not formed the profitable habit of buying here "get wise" and fall in line with the large number of your neighbors who trade here and have found this store all right year after year.

Pomona, Guilford County, N. C., March, 27th, 1908.

Mr. Sides,

Dear Sir:

I am thinking you would like to hear how I am getting along after using the new remedy you and Mr. Yates so kindly had me to use. After nearly four months of suffering with rheumatism and kidney complaint, and everything done for me which only relieved for the time being, I am now using the Band, which seemed to help me at once. At the time my feet, knees and hips were so swollen that I could not walk a step. As soon as I put it on there was a heating sensation all over my system, and in one week I was surprised that the swelling was going out, and I could sleep. In two weeks I could walk around the room, the third week I could go where I pleased. I feel stiff in my knees somewhat, but that is going out fast. You may think this is quick work, but it is nevertheless true. My family and neighbors will testify the same. They all know I have suffered all winter, and I feel very grateful to you both, for what this remedy has done for me, and will recommend it to all suffering as I have.

(Signed)

Respectfully yours, A. D. V. LEIGH.

Why don't you profit by the experience of others? Your family doctor is all right, and will do all he can for you, but he cannot cure that rheumatism. I have cured hundreds of hopeless cases with my wonderful Band, dozens of them right here in Greensboro, and in Guilford county.

RINGS TRUE ON ALL QUESTIONS.

A. L. Brooks Eminently Qualified to Represent Fifth District in Congress—Well Grounded in Faith of Democracy.

WINSTON SALEM JOURNAL.

HON. A. L. BROOKS.

Among the many prominent Democrats of North Carolina, and especially of the Fifth congressional district, none stands higher with the people than Hon. A. L. Brooks, of Greensboro, who is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for congress from this district. There is not a man in this section of North Carolina who is more prominently identified with the party's interests than the subject of this sketch. Mr. Brooks is making a most active canvass throughout the district. His Democracy cannot be questioned. He has been fighting in the Democratic ranks all his life, and has been unwavering in his principles as a party man.

Mr. Brooks is a native of Person county, but has spent most of his political life in Greensboro, and for the past ten years has been continuously elected to the important position of solicitor. That he has executed the trust reposed in him with fidelity and credit to himself as well as to the state is duly attested by the confidence reposed in him by his people, who have repeatedly voted for and elected him to the position he now occupies. He was honored by the Democrats of North Carolina by being elected as a national presidential elector in 1906, and canvassed with a horse and buggy the entire district.

Aside from being solicitor, Mr. Brooks has never sought political preferment at the hands of his party, but he has at all times been consistent and has worked untiringly for the best interests of Democracy.

The people who know him best declare that a better man or a more faithful Democrat cannot be selected to succeed the Hon. W. W. Kitchin, who has so ably represented the district in the national Congress for the past twelve years. He is thorough, capable and efficient, and will carry into the office, if elected, such experience as would well equip a man for the high and honorable position of member of the national house of representatives. His friends know him to be high-toned and honorable in all his dealings in both public and private life. He is intelligent, a man of high moral attainments, and well worthy of any confidence placed in him.

Mr. Brooks is outspoken in his principles opposing the great trusts and combinations of capital in whatever form they show themselves. Trusts which have grown powerful by destroying competition and producing conditions which enable them to put their own prices on the producers' products, and buy on the market where they alone are the bidders, and where alone they must sell, if at all, will find in him an uncompromising enemy. If elected to Congress, Mr. Brooks will always be found representing the people against corporate greed and will at all times be found advocating restrictive laws against the growth of trusts, and other inordinate and dangerous corporations of capital.

The South is entering upon an era of unprecedented development and prosperity, and North Carolina is keeping pace with the most favorable section of the entire South in this respect. The increase in population is rapidly multiplying, and the Fifth North Carolina congressional district, the largest, and by far the most important, as well as the most populous in the state, should be represented by a man who in every respect measures up to the highest standard of ability. The people of the district have such a man in the person of Mr. A. L. Brooks, who is absolutely sound on all public questions of the day. The people of the Fifth congressional district will make no mistake if they choose as their standard bearer Hon. A. L. Brooks. If nominated, he will leave no stone unturned to carry the district by the usual large majority. In fact, it will be his endeavor to increase it, and if an active canvass of the district will create a greater Democratic vote than in the past, the people may rest assured that everything will be done to gain the desired end. Mr. Brooks is a most active, energetic campaigner, and as a public speaker has few equals. He is a keen, logical reasoner, and is possessed of a most enviable degree of eloquence.

The Journal is pleased in its great industrial edition to note the announcement of Mr. Brooks, who is asking for the support of all loyal Democrats throughout the district.

Record of the Socialist Party.

Hartford Courant.

At Chicago, in the small hours of Saturday, after an absurd person from Missouri had spoken of Theodore Roosevelt as "the most despicable coward the world has ever known," the out-and-out Socialists nominated Eugene V. Debs for the Presidency. This is the third time; they nominated him in 1900 and again in 1904. Sixteen years ago—at the Presidential election of 1892—no out-and-out Socialist was running; the diluted Socialist, Simon Wing, got 21,164 votes. In 1896 no out-and-out Socialist was running; the diluted Socialist, Charles H. Matchett, got 36,274 votes. In 1900, eight years ago, Debs got 87,814 votes, and the Socialist-labor man (Malloney), of Massachusetts, 39,789. In 1904 four years ago, Debs got 402,283 votes, and the Socialist-labor man (Corrigan, of New York) 31,249. For students of political phenomena the count of the Debs ballots next November will have an interest of its own.

Gold Defended Silver on Charge of Stealing Brass.

Lexington North State.

A trial, unique in its nature, was held before Justice of the Peace Moyer last Tuesday. A man whose name is Silver, with others, was charged with the larceny of a lot of brass which it was claimed belonged to the Southern Railway Company. Mr. Silver was represented in the trial by Attorney Thomas J. Gold, of High Point. In other words, Silver was defended by Gold for stealing brass. This would be called by metallic experts as try-metalism. There was not sufficient evidence to hold him and Silver was made "free."

A Mineral Water that Defies Drugs

NATURE'S GREAT BLOOD TONIC

The recent drug exposures in this Country have proven to all that deadly poisons and stimulants lurk in many Patent Medicines. You never know when you might be taking some of that class.

Nature has made ample provision for restoring vigor and vitality to humanity, and the public, as well as doctors, resort to Natural Remedies, when all others have failed.

Are you troubled with Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Malaria, Kidney or Bladder Trouble, Chronic Diarrhoea or Dysentery, and above all, that dreadful disease Scrofula, which has almost baffled human skill, or Diseases peculiar to Females?

Piedmont-Bedford Concentrated Iron & Alum Water

Is Nature's Remedy for Nature's Ills. Yes, when you consider that disease comes from impoverished or run down conditions of the system, this Natural Mineral Water furnishes the system what it needs.

The analysis of this Water, shown on the bottle, tells you what Nature thinks you should take when sick, and the doctor who reads it will agree.

Do you think the grouping together in this Water of 17 different minerals, which are recognized by medical writers as most powerful blood tonics, could have been accidental? Reason answers, NO!

An 18-oz bottle of Piedmont-Bedford Concentrated Iron and Alum water contains all the minerals of 25 gallons of the average natural water—Then why buy a barrel of water when you can get a bottle of minerals at the trivial cost of one dollar. The dose is a teaspoonful in a glass of your own spring water.

How this Water acts upon the system is not clearly known. It is judged mainly by its works. It has cured all the diseases enumerated above, and many more, evidently through its action as a powerful BLOOD TONIC.

We have many valuable certificates, which we will be glad to mail, if you are interested.

TWO SUPREME COURT DECISIONS

Recently the Supreme court of North Carolina handed down an opinion holding that, under an act of the legislature of 1901, solicitors are entitled to a commission of 5 per cent. in sci. fa. cases instead of the fee of $4, which has been universally collected in North Carolina for a hundred years. A few designing people who didn't want A. L. Brooks to represent the Fifth District in Congress charged that he, in following a practice that had prevailed in the courts of North Carolina for a century, was guilty of a great wrong, and therefore was unworthy of receiving any further political honor at the hands of the people.

Monday the Supreme court handed down another decision—not in reference to fees, but a matter of more importance to all the people—taxes. This latest decision is to the effect that it is unlawful and unconstitutional in North Carolina to collect a poll tax in excess of $2. This means that the officers of the 87 counties in North Carolina, Guilford among the number, who have been collecting more than $2 for poll tax have violated, not a statute enacted by the legislature, but the constitution of the state. Of course the county officers who collected this excessive tax did so without knowledge of any violation of the law, but until the Supreme court spoke Solicitor Brooks and the other Solicitors of the state were not aware that they were exceeding the law in collecting fees in sci. fa. cases.

Will any one say that these officers of the state who have collected the unlawful poll tax are guilty of any wrong-doing?

A bill to regulate lobbying before Congress—not unlike a similar measure introduced at the last session of the North Carolina legislature—was introduced in the House of Representatives Monday by Congressman Bartholdt, of Missouri. The bill provides that every person who wishes to oppose or promote legislation, directly or indirectly, and who was retained for such purpose by some interested party, shall, before every session of Congress, file with the attorney general a description of his employment and his object, and the legislation he desires to influence. An individual who violates the proposed law shall be imprisoned not more than one year, or fined not more than $1,000, or both, while a corporation shall be fined not more than $1,000. Any corporation which fails to file a statement of its legislative expenses as required by the bill shall forfeit $100 per day for each day after the expiration of the two months given for filing.

The vote on the proposition in Saturday's Democratic convention indicates that there is a wide difference of opinion among Guilford Democrats as to the advisability of instructing for Bryan, and since the vote was so much closer than any one expected it to be, we cannot see how Guilford has strengthened her position in the Bryan column. No one seriously doubts that Bryan is to be the nominee for president, and had the resolution demanding instructions not been introduced Saturday, the impression would not have been created that there is so much anti-Bryan sentiment in this county.

Mr. Edwin L. Tate, who recently left Greensboro for Texas to engage in the newspaper business, has established the Dawson Herald, at Dawson, Navarro county. It is an attractive eight-page weekly paper, well arranged and neatly printed. The Herald gives every indication of being published in a live town. The Patriot trusts that fortune will smile on Mr. Tate in his new home.

Since the prohibition question in North Carolina has been settled by such a decisive majority, it is to be hoped that the agitation will cease for a time, at least. We have had enough of agitation and unrest.

The Patriot is glad to see the people of Guilford county becoming interested in the establishment of rural telephone lines. We hope to see the movement take shape and grow until every neighborhood in the county is liberally supplied with phones. The telephone is not only a convenience; it is a time saver and a money-saver, and it is as useful to the farmer as the town man. With a telephone in his house, the farmer with produce to sell can learn the price and make a sale before leaving home. Thus he knows what he is to receive for his produce and when he reaches town, he has only to make the delivery, saving himself the time and trouble of calling on a number of prospective purchasers. With macadamized roads, good schools, and a network of telephone lines throughout the county, Guilford would stand at the head of the procession.

During the progress of the investigation being made by the county school board much has been said by his political enemies with a purpose to serve of the money Solicitor Brooks was alleged to be due the school fund. When Superior court Clerk Clapp made a final settlement the other day for the period since he has been in office, an effort was made to create the impression that a part of the money paid into the school fund came from Solicitor Brooks, when, as a matter of fact, Mr. Brooks had nothing to do with the settlement and knew nothing about it. It is of passing interest to note that, instead of owing any department of the county government anything, there remains in the office of the clerk of the court, after the clerk's final settlement, the sum of $34 to the credit of Solicitor Brooks.

The prohibition majority in Guilford is larger than the most ardent friends of the measure had hoped for. Only yesterday morning the manager of the prohibition campaign, who had made careful estimates covering the county, expressed the hope that Guilford county would give prohibition a majority of 1,000. When the returns began to come in it was apparent that more prohibitionists had voted than had been counted on and that a great many "wet" people who had been expected to go to the polls remained at home.

The greatest political phenomenon in America today is the gentleman the Democrats will nominate for president in Denver in July. Despite the fact that so many leading men and newspapers of his party—and this is especially true in the South—either view Mr. Bryan with cool indifference or outright hostility, the Nebraskan today is as strong with the masses as he has been at any time in his career. The position he occupies is a remarkable demonstration of political strength, to say the least.

We are in receipt of a copy of the first number of the State Dispatch, a Republican weekly newspaper established at Burlington by the State Dispatch Publishing Company, with Banks E. Teague, president; E. S. W. Dameron, secretary; John R. Hoffman, editor and business manager, and Miss M. Florine Robertson, city editor. The first number presents a variety of local and other news, and the paper seems to be well patronized by the local advertisers.

The Patriot takes occasion to remind its Democratic readers in Rockingham and Caswell that they are expected to do their duty by Kitchen and Brooks in their primaries Saturday. We are assured that the sterling Democrats of these two counties will give a good account of themselves.

The Southern Publishers' Association, which held its annual meeting in Charlotte last week, honored itself in conferring the office of president upon Mr. J. P. Caldwell, editor of the Charlotte Observer, by far the ablest editorial writer on the Southern press. There is no better anywhere.

William R. Hearst, the bone and sinew of the Independence League, is going abroad for a few weeks, but says he will be back in time to organize his campaign and make a fight on Bryan. Might as well stay on the other side.

The Patriot hereby extends its condolence to the gentleman who has been advertising a Salisbury saloon for sale for the past few weeks.

The Pittsburg and Lake Erie road, one of the big coal-carrying lines, has placed a rush order for 2,000 steel coal cars, and declares that the greatest rush known to business in years will be on before the cars can be placed on the rails. The panic is becoming a reminiscence.

WITHDRAWS DIVORCE SUIT.

Evelyn Nesbit Thaw Withdraws Suit for Annulment of Marriage—Wants Financial Recompense.

New York, May 26.—Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, through her counsel, today withdrew the suit which she instituted some time ago or the annulment of her marriage to Harry K. Thaw. The motion for withdrawal was sanctioned by Referee Deyo, who had been appointed by the court to take testimony in the proceeding and the case was declared discontinued without costs to either party to the suit. Immediately following the dismissal of the action, Daniel O'Reilly, personal counsel for Mrs. Thaw, issued a statement in which he declared that Mrs. Thaw had been an unwilling party to the proceeding from the first. It was only because of pressure on the part of her husband's relatives that she had any part in such a proceeding, said Mr. O'Reilly, and that she withdrew the action because she believed her husband's present position demands her loyalty.

"There has been much apprehension as to Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw's action in first bringing application for an annulment and then subsequently discontinuing the same," said the statement. "Mrs. Thaw reluctantly made such an application in response to pressure brought by relatives of her husband; she withdraws from the action at this time because she believes her husband's present situation demands from her a loyalty to his interest and that it would not serve any good purpose to prove at a time when he is attempting to gain his liberty that he was insane when he married her. Especially is this true in the light of the unfortunate conclusion of the last proceedings."

Mr. O'Reilly declined to give the name of the relative who had brought persuasion to bear upon her to institute the proceedings for the annulment of the marriage.

Mr. O'Reilly was quoted as saying today that there had been no reconciliation between Harry K. Thaw and his wife and that Mrs. Evelyn Thaw wanted none. He added that Mrs. Evelyn Thaw thought she had a right to some financial recompense for the sacrifice she had made in Thaw's behalf. Mr. O'Reilly said that some step of that kind might be taken, but he would not indicate what form the movement would take.

Busy Days at Mint.

Philadelphia Telegraph. These are busy days at the mint. There are no signs of industrial depression in the big government building at Seventeenth and Spring Garden streets. The activity in that magnificent structure is due to the unusual coinage of gold. Since the panic, the New York assay office has sent over $50,000,000 in gold bullion to the Philadelphia mint to be coined.

Since the first of the current year the inflow of the glittering metal has been so great that it forced the officials of the mint to add more than forty women adjusters to that department. The mint turns out more than $500,000 daily, and within the last four months more than $70,000,000 have been coined, which exceeds the amount coined all last year by $20,000,000.

Mother of Girl Shoots Suitor.

Monroe, N. C., May 26.—Because William Luther, a popular young society man, persisted in his attentions to Miss Margaret Thomas, a school-girl of 15, against the protests of her mother, he was shot and seriously wounded by Mrs. Thomas. Luther's condition is not regarded as critical. Mrs. Thomas after repeated protests, declared she would shoot Luther if he did not desist coming to see her daughter. He came Sunday night and an angry scene ensued, the shooting following.

Destructive Storm in Chatham.

Siler City, May 24.—A destructive storm of wind, hail and rain visited this section Friday afternoon, doing considerable damage to wheat, corn and cotton. J. B. Paschal, who lives two miles southwest of here, has a 16-acre field of fine wheat totally destroyed. Nearly every farmer heard from in this section reports more or less damage. One farmer reports a number of half-grown chickens killed by the hail. It was the most terrific storm that has visited this section in several years.

JAMESTOWN HIGH SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT.

May 22nd brought to a close the first year's work of the Jamestown High School. Though beginning under a handicap—building being incomplete—the work of the school has been exceedingly gratifying and the educational interest and enthusiasm of the community has never been at a higher pitch. Everybody seems proud of the building, a magnificent one for a rural community, and delighted with prospects of the future. This spirit was most clearly manifest during the closing exercises that have just passed by the splendid crowds who attended, the large auditorium being full at each event and for the final occasion filled to overflowing.

The closing exercises began with a music recital on Saturday evening, the 23d, given by the music department under the direction of Miss Sallie D. Embrey, who has rendered most efficient services to the work. The splendid reception with which the recital met amply attests the appreciation of Jamestown people for her efforts.

On Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, the Rev. S. H. Hillard, of High Point, preached the annual sermon. Brother Hillard again endeared himself to the Jamestown people by preaching a sermon of power. The consensus of opinion was that never before had we a better and more impressive sermon preached to us.

But the greatest feature of the program was the annual literary address on Monday morning, the 25th. Though our program announced that the Hon. W. W. Kitchin, would deliver this address, it proved that he could not be present and Prof. W. H. Swift, of Greensboro, supplied, and by the unanimous decision of the large audience assembled, the supply could not possibly have been eclipsed had the regular speaker been present. Professor Swift is an orator as well as educator, and never was this fact more clearly demonstrated than upon this occasion. It was an educational address filled full of sound doctrine and at times arose to the highest flights of eloquence. It was a powerful speech and came straight from the shoulder. Prof. Swift closed with a few predictions for the future of North Carolina, and the predictions will and must come true.

Prof. Thomas R. Foust in his usual quaint and appropriate manner awarded the improvement medal given by the Lycærgian literary society to Wm. Reed Futrell, and the attendance prize to Miss Mary Elizabeth Briggs, with honorable mention of Miss O. Briggs and Mr. Wesley Parsons, neither of whom had missed a day. Miss O. Briggs having been tardy but once during the year and Mr. Parsons having come just two months after school had begun.

In the afternoon there was a baseball game, a basket ball game and also a band concert on the lawn. Every one seemed to enjoy themselves to the utmost and only retired from the grounds in time to return for the final event—the entertainment given by the pupils at 8 o'clock. The house was packed to its fullest capacity and all voted the closing feature a success.

The commencement exercises are over and now we wish to announce that our doors are wide open for the enrollment of your boys and girls the next term, which begins on September 7th. Every young man or woman, boy or girl, who can enter the high school department and who lives in the western half of the county is urged to make arrangements to be on hand. We shall be ready to take care of you, tuition free and board at a nominal cost.

Following is the commencement program in full:

RE-UNION AND BANQUET OF JEFFERSON ACADEMY STUDENTS.

The closing event of the annual commencement exercises at Jefferson Academy was the reunion and banquet of former students in the main building last Thursday night. Seventy-five students and their guests shared in the pleasure of the occasion. In addition to the faculty and former students, there were present two members of Professor Cobb's class at North Carolina College, this being the class of 1895. They were Rev. C. Brown Cox, of Burlington, and Mr. L. S. Shirey, of Mt. Pleasant. Four other members of the class were invited but could not be present.

The business meeting of the Old Students' Association was held in the auditorium at 9 o'clock and was presided over by President H. V. Cobb, who was re-elected. Miss Keturah Cobb was re-elected secretary-treasurer, and Mr. H. Lee Cranford was elected vice-president. The executive committee is composed of the president, secretary-treasurer, Prof. C. D. Cobb, Mr. Charles A. Hines and Mr. B. B. Slaughter. Miss Lessie Lindsey submitted the report of the constitution committee and the same was adopted.

The principal matter considered at the meeting was the establishment of a scholarship fund for worthy students, and fifty dollars was raised as a nucleus for this fund. The amount will be greatly increased by other contributions. This matter is in the hands of a permanent committee composed of Charles A. Hines, H. V. Cobb and O. W. Hines.

Following the business meeting of the association the members and visitors went to the banquet hall on the second floor, where from 10 to 12:30 o'clock the time was spent in enjoying the material and intellectual feasts. The crowd of young people was in its best spirits and presented a fine appearance gathered about the tables, which bore vases containing roses, carnations, ferns and other flowers. The banquet was served in three courses.

President Cobb was toastmaster, and gracefully presented the speakers of the evening. Those who spoke and their toasts were as follows:

"Old Students and What They are Doing," Miss Keturah Cobb.
"The Hesperians," Mr. Edgar T. Hines, Elon College.
"The Philalaethians," Miss Lessie Lindsey.
"The Faculty," Mr. Charles A. Hines, Greensboro.
"The Old Students," Mr. B. B. Slaughter, Burlington.
"The Present Students," Mr. P. B. Broeden, Greensboro.
"The Young Man in Business," Mr. D. C. Cobb, Greensboro.
"Tempus Fugit," Prof. C. D. Cobb.
"The Sky Pilot," the Rev. Mr. Pharr, Gibsonville.
"All Wool and a Yard Wide," Mr. L. S. Shirey, Mt. Pleasant.
"Comrades," Rev. C. Brown Cox, Burlington.

RE-UNION OF FORMER STUDENTS OF THOMPSON'S SCHOOL.

Siler City, May 26.—The students of Thompson's School, residing here are planning a big re-union from July 23d to 26th, of the old students of this once-famous school. Fifteen years ago Thompson's school was one of the leading preparatory schools of the State. Her students came from almost every county in the state, also from Virginia, South Carolina, Alabama, Louisiana, Pennsylvania and other states. At the head of this school was Prof. J. A. W. Thompson. He was a noted school man in this section of the State. Among his assistant instructors were such men as M. D. McNeill, at present pastor of the Presbyterian church at Cameron, Zeno H. Dixon, now head of the school at Yadkinville; Prof. R. P. Johnson, now superintendent of public instruction in Chatham county; Prof. W. S. Snipes, superintendent of the graded schools of Winston; Prof. N. E. Cox, at present connected with the school at Buies Creek; J. L. Griffin, clerk of the Superior court of Chatham county. The students are scattered over this and other states, many of them having attained prominence in their chosen profession and occupation. Something like twelve years ago the school was disbanded, and since that time there has been no meeting of the student body, and this movement was set on foot in order to bring the old students together once more.

It is a fine selection of books and all interested in good literature, especially the pupils of the school, should, and we believe will, make good use of them. The library will be open every Tuesday evening at 1 o'clock.

The Woman's Betterment Association, which has only been organized a short time, is doing excellent work. The association is planning for a lawn party sometime soon. All members are requested to be present Tuesday, June the 2d. All women, young ladies and girls interested in educational work are invited to come out and join and help to make the association a success. A large and attentive audience attended the temperance exercises given at the Methodist church Sunday night, the 17th. The exercises as a whole was exceptionally good, and did much to increase the cause of temperance in this vicinity. The five young ladies who participated in the contest deserve credit both for the fine selections and excellent delivery. Miss Maud Hunter was awarded the medal.

Tobacco Growers' Meeting in Danville.

Tobacco growers from the bright belt of Virginia and North Carolina are holding a meeting in Danville today to take an active part toward continuing the fight against the tobacco trusts who have inaugurated several years ago. The meeting is in pursuance to a call issued some weeks ago by the board of directors of the Mutual Protective Association of Bright Tobacco Growers of Virginia and North Carolina. The directors have decided to recommend to the farmers that they pool the entire crop of 1908 to be held at a price of fifteen cents per pound, and not to plant any tobacco for 1909.

Death of Mrs. D. C. Wright.

Kernersville News. Mrs. Wright, wife of Mr. D. C. Wright, section master here, died on last Monday afternoon at 6 o'clock and her remains carried to Summerfield for interment. #### Preacher and Dentist Drown.

The Farmer's Wife

Is very careful about her churn. She scalds it thoroughly after using, and gives it a sun bath to sweeten it. She knows that if her churn is sour it will taint the butter that is made in it. The stomach is a churn. In the stomach and digestive and nutritive tracts are performed processes which are almost exactly like the churning of butter. Is it not apparent then that if this stomach-churn is foul it makes foul all which is put into it?

The evil of a foul stomach is not alone the bad taste in the mouth and the foul breath caused by it, but the corruption of the pure current of blood and the dissemination of disease throughout the body. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes the sour and foul stomach sweet. It does for the stomach what the washing and sun bath do for the churn—absolutely removes every tainting or corrupting element. In this way it cures blotches, pimples, eruptions, scrofulous swellings, sores, or open eating ulcers and all humors or diseases arising from bad blood.

If you have bitter, nasty, foul taste in your mouth, coated tongue, foul breath, are weak and easily tired, feel depressed and despondent, have frequent headaches, dizzy attacks, gnawing or distressing in stomach, constipated or irregular bowels, sour or bitter risings after eating and poor appetite, these symptoms, or any considerable number of them, indicate that you are suffering from biliousness, torpid or lazy liver with the usual accompanying indigestion, or dyspepsia and their attendant derangements.

The best secrets known to medical science for the cure of the above symptoms and conditions, as attested by the writings of leading teachers and practitioners of all the several schools of medical practice, have been skillfully and harmoniously combined in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. That this is absolutely true will be readily proven to your satisfaction if you will but mail a postal card request to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for a free copy of his booklet of extracts from the standard medical authorities, giving the names of all the ingredients entering into his world-famed medicines and showing what the most eminent medical men of the age say of them.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL.

Presbyterian Laymen Elect Officers.

Before adjourning, the convention of Presbyterian laymen, which met in Greensboro last week prior to the General Assembly, elected the following officers:

Chas. A. Rowland, Athens, Ga., chairman; S. J. Cassels, Montgomery, Ala., vice chairman; Dr. M. McH. Hull, Atlanta, secretary; H. H. Hinton, Athens, Ga., treasurer.

It was decided to raise a budget of $10,000 for the coming year and to hold a general meeting for the entire church some time in February next. Already Memphis and Atlanta are contesting for this meeting.

Synodical meetings were ordered for Mississippi, Virginia and North Carolina on petition of the delegates from those states.

Final Settlement to be Made Soon.

The county board of education, which has been making an investigation of money due the school fund, in accordance with instructions issued by State Superintendent Joyner to all counties several months ago, expects to have the matter settled in a short while. Mr. Ernest Clapp has made a final settlement of all fines, forfeitures, etc., passing through the clerk's office during his administration, the amount being in the neighborhood of $1,900. Mr. John J. Nelson, the former clerk, has been engaged at work on the books in the office for several weeks and will make a settlement at the earliest possible moment. Mr. Nelson's final settlement has been delayed by reason of ill health.

Tax Payers, Take Notice.

This is to notify all persons who have not paid their 1907 taxes that I am now preparing to put the books out for collection, and when this is done cost will be added.

These taxes have been due since September last, and have been subject to levy since March 15th last, and I can not carry them any longer, as the county has made heavy demands upon me for large sums of money which I will be compelled to raise within a short time.

Come to the office at once and pay and save cost. B. E. JONES, Sheriff. May 19, 1908. 21 2t

Since the old Jersey "bos" came fresh there has been living in the writer's home. Before that for a couple of months it was just existing.

A plentiful sowing of beets or mangel wurtzels this spring will furnish a nourishing and succulent ration for the milch cows next fall and winter and one that they will greatly enjoy.

A slow rain of from one-half to three-quarters of an inch, which soaks into the ground as it falls, does more good than the three inches which comes down in buckets full in the average thunderstorm.

The thing that makes the bur oak a hard tree to transplant is also responsible for its standing more drought than many other varieties of trees—a taproot which goes down deep until it strikes a stratum of permanent moisture.

The broad gauge, patriotic citizen if he does not have a heavy load aboard will drive his team in the center of the newly graded road. It is very natural to leave this preliminary travel on a new road for the next fellow who comes along.

The blue grass pasture furnishes an almost ideal and properly balanced ration for stock. This is indicated not only by the relish with which they eat the grass, but the good it does them in the matter of growth or in milk or meat production.

It is questionable whether it pays to try to veal a calf that can only be fed a skim milk ration during the first three or four weeks. After this time the butter fat in the whole milk ration may be in part substituted by shelled corn and boiled flaxseed meal.

Unlike most other members of the clover family, alsike does well on wet soil. It should be sowed in late summer or early fall when the ground can be worked to the best advantage and when a maximum work shall have been done in the matter of killing weed seed in the soil.

Good feed, kind treatment and a reliably made cream separator are pretty sure to mean success with the dairy. Of course it is taken for granted in this statement that the members of the dairy herd have been tested and that only those that are paying their board bill are on hand.

It is due to the children in the home, but particularly to the good wife, whose view of the outdoor world is so often circumscribed by it, that the front yard should be utilized for something beside a chicken ranch or a hog lot. Hogs are all right in their place, but that is out back of the barn.

Some one has said that the forests of the country are one of nature's savings banks. Accepting this statement as substantially correct, it is fair to state that a whole lot of bank wrecking is going on in the suicidal and shortsighted forest policy which is being followed by the commercial interests of the country.

In the mammoth wheatfields of the Pacific coast states harvesting operations are done on a scale to correspond. A machine called the header and hauled by from twenty to sixty head of horses or an immense gasoline traction engine and cutting a swath fourteen feet in width heads, thrashes, cleans and sacks the grain in one process.

Very few enemies of the rose bed will be able to do it harm if it is given a thorough spraying every morning with the garden hose with the water under good pressure. Sprayed as often as this, the lice, slugs and other pests are not given time enough to prosecute their work, being unceremoniously knocked off by the force of the water.

Inasmuch as dirt is the common name for microbes and bacteria, the less dust and dirt there are at milking time the freer from germs of various kinds will the milk be. The most careful dairymen not only see that the back and sides are brushed carefully before milking, but that the udder and teats of the cow as well as the hands of the operator are carefully washed. These precautions simply mean clean milk and make possible a first class butter product.

While a good many fakes and swindlers are worked upon folks who are entirely unoffending and not to blame the vast majority are made possible because of the eagerness on the part of the victim to get something for nothing, or at least a good deal more than he has reason to expect as a return from a legitimate transaction. Where folks get taken in in this way they are entitled to no sympathy, as they merely get a dose of their own medicine in a slightly different form.

It is estimated that the dairymen of the state of Iowa alone lose annually $30,000,000 as a result of keeping unprofitable cows in their dairy herds and through not giving the cream that is produced the care which will produce the highest grade of butter.

Up to 1873 not more than $25,000 was invested in orange groves in California. As a result of the introduction of the navel orange in that year the industry has developed until today there is invested in the culture of this same navel orange $100,000,000 in California alone.

It is generally agreed that while the dairy type of steer will never make as good quality of beef as the strictly beef type, he will make more rapid gains than will the other, this because he comes from a type of cows whose digestive and assimilative powers are abnormally developed.

A lady friend who has tried it states that horseradish can be ground very nicely in the ordinary meat grinder. The roots are washed and scraped as much as is desirable and then put through the mill, the job being just as well done and attended with many less tears than in the old way.

While social standing and the possession of money may be factors in determining the amount of happiness that a young married couple will have as they go through life, it after all depends more largely upon themselves how much of happiness or misery will be theirs. They can make their life the one or the other largely as they choose.

The fellows who went into the egg deal extensively last summer and fall, buying eggs at a good stiff price, and whose corner this spring was knocked to smash by old Biddy with the fresh product before they had boosted the price to the desired level have learned somewhat of conservatism and are not bidding so fiercely on this year's stock of eggs. The financial flurry, too, may have had some part in preventing the speculators from realizing on their expectations.

Lemons, oranges and grape fruit (when obtained ripe) are not only delicious and greatly relished by the average person, but they are also most wholesome food products, their mild acids being a much needed tonic and cleanser of the system. Thousands of dollars have been spent by California fruit growers this spring in a general advertising of the merits of these fruits along the lines mentioned, and undoubtedly the sales have been greatly increased as a result.

As showing the ruthless and almost complete destruction of the white pine forests of northern Michigan and Wisconsin a Michigan editor recently told a representative of the American Forestry association that he had ridden in a canoe on the Au Sable river right through the heart of what was the white pine region, and not until the end of the second day was an expert on forest trees able to point out at a long distance a single white pine—the first they had encountered during the entire trip.

There seems to be something in the feminine mind that is constitutionally opposed to doing some kinds of work in an easy way. To illustrate, there's many a hardworking mother who still adheres to the laborious old chopping bowl for the preparation of her hash, mince and meat pies when a good meat grinder would do it in half the time and with half the effort. There are other good souls who will patiently drudge away on patchwork by hand and view as absolute domestic sacrifice the calling of a sewing machine into service for the doing of the same work.

While the average run of cows may give a maximum yield of milk at seven or eight years of age, there are frequently exceptions. A Jersey cow belonging to the writer that is thirteen years old this spring is giving more milk by a third than in any previous period of lactation. While conditions might be responsible in part, this would hardly seem sufficient to account for all the difference noted. Undoubtedly a large factor is that this spring there was an interval of nine weeks between milking periods, while in previous years there has seldom been more than four or five.

The other day on a drive into the country we noted a hawk, the large sized common kind, with wings outspread and almost motionless and stationary, scanning the meadow beneath him in search of food. While the object of the bird's keen vision was not in sight, he had likely spotted a gopher or mouse and was merely waiting for a good chance to pounce upon it from his position of vantage. Rather than being considered an enemy of the farmer, these hawks, together with many varieties of owls, should be more and more viewed as real friends of the farmer, orchardist and gardener.

It is not surprising that residents of the Mississippi valley states and those on the Atlantic seaboard, mindful of the meteorological tantrums of the weather clerk, which have resulted in the formation of ice half an inch thick nights when apple, peach, cherry and plum blossoms were in full bloom, sort of long to hike out to the Pacific coast, where a fellow can doff one suit of underclothing at night with a fair degree of assurance that he will not need two or three thicknesses of undergarments the next morning. The variety of weather above referred to is fine, but it is rather hard on a fellow's physical constitution and pretty tough on the fruit and garden truck.

OPPORTUNITIES IN THE EAST.

In a conversation which the writer had recently with a former resident of the state of New York, but who is at present in the employ of the United States government, the latter expressed it as his very decided opinion that with real estate property selling at present prices in the eastern states there was vastly better opportunity there for the home seeker who was willing to take up the fruit and dairy business or farming on a small scale than in any other part of the country. In reply to the question if it were not possible to make good money on the farms referred to he cited the case of the old home farm of thirty-seven acres in New York state, eighteen acres of which were some twenty-five years ago set to orchard. During the past ten years this tract of ground has given a return equal to 10 per cent on a valuation of $1,000 per acre. So much confidence has this gentleman in the possibilities to be found in eastern states that he but a few weeks ago turned down a flattering offer of a professorship in a leading agricultural college of the country to go back home and buy more land adjoining the home farm for the purpose of putting out more apple trees. Of course it goes without saying that many portions of the section of the country referred to are not suited to orchard growing, but there would seem to be opportunity for going into poultry or dairying as a substitute, and, while the returns would hardly be as large as in the case referred to, it is fair to assume that there would be a safe margin of profit.

A PROMISING NEW APPLE.

C. G. Patten of Charles City, Ia., who is today recognized as one of the leading horticulturists of the country and who won the Wilder medal at the Jamestown exposition for displaying the largest number of valuable varieties of apples originated by an exhibitor, has on his grounds a few trees of a new winter variety, the Silas Wilson, an apple of excellent quality, of which he has great hopes as a hardy variety, one that will be hardy in trunk and limb and particularly suited to climatic conditions found in the northern central states. The apple in question is a seedling of the Ben Davis, being produced from apples grown in an orchard in which rows of the Jonathan alternated with the Ben Davis. In apple race the new apple is more like its male than its female parent, is a trifle smaller than the Davis and has a quality which is but slightly inferior to the Jonathan, which is recognized as the standard of excellence among apple growers. Mr. Patten is propagating the Silas Wilson as rapidly as possible and hopes to be able to put the young trees on the market in the not distant future. With a fine quality and the much desired red color, ability to stand the severe winters of the northern states is the only requisite needed to make the new apple a boon to all northern apple growers.

DEEP PLANTING OF CORN.

Where the corn land is loose and mellow and the planter wheels sink to a considerable depth it is a very easy matter to get the seed corn in deeper than is really intended. When the weather is dry and this looseness of soil continues until the seed has germinated and has come out of the ground its being put in deep does not matter much, but if heavy rains come on, the planter tracks fill up and the earth packs down before the corn comes through the ground a pretty serious condition exists and one that is quite likely to materially reduce the stand. Because of the possibility that such conditions may ensue it is well to see to it that the corn is planted so that it will not be more than three inches deep after the field has been given a thorough dragging and the planter tracks have been leveled up.

A REASON FOR FANCY PRICES.

It is well for the eastern fruit grower to keep in mind that, while the Hood river valley apples fetch about twice or three times the price of the best New York fruit, the grower gives the orchard in which these apples are grown a care and attention that is nearly commensurate with the price. His orchard is often less than ten acres and seldom more than twenty, and this tract of land he gives almost continuous cultivation and spraying. At picking time the fruit is all "hand picked" in the exact meaning of the term, and each individual apple is wrapped as carefully as are the lemons and oranges of California. The exercise of every possible precaution, coupled with the marketing of only the most perfect fruit, insures a top notch price which gives a generous reward for the season's work.

HOW FAR APART.

In setting out the trees about the home, where their mission is that of ornament and shade rather than for windbreak purposes, it is a quite natural mistake to put them too near together, as it is difficult to imagine how wide they will spread with the growth of a dozen years. The elms should not be set closer than thirty feet, as is true also of the hard and soft maple, while the ash, box elder, hackberry and similar small and slow growing varieties may be planted at a distance of twenty-five feet from each other. Of course the trees of any of these varieties may be set twice as thick as it is intended they should finally stand, in which case the thinning should be done before the trees have become dwarfed or malformed as a result of growing too close together.

The little drama ended in two more acts, the first a severe curtain lecture and a strict quarantine until graduation day for the fair Juliet and the second a brief hospital scene for the disturbed Romeo, who had encountered the watchman's club at the foot of the ladder.

Miss Imogene of course was furious. Therefore she wrote quite a dozen letters to the afflicted martyr, which she succeeded in smuggling to him, expressing her sentiments in far warmer phrases than otherwise might have been justified by discretion or were justified by the facts of the case. She felt that her youthful heart—the dear Roderick's leg, to say nothing of his head—was broken irremediably, though the human heart requires a longer time to heal than fractured limb or cranium. But time cured both afflictions, and it came about in this wise:

A few days following his recovery Mr. Fitzgeorge left town between two trains. Many whisperings went around as to the cause of this precipitate departure, and many strange coincidences were noted. Among them was the somewhat prominent mention of a merchant's safe discovered the morning after his departure in a condition resembling Miss Imogene's broken heart. Of all this, however, Miss Chittendon knew nothing, and for many days she mourned. Of course dear Roderick knew nothing about the affair and only left Morristown because his leave of absence had expired or because he was angry at the residents or—but, whatever his reason, Miss Imogene was sure it was a good one. However that might be, from Mr. Fitzgeorge's point of view it was an imperative one.

With the lapse of time and with the advent of other objects of affection—as her Cornelius Van der Awe, for instance—this love passage was dropped from Miss Chittendon's memory, especially as she had never heard from the recreant Roderick until he was brought rudely to her recollection by the receipt that morning of a fateful letter. In this document Mr. Roderick Fitzgeorge advised her briefly that, owing to several unhappy circumstances, he was forced to leave for the far west and, being lightly supplied with funds, would be grateful if she could spare her devoted lover a hundred dollars for the journey.

In case she found it inconvenient he still had in his possession a dozen letters which would not look well if printed in the newspapers. In case she did find it convenient to make the loan, which, knowing her generous nature, her correspondent did not doubt, she was first to tie a piece of white string on the left post of the Renwick's front gate as a signal of assent, then open the library window at 3 o'clock on Friday night, when Mr. Fitzgeorge would enter, exchange her letters for the sum above mentioned and bid her an eternal farewell. If Miss Chittendon played him false—of which perish the thought—a friend had copies of said correspondence which would immediately be published, together with the garbled details of the former romance, a condition undesirable for a lady so widely known in the social world. The letter ended with the hope that Miss Chittendon was enjoying good health and spirits and that she might persuade herself to meet him on Friday, as requested.

To say that Miss Imogene was terrified would be putting it mildly. Her resulting condition bordered upon complete collapse, mental and physical.

"Oh, Harriet, Harriet!" she sobbed. "Whatever shall I do?" "My dear," returned her friend as she bathed the sufferer's temples with cologne, "it is perfectly simple. You need give yourself no uneasiness. Father will quietly put the matter in the hands of the police. We will then tie the white string on the gatepost, and when this wretch enters the library window he will find himself in the arms of our officers, and we will not only have the letters, but the man."

Miss Renwick's plan was based upon wisdom and sound common sense, yet to the frightened Miss Imogene it was the worst possible thing to do. She felt certain that if caught the man would put his threat into execution and expose the copies of her letters to the eager gaze of society. To prevent such a happening she would gladly pay five times the sum demanded. Therefore she decided hysterically that Harriet's plan was out of the question.

"Oh, Harriet, dear," she wailed, "you don't know how silly my letters were, and I'd go through anything to get them back again. Why, the pet names I called that creature—good gracious, Harriet—they were positively mushy!"

"What did you call him?" asked Miss Renwick, humorously interested in this phase of the romance.

"Roddie-poddykins was one," confessed the debutante, with a vivid blush. "Then there were a whole lot more like that and worse—really, darling, I'd rather not tell them even to you. I should die of shame if Mr. Van der Awe or Lord Croyland or any one knew."

Miss Renwick smiled, while the indiscreet Juliet went on tying her handkerchief into hard, wet knots.

"I've just got to see him, Harriet. I know I shall be just scared to death; but, no matter what you say, I'll not allow you to tell a single solitary soul, and if I'm found dead on the library floor in the morning nobody will care anyway—so there!"

The sufferer's state now became so alarming that her friend was forced to suggest another plan. It was against her better judgment, but something had to be done at once, for otherwise Miss Imogene would never be in a condition to act the part of the bird in the play that evening.

"Imogene," she said sternly, "stop crying this instant and listen to me. I believe you will do a very wrong thing in seeing Mr. Fitzgeorge in the middle of the night, but of course I have no right to interfere against your wishes. I am older than you, and I tell you candidly I don't like it. How much money have you with you?"

"Fifty dollars, and I'll give him jewelry enough to make up the balance."

"That won't be necessary. I'll lend you whatever you need, and if you still insist upon seeing the man I will go down with you."

In an instant more two very shaky little arms were twined about Miss Renwick's neck and a sobbing voice was pouring delirious thanks into her ears.

When the fear of creeping down a flight of dark stairs alone was eased by the thought of companionship the sentimental young lady began to view the affair in an entirely different light. It would be an adventure which appealed to her strongly. There would be no earthly danger, she argued, as each could be a protection to the other, while if the worst came to the worst their screams would quickly summon aid.

The more Miss Imogene thought of it the more excited she became, declaring finally that she would gladly pay $100—which somebody else had earned for her, by the way—just for the fun of the thing. She felt now that she had exaggerated the possibility of danger as the wretched, disgraced man was after money only and would go away instantly he had received it.

"Stop crying this instant and listen to me."

"You see," she explained, "he shows his intentions are not bad by his very letter. If he had asked me to meet him outside in the dark somewhere I shouldn't have dared, but coming here into the library, where we can call for assistance, shows that he means no harm."

"But suppose he should not come alone?" suggested Miss Harriet.

"But he will," the other continued. "Besides, you and I will stand in the door on the opposite side of the room, and the moment we see two men instead of one, why, then, dear, we'll just begin to scream 'Fire' or something like that, and then we can say we heard a noise and came down. Oh, Harriet, precious, do go and find a piece of white string!"

Miss Renwick was not convinced. She did not lack courage for a woman, nor had she any actual fear of this man, who was clearly an ordinary petty blackmailer who tried to make profit out of an innocent schoolgirl's foolish correspondence. She could not imagine any other motive for his coming, inasmuch as the library window would be opened by an inmate of the house and closed and locked again immediately after his departure. Yes, clearly it was blackmail, and if Imogene had her letters returned intact perhaps it was the easiest solution after all.

"What sort of a looking person is this Mr.—er—Roddie-poddykins?" she asked, with a smile.

"Now, please do not call him that," begged Miss Imogene. "It makes me feel like such a silly. Side face he is very handsome, you know, but full face—well, there is something the matter with one of his eyes."

"How do you mean?"

"Oh, I don't know," she answered doubtfully. "He is looking at you all the time, you understand, but his eye seems to be pointing somewhere else. I think they call it a cast."

"Oh," said Miss Renwick, "Uncle Michael told me never to trust a person with—with a cast in his eye!"

"Did he?" asked the debutante. "I wonder why. Oh, well, I'll never trust one—never again. Now, come on, precious, and let's tie the string on the gatepost!"

CHAPTER XVI.

UPON this eventful Friday, which might justly be termed "black" by the various persons connected with this narrative, two more gentlemen mentioned herein had occasion to use the telegraph lines vigorously.

The first was the Hon. Mr. Frank Kinwail, member of the upper house of the Texas legislature and chairman of the state improvement committee thereof. Contrary to Mr. Renwick's positive statement, the distinguished legislator had not gone back to Austin. Instead he had quietly stopped over in Washington, held close communication with several mighty officials, then wired frantically to his most trusted lieutenant, the vice chairman of the state improvement committee at Austin, in a cipher code. These communications were imperative orders concerning the passage of a certain deep water harbor bill.

The Hon. Mr. Kinwail while in New York had held several conferences of a delicate nature, including that luncheon at Sherry's and other meals of a similar character elsewhere, and now deemed it expedient to be far away from the capital of Texas during the passage of the said harbor bill; therefore he gave the matter absent treatment, so to speak, though his meek associates on the committee carried out their leader's instructions to the letter. They had enjoyed no dinners in New York, but they were confident in a certain hope of at least partaking of the dessert vicariously through Mr. Kinwail.

The other person interested in telegraphy was the heavy hearted Mr. B. Williams, himself en route for New York. Half a day before he reached Buffalo he received a dispatch from his son Richard, and for a quarter of an hour he was radiantly happy; then he received a second one couched in the same words, and it puzzled him, especially in the earnest warning to return to Texas at once and watch his harbor scheme. At Buffalo he received a sheet of yellow envelopes which resembled a pack of the poker hand, in that there were four of them—all of the same kind.

In highly ornate language the battling expressed his belief that a trick was being played on him by his enemies, so he left the train and sought the nearest telegraph office. His friend, Mr. Roger, had failed to state the name of the hospital in which the son lay dying, and Mr. B. Williams had not seen in the San Antonio papers the dispatch about his son, so the rather wired all the hospitals in New York for information and lost three hours' time in waiting for answers. He received a number of replies from various institutions, eight of which disclaimed all knowledge of the patient, while the ninth advised him that Mr. Richard Williams of San Antonio, Tex., was truly confined in St. Luke's hospital and that his condition was not so favorable, owing to an increase of fever. Bill Williams was convinced some crafty trick was being hatched, but he hoped later on to settle with the hen. Meanwhile, whatever happened, he must go to his boy. He sent one more telegram and then hastened to New York by the next train.

This telegram, addressed to Mr. Richard Williams, was received at St. Luke's hospital, and a pretty fresh checked nurse took it to Lord Croyland's room.

"A telegram, Mr. Williams. Shall I open it for you?"

"Please," said the earl, with the listless indifference of a very sick man. "I dare say it is some beastly business matter. Read it."

The girl complied, reading as follows:

Buffalo, N. Y.
Mr. Richard Williams, St. Luke's Hospital, New York:
Cheer up, Dickie. Will be with you tomorrow morning. DAD

Lord Croyland stared at the untorn young lady while he fumbled fruitlessly for his monocle among the folds of his nightshirt.

"Rott!" he observed in languid disgust. "Haven't got a dad, you know. Some silly ass is trying to come a cropper."

The nobleman then turned on his pillow and closed his eyes, while the fair attendant looked thoughtful, took the patient's temperature and made a memorandum to the effect that his mind had begun to wander.

Meanwhile matters at Irvington were dragging along unsatisfactorily. The last rehearsal of the play had resulted in a spirited quarrel between Miss Imogene and her dismal fiancé. Mr. Van der Awe was a champion of realism, even on the stage. He considered it the height of absurdity for a passionate lover to imprint kisses upon his adored one's theatrical wig near the region of her left ear.

"But, good gracious me," stormed the indignant bird, with a dangerous snap in her big blue eyes, "don't you have enough realism when we are alone? If you think I'm going to let you kiss me before all those people you are very much mistaken. Now, one more word and we'll leave out that part altogether, sir! No, don't speak to me! Don't come near me! I think you are perfectly hateful and ridiculous. How I was ever weak-minded enough to engage myself to you at all is more than I can understand. So don't tempt me!"

The argument had become somewhat one-sided, so the dismal one retreated from the field of action, crestfallen, but unconvinced on matters pertaining to realism. He was a practical young man, however, and decided to kiss the wig in the region of its wearer's left ear for the present. Later—ah!

Richard had made several desperate attempts at a tete-a-tete with Miss Harriet, but found her nervous, distrustful and unsympathetic to his advances. She acted as though some shadow of impending trouble lay upon her mind, so the Texan gave up in despair, took a short lesson in British etiquette from the much subdued Bills and then went for a solitary horseback ride.

Much longer, for troubles were gathering above him like Longfellow's soaring vultures, and he fancied he knew one sick and wounded bison that would shortly be pecked to pieces, hoof and hide. And yet, no matter what happened, he would brazen it out to the bitter end. If he could only win the girl before the inevitable crash, then nothing else would matter—noting!

Shortly after dinner the final preparations were made for the evening's entertainment. A tiny stage had been constructed at one end of the double drawing room and was provided with handsome plush curtains designed to slide upon a wire—when they worked properly, which was infrequent—which when opened revealed a dainty interior scene. The drawing room was arranged with chairs to accommodate the guests, who began to arrive shortly after dinner, and Restmore soon became a sparkle of lights and laughter. A gong announced the opening of the theater doors, and the audience crowded in, took their seats and waited with a flutter of excitement.

Mrs. Renwick had agreed to speak the prologue, but at the last moment her courage forsook her, and she vowed she would sink through the floor if forced to face her guests. Arguments and encouragements were alike in vain, so Richard was prevailed upon to take her place, which he did, scrambling through somehow, assisted by a British drawl and his ever faithful monocle. To judge by a flattering chorus of feminine approval, he made the hit of the evening, though in describing his stage fright afterward he used a most un-English simile.

"Pou my word," he confessed, "I felt as if I had swallowed a live jack rabbit that was trying to bolt eleven ways at once. Fancy!"

The play went off without a hitch, except for one trifling incident which came near spoiling it altogether. The dismal Mr. Van der Awe, true to his principles on realism, forgot about the wig and committed the indiscretion of kissing the bird plump upon her tempting lips, whereupon the ruffled Imogene gave him a most realistic box on the ears, forgot her lines and started in on an impromptu but spontaneous denunciation. This, in a measure, made Miss Renwick's subsequent part fall flat, but no one in the audience seemed to know the difference, while both the man and bird agreed afterward that it improved the play.

If Miss Renwick failed to be impressive in the great denunciation scene, the same could not be said of her personal appearance. She was dressed in an evening gown of soft, dull black, which brought out the snowy whiteness of her throat and arms. In her thick dark tresses a great tiara glowed and sparkled, rivaling, it seemed, the riviere of splendid gems about her neck, while at her breast blazed a mammoth brooch. Fashioned in the form of an eagle with outstretched wings, a shimmering blaze of light, the proud bird stood as an emblem of its country's wealth and daring, perched on the bosom of a princess of the free.

S.S.S. CURES RHEUMATISM

Every case of Rheumatism has its origin and its development in the blood. It is not a disease which is contracted like a cold, but it is in the blood and system before a pain is felt, and the changes in the weather or any physical irregularities, such as a spell of indigestion, bowel disturbance, etc., are merely the exciting causes producing the pains and aches, which are the natural symptoms of the disease. Rheumatism is caused by an excess of uric acid and other corrosive, irritating poisons in the blood, which are carried through the circulation to every part of the system. Every muscle, nerve, membrane, tissue and joint becomes saturated with these acids, irritating impurities, or coated with fine, insoluble caustic matter, and the sharp, piercing pains or the dull, constant aches are felt with every physical movement. When the blood is filled with uric acid poison, permanent relief cannot be expected from liniments, plasters, or other external treatment. Such measures give temporary relief, but in order to conquer Rheumatism and bring about a complete cure, the uric acid and other inflammatory matter must be expelled, and this cannot be done with external treatment. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism because it is a perfect and entirely vegetable blood purifier. It goes down into the circulation, neutralizes the acids, and dissolves the irritating deposits which are pressing on the sensitive nerves and tissues and producing pain, enriches the weak, sour blood, and removes every atom of impurity from the circulation. So instead of being a weak, sour stream, distributing uric acid to the different parts of the system, the blood is strong and healthy and therefore able to supply every muscle, nerve, bone and tissue with nourishment and strength. Then the inflammation and swelling subside, the pains and aches cease, and not only is Rheumatism permanently cured, but under the fine tonic effects of S. S. S. the entire general health is benefited and built up. In all forms of Rheumatism, whether acute or chronic, S. S. S. will be found a safe and reliable treatment. Special book on Rheumatism and any medical advice you desire will be furnished free.

Mr. D. F. McKinney, an aged citizen of the St. Keedale section, died at his home Sunday afternoon, after a long illness of Bright's disease. The funeral was held Monday afternoon and the remains interred in the burying ground at Elm Grove church. The deceased was 71 years of age and is survived by three daughters, two sisters—Mrs. Harriet Lee and Mrs. James Bea-son, and a brother—Mr. G. H. McKinney, of this city.

While out driving late Monday afternoon Mrs. R. E. Rogers was thrown from the buggy and seriously injured.
The horse turned out of Summit avenue and ran along the track of the Southern Railway to a point near the residence of Mr. W. C. Ogburn, where Mrs. Rogers was thrown out and the vehicle almost demolished. Mrs.
Rogers was removed to the residence of Mr. Ogburn, where she received medical attention.

A meeting of those interested in the establishment of a rural telephone line in that section will be held at Alabama Presbyterian church Saturday evening at 8 o'clock. A representative of the Bell Telephone Company is expected to be present to explain the proposition and give any information that may be desired on the subject. It is desired that every person in the community interested in the establishment of the proposed line will attend the meeting.

Mrs. Walter G. Lewis died at St.
Leo's hospital Saturday morning, following a surgical operation of a serious nature. The funeral was held from Centenary Methodist church, of which the deceased had been a faithful member since childhood, Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, the service being conducted by the pastor, Rev. A. T. Bell.
The deceased is survived by her hus-wants of all classes of the trade in his build up a large business.

Mr. C. E. Redman, of Pilot Mountain, musical director for the past year at Orange Grove Academy, of which Mr. J. F. Greason, of Brick Church, was principal, spent Sunday in Greensboro, leaving that night for Norfolk, Va., where yesterday he became bandmaster of the new battleship North Carolina, commanded by Lieut. Victor Blue. Mr. Redman was at one time a student at Oak Ridge Institute and led the band there. Later he spent two years at Bingham School, Mebane, as an instructor in music.

Within the next month another factory will be added to the enterprises of this city. The Automatic Bed Company, of Mebane, owned by Mr. H. C.
Creedon and Dr. T. D. Tyson, have given the contract for a factory to cost $5,000 to be erected on the east side of the Atlantic and Yadkin railroad, near the Cape Fear Manufacturing Company's plant. This factory will be southern headquarters for the American Bed Company, of Cincinnati, and will also manufacture davenport.
About 20 men will be employed.

Mr. J. A. Porter returned Monday from Havana and Santiago, Cuba, where three of his children are living,
and will spend the summer months here. Next week he will attend the commencement exercises of the State University, one of his sons, Mr. J.
Melville Porter, being a member of the graduating class. Within a fortnight the latter will go to Cuba to become a teacher. Mr. Porter stopped over in Florida a few days with his son Charles, whose health has been poor of late. He found him gaining rapidly in strength and weight.

Saturday afternoon the members of the Southern Presbyterian General As-joyed thoroughly. Informal addresses were made by Maj. Joseph M. Morehead, of this city; Judge F. B. Hutton, of Virginia, and Col. Bennett H.

Young, of Louisville, Ky. A subscription amounting to over $100 was taken for the erection of a monument over the grave of Rev. Dr. David Caldwell, whose subject was "The Educational Value of Travel." She was followed by Miss Ethel Brown, of Edgecombe county, who had for her subject, "The Immigrant Woman." Then the Glee Club sang very effectively "I'll Away."

"Science in the Home" was the subject of Miss Edna Forney's essay and Miss Elvira Foust, of Chatham county, discussed "The Value of a College Education to Women." Next on the program was a number by the Glee Club, entitled "Oh Spring Time, Come."

Miss Rena Gray Lassiter, of Wake county, had for her subject "A North Carolina Poet." This was a study of the life and work of the late John Charles McNeill, and the essay made a splendid impression upon the audience. The last essay on the program was that of Miss Frances Wright, of Macon county, and her subject was "Education of Woman in Japan," but on account of illness she did not read her paper.

The orchestra rendered an overture,
"The Caliph of Bagdad," at the conclusion of the reading of the essays.
The orchestra rendered other music
during the evening which was enjoyed.
Prof. Foust made some announcements and the exercises closed with a class song. A prize is annually given by Dr. W. T. Whitsett, president of Whitsett Institute, for the best essay.
This year the prize is a beautiful set of Shakespeare bound in limp leather. It was awarded to Miss Elvira Foust, of Chatham county.

GRADUATING EXERCISES.

The exercises of the graduating class were held yesterday morning at 11 o'clock, when the annual address was delivered, diplomas awarded, distinctions announced, etc. The address was delivered by Mr. O. B. Martin, of Columbia, superintendent of public instruction in South Carolina, who was introduced by State Superintendent Joyner.

Mr. Martin spoke on "The Power of a Purposeful Life," making a plain, practical address along the lines best suited to the young women just entering upon their life. He urged the importance of singleness of purpose if one would accomplish the most good and get the most out of life. There was in the address much of encouragement and inspiration.

President Foust awarded diplomas to the 47 members of the graduating class in an appropriate talk. A copy of the constitution of North Carolina was presented to each of the graduates by Governor Glenn and a copy of the Bible by Rev. Dr. A. A. McGeachey, a member of the Southern Presbyterian General Assembly.

The commencement came to a close last night with the annual alumnae reunion. This was a most delightful affair and was attended by several hundred women.

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY CONVENTION.

Delegates Selected for State, Congressional and Judicial Conventions—Fight Over Resolution Instructing for Bryan.

The Guilford Democratic county convention, for the selection of delegates to the state, congressional and judicial conventions, was held in this city Saturday and was one of the most enthusiastic and largely attended conventions that has assembled here in a long while. Every one of the 27 precincts in the county was represented.

The biggest fight of the convention was over the adoption of a resolution instructing the delegates to the state convention to vote for sending a delegation to the national convention instructed for Bryan. After much oratory, a viva-voce vote indicated that the resolution had been adopted by an overwhelming majority. When a roll-call was ordered, however, it was found that the majority was small, there being 60.57 votes for the resolution and 53.43 votes against it.

The High Point Democrats, who hate a dull time, brought along their usual differences and caused considerable diversion in a fight over the proposition as to whether a gentleman who fell from grace a few years ago and voted for Mr. J. Elwood Cox, a Republican, for county commissioner should be thrown out of the convention or allowed to take his seat as a delegate. The friends of the apostate won their fight. There was also a fight over who should go to Charlotte and cast Guilford's two votes for Horne for governor, the contest growing out of the fact that two men claimed the honor of being the original Horne man in this county.

CONVENTION ORGANIZED.

Mr. E. A. Brown, chairman of the county executive committee, called the convention to order at 11 o'clock and after an invocation by Rev. Melton Clark called on Mr. E. J. Justice to act as temporary chairman. In taking the chair Mr. Justice made a speech of a half hour's length on the great issues confronting the voters of the county. He rapped the Republican party sharply for its hypocrisy in dealing with the negro question and for the cowardly manner in which it is failing to meet squarely the great questions confronting the public today. He congratulated the Democratic party in North Carolina upon the high standard of the men who are before the party as candidates for office in the state and made a strong plea in favor of sending an instructed delegation to Denver.

Maj. Charles M. Stedman nominated for permanent chairman Mr. L. J. Brandt, mayor of Greensboro, who was elected by a unanimous vote. Mr. J. Leslie Abbott was the unanimous choice of the convention for permanent secretary. Mayor Brandt did not make a speech in taking the chair further than to thank the convention for the honor conferred upon him, after which he announced that the convention was ready to transact the business for which it had been called.

On motion the chairman appointed the following committee to compile the vote cast in the precinct primaries on the 16th: J. Leslie Abbott, E. A. Brown, W. S. Thompson, F. N. Taylor and Dr. M. F. Fox.

The following were appointed members of a committee to recommend delegates to the judicial, congressional and state conventions: Wescott Robertson, O. N. Richardson, D. P. Stern, A. Wayland Cooke and John N. Wilson.

THE FIRST FIREBRAND.

Immediately after these committees had been appointed, County Chairman Brown threw the first firebrand into the convention by offering a resolution renewing the allegiance of the Guilford Democrats to William J. Bryan and binding the Guilford delegates to the state convention to vote for sending an instructed Bryan delegation to Denver.

After Maj. Charles M. Stedman had seconded the resolution, ex-Sheriff Jordan was on his feet to oppose any such "cut-and-dried performance," saying he believed the Guilford Democrats would send men to Charlotte who would vote only for such delegates as could be trusted to do the right thing at Denver. Mr. W. E. Harrison endorsed ex-Sheriff Jordan's position, saying the resolution had no place in the convention. He was followed by ex-Judge R. C. Strudwick, who was strongly of the opinion that the Guilford Democrats would commit a grievous error if they failed to instruct for Bryan.

Mr. E. J. Justice made an impassioned appeal for the adoption of the resolution, saying it was both fair and wise to take the sentiment of the people in such a manner. He reviewed Bryan's career and made fun of Governor John Johnson's candidacy. He took a fall out of the Tammany leaders, referring in a sarcastic manner to Charles F. Murphy, "Fingey" Connors, Pat. McCarren and Jake Sheehan.

The attack on Tammany brought to the floor Mr. George T. Leach, of High Point, who resented the aspersions cast by Mr. Justice and reminded his hearers that the Tammany representatives in Congress had always voted for the South and that the organization did not know how to scratch a Democratic ticket.

Mr. R. R. King, who opposed the Bryan instructions, pleaded that the convention take no action calculated to stifle the free action of the Democrats in Charlotte and Denver.

Mr. W. E. Harrison offered as a substitute that the vote on the resolution be taken by precincts and that the vote be recorded and certified to the state convention. His substitute was voted down, and, by what appeared to be a well-nigh unanimous vote, the resolution was adopted by a viva-voce vote.

When the result had been announced, Mr. R. R. King demanded a roll-call, and when this was had it was found that the Bryan men had shouted louder than they voted, the vote standing 60.57 for and 53.43 against the adoption of the resolution. Mr. King asked that the delegates to the state convention be instructed to cast the vote on the proposition in proportion to the vote of the county convention, but the convention refused to agree with him. He then entered a protest in behalf of the minority and requested that the same be made a matter of record.

HIGH POINTERS GET GAY.

The convention was about to proceed to the selection of delegates when a motion was made to seat Mr. F. M. Pickett, of High Point, who held the proxy of a delegate who was unable to be present. This motion set the High Point delegates by the ears, and immediately several gentlemen were on the floor demanding recognition. Mr. Robert Brockett, chairman of the executive committee in North High Point precinct, opposed the seating of Mr. Pickett on the ground that he was not a loyal Democrat, since, several years ago, he had voted for a man on the Republican ticket. Dr. W. G. Bradshaw explained that Mr. Pickett's fall from grace was due to the fact that he had voted for a friend and neighbor, Mr. J. Elwood Cox, who at one time was a candidate on the Republican ticket in this county for the office of county commissioner. He cited the fact that, in all other matters, Mr. Pickett had been a regular Democrat always, and he did not think the gentleman should be cast into outer darkness for this one defection from the faith.

Dr. Bradshaw was supported by Mr. Fred N. Tate and Mr. R. R. King, and when a vote was taken the gentleman who had voted for a Republican for county commissioner was seated by a vote that was practically unanimous.

MINORITY REPORT FILED.

When the committee on the selection of delegates reported, Maj. Wescott Robertson, of High Point, filed a minority report, and in support of the same made a speech in support of the contention that High Point and the country precincts had been discriminated against in the selection of delegates to the state convention. He offered as a substitute to the report, a resolution to the effect that O. N. Richardson, of High Point, and ex-Judge T. J. Shaw, of Greensboro, be sent to the state convention as a delegate and alternate, respectively, for Mr. Craig. Mr. George T. Leach insisted that High Point be given her full representation of the Horne delegation and this precipitated a dispute as to who is the real Horne manager in Guilford. Before this momentous question was settled, the convention adopted the report of the committee, neglecting to vote on Major Robertson's minority resolution.

The convention adopted a resolution, offered by Mr. Thomas S. Beall, instructing the delegates to the judicial convention to use every means in their power to secure the nomination of Mr. F. P. Hobgood, Jr., for solicitor.

DIVISION OF COUNTY'S VOTE.

COMMENCEMENT AT GUILFORD.

Opened With Recital Saturday Night—Baccalaureate Sermon by Dr. Moore—Exercises of Graduating Class Today.

The commencement exercises of Guilford College, always of wide interest to a large number of people throughout this section, opened Saturday night with the graduating recital of Miss Marguerite Cartland, of Greensboro, a member of the graduating class of the department of music. The recital is pronounced one of the most delightful affairs of the kind ever witnessed at Guilford. The following programme was rendered in a most excellent and skillful manner:

1. (a) Spring Song, Oscar Wells; (b) "Sunset" (Lanier), Dudley Buck; (c) "Good Day, Marie," Pessard.
2. "Doan Ye Cry, Ma Honey, Glee Club.
3. German Classical Songs: (a) "With a Violet, Grieg; (b) "By Moonlight," Schumann; (c) "Who is Sylvia?" (Shakespeare) Schubert; (d) "Whither," Schubert.
4. Quartet: (a) "Far Away in the South," (b) "Kentucky Babe," Worth Anderson, Gurney Briggs, James Anderson, Julian White.
5. Songs by American Composers—(a) "At Parting," James Rogers; (b) "Ye Banks and Braes," (Burns) MacDowell; (c) "Twas April," Nevin.
6. "O'er Forest, O'er Mountain," Rossini; chorus with soprano solo.

BACCALAUREATE SERMON.

The baccalaureate sermon was delivered Sunday morning at 11 o'clock by Rev. W. W. Moore, D. D., president of Union Theological Seminary, Richmond, Va., and moderator of the Southern Presbyterian General Assembly. He chose as his theme, "Luke, the Beloved Physician," holding him up as the highest and most useful type of the followers of Jesus Christ.

After reading appropriate passages of scripture from St. Luke and the Acts of the Apostles, Dr. Moore began his discourse by saying that the doctor has through all ages held a place in the romance of the world and that the profession has furnished the noblest types of character to be found in history. Luke, said the speaker, was not only a learned and polished man, but at the same time he was a most painstaking and careful worker. This is shown by the fact that Luke recorded some parts of Christ's teachings not found in the works of the other evangelists, thus saving to the world many priceless treasures.

The speaker referred to "The Beloved Physician" as the Biblical type of the college-bred worker for Christ, the Biblical type of the college bred man—a model to be studied and followed in all matters of life work. Luke possessed a broad and catholic vision, his thought of humanity overlooking all earthly distinctions of class and caste.

Dr. Moore expressed the hope that some of the young students before him might conceive it to be their duty to follow the example of Luke and consecrate their lives and talents to the service of the Lord. He stressed especially the need of medical missionaries in heathen lands, saying this field offers great opportunities for doing good. Medical missionaries in heathen lands are now treating about 2,500,000 patients annually, and practically all the hospitals and medical dispensaries in heathen lands are operated by missionaries, and yet the work has only begun. The medical missionary is the instrument of saving thousands of lives that otherwise would be lost through ignorance and superstition. The medical missionary also opens a country for the gospel as no other agency can.

The preacher deplored the fact that, of late years, there has been an enormous decrease in the number of people consecrating themselves to the Christian ministry, and added: "This ought not to be so, and your college here, as a Christian institution, has a duty to perform. We must consider the demands of God's work. Is the object of the people of this country spiritual or material? I am no pessimist, but I fear the great majority of our people is bent on material things and that we are sinking into a low materialism. We must have a greater number of college people devoting their lives to spiritual and intellectual work."

The speaker stopped here to refer to the great increase of crime, divorce and other evils in the United States, quoting statistics not at all reassuring.

THE OLD HORSE.

He is no longer a beauty, is old Bill. He is knocked, as you can see, where he stands there obedient to your will. But fifteen years ago those legs were as neat and trim as those of any thoroughbred. They have been sagged in your service. With a pride in his going qualities you drove him pell-mell over hard roads and pavements. And you let him stand by the hour at a hitching rack while you dalled. Stamping in summer to keep off the flies and in winter to keep his blood in circulation, pounded over pavements, what wonder he is bowlegged now.

His old head droops. You remember when there was a lordly arch in that neck, "clothed with thunder." But you used the over-check, causing a painful tension of the flexor muscles of the neck, hindering full respiration and circulation of the blood and causing quick fatigue. Now he can hold his head up only for a short time.

Note the bunches of gray hair on Bill's back.

Those are saddle galls made by your hard riding and his willingness to go your gait. You forgot to put a blanket under the saddle when you hurried to ride for the doctor or to catch up with other fellows on road.

He is sweened also. You did that. The collar of one set of harness failed to fit Bill's shoulders, and the hames of another set were not adjusted as well as they ought to have been. The seasons were dry and dusty, and his shoulders were often sore, though Bill never complained!

And his eyes are bad. His normal angle of vision, as of all horses, is earthward, but you reined him up, causing eye strain. And you drove first with and then without blinders. Dust and lack of sunshade helped. And when Bill got a cinder or dust in his eye he never spoke about it and you didn't notice. You see, the animal simply couldn't wipe his eyes.

Blemishes?

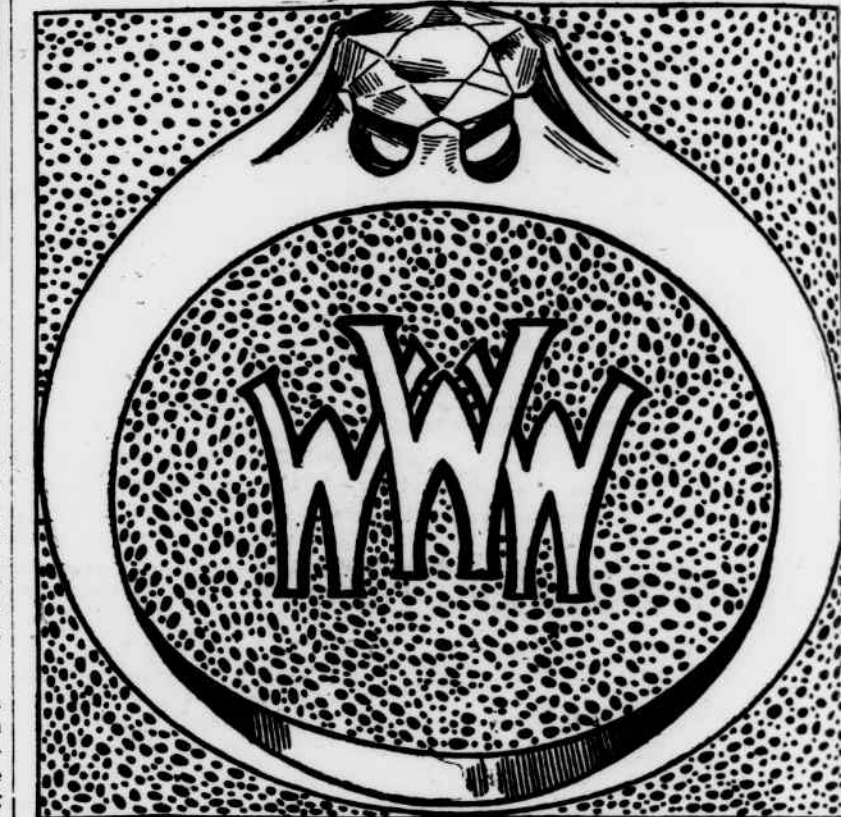

Plenty of them. Note the bumps and scars on old Bill's legs. There was a time when he interfered and you did not have him properly shod. Turned into a field in winter that was fenced with wire, he could scarcely exercise himself without injury. You held his head so abnormally high with your checkrein that he often stumbled when moving.

Some good in him yet? Of course. You have not quite succeeded in killing the faithful old fellow, and sometimes, when his digestion has been good and there is a level stretch of road, something of the old spirit gets into him. But it is pathetic to see how soon he is played out.

There he stands—old Bill. As he is, so you have made him. You have abused him, and he still loves you and whinnies at your approach. He will live for you and work for you till he dies.

Take good care of old Bill. It may go hard with you some day somewhere if you fail to do so.

25,000 MEN WANTED.

Paint Business Can Take Care of Them at Good Salaries.

The paint business of the country could employ 25,000 additional men tomorrow—not ordinary laborers, but young men of ambition and worth who are willing to climb.

But the paint factories cannot get them, says a writer in The Gateway. For that reason in every paint factory in the country the wages paid to employees are from 10 to 80 per cent. better than these in almost any other manufacturing industry.

A little over sixty years ago there was not a gallon machine made paint in the world. The 300 factories now in the country are making over 100,000,000 gallons of paint a year and the demand is increasing so rapidly that it is and will be for some time impossible to fill it.

In the paint factories today hustling young men are wanted in almost every line. If ordinary laborers, like most of those who are being discharged from other factories by the score, could be used in paint making the demand for labor would soon be filled.

But paint making has now developed into a science. Every large factory has its scientific department, where expert chemists are constantly at work discovering new things and improving old ones.

In a great many of the factories are now what are known as paint schools. In other words the company will take an energetic, ambitious young man who is desirous of learning the business and will send him through every department, having him work a certain time each day—and will, unusual as it may seem, pay him a good salary while he is receiving his paint education.

At the end of from six months to a year such a young man, if he has properly applied himself, will be receiving a salary of from $20 to $30 a week, and from that point it is possible for him to climb to almost any salary.

There must be no priggishness—no false pride—among paint makers. In a room of the mixing department there may be twenty or thirty men attending to the big paint mixers.

The workers are in overalls, they are paint stained and color stained—but in their way every one of them is a scientist, and the person you are talking to and who may appear to be a very ordinary young man, may be receiving as high as $40 a week.

The paint produced here must be just so. After mixing, it has to pass under the critical eyes of chemical experts, and if the man at the mixer has not done his duty the batch is condemned.

To make himself of unusual value—to make himself eligible for a position some day which will bring him anywhere from $3,000 to $5,000 a year, a young man should not only learn the mechanical parts of paint making—he should learn the whole business. But at the start he may choose almost any branch from that of the scientific departments.

Drank Chloroform for Liquor.

R. E. McKenzie, of Eastover, S. C., had a narrow escape from death Friday when he drank chloroform mixed with coca-cola. The occurrence took place at a school picnic. Dr. W. W. Ray, who was present at the picnic, had some whiskey along with some medicine stock in his buggy, and Mr. McKenzie was among those invited by the doctor to go and get a drink of whiskey. Instead of the whiskey, Mr. McKenzie got hold of chloroform in a beer bottle, and shortly after drinking coca-cola spiked with the stuff he became violently ill and went into a state of coma, from which Dr. Ray, assisted by another physician, had great difficulty in arousing him.

HOUSE SCORES LILLEY.

Adopts Scathing Report Submitted by Special Committee.

By a vote of 157 to 82, with 35 present or not voting, the House of Representatives last week adopted the report of the special committee which investigated the charges of Representative George L. Lilley, of Connecticut, in reference to the alleged use of corrupt legislative methods by the Electric Boat Company, builders of submarine torpedo boats.

It was a scathing report. Mr. Lilley's allegations against the company and members of Congress, as well as the press, were declared to be unfounded. The committee reported that he had acted in bad faith in presenting his charges, that the real object was to defeat appropriations for the Electric Boat Company, that he allowed himself to be used as an instrument of the Electric Boat Company's rival, that he was guilty of contempt of the House, and acted in contempt of the House, and that one charge made by him was false, and "Mr. Lilley knew that the charge was false when he made it."

When the committee's conclusion was read that "Mr. Lilley violated his obligation as a member of this House, in formulating and urging before this committee the groundless charge against Mr. Lind," the House broke out in applause.

The committee made no recommendation for the censure or expulsion of Mr. Lilley. Representative John Sharp Williams, the Democratic leader, suggested an explanation of this when he voiced the presumption that it was due to the fact that Mr. Lilley was sick and absent.

Thirty-two Miles in Air Ship.

New York, May 23.—That the Wright brothers made a flight of thirty-two miles in their airship at Manteo, N. C., became known today, when Wilbur Wright, who has been staying at the Park Avenue Hotel, declared that he and his brother Orville had at last solved the problem of aerial navigation.

Mr. Wright said today that the accident to their flying machine was only slight and could have been repaired at a cost of not more than $50. "As we were constantly watched by newspaper men, and had accomplished practically all we set out to do, we decided to come North," said he.

In their flights at Manteo the Wright brothers made three long ascensions. "The first time," said he, "we went up our airship traveled eighteen miles. Two days later we went twenty-four miles, and in our third attempt we traveled thirty-two miles at the rate of about forty miles an hour."

Woman Dies from Wounds.

High Point, May 23.—Cordelia Ferguson, the white woman stabbed by Will Jones last Sunday night, died this morning. The attending physician questioning her about the affair, she replied that Will Jones did the stabbing.

She was told that she was dying and called those around her and bade them goodbye, saying she was going to heaven.

Jones is in jail at Greensboro. The stabbing seems to have been done without provocation.

Governor Glenn Invited to Speak.

Washington, May 23.—The joint committee of representatives of all southern societies in Washington discussed plans for a Confederate memorial day at Arlington on June 7.

The unveiling of the southern cross will be an imposing ceremony, to be participated in by 50 young women, to be chosen from southern families resident in this city. Governor Glenn, of North Carolina, and Representative T. W. Sims, of Tennessee, will be asked to make addresses.

PRIEST STABBED IN CHURCH.

Demented Member Rushes Upon Priest as He is Leaving Church.

Salisbury, Mo., May 24.—In the presence of 400 worshippers, Father Joseph F. Lubeley, aged 33 years, pastor of St. Joseph's Catholic church, was stabbed twice with a pocket knife and perhaps fatally injured in church today, by Joseph Shuette, a farmer, who is believed to have become suddenly demented. A panic was narrowly averted among the communicants, many of them women.

Immediately after Father Lubeley had finished high mass today he started to leave the church. At the door Shuette rushed upon the priest from behind, and stabbing him twice, bore the pastor to the floor. The first blow from the knife struck the priest in the temple and the second cut a deep gash in the neck. The crazed man was about to stab the priest a third time when Mrs. Barbara Ginter and John Gates caught his uplifted hand. In the struggle which followed, Shuette stabbed Mrs. Ginter in the hand and inflicted a painful cut on Gates' arm. A dozen men ran to the aid of Mrs. Ginter and Gates and overpowered Shuette.

Shuette has been a devout member of St. Joseph's church. His attack on the priest has not been explained.

Randleman Young Woman Married in Winston.

Winston-Salem Journal. The marriage of Mr. Frederick J. Lassiter, of this city, and Miss Mayvour Collins, of Randleman, which took place very quietly Friday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at the home of Rev. A. L. Betts, who officiated, became known yesterday afternoon and the announcement came as a great surprise to Mr. Lassiter's friends here.

The bride is a popular and attractive young lady and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Collins, of Randleman. She is a graduate of the Greensboro Female College, where Mr. Lassiter first met her some three years ago. She has a large circle of friends throughout the state.

Miss Collins was visiting relatives in Greensboro and was met there by Mr. Lassiter. They decided to come to Winston-Salem and have the words spoken which made them man and wife and keep the matter quiet a day or so.

Bryan Calls It "Betrayal."

In speaking of the failure of the Pennsylvania Democratic State Convention to instruct for him for the presidential nomination, W. J. Bryan said:

"I appreciate very much the efforts of the Democrats who attempted to secure a resolution in the state convention in harmony with the vote of the Democrats at the primaries. The difference between the primaries and the state convention illustrates forcibly the necessity for primaries. When voters speak for themselves they say what they think and do what they please. When voters put their interests in the hands of uninstructed delegates they take chances in the delegates using the power for themselves and against the voters. It is just such betrayals of public trust that have led to the extension of the primary system."

Presbyterians in Council.

Kansas City, May 21.—Rev. Baxter P. Fullerton, of St. Louis, was elected moderator of the Presbyterian church in the United States today to succeed Rev. William H. Roberts, of Philadelphia, his election being by acclamation. In assuming the duties of moderator, Dr. Fullerton also became stated clerk of the assembly.

Dr. Fullerton belongs to the southern branch of the church, being the first moderator that branch has had since the amalgamation of the two churches.

PUBLICITY BILL PASSED.

Crumpacker Amendments Propose Reduction of Representation in South.

Washington, May 25.—Moving a suspension of the rules of the house, Mr. Crumpacker of Indiana asked for the consideration of the McCall bill requiring publicity of contributions to campaign funds. Mr. Crumpacker had submitted amendments providing against fraud and intimidation of members of Congress and proposing a reduction of the representation of states in which the franchise has been denied or abridged on account of color or race.

The 40 minutes' debate was concluded for the opposition by Mr. Williams of Mississippi and for the bill by Mr. Dalzell of Pennsylvania. The bill was passed 160 to 125, the announcement being received with mingled applause and hisses.

Commenting on the action of the house, Perry Belmont said:

"The passage of the house campaign publicity bill, with the Crumpacker amendment, is intended to kill the movement for the publication of campaign contributions in this election."

Governor Johnson in Virginia.

Governor John A. Johnson, of Minnesota, whose name is being mentioned in connection with the Democratic nomination for the presidency, made a speech in Richmond, Va., Thursday night before the American Cotton Manufacturers' Association. The Minnesota possibility was greeted by one of the largest audiences that ever assembled in Richmond to hear any candidate. People from all over Virginia had come to Richmond for the occasion. Nearly a third of the audience was composed of women. The auditorium was packed to its capacity long before the hour scheduled for the speaking.

The address dealt particularly with the cotton situation, the governor avoiding national politics. With considerable care he had prepared his address in advance, reading from notes. His only allusion to politics was when he explained with a humorous smile that since Alabama had advocated the cause of William J. Bryan there was little use in his saying anything more. The rally was greeted with laughter.

Liquor Licenses in Asheville.

Asheville, May 23.—That little matter of government liquor licenses held in Asheville—a dry town—has been settled. The government has not issued eighty-five licenses to Asheville people as has been charged. The number is fifty-seven. Of this fifty-seven, however, thirteen have been issued since January 1, when prohibition became effective and since only six drug stores hold licenses to sell whiskey on prescription it has been made plain—prima facie evidence—that there are several "blind tigers" here. None save licensed drug stores are permitted under law to sell spirituous, malt and vinous liquors, and since there are only six of these drug stores licensed by the city there remain at least seven licenses to be accounted for—issued since prohibition became effective. As a matter of fact there are at least eight to be accounted, inasmuch as one of the drug stores now holding a city license and a government license secured both before January 1.

Airship Injures Many.

Oakland, Cal., May 23.—A mammoth airship, on its trial trip in Berkeley today, rose 300 feet from the earth, in view of ten thousand spectators, tilted, burst and dropped to the ground with its crew of sixteen men, everyone of whom was injured. With the possible exception of one, all will recover. Seven were severely hurt, while nine were cut and bruised.

To relieve constipation, clean out the bowels, tone and strengthen the digestive organs, put them in a natural condition with Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea, the most reliable tonic for thirty years. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets. Howard Gardner.

Thomasville's Gain.

Asheboro Courier.

We regret exceedingly to lose as a citizen of Asheboro Mr. O. R. Cox, one of the county's leading and most prominent citizens. He has been identified with the industrial, moral and educational development of the county. He has moved to Thomasville, where he has bought considerable property. He goes to one of the best towns in North Carolina and among as good people as ever lived. While his conditions and surrounding may be more congenial for the lines of development along which he is devoting his time and his energies, yet we regret to lose a citizen whose lifetime has been spent with us so pleasantly and profitably both to himself and to the people.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

REGISTER OF DEEDS.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for Register of Deeds of Guilford county, subject to the action of the Democratic primaries. I have been a life-long Democrat, have served as County Commissioner for two terms, and my public record is well known to the people of the county. If I am elected to this office I shall do all in my power to serve the county faithfully, and to see that the work of the office is done in a thorough and business-like manner.

Trusting that I will receive the hearty support of the Democrats of the county, I am, Respectfully,

W. H. RANKIN.
Brown Summit, N. C., March 27, 1908.

I hereby announce that I am a candidate for re-election to the office of Register of Deeds of Guilford county, subject to the action of the Democratic primaries.

A. G. KIRKMAN.

TREASURER.

I hereby announce that I will be a candidate for the nomination for county Treasurer of Guilford county, subject to the action of the Democratic primary.

G. H. MCINNIS.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Treasurer of Guilford county, subject to the action of the Democratic primaries.

A. WEATHERLY.

I hereby announce that I am a candidate for re-election to the office of County Treasurer, subject to the action of the Democratic primaries.

J. W. MCNAIRY.

POLITICS AND POLITICIANS.

The South Carolina State Democratic convention adopted a resolution instructing the 18 delegates from that state to the national convention to vote first, last and all the time for the nomination of William J. Bryan for president.

The Democratic State convention of Missouri unanimously instructed for Bryan for president.

The Populists of Kansas have taken new courage and believe they can rebuild a new political party from Republicans who are dissatisfied with Taft and Democrats who are tired of Bryan. At Emporia, June 11, a state mass meeting will be held to start this new Populist movement and to declare for the national ticket. Other states are expected to join, and Nebraska, it is said, will. Gen. Coxey, of Ohio, will address the Emporia meeting. The call says 350,000 voters in the United States have pledged themselves in writing.

Mt. Airy Leader: The Kitchen-Brooks club, of this city, held an interesting meeting Monday night, and quite a number of the members attended. Fifty new members were added at this meeting, which now numbers nearly two hundred. J. A. Hadley is president and Editor J. E. Johnson secretary of the club, and the membership represents some of the best political element of this section.

Thus far 58 counties in North Carolina have held Democratic primaries and conventions, representing a total instructed vote for governor of 484, divided as follows: Craig, 236.58; Kitchen, 175.15; Horne, 72.38. There are 22 votes uninstructed. In the primaries held Saturday in the counties of Davie, Pamlico, Hyde, Duplin, Pender, Lee and Catawba Craig received 21.31, Kitchen 15.91 and Horne 6.78 votes.

Johnson Would Support Bryan.

Washington Cor. Charlotte Observer.

Considerable comment was made here today on answers given to similar questions put to Colonel Bryan and Governor Johnson by reporters. Had the Nebraskan been more frank and less brief, his friends should have been better pleased.

To the question, "If Mr. Bryan were nominated, would you support him?" Mr. Johnson said:

"If the Democratic party feels Mr. Bryan is the man most suited for the presidency, I shall gladly aid him in his campaign. Personally, I am in favor of any man whom the masses want. I will support Mr. Bryan, or any other Democrat who is nominated, for I want to see the Democracy carry the country."

"If he people believe I can get enough votes for election, I will gladly enter the fight. I am not a vigorous candidate but a receptive one. I am relying principally upon the masses for a decision."

"Will Mr. Bryan support me if I am nominated?" I can see no reason why he should not. I believe he will support any man selected by the party."

Asked if he would support the Minnesotan if nominated, Mr. Bryan again declared: "I think my record will answer that question."

This was not satisfactory. In 1892 Mr. Bryan supported General Weaver instead of the Democratic nominee. A direct answer would have been appreciated.

Rueff Jury Disagrees

San Francisco, May 21.—The jury in the bribery case against Abe Rueff, the former bootleg boss of Frisco, came in this afternoon, reported a disagreement, and was dismissed.

After being out forty-eight hours, and taking thirteen ballots, the jury stood six to six, as on the first ballot. Six men who refused to convict, held that the supervisors were accomplices of Rueff in the bootlegging, and therefore their testimony could not be accepted against the chief grafter.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

Copyright, 1908, by Edwin A. Nye.

HIRED GIRL, HIRED MAN.

Considerable fuss was recently made because an eastern millionaire has "stooped" to marry a hired girl living in Iowa.

Why? The girl must have graces and personal points or the millionaire would not have chosen her. And it is safe to say that morally she is his equal if not his superior.

There is no stooping about it. They were on a level, or, if anything, the hired girl was just a little above the millionaire.

All of us in America who amount to anything are hired people.

No doubt this millionaire is a hired man in charge of some big corporation. Roosevelt is a hired man.

And so are all our senators and congressmen and diplomats—servants in the pay of the people.

And, fellow citizens: One of the things that are the matter with this country is the growing tendency to look down on the man who works with his hands or the woman who works with her hands.

The tendency is devilish and dangerous.

Let us learn again that the hands that are scarred by honest toil bear wounds as honorable as those received in battle. The overalls and the gingham aprons of labor are as honorable as and vastly more useful than all the martial trappings and uniforms of war. Let us learn again that the doctrine of the dignity of labor is fundamental to the republic.

And so we say hurrah for the hired girl and the hired man, these two who loved each other for what they were and paid no attention to the accidents or fortunes!

Modern Christianity.

Boston Transcript.

The Christian religion, which in essence is the revelation of divine love to humanity, stands as the crown and climax of man's religious development. It carries within its healing and reconciling forces. It is a principle of growth, and shows its power of adaptation by absorbing all that is germane to its spirit out of its environment. Hence Christianity has a social as well as a personal message. It seeks so to mold all institutions that men may be enabled to realize their nature, to gain their rightful heritage. All slavery, moral and physical, are abolished. The enthusiasm of humanity creates missionary and reformer and philanthropist. Hence, too, the optimists that are so abundantly evident in modern life, and that amaze Oriental visitors to Christian lands. Today the criminal is being studied, that he may be reformed; the problem of poverty is attacked that it may be lightened; the insane, the sick, the wounded are appealed as they have never appealed to sympathy and the power to help. We are conscious that enormous though our evils are, we have the power to overcome them. Whence this incurable hopefulness? Only from the new sense of religion and its value that is taking possession of the general mind, and that is permeating all the higher thought of our time.

Taft Wanted to Dine With Negro.

Fayetteville, May 23.—City Solicitor N. A. Sinclair, who returned from Savannah last night, is authority for the following story:

In the train was Secretary of War William H. Taft, his attendants, two white men and a negro. The secretary ordered four covers laid on his table for dinner. As he and his three companions appeared in the dining car and were preparing to take their seats, the conductor of the train quietly informed Mr. Taft that in South Carolina, where the "Jim crow" laws are rather stringent, negroes are required to wait until all the whites on the train have completed their meal before they are allowed to eat.

The negro was forced to retire, in spite of the protests of Mr. Taft.

Strawberries Canned Without Cooking.

Have your jars perfectly clean and dry, then take equal parts of fresh berries and sugar, and mix and mash thoroughly. To accomplish this, take only a small quantity in a dish at a time, that you may be sure every berry is mashed. Put into the jars, and seal immediately, inverting the jar for a short time before putting away.

The work is easily and quickly done, as there is no heating. My berries canned in this way last summer kept perfectly and have preserved their delicious flavor unimpaired.

Strawberry shortcake equal to that of the summer has been an enjoyment whenever we wished through the winter.—From Woman's Home Companion for June.

Cruiser for Naval Militia.

Raleigh, May 23.—Official notice comes to the adjutant-general of the North Carolina National Guard from the United States navy department that the United States cruiser Prairie will be off Beaufort July 16 for the purpose of taking on board the six divisions of the North Carolina naval militia and conveying them to Chesapeake bay for the ten days' training aboard ship arranged for the naval militia along the South Atlantic coast. Orders in detail for the mobilization of the divisions at Beaufort to be taken aboard ship will be issued in due time.

CONGRESS' FLOOD OF BILLS.

All Records Have Been Broken During the Present Session.

Washington Dispatch to Brooklyn Eagle.

All records were broken at this session by the number of bills introduced, the total being 29,125. Of this number the members of the House introduced 22,035, and the Senators have to their credit 7,180. A great many of these are private pension bills, only a small percentage of which finally become laws. One hundred and fifteen bills and fifteen joint resolutions have been enacted into law. This includes seventeen omnibus pension bills.

What Speaker Cannon calls "the mill" has been pretty well choked with the would-be legislation that has been crammed into the hopper during the session. There have been bills of all varieties, shapes, and sizes, and asking for legislation to regulate nearly everything under the sun. Had all be passed it would have been a wonderful conglomerate mass that would have taken a century to straighten out. The Senators and Congressmen came to Washington last fall with their grips packed full of bills, and between 5,000 and 6,000 were introduced the first day.

During the first session of the Fifty-ninth Congress, which continued five weeks longer than the present session, only 9,518 bills were introduced in the House and 6,556 in the Senate. So one can see the wonderful increase of bills introduced this session. The executive business done by the Senate this year easily beats all previous records, being almost three times as much as was ever handled before at a long session. Up to date thirty-four treaties have been ratified and made public. A large number of these are arbitrary treaties, and it is said that only six more remain to be acted on by the upper branch of Congress.

Much of the put-over legislation will undoubtedly be discussed in the presidential campaign. Everything that did not receive final attention will still be alive when the short session opens next December. There are the proposed amendment to the Sherman law, the Brownsville case, the anti-injunction controversy, and the currency question, all themes that will be talked about by the stump speakers.

THE CONSTITUTION UPHELD.

Supreme Court Holds That Poll Tax Must Not Exceed $2.

The Supreme Court of North Carolina handed down an important opinion Monday holding that no county in the State can levy a poll tax in excess of $2. The case came up on appeal from Mecklenburg county. Justice Connor delivered the opinion of the court, without dissent, saying: "Pursuant to Section 1, Article 5, of the constitution, the state and county capitation tax shall never exceed $2 per head," and that pursuant to Section 2, Article 5, "the proceeds of the state and county capitation tax shall be applied to the purpose of education and to the support of the poor and to no other purpose. The counties may levy for ordinary current county expenses tax on property not to exceed double the amount of state tax, and this tax shall also provide for a poll tax, which, together with that levied by the state shall not exceed $2. That the counties may, for special purposes with the special approval of the legislature, levy a tax on property in excess of double the state tax, but no poll tax shall accompany this special tax. That the provision of Section 1, limiting the tax on $300 of property to the same amount as the poll tax, applies only to general taxes, levied for state and county purposes. That chapter 340, Acts of 1905, repealing all poll tax in Mecklenburg in excess of $2, is constitutional and valid, being declaratory of the constitution."

Revision by Protectionists.

New York Journal of Commerce.

What the work of tariff revisers of the Payne and Dingley type would amount to, if they were to have their own way, it is not difficult to gauge. It would not greatly hurt the trusts or any of the protected interests or perceptibly benefit anybody else. If the question can be kept out of the campaign or prevented from having effect in it, and the protectionist majority should emerge from the election without being seriously impaired, their kind of revision is what the tariff will get. If it should become an issue in the campaign in spite of standpatters, and the protectionists should lose their majority in the House altogether, why then this committee might be ready with its bill in December, and it might be put through at the regular session and so spike the guns of further revision until there is a radical change of sentiment and real tariff reformers can supersede revisers whose main purpose is to prevent revision.

WHITSETT ITEMS.

The commencement of Whitsett Institute for this year is over, and the anniversary exercises held in commemoration of the twentieth year of the school under its present management will pass into history as the most successful yet held here. Large crowds filled the chapel at every exercise, and on the closing day it is estimated that there were three or four thousand people on the grounds. The new catalogue which is just from the press shows an enrollment for this year exceeding two hundred and fifty, and the graduating classes were larger than for any previous year.

The annual sermon by Dr. J. L. Murphy, of Hickory, was an excellent effort. He took for his subject "An Inspiring Life," and his large congregation followed him with deep interest. The annual address by Dr. John L. White, of the First Baptist church, of Greensboro, was an able and eloquent one on "The Young Man in the Twentieth Century." This was Dr. White's first visit here, and he made a profound impression by his deep thought and eloquence.

The literary societies awarded their prizes as follows: Dialectic Society medal to E. M. Smith, Greensboro; Athenian Society medal to T. B. DeLoach, of Conway; Star Circle medal to Miss Iona Lewis, of Burlington. The senior orator's medal was won by F. W. G. Hammer, of High Point, who spoke on "Prohibition for North Carolina."

Prof. C. C. Barnhardt, who delivered the alumni address, chose as his subject "Constructive Citizenship," and made a most excellent and thoughtful address. Music for all the exercises was furnished by the Whitsett school of music and the Granite Silver cornet band.

About two hundred alumni were here from all parts of the state for the commencement this year, and by their presence added much to the occasion.

The entire faculty of this past year has been re-elected for the coming year, with the addition of one new member, and the fall term will open as usual on the last Wednesday in August, which for years has been the fixed custom. A dozen or more students will remain here during the vacation, and all indications point now to a fine attendance the coming year. The school takes much pride in its new annual catalogue and the fact that it is copyrighted shows that much care has been given to its preparation. It is an unusually beautiful specimen of the printer's and engraver's art, and is much in demand already.

A number of the visitors who came for commencement are still visiting friends. It would be a pleasure to give the names of many of the commencement visitors but the task is too great, as hundreds were here from widely scattered sections that it would take several columns to contain the names alone. Greensboro, Burlington, Graham, and all near by places sent large delegations. The number of visiting young ladies and of people from quite a distance, was larger than ever before, so all are satisfied to remember this as the school's twentieth year.

Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Clapp and Mr. Ernest Clapp, of Greensboro, were here the first of the week visiting.

Rev. A. S. Raper preached here Sunday morning, as usual. Among those from Greensboro who were here for commencement were noticed Sheriff B. E. Jones, County Treasurer J. W. McNary, Clerk of Superior Court Ernest Clapp, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Buck, W. G. Balsley, Rev. Sanford Peeler, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Jones, J. M. May, Carl Jones and scores of others.

The State school convention at St. Mark's church next Sunday, May 31st, will attract a large crowd. One or two of the speakers are from here. Nearly a dozen commencement visitors came from Northampton county this year, and Pitt and Greene were also well represented.

Ground was broken this morning for the new M. E. Church structure.

Mice Damage in Nevada.

Reno, Nev., May 24.—A horde of black mice, carrying destruction from field to field, has caused damage estimated by the officials of the department of agriculture at $250,000, in the Carson river valley.

The press of that part of the state reports that whole fields of alfalfa have been devastated, potato crops ruined, and shade trees even stripped of their leaves.

OAK RIDGE ITEMS.

Commencement was a success. The weather was fine and the crowd large.

Dr. Turrentine's sermon, and Mr. T. W. Bickett's address were both eloquent and easily the equals of anything in this line ever delivered here. A feature this year was the wonderfully eloquent alumni address delivered by Geo. A. Anderson, county superintendent of schools in Caswell. It swept the audience with it, in both laughter and tears.

The orator's medal, given by R. H. Brooks, Greensboro, was won this year by R. C. Warlick, Jacksonville, of the Phi. Society. The debater's medal was won by D. J. Walker, Caswell, of the Athenian society. The scholarship medal was won this year by A. D. Shore, of Shore, N. C.

Many visitors from all parts of the state were present here during the exercises, among them Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Holt, of Alexandria, Va., with their two bright sons; Mr. Wm. Farley, Roxboro; Mr. Hugh Womble, Goldston; Mr. Thomas Lambeth, Thomasville; Jas. V. Price and family, Madison, and a host of young ladies from Madison, Mt. #### NEGROES TO BE SENT.

Lily White Republicans of Louisiana Modify Views.

New Orleans, May 12.—The Lily White Republicans will send two negroes in their delegation to the Republican national convention. The delegation of the so-called Regular Republicans will consist of ten negroes and eight whites, one of the districts sending all negroes, being unable to get any white men to represent it.

The original plan of the Lily Whites was to send a solid white delegation, and this proclaimed previously during the campaign. J. N. Pharr, the Republican candidate for governor, who is also a delegate to the national convention, declared repeatedly that he would not go to the convention if there was a negro in it.

Get Warning from Washington.

The stage-at-large and six of the seven congressional districts elected all white delegates. The First district has just elected the two negroes. It is understood that the Lily Whites were warned from Washington, and it is said, by the President, that unless this was done, the delegation would be objected to, and not allowed seats in the convention. Yielding to compulsion, and much against their will, the negroes were named.

The action taken has caused confusion and discontent in the ranks of the Lily Whites. Mr. Pharr has announced that he will not go to the convention in the company of negroes or take his seat there in a delegation in which negroes are represented; and it is probable that a number of other delegates will take the same position, and the Republican party of Louisiana is likely to lose many white supporters in consequence of the action taken in the interests of Secretary Taft and President Roosevelt.

The convention adopted strong resolutions approving the course of the President, and pledging its support to Taft for the presidency.

Never, positively never poison your lungs. If you cough—even from a simple cold only—you should always heal, soothe, and ease the irritated bronchial tubes. Don't blindly suppress it with a stupefying poison. It's strange how some things finally come about. For twenty years Dr. Shoop has constantly warned people not to take cough mixtures or prescriptions containing Opium, Chloroform, or similar poisons. And now a little late though—Congress says "Put it on the label, if poisons are in your Cough Mixture." Good! Very good! Hereafter for this very reason mothers, and others, should insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. No poison marks on Dr. Shoop's labels—and none in the medicine, else it must be on the label. And it's not only safe, but it is said to be by those that know it best, a truly remarkable cough remedy. Take no chance then, particularly with your children. Insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Compare carefully the Dr. Shoop package with others and note the difference. No poison marks there! You can always be on the safe side by demanding

DEFEAT OF SHIP SUBSIDY.

Brings Pleasure to Democrats in Congress—Bureau of Mines Established—Talk of Southerner for Vice President. Correspondence of the Patriot.

Washington, May 25.—The defeat of the ship subsidy provision of the post-office appropriation bill caused the greatest excitement in the House. The outburst of wild applause following the announcement of the result of the vote was led by the solid Democratic side of the House and was heartily joined in by those Republicans who had voted "No." As a result, the post-office appropriation bill is returned to conference, but the advocates of the ship subsidy have not lost all hope. In the House last week a bill was passed establishing in the Department of the Interior a bureau of mines. A commissioner of mines is authorized and the bill provides that it shall be the duty of the bureau and its commissioner to promote and develop the mining industries of the United States; to make investigation of methods of mining, safety of miners, possible improvement of conditions, the treatment of ores, use of explosives and electricity, prevention of accidents, the values of mineral products, and markets for them. The bureau is to make reports of the work, investigations, and information obtained from time to time as the secretary of the department may direct, with the recommendations of the bureau.

In spite of the fact that the Southern leaders, as a class, do not like Bryan and would gladly rid themselves of his leadership, Democratic politicians in Washington declare that the South is for Bryan, and that these leaders who are so opposed to him fully realize that their constituents are for him, so that he has little to fear from them at the Denver convention. Quite a good deal is heard favorable to Governor Johnson, of Minnesota, but the belief is prevalent here that Bryan alone is favored by the great mass of the Democracy.

A bill has been passed by the Senate to prevent the desecration of the flag of the United States, with an amendment providing that its restrictions shall not apply to banners or flags carried by military or patriotic organizations authorized by law.

The Senate committee on foreign relations has voted to report favorably two treaties with Japan for the protection of American trademarks, patents and copyrights in Manchuria and Korea, and Japanese trademarks, patents and copyrights in the United States. The treaties were signed at the State Department last week by Assistant Secretary of State Bacon and Ambassador Takahira.

Prominent politicians here are discussing the movement inaugurated in New York city recently to urge the nomination of a Southern man on the Democratic ticket for the vice presidency. At this meeting it was decided that the time had come when it was necessary to disprove the theory that there was no presidential or vice presidential timber available south of the Mason and Dixon line. Such men as Senator Culberson, of Texas; Senator Daniel, of Virginia; ex-United States Senator Carmack, of Tennessee, and others have been considered, but it is understood that they will not permit their names to be used for a second place on the ticket.

Federal Judges Clash.

Macon, Ga., May 22.—A clash has developed between Federal Judge Newman of the northern district of Georgia in the matter of bankruptcy of Inman & Co., of Augusta. The place of business and most of the assets of the firm are in Judge Speer's district. The petition was filed in Judge Newman's court and he appointed the receiver. Judge Speer appointed Marshal George E. White, of his court, custodian of the assets in his territory. Marshal White called upon the receivers for the possession of the property. The receiver today applied to Judge Newman for instructions and Judge Newman made an order which asserts the jurisdiction of his court and notified Marshal White that he would consider judicially any application he might make to the court. Meanwhile Judge Speer is holding himself in reserve.

Bad Storm in Texas.

Austin, Texas, May 24.—A terrific wind and rain storm that at times developed into a tornado swept Texas from the Panhandle to the Gulf early today. The destruction to crops and vegetation, trees and shrubbery was the greatest reported in years. In numerous places houses were uplifted and small villages and hamlets in many instances were inundated by the terrific rainfall, which in the space of four hours reached seven inches in many sections. Austin was in the path of the worst of the storm and for hours the streets were impassable for either man or beast, electric light and telephone connections were disabled and many houses were unroofed. The agricultural sections of central and southern Texas have been immeasurably damaged according to general reports received here tonight.

Insurance Frauds Suspected.

The Reliance Life Insurance Company, of Pittsburgh, Pa., and two New York companies have begun a rigid investigation of deaths in and near Youngstown, Ohio, recently, and it is intimated that there may be some sensational arrests on the charge of murder. The bodies of Jacob O. Besore and of his son Jacob S. Besore, both of whom were heavily insured in the companies mentioned, have been disinterred and the stomachs examined. A great quantity of strychnine was found in the stomach of the son, while the report of the chemist on the stomach of the father will not be made until later, but it is understood that the poison in greater quantity was also found there. Another member of the Besore family, also heavily insured, died under peculiar circumstances a short time ago.

Weak women should read my "Book No. 4 For Women." It was written expressly for women who are not well. The Book No. 4 tells of Dr. Shoop's "Night Cure" and just how these soothing, healing, antiseptic suppositories can be successfully applied. ## MAE WOOD SENT TO JAIL.

Her Suit Against Senator Platt for Divorce Dismissed.

New York, May 21.—Mae C. Wood, whose suit for an absolute divorce from United States Senator Thomas C. Platt, of New York, has been on trial in the Supreme court here for several days, was committed to the Tombs prison late today after Justice O'Gorman had dismissed the complaint in her action and ordered her held in $5,000 bail on a charge of perjury.

The decision in Senator Platt's favor and the sudden and sensational end of the suit came after a day which the defense occupied largely with the introduction of expert and other testimony attacking the authenticity of the documents by which the plaintiff was seeking to establish her alleged marriage to Senator Platt. A handwriting expert testified that in his opinion the body of the letter in which Senator Platt was alleged to have admitted his relation as husband to the plaintiff was added after the Senator's signature had been affixed. More telling still for the defense was the deposition by engravers and stationers called by counsel for Senator Platt that the blank form upon which the alleged Platt-Wood marriage certificate was prepared, was not lithographed until three months after the date upon which the marriage of Miss Wood to Senator Platt was alleged to have taken place. Miss Wood was recalled to the stand in rebuttal. She was asked if, after hearing the testimony about the marriage certificate, she still reiterated that the defendant gave her the certificate as she previously testified.

The Boomerang Has Returned.

Speaking editorially of the victory of Solicitor Brooks in the congressional race in Guilford county, the Yanceyville Sentinel says: "This in the face of the fact that it was Holt's home county—that for years he has been training the thought and moulding the character of the boys of Guilford at his school at Oak Ridge, shows conclusively that the people of that good county have the utmost confidence in Mr. Brooks, and were determined to vindicate his character. It also shows how seriously a man may injure himself and his cause by endeavoring to pull down the character of his opponent—his own people have demonstrated this to Mr. Holt."

"We cannot understand why a man of Mr. Holt's learning and culture, and who has stood as one of our great educators, should have allowed himself to be used for the sole purpose of waging a bitter fight against Brooks in an effort to destroy his character. The boomerang cast has returned and the thrower is injured far more than the one thrown at."

"There seems no doubt but that Mr. Brooks will go in on the first ballot. Let Caswell come together and give him her solid vote."

Defends Tobacco Trust.

In the United States Circuit court in New York last week the defendants' attorneys began the presentation of their case in response to the government's petition seeking the dissolution of the American Tobacco Company with its allied concerns. The government alleges it exists in violation of the Wilson and Sherman laws, being an organization in restraint of trade.

Incidentally Junius Parker, of counsel for the defendants, called the court's attention to the fact that the word monopoly does not occur in either of these laws.

Mr. Parker said that the American Tobacco Company was neither immoral nor illegal in its organization or the conduct of its business, and asked therefore: What are you going to do about it?

Mr. Parker, in conclusion, said: "This case will be judged, as to whether the tendency and purposes are right, not whether some episodes may be criticised or condemned."

Buttercups Menace to Health.

Dr. Chalfante, a Philadelphia physician, whose recent declaration that many cases of so called measles are due to a poison contained in the common field buttercup attracted attention and resulted in the coming by the term "buttercup fever," is out with another statement, accusing the lowly flower. Dr. Chalfante declares that the buttercup is a menace to health and that it is probably the origin of cancer.

Dr. Chalfante named a lot of active poisons found in the buttercup besides an acid volatile acrid substance which produce inflammation at contact and when taken internally may cause death. He urges a law providing that all animals known to have eaten buttercups be quarantined and that the flowers in all pastures be destroyed with "government whitewash," a mixture of salt and limewater.

Making Bagging in Charlotte.

To most people in Charlotte and the whole state of North Carolina it will come as a direct surprise that a Charlotte concern has established a sufficient outfit to manufacture on small scale jute cotton bagging from the raw product which is being brought directly from Bombay, and in quantities sufficient to take care of the trade and patronage which they propose to cater to a wide section of territory. Such is the undertaking of H. A. Cook & Co., at their plant situated on the Southern railway and East Eighth street.

Dead Infant Resuscitated.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Cook, of Denton, Texas, was pronounced dead by a physician, after an attack of pneumonia. The child's uncle brought him to life while the undertaker was in the room. The boy is alive today and convalescent. The uncle, after protesting against the burial, proceeded to massage the body and applied cracked ice to the head and face.

CALL FOR JOHNSON.

Logical Standard Bearer of the Democracy.

APPEALS TO THE VOTERS.

In His Name and With the Great Cause Victory Is Assured to the Party of the People—Why Court Defeat?

Friends of Governor John A. Johnson of Minnesota have issued a letter and a pamphlet that together constitute an address to the Democrats of the country. Both make a strong appeal to Democrats everywhere to exert themselves to see that the Denver convention shall be a deliberate body that will look the field over and choose a candidate who, while representing modern Democracy, can win at the polls.

The letter, which is signed by Frederick B. Lynch, treasurer of the Minnesota Democratic state central committee, who has opened offices in the Grand Pacific hotel, Chicago, is as follows:

Dear Sir—You are a Democrat, and it is because you are a Democrat that this is addressed to you, with the feeling that you will exert yourself to give the party one of the greatest essentials to victory—a strong and acceptable candidate for the presidency.

The Democracy of the nation have for twelve years been losing ground, and the belief is general that under the old conditions defeat is certain. For months the party has been drifting toward an autocratic convention, where popular choice is to be subordinate to personal will.

Minnesota Democrats, feeling that party duty transcends individual interest, have had the courage to break away from the drift and nominate a candidate who if nominated can carry more states than any other living Democrat and who would be practically certain of election. Rebelling against the doctrine of despair, we take it for granted that there is no necessity for the ravens of defeat to perch on the banners of Democracy in 1908 simply because they did in 1896, 1900 and 1904.

Conditions industrially, financially and politically are such that we have this year the opportunity of a generation to win the presidency.

If you and the other Democratic leaders of the country will but respond to the invitation and the opportunity extended to you by the Democrats of Minnesota we can escape from the blighting tradition of defeat and rehabilitate the party and the nation by a great political victory next November.

There is still ample time to see that enough delegates are elected to the Denver convention to make that a deliberative Democratic body that will give the party new hope and new inspiration and a winning candidate. To this end we solicit your co-operation and will heartily welcome and consider any suggestions you may offer.

Let Us Try to Win.

Is it not the duty of every loyal Democrat desiring his party's success, if it can be had without the sacrifice of principle, to take judicious and comprehensive thought of the situation and exert himself to see that the delegates to the national convention at Denver July 7 shall go there unfettered by the dead hand of the past and prepared to consider calmly the political outlook and the chances of Democratic success and then with cool and careful judgment select a nominee who can win?

This is a Democratic year if the Democrats of the nation will but make it so.

Why postpone all hope of success and the beginning of the restoration of Democratic control for another four years?

Did Away With Passes.

In one of his messages Governor Johnson said: "If the public officers are not adequately compensated now for their services, fix the compensation to such an extent as to make it reasonable compensation and do away with the possibility of any officer becoming a beneficiary of the favor of corporations and by reason of gratuities being placed under some obligation to the corporation which extends the courtesy." * * * And urge most earnestly the early enactment of a law which will forever abolish the system in Minnesota." And it was done.

NO MORE EXPEDIENCY

Candidate Johnson Stands by the Written Law.

"Expediency Never Got a Nation Anything," He Says—Thomas Jefferson No Weather Vane—What the Democracy Should Do.

Governor Johnson was the principal speaker at the Jefferson day dinner in Louisville. He said in part:

"I realize, my friends, that on the grounds of expediency executives are sometimes prone to temptation to do things which are not justified by the written law of the country. I believe that the written law of the country has a majesty which compels the allegiance of every man who lives under the government, and I should like to see the time come in this country again when we were willing to abide by the constitutional forms of government and not be ruled by those expedients which change with the tides. I remember, in the history of Henry of Navarre, that plumed knight who led the hosts from one camp to another fighting for a sacred cause, when he became king of France, on the ground of expediency he renounced the old faith and took up a new which he had been fighting, and what became of the people by whom and with whom he had been fighting all the years of that turmoil and trouble? They disappeared, as the dew before the morning sun, and the Huguenot had to come to America to live.

"Expediency never got a nation anything; it never got a people anything; it never will get the Democratic party anything. When the Democratic party in its national convention plants its cause upon the ground of expediency and adopts a platform based on expediency it cannot win and it ought not to win. What we want today is to go before the people with a patriotic, manly declaration and ask for the concurrence of the people in that declaration. The Democratic party has not always been worthy of Thomas Jefferson, but he has, always been worthy of the Democratic party. He was worthy of it because he was not a weather vane in politics. He was there yesterday and tomorrow, and if the Democratic party is to build wisely and well it will stand by Thomas Jefferson and the things he stood for and abate the wrong wherever it might exist.

"I know it may be a long road to the victory which we all want to see come. If we have the patience to endure it, if we have the faith that ought to be in us and if we have the intrepidity which ought to be characteristic of a Democrat we will get there. I remember a few years ago that I stood with my wife overlooking Puget sound. I heard much of the place, and I wanted to see it first from the Mount Rainier side and then from the Mount Tacoma side. We went over there one of those misty days when the bay was overcast. We hadn't anything to do downtown, and we went and stood and looked from Mount Rainier. A half hour, an hour perhaps, had passed. We were about ready to give up and go back to town when suddenly the clouds began to separate. My wife said to me, 'There is the mountain.' I said: 'No, it is not in that direction. It is over here.' She said: 'You are mistaken. It is there. I said to the driver, 'Where is Mount Rainier?' He said, 'Over there.' I felt indorsed.

"Suddenly the clouds began to break away, the gloom disappeared, and the sun broke through and sent its slanting light down on the snow capped peaks of the Olympic mountains, 150 miles away. We saw the glory of heaven reflected upon the mountains of Olympus, and they were greater and better and brighter than those over yonder. If we shall stand long enough and look for the sunlight to shine through the clouds of gloom and do our share to lift the clouds, we will see the mountain of Olympus, and we will be able to get up there on the summit and look down into the caves of gloom where we once had lived, and we will see bright and glorious the heavenly triumph of the Democracy of a united nation."

JOHNSON THE MAN.

Minnesota's Virile Governor Qualified to Unite the Democracy.

John H. Tolan, a lawyer of Anacosta, Mont., a lifelong acquaintance and friend of Governor Johnson, writes in regard to the latter's candidacy:

"You are taking the proper steps. A campaign of education is what is needed to secure his nomination. Once let the American people get close to this man, learn his early history and struggles as I know them, feel his friendship as I have felt it, see his intense love and kindness for his fellow men as I have seen it, and no power on earth can deter them from placing him at the head of our federal government."

Mr. Tolan has summed up briefly one side of the great governor of Minnesota. He is a most lovable man—a man who makes friends of all whom he meets. In this respect, as in some others, he has been compared to Lincoln. Governor Johnson is a man of the people. Not even Lincoln came up from greater obscurity and greater poverty than the virile governor of Minnesota. He understands the people as perhaps no man in American public life since Lincoln has understood it—and the people understand him.

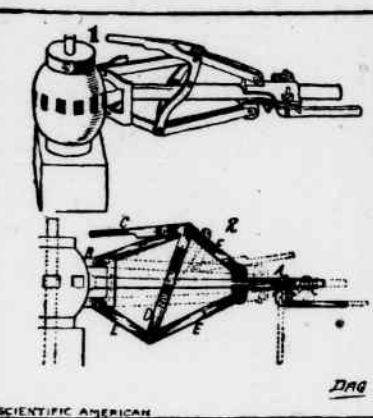

As a Democrat Governor Johnson appeals to the thoughtful members of his party, because he is pre-eminently qualified to unite and blend its discordant elements into a competent, enthusiastic, militant political force.

SPOKE PULLING DEVICE.

Machine Especially Adapted For Use by Wheelwrights.

Pictured in the accompanying illustration is a spoke puller, which should be found especially useful for wheelwrights and other mechanics, as it is arranged to enable them to quickly and conveniently pull out a checked, broken or otherwise defective spoke from the hub.

The device, shown in detail in Fig. 2, is adapted to slip over the end of the spoke and is provided with a clamp (A) by which it is made fast to the spoke. The opposite end of the device is formed with an abutment (B) which bears against the hub of the wheel. The abutment and the clamp are connected by means of toggle levers, which are operated by a handle (C) and connecting yoke (D). The yoke (D) is fulcrumed to the links (E) at their junction point, while the handle (C) is formed with a bifurcated head which is fulcrumed to the links (F). The head of the handle (C) is formed with a pair of angular extensions, which are connected to the free ends of the yoke (D).

It will be evident that when the handle (C) is pulled away from the hub of the wheel it will draw the toggle links (F and E) toward each other, as indicated by the dotted lines in the engraving. This serves to move the clamp (A) in a straight line away from the abutment (B) and draw the spoke out of the hub. The improved spoke puller may be applied to any spoke without interfering with the rest of the spokes. Furthermore, the double toggle action insures a powerful pull. Fig. 1 shows general view of apparatus. A patent on this improved spoke puller has just been granted to George L. Preston of Townville, Pa.

NEW PAPER PROCESS.

English Invention Renders It Oil and Water Proof.

A new process has been devised in England covering the manufacture of paper, which is both oil and water proof, by a method which is much cheaper and simpler and more effective than any at present in use, dispensing with the use of heated rooms, as now generally required. Furthermore, the complete manufacture takes place when the material passes only once through the machine. In this machine the paper passes over a size roller and two sets of polishing rollers, then over another size roller and two other sets of polishing rollers. All these rollers revolve in an opposite direction to that in which the paper moves. The paper is pressed on the rollers by means of light rollers revolving in forked bearings in the same direction as the paper. The paper then dries on its way from the polishing roller to the roll on which it is rolled up.

The invention provides both a preparation to make paper proof against water and oil and to render pictures, wall papers and similar printed matters washable. It is claimed that paper manufactured and prepared according to the new process is much cheaper than other products, free of any smell or taste or injurious influence.

Origin of Meteorites.

According to a prominent official engaged in astronomical work for the government at Washington, some of the meteorites that fall upon the earth possess a peculiar structure, indicating that they have been more than once in a molten condition. He concludes as a result of his studies of this class of meteorites that they came originally from a volcano situated in some distant part of space, but that before reaching the earth they were subjected to great heat which metamorphosed their structure. To explain this he suggests that in the course of their celestial journey they may have passed through the atmosphere of a sun or may have been fused through the sudden birth of a new and neighboring star. The heat developed during their fall through our atmosphere is not sufficient to explain the changes they have undergone.

Clover For Wastes.

On King island, formerly a barren sand heap rising above the sea between Tasmania and Australia, accident has given a suggestive lesson in the use of certain grasses for reclaiming arid wastes. A few years ago a shipwreck cast on shore some mattresses stuffed with yellow flowered clover, and a few seeds took root, causing a large area to become since covered with rich verdure. The power of clover and other leguminous plants to fertilize poor soil through their nitrogen absorbing bacteria is well known.

Testing Timber.

The soundness of a piece of timber can be ascertained by placing the ear close to one end of the log while another person delivers a succession of blows upon the opposite end. The vibration will indicate to an experienced ear the degree of soundness. If only a dull thud meets the ear, the timber is unsound.

RELIGIOUS THOUGHT.

Some Gleaned From the Teachings of All Denominations.

More democracy and more sincerity are needed in the churches to attract working men and women.—Rev. Charles Steele, Presbyterian, New York.

Why Men Keep Away From Church. Many men remain away from church not because light cannot be obtained, but because no light is desired.—Rev. A. P. Mihm, Baptist, Brooklyn.

God's Law.

Truth, virtue and righteousness, ever new and ever old, are as much the law of God in this complex age as they were in the old days of simple living.—Rabbi Emil G. Hirsch, Chicago.

What the Church Should Do.

The church must show itself a living, practical force, elevating and purifying society. It must prove itself in practical sympathy with suffering and sorrow.—Rev. J. D. Rankin, Presbyterian, Denver.

Lovers of Frivolity.

We are votaries of pleasure dancing up and down the wax floor until the head reels and the heart is sick and faint. We are fiddling away while the city of the soul is being burned in flames.—Rev. A. A. Lamy, Roman Catholic, Worcester, Mass.

Saves For a Purpose.

Christ never seeks a man just for the sake of getting him saved. He saves him for a purpose, and that purpose is the salvation of other men. "Follow me, and I will make you fishers of men."—Rev. Artemus J. Haynes, Congregationalist, New Haven.

What Christianity Consists Of.

Christianity does not consist wholly in worship of God and the singing of hymns. It consists of righteousness between man and man in daily life. It consists of mercy, charity, justice, kindness, square dealing and good works.—Rev. Warren G. Cartridge, Baptist, Pittsburg.

Humility.

Humility consists in a willingness in our greatness to stoop to the lowliest children of earth and lift up the fallen, comfort the sorrowing, strengthen the weak, to yield ourselves, as did Christ, willing sacrifices for our fellow men.—Rev. Dr. Dwight E. Marvin, Presbyterian, Brooklyn.

We Reap What We Sow.

Let no one, either, forget the warnings of this great truth. We sow here: we reap there. Here we make up life's record; there we are to be judged. God is moral. All life is under law. As life here is good or evil, such, blessed or woeful, will be the life beyond.—Rev. Julius B. Remensnyder, Lutheran, New York.

To Be Rich Without Money.

In the mad scramble for the vain pomp and the glittering tinsel of this world men sometimes forget that the only millionaires that God cares anything about are those of character. Christianity teaches how to be rich without money. It portrays a way of goodness and usefulness, leading to peace and joy.—Rev. T. E. Potterton, Episcopalian, Brooklyn.

Christ's Influence.

In the early days the influence of Jesus was explained according to the genius of that age. Today we must try to account for it in accordance with the genius of this age. They said it was due to his person—he was God. We say it was due to his character—he was the calmest and purest and most unselfish of mortals.—Rev. A. G. Singhs, Presbyterian, Providence, R. I.

The Privileged Classes.

The people of God are not the people God has chosen, but are the people that have chosen God. If God's choosing made men and women his people, then there were no bad men or any bad women in the world. God wants nobody outside the fold of goodness and the fold of love. But God has not his way in this world, though there comes a world in which he will, and the reason is that God must rely on the free choosing of the free souls of the free God. We talk about the privileged classes, and mainly we do not quite discriminate in our minds whom we mean, but the privileged classes are the people of God.—Rev. William A. Quayle, Methodist Episcopal, Chicago.

All Fullness in Christ.

The hope of the world is in him. To him we bring our burdens and perplexities. To him we come for comfort and strength. To be in vital relation to him is our highest privilege. Having him as our personal Lord and Master, we have life's highest prize. He is God's richest gift to the world. He is the clearest interpretation to humanity of the infinite wealth of life and wisdom and power of God. The divine heart beats in the bosom of Jesus. The divine voice speaks through his lips. The divine help is given through his service. The divine life is imparted through fellowship with him. The leadership of the world belongs to Jesus. The fullness of God dwells in him to accomplish the eternal purpose of God—the establishment of the kingdom of love in human hearts. He has been equipped for the service leadership. To him has been given fullness of vision that he may see the way, fullness of power that he may overcome every obstacle, fullness of love that he may win men and make them follow him. He who died on a cross will occupy the throne. The despised and rejected of men will receive universal praise and love. To hasten the day when all shall know him, when the eternal purpose of redeeming love shall be fulfilled in the kingdom of Christ, is our supreme duty. To that work we should consecrate our lives. It should kindle our enthusiasm. Jesus should be supreme in our thought and speech, our affection and devotion. May he be our leader. May we gladly, enthusiastically follow him.—Rev. Dr. Robert J. Kent, Congregationalist, Brooklyn.

Don't Worry

If you are sick, don't worry, but begin at once to make yourself well. To do this, we but repeat the words of thousands of other sufferers from womanly ills, when we say:

TAKE CARDUI!

It Will Help You

For 50 years, this wonderful female remedy, has been benefiting sick women. Mrs. Jennie Merrick, of Cambridge City, Ind., says: "I suffered greatly with female trouble, and the doctors did no good. They wanted to operate, but I took Cardui, and it made me feel like a new woman. I am still using this wonderful medicine, with increasing relief."
