of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Hodgkin, died at the home of his parents on Douglas street Monday afternoon. The funeral was held from the home yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock, the service being conducted by Rev. Stephen
S. Myrick. The interment took place
at Guilford College.Revenue officers from this city captured a 60-gallon blockade distillery
four miles below Gray's chapel, in Randolph county, Saturday night.
They cut up the still and poured out 500 gallons of beer. The water in the still was warm, showing that the outfit had been operated recently, but no one was found near the place.Mrs. W. M. Clapp died at her home five miles northeast of the city Saturday night. The funeral was held from the home Sunday afternoon, the service being conducted by Rev. Stephen
S. Myrick. The interment took place
at Guilford College.The Knights of Pythias of the city

JURY LIST IS REVISED.

Other Matters Coming Before the Board of County Commissioners.The county commissioners held a special session Monday to hear complaints as to excessive assessments
of property for taxation and to attend to other matters. The number of persons making complaints as to excessive assessments was surprisingly small, not more than half a dozen complaints being received. This was partially due to the fact that the board took up only such complaints
as related to property upon which improvements have been made. It is significant that, in a majority of cases in which assessments have been increased on account of improvements,
those who pay the taxes have raised
no objection. In the case of one Greensboro corporation the assessment was increased $300,000 without a murmur from the management.The commissioners spent the greater part of the day in revising the jury list in accordance with the law
which stipulates that this must be done once every two years.The matter of opening a new road
to run through the Revolution mill village, which was set for a final hearing Monday, was postponed until the August meeting of the board. The petition for this road was signed by a number of people, but when the matter came up for a hearing it developed that there was strong opposition, and should the road be ordered opened, it is said there will be claims
for heavy damages from property owners through whose lands the highway would pass. The petitioners agree to pay $1,000 toward the cost of opening the road.The meeting was attended by Commissioners Young, Tucker and Walker. Chairman Davidson was detained at his home in Gibsonville by illness and Commissioner Bradshaw
was in Grand Rapids, Mich., attending a furniture exhibit.At their session last Wednesday
the commissioners granted petitions
for opening two new roads in Morehead township and one each in Fen-tress and Glendon townships.The board placed an order for 100
signboards which will be erected at the principal public road crossings in the county. The boards, which will be made of metal, will give the direction and the distance to Greensboro
and other principal points in the county. This is an innovation that will be greatly appreciated by the traveling public, especially strangers.The commissioners will see to it that the state law against defacing and mutilating signboards is enforced rigidly.As an experiment, the board placed
an order for a supply of cement piping to be used in draining the water from the public roads. It is claimed by the manufacturers that the cen-ment is superior to other kinds of piping, and as the cost is practically the same, the commissioners decided to make the experiment.An appropriation of $100 was made to the Guilford Grays, the local military company.

CHANGES IN FACULTY.

New Teachers Announced for Greensboro Female College Next Year.Several changes in the faculty of Greensboro Female College are announced for the next session, which will open September 8. Miss Sallie Davis, of the chair of history, has resigned to accept a position in the Eastern Carolina Teachers' Training School at Greenville. She will be succeeded by Miss Jennie Thornley Clark, of Milledgeville, Ga., a graduate of the Peabody Normal College at Nashville, Tenn. She received the
A. M. degree from Nashville University and has had several years' experience as a teacher in the Georgia
State Normal, the Normal and Industrial College of Mississippi and other institutions.Miss Elizabeth Hardin has resigned her position as head of the expression department to go to her home in Schenectady, N. Y. She will be succeeded by Miss Annie Puryear
Wright, of Gallatin, Tenn. Miss
Wright is a graduate of the Curry
School of Expression, of Boston.Miss Mattie Stancil, a graduate of the college now residing at Hendersonville, has accepted the position of supervisor of the buildings.The Stokesdale Commercial Bank—Burglar Proof.This bank has a splendid brick building, with steel door and window
guards, which are a great protection,
and in addition to these, it has a regular bankers' fire-proof vault with a burglar-proof steel safe fitted with double time locks, which makes every dollar deposited in this bank absolutely secure from burglars. As additional security, they have all of this covered with burglar insurance,
which makes money deposited in the Stokesdale Commercial Bank a hundred-fold more secure than it would be in your house, where it is subject
to almost every means of destruction.
Would it not be better for you to keep your money with them, and use
a check book to pay your accounts,
than to keep your money in your house and run the risk of losing it?

Special Notice.

The county board of education will meet at McLeansville Monday, July 19, at 4 o'clock P. M. Instead of Tuesday afternoon, as formerly announced. This change is made necessary on account of the inability of one of the members of the board to attend the meeting on Tuesday afternoon. THOS. R. FOUST, Supt.

POMONA MILL TO RESUME.

Recent Sale Confirmed by Court and Company Organized.Judge Boyd Monday signed an order confirming the sale of the property of the bankrupt Pomona Cotton Manufacturing Company to Mr. E. P.
Wharton and associates and named tomorrow as the day for a final hearing, when the purchase money will be paid over and a deed given to the property. Mr. Wharton purchased the property at $285,000 at a court sale
a few weeks ago.In addition to Mr. Wharton, the gentlemen interested in the enterprise
are: Messrs. J. E. Latham, T. A.
Hunter, and J. C. Watkins, of this city; W. C. Boren and W. M. Hunt,
of Pomona; R. J. Reynolds, of Winston-Salem, and D. X. Cooper, of Henderson.A meeting of the stockholders was held yesterday afternoon, when the following directors were elected:
Messrs. E. P. Wharton, J. E. Lam-
tham, J. C. Watkins, W. C. Boren
and W. M. Hunt. The directors elected
Mr. J. E. Latham president and Mr. W. C. Boren vice president. A secretary and treasurer were elected,
but his name will not be announced
until it is ascertained whether he will accept the position or not. It is understood that the promoters are negotiating with a Guilford county man who is successfully engaged in the mill business elsewhere.The new company will be known as the Pomona Cotton Mill Company,
with a capital stock of $200,000.
There will be a bond issue of $150,- 000.The plant will resume operations as early as possible. The mill has been idle since the failure of the old
company over a year ago.

DEATH OF J. ADDISON HODGIN.

Well Known and Highly Esteemed Citizen Passes Away.Mr. J. Addison Hodgkin, who had been critically ill of pleural pneumonia for several days, died last night at 11:30 o'clock at his home on Asheboro street. The announcement of his death comes as a shock to the community, for, while it was known that he was quite ill, his friends did not realize that the end was so near.
Mr. Hodgkin left his work last Wednesday.Surviving Mr. Hodgkin are his wife, who has been an invalid for many years; two brothers, Messrs. D. L.
Hodgin, of Sumner township, and J.
B. Hodgkin, of Kansas; a sister, Mrs.
Elmer Edgerton, of Goldsboro; several nephews and nieces and a large number of other relatives.Mr. Hodgkin was 64 years of age and a native of this county. For many years he has been a prominent figure in the business and religious life of the community and was esteemed as one of the very best men living in Greensboro. He was cashier of the old People's Five Cents Savings Bank
and since the consolidation of the bank with the Greensboro Loan and Trust Company had been manager of the savings department of that institution. He was a careful and painstaking business man and enjoyed the implicit confidence of the public.Mr. Hodgkin was a man of deep Christian piety and a lifelong member of the Friends church. He was a member of the board of trustees of Guilford College and ever manifested
a deep interest in the welfare of that institution.He was a true man in all the relations of life and will be sadly missed.

Friends Quarterly Meeting.

The fourth quarterly meeting was held at the Friends church at Guilford College Saturday and was well attended, several Friends from Greensboro being among those present. It was decided to establish a meeting house at Kernersville and to hold the first service on the fourth Sunday in July. Rev. Stephen S. Myrick, of Greensboro, will assist in this service.A committee made a report relative to the passage of an act of the legislature prohibiting the sale or giving away of cigarettes within a mile of Guilford College. This action met with the hearty approval of the quarterly meeting.

Dr. C. W. Banner has purchased from Mr. C. M. Vanstony the lot on North Elm street between the Taylor and Jones building and the Mendenhall building. The purchase price was about $11,000. The lot has a frontage of 48 feet and a depth of 100 feet.

It developed a few days ago that S. Fineberg, who was manager of the Greensboro store of the Askin & Marine Company, had left town for parts unknown, leaving behind him a shortage of about $200 in his accounts. As he was under bond, the firm does not lose anything by his shortage.

The Asheboro Courier says: "Mr. C. W. Jennings, of Greensboro, one of the best known real estate men in the property known as the Fisher estate from John M. Hammer. Many additions and improvements will be made on the grounds and to the spacious, comfortable and substantial building."

Mr. J. D. Parks and Miss Bessie Foster announced to their friends a few days ago that they were married on the evening of June 21 at the residence of Rev. W. F. Staley, who performed the ceremony. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Foster, who reside on West Bragg street, and the groom is an employee of the Guilford Lumber Manufacturing Company.

While in the West Miss Ballinger will visit the exposition at Seattle, Wash.

Winston-Salem Journal, 9th: A girl came in on the 11:25 train last night and wanted to spend the night in the union station. This was manifestly not proper and the railway men called a policeman to find a home for her. It was impossible to get any information out of her. She wouldn't tell her name and she told various tales as to why she happened to be in Winston-Salem. She had just escaped from a rescue home at Greensboro. A cousin with whom she was traveling got left in Greensboro. She had come here to visit a cousin, whose name she didn't happen to remember. She did several other things. Some of the railroad men think she is crazy. She was taken in charge by a cop, who found lodging for her.

A failing tiny nerve—no larger than the finest silken thread—takes from the heart its impulse, its power, its regularity. The Stomach also has its hidden, or inside nerve. It was Dr. Shoop who first told us it was wrong to drug a weak or failing Stomach, Heart or Kidneys. His prescription—Dr. Shoop's Restorative—is directed straight for the cause of these ailments—these weak and faltering inside nerves. This, no doubt clearly explains why the Restorative has of late grown so rapidly in popularity. Druggists say that those who test the Restorative even for a few days soon become fully convinced of its wonderful merit. Anyway, don't drug the organ. Treating the cause of sickness is the only sensible and successful way. Sold by Greensboro Drug Co.

THE FARMERS' INSTITUTES.

Will be Held in Guilford Next Week—Interesting Programs Prepared for the Meetings—Noted Lecturers.

The North Carolina Department of Agriculture has sent to the county a number of circulars advertising farmers' institutes to be held at High Point on Monday, July 19; Gibsonville, Wednesday, July 21, and Pleasant Garden, Thursday, July 22.

The object of a farmers' institute is to bring together the farmers in order that they may discuss and study the subjects relating to their business, such as the best methods of using fertilizers on various crops, the preparation and cultivation of the soil, stock raising and stock feeding, diseases of stock, grain and grass growing, trucking, fruit growing, improvement of worn soils, etc.

The following institute lecturers will be present: H. B. Shaw, assistant horticulturist, State Department of Agriculture; J. S. Jeffrey, North Carolina Agricultural Experiment Station; T. B. Parker, demonstrator and director of farmers' institutes, State Department of Agriculture; F. C. Reimer, horticulturist, North Carolina College of Agriculture; R. W. Scott, of Alamance county, and Frank Blackford, of Ohio.

At the same places and dates will also be held institutes for women. The objects of these institutes are to bring together the women from the farm homes that they may become better acquainted and talk over among themselves subjects tending to the betterment of conditions in rural homes, such as better and more economical food and better methods of preparing them, home sanitation, home fruit and vegetable gardening, farm dairying, poultry-raising, the beautifying of the home and home surroundings, etc.

At the institutes there will be two carloads of implements and other materials, hauled free by the Southern Railway Company. These cars will be loaded with modern agricultural implements, the working of which may be demonstrated; with materials needed to enable the lecturers at the women's institute to demonstrate conveniences for the kitchen and home and to show actual methods of cooking, etc.; with modern dairy apparatus; with spray pumps and other materials used in combating insect ravages and fungus diseases, etc. These cars will be in charge of a competent superintendent, and if the local committee will provide suitable place and teams, he will make an actual field demonstration with implements, as far as time will permit.

All farmers and their wives, sons and daughters, and all others interested in farming and the betterment of the farm homes, are urged to attend these meetings and join in the discussions.

Morning sessions will open at 10 o'clock and afternoon sessions at 1:30.

Receiver Cone Files His Final Report.

Judge Boyd has named Monday, August 2, as the date for the hearing of all matters relative to the final disposition of the bankruptcy proceedings of the Odell Manufacturing Company of Concord, and the Southern cotton mills, of Bessemer City. The final report of the receiver, Mr. Cesar Cone, shows that there is now on hand the sum of $47,000. Of this sum it is expected that, after paying the final costs and allowances, enough will remain to pay the balance due the creditors.

Since qualifying as receiver of these mills, about two years ago, Mr. Cone's report shows that he has handled over two million dollars. The total cost of administration, including court expenses, allowances to the receiver, the attorneys, creditors committees, etc., will aggregate probably $75,000.

NORTH CAROLINA RAILROAD.

Meeting of Stockholders and Directors Held Here Thursday.

The annual meeting of the stockholders and directors of the North Carolina Railroad Company was held here Thursday, and in view of the fact that it marked a change of administration special interest attached to it. The stock represented in the meeting amounted to 37,185 shares, of which 30,000 were held by the state.

Prior to the meeting of the stockholders, the retiring board of directors met and received the reports of President Chatham, Treasurer Eller and Mr. John W. Thompson, the state's expert. The reports showed the condition of the road, both financial and material, to be satisfactory in every particular. The expert reported that the lessee, the Southern Railway, is keeping up the road-bed and the rolling stock in accordance with the terms of the lease. The board adopted resolutions of thanks to President Chatham and to Gen. R. F. Hoke, chairman of the land committee.

The meeting of the stockholders was presided over by Col. James T. Morehead, of this city. The principal business to come before the meeting was the election of four private directors, the retiring members of the board being re-elected as follows: Col. Benehan Cameron, of Stagsville; Gen. R. F. Hoke, of Lincolnton; Col. W. E. Holt, of Charlotte; and Mr. Hugh MacRae, of Wilmington.

Following the meeting of the stockholders, the directors met and organized the members of the board on the part of the state being: Messrs. Allen J. Ruffin, of Hillsboro; S. C. Penn, of Reidsville; R. L. Holt, of Burlington; T. S. Flesham, of Kernersville; C. C. Hargrove, of Lexington; D. J. Carpenter, of Newton; L. E. Heilig, of Salisbury, and Major Charles M. Stedman, of Greensboro. An organization was perfected by electing Maj. Charles M. Stedman president; Mr. A. H. Eller, of Winston-Salem, secretary and treasurer; Mr. Frank R. McNinch, of Charlotte, attorney; Mr. John W. Thompson, of Raleigh, expert, and Mr. A. E. Smith, of Mt. Airy, state's proxy.

The meeting brought about 150 visitors to the city. Col. W. E. Holt, of Charlotte, the largest private stockholder, the owner of 862 shares, was among those present.

The retiring officers and directors made a good record in the management of the company's affairs. During the past four years a debt of $10,000 was paid off by savings made in expenses of administration, and in addition an extra dividend of $20,000 was paid. There is in the treasury $11,500 in cash. The company owns real estate at Burlington and other points worth $100,000.

S.S.S. CURES BLOOD POISON

Removing the symptoms is not all that is necessary to cure Contagious Blood Poison. The virulent germs which produce these outward manifestations must be completely driven from the blood before a real cure can be effected. The least taint left in the circulation will, sooner or later, cause a fresh outbreak of the trouble, with all the hideous symptoms of ulcerated mouth and throat, copper colored spots, falling hair, sores and ulcers, etc.

Contagious Blood Poison is the most treacherous of all diseases.

It has its victims in its power almost before they realize its presence, because its first symptom is usually a little sore or pimple so insignificant that it does not excite suspicion. But the insidious poison is at work on the blood and in a short while the patient finds he is more or less affected from head to foot.

Contagious Blood Poison is too dangerous to trifle with. No time should be lost in riding the blood of this destructive poison, and in no disease is it more important to have the proper remedy. Medicines which merely check the symptoms for a time and leave the real cause smoldering in the system have brought misery and disappointment to thousands. Faithfully the sufferers took such treatment, usually of mineral nature, and when all symptoms had disappeared and the treatment was left off, found the virus had only been shut up in the system awaiting a favorable opportunity to return, with every symptom intensified.

S. S. S. cures Contagious Blood Poison and cures it permanently. It goes down into the blood and removes every particle of the poison, makes the circulation pure and healthy, and does not leave the slightest trace of the disease for future outbreaks. S. S. S. is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, all of which are healing and cleansing in their nature. It does not contain a particle of mineral in any form to injure the delicate parts of the system. S. S. S. will also drive out any lingering remains of mineral poison that may be in the blood from the former treatment. If you are suffering with Contagious Blood Poison S. S. S. will cure you, because it will purify your blood. Home treatment book and any medical advice free to all who write.

The Keeley Institute,
Greensboro, N. C.

Gentlemen—In compliance with your request of recent date, I beg to say that on the 8th of October, 1892, I entered the Keeley Institute, at Greensboro, for the treatment of the liquor habit, and after a stay of a month I found myself a cured man, and after a period of sixteen years, eight months and thirteen days, I have not touched or desired to taste any intoxicants as a beverage.

Lured on by my own desperate appetite and by questionable associates, I had practically drank myself out of home and respectability. I made many a resolution to quit the accursed habit only to find the chains too strong for me. The Keeley Treatment did the work and I bless the hour I entered its walls for treatment. It can and will do the same for any unfortunate who will give the treatment a fair trial.

Yours very truly,

AN INTERESTING OLD PAPER.

Contract for Cotton Mill in Lincoln County in 1816.

Charlotte Observer.

It has been oftentimes stated that in the latter part of the eighteenth century, and the early part of the nineteenth century there was a well developed manufacturing interest throughout the piedmont region of Virginia, the Carolinas and Georgia. Very few people know that in these early times cotton spinning and weaving was successfully done in this region, and that the machinery for the same was built here. We print below, copy of a contract made in 1861 for the complete equipment of a cotton mill in Lincoln county. The original of this contract is the property of Mrs. Judge Schenck, of Greensboro, and this copy is made from the original which was kindly loaned by her for this purpose. The contract is as follows:

Articles of agreement, made and entered into this 27th day of April, 1861, between Michael Shenk and Absolom Warlick, of the county of Lincoln and state of North Carolina, of the one part, and Michael Beam, of the county and state aforesaid, of the other part.

Witnesseth:

That the said Michael Beam obliges himself to build for the said Shenk & Warlick within twelve months from this date, a spinning machine with one hundred and forty-four spindles, with three sets of floated rollers the back set to be of wood, the other two sets to be of iron, the machine to be made in the frames with two sets of wheels, one carding machine, with two sets of cards to run two ropes, each to be one foot wide, with a picking machine to be attached to it with as many saws as may be necessary to feed the carding machine, one roving machine with four heads. All of the above machinery to be completed in a workmanlike manner, and the said Beam is to board himself and find all the materials for the machine and set the machine going on a branch on Ab. Warlick's land, below where the old machine stood; the said Shenk & Warlick are to have the house for the machine, and the running gears made at their expense, but the said Beam is to fix the whole machinery above described thereto; the wooden gears for the roping and spinning and the real to be furnished by said Shenk & Warlick. All of the straps and bands necessary for the machinery to be furnished by said Shenk & Warlick. In consideration of which the said Shenk & Warlick are to pay the said Beam, the sum of thirteen hundred dollars as follows, to wit, three hundred dollars this day, two hundred dollars three months from this date, one hundred dollars six months from this date, and the balance of the thirteen hundred dollars to be paid to the said M. Beam within twelve months after the said machine is started to spinning. In testimony whereof we have hereunto set our hands and seals the day and year above written.

The Schencks are still in the cotton manufacturing business and Mr. John Schenck, of Lawndale, has made some important inventions in some cotton mill machines, particularly in connection with winding machines.

MAY BUY OLD TRINITY.

Property Offered to Randolph County for High School Purposes.

The Randolph county board of education has re-elected Prof. E. J. Coletrane superintendent of public instruction. The average salary of the Randolph teachers next year will be $32.15 per month. In its report of the meeting of the board, the Asheville Courier says:

"Dr. Stephen B. Weeks has consented to head the Trinity high school and will be assisted by Miss Alice Hayworth, of Asheville, and Misses Elbie Miller and Corinna Auman, of Asheville.

"An interesting item to the people of the county is that the board of trustees of Trinity College have offered to sell the county the buildings and grounds of Old Trinity College. The price offered is $8,000 and it is believed that the county will take over the property and make 'Old Trinity' the largest and best equipped high school in the state. The board has the matter under consideration."

An Ill-Fated Crossing.

Bluefield, W. Va., July 8.—While viewing the crossing at Mateawan, where a man was killed by a Norfolk & Western train, three men were struck by a locomotive last night. One was instantly killed, another fatally injured and the third slightly hurt.

The dead man is J. M. Hopkins, a deputy sheriff, who was showing the spot to Boyd Hatfield and W. M. Witt, lawyers. The two latter were preparing to bring suit against the railroad because of the death there the night before of W. M. Carr. Hatfield will die.

STATE PRESS COMMENT.

Winston-Salem Journal: We note that quite a number of the state's newspapers failed to join in a chorus against Senator Simmons and those congressmen who voted as they thought best. This goes to show that most of the men running newspapers are doing their own thinking.

Raleigh News and Observer: North Carolina is to become rich through intensive farming and diversification. One fifteen-acre plot of land last year in lettuce brought $10,000. Let us cultivate less land and grow more per acre.

Charlotte Observer: Inside the Democratic party today there are, as there have always been, widely varying views of the tariff. Upon the principle of fair play in tariff matters—equalized taxation and equitably distributed burdens and benefits—there is room for all whose dogmatism is not fanatical or who do not have some axe to grind by raising war cries. Even theoretical free traders might acknowledge the reasonableness and propriety of the course which the North Carolina senators and six North Carolina Democratic representatives recently pursued. We think that on this basis of simple justice long-staple Southern cotton is entitled, like Southern lumber, to a duty in the Aldrich bill. Southern tea, in our opinion, has not made out its case.

Asheville Citizen: The man who relies on the decayed bones of his ancestors for worldly success is sowing to reap the wind. "The boast of ancestry" earns no wages; it achieves nothing. A man in the realm of achievement is judged today by what he is, and not by what his ancestors were. It is not our purpose to decry respectable lineage; that is a distinction to be proud of, but we have in mind individuals who believe that because in the dim and distant past some forbear dug up a family tree in some book-seller's shop and hung his coat on a limb thereof. (That's where the coat-of-arms came from.) Successive generations took up the myths, and there are many people in the world today who hug the delusion with a tenacity worthy of a better cause.

Concord Times: To the charge that he (Senator Simmons) is disloyal to the party in that he does not obey one of its specific instructions, the senator replies that the specific instruction in reference to the general statement of the policy of the party as to the tariff. He contends that in a general reduction of the tariff which the Democratic platform promised, free lumber would have been logical, but that in a system of high protection, such as is being given to the country in the pending measure, free lumber would work an injustice which the Democratic platform did not contemplate nor favor. It is interesting to note that this is the construction put on the declaration in favor of free lumber by practically all the Democratic senators. And when men of the standing in the party of Daniel, Tillman, Simmons, Overman and others agree in that construction, those of us who have not the opportunity to understand so thoroughly the conditions should be slow to read them out of the party.

Wadesboro Ansonian: The man who is buying meat at 14 cents, lard at 15 cents, flour at $4 per sack and corn at $1.10, and depending on ten-cent cotton, probably feels that these very necessary articles might be raised cheaper at home. At any rate it does seem that there would be more peace of mind and more satisfaction generally by pursuing this route.

Lumberton Robesonian: A man who lives about five miles from town bought an article in Chicago recently for 90 cents and when it arrived last week he found that the freight on it was $1.20—the freight amounting to just what he could have bought the article for here in the first instance. Things are not always what they seem. Next time that gentleman thinks he sees a bargain in ordering goods he will doubtless investigate and find out beforehand whether or not he cannot in the long run save money by buying from home merchants.

A Child's Apt Quotation.

It is in that abode of precious childhood, Boston, that out of the mouth of a babe came a revelation as to the literary source of one bit of slang. It was a little girl, about to start on a picnic, who astonished her parents by declaring that she and her juvenile friends were going to "startle the pigeons from their perch." Papa and mamma, of course, wanted to know where their little darling had acquired such an expression. The artless child was surprised that such an elementary question should be asked by her elders, and calmly informed them that the phrase could be found in "Paul Revere's Ride." The family looked up the reference and were duly edified. Wise papa classified the quotation as "a term synonymous with various flippant anticipations of a good time."

A VICIOUS MEASURE.

The new tariff bill, as it comes from the hands of Senator Aldrich and the other high priests of protection, is regarded by tariff reformers of both parties as the worst ever written. They declare it is not merely protectionism run mad, but is a shameless embodiment of protective debauchery and libertinism. Sincere tariff revisionists in both houses of Congress regard the attitude of Aldrich in forcing through the measure with its endless inequities as the most flagrant defiance of public sentiment, sound economic principles and simple justice perpetrated by any legislative body in almost a hundred years. Day after day and week after week Aldrich has forced through, almost without failure, the paragraphs of his bill framed up in secrecy by the Republicans of the finance committee. He had massed around him the allied representatives of the trusts and other great protected interests, all dominated in their action by the greatest trust of all, the Standard Oil Company. Each of the trusts obtained for itself what it wanted in the way of protection for articles it produced and cheerfully conceded to all of the other trusts the same valuable privilege of taxing the American consumers as they saw fit.

Brought into being and nursed to vigorous maturity by the scandalously high tariff rates of the Dingley bill, the all-powerful trusts had it in their power, through their representatives in the senate, to make sure, not only that they would not lose any of the advantages given them by the existing law, but to seize new advantages. Having the power to take what they wanted, why should they surrender anything to the helpless consumer merely because the people demanded it and the Republican platform and the Republican candidate for president promised tariff revision downward last year, and a Congress was called in special session for the supposed purpose of carrying out these pledges? They laughed to scorn the persistent and vigorous attacks on the bill as framed up by Aldrich that appeared in the newspapers of all shades of political opinion. They went ahead with their work of upward revision with a cynical defiance of party pledges and public sentiment that could not be paralleled in the action of the national legislature of any civilized country in this generation. Plutocracy and privilege were in the saddle and they rode with the reckless daring of beings drunk with power.

Whatever the theory of the construction of the bill, it has been made almost entirely without regard to the needs of the government or the interests of the great mass of the American people. Theoretically a leading object in making the bill was to increase the revenues to a point where the present deficit would be wiped out. But the needs of the government were entirely lost sight of as the bill took shape under the manipulation of the deft and daring hands of Aldrich, Smoot, Penrose, et al., the dominant consideration becoming solely the desires of the trusts and the other great protected interests. During the debate Senator Aldrich persistently claimed that the bill would raise sufficient revenue to meet the wants of the government. But few even of his closest lieutenants make any pretense in sharing this view, and all opponents of the bill assert and give figures to support the assertion that the tariff schedules will yield little if any more revenue than those of the existing Dingley law. This was what was to be expected in view of the fact that the real aim of the bill is not to increase the revenues of the government, but to maintain, if not to increase, the revenues of the trusts and other protected manufacturers.

The effect of the passage of the bill will undoubtedly be to increase the prices of the necessities of life. This gives the measure the utter defiance of public sentiment and economic laws with which the framers of the bill have done their work. In the face of the fact that the prices of all commodities have for years been steadily rising, with no indication of an arrest of the tendency, Aldrich and his lieutenants boldly attempt to place on the statute books a law that is bound to accelerate the upward movement. It is a spectacle of the most sinister significance. The new upward movement of prices, due to the action of the bill, is already well under way.

It may not be generally known that persons who sign petitions asking for the opening of new public roads are liable for their share of damages that may be assessed in favor of objecting property owners, but such an act was passed by the recent session of the legislature. Here in Guilford county petitions for new roads are frequently signed by people who have no direct interest in the proposed highways, but hereafter doubtless they will be more careful about affixing their signatures to petitions merely to accommodate interested friends. Of course, where a petition is signed by all the persons through whose lands the proposed road would run, no damages could be assessed, but without the unanimous consent of the property owners interested, signing a petition for a new road may be a costly piece of business.

His friends everywhere are pained to learn that Mr. J. P. Caldwell, editor of the Charlotte Observer, who was recovering nicely from an attack of paralysis, has suffered a relapse. He has entered a hospital for treatment and is not expected to be out for some time. Mr. Caldwell overtaxed his strength in attending the meetings of the Southern Publishers' Association at Birmingham and the North Carolina Press Association at Hendersonville. He had expected to return to work the first of July, and there is general regret that this event has been postponed.

The story of the murder of the man Pulley, in Johnston county Monday morning, recites one of the saddest tragedies that has come under our observation. The crime of patricide is horrible enough within itself, but when we are told that the child murderer has never attended school or church and is unacquainted with God, the matter becomes appalling. Somebody is to blame that a child can live to the age of twelve years in North Carolina without coming under the elevating and christianizing influence of the school and the church.

The election of State Superintendent Joyner as president of the National Educational Association is an honor that all North Carolinians will appreciate. As the Raleigh News and Observer is in the habit of saying: "Where North Carolina sits is the head of the table."

It takes a broad-minded man to see the good in a narrow-minded one.

Don't mind the number of irons you have in the fire—mind the fire.

GIRL KILLS HER STEP-FATHER.

Revolting Murder Committed in Johnston County Monday Morning.

One of the most revolting murders that has stained the record of North Carolina for a long while was committed in Johnston county, near Selma, early Monday morning, when Joe Pulley, a man of recognized bad character, was killed by his 12-year-old step-daughter, Marie Pulley. It seems that the man had been treating the girl in a brutal manner and on Sunday night vowed that he would "whip her half to death" the next morning. Smarting under the indignities heaped upon her, the girl planned the murder of her step-father, and rising early Monday morning, procured an axe with which she accomplished her terrible purpose. While the man lay sleeping on a pallet, his step-daughter plunged the axe into his head twice, crushing the skull. A coroner's inquest was held and the verdict recommended that the girl be held for the grand jury.

A report of the crime sent out from Selma says the girl, who is an illegitimate child of Pulley's second wife, has never entered the door of a school house or attended a church service and has never heard the name of God spoken except in profanity.

Practical Value of a Newspaper

To the man of affairs, the merchant, the broker, lawyer, farmer and to the housekeeper the daily newspaper has come to be invaluable, although not all of them realize as much. The merchant and broker it keeps informed as to prices, supplies and demands, conditions, new markets, etc., giving him information daily without which he would very soon be outdistanced and put out of business by his more up-to-date competitor. The lawyer it keeps up to the minute on new laws, court decisions, etc.

The farmer finds that a few dollars invested in a newspaper subscription enables him to market his products to better advantage, keep informed as to markets, crops, and conditions all over the country and often teaches him many important methods and economies.

Many an education is obtained at the expense of common sense.

GENERAL NEWS.

Angered by Mrs. Maggie Pender's refusal of his suit for marriage, L. L. Patterson, a mill operative at Abbeville, S. C., Sunday shot the woman twice with a revolver and then turned the weapon on himself, sending an instantly fatal bullet through his head. The shooting occurred at the woman's house in the mill village. The two were quarreling on the back steps when the shooting took place. Patterson is reported to have expressed the intention of committing suicide. The woman's wounds are not serious.

President Taft, who has been traveling in New England, has returned to the White House, after leaving his family at Beverly, where his summer home is located. He will remain in Washington until he can sign the tariff bill and will then leave for the summer. The experts are estimating that the bill will be finally passed and Congress adjourned by July 24, although it is appreciated that anything like a deadlock in conference would probably prolong the session until a considerable later date. The Dingley bill was eleven days in conference. Were the Aldrich-Payne bill to remain as long, it would be reported to the two houses of Congress on July 20.

J. S. Lamb, a well-to-do farmer of Mansfield, Tex., was stabbed to death by his son, James Lamb, during a family quarrel last week. According to the evidence at a young Lamb's preliminary examination, the boy struck the fatal blow in defense of his mother. Young Lamb was released in bond of $5,000, which he readily gave.

Professor Simon Newcomb, the famous astronomer, died at his home in Washington Sunday at the age of 74 years. Probably the most noted American astronomical mathematician since the days of Benjamin Franklin, Professor Newcomb was recognized at the time of his death as one of the world's great scientists.

Counterfeit five dollar bank notes have been in circulation for some time in the South and East, and these are so cleverly executed that they can only be detected by a banker or expert. They are known as the five dollar legal tender Jackson head note and all recovered so far bear the same serial number 2444 1118 and check letter B. The bills were steeped in coffee to take away the newness.

Over 100 applications for license to engage in the whiskey business in Bristol, Va., have been received since that town went "wet" last week. The Virginia law provides that no person except a qualified voter can be granted a license. The only escape from this provision is to form companies and name a local agent or manager, in whose name the license may be issued.

Forty-eight million dollars will be needed by the Isthmian canal commission to carry on the work of digging the Panama canal during the fiscal year 1911, according to estimates which have been received by Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh, who prepares an annual book of estimates of appropriations to be submitted to Congress.

Bryan Will Go Abroad.

Cincinnati, July 11.—William J. Bryan is contemplating another foreign lecture tour. He will leave America in a short time, his intimate friends say, to spend three years abroad. When he was here on Friday he told newspaper men that a carefully planned trip through Australia and England is now being arranged for him, and he was enthusiastic in commenting upon the field for his lectures which exists in those two countries. He is getting all his affairs in readiness for this tour, and people close to Mr. Bryan say that he will leave America for Australia late this summer.

GUESSING AT TAXATION.

Haphazard Method of Constructing Our Tariff Laws.

Indianapolis News.
So we enact our tariffs without knowing what their effect will be, either on revenue or on the business of the people. The best we can do is to guess, and our guesses are often wide of the mark. The Senate is now trying to patch up the Payne bill, which has already been found to be deficient as a revenue measure, to say nothing of its other defects. Yet the Ways and Means committee has been at work on it for months. Worse than all, the people themselves can know little or nothing about our tariff laws. They are not experts. Few men know anything whatever about any business except that in which they are engaged. The ordinary taxpayer can know little or nothing of the effect of taxes even on himself unless he is expert enough to know what their effect will be on scores and hundreds of industries of which he knows nothing. And this is the way taxes are levied in this free country in the twentieth century! The people do not know and cannot know what is going on. Congress is no longer competent to make tariffs. We are at the mercy of "experts," practically all of whom are interested in taking care of certain industries. A commission might help somewhat. But the only sensible thing is to simplify our tariffs, and to levy taxes for the support of the government. As it is now we have probably $1,500,000,000 of protection, in the way of increased prices, to distribute to private individuals. It is natural that there should be a wild scramble for it, natural that our tariff laws should contain many "jokers."

No, we didn't steal our buggies, but paid cash for them. That's why we can sell them so cheap.

PUMPS AND GAS BAGS.

When one sees the stock in some bonanza enterprise which promises quick and unheard of profits provided the offer is snapped up at once advertised at about 30 cents per share it is well to analyze the thing a bit before taking the bait. In the first place, it is fair to assume that if said proposition were intrinsically so good a thing as its promoters give the gullible public to understand and meant wealth and affluence for all who took stock in it not a dollar of it would be for sale. This is the case with all bona fide money making enterprises, the stock of such concerns not being listed at bargain counter prices, but worth in the open market from $150 to $400 per share on a 100 unit basis. The only deduction possible in view of this is that such bonanza enterprise is, as a rule, a commercially unprofitable project which a group of fortune hunters propose to pump wind and water into by soaking the public just long enough to get the old bunk along, when they usually desert the pumps and gas bags and leave their victims to sink or swim, as chance may be. Thus it turns out that the only profits accruing from the organization of such enterprises and the sale of the gilded shares of stock are the grafters who hold the sack. The buyers are lambs which in most cases lose their fleece.

THE PESKY CRAB GRASS.

There are many gardens in many sections which are getting badly fouled with crab grass, the kind which is deep and wire rooted, roots wherever a joint of stalk touches the ground, has a five pronged seed head and laughs to scorn the withering heat of the August sun. One of the features which make matters bad is that this weed does not get started until about the middle of June, after the cultivation of many of the garden crops is nearly over and gets in its telling work after they are laid by. The only way out is to cultivate the garden as late as is possible, thus bringing to the surface, germinating and killing as many of the crab grass seeds as possible. Another help is to sow buckwheat just after the last cultivation, as this will come up and occupy the ground instead of the weeds. A fortunate thing in this instance is that crab grass multiplies by seed and lives but a season. Thus if it is kept from going to seed one season there will be none of it the next except from seeds dormant the year before.

KEEPING ACCOUNT.

A simple system of bookkeeping might be adopted with advantage on many a farm—not involved, yet enough in detail to show at the end of the year the chief items of income and outgo. This might include the work put in on and returns from the grain crops, the cost of running the dairy and the results obtained, the status of the pasture as a money maker, the income and expense with the poultry, money invested in new machinery and deterioration in the old, etc. In making up such items of expense account it will be necessary to talk with the good wife, the boys and girls and the hired men. The advantage of it would be in the fact that it would show at the end of the season's operations where the leaks were, if any, and which of the farm resources had given the largest profits.

A VIRGINIA SNAP.

Alfalfa is proving the agricultural salvation of many a farm in the south Atlantic states which has been depleted as a result of the continuous growing of cotton for many years. In illustration of this may be mentioned the case of one Virginia farmer who now has 600 acres in alfalfa, which produces 3,000 tons of hay annually, worth $12 per ton. And he is on the point of installing a plant for grinding the hay into alfalfa meal, which fetches $34 per ton, or about the price of bran. This looks like a sort of agricultural graft that a good many owners of farms favorably located might work, not only to the advantage of their pocketbooks, but for the good of the land too.

THE PERSONAL EQUATION.

A point that is often overlooked in judging of the measure of success of this or that plan in farming, whether it be in the raising of blooded stock, producing record crops of corn or grain or using new and up to date machinery, is what may be termed the personal equation or the man in the case, the thinking and reasoning attachment, upon whom, after all, success depends more than upon any other single factor. It is because of this uncertain quantity that one man here falls down with pure bred stock, another there has no time for the silo, while a third may consider cream separators and Babcock testers a delusion and a snare.

Dampness should be done away, whether it be in the cellar, stable, poultry or hog house, as it stands for positive discomfort in some of these cases and an insanitary condition in all of them.

If buckwheat is sown in the potato patch shortly after the potatoes are laid by, the weeds will have some pretty hard sledding and the bees in the neighborhood a welcome pasture in a usually dry season.

The prospective young wife can get a pretty good idea beforehand of how she will be treated by her husband-to-be if she takes note of his conduct toward his mother. It is a criterion that seldom deceives.

Of the 22,000,000 dairy cows in the United States 18,000,000 are just scrubs—that is, having no particular dairy ancestry. A glance at these figures will show that the business of raising blooded dairy cattle has lots of room in which to spread.

Mrs. Taft, the new White House lady, has shown her good sense by buying a family cow, which, according to report, she has staked out on the lawn in the back yard. The Taft kids will be the better for this rustic adjunct to their household economy.

A chap in New Jersey has been relieving a lot of folks of some of their surplus cash by a graft worked under the guise of the benefit to be conferred by a spraying of their fruit trees. His plan is to spray their trees on a guarantee that they will be free from attacks of insect and fungous pests for a period of two years.

Secretary James Wilson of the department of agriculture estimates that in the twelve years in which he has been at the head of this department the farmers of the country have produced the enormous aggregate wealth of $60,000,000,000. In view of the fact that the value of all farm products last year was $250,000,000, this twelve year estimate would not seem to be overstretched.

The Bermuda islands are known chiefly for two products that from the aesthetic point of view are as nearly opposites as possible—their celebrated onions and the Bermuda or Easter lily, which was introduced into the islands many years ago from Japan by a traveler named Harris. So laden does the air sometimes become with the heavy fragrance of the enormous lily fields that the smell of the onion is said to be quite acceptable as a change.

If the lawn grass seems to be getting weak and thin or dying out in spots it may be in need of either more sunshine or fertilizing and maybe both. If it is sunshine, some of the trees should be cut away or the lower branches trimmed off; if fertilizer, a thin coat of well rotted stable manure should be scattered over it and after it has lain about three weeks and been soaked up with a couple of good rains all of it removed that can be raked up with an iron rake. While this will make it necessary to mow the lawn somewhat oftener, the sward will look much better for its tonic.

Any reader of these notes who is interested in giving his orchard or berry patch more intelligent care along the line of spraying to prevent damage from worm and insect pests and fungous diseases should write to his state experiment station for a copy of its latest spraying calendar, which will tell all about making the different spraying solutions, what to use on each and how and when to apply. If the address of the agricultural college is not known the editor of the home paper will be glad to look it up for you. The bulletins are furnished free of cost and should be kept for ready reference.

It is estimated that the blight caused a loss to the potato crop in South Dakota last year of between 30 and 40 per cent of the possible total yield. This pest, which is a purely fungous disease, usually appears early in July, sometimes a trifle earlier, and seems to spread most rapidly and do most damage in damp, muggy weather. Spraying with the bordeaux mixture, which has several times been described in these columns, is an effective preventive. It is well to give the first treatment when the vines are about eight inches high and to repeat at intervals of ten days so long as unfavorable weather conditions exist. Usually two or three treatments are sufficient. If bugs are bad at the same time they may be fixed by adding paris green to the bordeaux mixture at the rate of a pound to 150 gallons of the spray mixture.

Both string beans and sweet corn may be kept in perfect condition by preserving in salt at the rate of four parts of the vegetable to one of salt. With the corn it should be boiled on the cob for about twenty minutes, then sliced and scraped off, mixed with the salt in the above proportion and packed in a stone jar and covered with cloth and plate, as in the case of salted cucumbers. The juice in the corn should make brine enough to just about cover it, but if not a small quantity of water may be added. The beans should be prepared as for the table and cooked for twenty or thirty minutes and then mixed with a like proportion of salt and put down in the same way. Both vegetables should be put to soak the night before they are to be eaten, the water being changed three or four times to remove the excess salt. Kept in this way, both are crisp and tender and keep their flavor remarkably well.

The advantage of the two row corn plow lies chiefly in the fact that it enables one man with three horses to get over as much ground as two men with four horses. To do most satisfactory work with this cultivator the corn should be put in in the evenest rows possible.

The animal world lost a very sincere and devoted friend when George T. Angell, author of "Our Dumb Animals" and that fascinating book "Black Beauty," which has been read by hundreds and thousands of boys and girls, passed away a few weeks ago at his home in Boston.

The old saw "A stitch in time saves nine" finds illustration in a multiplied geometrical ratio, in the destruction of pigweeds and purslane before they go to seed, a matured plant of the former producing as high as 50,000 seeds, while a purslane with room to branch out in leisurely fashion has been known to yield 175,000 seeds.

A fourteen-year-old boy—we wish that the news item gave his name—raised, fed and fattened for exhibition the champion Hereford steer at the recent Denver stock show. Get the boys on the farm interested in raising stock of this type, and there will be little need of writing articles on how to keep the boys on the farm.

The wisdom of adopting a more largely diversified type of farming, including dairying and stock raising, in the state of Minnesota is shown in the gradual decrease in the wheat yield of the state during the past twenty-five years until for 1908 it averaged but 12.8 bushels per acre. The fool on the run ought to be able to understand what these figures mean.

In a botanical garden at Philadelphia is a cypress tree which is said to have been set as early as 1750. Though dead, it is still standing. It has a diameter of eight feet at the base and is six feet through thirty feet from the ground, just below the point where it branches. It is estimated that it contains 10,000 feet of lumber, worth $50 per thousand, giving the tree a commercial value of $500.

Professor Cyril G. Hopkins of the University of Illinois, recognized as one of the great soil specialists in the United States, has expressed the following view, which ought to be framed and hung up beside "In God We Trust" in every farm home in the land: "To permanently maintain a profitable system of agriculture is our most important material problem, not only in Illinois, but in the United States."

All kinds of poor folks in the large cities sledding along on their marrowbones financially with little or no opportunity to get work, and a great horde of farmers all over the great central west also on their marrowbones begging for help to assist them in garnering bumper crops—first thought would seem to suggest that matter would be simplified all around if these two marrowbone delegations could be got together.

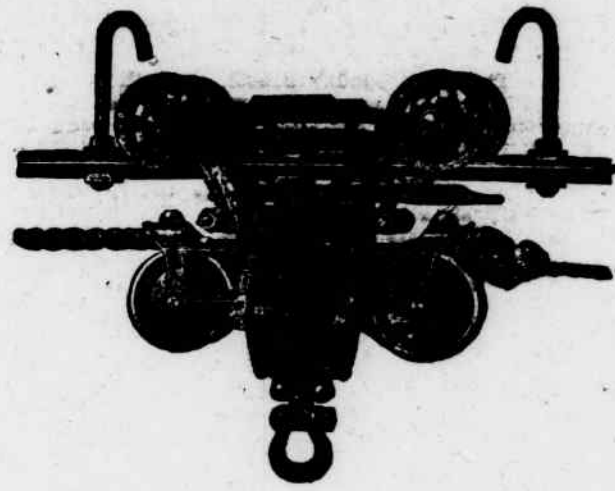

While the mole now and then makes an unsightly ridge across the lawn and often melloes things up in the garden, it is not for the purpose of making trouble. He is a relentless enemy of worms and insects, being especially fond of the white grub, which plays havoc in the strawberry bed or kills the roots of the lawn grass and garden flowers. Like some other much misunderstood members of the bird and animal kingdom, he should be viewed as a friend of man and not an enemy.

Several southern experiment stations have made tests of cotton seed and cottonseed hulls as a fattening ration for cattle. At the North Carolina station it was found that 784 pound steers made an average gain of 1.8 pounds per day for 100 days on a ration of five pounds of cotton seed and twenty pounds of cottonseed hulls. At the Arkansas station 700 pound steers made an average daily gain of 1.97 pounds during a ninety day feeding period, receiving a ration of three and a half pounds of raw cotton seed, eleven pounds of cottonseed hulls and nine pounds of cowpea hay.

The animal husbandry department of the Wisconsin experiment station has lately published some interesting statistics along the line of economies effected in the use of the silo as an adjunct in stock feeding and dairy operations. In the matter of economy in storage space it is cited that eight tons of silage can be put in the space occupied by a ton of mixed hay, 400 cubic feet, the former containing 2,560 pounds of digestible dry matter as against 960 pounds in the ton of hay. The cost of handling the crop of corn in the shape of silage was found to be less than with any other method used, $7 per acre on the basis of a twelve ton yield. In no way was the flow of milk of the dairy herd so well kept up during dry summers by the use of silage. In the feed lot it was found that silage fed steers sold at $4.95 per hundred pounds, while those fed no silage brought only $4.70. For every hundred pounds of gain it was found that 471 pounds of silage fed saved 18 pounds of grain and 156 pounds of alfalfa. At the close of the experiment the silage fed steers showed a profit of $4.10 per head, while on the same grade of steers fed no silage there was a loss of $1.47 per head.

PEOPLE'S PULPIT...

Sermon by
CHARLES T.
RUSSELL,
Pastor Brooklyn
Tabernacle.

The Coming Kingdom

Text, "Thy Kingdom come, thy will be done on earth as it is done in heaven" (Matthew vi, 10).

Brooklyn, N. Y., July 4.—Pastor Russell preached today at Brooklyn Tabernacle to a large audience. He said:

The words of our text have been repeated by Christian people of all nationalities for centuries. You recognize them as a portion of what is generally termed the Lord's prayer, given to the Lord's followers as a model in answer to the request of the Apostles, "Lord, teach us to pray." The fact that our Lord instructs us to pray for his Kingdom to come, implies several things. (1) That it was not already here. (2) That it is part of the divine provision that in due time the Dominion of the Highest shall be established among men. (3) That this is one of the chief desiderata for God's people and for humanity.

Our Lord's Parables.

It surely has not escaped the attention of every Bible student that nearly all of our Lord's parables are more or less closely identified with this Kingdom thought. The majority of them open with such expressions as, "The Kingdom of heaven is likened unto," etc. If we keep in memory that it is a Kingdom of priests that is to be established, otherwise called a Royal Priesthood, all will be plain. Our Lord Jesus, after he had paid our ransom price, after he died the just for the unjust, as our sacrificing High Priest ascended up on high to be our King; to be a Priest upon his throne. And similarly he is now calling for an underpriesthood, willing to follow his example of self-sacrifice in the present life. These in due time he will glorify with himself, giving them a share in that Royal Priesthood as Priests upon the throne of the Millennial Kingdom. Thus he promised, "To him that overcometh will I grant to sit with me in my throne, even as I overcame, and am set down with my Father in his throne" (Revelation III, 22).

If all Christian people could realize that their "high calling" of God is not a calling away from eternal torment, but a calling, or invitation, to association with Christ in his great Kingdom, which shall ultimately rule the world, "under the whole heavens," they would read the Bible with a fresh interest; it would soon be to them a new book.

Glance at some of the parables. Note how they give snapshot pictures of the Church's experiences, not only in the future, but especially in the present time of development and preparation and testing—picturing the trying experiences necessary for attaining the Kingdom. In other words, the Church, while on trial, is the embryo Kingdom, the probationary Kingdom class. This is the enlisting time, the testing time, the proving time, and none will be accounted worthy to share in the actual glories and privileges of the coming "Kingdom of God's dear Son" except those who now demonstrate not only loyalty but loving devotion to the Lord, to his Truth, to all who are his—to the extent of laying down their lives for the Truth and for the brethren.

Note the parable of the sower, and that the message sown is the "good seed of the Kingdom." Note that the ripe wheat developed from that sowing is denominated the children of the Kingdom. Note that the gathering of the wheat into the barn—by the resurrection change, to the heavenly state—is still associated with the thought of the Kingdom in the words, "Then shall the righteous shine forth as the sun in the Kingdom of their Father." Now they are exhorted to shine forth their light as tallow-candles, that they may "show forth the praises of him who called them out of darkness into his marvelous light." If unfaithful in shining forth the light under the present conditions of prevalent darkness, they will not be esteemed worthy of a place with the glorified faithful in the Kingdom which will shine forth as the sun.

Note in the parable of the net cast into the sea, which gathered fish of three kinds, that the net represented the universal church of this present time, which in due time is drawn ashore, the fishes caught separated, and those suitable for the Kingdom are represented as gathered in baskets, while the unsuitable are represented as being cast back into the sea.

Note the parable of the pearl of great price, which represented the Kingdom blessings and privileges, and could be obtained only by the selling of all that was possessed; that thus the Lord's followers who desire a share in his Kingdom are to reckon that no sacrifice is too great to make to attain that blessing—indeed, they are to know that the Kingdom can be attained at no less cost than the surrender of all their earthly hopes and aims.

Note the parable of the pounds and talents, which represented our Lord's departure to heaven for investiture in authority to be the great King of earth, the sovereign of the Millennial Kingdom to be established at his return. Note the giving of the pounds and the talents to his faithful servants to be used in his interest in his absence. Note that on his return he first re-oned with these, and rewarded the faithful, saying to one, Have thou dominion over two cities; to another, Have thou dominion over five cities; to another, Have thou dominion over ten cities. Note that this giving of the Dominion to his faithful servants signified their sharing with him in his Kingdom at the time of its establishment at his second coming.

The Kingdom in Glory.

Note the parable of the sheep and the goats, which pictures the Millennial Kingdom in full operation. It opens with the announcement, "When the Son of Man shall come in his glory, and all the holy angels with him, then shall he sit upon the throne of his glory. And before him shall be gathered all nations; and he shall separate them one from another, as a shepherd divideth his sheep from the goats" (Matthew xxv, 31). This is unquestionably a picture of the Millennial reign of Christ, and his dealing with the world. When that time shall come, the elect Church, the Bride of Christ, will be with him in the throne, sharing his glory, and sharing in the work of judging the world; as said St. Paul, "Do ye not know that the saints shall judge the world?" (1 Corinthians vi, 2).

The prophecies of the Old Testament Scriptures abound in testimonies respecting the blessing which will come to the world during the reign of Messiah's Kingdom. The Jews had every reason to expect that God had honored their nation as the seed of Abraham with special relationship to his Kingdom—that as his holy nation and people Israel should be the channel for the dispensing of the divine blessings to all the families of the earth. Nor will that expectation prove false. The Lord has not changed his plan; he has merely introduced first of all another feature of his plan not previously revealed, styled by the Apostle Paul "the mystery of God." This mystery is, that before Israel can be God's earthly agents for dispensing his blessings to mankind in general, to every nation, people, kindred and tongue, God will first select a special class, a "Little Flock," a "Royal Priesthood"—the Church, the Bride, the members of the Body of Christ as a Spiritual Israel. When this Kingdom class shall have been fully selected, and the last member shall have been glorified with Christ beyond the veil on the spirit plane of existence, then divine favor will return to natural Israel.

We are not to understand that everyone who has Abraham's blood in his veins will on that account be permitted a special service for the Lord during the Millennium as an earthly representative of the spiritual Empire. Nay, they are not all Israelites who are of the seed of Abraham. But the Lord shows us through the Apostle that prior to the coming of Christ God had already selected Abraham, Isaac and Jacob and all the prophets and other faithful ones enumerated by St. Paul in Hebrews 11th chapter. These, having demonstrated their faith and willing obedience to do the Lord's will, have this testimony, "that they pleased God." These Ancient Worthies of the earthly seed of Abraham are already prepared of the Lord to be the earthly representatives of his Spiritual Kingdom. In due time, after the glorification of the Church in "the first resurrection," these will come forth not on the spirit plane, but as perfect human beings. Through these the Lord's blessings and instructions to mankind will be disseminated. They will constitute the earthly Jerusalem, as the Church will constitute the heavenly Jerusalem, Mount Zion; as we read, "The Law shall go forth from Mt. Zion, and the Word of the Lord from Jerusalem" (Micah iv, 2) for the blessing of all nations, for their instruction in righteousness, for their assistance in the highway of holiness, that they may gain at its farther end the great reward of life eternal.

It is but reasonable to expect that with the establishment of that Kingdom for which Israel has so long waited and hoped, its mercies dispensed through these Ancient Worthies will first appeal to the nation of Israel, and subsequently to all people of all nations, as they shall come to the faith of Abraham and receive the instruction of the Kingdom. Thus it is written, "And many nations shall go and say, Come, and let us go up to the mountain of the Lord, and to the house of the God of Jacob; and he will teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths" (Micah iv, 2).

The Gospel Age Parenthetic.

It may help some to think of this Gospel Age as a parenthesis. God's dealings with the Jews in the flesh were interrupted by the development of the spiritual seed of Abraham—Christ and the Church (Galatians iii, 29). As soon as this work of developing Spiritual Israel shall be completed, and the "little flock" be exalted to glory on the spirit plane by their resurrection change, then the parenthesis will be ended, and divine favor will resume its operation with natural Israel, and through Israel to all nations, for their blessing.

Note how distinctly this matter is set forth in Romans 11th chapter. There the Apostle notes the rejection of natural Israel, and how it was foretold by the Prophets Isaiah and David—that their table of divine mercies and promises would become a trap and a snare to them, making them proud and arrogant instead of humble, and thus showing the unfitness of the majority of them for a share with Messiah in the spiritual part of the Kingdom. The Apostle pictures these in the olive tree, whose roots represented the Abrahamic Covenant, and whose branches represented the Jews. He points out that nearly all the branches were broken off—because of unbelief—and that the unbelief was because of an improper condition of heart. He says that those Jews who received Jesus were the branches not broken off, and that God during this age has been choosing out from amongst the Gentiles such as would be suitable substitutes for the broken off Jewish branches, so that eventually the olive tree would have the full number of branches definitely foreknown and intended—a few of them natural branches (including the Apostles and all the Jews who received Christ in sincerity) and the remainder of that spiritual olive tree, branches grafted in from amongst the Gentiles. The tree as a whole, then, represents spiritual Israel, the "one new man" mentioned by the Apostle, whose head is Christ, and whose members are partly Jewish and partly Gentile, transformed, renewed (Ephesians ii, 15).

Ignorant of This Mystery.

Continuing his discussion of the subject, in this same chapter, St. Paul says, "I would not, brethren, that ye should be ignorant of this mystery, lest ye be wise in your own conceit; that blindness in part is happened to Israel, until the fullness of the Gentiles be come in. And so all Israel shall be saved; as it is written, 'There shall come out of Zion the Deliverer.'"

Let us not make the mistake of supposing the Apostle meant that all Israel will be saved to heavenly glory, or to eternal life. Israel will be saved from the blindness and rejection of God which came on them as a nation when they rejected Messiah. The great Deliverer who will bless them will be composed of Messiah, the Head, and the Church, his Body—composed of overcomers, some of whom once were Jews and some of whom once were Gentiles. This great Deliverer who comes out of Zion is the spiritual Son of Zion, the Messiah, the King, the Royal Priest, the Judge, the Mediator of the New Covenant. The first blessings of his Millennial Kingdom will be upon natural Israel, from whom the Kingdom was taken away, and to whom the earthly phase of the Kingdom will be restored in the hands of the Ancient Worthies, who will be the earthly representatives of the heavenly Kingdom. The Kingdom itself will be invisible to men, but its earthly representatives will be seen and known to all mankind; as it is written, "Ye shall see Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, and all the Prophets, in the Kingdom of God" (Luke xiii, 28).

He Must Reign Until—

The object of our Lord's reign is distinctly set forth in the Scriptures. Also its length of duration. He is to bind Satan, "the prince of this world," to overthrow entirely his dominion of sin, ignorance, superstition, as they now control the human family, bought with the precious blood. His Kingdom will cause the knowledge of the Lord Jehovah to fill the whole earth, that every creature may receive a blessing through that knowledge; that as many as will come into harmony with God may obtain eternal life, and that all others shall be destroyed in the Second Death.

We are distinctly told that this Millennial Kingdom will not last forever, but for a definite period of time—for a thousand years. The Scriptures clearly intimate that the work of havoc caused by the reign of Sin and Death during six thousand years—from Adam to the second coming of Christ—will be fully offset by the one thousand years' reign of the Kingdom of Righteousness. How stimulating the thought! How it must thrill the hearts of all who love God and their fellow-men, all who grieve to see the Divine will and standards violated, all who love righteousness and hate iniquity, and realizing that the dying, and the crying, and the degradation, and the sin, which prevail throughout the whole world, are enemies, contrary to the Lord's Kingdom.

St. Paul assures us that in due time God will give this Kingdom to the Christ—divine power shall be established in the Millennial Kingdom, and at the end of that Millennial reign Christ will deliver up the Kingdom to God, even the Father—the entire work and purpose of the reign being then fully accomplished. He tells us that meantime Christ "must reign until he shall have put down all insubordination"—everything contrary to the divine will, everything sinful; until he shall have uplifted mankind out of the mire and clay and the horrible pit of sin and death; until all shall have been delivered who are willing to come into harmony with the Divine will—such as God is willing should have eternal life (1 Corinthians xv, 24-28).

This is the thought brought before us by St. Peter saying, "Times of refreshing shall come from the presence of the Lord, and he shall send Jesus Christ, which before was preached unto you, whom the heavens must retain until the times of restitution of all things which God hath spoken by the mouth of all his holy prophets since the world began" (Acts iii, 19-21). These times of restitution are the Kingdom times, the times of resurrection, the times of human uplifting from sin and death conditions to life, and joy, and peace, for all who will receive the Lord's favors upon his terms.

NATURALIZATION PAPERS.

District Attorney Holton Says Law is Not Obeyed.

Winston-Salem Journal.

Mr. A. E. Holton, United States district attorney, is bringing suit for the cancellation of a number of naturalization papers in his district on the ground that the requirements of the law were not carried out by the clerks of the court who administered the oaths. At present he has two cases in Rowan county, one in Ashe, one in Transylvania and fifteen in Haywood.

An act passed by Congress June 29, 1906, revolutionized the method of naturalization and since that time comparatively few clerks have been carrying out all the provisions. A foreigner must take oath at least two years and not more than seven years before he takes out his papers that he intends to become a citizen of the United States. He must give his age, his occupation, the country from which he comes, swear that he believes in organized government, doesn't believe in polygamy, and tell a whole lot of other things about himself.

The clerks forward duplicates of these applications to the bureau of immigration and naturalization. They are passed on by this department and sent to the district attorney, who is usually required to be present at the final hearing.

The red tape is plentiful and the clerks have not been paying sufficient attention to it. It is safe to say that they will hereafter, for the penalty is severe, the maximum being five years in prison.

PAIN

Pain in the head—pain anywhere, has its cause. Pain is congestion, pain is blood pressure—nothing else usually. At least, so says Dr. Shoop, and to prove it he has created a little pink tablet. That tablet—called Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets—cures blood pressure away from pain centers. Its effects are charming, pleasingly delightful. Gently though safely, it surely equalizes the blood circulation.

If you have a headache, it's blood pressure. If it's painful periods with women, same cause. If you are restless, nervous, it's blood congestion—blood pressure. That surely is a certainty, for Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets stop it in 20 minutes, and the tablets simply distribute the unnatural blood pressure.

Brush your finger, and doesn't it get red, and swell, and pain you? Of course it does. It's congestion, blood pressure. You'll find it where pain is—always. It's simply Common Sense.

STATE NEWS.

Rev. Dr. R. A. Torrey, one of the best known and most successful evangelists in the country, closed a three-weeks revival meeting in Winston-Salem Monday. The services were attended daily by thousands of people. Over 1,300 people professed religion during the meeting.

Judge Jeter C. Pritchard was in Washington Monday and called on President Taft, this being his first visit to the White House during the present administration.

While gathering grape leaves Saturday Mrs. James Jones, who resides near Rural Hall, was bitten on the arm by a snake. Her entire body has been permeated by the serpent's poison and her condition is regarded as hopeless.

The report of the tax-listers shows
an increase of over $500,000 in the property valuation of Winston-Salem
for this year over last year.

Walter Hobbs, who operated a notorious "blind tigers" in Durham, was Monday sentenced to the county roads for seven years—a year for each of seven cases of which he was convicted. Perhaps this is the severest penalty imposed in North Carolina for retailing since the state prohibition law went into effect.

Miss Mary E. Morgan, a daughter of the late Senator Morgan, of Alabama, died Monday at Blowing Rock,
where she had gone for the summer.
She was 52 years old.

The biennial meeting of the Imperial Palace of the Dramatic Order of the Knights of Khorassan is in session in Asheville.

After evading the officers for nearly a year, George Hall, a Randolph
county man convicted in Salisbury
of complicity in lynching three negroes
and sentenced to the penitentiary for a term of three years, was captured in Spartanburg, S. C., Monday. He escaped from the penitentiary last year.

There was a collision between a Southern freight train and a Seaboard Air Line through passenger train at the railroad crossing in Cary Monday. Two freight cars and the passenger engine were wrecked. The Seaboard engineer and one member of the freight crew were slightly injured.

The white people of Raleigh are contributing liberally to a fund for rebuilding a colored Methodist church
that was destroyed by fire a few weeks ago. The church had recently been completed at a total cost of about $75,000 and was one of the finest churches occupied by a colored congregation anywhere in the country.

The annual Masonic picnic at Mocksville was held Monday and was attended by a large crowd. A neat sum was realized for the Oxford orphan asylum, which is conducted under the auspices of the North Carolina Grand Lodge of Masons.

We Make Half a Million Every Year
in This Country.

National Magazine.

One of the most important of the industries developed in recent years
in the production of sugar from sugar
beets. More or less desultory work was done on sugar beets as far back as 1867. In 1892 only six factories were in operation in this country, the combined output of which was a little over 27,000,000 pounds of sugar.

There are now no less than sixty-
four factories in operation, with a combined output of approximately 500,000 short tons of sugar manufactured from beets, with a factory value
of $45,000,000.

One most important factor has been the production of a high grade
sugar beet seed. For many years
American growers have been dependent almost exclusively on foreign countries for our sugar beet seed, but for three or four years past the Department of Agriculture has been encouraging the successful growth of sugar beet seed in this country. It has shown that the seed can be greatly improved by breeding, tests of beets
from American grown seed running
as high as 17, 18 and sometimes 20
per cent. sugar.

The department is also continuing investigations to determine the best localities for sugar beet production.
When we remember that less than one-fifth of the sugar consumed in this country is produced in the states
it is plain that there is abundant opportunity for development; and it is certain that wherever a sugar factory
is located labor is immediately in demand at highest wages and the value of farm lands increased from 25 to 50 per cent.

Posthumous Egotism.

Boston Transcript.
Attempted provision for the display
of posthumous egotism has miscarried
in the case of a man in Rockaway,
N. Y., who left by will $10,000 to a church in that place in trust to keep
and invest, the income derived therefrom to be devoted to caring for his burial lot in the cemetery connected with the church. The heirs felt that they could make better use of this money, and contested the will, and a judge of the Brooklyn Supreme court has sustained their contention.
The legal ground upon which the decision was based was that while the disposition of property was not for charitable or religious, but utterly sel-
ish, purposes, it violated the statute against perpetuities. On the equity side he advanced the dictum that "on general principles" is better that the hungry living should be fed than dead men's graves should have flowers on them," and the law should not be strained to support any such disposition of property. Society, as well as the courts, discourages the attempts of men to take their property
with them after finishing with it in this life.

yers in Rockingham county. Mr.
Brooks will attend the courts of Rockingham regularly. The new partnership does not affect Mr. Brooks' practice in Greensboro.

The following dispatch sent out
from Norfolk, Va., will be of interest to the relatives and friends of Mr.
Thacker in this section: Rev. J. E.
Thacker, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, announced today that he had declined calls recently extended him from churches in Jacksonville, Fla., and New Orleans. The pastor has yet to dispose of a call from the Southern Presbyterian Assembly for evangelical work.

CITY'S FINANCIAL CONDITION.

Gross Expenses of the Municipal Government Less Than Receipts.

The report of the settling committee of the board of aldermen as filed by Chairman Glascock makes a gratifying showing as to the financial affairs of the city and demonstrates that the affairs of the municipality have been conducted in a wise and economical manner. During the past fiscal year the total receipts from taxes, special licenses, rents, penalties, court costs and all other sources amounted to $153,074.55, while the total expenditures were $151,276.66, a balance of $1,797.89. This balance, added to the bank balance at the beginning of the year, gives the city a balance in its favor of $51,071.76 at the beginning of the present fiscal year.

The detailed statement of the receipts and expenditures for the past fiscal year is as follows:

LOCAL TAX CAMPAIGN.

Progress in Education During the Past Twelve Months.

The office of the state superintendent of public instruction has made a report on the local tax campaign in the state for rural public schools for the year which ended July 1. There were sent during the year 36 speakers to 75 different appointments. Notwithstanding the excitement and confusion of the political campaign last autumn, local taxation was carried in 20 districts. During January and February the workers were busy with the legislature, seeing that the needed educational legislation was enacted. In March, April and May all records were broken as to the carrying of local tax elections, for in 132 districts they were successful; all this great work having to be done in 90 days or less.

Thus there were 152 successful local tax elections during the year. These were in 44 counties, a territory nearly half the entire area of the state.

For the first time in the history of the state, an entire county, New Hanover, voted local tax. In this county is Wilmington, the largest city in the state, which had never voted special tax for schools.

Under a new law all of the poor and weak counties will this year pay a special tax to aid in bringing up the school terms to four months. It is hoped that this object-lesson of a tax imposed by the legislature will be the means of encouraging the people to vote upon themselves special local taxes to secure such schools as they ought to have for their children.

The income for the year ended June 30 last, from local taxes, was $550,739, which is an increase of $104,407 over the year before. There was also raised by bonds and loans for special tax districts $308,552, which is an increase of $66,000 over the previous year. Thus there was the handsome sum of $959,292 raised in special tax districts; a total increase over the preceding twelve months of $169,616.

With the report goes a summary of results which shows that on July 1, 1908, there were 402 local tax districts; July 1, 1907, there were 504, and July 1, 1906, there were 748, and now there are 906. In the 98 counties in the state four have no local tax districts; 94 have them, one or more, 6 being only one, 33 having two, 16 having six to 10, 11 having 11 to 15, 14 having 18 to 47. The total school fund for the fiscal year 1906-7 was $2,863,218, and for the fiscal year 1907-8 was $3,294,232, the increase being $431,014.

CHARGED WITH RETAILING.

Arrest of 20 Citizens of North Wilkesboro Causes Sensation.

Winston-Salem Journal.

North Wilkesboro is having a sensation of its own. A few weeks ago the State Anti-Saloon League, through the local anti-saloon league, sent Mr. H. R. Thompson, a detective in their employ, to that town to run down blind tigers. He had been "working" the town as an insurance agent and had been a free purchaser of various kinds of liquor from Wilkes county moonshine down to plain lemon soda water and had been taking notes of the various friends (?) who had been so willing to favor him with the lubricants.

Monday the hammer fell and the result was that about 20 of the town's male population were rounded up before Mayor Jenkins. Then the fun began.

Seven lawyers were employed—three of them by the mayor to represent the town—and the other four by the various parties to answer the charges of retailing. When court convened about three hours of the time was taken up by the attorneys arguing as to whether the mayor had jurisdiction, when one of the attorneys asked that the detective be arrested and placed in custody for carrying a concealed weapon, it being claimed that he was not an officer of the law.

Things got so warm that the mayor ordered the doors locked and every man in the house searched for deadly weapons concealed about his person. This order was afterwards rescinded and things cooled off and moved smoothly. No verdict could be reached, so the mayor ordered the court adjourned until the 15th to allow him time to consult outside attorneys as to his jurisdiction. Mr. Thompson, the detective, was arrested afterwards for carrying concealed weapons and bound over for his appearance.

Ten Million More Given by Oil King.

John D. Rockefeller has raised the total of his contributions to the Rockefeller foundation of the general education board to $53,000,000 by a last or latest gift of $10,000,000, which is to be passed to the credit of the board on some of the hot days between now and August 1, and he has gone further than that and entrusted to the membership of the board, as it may be constituted at some future day, the responsibility of distributing the principal of the fund among the educational institutions of the land if it shall be deemed advisable by a sufficiently large quota of the membership.

Under the regulations at present obtaining this power of final disposition would extend only to $33,000,000, inasmuch as the board holds a sum of $20,000,000 in trust, the income of which, however, they have the disposal of, which Mr. Rockefeller and his son, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., may dispose of during their lives.

EARLY GIVES A RECEPTION.

Specialist Says Supposed Leper Has Inflammation of Skin.

New York, July 9.—John R. Early, the young Southerner heralded about the country as a leper, gave a reception tonight to prove that he is untainted. It was held at the New York skin and cancer hospital and was attended by medical men, a number of Early's friends and a sprinkling of the general public interested in the case.

Early, who lately came from Washington, where he was quarantined for nearly a year, received his guests cordially and discussed his recent isolation.

The reception was arranged by Dr. L. Duncan Bulkely, the specialist who brought Early here to show that there is nothing leprous about the man.

What Early has, Dr. Bulkely explained, is a simple inflammation of the skin, caused by the alkali used in the pulp mill where he formerly worked in North Carolina.

Dr. Bulkely says that after a careful examination not the slightest trace of the bacillus of leprosy was found, but as a precaution, he said, Early will probably be kept at the hospital for a week or more, so that the diagnosis may be confirmed by other dermatologists.

Southern's Annual Popular Excursion to Richmond.

On Tuesday, July 20, the Southern Railway will operate its popular excursion from Charlotte to Richmond. Train will leave Greensboro at 11.40 P. M., July 20, arriving in Richmond 6.30 next morning. Round trip fare from Greensboro for this trip will be $3.50. Tickets good returning leaving Richmond on any of the regular trains up to and including Thursday, July 22. Richmond is the capital city of Virginia, and no city in the South affords more places of amusement and attractions, and it goes without saying that a great crowd will take advantage of this excellent opportunity for such a splendid outing at a small cost. Wets Capture Bristol.

Bristol, Va., July 8.—By the narrow majority of 32, out of a total of 844 votes polled, the anti-prohibitionists won the local option election held here today, following one of the most hotly contested campaigns of its kind in the South.

Pandemonium reigned here tonight, in that part of Bristol which lies in Tennessee as well as in the half of the city which has declared for the sale of liquor after a dryness of two years. Preparations are already being made for opening up saloons and wholesale houses for supplying not only the immediate territory but that of the dozen nearby states which are in the prohibitive column.

Brown, Rankin & Co.

IN THE NEW STORE AT

526 South Elm Street,

(South of the railroad) are ready for business, having just completed the purchase of the two stocks of

Dry Goods and Shoes

Owned by R. P. Gorrell and J. T. Rankin & Co. and consolidated them in one room at 526 South Elm Street.

In putting two stores into one it is but natural that we have too many goods in certain lines and not enough in others. We are daily adding new goods to fill up the gaps and make the stock more complete. We are also cutting prices on the goods of which we have too many. Among the goods on which the price is greatly reduced you will find men's and ladies' Shoes, and especially children's and misses' Shoes and Slippers or low cut shoes. We have something less than 5,000 pairs, and they must be sold. Big lot short lengths or mill ends in Cotton-ades, Covert Cloths, Denims and the like, worth 15 to 18 cents, that we are selling at 10 cents per yard. Short lengths Table Damask at 48c that usually sells at 75c per yard. Short lengths in White Goods, Checked Muslin, Dimities, etc., at specially low prices. Best Calico, either light or dark colors, at 5c a yard. Big lot Percale, new patterns, at 8c, worth 10c elsewhere.

We could go on quoting prices, but what we want is for the readers of the Patriot to come to our store and see what we are doing. We positively guarantee to duplicate any prices given you by any store in Greensboro, cost sales and special sales not excepted. And in most cases you will find our prices lower for same class of goods.

Ours is not a CHEAP STORE in QUALITY, but a specially cheap store in prices, value considered.

Those who bought goods from Sample Brown years ago, and every body in the county then did, know that values were always away up and prices away down at his store. He always carried the best goods and had the best trade. He being largely interested in this new store you may expect the same now as it was in former years.

Yours truly,

Brown, Rankin & Co.

A sale of the Norfolk & Southern Railway property, which has been in the hands of receivers since July, 1908, is asked by the Trust Company of America, of New York, trustees under the railway's $15,000,000 first and refunding bond issue of May 1, 1908, in a supplemental bill of foreclosure filed in the Federal court in Norfolk, Va., calling for an immediate settlement. The action is based on default in interest.

Senator Jackson has introduced a bill in the Georgia senate making it unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to sell any commodity for a lower price in one section of the state than in another section. The first offense is made punishable as a misdemeanor and in the case of a foreign corporation the second offense is punishable by ousting from business in the state. Domestic corporations may suffer a revocation of their charters for second offenses.

The Georgia house of representatives has adopted a resolution directing Georgia congressmen and senators to favor measures to deny the use of the mails to the New Orleans and the New York cotton exchanges. Another resolution was adopted calling upon the national government to put the cotton producers on the same footing with the cotton buyers by collecting and publishing information about the supply and demand of cotton similar to the reports now issued regarding the growth of the cotton crop.

Thousands of cattle in Mexico are dying of thirst. In parts of the Mexican grazing country not a drop of rain has fallen in a year. Many streams on which the ranchmen depended for watering their herds have entirely dried up, and as there are few wells, the cattlemen have no alternative but to let the cattle die of thirst. The spectacle presented by the thirst-crazed animals is said to be pitiful in the extreme.

A bill has been introduced in the Georgia legislature to create a state good roads commission. Heretofore the roads have been controlled by the counties. The expense of the new board, including a $3,000 salary for the commissioner, are to be paid out of a tax on automobiles. All engineers in the pay of the state are to be subject to call for service by the road commissioner.

A Paris newspaper takes issue with a government official's statement to the effect that Germany occupies second place among the naval powers and points out that second place is held by the United States, which with a fleet of sixteen battleships "accomplished an admirable feat in circumnavigating the globe." The paper adds that all English authorities class the United States second among the naval powers. Germany, therefore, would be third and France fourth. Germany's advance is explained by the fact that Germany has had the money to build new ships, while France has had only enough to maintain an already large navy.

Life 100,000 Years Ago.

Scientists have found in a cave in Switzerland bones of men, who lived 100,000 years ago, when life was in constant danger from wild beasts. Today the danger, as shown by A. W. Brown, of Alexander, Me., is largely from deadly disease. "If it had not been for Dr. King's New Discovery, which cured me, I could not have lived," he writes; "suffering as I did from a severe lung trouble and stubborn cough." FATHER OF PRESBYTERIANISM.

Saturday was the four hundredth anniversary of the birth of John Calvin, the "father of Presbyterianism," and the event was appropriately celebrated by followers of that religious faith throughout the civilized world. Calvin, as preacher, statesman and reformer, rendered a service to Christianity in general and Protestantism in particular that will cause his name and influence to live as long as the world endures. He was the great theologian of the Reformation and the founder of a new church policy that has grown to be one of the mightiest forces in the religious world. Morley, the historian, says of him: "Calvin shaped the mold in which the bronze of Puritanism was cast. That commanding figure, of such vast power yet somehow with so little lustre, by his unbending will, his pride, his severity, his French spirit of system, his gift for government, for legislation, for dialectic in every field, his incomparable industry and persistence, had conquered a more than Pontifical ascendancy in the Protestant world. * * * Nothing less than to create in man a new nature was his far-reaching aim, to regenerate character, to simplify and consolidate religious faith. * * * His theory might have been expected to sink men crouching and paralyzed into the blackest abysses of despair, and it has in fact been answerable for much anguish in many a human heart; but nonetheless, Calvinism has proved itself a famous soil for rearing heroic natures."

Calvin was born in France July 10, 1509, and at the age of 12 years was chaplain of the cathedral of his native town of Noyon. When 23 years old he was recognized as the head of the Reformation movement in France and was forced to seek refuge at Nevar. Calvin went to Basel in 1535, where at the age of 27 he wrote his "Institutes of the Christian Religion." Then, starting for Strassburg, he was induced to stop at Geneva, where he did his life work. Geneva was already a Protestant city, but there was no church organization. With Calvin there began, under many struggles and discouragements, the development of a new era of civic and ecclesiastical life of the city-state. In 1538 he was ordered to leave Geneva, and until 1541 he was in Strassburg, where he married. Then he returned to Geneva. Refugees from all parts of the Protestant world had flocked there. John Knox was there and Bodley, founder of the library at Oxford. Calvin's writings stirred up many quarrels with his opponents, as a result of one of which the Spaniard, Servetus, was burned at the stake in 1553. It was in 1559 that Calvin established the University of Geneva, with four faculties of philosophy, jurisprudence, theology and the natural sciences. Calvin died in 1564, when but 55 years of age, of hard work.

Calvin's unyielding will and stern spirit were mirrored in a grave severity of manner. He had supreme contempt for riches; would never take a gift save to pass it on to the poor; and denied himself through life to the utmost simplicity. He was slow in judgment, but decisive in execution, zealously energetic, and, if arbitrary, yet genuinely heroic in the single-eyed courage of his convictions. In speaking he was logical and acute, at times rising to real eloquence when especially moved by his passions. His writings show method in arrangement, clearness of expression, and scientific exactness (so far as then known) in fact.

The Patriot hopes that all the farmers and farmers' wives, sons and daughters who can possibly do so will attend the farmers' institutes to be held in this county next week. The institutes will be conducted by trained men and women, and there will be something to interest every man, woman and child who lives on the farm.

MAKING CITIZENS.

About twenty years ago a man who was experimenting in the untrodden field of daily journalism in the town of Concord conceived and gave expression to the idea that North Carolina was not doing its duty by the youthful violators of the laws of the commonwealth. The editor believed it a crime against society to sentence boys to enforced association with mature and hardened criminals in the jails and on the county roads, and he lifted up his voice through the printed page against the system that tended to destroy rather than save the manhood in a boy convicted of an offense against the law. Out of that agitation grew the movement that resulted in the establishment of one of the most beneficial and useful institutions in North Carolina—the Stonewall Jackson Manual Training and Industrial School, located on a good farm near Concord. It is a home and school for wayward boys without any of the appearances of a prison. Here youths who go astray are committed by the courts of the state and trained for citizenship.

It was appropriate and most fortunate for the state and the institution that the editor who started the agitation twenty years ago—Mr. James P. Cook, of Concord—was made chairman of the board of trustees. The trustees selected for superintendent Mr. Walter Thompson, an experienced educator and splendid executive, who, with the active co-operation of Chairman Cook and the other members of the board, one of whom is Mr. Caesar Cone, of Greensboro, is conducting the institution in a most acceptable manner. The boys divide their time between school work and working on the farm and in the shops, where they are trained in wood-working, tailoring, shoemaking, printing and other trades.

Prompted by his newspaper instinct, Chairman Cook became possessed of the idea that it would be a good thing to print a newspaper from the institution, the paper to serve the double purpose of training a portion of the boys in a useful trade and in keeping the public acquainted with what the Stonewall Jackson Manual Training and Industrial School is doing. The first number of the paper, which is appropriately called "The Uplift," came from the press in June, and its contents bore abundant testimony as to the wisdom of its establishment. The paper is produced at a minimum cost, the type-setting and other mechanical work being done by inmates of the school, and is issued once a month at a subscription price of 50 cents a year. It is the purpose of the management to raise through subscriptions to the paper (a most interesting publication, by the way,) an amount of money sufficient to construct an additional and badly needed building at the school. Any reader of the Patriot who will send 50 cents to "The Uplift," Concord, N. C., will receive in return more than his money's worth, and in addition will have the realization that he is assisting in the praiseworthy work of making good citizens of wayward boys, who, but for the existence of the Stonewall Jackson Manual Training and Industrial School, would doubtless develop into hardened criminals, a burden upon and a menace to society. Already the institution is doing something for Guilford county, and we hope to see Guilford do something for the institution by way of subscribing liberally to "The Uplift."

A NEW FORCE BILL.

Hon. Charles H. Cowles, the young Republican elected to Congress from the Eighth North Carolina district last fall, has introduced in the house of representatives a bill the object of which is to give Federal control to state elections. The measure seeks to re-enact several of the reconstruction acts passed for the purpose of perpetuating Republican rule in the South and which were stricken from the statute books by act of Congress fifteen years ago. "The statutes which Mr. Cowles seeks to revive deal particularly with the supervision of elections by Federal authority. They would restore to the party in power a supervisory control, which it has been thought was ended forever," says the Washington correspondent of the Raleigh News and Observer.

Manifestly the object of the bill introduced by Mr. Cowles is to annul the constitutional amendment restricting the elective franchise in North Carolina, but no one need be alarmed unduly. The time for such sectional legislation passed with reconstruction days, and no one is better acquainted with that fact than the young congressman who introduced the bill for political purposes.

"The American people have asked the Aldrich tariff-mongers for bread, and they do not get a stone for their tombs save under a duty of fifty per cent. ad valorem," is the terse manner in which the Philadelphia Record expresses a living truth.

Maj. J. W. Long, of the United States army, retired, was run down and killed by an automobile in Washington Friday. He was a native of North Carolina.

ALFALFA IN NORTH CAROLINA.

Experience of W. E. Benbow, Well Known Guilford County Farmer, Southern Field.

The growing of alfalfa is increasing in North Carolina, as it is in other portions of the South, and it is paying a most satisfactory crop and proving well. Mr. W. E. Benbow, of Guilford county, whose farm is at Oak Ridge, in the northwestern part of the county, and between two branches of the Southern Railway, took up the growing of this crop several years ago and has been very successful in its handling. In giving the details in connection with the crop, Mr. Benbow, early in March, wrote The Field that he considered it "a very valuable forage crop. Three years ago last August I seeded three acres in alfalfa, using twenty pounds of seed per acre. I got a good stand and cut the first crop the following spring—on the last day of April. I cut five crops that year and five each year since, making fifteen cuttings in three years. The stand is still good on most of this lot and the prospect is fine for a crop this spring. It has yielded each year about twenty-four large two-horse loads of choice hay. I think it pays me better than anything else I ever raised. There is no need of failure on any well-drained land, if properly prepared and seeded. I seeded twelve acres more last September. Have a good stand. It is now quite green and growing nicely. I think fifty dollars per acre net profit each year a very conservative estimate of the three acres I have cropped three years."

This section of North Carolina is in the Piedmont region, a fine general farming section where agriculture flourishes in practically all its branches. Tobacco is an important crop, and all the staple products are grown to advantage. The average yield of wheat by the leading farmers of Guilford county for 1907 was given as over twenty-seven bushels to the acre. Good farming properties can be purchased at from $10 to $50 per acre. The growing season is long, permitting from two to three crops annually, and the average mean temperature for the year is a little under sixty degrees. A system of fine macadam roads, embracing a hundred and sixty miles of highways, is now under construction at a cost of $300,000. The county is traversed by the main line of the Southern Railway and several of its branches, supplying transportation facilities to all sections. Greensboro and High Point, two of the great manufacturing centers and business points of the state, are in Guilford county, and their rapid and substantial growth have made it one of the most populous and wealthiest counties of North Carolina.

THE SOUTHBOND RAILROAD.

Important Link to Connect Coal Fields and Southern Mills.

Wall Street Journal.

The decision of the Norfolk & Western to push its Roanoke-Winston branch ninety miles further south by building from Winston to Wadesboro is a significant move from various standpoints. It is another of those extensions by which the West Virginia coal fields are brought directly into touch with the piedmont industrial districts of the Carolinas.

The Norfolk & Western line from its interior terminal at Winston-Salem and at Durham distributes its coal to the manufacturing district of North Carolina over the Southern Railway lines and over the Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley from Walnut Cove. Building to Wadesboro from Winston-Salem will enable it to reach new coal consuming territory much more directly. Furthermore, this line passes through more than half of the width of the state of North Carolina, embracing much of the best agricultural territory, with a good supply of timber lands.

The connection with the Atlantic Coast Line at Wadesboro gives the Norfolk & Western approach to the Seaboard at the two important shipping points of Wilmington and Charleston. The Norfolk & Western thus reaches the southeastern Seaboard with its coal tonnage by a large haul mainly over its own lines. This arrangement should be highly advantageous to the companies and to the country concerned.

Woman Exercises Right to Change Her Mind.

Danville, Va., July 8.—Although another man had obtained a license to wed her, Mrs. Mary Stallings, of Ruffin, N. C., availed herself of a woman's right to change her mind and accepted as her husband, J. T. Barker, the ceremony being performed at Pelham, N. C., a famous Gretna Green of this section. J. T. Gammon, a widower, went to Wentworth, N. C., several days ago and secured the license necessary to marry Mrs. Stallings, but when he returned he found that she had changed her mind and decided to marry Barker, who had also been a suitor.

Failed to Break His Neck.

Nashville, Ga., July 9.—That the hangman's noose is a bunglesome and merciless mode of execution was clearly demonstrated here today when Marshall Lewis, colored, was led back upon the crudely constructed gallows, blood flowing from his mouth and begging for water, after Sheriff L. C. Avera had sprung the trap and the body had dropped six feet.

The second attempt proved unsuccessful in breaking the condemned man's neck, death resulting in 15 minutes from strangulation.

Sees Mother Grow Young.

"It would be hard to overstate the wonderful change in my mother since she began to use Electric Bitters," writes Mrs. W. L. Gilpatrick, of Danforth, Me. "Although past 70 she seems really to be growing young again. She suffered untold misery from dyspepsia for 20 years. At last she could neither eat, drink nor sleep. Doctors gave her up and all remedies failed till Electric Bitters worked such wonders for her health. They in vigorate all vital organs, cure Liver and Kidney troubles, induce sleep, impart strength and appetite. Only 50c by all druggists."

High Water Runs in Western Cities.

St. Louis, July 11.—Floods in nearly every section of the Central Western and Southwestern states rose higher today, following intense precipitation at numerous points last night and this morning. The flood conditions at all points reported are no better today, and the loss of property grows with every hour.

Throughout Iowa, Missouri, and parts of Texas, Oklahoma and Nebraska the railroads are paralyzed by conditions which have shut off every avenue of trade since last night.

Crops in many parts of Illinois, Iowa, and Missouri are totally ruined, and in some cases farmers are held prisoners in tree tops, while the water has turned hitherto high and dry places into running rivers.

recently organized a real estate company in Burlington.

RIDGEFIELD ITEMS.

Wheat threshing is now in progress in this locality. There seems to be a very good average crop.

The few fair days during the past week have given the farmers the opportunity to cultivate the corn crop,
which was in bad condition on account
of so much rain.

Mr. F. A. Slate, of Kernersville, is teaching a singing class at this place.

Rev. S. B. Klapp will conduct a

Johnson-Moore Wedding.

At the home of the bride Miss Lillie Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
A. S. Moore, of Monroe township, was united in holy wedlock to Mr. Dolph
M. Johnson, of Greensboro, Thursday afternoon, July 10. It was known only to the parents and a few friends
that they were to be made one at that time. Among those that were present from a distance were: Mr.
and Mrs. J. M. Midley, of Richmond, Va.; Misses Pearl Bowman, Sarah Hodgin and Mr. Hinshaw, of Greensboro. Rev. N. R. Richardson, of Spring Garden Street M. E. church, spoke the words that made them husband and wife. After congratulations refreshments were served, which consisted of various good and nice things.
Mr. and Mrs. Johnson then drove to Greensboro and boarded No. 35 for Asheboro.

The groom is a young man who has many friends and holds a responsible position with the Watson Milling Company, of Greensboro, while the bride was with the Kress's five
and ten cent store and made many warm friends while here. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson will be at home on West Lee street after Friday of this week. Many friends wish them a long and happy life. X.

THE POLICY OF THE HOUSE.

Is to see that our people are not shut off from the styles of the Northern markets, and it is a known fact that Elm street is as good as Broadway to study the mode.

500 Felt and Straw Hats Exactly Half Price.

Not old hats, nor hats of abandoned shapes, but new stylish headwear of odd sizes.
Maybe your size and style is among them.

200 Summer Suits at Half Price.

All pure wool, but the stock of these patterns is broken, the sizes are a little irregular, and they must be cleared out.

One-Fourth Off on All Other Suits.

From the very best of our regular stock, to odd pants. Nothing will be reserved except wash pants.

These sales are always anticipated, and the success of them in the past has been too great for us to attempt to describe everything. Come and see for yourself.

No goods sent out on approval during this sale. Positively nothing will be booked.
Money will be refunded on unsatisfactory purchases.

Vanstory Clothing Company,

C. H. McKNIGHT, General Manager.

Notice to Delinquent Taxpayers.

I will offer at public auction at the court house door in the city of Greensboro, N. C.

SENATE PASSES TARIFF BILL.

Ten Republicans Vote Against and One Democrat for the Measure.

Washington, July 8.—The tariff bill passed the senate just after 11 o'clock tonight by a vote of 45 to 34. Republicans voting in the negative were: Beveridge, of Indiana; Bristow, of Kansas; Brown, of Nebraska; Burkett, Nebraska; Clapp, of Minnesota; Crawford, of South Dakota; Cummins, of Iowa; Dolliver, of Iowa; La Follette, of Wisconsin; Nelson, of Minnesota; McNary, of Louisiana, was the only Democrat recorded in the affirmative.

As it passed the senate the bill contains almost 400 paragraphs. The senate made 840 amendments to the house provisions, many of which were added today.

The closing scenes in the senate chamber were tame indeed. Mr. La Follette's three-hour speech tonight was earnest, but not especially animated. He had a slim audience. Senators remained in their seats only when required to be there to vote.

The results of the vote on the bill had been long discounted. There was no doubt of its passage by the usual finance committee majority.

Following several hours of monotonous discussion of the general features of the tariff bill, the closing hours were characterized by a spirited controversy between Senator Aldrich on the one hand and a number of the insurgent senators on the other as to the standing of Republican senators who might cast their votes against the bill.

Washington, July 8.—Much interest was aroused in the senate today over the adoption of the amendment of Senator Bradley, removing the restrictions on the free sale of tobacco in the hand. This action was the result of many years of agitation and of much active recent campaigning.

The Bradley amendment authorizes any one, the grower, any person to whom he may make transfer, or any one else, to sell tobacco in the hand without paying a tax, but requires that when the sale exceeds 10 pounds, a record shall be kept for the benefit of the internal revenue service.

The present law permits the grower to dispose of his product, but does not allow his vendee to transfer it without paying a tax of six cents a pound. The prohibition has been the cause of much disturbance, culminating in the forays of the night riders in Kentucky and Tennessee.

The finance committee made an adverse report on the provision to the senate. Senator Bailey, author of the amendment, has, however, been persistent in his efforts to have the tax removed, and at last succeeded in prevailing upon Senator Aldrich and other members of the finance committee to acquiesce.

As the tariff bill passed the house, it carried a very similar provision, so that there is little doubt but that the bill as passed will contain a practical repeal of the present tax on "hand" tobacco.

The other provisions of the tobacco schedule were retained. These impose a tax of eight cents a pound on chewing and smoking tobacco and snuff; of $3 on cigars weighing more than three pounds per thousand; with increases for high grade cigars running up to $9 per 1,000; of 75 cents on cigars weighing three pounds or less; $3.60 on cigarettes weighing more than three pounds per 1,000, and $1.25 on cigarettes of not more than three pounds per 1,000.

KEEPING OUT OF DEBT.

It Means Self-respect, Self-reliance, and Happiness.

Leigh Mitchell Hodges, in the North American.

One reason so many folks find the road of life uncomfortable is the fact that they're walking barefooted over broken promises.

There's nothing so heavy to carry, so disheartening, so weakening, so nerve-racking as debt.

If it stopped with the flattening of the pocketbook, it would be bad enough; but it only begins there.

It weighs on the mind. It places the victim to a disadvantage in work and play. It compromises manhood and womanhood, and eats away at character like a canker worm.

The best and biggest vow a young man can make is to keep out of debt.

There may come times when he cannot keep this vow and fulfill his duty to his own. Such times are not of frequent occurrence, however, but when they do come, the debtless man will find it easier to get credit than it would be if he had already exhausted his credit.

To keep out of debt means self-respect and self-reliance. It means health and happiness and freedom from that worst of foes, worry.

Had Heard Pa Speak of Him.

It was at a White House reception that a Philadelphian picked up a choice gem which he never tires of telling.

A charming girl of eighteen, the daughter of a Western publisher, and quite a society queen in her own city, had been brought to Washington by her father, and at one of the White House receptions was presented to President Roosevelt.

As her small hand disappeared within the hearty grasp of the president, the maiden looked up at him and, smiling sweetly, said:

"I'm awfully glad to meet you, Mr. Roosevelt; I've often heard father speak of you."

Investigate Soft Drinks.

Cincinnati, O., July 8.—What is to be the most systematic and sweeping investigation of "soft drinks" sold in the South, since the prohibition wave began sweeping that territory, was inaugurated here yesterday by government chemists, who, from samples collected from many points in the Southern states, are to determine to what percentage alcohol is an ingredient in these drinks, and if being used in them, in violation of the pure food statute.

YOUNG NEGRO'S DEFICIENCY.

Subject Evokes Lively Discussion in Sunday School Convention.

Whether or not the growing deficiency in negro young men was due to the failure of parents and others responsible to inculcate right principles in them and use corrective measures in their youthful lives, or whether it was due to their own inclination for higher things was the subject of a heated discussion at the session of the inter-denominational Sunday School Convention in Durham last week. The meeting was attended by a large number of prominent negroes from this and other states.

Prof. S. G. Atkins, of Winston-Salem, provoked the discussion by his address on "The Problem of the Young Men." "The boys and young men are getting away from parental control," he said. "They drop out of the schools as they reach the higher grades and are gradually slipping away from the church."

Dr. J. B. Dudley, president of the A. and M. College for negroes, at Greensboro, warmly seconded these remarks, and stated that not only the churches but the schools were made up almost entirely of girls and young women, while the boys were off shooting craps and getting into trouble.

"Who is looking after the boys," he exclaimed. "What are we doing to interest them and to show them that we are interested in them? I tell you, we are making a serious mistake when we neglect the boys, and by our neglect set up two codes of morals, one for the boys and the other for the girls."

Rev. W. C. Coleman, of Raleigh, made an interesting talk on the subject and declared that the church must try to reach them. He pleaded for more institutional churches to satisfy the social and physical needs of the boy. He stated that in many cases educated and trained ministers could not do the work, because the people would not have them. Along this line he said: "I know we are foggy preachers, and some of us are yet praying the same prayer we used before the death of Lincoln, but this is a case of like people, like preacher. If a good, trained and educated preacher comes to you he would starve to death unless he condescended to your level and preached like you wanted him to. We need more educated men and women who will strive to lift the people up to their own level and not fall to the level of the people."

Money to be Deposited in North Carolina.

Norfolk, July 9.—As a result of a protest by North Carolina bankers, the funds for the erection of the new Federal building at Salisbury will not be deposited in Baltimore, but in the depository at Statesville. Representative Cowles, who is here, announces that he has succeeded in having the Treasury department order this disposition of the funds, as a result of the protest made by Carolina bankers.

RESTORE LIFE BY SURGERY.

Powerful Solutions are Injected With Pressure on Chest.

Dr. George Crile, of Philadelphia, who has attained remarkably successful results in the field of plastic surgery, recently described his methods of resuscitating persons apparently dead before the faculty of the College of Physicians. The procedure is described in the New York Medical Journal, as follows:

"The patient is placed in the prone posture and rapid rhythmic pressure is made on the lower portion of the chest, which produces artificial artificial circulation. "A cannula is rapidly inserted into any artery and directed toward the heart. To this a rubber tube and funnel are attached and sterile normal salt solution or Locke's solution, or Ringer's solution, is poured into the vessel. "When about a quart of fluid has passed into the blood vessels fifteen to thirty minims of a one to one thousand adrenalin solution are injected into the vessel by inserting the needle of the hypodermic syringe through the rubber tubing close to the cannula. Synchronously with this injection, the rhythmic pressure on the chest is brought to its maximum, so that the solution shall reach the heart promptly. "When the pressure within the coronary arteries reaches 30 to 40 millimeters of mercury the heart begins to beat. The cannula is then withdrawn. The saline solution is used for the purpose of filling the arteries, so that the adrenalin solution will reach the heart promptly. Such a technique must be of service; the operating room staff must be trained that the materials and instruments may be produced within two minutes after the cessation of respiration or of the heart-beat. "Dr. Crile has applied his method to a number of patients, who have apparently died after accidents, such as drowning, shock by live wires, etc., and he finds that the human heart responds to the treatment more readily than the heart of experimental animals. One patient so treated recovered permanently. The method does not destroy the chance of permanent recovery of the patient. It does prevent operative death on the table, and allows the fatal termination to come after the return of the patient to his bed, a much less distressing circumstance. "It is, in Dr. Crile's opinion, the best method of resuscitation, excepting the direct transfusion of blood, and including the administration of stimulants, oxygen, electricity, and cardiac massage."

At midnight Saturday night more than one thousand saloons in Texas ceased operations because of the coming into effect of the law invalidating all liquor licenses issued on February 20, 1909, and limiting the number of saloons in each county to one for each 500 population. The issuance of new licenses is barred except where the saloon is conducted in conjunction with a hotel.

HELP PAY FOR ROADS.

Automobile Drivers Must Come Across With Their Share.

Wilmington Dispatch.

There is no use talking, the country is going to make automobile drivers come across and help pay for the roads. Chairman Hutchison, of Charlotte, who has had charge of the road building in Mecklenburg, sounds a "note of alarm." He says he has no objection to the auto, but that he has been investigating from actual observation, and that these big rubber-tired machines simply play smash with a macadam road. The fast speed and large tires is what does it, says Mr. Hutchison, and to back up his assertion he quotes several articles from the Engineering Record, of New York, an acknowledged authority on such things. The man who drives his machine along at eight or ten miles an hour, does no harm; it is the chap who flies that plays thunder. The fast speed creates a suction that draws the top coating away and sends it glimmering. But Mr. Hutchison is not alone in this claim of injury to the roads; a great many other men have talked it and are still at it, all of which is preliminary to placing a road tax on every automobile in the country. Hold tight to your leg; it is going to be pulled.

Southern's Annual Excursion to Asheville.

On Tuesday, July 20, the Southern Railway will operate its grand annual excursion to Asheville. Tickets for this excursion will be sold for train No. 21 leaving Greensboro at 12:30 P. M., July 20, and plenty of extra coaches will be provided on this train to take care of the large crowd that will take advantage of this opportunity to take a trip to the "Land of the Sky" at a very small cost, the round trip fare from Greensboro being only $4.50. These tickets will be good to return leaving Asheville on any of the regular trains up and including Friday, July 23.

Going on this train, the entire trip through the mountains will be made in day time. These tickets will afford ample time to visit the many attractions at this beautiful mountain city, and a grand outing awaits all that are fortunate enough to join this party. For further information, call on or address the undersigned.

A Mud-Bound Town.

The town of Canton, in Haywood county and on the Murphy branch of the Southern Railway, is in the center of the comet's tail—or at least in the center of the rain belt. Every street had been opened for water mains and sewer pipes and for the past three weeks constant rains have made the streets impassable for travel. Several teams have stuck up in the mud and Saturday the mayor posted signs warning passers that they used the streets at their own risk. The entire business of the town, except the fibre mill, is at a standstill on account of mud and water.

Whiskey Dealers Rushing to Bristol.

Bristol, Va., July 9.—Following the victory which the "wets" won in the election at Bristol, Va., last week, there is a general scramble for places by whiskey dealers of several Southern cities, who plan to make the town a distributing point for the dry states in this section of the South.

It is estimated that the revenue from licenses will be over $100,000 annually, and the city government is planning improvements at the expense of the drinkers of the neighboring states. It was the revenue cry that won the election for the whiskey men.

That portion of the town which lies in Tennessee is "dry" by state law, and places of business on the state line ready for quick distribution to Tennessee are in much demand.

Florida Murderer Gets Life Sentence.

Marianna, Fla., July 10.—His wife's story that Dr. H. Alexander had kissed her while she was a patient in his chair caused J. V. White to kill the dentist several months ago and today the resulting trial ended with the jury's verdict of second degree murder, which carries with it a sentence of life imprisonment. White's plea was that of self-defense, he asserting that after the trouble had been "patched up" he met Dr. Alexander in a dark street and believed that he was about to be attacked. The dentist, was armed only with an umbrella and five bullets were fired at him by White. Witnesses, however, testified that White had threatened to kill Dr. Alexander.

Fasted Forty-Nine Days.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 8.—Mrs. Lillian O. Hoag has broken all records for fasting, abstaining from food for 49 days. The highest record previously was that of Etta Priscilla Grove, a Chicago school teacher, who shunned food 41 days, a year ago.

Mrs. Hoag's fast was broken yesterday afternoon, when she "dined" with her brother on a "meal" of a slice of cantaloupe. This long period of fasting was due to an illness the woman had hoped to overcome by refraining from food of any kind. The result was more than was hoped for. Freeing herself of one ailment, the woman rid herself of others.

Repays Conscience Money.

Atlanta, Ga., July 8.—Fifty years ago a small barefoot boy stole $5 from Dr. R. Hartwell, a Thomaston, Ga., druggist. Today it was announced that this boy, now said to be a well-to-do physician in Nashville, Tenn., had repaid to the three daughters of Dr. Hartwell $100 conscience money, representing the stolen five and interest.

The "boy" wished to return the money soon after taking it, but the events of the civil war had taken him away from Georgia and when he returned he could not for a long time learn anything about Dr. Hartwell's whereabouts.

Have you seen that prize Gullford buggy given for the largest yield of corn?

The Sale People Talk About

This sale of Clothing and Furnishings, Hats, Caps, Trunks, Bags and Shoes of I. L. Blaustein's, 304 S. Elm street, Greensboro, must be sold at once as the Wallace Clothing Co., of Salisbury, N. C., will occupy their building after August 15th.

The first three days of the sale has proven a wonderful success. The flood gates of low prices have been thrown wide open. We have resolved to just one purpose; that of having the greatest sale ever known in Greensboro. The short road to such a result lies in the power of low prices, and we mean just this: That we shall not be severed from our determination until our object is accomplished.

We beg to remind you that this sale is even above the extraordinary, not only for low prices but for class of merchandise, as the makers of this clothing are of national reputation. Read them. It means money saved. Promises in print performed at the counter. Don't miss reading these profitless quotations, which are half prices.

LEGS GROW SHORTER.

Physiological Fact is Discovered Accidentally in Baltimore.

Baltimore News.

As a man grows older his legs grow shorter. This is a physiological fact, and Baltimore is the seat of its discovery. It all came out accidentally when a man walked into a Baltimore street clothing store today and called for a pair of trousers, 32 length. He tried them on. They dropped on his shoes in a baggy fold. "They're not 32!" he exclaimed.

"Yup," insisted the man, as he came up with a tape measure; "but, running the measure quickly over the inside seam line, you're not 32 yourself."

"I'm not 32! Why, you're off! I've been 32 for the last six years."

"Jesso," said the man. "And now you're 31½. You've lost half an inch leg length."

The customer surveyed the man's face with a "quit-your-kiddin'-me" expression.

"Honestly," said the man, "it's a fact that as a man grows older his legs grow shorter. Ask any tailor in town, and he'll tell you the same thing."

A veteran tailor—a man who has measured men's legs for years and years—was hunted up.

"It's a fact," he said. "I don't know just how to account for it, but it is a physical fact that a man's legs grow shorter every year he lives, if he is an average man. Myself, for instance—I am not old, not forty even, but I know my inside seam measurement is three-quarters of an inch shorter than it used to be. I'm not overcomplicated, either. I think growing corpulency accounts for it. As a man develops a bay window, fat develops on the upper part of his legs, and our measurement from the fork of the trousers down has to be reduced accordingly, the growing fat absorbing considerable of the actual length. And just as the leg length is reduced, the length over the abdomen and hips are increased, because it takes that much more goods to make the distance."

Pillow Toward the Locomotives.

"There is only one way to sleep on a train," said a porter of a sleeping car, "and that is with the head toward the locomotives. If it should make up my berth so that the passengers would lie with their feet toward the locomotives they would sleep little, if at all."

"The reason is that with the head pointed right the blood runs down to the feet, and the calm head invites sleep. But point the other way the head fills up with blood, the mind becomes excited, and sleep is almost an impossibility."

"It is on this account that on sleeping cars the pillows are toward the engine."

Public Life of Millionaires.

The most novel detail of all novel advertising processes has been the elevation by advertisement of the richer American families into a sort of public life. People in general being very much interested in money, and especially in large collections of it, are interested in persons who have the use of such collections, and like, apparently, to be kept informed of the manner of life of such persons, and where they go and what they do. Recognizing and stimulating this interest, the American newspapers have fed it abundantly, yes, superabundantly, and so it has come about that whereas a reasonable measure of occasional obscurity is one of the things that persons who can afford to satisfy their inclinations might naturally prize and try to obtain, it is one of the things that very, very rich people find it particularly hard, if not impossible, to command in this land.
