Judge Boyd has signed an order discharging from bankruptcy E. T.
Kearns, of High Point. He has authorized the trustee, R. T. Picketts, to make himself party to a suit pending

Messrs. G. C. Hampton and W. B.
Trogon engaged in a fistfight on South Elm street yesterday, but were separated before any serious damage was done. Bad blood has existed between the two men for several years
and when they met yesterday they decided to fight it out. They were to have been given a hearing in the municipal court this morning, but the case was continued until Monday.

Messrs. J. B. Hendren, R. B. Moody
and J. C. Gargett, employees of the
So. ern Power Company, were given
a hearing before Justice of the Peace Collins Saturday on the charge of trespassing on the lands of Messrs.
Garland Daniel and Wilson Kindley,

ers for the company's transmission
lines. Justice Collins reserved his decision until Monday, when he dismissed the case.

Reports from different sections indicate a considerable improvement
in crop conditions during the past
two weeks, due to almost ideal weather conditions. Corn is doing splendently and tobacco seems to be improving. From the southern part of the county and from Randolph come
encouraging reports as to the cotton crop. It now appears that the farmers of this section will not fare so badly this year, after all.

Deputy Marshal Bailey and Revenue Officer Atkins Thursday served a capias on Robert Coble, of Julian,
summoning him to appear at the October term of United States District court in Greensboro to answer the charge of blockading. He was placed under a bond of $50. A true bill was returned by the grand jury at the last term of court upon the evidence
of witnesses tending to connect Coble
with the ownership of a blockade still
that had been destroyed near his home.

In the municipal court this morning Mr. C. C. Wilson, manager of Clegg's produce store, was fined $25
for an assault on Mr. J. H. Auman,
an employee whom he had discharged.
During a quarrel between the two men yesterday afternoon Mr. Wilson
took a revolver from a drawer and
the weapon was discharged, the ball
entering the floor near Mr. Auman,
who was going out of the store. Mr.
Wilson claimed that the firing of the revolver was an accident, but the other man seemed to think that his life was in danger.

Mr. J. E. Latham, a well known cotton merchant, was the victim of a painful accident on the public square
about 6:30 o'clock last evening. During a congestion of traffic he started
across North Elm street from Pick-
ard's corner to the county court house
and within a few feet of the curb
was struck and knocked down by Dr.
J. W. Long's buggy. Mr. Latham
was watching an approaching street
car and did not see the approaching vehicle and he was not observed by Dr. Long until too late to avoid the accident. A shaft of the buggy struck Mr. Latham in the left side and in falling he bruised his right knee and hand.

Served as coffee, the new coffee
substitute known to grocers everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee,

healthful roasted grains, malt, nuts

as to give a wonderfully satisfying
coffee taste and flavor. No tedious boiling, 30 to 35 minutes boiling. C. Scott &

FOUST-WHITE WEDDING.

Jamestown School Principal Takes Alamance Girl as His Bride.

A marriage of interest to a large number of people in Guilford and Alamance counties will take place at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C.
Foust, near Graham, when their daughter, Miss Jessie Holt Foust,
will become the bride of Mr. Lyndon Lea White, of Jamestown. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. Dr.
Mebane, the bride's pastor, and will
be witnessed by a number of the relatives and friends of the young couple.

Immediately after the ceremony
Mr. and Mrs. White will come to Greensboro en route to the mountains of western North Carolina,
where they will spend their honeymoon.

The groom is one of the best known
and most promising young educators
in this section of the state. He is an alumnus of Guilford College and is principal of the Jamestown high school, in which position he has shown a marked degree of ability and adaptability. He is president of the Guilford College Alumnae Association
and is deservedly popular with his college mates and those with whom
he has come in contact in the role of public school teacher.

The bride is a member of a well known Alamance family and is a sister of Prof. Julius I. Foust, president of the State Normal and Industrial College; Prof. Thomas R. Foust, superintendent of public instruction in Guilford county, and Prof. Frank L.
Foust, principal of the Pleasant Garden high school. She was a popular teacher in the Jamestown high school
last year and has many friends who will be glad to know that she is to reside with them again. She will be a valuable acquisition to the life of the Jamestown community.

The Patriot joins other friends in extending heartfelt congratulations.

DEATH OF W. G. RACKLEY.

Greensboro Man Passes Away Unex-
pectedly at Summer Resort.

Mr. W. G. Rackley, a well known
insurance man of this city, died unexpectedly Sunday afternoon at Mt.
Airy White Sulphur Springs, where
he had gone for the benefit of his health. He was thought to be improving, and in a conversation with members of his family over the long distance telephone Saturday afternoon
Mr. Rackley stated that he was feeling much better.

The body was brought to Greensboro Monday and carried to the family home on Walker avenue. The funeral was held from Walker Avenue
Presbyterian church, of which the deceased was an active member, yesterday morning at 10:30 o'clock, the service being conducted by the pastor,
Rev. R. Murphy Williams. Interment
was made in Greene Hill cemetery.

Mr. Rackley was 62 years of age
and spent the greater part of his life
in the eastern part of the state, having moved his family from Louisburg
to this city five years ago. He had been connected with the Security Life
and Annuity Company for several years. He is survived by his widow and six children—Mrs. F. R. Pleasants, of Louisburg; Messrs. R. F. R.
E. and Gaston and Misses Inez and Eloise Rackley, of this city.

MRS. ALDRIDGE DEAD.

End Came Yesterday Afternoon—Funeral Held This Morning.

Mrs. D. C. Aldridge, who had been in feeble health for a year or more,
died yesterday afternoon at her home
on Asheboro street. Her condition
had been critical for several weeks
and her death was not unexpected.
The funeral was held from the residence this morning at 10 o'clock, the service being conducted by Rev. C.
E. Hodgins. The body was carried to High Point on the noon train for interment.

Mrs. Aldridge was about 40 years old and had been married twice. She leaves two sons by her first marriage, Messrs. L. C. and E. L. Trexler, of Lexington. In addition to her husband, Mrs. Aldridge is survived by her mother, Mrs. Emeline Hinkle, of Davidson county, and the following brothers and sisters: Messrs. W. A.
and T. D. Hinkle, of Davidson county; Mr. Solomon Hinkle, of Texas;
Mrs. David Sink, of Davidson county,
and Mrs. T. J. Scott, of High Point.

Mrs. Aldridge was a devout Christian and during her residence in this city was a faithful member of Westminster Presbyterian church.

Two Fires Yesterday.

Fire yesterday damaged the residence of Mrs. S. J. Cooper, on West Washington street, conducted as a popular boarding house. The fire
made its appearance under the roof
and is supposed to have originated
from a defective flue. The building
was insured for $2,000 and the damage to the structure amounts to about $1,500. There was no insurance on the furniture, which was badly damaged by smoke and water.

Soon after the firemen returned from the Cooper fire, they were called out to the residence of Mr. Dorian H. Blair, on Walker avenue, where another defective flue had started a lively blaze. The flames were extinguished by the chemical engine with slight damage, probably not amounting to more than $75.

VALUABLE PROPERTY SOLD.

Real Estate of Late Newton Wright
Disposed of at Auction Monday.

That portion of the real estate of the late Newton Wright, of Rock Creek township, that had not been disposed of was sold at auction at the court house door Monday for division
among the heirs and brought a total of $8,813. The home place in Rock Creek had previously been disposed of at private sale to Mrs. Dora A.
Howerton, and it is understood the consideration was $4,800. The auction sales Monday were as follows:

One acre on East Market street to
D. E. Thomas for $1,260.

Two lots on East Market and five
lots on Gilmer street to Thomas S.
Beall for $1,660.

The John A. Lambe's tract, on Reedy Fork, containing 150 acres, to Mrs. Dora A. Howerton for $945.

The James Wrenn tract, on Reedy
Fork, containing 69 acres, to Mrs.
Dora A. Howerton for $427.

The two Peggy Tate tracts, containing about 120 acres, to Newton
and Lewis T. Jones for $1,286.

The Hart place, containing 219
acres to J. A. and W. R. Shepherd
for $3,235.

At the same time and place the
home place of the late Jesse Mc-Michael, of Summerfield, was sold,
Col. John A. Barringer being the purchaser for a consideration of $2,850.

Judge Boyd Hears Argument in Bankruptcy Matter.

In the bankruptcy division of the United States court yesterday Judge Boyd heard argument in the case of the Walter A. Wood Company vs. C.
M. Vanstort, trustee of the Wakefield Hardware Company, bankrupt,
involving a claim of $515 against the estate for machinery consigned to the Wakefield Hardware Company, prior to the bankruptcy proceedings, to be sold for the Walter A. Wood Company. At the time of the adjudication a portion of the machinery was found in stock and the Circuit Court
of Appeals ruled that it was the property of the Walter A. Wood Company. Machinery had been sold to the amount of $515, and the con-signor is asking to be allowed to prove a claim for this amount as a general creditor. The motion was opposed on the ground that more than
a year has elapsed since the adjudication, and hence the debt is not now
provable under the bankruptcy act.
After hearing argument of counsel,
Judge Boyd sent the case back to Referee Ferguson to report on additional facts.

Mr. David Sterne represented the Walter A. Wood Company and Mr.
Thomas S. Beall appeared for the trustee in bankruptcy.

Greensboro Will Get the Pennant
Again.

The Greensboro baseball team is acknowledged to be the pennant-winner again this year and stands today
29 points ahead of Anderson, the second team. It is hardly possible that any combination of circumstances
during the remaining four days of the season can change the result. The standing of the clubs today is as follows: Greensboro .590, Anderson
.561, Greenville .528, Winston .520,
Charlotte .423, Spartanburg .374.

Greensboro won eight straight
games last week and Monday lost to Charlotte in this city by a score of 3 to 2. The tables were turned yesterday, Charlotte being defeated by a score of 5 to 1. Winston plays here
today and tomorrow and then Greensboro goes to Winston for the last two days of the season.

Death of Mrs. Ruth Ladd.

Mrs. Ruth F. Ladd died at her home on South Eugene street Saturday morning at 1 o'clock. While she had been ill for some time and the end was not wholly unexpected, her death came as a great sorrow and
shock to her loved ones and friends.
The funeral was held from the home
Sunday morning, the service being conducted by Elder Denny, of the Primitive Baptist church. The remains were carried to Sardis church,
near Madison, and interred Sunday
afternoon.

Mrs. Ladd is survived by six children, three sons and three daughters.
Mrs. W. J. E. Ladd and Miss Emma Ladd, of this city; Mrs. McCollum, of the county; Messrs. Robert and Henry Ladd and Mrs. Ebenhart, of California.

Rev. N. R. Richardson, pastor of Spring Garden Street Methodist church, is assisting Rev. J. A. Bowles in a meeting at Friendship church this week.

A number of Greensboro Pythians attended a special meeting of the lodge of Knights of Pythias in High Point Thursday night, making the trip in automobiles.

Mr. S. Glenn Brown, a well known young member of the Greensboro bar, is in California on a prospecting tour, and it is probable that he will decide to locate in that state.

Mr. George H. Huffines, who has been with the Callahan-Dobson Shoe Company for some time, has gone to Atlanta to work in a store the company will operate in that city.

Mr. Farmer: Get a Syracuse plow at Petty-Reid Co. and plow more land with same point. We guarantee Syracuse points to wear longer than any plow on the Greensboro market.

A new city directory, issued by the Hill Directory Company, places Greensboro's population, including the mill villages and other suburbs, at 43,500. Inasmuch as Uncle Sam will make an official count of the population next year, we shall not boast of the directory estimate.

Rev. Dr. Thornton Whaling, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Dallas, Tex., who resided in Greensboro over 30 years ago, spent Thursday in the city. He met few people he knew during his residence here and saw scarcely anything that reminded him of the Greensboro of his boyhood days.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. St. Sing died Thursday morning, after an illness of eleven weeks. The funeral was held from the residence on West Bragg street Friday afternoon and interment made in Greene Hill cemetery, the service being conducted by Rev. M. A. Smith, pastor of Centenary Methodist church.

Good progress is being made by the workmen in remodeling the store recently vacated by the Greensboro Hardware Company and to be occupied by J. M. Hendrix & Co. An addition of 20 feet in length is to be added to the rear; an attractive new front is to be put in, and the entire interior is to be remodeled in an attractive manner.

Mr. James W. Holt, a prominent business man of Jacksonville, spent several days in the city last week on a visit to his sister, Mrs. James E. Boyd. Mr. Holt is a native of Alamance county, and this is his first visit to North Carolina since he went to Florida in 1866. He went to Alamance county Saturday to visit the scenes of his boyhood before returning home.

The residence of Mr. J. R. Wall, who resides about ten miles east of Greensboro, was entered during the absence of the family last Wednesday and robbed of $15 in cash, a suit of clothes and a watch and chain. Before leaving home Mr. Wall noticed two strange negroes near the place, but paid no special attention to them. It is quite likely that they committed the robbery.

Gardner, formerly foreman of the carding room. Mr. Campbell is a brother of Mr. R. G. METHODIST LAYMEN BANQUET.

Men of West Market Street Church Meet Socially.

The annual banquet of the men of West Market Street Methodist church was held at Greensboro Female College Thursday night. About 200 laymen were present and the occasion proved most delightful in every particular. The ladies of the congregation served refreshments in the college dining room, which was tastefully decorated.

Rev. E. K. McLarty, the popular pastor of the church, acted as toastmaster, and toasts were responded to as follows:

The Layman's Place in the Church—G. H. Miles.

The Church and the Young Men—Allen Preyer.

The Social Side of the Church—Joseph J. Stone.

Our Women Missionaries—Judge N. L. Eure.

The Adult Sunday School Worker—S. L. Alderman.

The New Sunday School Annex—Charles H. Ireland.

Brief speeches were also made by Rev. W. R. Ware, presiding elder of the Greensboro district; Mr. J. F. Shinn, of Norwood; Mrs. Lucy H. Robertson, president of Greensboro Female College, and Mrs. L. W. Crawford, of Winston-Salem.

It was decided to have the women of the church participate in the banquet next year.

WILL MEET TOMORROW.

Virginians Invited to Join Piedmont Good Roads Association.

The Piedmont Good Roads Association, which was organized here a few weeks ago with a membership composed of citizens of Rockingham, Guilford and Davidson counties, has issued an invitation to citizens of the Virginia counties along the road from Natural Bridge, Va., via Lynchburg and Danville, to send delegates to a meeting to be held in this city tomorrow to broaden the scope of the present organization so as to include all counties in Virginia and North Carolina in an effort to construct a continuous line of good highway, of either macadam, gravel or other reliable road for all seasons of the year.

It is confidently thought here that, if Lynchburg and Danville will join forces with Reidsville, Greensboro, High Point, Thomasville and Lexington in securing a permanent and continuous good stretch of road following the general line of the Southern railway from Lynchburg to Salisbury, not only will the entire farming communities and cities along this route be greatly benefited, but it will of itself at little expense form a splendid automobile route, and the only feasible one for the proposed permanent through automobile tourist line between New York and Atlanta.

FOR THE M. P. COLLEGE.

The Late John C. Roberts Left $10,000 for That Purpose.

Mr. John C. Roberts, of Kernersville, who died recently at a ripe old age, was a leading member of the Methodist Protestant church and liberal supporter of all branches of denominational work. For a long time he had been deeply interested in the proposition looking to the establishment of a Methodist Protestant college in North Carolina, and in his will bequeathed the sum of $10,000 for this object. The will names the following as trustees of the bequest: Messrs. J. Norman Willis, A. B. Kimball, F. R. Harris, Rev. J. F. McCulloch and Rev. W. F. Kennett.

Pending the building of the college, the trustees are to invest the money and devote the proceeds to the education of poor young men for the Ministry. Should the building of the college be delayed beyond 1920, the fund is to remain in perpetuity for the purpose of educating poor young men for the ministry.

The bequest is expected to stimulate interest in the proposed Methodist Protestant college for North Carolina. Many leading members of the denomination have been working with this end in view for a number of years. About five years ago the movement reached the point where a lot for the erection of the college was secured in this city.

Dollars are hard to get. That's why you should see us before spending them for a so-called high grade vehicle when we have them just as good for less money.

HUMORS IN THE BLOOD

When the blood is pure and healthy the skin will be soft, smooth and free from all eruptions or disease, but when the circulation becomes infected with any unhealthy humor the effect is shown by eruptions, pimples, boils, or some more definitely marked skin disorder, such as Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Psoriasis, Salt Rheum, etc.

Humors get into the blood, usually because of an inactive or sluggish condition of those members whose duty it is to collect and carry off the waste matter and refuse of the system. This unhealthy matter is left to sour and ferment and be absorbed into the blood, and soon the circulation becomes filled with an acrid, irritating humor.

The blood then, instead of performing its natural duty of nourishing the skin, regulating its temperature and preserving its uniform softness, pliability and healthfulness, irritates and diseases the delicate tissues and fibers around the pores and glands and produces some of the various forms of skin eruption or disease.

The cause of all skin affections can be traced to some kind of humor in the blood. Healthy cuticles are only possible where the circulation is pure; and therefore the cure of any skin disease can only come from a thorough cleansing of this vital fluid. Salves, washes, lotions, etc., cannot cure. True such treatment relieves some of the itching and discomfort, helps to reduce inflammation, and aids in keeping the affected parts clean, but it does not reach the blood, where the real cause is located, and at best can be only palliative and soothing.

S. S. S. cures skin diseases of every character and kind because it purifies and cleanses the blood. It goes down into the circulation and removes the humors that are causing the trouble, builds up the weak, acrid blood, and completely cures Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Salt Rheum, pimples, boils, and all other skin diseases and affections. S. S. S. is made entirely of roots and herbs, a safe vegetable remedy. When S. S. S. has driven the humors from the blood, and cooled and purified the acid-heated circulation, every symptom passes away, the skin is again nourished with healthy blood, and comfort is given to disease-tortured skins.

S. S. S. cures Poison Oak, Poison Ivy, Nettle Rash, and all other troubles due to a humor-laden blood. Book on Skin Diseases and any medical advice free to all who write. S. S. S. is for sale at all drug stores.

AN INDIANA WEDDING.

Mabel Gardner Becomes Bride of Mr. W. N. Irwin.

The friends of Miss Belle Gardner, Jamestown, will learn with surprise and interest of her marriage to W. N. Irwin, a prominent farmer and business man of Warren, Ind. The ceremony took place in Huntington, Ind., last Wednesday afternoon. The following account of the marriage:

Coming to Huntington late Wednesday afternoon, William M. Irwin, Mabel O. Gardner secured a marriage license and had the knot securely tied at once and before twilight had started back to Warren, Ind. to be their future home. The ceremony was performed in the office of Rev. C. M. Lantis, pastor of the Warren circuit, where the bride and groom were now located at Point Isabel, Ind. The ceremony of Wednesday. The witnesses were Mr. Leonard and Ruth Irwin, the daughter of the groom.

Mr. Irwin is a prominent farmer, stockman and contractor of Warren, Ind. and has been identified with the business interests of the place for some years. The acquaintance which grew into this wedding began about five years ago, when Mr. Irwin was down in North Carolina on a visit and business trip. While at Jamestown, N. C., the home of the bride, he became acquainted with the lady and a warm friendship soon sprang up between them. The couple are distant cousins. Last year he and his sister, with whom he has been living, wrote, inviting Miss Gardner to spend the winter with them. She came and remained for eight months, stating that she was to return as soon as she could arrange her own affairs and finish her visit with relatives, though in Warren knew that such was the case. She came back Wednesday and arrangements were made at once to have the ceremony performed. The couple will for the present remain in Mr. Irwin's Warren home, but expect to shortly move to his home in the city, which will be their home.

A COMPLETE R. F. D. SERVICE.

Expected to Follow Road Improvement in Guilford County.

Writing in Sunday's News and Observer of the relation between the development of good roads and the extension of the rural free delivery mail service, Andrew Joyner says the Postoffice department has recently taken a step that will greatly facilitate the progress of the good roads campaign. It proposes to establish, wherever possible, what is called the complete county rural delivery service. It will be impossible to make this service universal for many years, but at present it is being established in several sections of the country, and only in those counties having a complete system of good or reliable roads. The complete county service will do away with local postoffices entirely and put the mail at every door on every public road, instead of the present system of serving only certain communities living along the leading thoroughfares.

The new Guilford county road law, about which there was an incipient rebellion fostered by certain parties last spring, besides proving a blessing in disguise in other ways, bids fair to be the cause of having the new complete county system of rural free delivery established for Guilford. Under this new law a road supervisor is employed by the year in every township in the county, is furnished a mule and cart, and is required to keep at work on the roads all the time with plow, cart, or by combination with other townships, running with two or four mules the road machinery provided out of the general county road fund. While Guilford has 100 miles of improved permanent graded macadam roads, it has 28 rural free delivery mail routes and carriers, and these 28 mail carriers travel 700 miles of every week day in the year on the leading roads of the county.

The new road law has been in operation long enough to show its value, first to these 28 rural mail carriers, who, on one route or another, ride with horse and buggy over some road or other in every township. It has dawned upon them, the real good roads missionaries, that by the improved condition of even the best roads consequent upon having some one competent man in charge of road repairs all the time, supplemented by a few days' work of males between the ages of 21 and 50 each year, and the co-operative use of road machinery, that they are saving on an average of one hour each day in the time required to serve the territory in the standard route of 24 miles. On the macadam roads the saving is not so much, nor is it so much on the best ridge roads, but on many roads the saving on a 24-mile route is near enough one and a half hours to make an average on all of one hour per day for the 28 carriers, or 20 per cent. of the time, to say nothing of the wear of vehicle and team. This 20 per cent saving of time by better roads makes it already possible for the government to add nearly five miles to every 24-mile standard route in the county, without a dollars additional expense or an hours additional work on the part of the carrier, and would enable them to deliver mail each day to people of Guilford along 840 miles of road instead of the present 700 miles.

The postoffice authorities at Washington are looking into this excellent showing, first indicated by the reports of rural mail carriers themselves, and emphasized by Greensboro's postmaster, Robert D. Douglas, with a view to either adding this 140 miles extension on present routes, or establishing as soon as possible the complete county system, embracing every public highway in Guilford county.

The following postoffices in Guilford are centers from which the present rural routes radiate, the figures showing the number of routes from each, the standard distance being 24 miles, 12 on one road going, 12 returning on another road wherever possible: Greensboro, 7; High Point, 5; Guilford College, 2; Summerfield, 2; Stokesdale, 2; Gibsonville, 2; Jamestown, 1; McLeansville, 1; Julian, 1; Whiteset, 1; Pleasant Garden, 1; Oolfax, 1; Brown Summit, 2.

CAPT. WHITSETT DEAD.

Veteran Locomotive Engineer Answers the Final Summons.

Capt. John W. Whitsett, a veteran locomotive engineer on the North Carolina Railroad, and a man of the highest type of citizenship, died at his home on Arlington street Saturday at noon. He had been confined to his room for the past four weeks, suffering from a general breakdown and an affection of the heart, and the end was not unexpected. He had been in feeble health for three or four years.

Capt. Whitsett was 72 years old and a native of Graham, Alamance county, where he resided until he removed his family to Greensboro ten or twelve years ago. He entered the service of the old North Carolina Railroad Company when quite a young man and for over a quarter of a century ran a passenger engine between Greensboro and Goldsboro, retiring from the service only a few years ago on account of the infirmities of age. He was known to practically all the men, women and children along his run and numbered his friends among the traveling public by thousands.

Capt. Whitsett married Miss Lettie Foust, of Alamance county, an aunt of Prof. Julius I. and Prof. Thomas R. Foust, of this city. The only child of this union is Mrs. Thomas D. Finnan, who was in constant attendance upon her father during the last three months of his life. In addition to his widow and daughter, Capt. Whitsett is survived by the following brothers and sisters: Mr. Joe Whitsett, of Whiteset; Mr. Henry Whitsett, of Bloomfield, Mo.; Mr. Alfred Whitsett and Dr. G. W. Whitsett, of Greensboro; Mrs. Joseph Holt and Mrs. Jerry Holt, of Burlington; Mrs. Katherine Wood, of Graham.

The funeral was held from the home on Arlington street Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, the service being conducted by Rev. Melton Clark and Rev. R. Murphy Williams in the absence of the pastor of the deceased, Rev. Charles E. Hodgkin. The pallbearers were: Messrs. A. A. Johnson, S. M. Bumpass, G. R. Shultz, J. W. Harris, W. E. Coffin and J. H. Gilliland. Interment was made in Greene Hill cemetery. The funeral and interment services were attended by a large number of the devoted friends of the dead man.

Mr. Scott on Business Conditions.

The following is an extract from an interview with Mr. J. W. Scott that appeared in Sunday's edition of the Greensboro Daily News:

"Within recent weeks we have noticed a considerable and distinct improvement in general business conditions. Previous to this the mercantile affairs in this section had not shown any gain over those in force during the same time in 1928, but the fall season opened up very favorably, and just now we are having a good incoming run of orders. These conditions apply to the general trade, and in my opinion, are indicative of good times for this section and for the country at large."

KILL THE PARASITE FIRST.Dr. Stiles Tells How to Treat Hook-Worm Disease.

Washington, Aug. 22.—First get rid of the parasite causing the hook-worm disease, then attention should be directed to treating the patient afflicted with the malady.

This is the advice given to physicians and others for the treatment of the so-called "lazy" disease by Dr. Charles Wardell Stiles, chief of the division of zoology, hygienic laboratory, public health and marine hospital service. He shows the mistake of first treating the patient and afterwards the parasite.

For several years Dr. Stiles has devoted practically all of his attention to investigating the hook-worm disease, particularly as affecting the Southern states, where it was found to be quite prevalent. He ascertained that the disease produced a profound anemia in those so affected, causing an inability to perform any kind of work and resulting in many instances in slow death. The publication of Dr. Stiles' conclusions some time ago attracted widespread attention.

Showing that, although the hook-worm disease may occur in persons in any walk of life, Dr. Stiles declares that it is particularly among the poorer classes that it occurs and that the average hook-worm patient cannot afford to lose several days' wages to undergo treatment. It is therefore, he says, frequently expedient to conduct the treatment Saturday evening and Sunday morning.

"Notwithstanding that primarily we are to treat the parasite, not patient," says Dr. Stiles, "it should be remembered that if too great a quantity of thymol is absorbed by the patient, alarming symptoms and even death may occur. Accordingly the patient and the patient's family should be carefully warned not to permit the patient under any circumstances to have on the Sunday during which the treatment is given, any food or drink containing alcohol, fats or oil. Patent medicines should be mentioned in particular, because of the alcohol many of them contain, and even milk and butter should be forbidden." Dr. Stiles then cites a case of serious thymol poisoning following the taking of a copious drink of milk the day thymol was taken.

Cooler Suicide Yet.

Danville, Pa., Aug. 23.—The inquest on the body of Frank Yordy, the Trevorton man, who committed suicide at the Tri-County Farmers' picnic, brought out the fact that an interval of over half an hour elapsed between the firing of the first and second shots.

It was shown that after shooting himself in the left side just below the heart he conversed calmly with a farmer, hiding the blood stains on his clothing by buttoning his coat.

After quieting the farmer's suspicions regarding the shot he had heard, Yordy waited until he had gone and fired the second shot into his brain.

GIRL BRUTALLY MURDERED.Killed by Farm Hand Who Was in Love With Her.

Douglas, Ga., Aug. 20.—Declaring that he had rather see her dead than married to another, William McLeod, a farm hand, today confessed to Sheriff Richeson that he murdered Miss Mattie Graham, a wealthy and refined young woman whose body was yesterday discovered in a swamp near her home at Hokesboro, Coffee county.

Going into every detail, his statement is that he left his work and went to the house before dinner. Not seeing her, he asked for Miss Mattie and being informed that she had gone to her field for a melon, he followed and found her.

Both started back towards the house side by side. Coming to a branch near the house he let her precede him. When at her back he caught her by the left arm and cut one side of her throat.

She turned and looked him in the face and exclaimed: "Lord have mercy!" the only words she ever spoke after the attack. Then he finished cutting her throat and cut her in the side as she fell.

He stamped her in the face, washed the blood from his knife, face and overalls and when dry went to the house and ate dinner. His only motive for his crime was that he had rather see her dead than to see her marry Byrd Mobley.

While he loved her he had never told her and if she was now alive no motive could induce him to harm her. His only fear appears to be of being lynched. He does not show any remorse.

Georgian Has Never Taken Oath of Allegiance.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 21.—They have discovered a real rebel, an unreconstructed rebel, here in Atlanta. He is Col. G. N. Saussey, of Sylvester. Governor Brown recently named Col. Saussey a colonel on the governor's personal staff, and the adjutant general mailed the old soldier his commission, together with the oath of allegiance to the state of Georgia and the United States.

Colonel Saussey made a few changes in the commission and more in the oath. He erased the word blue wherever it appeared in the regulations for the uniform and substituted the word "gray;" then he erased the oath to the United States constitution and wrote: "I except to the twelfth, fourteenth and fifteenth amendments. I am a Confederate soldier still on parole, and while pledged not to again bear arms against the United States, I still retain the views I had when I entered the Confederate army. I have never taken the oath of allegiance to the United States, and while God gives me life, never will."

THE TOWNSEND BUGGY CO.CALMLY MURDERED WIFE.*Shot Woman When She Refused to Return With Him.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Aug. 20.—George F. Marion, aged 52 years, of Atlanta, Ga., shot and instantly killed his common-law wife in the office of the chief of police in this city, tonight. Marion and the deceased, who was formerly Miss Frances Lee, of Zion City, Ill., had been living together as husband and wife for seven years.

The murderer during the winter was theatrical advance agent, and a Pullman car conductor during the summer. Several weeks ago the woman left him and ran away with another man, taking her child with her. He traced them to this city, and, through the chief of police, he arranged to meet his wife at police headquarters tonight.

While here the woman had secured a position in the Hotel Hart as head waitress. When they met at police headquarters he kissed her, and both appeared happy.

Turning to Chief of Police Long, Marion asked the latter to step from the office a few moments while he spoke to his wife in private.

The chief, thinking he was accomplishing a kind act by bringing man and wife together, readily consented. As soon as he left the room Marion asked his wife if she would return with him; but she refused, whereupon he pulled a revolver and shot her dead. Marion was sent to jail.

Sanctificationist Preacher Sent to Roads.

High Point, Aug. 21.—Quite a stir was created in the recorder's court this morning, when Rev. Mr. Tucker, a preacher holding the faith of the Sanctificationists, was arraigned on the charge of abandoning his wife and family. At the instance of his wife a warrant was issued against him several days ago and he was arrested in Asheboro yesterday while holding a revival. Parties interested sought to effect a compromise, but the wife would be satisfied with nothing less than $4 per week, and the preacher, having no coin whatever in his possession, refused to enter into such an agreement. Consequently he was tried and convicted and given three months on the roads of Guilford county.

When passing sentence upon this man Judge Ragan remarked that he doubted the source of a preacher's call being divine when he allowed his wife to suffer for food and clothing.

JOHNSON, HINKLE & CO.A FATHER'S UNNATURAL CRIME.*Mt. Airy Man Charged With Outraging His Daughter.

Mt. Airy, Aug. 22.—There was an arrest in this city last night that created intense excitement and will, if the story told by a daughter of Frank Martin, a middle-aged white man, is true, send him to the electric chair, for the crime is that of outraging his own daughter.

The alleged crime was committed night before last while no one was in the house except the perpetrator and his victim, and she, a girl of about 16, was just recovering from a spell of typhoid fever and too weak to scream or offer resistance. When her grandfather, the parent of Martin, called yesterday morning the girl told him the story of her disgrace at the hands of an inhuman father. He promptly had the girl removed to his home for protection and the story leaked out.

When Martin was arrested and brought up town a large crowd assembled on the streets and there was considerable indignation, but no threats of lynching. However, Sheriff C. H. Haynes decided to send his prisoner to the county jail at Dobson and not risk him in the city prison. He will be given a hearing as soon as the young woman is able to testify. While Martin has borne a good reputation in the past, there seems to be no doubt of his guilt.

Beer Premium in "Dry" Town.

Chicago, Aug. 23.—Gary, Ind., merchants have adopted a novel way to keep trade in the city. After a customer has bought a bill of goods, the store-keeper asks:

"Will you have a nice cold bottle of beer?" The invariable answer is, "I don't care if I do."

This premium has won popularity with mill employees, who since the city has become dry have been cashing their pay checks in South Chicago and other near-by wet cities. In face of the business depression caused by the saloon muster, several Gary merchants have made money through the new plan.

Asks Million for Suffrage.

New Orleans, Aug. 23.—"I want to raise a million dollars to aid in making the woman suffrage question an issue and to attack the power of organized vice," declared Miss Kate M. Gordon, upon her return from the northwest. Miss Gordon was recently elected chairman of the Susan B. Anthony fund.

"My plan is to get 100 women to give me $1,000 each," Miss Gordon continued, "and 1,000 women to give me $100 each for this memorial fund to Miss Anthony."

"DRY" PARK PAYS BEST.Attendance Doubled Since the Beer Was Cut Out.

Kansas City, Aug. 23.—M. G. Heim, a millionaire brewer and owner of Electric park, one of the largest amusement parks in the West, who has been conducting the resort without a liquor license for two years, said today that he wouldn't have a liquor license again if the city would offer it to him.

"I used to think as the managers of the large parks in other cities thought," said Mr. Heim, "that it was impossible to operate a park of this class with the highest-priced attractions and not sell beer. We believed it necessary to sell beer to meet the enormous expense of the park. But when I was refused a license I concluded to go ahead without the beer and now you couldn't coax me to put it in."

"I expect to clear more money this year than I ever made in any two years while I was selling beer at the park. Now that the public realize that they can enjoy the concessions without coming into contact with intoxicated or boisterous people, I find that the attendance has nearly doubled."

Norwegian Physician Says Early is a Leper.

There is still much uncertainty in the minds of many experts as to whether or not John Early, the North Carolina man detained in Washington for more than a year with what was supposed to be leprosy, is really a victim of the dreaded disease. Dr. G. A. Hansen, a Norwegian, and the discoverer of the leprosy bacillus, in a dispatch to a New York physician says that he has examined a section of the skin taken from Early and has found the bacilli of the disease.

Dr. Hansen's dispatch has caused a surprise among the experts in this country, as the Bergen physician stated a few months ago that repeated examination of Early's skin failed to show any indication of the malady. Further, other doctors have held a like diagnosis, and discovered no such bacilli.

Early is understood to be engaged in Salvation Army work in New York.

'Twas a Glorious Victory.

There's rejoicing in Federa, Tenn. A man's life has been saved, and now Dr. King's New Discovery is the talk of the town for curing C. V. Pepper of deadly lung hemorrhages. "I could not work nor get about," he writes, "and the doctors did me no good, but, after using Dr. King's New Discovery three weeks, I feel like a new man, and can do good work again." For weak, sore or diseased lungs, Coughs and Colds, Hemorrhages, Hay Fever, La Grippe, Asthma or any Bronchial affection it stands unrivaled. Price 50c and $1. Trial bottle free. James C. McNulty, who was buried at Millersburg, O., last week, had the distinction of being the youngest enlisted soldier in the United States army during the war with Mexico. He was just 14 when he shouldered a musket and marched to the war under General Winfield Scott. In 1861 he answered the first call of President Lincoln for troops and was made captain of his company. He served through the war, and at the end re-enlisted as a lieutenant in the 102d Regiment, Ohio Volunteer Infantry.

On the ground that they must have it to stop the alarmingly increased death rate among their countrymen, leading Chinese in Los Angeles, Cal., have made a demand upon the police for fifty tons of opium confiscated from a den before the recently enacted federal law banished the drug. They assert that Chinatown has been reduced from 3,000 to 600 population, and declare that the new law has sounded the death knell of all their brethren who are habituated to the drug. The police have asked for a writ ordering the destruction of the 50-ton lot.

With the publication last week of Acting Secretary of the Navy Winthrop's approval of the findings of the court of inquiry that Lieut. James N. Sutton, Jr., of the United States marine corps, was directly responsible for his own death at Annapolis, nearly two years ago, the famous Sutton case became a closed incident as far as the Navy department is concerned. Counsel for the Suttons intimated, however, after the court's decision had become definitely known that they were far from satisfied with the verdict and that they probably would take the issues involved to Congress with a view to having a full hearing of the case by a committee of that body.

FARMS THE NATION'S BULWARK.

Extension of Agriculture Provides Stronger Military Defense Than the Building of New Warships.

Holding the nation's growing military expenditure to be one of the prime factors in the extravagance that has brought the treasury to a state of deficit tending to restrict those activities that are essential to the country's future prosperity, B. F. Yoakum, chairman of the executive committee of the Rock Island Railroad, delivered an address last week before the Farmers' union, Oklahoma City, Okla., in which he declared that the extension of the grain and cotton fields of the Mississippi valley and of the West are stronger military defenses than are the war ships. By this extension he referred to the work of reclamation, both in drainage and irrigation. But Mr. Yoakum went farther afield on the subject of national prosperity and development, and discussed other phases of the country's needs and growth. He advocated plenty of new railroad construction, threw a wet blanket on the waterway movement, pointed out the value of good roads, urged the organization of the farmers and the inauguration of a warehousing system by which they can market their products, especially cotton, at more advantageous periods of the market, and also defended the merging of railway lines into great systems.

"The European nations are teaching us a lesson," said Mr. Yoakum. "The controversies in England, the recent troubles in Spain, unrest in Russia, the quarreling over military taxes in Germany, and the struggle against new taxes in France, should strengthen our faith in the proposition that it is better to grow more farm products and make prosperous the man who sows and harvests than to build more battleships and new guns."

"We would have a substantial but economically conducted army and navy. In Europe there are five acres to one person. In this country there are 22 acres to each person, and if our development is again permitted to go on and our country to grow and expand as it should, we need not fear war with any country or combination of countries. I am not speaking against the army and navy, only calling attention to the growing expense of maintaining them. Last year they cost each family of five, $17, so every farmer with a family of five has a government boarder to take care of."

"Our advocates of greater military expenses tell us we are too great, too rich and too strong to fear any trouble over government expenses, but we are now running behind, and not only devising new methods of taxation, but are selling government bonds to take care of the deficit. The question is not one of the future, but of the present. We are making the initial mistake of older countries across the sea. The extension of the grain and cotton fields of the Mississippi valley and of the West are stronger military defenses than are the warships."

"Secretary of Agriculture Wilson recently said that the most pressing needs of the United States are a greater proportion of farmers and more farming land in cultivation. We would better spend more of the money we burn up in powder in making new farms. A 40-acre farm of irrigated land will comfortably support a family of five. It costs $55,000 to make a 12-inch gun. The money that goes to pay for this gun would reclaim 1571 acres of land, providing homes for 196 people. When all the guns on all the battleships are shot one time, the government blows off in noise and smoke $150,000. This would reclaim more than 4,000 acres of land, giving homes to more than 500 farmers and their families. The money consumed in powder is lost to all future. The farmer who buys the reclaimed land must pay the government back in ten years, so it does not cost the government anything to build up the country by helping the farmer. We should make more homes and not so many fighting machines."

Count Working in Brewery.

Roanoke, Va., Aug. 20.—It developed today that Franz Schneberger, a German nobleman, is working in the Virginia Brewing Company's establishment here for $1.50 a day. Determined to "make good" after his father's threat to cut off his monthly allowance and to disinherit him unless he ceased spending money freely, Schneberger came here recently and secured employment in the brewing plant. He comes from Breslau, Germany, the birthplace of Henry and Louis Scholz, president and secretary-treasurer, respectively, of the Virginia Brewing Company. The count is twenty-three years of age, and has a splendid education. Since beginning work in the brewery he has notified his father that he may cease his remittances and that he is going to prove his worth.

Druggist Fined for Selling Cocaine.

In the Superior court of Davidson county last week Charles R. Thomas, a prominent druggist of Thomasville, who pleaded guilty to the charge of illicit dealing in cocaine under four indictments, was sentenced by Judge Long to pay a fine of $50 and costs in the first case, $10 and costs in the second case and the costs in the other two cases. The prosecution was instituted by the state board of pharmacy through its secretary, F. W. Hancock, of Oxford. The evidence was that Mr. Thomas had shipped $11 worth of the drug to some negroes who live in the neighborhood of Wadesboro. The negroes were present and testified that the cocaine was received by them and that they turned it over to the chief of police of Wadesboro. Judge Long put Mr. Thomas under a bond of $1,000 to appear at the February term of court and show that he has complied with the law since his conviction.

THE PRESIDENT'S DILEMMA.

Press dispatches from Washington say that friends of President Taft are endeavoring to persuade him to steer clear of the tariff in his discussion of public questions on his forthcoming western trip. The tariff is a sore subject in many states of the West, notably in Iowa, Minnesota and Wisconsin, and the new law is far from being popular in that section of the country. This fact has been sharply directed to the attention of the president. For example, the Minnesota press is discussing with great heat the action of the majority of the state's delegation in Congress voting against the tariff law. The only Minnesotan who stood by the bill was Representative Tawney. Mr. Tawney declared in a recent statement that some of his colleagues were being given altogether too much credit for their votes in opposition. He charged that two or three of them had assured the president and Chairman Payne, of the ways and means committee, that they would vote for the bill if their votes were needed. It seemed that the people of Minnesota were bitterly opposed to the tariff bill in the form in which it passed and they are still disgruntled over the measure. Mr. Tawney is denounced by some and commended by others, and the controversy that has been aroused in this connection is expected to reach a crisis when President Taft goes into Minnesota. He is scheduled for a five-hour stop at Winona, the home of Tawney, and, if popular report is to be believed, Mr. Taft may deliver a speech there eulogizing Tawney for his vote for the tariff bill. The other Republicans from the state do not see how the president can praise Tawney without disparaging them, and they are getting ready to reply to the president in the event that he criticizes them even by inference.

After his visits in Wisconsin and Minnesota, the president will speed on to Iowa. He will make a speech at Des Moines, where Senator Cummins holds forth. Just how the president can praise the tariff law at Des Moines without criticizing Senators Cummins and Dilliver, the most persistent opponents of the measure when it was up in the senate, is not easy to see.

Just before the president left Washington he had as a caller Tawney, of Minnesota. The announcement went out that the president would defend Mr. Tawney's vote for the tariff at Mr. Tawney's home town and the intimation was given that similar speeches would be made in other districts for the benefit of sitting members. Since then the president has been advised that it might be well to approve the tariff law in the intermountain region and on the coast, but that it would be the part of wisdom to say as little about it as possible in the middle and northwest. The public need not be surprised if Mr. Taft discusses future instead of past legislation in the speeches he will make in the West on his forthcoming trip.

The New York World states an encouraging truth in saying "the case of Democracy generally is not desperate" and follows this assertion with the declaration that "Democracy is not a mob; it is still an army." It is pointed out that twenty-two of the forty-six states have Democratic governors, and the list is led by such strong men as Judson Harmon and John A. Johnson, elected by voters who gave Taft, Roosevelt and McKinley heavy majorities. Of the "pivotal states" Indiana was barely saved for Taft, while electing a Democratic governor and legislature; and New York for some years has been kept precariously Republican in state issues by the despicable leadership of such men as Murphy, McCarren and Conner.

BIG CROP YIELDS.

A careful reading of crop reports from all parts of the country indicates that the agricultural districts of the United States, with a few exceptions, are in what might be termed a record-breaking condition of prosperity. In the West and Northwest, the Central states, part of the Southwest, and a great deal of the East, crops were never so great. In the South, with the possible exception of Mississippi, the loss in acreage of the cotton crop will probably be more than made up by the increased value of the baled product, and the whole South has safeguarded itself by diversified farming and other crops which have this year come handsomely to the rescue, notably in Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas.

In other years of great agricultural production crops have sometimes been stored, but this year the condition seems to be that the farmer with the product can get his money for it as quickly as he desires to market the crop, and at big prices. Some reports state that grain is being taken right from the threshers by the buyers at top-notch prices.

Nothing but especially unusual and entirely unforeseen weather conditions can change the corn crop from its apparent yield.

Tribute of Respect.

In the providence of an allwise and ever merciful Father, we have been called upon to part with our friend and neighbor, Mrs. Wesley Allred, who died at St. Leo's hospital February 16, 1909. She had been a sufferer for many months with cancer of the face and other complications and her physicians deemed it necessary for her to have a slight operation, from which she recovered and seemed to be doing well for about a day and night; then she peacefully fell asleep to awaken in that glorious world beyond.

She was in her sixty-fourth year and had been a member of Alliance Presbyterian church about forty-five years, having connected with that church when quite young. She was a most humble and consistent Christian, and before her health failed she was rarely absent from the house of worship, always taking great interest in the church, the Sabbath school and especially in our missionary and aid society.

She not only gave her time, but she gave most cheerfully and freely of her means to every good cause. She was of a very modest and retiring disposition, but even in that quiet, unobtrusive manner she attracted attention by her continued zeal and faithfulness.

She leaves only one child, Mrs. Anna B. Shaw, with whom she had made her home after the death of her husband several years ago. Therefore, Resolved, That we, the members of the Missionary and Aid Society of Alliance church, feel that, though we have lost in her a true and loyal friend, a kind and genial neighbor, an earnest, faithful Christian co-worker, we feel that our loss is her gain and bow in humble submission to His will.

Resolved also, That in token of our high esteem for our sister, we have a copy of these resolutions published in the Greensboro Patriot, also placed on the record of the Missionary and Aid Society, and send a copy to her daughter, sisters and brothers.

Wants Medals for Babies.

Norfolk, Va., Aug. 19.—Mayor Reed, of Portsmouth, believes the best way to secure an accurate record of births in his city will be for the municipality to appropriate a sum sufficient to purchase handsome gold medals for the baby whose parents report the birth to the city officials.

It develops that if Portsmouth, which is rapidly growing, depended upon her vital statistics, she would show a loss instead of a gain, because the deaths are all duly recorded, whereas not one-third the increase in the population is registered in the municipal record book. The mayor, in addition to giving medals to the babies so recorded, would penalize the physician who fails to notify the registrar of vital statistics of the additions to the population.

Guarding Against a Deficiency.

Washington, Aug. 21.—According to belief in the Treasury department, Congress will not be called upon next December to pass any large deficiency appropriation bill. The reason for this is the limitations placed upon the departments by the last Congress, which makes it illegal for any department to create a deficiency. This means that all public work must be kept within the amount specifically appropriated. Should the appropriation for any particular work, such as the purchase of a site for a public building, or an improvement of some river or harbor, prove insufficient, the work must stop till Congress acts. Another important change made in appropriations by the last Congress, and which was a direct slap at the Roosevelt administration, was the restriction placed upon the president in the matter of appointing commissions.

We understand that our R. F. D. man is wondering why we have had nothing to say about the work of the convicts on our roads. Well, one reason for our silence might be attributed to the fact that the mud has been so bad most of the time after their work that "we could scarcely see our way clear out of it," but with the recent sunshine the roads are getting in good shape. They have done a lot of good work, supplying a long-felt want, which was highly appreciated by all, as was evidenced by the good dinner the good women of the neighborhood gave the officers and prisoners when they finished their work last Wednesday. It was real interesting to see those negroes put themselves outside of so much fried chicken, cakes, pies, etc. Capt. Tyson highly appreciated the way in which the people of the community treated him and his men during their stay in this community. Capt. Tyson left with his force Wednesday evening for Pleasant Garden, carrying with them the hearty good will of all present and a pressing invitation to bring his "boys" back in the future.

THE STORY OF THE WEALTHY.

The Wealthy apple, which is one of the finest of the fall varieties both in color, texture and flavor, has an interesting history. It is said that in the year 1853 Peter Gideon, at that time a resident of Clinton, Ill., moved to Minnesota, settling in the vicinity of Lake Minnetonka. He had been interested in horticulture and his first experiments along this line consisted in planting some thirty varieties of apple trees together with a few pear, plum and cherry trees, as well as a considerable quantity of apple seeds and peach pits. By 1863, in spite of good care, the severe winters had killed all of his fruit trees but one seedling crab. With the labor of years gone for nothing, Mr. Gideon found himself with a large family, a cow, a few chickens and only $8 with which to finance affairs, and that in the face of a hard winter. This money that by good right should have been spent to replace the tattered rags which covered his body he sent to Bangor, Me., for seeds and scions of apples. The old suit which he patched up to last over winter and the sacrifice he made at the time were not in vain, for it was from this purchase of Maine seeds that the Wealthy apple came, the growing of which in the intervening years has meant millions of dollars to horticulturists over the country. The apple was named from Mr. Gideon's wife, whose maiden name was Wealthy Hall. While it is believed by many that this splendid apple was a cross between some common apple and the cherry crab, it is thought by others to have been a chance seedling of unknown parentage. Mr. Gideon did no scientific work, yet he can only be viewed as a benefactor of mankind. The prize of $1,000 offered by the Minnesota Horticultural society for a winter apple which is as hardy, as beautiful in external appearance and as full of juice and fine of flavor as is the Wealthy for its season is still unclaimed. Horticulturists of a scientific turn of mind have here not only a chance to win a substantial financial reward but the everlasting gratitude of their own and succeeding generations.

A HAPPY SOLUTION.

One of the great problems which confronts those who are interested in the introduction of the highest and most profitable type of agriculture among American farmers has to do with making available for the tiller of the soil the results of the research work which is being carried on by state and federal agricultural stations and departments. This may be accomplished in part by the publication of bulletins, by the running of demonstration trains, by introducing the study of agriculture into the public schools, but with all of these only a partial use is made of the great fund of information referred to. The province of Ontario has evolved a plan which is doing much to accomplish this good work, one that should be adopted in other portions of America—namely, through the organization of what is known as the Ontario Agricultural Experimental union among the farmers of the territory. Last season this union had 4,420 members, on the farm of each one of which experimental work was carried on under the direction of the government station officials. The chief merit of this plan would seem to lie in the fact that under it farmers put into actual practice on their own farm the improved methods which have been worked out by the specialists, and by so doing are not only benefited personally, but by carrying on a miniature experiment station in their respective neighborhoods give an object lesson in a better type of farming the value of which can hardly be estimated. Such practical local demonstration is infinitely superior to the most illuminating exposition of the results of like experiments at the college. Such a plan would seem to be entirely feasible for any state agricultural college to carry out and should be looked into thoroughly. The town boy will make a good deal more likely man if he mixes a generous measure of lawn mower, hoe and cultivator work in with his fishing and baseball. The latter occupations are all right, but they don't constitute a "balanced ration."

GOOD ROAD WORK.

An enterprising road supervisor we read of the other day is using the telephone as an aid in securing good roads. After a heavy rain he calls up the farmers in his district who have the dragging of the roads in hand and specifies just what stretches of the highway they shall go over. They get on to the roads before there is much traffic, and the result is that the road district is acquiring a reputation which reflects a good deal of credit upon the intelligence of the supervisor and the energy and good sense of its residents.

Alfalfa, beef and corn may well be styled the A B C of an intelligent and profitable type of agriculture. Many sections have yet to learn them.

Trust in Providence, so far as farming operations are concerned, is a first rate doctrine if it is coupled up with a measure of hustle and good horse sense.

When hens lay soft shelled eggs it is usually due to the fact that they have insufficient supplies of lime from which to manufacture the shells. Oyster shells, slacked lime or old plaster will furnish them this element in needed quantities.

A beauty of solid cement floors for corncribs and granaries lies in the fact that they do not provide a convenient runway and means of access for rats and mice. When these rodents come to these cement foundations they are up against a stone wall.

A regulation lately adopted by the District of Columbia prevents the keeping of roosters within this precinct. This was doubtless out of consideration for the morning slumbers of the members of congress who worked overtime nights on tariff revision on behalf of the dear people.

Very rarely does tilled soil have an excess of humus or decayed vegetable matter which gives looseness and some fertility to the soil and makes it work nicely. It is for this reason that the small grain stubble should, as a rule, be plowed under and not burned, as some are in the habit of doing. This may save some work, but it is really a handicap to the soil.

Figures on the number of mules in the country Jan. 1, 1900, are placed at 4,053,000, with a value of $437,082,000, or an average of $107.85. This makes the average mule worth just about $12 more than the average horse, indicating that as a phase of animal husbandry it is a long way from being overdone and will give handsome returns to the fellow who will go into it.

Wisconsin fruit growers in the vicinity of Sturgeon Bay are much concerned over the appearance of the San Jose scale in that vicinity, and those about Milwaukee over the European scale on shrubs in the cemeteries and parks of that place, the infected stock being a portion of an importation from France. The state inspector has the cases under consideration and is doing all he can to prevent a spread of the pests.

During the year 1907 3,507,908 poles were required to meet the demands of steam and electric roads and electric lighting and power companies. These cost at the point of purchase $10,229,642, or an average of $2.92. Cedar poles constituted 63 per cent of the total number and chestnut 15 per cent, the remaining 22 per cent being divided among several varieties. The price paid for cypress was $5.17, while tamarack was the cheapest, costing 74 cents a pole.

A careful inspection should be given the orchard trees during the late summer months in order to locate any little borers which have hatched from eggs during the month of June, as the sooner they are put out of commission after they have started their dirty work the better. Then, too, there may be some of last year's hatch which were not discovered when the rounds were made the latter part of May and early June. Big or little, they should be exterminated.

The residents of Zoar, O., have decided on a novel method of supplying the people of the community with cider next fall. A 100 barrel cement cistern, built years ago by the Zoar Communitarian society, is to be cleaned out and when apples are ripe will be filled with fresh cider. A pump is to be installed, and any one who has the will to work the handle may have a swig. If this fact is generally advertised it is safe to assume that the thirsty tourists from the four winds of heaven will light down on Zoar next October "when the frost is on the punkin."

A German corporation which has been exploring Mesopotamia, the "mid-river" country between the Tigris and Euphrates rivers in southwestern Asia, believes that the country can be rejuvenated agriculturally by a restoration of the irrigation systems whose waters used to quench the thirsty and marvelously productive valley in the olden days when Nebuchadnezzar was humiliated and turned out to grass. While desert sands have drifted in and covered the fertile soil, it is thought this can be stripped off and the section in a large measure restored to its former productiveness. It is said that some of the canals will need but little repairing to make them usable.

The rat poison which is most highly recommended by the agricultural department after making a trial of several is barytes or barium sulphate. The poison may be mixed with cornmeal in the proportion of one to four, or it may be mixed with eight times its bulk of oatmeal, enough water being added to make a stiff dough, or a little of the powdered barytes may be sprinkled on buttered bread or moist toast. Small quantities of the bait should be placed in the runways under barn, granary or other outbuildings. An advantage in the use of barytes over other poisons is that it is more slow acting and the rats usually have time to leave their haunts and die in the open air and where they go for water, and not in cracks and crannies where they will make a bad smell.

The boy who doesn't have gumption and backbone enough to say "No!" when occasion requires never has a "Yes!" for any proposition which amounts to a bill of beans.

When a servant of the dear people will spend $105,000 in a primary nominating campaign to win an office that pays but $7,500 per annum there is some suspicion that his motives, political and otherwise, are not entirely altruistic.

At the present time Boston is the greatest wool market in the country, 75,000,000 pounds being the amount marketed there last year. Chicago is a close second, and if her wool sales increase at the rate of the past two or three years she will soon be at the head of the list.

In states where two cent fares have been given a fair trial the receipts in fares on most roads have shown an increase over those from the old rates, and that following a period of hard times. The railroads will hardly ask for a return to the old rates, as it can only result in a loss in passenger receipts.

In spite of the increase in the number of automobiles and the development of the flying machine the average prices of horses has increased $2.75 in the past year and about $35 in the past ten years. Horses are not on the run yet except to get out of the clutches of fellows who are anxious to get them.

Experiments which have been conducted by several experiment stations show that the value of fresh manure per ton as shown in increased crop yields is about $2.25. When it has leached two or three months it loses one-third of its value, or 75 cents. These figures should contain a very direct suggestion to the thoughtful farmer as to the best way to handle his farm fertilizers.

Some of the most entertaining and illuminating reading which agricultural papers have contained of late has been the very spirited gabfest of charges and counter charges which has been going on between the cream separator fellows. Whatever the outcome of this mess of verbal pyrotechnics, the buyers are getting their eyes opened touching a good many points, and this is really an advantage.

It is expensive business—this feeding thirty-five cent butterfat to calves when some grain ration with the skim milk will answer the same purpose, and it is right here where the reputable hand separator comes in with its perfectly clean skimming. The use of it also means that less storage cans will be required and that the milk can be given to the calves warm and sweet instead of, so often, warm and sour.

Some one has found the following to be an excellent method for poisoning cutworms: Stir one pound of paris green thoroughly in ten gallons of water; soak bunches of clover or alfalfa in the solution during the day and in the evening scatter between rows of vegetables in the garden on clean cultivated places. The cutworms will swarm to these bunches and get fixed during the night. This method is especially effective if the grass and weeds on which they usually feed are not allowed to grow.

The controversy between Secretary Wilson of the department of agriculture and Speculator Patten as to who was responsible for the high prices of May wheat, an actual crop shortage as claimed by Patten, or an artificial and temporary cornering of the supply in sight by Patten, as claimed by Mr. Wilson, does not seem to have been settled to the satisfaction of the large body of consumers who are now paying excessive prices for their flour. If the crop reporting department over-estimated the 1908 crop 50,000,000 bushels this should be looked into, and if Patten was able to boost prices and thus levy a tax on the poor man's loaf when there was not a wheat shortage speculators of his type should be suppressed. The eaters of bread would like to have the colored man located.

The cost of making good roads is a subject often discussed. One that needs just as much attention, the reverse of the same proposition, is the cost of poor roads, the policy of just letting things jingle. The office of public roads of the department of agriculture has been collecting some facts along this line, and they are not only interesting, but should be suggestive and profitable. Figures compiled show that the cost of hauling produce in this country is 25 cents a mile per ton, as compared with a cost of 12 cents a mile per ton in France. During the crop year 1905-6 the weight of the more important farm products which were hauled from the place of origin to shipping point was 85,487,000,000 pounds. The average length of haul of farm products in the United States is 9.4 miles. Had our hauling expense been as low as in France there would have been a saving of 13 cents a ton per mile or $1.22 per ton on the average haul. Multiplying the number of tons hauled by this figure gives $52,232,357 as the tax which was unwittingly paid by American farmers for the privilege of hauling their stuff to market over poor roads. There ought to be something in these figures to set farmers to thinking.

Heart Strength

Heart Strength, or Heart Weakness, means Nerve Strength, or Nerve Weakness—nothing more. Positively, not one weak heart in a hundred is, in itself, actually diseased. It is almost always a hidden tiny little nerve that really is all at fault. This obscure nerve—the Cardiac, or Heart Nerve—simply needs, and must have, more power, more stability, more controlling, more governing strength. Without that the heart must continue to fail, and the stomach and kidneys also have these same controlling nerves.

The final report of the English royal commission on whiskey has just been promulgated. It sustains the contentions of the rectifiers that all potable distilled spirits from grain are whiskey. From this holding in the final report of the commission it appears that the interpretation placed upon the interim report of the same body, issued a year ago, given to the president by Solicitor General Bowers in his opinion on "what is whiskey," was incorrect.

A report has reached the Navy department from Rear Admiral Schroeder, commanding the Atlantic fleet, to the effect that David Williams, colored, the mess attendant on the battleship Vermont, is being tried for court-martial at sea, on a charge of manslaughter. Some weeks ago, Williams in a boxing match with another mess attendant, by the name of Harrison H. Foster, colored, fatally injured his opponent, he dying the next day from a fractured skull.

There is a merry little fight on between the Democrats and Republicans over the census supervisor appointments in Virginia, according to persons in position to know. The fight is not over the numerical division of the appointments, as it is generally understood that the ten supervisors will be equally divided between the two parties, but over the personnel of the appointments and the question of which districts shall be allotted to the Democrats and which to the Republicans.

According to a school census just taken, the population of Texas appears to be 5,700,000. The Lone Star state seems destined to lead all others in the number of inhabitants as it leads them in area. At the time of the last national census there were only two states, New York and Pennsylvania, that had more inhabitants than are indicated to be now living in Texas; and the only serious rival Texas now has for the third place with respect to population is the state of Illinois.

With the control of the New England oil trade fast slipping from its grasp, the Standard Oil Company has, it is authoritatively stated, entered upon a final attempt to exterminate the Four Brothers Independent Oil Company of Albany and Springfield. The independent concern is the largest competitor of the Standard Oil Company in the East and enjoys the distinction of being the only company in the country to compete successfully with the Rockefeller monopoly on a large scale over a period of years.

W. T. Lewis, Washington's oldest policeman, and one of the bodyguard of Abraham Lincoln, retired from the force Saturday. He was 83 years old and had been a member of the Metropolitan police since 1864. He was one of the White House guards during the civil war. After that time he served in various precincts as a patrolman, but in 1889 was re-assigned to the White House, and has been there ever since, latterly in the capacity of doorkeeper. Extreme weakness was the cause of his retirement.

Upon the petition of a large number of prohibitionists in Roanoke, Va., the judge of the corporation court has ordered a local option election held in that city September 30. Attorneys for the "wet" element have taken an appeal from this order and will fight out the matter in the Supreme court of Virginia. The prohibitionists carried Roanoke last December by a majority of 42, but the "wets" contested the election and won, the election having been declared null and void by the judge who now orders another election.

It is reported from White Plains, N. Y., that Harry K. Thaw's family will make application to the Supreme court to have the prisoner committed to their custody. The family, it is said, is willing to put up securities aggregating $1,000,000 and agree to all stipulations made by the court if they can take the prisoner to live with them in some secluded place, the money to be forfeited if Thaw should leave the state. The plan is to have him report regularly to the judge and to remain inside of the grounds of the house unless accompanied by an attendant approved by the court. If this privilege is granted, it is said Thaw will devote his time to literary pursuits, music and painting.

Sin's
Small Beginnings

Suggestions—Craving—Desire—Yielding—Absorption—Destruction.

Sandusky, O., Aug. 15.—"Man is tempted when he is drawn away from his own desires and enticed. Then, when desire has conceived, it bringeth forth sin; and sin, when it is finished, bringeth forth death" (James 1, 14, 15).

In proportion to our intelligence we all know that sin abounds in the world; and more than this, that there are tendencies toward sin in our own flesh. The Scriptural declaration is, "I was born in sin and shapen in iniquity, and in sin did my mother conceive me" (Psalm li, 5). The explanation of these conditions is found only in the Bible, which tells us that the beginning of sin was in Eden, and that its painful influence has descended from parent to child until now, and that there was but one complete remedy for it, which is beyond our power, but provided for us by our Creator through his glorious Son, who redeemed us.

Doctrines of Devils.

The Bible is God's message to all those who are desirous of learning the divine standard and choosing and fighting a good fight against the wrong, against sin wherever found; but especially against sin and weakness to ward sin in ourselves. The more truly we discern the true philosophies for sin and the Divine remedy, the better we are prepared to resist it—forewarned we are forearmed.

However it may be explained, the fact remains that the world of mankind, heathen and civilized, realizing sin, feels conscience-stricken and anticipates punishment of some kind for violation of recognized laws and principles of our being. Ignorance, superstition, mental unbalance and theory, supported by priestcraft, have led mankind, heathen and civilized, into a fear of an eternity of torture as a punishment for sins. This the Apostle calls, "Doctrines of demons" (1 Timothy iv, 1). And no doubt the demons were responsible in some measure for the deduction of this doctrine of eternal torment; because fear is one of the most powerful influences they can bring to bear upon fallen humanity as they seek to captivate them to sin. Those who have had much to do with Spiritism (thinking that they were communicating with their dead friends, but really fellowshipping with fallen angels, called demons in the Scriptures), tell us that at the beginning these "lying spirits" gained control of their wills by telling them that they should pray much, even while presenting to them alluring, sinful suggestions (1 Timothy iv, 1). As a later step they tell them that everything is glorious and everybody happy "in the spirit land," and that sins of the present life are unimportant matters. Later on they prick their subjects' conscience and work upon their fears and tell them that their case is hopeless and that they will soon have them fully in their power and torment them forever. With despair come utter abandonment and a willingness to treat with the "evil spirits." This is sometimes followed by obsession and not infrequently reason is entirely dethroned and the victim becomes an inmate of an asylum.

The safeguard against all of these delusions and misrepresentations is found in a correct understanding of God's Word—the Bible. In proportion as its teachings are understood and followed the mind is relieved of those "doctrines of demons" and given a rational understanding of what sin is and of what its real penalty consists. Obedience to its instructions brings proportionate measures of harmony with God and righteousness and results in love, joy, peace and a holy spirit or disposition.

"The Wages of Sin is Death." Many experience great difficulty in adding their minds of the "doctrines of demons"—that the wages of sin is eternal torment. They find it difficult to believe the Truth on the subject, which the Scriptures present, namely, that "The wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life, through Jesus Christ our Lord" (Romans vi, 23). God's proposition is that all sinners against his just laws, after full opportunity, shall be "utterly destroyed" (Hebrews ix, 27; Acts xiii, 44). The power of eternal life resides in God, and he assures us that he will not give it to any except those who come into harmony with him. Eternal life has not been thrust upon our race. It is entirely contrary to the Scriptures to assert that man must live somewhere to all eternity, either in joy or anguish. The Scriptures assure us to the contrary of this—"All the wicked will be destroyed."

Our Lord declares that God is able to destroy both soul and body in Gehenna. He who alone has the power of eternal life has made no provision whereby sinners can obtain it and thus injure themselves and discredit the Divine government to all eternity. The gift of God is eternal life, and that gift will be bestowed only upon those who demonstrate a heart desire in harmony with God and acceptance of his provisions for their recovery from sin and death through his Appointed Way—Jesus Christ the Righteous. Thus we read, "He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life; and he that believeth not the Son, shall not see life; but 'THE WRATH OF GOD ABIDETH ON HIM' (John iii, 36).

Our Text Illustrated.

The experience of our first parents well illustrates the lesson of our text. Mother Eve's desire for knowledge should have confined itself to the Divine limitations; but she permitted it to wander disloyally. Evidently she turned over in her mind how wonderful must be the wisdom of God, and how she would like to possess as much as the serpent suggested she might have, if she would but disobey God and eat the forbidden fruit. We can imagine that she had qualms of conscience—that she hesitated to disobey. But to even stop to consider the pleasures, the advantages, the desirability of transgression was to leave her mind open to a fresh assault. The serpent's next move was to suggest to her a reason why her Creator had forbidden the eating of the fruit, namely, that God knew that this would make them wise as himself, and that he did not wish for equals in knowledge, but desired to keep them in a condition of mental slavery through ignorance. Such a suggestion should have been spurned by Eve, and was, no doubt, rejected at first. No doubt she brought forth arguments to prove the merciful kindness and generosity of the Creator and that such an evil, selfish and ignominious spirit as the serpent suggested could not possibly belong to her Creator. But the wrong was in giving the least countenance to these suggestions of disobedience. They should have been promptly set aside. Stopping to expostulate or reason is merely opening the door for further beguilement. In the language of our text, she was "drawn away by her own desire and was enticed;" then, when desire had conceived, the sinful act of eating the forbidden fruit resulted.

How does desire conceive? We answer, The mind entertains the desire, warms it, vitalizes it, reflects upon what advantages or pleasures would result; enters into and enjoys those forbidden pleasures mentally. Thus Mother Eve reflected that no doubt the forbidden fruit was specially delicious to the palate, luscious; more than this, that the enlightenment of mind would bring to her vistas of thought far beyond anything she and Adam had ever previously imagined. Thus her desire for knowledge conceived and gradually, perhaps in moments, perhaps in hours, perhaps in days, developed more and more the thought of the joys and pleasures to result from the act of disobedience—until practically the whole of life was absorbed in this one desire, and everything else of her glorious and proper blessings on every hand was practically forgotten and ignored. Finally the irresistible moment came. She took the fruit. She ate it; sin was born, and the wage of death would follow in due course.

The main thing to be noticed is that the admission of evil desire into our hearts, into our wills, is the beginning of sin—the conception of sin. After the conception it is only a matter of time until it shall be born, unless in some manner that sinful desire be quenched, be killed. Even then it will be with serious consequences that the wrongly conceived sin will be gotten rid of. The lesson is, as the Apostle suggests in the text, the keeping of our hearts, our minds, so the desires shall not conceive therein. This means a loyalty to God and to the truth and to righteousness, about which the world in general knows little. It means that many kinds of desires and ambitions may be begotten in the heart and lead on to one kind or another kind of sinful development. Let us then hearken to the Lord, "Keep thy heart with all diligence; for out of it are the issues of life" (Proverbs iv, 23).

Eternal life or eternal death is the issue, not eternal happiness or eternal misery. True, under God's provision, all who get eternal life will thereby get eternal happiness; but all who fail to get the eternal life or happiness in God's provision will get eternal death, the Second Death, after extinction. As St. Peter declares, they shall be "as brute beasts, made to be taken and destroyed" (1 Peter ii, 12). And St. Paul says, "They shall be punished with everlasting destruction from the presence of the Lord"—not with everlasting torment (1 Thessalonians i, 9).

Divine Forgiveness of Sin.

We have seen how sin entered, and that its wage or penalty of Divine decree is death—extinction. And we have seen that mental, moral and physical imperfections are merely elements of our dying process. If this were all that the Bible had to tell us, it would be valueless to us, for why philosophize over a fact if it could not in any sense or degree be avoided? If there were no hope, as the Apostle suggests, we might as well eat, drink and be merry and make no attempt specially to strive against sin, and thus to bring ourselves into conflict with the weaknesses of our own natures and our evil environment. But as the Scriptures declare, "There is forgiveness with thee, that thou mayest be feared" (Psalm cxxx, 4). The very fact that God has provided the forgiveness and made possible an escape from the original death sentence and return to his favor—eternal life—makes life worth living and puts a new ambition, a new hope, a new energy into all those who come to an understanding of it.

If we were dealing with fallen men like ourselves instead of with God, we might say that some men would change their word and others would not. But when we think of the unchangeable God we feel convinced that the sentence he once pronounced must stand. The great Supreme Judge of the Universe, in the findings of his own court, will not retract his just sentence, "Dying, thou shalt die." Hence we would not be inclined to expect eternal life from him who declares against us as a race that "the wages of sin is death."

That philosophy once seen is convincing to the last degree. Briefly stated, it is that "By one man sin entered into the world, and death by sin; and so death passed upon all men, for that all have sinned;" because all except the first man were sinners by heredity (Romans v, 12). In other words, the sentence of death was pronounced only against Father Adam. Everybody else who dies merely shares in his sentence under the natural laws of heredity. Then God condescendingly explains to us the philosophy of how that one man's sins being met, the merit can be made applicable to all of his posterity, so that the death of one righteous man could satisfy the claims of justice against the race as a whole.

The Wonderful Story.

But we inquire, where could the one man be found who would be willing to surrender his own life for that of Adam and his race? And if such a generous man could be found how could he, as a member of the condemned race, be acceptable to justice as man's Ransom Price? The Scriptures again explain that no such man could be found amongst Adam's race, and that therefore God so loved the world that he gave his Son to be our Redeemer. Then the query comes, Would it be just for God to give his Son? And the answer is Scripturally given, that He set before his Son a great joy, a high reward, and that the Son, fully in accord with his Father, delighted to do his will—"For the joy that was set before him, endured the cross, despising the shame" (Hebrews xii, 2). We are assured that the reward for this great transaction is a great one. The Apostle, after describing how our Lord, our Redeemer, first left the glory of the heavenly estate and humbled himself to take the human nature and was then found obedient unto death, even the death of the cross, then adds, "Wherefore, God also hath highly exalted him, and given him a name which is above every name; that at the name of Jesus every knee should bow, of things in heaven, and things in earth, and things under the earth; and that every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father" (Philippians ii, 9-13).

"Ye Must Be Born Again."

As we were all born in sin as the children of Adam, all must be born again if they would become the children of God. Many have failed to notice the Scriptural teaching that out of our race God intends to produce two families of sons on different planes of being. The one class, begotten and born of the spirit, will be resurrected, be born spirit beings, like unto the angels. The other class, begotten again to human conditions, will experience resurrection (Acts iii, 19-21) favors, by which they will be recovered from sin and death conditions and ultimately come to human perfection and righteousness. These will not be like unto the angels, but be like unto Adam in his sinless condition before the condemnation. The curse will be removed not only from these, but also from their earthly home, which will then become as Eden, the garden of the Lord—Paradise restored. Our Lord pointed out the time of the world's regeneration, in full harmony with St. Peter's words above cited, saying to his disciples, "In the regeneration ye that have followed me shall sit upon twelve thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel" (Matthew xix, 28). The regeneration time, or resurrection time, has not yet come; hence the apostles are not upon the thrones of Israel; but instead, the twelve tribes are still under the Gentile domination. And Gentile domination, in Scriptural language, means the times in which Satan is the Prince of this world, "Who now worketh in the hearts of the children of disobedience."

The apostles are not to sit upon the twelve thrones of Israel until the Second Coming of our Lord and the binding of Satan and establishing of the Kingdom; hence the time of Restoration, or times of Regeneration, for mankind are yet future. When that happy day shall have fully dawned it will mean a sweet release of the world from the power of sin and death, to which all but the saintly few are now in slavery. In the Jewish order of reckoning time, night came first and day afterward. Thus the world has already been passing through a night time of darkness, ignorance, superstition and sorrow, the results of sin and death. But the redeeming merits of Jesus have provided the Millennial Day, which will soon be ushered in and chase away forever the shadows of sin and death. No wonder the poet sang,

"O, hail happy day
That speaks all sorrows ending!"

The Psalmist refers to the same glorious day, saying, "Weeping may endure for a night, but joy cometh in the morning."

"O, hail happy day
That speaks all sorrows ending!"

The Psalmist refers to the same glorious day, saying, "Weeping may endure for a night, but joy cometh in the morning."

RELIGIOUS THOUGHT.

Gems Gleaned From the Teachings of All Denominations.

Only he who is willing to bear the cross is worthy to wear the crown.—Rev. George A. Beecher, Episcopalian, Omaha, Neb.

Need of the Day.

The greatest need of the day is the largest hospitality toward Jesus Christ.—Bishop E. H. Hughes, Methodist Episcopal, San Francisco.

One's Duty.

To do one's duty is the supreme achievement of man, but it is not the root of Christianity; it is rather the fruit.—Rev. Dr. Ambrose W. Vernon, Congregationalist, Brookline, Mass.

The World's Orchestra.

Every instrument of civilization is being attuned to heaven's keynote of brotherly love and gradually forming a grand world orchestra.—Rev. W. M. Taylor, Christian Church, New Orleans.

Morals and Ethics.

The Christian religion has the loftiest code of morals and the most sublime code of ethics, as exemplified in the character of Jesus Christ and taught in the New Testament, that the world has ever seen.—Rev. W. M. Vines, Baptist, Brooklyn.

Man's Only Lasting Building.

Our home is not here, but there. How few of the productions of men abide! A noble life is man's only enduring building. This earthly life is brief and like an inn, where passing travelers spend but a transient night.—Rev. W. Jasper Howell, Baptist, Atlanta, Ga.

Aristocracy of Character.

Establish and rigidly maintain an aristocracy, not of wealth or learning or ancestral position or social standing primarily, but an aristocracy of character. Many character is bright and glittering current coin in the realm of true success.—Rev. Frank W. Luce, Methodist, Cleveland, O.

Need of Self Control.

Self control should always be at the bottom of all human action. It is self control which distinguishes man from the animals which possess instinct. When a man controls himself he exhibits his manhood. When he follows his instincts only he becomes an animal.—Rev. W. W. Bustard, Baptist, Boston.

Self Mastery.

Man can by the help of God live in the constant and habitual mastery of himself and the circumstances which surround him. And with the possession of this self mastery man may begin the wonderful and fascinating development of the inexhaustible resources of the soul life.—Rev. Dr. E. N. Hardy, Congregationalist, Quincy, Mass.

God's Gift.

Faith is a gift of God. We cannot acquire faith of ourselves. It is not dependent upon our minds and our wills. It is a gift, an alms, a blessing bestowed upon us by God. It is not acquired as the result of our efforts or the reward of our labors, but infused by God into our souls.—Rev. James N. Supple, Roman Catholic, Boston.

Every Man's Duty.

The man who does not attend to all the powers of his nature by respecting his body and making his mind clear and acute commits moral suicide, for our duty is to our very flesh. Life is not only a treasure; it is a power house, and it is our duty to get the most we can from the powers of our nature.—Rev. Dr. Thomas R. Slicer, Unitarian, New York.

Christ's Cleansing Power.

Many a woman who has taken the first wrong step would be deterred from a life of shame if she could only know the compassion and cleansing power of Christ. Many who are weighed down with a sense of guilt, whose flesh is dried, whose bones are wasting away, whose eyes are filled with grief, from whom the joy of life has departed entirely, would arise and sing if they could only know the cleansing and renewing touch of Jesus Christ.—Rev. R. M. Little, Presbyterian, Pittsburgh.

Real Joy.

Pleasure has its outside and its inside. A child gets the outside of pleasure when he possesses a multitude of toys and is not amused by any of them. He has got the inwardness of pleasure when, by virtue of a happy heart, he finds happiness in the simplest flower or toy. The fault of our pleasure loving age is not that it seeks pleasure, but that it concerns itself with the lesser gifts of joy. Real joy is of the heart. It is never born of a multitude of scenes or a multiplicity of sensations. He who cannot find material for happiness in his own garden, in some choice book or in a little group of friends will never find it by going abroad for it.—Rev. Dr. George Clarke Peck, Methodist Episcopal, New York.

Value of Anticipation in Life.

Looking unto Jesus is the secret of moral growth. For one look at self takes ten looks at Jesus. One gradually becomes like that at which he looks. No life can ever rise higher than its ideals. Not failure, but low aim, is crime. Don't judge a man by what he does, but by what he longs to do and to become. The race is "set before us." Do not face the failures of yesterday. Face tomorrow's possibilities. Turn over an unblotted page. Anticipation is the mainspring of life. Let anticipation do its perfect work. Every man's life is a plan of God. A good Providence has planned our future years. Let us study closely the map of our lives that God's providence has made. Christlikeness is our goal. "We know not what we shall be, but we know that when he shall appear we shall be like him."—Rev. W. Jasper Howell, Baptist, Atlanta, Ga.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 25, 1909.

VALUE OF FARM PRODUCTS.

Will Reach the Enormous Sum of $7,778,000,000 This Year.

It used to be, Lo! the poor farmer.
Now it's Oh, the plutocratic agriculturalist. At least, Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, in his annual report,
made public a few days ago, thinks
those who have been pitying the rural-
ist had better wake up to the fact
that during the past year—that is,
the crop year of 1908—there was a
net gain in the value of crops which raises the total valuation of farm products up to the astonishing total of $7,778,000,000, the biggest in the world's history, as Secretary Wilson suggests.

"While these figures contain some
duplication," the secretary explains,
"on the other hand, they do not contain some important items of wealth
production, and the fact remains that
the unthinkable amount of seven and
three-fourths billions of dollars of wealth have been produced by farmers this year for national sustenance
and for export to the craving millions
of foreign nations.

"It is a real tangible wealth as it exists at the time it leaves the hands of the producer. It is about four times the value of the products of the mines, including mineral oils and precious metals. From these agricultural products the manufacturing and
mechanical industries that use agricultural products as materials, and
these industries use 42 per cent. of
all materials used in the entire business of manufacturing. These figures
indicate the extent to which the manufacturing industries are indebted to agriculture, although no recognition
is given to this fact in usual statements of the value of manufactures.

"The value of farm products this year is $290,000,000 above the value
for 1907, and $3,061,000,000 above
the census amount for 1899. During the last ten years the wealth production on the farms of this country has exceeded the fabulous amount of $60-000,000,000.

"Greatest of all crops is Indian
corn, the priceless gift of the Indian.
The value of this crop almost surpasses belief. It is $1,615,000,000.
This wealth that has grown out of the soil in four months of rain and
sunshine, and some drought, too, is enough to pay for the Panama canal
and fifty battleships.

"For the first time in the history
of the country's agriculture, the value
of the cotton crop, including the seed,
has apparently exceeded the value of
the hay crop, which has heretofore
held second place for a long series
of years.

"Wheat is 1.5 per cent. above the
five-year average in production, and 23.3 per cent. above that average in total value.

"The value of the farm products
of the dairy cow are getting closer
and closer to $800,000,000, and the eggs and poultry produced on the farm are worth as much as the cotton crop, seed included, or the hay
crop, or the wheat crop. To the farmer who has averaged hardly 20 cents
a pound for the butter that he has sold, and 3 or 4 cents a quart for his milk, and about 1 1/2 cents for
each egg, and even to the consumer,
who has paid prices much above
these, this increase in value is striking."

STATE PRESS COMMENTS.

Gastonia Gazette: President Taft
had evidently forgotten his Greensboro speech when he made the appointments of census supervisors for North Carolina. Of the whole number nary a one is a Democrat.

Roxboro Courier: Mr. Carl Duncan
and Mr. Spencer Adams were in Washington City last week and gave out a few political predictions for North Carolina which give this state
to the Republicans next year. Well,
well, we think we heard something like that last summer when Mr. Kitch-
in was nominated, but like all false
prophets, there was nothing in it—
except probably to strengthen them with the powers that be. They were there this time looking after the census supervisors, and we guess they landed what they went for.

Monroe Journal: Dr. J. M. Belk,
a well known merchant of this place,
some time ago recalled the fact that when the Dingley tariff went into effect ten years ago, woolen goods that he and other local merchants had been selling to the people of Union county at a certain price, were just doubled as a result of that law. And for ten years this double price has been paid. The Dingley law has now been repealed and we have the Payne-Aldrich-Taft-Downward-Revision law
in its place. Will the people get their woolen goods cheaper? Nit.
Woolens was one of the articles on which the Republicans revised to the same old Dingley rates.

Charlotte Observer: It is gratifying to note the progress that is being made in railroad building in this state. From the extreme east to the Tennessee line new railroads are being opened up to the outside world sections which heretofore have been completely isolated, and the roads already in operation are being
put in condition to handle an anticipated increase of business. The road-
beds are being worked over and track
improved, additional freight cars and heavier locomotives purchased and
other preparations made in anticipation of a larger freight business,
while the passenger service is being improved in order to keep pace with
the ever increasing passenger traffic.

Plants with white blossoms have
a larger proportion of fragrant
species than any other; next comes red,
yellow and blue.

Will Save Quarter Million.

Postmaster General Hitchcock says
a saving of not less than $250,000
will be effected in the cost of letter
carriers' vacations during the present fiscal year. By law fifteen days'
employees are allowed fifteen days'
leave of absence with pay each year.
Most of the other employees of the government, whether in the executive departments at Washington or elsewhere, receive thirty days' annual leave with pay.

During the month of July and August the volume of mail in the large cities especially, is considerably reduced, and the department has taken advantage of this fact by requiring carriers to "double up," so that in some instances, during these two months two carriers served three routes. This enables one of the carriers to take his vacation without expense to the government.

The Philadelphia Record reminds us that we are not through with Aldrich yet. He is the head of the monetary commission, and that body, forgotten during the tariff debates, is now in session. Aldrich is as much opposed to a rational currency as he is to a rational tariff.

Have you seen that prize Guilford
buggy given for the largest yield of corn?

La France

SHOE
WOMEN

The
reason
why

the La France is
the first choice of the particular woman is because no quality, style or feature that should be a part of the
ideal woman's shoe is ever omitted
in any La France shoe.

This explains why the makers of this
best shoe for women have never ceased
their efforts to reach shoe-perfection, till

after long and
patient experiment
they recently solved
successfully a problem that
has baffled
shoemen
everywhere
—how to secure
perfect flexibility
without the slightest loss of style, fit
or durability.

In the new La France

Flexible Welt

is embodied the most satisfying combination of shoe-qualities known to shoemaking. It has greater ease
than the "turn"—the beautiful appearance and splendid wearing powers of the "welt." It yields to every movement of the foot, yet never ceases
to hold the instep with a firm but kindly grasp. Let us demonstrate to you this new Flexible Welt.
