The commissioners of Rockingham county held a special meeting Friday to consider the proposition of borrow-

The meeting was attended by a large number of citizens, and after the mat-commissioners voted against the proposition.

The city board of education has elected Prof. A. H. King principal of the Greensboro high school to succeed Prof. W. C. Jackson, who has resigned to take the chair of history at the State Normal and Industrial College. Prof. King has been teach-the Jonesboro graded schools last year.

Mr. C. C. Wilson, manager of the past, has resigned to accept a traveling position with one of the most prominent commission houses of New York City. He will cover Florida as a solicitor and buyer, incidentally doing some buying for the Clegg Company. Mr. Wilson has been engaged in the commission business for several years and is competent to take care of the interests of his new employers.

The new public school building on the Battle Ground road, just beyond the waterworks station, is nearing completion and will be ready for occupancy by the first Monday in October, when the school is to open. Miss Eula Todd, of Jefferson, Ashe county, has been employed as principal and she will be assisted by Miss Katie Gibbs, of Reidsville. The Battle Ground school will open on the same day, with Miss Lemma Gibbs,
of Reidsville, as principal.

Ellihu Stewart, who is to appear in Guilford Superior court next week and answer the charge of retelling, was brought from Roxboro Monday and committed to jail. He was bound over by Mayor Davidson, of Gibsonville, under a bond of $100, but later the bond was reduced to $50 by the clerk of the court and the defendant returned to his former home in Roxboro. Mayor Davidson did not like this proceeding and caused Stewart to be arrested and brought back to Greensboro.

Miss Annie Sherwood was paral-yzed while at the supper table at her home on West Gaston street Monday evening and has been in a critical condition since that time. Her entire right side is affected and she is unable to talk. Miss Sherwood has been in poor health for several years, but returned Monday from a visit to the family of Mr. R. D. Thomas feeling much better. She was contemplating a visit to the family of her brother, Mr. M. S. Sherwood, who recently moved to Tennessee.

WAS CONVICT MURDERED?

Commissioners Offer Reward of $200
for Guard Who Shot and Killed Negro Prisoner.

Evidence has developed tending to show that Will Turner, the negro prisoner who was shot and killed while attempting to escape from Capt. Tyson's convict camp near Pleasant Garden late on the afternoon of the 6th inst. was murdered, and the fact that T. F. Coble, the guard who did the shooting, has disappeared lends color to the belief. The authorities are endeavoring to locate the missing guard and the county commissioners have offered a reward of $200 for his capture.

Upon returning to the camp Coble reported the affair to Capt. Tyson, who, upon the guard's statement, did not deem an investigation necessary.
During the night Coble disappeared from the camp and later Capt. Tyson was given a different version of the shooting by Mr. John M. McCulloch, who witnessed the affair.

Mr. McCulloch was at work in a field near the place where the convict was killed and witnessed the entire affair. It appears that Turner was fired upon by Coble as he was entering a cornfield, the shot bringing the negro to the ground. Partially rising and turning toward the guard, he is alleged to have exclaimed: "Don't shoot; I'll come back."
It is said the negro then started in the direction of the camp and had gone about twenty steps when the guard fired again, the second load killing the convict.

Mr. J. A. Davidson, chairman of the board of county commissioners;
Mr. John N. Wilson, county attorney, and Sheriff Jones visited the camp
Friday and made an official investigation of the affair. The testimony of Mr. McCulloch was sustained by several other persons, the only difference of opinion being as to the number of shots that were fired.

The body of Turner, which had been buried at the county home, was taken up by the dead man's father and carried to his home in the county near Durham and interred again.
Owing to conflicting stories regarding the killing of the convict, it was deemed advisable to hold an inquest, and accordingly Coroner Wood and
Dr. J. P. Turner went to Durham
Friday for that purpose. Accompanied by the coroner and the sheriff of Durham county, they visited the grave and exhumed the body. It was found that the negro had been shot in the back, the bulk of the load entering the upper part of his neck
just to the left of the right ear, scattering shots entering other parts of the body. There were no signs of other violence.

A report from Durham says the father of the dead convict will sue Guilford county for damages, but there is a question as to whether such an action can be maintained. It is presumed, however, at least that a bill for expenses will be presented to the board of county commissioners.

The missing guard, for whose arrest the commissioners have offered the reward of $200, is about 24 years old and a native of Greene township.
He had been employed as a convict guard for some time and had been discharged on one occasion for permitting a convict to escape.

THE COURT HOUSE REMOVAL.

But Little Interest Being Shown in the Proposition.

Considering the importance of the question involved, very little interest is being manifested in the proposition looking to the removal of the county court house and the jail to the Keeley Institute property. Especially is this lack of interest apparent among the country people. The farmers have refused to become excited over the matter, evidently being willing to rely upon the wisdom and judgment of the members of the board of county commissioners to do what is best for the public interest.
In Greensboro there is some opposition to the suggested removal.

The matter will come up for action
at the meeting of the board of county commissioners on the first Monday in December, and between now and that time it is probable that the question will be discussed in all its phases.

The news of the removal proposition was given in an article on the first page of last week's Patriot.

New School Buildings Located.

A meeting of the county board of education was held Saturday to select locations for new school buildings in Greene and Jefferson townships. The selection of a site in Greene township has caused considerable discussion by the residents of the section to be served by the school, and the board considered the matter fully before making a final selection. The site finally agreed upon is about half way between the Wood and the old Bowman school house.

In the matter of the selection of a site for the Sedalla school, in Jefferson township, it was decided to build the new school on the macadam road about half a mile from where the present school house now stands.

WILL MEET TOMORROW.

Commissioners to Make Investigation
at Request of Mr. King.

The county commissioners will meet tomorrow for an investigation of the official conduct of Mr. John L. King, chairman of the Guilford county highway commission, who is alleged to have violated the law in selling material for the construction of a new road. The investigation will be made upon the urgent request of Mr. King, who states that he and the other members of the highway commission will afford every facility for a thorough examination into the entire transaction.

It appears that the county actually saved money through the transaction complained of, though this would have no bearing on the question as to whether a law has been violated or not. Mr. King, it will be remembered, sold a quantity of slag and other material that was used in the construction of a road north of the city, making the trade at the solicitation of the superintendent of the construction force and the other members of the highway commission, who insisted that the county could thereby save a snug sum of money. The transaction has been the subject of more or less talk.

The law bearing on the matter is found in section 3572 of the Revised code, and is as follows:

"If any person, appointed or elected a commissioner or director to discharge any trust wherein the state or any county, city or town may be in any manner interested, shall become an undertaker, or make any contract for his own benefit, under such authority, or be in any manner concerned or interested in making such contract, or in the profits thereof, either privately or openly, singly or jointly with another, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor."

RURAL TELEPHONE LINES.

Growing Popularity of the Service in Guilford County.

The rural telephone idea is steadily gaining in popularity in Guilford county. Several months ago Dr. C. S. Gilmer and other public-spirited citizens promoted a line running out from Greensboro through Gilmer, Jefferson and Clay townships and connecting in the city with the Southern Bell system. The line now has 70 subscribers and is regarded by those who use the service as practically indispensable.

The line built by Maj. Jo. Hardie and two or three neighbors in Monroe and Madison townships proved so popular that arrangements were made for an exchange before the line was completed. The exchange was located at Brown Summit, and through it a number of people in that section enjoy the privilege of a good telephone service.

A few weeks ago the county commissioners granted a franchise for a line to run out from Greensboro by way of Guilford Battle Ground and Summersfield to the Rockingham line, and the work of construction will begin as soon as the material is received. This will open another important section of the county to telephonic communication and doubtless the line will be well patronized.

A contract has been signed for the construction of a line from this city to Groometown, and the indications are that an exchange will be established in that community in the near future.

The subscribers on these rural lines have free connection with the Southern Bell's local service in Greensboro and have the same access to the long distance (or toll) service as is enjoyed by the city subscribers.

Home Savings Bank Made Big Gains in Deposits.

The Home Savings Bank, of Greensboro, N. C., has made remarkable gains in deposits during the past year. Between June 23, 1909, and September 1, 1909, the date of the last statement to the corporation commission, this bank made a gain of 44 per cent. in deposits and for the eleven months and eight days ending September 1, 1909, the increase in deposits was from $27,905.28 to $52,- 029.09, or a gain of 86 per cent., which is a most remarkable showing and speaks volumes for the bank.

The policy of this bank is the same as that adopted by the old school exclusive savings banks which have stood the test many years and in the panic of 1907 stood the test without a jar. The people of this section have been studying the safety of banks and have found out that the safety of the Home Savings Bank is beyond question; therefore, they are using it freely and depositing their money in this institution at 4 per cent. interest, compounded quarterly.

FRIENDS QUARTERLY MEETING.

To Organize Work at Pomona—Affiliation of Young People's Societies.

A quarterly meeting of the Society of Friends in Guilford county was held at the Friends meeting house in this city Saturday, when a number of important matters were considered.

It was decided to organize a monthly meeting at Pomona on Wednesday, September 29, at 7:30 o'clock in the evening.

Rev. Eli Reese was appointed chairman of the committee to supervise the organization. The Friends have been conducting a Sunday school at Pomona for some time, and the announcement that a monthly meeting is to be established at that place will be received with pleasure by many people.

The committee previously appointed to assist in the organization of a meeting at Kernersville reported that the meeting had been organized under encouraging auspices.

The quarterly meeting considered the advisability of the independent young people's organizations of the Society of Friends affiliating with the Christian Endeavor movement, but no definite action was taken. However, the prevailing opinion seemed to be that the proposed affiliation would be desirable.

Prior to the opening of the quarterly meeting the committee on ministry and oversight held a meeting and discussed the question of evolving a plan to increase the attendance upon the various meetings. It was decided that, if the appointments could be arranged so as to enable a minister to attend each meeting, it would increase the attendance considerably.

Rev. Albert Poole was instructed to arrange the appointments of the several ministers so as to bring about this condition, if possible.

During the afternoon the board of missions of the North Carolina Yearly Meeting of Friends held a meeting and outlined the work for the coming year. The board hopes to raise among the Friends of the state during the year the sum of $4,000 for missionary work in Cuba.

GARBAGE SYSTEM FOR CITY.

Aldermen Provide for Its Establishment—Other Municipal Matters.

At a regular meeting of the board of aldermen Friday afternoon an ordinance was adopted providing for the establishment of a garbage system for the city. The ordinance provides that the city furnish horses and wagons, and that each property owner have two suitable cans placed on the premises, one for all combustible trash and the other for slops, cans, etc. The plan is for three wagons to have certain days to call and empty these cans, for which service the city will receive a fee of five cents, to be used for maintaining the necessary equipment.

The ordinance becomes effective for the main section of the city October 1 in regard to the cans for trash, but the portion relating to slops will not go into effect until April 1, 1910. The system will be under the supervision of the health department.

The question of creating the office of city meat and milk inspector was discussed at length, but no definite action was taken. A committee was appointed to investigate the matter and confer with the state veterinarian. The proposition has been under consideration by the aldermen for some time, and it is not improbable that the position will be created.

The board adopted an ordinance providing that all wires upon which electric current is carried be placed in accordance with the National Board of Underwriters.

The resolutions regarding sidewalk paving were taken up and adopted, with the exception of Elm and Fayetteville streets, upon which action was deferred to the next meeting. By the adoption of the resolutions the city is to proceed to put down sidewalks where property owners have failed to do so after having been notified, the city to take a lien upon the abutting property to cover the cost of the work.

An ordinance was adopted allowing churches in the city to procure building permits without paying the building inspector's fee.

The report of the municipal court for the months of May, June and July showed that during the three months the total collections from fines and costs amounted to $2,294.79. The report for the different months was as follows: May, $565.29; June, $1,014.45; July, $715.05.

Upon motion of Alderman King, the Sells-Floto circus was given permission to close East Sycamore street should the circus people decide to exhibit in the Auditorium September 30.

The city clerk was instructed to advertise the license taxes adopted by the board previously. It was stated that several persons and firms due license taxes had not paid and it was the sense of the board that the tax collector issue warrants for all who refused or neglected to pay.

TEACHERS TO MEET.

County Association to Decide Upon Plan of Work.

The first meeting of the Guilford County Teachers' Association for the present school year will be held in the court house Saturday, September 25, beginning at 10 o'clock in the forenoon. County Superintendent Foust urges every one who is teaching in the schools of the county or expects to teach this year to be present.

At this meeting a plan of work for the association for the coming year will be decided upon. It is the intention of the state department of education to outline for the teachers of the state a course of study to be pursued by them, and the Guilford teachers will decide at this meeting whether it is best for them to continue to meet every two months as a county association, or divide the county into sections for the purpose of pursuing the course outlined by the state.

In a notice to the white teachers of the county, Superintendent Foust says:

"I hope that every one will make a special effort to be present, so that we may have a definite understanding as to how certain things are to be done for the betterment of the school work the coming year. Please come prepared to ask any question or to make any suggestions that might be helpful to the other teachers. I shall confidently expect every teacher present at the time I have named."

BIG JR. O. U. A. M. MEETING.

Guilford County Councils to Assemble in Greensboro Tomorrow.

The councils of the Jr. O. U. A. M. in Guilford county will hold a meeting in the hall of Greensboro Council No. 13 tomorrow afternoon and night, when reports will be received from the various councils and addresses made by prominent members of the order. The meeting will be presided over by Mr. J. W. Sechrest, of High Point, district deputy.

The afternoon session will be devoted to routine business matters and short talks under the head of "good of the order."

At the night session reports will be made by National Representatives C. B. Webb, C. E. Brewer, R. T. Poole, G. H. Hastings and E. B. Lewis. State Councilor John F. Reynolds and State Council Secretary Sam F. Vance will make addresses on the subject, "Condition of the Order in North Carolina." Messrs. J. E. Kirkman and D. H. Milton, of High Point, will speak on "Principles of the Order." Informal addresses will be made by several others.

A large attendance of members of the order is expected and an interesting occasion is anticipated.

REMOVAL OF COURT HOUSE.

Mr. Moore Bitterly Opposed to the Site Proposed.

Among those who are opposed to the proposed removal of the county court house and jail to the Keeley Institute property is Mr. W. S. Moore, who expresses his views in the following communication addressed to the farmers of Guilford county:

"As amongst the oldest citizens of Guilford I want to say a word to the farmers of this county. There is now a proposition to sell the old court house and jail and build a new one and fall away out on the Keeley property, and you are now called upon to express your sentiments for action by the county commissioners at their December meeting, as advertised by Chairman Davidson. Not for my sake or convenience do I protest, but I am not willing to sit idly by and see how your conveniences would be taken away from you to such a distance from the center of the city, and I for one want to say that I am bitterly opposed to moving it so far.

"I am frank to say that, to avoid the noise and confusion of the two streets, it ought to be moved, but there is a plenty of property in about a square from the present court house (side streets) that can be had, where it would be quiet and convenient. Now, farmers, you who pay so much of the taxes, will you not rise up and say by district or township meeting that you are not willing that this great inconvenience shall be put on you and your children for time to come? I have already talked with a number of farmers and find them bitterly opposed to moving it so far out of the way."

IT IS MAN AGAINST MAN.POLAR DISPUTE A QUESTION OF PERSONAL VERACITY.

Information That No White Man Accompanied Peary Encourages Supporters of Dr. Cook, Who Believe Brooklyn Physician's Observations Are as Worthy of Credence as Those of Retired Naval Officer—The Court of Last Resort.

It is now merely the word of one white man against that of another. The great polar controversy has resolved itself into a question of the personal veracity, respectively, of Dr. Frederick A. Cook and Commander Robert E. Peary. According to the statements of each over his own signature, neither was accompanied by a member of his own race when he is alleged to have planted the stars and stripes at the north pole.

That Commander Peary had with him only his negro body servant, Matt Hensen, and a handful of Eskimos, when he made the last stage of his journey toward the pole, and that he had sent back the only remaining white member of the expedition when he reached latitude 87.8, was not known until the first installment of his detailed story of his trip was published.

One of the principal arguments made by the Peary supporters against the acceptance of Dr. Cook's claims to the discovery of the pole was his own admission that he was unaccompanied by any white man, and that, aside from the records of his observations, the only corroborative evidence he could produce would be the testimony of the two Eskimos who were with him on his final dash.

Now it appears from Commander Peary's own story that he himself was in a like situation. Aside from the negro Hensen, who had been his "Man Friday" for the past twenty years, his sole companions were four Eskimos. There was no white man with him who can now take the witness stand and testify to the accuracy of his scientific observations above the latitude of 87 degrees and 8 minutes.

It is needless to say that this development has brought great encouragement to the camp of the Cook followers. They are expressing renewed confidence that when the data of the two men are presented to an unprejudiced jury of scientists, Dr. Cook's word will be accepted with equal credence to that of Commander Peary.

According to Peary's own story, when he started from Cape Columbia there were seven members of the party, seventeen Eskimos, and 133 dogs. The members of the expedition were: Peary, Goodsell, MacMillan, Borup, Marvin, Bartlett, and Hensen. From time to time, as the explorers proceeded northward, Peary sent different members of the expedition back, either in command of so-called supporting parties or for other reasons. Goodsell, Borup, Marvin, and Bartlett each returned in charge of a quota of Eskimos, dogs, and sleds. MacMillan was forced to return on account of a frost-bitten foot. Finally, when 87.8 north latitude was reached, Peary's sole white companion was Capt. Bartlett, and he was sent back from this point with two Eskimos and the necessary equipment to supply him until Cape Columbia should be reached. From there on Peary had with him the faithful Hensen and four Eskimos.

In the opinion of the Cook supporters, the final records of Cook's observations are now just as worthy of credence as those of Peary. They contend that Dr. Cook's previous standing as an explorer renders his supporters word of equal value to that of Peary. They do not regard the negro Hensen as a factor in the equation. His long employment by the explorer would put him in the class of prejudiced witnesses, even if his lack of scientific knowledge did not bar him.

While none but the most radical Cook followers seek to discredit Peary, they point with some glee to the statements made by Peary's supporters after Cook's first announcement of his discovery, that no explorer could hope to convince the world of the truth of his story unless corroborated by the personal testimony of at least one other white man.

What will constitute the court of last resort in the controversy is still problematical. Various suggestions have been made, but it is likely that no definite movement will be set on foot in this direction until the return of the two explorers to the country. The coast and geodetic survey's offer to act as arbiters will hardly be accepted by Dr. Cook, inasmuch as Peary was, in a sense, an employee of this institution, being on detached duty for it from the naval service during his trip.

Both men are lecturers before the Naval Geographic Society, and as the attitude of this body has been one of "hands off" since Peary made his charges against Cook, it is believed that the two explorers would be willing to submit their quarrel to the adjudication of an international board of scientists to be selected by the society. Already the Duke of the Abruzzi, at one time the wearer of "farthest north" laurels, is being prominently mentioned as the possible head of the proposed court.

Member of Peary's Party Drowned.

Elmhurst, N. Y., Sept. 10.—Realizing the grief it would cause, Robert E. Peary went to much trouble to break as gently as possible the sad news of the death of Ross Marvin, who accompanied him into the far north, and lost his life in the polar regions.

L. C. Belmont, of Ithaca, a member of the Peary relief expedition of 1901, has received the following message from Battle Harbor:

"Break news of Marvin's death to his mother immediately before she sees it in the papers. Drowned April 10, forty-five miles north of Cape Columbia, while returning from 86.30 north latitude. Great loss to me and the expedition. Every member sends deepest sympathy. "PEARY." Through friends in this city the message was conveyed to Mr. Marvin's aged mother, who, it was feared, would not survive the shock. Yesterday a movement was started to give Mr. Marvin a great welcome on his return from the North, and the members of the family only yesterday were planning a celebration on his home-coming.

Peary Seized Cook's House.

Copenhagen, Sept. 12.—A remarkable letter, giving Dr. Frederick A. Cook's version of the trouble with Commander Peary over supplies, appears in the newspaper Politiken. The letter was written by Dr. Norman Hansen, a prominent Danish physician, who several times visited Greenland to study eye diseases, which he has made a specialty of. Dr. Cook told practically the same story to one of his closest American friends just a week ago, before Commander Peary reappeared but said that he did not intend to make it public.

Dr. Hansen was with Cook for some time in Greenland and returned with him on the Danish government steamer Hans Egede. In his letter he says:

"Now that Dr. Cook has gone I am no longer under any obligation to keep silence, and will exercise my right to publish the story about the house in Annatok, a story which Dr. Cook himself had too much delicacy to relate to the world. I write it according to my memory, in the same manner that Dr. Cook in Egedesminde told it to me, and I am fully convinced that in no details are my recollections wrong.

"Dr. Cook had built his house for stores in Annatok, north of Etah, and it was this depot which he started to reach in February, 1909, crossing Smith sound. It was a pretty large house, the walls being built of heavily-filled provision boxes, so that Dr. Cook knew that when this important point was reached everything was safe. He had before the start arranged with a young friend named Whitney that he have the right to use the house while hunting musk-oxen for sport, in the winter of 1908-09.

"When Dr. Cook and his two Eskimos, exhausted and half-starved, came within a shot's distance of the house in Annatok, young Whitney came out to bid him welcome, but inside the house was a stranger, a giant Newfoundland boatswain on watch. This man had been placed in Dr. Cook's house by Peary when the latter passed Etah with his ship bound north. Peary had given the boatswain a written order, which commenced with the following words:

"This house belongs to Dr. Frederick A. Cook, but Dr. Cook is long ago dead and there is no use to search after him. Therefore, I, Commander Robert E. Peary, install my boatswain in this deserted house."

CONFERENCE OF DEMOCRATS.New Yorkers Get Together and Discuss Future of Party.

Saratoga, Sept. 9.—Three hundred men, proclaiming themselves to be Democrats of principle and conviction, seeking only the rehabilitation and revival of the party, met in the town hall today, inaugurating a movement designed to spread throughout the state and nation. They chose Edward M. Shepard, of New York City, their chairman and with simplest of ceremonies and proceedings founded the Democratic League, which is to be the title of the permanent organization.

The three hundred who came to represent every county in the state had none of the attributes of the usual Saratoga convention—no bands, no shouters, no marching clubs, no swarms of hopeful candidates, no press agents and heelers. Their role was that of the physician, and a sober, serious, earnest gathering it was.

William J. Bryan sent the following letter to the meeting:

"I trust the conference will strengthen the party by straightforward declarations in favor of principles and policies acceptable to the rank and file of the party throughout the land. I am hoping for some endorsement of the income tax, a specific demand for free raw material and substantial reduction tariff on manufactured articles."

Deferred Correspondence.Boone Family Reunion.

On last Tuesday, August 31, the children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren gathered at the residence of Mrs. C. A. Boone about two miles west of Whitsett to celebrate her seventy-eighth birthday. Every one of the children was present except Mrs. Mattie Clapp, of Greensboro, and Messrs. Noke and Bob Boone, of Indiana.

Everything seemed favorable for the occasion. Mrs. Boone was as lively and pleasant and seemed so overjoyed because she could have so many of her people with her at one time. Her family numbered fifty-six that day, and a great many were not fortunate enough to be present. There were twenty-six visitors who were delighted to see this large family reunion.

After the crowd had gathered several began making some fine music which even the oldest enjoyed, while others were preparing refreshments for the crowd. When noon came the ladies all went marching to the spring with baskets and then well filled. A long table stands there from one year to another waiting for the happy occasion. The table was filled with everything that heart could wish for. The crowd all gathered and lightened the burdened table, which fairly groaned beneath its load.

After dinner was served all went back to the house and played games, made music and had a good time.

A ball team was present in the afternoon and played a game of ball. A photographer was there also and took the family's pictures to send to the absent brothers. The evening was spent with pleasure and the parting time came to soon, for they all had to come and say good bye to mother, but not forever, although her years number very nearly four score. We hope all may live to see another occasion like this and have Mrs. Boone with us, is the wish of

A FRIEND.

Brick Church, Mt. Pleasant, Smithwood, New Salem and Randleman furnished the most of the singers.

The exercises consisted of solos, duets, male quartets, ladies' quartets and all kinds of sacred songs.

The instructor, Mr. A. M. Pentris, could well be proud of the well trained classes who took part in the exercises, and the large number of singers and people present who went such a distance prove the respect and confidence of the people in their instructor.

CORN CROP SHRINKS.

Government Report Shows Indicated Loss of 400,000,000 Bushels.

Washington, Sept. 10.—August, stricken by drought, appears as a lean month, comparatively, in the government crop report, the damage of the dry spell being shown in an estimated reduction of the corn crop of 20,000,000 bushels, compared with last year's 2,688,000,000. Last month an excess of 380,000,000 bushels over the production of 1908 was indicated, so that the estimates have fallen 400,000,000 bushels.

Today's figures proved a decided sensation. The condition of corn as of September 1 was given at 74.6, compared with 84.4 last month and 79.4 on September 1, 1908. Wall street estimates were 4 to 5 points higher than the official figures.

The change from very bright to poor prospects for a large corn yield is due to the drought in August in several of the largest producing states like Missouri, Nebraska and Kansas.

There was a comparatively small decrease in the condition of spring wheat—from 91.6 last month to 86. On September 1, 1908, the condition was 77.6, so that the crop is in better shape than a year ago.

The indicated yield is 281,382,300 bushels, against 270,348,000 bushels last month and 226,694,000 bushels at harvest last year.

The condition of oats when harvested was 83.8, against 85.5 on August 1, 1907, when harvested last year, and 65.5 in 1907. The yield of oats is estimated at 1,008,300,000 bushels, against 1,027,000,000 last month and 807,156,000 bushels at harvest in 1908.

The preliminary estimate of the area of rye harvested is 5 per cent. less than last year. The preliminary estimate of yield per acre is 16.0 bushels against 16.4 bushels last year. The indicated total production is 31,066,000 against 31,851,000 finally estimated in 1908. The quality of the crop is 92.9 against 92.7 last year.

The average condition of other crops on September 1 is stated as follows: Barley, 80.5 against 81.2 in 1908; buckwheat, 81.1 against 87.8 last year; potatoes, 80.9 against 73.7; tobacco, 80.2 against 84.3.

The condition of tobacco on September 1 in important states was: Kentucky, 80; North Carolina, 77; Virginia, 85; Ohio, 85; Pennsylvania, 70; Tennessee, 80; Wisconsin, 73; South Carolina, 85; Connecticut, 84; Florida, 85.

FUGITIVE RETURNS TO JAIL.

Kept Promise Left Behind When He Escaped From Cell.

Topeka, Kan., Sept. 9.—Franklin D. Agnor, Federal prisoner from Oklahoma, charged with counterfeiting, who escaped from the county jail September 1, came back today and voluntarily surrendered to the sheriff.

When Agnor unlocked his cell door and escaped he left a letter to the sheriff, in which he said he was not guilty of counterfeiting, and that he intended to go home, hire a lawyer and provide for his family, as his wife was ill. He said that he would return as soon as the arrangements could be made.

Sheriff Monson made every effort to capture Agnor, but, although officers in every city and town in the country were notified, he was not heard from until he reappeared today and surrendered.

No Violation of Federal Law.

Washington, Sept. 11.—Formal announcement was made at the Department of Justice today that Acting Attorney General Ellis has addressed letters to Governors Hughes, of New York, and Stuart, of Pennsylvania, calling their attention to the results of the investigation of the Pressed Steel Car Company strike at Pittsburgh and submitting evidence for such action as the state authorities may wish to take.

The acting attorney general officially announces that it does not appear from the report, the evidence taken and all the facts obtained, that a prosecution for violation of the so-called peonage law or of the labor section of the immigration law or any Federal statute can be sustained, but that much of the testimony tended to show violations of the New York and Pennsylvania state laws.

New Tariff Commission.

Beverly, Mass., Sept. 11.—President Taft this afternoon announced the appointment of the new national tariff commission as follows:

Prof. Henry C. Emery, of Yale, chairman; James B. Reynolds, of Boston, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury; Alvin H. Sanders, of Chicago, editor and publisher of The Breeders Gazette. The board is authorized to employ experts to investigate foreign and domestic tariffs.

The new tariff commission is to assist the president in the execution of the new tariff law with especial reference to applying the maximum and minimum clauses to nations, which are unfriendly or friendly in their tariff relations with the United States.

Reward Price Offered for Deserter.

Washington, Sept. 9.—A decision rendered by the comptroller of the treasury today authorizes the War department to offer the largest reward on record for the return of an army deserter, William Lane, of Company C, Twenty-second Infantry, stationed at Fairbanks, Alaska.

Lane, who was serving in the quartermaster's office at that point, is alleged to have embezzled $11,000 and deserted. Under ordinary procedure the department could pay any civilian who might lead to his capture $50, but the department has been especially anxious to apprehend Lane, and the comptroller today held that it would be legal to offer $1,000 more reward, to be paid out of the contingent fund of the department.

Holton Wants Job Again.

Winston-Salem, Sept. 11.—District Attorney Holton will stand for a fourth term appointment, it is reported on good authority. His term expires next February. He has been in the office since 1898, succeeding R. B. Glenn. Spencer Blackburn, while congressman, fought his confirmation last time. Holton's record has been his strength, especially in the Breese case. He is a tireless worker. The announcement will carry confusion among some prominent members of the G. O. P., notably State Chairman Adams, Tom Settle and T. S. Rollins, reported to have their eyes on plum. A stiff fight is expected. The office pays $4,500 annually and expenses.

Testifies After Four Years.

Springfield, N. Y., G. B. Burbanck writes: "About four years ago I wrote you that I had been entirely cured of kidney trouble by taking two bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy, and after four years I am again pleased to state that I have never had any return of those symptoms, and I am evidently cured to stay cured. Foley's Kidney Remedy will do the same for you. Howard Gardiner."

English Taxes on Wealth.

The taxes on wealth in England seem to have popular approval. By-elections have resulted favorably to the liberals, and newspaper criticism has lessened. Now it is proposed to tax increases in the value of real estate. The income tax, now 5 percent, on all incomes over $750 a year, is to be made cumulative, as it the inheritance tax. If W. W. Astor has an income of $4,000,000 yearly at 4 percent, his income tax, under the new law, will be $332,580 a year, and at his death his estate will pay out $16,000,000 in inheritance taxes of all forms. If John D. Rockefeller has $200,000,000, he would, in England, if he receives only 4 percent, or $8,000,000 a year, pay an annual income tax of $665,160, and at his death his estate an inheritance tax of $32,000,000. These taxes have tended to the more even distribution of property, but their effect upon the increase of total capital is as yet unknown.

GUILFORD COLLEGE ITEMS.

The opening at Guilford has been very satisfactory to those in charge. All of the rooms in the halls devoted to young men are full and the young women's dormitories are well filled. It was a pleasure to see Miss Alice B. White, a member of the class of '07, at the college recently. She took the Bryn Mawr scholarship and after the close of the year spent the summer at Pocono Lake, Pa. She will teach this year in Lansdowne, Pa.

Mr. R. N. Wilson is back in his laboratory in Memorial hall. He and Mr. Binford have ensconced themselves in the Jay cottage and have pleasant quarters for study and reflection. Professor Jay has moved to his own domicile on the farm he bought in the spring from Mr. McGhee.

Miss Maud L. Gainey, who has been ill all summer in Seattle, is rapidly regaining health and hopes to start home at an early date. Her sister, Miss Elizabeth Gainey, is acting as stenographer for the college during her absence.

It is a pleasure to have Mr. David Crouch again on the college campus. He has been away all summer installing electric plants in various places. During the ensuing year he will teach physics at Guilford.

An elegant physical laboratory has been made in the basement of King hall. This latter building is going up rapidly and will, when completed, be nearly as large as old King hall, although it is but the rear extension of what is eventually to be the King hall of the future.

Mr. Dudley Carroll, who since his graduation in '97 has spent a year at Haverford College, graduating from there in '98, has conducted a very prosperous school at Mountain View, W. Va. at the head of the preparatory department of the college in the place of Mr. Floyd, who is to spend two or three years in Chicago University. Miss Annie Gordon is an assistant in this department.

The department of music is fortunate in its management. Miss Craig is a graduate of the music school at Wayne University, Ind., and was at the head of the music department in the University of Chattanooga, Tenn., last year.

Miss Myra Binford is again in charge of New Garden hall. Miss Farlow will assume her duties as teacher of domestic science about October 1. This hall has been improved in several particulars during the summer. Brick walls have taken the place of the wooden partition in the basement. Kitchen and pantry have been carpeted with linoleum and the halls are filled with jute runners.

Mrs. A. W. Blair and little daughter, of Gainesville, Fla., have been spending the summer at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Hobbs at the college. They return home about the middle of the present month.

It was a pleasure to have a call recently from Mr. J. Elwood Cox, president of the board of trustees. Mr. Cox was fresh from a very successful business trip to London and Paris and a most enjoyable tour for recreation through Germany and the Alps.

Miss Sallie White has erected a very attractive cottage on the lot near the residence of Jesse Stanley, where she and her sister, Mrs. Margaret Stone, have spent the summer. Mrs. Stone will continue to reside there.

Mr. Joseph Peele will be principal of the graded school at Guilford during the present year. Miss Donnell will have charge of the same grade she has had for the past two years and Miss Robertson of the primary grade.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis, now of Beaufort, but formerly of this place, spent a month very pleasantly in this community. Everybody in the neighborhood, young and old, was glad to welcome them. Their son, Robert, who graduated here several years ago and afterwards took a course in law in Washington, is now in the government forestry work in Arkansas.

We are glad to report that Mr. Henry Doak, who has been quite ill, is improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Blair, of Archdale, spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. Blair's sister, Mrs. Couch.

Mrs. Blackburn and Miss Maggie Davis spent last week with relatives in Stokes county.

Quite a number from here attended Friends quarterly meeting in Greensboro last Saturday.

A number of old students were here Saturday evening for the students' reception.

Miss Anna Davis is in St. Leo's hospital, where she underwent an operation. She is getting along nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Stanley are with their daughter, Mrs. Moore, who has been critically ill in the hospital in Goldsboro.

Miss Bettie Blackburn went to Walkertown Tuesday. She has accepted a position in the graded school there to begin work Wednesday.

Miss Florence Robertson began her school work last week. She returned to Revolution.

Mr. James F. Yates has commenced work on his new dwelling house near this place.

PLEASANT GARDEN NO. 1 ITEMS.

Mr. Henry Elmore and Miss Mabel Fentress, of Greensboro, visited Mr. Fred Fentress last Sunday.

Mr. Seth Hockett, who has cancer of the stomach, is at the point of death. The physicians say he will not be any better.

The great talk of the community is about the colored convict who was shot dead last week by a guard, T. F. Coble.

Messrs. Charles and Watson Elliott and Misses Lelia and Gracie Elliott spent Saturday and Sunday at Lassiter, in Randolph county.

Miss Lillian Dezean, of Greensboro, visited Miss Sallie Fentress last week.

The infant child of Mr. Ed. Tucker died and was buried at Pleasant Garden last week.

Mr. Thomas Fentress has purchased a cane mill and is now ready to begin work.

Mr. Herschal Hockett's horses, while loaded with one and a fourth cords of wood, got frightened last week and made some fast time for awhile. They decorated the road with their wood from the railway crossing south of church nearly to the church. Had it not been for the kindness of the people, one of the horses would have been killed before Mr. Hockett could reach them.

Misses Stella and Sallie Fentress attended the Sunday school picnic at Monnett last Saturday.

Miss Mabel Fentress, of Greensboro, has accepted the music department in the Falling Creek high school, near Goldsboro.

Rev. Mr. Nash, of Greensboro, preached a good communion sermon at Pleasant Garden Sunday on the text: II Cor. 5:14-16. The doors of the church were also opened and Miss Mamie May united with the church.

JAMESTOWN ITEMS.

Rev. J. A. Bowles, assisted at different times by Revs. Betts, Kilgore, Hilliard and Ader, has just closed a very successful revival at the Methodist church. An unusual interest was manifested and a general spiritual awakening felt throughout the community.

On the third Saturday and Sunday of this month the fourth quarterly meeting of this charge will be held in the Methodist church at Jamestown. Rev. W. R. Ware, the presiding elder, will be present and the membership is urged to attend, as this is the last business meeting of the conference year.

Mr. Kinzie Futrell, a student last year of the Jamestown high school, left Tuesday for Guilford College to enter school.

Miss Annie Gordon, a member of last year's faculty of the high school, has accepted a position as assistant in English and mathematics at Guilford College. Miss Gordon left Saturday to be on hand at the opening of the college on Tuesday.

Miss Pearl Gordon, who has been a student at Guilford College for the past three years, left Monday and will enter as a senior this term.

The Jamestown high school opened for the fall term on Monday, September 6, with an enrollment of 143 in the Jamestown school and 28 in the Oakdale school. This is the best opening in the history of the school, and as there are quite a number of others to enter later, it seems probable that this will be the best year yet.

Messrs. W. G. Ragsdale and D. W. Moore left on the 4th for an extended outing in the mountains of western North Carolina and Virginia.

Miss Florence Gordon left on Wednesday, the 8th, for Oklahoma, where she has accepted a position in a graded school.

Sudden Death at Gibsonville.

The whole community was shocked by the news of the sudden death of Mr. Henry H. Lewey on Wednesday morning, September 8. Mr. Lewey was found dead at the tobacco barn, where he had spent the night. For years he had been afflicted with heart trouble, and it is supposed that a sudden attack of this caused his death.

The funeral occurred at old Friends' Lutheran church on Thursday at noon. An immense concourse of relatives and friends were present. The services were conducted by Rev. C. Brown Cox, of Burlington.

Mr. Lewey was a good citizen, frugal, honest, hard-working, benevolent. He leaves a wife, a son, a daughter and two sisters to mourn their loss. The whole community feels the loss and has shown its profound sympathy with the family. May he rest in peace.

THE TIME FOR ACTION.

The most appropriate time to talk about good seed corn is not March 1, when the time for testing it is at hand, but the few weeks preceding Oct. 15, during which time the choicest and earliest maturing ears can be secured and thoroughly dried and cured before heavy freezes take place. While at the job it is well to secure more than one needs for himself, for some hapless fellow in all probability will not take the necessary precautions and next spring will be anxious to get the surplus seed and pay a good price for it. The seed ears should be hung in a well ventilated open shed, southern exposure preferable. When thoroughly dry it may be stored in a dry place, a conventional arrangement being to tie the ears in strings of about twenty ears, each being fastened at the middle and crisscrossing the one above it. The strings of ears should then be hung up where the mice cannot get at them and where they will not draw moisture during the winter months. To be on the safe side it is well to store the ears where they will not be subject to severe cold. In the fall selection of seed ears not only should the time of maturity of the ear be considered, but its shape, outward appearance of kernels and general thriftiness. It should be even rowed, and the kernels should cover the tip as completely as possible. A detailed study of the kernels is best delayed until next spring at testing time, when ears having kernels which are not plump to the germ end may be discarded along with those which do not show enough vitality. Professor Holden, the great corn expert, holds that if all seed ears were picked and hung up to dry by Oct. 15 more would be done to increase the yield of corn than would be possible in any other way.

HOW HE SAVED HIS CROP.

Last spring at blossom time, when growers in many sections of the west were having the time of their lives trying to save the prospective crop of fruit by making smudges and burning fire pots and pitch pots and what not in their orchards, a fruit ranch owner near Medford, in the Rogue river valley, in southern Oregon, having tried all of these plans and failed, decided that what was needed most in his orchard to keep the blossoms from freezing was just plain heat, so he built some fifty small fires of fir cord wood in about nine acres nights when the thermometer dropped to the danger point and by this means succeeded in keeping the temperature up some 12 degrees. The fuel and labor cost per night of this protection was $5, or about 55 cents per acre. An interesting feature of this case is the fact that the fires which were kept burning in this orchard saved the blossoms in orchards on three adjoining sides from three to five rows back from the fence. That the ranchman in question was paid for his pains is shown in the fact that there are now hanging on his trees from 3,500 to 4,000 boxes of choice Newtowns, Spitz and Ben Davis, which will net him from $2 to $3 a box. So well did this simple plan work that others should know of it.

SOME FEEDING EXPERIMENTS.

The Illinois experiment station has been making some exhaustive tests in the feeding of steers. While the full details of the experiments have not been made public, some general results have been announced. One conclusion arrived at is that the quantity of the feed given affects materially the proportion of the feed digested by the animals—that is, the more feed given the less proportionately was digested, one lot receiving 20 per cent less of the same food than another, making 2 per cent larger gain in flesh. Another fact demonstrated was that steers can be fattened upon a relatively low protein ration, which means economical meat production. This one point of economical use of feed in fattening operations is one that should be given attention by every feeder, who without much extra trouble could carry out much the same tests as those indicated above and prove the value of them from his own experience.

POOR SCHOOLS AND BIG BARNS.

It ought not to be so, but in all too many instances the country school-house and grounds are the most ill kept and slovenly in appearance and the teacher the most ill prepared for her work and poorly paid in districts where one sees the biggest barns, the most hogs in lot and cattle in pasture. It might be added, too, that it is usually in districts of this description where the boys and girls are kept from school on almost any pretext and from which they dig out for more congenial surroundings just as soon as they can earn their own way. This condition referred to is a wretched and short-sighted perversion of the relative importance of things and ought to be righted.

The present output of wheat in Canada is 283,000,000 bushels annually, and this with but 7 per cent of her available wheat land utilized.

The fall months are the proper ones in which to start the bulbous plants for next year's garden. The bed should be made rich and mellow and the bulbs set in place before the cold weather comes on.

It isn't the fish and game a fellow gets when on a day's jaunt, but rather the relaxation, exercise and fresh air, that are of most value. He may not think so at the time, but the delusion is perfectly harmless.

If the gasoline engine is to be stationary the best possible foundation for it is one of stonework or cement laid deep enough to give needed stability. Iron rods with large clamps should run to the bottom of the foundation and extend high enough so that the base of the machine can be anchored to them.

The tomato vines may be counted on to produce fruit which in size will be in an inverse ratio to the number allowed to mature. The best and most perfect fruit is produced where but two or three stems are permitted to carry fruit, the pruning being done gradually during the growing season. However, where the vines have been allowed to grow at will much can be done to increase the size of the fruit set as well as to hasten maturity by cutting off a good share of the growing shoots with some kind of a sharp knife.

A man who some years ago moved into a neighborhood where yellow mustard was thicker in the fields than hair on a dog's back writes a leading agricultural paper that the way to get rid of the pest is first to clean the seed grain and not sow mustard seed. As a second precaution he recommends plowing the fields as soon as the shocks are off, which will germinate the seed the same fall and prevent it living through the winter. Lastly he suggests keeping the roadsides and fence corners clean. This program of extermination would seem to be pretty good.

The forest service bureau has on exhibition a number of two inch sections of several varieties of wood which have been put through tests for strength, and the showing which the eucalyptus makes is remarkable. The sample of this wood broke down under an end strain of 43,200 pounds, the fiber stress per square inch being 13,580. In like blocks of oak and hickory, generally supposed to be the strongest and toughest of our native woods, the figures for the two strains were respectively 17,060 pounds and 4,870 pounds and 36,280 pounds and 8,890 pounds.

The writer recently had opportunity to put some questions to a civil engineer who has had charge of private and government irrigation projects in the Yakima valley. Among other things, his opinion touching pumping plants for irrigation purposes where the land did not lie right to receive water from a gravity system was that they were quite practicable and satisfactory and for a forty acre tract ought not to exceed $800. He held that even better results could be secured, including greater economy in operation, if a group of from three to six neighbors were to unite in the construction and maintenance of such irrigating plant.

One of the surprises for the visitor at the Seattle exposition is the remarkable display of agricultural products to be found in the Alaska building. The climate of southern Alaska is greatly modified by ocean currents, which have much the same effect that the gulf stream has on the countries of northern Europe. As far north as latitude 64 degrees grains and grasses are grown successfully, as well as potatoes and other root crops. The lack to be added to the list is the festive watermelon. Considering the fact that this great domain was for many years viewed as a resort for seals and polar bears, the showing referred to is not bad.

The cutting of the roadside weeds is to be urged for two or three very good reasons—first, to keep them from maturing and scattering a big crop of seed; secondly, to prevent their becoming a catch for drifting snows and thus a serious hindrance to winter traffic; and, thirdly, the improved appearance of the highway from the standpoint of those who drive over it. While the first two reasons given are perhaps the most practical, the third is just as important, for, whether they will or no, the character, public spirit and enterprise of the residents of a community are often very accurately shown by the care they give the highways for which they are responsible.

As soon as the tops of the onions are ripe and the roots sufficiently dead to permit of easy pulling the crop should be raked into convenient rows with a round toothed rake, care being taken not to bruise the onions. They should then be allowed to dry until the top is completely shriveled and the outside skin rattles, when the topping may be done with a pair of light, sharp scissors. If dry enough to store they may be crated or sacked when topped. If not they should be given a few days more curing. Before being sacked or stored the crop should be thoroughly dry, and this is a point which any careful buyer will insist on. The crop should be secured as early as possible in sections where frosts occur, as a hard freeze will cause the onions to sweat and sprout.

Did he but realize it the farm or ranch owner living along main traveled roads is interested financially in keeping them in the best possible condition in a far greater degree than the rural carrier, the auto owner or any one else who uses them.

The annual loss to live stock in the United States from the ravages of predatory animals is placed at $130,000,000. In the face of these figures it is not surprising that a campaign of extermination is being organized by state and federal authorities.

An orchard plow has recently been devised with which it is possible to run close to the trunks of the trees, yet allows horses to work two or three feet farther from the tree. It is something that has been needed and is highly prized by those who have used it.

Secretary Coburn of the Kansas state board of agriculture refers in his book on alfalfa to fields of this legume in Mexico which have reached an age of 200 years, to fields in France that are 100 years old and to some in New York which have 60 years to their credit. In the face of such figures alfalfa well deserves its designation, "perennial."

The Montana experiment station has been making some investigations with a view to learning just how great is the effect of alkali in the soil upon different kinds of cement work. Cases have come to the notice of the station officials where cement foundations in moist alkali soil have almost entirely disintegrated. While the test have not been completed, enough has been learned to make out a pretty bad case for cement work set in alkali soil.

There are today in the United States about 42,000 rural mail routes, served by some 40,000 carriers, who receive on the average a salary of $900 per annum. Many of the routes are not self sustaining and are largely responsible for the annual deficit which has existed for the past two or three years. Patrons on such unprofitable routes ought to realize more fully than they do that after being given a fair trial a good many of such routes will be discontinued. It is up to the patrons whether the service they have shall be kept up.

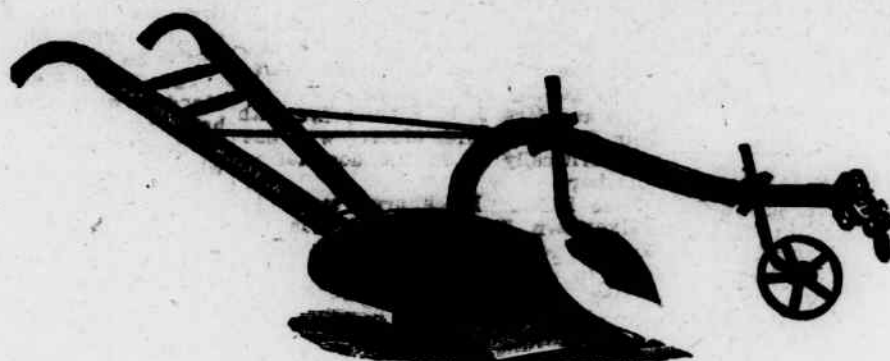

An old codger we read an account of the other day got his name into the newspapers by swallowing the claims of a smooth stranger without so much as winking and paying $10 for three little bottles of dope which it was claimed would cure any ailment of man or beast of however serious character. The item did not go on to say whether the stuff in the bottles later turned out to be plain water, vinegar or machine oil. The important thing is that the fool was parted from his money. This kind ought to take the next dollar or dollar and a half they get and subscribe for and also read their local paper, in which skin games and swindles of this and other brands are exposed every day.

A leaflet recently published by the Wisconsin experiment station places the annual loss of phosphoric acid in that state at 15,000,000 pounds, worth $750,000, and attributes the loss chiefly to the sale of animals and grain and the improper handling of barnyard manures, two-thirds of the loss being traceable to the last named cause. It is estimated that on an average 100 acre dairy farm there is an annual loss of thirty pounds of phosphoric acid, while on a 100 acre grain farm the loss is 615 pounds. In fifty years' cultivation it is estimated that one-third of the available soil phosphate are removed. Experiments with phosphate fertilizers showed that the application of 300 pounds per acre greatly increased the crop yields.

It would seem reasonable to assume that much might be done along the line of keeping boys and girls on the farm if more pains were taken to make the rural neighborhood more attractive. In one respect particularly do we believe a great improvement might be made—that is, in the building of more attractive and commodious school-houses and the keeping of the grounds in better shape. There is little reason to wonder that the young people of a community aren't particularly impressed with the educational and social life of the district when the school facilities are so meager and so poorly maintained. They argue, whether rightly or not, that this state of things points to a virtual disregard for education on the part of patrons and directors and that a development of the head isn't worth while when it comes to achieving success in agriculture. The net result of this attitude is that those who have got the brightest minds and most energy light out when occasion offers for some place and type of work where their capacities will be given opportunity to develop. We do not hold that their action is wise. There is great provocation for it. It is becoming more evident every day that there is no field of effort where brains energetically directed will bring uniformly larger or surer rewards than in agriculture. The great need of the day is to get the boys and girls to appreciate this fact. A more wholesome and wide awake attitude on the part of the old folks who are taxpayers would help to bring this about. It is time agricultural communities appreciated the opportunities at hand and put on a better front.

Cough Caution Tobacco Flues

Never, positively never poison your lungs. If you cough—even from a simple cold only—you should always heal, soothe, and ease the irritated bronchial tubes. Don't blindly suppress it with a stupefying poison. It's strange how some things finally come about. For twenty years Dr. Shoop has constantly warned people not to take cough mixtures or prescriptions containing Opium, Chloroform, or similar poisons. And now—a little late though—Congress says "Put it on the label. If poisons are in your Cough Mixture." Good! Very good! Hereafter for this very reason mothers and others, should insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. No poison marks on Dr. Shoop's labels—and none in the medicine, else it must by law be on the label. And it's not only safe, but it's said to be by those that know it best, a truly remarkable cough remedy. Take no chance then, particularly with your children. Insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Compare carefully the Dr. Shoop package with others and note the difference. No poison marks there! You can always be on the safe side by demanding

DEATH OF E. H. HARRIMAN.

Railroad Magnate Succumbs to Fatal Illness of Long Duration.

Edward H. Harriman, the railroad magnate, who had been critically ill for several months, died at his home at Arden, N. Y., Thursday afternoon. He was 61 years old and had been a prominent figure in the industrial life of the country for many years.

Several months ago Mr. Harriman went abroad to consult prominent European specialists, and then took the "cure" at Bad Gastein. This did him little, if any good, and he rushed home, arriving August 21, much before the time he had set for his return.

Mr. Harriman was born in Hempstead, L. I., February 25, 1848, the third son of the Rev. Orlando Harriman, Jr., rector of St. George's Episcopal church at Hempstead. The family were in humble circumstances and the youth, who was to become a multimillionaire, knew no luxuries and worked hard for the little education he received. At the age of sixteen he found employment, as an errand boy in a broker's office in Wall street, and, in 1870, before he was twenty-three years old, he had bought a seat on the New York Exchange and paid for it with $20,000 he had made in speculation.

He learned his elementary lessons in finance in the school of Jim Fish, Jay Gould and old Commodore Vanderbilt, and emerged a broker on his own account, devoid of sentiment in business, as was shown later, when he fought and ousted from the presidency of the Illinois Central Railroad Stephen Fish, a man who had probably done as much to help young Harriman on in his career as any other man now living, and who had years before made him vice president of the road.

Harriman's wife was Miss Mary Averill, of Rochester, whose father, W. J. Averill, a banker, was largely interested in the Rome, Watertown and Ogdensburg Railroad, and had large means. Five children were born, three girls and two boys. The eldest daughter is the wife of Robert L. Gerry, a son of Commodore Elbridge T. Gerry, the second daughter is Mary, and the third, Carol. The eldest son, Walter Averill, is just out of college, and is learning the railroad business. The youngest, Roland, is fourteen years old and is still in school.

From early manhood a commanding figure in a widening circle of Wall street activity, it was in 1897 that Harriman gained foothold from a firm of moderately successful financiers, to a place among the half dozen financial giants of the age.

At the time Union Pacific stock was going begging and the road was the despair of many moneyed interests, whose brains and capital had failed to place it on a paying basis. Harriman, backed by Kuhn, Loeb and Company and Standard Oil interests, undertook the rehabilitation of the railroad. He secured a controlling interest, reorganized the management and through his transcendent genius, converted the bankrupt company into one of the best dividend paying roads in the country. In this, and later, when he took hold of the Southern Pacific, Harriman's policy was one of lavish expenditure, which made the properties as near physically perfect as possible. The matter of dividends was allowed to wait upon their perfection. This policy was continued on all the Harriman lines, and to it has been added a close study of the territories adjacent to the property, and which contributed, or could be made to contribute, to their welfare.

Recent estimates of Harriman's personal wealth have varied all the way from $50,000,000 to $100,000,000. His home at Arden is said to represent an outlay of over $2,000,000.

Arden, N. Y., Sept. 12.—Edward H. Harriman was buried in the little cemetery near the Episcopal church here this afternoon. Simplicity marked the last rites paid to the dead railroad magnate, and less than 100 persons attended the funeral. Of these, most were relatives and intimate friends.

In deference to the man who controlled 65,000 miles of railroad, all trains on the vast system were stopped between 3.30 and 3.32 o'clock, no matter where they happened to be.

Mrs. Harriman herself perfected the final arrangements for the funeral. With her daughters, Mary and Carol, she directed everything.

New, York, Sept. 13.—The continuance of the Harriman policies in the management of Union Pacific, Southern Pacific and the chain of allied railroads was made certain today, temporarily at least, when Robert S. Lovett, E. H. Harriman's personal counsel and close friend, was elected to succeed Mr. Harriman at the head of the executive committee of the Union Pacific railroad. To strengthen further the dominance of the "Harriman Idea" Jacob H. Schiff and William Rockefeller, both heavily interested in the Harriman enterprises, were elected directors in place of Mr. Harriman and the late H. H. Rogers, and also were chosen to places on the executive committee.

Judge Lovett is a native of Texas and formerly was a country lawyer in that state.

THE PROHIBITION ANNIVERSARY

Organization of Party to be Celebrated in Chicago Next Week.

Washington Herald.

The Prohibition party is to celebrate at Chicago, on September 24, the fortieth anniversary of "a organization, and the occasion will be one to recount its achievements. It may find sufficient reason for rejoicing in the progress of the cause it advocates, but it is difficult to specify any such advance that is due specifically to that party organization. The various statutes of prohibition in Southern states have conspicuously not been due to its distinct activity. There, as in the West, prohibition or more restricted license laws have been enacted by one of the other of the greater political parties. Advocates of prohibition claimed last year that in the presidential campaign their cause had overshadowed every other issue. But their claim may be fairly pronounced without substance. The platforms and the candidates of both the Republican and Democratic parties ignored or avoided the topic. The separate vote for the Prohibition candidate for president was smaller than in 1904. Whatever advancement that cause has made has been effected through the old parties.

Nevertheless, the separate Prohibitionists may be as jubilant as sparkling cold water will permit. They may accord personal honor to their standard bearers who have gone down bravely in honorable defeat. May all of its speeches ring with patriotic, as well as partisan, eloquence, and may its parade be as imposing as orderly. It is interesting to note that the grand marshal is to be Gen. Grant, who has deplored the abolition of the army canteen as a blow against the sobriety and discipline of the enlisted soldier. That anti-temperance act of Congress was nevertheless due to political fear not alone of the distinct Prohibition voters, but of organized feminine influence. Meantime, the government continues to derive internal revenue from liquor and tobacco.

NEWS OF THE OLD NORTH STATE.

A Survey of What is Transpiring in the Commonwealth.

John Wilson was killed in a fight by George Holder, at the home of the former in Mitchell county, last week.

A special term of Alamance Superior court will convene at Graham September 27 and continue for one week.

Johnston Bennett, one of the oldest citizens of Rockingham county, died at his home in Reidsville Friday night, aged 83 years.

Zeb Cathey, a 17-year-old boy, was drowned in Pigeon river, near Canton, Friday. He fell into the water while in an epileptic fit.

The people of Lexington township, Davidson county, will vote October 12 on the question of issuing $100,000 bonds for macadamized roads.

Shuford Randall, a white man who was sentenced to the penitentiary for seven years from Cleveland county a few weeks ago, died in the state prison Friday.

Dr. R. D. Ross, of Wadesboro, was a classmate of Dr. Frederick A. Cook, the discoverer of the north pole. The two men graduated in the same class in medicine in 1890.

Dr. E. M. Gayle, third assistant physician at the state hospital for the insane at Morganton, has resigned. The board of directors will meet October 7 to elect his successor.

William Williams, a well known farmer of Union township, Randolph county, was found dead in a field near his home one day last week. Death is supposed to have resulted from heart failure. He was 55 years old.

A joint committee from the two state hospitals for the insane has reported in favor of transferring the counties of Scotland, Lee, Moore, Orange, Alamance, Caswell and Person from the Morganton to the Raleigh district.

The North Carolina state board of pharmacy has revoked the license of Charles R. Thomas, a well known druggist of Thomasville, who recently pleaded guilty in the Superior court of Davidson county to the charge of selling cocaine in violation of the law.

The corporation commission has issued a new railroad map of North Carolina which shows all the railroads of the state, with their stations, the roads in process of construction and those proposed, together with practically all the lumber roads.

William Morrison, colored, who was to have been electrocuted at the state penitentiary Friday, was reprieved by Governor Kitchin until Friday, October 15, on account of the failure of the manufacturers to deliver the electric chair in time for the execution as originally scheduled.

North Carolina's $500,000 bond issue for the enlargement of the state hospitals for the insane is declared by the Supreme court valid in an opinion just delivered. The act authorizing the issue was questioned as to its constitutionality after the purchase of the bonds by the Raleigh Savings Bank and the Wachovia Loan and Trust Company.

Concord Times: Last Tuesday Mrs. J. H. Welsh, who lives on Mr. J. P. Allison's place just west of town, gave her one and a half year old child what she thought was three-quarters of a grain of calomel. The child soon lost consciousness, and a physician was summoned. On examination it was found that Mrs. Welsh had given the little one morphine instead of calomel, as the tablets are almost exactly alike. The child died about 11 o'clock, as nothing could be done to save it when the physician arrived.

It is stated that the deal that has been pending between Ohio capitalists and the state board of education for the sale of the state's interest in Mattamuskeet lake, Hyde county, has been called off. The proposition was to sell the 50,000 acre area of the lake for $100,000, with the stipulation that the purchasers drain the lake. There seems to be strong likelihood now that the state board will undertake to drain the lake on its own account, or rather on the state's account, entering into a drainage district agreement with other swamp owners in that section.

Purchases House in Which Stonewall Jackson Died.

Richmond, Va., Sept. 10.—William H. White, president of the Richmond, Fredericksburg & Potomac Railroad, who has purchased the old Chandler house near Guinea, in which Stonewall Jackson died, has announced that he personally had made the purchase from J. W. King, but that the railroad company in all probability would become the owner since the plan was to build a park and place a man in charge. Trees and flowers will be planted and the historic dwelling will become one of the points of interest to sightseers.

Jackson was shot one mile west of the Chancellor house, on the eastern edge of the Wilderness, May 2, 1863, during the battle of Chancellorsville, his command being mistaken by Lane's Brigade for Federal Cavalry and fired upon in the darkness.

The grand jury of Richland county, S. C., has returned six true bills of indictment in the so-called graft cases in connection with the purchase of supplies for the state dispensary. Thrust In Thy Sickle.

Text, "Thrust in thy sickle, and reap; for the time is come for thee to reap" (Revelation xiv, 15).

September 12.—Intelligent people appear to reason upon every other subject except religion. Approach a man upon any matter of industry or social progress or political economy or finance and we find him reasonably alert to the general law of Cause and Effect, but when it comes to religion the same man refuses to recognize or follow such laws. To illustrate: If a thousand religious men and women were asked to give some general outline of the Divine Plan under which humanity is being dealt with by the Almighty, Nine Hundred and Ninety-Nine of them would look at you in blank astonishment as though it were absurd to suppose that God would conduct his affairs along the lines of order, reason and common sense—Cause and Effect. On the contrary the Scriptures everywhere hold that our Creator is systematically ordering the affairs of earth and "working all things according to the counsel of his own will" (Ephesians i, 11).

St. Peter divides the world's history into three great epochs, which our common version Bible designates as "worlds." The first of these, he says, lasted from the creation of our first parents to the flood. The flood was the harvest time, the reaping time, of that epoch. It was the conclusion to the course of sin which, he tells us, there prevailed. And only eight persons, Noah and his family, were carried over as a nucleus for another great epoch or "world," which St. Peter calls, "The world that now is," and which St. Paul calls, "This present evil world" or epoch, and of which Jesus states, "My kingdom is not of this world (epoch)," while again he informs us that Satan is "the Prince of this world."

Certain things have been in progress—certain great instructions and blessings from the Almighty during this long period of over Forty-three Hundred years. "This present evil world" or epoch is to have a harvest time and its affairs are to be as thoroughly wound up, completed, as were the affairs of "the world before the flood." Then a new epoch or "world to come" will dawn, the character of which is clearly delineated in the Scriptures as being very contrary everywhere to that of "this present evil world." It will be "The world to come, whereof we speak," the new epoch, figuratively said to have "a new heaven and a new earth," in which the Lord will dominate human affairs. His elect Church of the present time associated with him as his Bride, will constitute the "new heavens" or new spiritual domination under which human regeneration will bring the "new earth." Under that new dispensation, everything will be in accord with the character of its King, the Prince of Light and Righteousness, just as the conditions of "the present evil world" are in harmony with the characteristics of the "Prince of this world, who now worketh in the hearts of the children of disobedience"—"the Prince of Darkness."

"The World That Was."

"The world" or epoch which ended at the flood accomplished a great work. It was during that period of Sixteen Hundred and Fifty-six years that God first tested Satan by permitting him to have an opportunity to show the traitorous attitude of his heart in connection with our first parents. Desiring to establish himself as an Emperor over earth, separate and distinct from the Empire of Jehovah, Lucifer became Satan, God's Adversary, and has since continued in his opposition to the Divine will. Our first parents, through Satan's lie, were led into disobedience to God, which resulted in the death sentence on Adam and his race. Subsequently for centuries the holy angels were allowed to have intercourse with fallen man, with a view to helping them back into harmony with God, not that God expected any such results, for he already foreknew that there could be no recovery of humanity, except through the merit of the Redeemer, whose sacrifice would purchase the world and whose reign as the King of kings and Lord of lords would ultimately restore the willing and obedient of the race. But the angels to all eternity might have supposed that an easier way of saving men was possible; that if permitted they could educate, assist and uplift mankind out of sin and death conditions back to harmony with God. God not only desired to show that all such results were impossible, but also he desired to use the opportunity to test, to prove, the loyalty, the faithfulness of the angelic hosts.

Amongst the liberties granted to all the angels at that time was the power to materialize—to assume human forms. We need not stop to discuss the possibility of this, for we are addressing those who believe the Scriptural record, and to such it will be quite sufficient for us to cite one of the many Scriptural instances: the case of the three men who appeared to Abraham and were subsequently found to be angels—spirit beings. They looked, talked, ate and were clothed like men. Abraham knew not whom they were until subsequently they revealed their identity, as we read in the account of Genesis xviii. The Apostle Paul adds his testimony to this incident, saying to the Church, "Be not forgetful to entertain strangers; for thereby some have entertained angels unawares" (Hebrews xiii, 2).

For long centuries this relationship between the angels and mankind continued. We have no record of any human being receiving an uplift from their ministrations. On the contrary, as God had foreseen, the influence of sin was contagious and ere long some of the angelic hosts became so enamored of the daughters of men that "they took to themselves wives of such as they chose," and preferred to leave their own habitation or spirit condition and to remain in a materialized form and to raise earthly families, although their course was contrary to the Divine arrangement and must have been so understood by them. Divine power was not interposed to hinder them. The error of this sedition, the leaving of their own habitation or plane of spirit being, from a small beginning, spread, and God's non-interference justified the supposition that he was either not able to cope with the situation, or unable to enforce his own Law. Thus centuries rolled by, while the earthly children of "those angels which kept not their first estate" became "giants and men of renown" at a time when maturity was not reached until at least One Hundred years (Genesis vi).

During all those centuries we may be sure that every one of the holy angels had fullest opportunity to participate in the seductive pleasures of sin. And we may be quite sure during that epoch or age God demonstrated fully, completely, which of the angels were heart and indeed in spirit and in truth loyal to him and to all the principles of his righteousness. This work having been accomplished, that "world before the flood" was brought to an end, was overwhelmed by a flood of waters, the Lord declaring that the whole earth had become corrupt through this evil. The influence of the angels along licentious lines seemingly tended more and more to degrade humanity, so that we read that God beheld that "every imagination of man's heart was evil, and only evil, and that continually." With this closing of that epoch or "world" those angels which had not sought to abandon the angelic plane of being were restrained in Tartarus, our earth's atmosphere, until the judgment of the great day of trouble in the close of this "world," when evidently they will recover their power of materialization.

"This Present Evil World."

"This present evil world" differs from "the world before the flood" in that it is not under the ministration of the angels—but man, in a general sense, is left to himself. Since the flood the world in general has been going on just as if there were no God, the exceptions, aside from the Jewish nation and the Church of Christ, being the destruction of the Sodomites and the preaching of Jonah to the Ninevites, warning them that they were about to perish. In other words, so far as outward appearance goes, God has allowed the world to take its own course, interfering only when the corruption became so great as to make life injurious rather than a favor. We may also understand the Scriptures to teach that God has had a silent supervision of the nations to hinder them from overturning or disturbing any feature of the Divine program. He is wise enough to know how to make the wrath of man to praise him and the remainder more than this he will restrain.

St. Paul, reviewing the question of human degradation as exhibited in heathendom, etc., explains that the great deterioration in the human family is the result of man's being left to himself as respects the Divine supervision. He says, looking back along the line of Noah's descendants, "When they knew God they glorified him not as God, neither were thankful. . . . And even as they did not like to retain God in their knowledge, God gave them over to a reprobate mind—they giving themselves over to things that were not profitable, defiling themselves, etc. (Romans i, 21-28).

This condition of things continued from Noah's day until 3½ years after our Lord's crucifixion, when the special favor of God toward the nation of Israel terminated and the "middle wall of partition was broken down"—Cornelius being the first Gentile admitted to the privileges of the Gospel. From that time onward the proclamation of the Gospel was not restricted to the Jewish nation, but is for whosoever may have "an ear to hear" of every nation, people, kindred and tongue.

During the long period from Noah to Christ—Twenty-Five Hundred years—God, as we have seen, had no dealing with the world, but he did have very special dealings with Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, and then subsequently with the nation of Israel. To those patriarchs he gave an Oath-Bound Covenant, that through their posterity he would ultimately bless all the families of the earth. Moreover, the character of the promise was such that it implied not only the resurrection of the patriarchs, but the resurrection also of all the families of the earth that have gone down into death under the great Adamic sentence (Romans vi, 12, 17, 19).

The nation of Israel was segregated from all the other nations of the world and bound to the Lord and he to them by the Covenant of the Law entered into at Mt. Sinai. Under the terms of that Covenant it was implied that that whole nation should constitute the seed of Abraham and rule and bless all other nations, but the conditions were the keeping of the Law perfectly. God, of course, knew that, as imperfect men, Israel had undertaken an impossible contract. But he also knew that under his supervision the contract would not eventually be to their disadvantage, but the reverse. He used that nation as a typical people, their jubilees representing the "times of restitution" (Acts iii, 20) coming to the world under the Millennial reign of Christ. Their day Sabbaths typified a coming blessing to Spiritual Israel. Their year Sabbath typified a coming blessing to the world, to the universe. Their Day of Atonement for sins typified the day of better sacrifices, of Christ and the Church. Indeed, we may understand that fleshly Israel and all of its great affairs were typical foreshadowings of God's greater blessings to come in after dispensations.

Jewish Favor Culminated.

The culmination of the Lord's dealings with Israel was reached, as he had intended from the beginning, when our Lord Jesus left the glory of the Father on the heavenly plane and was made flesh, being born under the Law Covenant. Not being a direct member of the human family, but "holy, harmless and separate from sinners," he was perfect and fully able to keep all the terms of that Law Covenant, and did so. Thus under the provisions of the Law Covenant he, and he alone, of all the Jewish nation, could claim the rights of the Abrahamic Covenant—the blessings foretold and the rightful authority to bless men, for, as the ruler of earth, he took the place of Father Adam with all his rights and authorities described in Psalm viii, 4-6.

By keeping these rights and privileges as a man our Lord indeed would have been an earthly potentate of considerable dignity, the highest amongst men. But the Father's place for him and for the world was far higher than this. As an earthly potentate he would have ruled over a falling and dying race and would have been privileged merely to counsel, rule and direct their imperfect energies; but he never could have brought them to eternal life. Hence the Divine Plan was that he should die as the Redeemer of Adam and his race, that thus he might have the just, the legal right to lift out of sin and degradation and death all of mankind who would fall in line with the gracious arrangements of the Divine purpose which center in Christ. It was in fulfillment of this feature of the Divine Plan that our Lord laid down the earthly Kingdom, the earthly rights, all that he had, as man's ransom price (Matthew xiii, 44). "Who gave himself a ransom for all, to be testified in due time" (1 Timothy ii, 6).

"Every Knee Shall Bow."

We now have Messiah exalted and in his possession the authority justly, legally acquired, whereby he may bless all the families of the earth—all the children of Adam, by restoring to the willing and obedient "that which was lost"—earthly perfection and dominion. Where will he begin his blessing work? All the prophecies implied that Messiah would begin his work with Israel and that it should progress through Israel to all nations. But the prophecies did not even hint at the fact that before giving the "restitution" blessing to Israel, under the New (Law) Covenant of Jeremiah xxxi, 31, Messiah would first make use of his "restitution" authority for the gathering of a special class of people, "a holy nation, a peculiar people, a royal priesthood." This, as the Apostle tells us, was kept a "mystery," and, generally speaking, it is still a "mystery," not only to Israel, but to the world. The gathering of the Spiritual Israelites was the first step in the new program. Those of the Jewish nation at our Lord's First Advent who were of the right attitude of heart were transferred from Moses to Christ, from natural Israel to spiritual Israel. Then, as we have seen, from the time of Cornelius onward the Gospel message has been free to all who have the believing heart and hearing ear to take the message. These, as a whole, as our Lord intimated, are but a "little flock." His words were, "Fear not, little flock; for it is your Father's good pleasure to give you the Kingdom" (Luke xii, 32).

The Kingdom, the life eternal, etc., which the Lord has to give away, are those of Adam, which were lost through his disobedience and repurchased by our Lord at Calvary. These he gives to his followers, the "little flock," but not to keep. Earthly restitution blessings are theirs to sacrifice only. Whoever will not accept them on these terms cannot be Jesus' disciples. Such are the terms of the heavenly or high calling bestowed upon his followers. They must take up their cross and follow him in the sacrifice of earthly life and earthly restitution rights, if they would share with him the glory and honor that will be his in his exalted station.

"The world to come" merely signifies the epoch to come, the epoch wherein dwelleth righteousness, where righteousness will be in the ascendant, and where sin will be absolutely under the control of the great Redeemer, who then will be the King of glory, reigning, enlightening, blessing, uplifting, restoring, purging, purifying and bringing to perfection so many of Adam's race as will heartily respond to the rules of his Kingdom.

RELIGIOUS THOUGHT.

Some Gleaned From the Teachings of All Denominations.

A cross is God's will going one way and your will going the other way.—Rev. Dr. S. Edward Young, Presbyterian, Brooklyn.

Right and Wrong.

One is all right when he possesses riches, position, etc., but when they possess him he is all wrong.—Rev. C. W. Webb, Baptist, Aurora, Ill.

Mystery of God.

No explanation of the mystery of God in the form of man can be made to the human mind, and therefore it was not conceived in the human mind. It was born from above.—Rev. R. S. Hyde, Methodist, Omaha.

Life's Business.

The business of life is to become godlike in character. Thought, feeling, will, the three powers of intelligence, are the potencies whose right of development will bring that result.—Rev. T. Edward Barr, People's Pulpit, Milwaukee, Wis.

Men Wanted by God.

God wants men who are single hearted and not double minded. He wants men who have the courage of conviction and who will do his work according to the laws as laid down by the Bible.—Rev. J. H. Littell, Presbyterian, Wheeling, W. Va.

Mother of Prejudice.

Ignorance is the mother of all prejudice, and it is because we do not know each other that we hate one another. It is a disgrace for Christianity to denounce Judaism, its mother, and it is a disgrace for Judaism to be inimical to Christianity, its daughter.—Rev. Tobias Schanfarber, Methodist, Chicago.

The Need of Pure Gospel.

The world never more than today needs a pure gospel and undiluted religion. The machinery is at hand. The raw material is abundant on which to work. The Holy Spirit is the power. "He will give the Holy Spirit to them that ask." Have you that power?—Rev. Dr. W. A. Hunter, Presbyterian, Los Angeles, Cal.

Value of Temperance.

Let the virtue of temperance be proclaimed in all the churches. Let the family inculcate in the children the spiritual and temporal blessings which spring from a life of temperance and sobriety. Let the father and mother impress upon their children the terrible consequences of drunkenness.—Cardinal Gibbons, Roman Catholic, Baltimore.

Aim of Life.

Life is real. Life is earnest. Life is an opportunity to do something for God and man. It is not intended to be wasted with uninteresting activities. The question is not, "Are you busy?" but "What are you doing?" Is the end and aim of your life to help God make this world better? It is not enough even to be good, but we must be good for something.—Rev. J. Horace Malvern, Congregationalist, Los Angeles, Cal.

Man's Will.

The sovereign will of man is the mightiest force in human life. It is the absolutely foundational power in personality, the executive of the individual life. Every man is a small army of faculties, but the will is the commander, the pilot that runs the ship, who can bring it safely through the stress of weather and wave to its destined harbor. The will is the king on the throne of the soul. We are not led into right relations to God in our religious life through the feelings or the intellect. It is not what a man knows or what he feels, but what he wills to be and do, that makes him a Christian and a man.—Rev. Cortland Myers, Baptist, Brooklyn.

The Church What People Make It.

We must remember that the church has grown up out of human life and is purely a creation of the human heart and mind. We have expected it to perform miracles and to redeem the world with a gesture. But there have been no miracles, and so some of us have decided that the church is a failure. It is a failure as a miraculous creation, but it is not a failure as a natural product of human life. It is not an end in itself, but a means to moral and religious education. It reflects man's nobilities and his moral poverty. It is divine only as the human beings who compose it are divine. It is powerful only as the human beings behind it put their power into it. There are as many styles of church as there are types of men. The church is what the people make it.—Rev. J. C. Jaynes, Unitarian, Newton, Mass.

Ideal Church.

Man's highest ideals are God's creation. A bird's note, a bit of sunlight or the dream of angels gives us music and painting and sculpture. But man's ideal is God's real. This is clearly seen in the origin and life of the church of God in all ages. The Acts of the Apostles show us the origin of the church in the little band of disciples who followed Christ. Then, empowered for aggressive work by the descent of the Holy Spirit, they began that mighty march through the centuries which has not yet ceased. Their ideal elements were prayer, united and individual speaking, speaking everywhere the great paths of Christianity, a pious visitation of God's spirit making them bold in speech, united in spirit and generous of their means for the common good of all believers. The result of this was that great grace rested upon them, men believed their united and individual testimony, and the church was launched to sail through storm and tempest to a safe harbor with an abundant entrance. Jesus Christ in his church today in the hearts of believers is again the ideal church which will add unto it daily such as shall be saved.—Rev. Walter H. Waygood, Presbyterian, Baltimore.
