took place several nights ago and it appeared that the colored citizen was considerably worsted.

The Cornerstone of the new Friends
church, on the corner of Asheboro
and East Lee streets, will be laid tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock with appropriate ceremonies. The stone will be placed in position by Dr. J. E. Cartland and Miss Rhoda Worth. The address of the occasion will be delivered by Dr. L. L. Hobbs, president of Guilford College.

Mr. William Coble, a well known citizen of southern Guilford, died Monday at his home near Julian and was buried yesterday at Pleasant Union cemetery. Mr. Coble was in his 86th year. His last illness covered a period of only two weeks and resulted from a fall in which he sustained a fracture of the thigh. He is survived by two sisters, a brother,
three sons and three daughters. One son died last March.

The police officers are vainly searching for Sam Murray, a negro who went to the home of Worth Smith, colored, at an early hour Friday morning, and calling Smith to the door, filled his body with a load of buckshot. Murray became enraged at Smith because the latter had thrown a pail of water upon the former's young brother and proceeded to wreak his vengeance by the use of a double-barrel shotgun. Smith is in a precarious condition and the whereabouts of his assailant are unknown.

Satisfactory progress is being made in the erection of the new telephone line running out from Greensboro by way of the Battle Ground and Summerfield to the Rockingham county line, and the exchange will be in working order in a short time. It should prove a great convenience to the people in that section of the county. Connection will be made in Greensboro with the local and long distance service of the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company.

of. The Methodist Protestant pastors and many laymen from Greensboro and the county are in attendance. The work of the church in Guilford has prospered during the past year and the preachers have good reports to make.

FOUL MURDER IN GREENE.

HEINOUS CRIME COMMITTED IN SOUTHEASTERN GUILFORD.

Simpson Coble Murderously Assaulted and Left to Die in Deep Gully—
His Aged Father, Brother-in-Law and Three Neighbors Charged With Complicity in the Crime—Trouble Started in Drunken Brawl at Blockade Distillery—Preliminary Hearing in Greensboro Today.

One of the foulest crimes that has stained the record of Guilford county was committed in Greene township late Tuesday afternoon or evening of last week, when Simpson H.
Coble, a well known citizen of the community, was murderously assaulted and left to die in a deep gully about a mile from his home. The fatally injured man was found Wednesday morning and removed to his home, where he survived until about 3:30 o'clock Thursday morning. The murdered man was unable to make a statement before his death, although he tried several times to talk.

In jail awaiting a preliminary hearing on the charge of murder are Dan
"Foot" Coble, the father, and Hiram Elliott, the brother-in-law of the dead man; Henry M. Holt, who was operating a blockade distillery at which originated the trouble that resulted in Simpson Coble's death, and John Amick, who is believed to have been interested with Holt in the conduct of the distillery. All these are charged with complicity in the murder, and a warrant has also been issued for John Holt, a brother of the distiller, on the same charge.

The first news of the tragedy
reached Greensboro about 6 o'clock
Wednesday evening, when Sheriff
Jones received telephone messages
from Squire Will Bennett, Mr. Theodore Neese and Dr. F. A. Shepard informing him of the crime and asking that officers be sent to the scene at once. The messages stated that suspicion pointed to the father and brother-in-law of the dead man and that Squire W. A. Bowman had issued warrants for their arrest.

First Arrests Made.
Deputy Sheriffs John Weatherly
and George Crutchfield left Greensboro shortly after 9 o'clock Wednesday night, and after driving 16 or 17
miles reached the scene of the crime.
Pursued by Squire Bennett, and other citizens of the community, the officers located the distillery where the trouble is understood to have originated and later arrested Dan Coble and Hiram Elliott, both of whom were brought to Greensboro and committed to jail without bond to await a preliminary hearing.

About the time the officers reached the neighborhood of the crime Henry Holt and John Amick left for Greensboro. They appeared in the sheriff's office at the court house early Thursday morning and were the first persons to give a detailed account of the tragedy heard in Greensboro. Before the story was ended, however, a telephone message was received stating that Holt's distillery had been captured and requesting that he be arrested. The same message announced that the father and brother-in-law of the dead man were in custody.

According to the story told in the sheriff's office by Henry Holt and John Amick, a bitter and relentless feud has existed for several years between Simpson Coble on the one side and his aged father, Dan "Foot"
Coble, and his brother-in-law, Hiram Elliott, on the other. The three men met at the distillery Tuesday afternoon, November 9, and renewed the quarrel of long standing, the presumption being that, after leaving the place, they engaged in the fight that resulted in Simpson Coble's death.

Discovery of the Body.
While in the sheriff's office, and after the arrest of Henry Holt, John Amick told how he, Henry Holt and John Holt had found Simpson Coble lying in a deep gully a short distance back of Hiram Elliott's house Wednesday morning. Amick stated that, upon going to Coble's house to see him Wednesday morning and being informed by Mrs. Coble that her husband had not been at home since the previous day, he and his associates set out to look for the missing man. They found Coble lying in the bottom of the gully, his head
beat almost into a jelly, his right eye knocked out and protruding from its socket, and with numerous bruises
about other portions of his body.

The desperately wounded man was removed to his home and Dr. F. A.
Shepard summoned to attend him.
The physician saw at a glance that the case was hopeless and that death was only a matter of time.

The Coroner's Inquest.
Upon receipt of the news of the death of Coble Thursday morning, Coroner Wood and Sheriff Jones left Greensboro in an automobile to hold an inquest. Arriving at the home of the deceased, the coroner summoned
the following jurors: Squire W. A.
Bowman, Ernest R. Welker, Lewis W.
Clapp, J. T. Shoffner, George P.
Crutchfield and George L. Stansbury.
Several hours were consumed in performing the autopsy and going over the scene of the tragedy.

The only witness examined was John D. Holt, whose testimony was to the effect that Simpson Coble and Hiram Elliott engaged in a quarrel
at the distillery Tuesday afternoon.
The quarrel soon grew serious, one threatening to shoot and the other threatening to use his knife. The witness testified that Elliott and Coble left the distillery together, both being in a quarrelsome mood, and that this was the last time Coble was seen before his body was found in the gully.

After viewing the body of the deceased, the jury went to the distillery
and followed the path to the point where it is believed the fatal fight took place and then on to the gully
where the body was found.

The distillery was located on Dan Coble's land, about a quarter of a mile from his home and a shorter distance from the home of Hiram Elliott. There is a path leading away from the distillery, and it was in this path that the fatal fight took place. There were signs of a desperate struggle and marks of blood
on the ground. The dead man's hat, his knife and his purse were found lying near the scene of the struggle,
and there were signs that the body of the wounded man had been dragged or carried from the spot to the gully, about 200 yards distant.

Following the autopsy, which was conducted by Dr. F. A. Shepard and Dr. DeLacy Foust, the coroner's jury rendered the following verdict:

"The deceased, Simpson H. Coble, came to his death by a fatal blow or blows made upon his head and face
with some heavy, sharp instrument
in the hands of a person or persons not definitely known to the jury, but under circumstances pointing to Hiram F. Elliott as a party to the crime."

Coroner Wood issued a burial permit and the funeral and interment took place at Mt. Hope church Friday at noon.

The deceased was between 35 and 40 years old and is survived by his widow and five children. It is known that he had not been on good terms
with his father or his brother-in-law, Elliott, for some time, and it is rumored that he had made threats against his father. He and his father had not spoken in several months,
and according to neighborhood rumor,
the two men rarely conversed without cursing one another.

Arraigned for Preliminary Hearing.
Dan Coble and Hiram Elliott were brought before Squire D. H. Collins Friday morning at 10:30 o'clock for a preliminary hearing, but in order to give the attorney for the defendants time to prepare his case, and for the convenience of County Attorney Wilson, the hearing was adjourned until this morning at 10 o'clock.

Henry Holt pleaded guilty under the North Carolina statute of the illegal manufacture of whiskey and was held for the December criminal term of Superior court under a bond of $500, in default of which he was remanded to jail.

When old man Coble and his son-in-law, Elliott, were arraigned in court they presented an air of stolid
indifference, and after Judge Shaw, who appeared for the prosecution, announced the state's readiness to proceed both defendants stated they were "as ready as they would ever be." After Sheriff Jones held a whispered conference with them, he stated to the court that the defendants desired to be represented by counsel,
but old man Coble still insisted that it made no difference with him. The two prisoners finally sent for and retained Col. John A. Barringer, and the hearing was continued.

A great many Greene township people were in Greensboro for the preliminary hearing. Many of them seemed to be of the opinion that Elliott is the guilty man of the two, and several with whom a Patriot reporter talked expressed doubt that old man Coble had anything to do with the murder of his son.

Old man Coble is 75 years old, was a brave Confederate soldier, is a man of some property, and his neighbors
do not recall that he has ever been in any trouble with the law. He is untutored and unlearned, but there are many men who give him a good character and express their belief that he is incapable of the high crime charged against him.

Saw Wounded Man in Gully.
Both the defendants (Dan Coble and Hiram Elliott) say they saw Simpson Coble lying in the gully near Elliott's home early Tuesday night, but excuse themselves for not going to his assistance by saying that they thought he was drunk and feared they would have trouble with him if they aroused him.

Dan Coble says he told Henry Holt that Simp. was lying out in the gully back of the house and that Holt went to the spot, returning soon after and saying he had left. The aged defendant says he then went to bed and thought nothing more about the matter until next morning, when he was informed by John Holt and John Amick that his son was lying in the gully, terribly wounded.

A gentleman from Greene informs the Patriot that Dan Coble assisted the Holt boys and Amick in removing his son to the latter's home, but that Elliott refused to lend a helping hand.

Other Warrants Issued.
As a result of further investigation
by the officers, Squire Collins late Sunday afternoon issued warrants charging Henry Holt, John Holt and John Amick with complicity in the murder. Henry Holt, who had been held under a bond of $500 on the charge of illicit distilling, was preparing to give bail when the warrant charging him with murder was issued.

Immediately after the warrants had been issued, Deputies Weatherly and
and returned late in the night with Amick. They were unable to locate Holt, who, it was said, had gone visiting.

Amick was given a hearing before Squire Collins Monday afternoon on the illicit distilling charge and entered a plea of guilty, saying that he and Henry Holt were operating the distillery. In view of the murder charge resting against him, Amick

was remanded to jail without bail.
Should he come clear of the murder charge, he will then be admitted to bail under the warrant charging him with distilling.

Coble and Elliott on Trial.

The preliminary hearing postponed until today did not begin until shortly after 11 o'clock this morning, as the Patriot was going to press. The case against Dan Coble and Hiram Elliott was called and the state introduced Dr. F. A. Shepard, who was called to attend Simpson Coble, as the first witness. There are a great many witnesses for both the prosecution and the defense, and probably the trial will consume the remainder of the day.

The trial has attracted a large number of people, especially from the southeastern part of the county, and the court room is crowded to suffocation.

The county commissioners have retained Shaw & Hines to assist County Attorney Wilson in the prosecution.

FIRE DESTROYS HOME.

Several Hundred Dollars in Bed Tick Burned.

Under the above headlines the papers a few days ago carried the following story:

"The splendid home and all the household property of Jack Dilworth,
a Forsyth county farmer, were destroyed by fire last night, the owner
and his family having narrow escapes.
Mr. Dilworth also lost several hundred dollars in money, this being hid in a bed tick."

It is almost inconceivable that money should be hid in a bed tick (or any other place) when the country is so well supplied with savings banks. Money concealed about the home not only is liable to be burned
or stolen, but it pays no interest, thereby becoming dead capital.
Money deposited in an exclusive savings bank (like the Home Savings Bank of Greensboro,) is as safe as if it were invested in government bonds; and if it is deposited in the Home Savings Bank it is more profitable. The Home Savings Bank pays 4 per cent. interest, compounded quarterly, on every dollar on deposit.

The Home Savings Bank is an exclusive savings bank and does not attempt to carry on any other branch of the banking business, and that its method of doing business appeals to the public is shown by the rapid increase in its deposits.

The next time you are in Greensboro call at the Home Savings Bank (opposite the city hall) and have a chat with President Bray or Cashier Glenn, either of whom will take pleasure in giving you full information regarding the institution over which they preside.

Stupendous Sacrifice Sale of U. S.
Army Goods.

We are selling the $25 regulation
army rifles for $2.75; the $30 Beaumont army rifles (a 5-shot hammer-less rifle that shoots both ball and shot cartridges) for $3.95; the 13-shot Swiss army rifle for $4.69. This rifle cost the Swiss army $35 to manufacture.

These rifles are all in perfect condition and strictly guaranteed to be free from rust. They were formerly used as government goods and were compelled to be kept always in first class condition. We can supply you

Proximity Man Loses His Money.

One night last week while Mr.
Make Maness, of Proximity, was eating supper with his family, some one slipped in his front door and carried off his trunk, taking it across the railroad into a corn field. They either had a key to the trunk, or it happened to be unlocked. However that may be, they got the money out of it just the same. Mr. Maness had been saving his money for some time and had $83.45 in the trunk. The rogues failed to find but $70 of it, $13.45 being left in his clothing,
which remained intact, showing that the robbers knew where he kept his money and were after nothing else.

You may think you have money
in a secure place, and that no one knows where it is, but unless you have it in the savings bank, it is not absolutely safe. There is nothing safer than an exclusive savings bank, such as the Home Savings Bank, of Greensboro, N. C.

show in this city during the week beginning December 13. A number of people have signified their intention of making exhibits and the affair is expected to be quite a success.

Chester Riley, a young man from Haw River, died at St. Leo's hospital
Thursday afternoon, following a serious surgical operation that had been performed several days previously.
The body was carried to the young man's home in Haw River for interment Friday afternoon.

Mr. L. H. Silver and family, of Proximity, have gone to Black Mountain, a few miles this side of Asheville. They are making the trip through the mountain country on a "house on wheels," fitted up with the comforts of life. This mode of travel was adopted for the benefit of Mrs.
Silver's health.

Prof. J. Allen Holt, who spent two weeks in Greensboro under medical treatment, returned to his home at Oak Ridge last week, apparently restored to health. He is now at Lorton Valley, near Washington, visiting a brother, Mr. R. O. Holt. He expects to return home by Thanksgiving prepared to resume his school work.

Mr. E. E. Bain, who is serving his second term as a member of the board of aldermen from the third ward, tendered his resignation Friday afternoon, action on the matter being deferred until the next regular meeting of the board. Mr. Bain assigns as his reason for resigning the fact that his private business demands all his time and attention.

Ed. Mills, a young man from High Point, was tried in the municipal court last Thursday on the charge of overspeeding his automobile inside
the city limits of Greensboro. Judge Eure fined him $10 and costs. The offense was committed on West Lee street and the evidence showed that the machine came near running down
two citizens of that locality.

Mr. W. F. Gilmer, formerly one of the proprietors of the McAdoo hotel, was in the city the latter part of the past week on his return to his home in Ardmore, Okla., from a visit to relatives in Mt. Airy. Mr. Gilmer is a brother of Messrs. S. L. and B. G.
Gilmer, of this city. He is a member of the Oklahoma legislature and is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for state auditor.

Marriage in Sumner Township.

Mr. Harvey Dick, of this city, and Miss Grace Murrow, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Murrow, were married at the home of the bride's parents, near Center, Thursday at noon. The ceremony was performed by Rev. S. M. Rankin in the presence of a number of relatives and friends of the young couple. The attendants were Mr. John Rankin and Miss Satterfield. Following the ceremony and congratulations, a bountiful wedding dinner was served by the parents of the bride.

Mr. Dick and his bride are well known and popular young people and have the best wishes of a large number of friends for a long and happy married life.

It isn't so difficult to strengthen
a weak stomach if one gets at it correctly. And this is true of the Heart and Kidneys. The old fashioned way of dosing the stomach or stimulating the Heart or Kidneys is surely wrong! Dr. Shoop first pointed out this error. "Go to the weak or ailing nerves of these organs," said he. Each inside organ has its controlling or "inside nerve." When these nerves fail then those organs must surely falter. This vital truth is leading druggists everywhere to dispense and recommend Dr. Shoop's Restorative. A few days test will surely tell! Sold by Greensboro Drug

GUILFORD'S GOOD ROADS.

Inspected by Representatives of the United States Government.

Guilford's good roads were inspected last week by two experts sent out by the United States government—Messrs. Brown and Wilkins, of the good roads bureau of the agricultural department. They were given every facility for examining the ma-cadamized roads of the county and inspecting the system of road-building in use here, and expressed themselves as being highly pleased with what they learned during their stay in Guilford.

These gentlemen reached Greensboro Wednesday and stated that they were on a tour of inspection of Southern good road improvements and had been allotted an hour for Greensboro.
They said, in their itinerary, one day
had been allotted to roads around one hour to Greensboro and a day and a half to Charlotte. The gentlemen were at a loss to know why the national department of good roads
had not been made aware of the excellent macadam roads in this county,
for when they left for Charlotte Thursday evening they declared that they had seen nothing in all their travels comparable to the Guilford system.

When the gentlemen reached here
and announced their mission they were at once introduced to Mr. John L. King, chairman of the highway commission, with the result that, instead of spending one hour here, they spent all of Wednesday and a good portion of Thursday, leaving here over a day late. The agents did not hesitate for a moment to violate their assignment of "one hour" when they found what was doing in Guilford.
All of Wednesday was spent in traveling over the splendid macadam of the county, and that night the gentlemen were up until midnight examining the map of the good roads of the county and the special law creating the highway commission, under which so much has been done during the past four years towards road development.

Thursday morning they took another round of roads and before leaving they stated to Mr. King that they would return to this county to make a further examination of something new in road administration, so far as the national good roads department had knowledge.

SCHOOL BOND ISSUE.

Ordinance to be Presented at Next Meeting of Aldermen.

At the regular meeting of the board of aldermen Friday afternoon the draft of an ordinance calling an election on a proposed school bond issue
of $35,000 was presented and discussed at length. The matter was referred to a special committee of Aldermen Ellington, Bain and Glascock,
this committee to confer with the city board of education and report at the next meeting of the aldermen. Before passing the ordinance the aldermen desire to know how and where the money to be derived from the bond issue is to be spent, and the board of education is to be called on to give this information.

Mr. C. M. Vanstony, representing the board of education, submitted a report as to several buildings that can be secured for temporary use as school buildings, the matter being referred to a special committee composed of Aldermen Ellington, Bain and Glascock.

Dr. J. T. J. Battle and Dr. John Roy Williams appeared before the board and asked for an appropriation to assist in bringing the national tuberculosis exhibit to Greensboro. It was stated that it would cost $500
and that the county would be asked to share the expense. The matter was referred to the finance committee.

Mrs. Louie Hite, 428 Outlen, street,
Danville, Ill., writes, October 1st:
"Foley's Kidney Pills started me on the road to health. I was treated by four doctors and took other kidney remedies but grew worse, and was unable to do my housework, and the doctor told me I only could live two to six months. I am now so much better that I do all of my own work,
and I shall be very glad to tell any one afflicted with kidney or bladder trouble the good results I received from taking Foley's Kidney Pills." Commence today and be well. Do not risk having Bright's Disease or Diabetes. Howard Gardner.

PRETTY HOME WEDDING.

Miss Paisley Ellington the Bride of Mr. Max T. Payne.

The marriage of Mr. Max Tull
Payne and Miss Paisley Ellington was solemnized Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Capt. and Mrs. Nell Elling-ton, on West Market street. The ceremony was performed by Rev.
Melton Clark, of the First Presbyterian church, in the presence of only relatives and a few close personal friends. Miss Claire Claxton, of Knoxville, Tenn., was the maid of honor and Dr. Bruce R. Payne, of the University of Virginia, a brother of the groom, was the best man. The ceremony was followed by a wedding reception, after which Mr. and Mrs.
Payne left for a visit to Northern cities.

Mr. Payne is a native of Morganton, coming to Greensboro soon after his school days and rapidly establishing himself in the social and business life of the city. He is one of the best known young druggists in the state and is at the head of the Greensboro Drug Company. There is no more enterprising or popular young business man in the city.

Mrs. Payne is the only daughter of Captain and Mrs. Ellington, being descended from a long line of honored ancestry. She is a beautiful, gifted and talented young woman and is one of the most prominent members of Greensboro's younger social set.

APPEAL FOR THE ORPHANS.

Should be Remembered by the Generous People of North Carolina.

The following appeal has been sent to the newspapers of the state
with a request for publication:

The orphanages of North Carolina
are performing a valuable service.
They deserve our interest and support. Many of our people generously contribute to the maintenance and extension of the work of institutions
so worthy.

Thanksgiving day is special "orphans' day" in our state.

At this season a people greatly blessed and grateful to God for His mercies express their thanks in a fitting, practical way by offerings to aid the work for needy, homeless little ones, a work for the kingdom of God.

The Giver of All Good is surely pleased with a spirit of gratitude in the hearts of men. And does not this method of expressing thanks meet with the approval of the wise and loving Father of the fatherless?

It is our sacred duty to help care for these children and, more than that, it is our blessed privilege.

At the Thanksgiving season, which is approaching, may even a larger number of our people unite to do greater things for this cause than ever before.

The demands upon our orphanages have increased. The cost of living has advanced. These institutions are endeavoring constantly to do a more efficient work. Their needs are greater. Our people will, we trust, join together most heartily and liberally to assist in meeting these increased needs.

SHENWELL CASE AFFIRMED.

County School Fund in Fair Way to Receive $4,000.

The Supreme court a few days ago rendered an opinion affirming the judgment of the Superior court of Guilford county in the state case against Baxter Shenwell, who was tried at the February criminal term for carrying concealed weapons and assault with a deadly weapon. Judge Long sentenced him to five months in jail and required him to give bond for his appearance at the next January term of court to show that he had not been guilty again of carrying concealed weapons.

The indictments against Shenwell grew out of trouble he had with Capt. Bowles, a Southern Railway conductor on southbound passenger train No. 17. Shenwell, it will be remembered, forced the conductor at the point of a pistol to stop the train for him at Lexington, that station not being a regular stopping place for the train.

Shenwell formerly resided in Lexington and was a man of considerable means. Since his acquittal of the charge of the murder of Dr. Payne, about 15 years ago, he has spent the greater part of the time out of the state. No one here has the remotest idea that he will return to serve the sentence imposed upon him by Guilford Superior court. Should he fail to appear by the next criminal term of court, it is presumed that his bonds will be declared forfeited, and that event the county school fund will be enriched by $4,000.

Mr. Bowles Handsomely Remembered.

In the eve of his departure for the Western North Carolina Conference, which meets in Hickory today, Rev. J. A. Bowles, who has just completed his fourth year's work on the West Greensboro circuit, was presented with a handsome suit of clothes, a hat and a fine pair of shoes. The gift came from a number of Mr. Bowles' friends and admirers on the circuit and that it was appreciated by the popular preacher goes without saying. It is a matter of general regret among the members of the circuit that he has served so acceptably for the past four years that, under the law of the Southern Methodist church, Mr. Bowles will be assigned to a new work next year.

They get up in the morning feeling blue. Worry others and worry you; Bowles is a secret between you and me, better take Rocky Mountain Tea. Howard Gardner.

RAPID GROWTH OF GUILFORD.

County's Taxable Valuation Increased $2,000,000 During Past Year—Over 50 Per Cent. Increase Since 1905.

Nothing is a surer indication of a community's prosperity than a substantial increase in taxable value, and by this token Guilford county is going forward by leaps and bounds.

The official tax abstract, which has just been completed by Mr. J. Leslie Abbott, the county auditor, shows a total valuation for the county of $22,421,555, this being an increase of $2,000,000 over 1908. The showing of real and personal property listed in the various townships this year is as follows:

Washington $ 167,870
Rock Creek 518,173
Greene 267,755
Madison 156,537
Jefferson 277,233
Clay 285,224
Monroe 186,351
Centress 254,406
Center Grove 202,053
Sumner 206,968
Bruce 190,130
Friendship 342,480
Jamestown 413,819
Oak Ridge 245,926
Deep River 211,448
Gilmer 6,701,879
Morehead 5,153,265
High Point 3,632,982

Total Real and Personal $19,414,467
Railroads, Telegraph and Telephones 3,007,088

Grand Total $22,421,555

All the townships show a healthy gain of from $1,700 to $400,000, with the exception of Jamestown and Friendship, which show a small loss.

The greater part of the increase of $2,000,000 is in Greensboro and High Point. The total valuation of Gilmer, Morehead and High Point, the three townships in which these cities are situated, together with the valuation of railroad, telegraph and telephone companies, is $18,495,214. The total valuation of real and personal property in the other 15 townships is $3,926,341.

In speaking with a Patriot reporter of the substantial increase in taxable values in Guilford, County Auditor Abbott, who has compiled the tax lists for the past four years, exhibited the abstract for 1905, showing a total of $14,785,504. Thus there has been an increase during the four intervening years of $7,636,051, or more than 50 per cent. It is pretty certain that no other county in the state has made such a showing. There was a gain of 1,844 in the number of polls listed for taxation during the past four years.

Since the $300,000 bond issue for good roads, six years ago, the value of taxable property in the country townships has been increased by assessment less than 5 per cent., while the market value has increased immeasurably, this increase being due largely to improved roads and better schools.

It is of interest to note that the abstract for this year shows a low valuation of goods, wares and merchandise, the total for the county being only $875,110. Had this class of property been returned for anything like its real value, the county's total would have been increased by several million dollars.

METHODISTS IN CONFERENCE.

Annual Meeting in Hickory—Work of the Greensboro District.

The Methodist preachers and a number of laymen of Greensboro and vicinity have gone to Hickory to attend the annual meeting of the Western North Carolina Conference of the M. E. Church, South, which convenes today and will remain in session through Sunday. The conference is composed of something over 250 members, representing 85,000 Southern Methodists in the western portion of North Carolina.

The Greensboro district, of which Rev. W. R. Ware is presiding elder, will make a good showing in all departments of church work. This is one of the largest and most important district in the bounds of the conference, embracing 22 pastoral charges and a membership of nearly 10,000. During the past year the churches of the district contributed a little over $42,000 to all purposes, an average of more than $4 per member.

Many Sudden Deaths From Poisonous Rheumatism.

Rheumatism has for years been regarded as an exceedingly painful disease but it has only been discovered within the last few years that it is this terrible trouble that is either directly or indirectly causing thousands of deaths yearly throughout our country. Rheumatism of the Heart, Neuralgia of the Heart, Paralysis, Uric Acid Poisoning are among the most dangerous forms of the disease. If Uric Acid is allowed to stay in the system sudden death can scarcely be averted, but if any sufferer will go at once to Helm's Drug Store and get a bottle of "Bloodline" the guaranteed remedy for Rheumatism, they will positively be cured. Bloodline in large bottles cost 50 cents. In old chronic cases where there is acute pains, "Bloodline Rheumatic Liniment" should be used with "Bloodline."

MERCHANTS TO MEET SOON.

Every Business Man in City Invited—For Better Lights.

At a well attended meeting Friday night the Retail Merchants' Association decided to hold a meeting on the night of December 3 to which every merchant in the city, whether a member of the association or not, will be cordially invited.

The merchants also discussed a lighting system and a committee was appointed to go before the board of aldermen and ask that steps be taken to provide better lights.

Mr. R. C. Hood stated that the North Carolina Public Service Company had made the water and light commission a proposition to take over the lighting plant now owned by the city at an appraised value and to supply the lamps, fixtures and current at $60 per lamp per year, provided 185 lamps were used. The city now uses only 135 lamps and pays $65 per lamp per year. The committee appointed to go before the aldermen consists of Messrs. J. M. Hendrix, Howard Gardner, W. H. Stone, Jr., and R. C. Hood.

Mr. R. C. Hood made a report for the committee that visited the Durham schools and the merchants all expressed hearty approval of the proposed $35,000 bond issue for schools.

Forced Into Exile.

Wm. Upchurch, of Glen Oak, Okla., was an exile from home. Mountain air, he thought, would cure a frightful lung-racking cough that had defied all remedies for two years. After six months he returned, death dogging his steps. "Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery," he writes, "and after taking six boxes I am as well as ever." It saves thousands yearly from desperate lung diseases. Infallible for Coughs and Colds, it dispels Hoarseness and Sore Throat. Cures Grip, Bronchitis, Hemorrhages, Asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough. 50c and $1, trial bottle free, guaranteed by all druggists.

A BIG DIVORCE MILL.

The United States Leads All Other Christian Countries.

The average annual number of divorces in the United States is nearly twice as great as the average annual number of any of the countries from which statistics are obtainable, except Japan and Algeria, and it is more than twice as great as all other Christian countries combined from which the census bureau has been able to get reports. These are some of the conclusions gathered by Walter F. Wilcox, professor of statistics and sociology at Cornell University, consulting statistician for the department of health, and for years connected with the statistical division of the government census bureau. Prof. Wilcox gathered some statistics for the International Statistics Institute, which met in Paris recently, and has made them public in his report in this country.

"There is probably no country," the professor writes, "to which the problem of divorce and separation is of greater importance than the United States. For that reason more attention has been given to divorce by the government of the United States than by that of any other country."

An international table accompanying the report shows that Japan heads the list of divorces, with 215 per 10,000 population. If Algeria is to be counted her records even exceed Japan's, being 288, on the same ratio. Next to these two is the United States, with a ratio of divorces to population of one-fourth that of Algeria, one-third that of Japan and more than twice that of Switzerland or Saxony.

France has 23, and at the other extreme, Mr. Wilcox's figures show, is Ireland, with an annual average of about one divorce to the 100,000 population.

In another table Prof. Wilcox compares the divorces and separations to the number of marriages, per thousand, as follows: Algeria, 318; Japan, 25; United States, 82; France, 31, with Paris itself, 59; Switzerland, 42; Austria, 8, but its capital, Vienna, 40; German Empire, 20; England and Wales, 2.

In determining the probability of marriages ending in divorce in the United States, Prof. Wilcox says: "It seems fair to conclude that between 65 and 80 out of every 1,000 marriages celebrated have ended in a divorce and as the divorce rate is rapidly increasing, probably at least eight out of every hundred marriages contracted will end in divorce." The professor also finds that the marriage rate in this country is increasing, but also the divorce rate is more than keeping pace with it.

The average number of persons married each year to the 10,000 population is 186; a rate exceeded only by Western Australia among the thirty-nine regions from which figures were obtained. The average annual number of marriages to 10,000 marriageable population for the last seven five-year period was 714, a rate exceeded only by Hungary, among the twenty-three regions from which figures were obtained.

The marriage rate in this country is lowest in the Northern states and highest in the Southern states, the rates being twice as high in the states where negroes live as in the North.

The figures show, Mr. Wilcox points out, that the early marriages are much more common among negroes and Indians than whites, but they also show that among the white population of both sexes early marriages are much more common in the Southern states than in the Northern. He also says that in the United States married life begins in the country districts at an earlier age than it does in the cities, that it probably lasts longer and that if the union is broken it is more likely to be succeeded by a second marriage.

Mr. Wilcox adds significantly: "It demonstrates that the influence of city life in the United States is to delay and thus in some measure to prevent marriage; that this influence among men is somewhat counteracted by the excess of women in the cities, and upon women by the same influence."

The western division of the United States has had the highest divorce rate in the last forty years. The increase of divorce in the Southern states has been far more rapid than in the northern. The average divorce rate in the country has increased threefold in forty years.

ABANDONS SOUTH POLE.

Commander Peary Asserts He Will Not Make Dash There.

Washington, Nov. 12.—Commander Robert E. Peary, who has taken up his residence here, has no intention of making a dash to the south pole, although he is willing to give the benefit of his advice to any one who may engage in such an undertaking.

This is the substance of a statement made yesterday by Commander Peary, apropos of reports that within the next five years he would head an antarctic expedition with a view to reaching the south pole.

Commander Peary thinks it would be improper at this time for any American to organize an antarctic expedition, inasmuch as Capt. Scott, of the British army, has completed arrangements for such a trip. He is of the opinion that if Capt. Scott fails, the task should then be undertaken by Americans.

YOUNG BANDITS ROB BANK.

Desperate Act of Two Boys in a Kansas Town.

Eudora, Kan., Nov. 12.—Earl Bullock, a boy bandit of Lawrence, Kan., accompanied by William McKay, 15 years old, of Jacksonville, Fla., today in an attempt to repeat his exploit of a month ago, robbed the Eudora state bank of $800 after shooting Fred Starr, a banker, and later probably mortally wounding him self when closely pressed by armed citizens.

In his first hold-up of the Eudora state bank, Bullock, who is 17 years old, shot and killed a policeman. Officers had about decided that Bullock had left the state with the loot of the previous hold-up. He and McKay entered the state bank about closing time.

Fred Starr, cashier of the Kaw Valley state bank of Eudora, who was in the state bank with his day's clearings, stood by as the outlaws held up the state bank's cashier, Henry Wilson. Although Starr offered no resistance to the hold-up, Bullock shot him through the jaw. Snatching more than $800, Bullock and McKay fled. Each youth had two revolvers.

Wilson spread the alarm and citizens with shotguns, rifles and revolvers pursued the bandits across the fields. In attempting to swim the Kaw river the boys lost ground and a few minutes later the pursuers were at their heels.

McKay spread the alarm and citizens with shotguns, rifles and revolvers pursued the bandits across the fields. In attempting to swim the Kaw river the boys lost ground and a few minutes later the pursuers were at their heels.

McKay surrendered, but Bullock, wrenching the revolvers from his faltering partner's hands, sped on into the woods.

John Miller, a farmer, who knew nothing about the pursuit, stepped into Bullock's path and the boy, thinking him a pursuer, fired several shots that barely missed Miller. Seeing that the youth was ready to shoot at any one, the pursuers fired a score of shots at Bullock, who returned the fire.

Thus the chase continued for some time, none of the shots exchanged between the citizens and their quarry taking effect. The hunted robber gradually losing ground, he stopped and shouted:

"I have only one bullet left, but I'll beat you yet." Then he fired his remaining bullet through his own head.

FOUR HUNDRED MINERS DEAD.

Small Fire Causes Great Disaster in Illinois Coal Mine.

Four hundred men lost their lives in an explosion following a fire in the St. Paul coal mine, near Cherry, Ill., Saturday. Six of these were heroes not employed in the mine, who gave their lives in a futile effort to save the imprisoned workers.

The fire causing the explosion which may prove one of the greatest tragedies in the list of mine horrors, had an origin almost trivial. A pile of hay allowed to smoulder too long finally ignited the numbers of the mine and before the workers realized their danger the mine was filled with smoke, gases and flames and all exit was impossible.

Heroism such as is rarely exhibited was shown by officials of the mine and residents of the town of Cherry. These men, who were outside the mine when the fire originated, contributed five to the list of twelve known dead.

About twenty men escaped by a hair's breadth, but when they reached the surface they were frightened and worn to a state of collapse. They are being closely guarded and kept to themselves in order that they may at least be saved. But their homes are being besieged by the families of men who are in the mine—there forever—to tell them that which they moan and shriek and literally scream to know. But all to no purpose. They saw a flash. They heard a deafening roar. They felt a cloud of dust approaching. Then they ran. Some men they saw perish in the red death from which they so miraculously escaped themselves, but the question of identity is impossible.

Soon to be Dead by Law.

York, Pa., Nov. 12.—Unless he appears within a year to claim $2,500 in gold dust awaiting him in Seattle, Wash., John Malaun, formerly of York, will be declared legally dead and lose the money, even if he is not actually dead. The other heir is a brother, Benjamin Malaun, living here.

A sister of Malaun married a Klondike miner about 1908, and dying some time later, willed her wealth in gold dust to the two brothers, supposed to be living in York. Benjamin was easily located, but John in the meantime had lost his mind, and had been committed to an asylum. From there he escaped about six years ago, and from that moment joined the host of lost persons.

Since the plans were made for his legal demise friends have renewed their search for the man, but without success.

Mississippi's Monument to Confederates.

The reunion of the Mississippi division, Confederate veterans, came to a close Friday with the dedication of Mississippi's magnificent new $50,000 state memorial and twenty-three regimental and battery monuments in the Vicksburg national military park.

Governor Noel delivered the address presenting the monuments to the government, and Blewett Lee received them in behalf of Secretary of War Dickinson, who was unable to attend.

The memorial is a 76-foot shaft of Mount Airy, N. C., granite, mounted on a massive base of the same material, and will be finished with two bronze statues, one of Jeff Davis and another representing "history."

MILD WINTER EXPECTED.

Fall Weather the Best Ever Known in This Section.

Within the memory of the oldest inhabitants the mildness and beauty and autumnal splendor of this fall stand out as an unparalleled season, and the prophets and their numerous sons are coming forth now with the prediction that the winter now fast approaching will be characterized by unusual mildness, says the Charlotte Observer. Not only has there been no cold weather in this section so far, but there has been a minimum amount of rain and a display of other disagreeable features of the elements.

The sunshine has been practically continuous for weeks and beautiful days have succeeded one another with uncommon rapidity. Only about twice has there been a frost and in many fields the foliage of growing crops stands out unharmed by what frost that has fallen. Slight skimmings of ice have been seen on a couple of mornings, but aside from this there has been no interruption of the purest of autumnal weather. If the omens pointed one day to a season of foulness, one found on the morrow that the clouds had rifted away and the sunshine was again over the earth in its accustomed warmth and splendor. The like of it has never been known.

The prognosticators who venture predictions of seasons are not backward this fall in the matter of proclaiming the character of the winter. After a consultation with the usual oracles, they come forth with marked boldness and the declaration that the winter will be the most mild in years, with only one slight drift of snow. There will be nothing of the usual severity about it and the warm sunshine will predominate through the unfolding of the months when the icy king has been accustomed to hold sway over this sphere.

Whatever of aerial or meteoric phenomena that is witnessed in these days, the approach of Halley's comet to the earth is blamed for it and this spectacle being scheduled for these parts in the spring, the weather prophets, perhaps, are believing that the first influences of the warmth of that blaze are now being felt and will continue to be felt through the winter.

Virginia Methodists Urge Prohibition.

Newport News, Va., Nov. 12.—That the Methodist Conference of Virginia, representing 100,000 of that faith, will urge state-wide prohibition in this state was clearly indicated today when the report of the committee on temperance, of which Rev. Dr. James Cannon, Jr., superintendent of the Virginia Anti-Saloon League, is chairman, was read to the conference.

This report urges the next convention of the Virginia Anti-Saloon League, which meets in Richmond during January, to call upon the general assembly of Virginia to pass a state-wide prohibition referendum bill, so that the voters of Virginia can decide for themselves whether or not they want prohibition in Virginia.

That the report of the committee will be adopted by the conference without change goes without saying. It was drafted by Dr. Cannon, the anti-saloon leader of Virginia, and has the support of every leader in the conference. It is equally certain that the Anti-Saloon League will accept the report, as the leaders of this conference are the real leaders of the league.

Bryan a Candidate for the U. S. Senate.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 11.—William J. Bryan will be a candidate for the United States senate from his home state in the campaign of 1910. The Bryan candidacy was to be the principal theme for decision at a conference of party leaders today in Lincoln.

At the conclusion of the conference, Mayor Dahlgren, of Omaha, and Edward Howard, editor of the Columbus Telegram, acting as spokesman for the conferees, declared that the exigencies of the senatorial situation in Nebraska demanded that Mr. Bryan should run.

Mr. Bryan, they said, had expressed a preference that some one else should stand for the senatorship, but the conferees had been insistent and Bryan, while giving no absolute response, had left the matter entirely in the hands of the party.

Army's New Telescope.

After years of patient experimenting Dana Dudley, of Wakefield, Mass., has just had the satisfaction of having his "pan angle" telescope adopted by the War department of the United States. The invention is simple in its construction, yet, it is said, may revolutionize modern warfare.

It consists of reflecting lenses so arranged at angles in a tube that persons or objects above or below and on all sides may be viewed from a place of concealment.

The device as constructed for use in warfare is arranged so that even on disappearing guns or guns used in trenches and fired from any point invisible from the exterior the operator may ascertain the location of the enemy, target, or other objective point without exposing himself.

Youth's Vision Like Cat's.

Medical experts are interested in the case of nineteen-year-old Audrey Wilson, of Nottoway county, Va., who is totally blind in the day, but can see like a cat in the dark. The young man can speed a bicycle when the night is so dark that ordinary people have to walk with caution, but in the day he gropes about able only vaguely to distinguish any object, and with no discrimination as to colors.

Because of his peculiar infirmity the young man is noted as a "possum hunter." He can distinguish the animals in the trees in the dark as readily as a dog can follow the scent. All his life Wilson has suffered from this defect. He says it grows out of too much light entering the eye, and that it is called the "albino eye."

BANK OFFICERS KILLED.

Youthful Desperado Gets In His Work in Indiana Town.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 11.—In an attempt at bank robbery, a young man, who has been identified as Thomas Jefferson Hall, entered the Merchants National Bank at New Albany, Ind., shortly before noon today and killed J. Hangary Fawcett, cashier of the bank; seriously wounded John K. Woodward, president of the bank, and wounded James R. Tucker, a negro chauffeur, probably fatally.

When Hall entered the bank he carried a pistol in each hand. After commanding everyone to throw up his hands and "get into the vault," Hall began shooting.

Cashier Fawcett was shot through the chest and neck and died almost instantly. President Woodward was shot through the liver and his intestines were perforated. Tucker, the chauffeur, was shot through the body.

Following the shooting, the murderer rushed from the bank and tried to escape in an automobile which he had taken from the curb in front of the residence of its owner, Mrs. Walter Escott, in Louisville. He had forced the negro chauffeur at the point of a pistol to drive him to New Albany.

After the shooting at the bank, the chauffeur was paralyzed with terror and apparently incapable of action, sat still when the robber jumped into the car and ordered him to speed up the machine. The robber then jumped out of the automobile, shot the negro in the back, and ran two blocks to the Ohio river. He seized a skiff and was on his way to the Louisville side of the river before the frightened citizens of New Albany knew what had transpired. An alarm was given through a megaphone on a dredge boat and in a short time several policemen had started in pursuit in a fast motor boat.

Capturing their man, they brought him to shore, where by a ruse Police Captain Adams kept back the crowd of 200 persons which crowded around the dock as the police boat landed. Commanding the prisoner to lie down, Captain Adams announced to the crowd that the man had taken poison and was dead, meanwhile carrying him to the patrol wagon and giving the word to drive ahead. The bandit was taken to the New Albany jail. A few moments later he was removed to the Southern Indiana Reformatory at Jeffersonville to escape the mob which, realizing that it had been tricked, had assembled around the jail.

In his cell at the reformatory the prisoner refused to give his name and talked only when hard pressed by questions.

He said that he had been around Louisville for several days. He did not know Tucker, the chauffeur, and declared Tucker was not implicated in the attempt on the bank.

"I won't tell my name. I have seven brothers and sisters. My father don't live with my mother, and all of them are not within six hundred miles of this place. I never was in trouble but once. That was at Lexington, Ky., on Halloween a long time ago."

He seemed to be confused but is apparently not insane. He confessed that he planned the robbery of the bank and says he had no assistance.

The bandit is "goo" looking, in a boyish, somewhat effeminate way. His red hair had been recently cut. He is not over twenty years old and is five feet six inches tall.

According to William J. Hall, his father, the desperado is but 17 years old. The elder Hall, who has a furniture store at 802 South Preston street, in this city, said that young Hall was a household tyrant and not insane at all.

"He is simply mean," said the father. The family is formerly of Knoxville, Tenn.

HOLDS HYPNOTIST FOR DEATH.

Says He's Not Responsible and Will Clear Himself.

Somersville, N. J., Nov. 12.—The most composed person in the county jail today was Arthur Everton, the hypnotist, whose subject, Robert Simpson, of Newark, died so unexpectedly Monday night after Everton had hypnotized him on the stage of the Somersville theater. Everton today gave the first interview he had given since his arrest. He said he had studied hypnotism in the Rochester School of Science and had hypnotized thousands of subjects, even his own four-and-a-half-year-old boy.

"I have practiced hypnotism for 12 years," said the prisoner, "and this is the first accident I have ever had. It was unavoidable. Simpson was not in a cataleptic state when he died. I am thoroughly convinced that he would have died in a short time, whether he had been hypnotized or not, as he had been drinking hard; but I did not know this when I placed him in a cataleptic state."

Everton smoked a cigar, with every outward show of unconcern as he denied reports that he had paced up and down in his cell and had lost his nerve. "I haven't the least doubt that I shall get out of this. I am not to blame in any way whatever."

County Prosecutor Rogre says the case will probably be submitted to the grand jury, which meets on the second Tuesday in December. The charge is manslaughter. Should the grand jury find an indictment the trial will be held in January or February. Everton has been held without bail.

NOTE OF WARNING.

Creameries Cannot be Operated Successfully in North Carolina.

J. A. Conover, dairyman of the North Carolina agricultural department, has issued the following circular letter warning the public against creamery promoters who have recently appeared in the state:

"There has lately appeared in this state a firm of creamery promoters who are trying to secure stock for co-operative creameries, the plan being to get 50 or 60 men to subscribe $100 each for the purpose of building and equipping a creamery. The writer's experience teaches that there is no place in the state where it is safe to put two or three thousand dollars into such a plant, much less five or six thousand. The cows must come before the creamery, not the creamery before the cows. It is not safe to establish a creamery unless there is the promise of the products from at least 400 cows and these cows must be close enough to the creamery, from two to six miles, so that the expense of getting the cream or milk to the plant is not too great.

"At no place in the state is there a sufficient number of cows to warrant the building of a five or six thousand dollar creamery. A number of such creameries were built in Georgia last year, none of which could be called a success, and most have been failures; some today are not even running.

"The writer is anxious to see creameries established in North Carolina and is doing all he can to advance the dairy industry, but an unsuccessful creamery would kill every spark of dairy interest in the community of which it was a part.

"Remember that the United States and the State Department of Agriculture stand ready to give assistance and advice along all dairy lines, creameries included. The United States Department of Agriculture is prepared to furnish creamery plans and estimates of building. A creamery for handling hand separator cream, without an ice plant, will cost about $3,000; with ice plant, about $4,000. The writer will be glad to assist any community in organizing a creamery, provided there is a sufficient number of cows to warrant the undertaking. Remember that all plans, advices, and personal assistance are absolutely free, coming through your state and national departments of agriculture."

POSTAL GAIN BUT SLIGHT.

As Index of Prosperity's Return Figures Are Disquieting.

Washington, Nov. 12.—Taking the postoffice receipts as a measure, the return of prosperity was rather spotty during October. The percentage of increase in these receipts during the month in the 50 leading postoffices of the country over the receipts for October, 1908, was only 4.44.

The total receipts for Philadelphia last month were $564,548.99; for the previous October, $528,992, an increase this year over last of $35,556.99, or 6.72 per cent. The total receipts in Pittsburgh last month were $203,039.38 for October, 1908, $185,194.64, a percentage of increase this year of 9.63. New York made a little better showing than Philadelphia, having a percentage of increase this year over last of 9.12.

But Chicago shows an actual decrease this year as compared with last of 4.04 per cent.; Columbia and Toledo, O.; Memphis, Nashville and Chattanooga, Tenn.; Albany, N. Y., and New Haven Conn., also show a falling off in their receipts. In the Tennessee cities the falling off is attributed by the department authorities to the enforcement of the prohibition laws.

Big Railroad Man Says Politics is Curse of the South.

Washington Correspondence Charlotte Observer.

Expressing the belief that politics and politicians have retarded progress and development in the South and Southwest, B. F. Yoakum, chairman of the executive committee of the Rock Island and Frisco lines, who has just returned from a trip to that section, is of the opinion that there will be less toleration there in the future of selfish political interests. Mr. Yoakum exchanged views with leading merchants, farmers and manufacturers during his trip, and from them he gained the impression that representative people of the South are tired of elevating to public life men who devote their time exclusively to politics, and that they are very much in the mood now of sending to Congress and placing in other positions of trust public men whose interests are more centered in the development, advancement and improvement of the South.

Mr. Yoakum has great faith in the South and his advice is that the people of that section should profit from the example of the people of the Northwest in the development of their section. More business and less politics is the slogan advanced by Mr. Yoakum for the South and Southwest.

Wants Relief From Sectarianism.

Montgomery, Ala., Nov. 11.—In an address before the missionary council of the Fourth Episcopal department here today, Bishop Thomas F. Gallor, of Memphis, called the religion of ex-President Eliot, of Harvard, "nothing more than the Unitarianism of another day, now practically worn out and extinct." "What is needed," he said, "is a broad spirit of education and relief from sectarianism, now the bitterest and most grotesque since the war."

Was the House for Sale?

Every house finds quick sale when painted with the L. & M. Paint. A coat adds value as well as appearance. It also increases its saleable chances. The L. & M. colors are bright and lasting. L. & M. is used in painting by everybody. One reason cost is only $1.20 per gallon when made ready for use. It's Metal Zinc Oxide and Lead combined. It weathers and covers like gold. Sold by Gibsonville Store Co., Gibsonville.

CUTTING DOWN EXPENSES.

Reports from Washington say the members of President Taft's cabinet are busy in the preparation of their several reports to Congress, and it has been emphasized that an endeavor will be made to cut down expenses. The postmaster general has said that he intends to make his department self-sustaining. There is every reason why it ought to and might be self-sustaining. The Postoffice department is the greatest public carrier in the world. It is presumably a monopoly, but the express companies rob it of the cream of the carrying profit and they are the chief opposers of the parcels post system—a system long established in other civilized and even in some semi-civilized countries. Since Senator Root now holds the place in the senate long occupied by Senator Platt, the president and attorney for the express companies, it is to be hoped that something may be done for all the people of the United States, in spite of the entrenchments of these outrageous trusts.

The Postoffice department employs tens of thousands of common carriers in city and rural delivery, and these public carriers, without a dollar of increase in public expense, should bring to hundreds of thousands of homes packages that are now delivered by the express companies, or in many cases not delivered at all because they cannot be reached by the express companies.

The secretary of the navy has also visions of an economical program and proposes to urge the disestablishment of a number of useless navy yards in New Hampshire and Maine, at Charleston and on the Gulf coast. He will be opposed chiefly by Senators Hale, McHenry, Flint and perhaps Tillman. The navy yards in their states are worse than useless. They are a source of great expense to the government. The battleships of the United States navy cannot enter them; they have depth only for the admission of the obsolete wooden war craft, but they are useful to certain senators and members of Congress inasmuch as they afford places and salaries for their political henchmen. How can these senators and congressmen whose political existence depends upon them be persuaded to give them up? That is the question.

All good citizens will join in the hope that the person or persons responsible for the brutal murder in Greene township last week may not go unwhipped of justice. It was one of the most deplorable tragedies in the history of Guilford county, and the circumstances so far brought to light seem to indicate anything but a satisfactory condition of affairs in the community of the atrocious crime. The time has come to put a stop to such debauchery and crime in Guilford. This county has too much at stake to permit a few ruffians to drag its good name into the mire. The splendid citizenship of Greene (and that township has a citizenship second to none) has been aroused by this outrage on law and order and will exert every effort to bring the guilty to justice.

We are unable to say whether it is from a lack of indifference or other causes, but it is a matter of fact that the people of Guilford appear to take but slight interest in the proposition looking to the removal of the county court house and jail to a new site. The proposition is scheduled to come up at the December meeting of the board of commissioners, and while it is one of the most important matters that has confronted the people of the county in a long while, there has been little or no serious discussion of the question. It is all right to trust the wisdom and judgment of our public servants, but in a matter of this kind we take it that the servants would not be averse to learning the wishes of their masters.

A hungry public receives with joy the glad tidings that Fairbrother's Everything, after a year's rest, will make its appearance January 1, 1910. About a year ago the inimitable Col. Al Fairbrother became weary in the flesh and deliberately stangled his publication in order that he might take what he considered a well-earned rest. After disporting himself up and down the Pacific coast for eight or nine months, he returned to Greensboro to "rest up" for a period before getting into the game again. The Patriot welcomed him back and knows that an appreciative public will thrice welcome the rejuvenated Everything, which will appear regularly once a month for the price of a dollar a year.

The state owes a debt of gratitude to the Stone and Barringer Company, of Charlotte, for giving to the world "In Love's Domain," an exquisite little book of verse by Henry E. Harmon, and a second edition of "Lyrics From Cotton Land," embracing much of the best work of the lamented John Charles McNeil. No North Carolinian's library is complete without these two works. They may be had of the publishers or the book store trade in general.

Officials of the western railroads and committees of their employees will meet in a series of conferences beginning the first week in December in the effort to adjust demands made by the men for a change in working conditions and an increase in wages. Both railroad heads and labor leaders express the opinion that differences will be settled without trouble.

The Mexican government has just closed a contract with the Armour Grain Company, of Chicago, for the purchase and immediate delivery of 100,000 bushels of corn at $1.56, Mexican currency, per bushel. The corn will be sent to the districts of Mexico where there is a shortage of that grain and the poor people are unable to obtain a supply for their needs.

Don't miss the article on the third page of this issue of the Patriot telling of Guilford's increase in taxable valuation. It is a story that spells progress and prosperity.

So far this season eight lives have been sacrificed on the altar of football. It would seem that football needs reforming—or elimination.

How He Got Rich.

Cleveland Leader.

He tiptoed into our office and made several mysterious signs before we were aware of his presence.

"Sir," he said, when he was sure nobody else was listening, "Sir, I wish to give you the opportunity of interviewing the wizard of the age."

We replied with some feeble witticism to the effect that had he brought it wiz him, but he continued:

"Ten years ago, a temperance lecturer assured me that if I would save the price of my daily drinks, I would soon be able to own that brick block across the street. He also said that if every day I should deposit my cigar money, in ten years I should have saved enough to buy the department store at the other end of the block."

"Yes," we interrupted wearily. "We've heard it before. You followed his advice and today you'd like to borrow—"

"To borrow nothing," cried the stranger. "Today I own those two buildings and the whole block in between them. And I'm sole local agent for Killumscon whisky. Can I sell you a case, cheap?"

A Button and a Name.

The "Lone Star" name of Texas has an interesting origin. A half century ago men's overcoats were ornamented with large brass buttons. It happened that the buttons on the overcoat of Governor Smith, of Texas, had the impress of a five-pointed star. For want of a seal one of these buttons was cut off and used. The owner of this overcoat and of the button, Henry Smith, was chief executive of the provisional government of Texas, which, in 1835, preceded the declaration of independence by Texas against Mexico and the winning of that independence in the battle of San Jacinto on April 21, 1846.

How Men Get There.

"Mamma," said little Elsie, "do men ever get to heaven?" "Why, of course, my dear. What makes you ask?" "Because I never see any pictures of angels with whiskers." "Well," said the mother, thoughtfully, "some men do go to heaven, but they get there by a close shave."

THE EDITOR'S MISTAKE.

Generally Deemed an Inexcusable Outrage for Newspaper to Err.

New Orleans, Picayune.

It is held to be an inexcusable outrage for a newspaper editor to make the slightest mistake in a statement of any sort, while professional persons, upon whose certainty of knowledge and on whose statement in regard thereto, life and death or the most important interests depend, make the most serious errors without incurring the slightest criticism, much less blame.

Take the judge on the bench, whose decisions are set aside and annulled by higher courts almost every day, and the judge whose judgment is so reversed does not suffer in the least in public and professional estimation.

In the same way, the physician who makes a wrong diagnosis of his patient's disease, administers treatment that results in death instead of a cure, loses none of the confidence of his patrons in his skill, and he may kill any number of persons secundum artem without incurring the slightest responsibility.

These are curious facts, but they are facts, and they are mentioned, not by way of excusing editorial mistakes, for there is no excuse for them. It is because every individual firmly believes that he could conduct newspapers better than those who are charged with the work, while no unprofessional person would undertake to usurp functions of the judge or the physician.

A clergyman writes: "Preventics, those little Candy Cold Cure Tablets are working wonders in my parish." Preventics surely will check a cold, or the Grippe, in a very few hours. And Preventics are so safe and harmless. No quinine, nothing harsh nor sickening. Fine for feverish restless children. Box of 48 at 25c. Sold by Greensboro Drug Co.

YOUNG MEN, LEARN TELEGRAPHY!

Telegraph Operators are in Great Demand!

Boys, this is your opportunity to learn a first-class trade that pays a good salary every month in the year. There will be a greater demand for Telegraph Operators this fall and winter than there has been for many years past. The prominent railroads of the South and other parts of the United States are writing us to qualify as many young men of good character for their service as we possibly can. We trust that the reliable, ambitious boys of the South will rally to this golden opportunity.

Our students qualify for service in only four to six months. We guarantee positions. Graduates begin on $45 to $65 per month; easy and pleasant work; permanent employment; rapid promotion.

Our tuition is reasonable; board at low rates; Newman is extremely healthful; fine climate; excellent drinking water. Write at once for our new illustrated catalog. A letter or postal will bring it. IT IS FREE.

IMPERIAL

Is the name of one of the very best Spike Tooth Harrows sold on this market. It is strongly constructed, easily adjusted and gives entire satisfaction. The outside frame is made of channel steel and the tooth bars are riveted to it by means of steel rivets. This construction gives protection to the tooth bars and prevents catching or hanging on stumps, stobs or fence corners. Let us show you this harrow, and also a list of some of the best farmers in Guilford county who use the "Imperial." The price of this harrow is LESS than that asked for an inferior make. By all means see the "Imperial" Spike Tooth Harrow.

A Song Recital at New Salem.

The Patriot has been requested to print the following account of a song recital at New Salem M. P. church on the first Sunday in November:

The song recital at New Salem on the first Sunday in November was in every way a success. Notwithstanding the gloomy and threatening appearance of the atmosphere, people came from many miles to attend the exercise, so that by the opening of the evening service there was hardly standing room for the large number present, and the singing was most heartily enjoyed and appreciated by those present.

The home class at New Salem and the class from Burnett's chapel, the class from Cedar Square and the class from Smithwood all helped to make the exercise interesting and did some nice singing. The class from Smithwood, and the highest trained class, did some extra nice singing and delighted the audience, rendering some very difficult selections. During the past year this class has delighted thousands of people with their nice singing. They have been most highly honored, being sent for in many sections where they were unknown, and have never failed to make a favorable impression, as well as many friends. They came to Salem on Saturday evening as the guests of the Salem class and their stay was most pleasant, making many warm friends.

Six Laborers Killed in Landslide.

Six men employed in the construction work of the new Southbound railroad were instantly killed at Winston-Salem yesterday morning by a landslide of tons of dirt from the side of an abutment being constructed for a bridge. The dead, all white men, are: Lessie Frieleand, of Iredell county; Carl Dortschmidt, a German; Carl Ebner, a German; Frank Liebman, a German; Alfred Lippner, a German.

CENTER ITEMS.

Mr. S. B. Hockett remains about the same.

The writer was glad to have the company of Mr. F. S. Blair, of Guilford College, one night last week.

Mr. C. C. Curtis is having good success pulling stumps with a traction engine.

The school here has opened nicely.

The school at Three Forks started Monday with Mr. W. R. Neece as teacher.

There will be hustling among the schools in Randolph this winter. Sheriff T. J. Finch has offered to give an extra month to the school that shows the best average attendance and the fewest tardies, all based on the school census.

Probably the most important social event that has occurred here lately was the marriage of Miss Grace, the only daughter of Mr. J. S. Murrell, to Mr. Harvey Dick, of McLeansville, last Thursday evening.

Sunday was quarterly meeting here and there was a very large crowd, many more than the large house could accommodate. There were people here from Greensboro, Liberty, Randleman and other places. Revs. Wood and Farlow preached good sermons at 11 o'clock, and at 3 o'clock there was a peace and arbitration meeting. Good speeches were made by Mrs. W. A. White, Prof. E. J. Coltrane and F. S. Blair.

Little Grace, the 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Stanton, was buried here at 11 o'clock Sunday, the 7th. She had been slightly an invalid all her life. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Ashburn, of the Level Cross circuit, assisted by Miss Wright.

Closing Exercises of Cedar Square.

The following notice has been sent to the Patriot for publication: "The closing exercises of the Cedar Square singing class will be held at Ebenezer M. E. church on the fourth Sunday in November, beginning at 11 A. M. and again at 2 P. M. The class from Burnett's chapel will be present to take part in the exercises. Prof. Lowe will also be invited to have a class present and assist in the exercises. All lovers of singing are invited to come and be with us."

THE NEW YORK WAY.

The New York city board of health has recently inaugurated a vigorous warfare on the common housefly as a prolific spreader of disease. Among the more important recommendations to the public whose co-operation is asked in the campaign of extermination are the following: Keep flies away from the sick and kill those appearing in the sickroom; do not allow decaying material to accumulate near the premises; cover piles that do accumulate with lime or kerosene; keep receptacles containing garbage covered and the contents sprinkled with lime or kerosene; keep all stable manure screened in pit or vault or sprinkled with lime and kerosene; pour kerosene into the drains; burn or bury all table refuse and screen all windows and doors, especially in the kitchen and dining room. The same instructions give the following as the most effective method of killing flies: Place in plates or saucers about the house a weak solution of formaldehyde in water (two teaspoonfuls to the pint). It has no offensive smell, is fatal to disease germs and is practically nonpoisonous except to insects. The youngsters could drink a saucerful of this without suffering serious inconvenience, and enough formaldehyde could be bought for 10 cents to last all summer.

A SANER ATTITUDE.

One of the hopeful aspects of the campaign which is being waged along the line of a conservation of our country's natural resources is the remarkable change which has taken place in the attitude of the lumbermen of the north and west toward the aims and work of Gifford Pinchot, chief of the forest service bureau. But a short two or three years ago they viewed and styled him as a well meaning but enthusiastic idealist who had a whole lot of notions that wouldn't dovetail in with the cold dollar and cents considerations which were uppermost in their minds. But now that he has succeeded in demonstrating to them that the only thing he is after is such administration of the forests as will give them a maximum usefulness and make them a perpetual source of revenue they are unstinted in their praise of him as their chief benefactor. As a result they are co-operating with him in every way possible, including adequate measures for the fighting of forest fires, the cutting of timber by selection and the protecting of the seedling conifers, as well as the introduction of methods of preserving wood and timber which will add greatly to their life and usefulness. This change of attitude is most wholesome and bodes well for the coming years.

BUYING UNSIGHT.

There are a number of fruit ranch promotion schemes in several sections of the west which the cautious investor would do well to investigate thoroughly before wasting his money on them. We refer to tracts which are being developed by men none too scrupulous and advertised as "ready to bear" at the end of five years, when inspection of the tracts reveals the sorry fact that not only were poor and cheap trees set out to begin with, but they have not been properly pruned or cultivated during the five year period. Before investing in any such fruit ranches the prospective buyer should not only inspect first hand the condition of the tract which is later to be his at from $200 to $500 per acre, but should inquire with even greater pains into the financial standing and reputation for integrity which the men backing the scheme have with bankers and other conservative and reliable people in the community. If a fellow has his senses with him he would not become engaged to a woman a thousand miles away without seeing her or buy a horse unsight on a stranger's recommendation. He should use as much judgment in buying a fruit ranch.

THE SKUNK CABBAGE.

Botanists seem agreed that a distinct purpose is served in nature's economy in the foul odor which characterizes the carrion fungus, or skunk cabbage. The stalk of this variety of fungus is hollow, and on its top is borne a wrinkled cap perforated in the middle by an opening. The surface of the cap is covered with a slimy greenish-black mass of spores and muckage. Various flies and burying beetles, deceived by this odor, are attracted to it in the supposition that it is decaying animal matter. Alighting, their feet become smeared with spores and muckage, which they carry away and distribute, getting nothing for their pains. A Brazilian relative of the skunkhorn, besides practicing the device mentioned, has a conspicuous white veil hanging down from the cap, which travelers say is slightly phosphorescent at night, which causes nocturnal insects to be drawn to it.

Apple butter is licking good if the juice is removed to make jelly, but it's 150 per cent better if the juice is left in.

The colt may be taught to walk fast by being broken with older horses that are fast rather than poky walkers. The habit early formed will persist in later years.

Cats, like rats and guinea pigs, are said to contract tuberculosis readily, provided they drink milk which contains tuberculosis bacilli, and frequent dwelling houses as they so often do they may become ready vehicles for spreading the disease.

Some experiments in the thinning of apples have been conducted at the Connecticut experiment station. In one of these the young fruit on two Baldwin trees was thinned, giving an increase in crop value of 77 1/2 cents and $1.83 respectively. Just another instance of where intensive care paid.

In the building of the new big barn the specifications could call for an up to date and adequate system of ventilation, by means of which, even in coldest weather, when the barn is kept tightly closed, the animals may be supplied with an abundance of fresh air. This matter of ventilation is not some college professor's fad, but a question of animal health, profits and good horse sense.

Victoria (B. C.) fruit growers are suspecting contamination to their orchards through fungous and insect pests from the small gardens of householders in the suburban districts, and a house to house canvass is to be made with a view to cleaning things up. Were the conditions appreciated, just such a campaign as this might be started in a good many other fruit growing sections.

It's no use to talk "bein' president of the United States" to boys who are careless about their habits, shiftless, indifferent or lazy, for lads of this description never have been and never will be elevated to this important office. A boy should rustle and do the best for himself, whatever the object held before him. If he has in him and develops the presidential stuff he is so much the gainer.

In the new type of agriculture which is being made use of to regenerate rundown cotton farms in many of the southern states the growing of alfalfa, cowpeas and soy beans is the chief factor. If dairying or stock raising can be added, the work of rebuilding is the more quickly and completely effected. There are one or two farms north of Mason and Dixon's line that need this same kind of medicine.

It has been found as a result of experiments and tests which have been lately made with a view to utilizing the scrub or Jersey pine that grows on abandoned farm and cut over lands in eastern states that the pulp of this species of pine is valuable for the manufacture of bag, news and wrapping paper. This is good news and will help along the government's forest conservation policy by making possible the substitution of this for other more valuable conifers.

It may be viewed as a truism, yet it is worth remembering, that one is hardly justified in pulling up stakes and going to a new locality unless the prospects are good that one can do better financially and get more enjoyment out of life in the new than under the old conditions, and yet a lot of folks are doing this thing every day—selling acres whose output they know and can count on for rosy prospects, but untold returns in the new country to which their wanderlust carries them.

No young man of physical strength, intelligence and enterprise need view with alarm being left on the tender mercies of the cold world if he can rent or buy five acres of land near a good market and owns or can borrow enough money to secure equipment for raising fruits, vegetables and poultry. Some farseeing students of our national economics are looking ahead and contemplating the time when we shall not as a country be able to raise all the foodstuffs which we consume. The plan suggested would therefore seem to help not only the individual, but be a service to society.

When the matter is slimmered down, there seems to be mighty little gain in a fellow's scripping everlastingly and working like a slave from one year's end to another to accumulate a bank account and finally carrying it so far that he ruins his health and loses the power to enjoy the ease and competence which he has striven so hard to attain. It is very much better to let up a bit before the breakdown and avoid the expense as well as the annoyance and discomfort of broken health. A bunch of fellows we know and doubtless a host we don't are inviting just this condition of things by their present gait.

A friend who always takes much pride in his place has finally become disgusted with the cedar hedge, which for many years past has been performing the mission of a high board fence about his premises, and has taken it out. This is a very commendable move, for henceforth passersby will be able to see the stretch of blue grass lawn and the pretty beds of phlox, salvia and asters which always grace it. Incidentally the apples on the nearby trees will be less subject to scab and blight. More of these hedges ought to be rooted out unless, perchance, they serve as a screen for that which is ugly or uncomely.

The no breakfast fad is commendable as a fat reducer if the one practicing the self denial doesn't eat just that much more at dinner time.

The art of cheesemaking is said to date back to 350 B. C., but notwithstanding 2,250 years' experience there's altogether too much inferior stuff put on the market.

If the boys and girls would rather be over at Neighbor Smith's or some where else than at home it is fair to assume that the home is not as attractive a place as it might be, and something ought to be done to give it some drawing force.

It is a matter of regret that the poison ivy and poison oak, both shrubs of attractive leaf form and marvelously beautiful coloring, cannot be handled with impunity and plucked to add beauty to autumn decorations of the home. But they add their brilliant touch of color to copse or roadside hedge and in this perform a mission.

It is not the boy or girl in school today who is doing as little as possible, and that in a shabby and listless way, who is going to be heard from twenty years hence, but rather the student who does the task assigned in the most thorough manner and, besides, is all the time seeking to find out a little more about a subject than the lesson contains.

According to the bulletin issued by the government crop reporting board, the condition of the cotton crop on Aug. 25 was 63.7 per cent of a normal crop as compared with 71.9 on July 25, 1909, and 76.1 on Aug. 25, 1908. Thus is briefly described in official language the heavy damage done the cotton crop by the July and August drought.

Instead of trying to get rid of extra flesh—in the usual advertisement called "adipose tissue"—by drugging the system with anti-fat dopes the sensible person will adopt a simpler and less expensive remedy—eat half as much food and perform twice as much physical labor. This will usually be found effective in reducing the most obstinate cases.

Running exclusively to one line has drawbacks as well as advantages in agricultural pursuits as well as in some other vocations. The raising of diversified crops may not yield as large financial returns as a single line under specially favorable conditions for the latter, but in a series of years the average returns from diversified crops will be larger, while if conditions are unfavorable the farmer will lose only part of the eggs in his basket.

Nature intended that the cow in her primal state should give just enough milk to suckle the calf at her side until it reached an age when it had acquired a taste as well as a capacity for digesting other forms of food. Any cow of later day whose calf is allowed to run with her tends to deteriorate in the matter of milk production until she reaches the above standard. On this account the practice should be discouraged with any animal that has capacity for dairy purposes.

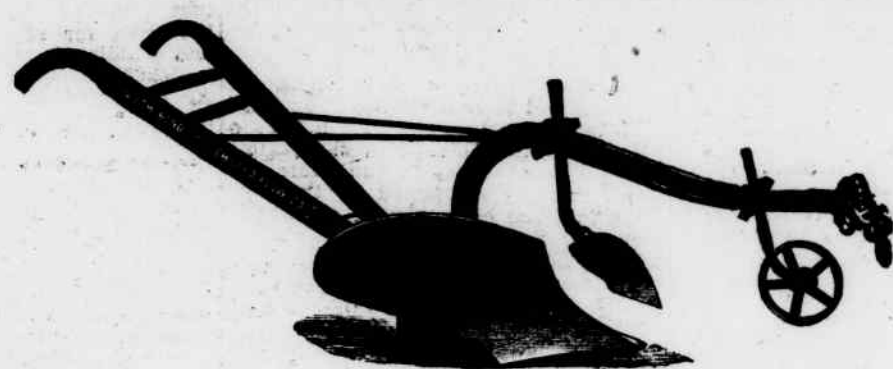

One of the interesting sights to the visitor at Miles City, Mont., is the horse sale, which is held every two or three months. During the course of the year 50,000 horses change hands at these sales, while the type of horses disposed of varies from the absolutely wild yearling cayuse, which has not known bridle or saddle and very likely has never seen a cowboy to know who he was, which sells for $20, to the pure bred draft or coach horse, which sells from $150 and up.

One of the manual training courses lately introduced into the high schools in the famous Wenatchee fruit valley in Washington aims to instruct both boys and girls in the latest and most scientific methods of packing apples. They are quick to pick the work up and on passing a satisfactory examination at the end of the course of instruction are given certificates of efficiency. Not only do the boys and girls enjoy this course, but it fits them for practical work at harvest time, when one of the biggest problems that the ranch owner has on his hands is the question of help. The idea ought to take root in other places.

The ginseng plant is an interesting one apart from the high value which is placed on the medicinal properties of its roots by the Chinese, who buy most of that produced in this country. The natural home of the herb is the moist, shady wood lot, where no direct rays of the sun strike the carpet of decaying leaves and where domestic animals do not browse or tramp. The plant is a perennial in habit, the stalk, which is from eight to fourteen inches high, dying down in the fall. This bears three divided leaves, which have a close resemblance to those of the hickory seedling. The plant bears a cluster of small bluish flowers, which produce bright red two-seed berries in the fall about the size of peas. Roots which have a commercial value are produced on plants two years old and more. The dried roots are said to sell from $5 to $7 a pound and the berries from 20 to 60 cents per dozen. If reports are to be credited, good money is made raising ginseng commercially under artificial shade, but it is the few who succeed rather than the many.

Cough Caution

Never, positively never poison your lungs. If you cough—even from a simple cold only—you should always heal, soothe, and ease the irritated bronchial tubes. Don't blindly suppress it with a stupefying poison. It's strange how some things finally come about. For twenty years Dr. Shoop has constantly warned people not to take cough mixtures or prescriptions containing Opium, Chloroform, or similar poisons. And now—a little late though—Congress says "Put it on the label, if poisons are in your Cough Mixture." Good! Very good! Hereafter for this very reason mothers, and others, should insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. No poison marks on Dr. Shoop's labels—and none in the medicine, else it must be law be on the label. And it's not only safe, but it is said to be by those that know it best, a truly remarkable cough remedy. Take no chance then, particularly with your children. Insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Compare carefully the Dr. Shoop package with others and note the difference. No poison marks there! You can always be on the safe side by demanding

SECRETARY WILSON'S OPINION.

Not Pleased With Agricultural Development of North Carolina.

Washington, Nov. 11.—Secretary Wilson, of the Department of Agriculture, is not satisfied with the advancement of the South agricultural, as compared with its gains in manufacturing. He has just returned from the annual meeting of the national farmers' congress at Raleigh, N. C., and while in that state he made an investigation of its agricultural development. His inquiry has not satisfied him, according to a statement made today.

While the manufacturers of that section have wrested control of the cotton and other mills from outsiders, the farmers of North Carolina have not been keeping up to the same standard of enterprise. During his visit to North Carolina the secretary visited Raleigh, Durham and Greensboro, making excursions from those points into the adjacent country.

Mr. Wilson declared that within the near future there is certain to be an influx of Northern and Western farmers to North Carolina and other Southern agricultural states; for the Northern and Western lands can be sold at a price per acre sufficient to buy two acres in the South.

FOR CONTEMPT OF COURT.

Tennessee Sheriff and Others Committed to Jail in Washington.

Washington, Nov. 15.—For the first time in American history, six men are in prison tonight for contempt of the Supreme court of the United States. For the first time, too, the Federal government has placed men behind the bars as an outcome of the lynching of a negro.

At the United States jail in this city Captain F. Shipp, former sheriff at Chattanooga, Tenn.; Jeremiah Gibson, his jailer, and Luther Williams, Nick Nolan, Henry Padgett and William May, of the same city, this afternoon began serving terms of imprisonment imposed a few hours before by the Supreme court of the United States.

Shipp and Gibson had been found guilty of failure to protect from a mob Ed Johnson, whose legal execution for rape had been stayed by the Supreme court until it could be reviewed. The other four had been found guilty of participation in the lynching of a Federal prisoner. Shipp, Williams and Nolan were given sentences of 30 days' imprisonment each, while Gibson, Padgett and May each received 60 days.

New York, Nov. 12.—Tipt's and his savings were so wisely invested by James Thielman, head waiter at Delmonico's, that when he died recently he left an estate valued at $500,000. This amount of the estate became known today when his wife applied for letters of administration of the estate.

Prior to becoming head waiter Thielman from 1872 had worked as an ordinary waiter in Delmonico's.

MORGAN AND THE SOUTHERN.

Speculation as to Outcome of Financialer's Hidden Hand.

Some who have marveled at the success of the Morgan campaign in United States Steel, and especially those who hold Southern Railway stock, are wondering what plans Mr. Morgan has in view for the latter property.

A Morgan management paid 5 per cent cash dividends on Southern preferred in four successive years. It is believed that a great amount of this stock, possibly the bulk of the $60,000,000 outstanding, is today lodged with the Morgan interest and friends. Sentiment on all Southern stocks has been unfavorably affected by the shortage in cotton. But it is to be remembered that the great shortage in this crop is in Texas.

In much of the belt east of the Mississippi, and especially in the territory of the Southern Railway, the yield of cotton this year is well up to the average. The crop is selling for such high prices that its marketing cannot fail to be followed by a great uplift in business and railroad earnings at the South.

Tenth Victim of Pellagra.

Durham, Nov. 11. Pellagra has claimed another victim in Durham. She is Miss Maggie Hutchins, an eighteen-year-old girl, and a member of a prominent Durham family. She died last night from the disease.

So far there have been ten deaths from this strange malady in this section. The other victims have been negroes. Medical men here are mystified, because the white victim abstained from corn food in every form. The disease in this county has been the subject of a thorough investigation, and as yet no solution of the origin of the disease has been found.

ANOTHER FOOTBALL VICTIM.

Archer Christian Loses Life as Result of Game.

Washington, Nov. 14.—Football has claimed another victim in Archer Christian, the 18-year-old left-half-back of the University of Virginia team, whose injury in the game with Georgetown University yesterday afternoon was followed by his death at Georgetown University hospital this morning. The body was taken to Richmond this afternoon for burial.

An autopsy disclosed that death was due to cerebral hemorrhage, following concussion. Profoundly stirred by the fatality, the district coroner has sworn a special jury of prominent citizens whose duty it will be to suggest if possible some modification of the rougher features of the game and to look into the question of alleged police brutality and indifference following the accident.

The University of Virginia and Georgetown University have canceled the remaining games of the season and disbanded their teams.

Convict Superintendent Exonerated.

Wentworth, Nov. 11.—For several days reports have been in circulation, published and otherwise, that a white convict, C. F. Lewis, had been unmercifully whipped and mistreated at the county convict camp, so this morning the grand jury, acting under the judge's instruction, thoroughly investigated the entire matter and this afternoon they made their report to the court, fully exonerating Superintendent C. A. Rickman. The jury's report said, "we found the camp in excellent condition and personally examined Convict Lewis, who informed the jury that he was not unmercifully whipped, neither had he been mistreated."

POISON SNAKE IN CIDER.

Family and Friends Drink of the Poison and Turn Sick.

York, Pa., Nov. 12.—Drinking cider into which a snake, supposed to have been of a poisonous variety, had been ground and pressed, members of the family of Paul Elsner, of The Brogue, and some of their friends, were made very sick.

Elsner took a wagonload of apples to the cider mill in the evening and they were ground up and left in the press all night. After all who drank of the cider had become sick an examination of the pulp was made, and the minced body of a big snake of undetermined species was found.

The reptile must have crawled upon the wagon and have gone into the grinding knives and press unobserved, with the apples. That it was a copperhead is believed.

Any theory that the snake might have been a martyr in the cause of temperance, acting out the familiar illustration of the serpent in the glass, is discounted by the fact that the cider was not hard.

To Deepen Cape Fear Channel.

Washington, Nov. 12.—Brigadier General Marshall, chief engineer of the army in his annual report, recommends the expenditure of $36,000,000 on river and harbor improvements next year.

The North Carolina recommendations follow:

Pamlico and Tar rivers, $10,000; Neuse and Trent rivers, $33,000; Waterway from Pamlico to Beaufort, $20,000; New river, $25,000; Cape Fear river, $500,000. The Cape Fear recommendation is for the deepening of the channel of the river to 30 feet from Wilmington to the sea. This would make Wilmington a first class port and enable the largest ocean steamers to dock.

THE FOUNDING OF SALEM.

Anniversary Celebrated by the Moravians Saturday and Sunday.

Saturday marked the 143d anniversary of the founding of Salem and the establishment of the home of the Moravian church or unitas fratrum. The day was fittingly celebrated by many members of this historic church. The ceremonies were continued through Sunday.

The Moravians came to this country in 1755, under Count Zinzendorf, and landed at Savannah, Ga., for the purpose of converting the Indians, and later, in 1753, they came to this section for the purpose of founding Wachovia, which was named after one of the count's estates. Salem is noted for the quaint Dutch architecture, and people flock there from all over the country during the Easter season to witness the novel method of celebrating this season at sunrise.

Cider Case a Byrd Law Test.

Staunton, Va., Nov. 12.—The first clash incident to the closing of saloons here came today when J. W. Taylor was arraigned for an alleged violation of the Byrd liquor law. Taylor represents the Rose Cliff Fruit Farm, at Waynesboro, which is said to be selling cider containing nearly four per cent alcohol. He is alleged to have refused to stop selling, desiring to make a test case. The concern which he represents is said to be sending cider to nearly every "dry" town in Virginia, and the outcome of the case will be watched all over the state.

Nothing Like It Before!

Nothing like it may ever occur again. It will be the most mighty avalanche of majestic bargains for men, women and children in high grade fall and winter Clothing, Furnishings, Hats and Shoes of every kind ever brought together.

It is not necessary to go into detail regarding the high grade merchandise the Globe Clothing Co. carries as every man, woman and child in Greensboro and its vicinity is well aware of the fact that the merchandise bought of the Globe Clothing Co. is the best money can buy. Remember this forced stock must be sold in 20 days, beginning Friday, November 12 at 9 A. M. Sold regardless of cost.

We hereby guarantee to sell precisely as we advertise and every price we quote is strictly bona fide and every quotation absolutely correct as the entire stock must be sold to reimburse the creditors. It may be hard to believe that a big concern would sacrifice such a big stock. But it is the gospel truth and all we ask is a visit which will convince the most skeptical of the sensational low prices that prevail during this sale. Below we quote a few of the wonderful, marvelous extraordinary bargains we are putting forth and remember there are thousands we cannot mention here.

BRIEF ITEMS OF GENERAL NEWS

A Week's Events of More or Less Interest to the Public.

Mrs. Russell Sage has given $10,000 to the New York State Federation of Women's Clubs.

Cassius Moody, of Kingston, Ky., killed his wife, fired his house and committed suicide.

Dr. D. N. Hoover, of the District of Columbia, has been appointed chief clerk of the Department of Commerce and Labor.

The general committee of foreign missions of the Methodist church, meeting at Albany, N. Y., apportioned over $825,000 for next year's work.

The Bell Telephone Company has come into possession of a majority of the stock of its strongest rival independent company in the northwest.

John W. Gates, the railroad, oil and steel magnate, predicts that 1910 will be the most prosperous year for the American people in the history of the country.

Guy E. Beeler, a prominent young business man of Hagerstown, Md., committed suicide Friday night by shooting himself through the breast as he lay in bed.

Coughing when a bread crumb lodged in his throat at luncheon, Joseph Stone, of Murray Hill, N. J., was seized with a hemorrhage and died within a few minutes. Stone was a robust man, weighing about 220 pounds.

Will James, a negro charged with the murder of a white woman, was taken from the jail in Cairo, Ill., Thursday night and lynched by a mob. The negro confessed to the crime. Fully 500 shots were fired into the body, after which it was burned.

Henry L. West, for seven years a commissioner of the District of Columbia, has tendered his resignation and on December 1 will become associated with Scott C. Boone in the publication of the Washington Herald. Mr. West is one of the most capable newspaper men in the United States and for a number of years was managing editor of the Washington Post.

The national agricultural department has begun a campaign of extermination against a beetle recently discovered that is causing much damage to pine trees in the South Atlantic states. This beetle is known as the Southern pine sawyer, and investigations made show that in Mississippi alone from 75 to 90 per cent. of the trees blown down by a recent storm were infested.

That a state-wide prohibition referendum bill will be put squarely to the general assembly of Virginia next winter; that the Anti-Saloon League will vigorously fight for its passage, and will put on record every man who tries to prevent the people deciding for themselves the question of saloons or no saloons in this state, embrace tentative plans of the Virginia Anti-Saloon League.

The degree of LL. D. was conferred upon President Taft by Wesleyan University, of Middletown, Conn., Friday. The occasion was the inauguration of Dr. William Arnold Shanklin as president of the university. The principal speech of the day was made by President Taft, who is the first president of the United States to visit the town since Andrew Jackson made an address on the village green in 1832.

A judge in Sacramento, Cal., last week imposed a sentence of ten years in the penitentiary upon Claude Wood, a chauffeur, convicted of manslaughter, for running over and killing James P. Smith last August, but ordered that the commitment be withheld and that the defendant be placed on probation. In the terms of probation is a provision that Wood contribute $25 a month toward the support of the five children he made fatherless by his reckless driving.

The South Carolina dispensary commission has recovered $9,500 more in conscience money from two whiskey concerns doing business with the state, one $9,000 and the other $500. The money is in bank, but the names of the firms are not given pending some final adjustment. This makes $47,000 altogether received in this way, and Attorney Felder has said there would be between $100,000 and $150,000 more coming. This is in addition to the amounts disallowed on the $630,000 worth of claims, which will be slashed radically.

Did You See That Gasoline Engine?

The one that took the first prize and ran the wood working machinery for the Wyson & Miles Co. at the fair? That was the Alamo, for sale by the Clymer Machine Co., Greensboro, N. C.

This is one of the best workers ever put on this market, and if you want a perfect machine, a hard puller with steady power, call on them. This engine is the farmer's friend.

Rents have become so high in Charlotte that a number of business concerns are arranging to build and occupy their own stores.

Prof. R. H. Wright was formally inaugurated as president of the East Carolina Teachers' Training School, located at Greenville, Thursday.

Jesse N. Ball, a foreman in charge of hands in the construction of the new Southbound Railway, was killed by a dynamite explosion at Jackson Hill, Davidson county, Friday afternoon.

The physicians of Rowan county are leading a movement for the organization of an anti-tuberculosis society. A meeting to perfect an organization is to be held in Salisbury Saturday.

T. C. Ennis, of Raleigh, an engineer on the Seaboard Air Line, died in a Richmond, Va., hospital Sunday as the result of an accident on his engine, due to the blowing-out of the crownsheet.

Adolphus Bragg, a Durham county man, committed suicide last Wednesday. He borrowed a gun from a negro, placed it against a stump and shot off his head, using a forked stick to pull the trigger.

The North Carolina Anti-Saloon League has arranged to issue a monthly edition of the Issue, a prohibition paper published at Westerville, O. The North Carolina edition will be published in the interest of the enforcement of the prohibition law in this state.

The executive committee of the North Carolina Anti-Saloon League held a meeting in Raleigh Monday, when gratifying reports were received from all parts of the state. Clarence H. Poe resigned as chairman and a committee was named to nominate his successor.

Dr. E. W. Allred, a well known physician of Mt. Airy, shot a young man by the name of Dick Timmons on the streets of the town Thursday afternoon and later surrendered to the sheriff. Timmons was not fatally wounded. The cause of the trouble between the two men has not been made public.

Timmonsville, S. C., dispatch, 14: Walkin' out of a second story window in a fit of somnambulism, Thos. J. Crews last night fell to the cement pavement below and sustained fatal injuries which resulted in his death today. Mr. Crews was found in a dying condition early this morning. Mr. Crews, who was about 70 years old, was a resident of Durham, N. C., and was on a visit to his daughter.

Winston-Salem dispatch, 12: At a meeting of the Winston-Salem board of trade last night the highway committee made a report showing decided progress. A scheme is proposed calling for the expenditure of $10,000 in new roads and bridges outside of Forsyth county but tributary to Winston-Salem, and the amount must be raised by private subscriptions. It will unquestionably be done.

The State Primary Teachers' Association met in Winston-Salem last week, adjourning Saturday after electing the following officers for the ensuing year: Miss Annie Wetmore, Duke, president; Miss Bettie Nash, Charlotte, vice president; Miss Edith Royster, Raleigh, recording secretary, and Miss Florence Brown, Winston-Salem, corresponding secretary and treasurer. Next year's meeting will be held in Raleigh.

CEMENT AHEAD OF GOLD.

Product of Two Counties Beats California or Alaska.

Easton, Pa., Nov. 12.—Robert Meade, one of the best authorities in this country on cement, gave out a statement today concerning the manufacture of that material in this country since 1875, when the first plant was established at Coplay, in Lehigh county, with a capacity of 1,700 barrels a year, to 51,000,000 barrels, turned out in the United States last year, at a value of $43,000,000.

The cement manufactured in the country last year would have been sufficient to build a pavement 25 feet wide around the world at the equator.

Mr. Meade says the output of cement in Pennsylvania today exceeds in value that of gold in either California or Alaska, and nearly all the cement is manufactured in Northampton and Lehigh counties.

AFFAIRS AT GUILFORD COLLEGE.

Mr. Carnegie's Donation Available—Young Man Breaks His Arm.

Correspondence of the Patriot.

Professor Jay gave a very instructive discourse on "The Providence of God," the first Sabbath evening in the month. He compared the faith of the Apostle Paul with the doubt and uncertainty of the writer of Ecclesiastes, showing what an anchor to the soul Christianity brought into the world. He also gave a very valuable chapel talk on the responsibility of citizenship and the necessity for men to take an interest in the public welfare.

Mr. Carroll addressed the young men at the Thursday evening prayer meeting in an impressive discourse on the necessity of putting into practice during their college life those virtues of straightforwardness and honesty by which alone they could hope to attain success in after life.

The campus club held a meeting recently and decided to plant several magnolias and some privet hedges. The girls' aid committee and the residents of New Garden hall will keep "open house" Saturday afternoon, the 20th, and extend a cordial invitation to all of their friends to call between the hours of 3 and 6 in the afternoon. Refreshments will be on sale in the dining room. The proceeds are to be used in procuring seats on the porch and some plants for a hedge and other improvements to the lawn.

Mr. Carnegie has instructed the college authorities to draw upon his cashier for the $9,000 promised by him for the library, all of his stipulations having been met, and the library erected and furnished for $18,060.42. The tables for the same are now being made in High Point. The heating plant is almost complete.

Dr. Fox is off on his annual vacation hunting trip. As he was expected home word came that he had gone to the Dismal swamp bear hunting.

Ruffin Frazier met with quite an accident last week while helping with a shredder. One arm was broken and he was otherwise bruised. Dr. Beall was summoned and ministered to him.

Mr. Rufus Moore has moved the cottage "Arcadian" for Dr. Hobbs to the corner near Mrs. Luella Knight's home. He managed the moving so well that not only the chimneys are standing, but not even the loose brick on the top of one of them was shaken off. The cottage will be put into good condition shortly. Dr. Hobbs is expecting to build upon the old site next summer.

The fortnightly meeting of the literary society was held Wednesday evening. The president, Mr. Hodgins, gave a very interesting reading of parts of Browning's "Rabbi Ben Ezra," dwelling upon those portions which particularly brought out the philosophy of the poet. Mr. Carroll read "Confessions" and a song from "The Blot in the Scutcheon." "The Lost Leader" and "Ben Karshook's Version" were also read and discussed. Several new members were elected.

Invitations have been received by members of the faculty to the marriage of Rev. F. Walter Grabs to Miss Rosa Ellen Conrad Tuesday evening, November the 16th, at 7 o'clock, at Winston-Salem. Walter Grabs is held in high esteem at Guilford College, and he has the heartiest best wishes from all who know him at his alma mater.

Mrs. Mary T. Moore, of Richmond, Ind., announces the marriage of her daughter, Anna, to Benjamin Cadbury, of Philadelphia. This marriage will interest old students of New Garden Boarding School and Guilford College who will remember Anna as a young girl here while her father, the greatly beloved Prof. Joseph Moore, was at the school as principal and later visited the college from time to time to lecture. Many will recall his valuable service in the state just after the close of the war in operating the schools carried on under the Baltimore Association, and as a minister of great sweetness and power. All good wishes follow the daughter to her new home.

Dr. Hobbs has been invited to make the address at the laying of the cornerstone of the new Friends' church in Greensboro.

At the recent meeting of the church extension committee, held at the home of Prof. J. W. and Mary C. Woody, the reports of work being done in this direction were most encouraging.

Miss Clara Worth is assisting Miss Robinson of the primary department of the graded school with the 63 children in her room. This is an improvement, but more desks, more benches, more blackboards are urgently needed. The little people ought to be looked out for.

Miss Woodall, assisted by Miss Craig as accompanist, gave a violin recital Saturday evening which was greatly enjoyed by all.

BETHEL GRADED SCHOOL.

Large Attendance of Pupils—Literary Society Formed.

Correspondence of the Patriot.

Bethel graded school is progressing nicely under its present management—Miss Tennie Highfill, principal, and Miss Ola Lowery, assistant. There is a large attendance, and students entering almost daily.

There is a splendid library here and many of the students are taking great interest in reading. Miss Girtha Voss is librarian, with Miss Florence Pegram as assistant.

On last Friday afternoon the teachers and students met and organized a literary society to be known as the McIver Literary Society. There are eighteen charter members, and since then the number has been increased to twenty-five. N. F. Pegram was elected president and G. G. Voss secretary.

James Wilson has been chosen as janitor for the present year and is doing his part nicely.

TREATMENT OF PRESIDENTS.

Various Endurance Tests Prepared by Reception Committees.

New York Sun.

They snatched him from a train and rolled him away through a cloud of dust for hours and hours. They detached him from all baggage and sent him off to bed while his clothes dried. They fed him on ducks and squabs and possum and bear meat and all the while talked and talked and talked after the manner of detectives administering the third degree. They stood him up before ten acres of Texans to deliver a graceful little speech. It seemed as if they had exhausted every known means of killing a strong man.

But now comes the Missourians with a new test. They put him to sleep in the small hours on a river boat. Then, with the sun still below the horizon, they bang on his state-room door. "Get up! Get up!" they cry. "You must dress in a hurry and drive over to the state normal school, make a speech, inspect the school, and plant a tree. And don't fail to be back by 7." And it all happened just so—not forgetting even the tree.

Why abuse a man thus, you ask? Well, he's only the president; and, besides, nobody compels him to hop about the country like a grasshopper. He goes voluntarily. All of which, it is respectfully submitted, goes to show that there should indeed be a society for the protection of our presidents from their own amiability.

Entertainment at Glenwood School.

Next Friday evening at 7.30 o'clock the students of the Glenwood public school, seven miles northeast of Greensboro, will give two plays—"What Ailed the Cat?" and "The Disappearing of Big Jim." Everybody wants to see "The Disappearing of Big Jim." It is a negro farce that keeps the audience in an uproar of laughter from start to finish. Come, laugh and forget your troubles. A donation, 10 and 15 cents.

No Case on Record.

There is no case on record of a cough or cold resulting in pneumonia or consumption after Foley's Honey and Tar has been taken, as it will stop your cough and break up your cold quickly. Refuse any but the genuine Foley's Honey and Tar in a yellow package. Contains no opiates and is safe and sure. Howard Gardner.

A deed has just been executed to the Daniel Boone Memorial Association for three acres of land in Davidson county, where the traditional site of the Boone cabin is located. The association has decided to build a cabin exactly like the original if possible and store within it certain relics of the Boone family and preserve the place. The site of the cabin is on a bluff on the Yadkin river, in Boone township, near Boone's ford and Boone's cave.

PEOPLE'S PULPIT...

Sermon by CHARLES T. RUSSELL.
Pastor Brooklyn
Tabernacle.

SECRET FAULTS—PRE-SUMPTUOUS SINS.

Who Can Understand His Errors?

"Cleanse Thou Me From Secret Faults; Keep Back Thy Servant Also From Presumptuous Sins; Then Shall I Be Upright, and I Shall Be Innocent From the Great Transgression." (Psalm xix, 12, 13).

Brooklyn, Nov. 7.—Pastor Russell preached today at the Brooklyn Tabernacle from the text above. He said:—Our text prophetically represents the attitude of mind of God's true people. Those who are aliens and strangers from God would not thus pray. Even if they were repentant their first prayer should be in the nature of a confession of sins and an acknowledgment of their acceptance of God's mercy in the forgiveness of their sins and of his accepting them to be his children through the merit of the Redeemer. But even those who have become children of God, by renouncing sin and exercising faith in Divine forgiveness in the merit of Christ, have still to acknowledge that by nature they were "children of wrath even as others." Although they are saved by grace, only their minds, their hearts, their wills, have yet been saved or fully reconciled to God and harmonized to the Divine will. Their flesh is still imperfect, fallen.

Hence, in the language of the Psalmist, it is appropriate that the Lord's people take knowledge of their own blemishes, imperfections, and that they seek the Lord's assistance in fighting the good fight against those blemishes of their flesh. Thank God, this battle of the new will, against the fallen flesh and its appetites will not last forever; to the faithful, death will be the close of the conflict. The glorified Redeemer is watching over the interests of his people. He guarantees us in advance that all of our trials, our difficulties, shall work together for our spiritual welfare. He guarantees us that when he shall have sufficiently tested our new minds, our new wills, by the opposition of the cravings of the flesh, he will forthwith declare our trial ended—declare us victors and heirs of glory, honor and immortality with himself, according to the exceeding great and precious promises of his Word.

The Object of Our Testing.

The question arises, Why should not the Lord grant to us and to all mankind an easier trial than this? Why should there be a fallen disposition to fight against? Why should it not be as easy, or more easy, to do right than to do wrong? Why should we not have flesh which should have a good craving merely, and not an evil craving? And if we must have an evil craving, why are we not at least relieved of the outward temptations which excite these evil cravings?—temptations from the world about us, leading to evil rather than to good; and, according to the Scriptures and our experiences, temptations also from Satan himself, and from the fallen angels, who continually endeavor to intrude upon us, to incite us to anger, malice, hatred, strife and the various works of the flesh and the devil?

These questions are not unreasonable, and God acknowledges this when he shows us that just such favorable conditions as these questions suggest will be provided for the world of mankind during the Millennium. Satan and the evil angels under his captaincy will be restrained according to the Bible and not be permitted to molest mankind in evil promptings and suggestions. We read that Satan shall be bound for a thousand years that he may deceive the people no more until the thousand years be finished (Revelations xx, 2). Relief is also promised from the injurious conduct of others, in that we are assured that during the Millennium nothing shall hurt or destroy throughout God's holy Kingdom. In that blessed time every evil deed will be restrained that it may not accomplish injury to another, while even the effort to commit sin will be promptly punished with "stripes," not an immediate, not an unjust torturing for centuries for finite sins, but, as the Scriptures declare, a just recompense of reward will be given both to the just and to the unjust.

The Scriptures assure us that promptness in the punishment for sin, and its remission, its righteousness, will be promptly recognized and quickly bear fruitage throughout the world in peace and order—righteousness. Thus we read, "When Thy judgments are in the earth, the inhabitants of the world will learn righteousness" (Isaiah xxvi, 8). The preaching of this reasonable, righteous judgment of the future surely bears much better fruitage than the preaching of the "dark ages," now fortunately disappearing—that the wage of a trifling sin might be either a century of roasting or an eternity of torment. The exaggeration of the error is so great that the human mind instinctively resists and rejects it.

The next query we shall answer is: Are God's ways unequal? And if not, Why should he provide at the present time for the trial and testing of the Church under conditions so much more severe than those which shall prevail by and by, during the Millennium? Why must we battle against the Adversary and his minions as well as against our fallen flesh? Why must we contend with sinful oppositions in our neighborhoods and our homes? Why should not evil in every sense of the word be restrained for us as well as for the world during the Millennium and our way be made smooth also? The Scriptures answer that, the Church class, which God is now selecting or electing from the world, is a very special class, for which he has very glorious designs of joint-heirship with the Redeemer in his kingly and priestly offices for the blessing of the world during the Millennium. The greatness of the dignity to which the faithful will be exalted makes it reasonable that the terms and conditions should be exceedingly difficult in this way. Hence we read that the gate is difficult and the way a narrow one, so that few may find it. These few are the "elect," whose character-superiority will be fully evidenced to God, to angels and to men to be such as fully justifies the Lord in granting to them the high reward promised. Were their honors no greater than those the world shall experience, how could God's ways be just and equal in granting them the heavenly nature and Divine glory, while awarding the world of mankind restitution blessing and a worldwide Eden home corresponding to what was lost by Adam and redeemed for the willing and obedient by the sacrifice of the man Christ Jesus?

Who Understands His Errors?

If now we have clearly before our minds that it is the Church class who are addressed in our text, let us examine the various steps it suggests. During the Millennium the errors and secret faults and presumptuous sins of the world will all be made manifest and all be openly rebuked and punished. But not so now. Those who are now called to be of the elect Church are expected to be so zealous for God, so desirous to know and to do his will, so opposed to sin, that they will voluntarily search for their own errors, their own secret faults, and strive against presumptuous sins.

When we remember that God, for Christ's sake, has forgiven the sins of the Church, the question may arise, What then are these faults or errors? If all of our sins are forgiven freely for Christ's sake, what sins then remain to be forgiven? The answer is that through faith in Christ's blood we were fully forgiven "the sins that are past, through the forbearance of God" (Romans iii, 25). We shall never more be held responsible for sins great or small which were ours before we came to the Lord and accepted his grace, his forgiveness, and became his followers through our consecration of our little all to him. What remains of sin with us is the imperfection of the flesh and its inherited weaknesses, and these blemishes may be with us to our dying day in considerable measure. It is against these that we must fight—the good fight and endure hardness as valiant soldiers of righteousness.

But some one may inquire, Is not the merit of Christ sufficient, not only for the sins that are past, but for all of our unwilling blemishes of the past and of the future? In other words, Does not our Lord's satisfaction of Justice include our imperfections present and future, which are the result of Adam's sin and our inheritance of the fallen condition, as well as atone for our sins of the past prior to our acceptance of the Divine mercy? We answer, Yes, this is quite true; nevertheless the Lord requires of us that, after coming into the family of God we shall take note of our imperfections and apply to him for specific forgiveness of all transgressions. Doubtless this is intended to assist us in keeping humble—to assist us in keeping in remembrance "the horrible pit" of sin from which we were lifted by the gracious merit of the Redeemer by which we were justified. All of these experiences will doubtless be helpful to us by drawing us the more frequently to the "throne of grace," that we may obtain mercy, and find grace (merit) to help in time of need" (Hebrews iv, 16).

The Blood of Christ Cleanseth.

The expression, "The blood of Jesus Christ cleanseth us from all sin," refers not merely to the sins that are past and the cleansing which was ours at the moment we first accepted the Lord's favor, but rather, especially, it refers to the cleansing which is continually necessary to the maintenance of our relationship with the Lord. The forgiveness, the cleansing, is freely, promptly given, but conditionally. It must be applied for. This is the Lord's method of instructing us in the way of righteousness and of assisting us to overcome the oppositions and temptations of the world and to become at heart "overcomers." He knows our weaknesses better than we do; and he wishes us to learn of them, not with a view to discouraging us, but that we may fight a good fight against them, conquer them and, in so doing, develop the characteristics which he approves and has promised to reward with joint-heirship with the Redeemer in his Kingdom.

Hence, instead of openly rebuking his people, the Lord leaves as our the work of searching for secret faults and putting them away. In proportion as we love him, we will be desirous of doing those things which please him, thus living in his smile, under his approval. It is quite sufficient that the light of the Lord's countenance, his smile, should be withdrawn from those who do not walk the narrow way with zeal—who do not seek for their own faults and endeavor to correct them and to thus make character. As those now being called grow in love for the Lord, every hindrance to his favor will be quickly noted. It is this class that in our text is represented as seeking Divine assistance in the searching out of their secret faults.

Some of these faults may be known to ourselves and to the Lord, but unknown to fellowmen. The heart that is truly converted to the Lord and to harmony with all the principles of righteousness which he represents must more and more desire full perfection—full victory over the weaknesses of the flesh, and must strive for this condition. Other secret faults may be secret from us but well-known to the Lord and possibly quite plainly manifest to our brethren and neighbors. How earnestly all who are truly the Lord's people should seek to see themselves as others see them, and to correct those faults which hitherto have been secret to themselves.

Assuredly the Lord's assistance is necessary in this work; but, in praying to him, in the language of our text, we should remember that his method of answering our petitions is to show us the facts of our case, and then to encourage us by his promises to fight a good fight against the weaknesses thus brought to our attention. The Bible is the Lord's lamp. The Spirit of his wonderful teachings, like a two-edged sword, is sharp and penetrating. It can discern or discriminate between the very thoughts and intents of the heart which deceive so many into thinking a wrong course justifiable. The Christian who makes continual and good use of this "sword" will soon find that with its assistance he is able to analyze his own motives lying behind his words and his acts; will sometimes find himself secretly them, and sometimes masquerading them as graces and virtues.

The difficulty with the majority of Christian people seems to be that they have never undertaken a close scrutiny of the motives lying behind their words or their deeds—yes, the motive or intention lying hidden in their own minds. The reason for this laxity, the reason for their failure to follow up with the searchlight and to "bring every thought into captivity to the will of God in Christ" is that they have not yet attained to a sufficiency of love for righteousness and a sufficiency of a hatred for iniquity. The reason for this condition of things may be that they are "babes in Christ" who have in the past fed merely upon the milk of the Word and not upon the strong meat and are, therefore, weak in the faith and weak every way along the lines of Christian character development. What they need is more love for the Lord and a greater appreciation of his Word, which will lead to more earnest study of the same.

"The entrance of thy words giveth light" (Psalm cxix, 130). As the Word of the Lord dwells richly and abundantly, it educates us respecting God's will and its standards and, if we are obedient to his will and his gracious purposes, we will endure his tests and ultimately stand approved as our Lord's joint-heirs in his Kingdom.

Keep From Presumptuous Sins.

One of the great character tests imposed upon the Church is humility. It is not sufficient that we love right and hate wrong and search for even our secret faults. Even after attaining perfection we might be presumptuous and, if so, be unfit for the proposed exaltation. Satan, when a holy angel called Lucifer, the Morning Star, was perfect; but the sin of presumption crept into his heart and blighted everything. So Satan strove to tempt our Lord, who was perfect, to commit a presumptuous sin, through which he would have made shipwreck of his career. He wished him to presume upon God's goodness and abundant care, not by starting a rival empire, as Satan himself had attempted to do, but to presume, nevertheless, upon Divine goodness to the extent of jeopardizing his life by leaping from the pinnacle of the Temple and trusting that God would suspend the laws of nature and work a miracle for his protection, when no such miracle had been demanded.

Applying this matter of presumptuous sin to the Church of our day, we find some who appear to be the Lord's people presuming upon his goodness and mercy and love by jumping from financial and other pinnacles and trusting for miraculous protection from disaster. This, to our understanding, is presumptuous sin. Sometimes we see presumptuous conduct amongst elders and others in the Body of Christ, much after the manner of Moses' transgression, when presumptuously he smote the rock, while God had merely bidden him to speak to the rock. For pastors and elders of the Church to assume and to exercise an unscriptural lordship over the Church would appear to us to be a presumptuous sin—a presuming to take place and authority not bestowed by the Lord. On the contrary, sometimes a congregation of the Lord's people may be presumptuous in neglecting the Scriptural direction to take heed to those who have the rule over them and watch for their souls, as those who must give an account. In how many ways might we be presumptuous and ignore the Lord, his supervision over the Church, and his message to us in his Word!

Our text declares, "Then shall I be innocent of the great transgression"—innocent of anything which would prove me unworthy of eternal life and worthy of everlasting death—"the Secret Death."

S.S.S. CURES OLD SORES

Every old sore is an infected spot on the flesh, kept open by constant drainage of impure blood into the place. One of the principal constituents of blood is plasma, a healing property. Where the circulation is pure this element of the blood, which is of a glutinous or sticky nature, performs the necessary work in healing all sores, wounds and lacerations. It does this by sticking or joining the parts together, while nature causes a knitting of the tissues and solidifies the place.

This healing property is frequently destroyed by impure accumulations in the blood, and this vital fluid not only loses its power to heal, but becomes a source of irritation and disease to any open sore or ulcer on the body. Constantly it discharges its morbid matters into the place, and gradually it causes the infection to spread, and the sore enlarges. The morbid matter in the blood comes from different causes. A long spell of debilitating sickness, which breeds disease germs in the system, the retention of the refuse matters of the body because of a sluggish condition of the eliminative members, a continued malarial state of the system, inherited bad blood, etc., are usually responsible.

S.S.S. heals sores and ulcers in the very simplest way. It just goes into the circulation, and removes the impurities and polluted matter that are the means of keeping the ulcer open; then the sore is bound to heal. S.S.S. is the greatest of all blood purifiers, and not only does it cleanse the circulation, but it adds every necessary property to it to promote good health. It is of the very greatest tonic value, and those who have been weakened and run down by the constitutional drainage of an old sore will find it the very remedy needed.

S.S.S. does not simply cause a scab to come over an old sore, but beginning at the bottom it heals the place permanently by building new tissue and filling in the place with firm, healthy flesh. Special book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice free. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

CURED OF EATING SORE.

Dear Sirs:—I was suffering greatly from a sore on my left breast, which had begun to eat, and at times deep, shooting pains would pass through it, and the ulcer was discharging yellow and rather offensive matter. I consulted physicians, but their treatment did not benefit me very much. My condition seemed hopeless, and I had almost despaired of getting well. I knew that the disease was hereditary in my case, as an only sister, my mother and two of her sisters had died of Cancer of the breast. After I had finished the first bottle of S.S.S. I felt some better, so continued it until I was cured.

GUILFORD'S ROADS THE BEST.

This the Verdict of Referee in National Automobile Tour.Mr. J. A. Davidson, chairman of the board of commissioners of Guilford county and vice president of the State Association of County Commissioners, has returned to his home in Gibsonville from Atlanta, where he attended a national good roads meeting and witnessed many of the automobile races held in Atlanta during the past week. Mr. Davidson was especially pleased with a write-up in the Atlanta Journal of the condition of the roads between New York and Atlanta, the story being based on an interview with Mr. W. E. Scarritt, of New York, the referee of the good roads tour taken by automobilists last month under the initiative of the New York Herald and Atlanta Journal. A paragraph, which was especially pleasing to Mr. Davidson and all Guilford county citizens who saw it was as follows:"Speaking broadly, this new national highway is not even now in the dawn of its construction a bad road, especially if the water-breaks on the Pennsylvania and Virginia roads are taken out. Many of them will be taken out before next year. I believe. Many county authorities pledge themselves to do this. I noticed very few in the south half of the highway.
Mecklenburg county, N. C., has a few of them, in unfavorable contrast with the broad, smooth stretches of macadam in Guilford county, N. C., where the excellent roads are absolutely innocent of them."This is simply another tribute to Guilford's good roads and additional testimony to the fact that there are none better.

THE LAYMEN'S MEETING.

Planning for Big Religious Event in Greensboro in January.Mr. F. A. Brown, of New York, who is to be secretary of the laymen's missionary conference to be held in Greensboro in January, was in the city Monday night and met a number of ministers and laymen for a discussion of the plans for the conferring meeting. He gave many valuable suggestions as to the best method of making the conference a success.
The best points obtained through the work done before the recent conference held in Richmond, Va., were brought out and Mr. Brown stated that the people of Greensboro should profit by the experiences of the Richmond people. He suggested that one of the prominent workers in the Richmond conference be secured to come here and discuss with the local committees the best plans to adopt.He also urged the publicity committee to issue a call at once for the conference and distribute this call in pamphlet form all over the state.

DEATH OF W. H. WETMORE.

Well Known Citizen Succumbs to Attack of Acute Indigestion.Mr. William H. Wetmore, a well known and highly esteemed citizen of Greensboro, died at his home on Arlington street about 4 o'clock Monday morning, death being due to a sudden and acute attack of indigestion. He retired in his usual health Sunday night and awoke an hour before his death suffering intensely.
Two physicians were hastily summoned, but it was apparent to the medical men that the attack was fatal and death ensued a few minutes after their arrival.The funeral was held from St. Andrew's Episcopal church, of which the deceased had been an official member for a number of years, yesterday morning, the service being conducted by the rector, Rev. Sanders R. Gulnard. The members of the vestry served as pall-bearers. The remains were carried to Thomasville
and interred in the family burying ground there.Mr. Wetmore was 57 years old and is survived by his widow and seven children, three sons and four daughters. He had made his home in Greensboro for the past 15 years and for a number of years was engaged in the work of an expert accountant.
He was a very capable business man,
and when the interests of the Dixie
and the North State Fire Insurance Companies were merged a few months ago, he was made treasurer of the consolidated corporation, known as the Dixie Fire Insurance Company.

Washington, Summers, November 25.
Bruce, Summerfield, November 26.KEEP POSTED!Shoes are going to be higher, especially heavy shoes, or what we call
"every day shoes." We don't like it—you don't like it—but it can't be helped. We have had notice from the shoe factories that they would have to charge us more money in future for several of the lines we carry. So there you go. Fortunately we have a big stock on hand and can supply
all your wants for some time to come at old prices. But if you want shoes at old prices, don't wait. You remember two years ago we told you there would be an advance—and our prediction came true. We are lucky
now to have plenty of shoes on hand, bought when prices were at the very lowest. Now, take our advice and let us supply you now, at once, with all the shoes you will need for this winter—for the whole family. We have all sizes now, from the babies up to men's number thirteens, and it's a good time to buy.Thacker & Brockmann,

GREENSBORO N. C.FARM LANDS
Safe InvestmentsWe believe that farm lands in Guilford county will continue to increase in value, and hence are the safest investment one can make.Believing the above, we began more than a year ago buying every farm that was offered to us at a price we believed to be under value.
We still have several thousand dollars to spend the same way. But to keep buying, we must sell. What we want is a reasonable profit on our investment.Having bought several very desirable places 2 miles to 15 miles from Greensboro VERY CHEAP FOR CASH we can and will save every land buyer money, whether he wants one acre or a thousand. It is to his interest to see us.Brown Real Estate Company
