LOCAL NEWS IN BRIEF FORM

MATTERS OF INTEREST TO THE READERS OF THE PATRIOT FAR AND NEAR.

Judge James E. Boyd has returned from a vacation trip to Atlantic City.

Mrs. Lee Orrell, of Charlotte, is visiting relatives in the city and county.

Mrs. M. G. Newell and children have returned from a visit to Mount Vernon Springs.

Mr. D. A. Oakley, of Greensboro, was a caller at The Patriot office Saturday.

Mrs. Charles H. Dorsett and daughter, Miss Maie, have returned from a visit to Blowing Rock.

Mrs. A. B. Kimball and her mother, Mrs. W. O. Donnell, of Oak Ridge, are visiting relatives in Greensboro.

Mr. L. A. Andrew had his right arm broken between the wrist and elbow while cranking his automobile Friday.

The two-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. King, who reside near Road, died yesterday morning at Greensboro.

Several farmers with whom The Patriot has talked during the past week say the tobacco crop promises to be better than had been expected.

Mr. R. P. Williams, who recently gave up his position as physical director of the Y. M. C. A., has returned to his home in Meredith, N. C.

Mr. J. Giles Foushee has sold his farm on the Battle Ground road to Mrs. Joyner, of the Battle Ground community, for a consideration of $4,500.

A new advertisement of the Odell Hardware Company on the second page enumerates a few of the good points of the Bon Ami air and oil burning stove.

Mr. John A. Williams has returned from Rochester, Minn., where he spent a few weeks doing surgical work in the hospital made famous by the Drs. Mayo.

Mrs. J. R. Diggins, of Stokesdale, and Mrs. M. W. Gant, of this city, are in North Wilkesboro on a visit to their daughter and sister, Mrs. Parker Holmes.

The city commissioners have disallowed a claim of $4,000 made by Mr. Joe Hardie, Jr., for alleged damages suffered by Hardie's mill by the diversion of water by the city from Rocky Fork creek.

Deputy Sheriff Henry Andrew, of Jefferson township, gave The Patriot a call Friday, but he was so busy to get back home and look after his wheat-threshing that he didn't have time to tell us the news.

St. George P. Phillips, who recently gave up the management of the Daily Record's job printing department to engage in farming in Moore county, left Friday with his family for his old home near Carthage.

Maude D. H. Collins, who spent several weeks as a patient at St. Luke's hospital during the spring, returned to the hospital Saturday afternoon and will undergo an operation. She is suffering from kidney trouble.

Dr. G. T. Rowe, presiding pastor of the Greensboro district, who has been quite ill for several weeks at his home on Summit avenue, is reported to be improving. His father, Rev. Dr. J. C. Rowe, of Asheville, is with him.

Rev. Dr. W. C. Wicker, of Elon College, lecturer of the North Carolina Grand Lodge of Masons, is in the city and will give a series of lectures this week in the Masonic hall on the corner of North Elm and West Gaston streets.

A telephone message to The Patriot Saturday afternoon gave the information that Mr. A. R. Thomas, a well known farmer of eastern Guilford, had threshed 142 1-2 bushels of wheat from eight acres and 109 bushels of rye from two acres.

Prospective purchasers of pianos and piano players will be interested in the cash piano sale to be conducted in this city by Mr. C. J. Brockmann from August 10 to September 1. The sale is advertised elsewhere in this issue of The Patriot.

Jesse Albright, colored, Friday made his second escape from the city convict force. He was given a sentence of 12 months in March for stealing a ham and escaped June 8, being captured in Durham the following day. He was given an additional sentence of 30 days for his day of stolen liberty.

here yesterday afternoon, relief from one of the two hottest days of the year. The maximum temperature recorded by the weather bureau thermometer was 104, which equaled the record established during the intensely hot weather in June.

Blaustein's department store advertises in this issue of The Patriot a big stock-reduction sale that will begin Thursday morning. The prices quoted in the advertisement on the sixth page give an idea of the number and variety of bargains that will be offered during the sale.

Howard, the five-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Smith, of Summerfield, died Saturday morning at the home of the parents. The funeral and interment took place at Summerfield yesterday, the services being conducted by Rev. T. B. Johnson, pastor of the Methodist church at that place.

Mrs. R. E. Paylor died Friday night at her home on West Market street, following a short illness of pneumonia. The body was carried Saturday to the former home of the family in Person county, near Roxboro, for the funeral and interment.

Mrs. Paylor is survived by two daughters and a son.

Prof. Alexander Graham, of the Charlotte graded schools, Friday appeared before the city commissioners and formally presented a copy of the Mecklenburg declaration of independence to be framed and hung on the walls of the Carnegie library. The copy was donated by Miss Violet Alexander, of Charlotte, a descendant of one of the signers of the declaration.

A portion of the real estate of the late W. O. Donnell, of Oak Ridge, has been divided into small farms and building sites and placed in the hands of Mr. R. C. Hood, of this city, for sale at auction on Saturday, September 19. This is valuable property in a most desirable community and the sale doubtless will attract many purchasers. The property is advertised elsewhere in The Patriot.

Dr. Jones at Pleasant Garden Tomorrow.

Dr. W. M. Jones, the county health officer, requests The Patriot to announce that he will be at Pleasant Garden tomorrow (Tuesday) afternoon to administer anti-typhoid vaccine. He had expected to go down in the morning and perhaps spend the greater part of the day, or as much as might be necessary, but now finds that he will be detained in Greensboro until about noon and expects to reach Pleasant Garden by 1:30 o'clock.

Dr. Jones has administered the anti-typhoid vaccine to 102 people of the Pleasant Garden community, which is a greater number than has been vaccinated in any other section of the county. The people of all sections of the county, however, are showing an interest in the work and the number of those requesting vaccination is increasing constantly. The vaccine is administered to a patient once a week for three weeks.

C. H. Stokes Dies Unexpectedly.

Mr. C. H. Stokes died of paralysis Friday morning at his home on South Mendenhall street. He had been in feeble health for some time, but his condition had not been considered especially serious until a short time before his death, when he was taken suddenly worse. He was 56 years old and is survived by four daughters and two sons. Mr. Stokes moved to Greensboro from Rockingham county last September and had been employed by the city as a supervisor of street work.

A short funeral service was held at the residence yesterday morning at 8:30 o'clock, conducted by Rev. Dr. Melton Clark and Rev. R. Murphy Williams, after which the body was carried to Reidsville and conveyed to Wolf Island church, where the interment took place.

Automobilists Injured.

Messrs. Lawrence and Z. T. Noah and Riley Chrismon suffered painful bruises and cuts in an automobile accident near Whitsett yesterday afternoon. Two other occupants of the car, Messrs. Noah and Bob Summers, escaped injury. The gentlemen were returning from Apple's chapel, where they had attended services, and the accident occurred when the driver attempted to turn the car on the macadam road. The machine turned over, pinning the occupants underneath. The automobile was badly damaged.

EXCITING CHASE AFTER AUTO BLIND TIGER.

Adolphus Charles, a white man of Winston-Salem, who was conveying an automobile load of contraband whiskey, was arrested by Sheriff Stafford and a posse of officers about midnight Saturday night after a long and exciting chase. Accompanied by Deputy Sheriffs Weatherly and Shaw and three High Point police officers, Sheriff Stafford had gone to the home of Dave Matthews, north of High Point, who was arrested on a warrant charging him with keeping a disorderly house.

While the officers were preparing to get in their automobiles to return a carriage containing several young men passed the house going in the direction of High Point. The carriage met an automobile a short distance from the house and one of the young men was heard to call, "Look out, the officers are down there."

The driver of the machine containing the whiskey quickened his speed and paid no attention to the command of the officers to stop. Sheriff Stafford and his deputies gave pursuit, and all the speed laws ever enacted were broken in a race of three miles or more. Finally a bullet from a pistol in the hands of one of the pursuers punctured one of the rear tires of the blind tiger automobile and the capture followed.

After patching up the puncture, the automobile, the liquor and Charles were brought to Greensboro. Charles at first refused to give his name and it was not until he had been committed to jail that his identity was discovered. Yesterday morning a brother came down from Winston-Salem and furnished bond in the sum of $1,000 for the prisoner's appearance before Squire S. H. Mitchell next Monday for a hearing.

The automobile driven by Charles contained 12 five-gallon kegs of corn whiskey. This was stored in the jail and the automobile is in a local garage in the custody of the sheriff.

Lawsuit Over a Dog.

A lawsuit brought by Mr. C. M. Coble against Mr. P. R. Hardin, asking damages for the killing by the defendant of a dog belonging to the plaintiff, was heard Friday by Justice of the Peace J. G. Fowler. Mr. Coble claimed that his dog was worth $50 and sued the defendant for that sum. The defendant admitted killing the dog and said that he had killed eight or ten others because he thought they were sucking eggs.

After hearing the testimony, Squire Fowler decided that the plaintiff was entitled to damages to the amount named and gave judgment in his favor. Mr. Hardin took an appeal.

Held For Highway Robbery.

George Barker, a negro youth of High Point, is in jail here charged with highway robbery in connection with holding up two small white children and taking from them the sum of 15 cents. Reports are that the negro met the children in the road and took the money from them by force. Hearing the screams of the children, a colored man living near came to their rescue. When he was told of what had occurred, the man took his gun and gave chase. Overtaking the youth, he held him at bay until the officers arrived.

Sunday School Convention.

The Jefferson township Sunday school convention was held Saturday at Mt. Pleasant Methodist church and was well attended. The Sunday schools of the following churches were represented: Alamance, Bethel, Mt. Pleasant, Shady Grove and Peace. The banner for the best average attendance, the best collections and the largest enrollment of new members was awarded to the Mt. Pleasant Sunday school for the third consecutive year. It was decided to hold the convention next year at Alamance Presbyterian church.

Frank A. Paylor Dead.

Mr. Frank A. Paylor, a well known shoemaker of this city, died at 3:30 o'clock Saturday morning at St. Leo's hospital, following an operation for appendicitis he had undergone Wednesday morning. He was 59 years of age and moved to Greensboro from Reidsville about 15 years ago. He is survived by his widow, four sons and four daughters. Following a short funeral at the residence this morning, the body was carried to Reidsville for interment.

SPECIAL TRAINING FOR SUNDAY SCHOOL TEACHERS.

Plans are being perfected for the organization of a training school for the officers and teachers of the Sunday schools of Greensboro. The work will be carried on under the direction of a council, the membership of which is as follows:

First Baptist, W. C. Jackson; Forest Avenue Baptist, J. A. Highsmith; Asheboro Baptist, Mrs. W. H. Matthews; Christian, John R. Foster; Holy Trinity, Prof. Wade R. Brown; St. Andrew's, Mrs. C. P. Langley; Friends, Miss Annie Petty; First Lutheran, W. W. Smith; West Market Methodist Episcopal, South, Dr. J. L. Mann; Spring Garden Methodist Episcopal, South, Miss Florence Gray; Centenary Methodist Episcopal, South, Rush Hodgins; Grace Methodist Protestant, J. Norman Willis; First Reformed, Rev. Shuford Peeler; Moravian, H. C. Snyder; Spring Garden Friends, Miss Annie Petty; Church of Covenant, Presbyterian, C. F. Sutherland; Westminster Presbyterian, E. P. Wharton; First Presbyterian, J. A. Matheson; Interchurch Association, A. W. McAllister; Holiness, Mrs. W. R. Cox.

Following are the officers of the council: President, J. Norman Willis; vice president, Miss Annie Petty; secretary-treasurer, H. C. Snyder; executive committee, Dr. C. W. Moseley, chairman; L. M. Johnson, S. A. Kerr, Will Truitt, Wade R. Brown, H. L. Kootz, John F. Troxler, P. D. Kerner, Miss Annie Meade Michaux, Miss Florence Ledbetter, Mrs. W. R. Cox.

The training school will begin work as soon as a faculty can be selected and other arrangements made.

Yow-OSborne Wedding.

A pretty wedding was solemnized Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lindley Osborne, southwest of the city, when their daughter, Miss Elsie Louise, became the bride of Dr. Archibald Yow, of Henderson. Rev. Albert Peele, of Guilford College, who united the father and mother of the bride in matrimony a quarter of a century ago, performed the ceremony.

A reception was given by the parents of the bride immediately after the ceremony, during which the bride and groom slipped away on their honeymoon.

The bride has held a position as teacher in the Guilford county schools since her graduation at Guilford College three years ago. The groom is a promising young veterinary surgeon of Henderson.

Big Deal in Real Estate.

The Southern Life and Trust Company and the North Carolina Trust Company, of this city, have just closed a deal for the purchase of a valuable tract of 100 acres of land in the suburbs of Wilmington. It is said that the purchase price was between $30,000 and $40,000, and while the plans of the new owners have not been announced, it is presumed they will develop the property.

Silver Jubilee.

The Ladies' Aid Society of Midway Presbyterian church will celebrate its twenty-fifth anniversary Friday, July 31, with a silver jubilee. There will be an address by Rev. Dr. E. C. Murray at 11 o'clock. Dinner will be served by the ladies and a voluntary offering will be taken.

Prohibition Defeated in Texas.

In the Democratic primaries in Texas Saturday J. E. Ferguson, the anti-prohibition candidate for governor, won the nomination over Thomas H. Ball, the prohibition candidate, by an estimated majority of 30,000. A proposition to submit a constitutional prohibition amendment to a vote of the people was also defeated.

Farmers' Institutes This Week.

Four of the five farmers' institutes allotted to Guilford county for this year will be held this week as follows: At Pleasant Garden on Wednesday; McLeansville, Thursday; Jamestown, Friday; Battle Ground, Saturday. The fifth institute will be held at Colfax on Friday, August 21.

Whether or not letter carriers of the country will be allowed to affiliate themselves with the American Federation of Labor will shortly be decided by Postmaster General Burleson.

YOUNG MAN DROWNED SATURDAY AFTERNOON.

Carr Roberson, a young man of 20 years of age, who resided with his widowed mother on West Lee street, was drowned Saturday afternoon in the new pond north of the Country Club, near the spot where Charles Bullard was drowned the previous Saturday afternoon. In company with G. A. Kellam, a young man of the Battle Ground community, young Roberson had gone to the pond for a swim. They had gone out on an old raft a short distance from the bank when the raft capsized and threw both of the young men into the water. Both started to swim for the bank, but Roberson was unable to make it. When Kellam observed his companion struggling in the water, he started to his relief, but before he could reach him Roberson sank.

In a short while a crowd gathered at the pond and a number of men dived for the body. These efforts proving futile, dynamiting was resorted to, but the body was not recovered until about 7:30 o'clock, when it was found near the bank.

The funeral took place at Westminster Presbyterian church yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, the services being conducted by Rev. E. C. Murray, of Alamance church, a former pastor of the deceased, assisted by Rev. Shuford Peeler. Interment was made in Greene Hill cemetery.

Besides his mother, young Roberson is survived by two brothers—Zeb Roberson, of this city, and J. G. Roberson, of Charlotte.

Reunion of the Coble Family.

A reunion of the Coble family will be held at Coble's Evangelical Lutheran church, in southern Guilford, on Wednesday, August 12. All people by the name of Coble and those related to them are invited to attend and participate in the exercises of the day. There will be addresses by several good speakers and a big picnic dinner will be served on the grounds. People who may have records of the Coble family are invited to send them to Abram Coble, of Julian, or take them with them to the reunion.

The committee on arrangements for the reunion is composed of Messrs. C. A. Coble, D. A. Coble and J. F. Erwin.

If all the Cobles in Guilford, Randolph and Alamance counties should attend the reunion, it would be one of the largest gatherings that has assembled in this section in quite a while.

IRISH ARE KILLED IN STREETS OF DUBLIN.

Dublin, Ireland, July 26.—Three men and one woman are dead and more than 60 persons are in the hospital, wounded, as the result of a battle of the King's Own Scottish Borderers late today firing into a mob in the streets of Dublin. Seven of the wounded are expected to die. Among them are three women and a boy of 10.

The affray was the result of a gun-running exploit of the nationalist volunteers, aided by a mob composed largely of women and youths. A consignment of rifles said to number 10,000, was landed last night at Howth, nine miles from Dublin, from a private yacht. The nationalist volunteers cut the telegraph wires and stopped travel on the Dublin road and, according to reports, sent away most of the rifles, together with 70,000 rounds of ammunition in motor cars.

A battalion of the King's Own Scottish Borderers was ordered to capture the arms today when the authorities heard the volunteers were bringing them into the city. The soldiers encountered a detachment of volunteers at Clonmel bridge. Soon a great crowd collected and followed the troops, jeering them and cheering for John Redmond and home rule. Finally the mob began throwing bottles and stones, injuring several soldiers. To the attack the battalion replied with a scattered fusillade. In an instant the street was covered with wounded, while terrified men, women and children ran in all directions.

One man is reported killed and several injured in an explosion Friday afternoon when dynamite was used in an effort to check flames that threatened to sweep the entire business section of Jacksonville, Ind. The damage is estimated at $400,000.

NORTH CAROLINA NEWS NOTES

A BRIEF SURVEY OF WHAT IS TRANSPIRING IN THE COMMONWEALTH.

The annual convention of the Randolph County Sunday School Association will be held in Liberty Wednesday and Thursday, August 19 and 20.

C. E. Teague, of Franklinville, who has been teaching in Robeson county, has been elected superintendent of the Asheboro graded schools.

There is an epidemic of glanders among the horses in the Vanceboro section of Craven county and is said the community will be quarantined for several weeks.

As the result of a dispute over a 10-cent ice bill, at Aberdeen Wednesday morning, Marcus Wimberly inflicted wounds on M. T. Goodwyn that may prove fatal.

Stanton Davis, a well known citizen of New Market township, Randolph county, died last Wednesday of typhoid fever. The funeral and interment took place at Marlboro church Thursday.

T. P. Ward, of Ether, Randolph county, committed suicide by shooting himself at his home Sunday morning, July 19. Despondency over continued ill health is given as the cause. He was 60 years old and is survived by his widow and seven children.

It is stated that $42,000 worth of huckleberries have been shipped from Mt. Olive, Wayne county, this season. The average price was about $2.75 per crate. These berries came from Duplin, Sampson and Wayne counties, and means about $2 clear money for the pickers on each crate sold.

Eighty-four bushels of peas, 41 bushels of early corn and 45 bushels of cane seed have been distributed to the farmers in the hail-stricken section of Gaston county. Thirty bushels of peas and 30 of corn were contributed by the government. The remainder was bought with a fund contributed for that purpose.

Governor Craig, who has been spending some time at his home in Asheville, left Friday night on a trip of two weeks in Pennsylvania and Ohio. He has accepted invitations to make several public addresses in these two states. During his absence from the state Lieutenant Governor Daughteridge will act as governor.

Governor Craig has named the following officers of the Atlantic and North Carolina railroad, which is owned by the state and operated by the Norfolk Southern under lease: Thomas D. Warren, of Newbern, president; W. T. Slocombe, of Goldsboro, secretary and treasurer; John G. Dawson, of Lenoir, attorney; J. K. Dixon, auditor; F. W. Hargett, of Onslow, state proxy. The road runs from Goldsboro to Morehead City.

SITUATION IN HAITI AND SAN DOMINGO SERIOUS.

Drastic action by the United States government in Haiti and San Domingo is imminent, but no steps of force will be taken until every effort is made to settle by peaceful means the revolutions in the two countries. President Wilson has explained to inquirers the position of the American government toward the two republics as one of much anxiety. He said marines had been concentrated in the vicinity of the islands, so as to be ready for any emergency that might arise with respect to the lives and property of Americans and foreigners generally, and admitted that the representatives of the United States had used strong language in urging the rebellious elements to stop fighting.

The president indicated that the situation had progressed to a serious point, but that no fixed policy of intervention had as yet been determined upon, and future steps would depend on the developments from day to day. He spoke of the difficulty which representatives of the American government had experienced in reaching the leaders of the various factions, and intimated that no answer which could be considered final had been received as yet from the military chiefs.

Thirty-seven indictments charging murder, arson and riot were returned Friday night at Greenwood, Ark., by the grand jury investigating the riots and destruction of five mines of the Bach-Danman coal syndicate at Prairie Creek last week.

Seed Potatoes FOR FALL CROP.

The planting of Seed Potatoes in June and July is increasing to a wonderful extent. A great many farmers claim that they give better crops planted at this time than they do when planted in the spring. Potatoes planted in June and July mature in the cool weather of the fall, at a time when they can be harvested to best advantage.

The Seed Potatoes we offer are put in cold storage early in the season, so as to keep in first-class, vigorous condition. "Wood's Crop Special" giving prices and full information about Late Seed Potatoes and all other Seasonable Seeds, mailed free on request.

CARRANZA'S AGENT HAS FULL POWER TO ACT.

Washington, July 23.—Reginaldo Cepeda, senator from the state of Coahuila and intimate friend of General Carranza, has been selected by Provisional President Carranza to negotiate the transfer of the government at Mexico City to the constitutionalists.

Mr. Cepeda, who was in hiding in Mexico City during the Huerta dictatorship, left Vera Cruz today for Tampico to meet Carranza. He has full instructions to arrange for the transfer of government.

Jose Castellot, personal representative of Mr. Carranza, today conveyed this information to Secretary Bryan. Messrs. Mangel, Norvelo and Urueta, who it had been supposed would constitute the Carranza delegation, merely volunteered their services and have no credentials from Carranza.

As soon as Dr. Cepeda is received by General Carranza, an armistice will be formally signed as the first step in the negotiations. General Carranza has indicated his willingness to declare a truce during the negotiations, and the Carranza government is anxious to do likewise. The Carranza envoy has been instructed to ask for only two things—a complete amnesty for political offenders and guarantees of protection to the lives and property of the Mexican people.

Secretary Bryan expressed confidence there would be no difficulty in the way of the Carranza-Carranza agreement.

Villa and Zapata, however, are causing uneasiness, but President Wilson today said he was sure Villa would cause no trouble. Secretary Bryan made public dispatches from George C. Carothers, special representative of the state department, with Villa, saying the fighting general would not break with Carranza.

Federal Aid For Vocational Training

That national grants be given to the individual states for the purpose of stimulating vocational education and that appropriations be made to a federal board for making studies and investigations which shall be of use in vocational schools are the fundamental recommendations made to Congress in the report of the commission on national aid to vocational education, made public by John A. Lapp, a member of the commission.

A bill which the commission prepared for submission to Congress provides that a total of almost $50,000,000 shall be distributed for vocational education uses among the individual states in the 10-year period between 1916-1925. It is proposed that the national grants shall be made in two forms—one to provide for the training of teachers, and the other to be used in part payment of teachers' salaries.

The report declares there is a "crying need" for vocational training and that the task of providing such education adequately is far too stupendous for the individual states.

"Unrest a Sign of Progress."

There is no foundation for much of the agitation about business conditions in the United States asserted George M. Reynolds, president of the Chicago Continental and Commercial National Bank, and John G. Shedd, president of Marshall Field & Co., in their testimony in Chicago Friday before the federal commission on industrial relations.

Mr. Shedd said his firm employs between 12,000 and 15,000 persons. "Unrest in industry is world-wide," he said, "and is caused by a desire for better food, better housing, better clothing and more leisure. A large element is the prevailing agitation for purely political purposes and by irresponsible for purposes of notoriety. Another element is the rapidly increasing complexity of industrial conditions."

"Unrest is a sign of progress, not necessarily an evil."

Republicans Ready to Quit.

Washington, July 24.—Republicans in the Senate today surprised Democrats by stating that they are anxious to adjourn Congress and will hold the Democrats to their legislative program, permitting no business but trust legislation and conference reports to be discussed. The Democratic leaders thought the Republicans would filibuster and hold Congress in session as long as possible, in view of the fall campaigns.

EXPECT BEST FARMERS' CONVENTION YET HELD.

The program for the twelfth annual farmers' state convention and round-up institute, to be held at the A. and M. College, in Raleigh, August 25-27, is ready for distribution and carries a number of features of special interest to the farmers of the state.

A number of prominent speakers from out of the state have consented to come and address the convention. The evening programs will be of a more or less popular nature and with illustrated lectures.

On Wednesday, August 26, the convention will be divided into five sectional conferences, to be held in various halls on the campus, each conducted by a specialist. It is the desire of the committee that these conferences be made very informal and that the farmers will join freely in the discussions. Field demonstrations in the early mornings and late afternoons will be features of the convention.

There will be a free band concert on the college campus Tuesday and Wednesday evenings from 6.30 to 7.30.

The college will furnish the dormitories free, and meals at 25 cents each will be served in the college dining hall.

The largest convention in the history of the state is anticipated.

President Ends Bitter Fight.

President Wilson Thursday ended the bitterest fight of his administration by withdrawing the nomination of Thomas D. Jones, of Chicago, to be a member of the federal reserve board. Mr. Jones had written urging this action.

The message of withdrawal reached the senate just as Senator Reed, of Missouri, one of the Democrats opposing confirmation of the appointment, was concluding a vigorous denunciation of the International Harvester Company, of which Mr. Jones is director, and those responsible for its existence and operations. It created a mild sensation and cut short a debate that promised to run indefinitely.

With the brief message, the president sent copies of Mr. Jones' letter and his reply. Opposition to the nominee had been based on his connection with the harvester company, which is under indictment as a trust. The senate banking committee had submitted a majority report adverse to confirmation, signed by all the Republican and Democratic members. Mr. Jones wrote that this report was "based on a distortion of facts and perversion of the truth."

Bryan Treaties Submitted.

President Wilson sent to the senate for ratification Secretary Bryan's new peace treaties with 20 nations providing for investigation of disputes in all cases where diplomacy has failed. They are the treaties the president wants ratified before Congress adjourns. Whether they can be pushed through is considered doubtful.

The treaties are with Salvador, Guatemala, Panama, Honduras, Nicaragua, the Netherlands, Bolivia, Portugal, Persia, Denmark, Switzerland, Costa Rica, Dominican Republic, Venezuela, Italy, Norway, Peru, Argentina, Brazil and Chile. The three latter were signed Friday. Similar conventions with Great Britain and France have not been signed.

Allege Wheat Price Gouge.

Investigation of an alleged conspiracy among dealers and exporters of wheat at Kansas City to depress prices to farmers was provided in a resolution by Representative Doolittle, of Kansas, favorably reported Thursday by the interstate commerce committee. Secretary Redfield, of the department of commerce, assured Mr. Doolittle he would at once send two inspectors to Kansas to investigate and report.

Mr. Doolittle told the house of representatives that for an 180,000,000 bushel wheat crop producers were getting 63 cents a bushel at loading elevators in Kansas, while large quantities were being sold for export at Kansas City as high as 85 cents.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve for all

Ownership by interstate carriers of stock in other corporations, without sanction of the interstate commerce commission, would be made a criminal offense by a bill introduced in Congress by Senator Norris, of Nebraska. Disclosures of the New Haven investigation and the New York Central Railroad's interest in coal companies prompted the measure.

Any official using a railroad's money for campaign contributions or for procuring franchise rights would be criminally liable.

The Bank That Backs the Farmer

What is your idea of a bank? We will tell you our idea of what a bank ought to be and what the fixed policy of this bank is:

We cater to no one class. We serve no special interest. We seek only the legitimate banking business of all classes of honest men in this community. We are neither so big as to despise or discourage small accounts, nor so small as to accept undesirable business just for the sake of more accounts. If you believe that this kind of a bank ought to be your bank, come in and talk it over. You will receive every courtesy and accommodation consistent with sound banking.

LAUGH AND BE MERRY.

Laugh and be merry; remember, better the world with a song,
Better the world with a blow in the teeth of a wrong.
Laugh, for the time is brief, a thread the length of a span.
Laugh and be proud to belong to the proud pageant of man.
Laugh and be merry; remember, in golden time,
God made Heaven and earth for joy He took in a rhyme.
Make them and filled them full with the strong red wine of His mirth,
The splendid joy of the stars; the joy of the earth.
So we must laugh and dring from the deep blue cup of the sky,
Join the jubiliant song of the great stars sweeping by;
Laugh and battle, and work, and drink of the wine outpoured
In the dear green earth, the sign of the joy of the Lord.
Laugh and be merry together, like brothers akin,
Laughing awhile in the rooms of a beautiful inn,
And all the dancing steps and the lilt of the music ends;
And all the game is played; and be merry, my friends.

THE ULSTER SITUATION NEARING A CRISIS.

London, July 24.—Formal announcement that the Buckingham palace conference on home rule could not bridge the narrow differences which separated the Ulsterites and the Nationalists on the Irish home rule bill was made to King George today by the speaker of the house of commons, the Rt. Hon. James Lowther, and to the house itself by Premier Asquith.
While the failure of the king's attempt to bring about a compromise was well known Wednesday, the fact that the party leaders continued to disagree on the question at issue kindled hope throughout the country that the deadlock might yet be broken. The definite fall of the curtain on the monarch's plan to bring face to face the men who are most responsible for the present sensational crisis leaves the country in a mood of deepest pessimism.

None attempts to predict what the next step may be. No one sees any possibility of a settlement of the dispute unless it be by the government appealing to a verdict of the country through a general election and such step would be considered generally not a compromise by a supporter by Premier Asquith's cabinet.
The information made public by the premier was brief and unsatisfactory as to details. He said only:

I have to inform the house that the conference summoned by his majesty, the king, held four meetings, on the 21st, 22nd, 23rd and 24th of July, respectively. The possibility of defining an area to be excluded from the operation of the Government of Ireland bill was considered. The conference being unable to agree, either in principle or in detail, upon such an area, brought its proceedings to a conclusion. A report was drawn up by the speaker, the chairman of the conference and presented to his majesty, the king.

HOW UNCLE SAM SPENDS YOUR INCOME TAX DOLLAR.

The American Magazine sent Ray Stannard Baker to Washington to trace your income tax dollar and report penny for penny exactly how Uncle Sam spends it. The result of his investigation appears in the August number. Under the indirect method of taxation, by which we still continue to raise most of our revenues, few people felt any concern as to what the government spent, but with a direct tax like the income tax several hundred thousand Americans will feel this year, for the first time, just what it means to help buy warships, and pay for unnecessary postoffices. Following is part of Mr. Baker's report:

"The very first thing that struck me, and struck hard, was the fact that, although we have had no great war in fifty years (and only a little one sixteen years ago), over sixty cents of every dollar that Uncle Sam collects from you and me (directly or indirectly) goes for 'military purposes,' including continuing expenses of past wars—pensions.

"I think that few people realize what this means—in a nation which considers itself peculiarly devoted to peace.

"Sixty-three per cent to the army, navy and pensions, and only thirty-seven per cent to pay all the other vast and useful purposes of the government, excluding postal service and the preposterous sinking fund—required by law, but never provided in fact. This thirty-seven per cent only is available for building the Panama canal, improving our rivers and harbors, supporting the Indians, encouraging agriculture, public health and education, to say nothing of taking care of the entire machinery of civil government—Congress, executive, courts, and the diplomatic and consular service.

"In the estimates for the new year the expenditure of the government for all purposes (with the exceptions above stated) reaches the vast sum of $740,000,000. Of this, $446,000,000 go for war purposes and forty-five per cent of this goes for pensions, retirements, and interest on war debts."

Another Balkan War Threatened.

European diplomacy is faced with a situation of extreme gravity in the controversy between Austria and Serbia. Unless it is handled with great delicacy it is not unlikely that others will become involved in war. An Austro-Hungarian ultimatum to Serbia, couched in a tone of almost unprecedented severity and fastening on the Serbian government and people responsibility for the assassination of Archduke Francis Ferdinand and his wife at Sarajevo, has been presented to Belgrade. It demands satisfaction within 48 hours.

The almost universal opinion in the European capitals is that the Serbian government cannot comply with such humiliating terms as are set forth in the ultimatum, since compliance will be tantamount to an admission of Serbia's guilt.

STAY ON THE FARM AND BE YOUR OWN BOSS.

Progressive Farmer.
There is one thing we should like to urge very strongly in this issue, Mr. Farmer Boy, and that is that you stay on the farm where you can be your own boss, instead of going off to the city to be somebody's clerk or hired man—that is, unless you have some special marked and definite work for some particular work.

It is true, of course, that the farmer does not now get all the profit he ought to get—nor all he is going to get—but it is also true that the workingman in the country fares better than the workingman in town. Read all you can, study all you can, and prepare yourself to be a good farmer—a genuinely wide-awake, progressive farmer—and you will, nine chances out of ten, fare better than if you should go to town.

As we see it, the farmer's day is coming. The thought of the world is turned as never before to building up the country. The government itself which was once interested in protecting manufactures, developing manufactures, and building up the towns, is beginning to see that the source of all prosperity is the farm. But the one best sign is that the farmers themselves are getting aroused and studying their privileges and rights. Already the awakening and organization of the farmers have resulted in untold good, and you ought to resolve now that there shall be a farmers' organization in your neighborhood as long as you live. If you are over 16 years old, join the Farmers' Union or whatever other organization is nearest you, and take an active part in it. Speak to your father about it.

Another thing which insures better times for the Southern farmer is this: For a hundred years until very recently we have had to compete with cheap-land farmers in the West. That is to say, any farmer could go out West and stake out a "homestead," and sell his crops without allowance for land values because his land cost him nothing, or practically nothing. But all that is past. The cheap lands of the West have gone, and now when the Western farmer sells his crops he must add $5 to $10 per acre as an allowance for rent or for interest on land values. And because of this fact crops simply can't be sold as cheaply as formerly.

Then, too, city populations have increased faster than country populations the whole world over, and it is becoming more and more difficult for the city people to get enough meats and food stuffs. There are several million more people in the United States than there were five years ago, while there are several million fewer meat animals. This is an indication that farm products must go higher, especially livestock.

One of the greatest of the world's students of rural problems declared recently that in the future labor on the farm is going to be better paid than labor in the towns, and we believe he is right. Stick to the farm.

Panama Canal to Open August 15.

It is officially announced in Washington that the Panama canal will be opened for commerce to all ships needing not more than 30 feet of water on and after August 15. A majority of the merchant vessels that will use the canal do not draw more than 30 feet.

On that day Governor Goethals will inaugurate the opening of the canal to regular commercial service by sending through the entire length of the canal one of the ships of the Panama Railroad Company, which is owned by the United States.

There will be no ceremonies incident to this opening. Newspaper representatives will be permitted to be aboard the first vessel passing through and a list of invited guests will be announced later.

The official opening of the canal will take place in March, 1915. The opening the waterway to commercial service on August 15 will in no way interfere with the arrangements for the formal opening.

Flash of Lightning in Rockingham.

Madison Herald.
During a recent thunderstorm lightning struck and severely burned a small grand-daughter of Mr. Steve Angel, in Huntsville township, though fortunately no serious damage was done. The bolt struck one of her fingers, ran up her arm, jumped off at the elbow and ran around her body. Her small sister standing nearby was knocked down by the same bolt, though not badly hurt. Another child in the same neighborhood was also shocked by lightning during the same storm.

Lightning also played a strange prank at the home of Mr. A. B. Carter, on Sandy Ridge, Route 1, last week when it struck the stove flue of his kitchen, ran down the pipe and burst a hole in it about two feet above the stove, jumped off and knocked a hole in the kitchen floor several inches in diameter, and ran out on the ground at the four corners of the building. The stove was not injured, though several pots and kettles sitting on it were knocked winding. Mr. Carter and his family were in the adjoining room but escaped uninjured.

An Age Limit For Judges.

A dispatch from Washington says: There is an "age limit" for the justices of the Supreme court. This was made plain by President Wilson today. The Democratic congressional delegation from North Carolina asked the appointment of Judge Walter Clark, of the Supreme court, of their state, who is 68 years old, but still active. The president told his callers that he did not believe he could consider the qualifications of Justice Clark and that he could not conscientiously consider for the Supreme court bench any candidate whose age exceeded 60.

Further Extension of Freight Rate Act.

Governor Craig has issued another proclamation further extending the date for the Justice act of the special session of the legislature fixing reduced intrastate freight rates to go into effect, the latest extension of time being to August 10, by which time it is expected that the special intrastate rate commission will have completed its investigation and definitely declared what the intrastate rates shall be as they are empowered to do by the act.

Indeed, the expectation is understood to be that the commission will complete and submit to the governor its report within the next few days, not only passing on the reasonableness and fairness of the rates prescribed in the Justice act, but definitely specifying what the intrastate rates involved shall be. This report to the governor is also to go to the corporation commission for promulgation as the schedule of rates that shall be applied by the railroad companies.

MONDAY, JULY 27, 1914.

Friday's issue of the Madison Herald announces that the paper is suspending publication a few weeks and will appear again about August 15. This is a regular summer habit of Editor Misenheimer, who seems to be bent on taking his annual vacation, whether school keeps or not.

The fine crop reports cause the railroads to feel that it is safe to let go of a little money, and just as soon as they go shopping among the foundries and rolling mills and car shops everybody hears that business is better, and on the strength of that goes out and spends some money, and that makes business better. Here and there in every direction, except in the Republican campaign headquarters, are indications of more business and greater confidence.

The Philadelphia Record asserts that in the entire history of partisan politics in this country there was never anything so scandalous as the wilful efforts of Republican politicians and some Republican business men to create a business depression for the sake of injuring the political prospects of the Democratic party. Says the Record: "It isn't quite seven years since the country was afflicted with a disastrous panic under a Republican regime, but in the face of this recent recollection the Republicans have recklessly exaggerated the sluggishness of business and attempted to make the administration responsible for it. Let any business man reflect on the consequences to his business of stories in disparagement of his credit, and he will see how serious to the business of the nation has been the campaign of the calamity howlers, who might very well have caused the panic they predicted and half hoped for."

Wilson's Visit Boosts His Tax.

Col. Robert Ewing, Democratic national committeeman from Louisiana, is beginning to appreciate the fact that entertaining the president of the United States has its disadvantages. The colonel owns a handsome shore home by the Mississippi sound, near where President Wilson spent his holiday last winter.

The visit of the president has served to impress the residents there that their sound resort is to be the American Riviera and one of the greatest midwinter resorts of the Western world. As a result, the assessors of Harrison county have assessed Colonel Ewing's winter home at just double the value of a year ago before the president's visit. The colonel is willing to endure the extra burden if the president will consent to go to Mississippi again.

Roosevelt Sued For Libel.

William Barnes, Jr., chairman of the New York state Republican executive committee, has instituted suit against ex-President Roosevelt for $50,000 damages for alleged libel, the suit being based on an attack made on Mr. Barnes by Mr. Roosevelt in a statement given out last week. In commenting on the suit, Col. Roosevelt said: "Let Mr. Barnes go on; I have never said anything that I could not prove." Roosevelt has charged Barnes with being a political crook.

THE FARMER NEEDS TWO KINDS OF CREDIT.

Charlotte Observer.

The farmer needs two kinds of credits. One is a short credit of about a year to make a crop. The other is a long credit of five to fifteen years to buy a farm.

The first sort of credit mentioned, to-wit: the one to make a crop, is an ordinary banking transaction, and has been provided for in the new banking system, by making real estate collateral for credits not extending over a year.

The second, or long credit, is one with real estate as security, by means of which a man may buy a farm and by means of installment payments can make the price of the farm out of its operation. When the farm is rented, the annual crops must of necessity pay the rents, and there must be enough left for the farmer to live on and make a new crop. It is a question of how much the debt is and how much the price paid for land, whether the rent money in the same length of time will pay for the farm. Therefore, the length of time of the credit might be as short as five years, or it might reach to as long period as 15 years. In this country any farmer may buy a farm and pay for it out of the products of the farm inside of 15 years. In Europe there are cases where long-time farm loans in many cases are as long as 30 years. We have heard of a case of it being 75 years. In such cases, the installment payments, including interest, would be far less than the rent money.

The query is: Where is the money to come from? The answer to the query is: It comes from the farmers themselves. The accumulated installments of a number of farmers grow rapidly. It is amazing how rapidly they do grow.

The same principle has been applied to develop homes for working people under the name of building and loan associations. They started without money, excepting that money chipped in weekly or monthly by the members. The aggregate money now in the building and loan associations of the United States amounts to as much as that of the aggregate capital of the national banks.

The talk about copying the European system of long credits seems to ignore the fact that in this country there is a system already in operation, and all that is needed is for the farmers to apply it. The industrial workers of the United States are rapidly becoming a home-owning people through their own savings. Under the system they are using, the owner gets the house first, and pays for it afterwards, thus, he is able to utilize his rent money in paying for the house. Under a similar system the farmers in Germany get their farms before they pay for them, and instead of paying rent money annually, they pay the installment of the debt, and with each installment the farms are that much nearer their own.

An inheritance tax of $447,443, the largest in the history of California, will be paid on the estate of the late William G. Irwin, of San Francisco, who died July 29, 1913. Irwin, who was one of the sugar kings of the Pacific coast, left an estate which has been appraised at $5,573,789 by the state.

The widow, to whom the bulk of the estate was left, will pay $421,567 of the inheritance tax and the other legatees, nieces and nephews, the remainder. The tax will be paid in quarter instalments, State Comptroller Chambers reported.

Irwin became rich on an investment of $1. More than 30 years ago he bought 139 square miles of land on one of the Hawaiian islands for $1 from a native. He developed the land into one of the finest sugar plantations in the world.

Coal Production Breaks Records.

The production of coal in the United States has again broken all previous records, the output for 1913 being 570,048,125 short tons, which is considerably more than double the production of 1900 and more than eight times the production of 1880, according to a statement just issued by the United States geological survey, from figures compiled by Edward W. Parker, coal statistician. The value of the coal mined in 1913 is given as $760,488,785.

The government will seek to recover $861,576.95 from the Western Fuel Company in a suit soon to come up in the Federal court at San Francisco. According to United States District Attorney Preston, more suits are to follow to a total amount approximating $2,000,000. The suit already on file represents the full value of some forty shiploads of coal sold by the company to the government, mainly for the army transport service. The government asserts that the coal was underweight.

Will Not Hear Out Roosevelt.

Theodore Roosevelt's request to be heard by the senate foreign relations committee in opposition to the Colombian treaty, by which the United States would pay $25,000,000 for the Panama Canal strip and express regret that anything should have occurred to "mar the friendly relations between the two countries" remains unanswered, and it is said that no decision will be reached for another week.

Democratic members of the committee and administration leaders generally are said to be opposed to holding public meetings with regard to the treaty and particularly to the appearance of Colonel Roosevelt. In this they follow the sentiments of Senator Stone, chairman of the foreign relations committee, who reiterated his declaration that the president had said all he could say about the Colombian matter and if he had anything further to say, "let him write it."

Many Requests For Vaccine.

A report from Raleigh says the state laboratory of hygiene is up to its neck with orders for anti-typhoid vaccine. Everybody seems to want to be immunized against typhoid. The laboratory people haven't time just now to even count up the number of treatments sent out, but they estimate that it averages about 9,000 doses a week, or enough to immunize about 3,000 people every week. Within another week they hope to catch up with their orders, and after that they will be able to fill all requests the same day or the day after they are received.

The vaccine is sent out free of charge, the only condition being that people who want to be immunized have their family physician or health officer order the vaccine. The laboratory will not send the vaccine to a layman, because it has to be injected under the skin and the layman has no means of administering it.

Defies Imaginary Assassins.

Addressing a wildly enthusiastic audience at Laurens, S. C., Thursday in his campaign for the United States senate, Governor Cole L. Blease told of recent attacks which had been made upon him. He said a cotton manufacturer at Witmer told him to "Go to h—." A capitalist at Anderson approached him with pistol in hand and a bank president at Greenville cursed him and tried to assault him Saturday. "It is reported that I will be assassinated here today," said Governor Blease. "If the assassin is here, there is nothing between me and the dirty coward. Let him shoot." Governor Blease added that he believed in fatalism. The manner of his death had been predestined, he said, and nothing could change it. He defied assassins.

The August American Magazine.

In the August American Magazine "Jerry" Travers, present amateur golf champion of the United States, writes an article full of thrilling stories and good advice entitled "Wonder Shots that Won Golf Championships." It is just as interesting to readers who never played golf as to those who do play the game.

Ray Stannard Baker tells "How Uncle Sam Spends Your Income Tax Dollar." He went to Washington, made an investigation, and reports penny for penny what becomes of a dollar when Uncle Sam gets it—63 cents for this, 17 cents for that, etc. His article is full of news and genuine surprises.

Mary Garden, the celebrated opera singer, writes an article entitled "The Opera Singer and the Public," which is full of the frankest kind of statements—such, for example, as her poor opinion of the English in musical matters.

Will Irwin tells a wonderful true dog story; Walter Prichard Eaton tells a love story; Stephen Leacock writes of "Arcadian Adventures with the Idle Rich." Number 6606, a convict in a western penitentiary, writes another Boston Blackie story entitled "The Story of Dad Morgan;" Alice Hegan Rice, famous as the author of "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," writes a story of a Kentucky mountaineer called "Pop;" Marjorie Benton Cooke goes on with "Bamby;" a husband with twenty-five years' experience in matrimony writes of the discoveries and experiences of middle age; and the interesting People department contains intimate accounts of five remarkable characters.

James Montgomery Flagg does an amusing piece in words and pictures about vacations entitled "Going Away From Here," and Gelett Burgess, under the title "Burgess Unabridged," begins a dictionary of words that are always needed.

The prize-winning letters in the contest entitled "The Best Story I Ever Heard" complete the number.

No possession is gratifying without a companion.—Seneca.

Refused to Oust Squatters.

Friends of the late Rev. Dr. William B. Palmore, of St. Louis, who for many years was a well-known religious editor, are telling that among his effects will be found a deed to 10,000 acres of coal lands in Virginia, which are worth millions.

The property was purchased by Doctor Palmore's father, and some years ago, so the friends say, Doctor Palmore found the deed and went to Virginia to inspect the lands. He found that they were settled by small farmers and squatters, but that his title to the lands was unquestionably good.

However, with the remark "they need it worse than I do," he returned to his work and is said never to have referred to the Virginia land again. No mention of the property was made in the will left by Doctor Palmore, and his executors say that, even in case the deed is found among his papers, his wishes will be respected and no attempt will be made to claim the land for the estate.

COKE FOR SALE

With our new coal gas plant now in full operation, we are in a position to help you solve your fuel problem. Coke is an ideal fuel for your Kitchen Range. It is clean and makes no smoke or soot. It makes a very steady, hot fire.

A ton of coke is very much more in bulk than a ton of coal; therefore a much cheaper fuel.

Neighborhood News.

Matters of Interest Reported by Our Corps of Correspondents.

TABERNACLE.

Mrs. Pearl Reynolds is spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. Henry Hanner, of Julian.

Misses Millie and Dona Bowman spent Saturday night with their grandmother, Mrs. Martha Bowman. Several people from this community attended the big meeting at Julian the third Sunday.

Miss Johnnie Kirkman, of Greensboro, spent Saturday night with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Kirkman.

The protracted meeting at Tabernacle began yesterday, the fourth Sunday.

Gen. Villa Buying Arms.

Contrary to official Washington advice that the administration was meeting with success in pacifying different sections among the constitutionalists and that peace was near in Mexico, it was reported in El Paso, Tex., Friday that General Villa's agents were buying large quantities of arms at Chicago and St. Louis. Agents of the national constitutionalist declared that none of the purchases had been made by General Carranza.

Coincident with this came further news that Villa was entrenching himself in his Chihuahua stronghold. Arrivals from Santa Rosalia, Torreon, Chihuahua City and other points said those towns were placed under with appeals for enlistment in the army of the north. Two pesos a day was offered, making a scarcity of laborers in mines and on ranches.

Two Greensboro Concerns Chartered.

The secretary of state Friday issued charters for two Greensboro corporations. One is the Winslow System Company, with an authorized capital of $100,000, for promoting a new system of accounting devised and patented by Mr. T. N. Winslow. The other is the Sink Ditching Machinery Company, with an authorized capital of $22,000 and $12,500 subscribed by Messrs. H. F. Sink, R. R. King and R. R. King, Jr. The company is organized to manufacture and sell a new ditching machine.

Bandits Were Polite.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 24.—Heavily armed deputies were sent out in four automobiles to search the foothills for three chivalrous bandits who held up a Southern Pacific southbound passenger train last night and escaped with $333 of the passengers' money. The robbery took place near Hewitt, 17 miles north of here.

The robbers, who were masked, refused to accept jewelry offered by passengers, but insisted on getting cash. They cursed and threatened every man in the train, but treated the women with great courtesy and consideration.

Eases Torment of Asthma and Hay Fever.

For the discomfort and misery of asthma and hay fever use Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. It puts a soothing, soothing coating over swollen, tickling membranes, and eases the thick and choking sensation. Helps you to breathe easily and naturally. Mrs. Agatha Longacker, Fond du Lac, Wis., says: "My left lung was greatly affected by a severe cold, and one-half bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar cured me." Refuse any substitute offered. Conyers & Sykes, adv.

Mexicans Becoming More Friendly.

Following the order of President Carbajal that the statue of Washington be replaced on the pedestal from which it was torn during the anti-American riots in Mexico City, a revulsion of feeling toward the United States has been experienced by Mexican citizens and press alike. The belief that the Americans will evacuate Vera Cruz just as soon as a duly elected president is installed grows every day.

Kindlier feeling toward Americans is being manifested on all sides. Where last fall the American Club was stormed and nearly wrecked by Mexicans, today the Mexican press is coming forward with demands that reparation in full be made to all Americans who suffered. The newspapers are insisting that the person who took the arm of Washington's statue return it at once. The arm has been missing since the statue was torn down.

No Heavy Loss From Army Worm.

In the opinion of Franklin Sherman, entomologist for the state department of agriculture, the farmers of the state are in no danger of a destructive spread of the "army worm" crop pest, the presence of which has been reported in a number of counties the past week or two. He says this is due to the application of one and another of the several remedies for the extermination of the worms. A number of the farmers in those counties in which there have been invasions by the "army worm" have suffered right heavily, but those losses have been confined to specific fields in which the pests developed.

Vital Statistics For June.

The vital statistics reported to the state board of health for the month of June show 6,753 births and 3,535 deaths in North Carolina during the month, the births exceeding the deaths by 3,218. The department estimates that in the course of a year the births in the state exceed the deaths by 38,616. North Carolina's death rate is 18.24 per thousand and the death rate in the United States is 14.4 per thousand. A large part of this difference prejudicial to North Carolina is that the vital statistics in this state are gathered now so much more completely than in the country at large.

Anti-Smoking Serum.

Dr. Elsie F. Trapp, an instructor in the University of Michigan, who sailed from New York a few days ago by the Austro-American liner Argentina for Trieste, is bound for Vienna to demonstrate to a convention of physicians there her remedy for nicotine poisoning. She declares that after a lover of tobacco is once inoculated with the anti-nicotine serum he loses all desire to smoke.

A Perfect Cathartic.

There is sure and wholesome action in every dose of Foley Cathartic Tablets. They cleanse with never a gripe or pain. P. A. Morgan, Gore, Ga., writes: "I lately had occasion to use a liver medicine, and took Foley Cathartic Tablets. They thoroughly cleansed my system, and I felt like a new man—light and free." Chronic cases of constipation find them invaluable. Stout people are relieved of that bloated, congested feeling, so uncomfortable especially in hot weather. They keep your liver busy. Conyers & Sykes.

Not Too Many.

There are about 200 brands of religion. But that isn't so many when you remember that there are about 78,962,354 brands of cussedness.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Automobiles For Plowing.

St. Nicholas.
Hitching an automobile to a plow has been tried with more or less success, but a newly-invented tractor makes it possible to keep a light car steadily employed for such heavy work, without undue strain upon the machine. Any pleasure car of medium horsepower can be used for the purpose, so that the farmer's automobile, which carries him to town as a pleasure vehicle, can be hitched to the plow when not used for traveling on the road. The tractor which makes this possible is a two-wheel affair with a mechanism for reducing the gear, so that the speed is brought down to about four miles, while the engine runs at a rate that would be equivalent to a 25-mile gait. The power is increased in proportion as the speed is reduced, and in this way the pulling power is tremendous, being equal to a 10-horse team in plowing or cultivating. The tractor is composed of a massive frame upon which the rear half of the automobile is lifted bodily, the back wheels of the car being six inches above the ground. This leaves very little strain on the front wheels, as they merely steer the outfit, and there is no excessive wear upon the tires. Of course, the rear tires receive no wear at all. The gear on the rear wheel of the automobile is bolted upon the hub. The tractor wheels are six feet in diameter and of very broad tread, which may be wider or narrower according to the nature of the ground on which it works. To this is attached the plow, cultivators or other farm machinery.

The Biggest of Flags.

New York Times.
What is said to be the largest American flag now extant has just been completed by the Amoskeag Manufacturing Company. It is 95 feet long, 50 feet wide, and is designed to be flown from a pole 285 feet high. The bunting of which the flag is made was constructed especially for that purpose, was spun, woven and dyed under the roof of the Amoskeag plant.

The width of each of the 13 stripes of the flag is slightly under four feet, and the stars on the blue field measure about three feet from point to point. The blue field measures 38 feet by 27 feet 5 inches. The stars alone weigh nine pounds, while the entire flag tips the scale at 200. The stars are placed 4 feet 9 inches between centers longitudinally, and 4 feet 3 inches vertically.

The proportions of the flag are strictly in accordance with government regulations, and one important regulation—that of never letting the flag touch the ground—was fulfilled only after considerable difficulty in manipulation. The huge dimensions of the flag made it a difficult matter for the workers to follow the last rule to the letter.

Railroad Bonds in Default.

According to statistics prepared by the Wall Street Journal, the securities on which the railroads of the United States are now in default total $551,000,000, or more than half the amount of railroad securities sold within a year. Never since the general reorganization which followed the panic of 1893 has this country seen so many railroad bonds in default.

The list of railroads which have defaulted on their obligations is headed by the St. Louis and San Francisco, with a total aggregating $195,045,500. If the defaulted obligations of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois were added to those of the Frisco the grand total would amount to $220,500,000.

Most Skin Trouble Readily Overcome

The Active Principle of a Famous Remedy Works Wonders.

Many people have marveled the way S. S. S. overcomes skin troubles. The explanation is the fact that S. S. S. works in the blood and the blood is really a most intricate and extraordinary mass of arteries and veins.

When you come to realize that the skin and the flesh beneath are composed of a network of tiny blood vessels you solve the mystery. There are wonderful medicinal properties in S. S. S. that follow the course of the blood streams just as naturally as the most nourishing food elements.

It is really a remarkable remedy. It contains one ingredient, the active purpose of which is to stimulate the tissues to the healthy selection of its own essential nutriment. And the medicinal elements of this matchless blood purifier are just as essential to well-balanced health as the nutritious elements of the meats, grains, fats and sugars of our daily food.

Not one drop of minerals or drugs is used in its preparation. Ask for S. S. S. and just insist upon having it. And if you desire skillful advice and counsel upon any matter concerning the blood and skin, write to the Medical Department, The Swift Specific Co., 529 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

Do not allow some zealous clerk's eloquence over something "just as good" as S. S. S. to fool you with the same old mineral drugs. Beware of all substitutes. Insist upon S. S. S.

Sale of Valuable Land for Subdivision

The heirs of the late W. O. Donnell have placed in my hands, for subdivision and sale, a part of the late Donnell home place, near Oak Ridge, N. C.

I have subdivided a portion of this property into small farms and building sites, which I will offer for sale, at auction, on the premises, on

Saturday, Sept. 19th, 1914

The property which will be offered for sale lies, for three-quarters of a mile, on either side of the macadam road leading from Greensboro to Winston-Salem, by way of Oak Ridge, and extends to within a quarter of a mile of the celebrated Oak Ridge Institute school.

To those who have boys to educate, and would like to secure a residence site near a school of high grade, in a splendid community, this sale will afford a rare opportunity, and the terms of purchase will be made such that no one desiring such a location need be deterred on that account.

Oak Ridge has an elevation above sea level of somewhat more than a thousand feet, being about two hundred feet higher than the City of Greensboro; and of its general attractiveness as a place of residence in the country, too much can hardly be said. In addition to its unequalled school facilities, the community is noted for the high average intelligence of its citizenship and fine community spirit. Being on the macadam road connecting Greensboro and Winston-Salem, it is within equal and easy reach of the railway stations at Summerfield, Stokesdale and Kernersville, and of Greensboro and Winston-Salem as well.

This will be the first time building sites at Oak Ridge have ever been offered, in any number. Indeed, it has not been easy, heretofore, to secure desirable residence sites at all.

The property has been mapped and platted, and a map may be inspected at my office or at the office of King & Kimball.

This July 22, 1914.

Wallingford In His Prime

By GEORGE RANDOLPH CHESTER

Copyright, 1913, by the Bobbs-Merrill Co.

"I've made it a business of a lifetime to cure that," asserted Dan. "Come and have something." "I knew I'd get a drink some place," Blackie observed, stepping over to the table. "Mr. Sickness, meet my friend Jim Wallingford, better known to the police as J. Rufus."

"Glad to meet you, Mr. Wallingford," husked Mr. Sickness. "Mr. Wallingford, Mr. Dillon, Mr. Daw, Mr. Dillon. Now, gentlemen, what shall it be?" and he looked from one to the other with the exaggerated cheerfulness of a willing but necessarily infrequent spender.

"Vichy," ordered Blackie, who talked about alcohol much more than he indulged in it.

"Is this the Mr. Dillon of the Dillon Department Stores company?" inquired Wallingford pleasantly, after echoing Blackie's order for refreshments.

Mr. Dillon, having also ordered vichy, to the keen regret of Sickness, who saw that he would be compelled to drink his whisky alone, moved his ash tray to the right of his empty milk glass and his milk glass to the left of his cigarette box, then carefully closed up the gaps among the three articles before he replied.

"It's a great scheme."

"I am that Dillon," he admitted. "I've been greatly interested in your issue of popular stock in the Dillon company," pursued Wallingford.

"What success are you having with it?"

Mr. Dillon restored his toys to their original position. "Excellent," he replied, passing his long thin fingers over his brow. "The public is taking to it very kindly."

"It's a great scheme," said Wallingford admiringly. "People who buy five shares or even one share of the stock are bound to remain steady customers of your store."

Mr. Dillon took a cigarette from his box, lighted a match, laid down the cigarette and blew out the match.

"They're earning a profit on their own expenses," he asserted, quoting from his latest advertisements. "The shares are guaranteed to yield a minimum of 10 per cent dividends," and he thrummed upon the table with the fingers of both hands. "I'm really very proud of the idea. I don't think I slept a wink for two weeks while I was figuring it out. I don't sleep very well now," and at last Wallingford understood the tensely drawn eyebrows and the compressed drooping lips.

The beauty of it is that it adds so many safe credit customers to our books and, of course, credit purchasers are much more generous buyers than those who pay cash."

And with a serious little laugh he again shifted and rearranged his playthings.

"I see," returned Wallingford, eyeing the man's nervous movements in astonishment. "It's a wonderful scheme. A customer with one share of stock gets $100 monthly credit, and if the stock is not paid the credit, and I presume the interest, becomes forfeited. In the meantime you can loan out their money for the 5 per cent you are bound to pay them."

"Or use it in the extension of the business," amended Dillon, now inquiring the tempo of his rearranged hands to such a degree that Wallingford found himself jerking his own right heel upon the floor in sheer nervous sympathy, while Blackie Daw was wiping his finger nail against his head. Dan Sickness alone remained cool. He still had left some of his sense of whisky.

"The Dillon stores are to have a new home in the near future, the largest concern of the sort in the United States. Do you suppose, Blackie, that I might interest your friends in some preferred bonds of the proposed corporation?"

Both Wallingford and Blackie promptly shook their heads.

"Don't let's talk about investments," protested Blackie, glancing over his shoulder in mock fear. "I'm afraid my wife might guess I was thinking about it."

"How about you, Mr. Wallingford?" asked Dillon, with a smile.

"I'm all tied up, Mr. Dillon," replied Wallingford suavely. "Even if I were not I'm tired. I want a vacation. I don't intend to engage in business of any sort for the next six months at least."

"I'll bet a pair of pink suspenders that you do," offered Blackie suddenly. "I'll take you," agreed Wallingford, laughing. "I'll even give you the odds of a pink silk undershirt if you catch me engaged in any money making occupation during the next six months."

Mr. Dillon looked at his watch and hastily arose. "If you don't mind I think I'll send you a prospectus of the new Dillon company," he remarked, beating a tattoo upon the head of his cane with his fingers.

"Wait just a moment, please," begged Blackie, producing a little red memorandum book and a fountain pen. "I want witnesses to this. I bet Wallingford a pair of pink suspenders against the same and a pink silk undershirt, winner's selection, that he does engage in some money making business within the next six months. You will remember this, gentlemen?"

"I shall," assented Dillon, laughing. "And if you'll come over to the store when the bet is decided I'll be your clerk and let the loser have the goods at cost price."

"Thank you," said Blackie. "I'll just add that to the memorandum of the bet," and he wrote it down.

They all breathed a sigh of relief when Dillon had gone.

"I'd have had the St. Vitus twostep in ten minutes if that man had stayed here," announced Blackie. "He reminds me of one of those quivering frog toys that you hold in your hands to see if your nerves are steady."

"He'll end in a sanatorium," observed Wallingford. "If he ever succeeds in building his solid block retail store he'll make a quicker failure than the full dress cafe or the New theater."

"No! Do you think so?" inquired Sickness eagerly. "He wants to buy my theater. It's the only important building in the block he wants to tear down for the site of his new store."

"Mr. Sickness is the owner of the Avon theater, where Violet Bonnie made her first big hit," explained Blackie.

"The Avon!" returned Wallingford. "I should think you'd be glad to get a good offer for that, Mr. Sickness. It hasn't been doing a paying business for years, has it?"

"I should say not," confessed Sickness. "It was dark all last season. But I don't feel like selling it for $200,000 in the stock of a company that's likely to swell up and burst. Ten years ago I was offered $400,000 cash and wouldn't take it. Now it keeps me so broke that I'm a rich man and take a holiday if I have $7 in my pocket."

"Why didn't you sell?" was Wallingford's natural inquiry.

"I was making more money and scattering it the full length of the Rue de Mazuma."

"You were wishing awhile ago that you were broke, Jim," Blackie reminded him. "You ought to try Dan's stunt. He wouldn't sell his house of bits to either the syndicate or the independents, so they made an object lesson of him with rotten bookings. Would Dan's Irish blood stand for that? No! He leased the house to individual producers and put over eleven straight flivvers. Now it's the hoodooed Avon, and it can't even put a moving picture show across."

A boy came through the bar just then, paging Mr. Daw, and that gentleman, after hurrying to the telephone, came back, laughing. "You're to come out to the house for dinner, Jim," he advised Wallingford. "Fannie's there, and Violet won't let her go home."

"Give my regards to Violet Bonnie, won't you?" begged Sickness. "The hit she made in 'The Pink Canary' was what put the Avon on its feet, and I never had a star in the house that made so little trouble or was such an all around good fellow."

"After you get past the age for mash notes the mail brings you nothing but trouble," complained Violet Bonnie as she returned to the library of the new Daw residence, where Mrs. Wallingford wandered idly from case to case inspecting the shining new backs of standard books which never had been opened and which probably never would be. "Why, Fannie, right after I made my first big hit in 'The Pink Canary' they had to give me six pigeonholes in the stage entrance mail box, and I had to hire a secretary to open my mail and send the presents back. Now if I get a letter it's either from a dressmaker or an old time chum who wants me to steer her daughter on to the stage or warn her away from it."

Mrs. Wallingford smiled quietly. "I don't see why either class of letters should annoy you," she observed.

"You have good dressmakers, and you don't object to paying the bills, and I should think it would be a pleasant task to encourage budding genius or to warn weak girls away from the stage."

"I don't know why in either case I should nurse and bottle feed and bring up by hand a grouch against the stage," retorted Violet, massaging her trace of an extra chin. "It brought me some perfectly good husbands besides Blackie. Say, I hate my old chums anyhow."

"You're making your nose red, Vi," warned Mrs. Wallingford, with a hilarious laugh.

"Honest, am I?" and Violet hurried to the mirror. "I am too fat to get mad," she confessed, "but it certainly does get my temper for girls I used to know to write me that they have grown up daughters. It makes me feel so old, and I won't be old!"

"That's it, is it? Who has been reminding you of your only enemy?"

"Martha Tripp," snapped Violet Bonnie. "Martha was my schoolteacher up in Squamosett. She wore corkscrew curls on both sides of her face, but she ought to have worn 'em in front, for she was so ugly that she had to get up in the middle of the night to rest from it. If I remember her Melissa, she was a gangly shanked brat with freckles and a snub nose. Melissa is now in the flower of youth, this letter says, and all her mother wants me to do is to show her to a manager. Melissa is supposed to do the rest. The balance of the good news is that Melissa is on her way here right now. She will be among us 'probably by the time this humble missive intrudes itself upon me.' Martha means by the time I get the letter. Honest, Fannie, I never did a mean thing to any living creature in my life."

"I think you must be lacing too tight, Vi," remonstrated Fannie mildly, "or else you've had an awfully bad day of it."

"I can put my whole arm down inside any place," defiantly asserted Violet. "I have had a rotten day, though, and it takes just this to finish it off. Your dropping in was the only lucky thing that has happened to me."

"I'm glad I did come over," returned Mrs. Wallingford. "Possibly I can help you with Melissa Tripp. To begin with, why not show her to the managers?"

"I haven't any too many friends among them now," explained Violet. "Gracious heavens, there she is!"

The ring at the bell, however, proved to be only Mr. Daw and Mr. Wallingford.

"I see you're getting a new maid," observed Blackie as he inspected the contents of a cellaret that had been ingeniously built in among the bookcases. "I'll guess I'll have 'r ye, Jim. How about you? We have so many servants now, Vi, that we don't get any service."

"I don't know anything about a new maid," his wife returned. "Blackie, your scheme of having a cellaret in every room in the house was all right, but you'll have to get combination locks. It's no fun to find three servants half soused in different rooms all on the same day. What about this maid?"

"We just passed her coming up the drive," replied Blackie. "Say when, Jim. She had a paper alligator skin suit case in each hand and was bringing father along to see that the place is strictly moral."

"I'm afraid my machine splashed a little splashing on father and maybe on daughter," confessed Wallingford regretfully. "Father was a real nice little man, and I think he apologized, but daughter has a snub nose, and I could see it work."

"Don't drink that, Blackie!" commanded Violet, taking the glass of rye from his hand. "I need it. I know your maid by the snub nose. She's Melissa."

"She looked it every inch," responded Blackie.

"If that was Melissa, have another. You'll need two. By the way, who is Melissa?"

"Honest, is she that awful?" wailed Violet.

"She's worse, if anything," answered Wallingford with a chuckle. "She has a round fat wafer of rouge on each cheek bone and wears a green hobble skirt trimmed with yellow beads."

Violet brightened. "I guess I get a laugh, anyhow," she decided. "But who's father? Old Man Tripp was awful dead when I knew Martha."

From the rear hall there came a faint buzz, and the four of them waited in silence until a glassy eyed butler appeared, openly grinning, to announce:

"Miss Tripp and Professor Flopsie." (TO BE CONTINUED.)

Was a Second Charge.

An old negro was recently brought before a justice in Mobile. It seemed that Mose had fallen foul of a bulldog while in the act of entering the hen house of the dog's owner.

"Look here, Mose," the judge said informally, "didn't I give you ten days last month for the same thing? It was the same hen house you were trying to get into. What have you got to say for yourself, anyhow?"

Mose scratched his head. "Mars Wilyum, yo' sent me ter de chain-gang fer tryin' to steal some chickens, didn't ye?"

"Yes, that was the charge."

"An' don't de law say yo' cain't be charged wid de same 'fense'?"

"That no man shall twice be placed in jeopardy for the identical act, yes."

"Den, sah, yo' jes' hab ter let me go, sah. Ah was after de same chicken, sah."

GENERAL NEWS PARAGRAPHS

SUMMARY OF EVENTS THAT GO TO MAKE UP THE WORLD'S NEWS OF THE DAY.

Unofficial word has been received in Washington that the Panama canal is ready for commercial use and that the first steamer is likely to be sent through within a few days, unless Governor Goethals is instructed to the contrary by Secretary of War Garrison.

Approximately 2,026,000,000 native field birds, exclusive of sparrows, inhabit the United States east of the great plain states, according to partial returns of the first bird census in the history of the government, now being made by the department of agriculture.

For the first time in its history, the Alabama state Republican convention, held at Birmingham Wednesday, was without any negro delegates. They were barred by the executive committee, and it was expected there would be a fight to admit them, but it did not materialize. President Wilson has been invited to meet many of the leading business men of New York at the annual banquet of the Merchants' Association of that city this fall. The committee that extended the invitation told the president he could name the date and it is expected that he will attend the banquet.

More than 1,000 tons of Manchurian corn, one of the first shipments to arrive in the United States since the tariff was removed, is held up on the Seattle, Wash., wharves until it can be determined whether the weevil with which it is infested is destructive. The corn was intended to be used for stock feed.

Mediation by the government between 98 Western railroads and their engineers and firemen is at a crucial stage, according to Martin Knapp, a member of the federal board of mediation. Judge Knapp stated, however, that members of the board were still in hopes of reaching a settlement.

That the Rothschilds of Paris and London purchased 100,000 acres of Lower California lands from the Huerta government in Mexico a month ago for one cent an acre and that Victoriano Huerta received $500,000 for allowing the sale is charged by Gen. Carranza, in a message to his agents in the United States.

The temperance committee of the Georgia state senate has voted to report adversely the McNeill bill to legalize the manufacture and sale within the state of beer containing not more than 4 per cent alcohol. The measure was opposed by state temperance organizations. The sale of near-beer now is legal in Georgia.

Driven desperate by inability to purchase habit-forming drugs under the new prohibition law in Rochester, N. Y., eight victims of drugs, all young men, Thursday applied to the police and were locked up. They declared if they were not placed in confinement they feared they would either commit murder or self destruction.

The Sheppard child labor bill, which prohibits the employment of children under the age of 14 years in all mills, factories, laundries and places of amusement in Georgia, was passed by the lower house of the Georgia legislature Friday by a vote of 99 to 44. The bill now goes to the senate, which is expected to pass it at this session.

Col. Roosevelt has endorsed Harvey D. Hinnman for the Republican nomination for governor of New York and calls on "all good citizens, no matter what their party affiliations," to join in support of a state ticket, "the success of which would mean the overthrow of both Barnes and Murphy," the Republican and Democratic bosses in New York.

Railroads after June 30, 1915, will be compelled to keep their accounts to show separately the costs of freight and passenger service, according to an order by the interstate commerce commission. The information will be used not only for rate-making but to keep the commission more closely informed on how the railroads actually conduct their business.

Maj. James Daniel Richardson, aged 71 years, sovereign grand commander of the Scottish Rite Masons, Southern jurisdiction, died Friday afternoon at his home in Murfreesboro, Tenn. He was a Confederate veteran and served as a representative in Congress for 18 years, being leader of the Democratic minority when he refused to accept another nomination some years ago.

Suit against the trustees of the late J. P. Morgan's estate has been instituted by St. George's Episcopal church, of New York city, of which Mr. Morgan was senior warden. The church seeks an accounting of the income on a trust fund of $600,000 bequeathed to it by Mr. Morgan. The complaint alleges that of the $24,000 a year income due the church, less than $14,000 has been paid.

Postmaster Short One Penny.

Owing one cent to the United States government is a serious matter, as Luther H. Clifton, former postmaster of Blades, Del., found out when notice was received that there was a shortage in his accounts and that unless the same was paid at once the department would proceed to collect the amount from his bondsmen. Clifton, who had served for 17 years as postmaster until he was succeeded by C. R. Cannon last November, went at once to the new postmaster and then paid the amount demanded—one cent—taking Cannon's receipt, and the shortage was made up.

When the audit was made at the time of the transfer of the office in November, it was impossible to ascertain the amount of cancellations at the time and the error of the one cent was probably made at that time.

National Debt $10.50 Per Capita.

The national debt is a greater financial weight upon the people of each state, except Arizona and Massachusetts, than the obligations of the state in which they live, according to statistics issued by the census bureau. The figures show that on June 30, 1913, the per capita debt for the 48 states amounted to $3.57, while that of the national government was $10.59. The total debt of the state governments on that date was $422,796,525. An offsetting item was $76,980,571 in sinking fund assets. The national government had a total debt on that date of $2,916,204,914. However, less cash in the United States treasury available for the payment of debt, that would be reduced to $1,028,564,055.

Missouri Corn 15 Feet Tall.

A dispatch from Columbia, Mo., says corn 15 feet tall is a result of the timely rains of the last few weeks in Boone county. An eight-acre bottom field belonging to the University of Missouri, near Rollins' Springs on the state farm, averages close to 14 feet in height. Some of the stalks will be turned over to J. Ed Crumbaugh for use in preparing the Missouri agricultural exhibit for the Panama-Pacific exposition. Prof. E. H. Hughes, of the animal husbandry department, brought in a stalk that measured 15 feet, with an eight-foot spread of leaves. A man six feet three inches tall could barely reach the first ear by standing on tiptoes.

Witnesses who accompanied Professor Hughes to the field asserted that the 15-foot stalk he brought home was merely an average stalk and that there are stalks in the field easily four feet taller.

Suffragists Meet in Chicago.

Equal suffrage advocates from six states met in Chicago Friday to discuss plans for furthering the propaganda. The meeting was called by Mrs. Medill McCormick, chairman of the congressional committee of the National Suffrage Association. Representatives of the suffrage associations of Michigan, Indiana, Missouri, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Illinois attended.

One of the plans discussed was a suggestion made by Mrs. McCormick that special trains, decorated with yellow streamers and American flags, be used to convey speakers and organizers to the different states.

Big Reward For Physician's Assailant.

Dr. James H. McIntosh, a prominent physician of Columbia, S. C., who had been drawn into the bitter senatorial campaign in progress in that state, was shot from ambush Thursday, his assailant escaping in an automobile. The physician was seriously wounded, but is expected to recover. J. W. Norwood, a banker of Greenville, S. C., has offered a reward of $5,000 for the arrest and conviction of the assailant and citizens of Columbia are offering an additional reward of $1,000.

Board of Education Wins.

The Wake county board of education was awarded $5,169.03 in a suit against the county commissioners of Wake county before Judge Bond, sitting in court at Plymouth Thursday, the court sustaining the claim of the plaintiff as to error of the commissioners in charging the funds of the education board with a share of the expenses of making out the tax lists. At the same time the court denied the second claim of the education board for an additional $3,487 because of error in the sheriff's commissions. The total amount asked for by the county board of education was $9,656.54. There will be no appeal from the judgment.

LAND SALE.

Pursuant to the powers contained in a certain deed of trust executed by L. E. Glenn and wife, Mamie A. Glenn, to B. L. Fentress, as trustee, dated July 5, 1914, and recorded in book 224, page 68, the undersigned hereby makes in the payment of the notes thereby secured and the conditions thereof, and the holder of said notes having demanded a foreclosure of said deed of trust according to the terms thereof, the undersigned trustee will on Thursday, August 27, 1914, at 12 o'clock, noon or as soon thereafter as may be, sell the lands conveyed in said deed of trust at the court house door in Greensboro to the last and highest bidder for cash, the said land being more particularly described as follows: Situated in Guilmer township, Guilford county, N. C., in the city of Greensboro. Beginning at a stake in the west margin of Asheboro street, 49 feet south from the southern margin of McCulloch street, and running thence westwardly parallel with McCulloch street 80 feet to a stake; thence southwardly 25 feet to a stake; thence southwardly 43 feet to a stake, 19 feet north of the south line of the Barnes lot and 15 feet east of the west line of said lot; thence westwardly parallel with said south line 15 feet to a stake in Hanner's line; thence south 10 feet to a stake, the original southwest corner; thence eastwardly 157 feet to a stake on Asheboro street; thence northwardly with Asheboro street 80 feet to the point of beginning, subject, however, to the right to extend the sewer line across the rear of the lot herein described, as shown in deed from George W. Fritchett and wife to L. E. Glenn and wife, as recorded in the office of the register of deeds of Guilford county, in book 228, page 125.

This sale is made subject to a mortgage given by L. E. Glenn and wife, Mamie A. Glenn, to B. L. Fentress, recorded in book 264, page 68, in the office of the register of deeds of Guilford county.

This the 25th day of July, 1914. B. L. FENTRESS, Trustee.

MORTGAGE SALE.

Pursuant to the power vested in the mortgagee by virtue of a certain mortgage deed executed by Isaac J. Gilmer and wife, Emily, to J. L. Gilmer, on the 11th day of August, 1902, and duly recorded in the office of register of deeds of Guilford county, in book 149, page 56, the undersigned will expose for sale, at public auction, at the court house door in the city of Greensboro, N. C., on MONDAY, AUGUST 3, 1914, at 12 o'clock, noon, a certain tract or parcel of land, lying and being in the county of Guilford, state of North Carolina, Clay township, adjoining the lands of widow Paul Coble, et al, and bounded as follows: Beginning at a post oak, said Coble's corner, running east 1 1-2 degrees south with Coble's line, 22 poles to a stone, also said Coble's corner; thence south 47 degrees west, 102 poles to a stone in old Coble's line; thence north 45 degrees west with said old line, 29 poles to a stone, Coble's and Hanner's corner; thence north 45 degrees east with Coble's line, 37 poles to the beginning, containing 13 acres and 93 poles of land to be the same more or less.

Terms of sale cash. This the 1st day of July, 1914. E. M. WITTY, Mortgagee and D. T. COBLE, Assignee.

The Telephone Always on Guard

THERE is never a moment, day or night, when your Bell Telephone is not a protection.

In the busy hours of the day and the silent watches of the night, the switchboard operator is always ready to answer a call.

The telephone is as much a part of the protective system of each community as the police and fire departments.

There's always a feeling of security in the knowledge that close at hand is the means of calling aid quickly when you most need it.

More than 70,000 cities and towns are protected day and night by the Bell Telephone system. 7,500,000 Bell telephones are on guard. In thousands of rural communities it is the chief reliance in emergencies and times of danger.
