

THE GREENSBORO PATRIOT

PUBLISHED EVERY MONDAY AND THURSDAY

GREENSBORO, N. C., THURSDAY, JULY 30, 1914

VOL. 93—NO. 61

EUROPEAN
One of World's Greatest Wars Expected.

RUSSIA MOBILIZING TROOPS
WAR BETWEEN AUSTRIA AND SERBIA STIRS ALL OF EUROPE.

The Austro-Hungarian government declared war against Serbia Tuesday by a manifesto which is one of the briefest of history's momentous documents. The text of the declaration follows:

"The royal government of Serbia not having replied in a satisfactory manner to the note remitted to it by the Austro-Hungarian minister in Belgrade on July 23, 1914, the imperial and royal government finds itself compelled to proceed itself to safeguard its rights and interests and to have recourse for this purpose to force of arms."

"Austria-Hungary considers itself from this moment in a state of war with Serbia."

Germany paved the way for this declaration by announcing her rejection of the British proposal to bring four powers together in conference for mediation. Germany explained her ally could not be expected to submit her acts to an European council as though she were one of the Balkan states.

This announcement preceded the declaration of war by only two hours and showed the harmonious working of the partnership between the two nations, which stood firmly together through the Bosnian crisis of 1909.

The center of interest has shifted sharply to St. Petersburg, which holds the decision whether an European war, which probably would shift the balance of power if not rearrange the entire map of Europe, is to break out. Negotiations are afoot there between the Russian foreign minister and the Austrian ambassador, which are designed to "localize" the conflict.

The next news expected is the occupation of Belgrade and that now may be accomplished fact. Reports of encounters along the frontier have not been permitted to pass the censor, but military experts believe mobilization already has been effected and that a campaign is underway.

There is no enthusiasm in England for war, yet there is a general belief that her obligations to her partners in the triple entente, and her interests as a great European power, will force her to support Russia and France in any steps they may take.

The immediate effect of the war cloud is likely to be a compromise of some rule, since all parties feel that domestic discussions must be settled at all cost, in the face of outside peril.

Feeling of Relief in Austria.
Vienna, July 28.—The people in the monarchy look forward to a war with Serbia, which today formally was declared, with a feeling of relief.

High officials are optimistic that the war will be confined to these two countries. Certain knowledge that Russia would intervene, however, would not cause Austria to alter her course in the slightest.

Vienna is absolutely without news of troop movements, which the papers are forbidden to print. A sharp censorship has been established over all means of communication.

Activities from Belgrade say the Serbian capital is now located at Nis, where the Skupstina (national assembly) met today. All Serbians between 18 and 60 years, able to bear arms, have been called out and mobilization is proceeding rapidly.

The Militaerische Rundschau reports sharp fighting along the river Drava, where Serbian volunteers who attempted to cross were opposed by Austrian frontier troops. It also reports that Serbians fired on their own river transports by mistake, killing and wounding several Serbian soldiers.

Causes and Possibilities of War.
Serbia's dream of centuries for a port on the Adriatic was about to be accomplished in the recent Balkan war when Austria-Hungary shattered it, and also forced the Montenegrins to retire from Scutari.

This intensified the hatred for Austria that has been in the hearts of the Servians for 600 years, and which was actively expressed in the recent assassination of Archduke Ferdinand, heir to the Austro-Hungarian throne, and his wife.

That assassination was the match to the magazine, and Austria is ready to fight for her desire of many centuries—control of the Balkan peninsula to the Aegean sea.

Russia has proclaimed herself the protector of Serbia and of Roumania. By conquering Serbia, Austria and her ally, Germany, would reach the Aegean sea and thus hamper the southern Russian ports and commerce. Roumania is Russia's buffer state.

If Russia aids Serbia—and already her army is mobilizing—this would call upon Germany and Italy, as parties to the triple alliance, to send their armies and navies against Russia in the aid of their ally, Austria-Hungary.

Then, as members of the triple entente between Russia, France and England, France and England may be compelled to aid Russia.

Thus there would be of the six great powers of Europe, Germany, Austria-Hungary and Italy on one side, and Russia, France and England on the other.

France, at least its army, is apparently eager for the contest, seeking to regain lost Alsace and Lorraine, and to avenge the war of 1871. England, which has much to lose and little to gain, is bending every energy to prevent a general European war.

Bulgaria may be expected to aid the dual monarchy to avenge the wrongs which she believed she suffered just after the war against Turkey, when Serbia attacked her and forced her to surrender most of what her army had won. Turkey is counted upon to aid Austria-Hungary, while Greece, to prevent her annihilation by the southward progress of Austria, will also support Serbia and the pan-Slavists.

Serbia also counts on the rising tide of pan-Slavism within the dual monarchy. And, outside of the active aid of Russia, the kingdom is relying much on the reported indigence of the Austro-Hungarian treasury.

European Conflict Expected.

The latest reports from Europe show the war situation to be critical in the extreme and the outlook is for one of the greatest wars the world has ever known. Russia has come out squarely on the side of Serbia and is rushing an army of 1,280,000 men to the Austrian frontier. Germany Tuesday notified the Russian government that mobilization meant war. When Germany takes a hand on the side of Austria, France will retaliate, and then England would be drawn into the fight. Both England and Italy are striving desperately to avert a general war, for neither has anything to gain by it.

The first important fighting occurred yesterday before Belgrade, when the Servians blew up a bridge. The Austrians attacked them and the Servians retreated to the capital, which unconfirmed reports say is being bombarded.

Opening of Tobacco Market.

It has not been decided yet whether the Greensboro tobacco market will be opened this year on August 15 or September 1. It has been customary to open the market August 1, although but little tobacco is sold before September or October. This year the crop is so late that the opening of the market will be postponed until the middle of August or the first of September.

The market this year will have a strong corps of buyers and there will be three warehouses to take care of the offerings of the farmers. Messrs. J. H. Whitt and Garland Mitchell will operate the Farmers' warehouse; Mr. Tom Graham will again have charge of Graham's warehouse, and Mr. Arch Bennett, a new man on the Greensboro market but a warehouseman of long experience, will run the Center Brick warehouse.

Col. John A. Barringer has returned from Asheville, where he attended Randolph Superior court and won a big damage suit against the Southern Railway, the jury giving his client a verdict for $7,500. The suit was brought by the administratrix of Kivett L. Gray, who lost his life in an accident while in the employ of the road about two years ago.

REVENUE OFFICERS SEIZE SHERIFF'S LIQUOR.

The Patriot Monday told of the arrest Sunday morning, after an exciting chase, by Sheriff Stafford and a posse of officers of Adolphus Charles and the capture of 60 gallons of blockade liquor and an automobile in which the whiskey was being conveyed from High Point to Winston. After being released under a bond of $1,000 for his appearance in Greensboro next Monday for a preliminary hearing, Charles returned to Winston-Salem, where he was tried Monday in the recorder's court for running a blind tiger and fined $1,000 and placed under a bond of $2,000 for his good behavior for the next two years.

Tuesday revenue officers seized the 60 gallons of liquor Sheriff Stafford had captured and placed in the Guilford county jail for safe keeping, and also took possession of the automobile, which the sheriff had quartered in a local garage. From all of which it would appear that Charles, who is said to be a king bee among the blind tigers, has rough sledding ahead of him.

Having made the arrest and captured the contraband liquor, Sheriff Stafford does not object in the least to have the federal authorities take a hand in the case.

SUMMER SCHOOL AT NORMAL COLLEGE CLOSES.

The summer school at the State Normal and Industrial College closed Tuesday after a session of eight weeks. There was a total attendance of 450 women teachers, against an attendance in the summer of 1913 of 318.

The last two weeks were used for the institute work.

A large number of addresses on the latest phases and methods of training children occupied the session in addition to the regular courses of study. Under the direction of Superintendent E. L. Hughes, of Greenville, S. C., the teachers have been taught how to construct globes, maps and other illustrated scenes for child aid.

A series of lectures was given by Prof. J. H. Highsmith, of Wake Forest, on pedagogy, in which teachers were told of educational conditions in the state and given information on approach to the child mind.

Prof. William A. McKeever, of the University of Kansas, lectured on the nature of the child mind and method of approach and control.

The closing lecture Tuesday was given by Dr. W. M. Jones, health officer of Guilford county, on the value of a sound body to a strong mind.

Young Wife Deserted.

Mrs. H. T. Atkins, a young wife of 10 months, was deserted in this city Sunday morning by her husband and is being cared for at a local boarding house until her people in Virginia can be communicated with. The young woman and her husband reached Greensboro Saturday evening from their former home at Gretna, Va., and went to a lodging house on South Elm street. Sunday morning her husband left the room presumably to go to a boarding house in the neighborhood to arrange for meals, and that was the last seen of him.

Mrs. Atkins says there has been no trouble between her and her husband, and quite naturally, she is greatly distressed over his disappearance. She says her husband brought her to Greensboro expecting to find employment here in railroad work.

Excursion to Norfolk.

The Southern Railway is advertising in this issue of The Patriot its second excursion of the summer to Norfolk. The train, which will consist of first-class day coaches and Pullman sleeping cars, will leave Greensboro next Tuesday evening at 7.30 o'clock and will leave Norfolk on the return at 7.45 P. M. Thursday, August 6. The trip will afford ample time to visit the numerous resorts around Norfolk. The round-trip fare from Greensboro is $3.65.

The Ham Real Estate Company has purchased the Capps farm, located on the Guilford College road, two and a half or three miles from the city. The same company recently purchased the Williams place, adjoining the Capps farm, the two places containing 247 acres. It is the intention of the purchasers to divide the property into small tracts of 12 or 15 acres each for sale to small farmers and truckers.

THREATENED TO DIVIDE BODY BETWEEN WIVES.

A white man by the name of Wall, who resides at the Revolution mills village, was taken in custody at the Southern passenger station in this city Tuesday and confined in jail for fear that he would do himself bodily harm. Station Master Foushee noticed the man walking around the station and acting strangely, and when approached and questioned, Wall said he was looking for his first wife; that when he found her he proposed to cut his body in two and divide the halves between his two wives. Capt. Foushee turned him over to a policeman, and when he was examined at the police station, a knife, a razor and a small bottle of carbolic acid were found in his pockets.

The officers committed Wall to jail and notified his family at Revolution, but so far no one has appeared to look after him. Efforts will be made to have him placed in the hospital for the insane at Morganton.

Wall appears to be 35 or 40 years of age. It is said that his first wife, from whom he was divorced, resides in Reidsville and that recently she has been writing letters to her former husband. The presumption is that this unsettled his mind.

J. H. Whitt Returns to Warehouse Business.

Mr. John H. Whitt, the veteran of the Greensboro tobacco market, will be engaged in the warehouse business again after the opening of the approaching season. He will conduct the Farmers' warehouse, which he owns, and associated with him will be Mr. Garland Mitchell, who managed the Center Brick warehouse during the past two seasons. Messrs. Whitt and Mitchell will make a strong team. Both of them are experienced and expert tobaccoists and warehousemen, and both have many friends among the patrons of the Greensboro market.

Mr. Whitt first engaged in the tobacco business in Greensboro 33 years ago, and during much of this time he has conducted a warehouse. He successfully managed the Farmers' warehouse for many years, retiring from the warehouse business a few years ago to become a buyer on the market. He has a wide acquaintance among the tobacco growers of Guilford and surrounding counties, and his farmer friends will be glad to know that Mr. Whitt is to engage in the warehouse business again.

Jewish Rabbi Lectures.

Rabbi Alexander Lyons, of the Eighth Avenue temple, lectured to a large audience at the Smith Memorial building Monday night on "The Jew and the Christian."

The address was interesting from a historical and philosophical point of view, as well as on account of the masterful way in which it was presented. The speaker showed a deep seated relation between the two races which true Christian sympathy can not deny. He spoke of prejudices against the Jews which had existed in some countries and asked that these prejudices be not allowed to exist here.

Carter-Young Wedding.

A marriage of interest to a large number of people was celebrated Tuesday morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Young, east of the city, when their daughter, Miss Carrie, became the bride of Mr. W. F. Carter, Jr., of Mt. Airy. The ceremony was performed by Rev. F. L. Townsend, the bride's pastor, in the presence of members of the family and a few intimate friends. Mr. and Mrs. Carter have gone to Asheville and other points in the mountains on a bridal trip, and upon their return they will be at home in Mt. Airy.

C. H. Ireland at the White House.

Mr. Charles H. Ireland, president of the Odell Hardware Company, was a member of a delegation of wholesale hardware merchants that called on President Wilson at the White House yesterday and discussed the trust legislation now pending in Congress. Mr. Ireland says the conference was very satisfactory, the president and the visiting business men exchanging views in a cordial and frank manner. He is convinced of the president's sincerity in his desire to frame a law that will be just to all concerned.

MONEY FOR GREENSBORO AND ASHEBORO ROAD.

A joint committee from the Greensboro Merchants' Association, the Chamber of Commerce and the Southside Citizens' Club made a canvass of the city Tuesday and raised a fund of $1,000 to assist in building a good road between Greensboro and Asheville, the money to be spent on the Randolph county end of the line.

The county commissioners at their last meeting, decided that Guilford would do her part in constructing an improved highway between the two county capitals. Previously the Randolph commissioners had made an appropriation for the building of a road from Asheville to the Guilford county line, with the understanding that property owners along the road contribute half the expense.

For four or five miles south of the Guilford line the road runs through a sparsely settled country, and it was to help out this section that the citizens of Greensboro raised the fund of $1,000.

It has not yet been determined whether the Guilford end of the road will run by Pleasant Garden or through the Center neighborhood. The question probably will be decided at the next meeting of the county commissioners.

Now Fighting the Mosquito.

Mr. E. P. Wharton having practically made Greensboro a flyless town, as the result of a persistent, vigorous and intelligent campaign, Dr. J. T. Battle, who, along with Mr. Wharton, is serving as a voluntary assistant city health officer without pay, has started the annual warfare against the mosquito and is calling on the people of Greensboro to assist him in cleaning up the town in such a manner that no breeding places for mosquitoes will be left. The warfare against mosquitoes last year was quite as successful as the fight against the fly, and efforts are being made for an even more thorough campaign this year.

Buys Good Business Property.

Mr. A. J. Klutz, who is at the head of both the Fariss-Klutz Drug Company and the Greensboro Drug Company, has purchased what is known as the old Adams building, immediately in the rear of the Greensboro Drug Company's store and fronting 67 feet on West Market street. While the purchase price has not been made public, it is understood to have been in excess of $30,000.

The Adams building, a three-story brick structure and one of the oldest buildings in Greensboro, will be torn down and replaced by a modern five-story structure that will form a part of the Greensboro Drug Company's building.

Annex to McAdoo Hotel.

Work was begun this week on a three-story annex to the McAdoo hotel building, which, when completed, will give the McAdoo a total of 110 rooms and several additional sample rooms. The annex will be built in the rear of the center of the building and will be 60 feet long and 35 feet wide. Mr. Will McAdoo is now conducting the hotel.

Death of Jesse Allred.

Mr. Jesse Allred, a well known citizen of the Julian section, died Sunday at the home of his son-in-law, Dr. Sumner, in Randleman, where he had been for the past few months. Mr. Allred was 71 years of age and had been in feeble health for a long while.

Mexican Peace Plans.

The United States is still exerting its good offices toward drawing together the discordant elements in Mexico and a hopeful view is taken of the outlook. Official messages from Vera Cruz report satisfactory progress of conferences there between representatives of Generals Carranza and Zapata, and it is said an agent of the latter soon will go north to work out with Carranza the details of the friendly understanding.

Mr. J. T. Smith, of southeastern Guilford, has one of the best peach crops this year the county has produced, and a few specimens of the luscious fruit left at The Patriot office Monday afternoon were among the finest we ever saw. They were of the Foster and Elberta varieties and were as pretty as pictures of the fruit one sees in the nursery-men's catalogues.

LOCAL NEWS IN BRIEF FORM

MATTERS OF INTEREST TO THE READERS OF THE PATRIOT FAR AND NEAR.

Rev. F. E. Smith, pastor of Asheville Street Friends church, has returned from Dunn, where he assisted in a revival meeting.

Rev. R. T. Colt, a returned missionary from Korea, delivered an interesting address on the work in that foreign field at the prayer meeting service at Westminster Presbyterian church last night.

The revival meeting at Mt. Hope church will begin the second Sunday in August and will be conducted by Rev. J. D. Andrew, president of Catawba College, Newton, and Rev. Clarence Woods, of Thomasville.

Judge S. Glenn Brown, of the Municipal court, has returned from a vacation of several weeks and is again on the bench. During his absence from the city he attended the military encampment at Morehead City.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Williams died Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock at the home of the parents on Virginia street. The funeral was conducted at the home yesterday afternoon by Rev. Dr. C. W. Byrd and interment made in Greene Hill cemetery.

Rev. H. E. Rountree, who recently resigned the pastorate of the First Christian church of this city, has accepted the call extended to him a few weeks ago to become pastor of the Washington Street church, of Portsmouth, Va. He will take up his new work September 1.

The Proximity, Revolution and White Oak cotton mills will shut down for 10 days from Saturday to give the operatives a vacation. Work will be resumed on Monday, August 10. During the vacation period a number of changes and repairs will be made in the mills.

The Young People's Society of Alliance Presbyterian church will give a lawn party at the manse next Tuesday night, August 4, and the public is cordially invited to attend. Delicious refreshments will be served and the proceeds will be used for the benefit of the church.

Mrs. L. T. Barber, of Gibsonville, spent Tuesday night in the city with her parents, ex-Sheriff and Mrs. B. E. Jones. She was returning from Montrose, where she visited her sister, Miss Pearl Jones, who is a patient in the state sanatorium for tuberculosis at that place.

The contract for the handsome new building the congregation of the Church of the Covenant will erect on the corner of Walker avenue and Mendenhall street has been awarded to Mr. R. M. Allred and the work of construction will begin as soon as the old building can be removed from the lot.

Property owners on the street have petitioned the city commissioners to pave Asheville street with paving material to be agreed upon, the property owners to bear half the expense. The commissioners have the matter under consideration and probably will decide to do the paving as soon as it may be convenient.

Deputy Collectors Hendrick and Haynes made a raid in Randolph county Monday afternoon and destroyed a distillery at a point about 25 miles south of Greensboro. They poured out about 100 gallons of beer and 25 gallons of whiskey and cut up the still, which was of 100 gallons capacity. No one was seen about the place.

Miss Hattie Cox, of this city, and Mr. A. B. Waynick, of Spencer, were married in Salisbury Monday afternoon. The wedding was a quiet affair and was witnessed by only a few friends of the young couple. Mr. and Mrs. Waynick have gone to New York on their bridal trip and upon their return will be at home in Spencer, where the groom holds a position with the Southern Railway. Mrs. Waynick is a daughter of Mr. John T. Cox and is a most estimable young lady.

The authorities of Greensboro College for Women announce that Mrs. Frank Siler, wife of the missionary secretary of the Western North Carolina Conference of the M. E. Church, South, has been elected dean of the faculty. Mrs. Siler is a very gifted woman and will add strength to the faculty of this well known institution of learning. Rev. Mr. Siler will move his family from Winston-Salem to this city in a few weeks and Mrs. Siler will take up her new work at the opening of the fall term of the college.

Each Week You'll Find Something New in This Space

Today It Is a 25 Per Cent Reduction On All Suits For Men and Boys

Men's suits in worsteds, cassimeres and chevots, two and three-piece suits, coats lined or skeletoned, weights for the present season and weights for early fall.

Boys' knee pants, Norfolk suits, ages 8 to 18, $4.00 to $12.50, closing at 25 per cent off.

Try our $5 Slip-on for the summer shower.

$1 Regal Shirts always a bargain at $1.

Savoy Shirts $1.50.

Boyden Oxfords $6.00.

CRAWFORD
& REES
300 South Elm St.

TURNIP SEED

Mammoth Red Top Globe
Early White Flat Dutch
Purple Top Strap Leaf
Large White Globe
Southern Snow White Globe
Southern Seven Top
Yellow Aberdeen

Gardner's Drug Store
Greensboro, N. C.

THE NORTH CAROLINA
College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts

The State Industrial College offers strong courses in Agriculture, Horticulture, Stock-raising, Dairying, Poultry, Veterinary Medicine, in Civil, Electrical, and Mechanical Engineering; in Chemistry and Dyeing; in Cotton Manufacturing, and in Agricultural teaching. Four year Courses in Agriculture and in Machine Shop Work. Faculty of 61 men; 738 students; 25 buildings; excellent equipment and laboratories for each department. On July 9th County Superintendents conduct entrance examinations at each county seat. For catalogue write

E. B. OWEN, Registrar,
West Raleigh, N. C.

DR. J. W. TAYLOR,
Fitting Glasses a Specialty.

RELIEF OR NO PAY

Office, Fifth Floor, Banner Bldg.

FEDERAL CASH TO MOVE CROPS AGAIN THIS YEAR.

Money from the federal treasury will be deposited in national banks throughout the country again this fall to facilitate the movement of crops and promote business generally. Secretary McAdoo has announced that he would put out approximately $34,000,000 and that he stood ready to increase the amount to any extent necessary to meet the country's needs.

The secretary's estimate of what will be needed is based upon replies from 5,000 national banks to a recent treasury department circular asking whether any unusual demand for money was expected this year and for what purposes. Last year the department inaugurated the custom of distributing funds in the crop-handling centers, depositing about $35,000,000 of the $50,000,000 Secretary McAdoo had decided to use for the purpose. A statement from the department said:

"These replies have been carefully analyzed and fully confirm the optimistic bulletins of the agricultural department as to the prospects for unusually large crops. They also indicate a decided promise of greatly improved business conditions and enlarged business activities throughout the country. The consensus of opinion of the bankers is that it will be of great benefit to the crop movement and to business generally if the secretary will deposit government funds in the leading cities of the country, as was done last year."

School For Feeble-Minded.

A dispatch from Kinston says 50 pupils are now entered in the North Carolina School for the Feeble-Minded, near that place, which was opened several weeks ago, and Superintendent McNairy has already accepted enough applicants to bring the enrollment up to the present capacity of the institution, about 120 or less, since portions of the dormitories have had to be taken over for school rooms. The work of instruction and treatment is now being systematically executed.

From one to five applications are received daily at the offices, and the superintendent is being compelled to turn down those who would be entered.

The methods of the school are visible already in the improvement, in appearance and behavior at least, or most of the little unfortunates who are the state's charges there.

Will There Be War in Europe?

Servia shows so much willingness to meet all of Austria's demands, except on one point, that it seems incredible that the latter should insist on war, unless she is determined to utilize the occasion to seize additional territory and to break down the growth of a power which she regards as a menace to her ascendancy. If this is the motive behind her ultimatum, it will be clearly developed in a very short time. It is possible that Europe may permit her to wage an unjustifiable war against a smaller power and to enlarge her boundaries at its expense, as she did unrebuked with regard to Bosnia and Herzegovina; but we doubt whether an acquisition made in such a way will do her any good in the end. A day of reckoning comes for all such acts of spoliation, and it may come sooner in Austria's case than sometimes happens.

Wilson May Go on Stump.

The first intimation from an official source that President Wilson will take an active part in the coming campaign came direct from the president this week. He was asked to go to Boston to attend a pure food convention October 5 to 31. He said that he would be very glad to accept, but he "expected to be very busy during October," which was interpreted as meaning that he will take the stump.

The president is hopeful that Congress will get through by September 12. He will then go to Cornish for a three-week rest and immediately thereafter make certain speeches. While there will be no "swing around the circle," the president's trip will take him into the middle West and the South.

Capt. E. S. Parker Dead.

Capt. E. S. Parker, a well known lawyer and prominent citizen of Alamance county, died Monday afternoon at his home at Graham. He had been in feeble health for several years, suffering from paralysis, the immediate cause of death being a stroke he received Sunday night. Capt. Parker was 76 years old and a Confederate veteran. In former years he took an active part in politics and was solicitor of this judicial district for some years. He is survived by his widow and a daughter, Miss Mamie Parker, and two sons, Mr. E. S. Parker, Jr., of Graham, and Mr. Junius Parker, of New York. Both sons are lawyers, Junius Parker being attorney for the American Tobacco Company.

PRESIDENT WILSON TO WRITE STRONG LETTER.

It is announced from Washington that President Wilson's consistent effort to convince honest business that it has nothing to fear from his administration soon is to culminate in one of the most important letters of his official life.

Democratic leaders are depending upon the president's letter to be a strong factor in the November elections. It may be stated upon the authority of a member of the Wilson cabinet that immediately following the approval of the trust bills the president will issue an address to the country which is calculated to have widespread influence in bringing business men to the support of the Democratic ticket.

The Baltimore platform contained three primary promises that Democrats say will have been carried out by the time the next campaign open in earnest. They promised to revise the tariff, to enact a new banking law and to strengthen the anti-trust laws. The Democratic tariff already is in operation, and the new banking system is about to be established. With the enactment of the trust bills, Democrats declare, the party will have completed its program of trust legislation, and the country will be informed that for the rest of the administration, at least, business need not fear any enactments affecting it at the hands of Congress.

Tried to Drown Companion.

Ed. Vaughn, white, is under arrest in Durham on a charge of assault with intent to kill, the charge being based on the fact that Vaughn attempted to drown Erwin Perry. According to the story told by the prosecuting witnesses, the two men were in Neuse river bathing when Perry and Vaughn got into a difficulty. They began fighting in the river and Perry says Vaughn caught him at a disadvantage while in the water and after knocking him down tried to hold him under the water. Some of the other people who were at the river at the same time pulled the men apart and saved Perry's life, according to his story. The man assaulted shows the signs of his fight in bloodshot eyes and a bruised face.

Will Not Interfere.

The talk of war between Austria and Servia has caused President Wilson to let it be known that the United States has no intention of meddling in European politics. The president stated to callers at the White House this week that, while it would be distinctly unwise to discuss European developments with matters there at a crisis, he saw no reason to depart from the American policy of not attempting to interfere in the affairs of Europe.

No steps have been taken by the administration to offer its good offices in the present conflict, according to Secretary Bryan. He classified as an "improper" question the query as to whether this government would take such a move.

Corporations Heard From.

A report from Raleigh says that every day now the corporation commission is receiving calls from officials of one and another of the public service and large private corporations of the state all of which are now being assessed for taxation for the current year by the commission, those visits being brought about by the corporations being notified as to what their assessments are and having objection to raise as to the amounts of the assessments. The commission will be on this assessment work now until well into the month of September, there being upwards of five thousand of them.

Reform in Navy Regulations.

Abolition of imprisonment for desertion from the navy in times of peace has been ordered by Secretary of the Navy Daniels. Bluejackets who overstay their leave or commit similar breaches of discipline will be dismissed summarily instead of being sent to prison, while men who become dissatisfied and want to quit may have an honorable discharge by merely refunding certain enlistment allowances. This reform has been under consideration by the secretary since he came into office. He announced in issuing the new order that the navy now had practically a full quota 51,348 enlisted men, compared with a shortage of more than 4,000 eighteen months ago, and that the time to take the step had come.

Catholic Church Limited.

A decree limiting the scope of the Roman Catholic church in the state of Nuevo Leon, Mexico, on the ground of "public health, morality and justice," was issued Monday by Antonio I. Villareal, governor and military commander. He said: "During the life of the nation the church has been a pernicious factor in disruption and discord and has entirely forgotten its spiritual mission."

Not More Rights Than Stated Law.

"You shoot dat mule or else I see gwinter sue you fer damages" was the ultimatum that a negro employee served on a lumber company in Newbern a few days ago. Investigation proved that the darkey had a good case, and preferring to lose a mean mule rather than several hundred dollars, the company ordered her shot.

From all accounts, the animal was a most vicious one and had done much damage with her heels. As one driver was vanquished and another came forward to take his place, the new one would be warned of the danger and usually was very careful for the first two or three days after that growing careless and as a general rule followed the precept laid down by his predecessor and succumbed to the deadly bombardment from the mule.

We want a young fellow of some staying power in this business. "Then I can heartily recommend my daughter's beau."

Watch the date on your label.

Residence For Sale

Eight-room residence, 243 East Washington street, two blocks from South Elm street. Modern conveniences, shady yard, big front and back porches. J. L. Brockmann, at Thacker & Brockmann's store.

N. & W. Norfolk & Western
Schedule in Effect

May 10, 1914.

Leave Winston-Salem.

6.50 A. M., daily for Roanoke and intermediate stations. Connect with main line train north, east and west with Pullman sleeper. Dining cars.

2.10 P. M., daily for Martinsville, Roanoke, the north and east. Pullman steel electric lighted sleeper. Winston-Salem to Harrisburg, Philadelphia, New York.

4.15 P. M., daily for Roanoke and local stations.

Trains arrive Winston-Salem 11.00 A. M., 1.10 P. M., 9.35 P. M.

W. B. SEVILL, W. C. SAUNDERS.
Pass. Traffic Mgr. Gen. Pa. A.
Roanoke, Va.

G. S. BRADSHAW

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW

Court Square, Greensboro, N. C.

RELIABLE SEEDS

SEED POTATOES,
CRIMSON CLOVER,
NEW CROP TURNIP SEED,
CABBAGE SEED,
CORN AND BEANS FOR LATE PLANTING
C. Scott & Company
Groceries and Seeds

For That Tired Spring Feeling Take

Dike's Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla With Iodides

50c SIZE AND $1.00
IT WILL HELP YOU

CONYERS & SYKES, Druggists

McAdoo Hotel Corner

The Busy Store

A July Clearance That is a Real Money Saver

We can't be held responsible if you miss this great chance to cut down the cost of living so far as Furniture goes. We give below a few of the many specials which we are offering this month. Scan them over and come and let us prove to you that we are selling

FURNITURE AND RUGS FAR BELOW THEIR REAL VALUE
Bed Room Suits, $22.00. Parlor Suits, $18.00. Iron Beds, $4.50. Bed Springs, $1.75. Felt Mattresses, $6.00. Couches, $7.50. Porch Rockers, $1.25. Porch Screens, $1.40. Hammocks, $1.00. Crex Rugs, 9x12, $7.50. Oak Dressers, $5.50. Go-Carts, $4.75. Sewing Machines, $18.00.

The sales will continue a few days longer in order to accommodate the people.

McDUFFIE'S FURNITURE STORE

Next to Odell Hardware Store.

Guilford Insurance & Realty Company

Insurance

Real Estate

Loans

If you want to insure your life or property—and you ought to do both; if you want to buy or sell real estate, either in the city or country; if you want to make or procure a loan, you should see us first. Our facilities in all these departments are unexcelled, and we will give you courteous and liberal treatment at all times. Come to see us.

Fisher Building

Greensboro, N. C.

A Few Good Points
About the

Bon Ami

Air and Oil Burning Stoves

Intense heat easily controlled.
Heat concentrated under cooking vessel.

Heat not thrown into kitchen.

Lights easy as gas.

No trouble to operate.

As delightful as a gas range.

Consumes 400 gallons of air to only one gallon of common kerosene oil.

Odell Hardware Comp'y

The Bank That Backs the Farmer

What is your idea of a bank? We will tell you our idea of what a bank ought to be and what the fixed policy of this bank is:

We cater to no one class. We serve no special interest. We seek only the legitimate banking business of all classes of honest men in this community. We are neither so big as to despise or discourage small accounts, nor so small as to accept undesirable business just for the sake of more accounts. If you believe that this kind of a bank ought to be your bank, come in and talk it over. You will receive every courtesy and accommodation consistent with sound banking.

American Exchange National Bank GREENSBORO, N. C.

Capital.....$400,000.00

The Bank for Your Savings
Branch at South Greensboro

TO ONE IN PARADISE.

They said that all to me, love,
For which my soul did pine—
A green isle in the sea, love,
A fountain and a shrine
All wreathed with fairy fruits and flowers,
And all the flowers were mine.
Ah, dream too bright to last!
Ah, starry Hope! that didst arise
But to be overcast,
A voice from out the future cries,
"For on"—but o'er the Past
(O'er gulf) my spirit hovering lies
Mute, motionless, aghast!
For, alas! with me
The light of life is o'er!
No more—no more—no more—
(Such language holds the solemn sea
To the sands upon the shore)
Shall bloom the thunder-blasted tree,
Or the stricken eagle soar!
And all my days are trances
And all my nightingales
And where thy gray eye glances,
And where thy footstep gleams—
In what ethereal dances,
By what eternal streams,
—EDGAR ALLAN POE.

OUR WEEKLY FASHION LETTER

Correspondence of The Patriot.

New York, July 28.—The Directoire influence is waning. Straight hanging gowns with long slashes and funny flares seemed to be about to take the world by storm. But, lo, Dame Fashion treacherously showed the long Dutch tunic, a ruffled skirt of the Crinoline days, and then, with an English grin, the basque and polonaise. The Directoire period has clung to tailored suits, leaving its imprint upon them, tossed us a few hats of striped materials and departed, as the Westerner said of the horse-thief, "for parts unknown."

Broad stripes, narrow stripes, straight stripes and crooked stripes, immediately were used not only for the Directoire tailored suit, but for all sorts of dresses whose style was indigenous of the period of 1914.

As stripes are rather trying to the slender woman, who predominates, the stripes are combined with plain colors, producing wonderfully attractive gowns. Thus we sometimes see the tunics of striped and sometimes the underskirt, sometimes an underwaist and sometimes the overwaist. It is the clever use of these stripes which suggested my illustrations for this letter.

Avowing striped ratine makes the lower skirt section and the sleeves of the waist. Plain ratine is used for the over-blouse and fitted circular tunic. In the front of the lower skirt is an inverted pleat which adds width and comfort in walking.

My second illustration shows a girl's basque dress made in black satin and striped taffeta. The black satin fronts of the waist extend into a band which finishes as a sash in the back. The tunic of the striped taffeta is edged with a band of satin, while the lower skirt is of black satin. A collar of sheer white crepe, piped edged, gives the desired touch of daintiness to the dress. A charmingly girlish white sailor hat with a touch of white roses at the side and white lacquered ribbon around the crown is worn with this costume.

In the spring the French handmade waists were made with the edged scalloped down the front and bound with a bias fold of the same material as the waist. Now has come the fashion of cutting the bottoms of tunics and skirts in scallops, points or squares and binding them either with the same material or with a woven braid. This is unusual and strikingly smart. It is also nothing not hard for the amateur dressmaker to do if she wishes. It takes time to baste and to stitch carefully, but no great skill.

Plain and Awning Striped Ratine
Make a Stunning Frock When Developed After This Model.

A wonderfully stylish gown which I have just seen was made of black taffeta. The bodice was of the long-waisted type, too closely fitted to be moyen age, yet not quite a basque. The skirt was made with a long tunic, which seemed to be attached to the bottom of the waist. The tunic was scalloped around the bottom in large shallow scallops bound with the bias taffeta. The V-shape neck of the waist was low with a large collar of sheer linen cut in scallops to match those on the skirt and edged with narrow Valenciennes lace.

A wonderful evening wrap was of rich green lined with a most exquisite shade of cyclamen pink. From a large, fitted shoulder-yoke of braided broad cloth hang two flounces of the green, one to about three-quarter length and the other hanging to just below the waist. Both of these flounces are cut in deep Van Dyke points, lined with the pink satin and bound with braid to match the green broadcloth. Each time the wearer moves the points ripple, showing the exquisite coloring of the lining and reminding one of a dark cloud with a rosy lining.

Black velvet of the light feather-weight variety is the season's fad, and it is safe to say one which will last well into the fall. Made into cunning little coats and saucy little capes, sashes and girdles, it promises to gain in favor until the entire costume of velvet will be the rage.

Strips or loops of velvet ribbon are placed on a cape of Chantilly lace to form a pelerine, while a large velvet collar circles the shoulders, almost like a shoulder cape. These same strips of velvet ribbon may be used to advantage as loops hanging from the waist over a pleated tunic. When the ribbon is looped, the satin-backed ribbon is used, as both sides are shown. When the velvet is sewn flat, as an edge to a tunic, for instance, the satin-backed velvet ribbon is, of course, unnecessary.

A Basque Dress Whose Combination of Taffeta and Satin Adds Style to Correct Simplicity.

This month should find you with thin and transparent frocks—formerly called lingerie frocks. This season in Paris these lingerie frocks have become dresses of white taffeta and white tulle, charming creations and eliminate the laundry bill. However, a very charming gown of tubular crepon has three scalloped flounces worn over a deep marine-blue foundation skirt of charmeuse. A girdle of charmeuse encircles the waist. It is looped in front with two rounded tabs, which are embroidered in Bulgarian colors enriched with gold. The three flounces are edged and embroidered loosely in scallops and a flowered design in white cotton. The long-sleeved blouse is embroidered straight across the neck with the same design. Bretelles about four inches wide, likewise embroidered, cross each shoulder, extending from the waist, front and back.

Voile is such a practical fabric that it has largely taken the place of sheer lawns and organdies for the serviceable and dressy frocks. A very charming little dress of black-high waistline worn with surplice straight-hanging skirt gathered to a high waistline worn with surplice sash blouse having long, tight fitting sleeves of white voile. The effect of this blouse is exquisitely soft and the fulness instead of blousing fits the figure in soft folds. The sleeves give exactly the effect of mousquetaire gloves. As the surplice of the blouse breaks about the waist in a sash effect, no other belt is necessary. Over this is worn a charming cape which hangs from the shoulders in the back and fits like a sleeveless bolero in the front. This is made of black Pekin chiffon velvet. It is lined with white charmeuse. The front fastening is a passementerie ornament, from which hang two long narrow yet elaborate tassels. A white collar of doubled organdy not too high and slightly bent back, follows the line of the cape from the point of its closing over the blouse to the low dropped line at the back of the neck.

Speaker a Good Word For John D. Rockefeller. A correspondent of the New York Times says it is the opinion of some people of the United States that John D. Rockefeller is one of the benefactors of mankind for the following reasons:

He produced a brand of oil during the last 50 years which is so superior to the oil used before his time that comparison is useless.

He compelled his competitors through his system, to reduce the price from 50 cents a gallon, retail, in 1866, to 12 or 14 cents a gallon in 1914.

He made the whole earth from the north to the south and around the equator tributary to the wealth of the United States and the name Standard Oil is known in all civilized and uncivilized countries.

Had John D. Rockefeller been born an Englishman, a Frenchman or a German, the people of those countries would have honored him to the height of their power, as a member of the house of lords or as a French chevalier of the Legion of Honor, and Kaiser Wilhelm would call him "Mein Freund Rockefeller."

Committees Reach Agreement. Complete agreements on the sundry civil and general deficiency appropriation bills were reached Monday by the senate and house conferees. The Indian appropriation bill is the only important measure left in conference. The sundry civil bill authorizes the president to rearrange the customs collection districts without increasing their number.

A provision in the general deficiency bill authorizes the treasury to adjust claims for $175,000 due heirs of Confederate officers in connection with prior service in the United States army.

Cut Out the Snake Bite.

Bitten on the right leg by a copperhead snake, which sprang upon him in a mountain ravine, near Coalwood, W. Va., Byron Hardin, a North Carolinian, using a barlow knife, cut the flesh out of his leg where the reptile had sunk its fangs, banded the leg with cords, then hurried to Welch. Finding the hospital there crowded, he proceeded to Bristol, Tenn., where he was given treatment.

Railroad Will Spend Millions.

President Fairfax Harrison, of the Southern Railway, has confirmed the intentions of the Southern to build coal docks at Charleston, S. C., saying they are intended largely for handling Panama canal traffic. It will take nine months or a year to build them and will cost the railroad $11,300,000 to place the track from the Appalachian coal fields to Charleston in shape to handle the traffic. The rates will be the same charged by the Norfolk and Western from the Pocahontas fields.

Annual Excursion to Atlantic City. N. J., Tuesday, August 11, 1914. Via Southern Railway and Pennsylvania Railroad.

Special train consisting of first-class day coaches and standard Pullman sleeping cars will leave Greensboro at 10.25 P. M., Tuesday, August 11, leave Reidsville at 11.10 P. M., and arrive Atlantic City about 1 P. M. August 12.

Tickets for this excursion will be sold good going on special train only through to Atlantic City, but returning will be good on any regular train leaving Atlantic City up to and including August 25, 1914. Tickets should be deposited immediately on arrival at Atlantic City with ticket agent and be validated before commencing return trip. Stop-overs will be permitted on the return trip at Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington within final limit of tickets. To secure stop-overs tickets should be deposited with agent at stop-over point immediately on arrival. These tickets can be used through to Atlantic City and return to Philadelphia, getting stop-over, at that point and make side trip to New York.

Following round trip fares will apply from stations named below: Greensboro, $11; Liberty, $11.50; Sanford, $11.50; Madison, $12; North Wilkesboro, $13; Kernersville, $12; Rural Hall, $12.50; Reidsville, $10.50; Siler City, $11.50; Mt. Airy, $12.50; Winston-Salem, $12; Elkin, $13; Walnut Cove, $12; Ramseur, $11.50.

Fares from intermediate points on same basis. These tickets will be good on regular trains up to Greensboro, connecting with the special train from that place. Special Pullman sleeping cars will start at Mt. Airy and Winston-Salem to be handled on special train from Greensboro. Pullman reservations should be made in advance.

For Pullman reservations and other information apply to any agent Southern Railway, or write W. P. Lester, C. P. & T. A., Winston-Salem, N. C.; C. A. Shelton, Agent, Mt. Airy, N. C.; C. G. Pickard, P. & T. A., Greensboro, N. C.; R. H. DeButts, D. P. A., Charlotte, N. C.

SIX PER CENT
First mortgage notes, bonds, secured by first-class real estate
FOR SALE
This company guarantees principal, interest, title, etc.
Continuous investments in amounts from $100 up. Write for booklet.
NORTH CAROLINA TRUST CO.
Capital.....$125,000.00
R. C. HOOD, Sec.-Mgr. A. W. M'ALISTER, Pres.

WE GUARANTEE THE SHARPLES

To be the most satisfactory
CREAM SEPARATOR
on the market, and you can save enough to pay for it in one year with four good cows. Call and look them over.
M. G. NEWELL CO.

YOUR SUNDAY ROAST
is best done on a
New Perfection
WICK BLUE FLAME
Oil Cook-stove
Its steady, even heat preserves the rich, natural flavor of the meat. You can always get just the right heat.
The New Perfection is ready to cook in a minute. No fires to kindle—no ashes, no soot.
Made in different sizes—Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5. No. 5 has the new fireless cooking oven. Ask to see it at all hardware and department stores.
STANDARD OIL COMPANY
Washington, D. C. (New Jersey) Charlotte, N. C.
Norfolk, Va. BALTIMORE Charleston, W. Va.
Richmond, Va. Charleston, S. C.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE.

ONE YEAR$1.50
SIX MONTHS75
FOUR MONTHS50

Notice—Subscriptions are payable strictly in advance, and the paper will not be sent to a subscriber for a longer period of time than it is paid for. If a renewal has not been received by the expiration date, the name will be dropped from the mailing list. WATCH THE DATE ON YOUR LABEL!

Entered at the postoffice in Greensboro, N. C., as second-class mail matter.

THURSDAY, JULY 30, 1914.

OLD IRELAND AFLAME.

The attack of the British soldiers upon the Irish Nationalists in Dublin Sunday, resulting in the killing of three men and a woman and the wounding of many others, a brief account of which was printed in The Patriot Monday, may prove to be the spark setting off the fuse of civil war throughout Ireland.

It is from such incidents that many wars have arisen. The clash between the Irish Nationalists and the Scottish Borderers might not in itself be sufficient to array the Ulsterites and the Nationalists against each other in armed conflict, but the fuse of hatred had been previously laid, and only a spark is needed to set Ireland aflame.

The disclaimer of English officials is not likely to soothe the resentment in Dublin and the outlying sections. The feeling has been growing among the Nationalists that Premier Asquith has been dealing with the Ulsterites with too light a hand.

Troops ordered to put down the gun-running among the Ulsterites laid down their arms, and attempts at discipline in such cases provoked a furore throughout England, which finally led to the acceptance of the war portfolio by Premier Asquith himself.

The government having failed to use stern measures with reference to Ulster, the armed reprisals of the government troops against the Dublin volunteers take on the appearance of discrimination. The lord mayor of Dublin thus states the situation:

"Dublin and Ireland look with confidence to John Redmond and his colleagues to bring to justice those responsible for this shocking outrage. There must no longer be one law for a section of Ulster people and another law for the remainder of the Irish people."

It becomes evident from this clash that exclusion of Ulster from the operations of the home rule bill will not furnish a solution of the difficulties in Ireland. The greatest danger of civil war in the past has seemed to lie in the discontent of Ulster. But the yielding attitude of Premier Asquith and the belief that the king and queen themselves inclined to make liberal concessions to Sir Edward Carson have served to inflame the followers of John Redmond, and there are indications that the clash at Dublin, even though the government disavows responsibility, may bring about the civil war which has been brooding over Ireland for many months.

WHAT IS THE CAUSE?

A New York trial judge, discussing a recently published statement to the effect that crime in this country has increased fivefold in the last 50 years, thinks the chief reason for this is to be found in the constitutional safeguards that surround a prisoner on trial. He refers especially to the requirement of unanimity in a trial jury. Four jurors in a case he had just tried refused to convict, though the accused girl took the witness stand and admitted the grand larceny charged. Underlying the action of the four jurors is probably a perverted sense of gallantry, of favoritism toward a woman, the survival of which is curious after several years of insistence by organized women that they desire no gallantry and insist on being treated in all respects like men. But back of that there is a display of irresponsibility to the community that is altogether too common. These four jurors felt no responsibility for punishing crime and protecting the community, and they were entirely indifferent to the obligations of their oath, and this indifference to social obligations and the binding character of a judicial oath are not uncommon.

ANNEX NORFOLK.

Writing in yesterday's Charlotte Observer, a citizen of Norfolk, Va., proposes, apparently in all seriousness, that Norfolk and that immediate section of Virginia be annexed to North Carolina. He recites that Norfolk is made up largely of North Carolinians and that a great part of the business of that city is with North Carolina, and since the Norfolk people have a sore grievance against the Virginia state government, the author of the communication to the Observer argues that now is the accepted time to start a movement looking to the annexation of Norfolk and vicinity to the Old North State. Well, for our part, we are willing to be accommodating and take over the Norfolk territory, which has been made great and prosperous by the thousands of North Carolinians who have settled there and tens of thousands of other Tar Heels who have patronized Norfolk's business enterprises. Doubtless the majority of Norfolk people would feel more at home as citizens of North Carolina than of Virginia, but the Old Dominion would never willingly give up that great city and surrounding rich territory.

If Mr. Wilson takes the stump this fall in support of Democratic policies and candidates, Mr. Roosevelt will have to share the center of the stage with him. Of the two attractions, the colonel is mighty apt to prove the smaller and to lose by the contrast. The Baltimore Evening Sun says: "If he counted on Mr. Wilson's sitting still and allowing himself to be made a target for the display of Mr. Roosevelt's political marksmanship, he seems to have made a serious miscalculation. There is likely to be a man in the field who can beat him at his own game."

If you will scratch under the skin, you will find that most of the people crying out against so-called boss rule in the Democratic party in North Carolina are moved by an ulterior motive. Some desire to see a new crowd in charge of the party's affairs, and others would rejoice mightily to see the party rent and torn asunder. The same sort of talk was heard prior to the political convulsion that threw this state into the nightmare of fusion rule, and some of those who are yelling loudest now are close to men who were leaders in that nefarious movement.

A political party without leaders—some people prefer to call them bosses—would be a daisy, and soon would be planted under the daisies.

Flying Machines May Get War Test.
Flying machines will be given their first real tests as instruments of war if a general conflict is precipitated in Europe by the present breach between Austria and Serbia. British experts predict that the part the aerial corps would play in the fighting would be of the greatest importance, and the relative aviation strength from a military viewpoint of the different nations apt to be drawn into the threatened war has become a topic of lively discussion.

France is known to have a large fleet of airships manned by skilled aviators with military training, ready to go into action at a moment's notice. The French army and navy together have about 750 machines.

Germany has an aerial corps operating over 500 aeroplanes and dirigibles.

The Russian army has about 380 airships at its command. Austria has only about 150 flying machines of various types.

Italy has at least 200 well equipped airships, and many of the aviators in the Italian army have the benefit of training received in the war between that country and Turkey.

The British army, in the event of war, it is said, would have less fighting strength in the air than any of the leading European nations, as it has only 130 airships equipped and ready for service at the present time.

Subscribe to The Patriot.

GENERAL NEWS PARAGRAPHS

SUMMARY OF EVENTS THAT GO TO MAKE UP THE WORLD'S NEWS OF THE DAY.

The golden jubilee year convention of the Supreme Lodge Knights of Pythias, to be opened in Winnipeg, Man., August 4, will mark the second time in the history of the order that a supreme lodge session has been held outside the United States.

The Michigan Supreme court has found the National Cash Register Company, of Dayton, O., guilty of unlawful restraint of trade and imposed a fine of $10,000. The company is restrained from doing business in Michigan until the fine is paid.

The Republican members of the United States senate held a conference Tuesday and decided not to filibuster against the trust bills. They are opposed to the bills and will speak against them, but will do nothing to delay the adjournment of Congress.

At Niagara Falls, Canada, July 25, Americans and Canadians joined in commemorating the battle of Lundy's Lane, which was fought 100 years ago that day, within earshot of the roar of Niagara Falls, and which has been called by some historians the battle of Niagara Falls.

A "Divorce Prevention Bureau" has been opened in Chicago. Its purpose is to arbitrate or talk over matters with people seeking divorce in the hope of restoring amicable relations. All disagreeing couples are urged to visit the "Divorce Prevention Bureau" before going to the divorce courts.

The eugenic marriage law has played havoc with Wisconsin weddings. Statistics for the first five months of 1914 show that but 5273 marriages of Wisconsin people, solemnized in the state or elsewhere, were reported to the state board of health, using the corresponding months of 1913 6,707 marriages were reported.

Three burglars in Chicago early Tuesday morning smothered to death a six-months-old baby boy and left his mother, Mrs. Mary Reese, a witness to the crime, bound and gagged beside the tiny corpse for three hours until her husband returned home. The burglars stuffed a blanket end down the baby's throat when he screamed.

John Schrank, the assailant of Col. Theodore Roosevelt, who was committed to the hospital for the insane at Oshkosh, Wis., will never be tried for shooting the former president. This became known for certain Monday, when Judge Backus received notice from physicians in charge of Schrank, who said the man is hopelessly insane and will never recover.

City Boarder—"I suppose you hatch all these chickens yourself?"
Farmer—"No; we've got hens here for the purpose."

$2 to $5 Hats
Only 98c

We have about 200 hundred Ladies' Newest Style Hats that we are going to close out in the next few days at only 98c. This is an opportunity you don't meet with every day.

Men's, Ladies', Misses' and Children's Low Cut Shoes At Greatly Reduced Prices.

We will save you big money on a pair of Slippers.

Men's Straw Hats all reduced as well as almost every line of Summer Goods. You can save money by calling on us and always save money if you do not forget that.

A. V. SAPP

"SELLS IT CHEAPER."
318 South Elm Street.

Excursion To Norfolk
and Richmond

On Wednesday, August 11, the Norfolk & Western Railway will operate a popular fare excursion to Richmond and Norfolk. Round-trip tickets will be sold from Bristol, Bluefield and Winston-Salem and intermediate stops to Roanoke. No stops east of Roanoke. Very low round trip fares for this occasion. Please see flyers or apply to agents, N. & W. Railway.

W. C. SAUNDERS,
Gen. Pas. Agent.

S. Glenn Brown

Attorney-at-Law

616 BANNER BUILDING,

Greensboro, N. C.

REMODELING SALEWe Are Moving Stocks

Making Room for the Contractors of Many Kinds

Our Prices Are Moving Quantities of Merchandise. Converting Merchandise Into Cash

New Values, New Prices

In Almost Every Department

Clearance Sale of Men's Clothing, Low Shoes, Women's Ready-to-Wear, Millinery, etc.

WILL CONTINUE ALL THIS WEEK

"NEW CLOTH"

That splendid Crepe Fabric in the new Roman stripes, awning stripes and white, Price 25c yard.

White Ratine 15c, 25c, 39c
25c Scotch Ginghams, Price 15c yd.

Brown-Belk Company

WE SELL IT FOR LESS FOR CASH

"THE BROCKMANN PIANO CLUB'S"Great Cash Piano Sale

August 10th to September 1st

233 South Elm Street

Phone 428 or 529

Greensboro, N. C.

Mr. C. J. Brockmann, the well known musician and teacher, will introduce his "SAVE MONEY" Piano Club by this sale. By transacting a year's business in three weeks and resuming his school work, he can make these prices. The office on Elm street will be open, however, the year round. Railroad fare refunded to fifty miles and return, to purchasers.

$250 Piano $167;

$325 Piano $227;

$275 Piano $183;

$350 Piano $244;

$300 Piano $198;

$550 Self-Piano $412

These Prices Will Never be Offered Again.

They are the lowest ever offered in North Carolina on good pianos. Come early and get your choice. By special arrangement, one-third or one-half cash can be paid, the balance on time.

A few artist pianos. Fischer or McPhail at like reduction. Organs $15 to $70.

EXECUTION SALE.

North Carolina, Guilford County.
In the Superior Court.
B. F. Jennings, Plaintiff,
vs.
James B. Sells, Defendant.

By virtue of an execution directed to the undersigned from the Superior court of Guilford county in the above entitled action, I will on at 12 o'clock M., at the court house door of said county, sell to the highest bidder for cash to satisfy said execution, in attachment proceeding, in said case, all the right, title and interest which the said James B. Sells, defendant, has in the following described real estate to-wit: Situate in Guilford county, in Morehead township, adjoining the lands of Zink, Austin, Paschal, Kersey, Kindley, and others. Beginning at a stone Temple's corner south 3 degrees, thence with Temple's line south 54 degrees east 54 feet to a corner stone south of Temple's corner stone, thence a new dividing line with G. W. Kinley north 33 degrees west 175 feet to a stone in Kindley's line; thence with line north 2 3-4 degrees east 34 feet to a stone near hickory corner with Zink and Osborn; thence with Osborn and Zink line south 86 3-4 degrees east 1761 feet to a stone; thence with line south 22 8-9 degrees east 228 feet to a stone; thence with line south 89 degrees east 17 8-9 acres, end of above tract for use of said Kindley. Sells has privilege to enclose it till said Kindley requests it between Temple and line leading over to main road. In event Kindley wants to cross along line between Temple and my line he is allowed said privilege, for a more particular description see book 194, at page 457, deed registered in register of deeds of Guilford county.

MONDAY, AUGUST 17, 1914,

This July 8, 1914.

D. B. STAFFORD,
Sheriff of Guilford County.

EXECUTOR'S NOTICE.

Having qualified as executor of the estate of W. H. Clayton, deceased, this is to notify all persons having claims against said estate to present them to the undersigned on or before the 9th day of July, 1915, or this notice will be pleaded in bar of their recovery. All persons indebted to said estate will please make immediate payment.

This July 8, 1914.

W. D. CLAYTON, Executor of the estate of W. H. CLAYTON, Deceased.

NOTICE OF DISSOLUTION.

State of North Carolina,
Department of State.

To All to Whom These Presents May Come—Greeting:

Whereas, it appears to my satisfaction, by duly authenticated record of the proceedings for the voluntary dissolution thereof by the unanimous consent of all the stockholders, of the Insurance Publishing Company, a corporation of this state, whose principal office is situated in the city of Greensboro, county of Guilford, state of North Carolina, (S. T. Wyrick being of upon whom process may be served), Chapter 21, Revised of 1905, entitled "Corporations," preliminary to the issuing of this Certificate of Dissolution.

Now, Therefore, I, J. Bryan Grimes, Secretary of State of the State of North Carolina, do hereby certify that the said corporation did, on the 2nd day of July, 1914, file in my office a writing to the dissolution of said corporation, executed by all the stockholders thereof, which said consent and the report of the proceedings aforesaid are now on file in my said office as provided by law.

In Testimony Whereof I have hereto set my hand and affixed my official seal at Raleigh, this 2nd day of July, A. D., 1914.

J. BRYAN GRIMES,
Secretary of State.

FOR SALE AT AUCTION.

A portion of the personal property of the late Dr. H. Willis, consisting of a good horse, new Ford automobile, household furniture, etc., will be sold at auction at Summerfield on Saturday, August 1, on or about 2 o'clock P. M.

MISS SUE WILLIS, Administratrix.

ADMINISTRATRIX'S NOTICE.

Having qualified as administratrix of the estate of H. Willis, deceased, this is to notify all persons having claims against said estate to present them to the undersigned on or before the 9th day of July, 1915, or this notice will be pleaded in bar of their recovery. All persons indebted to said estate will please make immediate payment.

This July 9, 1914.

SUE WILLIS, Administratrix.

With the Will Annexed.

ROAD NOTICE.

A petition having been presented to the board of commissioners of Guilford county by citizens and taxpayers of Center Grove township asking that a public road be opened and constructed, beginning near the top of the hill near Mrs. Summers, north of Reed Fork, from the road leading from Greensboro to Greensboro west to the road leading north from the McGowan bridge, through the lands of Mrs. Sarah Summers, James Bass, James T. Morehead, A. J. Busick, Dr. W. E. Beville estate and Flake Shaw, this is to notify all persons objecting to same to appear before the board at its next regular meeting on Tuesday, August 4, 1914, and state said objection. This July 7, 1914.

W. C. BOREN, Chm. B. C. C.

ROAD NOTICE.

A petition having been presented to the board of commissioners of Guilford county by citizens and taxpayers of Morehead township asking that the road leading from West Lee street be widened, straightened and dedicated a public road and opened up to a point near the Central Carolina fair grounds, connecting with the High Point and Greensboro road, this is to notify all persons objecting to same to appear before the board at its next regular meeting on Tuesday, August 4, 1914, and state said objection. This July 7, 1914.

W. C. BOREN, Chm. B. C. C.

ADMINISTRATRIX'S NOTICE.

Having qualified as administratrix of the estate of H. Willis, deceased, this is to notify all persons having claims against said estate to present them to the undersigned on or before the 9th day of July, 1915, or this notice will be pleaded in bar of their recovery. All persons indebted to said estate will please make immediate payment.

This July 9, 1914.

SUE WILLIS, Administratrix.

With the Will Annexed.

De J. E. WYCHE

DENTIST

SECOND FLOOR FISHER BLDG.

PHONES: RES. 27; OFFICE 29

Where is Your Money?

A Kansas farmer who had no bank account dropped his roll in a field he was plowing. It was not found until a year afterwards, and was then a mass of pulp, and none of it redeemable.

A savings account in this bank offers ABSOLUTE SECURITY for your savings and pays 4 per cent interest compounded quarterly.

Greenboro Loan & Trust Company

The Bank With the Chimes

J. W. Fry, President. J. S. Cox, Vice President.
W. E. Allen, Sec. and Treas. W. M. Ridenhour, Asst. Treas.
W. M. Combs, Mgr. Savings Dept.

Neighborhood News.

Matters of Interest Reported by Our Corps of Correspondents.

WHITSETT.

Rev. R. E. Redding returned from Yanceyville last Friday. He has been assisting in a protracted meeting for a week at that place. He will begin a protracted meeting at Springwood church next Sunday, August 2.

Miss Ruth Lamb is away this week visiting in western Guilford.

Robert Fitzgerald, of the senior class at the University, is spending some time here with friends.

Prof. J. H. Joyner and several others from this place spent Monday in Greensboro.

Mrs. R. B. Ellington has rented the Clarke house and will conduct a boarding hall there the coming year.

William R. Keck, from near Low's church, was over last Saturday on business.

Our place was furnished a thrilling bit of excitement for an hour or so Monday morning. The stirring scene was made up of two young mules, a wagon loaded with stove wood, an overturned hive of angry bees and a crowd of helpers. Kicking mules, stinging bees, flying wood and general excitement added to the joys of the moment. The scene was staged in front of the postoffice, thence by Swift's store, on by C. T. M. Clapp's residence, through a tennis wire netting, over a wire fence and on to the west. The July day was hot, the bees were hot, the mules were hot, and the picture was painted in warm colors for a short time.

Several parties were here last week arranging to enter school August 26. Letters are coming by every mail asking for new catalogues and prospects are bright for the coming year.

RAMSEUR.

Mrs. Preston Enoch and children, of Greensboro, are visiting Mrs. Charles Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Luther are spending some time at Michfield with Mrs. Luther's mother.

We have mumps and colds in town, but nothing serious.

After making a lot of repairs, the Columbia Manufacturing Company resumed work Monday.

Messrs. C. B. Smith, V. C. Marley and D. M. Weatherly attended the district meeting of Red Men at Bon-le last Saturday.

Our streets and roads in town have been greatly improved.

Divorce is Easy in Colorado.

Denver, Colo., July 27.—The granting of a divorce Saturday to Mrs. Josephine Katherine Tonges, of Mount Vernon, N. Y., has opened the eyes of the citizens of Colorado to a great laxity in the divorce laws of the West.

Mrs. Tonges was given a decree one month after her marriage to Charles P. Tonges, of Mount Vernon. He left her the day after the wedding. She followed him here, and she testified that he struck her. Under the laws of Colorado nonresidents may obtain divorces on cruelty charges.

Under the same rule, it is pointed out, a couple might marry in Topeka today, arrive here tomorrow and quarrel, and on the same day be divorced on the grounds of cruelty. Then either or both might go to Cheyenne, Wyo., and each take another mate the next day. They could not remarry in Kansas or Colorado so soon, because of the one-year law. Wyoming has no such law.

Watch the date on your label.

NORTH CAROLINA NEWS NOTES

A BRIEF SURVEY OF WHAT IS TRANSPIRING IN THE COMMONWEALTH.

The Durham and Southern railroad, which runs from Durham to Dunn, is to be extended to Clinton during the fall.

The dead body of a negro woman, her head split open as if by an axe, was found in the bushes on a farm in Halifax county last week.

Reports from Stokes county say it is estimated that the tobacco crop in that county has been cut short about 25 per cent by the drought.

Jim Cameron, under sentence to die August 7 for the murder of Archie Blue, of Moore county, has been respite until August 28.

The Haywood county apple crop is estimated at 75 per cent of a full crop and it is figured that shipments will amount to 30,000 to 35,000 barrels.

A. H. Brooks, a merchant of West Asheville, who last May shot and killed F. B. Hugill, has been sentenced to the Buncombe county roads for six years.

The residence in Asheville Secretary of State Bryan and family will occupy as a summer home has been put in first-class condition and the new tenants are expected to arrive next week.

The dead body of Harry Aaron, a 19-year-old youth of Mt. Olive, was found by the railroad track near that place Monday morning and it is believed he met death by falling from a freight train.

H. L. Powers, a Robeson county farmer, was arrested in Lumberton Tuesday charged with violating the white slave act. Powers has a wife and several children. He was released under a bond of $500.

At Kinston last week David J. Lee, of Wayne county, 26 years old, married a woman 60 years old and in feeble health. He said he married her to take care of her. How much property the woman has is not stated.

The Farmers' Union of Cleveland county has appointed a committee of six prominent farmers to formulate a plan whereby crops can be insured in a co-operative insurance company against damage from the various elements.

In Robeson county Sunday morning Deputy Sheriff Kitchin killed James Davis, a negro. Davis was terrorizing the colored people and when Kitchin attempted to arrest him he drew a pistol. The officer fired first.

Mrs. G. W. Ivey, widow of a well known Methodist preacher in North Carolina, died Monday at the home of her son-in-law, G. M. Foard, in Statesville. She was 82 years old and had been in feeble health for some time.

Constantine A. Hege, one of the most prominent business men of Winston-Salem, died Sunday at his home in Salem, aged 73 years. He was at the head of the Salem Iron Works, one of the most important manufacturing enterprises in the Twin-City.

Jerry Champion, an aged citizen of Henderson, was run over and killed by a train Monday morning. He was very deaf and it is believed that he did not hear the approaching train. He was crossing the track and the engineer did not see him in time to stop the train.

Will Ruffy, a white man 30 years old, was run over and killed by a freight train near Salisbury just before daylight Sunday morning. He was walking to the home of his father to spend Sunday and sat down on the track to get a gravel out of one of his shoes when the train came along and ran over him.

The Shelby Star reports that Rev. Dr. T. P. Crawford, a missionary in China, who died some years ago, left an estate valued at $75,000 to $100,000, consisting of property in Shelby, Asheville and China. His real estate in China sold for $33,000 and a check for the amount was recently received by his executors in Shelby. Dr. Crawford left the entire estate to his family.

The Winston-Salem Journal hears that a Davis county farmer objected to a good road running through his farm. The road commissioners condemned the right of way and the farmer demanded $2,000 damages. A hearing was held; the land-owner was allowed $100 damages and assessed $500 for the advantage the road will be to his land. He is therefore in debt $400 to the good road fund.

At Gordonsville, Va., where the Virginia militia is in camp, a negro and a soldier had a fight Saturday evening. The negro was placed in jail and later several hundred soldiers battered down the door and seized him. He would have been lynched but for the arrival of a guard of soldiers in command of officers, who rescued him and hurried him away from town, while the soldier-rioters were rounded up.

PRESIDENT HARRISON TALKS OF HIS RAILROAD.

Fairfax Harrison, president of the Southern Railway, was a witness Monday and Tuesday before the committee of the senate that is investigating the coal traffic in the South.

Tracing the building and the development of the Southern Railway of today from what he termed a "collection of lines at first well fit for a museum," Mr. Harrison told of Mr. Spencer's plan for constructing a railway to serve the industrial South, and early discovered need for an additional coal supply. It was to meet this need that first the Knoxville & Bristol Railway was bought, and afterward the Virginia & Southwestern. He called attention to the fact that although the price paid for the Virginia & Southwestern was greater than a former price at which it might have been bought, the Southern was not ready to make the purchase at the time it was first offered, and when the Southern was ready to buy, in pursuance of its plan of development, the Virginia & Southwestern could not be bought for any less than was paid. The results, he declared, have fully justified the price paid for the Virginia & Southwestern, and its acquisition by the Southern Railway has not only been of great advantage to it, but as well to the industrial South, particularly the manufacturing district in the Carolinas.

Mr. Harrison reviewed the financial history of the Southern Railway, declaring particularly upon the financial straits in which it found itself after the panic of 1907, when the company was on the verge of bankruptcy, and how it was necessary to postpone for years many improvements that were greatly desired, because of lack of funds. He also explained in detail the Southern's plans for a coal terminal at Charleston.

More Rifles For Irish Nationalists.

Dublin, July 28.—A consignment of 4,000 rifles for the Irish Nationalist volunteers was landed during the night at New Castle on the coast of county Wicklow. Another batch of 1,000 rifles was landed near Killool, also in Wicklow.

The coroner's inquest on the victims of Sunday's fighting between the king's own Scottish Borderers and the crowd was adjourned until Thursday at the request of the lawyers representing the soldiers, who asked for time to prepare their evidence.

Wood's Trade Mark

Crimson Clover

Is Best Quality Obtainable, of High Tested Germination and Purity.

Crimson Clover is a wonderful soil-improver; also makes splendid fall, winter and spring grazing, the earliest green feed, or a good hay crop.

A crop of Crimson Clover turned under is equal to a good application of stable manure, and its value as a soil-improver is worth $20. to $30. per acre.

Wood's Descriptive Fall Catalog

giving full information about CRIMSON CLOVER, ALFALFA, WINTER VETCH, and all FARM and GARDEN SEEDS for Fall sowing, mailed on request.

Write for Catalog and prices of any Seeds required.

T. W. WOOD & SONS, Seedsmen, - Richmond, Va.

WHITSETT INSTITUTE

A Leading Boarding School for Two Hundred and Fifty Students. Prepares for College, for Business, for Teaching, or for Life. Established 1888. Wide Patronage. Reasonable Rates.

IN THE HEALTHFUL PIEDMONT REGION NEAR GREENSBORO, N. C. For Illustrated Catalogue, Views, etc., address the President.

W. T. WHITSETT, Ph. D., WHITSETT, NORTH CAROLINA.

DR. A. L. PETREE

Stomach and Intestines-Rectum

Office equipment up-to-date. A large per cent of rectal diseases such as piles, ulcers, fissures, fistulae, etc., are cured in offices without chloroform, ether, knife, hospital or detention from business. Offices in Grissom Building, opposite the McAdoo Hotel, Greensboro, N. C. Hours: 8 A. M. to 12 M. and 2 to 5 P. M. Residence Phone 202. Office Phone 472.

C. CLIFFORD FRAZIER

LAWYER
Phone No. 539. - Res. Phone No. 1618.
OFFICES
102 Court Square, Greensboro

Many Rare Bargains

We still have in stock a number of low-cut shoes, upon which we have cut the price deeper than ever. If we can fit you, and we suspect we can, you can get one of the best bargains in shoes you ever heard of.

Our new fall stock is beginning to arrive. We will be better prepared than ever before to take care of your shoe wants.

Coble & Mebane,

The Cash Shoe Store

Summer Clearance Sale

Our usual summer clearance sale is now going on. Our entire stock of men's and boys' clothing has been greatly reduced in price. The following figures will give you an idea of how we have cut the price on our high-grade clothing.

$20.00 Suits Reduced to $15.00
$18.00 Suits Reduced to $13.50
$15.00 Suits Reduced to $10.00
$12.50 Suits Reduced to $8.75
$10.00 Suits Reduced to $7.65

Clothing At Half Price

Also our bargain counter is greater than ever before. We have placed on this counter about 250 suits which will be sold at half price. It will pay you to come early and get a good selection, as this counter contains bargains you do not see often. We also offer our straw hats at half price and all low cut shoes at a big reduction.

I. ISAACSON
308 S. Elm Street, Opposite McAdoo Hotel
Greensboro, N. C.

SUBSCRIBE TO THE PATRIOT

Sale of Valuable Land for Subdivision

The heirs of the late W. O. Donnell have placed in my hands, for subdivision and sale, a part of the late Donnell home place, near Oak Ridge, N. C.

I have subdivided a portion of this property into small lots, and building sites, which I will offer for sale, at auction, on the premises, on

Saturday, Sept. 19th, 1914

The property which will be offered for sale lies, for three-quarters of a mile, on either side of the macadam road leading from Greensboro to Winston-Salem, by way of Oak Ridge, and extends to within a quarter of a mile of the celebrated Oak Ridge Institute school.

To those who have boys to educate, and would like to secure a residence site near a school of high grade, in a splendid community, this sale will afford a rare opportunity, and the terms of purchase will be made such that no one desiring such a location need be deterred on that account.

Oak Ridge has an elevation above sea level of somewhat more than a thousand feet, being about two hundred feet higher than the City of Greensboro; and of its general attractiveness as a place of residence in the country, too much can hardly be said. In addition to its unequalled school facilities, the community is noted for the high average intelligence of its citizenship and fine community spirit. Being on the macadam road connecting Greensboro and Winston-Salem, it is within equal and easy reach of the railway stations at Summerfield, Stokesdale and Kernersville, and of Greensboro and Winston-Salem as well.

This will be the first time building sites at Oak Ridge have ever been offered, in any number. Indeed, it has not been easy, heretofore, to secure desirable residence sites at all.

The property has been mapped and platted, and a map may be inspected at my office or at the office of King & Kimball.

This July 22, 1914.

R. C. HOOD, Greensboro, N. C.

6013-6011-6050

Perfect Frocks For Hot Weather

Made at home in a day and described and charmingly illustrated in the new

McCall Patterns

Fashion Publications
Now On Sale
Watch Our Special Piece Goods Sales

and make your own clothes at home. There never was a time when home dress making was so easy and satisfactory.

The up-to-date woman's wardrobe is incomplete without the long tunic in some development. The model illustrated here is among the hundreds of new styles shown at our pattern department. Ask for free fashion sheet today.

BROWN-BELK CO., - Greensboro, N. C.

Greensboro Commercial School

Greensboro, N. C.

Our Winter term opens January 5th, 1914. Write at once for special Christmas offer. The New Year is dawning and we are coming to you with a special inducement to enter new fields of business activity. Now is the time to take a course in Bookkeeping and shorthand. Write for free catalogue and our special rates.

BALLENTINE & McCLUNG, Proprietors

NOTICE OF DISSOLUTION.

State of North Carolina,
Department of State.
To All to Whom These Presents May Come—Greeting:

Whereas, it appears to my satisfaction, by duly authenticated record of the proceedings for the voluntary dissolution thereof, by the unanimous consent of all the stockholders, deposited in my office, that the Greensboro Real Estate Exchange, Inc., a corporation of this state, whose principal office is situated at No. 20 South Elm street, in the city of Greensboro, county of Guilford, state of North Carolina, (J. R. Hughes being the agent therein and in charge thereof, upon whom process may be served), has complied with the requirements of Chapter 21, Revised of 1905, entitled "Corporations," preliminary to the issuing of this Certificate of Dissolution:

Now, Therefore, I, J. Bryan Grimes, Secretary of State of the State of North Carolina, do hereby certify that the said corporation did, on the 9th day of July, 1914, file in my office, a duly executed and attested consent in writing to the dissolution of said corporation, executed by all the stockholders thereof, which said consent and the record of the proceedings aforesaid are now on file in my said office as provided by law. In Testimony Whereof I have hereto set my hand and affixed my official seal at Raleigh, this 9th day of July, A. D., 1914.

J. BRYAN GRIMES,
Secretary of State.

57-63

NOTICE BY PUBLICATION.

North Carolina, Guilford County
In the Superior Court.
A. G. Chase
vs.
M. L. Chase.

The defendant above named will take notice that an action entitled as above has been commenced in the Superior Court of said county, in said county, in Greensboro, N. C., and said action or the plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded in said complaint.
This July 6, 1914.
M. W. GANT, C. S. C.

WINTER COVER CROPS TO IMPROVE THE SOIL.

The farmers' co-operative demonstration work, conducted jointly by the United States and the state departments of agriculture and the A. & M. College, is now starting plans for winter cover crops in this state. Efforts put forth in this matter the past season resulted in the adding directly of 12,000 acres of land to a strenuous effort to double the acreage this season. County demonstration agents are already at work on the matter. Every farmer, merchant, banker and all who are interested in promoting better farming are asked to join in the movement.

The crops advocated for this state are: Rye, for very poor soils; crimson clover, bur and red clover; vetch, with a support crop, and grasses of various mixtures. Last year a hundred acres of grasses, scattered well over the state, produced an average of 5,600 pounds of cured hay per acre, at a net profit of $31 per acre. This shows that we have splendid conditions for growing all the hay and grazing crops needed in the state and some to sell.

The legumes mentioned are usually more profitable than grasses, because they gather free expensive nitrogen from the air and store it in the soil. Farmers can get it this way much cheaper than by purchasing it.

These winter growing crops are very valuable. For grazing, cutting for forage or turning under to increase soil fertility, they are easily worth ten dollars per acre and often several times this amount. Often the crop that follows them is doubled in yield. Furthermore, they reduce washing and leaching and add organic matter—something that practically all soils are deficient in. Every acre of cultivated land should grow at least two crops per year, one in the winter and one in the summer. One may be a food crop or a money crop and the other a soil improvement crop. Lands that lie bare during the winter months often lose more plant food through leaching and washing than is used by the crop that grows there during the summer.

It behoves every farmer to give this matter his attention. The important thing to do right now is to decide which crop or crops he will grow, procure good seed, and then break his land at once to a depth of from eight to twelve inches. Profitable crops are rarely grown on shallowly plowed soils. Harrow the land the same day it is broken to prevent loss of moisture, and so have it ready to plant when the time arrives.

There is no reason why every farmer in the state should not plant some clover on his farm late in August or from then till the middle of October. Those who are not acquainted with clover growing should not plant more than an acre or two the first season. Information concerning the matter may be had by requesting it of our state and national departments of agriculture, our A. & M. College, at Raleigh, or Mr. C. R. Hudson, Raleigh, N. C., who inaugurated and is pushing the matter. Where there are demonstration agents, the farmers may enjoy the advantage of a personal interview by calling on them.

A Prison Romance Shattered.

Nashville Tennessean.
The final chapter in a shattered romance of a Sunday school teacher who married a Shelby county convict in the state prison in the vain hope of reforming him was written in Circuit court here when Mrs. Bertie Neel Cox Holder filed a petition for absolute divorce against W. D. Holder, at present an inmate of the penitentiary for the second time.

Holder had just completed service of a sentence in the state prison when he was married January 27, 1910, to Mrs. Cox, who, while teaching in the prison chapel, had taken a great interest in him. While in Memphis in September, 1911, Holder was arrested for receiving stolen property, to which charge he pleaded guilty and received a sentence of five years in the penitentiary.

Mrs. Holder seeks a divorce on the ground that her husband is a convicted felon.

Holder was implicated in a series of horse thefts near Somerville about three years ago. The stealing, according to the officers, was done by a regular gang and continued for several months. Holder received a term of five years, while his partner was sentenced for three. Holder, it is said, had been convicted and sentenced to the state prison on a previous charge, but had been pardoned.

"Oh, George, before you get your razor I must tell you that I—I borrowed it yesterday." "What, again?" "Yes, I had to do some ripping. But it's just as good as ever. You'll never notice the difference. I sharpened it on the stove pipe."

Watch the date on your label.

Williamson, W. Va., July 27.—"Here's a license I got in this year court 24 years ago, but I don't seem to have nary a chance to ever use it, so I reckoned it best to bring it back and get the money I paid you'uns for it." This remarkable speech greeted the clerk in the marriage license office in the court house here, shortly after a taxpayer, a rugged, old, set-up mountaineer, had entered and asked for the "clerk that fixes up the marriage papers."

"You see," said Chernoff, "it was this way. Me and my gal, Euphemia, always meant to get married, but she was so concerned contrary-like that she never was ready to have the parson tie the knot when I was. I worried along with her and about once every year I'd pop the old question."

"Everything would go along fair-like for a while, until I'd ask her when we'd visit the parson. Then she'd snag me every time. I 'lowed that I could worry along awhile with Euphemia in her tantrums, but after 24 years I got tired and told her either we'uns would get married, or we wouldn't. Euphemia 'lowed we wouldn't; so I calkerlate we won't."

Wilson's Vindication.

Kansas City Star (Prog.)

President Wilson has had a heavy load to carry in the last few months. The domestic problems confronting the administration would, of themselves, have been sufficiently difficult. He has had in addition the burden of the distressing situation in Mexico.

He has been swarmed with advice from persons familiar and unfamiliar with the conditions. By one group he has been urged to recognize Huerta—by another to intervene and establish an American protectorate. Through all the conflict of opinion and the storm of criticism he has kept his head and steadily adhered to the policy laid down months ago.

The Star recalls with satisfaction that last December it expressed confidence in the president's purposes and ability regarding the Mexican situation, and urged that his policy be upheld by the nation without regard to party lines.

Mr. Wilson's wisdom and his self-reliance have amply vindicated the views then expressed.

The fact that dishonesty seems to prosper corrupts only the few.—Detroit Free Press.

We cannot all be master, nor all masters cannot be truly followed.—Shakespeare.

COULD SCARCELY WALK ABOUT

And For Three Summers Mrs. Vincent Was Unable to Attend to Any of Her Housework.

Pleasant Hill, N. C.—"I suffered for three summers," writes Mrs. Walter Vincent, of this town, "and the third and last time, was my worst."

I had dreadful nervous headaches and prostration, and was scarcely able to walk about. Could not do any of my housework.

I also had dreadful pains in my back and sides and when one of those weak, sinking spells would come on me, I would have to give up and lie down; until it wore off.

I was certainly in a dreadful state of health, when I finally decided to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I firmly believe I would have died if I hadn't taken it.

After I began taking Cardui, I was greatly helped, and all three bottles relieved me entirely.

I fattened up, and grew so much stronger in three months, I felt like another person altogether."

Cardui is purely vegetable and gentle-acting. Its ingredients have a mild, tonic effect, on the womanly constitution.

Cardui makes for increased strength, improves the appetite, tones up the nervous system, and helps to make pale, sallow cheeks, fresh and rosy.

Cardui has helped more than a million weak women, during the past 50 years. It will surely do for you, what it has done for them. Try Cardui today.

Write to: Chattanooga Medicine Co., Ladies' Advisory Dept., Chattanooga, Tenn., for Special Instructions on your case and 64-page book, "Home Treatment for Women," sent in plain wrapper.

Horses and Mules.

When you want a good Horse or Mule, you will always find me on the job with the animal you are looking for. My concern buys from first hands, in large numbers, and I can always give my customers the advantage in price. Don't fail to look me up when you want to buy or trade.

J. E. DILLON, Agent

Southern Railway Company

Premier Carrier of the South

Second Popular Excursion TO NORFOLK, VA.

Special Train, consisting of first-class day coaches and Pullman sleeping car, will leave Greensboro 7:30 P. M.

Tuesday, August 4th, 1914

Returning leave Norfolk 7:45 p. m. August 6th, giving two whole days and one night in this city by the sea, giving ample time to visit Portsmouth, Newport News, Virginia Beach, Ocean View, Old Point Comfort, and the many other places of interest in and around Norfolk.

Passengers from south of Greensboro will use No. 46 to Greensboro, connecting with special train there.

ROUND TRIP FARES

From Spencer	$4.50	From High Point	$4.25
" Linwood	4.50	" Jamestown	4.25
" Lexington	4.50	" Greensboro	3.65
" Thomasville	4.25	" Reidsville	3.35

For further information, Pullman reservations, etc., see your agent, or

C. G. PICKARD, Passenger and Ticket Agent, Greensboro, N. C.

BOUT

died if I hadn't Cardui; I was three bottles re-

grew so much
I felt like an-stable and gentle-

have a mild, tonic
constitution.

creased strength,
tones up the ner-
s, to make pale,
rosy.

ore than a million
ne past 50 years.
ou, what it has rdui today.

ine Co., Ladies' Ad-nna., for Special In-44-page book, "Home
plain wrapper. J-46

les.

you will you are hands, in customers up when ent

ny

on and

M.

giving-
sea,
ews,
the 46 etc.,

G.

Wallingford In His Prime

By GEORGE RANDOLPH CHESTER

Copyright, 1913, by the Bobbs-Merrill Co.

CHAPTER XII.

"The Lama's Goat."

IN the front parlor Melissa Tripp, a buxom young woman who was plucked so much in the middle that she bulged every place else, cast herself bodily upon Violet Bonnie with a gurgling gush.

"I'd have known you anywhere," declared Melissa, standing back to survey her mother's friend. "I've had your lithographs and photographs in my bedroom for years and years and my changed since I was a little bit of a girl. There is no difference at all that I can see, except that you've put on a lot of flesh."

"Of course, child, you don't mean to be catty," returned Violet resignedly. "I thank you for the compliment, but I may as well tell you in the beginning that I'd as lief have firecrackers set off under my chair as to have anybody say years and years and years or mention fat." Suddenly her brow cleared, and she smiled serenely. "How much you look like your mother," she observed in satisfied retaliation.

Violet Bonnie Inspected Him.

Melissa stiffened immediately. "How funny!" she said, and forced a laugh. "You don't remember what mother looks like, I guess."

"I'm not so old that I'm losing my memory, too," retorted Violet, though very cheerfully, as she distinctly recalled the awesome features of Martha Tripp, whose mere appearance in any gathering was a signal for a snicker. "I remember her so perfectly that I can seem to see her standing before me now."

Melissa stiffened still more. "Really, I'm very rude," she confessed, taking refuge in her society manners. "Allow me to introduce my dancing master—Professor Flopsie, Mrs. Daw."

Professor Flopsie, a lean little man with lean little whiskers, mustache and hair, all of them parted exactly in the center, advanced three paces, toeing out nicely and bowing gracefully with each step. Straightening, he threw back his head and shoulders and elevated his right hand as one about to take his partner for the cotillon. He seemed almost to be waiting for the music. Not knowing what else to do with the hand, Violet Bonnie wagged it and let go.

"I'm delighted to meet so famous an exponent of the Terpsichorean art," announced the professor in a lean little voice and wound up that observation with a flourish and a bow.

Violet Bonnie inspected him with frankly amused curiosity. "Thanks," she acknowledged. "That's one they never handed me before, anyhow. Sit down and have something. Oh, John!" and she called the butler, who was passing in the hall. "Call for anything you want, professor. I will say that my husband knows as well how to stoke a buffet as any bartender on Broadway."

"If it's not too much trouble, I think I should like a little tea," observed the professor. "We've had a very fatiguing journey."

"I shall take tea also," declared Miss Tripp, eager to establish her principles at the first opportunity. "Nothing stronger shall ever pass my lips. I have heard about the temptations that assail young girls on the stage."

"Oh, hush," admonished Violet, looking her over anew. "Somebody's been stringing you. If you find any temptations you'll have to overtake them, a conclusion at which Miss Tripp visibly bridled. "John, take Miss Tripp's things to the Looney Cons room and bring some tea and wafers! Where's your luggage, professor?"

"I regret that I cannot remain," responded the professor. "I merely came to see my star pupil launched upon the successful career that I am sure she will attain under your patronage. For three years Miss Tripp has been taking weekly lessons at my academy in stage and society dancing, fancy steps, parlor deportment, conversation and personal charm. "Lissa!" and he archly held up a warning finger. "Lissa!" promptly uncrossed her feet. "To be quite frank with you, Mrs. Daw, it would mean a great deal to me to have a success graduated from my academy. Many young ladies have come out of Squamosett equipped with all the graces and arts which the Flopsie academy of dancing and deportment could bestow upon them, but none of them, so far, has seemed to possess the force of personal character necessary to create a furor in the dramatic profession and so render the Flopsie academy a recognized preparatory school for Theatrical laurels," and into the professor's old eyes—which, alas, could not, like his hair and beard, be brilliant into youthful gloss—there came a wistful look, which Violet Bonnie could interpret much more accurately than she could his speech.

"I get you," she said with a quick sympathy for all the polite little man's weary, plodding, waiting years. "If we can make a winner out of Melissa all the stage struck Tessies and Mammies in Squamosett county and as far over the county lines as Hookersville and Snag bay and Fiddler's mills will streak for the Flopsie academy and pay fancy prices to be turned into real actresses."

The modest little professor blushed to find his plans stated so crudely, but he did not deny the accuracy of Violet Bonnie's deduction.

"Well, I'm for you!" announced Violet heartily. "I'll do the best I can," and she studied Miss Tripp with more sober calculation than she had yet bestowed upon that young woman. "There's one thing in Melissa's favor—she ain't cross eyed!"

"I'm not old," retorted Melissa, with a sniff.

"I should like to remain until you have seen Melissa dance," hastily said the professor, his heart sinking against the time when he should leave these two women together with no diplomat between them. "Perhaps Violet Bonnie will be good enough, Lissa, to have you shown to your room and excuse you long enough to put on a dancing skirt."

"Sure," agreed Violet. "She never could dance in that hobble thing. Besides, they've gone out, Melissa."

"I know it takes a certain type of figure to wear them," responded Melissa complacently. "You probably would not dare. I can wear almost anything. By the way, I suppose I shall have to wear tights. I am willing."

"You'll have to put shapers under them," stated Violet, not as a retort, but in mere critical judgment. "You've got skinny legs. I can tell from your arms. But don't worry about that, child. If you can get the dance across we can fix you all up so that from the front you'll look like the first fairy. I'll tell you what I'll do, professor. If Melissa can show me anything at all that looks like the goods I'll make life miserable for the managers in this town till they give her a tryout. Then it's up to her. If she falls down I'll go on record that I learned to dance in the Flopsie academy myself, though I really learned to dance by following the hand organ, and I got a double shuffle by the throat while I churned eight pounds of butter a day with an old fashioned dasher churn."

"I wish that were true," sighed the professor. "It would be the making of me to have the impression abroad that Violet Bonnie learned at my humble school."

"We'll have it true, then," declared Violet graciously. "A lie like that won't hurt my conscience three minutes. I guess I've told a million to accommodate my friends, and I still have a hearty appetite."

"You look hearty," admitted Melissa, who stood waiting in the doorway.

"I got my fingers crossed, kid. Let's can the dressing room asides," laughed Violet, laying away her rancor as suddenly as she had conceived it. "A little spunk's a good thing to have; but, Lord, we have to live together awhile, so what's the use of being catty? Come on. I'll introduce you and the professor to the jury before you go up to dress. I hope we got some of your music on the player piano; but, if not, Blackie can pound the piano till it hollers for mercy. You ought to hear him turn 'The Holy City' into ragtime."

Blackie played, Melissa danced, the professor bawled, and the jury repressed its emotions; then Violet Bonnie, acknowledging the dances to be a "scream" and burning to shriek, bundled Melissa and the professor off to get ready for dinner and collected the Wallingfords and the Daws into the comfortable library as quickly as possible.

"Well, you see what I'm up against, don't you?" she demanded, a trifle defiantly.

"It's a joke," declared Wallingford sympathetically. "It seems to me you've overpromised yourself, Vi."

"I know it," she admitted. "I wish these helpless, sad eyed people would stay away from me. They get me going, and the first thing I know I've offered to shed sunshine along their pathway forever."

"I don't feel very much of a tug at my heartstrings on account of this Melissa person," remarked Blackie, pulling thoughtfully at his mustache. "Of course, you saw her first, Vi, and she's all yours, but if I owned half of her I'd go out to a nice circular race track and set my half's steering gear to the correct curve and give it a shove and tell it that Sweeney was looking on."

"I'd let my half run for Sweeney," said Violet. "I'd let my half run for Sweeney, but I can't do it. This poor little jay town dancing master has got to my sort spot, dare him! It's on his account I have to do something for Melissa Tripp, and I don't know what it can be unless I give her poison. She can't dance, she can't sing, she has no face nor figure and she hasn't got that something inside her that wins you. She ain't fit for anything but classic dances."

"Why not classical dances?" Mrs. Wallingford soberly inquired. "We might if we were clever enough about it, work her into a fad. She's very ugly, but if we were to accentuate that artistically and give her elaborate stage settings and some unique advertising!" She paused, finding the astonished eyes of the other three upon her, colored and was silent.

"Why, look who's here!" exclaimed her husband and patted her upon the shoulder. "I think I'll have to take you in with me, Fannie, on my next business stunt."

"I've been keeping bad company for years," Mrs. Wallingford retorted. "Really, though, I'm a good deal like Violet; I seem possessed with a desire to help our forlorn little Professor Flopsie."

"He's a cute enough little man," agreed Wallingford, "but I don't see a chance for a novelty high brow dance. They've had freak wrigglers from all over the globe."

"There's one country they haven't come from yet," advised Blackie. "I haven't seen any sacred dancers from Lhasa."

"La who?" demanded Violet Bonnie, slipping from the arm to the seat of her chair and leaning forward with eager interest.

"Lhasa, the big noise town of Tibet, you know. Mostly religion and dirt, from what I read about it. Lhasa, the sacred dancer from Lhasa. That sounds bad, I guess, eh? There's just two places they'd eat that up—at a pumpkin circuit county fair or some place near Forty-second street and Main Stem."

"Tibet," mused Wallingford. "Seems to me I've heard of that place, but I know I never worked it. Where is it?" "It's some place on the other map," replied Blackie. "Nobody knows anything about it. No white man ever got away from there alive, so we can do whatever we please. They have long haired goats, I know that much, and the people are so mud ugly they have to wear blinders to keep from seeing each other."

"What a chance that gives Melissa!" said Violet with earnest enthusiasm. "I'll work up the turns for her myself. The 'Dance of the Sacred Goat!' That ought to be easy for her. She looks the part, and all she'd have to do would be to hop, and she does that swell. We could even buy up a lot of goats and introduce 'em into the scene, with a mob of supers to be the high priests and such things. Go to some good costumer and have him work up a lot of correct historical costumes, only fancy, and get a good electrician to figure out a lot of light effects. Then get us a good press agent, and we're all to the merry."

Wallingford shook his head. "I'm afraid of it," he objected. "You might fall a few minutes, but there aren't enough freak hunters, even in New York, to keep her hopping very long. They wouldn't even give her the price in vaudeville, for while vaudeville is full of bunk, they're particular about what kind of bunk it is, and the Monday afternoon tryout would be about all that the 'Dance of the Sacred Goat' would pull."

"I don't see why I was ever born!" wailed Violet. "I hate trouble. It's such a bother!"

"Then there's only one thing left," asserted Blackie, who was bound to remain cheerful, though the heavens fall. "We'll have to make her the plot of a musical comedy. Lhasa, the sacred dancer of Lhasa, in 'The Lama's Goat.' I guess you couldn't burn up the billboards with that, and a good, nervous press agent could have the time of his sweet young life."

"Blackie, on the level, you're the only husband I ever really loved!" avowed Violet fondly. "The others only had money, but you've got brains. You've fixed it all up for us. The musical comedy goes. Jimmy, you say you ain't going to do anything for the next six months, and if you don't, it's a cinch that Blackie won't. So you can "Help!" shouted Violet, both just pitch in and impresario Melissa Tripp till you're back in the face. The only trouble I see is in getting a theater for her."

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

Subscribe to The Patriot.

The Townsend Buggy Company

We Have the Hocking Valley Wood Roller Cider Mills.

Does not black the cider. Grinds apples finer and quicker. Makes more cider from a bushel of apples and lasts longer than any mill made. We have the cast iron mills too. You can get your choice and at the lowest price possible.

You need to plow your land at the proper time whether you have seasons or not. Any old plow will plow when land is in good condition but it takes a Chattanooga Reversible or Twin Disc plow to accomplish this when the ground is dry. We can supply you with the best and latest styles.

Townsend Buggy Co.

GREENSBORO, N. C.

FARM LANDS

Do You Want to Buy or Sell?

It is our business to find land for those who want to buy and locate customers for those who have land to sell.

Just now we have listed with us for sale several desirable farms of different sizes and well located.

Also we have some property in the suburbs of Greensboro suitable for trucking and residence property.

Brown Real Estate Co.

Fisher Building North Elm Street

Wanted!

We want you to bring your Chickens, Eggs and Butter and other Produce to us. We will pay highest prices for all kinds of Country Produce.

T. M. PICKARD CO.

At L. A. Andrew's Old Stand
Opposite City Market
Corner Davis and Sycamore Sts.

THE NORTH CAROLINA State Normal and Industrial College

Maintained by the State for the Women of North Carolina. Five regular Courses leading to degrees. Special Courses for teachers. Free tuition to those who agree to become teachers in the state. Fall Session begins September 16th, 1914. For catalogue and other information address

JULIUS I. FOUST, President
Greensboro, N. C.

V. TAYLOR. J. I. SCALY.

Taylor & Scales
ATTORNEYS AND COUNSEL-
LORS AT LAW

Greensboro, N. C.

DR. KING'S NEW DISCOVERY
Will Surely Stop That Cough.

Do You Want to Sell Your Land? Land at Auction Our Specialty

We subdivide land into town lots, or large farms into small tracts, and sell at auction. We do vigorous up-to-date advertising, and with our force of auctioneers, advertisers and ground men, the best in the South, we get the best results possible, and get it quick. We sell in ten States. If you want to convert your property into cash and interest bearing notes, write or wire us.

Southern Realty & Auction Co.

E. M. ANDREWS, Manager

Greensboro, N. C.

AUTO CASKET WAGON

We have a new automobile casket wagon, and when you are in need of a casket, phone us and we will deliver it to you with no extra charge, and in one hour's time within 10 miles radius of Greensboro.

Phone Us Night or Day

Day Phone 762; Night Phones 706 or 1442

Our Undertaking Department Has Very Little Expense

Because our undertakers are furniture men as well as undertakers, and are busy all the time. We have no loafing at our store.

HUNTLEY-STOCKTON-HILL

COMPANY

Expert Embalmers

Undertakers

PEOPLE'S BARGAIN COLUMN

Advertisements inserted under this heading at the rate of one cent a word for each insertion. Persons and firms who do not have advertising contracts with the paper will be required to pay cash in advance.

LOST—Rain coat at Shady Grove school house Saturday night, July 18. Name and address on inside. W. B. Lynch, care J. W. Scott & Co.

Buy a building lot at Oak Ridge and live near a splendid school for the sake of your children. See notice.

Mr. Tobacco Farmer, we have a spray gun which enables you to do twice the work in a more effective way than any we have ever seen. Call and see it. Townsend Buggy Company.

Let one boy do the work of ten men. This is accomplished by using our new fashion paris green spray gun. It gets the operator out of danger also. Townsend Buggy Company. 60-4t.

See notice elsewhere of residence lots and farms to be sold at Oak Ridge. It will pay to invest in a good school community.

WANTED—I want to buy fifty calves and yearlings, between four months and a year and a half old. Calves must be weaned and in thrifty condition. If you have some for sale, write me, describing calf, giving age, price, and directions to get to your house. P. O. Box No. 6, or phone No. 14, Greensboro, N. C. 50-tf

Read notice of lot and farm sale at Oak Ridge. Take your children where there are schools for them.

Wouldn't our ancestors be jealous to see how easy we rid our tobacco of worms? Get a worm killer from the Townsend Buggy Company.

NEW ACETYLENE LIGHTING PLANT—The only satisfactory lighting for country home. When I bought for my own use I bought three plants in order to get all discounts to agents. I put one in my home and sold one to the Country Club and have one on hand. This is complete and the only one I have to offer. John A. Young, Greensboro, N. C. 11-tf Building lots and farms to be sold at Oak Ridge. See notice.

NOTICE OF DISSOLUTION.
State of North Carolina,
Department of State.
To All to Whom These Presents May Come—Greeting:
Whereas, it appears to my satisfaction, by duly authenticated record of the proceedings for the voluntary dissolution thereof by the unanimous consent of all the stockholders, deposited in my office, that the G. W. Patterson Company, a corporation of this state, whose principal office is situated in the city of Greensboro, county of Guilford, state of North Carolina (G. W. Patterson being the agent therein and in charge thereof, upon whom process may be served), has complied with the requirements of Chapter 21, Revision of 1905, entitled "Corporations," preliminary to the issuing of this Certificate of Dissolution.

Now, Therefore, I, J. Bryan Grimes, Secretary of State of the State of North Carolina, do hereby certify that the said corporation did, on the 8th day of July, 1914, file in my office a duly executed and attested consent in writing to the dissolution of said corporation, executed by all the stockholders thereof, which said consent and the record of the proceedings aforesaid are now on file in my said office as provided by law.

In Testimony Whereof I have hereto set my hand and affixed my official seal at Raleigh, this 30th day of July, A. D. 1914.

J. BRYAN GRIMES,
Secretary of State.

NOTICE OF DISSOLUTION.
State of North Carolina,
Department of State.

To All to Whom These Presents May Come—Greeting:

Whereas, it appears to my satisfaction, by duly authenticated record of the proceedings for the voluntary dissolution thereof by the unanimous consent of all the stockholders, deposited in my office, that the G. W. Patterson Company, a corporation of this state, whose principal office is situated in the city of Greensboro, county of Guilford, state of North Carolina (G. W. Patterson being the agent therein and in charge thereof, upon whom process may be served), has complied with the requirements of Chapter 21, Revision of 1905, entitled "Corporations," preliminary to the issuing of this Certificate of Dissolution.

Now, Therefore, I, J. Bryan Grimes, Secretary of State of the State of North Carolina, do hereby certify that the said corporation did, on the 2nd day of July, 1914, file in my office a duly executed and attested consent in writing to the dissolution of said corporation, executed by all the stockholders thereof, which said consent and the record of the proceedings aforesaid are now on file in my said office as provided by law.

In Testimony Whereof I have hereto set my hand and affixed my official seal at Raleigh, this 2nd day of July, A. D. 1914.

J. BRYAN GRIMES,
Secretary of State.

ROAD NOTICE.

A petition having been presented to the board of commissioners of Guilford county by citizens and taxpayers of Gilmer township asking for a sand clay or good road over the old McKnight mill road, running from Martin's store, on Summit avenue, by McKnight's mill to the Glenwood school house road, the petitioners agreeing to pay a portion of the cost of the work, this is to notify all persons objecting to same to appear before the board at its next regular meeting on Tuesday, August 4, 1914, and state said objection. This July 7, 1914.

W. C. BOREN, Chm. B. C. C.

DR. J. F. KERNODLE
DENTIST

Suits 203 and 204 McDade Building
Over Sills' Drug Store.

Phone—Office 1648; Residence 1647
Greensboro, N. C.

LOCAL NEWS ITEMS.

Ex-Sheriff J. F. Jordan is in Washington on a business trip.

Ex-Judge R. M. Douglas is spending some time at Moore's Springs.

Rev. E. E. Gillespie, of Yorkville, S. C., is visiting relatives in the city.

Mr. R. W. Murray went to Mt. Airy yesterday afternoon on a business trip.

Mrs. C. A. Clapp has returned from a visit to Mt. Airy White Sulphur Springs.

Mr. Cecil Reynolds, of Greensboro Route 6, gave The Patriot a pleasant call Tuesday.

Mr. C. J. Brockmann has gone to Atlanta and other points in Georgia on a business trip.

Mrs. Robert Wharton and little daughter went to Graham yesterday on a visit to relatives.

Miss Fay Culbertson, of Woodleaf, Rowan county, is visiting relatives and friends in the county.

Mr. C. G. Wright and family have gone on a visit to Norfolk, Va., and the resorts surrounding that city.

Mr. E. M. Andrews has returned from a trip to several points in Georgia, where he conducted land sales.

Mr. James H. Pou, of Raleigh, one of the most prominent lawyers of the state, was in Greensboro yesterday on business.

Miss Stella Fentris has returned to the home of her parents at Pleasant Garden after attending the teachers' summer school at the State Normal and Industrial College.

Dr. W. S. Rankin, secretary of the state board of health, will visit Greensboro tomorrow and make an inspection of the city for flies.

R. A. Allen, who was brought from High Point to the county home last week suffering from pellagra, died yesterday. He had been in poor health a long while.

Status of Croatan Indians.

J. O. McPherson, special agent of the United States department of the interior, has been in Raleigh this week examining records relative to the status of the Croatan Indians of Robeson county and that section of the state and their right to the title of Cherokees conferred on them by a recent act of the legislature. Incidentally he is to make a thorough investigation as to their educational and industrial status and report to the interior department. It is pointed out that in the event the investigation shows the true Indian lineage claimed by the Croatans, they will come in for substantial aid by the federal government under the general care and aid extended to the Indians of the country. The investigation is in compliance with a resolution recently passed by the United States senate.

We Have Plenty of Gold.

With a billion and nearly three hundred million dollars in gold coin and bullion stored in treasury vaults and about $600,000 more of coin in circulation, treasury officials say the United States has no cause for alarm over the tremendous shipments of gold from New York to war-clouded Europe.

Secretary McAdoo explained that the country never was in a better position to send some of its millions abroad and declared there was nothing to fear from the drain to meet European demands. It was pointed out also, that the gold now going to Europe soon would be coming back to pay for the vast quantity of food and supplies this country would be called upon to ship across the water.

Rather Die Than Churn.

Declaring to his wife that he could no longer stand his domestic life, Sam Roberts, a white farmer residing near Anderson, S. C., Tuesday took his gun, went to the barn and committed suicide. He placed the butt of the gun on the ground, put the muzzle against his stomach and pushed the trigger with a piece of board. It is alleged that he became angered because his wife made him churn. He completed the job, and then, it is said, made his declaration. His wife followed him into the barn and was a witness to the suicidal act.

Family Row Resulted Fatally.

As the result of a family row Saturday in the Laytown settlement of Caldwell county, about 15 miles from Lenoir, Jacob Dillard is dead; Robert Barnett and Mrs. Ada Kendall are seriously, if not fatally wounded, and Walter Dillard and Lee Barnett are lodged in the Caldwell county jail, the former charged with murder and the latter with assault with a deadly weapon.

The row was started by Lee Barnett, who was drunk. Walter Dillard fired at Lee and Bob Barnett, who he said were attacking his father, and the shot killed his father and wounded Mrs. Kendall and Bob Barnett.

She—"Tell me of your early struggles." He—"There's not much to tell. The harder I struggled, the more the old man laid it on."

MEETING OF PIEDMONT BAPTIST ASSOCIATION.

The annual meeting of the Piedmont Baptist Association convened in Asheboro Street Baptist church Tuesday evening and will remain in session until tonight. Good delegations are in attendance from the various churches of the association and highly gratifying reports are being received of all branches of the church work.

Col. F. P. Hobgood was elected moderator and Rev. W. H. Eller was re-elected secretary. Mr. Eller has served in this capacity for the past 20 years.

The introductory sermon was preached by Rev. Dr. A. W. Claxton, the new pastor of the First church of High Point.

Yesterday was given over largely to the subjects of schools and colleges, Sunday schools and state missions, addresses being made by Rev. Dr. R. T. Vann, president of Meredith College; Mr. E. L. Middleton, Baptist state Sunday school secretary, and Rev. Livingstone Johnson, secretary of the state mission board.

Temperance, ministerial education, the orphanage and ministerial relief are among the causes that are receiving attention at the hands of the association today. The closing service tonight will be devoted to the laymen's missionary movement.

A meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Union of the Piedmont Association was held Tuesday morning, when very gratifying reports of the work were submitted. Miss Mollie Patterson and Mrs. W. H. Matthews, both of this city, were elected president and secretary, respectively.

Would Furnish 1,000,000 Soldiers.

General war in Europe, threatened in the present Austro-Serbian crisis, would mean that the United States would contribute a huge army to take part in the conflict. Including the men who could be summoned by their governments, and those who would volunteer, the number might easily run near 1,000,000.

Mobilization of troops in Austria and Serbia, and warnings to reservists in this country to be ready to return, raised a big problem of transportation in the minds of consuls and steamship men today.

The Austrian ambassador at Washington estimates that there are in this country about 200,000 Austrians and Hungarians of fighting age, who might be called upon to return to the military service of their country.

Rebels Still Fighting in Mexico.

Reports from various points along the railroad from Vera Cruz to Mexico City indicate that the constitutionalists are not ready to cease fighting. A skirmish occurred at Soledad, where a small federal garrison made a successful resistance.

The federal commander at Orizaba, some distance nearer the capital, refused to grant the demand of a constitutionalist officer that his men be given an hour in which to sack the city in return for placing them under the command of a federal officer.

Sixty federal soldiers stationed at Tumbleras, the point where the American train from Vera Cruz was accustomed to stop while the track was broken, are reported to have mutinied and marched to join the constitutionalists near Soledad.

One Vote Will Cost $100.

Los Angeles, July 27.—When Charles Wilson votes at the coming state primaries, and he insists on his right to do so, it will cost the state $100. Election officials estimated today that his vote will be the most expensive in the state and perhaps in the United States.

Wilson lives at the isthmus, on Catalina island, and is the only voter in his precinct, which is 12 miles from Avalon, the only town on the island. Three voters will be sent by launch or stage from Avalon to the isthmus and with Wilson will constitute an election board. Wilson then will vote and the board will cast up and certify the returns.

War in Santo Domingo.

A violent outbreak of hostilities in Santo Domingo is impending as a result of the expiration of a truce arranged by American naval officers there.

The revolutionists are reported to be closing in on the capital and the hold of the government is rendered doubly precarious because of the absence of President Bordas, who is besieging another faction of rebels at Puerto Plata.

Talk of intervention by the United States continues.

"That clerk hadn't been around these offices a month," said the railway president, "until he thought he knew more about the business than the directors." "What happened to him?" "Nothing. After we got through being investigated we had to admit that maybe he did."

Dry Weather Affecting Crops.

The weekly report of the United States weather bureau says rain is badly needed by growing cotton in many localities, especially in the Southwest. Local showers have maintained the generally good condition of the crop in some sections, but in many parts of the central and eastern belt hot, dry weather had retarded the plant, and in Texas and Oklahoma considerable deterioration resulted.

The report on North Carolina says: The rainfall was generally light and scattered. Temperatures were high. Cotton made satisfactory progress, and the early planted is fruiting well. Corn and truck need rain.

Watch the date on your label.

LAND SALE.

Under and by virtue of the power conferred in a certain mortgage deed executed by C. L. Foster and Mary J. Foster to Juanita W. Shaw on the 28th day of December, 1911, and recorded in the register of deeds office of Guilford county, book 235, page 408, etc., and assigned to A. Schiffman on the 4th day of January, 1912, default having been made in the payment of said note thereby secured, both principal and interest, the undersigned will on Monday, August 31, 1914, at 12 o'clock, M., at the court house door in the city of Greensboro, N. C., offer for sale for cash to the highest bidder the following described land, lying and being in Gilmer township, adjoining the lands of G. M. Foster and C. E. Thomas and others and bounded as follows:

Beginning at a stake southeast corner of Foster's tract of land and on line of C. E. Thomas and running thence northwardly along Thomas line 33 feet to a stake; thence westwardly 135 feet to a stake; thence southwardly 33 feet to a stake; thence eastwardly 135 feet to stake, point of beginning, being a part of tract of land lying on east side of Huffman alley and known as the Foster tract of land.

July 29, 1914.

A. SCHIFFMAN, Assignee.

JUANITA W. SHAW, Mortgagee.

Here Is the Plow That Does the Business to Perfection

We also have the New Perfection Oil Cook Stoves, White Mountain Ice Cream Freezers, Screen Doors and Windows that adjust to suit your window.

LET US SERVE YOU.

Greensboro Hardware Co.

Phones 457-458

221 South Elm Street

1837 GUILFORD COLLEGE 1914
THOROUGH HIGH MORAL TONE IDEAL LOCATION
Six Courses in Arts and Sciences, Music, Domestic Science, Bookkeeping and Banking, Expression
Ten Buildings With All Modern Conveniences. Athletic Field
EXPENSES LOW ECONOMY AND SELF HELP ENCOURAGED
For Catalogue and Information Address
L. L. HOBBS, LL. D., President, Guilford College, N. C.

Vanstory's Summer Clearance and Remodeling Sale Now In Progress

This will be the most important of the many sales this store has conducted in recent years. We are going to remodel our store throughout, and to give room for the workmen

We Will Make a Clean Sweep of Everything

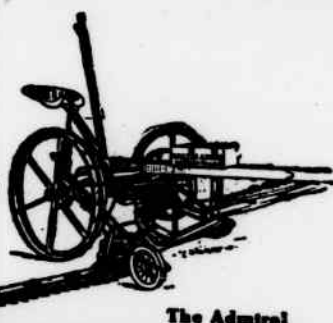

Except such lines of agency goods on which we are not allowed to cut the price. You can clothe yourself from head to foot during this sale at a wonderful saving.

VANSTORY CLOTHING COMPANY

CHAS. H. McKNIGHT, Manager

Buy the Mower with Genuine Underdraft

Uniform tilt, floating frame, and other exclusive features that make easier work and give better results

The Admiral

The WALTER A. WOOD

Admiral Mower

never forces you to "hang up" in thick grass—every bit of power in the team is exerted on the cutter-bar. Side draft is reduced to a minimum because the guards are shaped right and a balancing spring device carries cutter-bar's weight on main axle.

We are anxious to prove every claim by any test you suggest. We like to answer questions.

The Giant Admiral

The "Best is the Cheapest" in the End, and the Best means the Walter A. Wood Mowers and Hay Rakes. We are prepared to quote satisfactory prices on mowers and rakes. Let us send you catalogues.

BEALL HARDWARE & IMPLEMENT CO.