SEVERE STORM YESTERDAY

ALABAMA AND FLORIDA CITIES SUFFER MUCH DAMAGE FROM HURRICANE.

New Orleans, La., Oct. 18.—Sweeping across the Gulf of Mexico today a tropical hurricane lashed the shores of Alabama and western Florida, but fears of a large property loss abated tonight when communication was restored with all the principal points affected.

Mobile, which was isolated by the storm for about two hours, reported that a steamer and a schooner driven ashore, and numerous small boats sunk or beached. Damage to the city was estimated at $5,000. A negro woman was killed when a live wire broke and fell on her. The wind blew at the rate of 110 miles an hour.

The hurricane apparently veered in a northeasterly direction after sweeping over Mobile. Montgomery reported feeling the effects of the blow late today and early this evening a high wind struck Macon, Ga., causing minor damage.

Montgomery, Ala., Oct. 18.—Central Alabama was today caught in the grip of a heavy wind and rain storm and rocked by an earthquake, but reports tonight indicated that while the damage extended over a wide territory, much of it was of a trivial nature and none was attributed to the earthquake. The wind, which blew 40 miles an hour here, snapped the shingles on the state capitol, but gables kept it from falling.

Near Brundridge, a church was moved from its foundation and fences and trees were blown down. At Opp, in the southern part of the state, a pickling plant was demolished and many houses unroofed.

At Troy the wind reached a velocity of 50 miles an hour, with rain falling like a cloudburst. Many stores were entirely unroofed. The town is in darkness because of poles being blown down. Chimneys have been blown down in all parts of the city and trees uprooted. Heavy rains with wind raging from 30 to 54 miles an hour are reported from Wetumpka, Clanton, Tallahassee, Nonauga and surrounding points. At no place is loss of life or livestock reported.

Several Vessels Sunk.
Pensacola, Fla., Oct. 18.—Several vessels in the harbor here were sunk, numbers of small craft damaged and one life lost in a terrific tropical hurricane that swept through here today, at one time reaching a velocity of 114 miles an hour. Property damage in Pensacola itself was confined chiefly to roofs blown off and plate glass windows destroyed. The storm did some damage to machines at the navy aeroplane station, but the floating dirigible shed was strong enough to withstand the gale, which came in such terrific and sudden gusts that in Pensacola it blew three or four persons through plate glass windows and carried away the weather observation tower on top of a high building. The barometer registered 29.05 just before all instruments were put out of commission this morning, and the gale had raged up to 114 miles an hour and then dropped in ten minutes to 14 before a change of direction and a rise to 98 miles took off the weather tower.

Daniel Cobb, cook on the small steamer Flanders, was drowned when the vessel foundered two miles from here. Its crew was brought here tonight.

The storm isolated Pensacola from about 8 A. M. until shortly before that hour tonight.

Mobile Battered.
Mobile, Ala., Oct. 18.—Mobile was battered for two hours and a half this forenoon by a tropical hurricane and minor damage was done to buildings and to vessels in the harbor. One fatality, a negro woman killed by a live wire, was reported and no reports of persons injured were received by the police.

According to weather bureau reports given out late today the wind attained a maximum velocity of 115 miles an hour.

Mobile's streets were in darkness tonight because of a few prostrated wires. Residences and business houses tonight were supplied with electricity and both telegraph companies had wires operating.

Washington, Oct. 18.—The tropical storm which struck the middle gulf coast, early today with wind of hurricane force, had moved inland into Mississippi and Alabama tonight with greatly decreased intensity, reports to the weather bureau showed.

At points along the middle gulf coast the rainfall was torrential and rains were general over the middle Gulf and South Atlantic states.

Storm warnings are displayed on the Atlantic coast from Savannah to Norfolk.

SEVEN BURN TO DEATH IN NEW YORK FIRE.

New York, Oct. 17.—Seven persons were burned to death and two others are missing as a result of a fire which destroyed two factories in the manufacturing section of Queensborough late today, with a material loss estimated at $250,000.

The charred bodies were not found until the flames had been extinguished and firemen were pouring water into the ruins of the buildings. All those burned were clerical employees in the plant of the Oakes Dye Manufacturing Company, where the flames started among chemicals on the first floor of the Oakes building and spread with such rapidity that the office force was trapped on the second floor.

In addition to the office building five one-story storage buildings of the Oakes company were destroyed. From these buildings the fire spread to the Astoria Veneer mill and lumber yard, where many thousands of feet of lumber was destroyed.

IREDELL COUNTY MEN FORM A CREDIT UNION.

The Rural Credit Union and its workings were brought before the farmers of Iredell at Statesville Saturday. E. E. Culbreth, of the Credit Union of Raleigh, outlined the work of the union to a large number of farmers assembled at the court house. Later he answered any questions the farmers desired to ask in connection with the business.

Enough farmers signed the membership cards to guarantee the establishment of the union in this district. Shares to the amount of $53 were subscribed to; these shares represent $53,000 which the farmers of the county desire to borrow.

The board of directors of the club then met which is composed of J. M. Watts, I. N. Paine, F. B. Sample, O. O. Harwell and J. A. Brown. They elected officers as follows: J. W. Watts, president; F. B. Sample, vice president; W. L. Gilbert, secretary and treasurer.

NEW WING BILTMORE HOSPITAL IS FINISHED.

Asheville, Oct. 18.—The new wing of Biltmore hospital, built by Mrs. George W. Vanderbilt and Mrs. Alfred G. Vanderbilt as a memorial to their husbands, was thrown open to the public yesterday and a reception held while the new building was inspected. The additions make the Biltmore hospital one of the best in the state and give it facilities for caring for a larger number of patients than ever before.

Mrs. George W. Vanderbilt headed the receiving line yesterday and her young daughter, Miss Cornelia Vanderbilt, presided over the punch bowl in the nurse's dining room. The Battery Park orchestra was engaged for the occasion and furnished a concert during the afternoon.

Several hundred people called to inspect the new portion of the hospital.

WOMAN TELLS POLICE HUSBAND WAS KIDNAPPED.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 17.—Mrs. Archer Bruce Davenport, 40, formerly Mrs. Mary Helen Heywood, of Lincoln, N. C., and a daughter of Robert and Dora Sowers, of that place, came to police headquarters today and complained that her second husband, to whom she was married here Friday, October 13, was kidnapped Sunday night by two of his brothers.

She said that they came to her home of 408 North Eighth street, after accusing her of harboring him. They went away and returned with a policeman she said and had him arrested on the charge of being drunk. Since then she had seen nothing of him.

Records in police court show that Davenport, who is a machinist, 33, was dismissed when the case was called yesterday.

cal storm which struck the middle gulf coast, early today with wind of hurricane force, had moved inland into Mississippi and Alabama tonight with greatly decreased intensity, reports to the weather bureau showed.

At points along the middle gulf coast the rainfall was torrential and rains were general over the middle Gulf and South Atlantic states.

SHOCKS IN SOUTHERN STATES

GEORGIA, ALABAMA, TENNESSEE AND KENTUCKY FEEL DISTINCT EARTH MOVEMENTS.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 18.—Two earthquakes that shook buildings, knocked down a number of chimneys and frightened thousands were felt throughout Georgia, eastern Alabama, Tennessee and parts of Kentucky late this afternoon. No material damage was done and no injuries have been reported.

Birmingham and Montgomery seemed to feel the movement most severely. No point east of Augusta, Ga., seemed to be affected.

C. F. Von Herrmann, section director of the local United States weather bureau here, said there generally was believed to be a connection between earthquakes similar to the one today and low barometric pressure such as existed along the gulf coast during today's hurricane there.

Stopped Murder Trial.

Anniston, Ala., Oct. 18.—A murder trial in session in the county court house here was abruptly halted this afternoon for a few minutes as the result of two distinct earthquake shocks. Judge, jury and spectators rushed from the building. No damage was reported. The shock was felt in all towns in this vicinity.

Buildings Shaken.

Montgomery, Ala., Oct. 18.—Buildings were shaken and residents were frightened here at 4 o'clock this afternoon by an earthquake which lasted about five seconds. The local weather bureau announced that the shock came from the northwest, and was of "intensity five." No damage was reported.

Severe in Talladega.

Talladega, Ala., Oct. 18.—A severe earthquake shock was felt here at 4:10 P. M. today. Large buildings and dwellings trembled, and hundreds of persons ran from their homes.

Slight in Louisville.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 18.—A slight earthquake shock was felt over a wide area in Louisville at 4:05 o'clock today. Police reported that tall buildings noticeably were rocked down town, while in the outlying districts pictures swayed and chinaware rattled.

WILSON MONEY IS GETTING MORE PLENTIFUL.

New York, Oct. 16.—A great increase in the volume of money offered that President Wilson will be re-elected caused a decided slump in the favoritism of Hughes in Wall street today. Small bets were made in the financial district at ten to seven. Hughes backers in some instances offered only even money. A few days ago Hughes was a two to one favorite. One of the leading betting commissioners on the curb concluded a wager on $700 to $1,000 on Wilson. A prominent stock exchange firm is reported to have $100,000 to place on Wilson at odds of seven to ten.

A LABORING MAN TELLS WHY HE IS SUPPORTING WILSON.

A. J. Morrison, of Graham, writes the following letter in the News and Observer explaining why he considers it his duty to vote for Mr. Wilson instead of Mr. Hughes for president: "Although I have been voting the Republican-Progressive ticket, I am unable to make up my mind to support Mr. Hughes, believing that he is against the interest of the laboring man of this country. I am also against the sectionalism that Mr. Hughes is preaching all over the North. I do not believe that a candidate who raises the sectional issue is worthy of the confidence of the American people. I am a Progressive and shall support Woodrow Wilson because I believe that he is in sympathy with the progressive movement of this country.

"I feel that all truly Progressive voters should support the constructive policies of Woodrow Wilson and the Democratic party. I take this position as a laboring man, believing that it is for the best interest of myself and my neighbors and the great masses of the American people. Therefore, I shall vote the Democratic ticket from President Wilson down."

ANGRY AT TOBACCO HOLD-UP

GREAT BRITAIN DETAINS $1,500,000
WORTH OF THE WEED AT COPENHAGEN.

Washington, Oct. 17.—About $1,500,000 worth of tobacco in which several American shippers are interested is held up in Copenhagen. Great Britain claims that the shippers did not comply with the conditions laid down for its shipment into Germany under existing contracts. The dispute seems to hinge on a matter of interpretation.

The American shippers say they complied with the terms of the agreement with Great Britain, which provided that the tobacco be bought and paid for before August 4, and shipped before August 31. Great Britain stopped the tobacco at Copenhagen for the reason, she says, that the agreement authorizes only the shipment of tobacco paid for "in Europe prior to August 4."

Tobacco is never shipped to Europe under any such arrangement. It is bought and paid for in the local market by American exporters and shipped abroad to be paid for on delivery. This practice is well known. Shippers contend that the concession granted by Great Britain is not a concession at all.

The American shippers are highly indignant over the detention of their goods under the circumstances. The trade advisers of the state department have taken up the matter and every effort will be made to secure the prompt release of the detained tobacco.

Under the former arrangement Great Britain permitted shipments of American tobacco to reach Germany and Austria virtually without hindrance. These consignments passed through neutral hands, principally in Copenhagen, and were sent on freely. On July 15 Great Britain prohibited further shipments. This left American shippers with unfilled contracts on their hands.

The British government was urged to grant relief to American shippers, who had entered into contracts under the old arrangements. At first it was stated that the British authorities would let all the old contracts be filled. Later on this was changed to apply only to tobacco bought and paid for before August 4 and shipped before August 31.

American shippers do not claim that the European consignees have paid for the detained cargoes. It did not occur to them that this question would be raised, since Great Britain imports a lot of American tobacco and British officials are aware that it is paid for when it arrives in England.

When the detained shipments reached Copenhagen the new British restrictions were applied and the shipping companies were required to deliver the tobacco to an association under the control of the British consul at that port. This made it easy for Great Britain to put the screws on and construe the August 4 restriction to mean tobacco paid for in Europe prior to that date.

WILSON FARMER HAS $2,000 POTATO CROP.

Wilson, Oct. 18.—That it pays the farmer to cultivate something besides cotton and tobacco has been proven by S. J. Watson, of this city, who is one of the most progressive planters in eastern Carolina. At the opening of last spring he planted several acres of Irish potatoes the sales from which netted him $137, besides leaving him enough of the tubers to last him the remainder of the year. After the Irish potato crop had been gathered he planted the same land with Porto Rico yam "settings." Up to the present has gathered three hundred and seventy-five bushels, for which he found ready purchasers at $1 per bushel. He expects by "digging" time that he will gather fifteen hundred bushels more—the sales from which added to those already made will net him over $2,000 from eight acres.

Eugene McDonald Will Recover Wound.

Raleigh, Oct. 17.—Eugene McDonald, the popular young business man who, in a fit of depression, seriously shot himself Saturday morning, is considerably improved and the attending physicians believe that he will recover. However, he is not out of danger by any means.

BRIGADE REVIEW IS VERY SUCCESSFUL.

El Paso, Texas, Oct. 17.—Lieutenant J. W. McConnell, field hospital, today received notice of acceptance of resignation by President Wilson and he will leave for North Carolina immediately. Lieut. McConnell is college physician and professor of biology at Davidson College and the college authorities made every effort possible even appealing directly to President Wilson to secure his release from service.

The first brigade review given this morning in honor of Major General Clements, division commander, was successful in every detail. The officers and men were highly praised by the reviewing officers. Lieut. Daniel B. Byrd, company F, second regiment, Fayetteville, rejoined his regiment today coming here from Mineola, New York, where he has been taking training as an army aviator.

The El Paso papers are paying a great deal of attention to the North Carolina brigade. Colonel John C. Tipton, a native born Tar Heel, is doing most of the writing. The El Paso Times, the morning paper, carried a four column cut of General Young mounted on his handsome horse and a brief summary of his military record and the record of his family. Many other officers have received attention and the Times' artist, Bert Blessington, coming out to make pencil sketches of officers of the command. The afternoon paper, the Herald, has invited every officer in the brigade to have his photograph taken at its expense and asked for a sketch of the achievements of each. North Carolinians are slated to get much publicity in the southwest.

BICKETT'S STORY OF THE FOUR WISE MEN.

Raleigh, Oct. 17.—Democratic leaders are wonderfully pleased with a new feature of the campaign speeches of Hon. T. W. Bickett, who is leading the van in the strenuous campaign now on throughout North Carolina as the Democratic nominee for governor, which presents "The Story of the Four Wise Men." These are Mr. Bickett presents them, are Thomas A. Edison, the wizard of the electric world; Luther Burbank, who manipulates and develops in the plant world as wonderfully as Edison does the electric and other forces; Dr. Charles W. Eliot, dean of the American world of books, and Henry Ford, master creator of low prices, standard cars and the genius of efficiency and curtailment of waste and friction in the manufacturing world.

Mr. Bickett pays tribute to each of these great masters of world problems and presses home the fact that the four have turned in this campaign from all thought of supporting Republicanism and Hughes and are stoutly urging that the logical and consistent thing for the people of the United States to do is to continue Woodrow Wilson in the presidency for the next term. These four wise men Mr. Bickett presents to his hearers have been life long Republicans and are now actively supporting President Wilson.

Coal Prices Advancing.

New York, Oct. 18.—Prices to New York householders for stove and nut coal vary from $7 to $7.75. Dealers declare that, with reasonable weather, the price will reach $8 before Thanksgiving, and that $9 coal is not too high to expect at Christmas. A cold winter will send prices higher.

W. Frank Persons, director of the general work of the charity organization society, asserted in a statement today that a man who earned $22.75 a week now, has the same purchasing power as a man who earned $17 a week in 1911.

Nearly 40,000 Autos in This State.

Raleigh, Oct. 18.—The secretary of state has licensed 31,725 automobiles since July 1 when the license year opened. Applications are coming in on an average of 50 per day, there having been nearly 100 today, which represents an accumulation of Sunday mails of course. During the entire previous year there were only 24,000 autos licensed and the year previous to that there were only 16,000. It is estimated now that there will be well over 40,000 machines licensed by the first of the year.

PREPARING FOR CONVENTION

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKERS OF COUNTY WILL GATHER HERE
ON OCTOBER 28.

Plans for the Guilford county Sunday school convention, which is to be held in Greensboro on October 28, at Asheboro Street Friends church, indicate that the business of the association is in the best shape that has been possible since the organization was formed.

By the date mentioned every township in the county will have held its convention, and all the township officers are working vigorously to get each school under their administration to meet these three simple requests:

1. To have one or more delegates at the county convention.
2. To have the statistical report in the hands of the township secretary.
3. To have an offering for county and state work in the hands of the township treasurer.

Each school meeting these simple requests will be known as a banner school. Each school which is able to get this co-operation from the local schools will be known as a banner township and will be so recognized at the county convention, when a large map of the county will be displayed and the townships entered at the call of the roll.

The parade, which will be held in the afternoon of the convention, is for all schools in the county and the cities. Each school has been requested to enter at least one automobile or some other vehicle bearing the name of the school and any decoration which they may wish to make. Some of the schools will make a display of some special feature of which they boast. The educational value of this parade cannot be estimated and the enthusiasm with which the schools are entering into the plans testify to the general interest in the Sunday school work.

Another feature of the convention will be the exhibit of "handwork" which has been done in some of the schools in the county. This exhibit will be placed in the church at some place where it can be viewed by all the convention visitors.

The educational tour of the county, which was made in August, and the training schools which have been so successfully conducted in High Point, Jamestown and Greensboro, have given a new impetus to the Sunday school work of the county, and the leaders of the work are encouraged to believe that this county will be able to lead all the counties in the state at the approaching state convention to be held in November.

The township and county officers are doing their best to bring up their schools to the banner list at the county convention. Each week several enthusiastic township conventions are being held. On last Sunday there were four of these meetings held, two of them being all-day meetings. The speakers at the Jamestown township convention, at Mitchell's Grove, was addressed by Prof. J. B. Woosley, E. J. Coltrane, Mrs. F. E. Stafford and Rev. Charles P. Coble. A similar meeting held at Friendship church, in Madison township, used the following speakers: Rev. J. W. Long, Miss Martha Dozier, Mr. J. Norman Willis and Mrs. C. L. VanNoppen.

On next Sunday there will be three conventions: Bruce township, at Summerfield; Deep River, at Colfax, and Friendship, at Hickory Grove.

These conventions will close the series, and if the weather is good every township convention in the county will have been held by the time of the county convention.

Wants Farm Loan Bank.

Raleigh, Oct. 17.—A local committee having J. Crawford Biggs for chairman, is appealing to the citizens of Raleigh for $2,500 special fund for the purpose of waging a more vigorous campaign to secure one of the federal land banks for Raleigh. It is believed by those in close touch with the situation that this city has the very best prospect for securing one of these institutions.

County Teachers to Meet.

The first meeting of the Guilford County Teachers' Association for the new school year will be held in the court house annex the first Saturday in November, and it is requested that all teachers of the white rural schools of the county arrange to be present.

GREAT YEAR FOR FARMERS

PRICES HIGH AND STILL CLIMBING—COMPARISONS FOR SEPTEMBER.

Washington, Oct. 17.—This is a great year for the North Carolina farmer who made good crops. Prices are high, and still climbing, and if the crop is fair the return will be large.

Here are some of the North Carolina figures for September 15, 1916, and September 15, 1915:

Oats 66 cents a bushel, against 64 last year; corn, $1.03 a bushel, against 94 last year; potatoes, $1.05, against 63 cents; sweet potatoes, 72 cents, against 68; cotton, 15.3 cents, against 11.1 (cotton has gone up since); butter, 26 cents against 24; eggs, 26 cents, against 20; rye, $1.16, against 96; hogs, $8.40 a hundred pounds, against $7.80; beef cattle, $6, against $4.70; veal calves, $7, against $5.60; sheep, $5.30, against $4.60; lambs, $7.20, against $6; unwashed wool, 31 cents per pound, against 22; apples 65 cents per bushel, against 57; peaches, $1.38, against 90; cottonseed, $40.40 per ton, against $21; cottonseed meal, $37.40, against $31.50; cabbages, $1.97 per 100 pounds, against $1.45; tobacco is far above what it was last year.

It is estimated now that the cotton crop of North Carolina for this year will bring approximately $63,000,000, the oat crop $4,000,000, the corn crop $55,000,000, the potato crop $3,000,000, the sweet potato crop $6,200,000 and the apple crop $1,500,000.

Representatives Webb and Douglas, and Messrs. Robinson and Weaver, who live in congressional districts that extend into the mountain counties where Judge Jeter C. P. Ritchard educated the Cove boys to believe that high prices for calves, wool and cabbages, go hand in hand with a Republican tariff, should not have any trouble disabusing the minds of the mountaineers of such ideas. The price of veal, wool and cabbages were never better. Wool, regardless of the predictions of Senator Warren, whom the late Senator Dolliver described as the greatest shepherd since Abraham, is going higher and higher. The Underwood-Simmons tariff did not destroy the poor mountain sheep farmer.

The figures culled from the crop report distributed today and given here make interesting reading for North Carolinians.

The crop reporting board of the bureau of crop estimates of the United States department of agriculture estimates, from the reports of the correspondents and agents of the bureau, that the condition of the cotton crop on September 25 was 56.3 per cent of normal, as compared with 61.2 on August 25, 1916; 60.8 on September 25, 1915; 73.5 on September 25, 1914, and 67.2, the average on September 25 of the past ten years. A condition of 56.3 per cent on September 25 forecasts a yield per acre of 156.3 pounds and a total production (allowing 1 per cent from planted area for abandonment) of about 11,637,000 bales. That is, the final outturn will probably be larger or smaller than this amount, according as conditions hereafter are better or worse than average conditions. Last year's production was 11,191,320 bales, two years ago 16,134,930, three years ago 14,156,486, and four years ago 13,703,421. Comparisons of conditions, by states, are given. The condition of the North Carolina crop was 61 this year, against 70 last year.

WILSON FREED MORE SLAVES THAN LINCOLN.

New York, Oct. 17.—Asserting that President Wilson had unshackled the business of the country from the domination of a few men and that he had freed more slaves than Lincoln, Frank P. Walsh, former chairman of the United States commission on industrial relations, in a speech here replied to Theodore Roosevelt's attack on the Adamson eight-hour law. "The efforts of Theodore Roosevelt to align the workers of the country against the eight-hour law are being railed with derision by the workers all over the United States," Mr. Walsh said.

Mrs. Mary Ware Dennett, executive secretary of the women's bureau of the Democratic national committee, challenged the women's committee of the national Hughes alliance to an open debate in New York on the merits of the two presidential candidates.

DOUGLAS FOR THE EIGHT-HOUR DAY LAW.

Through the Democratic national committee, W. L. Douglas, Brockton, Mass., shoe manufacturer, has given an interview in which he sets forth what the Wilson administration has accomplished, and urges the re-election of the president. Mr. Douglas, who was elected governor of Massachusetts by the largest majority ever given a Democrat in that state, said of the Adamson eight-hour law:

"It was the only thing that the president could have done. The law is founded on right principle when applied to industries as a whole, doing an interstate business, and is bound to prevail. Not all people realize the great service President Wilson rendered the country by putting the eight-hour question squarely up to Congress. Their action prevented a great railroad strike. If Congress had not settled the strike I believe that most of the industries throughout this country would have had to close down. Two days before the law was passed this factory could not ship goods owing to the embargo placed on all freight. The necessities of life would have shot up in price and famine and mobs would have been rampant throughout the land.

"The eight-hour act is only a part of the president's recommendations to be considered by Congress in December. The president plans to harmonize the differences between capital and labor and make strikes impossible."

GENERAL CARR TO GO TO CALIFORNIA.

Durham, Oct. 17.—Gen. Julian S. Carr has acquired 160 acres of untitled, fertile valley land in California and a palatial home is being built amid the land of wide mesas, ranch and range. A letter from the keeper of the estate said that all would be in fitness on "Carrancho" by November 1. "No house this side of Beaumont will compare with ours," writes the builder. The area is situated twelve miles from Thermal and located in the great desert between Riverside and Imperial valley. Indians, rattlesnakes and wild life of primal days have heretofore fed on the wild wastes. The land sold from $75 to $200 an acre in its uncultivated, wild state.

The "Carrancho" bungalow will be wealthy in its appointments and designed according to the old mission style of architecture. A spacious living room and a sun parlor will be topped off with an upstairs room and sleeping porch. Mission bells will complete the scheme of structure. General Carr will take up his abode in California in early December, should the submarine invasion forestall his contemplated trip to France. The atmosphere of the West is appealing to the general for its freedom, unfenced areas and wholesome climate.

GOOD NEWS COMING FROM PENNSYLVANIA.

New York, Oct. 17.—Surprising reports are coming in from Pennsylvania to Democratic national headquarters. While few persons believe it possible that the Democrats can have a chance in that hidebound stronghold of Republican influence, it is certain that the majority of the standpat faction will be cut to a minimum, while optimists even see a chance of carrying the state.

Isidor Jacobs, president of the California Canneries Company, says:

"My brokers in Philadelphia are William & Root, of 45 South Front street. Mr. Root, a Hughes follower, told me a day or two ago, that everywhere he went he found the people with Wilson—Republicans and Progressives, as well as Democrats. Jules DeLauney, of 6068 Jenkins Arcade, my Pittsburg broker, tells me the same thing and says he would not be surprised if President Wilson carried Pennsylvania. He speaks from what he has seen and heard in traveling through the western part of the state.

"Another business man, Mr. Brower, of the B. F. Wholesale Grocers Company, 40 Main street, Paterson, N. J., told me that everyone he came in touch with was supporting the president, many of them Republicans."

ACTION OF ENDICOTT & JOHNSON AFFECTS 12,000 SHOE WORKERS IN BINGHAMTON.

Binghamton, N. Y., Oct. 17.—A political sensation has been caused throughout the southern tier by the announcement of Endicott & Johnson, owners of the largest shoe manufactory in the world, that, beginning November 1, they will establish in all their factories, employing more than 12,000 men, an eight-hour day, with ten hours' pay. Further provision is made that this will in no way affect the wages of piece workers, who will receive a scale that will permit them to continue at the prices they now receive.

The shoe factories and tanneries of the concern are located in the heart of a strong Republican territory. George F. Johnson has been a lifelong Republican, and H. B. Endicott, of Boston, his associate, has been regarded as a Republican in principle. Recently both Johnson and Endicott issued statements that they would support President Wilson for re-election. Mr. Johnson is a strong admirer of President Wilson's policies, and when the president took his stand in favor of the Adamson law for an eight-hour day Mr. Johnson coincided with him.

The action of Mr. Johnson is believed to have made thousands of votes for Wilson in this locality. Mr. Johnson is beloved by his workmen, and his latest act, coupled with the suggestion that he is going to vote for Wilson and continued prosperity, is expected to have a marked effect on his employees.

The hours have been so arranged that the men who have been working ten hours a day, with a half holiday on Saturday, will work eight hours for ten hours' pay and retain their Saturday half holiday.

Republican managers regard conditions in Broome county, especially in the town of Union, where the factories are located, as serious. Mr. Hughes recently made special stops in Johnson City and Endicott to address the workers.

Wilson Prosperity.

One of our Republican friends told us today that he sold a side of meat yesterday for a few cents less than $10, at his home out in the country. Wilson prosperity has given this farmer a plenty and some to spare. —Dunn Dispatch.

PEOPLE OWE IT TO WILSON

REASONS WHY HE SHOULD BE RE-ELECTED TO OFFICE OF PRESIDENT.

A short time ago the Philadelphia Ledger offered prizes aggregating $1,000 for the three best articles that should be submitted to it. The first prize was awarded to Ernest P. Bodine, of the editorial staff of the Philadelphia North American, a rival newspaper, and his article, which was printed in the Public Ledger Monday, follows:

Woodrow Wilson should be re-elected because the people whom he has served owe him re-election. More-over, they owe it to themselves to see that he is re-elected. Something more than gratitude, something bigger than patriotism, demands that they continue the chief among their servants.

Four years ago Mr. Wilson personally and through the platform of the Democratic party made certain promises. It was elected to transmute these into fulfillment. There is a simple method by which any voter can be blamed by partisanship may ascertain whether the mandate given has been executed and whether the accomplishment has been worth while. Study of the speeches of those opposed to Mr. Wilson is all that is necessary. His opponents are careful to avoid even hint of desire to undo any of the progressive legislation which has been enacted in the last four years. They do not attack the extension of the parcel post; they make no mention of their intention to revoke the rural credit act; they express no wish again to enslave the children of the factories, whose emancipation was secured so largely through the persistent activity of the president; rather than discuss the merits of the tariff board, which shall assist scientifically in the solution of an intricate problem, they prefer to credit bread lines and soup kitchens to a people preternaturally prosperous.

Unable to dispute the record of a peace policy definitely stated and resolutely followed, they focus their fire on the manner in which the foreign affairs of the country have been administered. Discussion, so-called, of the relations of the United States with Germany and with Mexico resolves itself into vituperative attacks on the president; abuse is substituted for argument. Here again, however, a careful reading of the addresses delivered by Mr. Wilson's opponents is enlightening.

According to Colonel Roosevelt, the head of the nation is a "molly-coddle" who "pusyfoots" in addressing foreign powers. According to Colonel Harvey, of the North American Review, "it is not the president who has kept us out of war with Germany. It is the Kaiser. Mr. Wilson's notes have been truculent enough to make for war over and over again, but Germany has started conflict at each psychological moment out of consideration for her own welfare, not as a consequence of any of the many things the president has done."

The narrow latitude is permitted if the voter will cast his ballot against Woodrow Wilson. He may do so because the president "pusyfoots" in his notes to Germany; he is invited, on the other hand, to punish Mr. Wilson because he is too truculent and thereby obtains results.

For those who in some measure understand and appreciate the tenacity with which Woodrow Wilson clings to those principles on which this republic was founded there is satisfaction in the knowledge that the present campaign consideration is to be given to the president's devotion of our duty toward a government by revolution and a government from the blindness of selfishness to the light of liberty has been maintained.

It is true that Mexico has the right to work out its own salvation. It is not forgetful, as do many of our countrymen, that these Mexican states were born in the agony of revolution. He has little sympathy for the wavers of the bloody shirt. He knows that the only good Mexican is a dead Mexican while the only good Yankee Doodle, the only Americanism who stuck a feather in his hat and called it macaroni.

The abandonment of this attitude toward Mexico, the full meaning of which is revealed, such an ideal of Americanism, unashamed, made imperative the fulfillment of promises to those long ignored; to the oppressed consumer, to the derided farmer, to the helpless child.

It may be, as the secretary of commerce declared in a recent speech, that in a few short years the United States, with its material resources, its intelligence and organization, shall become the first among the world's great trading nations. This a consummation devoutly to be wished, if, as Mr. Redfield was careful to remind his hearers, we remember that commerce is mutual exchange for mutual benefit, and not a species of industrial war. But what shall it profit America if, with material resources, intelligence, and organization, the nation lose its soul newly reborn; if greed, special privilege, materialism gross and boastful, return to replace unselfish service for all classes?

Woodrow Wilson alone is not responsible for the spiritual awakening of the republic. Political circles are not alone in the feeling, the striving after that righteousness which exalts nations. The churches have heard the call to social service, manufacturers have been stirred to activities which a few years ago they would have regarded as experiments in Socialism. But the fact remains that this movement in its many manifestations finds in Woodrow Wilson its typification and its embodiment. If, as men of differing political faiths unite in asserting, the next four years are likely to be years of supreme importance to the United States, it is necessary to the real development of the nation that the office of the presidency be filled by one who has demonstrated that he is in touch with the spirit of the time.

Mr. Wilson's opponent has announced that he is a "100 per cent candidate." In view of his actions earlier in the campaign, notably in California and Indiana, there is no reason to dispute the classification. But what is needed is not a 100 per cent candidate, but a 100 per cent president. This the nation already has in the persons of Woodrow Wilson, and this, unless all signs fail, it intends to keep.

MOST CONVICTS DISEASED SAYS PRISON PHYSICIAN.

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 17.—Most convicts are found to be diseased and in many cases this is the primary cause of their wrongdoing, Dr. William H. Kraemer, of Wilmington, Del., told the American Prison Congress today, in presenting the results of observations at the New Castle county, Del., workhouse.

"My observations have led me to believe that a person who is unable to live within the laws of human society and who has been committed to a prison on two separate, distinct charges and at two different times, is suffering from some injury or disease, physical or mental, congenital or acquired, which is responsible for his abnormal conduct and behavior," said Dr. Kraemer.

"In a recent study of 1,821 prisoners, it was found that 68 per cent were suffering from some malady, and that 73 per cent of these were alcoholics. These figures are far from proving my conclusion, but they do show that if prisoners received adequate examinations a far greater per cent would reveal physical and mental reasons for their delinquency."

"In no other field of medicine is it so essential for the physician to make his own deductions as to the exact nature of the malady from which prisoners are suffering. The prisoner may have some entirely different object in mind than health for placing himself under the care of the medical department. It is often for some privilege or personal advantage as a change of diet or to gain a pardon or parole. On the other hand, time and again delinquents suffering from tuberculosis come to the prison charged with non-support."

"In the study of cases already referred to, forty-seven prisoners charged with non-support revealed the following analysis: Two tuberculosis; two bronchitis; one chronic gastritis; one rheumatism; one syphilis; one epilepsy; one insanity; three chronic heart disease; two hemorrhoids, and twenty-two alcoholism. The remaining eleven were apparently in good health."

"In these instances I deem it the duty of the medical officer to inform the proper authorities of the existing conditions as it is certain that any one suffering from the above maladies may be unable to provide for those dependent upon him."

"It seems to me that this argument holds good in many cases of larceny, since through necessity, occasioned by disease or mental derangement, a person may commit theft."

Prices on Men's Shoes Are Again Advanced.

Pittsburg, Oct. 17.—Wholesale prices on men's and women's footwear have been advanced 50 to 75 cents a pair within the last 72 hours and certain lines have been withdrawn entirely from the market owing to a big shortage in leather, according to an announcement here today by officers of the Pennsylvania Shoe Travelers' Association. Two lines of shoes were advanced 75 cents a pair in two days.

OHIO THE MOST DOUBTFUL STATE IN THE UNION.

It is a novel campaign in which Ohio is the most doubtful state in the Union. Even this does not fully express the situation; Ohio is more than doubtful, and of all the normally Republican states is the one most likely to go Democratic. The thing is not concealed at Republican headquarters, and uneasiness is evident. Extraordinary efforts are being made, but they are hampered by the fear that they will do more harm than good. The situation in Ohio is unparalleled, and it becomes of interest to the nation because of the question whether the peculiar influences that operate in Ohio are only local or extend to other states.

Peace, prosperity, and the labor question are the influences in question. The eight-hour law has had a tremendous effect. In recent years a new population has moved into the state, brought there by industrial expansion, and the party affiliations of the new voters are not well known; but they are largely mechanics. The industrial expansion has had another effect; the state has become a beehive of industry, and the farmers are coming money. Because of Ohio's geographical position the railroad vote is very large and possesses great influence.

In the eight-hour law the Republicans see their principal danger. They have made great efforts to throw overboard and cargo to save the ship. Less than two weeks ago the Republican state committee and the candidates for Congress and state offices met at Columbus and dropped the Adamson bill as a topic of discussion, agreeing to follow the example of Mr. Herrick, the senatorial candidate, who has been making his campaign solely on the tariff conditions to arise after the war. The six Republican congressmen from Ohio who voted for the bill have been putting their votes to the front as their chief argument.

However, the rural districts show a defection from the Republicans as great as the manufacturing cities, and here the deciding question is prosperity. The president's speech about the danger of war in the event of Hughes's election has had such an effect on the Ohio farmers that if it had been intended solely for them it could not have been made differently. As for the business men, the Republican complaint is that they are not interested in the campaign and are too prosperous.

With these three leaks in the Republican ship, the caking material is slender. The great efforts which the national committee would like to make it finds no place to use. Speakers with national reputations find it hard to get engagements, because the county organizations are not anxious to hear them, and there is no demand for literature. This applies to the Democratic as well as the Republican organization, but of course the danger in such a situation is for the majority party in the state.

These are the reasons why the Republicans are worried over Ohio. It becomes a question whether they are operating as powerfully in other states. The labor situation in the Buckeye country differs from that in others chiefly because the local conditions accentuate it. The considerations of peace and prosperity, however, may be expected to operate in other states as they do in Ohio. The combination has worked in a way to influence all classes in that state. The same combination may not be so effective in other states, but the same materials are there as well as in Ohio.—New York Times.

Five Million Ballots Sent Out.

Raleigh, Oct. 17.—The state board of elections has just completed its work of distributing five millions of tickets to the one hundred counties in the state for use by all parties in the November elections. It has been a tremendous task that has required the close attention of Chairman Wilson G. Lamb and A. B. Freeman, of the state board, and of a number of assistants. Both will be here for a day or two yet and Lamb will have to be here occasionally from now until election day to look after various phases of the duties of the state board under the new election law.

Subject of High School Debate.

The query which will be discussed this year by the schools having membership in the High School Debating Union of North Carolina is: "Resolved, That the federal government should own and operate the railroads." A bulletin of sixty or seventy pages containing outlines and arguments on both sides and references to sources of other material will be sent free by the University of North Carolina to schools which are members of the union in time to reach them not later than November 30. The university is inviting every secondary and high school in the state to become a member this year. Last year the debate was participated in by 325 schools and 1,300 student debaters.

During the four years in which the Aycock cup has been awarded the following state high schools have won in the finals at the university in April: Pleasant Garden, 1913; Winston-Salem, 1914; Wilson, 1915; Graham, 1916.

Obscure Americanism.

Mr. Hughes is on the road again. "On this trip," we are told, "he will explain the kind of Americanism he advocates." On the trip after this, doubtless, he will explain the explanation. Mr. Wilson doesn't have to explain his Americanism. It is only a "kind of Americanism," vague, nebulous, ambiguous, evasive, pussy-pawed, that needs to be explained.—New York Times.

PRESIDENT TO INDEPENDENTS

DEMOCRATIC PARTY ONLY INSTRUMENTALITY OF PROGRESSIVE LEGISLATION.

Long Branch, N. J., Oct. 17.—President Wilson yesterday told a delegation of independents composing the Wilson volunteers that the Democratic party is the only instrumentality now at hand for the enactment of "genuine, humane, just and progressive legislation."

The members of the delegation came here to tell the president they planned to campaign for him "from the Battery to Buffalo." In New York state, because they felt he had given the nation "a square deal." The delegation was led by Amos Pinchot and Rabbi Stephen Wise, of New York, and remained with the president longer than an hour.

The president declared the time had come for America to "unite her progressive forces." He said, the leaders of the opposition want only three things, "the scalp of the present comptroller of the currency," John Skelton Williams; to get control of the banking system of the country; and to put the army and navy of the United States back of their financial enterprises in Mexico and throughout the world.

The delegation, for which Amos Pinchot acted as spokesman, presented a resolution asserting that Charles E. Hughes had accepted the "open support of German-Americans." Mr. Pinchot told the president they believed "the forces of privilege had marked him for slaughter."

Rabbi Wise praised the president's conduct of the foreign affairs of the nation, mentioning Mexico and the Panama tolls controversy. He declared a new era in international affairs had been opened by the president's treatment of Mexico.

"The election of Governor Hughes would mean a country divided against itself," said Rabbi Wise. "It would mean a permanently hyphenated America. We are not supporting you as Democrats, but as Americans."

"The problem that America has had to face for sometime," said the president, "has been to unite and organize her progressive forces. They have been present in the nation for a long time, but not until four years ago did they disclose their numerical forces."

Dismissing the presidential vote of 1912, which he called "striking," the president said that of the more than 15,000,000 votes cast 10,000,000 were cast for the progressive candidates and programs of the campaign represented by the Progressive and Democratic parties. Of the remaining 5,000,000 votes only 3,500,000 were cast for the Republican candidate, "a most extraordinary manifestation of the desire of the people of the United States to move forward along new and constructive lines in respect of their public policy." He said that for a long time the progressive element had been the dominating one of the Democratic party and the election four years ago showed the strength of that element in the Republican ranks, as given by the Progressive party vote.

The president then referred to the men who, he said, "want the scalp of the present comptroller of the currency," who for the first time in many years had obliged the banks to obey the banking laws. The same group, he said, wanted to get control of the new banking system and put the army and navy back of their financial enterprises in Mexico and throughout the world. Continuing, he said:

"I want to say in passing with regard to this three and a half millions of my fellow-countrymen that I do not believe them to be in the plot. I believe them to have been misled by ancient prepossessions, by old prejudices, by inveterate habits of voting from which they have been unable to break away. But the purpose of their leaders is patent to everyone who has studied the annals of recent legislation of this country. Here then we strike the essence of the campaign. An instrumentality of enlightened legislation, genuinely Democratic in spirit, is, if their suggestions are accepted, to be replaced by men who have no public objects except the objects of spoliation. Can anyone wonder that thoughtful men in such circumstances are beginning to see, that we are facing the most critical choice, the most critical political choice, that has been made in our generation, because we are now to choose, for the time being at any rate, the very character and foundation of our government? We are to choose its spirit, its object, its motive, and we are to choose between the interest of certain privately controlled and secretly concerting interests."

SUGGESTIONS FOR SELECTING SEED CORN.

To those farmers who want to select seed in the fields, Mr. Cobb, of the Mississippi A. and M. College, gives the following suggestions:

1. The seed stalk should be from eight to ten feet tall.
2. The base of the stalk should be large and somewhat flat.
3. The blades of the seed stalk should be broad and long.
4. The seed stalk should taper gently from the base to the tassel.
5. In all prolific varieties there should be at least two fully developed ears to each stalk.
6. The ears on the seed stalk should be well placed, one on each side of the stalk, about four feet from the ground.
7. The seed ears should be borne upon short, stout shanks, four to five inches long, that permit the ears to hang down.
8. The stalk from which seed ears are to be selected should not occupy more than normal room, should not stand at the end of skips, nor at the end of the row. Select a stalk that has fought its way and won.
9. Every stalk in the vicinity of the seed stalk should be well fruited. If barren or weak stalks stand near a normal stalk, the ears from the normal stalk will not be suitable for seed.
10. Be careful to select stalks that are free from disease and that do not stand near diseased stalks.
11. Every seed ear should be snugly covered by shuck.

Mothers.

It is the mothers who hold the world in place. They are the balance wheels of the universe. They hold the scepter of power by controlling the affections of men. "The hand that rocks the cradle" has controlled armies. Marie Theresa quelled the tumult of a mighty army in Austria by raising her fair hand, and we are told that all was hushed to silence, as in clear, sweet tones, she spoke: "The bravest battles that ever were fought, was fought by the mothers of men."

It is claimed that all the presidents of the United States had good mothers. It is said that John Q. Adams until the day of his death said the prayer his mother had taught him. Lincoln said, "All that I am I owe to my mother." Garfield kissed the wrinkled face of his mother on the day of his inauguration and said, "You brought me to this." Grover Cleveland said, "Worldly honors or worldly perplexities will never cause me to forget the lessons my mother taught me." As the shadows lengthen, the memory of a mother's love becomes intensified. The vision grown dim with age becomes clear and pictures of childhood days rise before us in their perfection. It is well so few instances are on record where a mother has failed to impress her children with the value and purity of a mother's love.—Selected.

Kills Man Who Was Attacking His Mother.

Huntsville, Okla., Oct. 17.—Ben Mathune, a farmer 38 years old, was shot and killed here late last night by Floyd Taylor, 17 years old, at the Taylor home, where Mathune was a boarder. Taylor, who is under arrest, told the officers that he had killed Mathune when the latter attacked his mother.

MAY RE-OPEN CUMNOCK MINE

BION H. BUTLER RETURNS TO FAYETTEVILLE WITH HIS REPORT.

Fayetteville, Oct. 17.—Bion Butler inspired an interested mass-meeting of Fayetteville business men to redoubled effort when he talked to them about Fayetteville's qualifications as a site for the government armor plate plant last night. The most enthusiastic Fayetteville booster did not really know until Bion Butler had finished with the subject how strong Fayetteville's position is.

Mr. Butler has just returned from Pittsburgh, where he was sent by the local Chamber of Commerce to confer with Pittsburgh men about the working of the Cumnock coal mine at Egypt, and he gave the boosters much encouragement last night. Pittsburgh, for instance, he said has not any two of the numerous points which are in Fayetteville's favor. Pittsburgh has the coal, but has to get its iron from Michigan. Fayetteville has at Egypt, 43 miles away, a practically inexhaustible supply of coal which equals, on the analysis of highly-rated experts, the best coals of Pennsylvania, and has in addition enormous deposits of North Carolina iron ore, it has chromium in larger quantities than are to be found anywhere east of California; on the Cape Fear river it has great quantities of shell-lime; it has the prettiest site for a steel mill that has ever been seen by Mr. Butler, who was born and raised in the great steel manufacturing region of Pennsylvania, and an incomparable climate.

Mr. Butler said he had been in North Carolina a long time now and had never known a case of sunstroke here. He appealed to Dr. J. V. McGowan, who said he had never known of one in this climate. Yet Mr. Butler said they are very common in the Pennsylvania steel making section, and that the workmen are hampered there by the heat of the summer as well as the cold of the winter.

A steel mill established at Fayetteville would be able to get all the labor it needed, said Mr. Butler. A steel mill had not been built in Pittsburgh in 15 years, despite its large supply of skilled labor. A site for a steel plant could not be bought in Pittsburgh, he said, for less than $100,000 an acre, if at any price. When the United States Steel Company built the biggest steel mill on the globe a number of years ago it did not put it in Pittsburgh or any of the other steel making centers, where skilled labor was at hand, but at Gary, Ind., which is now a populous city. There are only a few minor things essential to the making of armor plate, said Mr. Butler, that North Carolina cannot furnish. And they can easily be brought here.

FARMING IS BECOMING MORE PROFITABLE BUSINESS.

The fact that farming is becoming a profitable business and is yearly attracting more interest and attention, finds support in the fact that of the 630 students in the A. and M. College this year, 288 are taking the agricultural course. The next highest number taking any one course is 99 in mechanical engineering. For some years after the A. and M. College was founded the agricultural course was a joke, and it was asserted that the institution was a failure as an agricultural school. While farming—which includes dairying, cattle and stock raising as well as the growing of crops—is really in its infancy with us, the fact that nearly half the students in our state A. and M. College are studying agricultural is the strongest possible evidence of the great and growing interest in agriculture and the fact that it is taking its proper rank as our most important industry; and this interest means not "back to the farm" but staying on the farm.—Statesville Landmark.

Truthful, But Tricky.

A story is going the rounds about a jurymen, an Irishman, who cleverly outwitted a judge, and that without lying. He came breathlessly into court, saying: "Oh, my Lord, if you can excuse me, pray do. I do not know which will die first, my wife or my daughter."

"Dear me; that's sad," said the innocent judge. "Certainly, you are excused."

The next day the jurymen was met by a friend, who asked: "How's your wife?"

"She'll all right, thank you."

"And your daughter?"

"She's all right, too. Why do you ask?"

"Why yesterday you said you did not know which would die first."

"Nor do I. That is a problem which time alone can solve."

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS

WHITSETT.

Rev. A. C. Gibbs has returned from a stay of some weeks in western North Carolina greatly improved in health.

Miss Margaret Greeson left for Danville, Va., Monday after a stay of some weeks at home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Gant, from near Mt. Hope, were here Monday to engage their daughter as a student. A Cuban student direct from Havana also arrived Monday. His father is a captain in the Cuban standing army.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Oldham, of Elm, were here Monday for some hours with friends.

R. K. Davenport, of the Eutaw radio, came down some days ago and in an hour's fishing in Alamance creek caught two of the finest chubs ever seen in these parts. He has been re-elected president of the fishermen's club for another year.

Miss Pearl Johnson, who has been in Asheville for some months, is visiting her parents near here. She is now a trained nurse.

Six of the members of the Y. M. C. A. gave a very interesting program in the topic of light-bearers at Sunday's meeting.

The senior debaters have been elected by both the Dialectic and the Athenian societies, and have begun work on their debates to be given as usual at the close of this fall term.

SOUTH BUFFALO.

Mr. S. M. Brown is suffering with influenza.

Mr. Irvin Donnell, from Greensboro, spent last week with his daughter, Mrs. Emmet Buchanan.

Messrs. J. A. Andrew and R. A. Andrew, from near Mt. Hope, visited relatives in our community recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Farlow, from Randolph county, visited the latter's mother, Mr. J. W. Fogleman, recently.

Miss Jennie Gorrell will begin her school at Brown's school house next Monday, October 23.

The corn-shucking given at Mr. Peter Reynolds' Tuesday night was enjoyed by a large crowd.

Several from here attended the funeral of Mrs. Mary Rossin, at Alamance, last Sunday.

Mr. M. D. Stafford and family visited the former's mother at High Point recently.

By Dies Under Bull's Horns.

Initiating a Spanish toreador, 13-year-old Russell Nichols was gored in the field. The animal, infuriated at the actions of the young man, charged him and sank his horns several times into the boy's body, before trampling him.

The tragedy was the result of a boast that he could manage the bull, which had a reputation for being very vicious.

With several companions, Nichols went to the field and marched up to the bull. The taunts of the youngster brought a terrific snort and charge toward the boy. Nichols was braved at once and attempted to run, but was too late.

The terrified companions who witnessed the going from a safe distance ran to the office and summoned help. The bull was driven to another field and secured.

Several men carried the unconscious boy to the office.—Media, Pa., Record to Philadelphia Record.

BUFFALO BILL 101 RANCH SHOW HERE OCTOBER 31.

The combined Buffalo Bill and 101 Ranch shows will exhibit in Greensboro Tuesday, October 31, and the event is one that is sure to arouse a great deal of local interest, not only among those who enjoy an exhibition of this kind purely from the standpoint of recreation, but also among the thousands who believe in military preparedness as a safeguard against possible aggression at the close of the great European conflict.

The big feature of the Buffalo Bill 101 Ranch shows this season is a new military spectacle with the suggestive title, "Preparedness." The "Preparedness" spectacle has a far deeper meaning than is usually the case with big tent exhibitions, for it has the sanction of the government, and the soldiers who participate in it have been given furloughs and loaned to the management by the United States war department. It is this genuineness that gives the display one of its chief charms, although from a purely spectacular standpoint it is said to leave nothing to the imagination. The various departments of the service are adequately represented. There are troops of cavalry, mounted infantry, artillery, the Red Cross, the commissary service and other departments of the army, and they are utilized in presenting what is declared to be the most strenuous and exhilarating series of military maneuvers ever seen in the United States.

The life of the soldier in camp and on the march; the handling of the field and rapid-fire guns in action; the whirlwind charges of the cavalry, are all shown, it is announced, with a vim that creates tingling excitement and evokes constant thunders of applause. Pictorially as well as from the standpoint of strenuous action the exhibition is said to be unrivalled.

An interesting feature of the Buffalo Bill 101 Ranch performances to be given in this city is the fact that Col. William F. Cody (Buffalo Bill) will be here in person and that he will be "in the saddle" as in the years gone by. Buffalo Bill will actively participate in the big military spectacle, for he was formerly chief of scouts of the United States army, and he will also lead a band of frontier notables in the big Indian battle which also constitutes one of the sensational features of the exhibition.

Incidentally, the life of the Far West, with the sports and pastimes, as well as the dangers and adventures of life on the plains and in the mountains of the Great Divide, will be shown on a scale dwarfing all previous exhibitions along this line.

Two performances are scheduled for this city, the first at 2.15 and the final one at 8.15. Doors will be open an hour earlier to afford the public a view of the Indian and military camp. All the regular army soldiers will participate in the spectacular free street parade that takes place at 10.30 A. M. The United States army recruiting station, which is an incidental feature of the show, will be open all day.

Hence This Silence.

The outstanding fact with regard to the Republican campaign thus far is the entire failure of candidate and leaders to outline a program of constructive action. They have apparently never heard that there is such a thing as an affirmative position in politics. They might say, with a certain famous and shady character: "I am the spirit that denies."

What are the elements of the Republican program? No one knows. If successful in the election, what will the Republicans do about the tariff, the currency, the merchant marine? What will they do with the Adamson act? What plans have they for the betterment of agriculture? What will they do to promote foreign trade?

It is idle to attribute this utter lack of a program to a failure to appreciate the desirability of one. Candidate Hughes was not born yesterday. Hughes were such supporters of his as Boies Penrose and Raymond Robins, Theodore Roosevelt and "Bill" Barnes, Gifford Pinchot and Reed Smoot. All seven of these gentlemen are experienced politicians, with definite views upon all public questions. Then why do they not ventilate those views?

Because they are not the same views. For these ill-sorted leaders to attempt to formulate a constructive program would be to begin to fight each other. They know this. They feel it in every fiber. Hence their silence. This silence will not be broken in response to any public demand. Self-preservation is the first law of nature.—St. Louis Republic.

For Wilson, and Why.

With Mr. Hughes at the head of the government and with a Republican Congress behind him we believe conditions in Mexico would now be different. And that is one reason why we are going to vote for Mr. Wilson.—Durham Herald.

MINE WON AT CARDS MAY BRING WEALTH.

One wintry night thirty years ago, says a Helena, Mont., dispatch, a group of men sat about a card table in a Helena gambling house. The red flare of an oil lamp lighted up the faces of prospectors determined to win at poker what they had failed to unearth in the great wastes outside.

It was late when one man shoved in his last "white"—and lost. Demanding one more try, he offered a mining claim.

Not a gambler in the house would give the desperate stranger so much as a chip for his claim—none but "Swede Sam" Wallin. The miner lost.

The land which became Wallin's as a result of the night at cards lay in the Blossburg mining district, near Helena. As the years of three decades passed its dirt remained unnoticed.

Today Wallin's claim may be worth $100,000. A prospector last month struck a rich vein of ore in the Blossburg district, running into his claim.

BEACH VILLAGE OF BURSUK

GUNS ON BOTH SIDES OF SOMME FRONT FEATURE
DAYS' ACTIVITIES.

While both Vienna and Berlin war offices announce merely a continuation of fighting on the Transylvania front, the Rumanian army and Rumanians, the Rumanian army headquarters reports that in the Alt region the troops of King Ferdinand have occupied several positions held by the teutonic allies. Along the other sectors of this front, according to Bucharest, attacks were repulsed by the Rumanians, except in the Barzen Valley, where the Rumanians were compelled to withdraw slightly farther south.

Hard fighting is going on from the west of Lutsk, through Galicia to the Carpathian mountains. In Voldynia, despite fierce attacks by both sides, there seemingly is a stalemate. The Austro-Germans nor the Russians have been able to gain an advantage in Galicia, where battles have taken place along the Tarnopol-Krasne railway east of Lemberg and to the north of Stanislaw.

Several small successes for the Austro-Germans have been attained in the Carpathians.

The big guns on both sides on the Somme front in France did the greater part of the work Monday. To the south of the river, however, a small wood between Gernemont and Abbeville and 110 prisoners and three guns fell into the hands of the French. A violent counter attack by the Germans east of Berny-En-Santerre was repulsed by the French.

On the Macedonian front the British troops have reached the village of Bursuk, eight miles southwest of Demir-Hissar. Along the Cerpa river and north of Nidje mountain, forces of the entente allied troops attacked the teutonic allies, but were repulsed.

The provisional government of Greece formed on the Island of Crete has been formally recognized by the entente powers.

French Official Statement.

Paris, via London, Oct. 16.—The official communication issued by the war office tonight reads:

"There was great reciprocal artillery activity along the entire Somme front."

"To the north we consolidated ourselves in the captured portion of Sully-Saillizel despite a lively enemy bombardment. To the south we repulsed a violent counter attack east of Berny-En-Santerre. We captured a small wood with two guns of 210 millimeters and one of 77 millimeters between Gernemont and Abbeville."

"During these actions we took 110 prisoners, including four officers."

"In the sector of Lassigny, a German aeroplane, hit by our artillery, fell in flames in the German lines. On the remainder of the front nothing of importance occurred."

"Eastern army:

"Nothing of importance has been reported."

Official British Communication.

London, Oct. 16.—The official communication from British headquarters in France issued tonight says:

"It is confirmed that the losses incurred by the enemy in last night's attacks upon our positions in Schwaben redoubt were exceedingly heavy. Sixty-eight prisoners, including one officer, were left in our hands. Our losses were very slight."

"In the neighborhood of Neuville St. Vaast our heavy artillery and trench mortars carried our organized bombardment on the enemy's lines. Good results seemed to be obtained."

"Much successful work was carried out by our aeroplanes yesterday in conjunction with our artillery. One hostile battery position was completely destroyed and many others were severely damaged. Bombs were dropped on an enemy railway station and upon transports moving behind the enemy's lines with excellent effect."

German Statement.

Berlin, via London, Oct. 16.—The official statement of today in reference to the western front reads:

"Army group of Prince Rupprecht: 'In the fighting area on the Somme lively artillery activity on both sides continued throughout the entire day.'"

"A British attack made northeast of Guedecourt penetrated our first line trenches over a small portion of the front. This ground was completely recaptured by means of a counter attack."

"The French made an attack during the morning and evening on our positions west of Sully. They were driven back to the south of the village by a fresh counter attack."

"Army group of the German crown prince:

"In the Argonne and on both banks of the Meuse artillery fire was revived at times."

ALAMANCE COUNTY MILLS TO PAY INCREASED WAGES.

Burlington, Oct. 17.—Announcement was made in the cotton mills of the county today of a 10 per cent increase for all operatives, to take effect at once. This is more of a bonus than increase of wages. This will be general all over the county, and is warranted by existing conditions.

Confirmation of the story is given by a number of mills that have today made this announcement to their help. These owners say that the other mills will follow with a like increase. Every mill in the county is running full time and some overtime, and the business seems to be in a flourishing condition throughout the section.

MANILA CIGAR MAKERS SEEK PROBE ON CORNER.

Manila, Oct. 18.—Smaller cigar manufacturers of Manila—and they are legion, principally Chinese—have appealed to the government to break what they call a corner on leaf tobacco which has forced the prices of this article to a famine level. Two European firms which have put close to two million dollars into the purchase of leaf tobacco are accused of being back of the corner. One of these firms is exporting extensively to Holland while the other is holding its stock locally for big prices.

The new Philippine National Bank, in which the Philippine government is the largest stockholder, has come in for criticism at the hands of a section of the local press for financing the alleged corner, but it is known that one of the firms involved is not a client of the bank. Directors of the bank furthermore declare that if evidence can be deduced that any loan made was to foster a corner, the loan will be cancelled forthwith.

Director of Internal Revenue Rafferty, who is the government official closest to the tobacco industry, declares that the unprecedented demand in the United States for leaf tobacco and the increasing American demand for Philippine cigars were responsible for the record-breaking purchase and prices in the Philippine tobacco trade.

He pointed out that up to July 15, there had been an increase of 440 per cent in the shipments of Philippine leaf tobacco to the United States. This indicated the immense demand and was a reason for high prices and scarcity of tobacco leaf. Competing buyers from Manila are flocking into the tobacco-producing provinces and offering the planters double the price paid last year. Never before in the history of the tobacco business in the islands have crops been disposed of so early in the season.

The boom has spelled prosperity for the tobacco planter—a prosperity doubly welcome because of the depression which followed the outbreak of the European war and cut off the consumption of Europe, one of the biggest buyers of Philippine leaf tobacco.

But the cigar manufacturer has not shared in this prosperity. Raw materials of very kind have gone up in price and tobacco leaf has advanced enormously. The American demand keeps his plants busy but at a loss, since the greater part of his export is a cheap grade of cigar. In the higher grade cigars, he makes money.

A number of cigar manufacturers have appealed to the collector of internal revenue, pointing out that high prices and cut-throat competition are forcing ruin on many Manila factories. The collector's statement suggests combination to regulate competition and intimates that if the present ruinous conditions are allowed to continue, the government may intervene.

Reynolds' Endorsement.

It is altogether unlikely that Mr. R. J. Reynolds, the great tobacco manufacturer of Winston-Salem, will be inclined to appreciate the publicity coming to him through the promulgation of the fact that he is the manufacturer who subscribed $10,000 to the Wilson campaign fund, but it is well for the Democratic cause that the news should be made public. That a man of "Big Business" that Mr. Reynolds undoubtedly is—the fact that he is so much in earnest in his desire to see the re-election of Woodrow Wilson as to personally contribute so large a sum to that end—should have a good impression upon business men and manufacturers not only in North Carolina, but in all part of the South. It is an eloquent approval of the Wilson administration and by a man whose action will carry influence. It also indicates that business men are not against Wilson to the extent the Republican bureau would have the people believe. This endorsement by Mr. Reynolds should and will carry much significance. It is an eloquent index to the drift of public sentiment in this section.—Charlotte Observer.

A Distant Relation.

During the course of a trial in Chicago a witness by the name of Francis Dooley was asked concerning the defendant:

"Are you related to Thomas Dooley?"

"Very distantly," said Francis, "I was me mother's first child—Thomas was the tenth."

His Task.

A little lad was boasting that he had worked in a blacksmith shop. "What do you do there?" he was asked. "You can't shoe horses." "No, sir," the youngster answered promptly, "I shoe flies."

We want to impress upon you the genuineness of this sale. It is absolutely necessary that this stock be reduced—that all surplus stock be sold in as short time as possible. 14 days is the limit. This entire stock is to be thrown on bargain counters at prices that will startle this entire community. Wait for it—don't spend one cent until this sale opens—don't be misled by other stores that will advertise hurriedly to benefit by our advertising—this is the one big genuine bona fide reduction sale—look for the name—the signs—don't make a mistake.

Everyone knows that the price of merchandise has gone to the limit—still going up—you are paying more money for everything you buy—now stop, think, consider. Do you really get what this big opportunity means to you in face of these high prices? Listen, for fourteen days this stock is to be sold regardless of cost or value—facts—prices marked on the little tag will prove it.

COLD TYPE WON'T TELL IT!

Impossible to make it strong enough. This store packed and jammed with bargains that you will marvel at—you'll gaze in amazement—come see for yourself—don't take our word for it—don't take anybody's word for it—get here—be here when the doors open—get first selection from this wonderful bargain showing. Compare the values here with what you see anywhere else—see the quality—be fair with us, that's all we ask—we leave it to your good judgment.

NEVER AGAIN

Will you have an opportunity like this—you'll never see prices like these again for a long time to come. The dollar you spend belongs to you to spend as you wish, but before spending it you should look around to see where it will buy the most merchandise, and right now and right here is the one place where it will carry the biggest load.

The intense and wide spread interest that will be manifested in this great bargain event will start a lot of hurriedly prepared sales—other merchants will try to head off the crowds pouring into this store—we caution you to watch out for imitators—this is only genuine administrators sale—the sale where there is a genuine price reduction. A mistake may cost you dollars—take time to be sure that you have the right place—look for the sign Administrators Sale. The name, THE GLOBE CLOTHING CO.—don't go in until you are sure. Once inside the store and you see the prices on the goods you will know you have found the right place.

TERRIFIC SACRIFICE TO GET BIG BUSINESS.

Tremendous possibilities for money-saving in men's and boys' clothing—shoes for the whole family—men's and boys' underwear, work clothes of all kinds, furnishings, trunks, and suit cases—everything to wear for men and boys. We want to call your attention to some wonderful bargains in notions—this part of the stock will go away under market price today. Also a few ladies' ready-to-wear garments. You can buy these at almost your own price as we are going to clean the lot up quick.

Everything in the entire stock is marked in plain figures—we will be closed all day Thursday, October 19, to mark down the stock. Everything will be ready when the doors open with a big selling force to wait upon you. Now once more let us impress upon you that this is a guaranteed sale—everything must positively be sold in surplus stocks—the entire stock must be reduced as much as possible in the 14 days. In this day of high prices staring you in the face wherever you go, this sale should be welcome to you—it means double value for your money in many cases.

Remember the date 8.30 A. M. Friday, October 20—he here with crowd—tell your neighbors and friends about it—if you can't possibly come Friday, get here on Saturday.

IMPORTANT. Every article sold in this sale is positively guaranteed by this store—nothing but standard merchandise—the kind we know is good.

It was impossible to quote prices in this ad as the copy had to go to the printer long before any goods were marked down. You know this store—you know that when you are promised some exceptional bargains that you will get them. You will learn more about the prices in 10 minutes in the store than we could tell you on this entire page. Go about the store as you like—see the goods—then look at the price marked in plain figures on the little blue tag.

25c. Worth of Merchandise Free.

The first 25 men and the first 25 women making a purchase here on Saturday morning, October 21, of 50c or over will be given 25c worth of merchandise free of their own selection.

$5.00 Gold Piece Free

Given to the person who sends in the four best reasons as to why this is the best store in Greensboro to trade at. Your reasons must be in the store by 12 o'clock noon Friday, October 27—winner will be announced Saturday, the 28th—name to be posted in our window.

This Administrators Sale is to Settle Up the Estate of the Late Mr. D. Stadium.

LOCAL NEWS IN BRIEF FORM

MATTERS OF INTEREST TO THE READERS OF THE PATRIOT FAR AND NEAR.

Mill Villages to Hold Fair.

The annual textile fair of the Proximity, Revolution and White Oak mill villages will be held at White Oak on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, November 1-3. The management of the mills and the people of the villages are uniting in an effort to make the fair a big success in every particular.

Revival Meeting at Julian.

Rev. S. B. Klapp, of this city, and Rev. Neil Rowland, of Fort Worth, Tex., are conducting a revival meeting in the Christian church at Julian. They have just closed a successful meeting in the Christian church of Danville, Va., of which Mr. Klapp is pastor. About 40 professions of religion were made during the special services.

College Trustees Hold Meeting.

The annual meeting of the board of trustees of Greensboro College for Women was held at the college Tuesday. In addition to the routine business that came before the board, the trustees spent considerable time in discussing plans for raising the proposed endowment fund of $150,000. The affairs of the college were found to be in excellent condition.

At Buffalo and Midway Churches.

Services at Buffalo and Midway Presbyterian churches Sunday will be conducted as follows: Sunday school at Buffalo at 10 o'clock A. M.; preaching by the pastor at 11 o'clock on the subject, "Ephraim is a Cake Not Turned." Sunday school at Midway at 2 o'clock P. M.; preaching by the pastor at 3 o'clock; Christian Endeavor meeting at 7 P. M.

Boren-Jones Wedding.

Mr. Charles Kemp Boren, a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Boren, of Pomona, and Miss Sallie Gilmer Jones, of High Point, were married last evening at 6 o'clock. The ceremony took place in Wesley Memorial Methodist church, High Point, and was performed by Rev. Dr. G. T. Rowe. Upon their return from a wedding trip to the North Mr. and Mrs. Boren will be at home at Pomona.

To Care For Graves.

The city commissioners have accepted from the estate of the late Judge John Gray Bynum the sum of $511.51, which is to be held as a perpetual trust fund to care for the graves of Judge and Mrs. Bynum, in Greene Hill cemetery. It is stipulated in the contract that the city is to have flowers placed on the two graves on the morning of February 17 and Easter morning of every year hereafter.

Mrs. Myers' Mother Dead.

Mrs. James P. Smith, mother of Mrs. Charles F. Myers, wife of the new pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this city, died Tuesday evening at her home in Richmond, Va. She had been ill for some time and the end was not unexpected. Mrs. Myers was at her mother's bedside when the end came. Mrs. Smith was the wife of Rev. James P. Smith, D. D., a well known Presbyterian minister and editor.

Armfield Property Sold at Auction.

The auction sale of the Armfield property, on the High Point road about a mile beyond the fair grounds, which was conducted Monday by Thomas Brothers and Penny Brothers, attracted a large crowd and there were many bidders. The home place, consisting of 65 acres, a residence and out buildings, was purchased by Mr. J. C. Welch, of High Point, for $7,000. The remainder of the farm was divided into small tracts and sold at satisfactory prices.

First Voters' Club Organized.

The First Voters' Wilson Club was organized Monday night at a meeting held in the county court house and started off with a membership of 220 young men who will vote for the first time at the approaching election. Harry B. Grimsley was elected president and Charles J. Blake secretary of the club.

The meeting was addressed by Judge Gilbert T. Stephenson, of Winston-Salem, a prominent young Democrat. He discussed both state and national issues and made an effective speech. He traced the history of the Democratic party from the days of Jefferson and Jackson, showing that it is the oldest political party in the country and has seen the rise and fall of many other parties. The speaker argued that it is the duty of every man to take a personal interest in politics and gave reasons why the young men especially should ally themselves with the Democratic party, which was portrayed as the party of opportunity and service.

Married Last Night.

Mr. Nixon S. Plummer and Miss Marguerite Brooks were married last evening at 6 o'clock at the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Brooks, on Price street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. Clyde Turner in the presence of members of the family and a few close friends. Shortly after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Plummer left on a trip to the western part of the state and later will go to Washington, where the groom is engaged in newspaper work.

A Receiver Appointed.

Judge James L. Webb, presiding over Guilford Superior court, has issued an order appointing Mr. J. F. Medearis receiver of the Farmers' Telephone Company, of Summerfield. The company has not been in operation for nearly a year, and it is hoped that the receivership may result in a reorganization and the restoration of telephone service to the patrons of the line. The receiver was appointed upon the application of Mr. C. W. Williams, acting for himself and other creditors.

Death of A. H. Lindsay.

Mr. A. H. Lindsay, a well known citizen of High Point, died Monday night, following an extended illness. He was 63 years old and had made his home in High Point for 40 years. For a number of years he was engaged in the mercantile business, retiring a few years ago to spend the remainder of his days in leisure. The nearest surviving relative is a sister, Mrs. Julius Fuller, of Randolph county. Mr. Lindsay leaves a number of nephews and nieces, among them being Mr. W. C. Jones, a member of the board of county commissioners.

Work of Superior Court.

Judgments in several cases have been signed in Superior court this week, though no cases of special importance have been tried. The jury decided for the defendant in an ejectment suit brought by Ernest Troxler against Dudley Gant. Both parties are colored and the action involved the title to eight acres of land near Brown Summit. Divorces were granted to Winnie Brown from John L. Brown and Pearl May from Frank May. The court is engaged today in trying four penalty suits brought by E. H. Woodall against the Southern Railway Company.

Furniture Men in Meeting.

A conference of a number of furniture manufacturers of the state was held in Greensboro Tuesday for a discussion of various matters affecting the trade. The conference was of an informal nature and no definite action was taken. There was a discussion of certain matters that will be brought before the annual meeting of the Southern Furniture Manufacturers' Association to be held in High Point November 15. The furniture manufacturers are reaping their share of the prosperity that prevails over the country, and it is said most of the plants have all the business they can handle.

Saturday Big Day at Summerfield.

The indications are that a large crowd will be at Summerfield Saturday for the Democratic rally and picnic. This will be the first all-day political meeting held in the county during the campaign, and the occasion is expected to be one of unusual interest. The principal speech will be made by Hon. T. W. Bickett, the Democratic candidate for governor. Other speeches will be made by candidates for legislative and county offices.

The following gentlemen have been appointed to serve as members of a reception committee for the day: R. R. King, chairman; C. C. Hudson, O. L. Sapp, C. M. Vanstort, C. C. Taylor, Harry B. Grimsley, E. P. Wharton, J. W. Fry, J. W. Scott, J. E. Hardin, Charles H. Willson, J. B. Ogburn, T. E. Whitaker, J. H. Barker, H. G. Moore, J. F. Summers, L. A. Walker, W. H. Warren, J. Ed. Kirkman, Robert Brockett, L. C. Sinclair, Arthur Lyon, Fred Peacock, J. W. Harris, C. C. Muse and A. E. Tate.

Says Planet Mars is Inhabited and Cultivated.

Dr. Percival Lowell, for twenty-two years head of the Harvard Observatory, at Flagstaff, Ariz., in an address at the University of California a few days ago, announced as his most recent deduction from his study of the planet Mars that the so-called canals were not water channels, but strips of vegetation under human cultivation and undoubtedly watered by artificial canals.

In support of this decision, Dr. Lowell said he had determined that the smallest observable spot on Mars would be at least ten miles in diameter. Canals, therefore, could not be seen from the earth. Mars, he added, has four seasons much like ours, but longer.

Dr. Lowell said it was absurd to assume that the earth was the only planet having intelligent inhabitants.

PATRIOT FRIENDS ARE BUSY

—Buffalo Bill and the 101 Ranch Wild West shows will give two exhibitions in Greensboro on Tuesday, October 31. See illustrated announcement in another part of The Patriot today.

—Note the new list of appointments by Chairman Hines in another column for the legislative and county candidates. Saturday there will be an all-day speaking and picnic at Summerfield when Attorney General Bickett will be the principal speaker.

—The longer you wait the more you will have to pay. Prices are getting higher and higher. Thacker & Brockmann advise their friends to buy as early as possible this season, and they call your attention to their large stock of rugs, squares, carpets, and trunks. Read their new ad. in The Patriot today.

—To wind up the estate of the late D. Stadiem, the administrators will sell any article in the big store of the Globe Clothing Company at greatly reduced prices. Many articles will be sold at retail for much less than the manufacturers are asking for the same goods at wholesale now. See big announcement in another part of today's Patriot.

—W. W. Morrison, the hustling manager of the Morrison-Neese Furniture Company, gives our farmer friends some good advice in his new advertisement in another column today. Mr. Morrison has the distinction of conducting the only strictly cash furniture store in the city, and claims that in so doing he can save his patrons much good money on their purchases.

—If you are all run down and need a good tonic, drop in on phone Fordham's Drug Store and get a bottle of "Vin-Kore-Oil." There's nothing better put up. Good for old or young alike. Or, if you have a prescription you want filled with pure drugs take or send it to Mr. Fordham. He will fill it just as your doctor would have it done. See his new advertisement in another column.

—The prices of clothing, shoes and underwear are advancing at a rapid rate, but Messrs. Johnson, Hinkle & Co. bought largely before the rise, and as long as the present stocks lasts these gentlemen will sell at old prices, so if you are wise you will pay these gentlemen a visit and buy what you need now while you have the opportunity to get it at old prices. See notices in the bargain column.

—Our young friend, Mr. J. R. Donnell, proprietor of the Hennessee Cafe, wants to buy all the nice country hams and fat turkeys he can get, for which he will pay the highest cash prices. The Hennessee Cafe has the reputation of serving nothing but the best, and that well prepared, hence Mr. Donnell is always in the market for the best our country friends can produce. See his notices in the bargain column.

—The Brown-Belk Company always stands between its patrons and high prices. This firm is now actually selling clothing and shoes for less than the same goods can be replaced from the manufacturers. You can find here everything needed for every member of the family. Make out a list of what you will need for the winter, take it to Brown-Belk's and Mr. Brown will save you good money on your purchases. See new advertisement in another part of today's Patriot.

—There is not a man, woman or child on this earth that does not love music. They will go miles to hear good music. It is inherent in children to love music. In infancy music will quiet them when nothing else will. Why not gratify their musical desires when it can be done at such a little cost? Every home in Guilford county should contain one of Mr. Frank Hood's splendid "Victrolas." There is no musical instrument made that excels it. Any child can operate it in a day's time. Drop in at the Greensboro Music Company's store, opposite city hall, and hear all the latest songs without cost to you and see the "Victrola" at work. Mr. Hood's card will be found in another column.

—Mr. George R. Moore, the genial, live-wire superintendent of the Greensboro Motor Car Company, can dress up your old Ford in one of his shells and hoods and make a handsome 1917 car out of your old model—and the cost will be only $15 put on. He can also tell you how to get over 37 miles on a gallon of gasoline. His line of horns, gloves, motor robes, etc., is complete in every detail, while the prices are lower than others are asking for them. When you want an automobile or auto-accessories don't buy until you have visited the immense garage of the Greensboro Motor Car Company and made an investigation of their cars and got their prices. See big illustrated announcement elsewhere in The Patriot today.
